

"Those Wedding Bells are Breaking up That Old Gang of Mine," remember that sad song? I recall distinctly how the local Teen Tones, of a few years ago, used to sing it... It was especially touching to their audiences, as we I as to the lovely vocalists themselves, because it was about that time that wedding bells and enrollment in various different colleges were breaking up that lovely foursome, who had been long time friends...

Our case is not the same, but it has a similarity... In that the Middleton clan is being broken up... Instead of wedding bells, it's that "out of town job that's breaking up that old clan of ours," (although we know it's for the best, and are indeed proud)... Then within little more than a month we can change the wording slightly to "Graduation has completely broken up that old Middleton Clan of ours..."

But we know it's God's plan for our youngsters to grow up, and be on their own... And with this in mind... We, like many parents across this nation, will find a way to live life with less sunshine in our everyday lives...

It just aint every day that a small town like Earth, Texas can boast of having a real celebrity in their midst. But, from now on we can all throw our shoulders back and boast, (Texas style) about "Mousey" who is currently rising to fame and popularity being publicized all over the nation, and I seriously predict that within the very near future, Mousey will replace dear ole Lassie as the No. 1 dog in movies all over the world.

You see, Mousey came into our lives when he was 8 months old, and then, about as big as a fair sized horse, and came to make his home next door as a playmate for little Tod Herring, who was then about 6 months old. It seems papa, Ted Herring, thinking every boy must have a dog, brought him home to Tod... Of course Tod couldn't see over or around the dog, but he had it made, he could see under the big brute when he came near... In fact he could have walked under him, if Tod had been walking then.

Following the first cold spell, the dog yelped all night and Ted built him a tent, but the dog wouldn't go in it, finally, Ted went out one night to acclimate the horse size dog with his new camping facilities... And after trying to get Mousey to stay in it, both Ted and the dog went to sleep.

Following that the Amarillo paper picked it up from the Earth News, then the Associated Press grabbed it... So far, I've seen clippings from the Tulsa World and from a Los Angeles paper on Ted, Tod, and the dog...

Then recently, I received an urgent call from a free lance writer from Connecticut, to send a picture of the two and all the clippings published in the News-Sun about the two... So, any day now, we're expecting Ted and Mousey to sign their contracts, to perform in Hollywood...

Advice: If you are getting old and want to protect your scalp, THEN STAY AWAY FROM THE INDIANS!

"nosin"

Been halfway expecting to see at least a third of the senior class signed up with contracts and on their way to Hollywood and Stardom, following their outstanding performance in "Wille's Wee-hend."

However, if no one has left as yet, it probably means that all Hollywood talent scouts were out scouting elsewhere Friday night, and failed to see our stellar performance.

Can't imagine too, what has happened to the Pody Welch contract. He just knew, that, following his appearance on TV with that head of sorghum, he'd signed up for life as the No. 1 screen lover... He went so far as to ask Beedie if she thought she could manage their farm while he answered the call of duty for stardom in Hollywood, satisfying the anxious and waiting American public...

I imagine: Any child that knows the actual value of a dollar these days must be mighty discouraged...

Mom, "Queen Of My Heart"

"MOM"

Dear Mom:

Through the long years you have remained the Queen of my heart, perhaps in part, because of your warmth, kindness, and your ability to love, laugh, and discipline simultaneously. This, coupled with your undying courage to serve God, has to me, made you a shining example of Motherhood and has won you the place as Queen of my heart.

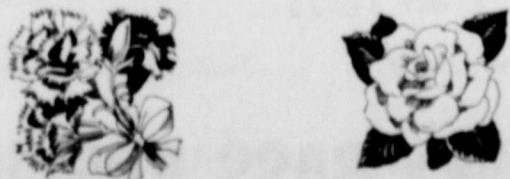

Through the years, I have watched your once golden red hair turn to silver, and I recall your once chipper steps, have hauled considerably as your footing became uncertain. Your blue eyes that once sparkled with anxiety and excitement for each day, now indicate a touch of fatigue. But in looking backward, throughout these many long years from pigstails and snagle tooth days until the present day, there is one thing that never became worn or weakened by the years, on the contrary, with the surmounting hardships of life it seemed to flourish and strengthen. Mom, this I'm speaking of, is your undying faith in God. You have never seemed to have lost sight of God from those early days before my birth, when under an old brush arbor, beside a little country land in Arkansas, when the congregation were singing, "I will Arise And Go To Jesus", you found your way down the dirt aisles and into the arms of Jesus. Since that time you have doubtlessly been one of the most faithful servants of His Kingdom, never veering from the narrow pathway leading to Heaven and to the Mansion, which I'm sure, He is preparing for you, with materials of gold, sent up day by day by your service of love and faithfulness and your constant help to your fellow man.

