With Polly

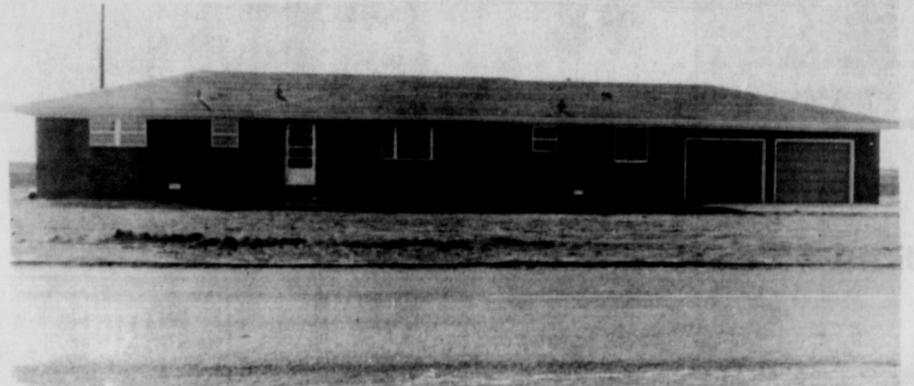

STAMPS OUT
If you folks are concerned with the high cost of living, and especially so with the high cost of postage, might take a tip from the younger set, they've figured out a way to beat it... Each morning when we start to work, Polly, Jr. drives slowly by a certain house, looks closely through the branches of a tree, stops, gets out, takes a bunch of notes off the tree, gets in the car, and proceeds to read her mail... Guess this tree could rightly be classified as a male, I mean, MALE tree,.....

NO READIN' TIME
Researchers have come up with these facts concerning the average person spends his lifetime.
One-third of your life is spent sleeping.
A man uses up five months of his lifetime simply tying his shoe-laces.
He spends five years washing and shaving.
Two to four years are taken up in smoking a quarter ton of tobacco.
Telephone calls take up one year, six months are spent playing cards.
Six years are spent eating and drinking; three years being sick.
Traveling to and from work takes five years.
Men spend four years in conversation, but women spend five years in the same pursuit.
Which leaves, as we've suspected all along, very little time for work.
Now, all I can say to this interesting bit of research is, I love that first one about spending 1/3 of one's life sleeping. I'd love to judge a few more hours on that getting up time each morning.
And, by the way, if you see the chief of the Middleton clan up and down the streets without his shoe laces tied, please bear in mind, we have decided to modify that extravagance of time spent tying his shoes....
I'm a bit inclined to think the researchers doubtless did not have R. Middleton in mind when they determined 5 years are spent washing and shaving. I think doubtless, the chief cuts down on his shaving time tremendously, some days....
On that smoking bit, I'm sure old R. M. uses his full quota of time, and I should get to substitute that time I don't use for that, and use it sleeping. Think I'll spring that one on the old boy, it's a pretty good point to bring out (someday, when he's feeling good, that is).
That last one about men using 4 years of their life in conversation while a woman spends five years in the same pursuit. Somehow that bit of knowledge leads me to suspicion this survey was made by the male species... after all, it takes us gals one extra year of our lives to get the last word, and after all, it's all their fault if they don't agree earlier THAT WHAT WE GALS KNOW, WE KNOW, then we could cut down on that extra year.

Have You Seen Sissy?

A lovable, but shy, dark brown Pekingese, soon to be a mother, wandered away from the Bazel Glasscock home Monday.
A heart-breaking story is centered around Sissy. Her former masters, known only as John and Ruth, stopped at the Glasscock station Sunday, broke and hungry and looking for work to earn money to return to their home in Tennessee. The young couple had been to California, Oregon and Washington to find work.
Not wanting to beg money, or food for the little dog, John and Ruth gave her to Mr. and Mrs. Glasscock, when they discovered that the station owners loved dogs. When the Tennessee car pulled from the station, Ruth had tears in her eyes. Her Sissy now had a good home.
The Glasscocks promised to keep Sissy until the couple found work, and were settled back in Tennessee and then they would ship her back home to the ones she loves.
But now Sissy is lost. Anyone seeing her is asked to call Bazel Glasscock.

Highlights and Sidelights

FROM YOUR STATE CAPITOL

"Hi, Pardner".... have you suggested a slogan for "The Longhorn State"?

Better get your pencil and paper out and start thinking. Everybody's doing it!

Reason: there's a bill before the Texas House of Representatives calling for a slogan to be imprinted on our auto license plates. Three choices are given in the bill. They are "Lone Star State," "Vacation State," and "Texas has Everything."

Later slogan was sent in by a newspaperman, Bob Bray, publisher of the Marble Falls Highlander.

Come to think of it, what's wrong with "Hi, Pardner" -- the two words we used in starting this column? Sounds like the friendly welcome of a Texan, in state or out of state.

Cost of adding a slogan to the Texas tags would run only about $150. Or just the cost of the new dies.

Speaking of license plates, a bill by Rep. Ray McNutt of El Paso would eliminate the front tag. Saving to the state--$400,000.00 annually.

UP IN THE AIR--Activities of the state agencies in aeronautics filled the air in two recent meetings of the House Committee on State Affairs.

Rep. Ben Barnes of De Leon got a hearing on his bill to abolish the Texas Aeronautics Commission. It is asking $436,000 for the next two years. Commission has been credited by some opponents of the bill with helping create landing strips in smaller communities.

Rep. Gene Hendryx of Alpine favored abolishment of the commission.

He said citizens of his town built their own airstrip with $4,000 of local money, without any governmental aid, except for the use of some county bulldozers.

Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler protested a bill by Rep. Roy Arledge of Stamford which would force all agencies except the Texas National Guard Texas State Guard and the Department of Public Safety to sell all "executive-type aircraft" with more than 260 h.p.

Sadler said the Arledge bill was aimed mainly at the Land Office. He insisted the State Land Office needs an airplane for aerial surveys of state land.

