MISS LINDA PACKARD

Subscription Campaign Has Its First Winner

Becky Humphrey, 10, has already made history as being the first winner in the Earth News-Sun's gigantic Subscription Campaign.

Becky began her drive for subscriptions late in the afternoon on Friday, July 26. Like any youngster, she left with enthusiasm, just bubbling over. But unlike so many youngsters, she retained her enthusiasm until she finally reached her goal.

This little lass is not the only youngster who is trying for one of those desirable prizes offered for capable salesmen. There are others who have already decided that they too can win a prize if they will spend a little time and effort.

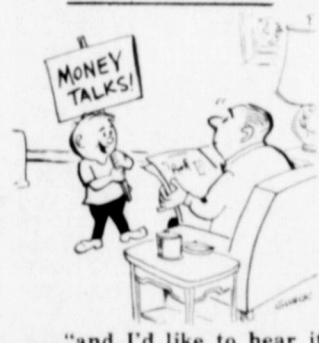

Many people in the area can probably remember seeing Becky as she rushed up to people who were walking down the streets, or who were resting for a moment in Pounds, the Wolverine or the City Drug. But Becky seldom walked away empty handed.

There are still hundreds of people who have not been approached by any such enthusiastic salesmen as Becky. Those people are still waiting to accept someone's offer to take a subscription. Will you be the one to sell them a subscription? Will you be one point closer to winning your desired prize?

There is still plenty of time left to make some money for school clothes, or to win a TV by selling subscriptions, but you had better get started now!

People in the rural areas will be found especially willing either to renew or to subscribe to the Earth News-Sun for the first time. They simply need to be approached by someone. Someone like YOU!!!

...and I'd like to hear it once...

There is no way you can lose, and it only takes a short time to sell the required number of subscriptions to the best paper on Earth.

NOSIN... WITH POLLY

Nail my shoes to the floor;
Glue my clothes to the door;
Take my hat and throw it far,
far, a-w-ay-ay-ay;

Hide my keys to the car;
When I ask you where they are,
Don't say a word,
Just nail my shoes to the floor!

NOSIN'

I adopted the above as my theme song while returning home Saturday from a delightful "Get Away From It All Vacation" in Oklahoma and Missouri.

Arriving in Tulsa, our daughter, Polly, Jr., got a few days off from work and together with one of my sisters, we spent some time in Shell Knob, Missouri, (located in the beautiful Ozark Mountains), where 52,000 acres of water make it an ideal vacation wonderland.

My brother, who is with a land development company in Shell Knob, is so excited about the scenic beauty and grandeur of the area, that we became encaptured with its wooded beauty. Not only that, we also became enthused over its potential, both as a place for a resort home or as an investment. . . But, alas, much to our dismay, we hadn't the dough to buy. So, we just enjoyed the beauty and restfulness of the place.

I also found Quartz Mountain Lodge on Lake Altus, another beautiful spot to rest and relax.

Vacations mean different things to different people, but to me it means relaxing and having fun. Being a natural back woods country gal, I like the mountains, lakes and very small gatherings. Bright lights and Broadway hold little fascination for me.

The efficient News staff got along so beautifully without me last week that I have found it exceedingly difficult, in fact, downright impossible to put over the thought of my being essential to the paper anymore.

This is the only thing that has taken even the slightest edge off my delightful trip. I now understand, fully, that old saying "a man's best friend is his dog." "Bourbon," our small dog, still needs me and gives me by wagging his tail as I enter the room. This has revived my sense of "Belonging."

Getting back to the old salt mines, I found the News-Sun staff had so many extra things going that it normally would require an octopus to handle the extras. However, the crew, each with only two hands, seemed to be bearing up under it rather well.

The Subscription Campaign had them involved in making new stencils and marking up new dates on the cards, too.

The afternoons are set aside for the individual schools to have an opportunity to apply some of the ideas that were planted during the morning sessions.

The overall purpose of the Student Council Officers Workshop is to provide opportunities for the young people to learn more about the student council and how to be an effective leader.

The group will visit the HemisFair on Wednesday afternoon and evening as a highlight of their trip.

Those attending are Ricky Byers, president; Marsha Dawson, secretary; and Jamie Washington, vice president. D. H. Koeninger, high school principal, is accompanying the trio of officers.

A Home For Our Heritage...

On the outskirts of Oklahoma City, settled onto the crest of Persimmon Hill, stands the National Cowboy Hall of Fame and Western Heritage Center. Completed just three years ago, it is one of the nation's major museums and is dedicated to preserving, for present and future generations, the facts, the legends, the towering personalities, the way of life, the sweep and hard splendor of the American West.

If there was one single attribute of character that the pioneers who built and developed the West had in common, it was courage. It took men and women with this quality to push the frontier of the U. S., in a little more than 100 years, from the Allegheny Mountains across a hostile continent to the shores of the Pacific Ocean. The course of some of the most colorful of Western history brushed close to the Hall of Fame site of Persimmon Hill. Just a few hundred yards away, tens-of-thousands of long-horn steers cut a deep trail in the red earth as they moved in giant cattle drives up the fabled Chisnolm Trail from the range-lands of Texas to Kansas markets. The opening of the Oklahoma Territory saw the land rush of the 89's. Claims were staked just south of Persimmon Hill creating a town of some 10,000 people virtually overnight--so Oklahoma City had its birth.