Mom, there was a time in my life, mostly when I was teen-aged, that I resented having evening devotional. Especially when I had a date and he was expected to kneel along with the family. However, I realized that that I was wrong, and that our courage and love for God was undampened by small protests and resentments. I am truly glad today that you held steadfast and obeyed your Savior's commands.

Mom, losing your mother at the age of six, and having grown up without a mother, have often made me to wonder how you could have known how to be the loving mother you are, but you somehow just knew, perhaps growing up without a mother's love, made a void in your life, that you never allowed us to feel.

So, dear Mom, on this Mother's Day, 1965, may you somehow know, though we your children, are all busy mothers and fathers today, and you are alone at home so to speak, you are never really alone, our thoughts are with you, our love and devotion is ever present, and you will always reign as Queen of our hearts, not only this one day of the year, but for every day of every year, and we will continue to be ever thankful that God gave us you, "Our Mother."

Your daughter,
 Polly

WHAT IS FREEDOM?

There has been a great deal of political talk in the U. S., and around the world about freedom and the dignity of man. The U. S. has contributed billions in foreign aid of one kind or another, ostensibly to help underdeveloped and other nations enjoy the blessings of liberty.

In the face of lip service to freedom here at home and financial help to foreigners to secure and retain it, the U. S. faces an organized political drive to destroy one of its basic freedoms, namely, the right to work without paying a labor organization for the privilege of exercising this most basic right of freemen.

It seems almost unbelievable that such freedom destroying legislation should even be proposed in the U. S., much less be considered by Congress.

Nineteen states have passed right-to-work laws to reserve for a man this basic right under the Taft-Hartley Act. Our Representatives and Senators in Congress, and even the President, are being asked by labor union leaders to repeal Section 14(b) of the Act which sanctions state right-to-work legislation.

It is as unthinkable that a U. S. Congress would seriously consider restricting the states adopting right-to-work laws as it is to think of Congress passing a antiunion laws.

The Virginia right-to-work law states the basic principle involved when it says, "the right of persons to work shall not be denied or abridged on account of membership or non-membership in any labor union or labor organization."

If Congress and the states do not guarantee a man the basic right to work, or to join or not join a union as he sees fit, we had better not talk about freedom in the U. S. A.

What Consumers Want

What consumers want, and what some people in government want to give them, seem to be two vastly different things. Take, for instance, the so-called "truth in packaging" proposal which would give a federal bureaucracy sweeping authority over such matters as the pictures and information on labels and the sizes, shapes and designs of packages. The authoritative Opinion Research Corporation recently conducted a poll to learn what consumers really feel. Its results show that consumers in general are very well pleased with packaged foods and with nonfood grocery products. Specifically, consumer satisfaction with present practices ranged from 74 to 84 percent. No opinion was voiced by 3 to 8 percent. Those calling for changes ranged from 8 to 22 percent, depending on the change desired.

Significantly, most consumers wanting changes felt that manufacturers themselves should effect the improvement. The next largest number voted for public opinion to be about the desired changes. A mere 2 to 5 percent favored government intervention.

This certainly makes several things evident. One is that the great majority of consumers have confidence in the products they buy and the stores they buy them from. Another is that they are convinced of their own competence to pick and choose and to quickly ferret out and boycott any manufacturer or distributor whom they feel is deceiving them. Still another is that the last thing they want is a czar who will tell them what they can and cannot have.

This poll speaks well for the intelligence and independence of the American housewife.

BADLY NEEDED BALANCE

BUSINESS VOICE NEEDED

The outstanding political fact today is that organized labor has developed the most effective political organization in the country and "one-faction" government is a very real threat.