AUTO INSPECTION DEADLINE. Col. Homer Garrison, Jr. director of the State Department of Public Safety, has sent out a reminder to Texas drivers who do not have their 1963 auto inspection stickers that April 15 is the deadline.

If Rep. Terry Townsend of Brady has his say the $1 auto inspection fee will be raised to $2. But Rep. George Richardson of Fort Worth said he will oppose any increase.

CROP INSURANCE-- Farmers will get more liberal crop insurance coverage under revised policies and rates issued by the State Board of Insurance. New plan eliminates the controversial mechanical-harvesting clause pertaining to cotton.

Revisions were requested by both wheat and cotton growers. Coverage will be available under economically-priced "escalator" and "step-ladder" forms, as well as "broad form" policies.

GOVERNOR'S APPOINTEES-- Frank C. Erwin, Jr., Austin attorney, was named by Governor Connally to the UT board of regents, to replace Judge W. St. John Garwood, also of Austin, whom the Senate earlier refused to confirm.

Jack Kuitgen of Waco was his choice as State Highway Commissioner. He replaces Charles Hawn of Athens, whose term has expired.

Rev. C. A. Holliday, Negro minister of Fort Worth, has been named by Connally to a six year term on the Texas Board of Corrections. He succeeds John S. Justin, Jr. of Fort Worth. Connally pointed out that this is the first time a Negro had been appointed to the board.

Connally re-appointed to the Board of Corrections J. M. Windham of Livingston and Jack Vaughn of Dallas.

Dr. J. A. Chatham of Lubbock, Joseph A. Scott, Jr. of San Antonio and Rev. Martin Griffin of Waco were assigned to the Texas Southern University's Board of Directors. All are Negroes. They replaced J. M. Odom of Austin, Mack H. Hannah, Jr. of Houston and the late Dr. Everett H. Givens of Austin.

Mrs. Jack T. Bowman of San Antonio was appointed to the Board of Regents of Texas Women's University. Mrs. John Hazlewood of Amarillo was re-appointed.

To the Texas Tech Board of Regents the governor named Herbert Allen of Houston and Roy Furr of Lubbock. He re-appointed Harold Hinn of Dallas.

LEGISLATIVE WIND UP--Gov. Connally and House Speaker Byron Tunnell seem to agree that the 58th Legislature should wind up its business before the May 27 deadline. This should please the Legislators. They stop getting the usual $12 per day living allowance 20 days before that deadline.

But many are afraid the loan shark bill may hold them there.

"Birdcage Walk" is a well-known street in London.

In the year 2000, Easter Sunday will be on April 23.

The Springlake Junior Honor Society entertained the Junior High faculty and school board members with a delicious breakfast Tuesday morning in the Homemaking Room.

The 32 cooks came up with a steaming hot breakfast of ham, eggs, orange juice, hot biscuits and butter, jelly, coffee and milk, which was thoroughly enjoyed.

The group presented a skit, following the meal, entitled "Daffy-dill School", in which sensible questions were asked and silly answers given.

Honor Society Schedules Book Fair April 24-26

Members of the Springlake Junior Honor Society will sponsor a "Book Fair" to be held April 24, 25, and 26 in the Jr. High Study Hall.

The Real Temptation

"Our temptations today are not those of the weak and the impoverished--they are the temptations that come to a strong and prosperous people who sometimes seem to forget that it was the simple fundamentals of hard work, thrift and investment which made them economically strong."--Herbert V. Prochnow, president, First National Bank of Chicago.

The average cow last year produced 7,211 pounds of milk, enough to provide a year's supply of milk and other dairy products to slightly more than 11 Americans.

The first permanent iron works was built in Massachusetts in 1645.

U.S. Power Sources Held To Be Ample

The doleful warning that the United States is threatened with serious shortages in energy resources has been blasted.

An official study group commissioned by the U. S. Senate Interior and Insular Affairs Committee has found that the nation will be fully capable of meeting all its power requirements in the next 20 years, even though they will be greatly expanded.

This conclusion reaffirms the contention of free enterprise advocates that the competitive practices among private producers of energy sources would insure ample supplies of power at low cost. The study group estimated that by 1980 the demand for electric energy will have increased to three and a half times the current rate; that the requirement for coal and gas will have doubled and the need for oil will have been upped by two-thirds.

"The nation's resource base, in terms of each fuel, is adequate to meet projected requirements for the period covered by the study, that is, 1980," the study group said in its report to the Senate. In approving the report Sen.

No Mobiles In Automobiles

Some 5,240 New Jersey motorists learned recently that trinkets such as baby shoes, rattles or dice dangling in front of car windshields were cause for rejection at the time of vehicle inspection.

And rightly so. Placing such articles where they distract a driver's attention or divert his vision actually puts the car in such a condition that it is unsafe to operate.

Roman L. Hruska (R.-Neb.) had this to say:

"The study has made a significant contribution in reaffirming our belief in the free enterprise system. It suggests that competition among the various forms of energy has provided oil, natural gas, coal, electricity and other fuels to the public at the lowest possible costs and that while America's energy requirements will double by 1980, our domestic fuel resources can readily meet all requirements."

FAT IN THE SADDLE

In the past decade, the U. S. has lost about one million acres of agricultural land each year to urbanization.

Decorating Tips For a Lovelier Home

BY LIZ GOYAK

Have you heard? The biggest home furnishing news these days is Toile (pronounced twall).

And it has nothing to do with work. Rather, Toile is the French word for fabric and dates back to the 18th century when Oberkampf established his famous textile factory in Jouy, France.

The patterns of these fabrics were influenced by the elegant life of the Louis' (remember Marie Antoinette?). They depict gentlemen and ladies in both formal and pastoral settings and usually were reproduced on rich linens.

With the current emphasis on provincial and Early American lines in home furnishings, Toile has achieved new importance as a mood-catching backdrop.

The United Wallpaper Company of Chicago, the nation's leading wallpaper manufacturer, has managed to recapture several delightful Toile patterns in its new collections.

