NOSIN.....
WITH POLLY

Anyone interested in knowing the future is directed to call upon Mrs. Mary Foster. Mary is employed as checker at Patterson Bros. Grocery. On her day off the crew led by Billy Robnett installed a "Palm Reading by Madame Hazel" sign in front of Mary's house. Mary herself was so taken with the beautiful sign, and has been tempted to follow this trade as a means of feathering the nest without to much effort involved. Only thing wrong is she'd miss the friendly group of associates at Pattersons.

I was truly thankful this past week as I sold advertising on the Medallion Open House to be held Sunday at the Pete Parish home, of the many complimentary things I heard about Gladys and Pete Parish from those who had a part in working on the Parish home. Several of these people asked me if all of our city of Earth was inhabited by fine people such as the Parishes. They all said working with Pete and Gladys had truly been a pleasure. We are proud to live in a little city with so many nice people.

I went home Wednesday afternoon tired, and a bit homesick, as I hadn't been home much lately, day or night, not having anything to write for a column, but planned to get right on the job, instead I fell asleep.

In a short time those two RULING DELEGATES of our family returned from school as I awoke I heard them speaking in low voices as one went through the refrigerator like a starved pirate, the other was busy I discovered looking for a jar. One of the two had captured a baby snake and was seeking a jar as temporary housing for the young snake. (Phil immediately told Polly it was a garter snake, and not a rattlesnake like mother and probably all women would judge it to be).

They quietly made the little thing comfortable with water and grass in this jar housing unit and their project was completed, they set about to have an afternoon snack.

As I lay there I wondered what they would do if they had to entertain that snake, as members of our nation are doing with Krushchev. How should one go about entertaining a character who is bound to see for himself that all America is really a banquet, and all Americans have to do is apply themselves to get to the table.

However, it would be interesting to know what his address will be when he returns to Russia. He probably won't tell his people the real truth, he can't afford to. Why, then do we go all the way to impress him with flowers, a band, who awaited his arrival, knowing full well he would strike us with a deadly venom anytime he feels he can sneak up on our bling side. We Americans sometimes seem to be to good for our own good, we give away, and shower other countries with gifts trying to make them understand us, and like us, when actually it seems to strike them reverse to our plans, the only thing they seem to know is brutal force.

When he returns possibly he will play up those teenage stabbing mobs New York has had recently and tell of the sad back alley life, but never will he tell of ordinary everyday families each with the things we term as necessities of life, such as TV, auto, and all kinds of appliances.

There is a lot of traveling lately that will be interesting to see the outcome. Nixon went, Krushchev came and Ike is going. Whether Krushchev takes notice of our fine nation, makes little difference to me, I like it, it's my land, my home, my Nation and my people. I'm thankful to be a little part of a great nation. (May we all understand and be thankful for the privileges that are ours.

DENT AND BRITTON TO ATTEND JOHN DEERE SHOW
L. H. Dent, owner and manager of Dent Farm Supply and Harold Britton, parts manager, will attend a 1959 display and showing of John Deere Farm Equipment at Denver, Colo. Thursday and Friday. The two will return home Saturday.

Open House Sunday 2-6 p.m.

A lovely Medallion home will be open to the public from 2 to 6 p.m. Sunday, September 20. It is the new residence of Mr. and Mrs. C. P. "Pete" Parish, located in the A. J. Parish Addition.

A representative of Southwestern Public Service will register guests who attend Open House, and a prize will be given at 6 p.m. The winner will be given an electric Toaster/Heater.

The four bedroom, three bath home is of brick veneer with an electrically equipped heating and cooling system.

A tall Arizona ledge rock planter accented with gold wrought iron stands at the end of the entrance hall.

The spacious den, kitchen, snack bar and dining room is furnished in maple furniture throughout. The floor covering of vinyl tile in the wood grain pattern and brings out the beauty of the brown-tone and pink kitchen with a built-in oven and range.

The den, with that "different look" has huge French doors leading to the patio and drape with matching dining room drapes which adjoin the den.

The floral papered and paneled hall leads to three of the bedrooms.

Along the west wall of the living room is a designed wall which is an outstanding feature of the room, blending in with the luxurious French Provincial furnishings of cherry wood.

A unique feature of the Parish home is a small dressing table in the hall just outside the bath, near the master bedroom. The attractive mirror and chair adds a rich touch to the adjoining bath.

The bedrooms, hall, living room and walk-in closets are carpeted in a neutral tone of fine carpet. The walls throughout the house are finished in Old Linen color.

A walk leads from the outside door of the all modern, time saving utility room to the four (4) car garage.

The Parishes' are longtime residents of this area, Parish came to Earth in 1924 and Mrs. Parish moved here in 1937.

Mrs. Parish has been a member of the Springlake School faculty for 12 years. They have two children, a boy, Denny and a daughter, Dixie.

The Parishes' invite all their friends to attend their Open House Sunday.

WELCOME BACK TO TOWN

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Sanders moved Monday from their farm to their new three bedroom home in Earth.

The new house was purchased from Bob Ussery, contractor.

FFA Pickup Catches Fire At Hog Pens

A fire broke out in the Springlake FFA Chapter pickup at the FFA stock pens at 2:15 p.m. Wednesday.

The origin of the fire was unknown. Damage to the pickup was heavy, including the battery, wiring, paint and interior of the cab.

The Earth Volunteer Fire Department extinguished the flames.

BY YOUR CHAMBER OF COMMERCE PRESIDENT

One hundred and seventy-odd years ago a group of American businessmen conceived the idea that by working together they could do more for the betterment of trade and industry than could be achieved solely through their individual efforts. So they formed an organization in which they could pool their talents and energy, and called it the Chamber of Commerce. The idea was a good one, it paid dividends, and other chambers were started as time went on. Years later men decided they could not continue to do business indefinitely in any place unless they helped make it a better community. Their Chambers then began to be active in civic affairs and gradually evolved into civic-commercial bodies, interested in community development as well as commercial matters.

Today the Chamber of Commerce is an accepted American institution, widespread, strong, active and backed by nearly a million men and women. Its record of accomplishment for business, industry, community well-being and national strength is outstanding.

And yet, the possibilities for a achievement through the medium of Chamber of Commerce have never been fully utilized. Too many people still do not realize just how much can be done when united thought and addition are applied to common problems. All to many others do not care.

THE DEGREE OF ACHIEVEMENT IN EVERY CHAMBER DEPEND UPON THE EXTENT TO WHICH THOSE IN THE COMMUNITY ARE WILLING TO WORK TOGETHER. IT IS AS SIMPLE AS THAT.

Join YOUR local Chamber today and share in its problems and achievements.

FFA Chapter Elects Officers And Directors

Officers and board of directors were elected last week by members of the Springlake FFA Chapter, also the FFA sweetheart and Plow Girl for the coming year.

Officers and their new offices are: Ronnie Johnson, president; Bobby Sloan, vice-president; Shelby Bozeman, treasurer; Hal Hudson, secretary; Dale Montgomery, sentinel; Jerry Jones, reporter. Mary Jane Shirey was elected sweetheart and Minnie Wheat, plow girl.

Following the election officers of the chapter elected an adult board of directors. These men were chosen because of their interest in the FFA Chapter and they will assist in raising funds, and making a better FFA Chapter in general.

The businessmen elected were Bill Braden, Carroll McDonald, E. C. Hudson and Chubby Dent. Farmers elected on the board were Jack Hadaway, Gardner Sanderson and Jarvis Angeley.

Pancake Supper A Success

The Springlake Lions Club Pancake supper last Friday night was reported to be a huge success.

One hundred and twenty-five person enjoyed the supper at the Springlake school cafeteria.

All members of the Lions Club wish to say thanks to all who attended.

Proceeds from the Pancake supper will be applied to the Springlake School Tennis courts.

Formal Opening Of Corner Cafe Saturday, Sept. 19

The formal opening of the Corner Cafe will be held Saturday, September 19.

Free coffee and doughnuts will be served all day.

The new owners and managers are Mr. and Mrs. Joe Jones, formerly of Seminole.

