The massive campaign began Friday, July 26, and will run until August 30. This gives everyone from 6 to 106 thirty remaining days to try for those big prizes that could brighten anyone's life.

The subscription contest has been set up on a point basis, with 80 points constituting the first prize.

First prize will be a 9 inch portable color TV valued at $249.95 or a $175 gift certificate from any store of your choice in Earth.

Bailey County Electric Cooperative Members Receive Capital Credit Checks

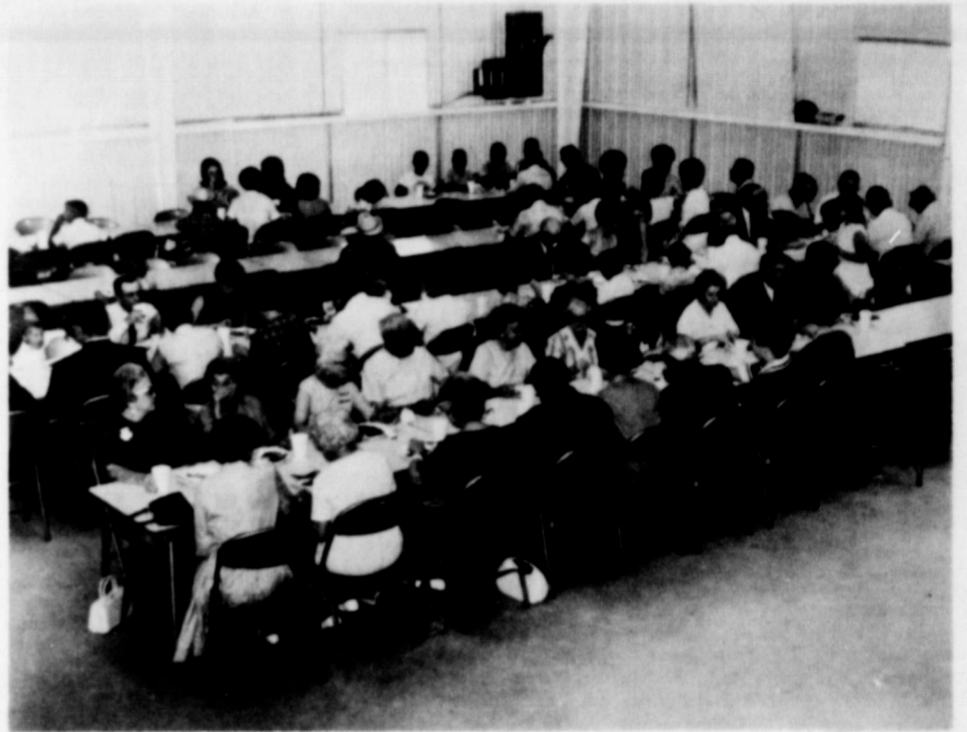

Some Bailey County Electric Cooperative members recently received capital credit checks. Those members who received service in 1966 and 1967 received checks. The Board of Directors authorized payment of all 1966 capital credits and 25% of 1967 capital credits. This is money the members paid into the financial structure of the cooperative. At the end of each year the amount paid by members over and above actual operating expenses is determined and then assigned back to each member as capital credits. When the auditors, Board of Directors and Management find that the cooperative is in a financial position to refund it, capital credit checks are made to each individual who was a member at that time. This year checks totaling $146,004.11 will be refunded to 1966 members and 25% of the 1967 checks totaling $33,260.60. This money will go back into the area economy.

Bailey County Electric Cooperative also continues to pay on its loan ahead of schedule. On June 14, 1968, the cooperative paid $100,000.00 cushion of credits to the Rural Electrification Administration as another advance payment on the loan from REA. Bailey County Electric has paid all regular loan payments on time, with interest. This $100,000.00 advance payment brings the total advance payments to $957,805.50--nearly a million dollars ahead of time.