Within the Hall of Fame's rooms and halls are chuckwagons and stagecoaches, the famous guns of the West--the single action six-shooters, the Winchester repeating rifles and gatling guns. There are life-sized models of soldiers, Indians and ranchers. There is the best in Western art, in painting and statuary, to preserve the form and color and life of the times.

On Highway 66, less than a quarter of a mile from Persimmon Hill, it is said that each year more than 7.5 million cars carrying over 18 million people pass. Many will stop and be enriched by the experience. They will go on their way with renewed awareness of our Western heritage and a sense of the courage and independence that we must carry to the task of preserving and building this nation which our forefathers gave us.

Cecil Curtis Invents An Interesting Tailwater Return System

A subject of great concern to all High Plains residents is methods of control of waste water from tailwater losses. The High Plains Underground Water Conservation District has long considered control of tailwater waste one of the primary functions and responsibilities of the District, and has been instrumental in helping to design and construct numerous tailwater return systems which now dot the High Plains by the hundreds. Cecil Curtis of Route 1, Dimmitt, who farms 5 and 1/2 miles north of Springlake, has approached his tailwater problem by incorporating a unique innovation which has proven eminently satisfactory in solving his own particular problem. By looking at his practices, other farmers can find some solutions for their own individual problems with regard to tailwater waste.

Mr. Curtis' system has an orthodox tailwater pit with return pump situated in the center of the east side of his farm. But whereas the usual tailwater return system has the return water flowing directly into the pit with the water, resulting in the rapid buildup of silt in the pit which necessitates expensive cleaning out at regular intervals--Mr. Curtis has his tailwater running to the pit by flowing through two bermuda grass grassways. This is accomplished by two diversion terraces that empty into waterways at each end of the system.

These two grassways are 60 feet wide and one-fourth mile long each. When the water reaches the pit, all silt has been removed, and the water is as clear as when it was pumped from one of the two 8-inch wells incorporated into this system. Mr. Curtis has installed a 6-inch asbestos return line from the tailwater pit back into his regular irrigation line. This system has been in operation for about two years and the silt buildup has not reached the point where "floating" back on the land with a land leveler has become necessary. The bermuda grass has a rapid growth because it has been watered so often and can be utilized by grazing during non-watering season or baling for hay when the growth reaches baling height. Mr. Curtis estimates that this system saves him at least 25% of his water from the two wells. The bermuda is of the Midland variety and the returned grass seed will not germinate, resulting in contamination of the regular crop. The Soil Conservation people of Lamb County are justifiably proud of this installation which is proof of what can be accomplished with complete cooperation among all interested parties.

Farmers of the area and throughout the District are invited to observe this interesting tailwater system to see how one enterprising farmer has overcome his problem of tailwater waste.

Wide Range Of Electric Projects Reward 4-H

Thousands of 4-H Club members specializing in electric projects are putting finishing touches on their work as the 4-H year draws to a close.

Then finished products, demonstrations, exhibits and the like are judged for awards--usually at 4-H Round-up, County Fair or Achievement day. The wide range of projects undertaken by both boys and girls reflect home needs or special interests.

On farms, maintaining electric powered equipment is an important and money saving endeavor. In the home are numerous electric appliances for study and service. All 4-H'ers learn the fundamentals of electrical energy and their application. Safety is another important factor.

Younger 4-H'ers learn to repair electric cords and check outlets and wiring for signs of wear. They soon are able to re-wire old lamps and make new test lamps and simple reading lamps.

Some older teenagers work on complicated electronic devices, including sound systems, radio and television. According to the Cooperative Extension Service which supervises 4-H, scores of electric projects are available to 4-H youths.

The Westinghouse Electric Corporation is the first and only sponsor of the electric awards since the program was introduced in 1936 by the Extension Service. Currently about 100,000 members are participating.

Those between 14 and 19 years of age can compete for state and national awards which consist of educational trips to the National 4-H Congress held in Chicago, and six $600 educational scholarships. An estimated 6,000 boys and girls from coast-to-coast this year will claim a county electric medal. In addition, a handsome plaque is offered to counties for having launched electric projects that proved beneficial to members, their homes and communities. Counties in more than half the states last year earned the plaque award.

Any grade or high school student who would like to join 4-H and start an electric project should contact another 4-H member, a local club leader, or the county extension office.

Remember those childhood days when Babe Ruth candy bars, Post Toasties, bananas and peanut butter were the most wonderful things in the world, along of course, with playthings like balloons, balls and tiny China dolls...

The following poem found in Pounds Pharmacy over the balloon rack, will bring back memories and may perhaps, bring a tear to your eyes as you remember various occasions with your children...
 Time has a way of changing our values on life...

TRAGEDY

I always wanted a red balloon,
 It only cost a dime,
 But Ma said it was risky,
 They broke so quickly,
 And 'beside, she' didn't have time;
 And even if she did, she didn't think they were worth a dime.
 We lived on a farm, and I only went to one circus and fair,
 And all the balloons I ever saw were there.
 There were yellow ones and blue ones,
 But the kind I liked the best were red,
 And I don't see why she couldn't have stopped and said
 That maybe I could have one--
 But she didn't---I suppose that now
 You can buy them anywhere,
 And that they still sell red ones
 At circuses and fairs,
 I got a little money saved;
 I got a lot of time,
 I got no one to tell me how to spend my dime;
 Plenty of balloons--but somehow
 There's something died inside of me,
 And I don't want one---now.

Early Soil Testing For Fall Planted Crops Advised

Soil testing laboratories at College Station, Lubbock, Seymour, Nacogdoches and Wharton, ran tests on 3,284 soil samples during the months of April, May and June, reports Dr. C. D. Welch, Extension soil chemist at Texas A & M University.