The AFL-CIO can now count as its friends and supporters well over half of the members of the House and Senate and is in a position to dominate the making of the laws and the course of national affairs.

To help restore representative government, American business has created BIPAC—the Business-Industry Political Action Committee—to give the same kind of campaign support to congressional friends of business that COPE, the political arm of the AFL-CIO, gives to labor's friends.

BIPAC is a non-partisan organization of individual citizens devoted to the principles of government embodied in the Constitution, to maintaining fiscal responsibility, and to preserving free enterprise. Its headquarters are in New York.

Businessmen's Political Committees are being established in each state, through which BIPAC will work in cooperation with national, state and local business associations, to support candidates for Congress, regardless of party affiliation. It also will conduct a continuing program of political education to win understanding and support for its principles among the voters.

By organizing the great political potential of the business community, BIPAC can help correct the great imbalance which now exists in Congress and assure the continuation of truly representative government in this country.

Mahon Protests New Proposal in Skip-Row Cotton Program

Representative George Mahon reports that he has protested to the Secretary of Agriculture the proposed change in the skip-row program for cotton. Mahon advised the Secretary that he felt the proposed change would be disastrous to some farmers and hurtful to all. Mahon has asked the Chairman of the House Committee on Agriculture to conduct an open hearing to enable farmers and farm organizations to air their views on the subject of the proposed change.

The Department of Agriculture has proposed a modification of the cotton skip-row program for 1966 which would reduce by 30 percent the advantage which the present program grants to producers who plant two rows of cotton and skip one or who plant two rows of cotton and skip two or

Department Of Agriculture Proposes Change In Skip Row Cotton

The U. S. Department of Agriculture is proposing a change in the rules for measuring cotton when planted in a skip row pattern for compliance with acreage allotments. The change if adopted, would become effective for the 1966 cotton crop.

In skip row plantings, strips of cotton rows are generally alternated with strips of idle land. Under the present rule, all the idle land beyond 1/2 of a normal row is not counted as cotton when computing the acreage. This in effect spreads the allotment over more acreage. Under the change, a part of the idle land will be considered cotton acreage for allotment purposes.

USDA officials say that studies of different skip row planting patterns confirm that the cotton planted on the outside, or next to the idle space produces more than cotton planted in a normal row pattern.

The 1965 cotton allotment is set at 16 million acres which is the minimum acreage permitted by the present law. It is expected that a reduction in planting of approximately one million acres will result from the Domestic Allotment Program for 1965. Despite the reduced acreage, cotton production this year is expected to exceed the domestic use plus exports, and will increase the already sizable carry over for the fourth straight year.

Carryover as of August 1, the beginning of the new cotton marketing year, is expected to total about 13.4 million bales, the largest carryover since the record 14.5 million bales in 1956. USDA officials feel that increased yields due to skip row plantings have contributed substantially to the increase in cotton production. Skip row plantings have increased to the point that about who plant two rows and skip four.

The advantage granted under the present program to those who plant four rows and skip two or who plant four rows and skip four would be reduced by 15 percent.

Mahon has provided details of the USDA proposed change to all ASC office managers in the District and to officials of farm organizations whose addresses are available to him. The Department will give consideration to all protests and recommendations which are submitted prior to May 22, 1965. Mahon urges that farmers and farm organizations make their views known immediately to the Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

2.5 million acres of cotton on 35,000 farms were skip row planted in 1964.

The purpose of the proposed change is not to eliminate skip row planting but to bring skip row acreage for allotment determinations more nearly in line with production increases due to such plantings.

Under the proposed skip row cotton rule, not only the land planted in cotton but also the 32 inches (an additional 12 inches over what is now counted

Pattern	Charged as cotton under present rule (percent of area)	Charged as cotton under proposed rule	Percentage Increase
2 rows cotton 1 row skipped	66 2/3%	86 2/3%	30%
2 rows cotton 2 rows skipped	50%	65%	30%
2 rows cotton 4 rows skipped	33 1/3%	43 1/3%	30%
4 rows cotton 2 rows skipped	66 2/3%	76 2/3%	15%
4 rows cotton 4 rows skipped	50%	57 1/2%	15%

ed) beyond the outside rows next to the idle land would be changed as cotton acreage under the allotment program. The following examples illustrate various skip row patterns, the amount of the planted area counted as cotton under present rules and the amount which would be counted as cotton under the proposed rule. For example purposes, it is assumed that cotton row width is 40 inches. Any changes in row width would mean additional adjustments in acreage.