The total amount paid ahead of schedule by REA electric borrowers throughout the nation so far this fiscal year totals $24,764,077.00. In addition, the borrowers have made $194,604,292.00 in regularly scheduled principal and interest payments, for a total of $219,368,369.00 in receipts for the U.S. Treasury from the rural electric program.

Halsell Foundation Gives Tech Grant

Dr. Grover Murray, Texas Tech president, accepted funds totaling $75,000.00 at a closed dinner meeting at Lubbock Country Club Saturday, July 27. The funds will be used as matching grants for the establishment of an authentic ranch headquarters on the site of the new International Center for Arid and Semi-Arid Lands Studies-Museum Complex.

The grants, which came from well-known ranchers in Texas and Oklahoma, will be available when an additional $75,000.00 is raised to meet the requirements of the gifts.

A representative of the Mallet Ranch and Dr. and Mrs. W.C. Holden, Chairman of the Ranch Headquarters Planning Committee, interested the Ewing Halsell Foundation of San Antonio in making the initial gift of a $25,000.00 matching grant to start the Ranch Headquarters Fund.

The $50,000.00 gift came from a West Texas rancher who wished to remain anonymous. Ewing Halsell, son of William Halsell, the founder of the Texas and Oklahoma Halsell Ranches created the Ewing Halsell Foundation. His father, a well-known early day southwestern rancher represents the cattleman in the Peter Hurd mural in the Rotunda of the West Texas Museum at Tech.

In 1901 William Halsell purchased a part of the original XIT Ranch in Lamb and Castro Counties known today as the Halsell Springlake Ranch.

It was on this land that the towns of Auharist and Earth were founded by the Halsells and where the Halsells' old friend and famous cowboy humorist Will Rogers often visited.

The Ranch Headquarters which will be located on ten acres of the ICASALS-Museum site is to be an authentic composite of the buildings and facilities used by the early day ranchers in the southwest.

A committee of ranchers and historians has been searching in the southwest for more than a year for representative buildings which can be relocated on the Tech campus as a nucleus for the unique headquarters complex.

The committee says the headquarters can be built in two phases. Construction of phase one is scheduled to begin when $200,000.00 is pledged and building equipment and furnishings are located.

Total cost of the Ranch Headquarters to be an authentic and attractive interpretation of ranching heritage as are Sturbridge Village or other famous national historical sites, is estimated at $400,000.00.

The committee is seeking information and photos on early day historic ranches, equipment, and furnishings from the 1870's to the early 1900 period of Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Arizona and Colorado.

Mrs. Sam Cearley has been in Oklahoma for five days. She returned Monday bringing her mother, Mrs. Janey Doughty with her.

The Mashed O --- A Symbol Is Dedication Speech

"The Mashed-O---A Symbol" was the topic of Judge Otha Dent's speech which was articulated given at the FFA Livestock Show Barn Dedication at 11:00 a. m. Saturday.

After being introduced by State Representative Bill Clayton, Judge Dent congratulated the Springlake-Earth School for being chosen from more than 1,000 such school districts in the state as being the recipient of this massive livestock and agricultural pavilion by the Ewing Halsell Foundation.

Judge Dent went on to say, "The Mashed-O is more than just a cattle brand--it is a symbol--a link that binds the past to the future. A link that secures today's economy of this area to the foundation laid in yester-years. A symbol of a link that ties the integrity and in fact, ideas are indestructible. If ideas could be destroyed, there would never have been a beautiful granite Capitol Building in Austin or a Mashed-O."

The dramatic speech was concluded by reminding everyone that the "Mashed-O is not only a cattle brand, it is a symbol."

Honored guests at the dedication services were Gilbert Denham, Jr., chairman of the Ewing Halsell Foundation of San Antonio, Miss Helen Campbell, executive secretary of the foundation, Billy Wayne Clayton, Judge Otha Dent, Judge Truitt Sides, Judge Pat Boone, and Bill McCluskey of the Halsell Cattle Company.

