Nosin...
With Polly

Press meetings hereafter will never be the same without Cal. Cal Snyder, Denver City publisher, and co-publisher of the Morton paper, died Monday. His death was a shock to newspaper people all over Texas.

Cal was the fair haired boy, with a quick, friendly smile that seemed to add warmth to any room he entered. A cheerful word, and a warm personality, always, without fail, won and held his audience.

A newspaper man at heart, he was firm in his convictions and sincere in his efforts for the betterment of Denver City and area. He was as American as apple pie, Denver City and Morton lost a great publisher and friend, the newspaper clan, as well as the Middletons lost a truly valued friend.

NOSIN'

It was so refreshing to have a telephone conversation with a lady last week, who said she was busy living life, attending to her own business, not that of her neighbors, taking care of her children and husband, and daily counting her many blessings.

She indicated that as long as folks have their health, there isn't really too much to complain about. She went on to say we all have more now than we've ever had in our lives, and instead of spending time being thankful for what we have, we are prone to complain because the outlook for crops, etc., doesn't look too good this year. We are so busy trying to make more money, that we fail to really live and enjoy what we do have.

She ended up by saying we could all get along on less... and might even be better for it. At least she said, we would have more time for the basic things in life.

To me, it was so wonderful to find someone who spoke openly of their many blessings instead of their troubles...

NOSIN'

Sudden thought: What a different world this would be if folks would only magnify their blessings, the way they do their troubles...

Two Youths Escape Serious Injury In Car Mishap Thursday

Two area youths narrowly escaped serious injury, Thursday around 7 p.m. when the left rear tire on a 1960 Chevrolet, driven by 15 year old Jerry Don Sanders, blew out, causing him to lose control of the automobile, flipping the car twice. The car came to rest in the bar ditch on the left side of the highway and was completely demolished. The accident happened about three miles east of Earth, on Highway 70.

Jerry Don, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hershel Sanders, Springlake, was enroute to the Earth Rodeo, accompanied by his cousin, 12-year old Donnie Ward, Olton.

The lads were taken to the Littlefield Hospital by Mrs. Sanders and her sister, Mrs. Glen Patterson. Jerry Don received a minor shoulder and knee injury, cuts and bruises. The Ward boy received a broken nose in three places and minor abrasions. The boys were admitted to the hospital for observation and treatment but were released Friday at noon.

Soil Erosion A Problem To Man

Erosion has been a problem to mankind since he began tilling the soil. Where erosion was controlled, the land is still productive, but where it was uncontrolled, there are sand dunes and rocky slopes, with very little or no vegetation.

The Nomadic tribes of the past gave very little thought to erosion or care of the land. But today, there is no place for this type of people, although some people still treat the land the same way. Erosion control starts with the farmer, but it is everybody's problem. The farmer is the first to feel its effects, and if action is not taken to control wind and water erosion, within a short time everyone is effected, whether he farms or not.

During a recent irrigation conference, several interesting points were emphasized, when discussing the maximum allowable erosion for an irrigation system. Most of the soils of the High Plains that can be irrigated have a maximum annual soil loss, from three to five tons per acre. This seems to be a large amount when thinking in terms of weight. However, upon converting these amounts to inches of soil loss, we find that three tons of soil loss equals about 1/30 of an inch of top soil, and 5 tons equals about 1/50 inch of top soil. This amount of top soil loss would not be readily noticeable to anyone for a short period of time, but consider the rate of soil development, and it may be debatable whether the soil could maintain its productive potential over a long period of time at this rate.

Thus, when planning or designing an irrigation system, "if it has just a whisper of bad breath" as the saying goes, you may be losing the three to five tons per acre in one irrigation, and eroding the soil at a rate that is much too fast for after all, it is the top six inches of our soil that is productive, and by removing it at the rate of only 1/30 to 1/50 of an inch per irrigation, what will our grandchildren, or great-grandchildren have left? They won't have any new land left to move to, so if we don't take heed to a little boy's interpretation of conservation which was, "conservation is what we eat, what we wear and where we live, and if we don't, we won't."

McAlpines Attend Moss Family Reunion Sunday

Board of Supervisors say that with the present agriculture programs, every farmer can start applying a conservation plan to his farm. To get technical help in planning and laying out a conservation plan for their farm, they should contact the Soil Conservation Service personnel, and they will see that the technical assistance is given.