Most of the samples came from within the state, but 117 samples were received from other states. Three samples were received from foreign countries, Welch said.

Two counties submitted over 100 samples during the three month period, with Harris and Hopkins turning in 199 and 123, respectively.

July and August are good months to collect soil samples for fall planted crops, as sampling during this period allows the laboratory to process samples and get reports back to the farmer in time for him to plan his fertilizer program, said Welch, September and October are usually busy months in the soil testing laboratories; thus, some delay in sample processing can be expected, the chemist said.

Although the excessive moisture in many areas resulted in delayed fertilization of row crops, the "overall" use of fertilizer compares favorably with past years, noted Welch.

During the three months of April, May and June, 712,788 tons of fertilizer were distributed, compared with 567,796 tons for the same time period in 1967 and 565,928 tons in 1966. On an annual average, fertilization this year is up about two percent over previous years, Welch said.

A report on Miss Lynda Packard, who will represent the Chamber in the Miss Grain Sorghum Contest, was given by Tuffy Dent.

Dave Cavitt, local manager of Southwestern Public Service, reported that the electricity supplying the school road sign had been disconnected, as it could not be kept in repairs. It was brought out that this time a board had been rammed through the sign.

The progress of the new golf course plans was reviewed by Harold Miller, after which the meeting adjourned.

Septic Tank System Best For Waste Disposal In Rural Areas

Proper waste disposal for the rural home or vacation cabin is a must, says W. S. Allen, Texas A & M University Extension agricultural engineer. Septic tank systems are usually the best way to handle this problem.

Such a home sewage disposal system consists of two units—a septic tank and the absorption field. The septic tank is a water-tight tank which allows settling and decomposition of the solids in the sewage. The tile absorption field allows the water from the sewage to be distributed into the soil. The disposal system requires a good soil percolation rate and a water table depth of at least 4 feet, advises the engineer.

All liquid wastes from the kitchen, bathroom and laundry should be drained into the septic tank. A grease trap, placed between the septic tank and kitchen to catch kitchen grease, is often desirable, says Allen. Water containing soaps, detergents, bowl cleaner, cleansing compounds, or ordinary amounts of water softener backwash will not adversely affect the septic tank system, he says.

The liquid discharged from the septic tank may look clear and free from solids, but it is not pure water and should not be used for any purpose, he notes. Rainwater, he adds, should be kept out of the disposal system.

Septic tanks should be periodically cleaned to avoid overflow and eventual destruction of the tile field. The sludge and scum levels in the tank should be checked every year and the tank cleaned when necessary.

Most areas require that home disposal systems meet certain standards. For assistance on special problems, consult the county health office, county agricultural agent, or state health department, advises Allen.

Grazing Associations Help Farmers Develop Income

Farmers and cattlemen are acquiring needed land resources by forming grazing associations and obtaining financial assistance from the Farmers Home Administration, the agency's Lamb County Supervisor, Truman J. Jones, said this week.

A grazing association is composed of a group of family farmers and ranchers who join together to acquire and develop land to provide seasonal grazing for livestock belonging to its members. The nonprofit association is owned, operated and managed by its members. "Small farmers," Jones said, "can increase their incomes, make better use of land and water resources, and develop larger equity in land through use of a grazing association. This program often provides small farmers with their only opportunity to remain in farming on a profitable basis."

Other advantages of an association include providing opportunities to improve livestock quality, gain bargaining power in the market place, build more stable operations and strengthen the rural community.

"Results benefit the entire community," Jones said, "because associations accomplish better use of land and water resources and provide expanded tax bases and more local buying power."

The grazing associations now in Texas range in size from 4 to 43 members, depending on the number of livestock to be supported and dimensions and quality of the land.

Eligible to form associations are neighboring farmers and ranchers who operate family size units. Financial and technical assistance is provided by the Farmers Home Administration. Additional aid often is provided by the Department of Agriculture's Soil Conservation Service, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, and the Extension Service.

Loans are available to qualified borrowers for periods up to 40 years at an interest rate of 5%. Interested individuals should contact the Lamb County Supervisor at 110 E. 6th Street

Texas Constitution Ammended 184 Times

The constitutional amendments appearing on the ballot at the general election on November 5, 1968, are the remaining 14 of a total of 20 proposed by the 60th Legislature during the regular session in 1967. Six of the 20 amendments have already been considered and adopted by the Texas electorate. With the adoption of those six amendments on November 11, 1967, the Texas Constitution of 1876 has been amended a grand total of 184 times.

The six amendments adopted last year contained provisions, in brief, as follows: (1) gave permissive authority to counties to put all tax money in a single general fund rather than depositing it in separate funds corresponding to tax levies for each of four constitutional purposes—general fund, road and bridge fund, public improvement fund, and jury fund; (2) permitted participation by municipalities in operation of mental health, mental retardation, and public health services; (3) extended the veterans' land program by authorizing the sale of $200,000,000 of land bonds to purchase lands for sale to veterans; (4) authorized counties to pay medical, doctor, and hospital bills of law-enforcement officers injured in line of duty; (5) authorized the Parks and Wildlife Department to issue and sell general obligation bonds in the amount of $75,000,000 to finance acquisition and development of lands for state parks and recreation areas; and (6) permitted nonelective state officers and employees to serve in other nonelective positions under the state of United States government where there is no conflict of interest and where the state will benefit.