The new $15,000.00 livestock pavilion was endowed by the Halsell Foundation in March of this year. Construction was completed recently by Stout Steel Builders of Tulsa.

The Earth Roping Club generously donated the land on which both the old and new livestock barns are located. It was also through this contribution that the new barn was made possible.

250 Attend Springlake Baptist Anniversary

The First Baptist Church of Springlake observed its twentieth anniversary Sunday with three special services. Rev. C. T. Jordon, first pastor of the church, spoke at the morning service of the organization of the church and the challenge of the future. Four speakers were featured at the afternoon service. Ernest Baker, a member of the deacon council of the church, recalled the days of organization. Rev. A. R. Stewart, a former pastor of the church, expressed his personal appreciation for the church. Rev. M. B. Baldwin issued a challenge of evangelism. Ray Hardway, a former member and lay preacher, spoke to the church of the need for ministry. The present pastor, Don L. Holmes, used the theme "The Reputation of a Church" at the evening service.

Special music for the day was provided by the church choir, a duet consisting of Ed Jones and Jerry Field and a girls ensemble consisting of Ann Bearden, Alyn Jones, Jimma Banks, Jenna Banks, Stella Blackwell and Lynda Packard presented special numbers.

A highlight of the day was the noon meal served to more than two hundred fifty persons. The menu consisted of fried chicken, fresh vegetables, with home made ice cream for dessert. Mrs. Clifford Hopping, hostess for the church, was in charge of arrangements and the serving of the meal.

Special guests at the services included Gus Parish, who donated the land for the church, and Jack Howell, now living in Lubbock, who served as the first Sunday School Superintendent. Mrs. W. T. Clayton, in whose home the church was formally organized, served as chairman of the arrangements committee for the celebration. Special recognition was given the large group of charter members in attendance.

Floral arrangements of pink gladioli were provided by Mrs. Harlon Watson and her mother, Mrs. G. Keller. Another special arrangement was sent by Ted Rowan, a former music director for the church.

The First Baptist Church of Springlake was organized July 27, 1948, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Clayton. Rev. C. T. Jordon was called as the first pastor.

Highlights of the church history were recalled during the day of special services. In 1954 the church constructed a camp cottage at the Baptist Encampment near Floydada and built a Mexican mission in Springlake. In 1957, an educational building was added and a new parsonage constructed in 1963. Since 1961, the church has been a consistent donor to Wayland College at Plainview and in March of this year the church accepted the mission challenge of building a parsonage for the Calvary Baptist Church in Enserado, North Dakota. The project is now successfully completed.

Foreign Markets Continue To Offer Hope For Increase

An increase in the amount of cotton sold to foreign markets continues to offer the only hope in the next few years for returning to production of 2 million bales or more on the High Plains and a corresponding production increase across the cotton belt.

Exports are especially important to the High Plains, which over the years has sold some 65 percent of its total production into the export market.

And Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., is playing a significant role in planning for what could be one of the most important cotton export meetings ever held, and certainly the most important ever held in Lubbock.

Gathering in Lubbock on August 13 and 14 will be the Executive Committee of Cotton Council International, the Special Export Committee of the National Cotton Council, leaders in business and agriculture from this and other cotton areas and top officials from six different agencies of the Federal Government that influence cotton exports.

All will be seeking answers to the question "What more can be done to improve cotton sales outside the U. S."

From Government will be representatives from the Departments of Agriculture, State, Commerce, the Export-Import Bank, the Foreign Credit Insurance Division and the U. S. Maritime Administration.

Donald Johnson, Executive Vice President of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., says "The entire cotton industry has urged Government to encourage increased cotton exports for years, and it appears we have finally gotten their attention. Now they will expect to hear specific recommendations on what each agency can do to improve foreign markets."

"And unless we can deliver specific recommendations our cries for increased exports in the future may well fall on deaf ears. It is something of a 'put up or shut up' proposition."

