NOSIN... With Polly

The Fourth of July, the 199th birthday of our nation is approaching, and as we take a look at our nation, we thank God for the privilege of being born in the good ole U.S.A., for we believe this to be the greatest nation on earth. Though we love our country, we know it is not perfect because people are not perfect. We look around and see the vast changes that have taken place in the past couple of decades in this nation and are appalled at the many changes, and unlimited permissiveness we observe in our country today. There was a talk show on television with a man, his wife and child, and her lover, all living together in one home. They freely discussed the aspects of no boredom since the wife has two mates.

This we know would not have been permitted on a talk show a few years ago.

Also we see homosexuals on talk shows, openly discussing homosexuality and asking for equal time to discuss their rights, etc. This unheard behavior a few decades ago would have been frowned without a backward glance.

We see articles today in newspapers and magazines on free love, and see them discuss it on talk shows. We remember that just a few years ago an actress was asked to leave the and knowledge to handle daily problems.

Ann may of necessity, go to the one who really does have the answers to all our problems.

Ann may of necessity, now go to the one who really DOES have the answers to all our problems.

NOSIN

As we approach this 4th of July, lets pray that our nation will undergo a great turning to God. That Americans will become like Paul, rejoice and count it a blessing to be a SERVANT and SUFFER for Jesus.

Michael McCarty has been ill at his home. He was reported to be feeling better Wednesday.

country because of free love and publicity it brought her. But now it's permitted. When discussed it's always "I think this, or I think that." Billy Graham said "It's not what we think about things, it's what the Bible says that count."

When we look at our nation and see these things wrong, we cannot help but remember when "peach tree tea" would keep us in line with no back talk.

Oh yes, and we never once thought of topless bathing suits, yet we HEARD there was a woman who went in the Earth pool in a distasteful fashion and had to be escorted from the pool. Such an act is doubtless deplorable to everyone exposed to the unsightly scene.

The Bible tells us of many happenings, before the rapture. As we read we are prone to wonder how old our nation will become before the Lord returns to snatch up his own.

NOSIN

There are doctors, and there are doctors, but there is just "ONE GREAT PHYSICIAN." We heard a late report that at the scene of the pickup-mini-bike wreck Monday after Jimmy Nix, driver of the pickup pulled Ricky from the bar ditch where he was lying face down in the water, he ran to the Gardner Sanderson home to call the ambulance.

Tony Singleton, son-in-law of the Sandersons was there visiting. He ran to the scene to see what he could do. While some do one thing, others do other things. Tony dropped to his knees and began talking to "The Great Physician," the Creator of the World. We praise the Lord for each one who helped the children and for Tony who fell down on his knees and talked to the Healer of all mankind.

Ann Landers, syndicated columnist who for years has offered advice on personal problems to millions of newspaper readers across the nation, announced in her column to run later this week that she and her husband of 36 years will be divorced.

Ann Landers 57, who in real life is Mrs. Jules Lederer admitted that, "The lady with all the answers, does not know the answer to this one."

She did not say why they were divorcing, but admitted this was the most difficult column she had ever written.

It is a well known fact that in most cases we take our own problems and heartaches more serious than that of our friends, and finding answers can be much more difficult.

We agree that turbulence within our homes can sometimes be brewing without our knowledge. However, if two people really become one when they are united in marriage it is pretty easy to observe when something is wrong.

Ann seemed to handle the problems of others with a "hohum attitude." This one probably will not be treated with that comical, half bored attitude. Our own problems never are.

I was never a reader of Ann Landers, somehow I thought my problems could be handled better by God who never takes a sarcastic attitude to one actually praying for guidance

Scouts Sell Tickets To Make Money

Boy Scouts are out this week selling tickets for a chance on 100 gallons of free gasoline to be given away on the final night of the rodeo.

The fund raising campaign is to make money for the trip to Tres Ritos Summer Camp July 13-20.

Mike Tibbits, scout leader for the troop said some of the boys could not afford to go unless they made some money to help pay the expenses. The fee is $35.00 for each boy attending.