For instance, Toile is available with matching fabrics in tones of wedgewood blue, ruby and sepia on a creamy background in the new Varlar Collection. Varlar is the original stainproof vinyl wallcovering which can be scrubbed 25,000 times.

The new PDQ collection of pre-pasted wallpapers you need only dip these papers in cool water and apply to the wall also boasts three Toile patterns. The soft lines of the design blend perfectly with cherry, mahogany and rosewoods. You can create a custom appearance in your room by using the matching fabric for draperies, slipcovers or bedspreads (Toile can be outstanding in the master bedroom!).

Many decorators like Toile wallcoverings and slipcovers but use felt in a corresponding solid color for cafe curtains, secured by a bright brass rod.

There are many ways to use Toile according to your individual taste. But whatever your choice, you may be assured that Toile will give your period furnishings the elegant backdrop they deserve—at modest prices!

The Old Timer

"The quickest way nowadays to get a doctor is to turn on your TV set."

According to New Holland, many farmers can cut livestock feeding costs by doing their own feed processing with a portable grinder-mixer.

The first power-producing public utility was built in New York City in 1882.

George Whitfield Services Held

Funeral services for George Whitfield, a resident of Plainview for 40 years, were held Monday in the Plainview First Presbyterian Church.

Rev. Frank Travis, pastor, and Dr. G. K. Rogers, former pastor, officiated. Burial was in the Plainview Memorial Park under direction of Wood-Dunning Funeral Home.

Survivors include his wife, Eunice; a daughter, Mrs. Emmett Thornton, Plainview, one brother, one sister, three stepsons, one grandchild and three great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Thornton and her husband formerly owned a store north of Springlake School a number of years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Z. Anglin of Earth attended.

The work of righteousness shall be peace.

—(Isiah 32:17).

Love, understanding and good will in the hearts of individuals are an absolute necessity before there can be love, understanding and good will among nations.

FLEET-FOOTED TO THE FINISH--Long strides and plenty of effort brought this runner over the finish line first, in one of Saturday's preliminary events, the 440 yard run.

TIPS for OUTDOORSMEN

by Vern Sanford

Frozen Car Locks

Hunters in the northern sections of Texas sometimes find the door locks on their cars frozen stiff when the car remains outdoors for any great length of time.

This can be remedied by heating the key in the flame of your lighter or a match for a moment before inserting the key in the lock.

Lock will respond instantly.

Save Frayed Shells

Many hunters discard pocketworn shells when using pump or auto loading shotguns.

This is a wanton waste of shells.

Usually these worn, scuffed shells are good and will perform perfectly if fed directly into the gun chamber, rather than into the magazine.

Don't Distract Your Hound

Leave your hound alone when he is trying to unravel a trail.

If you try to encourage him, or egg him on to faster efforts, you will only confuse him.

The pup usually knows what he is doing and doesn't need your help.

Don't Change Ammunition

You may ridicule the idea, but experts tell us that guns are highly sensitive to ammunition change.

For instance: If you have carefully sighted-in your rifle before deer season, using Brand X, then switch to Brand Z for the actual hunt, even though Z is of equal quality, your gun is apt to shoot off-target.

So the best bet is to stick to the same brand of cartridge throughout the season — unless you intend sighting-in the weapon again.

Nail-Trimming The Dog

You won't need to trim your dog's nails providing you allow him enough normal exercise to keep his nails worn down.

Training A Hunting Pup

Start training your pup in the spring for fall hunting. First, obedience training in the yard, followed by field experience once cool weather sets in.

Prevent Forest Fires

One precaution you can take to prevent your campfire from starting a disastrous forest fire is to build the campfire on a double-thick sheet of aluminum foil.

Foil will keep the fire from sinking underground, then flare up later when you are gone.

Dousing the campfire with water doesn't always extinguish the fire.

Feather For A Gun Barrel

Maybe your hunting friends will think you are nuts. And they may even laugh at you. But if you will tie a small feather to the end of your shotgun barrel you'll improve your marksmanship.

The feather will record the slightest wind action, which will help you to subconsciously adjust your lead accordingly.

Quick Reload

Carry a quick reload for that .22 repeating rifle (if the tube type) by using the hollow handle of a plastic fly swatter.

Simply fill the handle with .22's, then when needed, pour the contents into the empty tube of your rifle.

How To Hold A Shotgun

Nearly every novice — and many an old-timer — has trouble hitting a target with regularity.

Many misses can be avoided if the shotgun is properly held.

Watch a novice next time he shoots. Does he hold his gun with his left hand between the slide grip and the magazine (pumps and autos) and with his left elbow bent? If he does, he's wrong.

The left arm should be extended straight from the shoulder with hand gripping slide (if pump). This gives a firm support and better control of the gun.

Practice this hold until it is done subconsciously and your shooting will vastly improve.

Where show business is concerned, everything must be done with big and bold gestures. The barker at the carnival and the disc jockey plugging his favorite tune both trade in high-sounding superlatives. This is as it should be—we like to be entertained.

There's a difference, however, when we get down to real business. Whether buying a new car, an automatic appliance, a house, grocery items, hardware or what-have-you, we like straight talk and no diversions.

Find your entertainment wherever you choose, but when you get down to the serious business of spending money, for which you expect value received, look first to the local merchant who has established a reputation for qualified service and guaranteed satisfaction.

There's nothing better than doing business today with a man who wants your business tomorrow as well.

YOUR FAIR SHARE...

Most Texans, we believe, are fair-minded folks. They believe in fair play, square dealing, and mutual respect for personal and property rights. Those who want to take advantage of their neighbors are the exception.

Sometimes it may be hard to define "a fair share." This can occur in dividing oil or gas production, when two or more landowners are involved.

As we all know, oil and gas don't pay any attention to fence lines.

Here in Texas many wells have been allowed to produce more oil or gas than they should have because they were drilled on very small tracts. That extra oil or gas came from under the neighbors' land.

Some oilmen made a regular practice of this type of operation. Obviously, one owner got more than his fair share—others, less.

