

NOSIN.....
WITH POLLY

This day will never dawn again. Life is slipping away with incredible speed. TODAY, is doubtless our most precious possession. Yet we neglect to live today, hoping things will be better tomorrow, yet we should face today. Whatever we make of OUR TODAY is of top importance. OUR TODAY should never be spent in dreaming of bygone yesterdays, or be shadowed by anxiety of tomorrow, but as the Psalmist writes "This is the day which the Lord hath made; we will rejoice and be glad in it." So it was recognized centuries ago and passed on to us, the importance of TODAY.

So each day that dawns should be greeted with gladness. However, we omit the magic of LIVING DAILY that could be ours if we would but fill our thoughts of THIS TODAY. Forgetting the mistakes of yesterday, and fears of tomorrow, but LIVE FOR TODAY.

A former president of the United States once stated, that Americans spend more money, and waste more time than any other nation in the world wondering whether they're happy or not.

JUST FOR TODAY

Just for today I will be happy.

Just for today I will try to adjust myself to what is, and not try to adjust everything to my own desires. I will take my family, my business, and my luck as they come and fit myself to them.

Just for today I will take care of my body. I will exercise it, care for it, nourish it, not abuse it or neglect it, so that it will be a perfect machine for my bidding.

Just for today I will try to strengthen my mind. I will learn something useful. I will not be a mental loafer. I will read something that requires effort, thought and concentration.

Just for today I will exercise my soul in three ways; I will do somebody a good turn and not get found out. I will do at least two things I don't want to do, as William James suggests, just for exercise.

Just for today I will be agreeable. I will look as well as I can, dress as becomingly as possible, talk low, act courteously, be liberal with praise, criticize not at all, nor find fault with anything and not try to regulate nor improve anyone.

Just for today I will try to live through this day only, not to tackle my whole life problem at once. I can do things for twelve hours that would appall me if I had to keep them up for a lifetime.

Just for today I will have a program. I will write down what I expect to do every hour. I may not follow it exactly, but I will have it. It will eliminate two pests, hurry and indecision.

Just for today I will have a quiet half-hour all by myself and relax. In this half-hour sometimes I will think of God, so as to get a little more perspective into my life.

Just for today I will be unafraid, especially I will not be afraid to be happy, to enjoy what is beautiful, to love, and to believe that those I love, love me.

Carroll McDonald Has Narrow Escape Tuesday Afternoon

Carroll McDonald, local manager of Southwestern Public Service Company narrowly escaped being electrocuted Tuesday afternoon when he came in contact with 7200 volts of electricity.

McDonald was working up near the top of a pole on a transformer, near the automatic laundry on North Amherst Road when he touched an energized transformer case.

When McDonald came in contact with the case about 2:30 p.m. he was knocked from the pole but his safety belt caught and kept him from falling to the ground.

Bystanders, Perk Lee, Doug Lewis and Bob Armstrong rushed the Earth Fire Truck to the scene and brought McDonald down from the pole.

He was taken to Dr. Holt's office and treated for burns on both hands and also on his back. He was back at work Wednesday morning.

A two car collision at Springlake Monday night took the life of a 28 year old Norman, Ark. man identified as John Homer Buchanan and injured C. C. Rockwell, 68 of Hereford.

The accident occurred at 9 p.m. at the intersection of U. S. Highway 385 and U. S. Highway 70.

V. L. Smith, Jr., deputy sheriff of Earth, who assisted highway patrolman H. J. Jackson of Littlefield and deputy V. L. Smith, Sr. of Olton investigate the accident, stated that the two vehicles met near the center of the intersection and careened some 60 feet to the southeast.

Buchanan, driving a '57 model Mercury was traveling east on Highway 70 and Rockwell, south on 385, in a '57 model Lincoln.

Clifford Hopping, a witness to the accident said Billy Watson of Springlake, traveling north on 385, had stopped for the caution light and had to back his car up to avoid being involved in the collision.

Hopping also stated that when the cars careened the Buchanan car hit the center island east of Rudd's Service Station and Buchanan was thrown out of his car onto the island, and his car went on across the road east of the island.

A Parsons Funeral Home ambulance was called to the scene from Olton assisted by Hammons Funeral Home of Littlefield, and both victims were taken to Olton Community Hospital where emergency treatment was given.

Both were transferred to Methodist Hospital in Lubbock, where Buchanan was pronounced dead on arrival, and Rockwell was reported in critical condition.

Both cars involved in the accident were completely demolished.

The intersection of Highway 70 and 385 is a very dangerous crossing due to the fact that several persons have been killed over a period of years in accidents at the intersection.