The following example demonstrates how skip row planting works. A farmer with a 50 acre cotton allotment using the skip row pattern of 2 rows of cotton and two rows skipped. Under the present system, the farmer would be considered to have half (50%) of the total area planted to cotton. This would permit him to utilize 100 acres of land and still be considered as being in compliance with his 50 acre cotton allotment.

Under the proposed new rules, 65 percent of the land would be considered as planted to cotton. Therefore, he would be able to plant no more than 77 acres under the two and two pattern and still be considered as in compliance with his cotton acreage allotment.

The proposed rule appears in the Federal Register of April 22. Growers can submit data, views and recommendations in writing to the Director, Farmer Programs Division, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, Washington, D. C. 20250. To be considered, comments must be post-marked not later than 30 days after the April 22 Federal Register publication date.

One spray of Propazine® 80W herbicide controls most annual broadleaf weeds and grasses in sorghum for the entire season.

This can reduce or even eliminate the need for cultivating because Propazine takes care of problem weeds for you. Propazine is particularly effective on carelessness (pigweed) and annual morning glory.

Sprayed before weeds and sorghum are up and activated by moisture. Propazine gives your crop an entire season without weed competition for moisture and soil nutrients. The result? Higher yields and more profit for you.

"As Seen In Earth"

By: Carolyn Hamilton

A busy time of the year—Graduates, brides, the band to Six Flags, our Top Wolverine, John Patterson, off to the State Competition, FFA boys off to the area Convention in Amarillo; never a dull moment in Earth!

Wasn't the Senior Play hilarious! Everyone seemed to think it was just great!

Wayne Rutherford brought us one of his first roses of summer. What a lovely time of the year. The iris are just beautiful at Beedie Welch's and Sanders' Lumber.

Hats off to our Junior High School Band, in winning a second sweepstakes at the Abernathy Festival Saturday. We're so proud of you.

Seems that local ladies thoroughly enjoyed Springlake Elevator's Ladies Day Friday, an interesting annual event.

It seems refreshing to see local ladies wearing spring pastels again.

This year's annual Band Concert was outstanding!

In each field, farmers may be seen as they are planting cotton and grain. The land seems just waiting... But it looks pretty from the air, and you know, we do have quite a few pilots in the area...

Happy birthdays and happy anniversaries to all who are honored this week. (Forgive me, I lost my list.)

And to all the mothers, young and young at heart, a very happy Mother's Day especially for you!

Sorority Has Salad Supper

Mowing Your Lawn Can Kill You

Last summer an Ohio man was pulling his power mower up the bank of his yard when it struck an object in struck an object in the grass. The blades of his rotary mower threw the object into the back of his knee, severing an artery. His hospital record read, "Dead on Arrival."

"His accident wasn't uncommon," Edward R. Klammer, accident prevention director of the Allstate Insurance Companies, gloomily points out. "Hundreds will be injured, many seriously, this year while trimming the lawn with a power mower. It takes only one brief careless moment."

"Although most power mowers appear harmless and are designed to operate safely, they are dangerous when misused," Klammer reports. A mower can clip most objects that get in its way. It only takes a second for a blade to viciously slash off a toe or finger. If it hits a stone or piece of glass, the object can be hurled with enough force to kill.

The No. 1 danger of a power mower is direct contact with the blade. About one power mower injury in every seven is an amputation. "But while nearly half of all people disabled in power lawn mower accidents were cutting the grass when they were hurt, other injuries occur in lifting a mower, trying to start the motor, removing foreign objects from the blades or taking off the grass catcher." Allstate safety authority says.

With the increasing use of power mowers, it is essential that the public be aware of the dangers involved in their operation. Allstate offers the following tips for power mower users:

1. Always disconnect the sparkplug wire or electrical plug whenever you want to work on the underside of the mower, as well as when you are refueling. If you do not know how to disconnect this wire or electrical plug for safety, ask your dealer to show you.