People in 26 out of 29 oil-producing states have found a way to divide their oil and gas so that each owner gets what is rightfully his. They simply put their small acreage together and share the costs and income. This system is known as POOLING.

Such a system is needed in Texas. It is proposed in a bill now before the Legislature, HOUSE BILL 510. When the neighbors cannot agree, the Railroad Commission would set up a drilling block and see to it that the rights of all owners are protected . . . all costs and proceeds equitably divided.

Oilmen who have made fortunes at the expense of others could not be expected to support House Bill 510. They are bitterly opposing it. But the responsible oilmen of Texas are overwhelmingly for it. So are the informed citizens who want to see justice done.

Ask your Senator and Representative at Austin to support House Bill 510—so Texas, too, will have a reasonable and legal way to assure to each landowner his FAIR SHARE.

Modernize Voter Qualification

In an attempt to modernize voter qualification laws in Texas, bills have been introduced in the state legislature, including one establishing a system of re-registration by voting.

This would become effective upon the repeal of the poll tax. Introduced in the Senate by Franklin Spears, San Antonio, (S.B. 11) and in the House of Representatives Malcolm McGregor, El Paso, Bob Eckhardt, Houston, and Ronald Bridges and Travis A. Peeler, both of bill give guidelines to establish a system with more convenience to the voter and less opportunities for fraud, with a lower cost to taxpayers.

Under provisions of the bill a voter would register (1.) by duplicate signature, (2.) before a trained clerk of the registration office, (3.) by a personal appearance, (4.) at any time of the year, and (5.) one such registration would suffice until the voter dies or moves or persistently fails to vote. Merits of a personal system with re-registration by voting are as follows:
1. It definitely increases the size of the vote in local and statewide elections.

2. Cost to taxpayers is substantially less than for periodic systems. Cost of a new registration every year is avoided. It is necessary each year to register only newly qualified voters and to transfer the registration of voters who have changed their addresses.
3. Permanent registration is usually more effective than periodic registration in preventing frauds because provisions are made for purging the list of voters who have died or moved away, and for identification of the voter by means of signature at the polls--safeguards lacking in periodic systems relying on frequent general re-registration that allows insufficient time for verification.
4. Voters are permitted to register at any time throughout the year up to within 30 days of an election.
5. It avoids the necessity of frequent re-registration of voters. Once registered, the voter remains on the registration list as long as he resides at the same address and votes regularly.
6. Voters who move within the same county may simply transfer their registration to a new address without re-registering, thanks to the signature protection.

Who Is Afraid Of Bigger Voter Turnout?

Who is afraid of bigger voter turnouts? Thousands of Texans are deprived of their right to vote in local, state and national elections by the present outmoded voter qualification laws which limits the time for voter qualification to four months, ending January 31. This arbitrary deadline is one of the biggest obstacles to voting participation still being effected by any state, including others having poll tax. It is usually months ahead of any election. The average voter, not being election-conscious at this time of the year, is inclined to put off registering until the last minute and, too often, lets that "last minute" slip by and loses his right to vote. A year-round system where the voter registers only once and re-registers by voting, is the subject of a bill now in subcommittees of the State Legislature. Sponsored by Senator Franklin Spears and Representatives Malcolm McGregor, Bob Eckhardt, Ronald Bridges and Travis A. Peeler, the bill is an attempt to modernize the state's voter registration. The poll tax would be repealed also to put the bill into effect. The bill would make it possible for a voter to register once

More farmers plant DeKalb than any other brand

My F-63 cut 6000 pounds per acre from the 15 acres I had planted. This yielded 1000 lbs. more than another variety I had planted nearby. A large percentage of my acreage will be planted with DEKALB F-63 next year. The F-63 stands well while my other variety fell. I am especially satisfied with the good yield. MY MISTAKE THIS YEAR WAS NOT PLANTING 100% F-63.

I harvested 7400 pounds per acre from 45 acres that I had planted of DEKALB F-63 Grain Sorghum. I watered this three times and fertilized. It thrashed well during combining. I lost very little from falling. I like its standability. I was satisfied with the results I received from F-63 this year.

New School Census Shows 5% Increase

The growing school population trend was emphasized this week by the new county school census just completed under the supervision of County Superintendent C. Roy Stevens. A total of 5971 school-age children were registered this year, 299 more than a year ago. A five-percent overall increase was shown. Springlake led the communities with a healthy 113 increase, 15% more than a year ago. Percentage-wise, Amherst came in second with 41, a 10% increase over a year ago. Expansion of Plant Littlefield Young Farmers Monday night. In discussing the use of Karmex D. L. for pre-emergence use, Hudspeth recommended spraying ten inch band behind planter using a high rate. He pointed out that it must rain within two weeks for the chemical to be absorbed into weeds by roots. Cost of controlling weeds by this method is $1.50 per acre. At rates of 500 lbs. per acre, a Jumbo fertilizer distributor introduced by New Holland can cover 6 acres without a refill.

Flame Cultivation Research Extended

This independent research organization at Halfway today became the nation's undisputed Number 1 leader in flame cultivation research after the announcement that the Foundation had extended its research program with flame cultivation to the Rio Grande Valley of Texas. In commenting on this expansion of the Foundation's research program, Dr. Earl H. Collister, Director, stated that the Foundation would conduct a full-time year-round research program in the Rio Grande Valley with field and vegetable crops. This expansion of the Foundation's research work with flame cultivation was made possible by money that was raised by businessmen in the Rio Grande Valley area. They came to the Foundation at Halfway and requested that a full-time program be conducted on a private enterprise basis in the Valley for a minimum of three years. Jack H. Parks, Assistant Agricultural Engineer with the Foundation, has been conducting flame cultivation research with several vegetable crops in the Valley since Oct. 1962. Mr. Parks is in charge of the Foundation's Flame Cultivation Research Program, and he will supervise the expanded program in the Valley. Don Stagg, laboratory assistant in flame cultivation research, and family, will move to the Rio Grande Valley and reside in Harlingen, Texas. Stagg will conduct the Foundation's research program on flame cultivation at 2 locations throughout the lower Valley. In commenting further on this major expansion of the Foundation's research program with flame cultivation, Dr. Collister stated that, "the Rio Grande Valley represents a tremendous potential for the use of flame cultivation as a means of weed control, and flame cultivation could represent a significant reduction in the cost of producing cotton, grain sorghum and vegetable crops in the area."