Oden-Johnson Exchange Vows

Wedding vows for Miss Linda Oden and Keith Johnson were read Friday, July 12 at 7 p.m. in the Sunnyside Baptist Church.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Houston Oden, Earth, and Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Johnson, Dimmitt.

Rev. Murlie Durham, pastor officiated at the double ring ceremony, before an archway of greenery, topped with white wedding bells, flanked by baskets of white and gold mums.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length gown of chantilly lace over satin, designed with a fitted bodice, with tiny covered buttons down the back, featuring a scalloped neckline and long sleeves, coming to points over the hands. She carried a white orchid, with gold love-knot streamers, atop a white Bible. The bride carried out the traditional something old, new, borrowed and blue. She wore a penny bearing her birthdate in her shoe. Her veil of silk illusion was attached to a crown of seed pearls.

Maid of honor was Miss Wanda Jenkins, Sunnyside. She wore a white cotton sheath dress with fitted jacket and white accessories, and carried a bouquet of white carnations.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Jo Ann Bulis, Earth, sister of the bride. She was dressed in a white dress, with pleated skirt, Following the ceremony a reception was held in Fellowship Hall at the church. A three tiered wedding cake, punch and nuts was served the guests. Wedding gifts were displayed at the reception.

For a wedding trip to Colorado, the bride wore a lovely white knit suit, complimented by white accessories and a white orchid.

Upon returning home Mrs. Johnson will remain in Earth, with her parents, and work at Pioneer Natural Gas Company, where she is employed. The groom will report back to his navy base, in Seattle, Washington, for overseas duty. He has been in the Navy 2 years. The bride is a 1963 graduate of Springlake High School. USDA Reviews Wheat Program

The wheat program for 1964 under provisions of existing law are reviewed by the U. S. Department of Agriculture in response to questions that have arisen since the referendum of May 21.

Price support will be available to producers who plant within the acreage allotments which have been established for the 1964 wheat crop. Allotments were announced in April. The national average support price will be 50% of parity. (The present parity price is $2.51 per bushel.) There will be no marketing quota penalties for planting in excess of acreage allotments. However, the statute provides that producers who overplant their allotments will receive "history" credit only in the amount of their allotments.

Farmers who have Conservation Reserve contracts agreed to plant within their farm acreage allotments, and this means that the 1964 Conservation Reserve payment for the farm is dependent on compliance with the wheat acreage allotment.

Wheat that was grown in excess of marketing quotas in the past will be subject to the original penalty provisions until July 1, 1964. After that date, stored excess wheat may be released without penalty. The amount of such wheat in storage on farms and in warehouses is estimated at 45 million bushels. This could be increased from the 1963 crop, which is subject to marketing quotas, and excess wheat from this crop may be stored by the producer to avoid payment of the penalty. On the other hand, underplanting or underproduction of 1963-crop wheat could result in the early release of excess wheat that had been stored from previous crops to avoid payment of penalty.

Other items of interest to growers in administration of the 1964 wheat program without marketing quotas include: ---ASC county committees will hear all appeals of 1964 farm wheat acreage allotments. Farmers have 15 days from the date of the county committee's decision to appeal to the ASC State Committee if they do not agree with the county committee decision.

---Hearings on appeals of farm normal yields will not be scheduled because the yield figures will not be applicable for 1964. Where producers wish to furnish proven yield data, such data will be filed in the county office with other records of that farm.

FIND 'EM, THEN FISH
Fishing's easy. Finding fish is the tricky part.

This observation will take on more importance during the summer months as many thousands of vacationing fishermen try their luck on strange waters. How successfully the obstacle of finding fish is surmounted often determines the trip's success.

To make your job of exploring the depths easier and quicker, Mercury outboard fishing experts outline several methods that will be helpful.

Your best bet, they say, is to hire a guide or enlist the aid of a friend who knows the waters. If he cannot be with you each day, utilize his time in showing you a variety of "hot spots." Fish each only briefly, then move to another suggested location. The knowledge thus gained will be invaluable on succeeding days.

When exploring alone, keep your outboard running. You'll have to cover a lot of territory in order to pinpoint the places favored by local anglers with years of experience.

You can either troll or drift slowly while casting shoreline stretches and points of land that appear promising. The old trick of moving in reverse cuts speed to a minimum, allowing you to maneuver easily with one hand and cast with the other. It also permits you to maintain position in a wind.