Mr. and Mrs. Jones managed the Quick Lunch Cafe in Earth in 1955 for one year. They have had 20 years cafe experience and will serve lunches, a la carte and sandwiches.

The Corner Cafe is located on the corner of Main Street and South Amherst Road and will be open from 6 a.m. to 11 p.m. seven days a week.

Mr. and Mrs. Jones are members of the Methodist Church.

Outstanding Band Members To Be Announced Weekly

Norman Hemphill, Springlake Band instructor has announced that the three outstanding bandmen of the bands of the Wolverine band will be announced each week.

Outstanding bandmen will be judged by Mr. Hemphill on the basis of performance at games and weekly progress including neatness of dress, carriage and interest.

Outstanding bandmen for the week ending September 4th were: Camilla Wheatley of the 7th rank was the most outstanding bandman.

John Robert Lawrence, 5th rank second and Robert Jenkins, 3rd rank, third.

For the week ending September 11th, Jim Stockard, 3rd rank was the most outstanding bandman; Karren Barton, 6th rank, second and De Ann Adrian, 1st rank, third.

Five persons were injured in a head-on collision one and one half miles east of Earth on US Highway 70, Friday night, about 8:30 p.m. and a third car, driven by Mrs. Marvin Sanders ran into one of the wrecked cars.

T. S. Alair, 68 of Springlake, driver of the 1956 Pontiac was driving east when he met head-on with Edwin Earl George, 19 of Oilton, who was driving a 1952 Plymouth sedan.

Mrs. Alair and Mrs. M. L. Green of Earth were passengers in the Alair car and C. W. Smith, 18, of Oilton was riding in the George car.

A 1959 Chevrolet station wagon, driven by Mrs. Marvin Sanders hit the Plymouth, which had spun around and was headed south in the center of the highway. Mrs. Sanders was not injured.

All were taken to the Littlefield Hospital and Clinic. Alair was treated for a lacerated face and bruises. Mrs. Alair was treated for shock and bruises and Mrs. Green, 78, underwent tracheotomy and was reported to steadily improving.

The two Oilton youths were also hospitalized for treatment of lacerations and bruises.

State Highway Patrol and local Deputy Sheriff V. L. Smith, Jr. investigated the wreck. Both drivers were believed to be driving too closely to the center of the highway.

Estimated damages to the Sanders' car was reported to be approximately $400, the Pontiac, $900, and the Plymouth sedan a total loss.

TRUCKS THAT DO THE NEXT BEST THING TO PAVING EVERY ROAD IN AMERICA!

Imagine a truck ride so smooth and cushioned that fragile loads can travel the worst "wash-board" roads with ease. Imagine a truck ride that virtually eliminates shimmy and wheel fight, cuts side sway on curves, makes steering far steadier and easier, keeps drivers far fresher. Imagine a truck ride that permits higher safe cruising speeds, more trips per day with all kinds of cargo over every type of road surface. Imagine a ride that keeps up to 78% of all objectionable road shock and vibration from ever reaching the driver and cargo, a design that sharply reduces twisting and fatigue forces on chassis, cabs and bodies, that keeps trucks young for extra thousands of miles. / Soon you won't have to just imagine such a ride. You can try it for yourself in the trucks that do the next best thing to paving every road in America—new Chevrolet trucks for 1960. You'll see what happens when Chevy's truck engineers design a whole new line of trucks around a whole new kind of torsion-spring suspension. These trucks are new from the ride on up—with wonderfully roomier cabs, brawnier frames, style that's fresh as sixty and more! Don't decide on any new truck till you see the newest of all.

See them soon at your local authorized Chevrolet dealer's.

961 Graduates Must Register Now To Enter National Merit Scholarship Tests

All 1961 graduates who wish to enter the 1960-61 National Merit Scholarship competition should register now at the school office, John Lawrence, principal announced today. The National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test will be given 8 a.m. Saturday, March 19, 1960.

To be eligible for the test, Springlake High School students must be second-semester juniors or first-semester seniors at the time of the examination. Students must pay a $1 fee the day of the test. Any interested student who is unable to pay the fee should consult Mr. Lawrence.

The tests are given each year by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation as part of the nation's largest independent scholarship program. Last year 550,000 students competed in 14,500 schools for more than $3.5 million worth of four-year scholarships.

Awards are granted on the basis of intellectual merit, but student financial needs determine the size of individual stipends which are renewable each year without further testing.

The NMS exam, administered by Science Research Associates of Chicago, also is valuable to students for selecting their careers or planning their courses in high school and college, Mr. Lawrence observed.

After the test, each participating

Local Jaycees Lend Helping Hand In Organizing Sudan

A general meeting of young men between the ages of 21 and 35 was held at Sudan for the purpose of discussing the organization of a Junior Chamber of Commerce in Sudan. The organization over the nation is known as the Jaycees. The meeting was open to all interested persons.

The steering committee composed of Carroll McDonald, Ted Robbins, Mack Templeton and Doug Parish are assisting in getting the Jaycees started in Sudan. Earth Jaycee members were in Sudan Tuesday night to give the purpose and aims of the Jaycee organization and what they have accomplished over the nation.

Jaycees present from Earth were Melvin Parish, Ted Robbins, Golden Ferguson, Carroll McDonald, Robert Riley, Gene Templeton, Ardis Barton, Weldon Barton, Bobby Measles and Doug Parish.

The Jaycees are spread across the country in 2500 locals and have scored notable and sometimes unbelievable gains in promoting community welfare, better government, traffic safety, education, fire prevention, public health, Americanism, youth recreation, sports facilities and many other things that make communities and our country a better place to live.

Basically, the Jaycees are a closely knit group of grass-root organizations, bound together by service organizations on state and national levels. Too, they are bound together by dedication to a common goal, a better America, they have made their mark on a national scale.

In the opinion of Laurence F. Lee, chairman of the board of the United States Chamber of Commerce "the most important thing a young man can do to insure the future of America is to understand his heritage as a citizen of the United States and to work for its preservation."

President Dwight D. Eisenhower said the following about the Jaycees: "Yours is one of our nation's most distinguished and enterprising organizations. You are young and responsible people, with impressive careers and achievements already recorded to your credit . . . Because you are both

What Happens To Chemicals in Plants?

College Station — The use of radioisotopes by Texas Agricultural Experiment Station workers is providing a "nuclear age" answer to an old problem in agriculture—what happens to a chemical after it is applied and enters a plant.

"By the use of radioisotopes incorporated into the structure of the chemicals and instruments such as the Geiger counter we can locate a chemical or fragments of it after it has been applied to the plant," says Dr. C. S. Miller of the Department of Plant Physiology and Pathology.

At present Dr. Miller, Dr. Wayne Hall and other staff members of the department are concerned with residue studies on plants, primarily cotton, to determine how much of the residue of chemicals remains in the seed, which ultimately go into food or feed products.

Also by the use of radioactive materials it is possible to determine what happens to the chemicals within the plant, whether they are broken down and lost from the plant, stored in certain parts of the plant, or used in the life process of the plant.

A nuclear reactor is to be constructed at Texas A and M College. Among its products will be isotopes for an expansion of an "inner look" into plants.

Commercial laboratories will determine the poisonous effects of chemicals in feeding experiments to small animals. Scientists in plant physiology and pathology apply the chemicals to plants and determine the amount of residue in the plant parts which can be used for food or feed. Then the Pure Food and Drug Administration will determine if each chemical is safe to apply to plants.

The future of use of radioactive materials in plant studies appears unlimited, Dr. Miller concluded. We will be able to study many of the 102 elements to determine how each is used within a plant, including uptake of fertilizers by plants and trace elements and their bearing on plant life.

OUTDOORS IN TEXAS

By Vern Sanford

Outdoor motors have become so common - place that most of us overlook the industrial development that has taken place.

Outboard Marine Corp. of Waukegan, Ill., has prepared a very interesting Facts Book on the subject. This is the parent company for Evinrude, Johnson, Gale (Bucaneer) Products, Lawn - Roy, Pioneer Saws and Cushman Motors.

Nearly 10,000 persons are employed full time by the various subsidiaries. They are paid more than $57,000,000 a year in salaries and other benefits.