What America Means To Me

by Lonnie Whitford

America is a land of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. America was discovered and colonized by Europeans trying to get away from the religious persecution in Europe. Many men, women, and children died making America what it is today, a beautiful nation of the free.

Today America is the richest and most prosperous nation in the world, and we must strive to keep it that way.

America is the only nation of its kind in the world. No other nation has such freedom of speech, religion, press, and etc., as our fine America.

Today America is the richest and most prosperous nation in the world, and we must strive to keep it that way. America is the only nation of its kind in the world. No other nation has such freedom of speech, religion, press, and etc., as our fine America.

America is the land of beauty. It has almost any kind of scenery or climate one could wish for. It has from great mountain ranges to the great flat region, the Great Plains. It has from the cold regions in the north with snow all year around to the tropical regions where it is warm throughout the year.

This is what America means to me, a citizen of the United States of America. America is the land of life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness.

Scout News

The Hite Park Addition was the scene of a kite flying contest for Cub Scout Pack 614 on Saturday afternoon. The meeting also served as a Pack meeting for the month of March.

Winners in the contest were Lenn Lackey, placing first and David Holt second, with the two boys flying their kites the highest and longest period of time during the afternoon.

Cokes were served following the contest period to the boys and parents that attended. Glenn Lackey received his Bear badge and a gold arrow point. All dens met last Tuesday at the Jaycee Building for practice for the circus and are meeting on Wednesday of this week for practice instead of at their regular meeting time.

The circus is to be held Friday at Lubbock at 7:30 p.m. with the Pack from Earth-Springlake performing in the first event following the Grand entry. A bus or busses will be provided for the Cubs and parents to go to Lubbock on Friday night.

The bus will leave Earth at 5 p.m. and will stop at the B & M Grocery in Springlake

12th Annual Swine Short Course At Texas A & M

A program which emphasizes new developments in swine feeding and practical housing and equipment for the hog farm has been announced for the 12th annual Swine Short Course. T. D. Tanksley, animal husbandman for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, said the short course would be held at Texas A&M College, April 1 and 2.

Two out-of-state speakers, Dr. Leland Tribble, in charge of swine research, University of Missouri and L. L. Stewart, owner of the world's largest private swine testing station for those that desire to catch the bus there.

Each person going on the bus is asked to bring a sack lunch or sandwiches to be eaten on the way to Lubbock before the Circus. Drinks will be provided. Persons who have not purchased tickets for the Circus may do so by contacting any Cub Scout. The local pack receives 20% of all ticket sales made by the local pack. Each boy who sells all 10 of his tickets will receive a Circus patch to be worn on his uniform. Tickets are 50¢ each.

A walk through of the Circus is being attended Tuesday night by several of the local den mothers who plan to attend the Circus with the Cubs. The location of the area which will be used by the Cubs of Pack 614 will be found under the notice section of this paper so that parents and friends may locate their group during the five minute performance of each pack.

Frankfort, Indiana, will be featured. Tribble is described as one of the nation's better known research scientists on feeding problems and Stewart as a down-to-earth, practical hog producer who tests 68 complete litters at home each season plus an additional 8 to 10 at Purdue University.

Tanksley said he expected a major highlight of the two-day meeting to be the discussion by eight Texas commercial hog producers. Each will use colored slides to show his operations with special emphasis on housing and equipment. The eight and their home towns are: Jack Barton, Littlefield; Joe Glazer, Buckholts; Leonard Katzfey, George West; Euel Liner, Lubbock; Sam Rabb and Clayton Stribling of Llano; Dr. Walter Smith, Marlin and Dr. R. M. Titzworth of Cameron. The variations in type of operations, herd sizes, feeding programs and facilities and equipment used by the eight should make this presentation one of the best we've ever had, said Tanksley.

Other speakers will be Department of Animal Husbandry staff members, Dean R. E. Patterson, School of Agriculture, Texas A&M, will present the awards to the winners in the 1963 litter testing program. Local county agents can supply detailed information on the short course.

What America Means To Me

by Cynthia Busby

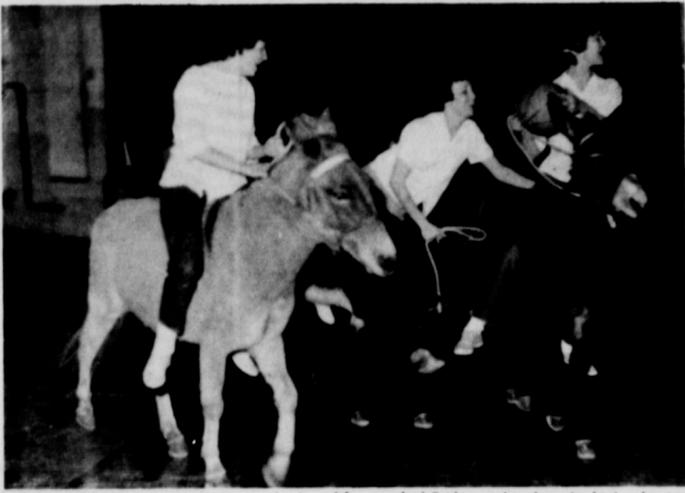

Cynthia Busby

America, to me means a great nation in the world in which the people have more freedom and luxuries than any other country in the world. We are free to do as we please in America as long as it doesn't hurt someone else.

In America, people have religious freedom. We can attend any church we wish or we don't have to go at all. No church controls the government. There is no state church. You don't have to attend a certain church to be eligible for election to a public office.

In America, newspapers can print whatever they have proof is true. In America, if a person is on trial for something, he has the right to an unprejudiced judge and jury, and the right to an attorney of law to defend him.