Always ask plenty of questions... at gas stations, tackle stores, marinas. Resort operators, whose businesses often depend upon fishing success of guests are usually top sources.

SORGHUM MIDGE REPORTED IN LAMB COUNTY

FACTS ON THE SORGHUM MIDGE

1. The Adult Midge is a small, fragile, orange-colored, gnat-like insect about one-twelfth inch in length.
2. Generally, the life cycle is 14 to 16 days. The first generation usually develops in heads of Johnson grass.
3. According to Don R. Rummel, area extension entomologist, the midge emerged from the first Johnson grass head samples taken June 10. Since then, MIDGE HAVE BEEN FOUND IN Lubbock, Lynn, LAMB, Garza, Dawson, Terry, Hockley, Floyd, Crosby, Dickens, Hale and Gaines Counties.
4. Rummel stated, "All indications are that midge over-wintered in this area."
5. The female lays 50 to 250 eggs, which are deposited in the spikelets or blooms soon after the heads appear from the boots. The injury to grain is caused by the larva or worm, which feeds on the inside content of the seed. DAMAGE CAN BE 100%.
6. If chemical control is used, Rummel said, "Timing of application of insecticides is the most important factor in midge control."
7. "Treatment should be made as soon as 90% of the heads have emerged from the boot, but never later than three days after emergence," he said.
8. There is no way to predict an infestation of midge.
9. It is usually not profitable to apply chemical control after the midge is found in the sorghum field, according to Rummel.
10. Several insecticides are recommended for control. Be sure the one used is approved for use on grain.

AS YOU CAN SEE, YOUR JUDGMENT IS AS GOOD AS OURS IN DETERMINING WHETHER YOU SHOULD SPRAY FOR MIDGE. IF WE CAN HELP, WE WILL BE GLAD TO DO SO, AND IF YOU SPRAY, WE ASK YOU FOR YOUR BUSINESS. WE HAVE HI BOYS AND PLANES TO DO THE SPRAYING, AND THE RECOMMENDED CHEMICALS FOR THE JOB.

Outlook for '63 Farm Economic

The price-cost squeeze on farmers may tighten some during 1963 due to larger supplies and lower average prices of farm products along with higher production costs, says John McHaney, economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The larger output expected in 1963 will raise the gross farm income but this increase will be offset by higher prices paid by farmers, he elaborates. Economic activity of the nation as a whole increased during the early part of 1963 and will probably continue to advance the rest of the year though at a slower rate.

Exports of farm products in the calendar year 1963 will probably total about the same as the record shipments in 1961 and 1962, says McHaney. Food fats and oils and dairy product exports will probably increase while wheat and cotton levels will remain near the 1962 figure. Poultry and feed grain exports are expected to be lower than in 1962, the economist adds.

Looking at prospects for the rest of the year, fed cattle prices are expected to improve somewhat due to a seasonal

218 Gins Apply For "Mike" Testing Service

More than half of the gins in this territory have applied for the U. S. Department of Agriculture's new micronaire cotton testing service.

This was announced today by W. K. Palmer, Officer in Charge, Lubbock Cotton Classing Office.

In past years, these 218 gins have ginned about 49 percent of the cotton produced in this area, according to Mr. Palmer.

"This means that most farmers in this territory will have an additional quality measurement--the "mike" test--to use in selling their cotton for the best possible price."

Several gins in each cotton producing county in this area have made application for the "mike" testing.

Cost for the "mike" test is 8¢ per sample. Ginners will be billed for this service. They may include it with the cost of ginning, as a separate fee or as an additional customer service.

Texas Agriculturists Heavy Spenders

Texas farmers and ranchmen are continuing to contribute mightily to the general economic welfare of their state and nation. They are big spenders on main street, points out John McHaney, extension economist, despite the fact their numbers are decreasing. Their purchases of production and consumer items continue to increase and are a determining factor in many counties for business conditions.

On an annual basis, Texas farmers and ranchmen spend about $1,848,000,000 in their operations. Included is 449 million dollars for hired labor and machine hire; 398 million for seed, feed, plants, fertilizer and lime; 310 million for livestock bought and livestock expenses; 307 million for machinery purchased and for repairs and maintenance; 119 million for petroleum products; 67 million for construction materials; 57 million for miscellaneous crop expenses and 147 million for other expenses including interest and insurance.