At the end of the first year of operation of Outboard Marine Corp. (1937), sales amounted to $1,379,000. Net earnings for that year were only $940,000. Gross investment in plants and equipment amounted to $2,262,000. Total assets were $3,782,000, with a stockholder equity of $3,650,000.

During the first year the book value of a share of stock was 48 cents, the earnings were 15 cents a share and the dividend amounted to 12 cents per share.

Last year the annual sales amounted to $158,713,000, with net earnings of $9,095,900. Gross investment was $59,396,000. Total assets amounted to $105,727,000 and the stockholders' equity amounted to $73,563,000.

For last year the book value per share was $9.40; earnings per share $1.16 net working capital

It wasn't all easy.

After the first year, when the cash dividend amounted to 12 cents per share, the company went through the war years earning less. Finally in 1947 earnings shot to 14 cents per share. They remained there until 1953, when the earnings went to 17 cents. Since 1953 they have continued to climb to the present 80 cents.

In 1953, many outdoorsmen began putting aside their small fishing motors. They demanded more speed, more power and ease of operation. They wanted horsepower and electric starting, and they got both.

They also got tired of pushing lawn mowers and bought power equipment. They found the golf course hills were getting a little steeper and they went to gasoline buggies on the greens.

So in these corporate figures we find the progress that has been made in our outdoors recreation.

What about the other recreational areas . . . the tackle business, for instance?

In 1953 we had just begun using a few spinning reels. Today practically every fisherman has a spinning reel of some sort, along with his conventional equipment. And we have lures by the dozen boxes.

Is it any wonder that there are more people spending money today for hunting and fishing than for all other spectator sports combined?

We are buying more hunting and fishing licenses than ever before. And our game and fish commissions are putting more game back on areas where we had shot it off just a few years ago.

There is hardly a paved highway in Texas today that doesn't lead directly to good fishing water, or to a spot where we can hunt. Areas that were completely decimated only a few short years ago abound in game today.

It is well, because people have more leisure hours today, and more money to spend. When we go out today we want to be sure we fill our bags or creels. We want to have ample water for our sports, and parks for our camping.

As a result, we also are creating a new crop for the landowners. Farms that just a few years ago

A trend in home design that started in the New York suburbs and is rapidly spreading throughout the rest of the country is a return to the Colonial-style home.

Modified somewhat to meet the needs of modern living with family rooms, sun decks, and up-to-date kitchens, the new Colonials are outselling all other styles in every area where they are being built.

One of the more popular of these modifications is a combination of a two-story Colonial and a split level, with the advantages of both styles.

Why has the Colonial, essentially an "old style" house, become so popular? A survey among architects, builders, and other authorities in the home building field reveals these principal reasons:

1. The home-buying public is tired of rath styles, and superior modern flat-top homes. This is particularly true of young families, to whom an "old" style is something new.

2. A two-story house, especially one with the simple, center-hall design of a Colonial, provides more space between a smaller roof and foundation, resulting in a bigger house for less money that can be built on a smaller lot.

3. Living and sleeping quarters on separate floors provide a natural zoning of activities without complicated floor plans.

4. Traditional design has the added advantage that traditional materials can be used. Asphalt shingles, for example, have been used as the roofing material on Colonial-style homes for years, providing the rich, textured appearance without glare that is appropriate to the dignity of Colonial design.

Other traditional materials that are necessary to good Colonial design are panel doors and double-hung windows. Today these are manufactured of ponderosa pine, and are available in stock as units, with window frame and sash or door and frame pre-fitted at the factory for low-cost installation.

Among the disadvantages of the old two-story Colonial houses was that they were more difficult to heat than many low-slung ranch homes or compact Cape Cods. This has been completely overcome today by modern heating equipment and mineral wool insulation. Research has shown that 4 to 6 inches of mineral wool in the ceiling, 3 inches in walls, and 2 or 3 inches in floors over unheated areas results not only in uniform temperatures throughout the house, but saves on heating fuel as well.

Colonial styling is not exclusive to two-story homes, however. In many parts of the country, particularly in the West and the Southwest, one-story homes with Colonial styling are becoming best sellers.

Unique Colonial style home being built in the New York area is this "Colonial split level," which combines the advantages of both styles. Below is a typical example of the equally popular "ranch Colonial." Both have traditional wood windows and asphalt shingle roofs.

velopment stop? It won't. The outdoors today is for papa, mama and all the kids. It's a family affair.

Dividends of such companies as Outboard Marine will continue to climb . . . higher and higher. But this isn't the most important angle of this great development.

Greatest dividend will be in a fuller and more enjoyable life for nearly 200 million Americans who enjoy their leisure time in the great outdoors.

WATERPROOFING — Get your boots wet during that hunting trip. Chances are you did, unless you had a retriever with you.

Whitmore Research Laboratories, Inc., of St. Louis, Mo., has a product that is a guaranteed water-proofer. It's called WATER-OPF and it's in a spray - bomb container.

It's quick - drying and will water-proof shoes, shirts, hats, coats, gloves, tents — even that golf bag or convertible car top.

Workman installs mineral wool insulation in attic floor of an older home, using "blow in" system. This method, developed especially by mineral wool engineers to make insulating existing houses easier, employs air pressure to force the insulation into hard-to-reach wall spaces, floors, and ceilings.

Idalou Takes Springlake 22-0

By BUD IRVINE

The Springlake Wolverines lost to a spirited Idalou club 22 to 0 Friday night at the Wolverine Stadium. The Wolverines wished they could have stayed home the first half, for it was in that half Idalou won the game as they scored three quick touchdowns. In the second half Springlake held the Wildcats to just 22 yards and one first down, while Idalou had gained 89 yards in the first half. Springlake gained only 57 yards in the first half, but rushed for 103 yards in the second half. So, if the boys had played the first half as they did the second, it could have been a scoreless tie, or in fact Springlake could have won it, for they drove deep into Idalou territory in that second half twice.

Idalou recovered a fumble on the second play Springlake ran after receiving the opening kickoff on Springlake's 36 yard line. Fine halfbacks Billy Pat Swann and Joe Wilbanks carried down the field for a touchdown in six plays with Swann going over from 2 yards out. The pass try for extra points failed and Idalou led 6 to 0 with just a few minutes gone in the first quarter.

Springlake drove down to Ida-

Springlake Junior High Loses First Game to Farwell

The Springlake Junior High school football team traveled to Farwell last Thursday only to soundly beaten by a good, rough Farwell team 30 to 14. The Springlake boys were soundly beaten but they never gave up.

Bill Shirey, Springlake quarterback, made a score for Springlake on a keeper play around left end covering forty five yards. Springlake scored again in the last quarter.

Springlake Junior boys go to Sudan next Thursday, September 24, to take on the Hornets at 6 p.m. The Highschool freshman game will follow between Springlake and Sudan.

SPRINGLAKE - FARWELL FRESHMAN GAME CANCELLED

After four plays in the Farwell-Springlake freshman game being played at Farwell last Thursday night, the field lights went out and could not be repaired in time for the game to continue. The game was postponed indefinitely.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Z. Anglin and Mr. and Mrs. James A. Littleton, Jr. attended funeral services of R. A. Smith in San Angelo, Monday September 14 at 4 p.m. Mr. Smith was a brother-in-law of Mrs. Anglin.

lou's 28 yard line near the end of the first quarter, but the Wildcats held at that point and took over on downs. They began their drive on their own 28 and drove 72 yards in five plays for the score with their two halfbacks, Wilbanks and Swann eating up the yardage with Wilbanks running the last 12 yards.

The score came early in the second quarter. Swann ran the ball over for the two extra points, and early in the second quarter Idalou led 14 to 0.

It didn't take long for the Wildcats to strike again. After receiving the kickoff after the touchdown and running it up to their own 29 yard line, Springlake's halfback Hal Hudson faded back for a pass intended for end Tom Messer, but Tom never got it. The pass was a bit short and Wilbanks intercepted it on his own 45 and ran it back 55 yards for Idalou's third and last touchdown. They passed for the two points and the score Idalou 22, Springlake 0. That was all the scoring for the game.