The boys are excited about going and are anxious to sell the tickets to help with expenses. Anyone wishing to purchase tickets may do so from any member of the Scouts.

$15,000 Needed Immediately

Better Weather, Inc., officials announced Tuesday that $15,000 was needed immediately if the hail suppression program was to continue through the month of July.

The group met Monday night to discuss the possibility of raising the additional money to run the full six months period originally planned.

Several in the target area of the program have not paid in their money for their fair share of the cost.

Tom Henderson, president of Atmospheric Incorporated was present to make a report on activities of the organization and gave report on outside the target area.

He reported that a much larger area east of the target area than the area that received hail and rain damage June 3 and was even worse if possible.

He also reported that the planes had seeded clouds and made observations 29 days during June.

Anyone who hasn't paid into the program are urged to do so as soon as possible.

Letters are being mailed to each farmer in the area to help raise the additional money that hasn't been deposited at the bank.

Cost to the farmers is $1 per acre. It has been suggested that the renter and landlord split the cost according to their rental agreement.

Deadline (today) 5 P.M. For Queen Contestants

The deadline for entry in the Earth Annual Rodeo Queen Contest is Thursday, July 3. Mrs. Linda James, contest chairman said Tuesday that only six girls had entered the contest.

Mrs. James and her assistants working in the contest were anxious to see additional young ladies enter. The contest is opened to any young lady residing in Lamb County, who would be a high school student beginning with the fall term of school year '75-'76. Contestants will be judged for horsemanship, personality and poise.

Mrs. James indicated that the small number in contestants from the Earth area was that many of the girls who had planned to enter were enrolled in the cheerleading school in Weatherford, Oklahoma and would not return until the final night of the rodeo, therefore they were unable to participate in the queen contest.

At present only six contestants have signed up they are Wendy Branscum, Teresa Lively, Pam Eagle, Sherry Winders all of Earth and Kathy Kelley of Amherst and Debbie Spencer of Littlefield.

Two Injured Seriously In Mini-Bike - Pickup Accident Monday

Two young children were seriously injured in a wreck about 8:50 p. m. Monday, involving a mini-bike and a pickup. The injured were rushed to the Dimmitt Hospital by the Earth ambulance and were later transferred to the Methodist Hospital in Lubbock by a Dimmitt ambulance.

The two injured were Ricky Dutton II and his sister Michelle Dutton 8. The youngsters are children of Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Dutton of Earth.

Trooper patrolman Elias Nava of Dimmitt, investigated the accident which occurred about 7 1/2 miles north of Earth on Farm to Market Road 1055, almost in front of the Gardner Sanderson home.

Patrolman Nava said the accident occurred as the two youngsters on a mini-bike were headed north up the road. A pickup driven by Jimmy Nix of Earth was driving north behind them. After Nix had pulled over in the left lane to go around them, the driver of the mini-bike suddenly made a left turn across the highway to go up a turn row. The pickup hit the mini-bike broadside.

Patrolman Nava reported the lad to have received a skull fracture, broken left leg, broken thumb and cuts and bruises covering his body. Michelle he said, received a broken left leg, broken jaw and deep lacerations.

At presstime Wednesday the two were said to be improving rapidly, although they still remain in the Intensive Care Unit.

Nix was uninjured and only slight damage was estimated on the pickup. The mini-bike was totalled.

Fly Your American Flag July 4th

GOOD REASON TO CELEBRATE

Late one night in July, 1776, a young man from the Massachusetts colony, exhausted from the day's labors but too emotion-charged to sleep, took quill pen in hand. Writing to his wife Abigail by candle light from stifling boarding house quarters, he described a momentous event which had just taken place in Philadelphia. In years to come, he predicted, that day would be remembered as "the great anniversary Festival."

The man? John Adams.

The event? Adoption of the Declaration of Independence, which he hoped would be commemorated as "the Day of Deliverance, by solemn acts of Devotion to God Almighty."

His vision was indeed prophetic.

One year from now, Americans across the land will celebrate the bicentennial of the American Revolution. Traditionally, we have celebrated Independence Day with gaiety mingled with solemnity. This year, as we prepare for the Bicentennial, a joyous yet reverent, prayerful and dignified celebration is in order as never before in our history.