Emphasizing the importance of agricultural spending, McHaney points out that three-fourths of all the manufacturing in the state is confined to about six percent of the counties. Also, that in 208 counties more workers are hired on farms and ranches than in manufacturing and in 215 counties the value of agricultural production exceeds that of manufacturing.

Many businesses in our towns and cities are existing wholly or in part on agri-business and their employees spend their money for various consumer items which give a multiplying effect on main street.

Farmers and ranchmen, McHaney explains, because of the cost-price squeeze and the need for more efficient production, have used machines to replace high cost labor whenever possible. Tractors, trucks, combines, cotton picking machines and strippers, corn pickers, pick-up hay balers, home freezers, telephones electrical equipment of many kinds, milking machines and much other machinery have become standard equipment during the past 20 years. Costs of these and other items, along with labor, have kept main

Eight Rural Accidents Reported For June In Lamb County

The Highway Patrol investigated eight rural traffic accidents in Lamb County during the month of June according to Sergeant D.S. Lawson, Patrol Supervisor of this area.

These wrecks accounted for four persons injured and an estimated property damage in the amount of $5,550.00.

The Sergeant stated that this brings the total for the year, thus far in Lamb County to 44 accidents that claimed four lives, injured 37 people and caused property damage of $40,044.00.

For a comparison, the Patrol Supervisor pointed to accidents in this County for the first six months of 1962 that accounted for three deaths, 54 injuries and property damage of $60,360.00.

"Prior to July 1, there had been a total of 941 fatal accidents in Texas," Sergeant Lawson states, "that took the lives of 1136 persons."

"As the year is over half gone there are definite indications that traffic deaths will hit an all-time high in 1963. Motorcycles at this time are over 100 more than at the same time last year," the Sergeant said. "If we continue to take lives at the present rate, 1963 will become the most deadly year in Texas history for traffic fatalities. Considering the trend of increased accidents and casualties, we have every reason to expect that traffic deaths will exceed the previous all-time high in Texas of 2611 in 1956."

Only 191 more deaths in 1963 than in 1962 will make a total of 2612 deaths, an all-time high and an increase over '62. Deaths this year have consistently been in excess of eight percent of 1962.

The Patrol Sergeant stated, "This is not just a probability it is fairly certain to become a reality unless the motoring public becomes more thoughtful in regard to complying with all laws which would break the trend."

Texas Has Both Cattle And Feed

Texas, long known for the production of both feeder cattle and feed grains, may soon begin combining the two into a new industry for the state.

There are many areas of the state that have for some time produced a surplus of feed grain, says MP-626, "Demand for Feed Grain by Livestock in Texas." The new bulletin of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station points out that some of these areas are now becoming centers of feeding operations.

The publication is described as an analysis of production and consumption conditions existing in local areas and should serve as a basis for evaluating feeding potentials in these areas. It explains, however, that a large amount of grain is not the only factor that determines if cattle feeding will be profitable.

Evidence is disclosed in the publication that grain is shipped out of some areas during the harvest season and other feed grain shipped back in when feed demands arise. The unnecessary transportation costs thus created add to the expenses of the buyer and the seller of the feed, it says.

In addition to transportation costs and feed quantities, factors that affect profitable feeding operations are the competitive location to meat processing plants and meat markets, and the managers' capabilities.