In the second half Springlake came back and acted as though they might want to play some ball and held Idalou to just 18 yards in the third quarter and only 4 net yards in the last quarter. The Wolverines in the fourth quarter once drove down to the Wildcats 10 yard line, but the drive stalled at that point.

The Wolverines were "down" the first half. For what reason I don't know. As a result they were outplayed. They weren't that second half. Idalou had more spirit and hustle and determination than did the Wolverines, but not in the second half. Springlake's blocking left much to be desired, and coach Don Townsend is working on that a great deal this week. We feel the boys will come back this week against New Deal. They will have to be up and show great desire all the 48 minutes of the game.

New Deal has suffered two losses in their initial contests of the year, but they have a young ball club with only one senior starter. They have the type of team that could jell together any week, and it might be against Springlake this Friday, tomorrow night, at New Deal. Last year Springlake managed to down New Deal 8 to 6, and we are looking for a victory this week, provided the Wolverines really want to win. New Deal has lost to Lazbuddie 36 to 0 and Petersburg 42 to 8.

Let's all be at New Deal Friday night, tomorrow, at 8 o'clock to rout our Springlake Wolverines on to victory.

Any Way You Look At Us . . . We've Got STORAGEABILITY !

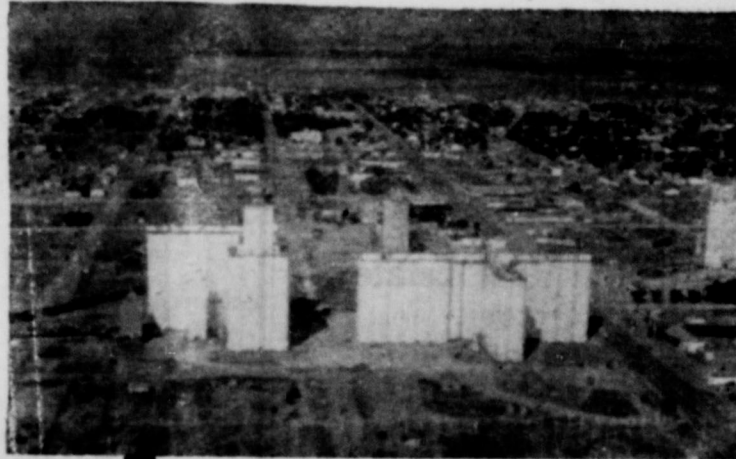

DIMMITT WHEAT GROWERS elevator, with a total of 3,030,000 bushels of storage capacity, is one of the largest on the High Plains. Storage capacity means a lot of things to you, Mr. Farmer. By having plenty of storage we can concentrate on fast, efficient and non-erring service when you drive up on our scales with your load of grain. We can concentrate on your interests instead of storage problems and by high - volume operation we can keep weighing and unloading operations moving swiftly with a minimum of waiting.

In addition to the minimum tie-up time for your trucks and the courteous paper work services offered by Dimmitt Wheat Growers, there are other advantages of bringing your grain to a co-operative. First, every farmer who uses our facilities is our boss. He becomes a stockholder and shares in the dividends of the company and as such is entitled to the best of service. Secondly, he is helping to build an organization devoted entirely to his benefit now and in the future. And thirdly, Dimmitt Wheat Growers is a civic - minded corporation, concerned with the development of the community and the county so more benefits can be made available to area farmers.

Try our service on for size by bringing your grain sorghums to us this year . . . you'll be glad you did.

Tight House Shrugs Off High Winds

It's too late to protect your home from a hurricane, tornado, or other violent windstorm after storm warnings are posted.

This is why home owners all over the country are taking advantage of the late-summer lull in chores to get their houses ready for the rough weather of fall and winter.

What can you do to protect your home from wind damage? Here are some suggestions from leading insurance companies:

1. Inspect the outside of the house carefully for such things as loose shutters, siding, and gutters, and doors and windows that do not close tightly. Ripped loose in a high wind, any one of them can become a dangerous missile.
2. Inspect trees and shrubs and remove all dead or dying limbs. Dead or weakened trees should be cut down.
3. Check bird houses, TV antennas, outside lighting accessories, clothes drying racks, and lawn furniture to be sure they can't be torn loose by violent winds. Lightweight lawn and patio furniture, flower pots, and the like should be taken inside when a windstorm is approaching.
4. Look carefully at your roof. If it is old and shabby, or if any of the roofing material is loose or uneven, call in a reliable roofing contractor for a professional inspection. This is an essential precaution, because roofing material torn away by wind exposes the interior of the house and its contents to rain.

If the contractor recommends a new roof, he can apply asphalt shingles especially designed to resist winds of even hurricane force. These provide a tight roof that will protect the house from harsh weather for years.

Some other precautionary measures you can take include having flashlights or lanterns handy, an emergency supply of water and foodstuffs, and a portable cooking stove or supply of charcoal.

4-H Club Girls County Exhibit At Littlefield

Lamb County 4-H girls will display clothing, household linens, miscellaneous, cakes, cookies, candy, flower arrangements, canned fruits and vegetables, preserves and jellies and pickles in a county exhibit Sept. 19 from 10:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the display room of the Hall Motor Company in Littlefield. The public is invited.

The county HD agent, Mrs. Lady Clare Phillips, Mrs. Elmo Stevens of Pleasant Valley, Mrs. C. T. Hulse of Olton, Mrs. Boyce Hutto of Littlefield and Mrs. Joe Prater of Spade met in the agent's office Monday at 2:30 p.m. to make plans for the exhibit.

Any Springlake School girl who was enrolled in 4-H club last year or plan to be in 4-H club this year, may send items to the display at Littlefield by contacting, adult leader, Mrs. Wilson Lewis, YO 5-3466.

Baked goods and candy may be sold if an offer is made. Proceeds from all sales will go to the 4-H Club fund.

Earth Lions Set Date For Pancake Supper Sept. 25

A Pancake Supper will be held from 6:30 to 8 p.m. Friday, September 25 in the Springlake school cafeteria, sponsored by the Earth Lions Club prior to the Springlake-Muleshoe football game.

The Lions Club will charge 75 cents a plate. Proceeds will go to the Springlake School Tennis Courts project. Everyone is invited to come and have pancakes before the game.

Give your wife a break and buy your tickets now so she can enjoy the evening at the ball game.

Soil Conservation Program Gaining Wide Acceptance

The Great Plains Conservation Program is gaining wide acceptance in the Lamb County SCD. To date 66 contracts have been developed on 23,000 acres of farms and ranches in the district for a total federal cost share of $180,000.

The Great Plains Conservation Program is filling the bill for getting conservation on the ground. The program is designed to assist farmers and ranchers carry out a complete conservation program on their land with federal cost share being provided to carry out needed conservation practices.

A typical dryland conservation plan is being carried out on the L. C. Grissom farm three miles south of Littlefield. Included in his plan is a complete terrace system (already installed) designed to conserve valuable rainfall and to minimize water erosion. In addition he has developed a sound conservation cropping system which calls for rotation of clean tilled crops such as cotton with high residue producing crops such as sorghum.

Soil improving crops such as mung beans and winter cover crops of vetch are also included in his plan to build up soil organic matter and provide protection from wind erosion.

All landowners and operators in the Lamb County Soil Conservation District who are interested in obtaining more information concerning the program are urged to contact the local Soil Conservation offices located in the basement of the Court House in Littlefield.

SOIL CONSERVATION OBJECTIVE

The use of each acre of agricultural land within its capabilities and the treatment of each acre of agricultural land in accordance with its needs for protection and improvement.

Open House For Second Medallion Home

Mr. and Mrs. C. P. (Pete) Parish are having open house at their new home here Sunday, September 20 from 2 to 6 p.m. and have invited people of the Earth area to inspect the home during this time.

This showing is a part of Southwestern Public Service Company's Parade of Medallion Homes which is being conducted through the electric light and power company's area this week.

The Parish's are allowing Public Service to show their home, which has been awarded the bronze medallion for excellence of the electrical features such as lighting, wiring and installed appliances.

Appliance distributors in Southwestern Public Service Company's territory, cooperating with the program are offering over one hundred prizes for the twelve Parades of Medallion homes to be held in the area.