According to Lubbock's Roy B. Davis, this year's president of the National Cotton Council and the man largely responsible for the pick-up of interest in cotton exports, the tentative format calls for an open, public meeting on August 13.

Producers, merchants, bankers, warehousemen, ginners, and transportation people are expected to participate in this first session, at which each of the Government agencies will be heard from, followed by question and answer periods.

Some of the subjects to be treated by Government people include "The Importance of International Trade to the U. S. and the Significance of Cotton Exports," "USDA Programs to Expand Exports of U. S. Cotton," "Export-Import Bank Credits for Cotton," "The Changing Shipping Situation and the Opportunity for Cotton Exports to Benefit Therefrom,"

Officials of the NCC and PCG are asking that all segments of the cotton industry and others with an economic interest in cotton exports give serious thought to the subjects to be discussed and be prepared to attend and make constructive suggestions during the two-day meeting.

On the day following this open meeting will be meetings of the GCF and NCC committees, plus "working conclaves" of people from Government with business and agriculture representatives.

Bankers will confer with Export-Import Bank officials, producers and others directly connected with cotton will sit down with USDA officials, both producer representatives and merchants will talk with the Department of Commerce, and the transportation industry people will work with the U. S. Maritime Administration.

"In this way," Johnson says, "we hope to make this meeting as productive as possible. We hope to see from it some concrete actions in the cotton industry and in Government that will take us back to our fair share of world cotton markets." Johnson pointed out that in the five years 1956 through 1960 the U. S. sold 29.9 million bales of cotton to foreign countries, a 5-year average of almost 6 million per year, while from 1961 through 1966 total exports came to only 25.6 million bales, a 6-year average of less than 4.3 million bales.

Current-year exports are now estimated at around 4 million bales.

Domestic cotton consumption for the past few years has exceeded 9 million bales, so if exports can be returned to around 6 million, the U. S. producer will be called on to grow at least 15 million bales per year.

"But unless we take the necessary action to bring exports

ASA Expands Activities To Taiwan, Korea And W. Germany

The American Soybean Association is expanding its market development activities to Taiwan, Korea and W. Germany.

ASA has directed the promotion efforts in Japan for 11 years. Next month ASA's Country Director, Scott Sawyers, based in Tokyo, will conduct a preliminary market survey in bustling Taiwan in answer to a formal request from the Taiwanese Vegetable Oil Manufacturers Association. Sawyers flew to Korea Wednesday, June 19, to meet with industry leaders in Korea and investigate the possibility of participating in a trade fair in Seoul this fall.

In West Germany a pilot program of promoting identified soybean oil will be tried for the first time in cooperation with the Soybean Council of America. Soybean oil is not identified but sold as a blend around the world. The identified soybean oil will be sold through thousands of retail outlets of the EDEKA food chain, the largest in Germany.

The rapidly expanding Taiwanese pig and poultry industry is creating an increased market for soybean meal. U.S. soybean sales passed the 10 million bushel per year mark—all in dollars sales. In addition to meal for feed, opportunity exists to increase human per capita consumption of vegetable oil in Taiwan.

In contrast to the Orient, Western Europe has a high edible oil consumption—higher than the U.S.—that is not expected to increase. Soyoil promotion in West Germany aims for a larger share of the present market. Competition is toe-to-toe against other identified vegetable oils such as sunflowerseed oils from Russia. ASA's entry into Taiwan and Germany is made possible by funds contributed by market promotion agencies in Iowa, Louisiana, Mississippi, Missouri and Ohio. A recent amendment to the contract with Foreign Agricultural Service, USDA, provides funds for program activities in Taiwan and extends financing of the Japanese project through June 1971 (c.).

The soyoil promotion is a cooperative effort of the Soybean Council of America and ASA. Joint financing comes from FAS, EDEKA and ASA with administration by the Council.