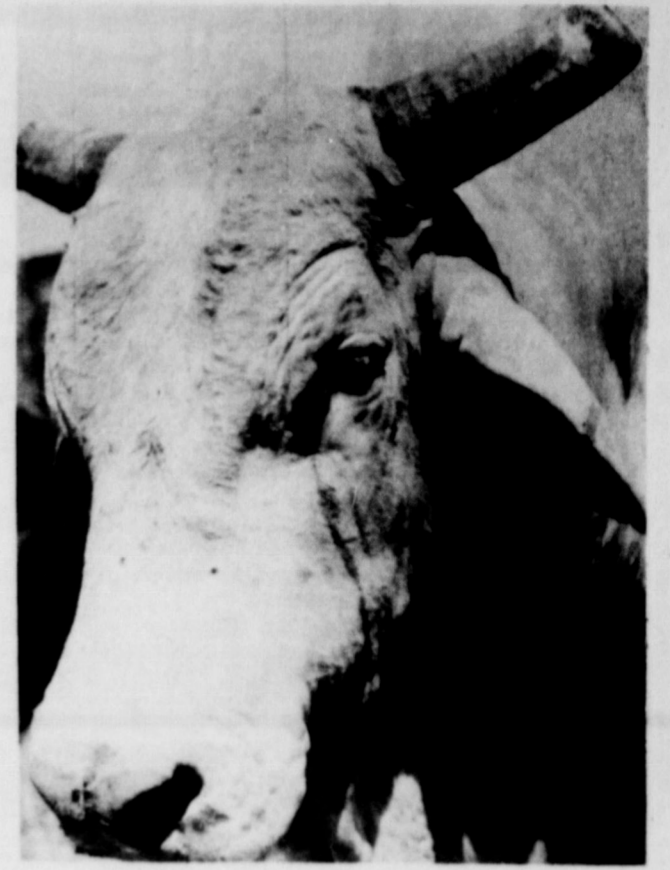

MP-626 analyzes the state feed grain situation by districts and indicates that some districts are deficit producers of grain while others produce a surplus. The study covered the years 1949, 1954 and 1959.

Copies of the publication are available from the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas

"One Step At A Time" Soil Supervisor's Theme

"Soil Conservation is easy, if you do it with a plan--one step at a time." That's the theme of the Lamb County Soil Conservation District Supervisors, as they push for more District cooperators and more conservation measures on the land of the county.

Edward Mitchell, chairman of the board says, "It's easy to become a successful conservation farmer. You don't have to upset your future operation.

Take it one step at a time. A man learns to crawl before he learns to run. The same is true of Soil and Water Conservation. We can reach our goal by taking just one step at a time if:

1. We know the best place to start and what really pays off.
2. We adopt practices that really do first and that will fit right into a good conservation plan.
3. We don't fool ourselves into thinking we are doing a complete job of conservation after we've completed a few practices. The SCD Board emphasizes, states Mitchell, that every farmer and rancher should have a Soil Conservation Plan. Local Soil Conservation Service Technicians can provide planning and application assistance in soil conservation. This assistance is provided all cooperators of the SCD.

Unlimited Facilities For Fun

Tourist information on Burnet, one of Central Texas' finest vacation cities, lists many fine features.

Fact of the matter is, there are so many fine features in this wonderland of lakes and hills that it's hard to relate all of them.

Perhaps Burnet's best and most accurate claim is that it has "unlimited facilities for fun". To list a few features: Burnet is located among five lakes with a total of 76,000 surface acres of water; nearby Buchanan Dam is the largest multiple arch dam in the world; Inks State Park, located on the shores of Inks Lake, covers 2,000 acres; nearby Longhorn Caverns is the third largest in the world and is dramatically lighted throughout its two-mile expanse.

There are other recreational facilities such as parks and a golf course, but there also are historical sights to see. In addition to a fine museum, nearby Packsaddle Mountain was the site of the last Indian battle in Texas.

Kit Carson's Last Fight

"Kit" Carson, famous frontier fighter, had his last encounter with hostile Indians at the Battle of Adobe Walls.

Site of this battle is marked just 30 miles northeast of Stinnett, Texas, in the northern Panhandle area. Under the protective cover of the adobe walls in Hutchinson County, Colonel Christopher "Kit" Carson, commanding a band of Kiowa and Comanche Indians, killing over 60 braves.

Though only a highway marker remains at the site, such battles and bravery have left a greater mark in the minds of all Americans.

Texas Has The Original

An American treasure is preserved by means of a picture held in the Library of Congress.

You too can have such a picture. In fact you can take it yourself, because Texas has the original subject. It is the San Ygnacio Ranch, on the Rio Grande between Laredo and Zapata, Texas.

This little river settlement was founded in 1790 and the Spanish language is still the most prevalent.

On the ranch is a long series of buildings. All are one story structures but one. It is two stories tall with an overhanging balcony.

Ceiling beams in this stone building have the builder's name and the date of construction inscribed thereon.

You also will find nearby the old Fort San Ygnacio that was built in 1835.

Too Shifty To Trust

Many a sailor and ship place their trust in a lighthouse. But when the Aransas Pass Lighthouse was built in 1865, you can bet no one counted on the Pass moving.

However, shifting sands now have moved the Pass a mile south of the old lighthouse.

Though this old beacon has been closed since 1952, others still are in use on our Texas Gulf Coast. Some of our Texas lighthouses have been designated as museums or parks and now are used only by sightseers.