General Electric is giving an all-electric kitchen to be completely installed in the home of the winner. Other major prizes donated by distributors include five Hotpoint clothes washers, five Frigidaire electric ranges, five Westinghouse electric clothes dryers, five R-C-A Whirlpool food disposers. One of each of these four major appli-ce prizes will go to winners in the electric company's Plains Division of which Earth is a part. Other towns in this division holding Parades of Medallion Homes are Clovis, Portales, Plainview, Littlefield, Oton, Amherst, Dimmitt and Floydada.

The all-electric kitchen is one of three grand prizes, the other two being that the Southwestern Public Service Company will completely rewire a winner's home with Light for Living, as planned by the winner and one of the company's lighting specialists. The other grand prize is that someone in the area will have their home completely wired for horsepower, the wiring and outlets necessary for complete electric living.

Here in Earth, there will also be an appliance prize for the people registering at the Parish home. This prize will be a Toastmaster Heater, Model 9B1.

The Parade of Medallion Homes here is a part of the National Electric Living Program sponsored nationwide - wide by the electric companies of the country. At the Parade of Homes, visitors will find entry blanks for the Light for Living $100,000 national contest which offers the opportunity to win your

West Texas State Begins 50th Annual Session

CANYON. (Special) — When West Texas College opened the fall semester Monday, it started its 50th annual session, and the Golden Anniversary of the Panhandle's institution of higher learning will be observed throughout the year.

Between 2400 and 2500 students are expected to enroll on the campus here, marking a new high in enrollment. Another 1200 will register for evening classes at the Amarillo Center in Amarillo.

A campus which has been changing continuously for the past ten years, will again show signs of progress, with the opening of a new major addition to the science building, a new fine arts building, housing the speech, music, and art departments, and one of the nation's most modern football stadiums.

Hi - Plains Research Foundation Meeting And Field Day Set

The board of trustees of the High Plains Research Foundation will hold their annual meeting at McGrath's dining room in Plainview at 11 a.m. Thursday, September 24. The dinner meeting will precede the annual field day this afternoon at the research farm at Halfway.

At this meeting, the board of trustees set the research program for the Foundation for 1960 and decide the budget for the 1960 operations. Harold Hinn, chairman of the board of trustees, announced today. This will be the first meeting of the board of the new Foundation since its creation in May, 1959 following the separation from the Texas Research Foundation. Prior to that date, the research station was operated as the High Plains Station of the Texas Research Foundation.

At this meeting the board of directors and executive committee will be selected to serve during 1960. Committees for the various activities of the Foundation will be appointed at this annual meeting. These committees will be composed of members of the board of trustees and additional members outstanding in the various fields of activity in which research is being conducted at the foundation at Halfway.

Home Production May Decline

NAHB Head Says Easier Credit Needed To Meet Nation's Demand for Housing

BY CARL T. MITNICK
President, National Association of Home Builders

(EDITOR'S NOTE: In this special message for National Home Week, Mr. Mitnick points out an important need facing the home building industry, as well as the nation's prospective home owners.)

Strange as it may seem, new home construction is not meeting the bare-bone needs of the nation's expanding population—even though house production broke all records in the first six months of this year.

Private housing starts from July 1 through June totaled 850,000 or a seasonally adjusted annual rate of about 1,360,000. This is the highest production rate for any comparable time in our history.

Yet, in terms of family formation and the enormous growth in population, home building was standing still—if not falling behind. In 1950, we were building new homes at the rate of 111 per 10,000 population. Today's house production is only about 89 units per 10,000 persons.

Industry Has Capacity
The National Association of Home Builders, which has more than 40,000 members in more than 300 local associations throughout the country, is convinced that the industry has the physical capacity as of this moment to increase home production by at least 100,000 units. But if this is to be done, there must be an adequate supply of long-term credit available at reasonable rates.

Yet it appears that just the opposite may be the case. The production volume is in danger of declining sharply due to an increasing tightness in the money markets. Unless this tendency is checked, the decline will hit in full force by next spring.

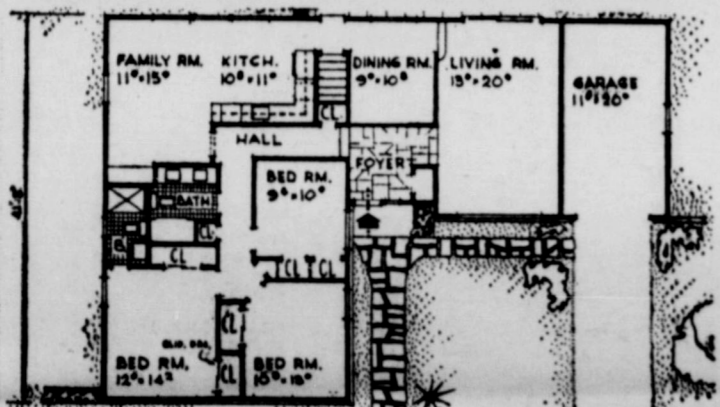

To expose the danger and do what it can to prevent the situation from developing is one of the immediate objectives of the NAHB, whose overall aim is to provide better houses for all Americans who want homes of their own and can afford them.

But our immediate concern is with the volume of home building, which must be increased in proportion to our population rise. As it is, we are doing absolutely nothing to forestall a further deterioration in our existing stock of houses.

Decline Threatened
If this is not done, our housing supply ultimately will confront us with two choices. Either we will suffer an outright decline in our physical standard of living or devote a disproportionate share of our available resources to make up for deficiencies of the past.

But this situation need not confront us if home builders and buyers are assured of an adequate supply of credit at reasonable rates.

New 'Ranch-Colonial' Plan Offers Low-Cost Luxury

A house that has been described as an "ideal design for today's mode of living" is this roomy, attractive ranch-colonial style shown in the drawing and floor plan above.

Designed especially for 1959 National Home Week by architect Herman H. York, of Jamaica, N. Y., the house is ideal because:

1. It is designed to provide the most space possible in a compact floor plan that has good zoning without sacrificing comfort, yet can be built on a small lot.
2. It is engineered to be built of top grade materials that will give years of trouble-free service and contribute to overall beauty, yet are economical to install.
3. The design combines the advantages of a modern ranch-style house with the beauty and desirability of traditional styling.
4. It is essentially a low-cost house, yet has two complete baths, wide entrance foyer, family room, separate dining room, 20-foot living room, and is insulated with enough mineral wool to permit economical installation of an air conditioning system.

Architect York points out that an important key to providing a quality house at the lowest possible cost is in the selection of materials.

The use of stock window units of ponderosa pine, for example, cuts labor costs drastically since these come pre-assembled at the factory, ready to be fitted into the window opening. These double-hung wood windows, as well as the unique stock entranceway of ponderosa pine, also contribute to the Colonial styling.

York also had low labor costs in mind when he specified asphalt shingles for the roof. Although asphalt shingles are used with confidence on homes costing two and three times as much as this model, they are low in applied cost, resulting in a substantial overall savings in labor.

Blueprints and specifications are available from the architect. Write to Herman H. York, 80-04 161st St., Jamaica 32, New York, for Plan No. SR-1.

$350 Investment For Insulation Gives 14% Return

Like to make a blue-chip investment that will bring a cash return of at least 14 per cent year after year?

You can do it if you're building a new home by installing enough insulation to insure savings on heating fuel.

Here's how this can work for you:

Suppose your new home will have about 1,500 square feet of living space, and you decide to save money by skipping or skimping on insulation. If your house is in a central climate zone it will cost you about $30 per month to heat it during the five-month heating season—more in colder areas.

On the other hand, suppose you decide to install thick mineral wool—at least 4 inches in the ceiling and 4 inches in walls. Based on average national prices, it would cost about $350 to do this in your house.

Studies have shown that these thicknesses of mineral wool can cut your fuel bills by 30 to 40 per cent. This would amount to a reduction in your heating costs of between $9 and $12 per month. Using a conservative figure of $10 per month, this adds up to a savings of $50 per year—an annual return on your $350 investment of 14 per cent.