It's the hook that snags the fish, but that chunk of lead, your sinker, plays a far more important role in fishing than most anglers realize.

Certain kinds of fishing call for particular types of sinkers.

Some of the more popular sinkers include the square pyramid, triangular bank, bank, d'psey, ball pointed triangular pyramid, diamond, egg, tournament casting, multiple triangular, coil, multiple-eyed cone, torpedo, drail, keel, coin, chain and rangeley.

Sinkers fall into three general groups: bottom fishing, casting and trolling.

Let's take a look at the groups.

BOTTOM FISHING — Here the principal factor is enough weight to reach the bottom. In shallow water with no current, a quarter-ounce sinker might do the job. But 75 miles off shore at one of the snapper banks here the water may be 90 feet deep with a strong current running, you might need eight ounces to a pound of lead to carry the bait to the bottom.

CASTING — In casting, where distance is required, the sinker should be streamlined.

TROLLING — Special sinkers are needed for trolling. They must be free of holes, depressions or bumps that could cause bubbles when pulled through the water, since the bubbles serve only to distract the attention of the fish from the bait. Trolling sinkers generally are cigar-shaped and designed so well they will not spin. When a sinker spins, it will cause one of two things — the line to twist or the line to unravel. Either way it'll ruin your line.

The best bait in the world isn't worth a hoot if the sinker fails to keep it in place. In an anular rolling surf or undertow the shifting sand coupled with the force of the surf or current often will roll the bait and sinker parallel to the shore at a fast clip. Sometimes it will actually wash the terminal tackle right up to the shore. Thus for this kind of fishing you need a sinker with large flat surfaces — sinkers that won't roll but tend to bury in the shifting sand. You can get by with round sinkers but only if several are used.

Generally speaking the best sinkers for surf fishing are the square pyramid, diamond and bank types.

There are a few species of fish that have to be hooked the instant that they hit the bait. There are also several species that must be allowed to take the bait a few seconds before striking. In either case, special sinkers or rigs are needed if you expect to score on fish.

The tobacco seed is so tiny it takes 350,000 to weigh an ounce or about 5.6 million to weigh a pound.

If each seed germinated and could be transplanted, a pound of seed would be sufficient to plant about 750 acres.

Actually, however, growers sow about an ounce of seed in seedbeds for each 3 to 6 acres to be planted. This is to assure them of enough plants during a relatively short transplanting season.

One tobacco seed represents a potential of about 75 cigarettes. On an equivalent domestic farm sales weight basis, about 370 cigarettes are produced from a pound of tobacco. It takes the cured leaf from about five plants to weigh a pound.

Tobacco ranks fourth among crops in cash receipts, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture. It is exceeded only by cotton, wheat, and corn.

There are six major classes of tobacco — flue-cured, fire-cured, air-cured, cigar filler, cigar binder, and cigar wrapper.

Of some $7 billion spent for tobacco in the U. S. in 1959, about $6.6 billion went for cigarettes, including $2.9 billion for state and federal excise taxes. Smokers consumed 185 packs per person.

Built-In Kitchen Is Center Of Today's 'Better Home'

Built-in electric kitchens will be important features of model homes on display during this year's National Home Week.

Built-in electric range countertop units also have automatic timing devices to insure exact timing and temperatures.

There's also an important financial advantage in buying a new home equipped with a complete electric kitchen. The family can begin enjoying the conveniences of such things as electric cooking and automatic dishwashing immediately, while the cost of the new kitchen is amortized over the life of the mortgage.

Built-in electric range components such as these—wall oven and handy countertop surface cooking units—will be featured in model homes on display during National Home Week.

W. T. Homecoming Events Set For Saturday, October 14

CANYON (Special) — Preparations have begun early here on the campus of West Texas State College for the biggest annual celebration on the calendar, which for years has always been Homecoming. Date this year is October 14.

The day designated to welcome back to the campus ex-students of WT, will feature the events which have characterized WT Homecomings of many years. These are club reunions, a parade, barbecue, football game, and a dance.

Registration of exes will begin at 9 a.m. in the Student Union Building and continue until 3 p.m. Reunions of clubs are slated from noon until the parade starts at 3:30 p.m. Barbecue, catered again this year by Walter Jetton of Fort Worth, will be served from 4:30 until 6:30 p.m., and the football game, with the Buffaloes meeting the Arizona State Sun Devils, will be at 7:30 p.m. The dance is to run from 10 p.m. until 1 a.m.