Each of the 14 proposed amendments to appear on the ballot on November 5, 1968, is analyzed in this report. The Texas Legislative Council takes no position, pro or con, with respect to the merit of these proposals. In listing arguments FOR and AGAINST, the Council is merely presenting the arguments most commonly offered by proponents and opponents of each proposal.

A list of the 14 amendments to appear on the ballot at the general election November 5, 1968, follows:

AMENDMENT NO. 1 Relating to the Employees Retirement System of Texas and revising existing provisions concerning the management of the retirement, disability, and death compensation fund for officers and employees and the administration of the system.

AMENDMENT NO. 2 Increasing the amount which may be expended in one year from state funds for public assistance payments to needy aged, needy/disabled, needy blind, and needy children to $75,000,000.

AMENDMENT NO. 3 Providing for the investment of the Permanent University Fund by the Board of Regents of The University of Texas System in certain types of securities within the "prudent man rule."

AMENDMENT NO. 4 Authorizing Dallas County, by vote of a majority of qualified property taxpayers electors voting, to issue certain road bonds without the necessity for further legislation and providing that bonds issued or to be issued under Subsections (a) and (b) of Section 52, Article III, not be included in determining the debt limit.

AMENDMENT NO. 5 Authorizing an annual salary for members of the legislature in an amount not to exceed $8,400 per year and extending the per diem allowance to 140 days of the Regular Session.

AMENDMENT NO. 6 Giving permissive authority to the legislature to exempt from ad valorem taxation devices installed to eliminate or abate harmful effects of air emissions or water effluents on air and water quality of the state.

AMENDMENT NO. 7 Providing for continuously reducing state ad valorem property taxes and abolishing all state ad valorem property taxes after December 31, 1976, with the exception of the tax levied for certain institutions of higher education.

AMENDMENT NO. 8 Deleting certain constitutional provisions relating to the purchase of fuel by the state and the refueling under contract of rooms and halls used by the legislature and eliminating the requirement that the governor, the secretary of state, and the comptroller approve certain contracts of purchase.

AMENDMENT NO. 9 Allowing contributions to be made to the Teacher Retirement System of Texas on the basis of full salary of members.

AMENDMENT NO. 10 Authorizing the legislature to provide for the refund of the tax on cigars and tobacco products sold at retail within corporate limits of Texarkana, Texas, or any incorporated city or town in Texas contiguous with Texarkana.

AMENDMENT NO. 11 Authorizing the legislature to provide for consolidation of governmental offices and functions and giving political subdivisions authority to contract for performance of governmental functions in El Paso and Tarrant counties.

AMENDMENT NO. 12 Granting the legislature power to authorize cities and counties to issue revenue bonds for industrial development purposes.

AMENDMENT NO. 13 Exempting from ad valorem taxation certain property temporarily stored in a public warehouse.

AMENDMENT NO. 14 Fixing the time during which members of the legislature shall be ineligible to hold other offices;

WASHINGTON AND Small Business

BY C. WILSON HARDER
Poor Votes

There is the old phrase about sewing the wind and reaping whirlwind.

The truth of this adage is perhaps well illustrated by the so-called race problem now existing in this nation.

And those who have created the whirlwind are the irresponsible politicians who in hunger for votes have promised minorities the moon and aroused expectations far beyond possibility of fulfillment.

There are certain basic rights guaranteed by the Constitution to all Americans, regardless of race, color or creed. These rights have now been reaffirmed, but still there is rioting.

And perhaps the most interesting part of the entire mess is that no sooner had so-called civil rights legislation been passed than the noisier adherents of these measures then demanded that they also control U. S. foreign policy as witnessed by the strong anti-Vietnam complexion of the movement today.

There is probably some justification for demanding an end to Vietnam. And assuredly the American foreign policy is quite an enigma.

But on the other hand, the credentials of those who pour into Washington as part of a March of the Poor to make decisions on foreign policy seem open to question.

For after all, it can perhaps be assumed if they have the intellect and ability to decide on such complex problems of American relationship to the world, that same intellect and ability should have somehow lifted them out of their life of poverty in their own home town.

There are ways of helping the poor. The nation's independent businessmen, voting through the National Federation

VIETNAM (FHTNC)—Fireman Andrew H. Blair, USN, son of Mrs. Josephine Mitchell of Muleshoe, and husband of the former Miss Rose M. Jones of Route 1, Earth, is participating in search and destroy operations south of Saigon, Vietnam, in the Mekong Delta as a member of the Mobile Riverine Force.
His squadron has the mission of transporting infantry troops from a mobile base composed of several Navy ships to various operational areas over the vast networks of waterways in the delta. After troops go ashore the boats take up blocking positions along the streams and canals where they are also available to provide gunfire support.
Prior to arriving in Vietnam he was a student in riverine warfare in Vallejo, California, and completed a realistic survival training course in the rugged mountains near Warner Springs, California.

Meat Balls Are Party Discovery

Give your party snack table a modern look with these Gala Meat Ball Snacks made with the aid of a favorite pantry shelf staple, rolled oats. Tender ground beef combines with the oats to make these appetizing morsels extra juicy and flavorful. A tasty cheese sauce replaces the more common tomato sauce as the dunking substance. — And the sauce is a snap to make. Start with condensed cheese soup for the base, add seasonings and heat.

Set out party picks with the meat balls and sauce and let each guest discover for himself how delicious Gala Meat Ball Snacks are. Presto! A new star of the buffet snack table is born.