2. Thoroughly inspect the lawn before beginning to mow and clear it of all sticks, stones, wire and other debris.

3. Never fill the tank indoors or while the engine is hot or still running.

4. Never use a power mower barefoot. Wear heavy shoes while working.

5. Keep children out of the area you are mowing. Never let anyone get in line with the grass discharge side of the mower.

6. Stop the motor whenever you leave the mower. Children are quick to try to operate an unattended mower. Allstate points out. Never give them a chance to get seriously hurt.

7. Learn to disengage the clutch or to stop the motor quickly in case of emergency.

8. Never allow youngsters or inexperienced persons to operate a power mower.

9. Cut grass on hills and banks sideways, not up and down.

10. Stand firmly behind the machine and stay in step with it. Don't run.

11. Do not use an electric power mower when grass is wet or when it is raining. Electric mowers should have the frame grounded through the cord.

12. Have your mower inspected serviced thoroughly by an experienced serviceman at least once a year.

"Remember," cautions Klammer "That one careless moment can kill you."

Trends In Men's Latest Fashions

An important trend in men's fashions this season is the "American" look. This is depicted in rugged fabrics and weaves, in practicality with the durable press feature.

So says Dr. Graham Hard, Texas A&M University Extension clothing specialist.

Colors which are favorites this season range from the sunset tones to earthy hues and even red, white and blue combinations. These are in casual models with a Western influence.

According to the American Institute of Men's and Boy's Wear, browns will be important in accessories for the next few seasons at least. Ranging from deep browns to light tans, from wheats and clays to deep golds, these smart accessory shades are increasing in numbers in ties and shirts.

Also expected to be fashion leaders this season are sports jackets with triple stitching on the collar and lapels, and hopsack slacks, which look equally good.

Texas Station Aids In New Forage Sorghum Development

A new sweet sorghum variety named Rio is making its debut this spring as a potential supplementary crop for southern states.

Fred Miller, research associate in the sorghum section of Texas A&M University's Soil and Crop Sciences Department, says the variety is disease-resistant, highly yielding and is high in sugar content.

Rio was developed by the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Research Service and the Mississippi and Texas Agricultural Experiment Stations.

Miller said seed for growers is available from the Foundation Seed Section, Soil and Crop Sciences Department, Texas Agricultural Station, College Station, Texas.

He said the high sucrose, or sugar, content means that Rio could become a sugar crop in some areas, such as the Rio Grande Valley. The variety also looks good as a high yielding silage crop.

When a man selects a new suit, he should try this test for correct fit: Raise his arms, move the shoulders about or change positions. Even with the jacket buttoned, the garment should show no evidence of tautness. A good general rule in figuring the suit size of a boy is to add two to his age. An average 10 year old, for example, should have a size 12.

A three-button jacket fits best with just the middle button buttoned. On a two-button suit, button the top button if the placement is low, and the bottom button if stance is high.

In caring for clothes, put plenty of newspapers in with any woolen clothes that are being stored for the summer. Moths hate newspaper. Most cleaners offer an inexpensive service on cleaning and storing winter clothing--and this service will save one from worrying about moth damage.

It takes about 15,000 ordinary pins to weigh a pound.

Area Wheat Conditions Given

Dry-land wheat in the Panhandle and South Plains has deteriorated rapidly during the last ten days due to lack of moisture. Rains which have fallen over the north central Texas area have been very beneficial. Irrigation acreage at this time is considered to be very good and average to above-average yields are expected. The following report reflects the latest reports on area conditions received by the Wheat Harvest Control Office of Amarillo:

In the Littlefield and Muleshoe area, irrigated wheat is considered to be about average for this time of year. Most of the dry-land acreage has been plowed under due to continued dry weather. Very little, if any, of the dry-land acreage will be harvested.

In the Hereford, Dimmitt, and Farwell area, irrigated wheat in the area is average for this time of year, with no insect infestation or disease reported. Dry-land wheat is very poor with some acreage already abandoned and plowed under.