Keep Up With The Browns

They really do it up brown — at Lake Brownwood —

OLD GLORY LEADS THE PARADE... Opening the 19th Annual Earth Rodeo Thursday afternoon at four o'clock, Hundreds were on hand to view the parade, as it marched down main street from the La Casa Motel to Earth Gulf Station. Several floats were entered, also riding clubs, bicycle riders, farm machinery and horsemen made up the parade.

LINES OF TWO WERE FORMED entering the FFA Show Barn for the free barbeque that began at 6 p.m. on the rodeo grounds. Delicious barbeque, beans, pickles, relishes and drinks were served to those attending the first rodeo performance.

in Brown County — near Brownwood, Texas.

And you'll get a nice brown suntan while you go boating, fishing or swimming at this fine lake in the northwest part of Central Texas.

There's a wonderful 538-acre public park right on the lake too. It has cabins, picnic areas, a dining room, lunch counter, grocery store, dance terrace and loads of playground equipment.

Don't miss it next time you're out that way. Or better still, make your friends "brown" with envy by making your next pleasure trip a Brownwood vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert O'Hair were in Canadian Tuesday and attended the funeral of Mrs. Patience Holt. Mrs. Holt was the mother-in-law of Mrs. O'Hair's sister, Mrs. L. M. Holt.

Thursday night guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Laing were Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Stephens and Mrs. Robert Wade, Los Angeles California.

Jacqueline and Becky Parish, daughters of the Earl Parish's, Springlake, left Sunday afternoon for Canyon, where they will attend BandCamp at WT for the next two weeks. Mrs. W. H. Wages, Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Jones, Talco, are visiting this week with Mr. and Clarence Wages. Mrs. Wages is Clarence's mother, and Mrs. Jones is his sister.

Our fifth president is famous for his Monroe Doctrine. It protected new nations from exploitation... insured established boundaries... protected our national interest.

America's rural electric systems wish there were a similar type of doctrine in the electric utility business. Owned by five million consumers, these rural electrics borrowed capital from the Rural Electrification Administration, built lines to rural people who had no electricity. Today they make important contributions to the economic and military strength of the nation by providing first-class electric service in areas commercial utilities would not serve.

Now their future is in jeopardy. With the spread of suburbs and small industry to the open country, other power suppliers are trying to take over the more choice rural electric areas. When they are successful, service to the more sparsely settled areas becomes economically difficult.

Commercial utilities are often successful in taking these territories because as legal monopolies they enjoy special powers and privileges.