Tickets for the barbecue will cost $1.25 each, and the meal will be served in old Buffalo Stadium. Should it rain on Homecoming Day, the barbecue will be served in the cafeteria.

The parade is expected to feature about two dozen floats from college organizations, a number of high school bands, and several riding clubs of the region.

This year a nationally known band, Charlie Spivak and his orchestra, has been obtained for the Homecoming Dance, scheduled in the Ballroom of the Student Union Building. Admission will be $1.50 a person, and the dance will start immediately after the game.

WT students will begin the Homecoming celebration on October 12 with their traditional Homecoming assembly program, which is highlighted by the crowning of the 1961 Homecoming Queen. Western Week, when all students and faculty don western wear, also starts that day.

op Roofing Stays on Top With Builders

More than 80 percent of the nation's home builders who subscribe to the National Home Week theme, "A Better Home—A Better Life," chose asphalt shingles for the roofs on their homes.

The reasons are clear. Asphalt shingles are low in applied cost, savings builders can pass on to their customers. Equally important, they are trouble free. Builders report they rarely get "call-backs" — complaints from new owners of homes roofed with asphalt shingles.

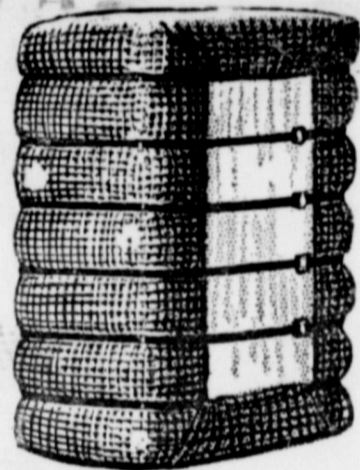

One special reason builders choose asphalt shingles, whether for developments of hundreds of homes or for a single, custom-built house, is the wide range of colors available.

Many developers use different roofing colors throughout their projects to help avoid a "sameness" from house to house. Others choose a single color to give their developments continuity. A California builder chose a soft brown asphalt shingle for all the roofs in a huge tract of homes, explaining that the "earthy tone harmonizes with the surrounding countryside."

White or pastel shades of asphalt shingles are popular with builders in areas where summer heat is a problem.

Muleshoe Jaycees Challenge Earth Club To Shootout Sunday in Muleshoe

Muleshoe Jaycees have challenged Earth Junior Chamber of Commerce members to a shootout Sunday in Muleshoe.

Weapons are to be shotguns, with clay pigeons as targets on the Muleshoe Jaycee skeet range in Muleshoe, according to Dale Fischgrab, president of the Muleshoe Jaycees.

Fischgrab issued the challenge Monday after the Muleshoe Jaycees decided they were going to have to find someone who couldn't outshoot them. "We have been practicing, so Earth Jaycees had better field their best shooters Sunday afternoon when the shooting starts at 3 p.m.," Fischgrab stated.

The skeet range is located about one mile east of Muleshoe, on the Lubbock Highway. "Any Earth boys who would like to come out to practice may do so beginning at 2:30 Sunday afternoon," Fischgrab emphasized, "with practice shooting at the regular rates. We have shells for sale and plenty of clays on hand, so we'd like to see at least two teams of five men each out against us."

Match rules will be explained prior to the shooting and a range safety officer will be on duty. Only one gun will be loaded at a time and all guns must be pointed downrange at all times, according to Fischgrab.

"A special Limit Purchase campaign is now under way in Texas. Homemakers now demand built-in maid service in the food they buy and it costs them more.

These services include more grading, packaging, processing, storage, and other operations. They have nearly doubled since 1940, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

The USDA says at least half the cost of meals is for preparation and service of food. This includes cost of meals not eaten at home—now at the rate of about one out of every four.

Housewives, of course, are buying freedom from kitchen chores—food with less waste and requiring less trimming, sorting, or washing.

Three ready-to-serve meals, costing $6.70 for a family of four, could be prepared in the home kitchen for $4.50.

It would take the housewife about 5½ hours to prepare the home-cooked meals. She would need only 1½ hours, however, for the ready-to-serve meals.

In many cases, furthermore, convenience foods save money as well as time.

pint and a half of juice costs about 70 cents, compared with about 30 cents for a can of frozen concentrate.

It costs about 4 cents to make a Devil's food cake with mix—including two eggs. It costs about 61 cents if made with home ingredients.

New '62 Fords To Be Shown Party Line... Friday at Gatewood Ford Sales

The new 1962 Fords will be shown at Gatewood Ford Sales in Earth on Friday, September 29. Manager Rodney Baker, invites area folks to come in and look the new Ford over and to familiarize themselves with the new Ford features, and enjoy free coffee and Cokes all day Friday.