GALA MEAT BALL SNACKS

Makes 4 dozen

- | | |
|--------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------|
| Meat Balls: | Sauce: |
| 1 1/2 lb. ground beef | One 11-oz. can condensed Cheddar cheese soup |
| 3/4 cup rolled oats (quick or old fashioned, uncooked) | 2 tablespoons milk |
| 1/4 cup milk | 2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce |
| 3 tablespoons minced onion | 1 teaspoon onion juice |
| 2 teaspoons salt | 1/2 teaspoon dry shredded parsley |

For meat balls, thoroughly combine all ingredients. Shape to form 48 meat balls using about 1 tablespoon meat mixture for each. Melt 2 tablespoons shortening in large skillet. Add meat balls; pan-fry about 15 minutes, turning frequently. Drain on absorbent paper.

For sauce, combine all ingredients; heat thoroughly. To serve, insert a toothpick in each meat ball. Dip meat balls into hot sauce.

Chicken And Rice Mexicana

Fresh tomatoes, green pepper, onion and chili powder give Chicken and Rice Mexicana its south-of-the-border flavor.

This is the kind of main dish to cook in and serve from your prettiest casserole. Brown the chicken in the casserole or cook it and the vegetables in a separate skillet before transferring them to the casserole. Then put with the remaining ingredients in the baking dish, cover tightly (using foil if the casserole doesn't have a cover), pop into a moderate oven and forget it for half an hour.

Even though you might be tempted to peek into the casserole during cooking, it is strongly recommended that you do not. "Don't peek" is a standard admonition in all rice cookery instructions, and the reason is simple. Rice cooks to its best when steamed — not boiled — and when the cover of the saucepan or casserole is lifted, steam escapes and the rice has less chance of turning into tender and separate grains.

To add to the Mexican theme, serve with a guacamole salad, salt sticks and for dessert, wedges of fresh melon — cantaloup, honeydew and watermelon.

- | | |
|------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------|
| 1 2 1/2-pound frying chicken, salted and peppered to taste | 1/4 cup minced parsley |
| 3 tablespoons butter or margarine | 1 cup uncooked rice |
| 3/4 cup minced green onions | 2 cups chicken broth |
| 1/2 cup minced green pepper | 2 tomatoes, cut in eighths |
| | 1 1/2 teaspoons salt |
| | Pepper to taste |
| | 1 teaspoon chili powder |

Brown chicken pieces in butter melted in skillet; remove chicken to sheet pan. Add onions, green pepper and parsley. Cook until onion is tender. Add rice, broth, tomatoes and seasoning. Stir well and heat to boiling. Place chicken pieces on top. Cover with a tightly fitting lid. Reduce heat, and simmer for 30 minutes, or until liquid is absorbed; or bake at 350 degrees for 30 minutes.

Makes 6 servings.

Turn Fresh Tomatoes Into Spaghetti

While tomatoes are plentiful, both in the home garden and on the market, plan to make fresh spaghetti sauce. There's nothing like it. Make it in large quantity and freeze it for the days ahead when you don't feel like cooking. To strain the tomatoes and other vegetables for a smooth sauce, use a Foley Food Mill.

SPAGHETTI SAUCE

- | | |
|----------------------------|----------------------------------|
| 1/2 cup cubed salt pork | 1/2 teaspoon dried basil |
| 1/4 cup olive or other oil | 1 teaspoon dried oregano |
| 4 onions, sliced | 1 teaspoon salt |
| 1 clove garlic, chopped | Freshly ground pepper as desired |
| 1 cup chopped celery | |
| 5 pounds fresh tomatoes | |

In a large kettle, cook salt pork in oil until pieces are lightly browned. Add onions, garlic and celery and cook until soft. Cut tomatoes into quarters (do not peel, core or seed; the Food Mill takes care of it); add to kettle. Add basil, oregano, salt and pepper. Cover and cook slowly about 1 hour. Strain through a Foley Food Mill. Return to pan and continue cooking, uncovered, until sauce is thickened, about 1 1/2 hours. Taste and add additional herbs, salt and pepper as desired. Makes about 1 quart sauce. When doubling or tripling recipe for freezing, do not add additional herbs or other seasonings at the end. Wait until frozen sauce is thawed and heated, then taste and add seasoning if desired.

For spaghetti meat sauce, saute 1 pound of ground beef, or 1/2 pound beef and 1/2 pound pork in a small amount of oil until browned. Mix with tomato sauce and continue cooking 1/2 hour. Makes 8 servings.

Salad With Deep Sea Flavor

Happy summer days are gone, but need not be forgotten. Conjure up memories of sea and salad days with an exotic new crab-and-rice dish. A breeze to prepare, this chilled and sparkling flavor-combination of Chinese vegetables, pineapple juice and mayonnaise is guest-proof, too. It can be kept for hours in the refrigerator and served at your convenience. The recipe may be doubled to serve twelve, if desired.

Tropical Crab Salad

|------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 1 cup uncooked rice (NOT precooked variety) |
| 1 unseasoned pineapple juice |
| 2 pkgs. (6-oz.) frozen Alaska King crab meat, thawed and drained |
| 1 (1-lb.) can mixed Chinese vegetables, drained |
| 1 (5-oz.) can water chestnuts, drained and sliced |
| 1 cup thin diagonally sliced celery |
| 1/4 cup light cream or unseasoned pineapple juice |
| 2 cups real mayonnaise |
| 1/3 cup chopped scallions |
| 2 teaspoons curry powder |
| Salad greens |

Cook rice according to directions on package, substituting unseasoned pineapple juice for water. Toss with crab meat, Chinese vegetables, water chestnuts and celery. Gradually blend cream or pineapple juice into real mayonnaise. Mix in scallions and curry powder. Toss with rice mixture, mixing well. Chill. Serve on salad greens. (Makes 6 servings.)

