

Nosin...

With Polly

Didn't take much eye strain this week to sight right off the old familiar budget strain in the form of higher taxes...

All I can say is, I wish we local folks could discover the secret of how to CUT TAXES while spending increasing amounts... you know, the same way a certain fellow in Washington planned to do it... If we could only get the hang of it, it would certainly be pleasing to yours truly as it would save me money that I don't have in the first place... and if I kept on saving money that I don't have, in the first place, over a lengthy period of time... the bank could curtail that extra activity involved in writing "INSE" on so many of yours truly's checks...

Sure hope the bank learns that whole new concept in math, so they'll understand thoroughly the least amount of money area folks deposit, the more money they'll have in the bank, or something like that... Oh, well... who knows, everything else has changed... maybe it works now...

NOSIN

Looks like we Americans are flat looking to the future by getting everything in readiness to send men to the moon... maybe it won't be too long until living in EARTH (Earth, Texas, that is) won't be so unique...

That would be just my luck... I'm so unlucky that if I were invited to a left-handed banquet, if nothing else, I'd fall off my chair and end up where I couldn't wiggle a left-handed finger, and be faced with utter starvation... just a for instance... I moved to Texas some years back, to the biggest state in the nation... then, wouldn't you know it, we took in Alaska, and WHAMMO that did away with that... Then secondly, I've always enjoyed so much saying "I live in Earth" when asked where in Texas I lived... and WATCH that surprised look, creep over followed most often by some cute remarks about "Oh, I figured you to be a Martian..."

Now that it looks as if the moon surface will probably be inhabited one of these future days, the familiar chant will probably be, "Oh, I live on the moon." Then, where will we Texans be???? Not the biggest, not the highest up, or even the most unique... What do you think the future holds for we Texans... we surely can't fib any bigger than we have in the past... what next?

NOSIN

Heard this one recently, thought I'd pass it on to you...

THE JUNGLE OLYMPICS had come to a close and a cheetah moped on the sidelines, despondent because he had failed to win a single event.

"I just can't understand," he sighed, "I thought I could at least win the 100-yard dash against the elephant."

"But I guess that's the way it goes," he philosophized, "a cheetah never wins!"

NOSIN

A parting thought... Man has learned to control almost everything, but his own children and the weeds in his lawn...

O. D.'s Pump And Machine Installs New Pump

O. D.'s Pump and Machine Shop recently installed an all new irrigation well pump for this area, on the Ellis Wagner farm northeast of Dimmitt.

The U. S. 40 horsepower Franklin motor pump was installed on a 60 acre plot, to be used for irrigation purposes only, is powered by Southwestern Public Service Co. on 440 volts.

The pump was installed in a 350 foot deep, six inch well and will pump 600 gallons of water per minute, at a cost of 46¢ per hour.

The pump is installed in the bottom of the well and costs less to operate due to the fact there is no tube, shaft or bearing to wear, no oil changes or gearhead repair. There are several of this type well in the area, but it is believed that this is the first pump this large to be installed in the area.

The WACS and Wolverine Booster Clubs held a joint meeting Monday night in the school cafeteria, with the football boys as guests.

Several parents and football boys attended and enjoyed delicious homemade ice cream and cake.

L.B. Bowden delivered Sunnyside's first bale of cotton to Morrison Gin Co. in Sunnyside around noon, Tuesday.

The bale weighed 500 pounds and produced 1000 pounds of seed from the 2000 pound bale, before it was ginned.

Bowden planted the Rilecot 90 seed on April 19, irrigated it once and the bale was gathered from a 2 acre plot.

The Sunnyside farmer was paid a premium price of 50¢ per pound for the bale and had his ginning done free.

This is the first time since Bowden has farmed that he delivered the first bale. Tex Couard brought in last year's first bale to Morrison Gin in Sunnyside. He brought in the bale on September 7 and planted Rilecot 90 seed.

YOUNG AND OLD ALIKE turned out Friday for the Big Field Day demonstration to see what Brown-White Equipment Co. had to brag about in their new powerful IHC tractors. Pictured trying out the International Cub Cadet is Master Gary Sawyer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Sawyer of Earth.

FARMING IS FUN... If those adult size tractors are half as great as this International Cub Cadet, no wonder folks love farming, it's so much fun, according to Dickie, young son of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Brown, even a Cadillac couldn't possibly be greater...

Wolverines 48 Lions 6

By Eldon Trotter

Friday night, when the local team met New Deal the Wolverines bounded back and was quite the reverse to the Friday night before, for this time, they seemed to do everything perfectly. To pick out individual stars of the game was a hard job. It was truly a team effort all the way and it was the sort of game everyone enjoyed watching.