The Ford Galaxie "500" and Ford Falcon will be displayed at Gatewood Ford Sales Friday.

Featuring a crisp, fresh approach to Ford's classic straight-line styling, the 1962 Ford Galaxie incorporates major engineering advancements that reduce recommended "twice-a-year" level.

For the first time, the popular Ford Galaxie is being offered in twelve models in two series: The Galaxie and the new Galaxie "500" series.

The 1962 Galaxie is the first regular production vehicle in automotive history to have a factory recommended 6,000 mile service interval.

Lee A. Iacocca, Ford Motor Company vice president and general manager of the Ford Division, said that in addition to the many self-maintenance features introduced on the Galaxie last year, 1962 Galaxies will offer:

30,000 mile lubrication for wheel bearings.

A factory installed radiator coolant good for 35 degrees below zero and with a normal change interval of 30,000 miles or two years

Extended fuel filter life of 30,000 miles.

A recommended oil change interval of 6,000 miles.

"These features, coupled with our 30,000 mile major lubrication schedule, self-adjusting brakes, double-wrapped aluminum muffler, and especially processed underbody parts," Mr. Iacocca said, "mean that the average 12,000 mile a year Galaxie owner will require normal maintenance on his vehicle only once every six months."

The Ford Falcon, most successful new car ever launched, will reach another milestone before the end of 1961 — the sale of the one millionth Falcon.

Ford dealers sold 778,086 Falcons in the first 21 months since the introduction of the compact car on October 8, 1959.

Pointing out that 1961 year-to-date sales are running well ahead of 1960, Lee A. Iacocca, stated "with the introduction of the 1962 greater sales gains by the industry's top-selling compact."

"We expect to reach the 1,000,000 sales mark by late November or early December, giving the Falcon an unparalleled sales record in the automotive industry," Mr. Iacocca said.

Mr. Iacocca also pointed out that the Falcon is not only the No. 1 selling compact in the industry, a position it has held since three months after its introduction, but is also the third best selling car in the industry.

The Falcon station wagon is the No. 1 compact station wagon in sales. The Falcon Futura, the luxury compact with bucket seats, has accounted for better than one of every five Falcons sold since its introduction in April, 1961.

Mrs. M. E. Kelley, Mrs. J. L. Hinson and Mrs. H. S. Sanders were in Levelland Tuesday.

Bobby Sloan and Jerry Jones were in Lubbock Saturday.

This Falcon four-door sedan highlights the compact car's new styling for 1962. While still "distinctively Falcon" the top-selling Ford compact features a new grille, new front fenders and hood and larger taillights, but still retains the inside-outside dimensions of its predecessors. On the interior, the instrument cluster has been revamped and there are new fabrics, styles and colors for all models. The new Falcon line, to be introduced by Ford dealers on September 29, will feature a total of 13 models.

State Legislature Amends Vehicle Registration Law on Farm Trailers

The last regular session of the Texas Legislature amended the Texas Motor Vehicle Registration Law to allow farmers to register their farm trailers and farm semi-trailers for a $5.00 fee providing the gross weight is not less than 4000 or more than 10,000 pounds. Farm trailers weighing less than 4000 lbs., gross weight, are still exempt from registration by statute. Those exceeding 10,000 lbs., gross weight, must register as a regular commercial trailer.

Captain J. L. Miller, License and Weight Service of the Department of Public Safety, advised that any vehicle bearing the $5.00 plate must not: (1) exceed 30 MPH, (2) be operated for hire, (3) have steel or metal wheels in contact with the pavement and it must be equipped with adequate hitch to remain secure to the towing vehicle and be operated and equipped in conformity with all other provisions of the law. Violation of any of the above sections of the law nullifies the $5.00 registration fee and the trailer will be subject to the regular registration fees and penalties as prescribed by law.

This does not change the existing law which requires that all trailers or semi-trailers having a registered or gross weight in excess of 3000 pounds be equipped with clearance lamps, side marker lamps, and reflectors as well as a tail light and stop light, if the stop light on the towing vehicle is obscured.

Captain Miller further stated that all machinery type vehicles, other than machinery used solely for the purpose of drilling water wells and road construction machinery, must now be registered with regular license plates and title applied for. This includes oil field drilling and servicing machinery regardless of whether such machinery is a unit within itself or is mounted on a conventional vehicle or chassis.