This continues as long as you live in the house, because mineral wool never wears out or needs maintenance. Meanwhile, the original investment stays in the house, increasing its resale value by at least $350.

A bonus is the fact that thick insulation provides more comfort in winter, by helping to keep room temperatures even and stop cold drafts. In summer, it helps keep heat outside.

Owners of existing homes can take advantage of this same sort of investment by having mineral wool blown into walls and ceilings by a professional insulation contractor.

Colonial Style Goes Modern

Modern is traditional in home design today.

Odd statement? Not when you analyze it. Today's preferred style for homes is rapidly becoming almost an exact replica—with some modern innovations—of the traditional, two-story Colonial house grandmother lived in.

How does that make it modern? Because today's average family needs: 1) economy, and 2) more space. That's just what the old-fashioned Colonial-style house offers.

New Jersey home builder Jacob R. V. M. Lefferts sums it up when he points out that many new house buyers today are buying their second home.

"The first buyer is buying housing. The second buyer is buying a home."

The second buyer is wiser, more demanding. He comes supplied with more furniture, more everything. More important, he comes supplied with children, and needs the space a traditional style house offers.

Other home builders agree. Among them are William Levitt, of the famous Levittowns, and Fox and Jacobs, the Southwest's most successful home building team.

Both have switched to traditional styles with some modern innovations, such as family rooms and air conditioning.

In making the transition, both have switched to windows of ponderosa pine and wood panel doors in Colonial styles to give their homes a traditional appearance.

Both of these building firms report that the best sellers among all their models are the houses with the most traditional styling.

PLYWOOD TIP
When you cut plywood, apply a strip of masking tape to the underside of the wood along the line of cut. This prevents splintering and fraying.

Planning to Buy or Build?

Choice of Roof Is Important

Many families who plan to build or buy a home fail to realize the importance of the roof to their comfort and security, as well as to the appearance and life of the house.

If you and your family are preparing to make an investment in a home, here are some questions to ask yourself (and your architect or builder) about the roof:

1. Does it have sufficient pitch to provide extra living space when you need it, or at least to provide space for storage or a future air conditioning system?
2. Is the roofing material a top quality type, such as asphalt shingles, that will insure years of trouble-free protection from all kinds of harsh weather?
3. Does the roof have a rich, textured appearance without harsh, annoying glare?
4. If the house is located in an area that is subject to high winds, does it have the new, specially wind-resistant asphalt shingles—the kind that stay in place during wind storms of even hurricane velocity?
5. Does the roof have a wide overhang to shade windows and side walls from hot summer sun, and to protect windows from rain and dirt?
6. Does it have color, such as one of the many shades of pas-

Roofer applies asphalt ridge shingles on roof of new home to provide maximum protection and good appearance.

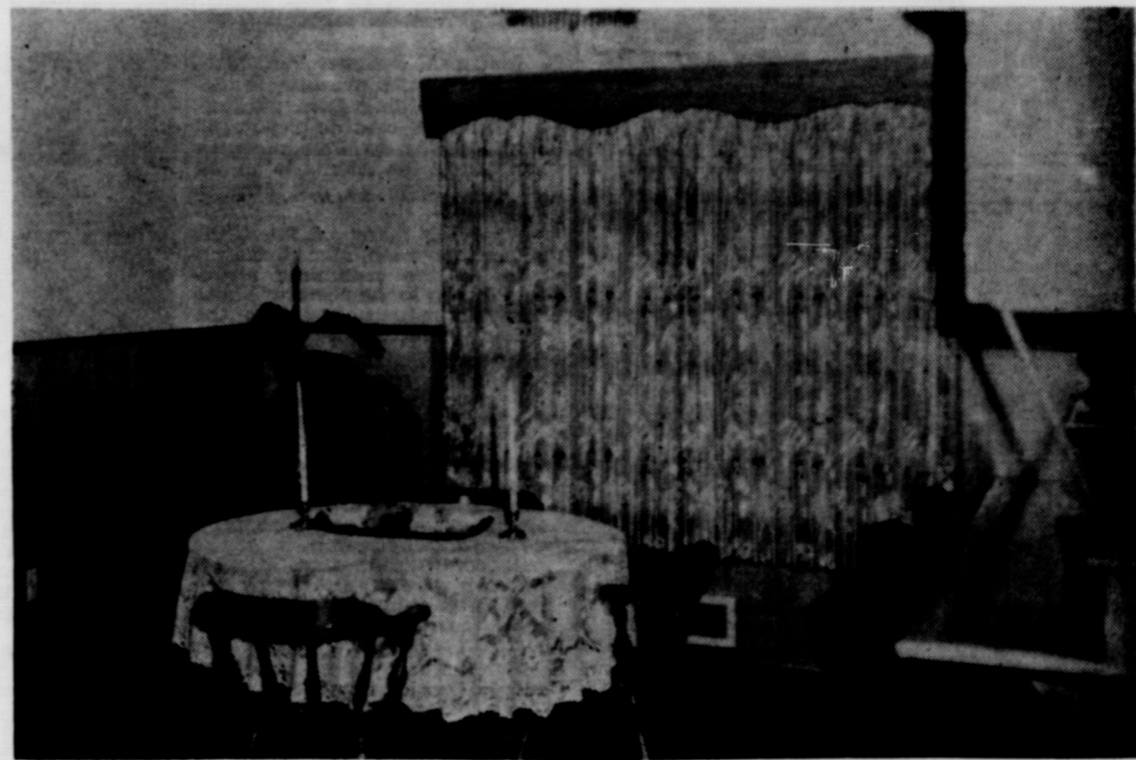

els and deep tones, that adds distinction to the entire house and provides a "key" color for sidewalls, trim, and other exterior features?

7. Was it properly applied? Does the roofing material lie flat and even, without ripples? Are hips, valleys, and ridges properly sealed to keep out moisture? When you ask these questions, keep in mind that the roof takes more punishment from sun, wind, and weather than any other component. It has to be tough to give good protection. It also must look good, since the roof often is the widest visible area on a house.

'N'-body Here But Us Guests'

Old Chicken Coop Converted Into Handsome Guest House

AFTER—Sleek guest house above was decrepit shack, below, prior to remodeling.

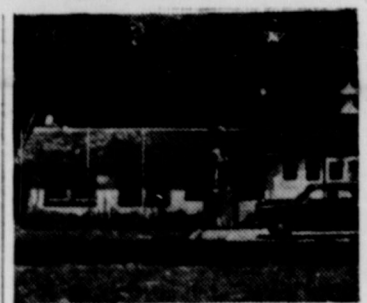

Industrial designer Paul MacAlister, whose prowess in design of anything from parasols to Pullman cars is renowned from Peking to Poughkeepsie, has turned his talents to an old chicken house on his farm in Lake Bluff, Ill.

Applying many of the skills of his profession, MacAlister remodeled the crumbling structure shown in the "before" photo into the modern house in the "after" picture.

Aside from the difference in appearance between the old and the new, the two most important factors in the remodeling are compactness and cost.

Using his experience as a designer of ships and Pullman cars, MacAlister managed to fit an 18 x 15-foot living room, a den-study-bedroom, a large bathroom, dining area, kitchen, two-car garage, and workshop into 1,152 square feet, all the while maintaining a feeling of airiness and space.

Part of this feeling is accomplished with tall, sliding windows of ponderosa pine that provide maximum light and ventilation while permitting the room to "expand" outdoors. There was a cost savings here, too. These windows of ponderosa pine are available in units with frame and sash fitted together at the factory, greatly reducing the cost of installation.

MacAlister's choice of a roofing material also netted a cash savings. He selected asphalt shingles because he knew they could be applied without wasted labor. The result is a roof that will provide years of protection while it contributes a colorful, soft-textured appearance to the exterior.

Since the house was to be used as a guest home for clients, MacAlister wanted it to be comfortable in all seasons. To be sure of this, he insulated completely. Cost was not a problem here, because the designer knew that the thick mineral wool blankets would pay for themselves in fuel savings within a few years.

Care Needed In Choosing New Home

Buying or building a new home can be one of the most exciting and rewarding times a family may ever experience together.