HOW'S The Electric Company DOING?

Let's ask Henry Hamilton, Plant Manager
HARRINGTON STATION

"We're building this coal plant to offset the dwindling supply of natural gas, which has become very expensive. This way we hope to balance the lower cost of coal to offset the higher cost of gas..."

... just one of the things the electric company is doing to keep your electric service dependable. And, even though your electric bill may be somewhat higher these days, we think you want electricity ready when you need it.

EQUAL OPPORTUNITY EMPLOYER

What High Plains folks hope will be yellow gold is beginning to glow over the area as 300,000 acres of sunflowers come into bloom during the next few weeks. Yet another obstacle awaits sunflower growers who are breathing more easily now that they're past the first of two peak periods of the carrot beetle emergence. That obstacle is the sunflower head moth.

Larva of the sunflower moth, once they've hatched on the blooming flowers, feed on the tender growth, sometimes destroying an entire crop. They are the most severe pest of sunflowers in the United States, according to Dr. Robert C. McIntyre, area entomologist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

On the High Plains, carrot beetles are another primary pest of sunflowers.

A composite, such as the sunflower, is actually a group of flowers with each flower developing into an individual seed, McIntyre says. Flowering begins on the outer diameter of the head progressing to the center. A field of well-adapted hybrid sunflowers normally complete the bloom period in 12 to 15 days. This is the only time that sunflowers are susceptible to attack and damage by the moth, which is colored light buff to silver.

Eggs are deposited within or between the individual flower tubes. Young larvae hatching from these eggs begin feeding immediately and remain on the surface of the flower for a couple of days. They spin silken webs as they feed, forming a mat of frass, silk and dried blooms on the face of the head.

As the larvae become older, they begin tunneling into the developing seeds and fleshy receptacle of the head. Each larva damages or destroys an average of nine seeds, the entomologist figures.

Dr. George Teetes, research entomologist with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station at Lubbock, has found several chemicals to be effective in controlling the moth. He and co-workers have also looked into the timing and interval spacing of insecticide applications which might protect the delicate flowers during the bloom period.

Methyl parathion, Thiodan, and Supercide are the three insecticides labeled for use on sunflowers against the moth. Tests have shown that methyl Thiodan give effective control when applied at one pound AI (actual insecticide) rate per acre in a schedule of two to three applications at a five-day interval. Supercide was found effective at 1/2 pound rate per acre in the schedule.

The three insecticides are cleared for a total of three applications per growing season for sunflower larvae control, McIntyre adds. Two or three applications are generally required because a field of hybrid sunflowers generally takes 12 to 15 days to bloom completely.

He says growers should check 25 plants at different locations throughout their field during the bloom stage. If adults or young worms are observed, the first application should be made at 20-percent bloom. The additional applications should be applied at the recommended interval if adults or young worms can be found on follow-up field checks.

Growers should remember, McIntyre emphasizes, that methyl parathion will cause foliage damage (burn) to certain sorghum varieties. They should make their insecticide selection with this thought in mind, if they have sunflowers planted directly adjacent to sorghum.

Tips On Harvesting Potatoes

By Jim D. Kuykendall
Asst. County Extension Agent

Gardeners growing Irish potatoes for the first time may be concerned about when to harvest their crop. According to Jim Kuykendall Assistant county agent for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, potatoes can be dug any time they are of sufficient size, and the crop can be considered mature once the stalks begin to turn brown and die.

Waiting until the crop is mature assures top yields and increases the storage quality of potatoes, points out Kuykendall. Most potatoes should be ready to dig in 90 to 120 days following planting.

Cutting the stalks several days prior to harvest will help "set" the skin on the potatoes and cause less skinning at harvest. It will also increase the storage life of the tubers.

Freshly dug potatoes should be kept in a warm, moist place for several days to allow cuts and skinned areas to heal. This will improve their storage life. Potatoes should then be stored in a cool, dark location.