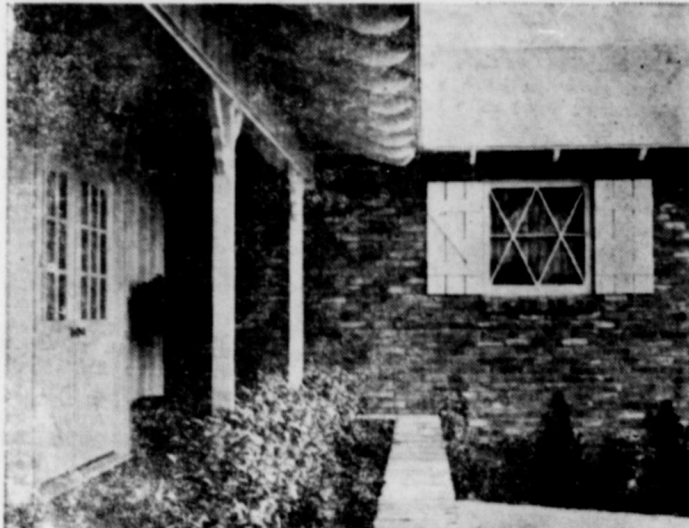

Water well drilling units and road construction maintenance equipment are required to have either the $5.00 registration plate or a regular registration plate, depending upon how the equipment is used.

Captain Miller suggested that anyone needing further information should contact their county tax assessor and collector.

"Most men don't bring their boss home for dinner because she's already there."

New Colonial-Style Homes Continue as 'Best Sellers'

Panel doors of ponderosa pine—two of them—make entrance-way to this Colonial-style home in Waco, Tex., twice as inviting.

Sensible design, beauty inside and out, traditional warmth and charm—these are the principal reasons modern Colonial styling continues to increase in popularity today with home builders and buyers alike.

A Waco, Texas, family built the modern Colonial house shown in the photograph. Its design, typically simple and uncluttered, features the use of contrasting materials like wood and used brick.

The panel doors are nine-light, wood units painted white. Like all doors of ponderosa pine they are chemically treated to make them weather-resistant. Wood posts, board and batten siding, and a large overhang supported by decorative rafter extensions, or outriggers, are all part of the Colonial theme.

Windows are flanked by "barn door" shutters and feature Colonial-style diamond-pattern wood grills. All exterior woodwork is painted white.

Asphalt shingles, always compatible with Colonial architecture, are used for the roof. A light shade was chosen because it helps keep the house cool by reflecting the heat of the summer sun.

Cheese Graces Macaroni Shells

Cheese and shell macaroni make this simple top-of-the-range luncheon or supper main dish. The entire dish is ready in just about the time it takes to cook the macaroni shells. Select easy-melting Chateau processed cheese food and nonfat dry milk to make a quick and tasty sauce. Season the macaroni and add canned sliced mushrooms and sliced pimiento-stuffed olives—pour the hot cheese sauce over all.

The process cheese food can be shredded easily. Shredding hastens and completes the melting of the cheese and results in a smooth sauce. Cheese is particularly fine for meatless meals.

If serving on the patio, place this combination in a chafing dish to keep warm. A crisp green salad and hot biscuits (the ready-to-bake type) make an ample menu. Serve iced coffee in paper cups—and use paper plates and napkins to eliminate dish washing drudgery.

Buffet Cheese 'N' Shells (Makes about 6 servings)

- | | |
|--|--|
| 1 (8-ounce) package shell macaroni | 1 envelope (1 scant tablespoon) Instant Minced Onion |
| 1 cup water | 2 cups shredded (½ lb.) Chateau Process Cheese Food |
| 1 cup Starlac nonfat dry milk (dry form) | 1 (4-ounce) can sliced mushrooms, drained |
| 1 teaspoon salt | ½ cup sliced pimiento-stuffed green olives |
| ½ teaspoon pepper | |
| 2 drops tabasco sauce | |

Cook shell macaroni according to directions on package; drain. Pour water into top of double boiler; add Starlac, seasonings, minced onion and shredded cheese. Cook over boiling water, stirring occasionally, until cheese is melted. Combine shell macaroni, cheese sauce, mushrooms and olives. For buffet service, a chafing dish will do nicely to keep the macaroni warm. Just stir occasionally.

U. S. Army to Activate Special Forces Group At Ft. Bragg Soon

WASHINGTON (ANS) — The Department of the Army announced today that it will activate a fourth Special Forces group at Ft. Bragg, N. C., this month.