It also can be a top-notch investment. Government figures show that today a house kept in good condition actually increases in value year after year. Here are some "do's" and "don't's" to help house-hunting families in the purchase of a home that will give them years of comfort, pride, and satisfaction:

Do look the house over carefully from roof to foundation and inquire about the quality of building materials. If it has a roof of asphalt shingles, for example, you can be sure it will give good, long-lasting service.

Do be wary of sloppy construction. Chances are you won't be able to see much of the framework, but a careless plastering or masonry job often indicates poor quality of work throughout the house.

Do make sure the house is well insulated. Insufficient insulation or none at all will mean the loss of many heating dollars annually. Thick mineral wool insulation—at least 4 inches thick in the ceiling and 3 inches thick in walls—saves as much as 40 per cent a year in heating costs.

Do look carefully at wiring, plumbing, and heating equipment. These are the vital organs of any home, and a poor or inadequate installation can mean costly repairs, replacements, and additions.

Don't neglect such important features as windows and doors. Not only are these vital to appearance inside and out, but can cause heat loss in winter if they are of poor quality. Quality windows of ponderosa pine add to good appearance and are weatherstripped to keep heat in and dust out. Wood sash and frames also contribute to heat savings because wood is a natural insulator.

Don't forget to investigate taxes. If they seem low, it may be that a future need for schools, sewers, and other improvements may send taxes skyrocketing.

Don't hesitate to look for a lower mortgage rate. Even a cent less interest adds up hundreds of dollars saved over the years before a mortgage is paid off.

"...but I am watching my pie!"

Right At Home —

During Mr. Krushchev's visit to the United States, he will experience many surprises. Not the least of these may be his contemplated visit to TVA.

We have heard about Russia's five - year and ten - year plans for power development and the progress that has been made.

Mr. Krushchev should feel right at home in TVA - land where a government power monopoly has wiped out private power development as completely as a Russian power project.

When he sees other similar government power projects scattered over the U. S., producing over 20 per cent of the nation's electric power, he will realize that advocates of socialism have already made great headway in what he has abused as a capitalist nation. He may feel the day he predicts for our children is nearer than he hoped for.

Government in business is socialism and it is difficult to find the difference between a Russian power project and one of our own federal power projects so far as destruction of rights and liberties is concerned.

Judge And Jury —

The following editorial is reprinted from Editor and Publisher:

"When you argue with a government agency you are up against it. The agency writes the rules, enforces them, acts as judge and jury.

"Take the example of the electric utility companies in the hearing before the Federal Power Commission on their battle to charge certain advertising expenses as a cost of production for purposes of fixing consumer rates.

"An FPC examiner ruled that the only point of controversy is whether the money was spent for advertising for discussion of a 'political question' — the public versus private power debate. The FPC upheld him and has ruled that testimony is not admissible which attempts to prove that the expenditures were 'ordinary, necessary, just and reasonable.'

"The largest single producer of electric power is the government against which these privately - controlled companies must compete. It seems to us that Congress is going to have to declare sooner or later that the electric companies can talk about their competitors in or out of advertising. Congress' failure to do so will imply that criticism of a government agency is against the law."

"Shall The People Govern?" —

The President went to the crux of the labor legislation problem when, in a nationally broadcast speech, he said: "In the basic sense, the issue is this: Shall the people govern?"

The President also said: "It is my earnest hope that Congress will be fully responsible to an overwhelming national demand." If Congress fails in this, it will amount to dereliction of duty of the most dangerous kind.

The President cited specific examples of labor violence, and of the use of "blackmail" picketing designed to force workers who did not want to join a union, to join. Of such practices, he said: "I want that sort of thing stopped. So does America."

Goons and thugs have been used to enforce union demands. Gangsters have slipped into official union positions. Union treasuries have been looted. Free speech and free elections have been denied the rank - and - file. The secondary boycott and blackmail picketing can and often are used to dictate union terms on an "or else" basis.

The President said it all in four words: "Shall the people govern."

Uncle Sam Needs Correct Addresses To Refund Taxes

Believe it or not, the U. S. Internal Revenue Service is looking for 4,000 taxpayers in the Dallas District with some good news for them.

Uncle Sam, in the form of the Dallas District of Internal Revenue Service, has thousands of dollars in the form of refund checks which rightfully belongs to Dallas District taxpayers.

These are checks left over from the recent filing period. The checks, ranging from $1.00 to $4,000.00 have been returned in the mail for lack of proper address.

Ellis Campbell, Jr., Director of the Dallas District, announced the figures today in kicking off "Operation Remail."

He said a group of his employees have been searching telephone directories, contacting employers and attempting through other sources to find the correct addresses of the taxpayers to whom the refunds are due.

Now Director Campbell is asking taxpayers to do themselves and his office a favor. In an appeal to readers of this newspaper, he said:

"If you are entitled to a refund check on the tax return you filed this year and have not received a letter from the Internal Revenue Service advising you that your return is being examined, then write me at 2101 Pacific Avenue, Dallas 1, Texas, or call RI 8-5111, Ext. 2572."

"When writing or calling, a taxpayer should state his or her name and address exactly as it appears on his or her return," Mr. Campbell said.

"Your social security number and the amount of refund also will be helpful," he said. "Of course, don't forget to give us your new address."

Window Planning Important Step For Safe Home

Careful window planning makes a house safer for its occupants, says the Small Homes Council of the University of Illinois in its copyrighted circular, "Hazard Free Houses for All."

Here are some of the Council's suggestions for windows in any home:

1. To avoid collisions with projecting awning and casement windows, planting beds should be put beneath them, never sidewalks.

2. All windows which cannot be reached from the ground or Small, high windows are attractive and practical especially for bedrooms, but one large window, such as this case window style, is needed for emergencies.

porch should be of a type that can be washed from inside.

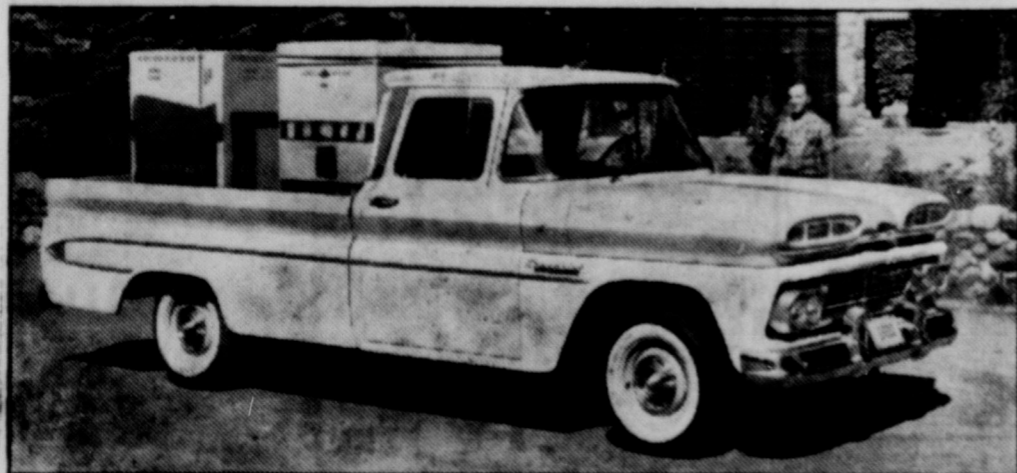

3. All main rooms including basement playrooms, should have a door leading outside, or at least one window no smaller than 24 x 30 inches to permit easy escape in case of fire.

4. Floor to ceiling windows should start 6 to 10 inches from the floor to avoid the hazard of mistaking the window for a door.

5. Minimum sill height for stairway or second floor should be 36 inches. These should be screened securely, but with screens readily removable in case of fire.

Building material dealers carry a wide variety of wood windows in stock that are adaptable to all of these safety recommendations.

Steel bar cushions jar in REDESIGNED '60 CHEVY TRUCKS

A revolutionary new suspension system gives vast improvement in ride, durability, and control to 1960 Chevrolet trucks. Front wheels are independently sprung on frictionless torsion rods. Rear suspensions are new, with coil springs on light-duty models and stronger, softer riding leaf springs on heavier models for improved cushioning of load and driver. New frames reduce height up to seven inches, with some cab floors at step-in level from the ground. Styling is new with rubber-mounted, roomier cabs. Inside steps have been eliminated, providing a full-width floor.