HO DONKEYS... AWAY!!!... and a lot of fun was had Friday night when the high school girls and the outsiders competed in a thrilling donkey basketball game. High School beat the outsiders 6 to 4. Shown riding these gallant steeds are, from left to right, Polly Middleton, Charlene Riley and Linda Pat Usery.

In America, I have the privilege of going to school to learn about many things. I have a wonderful home and wonderful parents and brother since America is a free nation.

In America, people have the right to talk both publicly and privately about all matters as long as they can prove what they say is true and not just a rumor.

America is a country in which the people have a direct voice in government. Everyone, if they are 21 years of age or over, a United States citizen, and have paid their poll tax, may help elect the president, vice-president, governor, and other state and national officials by voting for their choice on election day.

America has many, many schools. America has many wonderful colleges and universities where every child in America has the privilege of going to get a higher education after completing his elementary and secondary schooling. America has many specialized schools where students can go to study about things that aren't usually taught in colleges and universities. Scholarships are given for students excelling in various subjects like science and math. Scholarships are also given in sports-like football and basketball.

Our government in America cannot force anyone to take a job that they don't want. Everyone can choose a career that they think they can do well and will enjoy doing. It is possible to go to a business school instead of going to college if a person wants a job immediately.

America has a great supply of natural resources and minerals which has enabled us to become a great industrial nation. America is a great agricultural nation. In America, we grow many foods. We raise cotton, wheat, and a variety of other grains. We grow a variety of other crops. Among our many minerals are coal, iron, gold, zinc, copper, and many other minerals.

Every America, when he sees the American flag, hears the national anthem, or says the pledge of allegiance to the American flag, should feel great pride in his country. America will continue to be a great, free, and democratic nation only as long as Americans realize the greatness of what America stands for, the proof of what a democratic government run by the people and for the people can accomplish.

Each person having the right he wishes with his life. This is one of the things America means to me.

by Debbie Barton

To me America has always meant a land of many wonderful things and opportunities. It provides great freedom for everyone. People are beginning to realize how much freedom means to them after seeing the results of the communists, and how easy it would be for them to take over. We are fighting to keep our freedom more and more each day. Everyone should strive and set a goal to get the best education they can. Education is the key word to get along in this world today and to make something out of yourself. Not one should pass up the chance to get one. Another opportunity is the right to freedom of religion. Anyone may worship as they choose. It would be hard for us to realize how it would be to worship an idol, or man, and to turn God away.

An important part in running this country is the Democratic Government which we have. We are very lucky to be able to vote for the persons we think are more capable of doing a good job in running our government. Having all of these opportunities have helped to raise our standards of living and to advance much further and faster than the rest of the countries. By working together and making the best out of the opportunities given to them, many great people have made America a wonderful place in which to live.

America is a land of Beauty and Peace.

Our religious freedom is very wonderful. We are able to worship freely and go to the church of our choice.

Our Democratic Government provides us with the right to vote on the man of our choice. A good education provides us with a good career and life. We are able to choose from many careers.

People living in other countries have to live on the crowded streets in filth and poverty.

Our standards of living are much higher than those of other countries.

We are reaching new places and discovering new things everyday. All of these opportunities we are given help in these advancements.

Ardis Barton and Gene Gibson of Lubbock, attended the NCAA Basketball Tournament, in Louisville, Ky. The two men, making the trip by plane, left Thursday and returned Sunday.

Advice To "Blister Brigade" Offered

Autson-If you're going to take part in President Kennedy's walkathon, make the most of this healthful exercise by doing it properly. Dr. John H. McMurrin, president of the Texas State Chiropractic Association, advised this week.

"It's important, too, that you wear proper shoes. Be sure you know your limits. Walking is good for your health, but not if you overtax your strength. On your first venture take in only a few blocks, then walk farther with less tiring if you maintain a steady, measured pace, with your weight balanced evenly on both hips and your shoulders back," Dr. McMurrin said.

"You'll find that you can build up the distance gradually in ensuing hikes. Take a 10-minute break at least once per hour.

"Walking is excellent exercise for the spine and pelvis. Regular walking when coupled with deep breathing exercises helps maintain good general health as well as spinal integrity."

What America Means To Me

It is hard to think of a world without America in it. Yet, only five hundred years ago nobody in Europe or Asia knew this continent was part of the world. Since that time many great and wonderful changes have taken place. When I think about this great land of ours and what it means to me, I am truly grateful for men like Christopher Columbus who discovered America and suffered many hardships before reaching American soil.

settled America. The people who came in the early years of the Seventeenth century did not know what sort of land they would find, in a world of tyranny they dared to say—"every individual is born with the rights of life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness." To win these rights the Americans fought a war. Through their courage and beliefs in freedom we enjoy a democratic government to-day.

In our rural area, our beautiful fields of growing crops, the acres of forest land, and majestic mountains help me to realize the wealth and beauty of our great land.

"Death Book" For 1962 Records 2,421 Deaths By Auto In State

The official Texas traffic "death book" for 1962 was closed Friday with 2,321 entries in the motorcade column--an increase of 107 deaths or 5% over 1961, it was announced today by Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety.

He said that in spite of the fact that travel increased 4% in 1962, the 107 additional motorcars raised the death rate per hundred million miles from 4.8 in 1961--the lowest in history--to 4.9 in 1962.

Garrison said the upward trend in traffic fatalities began in the summer of 1962 and is continuing into 1963 at an even greater rate. During the first 11 weeks of this year, there were 43, or 19% more deaths than during the same period of 1962. So far in 1963, 364 deaths have been reported.

"This trend is especially alarming because nearly as many traffic deaths have occurred in Texas so far this year as compared with the same period of 1956, when an all time high of 2,611 motorcars were recorded," he said.

"Unless this trend is halted, Texas could well be headed for a new traffic death record, the most deadly year ever on our streets and highways. We can ill afford this tragic and needless loss of life. Traffic accidents are caused by a disregard of traffic laws and ordinances and it is essential that the public support our enforcement officers and the courts in controlling the violators.