Abnormalities in the shapes of potatoes are caused mainly by changes in soil moisture, explains Kuykendall. This is especially apparent in years where rainfall varies considerably. A sudden increase in soil moisture can cause growth cracks, second growth and rough, knobby potatoes.

Heavy rainfall as has been experienced in some locations this spring causes potatoes to have enlarged lenticels (pores), resulting in small warty spots on the surface. This calls for extra care to avoid skinning and bruising the tubers, cautions Kuykendall.

In most sections of Texas Irish potatoes can be planted again in late summer and early fall for a second crop. Small potatoes from the spring crop can be saved for "seed", but Kuykendall recommends planting new seed stock if possible to avoid carrying over any disease problems. Also, proper storage of the small potatoes over the long hot summer may be difficult.

Play It Safe In Water

Water play is fun and educational for children, but only when they learn to "play it safe," Mrs. Dorothy Powell, County Extension Agent, cautioned this week.

Adults must closely supervise water play activities. Water that is two-three inches deep is just as dangerous to very young children as water two-three feet deep.

When children congregate in the backyard to swim in wash-tubs, play with the water hose or swim in the pool, be conscious of water safety, she advised.

Wading pools or larger pools should be fenced. Insist that flotation belts or life jackets be used by all children. If a neighbor's child fusses about safety precautions, insist that he get out of the water, tell him it's a rule in the pool.

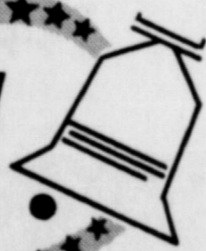

Families with larger swimming pools need to remember to check underwater lights. Improper installation of lights can shock swimmers. Rules about running on concrete with wet feet should be enforced. Cleanliness in the home pool should be as important as in the public pool.

Children learn much from water play, physical coordination of legs and arms, about textures, and liquids, buoyancy, temperature changes and concepts of up and down, in and out, forwards and backwards.

If a child is gradually introduced to water play, he is less likely to fear water. Being forced may cause fear or withdrawal, she said.

4-H'ers Learn Through Travel

This year hundreds of boys and girls will combine vacations and learning through the Texas 4-H and youth program.

"Through short-term exchange trips, 4-H'ers in the state travel to other Texas counties to learn about the area history, industry and agriculture," points out Yvonne Garcia, 4-H and youth specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. "Intrastate exchanges also help stimulate new program ideas for 4-H volunteer leaders and members."

Several Texas counties conduct two-year interstate exchange programs, notes Garcia. These involve travelling one year to a selected county in the United States and then hosting the out-of-state 4-H group the next year.

The young people with the help of their county Extension agents and volunteer leaders select a 4-H group similar to their own. For example, a 4-H ecology project group in Texas may visit a similar group in Tennessee to study their educational activities, materials and programs. The following year, the 4-H group from Tennessee will visit the Texas group.

Mr. and Mrs. John Selver, Billy and Brooke vacationed this week in and around Oklahoma City. They spent Friday night with her grandparents of Lawton and came home Saturday.

Herman Wilson of Amarillo visited Saturday afternoon with Roy Phelan and Hershel Wilson while his wife attended the shower. They both visited awhile after the event.

Mr. and Mrs. Chad Windsor and another couple from Waco and Mr. and Mrs. Tex Conrad of Dimmitt had dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Larry Sadler Sunday and spent the afternoon with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Ezell Sadler had Sunday dinner with Mr. and Mrs. James Powell and family in Dimmitt.

nessee will visit the Texas group to see how they conduct their ecology activities. Both groups share ideas and make appropriate changes or additions for the future. "Families at home can also play an important role in 4-H exchange programs by hosting 4-H'ers in their homes for one to three weeks," adds the 4-H and youth specialist. Former 4-H'ers interested in international understanding can spend three to six months in one of 35 cooperating countries as an International 4-H Youth Exchange delegate. During their stay, delegates live with host families, studying 4-H programs abroad and sharing customs and traditions. "As a 4-H exchange or a host family, 4-H can open doors to understanding," contends Garcia.