WIND DAMAGES NEW

TYPE INSILAGE

John Gammon cut some insilage for Willie Steinbock Wednesday. The wind Wednesday night blew down the remainder of the crop. It was the new type ensilage beef builder which the experiment station has been experimenting with. Farmers in this area fear it gets too tall and brittle for these parts, as several farmers are having trouble with it falling before maturity.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Max Steinbock and Mr. and Mrs. Ted Treider have returned from a trip to Grand Lake, Colorado.

The T. D. Vaughn family have returned from a short vacation visiting a brother, Charles Vaughn and family of El Paso and a sister and family, Mrs. H. D. Hutchinson and family of Cloud, N. M. They also visited Carlsbad Caverns.

Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Treider are now at home after about ten days in Truth or Consequences, N. M.

While there they took medical treatments and the baths.

Stay Slim with Salads!

By Betty Barclay

STAY slim with salads, if you would model this season's silhouette! This Sunshine Salad features slimming citrus fruit with little strips of avocado added to keep you from wanting to nibble between meals, and its dressing made from an envelope of Good Seasons Salad Dressing Mix is particularly satisfying to the palate.

Sunshine Salad
1 envelope California French salad dressing mix
4 orange sections
4 grapefruit sections
4 slices avocado
3 or 4 leaves romaine
2 strips pimento (optional)

To make the salad dressing, combine salad dressing mix, vinegar, water, and oil as directed on the envelope or crust.

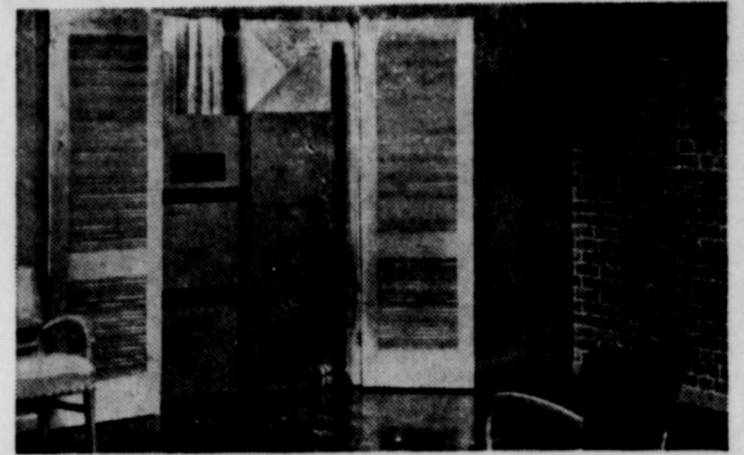

Arrange alternate pieces of orange, grapefruit, and avocado on romaine. Garnish with pimento, if desired. Serve with dressing. Makes 1 serving luncheon or snack salad.

Playroom Problem?

Louver Doors Hide Furnace

Ponderosa pine louver doors keep furnace and air conditioning unit from view in basement playroom, yet permit them to "breathe."

Problem for many a homeowner today:

What do you do with the furnace when you build a playroom in the basement?

Answer: Hide it behind two louver doors installed French-style as shown in the photograph.

Louver doors are ideal when used this way because:

1. The louvers let heat from the furnace into the playroom as well as permit air to reach the heating unit.

2. They open wide for ready access when the furnace needs servicing.

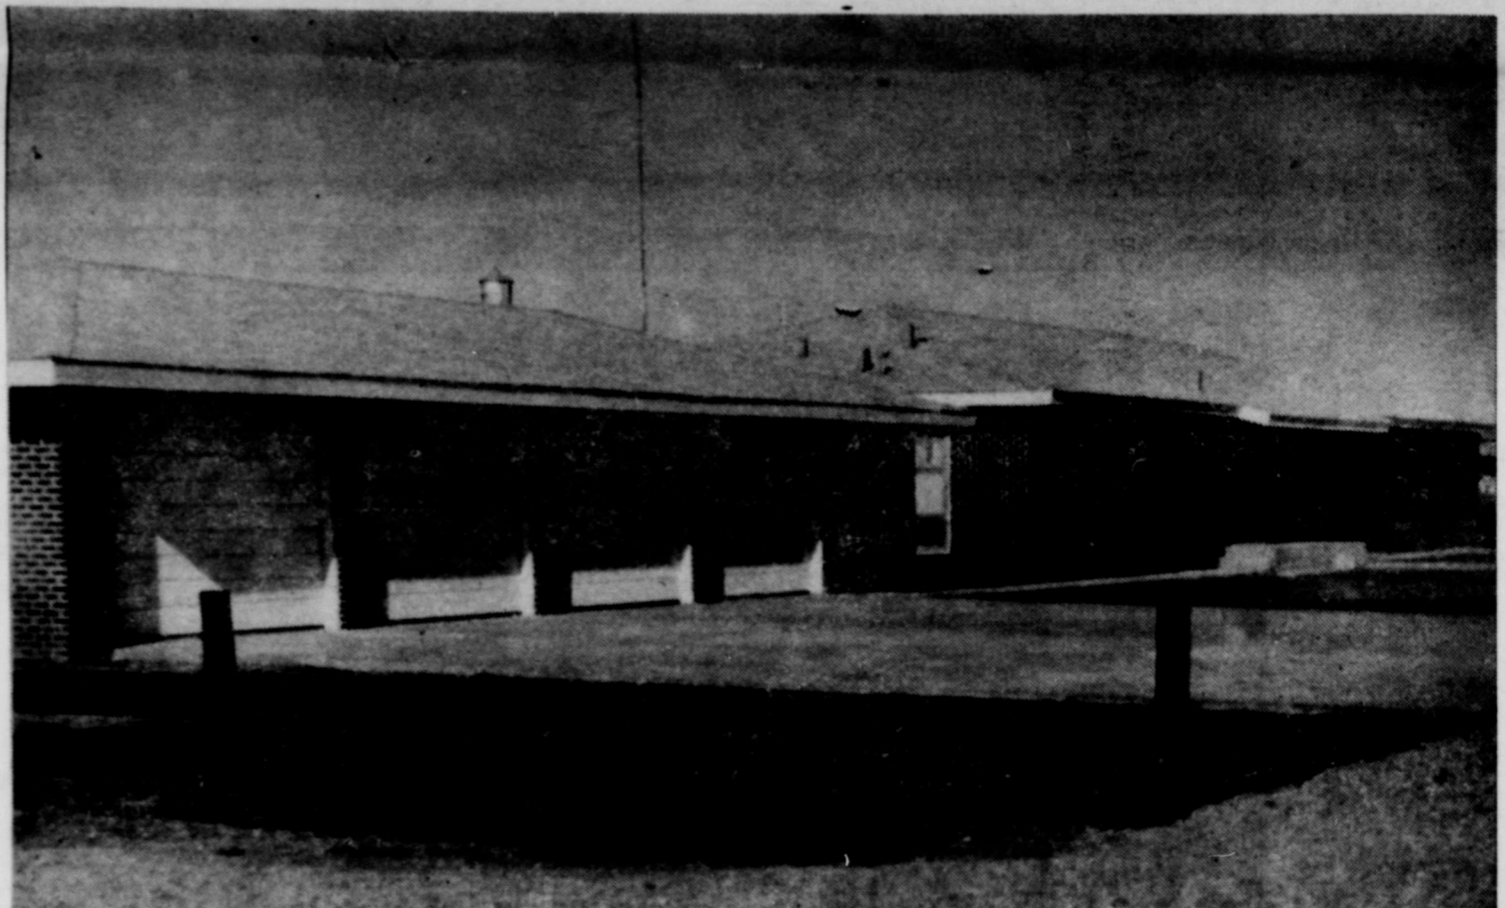

3. Louver doors are acceptable for any decor, from traditional to contemporary.

4. They give the room an interesting background that avoids the dull, empty look of a blank wall.

Louver doors of ponderosa pine are available from building material dealers in sizes and styles for all needs. The clear, smooth wood can be stained or painted with equal ease.