"In the meantime, every driver should take cognizance of the current dangerous trend and avoid all hazardous situations especially the violator whose actions might cause an accident."

accidents involving parked or stalled cars that the Public Safety commissioner has recommended that the entire state adopt the "safety" plates that glow at night.

Ever ride with one of those long-haul truck drivers?

We did recently, and it was an experience worth remembering. These are the real pros of the highway, with a safety record that is the envy of other whee-ro lers.

It was interesting to watch our driver check out his rig before he got in it. He checked his head and tail lights, something most motorists could do profitably. (The only significant national study of motor vehicle defects showed that 19% of all cars had some defect and 3% of these had rear light defects and 17% had something wrong with their headlights.)

Loaf Of The Week

Out of nearly $99 billion that consumers spent for food and clothing in 1960, about 35% went to farmers and 65% went for marketing services.

Low-moisture silage, made from forage wilted to 50% moisture, can be made in conventional towersilos. But in horizontal silos, it seems impossible to get the good air seal that is necessary.

Highway 84 In Lamb To Recieve Asphalt Coating

A contract for 7.8 miles of construction on US Highway 84 in Lamb County has been awarded to a Tye firm it was announced in Austin this week by the State Highway Commission.

Subject to the concurrence of the Bureau of Public Roads, J. H. Strain & Sons submitted the low bid of $139,350 on the project.

The Asphalt concrete paving and seal coat from Hockley County line to 2.7 miles southeast of Littlefield is expected to take approximately 90 working days, according to O. L. Crain District Highway Engineer at Lubbock.

Rhea Bradley, Resident Engineer at Littlefield will be in active charge of the project while it is under construction.

THE DRIVER'S SEAT

Ever hear of A. J. "Stub" Farlow? or Deadman?

Farlow is a bronco rider who won fame after World War I and Deadman is a pony from the Jackson Hole country that was the terror of cowboys such as Farlow.

But both have a current claim to fame, inasmuch as Farlow is the only man and Deadman is the only horse on any license plates issued by the 50 states. (Discounting of course, the chiseled figures of the four presidents whose faces are on the Mount Rushmore carving on South Dakota plates.)

Interested in other little known facts about license tags? They make good on-the-road conversation points.

Did you know, for example, that the record for plates on a single vehicle is 39, the number on a truck that traveled from state to state a few years back.

A truck holds the record, too for the most expensive tag, with its owner shelling out $1,300 for registration plate.

As many states --25-- issue single-year tags as issue multiple year ones, and now 12 states issue "safety" plates that are covered with a material that reflects headlights for nighttime safety.

All plates have been standardized at 6 x 12 inches, but all states do not have their plates made in the same way; seven states farm them out on private contracts, with the rest ordering them from prisons.

Another peculiar facet of license plates is that many of them are made to order. For example, in Illinois this year, one of six people ordering tags asked for ones with special numbers that would duplicate their phone or house numbers, remind friends of their business address or act in some other way to distinguish them.

One of the more novel tags was the Connecticut Coal plate that, naturally enough, was issued to a coal-yard operator.

Five priests in a car were involved in an accident on a narrow bridge near Elizabethtown, Ky., because v a n d a l s had torn down signs warning that the bridge was one-way. The district traffic engineer says sign vandalism is one of the greatest problems of the highway department.

A dirty windshield can reduce your vision by as much as 15% at night, the National Safety Council warns. Night driving vision is limited enough as it without adding this further reduction. The council advises carrying a clean cloth in your car so you can keep your windshield clear.

Questions we have asked while driving...

Why don't traffic engineers designate more roads as one-way highways? Look at a map and you will see that usually there are two good roads between every major city. If each of these roads were designated as one-way routes, head-on collisions, accidents caused by a driver trying to pass a long line of slow-moving traffic and similar crashes would be almost eliminated. Inexpensive feeder roads could handle local traffic that wanted to go in a direction opposite to the direction of the one-way road.

What a completely different highway system there will be when the air-cushion cars--wheel-less automobiles that ride on a cushion of air--are widely available. Highways will not wear out. There probably will be no weight limits for trucks. Braking will be much more certain, and there will be no major problems if a car has to leave the roadway to avoid an accident.

Why don't more people exercise while driving? Did you know, for example, that you can exercise your neck muscles, stomach muscles and shoulders while you are behind the wheel? How? Every time you stop at a stop sign or light, suck in your stomach as hard as possible and hold it until you start up again. Develop shoulder muscles by pushing hard against the steering wheel of your car for short periods of time. To develop your neck muscles, tilt your head to one side occasionally and stiffen the muscles in your neck as hard as you can. Such short but intense exercising can do more to develop muscles, claim physical fitness experts, than longer periods of more relaxed "exercising".

A one-year test of reflective license plates in Polk county, Iowa, saved drivers so much money by drastic reductions of

Important Facts Concerning Wheat Program Revealed

The facts concerning the 1964 Wheat Program are divided into two categories for DHIA records won't help cows give more milk, but they help dairymen select heifers for replacement and feed for cows that are milking. In the long run, DHIA means more production per cow and more income for the dairymen.

purpose participation or non-participation of the program. The categories are: Small Growers of less than 15.0 acres and farms with larger than 15.0 acres.

1. Small Growers of less than 15.0 acres: For 1964 each farm will have an allotment based on the larger of the 1959 thru 1961 average or the regular allotment up to 15.0 acres. The grower may choose to participate in the program as an allotment, in which case he will be eligible to vote in the wheat referendum. In that case he would qualify for price support with his share of marketing certificates. He must reduce his acreage as much as 10%.

He can stay out of the program, and plant wheat up to the larger of his 1959-61 base or 1964 allotment. Any wheat planted in excess of that amount would be subject to marketing quota penalties. He would not be eligible to vote in the referendum. He would not receive price support.

The 15 acre exemption law is not in effect for 1964. If you have been planting wheat under this provision for 1962 and 1963 only, remember that any amount of wheat acreage planted in 1964 would be subject to Marketing Quota penalties.