FISH FOR A WONDERFUL MEAL

A fish dish, impressive enough for your most discerning guests... and yet within family-meal budgets, too... is a whole stuffed fish. Point up the flavor of the fish with a smooth, flavorful sauce, made from condensed mushroom soup. Condensed soups always assure you satin-smooth, perfectly seasoned sauces.

Incidentally, if you can't get a whole striped bass at your market, substitute red snapper, bluefish, mackerel, whitefish, or cod.

BAKED STUFFED FISH WITH MUSHROOM-PIMIENTO SAUCE

|------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 1 can (2 ounces) mushroom stems and pieces, drained | In saucepan, cook mushrooms, 2 tablespoons onion, 2 tablespoons parsley, celery, and seasonings in 1/4 cup butter until vegetables are tender. Remove from heat; stir in bread cubes. Lightly stuff fish; fasten with toothpicks or skewers. Place on rack in shallow baking pan; brush with 1 tablespoon melted butter. Bake at 350°F. for 1 1/2 hour or until fish flakes easily when tested with a fork. Meanwhile, in saucepan, cook remaining onion and parsley in 1 tablespoon butter until onion is tender. Gradually blend in remaining ingredients. Heat; stir now and then. Serve over fish. Makes 6 to 8 servings. |
| 1/4 cup finely chopped onion | |
| 3 tablespoons chopped parsley | |
| 2 tablespoons finely chopped celery | |
| 1/4 teaspoon salt | |
| Generous dash each crushed marjoram, pepper, crushed thyme | |
| 6 tablespoons butter or margarine | |
| 1 cup small dry bread cubes | |
| 3-pound whole striped bass, boned | |
| 1 can (10-1/2 ounces) condensed cream of mushroom soup | |
| 1/3 cup water | |
| 2 tablespoons chopped pimiento | |
| 1 tablespoon sherry (optional) | |

Feast For The Youngsters

Bologna takes to the charcoal grill! Children will really go for this popular sandwich meat prepared in a "grown-up" manner — Grilled Bologna Kebobs. The flavor secret is a marinade of mustard, soy sauce and 7-Up.

While you're barbecuing, keep the hungry family happy with Sparkling Pineapple Punch. Combine 1 can (6 oz.) of frozen pineapple-orange concentrate with 2 tablespoons maraschino cherry juice and 1 1/4 quarts (40 oz.) total chilled 7-Up. Pour over ice cubes.

GRILLED BOLOGNA KEBOBS

- | | |
|------------------------------------------------|-------------------------|
| 1 tablespoon dry mustard | Pineapple chunks |
| 1/4 cup soy sauce | Bacon, partially cooked |
| 1 cup 7-Up | Dill pickle chunks |
| 3 tablespoons lemon juice | Canned whole onions |
| 1/4 cup honey | |
| 1 lb. unsliced bologna, cut into 1-inch chunks | |

Combine first 5 ingredients and add meat. Let stand several hours. Alternate meat on skewers with remaining ingredients. Grill, basting occasionally with marinade. 4 to 6 servings.

New Garnish For Baked Ham

That "good old standby" for easy dinners, baked ham, will have brand new appeal when you present "Ham with Cranberry Pears." Bake fresh Bartlett pear halves with an orange-accented mixture of almonds and cranberry sauce for this quick, easy and so-impressive glamorizer.

Ham and pears are among the happiest of meat-fruit combinations. Heat thin slices of fresh Bartlett pears in the same skillet with frizzled boiled ham for a delectable accompaniment to waffles or pancakes. Fill a chilled pear half with ham and celery salad and serve as first course. Toss crescent-shaped slices, shredded western iceberg lettuce and ham slivers with creamy blue cheese dressing for a hearty lettuce slaw.

California has produced one of the best and biggest crops of Bartlett pears in many years. Enjoy them, not only with ham and other favorite foods, but simply eaten out of hand.

HAM WITH CRANBERRY PEARS

- | | |
|------------------------------------------|-------------------------------|
| 3 fresh California Bartlett pears | Dash salt |
| 1 cup canned whole berry cranberry sauce | 2 tablespoons melted butter |
| 1 teaspoon grated orange rind | 1/4 cup roasted diced almonds |
| 1/4 cup orange juice | Baked ham |