Springlake really had the New Deal squad outmanned for there was not a senior on their team. New Deal is a young squad and played the game with 2 juniors, 12 sophomores and 14 freshmen. In a couple of years, Coach Bobby Willis should have a good experienced club. But, Friday night, it was Springlake all the way, and it got the Wolverines back on the winning trail after a disastrous 48-0 defeat handed them by Olton. Springlake's one-two punch by Jerry Don Sanders and Jerry Been accounted for 34 of the points against New Deal.

Jerry Don Sanders started things off with a 7 yard run around left end in the first period, to get Springlake rolling. Jerry Been kicked the extra point. Late in the first quarter, Jerry been carried the ball over from the five yard line, and Jerry booted the extra point that put the Wolverines 14-0 at the end of the first period.

In the second quarter, Thomas Gregory broke loose up the middle for 65 yards, Been added the extra point. New Deal's Randy Peebles countered on a 77 yard pass and run play, from Jerry Brown for the only tally of the night for the Lions. The kick was blocked on the try for extra point.

On the kickoff to Springlake Jerry Been took the ball on the 10 yard line, and went to the side line and having trouble finding running room, reversed the field and picked up several blockers that enabled him to turn on the steam, and go all the way for a 90 yard touchdown run. Jerry, the way you ran that ball, I'll bet you think that was the longest field, in football goday! The try for extra point failed, and the Wolverines had a 27-6 half-time lead.

The third quarter found Floyd Bennett going 10 yards for a TD, and Been converting the extra point. Sanders broke loose for a 48 yard quarterback sneak play midway in the third quarter, and also kicked the extra point.

In the fourth quarter with all reserves playing, the big line man, Mitchell, tried his hand at carrying the ball, and did a bang-up job hammering away at the middle of the line and finally scoring from the four yard line. Been kicked the extra point that wound up the scoring spree.

Springlake racked up 390 yards rushing and 49 yards passing, while holding New Deal to 91 yards rushing and 85 yards passing.

Friday night the Wolverines will take on a strong team from Idalou, who has a four game winning streak going for them this season. The Idalou Wildcats got a scare from the Tahoka Bulldogs Friday night in Idalou, 13-6. Idalou has a strong, experienced team, and should really give the Wolverines a run for their money at Wolverine Stadium Friday night. So, if you fans really want to see a good hard fought game, don't miss this one for it really looks like it will be the game of the year.

The Play that broke Jerry Don Sanders loose for a touchdown... Jerry Don kept the ball on a quarterback sneak around left end, and the effort netted him 47 yards and a touchdown for Springlake... John Patterson No. 50, and Thomas Gregory, No. 10, made the key blocks that set Jerry free for the touchdown run.

Early Stalk Destruction Key To Pink Bollworm Control

There has been an increase in the number of pink bollworms in certain areas of Texas during the past three seasons according to John G. Thomas and Weldon H. Newton, entomologists with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Early stalk destruction and farm cleanup can help control the pests, and this year's early harvest has given producers a head start with these operations.

In addition to reducing pink bollworm populations, stalk destruction and farm cleanup destroy the food supplies of boll weevil, thus reducing the number of weevils that survive the winter, according to the entomologists. In the areas of the state where stalk destruction is recommended, it is one of the most economical and effective methods of controlling the pink bollworm and the boll weevil, they say.

The use of stalk shredders is recommended for the job of stalk destruction because these machines kill many of the pink bollworms left in the field after harvest. Studies show that the rotary-type shredders kill about 60 to 80 percent of the pink bollworm larvae, and the flail-type kill more than 90 percent of them, according to Thomas and Newton. It is advisable to plow under the residue to a depth of six inches within five days after shredding.

Stalk shredding is not recommended in all areas of the state. In Northwest Texas, stalks should be left standing in the field so that low temperatures will kill the bollworms in exposed bolls. In the Trans-Pecos area stalks should be shredded but left on the surface where they will be exposed to the weather, according to the entomologists.

For additional information on pink bollworm control, write the Agricultural Information Office or ask the local county agent for I-219 and MP-444.

Cotton Trailers Important Part Of Harvesting Equipment

Cotton trailers, designed for the job to be done and kept in good condition, can cut harvesting costs and thus increase the per bale income for the cotton producer, points out B.G. Reeves, extension cotton mechanization and ginning specialist.

He offers the following suggestions as a guide for readying trailers. Those used with spindle pickers should be large enough to hold at least three bales. Therefore, the dimensions of the box should allow for a minimum of 750 cubic feet. In some instances, he adds, a five-bale trailer may work better if adaptable to field and road and gin yard conditions. The height of the box should be right for the dumping height of the picker basket.