At Texas A&M, Rio is being further researched by using it as a male parent on grain sorghum female sterile to produce high yielding forage hybrids with a better sugar content.

"The original polly unsaturated could only have been a dry parrot."

Savings Bond Sales Off To Good Start

Savings Bond sales for the first three months of 1965 in Lamb County totaled $40,105.00. Of this amount, $16,167.00 were purchased during March according to a report released by Mr. C. O. Stone, Chairman of the Lamb County Savings Bonds Committee.

Sales in Texas for the first quarter of 1965 amounted to $39,286,192, which represents 20% of the state goal of $196,191,000.

"I am sure in these anxious times when thousands of our sons and brothers are serving in the far-flung military defenses of our country, every American can do his part. One way all of us can express our patriotism is to invest in Uncle Sam's Savings Bonds. When we buy bonds we are buying shares in democracy and are doing our part to maintain the strength of our Nation economically, militarily, and spiritually." Chairman C. O. Stone stated.

at 2,195 million bushels, the smallest since the 1957-58 season, says John G. McHauey, Extension economist, Texas A&M University. Total disappearance of wheat, food, seed, industrial, feed, and exports, in 1964-65 is estimated at 1,290 million bushels or the same as the 1964 production but 150,000 bushels less than the 1963-64 disappearance. McHauey said this could mean a carryover on June 30, 1965, about equal to the 910 million bushels of a year ago, or it could go as high as 905 million bushels.

In discussing the export picture, McHauey said estimates place the 1964-65 exports at 475 million bushels, a drop of 185 million bushels from 1963-64. Because of the recent dock strike, the economist says there is a possibility that the estimated export total may not be reached. And too, he adds, good crops in many exporting as well as in importing countries sharply restricted U. S. commercial exports from July 1964 to January 1965. Shipments under government financed programs comprised about 82 percent of the total wheat exports during that period, compared with 70 percent for the long time average, he said.

The nation's 1965 winter wheat crop on April 1 was estimated at 1,037 million bushels, one percent more than last year's crop. The estimated yield per seeded acre of 23 bushels compares with 23.7 for last year and a 1959-63 average of 22.8 bushels. Texas production, based on April 1 prospects was estimated at 66.6 million bushels, up 8 percent from last year.

Friena Couple Compliment Track Meet

A letter, received by Supt. Bill Mann, recently from Friena residents who highly commended the Springlake Invitational Track Meet, is as follows:

Dear Sir,

Just a note to say we have been to many track meets this year but the one invitational track meet that Friena participated in at your school was the best, including the Regional.

You have the best order, the best announcing system, and the best presentation of awards of any place. I know this is a lot of work on your part and we want you to know we appreciate your efforts. Your school system is beautiful and you are to be commended in all your activities.

Thank you for letting us be a small part.

Sincerely,
Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Murphree
Rt. 2

When the going gets tough, cotton has a ruggedness no other fiber can match. Cotton work clothes stay right on the job with you all the time. Cotton never becomes slippery, shiny, because it "breathes", absorbs and evaporates moisture. Wash it in the hottest water, cotton comes out truly clean. Dry it any way you please and iron it without worry. Even after repeated launderings cotton bounces back looking fresh and new without dinginess or odor buildup. When you buy work clothes, buy 100% comfort and durability. Insist on 100% cotton.

New Vigor—Yield—Quality

Here's a strain-cross developed especially for areas where a definite storm proof boll is desired. Medium height, erect plants have short branches and great uniformity. Hybrid vigor makes 302 somewhat earlier than standard storm proof varieties. DeKalb tests show substantial increases in lint yield over most popular varieties, under both irrigation and favorable dryland conditions. Be sure to try this fine variety.

4-H CLUB-
The 4-H Club, supervised by County Demonstration Agent, Mrs. Phillips and Assistant County Agent, Mr. McNutt was very interesting and lots of fun. The study for the last meeting was on "Safety in Garden Planting."
The preparation of the soil, temperature of soil, and moisture were discussed and the members were given a chart showing the kind of plants that grow best in this area. Then a number game was played. The members having the numbers called were given packages of garden seed.