Council president Glenn Fogler notes that West Germany is currently the number 2 buyer of U.S. soybeans after Japan. A successful soyoil promotion could significantly increase U.S. soybean sales.

North Dakota Minister Visits Springlake Church

Wednesday, August 7, the First Baptist Church of Springlake will have as its special guest, Rev. Bobby J. Bundick, pastor of the Calvary Baptist Church in Emerado, North Dakota. He will be presenting a series of slides as a story of the building progress. The new parsonage has been valued at more than $23,000. In addition to his report on the new parsonage, Mr. Bundick will be having special conferences with Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Baker. The Bakers are giving

Mrs. Baker will conduct conferences with workers in the elementary departments and Mr. Baker will teach the book "The Church, Organized and Functioning." The preparation week will take place August 25-29. Mr. Baker is a teacher and member of the deacon council. Mrs. Baker is Superintendent of the Sunday School at Springlake. The family of Rev. Long Distance Rates Change Announced

A reduction of long distance rates goes into effect for General Telephone Company of the Southwest customers August 1 as a result of the recent ruling by the Federal Communications Commission which ordered the American Telephone and Telegraph Company to reduce interstate long distance rates by $20,000,000 annually. The reductions will be 5 to 10¢ from the charge for the first three minutes on daytime weekday station-to-station calls. These are calls placed between 7 a. m. and 5 p. m. Monday through Friday. This is the 23rd time interstate rates have been cut since coast to coast service began in 1915. During that time, the cost of transcontinental calls has dropped to as little as $.75 (station-to-station between midnight and 7 a. m.) from $20.70 in 1915. Long distance rates have been cut in half since 1945 in contrast to 7% rise in the consumer price index.

LUBBOCK---After months of hearings, delays, enervating false starts and almost continuous head-counting, supporters now appear to have the votes to pass an extension of the Agriculture Act of 1965, perhaps for as long as four years.

According to Donald Johnson, Executive Vice President of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., who returned from Washington Thursday, July 25, a survey of representatives in the House gave H-17126 a favorable margin of votes.

The same survey indicated that an amendment imposing payment limitations on individual farmers, certain to be proposed, would be defeated.

First pointing out that the situation in the House is still extremely shaky, Johnson reported that "unless something else happens to change the minds of those now committed to vote for the measure, it can be passed, without limitations or other crippling amendments."

Indications now are that the test will come on Monday, July 29, when the Bill is due to follow food stamp legislation onto the floor of the House.

The Senate passed a four year extension of the Act, with relatively minor changes, in a week-end session Saturday, July 20.

H-17126, as reported from the Agriculture Committee is for a one year extension. But an amendment to make it run for four years will be offered, and USDA officials in particular feel such an amendment will have an excellent chance.

The majority of cotton people, including all producer groups and most others in the industry, are on record as favoring an extension of the current program. This somewhat uncommon togetherness stems from a wide realization that for this year at least it is either an extension of the 1965 Act or nothing at all.

The present program is slated to expire at the end of 1969, and unless Congress moves to prevent it, cotton will revert to the old pre-1964 "two price" system, with domestic mills paying even or eight cents a pound more for cotton than foreign mills.

"And I would be hard pressed to name any individual or group that would like to see that happen," Johnson said.

However, there are some in the industry, principally among processors but including some producers, who would prefer an extension for only one year. These feel some changes are needed in the current set-up and would go back to Congress in 1969 and 1970 for a new law.

"But the PCG Board has resolved--and I think wisely--to work for at least a four year extension," Johnson noted, and went on to say, "We will have a new Congress under a new President in 1969, and it is impossible to predict what difficulties will be encountered when a full scale review of farm legislation comes up again."

"Proponents of a one year extension mostly want the law altered to encourage increased cotton acreage and production. Under strongest attack is the "Ellender Amendment," which guarantees that the price support payment will equal 65 per cent of parity on producers' permissible acreage.