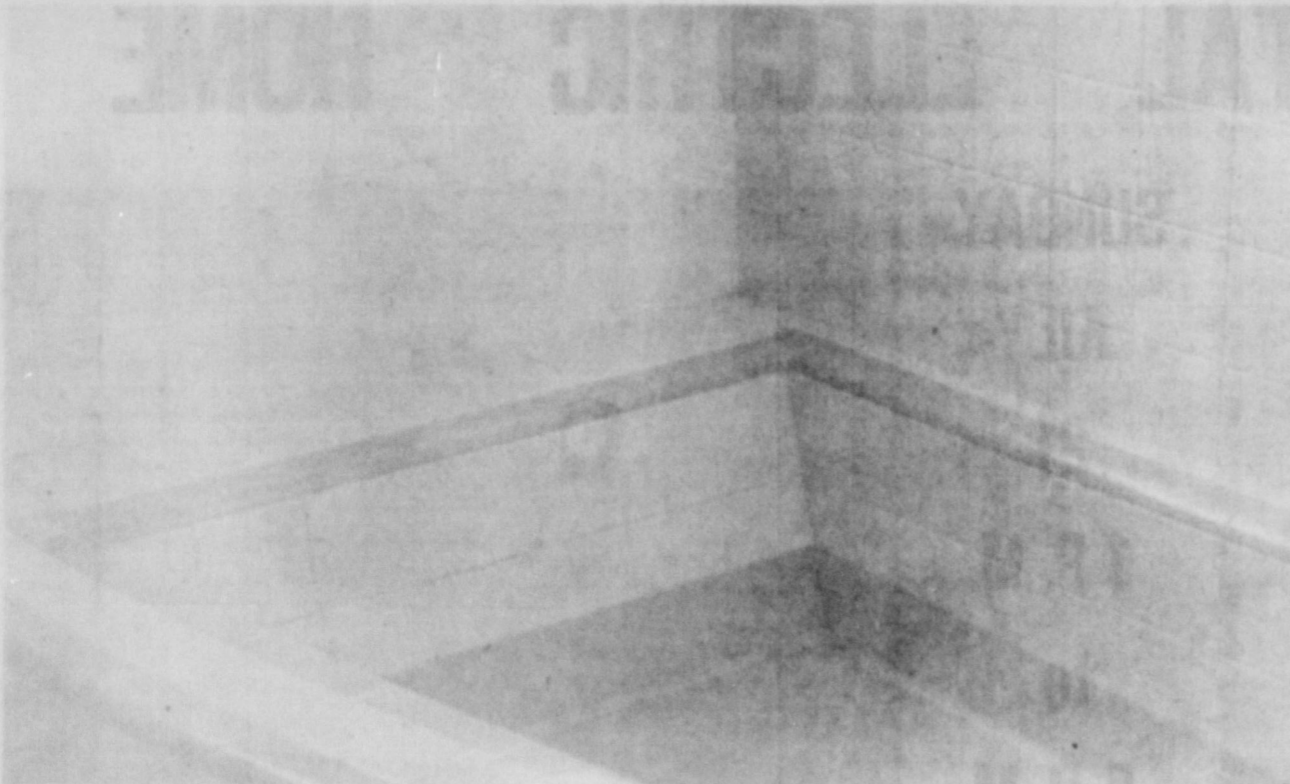

This is why rural electric systems in many states seek fair play policies which will help maintain good electric service in all rural areas.

Summer Time To Tackle Reading Habits

Summer is a good time to deal with the problem of students who duck books so successfully that by the time they reach high school they are completely out of reading practice, and have difficulty doing regular school work, according to Changing Times, the Kiplinger Magazine.

An article in the current issue of the magazine advises the following procedure for parents: "Take the child to the public library regularly, drop into the bookstore with him for the fun of browsing; and introduce him to the hundreds of good exciting paperbacks sold in drugstores and supermarkets. The reason many students don't read is simply that they rarely come in touch with interesting books."

The best way to help youngsters make a choice is to guide them towards books that coincide with their main interests. The biography of a baseball hero, the story of a horse, a guide to coin collecting, and so on, the article continues.

But most important, according to Changing Times, is to boost the prestige of books within the family. "Nearly half the houses in the country don't have any bookshelves at all. Many parents pressure their children to read, but never open a book themselves."

Pearl Nelson of California is visiting relatives in the community.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Fox and children of San Juan, N.M., spent the weekend with her sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Hedges.

Pointers For Land-Shoppers

There is just one way to get exactly the right house in exactly the right location; buy some land and build. This advice in the current issue of Changing Times, the Kiplinger Magazine, includes the following twelve critical points which should be checked before a land purchase is made.

--The environment. The big point to remember is that the surroundings will not remain forever as they are when the lot first is viewed. Today's serene, pastoral setting can become tomorrow's cloverleaf intersection, oil tank farm or apartment development. Check the county planning office to find out what uses are proposed for all the land surrounding the property.

--Size and shape. Usually a plot looks larger in its natural state than it does after it is built on. In rectangular lots, 65 feet across the front and 100 feet in depth is minimal. An irregular shape is not necessarily a problem, but is should be studied carefully to make certain it is not.

--Topography. Is the lay of the land suitable for the type structure to be built upon it? If extensive changes in grade levels will be necessary it may be wise to search further. Good drainage is essential--the land should be somewhat higher than streets or roads that give access to it.

--Soil and subsoil. Ideally, the soil should be stable and free of large rocks. If it will be necessary to install a septic system, have a percolation test made to determine whether the soil is suitable. Any doubts about subsoil conditions should be resolved by a civil engineer.

--Boundaries. Have a survey made and get permanent markers placed on the corners of the property. Surveying the typical lot only costs $50 or so and will reveal any encroachments on the property.

--Deed restrictions. The use that can be made of the land may be limited by restrictions that run with the deed. Have a lawyer check for boobytraps.

--Zoning. Look into the zoning, for it governs what you may do and what future neighbors may do.

--Taxes due. Any unpaid taxes from the past must be paid up to make a clear transfer of title. In addition, there will be taxes due for the current tax year. These should be pro-rated between the buyer and the seller.

--Special assessments. Find out whether any special assessments (for a drainage district, roads or some other improvement) are payable and arrange for their settlement before accepting title.