SOUTH PLAINS SCOUT CIRCUS
Mrs. Terry helped with the refreshments served the Boy Scouts working so faithfully to get their "Red Man Before Columbus" skit ready. The boys worked faithfully for the past weeks, lashing and doing various Scout knots to get things in order.
The Cub Scouts who were supposed to dance after they had wrapped the seed Indian fashion in small fish and planted them, became so over-whelmed in the great display of grandeur of the show that after their grand entrance, they never came back until our act was over.
We missed them very much but Billy Ray Thomas, Willie Wilborne, and Tim Ray Matthews carried on as best they could with the changed arrangement.

The Circus ticket sale by the three boys netted $14.00. Tim sold five dollars worth of tickets, Willie Wilborne sold $7.50 worth of tickets, and Billy Ray Thomas, $1.50 worth.
We were delayed about five hours but the help with the preparation of the buffaloes and headdress feathers and other costumes was rewarding. Mrs. Ingram donated the material for the Cub Scout flag and made the flag. There was a bit of color blindness by the boys trying to get a blue for the background for the Cub Scout emblem, but this will be corrected by Court of Honor night, May 10th in the Junior High Library. Mrs. McFadden and Estella Thomas also helped. The boys taking part in the Circus were Scouts, Tim R. Matthews, Willie Wilborne, Billy Ray Thomas, Gerald and Willie James, Thomas and Tommy Scott, the Cub

The family Bible Reading Contest for the animals of the New Testament as well as the Old is running high but has not been completed. The families in the contest are, the Washingtons, Smiths, Brittens, and the Spencers. Just any morning now someone will complete the list giving book, chapter, and verse and claim the first prize.
FIELD DAY
Field Day was last Friday, April 30. All grades took part in broad jumping and racing. The boys hurled the shot put. Prizes were given the winners.
BOOK READING
"Bright April" was our last library book to read in our extracurricular literature reading. It is about Brownie Scout activities and is good for reading for all girls up to 10 years old and especially workers with Brownie Scouts.

ELECTRICITY AND HEALTH
Thursday, April 25, Miss Agnes Braly, assisted by Mr. McDonald, of Southwestern Public Service gave demonstrations on over-loading electric sockets, the history of Electric Lighting and the kinds of lights, distance and position of light falling on book or work for eye protection.
Sunday night guests of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Pellham were Mr. and Mrs. Ted Herring and Tod.

Safe Driving Starts At 35 Years That's

Life may begin at 40 but safe driving starts at age 35. That was the conclusion of a survey of the Illinois State License Division which showed that the safest automobile drivers are those between the ages of 35 and 75.
Illinois drivers in the 20-through-24 age bracket had a higher percentage of accidents than any other age group.

Junior High Band Takes Another Sweepstakes

The Junior High School Band, composed of sixth and seventh grade band students, won a second Sweepstakes Saturday when they attended the Music Festival in Abernathy.

Seventh grade: Sharla Haberler, Kirby Kelley, Lauren Earnest, Gloria Stephens, Terry Bridge, Steve Sanderson, Kern Sanderson, Steve Busby, Craig Barton, Mike Gray, Jan Hedges, and Allen McDonald.
Sixth grade: Janice Bridge, John Kelley, Johnny McNamara, Jerry Barden, Caron Koeninger, Jimma Banks, Julie Cleavinger,

100% washable

Only hot water gets clothes truly clean. Cotton likes it hot. That's why 100% cotton comes out of the wash with no dingy buildup, no leftover odors. And laundering is so easy with cotton. You can say goodbye to special instructions and finicky handling. You can dry cotton any way you please. You can iron it without worry, because cotton won't melt, discolor or pull at the seams. It always bounces back bright and fresh. For 100% washability — plus good looks, comfort and easy care — call for 100% cotton every time.

Texans Will Vote On Six Amendments, Possibly More

Texans will go to the polls on November 2 to vote on at least six, and perhaps 18, amendments.

Six proposals for Constitutional amendments already have cleared the Legislature. Ten to 12 others appear to have a good chance of being approved before the end of the session. Senators and representatives introduced 128 proposals for amendments.

Major interest at the Nov. 2 election will be on the proposal to increase to four years the terms of the Governor, Lieutenant Governor and other officials elected statewide.