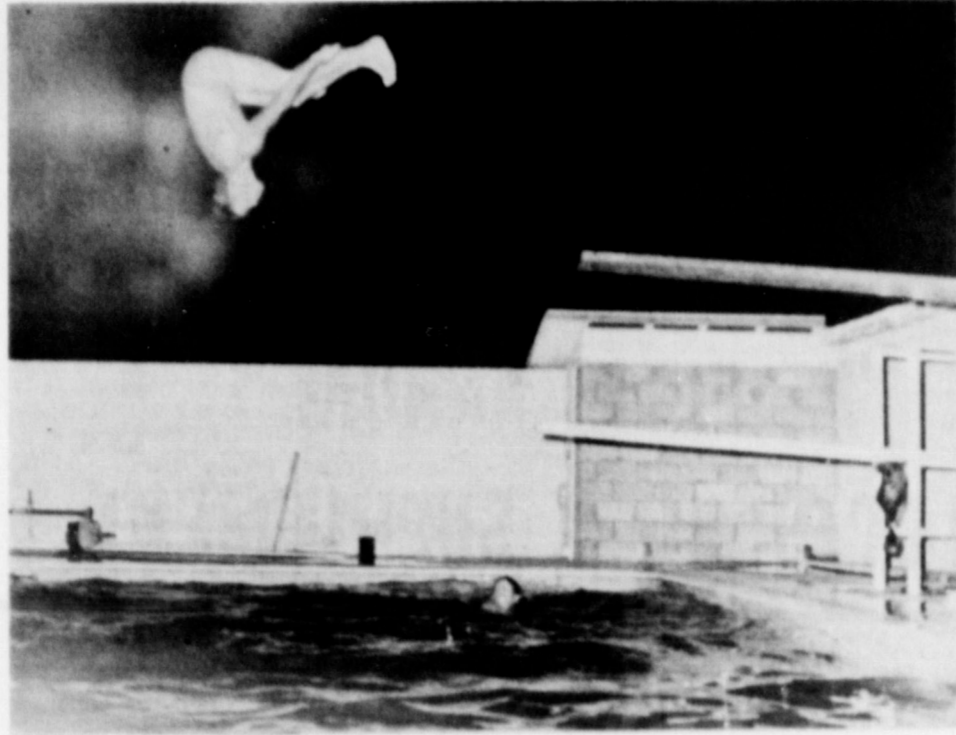

Pare, halve and core pears; place cavity-sides up in baking dish. Mix all remaining ingredients except ham; spoon into pear halves; pour liquid over and around pears. Cover dish tightly and bake in 350-degree (moderate) oven 30 to 35 minutes. Serve warm as accompaniment for baked ham. Makes 6 servings.

News From Here And There

Mr. and Mrs. Owen Broyles returned Saturday from a four week vacation traveling several thousand miles. They were accompanied on the trip by Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Rule from Friona. After leaving Lazbuddie, their first stop was at Tresedo, New Mexico. They then went to Navaho Dam near Farmington. In Arizona, they stopped at Pal Lake near Page. After fishing and sight seeing along the way, they traveled to Zion National Park, Utah, then on to Yosemite National Park. Going through the Redwood Forest in California and Oregon, they traveled along the coast and saw the undersea garden, showing all species of fish in the world. A deep sea diver was their guide who gave them some very informative stories. They also viewed the mysteries of the Sea Lion Cave on the coast. Making a cut back to Portland, Oregon, and Tacoma, Washington, the four enjoyed many scenes of interest. One of the highlights of their trip was to get so close a look at the USS Missouri ship at Port Orchard, Washington. After traveling along the Washington Islands, they went to Canada, traveling some 825 miles on Canadian highways. They then went to Glacier National Park in Montana, and their next stop wasn't at a station to get their ice chest filled, but they stopped at the roadside inn, filled the chest with snow from a 30 foot bank, and as Jewell Broyles put it, "Baby, It Was Cold Outside!" Comfortable in the car again, the group went to the Flaming Gorge Dam in Utah. They visited the Rules' relatives in DeLoreo, Colorado, then on to Mesa Verde National Park for their last visit of recreation before making their way home-ward to near Lazbuddie. Mr. and Mrs. Broyles were up early Sunday morning after a good night's rest at home, to go to Amarillo to see a new granddaughter, baby of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Broyles. They felt very fortunate. Mrs. Broyles stated, "We traveled so far and arrived safely at home without any car trouble, not even a flat." But as they were coming home late Sunday evening from Amarillo, they ran into a car driven by a Dakota man. The crash was unavoidable and caused complete damage beyond repair to the Dakota car as well as their 1965 Mercury. Fortunately, no one was injured. Again Mr. and Mrs. Broyles say that if an accident just had to happen, how nice to be so close to home when it occurred. Paul Wilbanks was on vacation visiting relatives and friends in Marshall, Arkansas, last week. Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Houston and son Brian, from Lubbock, visited Saturday in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Houston. Mr. and Mrs. Phil Montoya are the parents of a baby boy born Thursday in the Green Memorial Hospital in Muleshoe. He weighed 5 pounds and 15 ounces, and has been named Samuel Duane. The family works on the Raymond Houston farm. Mrs. E. V. Crain had the misfortune of falling at her home recently, suffering some broken bones and bruises. Mrs. Crain, 80, is being treated in the Green Memorial Hospital. Mrs. Perry Barnes and Nora McCurdy visited Mrs. Crain Sunday and report she may be able to return home in the near future. Mr. and Mrs. Freeman Davis, Reta and Charlotte, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Simmons and Jamie attended the Reorganized Church of Christ church reunion at May Hill, New Mexico, during the last week of July. Also attending from Lazbuddie were Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Great and their grandchildren, Lisa, Brent and David Great. Charlotte Day attended the workshop at Texas Tech recently for the study of photography. Marilyn Barnes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Barnes is at the Tech workshop for this week's study on photography. Mr. and Mrs. James Hall and their two sons, Allen and Britt, from Fort Worth, returned Thursday after a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Hall. Myrtle Steinbock was first place winner in the recent subscription contest held in Bailey County. How did you do it, Myrtle? Crville Burnett's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Burnett from Plainview, visited Sunday in the Burnett home. Mrs. Orville Burnett is recuperating at home steadily since being released from the Friona Community Hospital. Mrs. Burnett received injuries in a fall while she was on vacation in New Mexico early in July. Marie Cox has moved to Farmington from Lazbuddie. We are