Track Program To Resume July 9

Coach Bill West has been conducting a summer track program at Springlake-Earth for the past three weeks. The purpose is to prepare students for participating in upcoming track tournaments, as well as helping them to stay in top physical fitness. The school dismissed Saturday and will not resume daily sessions until July 9 at 6:30 p.m. The sessions will continue daily for 10 days. On July 19, students will participate in a track meet at Lubbock. Coach West said the summer program was good, as he could spend time individually with each student, assisting them in the various techniques of each track event. There have been 14 or 15 students work out each day since the program began in June.

Sorghum planted in a field of plastic? That's one of the possibilities being studied by research groups now taking a hard look at a variety of water conservation programs. Experiments have actually been done in the Oklahoma Panhandle whereby plots were covered by large plastic sheets... holes cut in the plastic for the plants and irrigation water supplied under the plastic. Results... less than half the normal water required. Costs... terrible. So the search goes on with new attention focused on special breeding for water retention and improved plant utilization. Tests at Oklahoma State University reportedly indicated that as much as 2 inches of water a year can be saved by planting sorghum in rows running north and south rather than east to west. Direction of rows, spacing of furrows and development of new breeds are all subjects the sorghum producer will be hearing a lot more about... especially if the weather forecasters are right.

Commissioners Set Tax Levies, Equalization Board Meet July 9

The Lamb County Commissioners Court met Friday to set tax levies. They were also sworn in as the Board of Equalization and set the time and gave notice of the forthcoming Board of Equalization meeting July 9, beginning at 9 a. m.

Tax levies were voted to remain the same as last year, and allocated as follows, one cent for the jury fund, 13 cents for the general road and bridge fund, fifteen cents for the special road and bridge and precincts and 56 cents for the general fund.

The county clerk was instructed to send out notices of the July 9 meeting and publish a notification of the board meeting next Wednesday.

While in session the court transferred $30,000 to the officer's salary fund and $5,000 to the jury fund. They then placed $334,462 on time deposit.

Two bids sent in were opened, in regard to the price of a trailer for Precinct 2.

The lower bid was sent in from Plains Machines in Lubbock. West Texas Equipment Company made the higher bid. The lower bid was accepted.

Bill Dillard with the Central Plains Mental Health and Mental Retardation Center presented the CPMHRC budget and asked the court to continue their support. The court voted to continue paying $5,331 a year for the county's share of the 9-county program.

A Xerox representative met with the court to present a new Xerox program. The court agreed to use a larger machine and have various departments meet to work out usage details.

District Judge Pat Boone Jr. met with the court and asked that Lamb County pay a couple month's salary of $550 plus $80 travel expenses for probation officer Dick Pylant until a grant can be renewed with the Criminal Justice Council.

The matter had not been placed on the agenda and Judge Boone asked that it be scheduled and given consideration at the July 14 meeting.

Law Officials At Work On Whites Burglary

Deputy Sheriff, Elmer Hall stated this week that there was a glimmer of hope that a lead in the White Auto Store burglary had been turned up.

He indicated there was a few things found under an old building behind Howells 216 Floral. Some of them were thought to be merchandise from Whites Auto Store.

Hall said that the kids who found the merchandise went to find City Marshal Pittman and in the time they were gone, it was his opinion that the articles had been picked up and taken away.

Hall was in Littlefield at the time they were found. He indicated that now there was a faint glimmer of hope that this might lead to a suspect.

Many Texas Motorist To Die Over July 4

Governor Dolph Briscoe called on Texas motorists to exercise special caution over the Fourth of July weekend and to observe the 55 mph speed limit. Noting the predicted death increase, Governor Briscoe said his office has implemented a well rounded media campaign to help make drivers more aware of the dangers of holiday driving. "Besides this heavy media use, increased enforcement of traffic laws will be evident. We also urge the motorist to make use of the many rest stops provided by the Jaycees and by the Texas Highway Department," said Briscoe.

Briscoe went on to say it was most important for drivers to volunteer to drive with care. He said 46 people were killed over the holiday last year.

Michelle McCarty was dismissed from the Littlefield Hospital Thursday following four days of hospitalization. She is home and feeling much better. Michelle had strep throat with staff infection.