Voters also will approve or defeat amendments to: Extend the Veterans Land Program;

Let the Legislature set the salaries of the Lieutenant Governor and Speaker of the House (at whatever level the Legislature chooses) and raise its own per diem expense allowance from $12 a day for 120 days to $20 a day for 140 days;

Allow the state to issue bonds for loans to college students; Exempt Hermann Hospital in Houston from payment of advalorem taxes; Permit the teacher retirement system to invest its money in corporation stocks, as well as in bonds.

A seventh Constitutional amendment to go to the voters is a housekeeping item to clear up uncertainty about when members of the House of Representatives take office. If approved, Legislators will take office on the date the Legislature convenes. This amendment proposal, however, will be on the regular general election ballot in November, 1966.

EVERY DAY

No other fiber fills so many needs of so many people. From the time you dry your face in the morning with a cotton towel until you crawl between fresh cotton sheets at night, you use cotton practically everywhere you go and in everything you do. You rise to put on cotton clothes, tie the cotton laces in shoes lined and stitched with cotton, and eat breakfast from a cotton covered table. As you go about your daily work, cotton is with you at every turn. From where you're sitting now, you can reach out and touch cotton.

Teach Clothes Care At Early Age

A child is never too young to learn habits of good grooming and good clothes care. Parents have a responsibility, however, to teach and provide physical conditions that make good clothes care easy for children.

So says Dr. Graham Hard, Texas A&M University Extension Service clothing specialist.

A child can be frustrated because the hooks or rods in his clothes closet are too high for him. If he cannot reach the hook or hanger to hang up his clothes, he may soon become discouraged, Dr. Hard says. "Select properly sized hangers for your child's clothes. Stores offer colorfully designed hangers for children," the specialist adds.

Teach your child how to put his garments on the bed, insert the hanger into the sleeve, button or zip the garment closed and then hang it in its proper place in the clothes closet. This takes a little time—but parents will be happier and so will the child.

Children can't learn proper clothes care if adults do not provide them with the proper hangers and teach them that hangers enable their garments to hang free and retain their shape, the specialist says.

Donald Payne Wanted By F. B. I.

Donald Leroy Payne was added to the FBI's list of "Ten Most Wanted Fugitives" in October, 1960, at which time feature stories concerning him and the crime for which sought were published by news media throughout the country. Intensive investigation by the FBI since that time has proven unsuccessful in locating Payne and it is felt our investigation could be materially assisted through additional news media publicity at this time. For this reason, your cooperation is being solicited to again cause a feature story to be published by your paper on him. Payne is a highly dangerous convicted rapist who is charged with a vicious sex attack upon a Houston, Texas, girl in July, 1959. He is being sought for Unlawful flight to avoid prosecution for the crime of rape. Payne allegedly raped an 18 year old Houston, Texas, professional dancer on July 10, 1959 after gaining entrance to her residence on the pretext of offering her a dancing job. He reportedly threatened to strangle her if she resisted or cried for help. He has also been identified as the perpetrator of a vicious sex attack on a 12 year old Houston boy on July 5, 1959.

Payne has a long, foul history of violent criminal sex attacks and parole violations. He has been described as a dangerous man who "would not hesitate to kill."

Payne, a white American, was born at Haskell, Oklahoma, on July 19, 1918. He is 5'10" tall, weighs approximately 140 pounds, has a slender build, ruddy complexion and brown, receding hair. He has worked as a newspaper solicitor, fry cook, farm hand, laundry worker, machinist, salesman and tailor. He is identifiable by a large scar on his right index finger. He also has a hernia scar, a birthmark on his right elbow, a scar on his forehead and a tattoo of two hearts, a wreath and the word "Christine" on his right forearm. He should be considered armed and dangerous.

Payne has been known to use the following aliases in the past: R. E. Feilding, Roger Feilding, Bill Johnson, William Donald Johnson, Don Leroy Payne, William Charles Scott, Don Thompson, Don Whitney, Don Wynn. Payne may be accompanied by Rave Etna Burningham, also known as Hazel Barclay, a white female, age 27, 5'8", 130-150 pounds, blond or brown hair, blue eyes and may be wearing glasses. Payne and Burningham may be accompanied by their five year old son.