Texas Plains Trail Folders Available At CofC Office

AUSTIN---A region of Texas that once was trackless grassland is featured in the newest Texas Travel Trail folder released today by the Texas Highway Department. The 739-mile Texas Plains Trail is one of 10 trails designated by the Governor's Travel Trails Committee. The trails program is designed to focus attention to the diverse regions of Texas and to lure travelers onto less-traveled routes. Distinctive markers for each trail were purchased by the counties along the trail and erected by the Highway Department. The Plains Trail reaches from Dumas on the High Plains to Gail, county seat of Borden County, and from Muleshoe and Morton on the west to Matador and Turkey on the east. Included on the trail route are the cities of Earth, Amarillo and Lubbock, and spectacular Palo Duro Canyon State Park. The descriptive Plains Trail folder which interprets the entire route is available at chambers of commerce along the way, at Texas Highway Department Tourist Bureaus, and by mail from the Texas Highway Department, Travel and Information Division, P. O. Box 5064, Austin, Texas 78703.

Texas Automobile Dealers Association Backs "Bring 'Em Back Alive" Program

AUSTIN--A "BRING 'EM BACK ALIVE" statewide safety program will be sponsored by the Texas Automobile Dealers Association in August in Texas, according to TADA President Boyd Mullen, Pasadena.

Mullen said that the franchised new car dealers of Texas give these tips on how to make the family vacation trip fun, safe and enjoyable:

1. Avoid planning too long a trip. Remember that highway traffic is heavy in a popular tourist state like Texas, so driving more than about 300 miles would tend to lessen the fun of the trip.
2. Don't overload the car with a lot of extra luggage. Be sure the driver has a clear view in all directions and that he has ample elbowroom.
3. The trip will be much safer if the driver is well rested before leaving. Once on the road, stop to rest at least every two or three hours.
4. Keep the passing to a minimum. The best policy is to maintain position in the stream of traffic. Allow a safe distance between you and the car ahead.
5. Don't let other drivers who cut in front of you disturb you. Remember that the motorist who lane-jumps on a busy highway saves only a few seconds per mile.
6. When you are on two-lane roads, forget the freeway cruising speeds. Most two-lane roads are not designed for speeds of 70 miles per hour. Not only are oncoming vehicles much closer to you, but curves are often sharper and access roads present the hazard of cross traffic.
7. Plan both your outgoing and homecoming trips so you have plenty of time and are not "pushed."
8. Have the basic safety equipment on your car checked before you leave. This includes tires, brakes, lights, windshield wipers. If your engine hasn't had a tune-up within the past 10,000 miles, have that done. Also, check all fan and generator belts.

9. Have fun, heed the common sense rules of good driving, and "BRING 'EM BACK ALIVE!"

County Bond Sales Lagging

According to a report received today from C. O. Stone, Chairman of the Lamb County Bonds Committee, sales for the first six months of 1968 in Lamb County were $62,422. June sales for the county totaled $5,710 and 39 per cent of the sales goal has been achieved. Texas sales of E and H Bonds year-to-date reached an all time high of $90,967,734--an increase of 8 per cent over June 1967. June sales in the state totaled $12,741,809. Nation-wide, the cash value of Series E and H Savings Bonds outstanding set an all time record of $51,572 million--a gain of $342 million in the first six months. The Treasury reports that June sales of E and H Bonds and Freedom Shares were $381 million.

Uncontrolled Insects Take Bite Out Of Livestock Profits

Insect pests on beef and dairy cattle will do only as much damage as the producer allows, Phillip J. Hamman, Texas A & M University Extension entomologist, says.

"Blood feeders or 'biting flies' have been giving ranchers more problems during this wet, insect-favorable weather, and fly control may insure more profit by reducing meat and milk loss, stopping disease transmittal and energy losses.

Horn flies are one of the most bothersome and prevalent insect blood feeders in Texas. Control measures for the horn fly depend upon good management practices. Fresh manure is the medium in which the eggs are deposited, and by keeping manure from collecting in the area, the pest can be partially controlled.

The horn fly is usually found in great numbers on the backs of animals, but on hot days the blood feeders will move to the belly, sides and face to escape the heat. Texas does not have trouble with the face fly, but horn flies which are on the face to be close to moisture from the nose and mouth are often mistaken for the face fly.

The "biting flies" also include such pests as the stable fly, horse fly and the common mosquito. The incidence of diseases such as pinkeye is many times increased because of the presence of these blood feeders on the faces of cattle. Livestock insecticides used as wettable powders, soluble powders, ready-mixed pour-ons, emulsifiable concentrates, smears, dusts and aerosols can give temporary control of blood feeding insects, but the producer should be ready to retreat animals when needed.

To control the bothersome pests, Hamman suggests using the recommended insecticides listed in MF-591, "Texas Guide for Controlling External Parasites of Livestock and Poultry."

Copies of the publication can be obtained at any county agricultural agent's office or by writing to the Department of Agricultural Information, Texas A & M University, College Station, Texas 77843.

Visiting with Mrs. Sam Cearley this week are her grandchildren, Ricky, Lisa and Kyle Cearley of Amarillo.

Nancy Nix from Sudan spent Saturday night with her grandmother, Mrs. Beula Coker.

What is that to you? Follow me!—(John 21:22).

Now is the time to take our stand for the truth. Stand with the truth principles we are learning. Let's not submit to gossip, nor negative, ugly, critical things said about us. Do not identify ourselves with weak, sympathetic thoughts about anyone's problems. Stand by the truth—and this shall make us free.