"And this feature of the 1965 law does indeed influence administrative decisions on maximum permissible acreage and price support levels. It may even be true that cooperating producers this year would have been allowed to plant their full allotments, as many contend they should have been allowed to do, had it not been for the Ellender Amendment.

"But it is also true," Johnson points out, "that without the Ellender Amendment producers would be without protection of any kind under the law. They would be at the mercy of the Secretary of Agriculture, whoever he might be at a given time."

"So if the Ellender Amendment is to be taken out of the law to give the Secretary more power to increase production, then something else needs to be put into the law that will restrict his power to decrease producer income."

It should be noted also that the present law imposes no minimum on the size of payments for acreage voluntarily diverted from cotton produc-

Speakers, Planning And Princesses Spark American Soybean Assn. Annual Meeting

HUDSON, Ia.--Internationally recognized speakers, a pivotal business session and crowning of the United States' first "Princess Soya" will spark the American Soybean Association's 48th annual meeting, August 19, 20 and 21 in New Orleans.

Keith Barrett, widely respected commodity economist who specializes in analyzing the soybean complex, leads off with "The Outlook for U. S. Soybeans." Barrett began in England, spent three years with a Swiss firm and in 1968 was named grain economist for a U. S. firm. A report on the important West German market will come from Eugen Schmidt, vice president of the German Oil Millers Assn. West Germany is the largest single market for U. S. soybeans and soy products.

Featured speakers will also cover oilseed competition, international sales and increasing yields per acre to increase profits.

The regular ASA business session, heart of the convention and climax of the meeting, will be built around a free-swinging discussion of a plan for greater financing of a stepped-up market development program.

Knowledgeable observers say "soybeans are headed for trouble." World markets are being wooded by a barrage of different oilseeds and prote in sources. At home most indicators point to an alltime record soybean harvest and possible glut.

No one can bail out the U. S. soybean producer but the U. S. groundswell of support for self-help financing to beef-up market development programs is gaining steam.

Prior to the business session, six young ladies--state winners from Arkansas, Illinois, Minnesota, Mississippi, North Carolina and South Carolina--will compete in the first national "Princess Soya" contest. The winner will be crowned as a finale to the convention's main evening banquet.

The banquet is being planned by the Greater New Orleans Host Committee and will feature a jazz band presentation, an award ceremony and a Cajun speaker. The menu is southern cuisine at its best winding up with Flaming Baked Alaska "en Parade."

While a special Ladies program is planned with a luncheon, coffee meeting and tour, the biggest attraction is a chance to shop and visit famous spots in historic, old New Orleans. Children and teen groups will also have planned activities including a staffed recreation room and a cook-out.

WHAT ABOUT YOU?

"If you don't have an overriding purpose and life ambition and goal in what you are presently doing, you better change jobs or careers and get into something else."

The guy who has little enthusiasm for his work and passes it over with comments like "it's something to do" or "it makes me a living" somehow leaves us cold. We figure he'd just as soon be digging ditches. It is a reflection on himself, his lack of ambition and lack of faith in himself that he can really do something he feels is worthwhile. . . .

In this day and time nearly any kind of work can be highly technical and interesting when people who have a dedication to it and a sense of serving their fellow man, work at it and self-educate themselves beyond formal schooling to do the best possible job."

tion, nor are these payments affected by the Ellender Amendment. And Johnson feels that this feature, together with other administrative actions open to the Secretary, provides considerable flexibility to the program.

"Properly administered," he contends, "the present program is adequate to increase or decrease the acreage planted to cotton at the Secretary's discretion."

A four year extension would not, of course, preclude the possibility of program changes, or even a completely new program, before 1973.

"No law or program is beyond the reach of Congress at any time," Johnson concluded, "but with a four year extension on the books--if we get it--we will have a much better chance of maintaining a program we can live with should the new Congress not be able to agree on a better one."