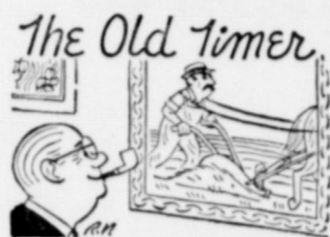

Initially, approximately 200 military personnel will be assigned to that unit, which will be designated the Fifth Special Forces Group. These individuals now are at Ft. Bragg taking Special Forces training.

The new group will receive additional personnel in a planned phasing to bring the unit to a strength of approximately 850 by the end of June, 1962.

The Army has assigned to Ft. Bragg the Seventh Special Forces group. The Fifth will join the seventh at the U. S. Army Special Warfare Center, Ft. Bragg.

Other Army Special Forces groups are the First on Okinawa and the Tenth at Bad Tolz, Germany.

Special Forces basic operating units are approximately the size of a squad — 12 men — and members are specialists in such fields as weapons, demolitions, basic medical skills, intelligence and communications.

WHERE ELSE BUT IN WEST TEXAS — Can you find quality as well as quantity in tomatoes. Workers are pictured gathering the Ed Haley tomato crop in readiness for shipping to Plain-

Home Handyman Can Make Own Picture Frames

It's not the art, it's the framing that strains the purse strings of today's art collector. What with the emergence of the "Sunday painter," and the availability of good, low-cost prints of fine paintings, art collecting can be anyone's hobby. If there's a handyman in the household, framing the collection can be inexpensive, too.

With stock moldings of ponderosa pine, good glue, and a few do-it-yourself tools, hand-some frames can be made to bring out the best in any work of art. Here's how to do it:

Measure pictures to be framed, then go to your local building supply dealer to choose the molding that best suits the art. Ask the dealer to cut a rabbet—a small recess ¼-inch deep and about ⅝-inch wide—along the inner edge of the molding to allow picture and glass to set flush with the back of the frame. The dealer also can cut moldings at 45-degree angles for butt joints if you have precise measurements.

HOME OWNERS' QUESTION BOX

Q—My porch stairs get very slippery when it rains. Can you recommend a remedy?

A—Try applying a coat of deck paint thinned about fifty per cent. Before it dries, cover lightly with a coat of fine sand. One application should last through at least one winter.

Q—Our seashore cottage has an old tin roof that is rusting and has to be replaced. Do we have to reroof with metal? The old roof rattles when it rains and glares when the sun shines.

A—Modern asphalt shingles with built-in wind resistance are applied today to all kinds of homes in areas beset by high winds, hot sun, and harsh weather. They will resist even hurricane winds and give years of trouble-free service. Suggest you reroof with white or light color asphalt shingles which are free from glare and reflect heat from summer sun.

Q—We want to insulate the floor above the crawl space in our new home. Are there any special insulation techniques for this?

A—Batts or blankets of mineral wool insulation can be held in place between floor joists with chicken wire or hardware cloth. Obtain mineral wool batts or blankets and fit them—vapor barrier up—between joists. Staple supporting mesh to bottom of joists every six inches.

AMONG THOSE WHO ARE ILL!

A. C. Barton underwent an emergency appendectomy Monday in West Plains Hospital, Muleshoe. He is reported to be doing fine.

Child's Arm Turns Hard, Stony; Medical Treatment Slows Process

Christine Versluis, who is nine and lives on the shores of Lake Ontario at Hilton, N.Y., is unable to straighten her right arm because of rheumatic disease.

Her arm and parts of both shoulders are becoming increasingly calcified, which means change of the muscle tissue into a hard stony substance.

This somber-faced child is the tragic victim of dermatomyositis, one of the forms of rheumatic disease. Another form is rheumatoid arthritis. The majority of people don't know that children suffer from arthritis; they believe mistakenly that arthritis afflicts only the aging—someone's grandfather or grandmother, surely not the very young.

But there is urgent reason today why grownups and parents especially should be intelligently informed about arthritis among children. Dr. William S. Clark, director of medical care of The National Foundation, whose expanded program embraces arthritis, birth defects and continued work in polio, said this week:

"Rheumatoid arthritis is a type that can make children very ill indeed. They may become severely crippled. Their joints may 'freeze.' Happily, we can now demonstrate today that with proper treatment and care, most of the crippling caused by juvenile rheumatoid arthritis can be prevented."

But the cardinal point, Dr. Clark emphasizes, is that thousands of children have rheumatoid arthritis without knowing what the disease they suffer from really is. Their parents may dismiss the aching in neck, knees, wrists or elbows (or, more rarely, in all these joints simultaneously) as "growing pains"; or for a variety of other reasons, the right diagnosis is not made.