The above facts would be in effect only if a yes vote was carried by 2/3 majority of the eligible wheat growers. If a no vote carried small farms will be the same as for larger farms, with price support at 50% of parity for growers who comply with their acreage allotment.

2. Farms with larger than 15.0 Acres: This type farm will have a mandatory reduction of about 10% of his 1963 wheat allotment. This 10% must be put to a conservation use regardless, as to the producers desire to be a participant or a non-participant in the 1964 Wheat program.

A participating wheat grower will receive payment on the diverted acreage plus price support at approximately $2.00 per bushel on about 80% of the normal production. Any wheat production in excess of the normal production will sell at about $1.30 per bushel.

Non-participating producers must divert the mandatory 10% reduction of his 1963 allotment acreage to a conserving use or a Land Use Penalty will apply. The Land Use Penalties are equal to the marketing quota penalties. If the 10% reduction is made, no Land Use Penalty will apply and price support will be available.

Marketing quota penalties will apply to both participating and non-participating wheat growers if they remain overplanted.

If there is any question about the program, be sure to contact the ASCS Office. It is more important that a closer look be made of the 1964 program than in prior years. ABOVE ALL--PLEASE GO AND VOTE AT THE PROPER TIME.

TEXAS COTTON GROWERS REPORT:

Entire Season Control of Thrips, Aphids and Mites...

Di-Syston Treated Plants Are Stronger, Straighter... Produce More Squares Earlier

West Texas and New Mexico cotton growers now have a new way to control thrip damage and early-season stunting... with Di-Syston granular insecticide. Di-Syston is placed in the soil with the seed or side dressed after planting. The chemical is then absorbed by the growing roots and carried to all parts of the plant through the sap stream--as soon as the plant emerges. No part of the plant is unprotected--even tender new growth as it is formed.

The result? With Di-Syston, your early cotton grows faster, has stronger, straighter stems, more vigorous foliage. Squares form earlier and the plant produces more of them. Many growers in the Lubbock area have reported full season control of thrip with just the one application. You get higher yields because of the good Di-Syston start. This year, get your crop off to a good start with Di-Syston. Complete instructions for use are printed on the label on every package. Use Di-Syston.

Report From Bill Clayton

One half of the time for the regular session of the legislature has been completed and there have been approximately five hundred bills introduced in the Senate.

The Appropriations Committee of the House, for the first time in recent history, reported the appropriations bill, House Bill 86, to the floor of the House within the constitutionally required sixty days. The House passed the bill after a full day of discussion and debate in its original form and with only nine dissenting votes. This bill meets the requirement of being certified by the comptroller, as being within the estimated income of the State for the next bi-ennium. The Senate has not finished their work on the Senate finance bill, but as soon as they do it is passed in the Senate, then a Conference Committee of the two houses will be appointed and work can be begun on the final appropriation bill. It is hoped, that if the Senate does not get the bill too much, we can get a final bill within the estimated income.

The various committees continue to meet daily and hear the various bills. As of this time, the Labor Committee has not reported a bill for floor debate.

House Joint Resolution 44, which would have frozen the sales tax at the present 2%, failed to pass the House. I voted against this resolution because I felt that this left the door open for a State income tax, or a corporation income tax, and certainly I do not believe that the people of my district want either, I also voted against the bill, and it was defeated, that would have provided for four year terms for members of the House of Representatives. I believe that the Representative is the closest voice the people of Texas have in their State Government, and I believe they should vote for their representative every two years.

Two of the major pieces of legislation proposed by Governor Connally passed last week. One created the Committee on Education Beyond the High School Level, and the other created the Texas Tourist Development Agency.

The House and Senate passed the insecticide inspection bill, which is a protective measure for the farmers. It provides for the inspection and chemical analysis of insecticides that are sold to farmers.

The House passed the bill which related to the automobile safety responsibility law, and put more teeth into the law affecting drivers who drive without liability insurance.

House Bill 13, the annexation bill, was passed by the House after discussion and debate that covered four days. The bill was amended several times, and I believe it will be a good compromise of the problem that has existed for so long. It now provides for orderly growth of cities, but does not allow agricultural areas to be annexed for the purpose of taxation.

I understand that there will be coming out of committee shortly a congressional re-districting bill. It is my understanding, also, that this bill has little effect on the 18th and 19th Congressional District, as they are pretty well proportioned as to the required population.

The Senate has had some "loan shark" legislation under discussion; however, none of the loan bills have come out of the Committee in the House for discussion, but they probably will within the near future.

The Textbook Committee laid out their report of their last years hearings, the past week. This is a rather interesting report and shows many areas where erroneous ideas have been adopted by authors of certain textbooks.

House Bill 106, the sales tax bill, has been heard before Committee, but still has not been reported out. It probably will be held up until after the Appropriations Conference Committee has completed its bill, and it has been determined whether or not additional taxes will be necessary to operate the State for the next two years.

I hope you will continue to let me hear from you as legislation in which you are interested is being considered.

What America Means To Me

by Janita Sue Blackburn

America means a lot to me, but here are a few things that America means to me. Of course, the first things I think of are Freedom of Speech, Religion, and Freedom of Assembly, Freedom of Press, all men being free and equal, no matter what race they are, and life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness.

It means all schools everywhere, all of the universities and colleges where one can have a higher education.

America is all the fun I have on family and school trips, plus all of my family and our home.

Everything in our house and all the fights with my sisters, it's the way one makes a living such as farming or President of the United States.

America is the vast beautiful land with its natural resources and all its minerals. It's the government and the easiness with which we live and not the tenacity of communism.

It's working as I please and choosing a vocation of my own, it's also wearing what I want where I want to go and doing as I please.

Our military forces such as the Navy, Army, Marines, Air Force, National Guard and others are all a part of America.

America is the churches we over seas and at home. It's also God, for we owe him everything. It was he who gave us our freedom which we have.

Then last America is the nation in which millions of people live. It's the sports such as football, baseball, basketball, and ect. All the things I have told about plus hundreds and hundreds of other things are America.