--Easements. Have a lawyer check for the existence of any easements on the property and explain their significance to you.

--Utilities. Determine whether gas, electricity, water, sewerage services are available and how much it will cost to take advantage of them.

--Solar orientation. A lot that runs north and south provides more opportunity for siting a house to take advantage of the sun's warmth in the winter, and to avoid its fiercest glare in the summer. On a large lot, of course, the house may be turned to present its best face to the sun regardless of the lot's orientation.

Party Line

Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. David Johnson and Don were Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Jones, Frederick, Okla., Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Black and children, Littlefield, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Lamb County PCG Meet in Littlefield

Over 200 Lamb County farmers and business men attended a meeting in Littlefield July 11 and re-elected John D. Smith, farmer, and Jack Wicker, President of the Security State Bank of Littlefield, as directors of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. for another year. Principal speaker at the meeting was PCG Executive Vice President George W. Pfeifferberger.

The large turnout for the meeting was indicative of the intense interest that is developing over the High Plains in the cotton industry. Littlefield's "Ball of Fire" Chamber of Commerce sponsored the meeting, and chamber members travelled all over the county discussing cotton's problems with farmers, ginners and businessmen, and drumming up interest in the meeting. Troy Arnes, Chamber President, commented: "We realize the importance of the industry to both farmers and businessmen in this county and we want to do everything possible to find solutions to the industry's problems."

Pfeifferberger, who recently returned from a "round the world" trip during which he visited textile people in most of the world's major cotton markets, told the group that there was a great potential market for the kind of cotton grown in this area, especially in the far east. He added that what is needed is more promotion and advertising of our cotton to capitalize on these markets and others that are developing as a result of the world's population explosion.

According to Gene Garrison, Executive Vice President of the Lamb County Chamber of Commerce, the Chamber had three top priority agricultural items for work during the 1963 year: (1) Attracting Industry related to agriculture,

(2) Stimulating the use of agricultural products, and (3) Increasing net farm income.

"In talking with people in various parts of the county," he said, "we are told that we can best accomplish the third of these items through support of Plains Cotton Growers and its programs."

Sorghum Midge Menace To Area Grain Growers

The adult midge is a small, fragile, orange colored, gnat like insect about 1/12 inch in length. The majority of midge complete their life cycle in 14 to 16 days. The first generation of the midge usually develops in seed heads of Johnsongrass and/or other grasses. The newly-emerged adults may fly several miles to fields of grain sorghum at the time seed-heads begin to emerge from the boot. The female midge lives for only one to two days, and the male lives for a shorter period. The adults mate and the females begin laying eggs soon after emergence. The female lays 50 to 250 eggs. Eggs are deposited in the spikelets soon after the heads appear from the boot. Injury to the sorghum grain is caused by the larva which feeds on the internal content of the seed.

Midge emerged from the first Johnsongrass head sample taken on June 10. From June 10 to date, midge have been found in Lubbock, Garza, Dawson, Hockley, Crosby, Terry, Lynn, Lamb, Hale, Gaines, Floyd and Dickens counties. Midge emergence has been noted from several host plants including Johnsongrass, Sudan grass, Sorghum alimum and White Tridens. Based upon present findings, all indications are that the midge over-wintered in this area.

Timing of insecticide applications is the most important factor in midge control. Chemical control is aimed at the destruction of the adult midge before egg laying begins. Treatment should be made as soon as 90 percent of the heads have emerged from the boot, but never later than three days after emergence. There is currently no accurate means of predicting an infestation of midge. Previous work has shown that it is usually not profitable to apply chemical control after the midge are found within the sorghum field to be treated. The following insecticides are recommended for midge control:

(1) Endrin - 1.6 lbs/gal - 1/4 pt. acre. Do not apply within 35 days of harvest. Apply only once each season.

(2) Toxaphene - 6 lbs/gal - 1/3 to 1/2 gal/acre. Apply only once after heads have formed. Do not apply over 1/3 gal/acre within 28 days of harvest or over 1/2 gallon within 40 days of harvest. Dairy animals or animals being finished for slaughter should not be pastured in toxaphene treated fields. Do not ensile treated forage.

(3) Sevin (50% WP) 1/4 to 2/3 lbs/acre. Sevin may be applied to forage sorghum without limitation. Allow 21 days between last application and harvest of sorghum grain.