Nine-year-old Christine Versluis must hold her right arm in this awkward upright position because it is turning into hard, stony substance. But there's hope for her in research sponsored by The National Foundation.

"We now estimate that in the United States, more than 50,000 adults who suffer from rheumatoid arthritis had their actual onset of the disease in childhood," Dr. Clark added. "Had they received modern treatment at that time, most of the crippling in maturity could have been prevented. That's one reason why The National Foundation's program in arthritis and patient aid for the young is so significant."

Child victims of rheumatoid arthritis are estimated to total 30,000 in this country alone, with 16,000 a year ill enough to need medical care. About 5,000 or 6,000 of these may require treatment as intensive as the rehabilitation needed for those stricken by paralytic polio.

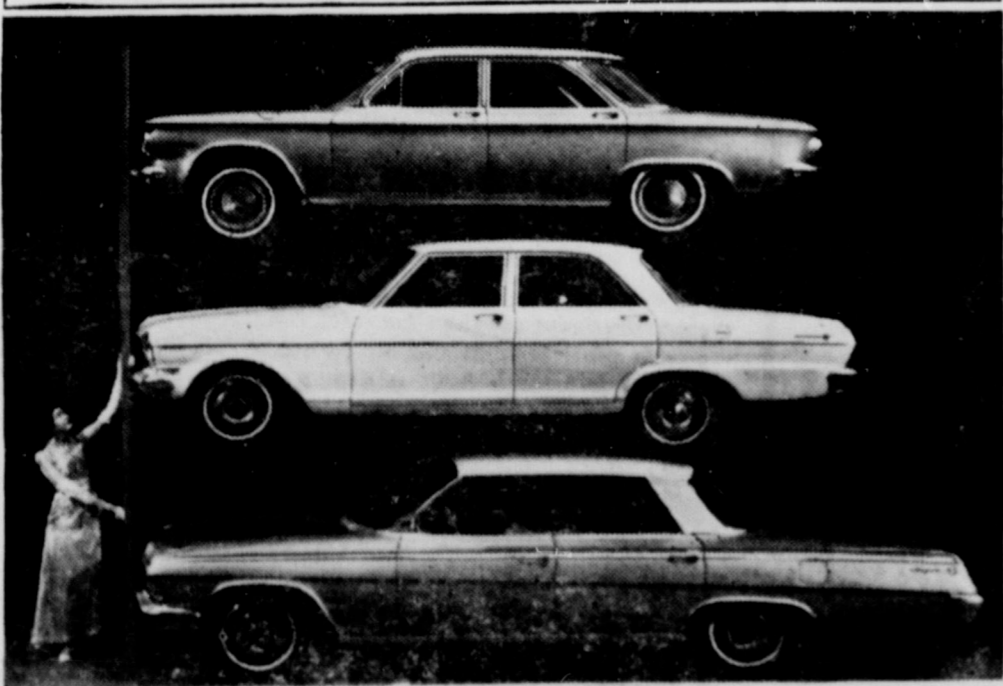

There are at least 11 millions in the nation today who suffer from some form of rheumatic disease, including arthritis. Rheumatoid arthritis victims total about 1,500,000. The disease is the nation's No. 1 crippling.

To return to Christine, the little girl with the arm and shoulders turning into a stony element, she is receiving treatment at the March of Dimes-supported Arthritis Study Center at the University of Rochester School of Medicine—one of four National Foundation arthritis centers around the country. Her doctors hope they are slowing the advance of calcification but the outlook at this time is not certain.

Uncertainty, then, is the disquieting prospect facing this little girl. Her mother, Mrs. Eugene Versluis, hopes that if enough people support National Foundation research, perhaps in time Christine's right arm will fall back where it belongs and the stoniness will disappear; and that eventually the appalling figure of 30,000 children with crippling rheumatoid arthritis each year will decline.

Greater choice as Chevrolet Offers 3 Lines for 1962

The wide range of choices Chevrolet dealers will offer for 1962 is hinted in this three-car photograph. Pictured to compare over-all length are (top to bottom) the 180-inch Corvair 4-Door Sedan; the 183-inch Chevy II 4-Door Sedan, and the Impala Sport Sedan which measures 209.6 inches. They are representative of 32 passenger car models which Chevrolet dealers will start displaying September 29. The new Chevy II's bow are on the same date as other Chevrolet-built cars.

SCOUTS HAVE REGULAR MEETING

The top offering in Ford's station wagon line for 1962 is this four-door, nine-passenger Country Squire (top). The power-operated rear window is standard in this Squire as well as in the six-passenger Country Squire and in the nine-passenger Country Sedan. The Galaxie nine-passenger wagons have the only forward facing third seat in the low-priced car field. Tailgate openings on all of the wagons are more than 50" wide. This Galaxie 500 two-door hardtop (bottom) is one of twelve models being offered in Ford's expanded Galaxie series for 1962. The sculptured body of the 1962 Galaxie gives the appearance of actual motion to its unmistakably classic Ford lines. This appearance of movement is emphasized in the recessed Thunderbird-like rear window and in the forward thrust of the roof itself. The new Galaxie series will feature an industry first—"twice-a-year" maintenance.

Farm Facts

The 1959 Census of Agriculture reported that there were 3,704,000 farms in the United States. This is the smallest number (for the 48 states) of any census since 1870.

There were 1,079,000 fewer farms in 1959 than in 1954. About 232,000 were no longer counted as farms because of a change in census definitions.

To be considered a farm, a place must have a minimum of 10 acres of productive land as compared with a minimum of 3 acres under the old definition. If it has less than 10 acres, sales of agricultural products must add up to at least $250 annually.

Even without a change in the definition of a farm, changes in farm size and number were great between 1954 and 1959.

Total farm acreage dropped from 1,158 million in 1954 to 1,129 million in 1959. The average size of farms increased from 242 to 302 acres.

Results of the 1959 census are evidence of a further concentration and specialization of agriculture in the United States.

There was a 30% drop in the number of farms selling less than $2,500 worth of products and a 34% rise in the number selling $10,000 worth of products or more.

In 1959, there were 180,000 farms of 1,000 acres or more. This compares with 68,000 in 1925.

Underground Water Conservation News

Most any farmer you talk with today will tell you that this 1961 crop is one of the least expensive he has produced in some time. Why? There are perhaps many reasons, but one is because most farmers have not had to do a great deal of irrigating. The snows and rains have come at times when they were most needed.

Now with the 1961 crop laid by in most communities of the High Plains, it is not too early to commence thinking about next year's plans.

Keeping in mind the fact that irrigation is generally one of the largest expenses involved in making a crop, why isn't it good business for you to try and figure out how to better use natural precipitation both where it falls and also by pumping from lakes thereby minimizing the use of underground water. The loss of irrigation "tailwater" is also a problem that confronts most irrigators, at least to some degree. This expensive loss should be alleviated or at least minimized.

With records of the High Plains

Underground Water Conservation District indicating that underground water levels are dropping annually, it becomes apparent that if this High Plains country is to continue as a major agricultural area, rainfall must be used more efficiently.

Before you bed your land for next year's crop talk with your High Plains Water District people, the Soil Conservation Service folks or your County Agent about some of the things others are doing to conserve rainfall and underground water. You can probably make some simple inexpensive changes in farming methods that could result in more net income to you from the crops you raise.

After all, isn't financial gain one of the primary reasons you're in the farming business?

'62 Chevrolets on Display Friday and Saturday

Chevrolet this week introduces the Chevy II, a complete new line of cars with new dimensions in size and function for the American motoring public.

Chevy II is larger than the Corvair but smaller than Chevrolet's standard cars. It will feature nine models, including station wagons, a hardtop coupe and a convertible. The new models, which represent the most complete line of smaller than standard cars introduced in recent years, will go on display at Thompson Chevrolet Company in Earth and Otton Friday, September 29.

Chevrolet General Manager E. N. Cole said the new line features "maximum functionalism with thrift."

He said "The Chevy II was designed to provide good basic transportation for the average American family and at the most reasonable cost. This includes not only the original purchase price but also more economical operating and maintenance expenses."

Styling features "refined simplicity." This is accentuated by long, smooth flowing lines plus subtle sculpturing of the sheet metal. The front end is distinguished by single headlamps and lattice-type grille.

While the design of the Chevy II is generally along conventional lines, the car includes several outstanding mechanical features differing from standard models:

- (1) Tapered plate springs, exclusive to the U. S. auto industry.
- (2) New four cylinder and six cylinder engines developed for the new line.
- (3) Integral frame and body construction with bolt-on front end.

The nine Chevy II models are divided into three series. The standard, called the 100, will include two and four-door sedans and a two-seat station wagon. The deluxe series, called the 300, will contain two and four-door sedans and a three-seat station wagon. Top series of the line, the Nova 400, will contain a two-seat station wagon, plus two-door sport coupe and convertible.

The Chevy II models are 183 inches long and have a 110-inch wheelbase. They are 70.5 inches wide and 55 inches high.