Stripper trailers, Reeves says should be large enough to hold a minimum of two bales. Approximately 450 cubic feet of trailer space is required for the proper handling of a bale of stripper harvested cotton he adds.

There should be no loose nails, scrap metal, rocks or stumps in the trailer for such materials may be picked up by the gin suction. Trailer sides should be mesh wire, or slatted or perforated and the front end should be of solid material to prevent contamination of the load by road oil and tar.

Reeves says to keep the cotton loose and dry while it is on the trailer. This will make for a better ginning job and generally results in a better grade.

He advises that trailers sufficient to handle at least one day's harvesting be available, and adds that more may be desirable depending upon local harvesting and ginning conditions.

Finally, he emphasizes the need for equipping trailers with reflectors and a taillight for insuring safe operation after dark on public roads.

Denny Parish was in Oltur Saturday afternoon on business and visited briefly with Ronnie Williamson.

Mr. and Mrs. V.L. Roberson, Holdenville, Oklahoma arrived Monday to visit Mr. and Mrs. Glen McCleskey.

Soil Testing Labs Report No Activity

The three soil testing laboratories operated by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service at College Station, Seymour and Lubbock tested 1,997 soil samples during July and August.

The Service reported that the number was about normal for this season, but noted a sharp increase for August. This increase was attributed to the preparation of farmers for small grain planting and the fertilization of winter pastures. The four top counties in numbers of samples submitted for testing were Baylor with 354; Travis, 233; Throckmorton, 80; and Harris with 79. Six other counties submitted 50 or more samples and in order of numbers were Montgomery, Washington, Archer, Kaufman, Milam, and Young. In addition, 9 samples were received from New Mexico, 8 from Oklahoma and 6 from Nevada.

A new service, water testing by the laboratory at Texas A&M University, has been offered since September 1, 1962. A total of 471 water samples were analyzed by the lab during the 12 month period ending August 31. Water analysis at the lab is made only on water used for plant growth or livestock consumption. Water to be analyzed for human consumption should be submitted to the Public Health Service in Austin, the lab technicians pointed out.

In connection with the submitting of water samples, the technicians said that samples should be sent to the lab in plastic containers. The containers should be rinsed with the water to be analyzed at least three times before being filled to prevent contamination. The samples should be well packaged for mailing. Several samples have been broken in transit during the past year because of careless packing. The counties submitting the most water samples were Tom Green, Childress, Fisher, Nueces, Kent, Frio and Scurry. In addition to the samples analyzed for Texas, 15 samples were received from California.

Who Will Recive The Two Hoblitzelle Awards In Texas?

A pair of fortunate, hard-working Texas farmers or ranchers engaged in unselfish tasks will find themselves next spring amid some unexpected glory reaping a bountiful harvest of green.

The two will receive the 1964 Hoblitzelle Awards for the Advancement of Texas Rural Life - honors that will be conferred upon them during Texas Research Foundation's Awards dinner at Reuner on Wednesday May 20.

"Search for the two men is underway through a team of statewide committees," Dr. C. L. Lundell, director of the Foundation, said this week. "One recipient will be a junior farmer or a rancher who is 35 years of age or younger. The other will be a senior who has passed his thirty-sixth birthday."

Next May each will be presented an award of $5,000 in cash, a gold medal and a scroll in recognition of his outstanding contribution to the improvement of rural life. The four year period of service covered by the awards is from July 1, 1959 through July 1, 1963. Eligibility for nomination for the 1964 Hoblitzelle Awards is open to any farmer or ranchman Dr. Lundell continued. Any organization, business, institution or person may make nominations to the proper committee. The actual plan of land improvement used by a candidate on his own land will receive prime consideration, the Director added.

The 1964 awards change a precedent set several years ago when the rural life awards were presented only every two years; Dr. Lundell said. "Keen statewide interest in the 1963 awards prompted the decision to make them again in 1964". There are five state regional committees—one in each of the five areas of the State Association of Soil Conservation Districts. Nominations may be made to any member of the regional committee in the

CBS Program "Petticoat Junction" Stars Rufe Davis

Rufe Davis, movie star comedian, television and radio entertainer who has been in the entertainment field since 1929 visited in the home of his sister, Mr. and Mrs. L. Z. Anglin, last week.

Davis recently completed a series of television programs "Petticoat Junction" that will appear on Channel 13, Tuesday nights at 8 o'clock for 13 consecutive weeks.

He portrays the character of Floyd Smoot, the train fireman-conductor. One of the first sounds he learned to mimic was that of a locomotive whistle.

Rubberfaced Davis became an entertainer by doing what comes naturally--singing funny songs and imitating the barnyard noises he grew up with as a Greer County farm boy.

He was born Rufus E. Davis at Vinson, Oklahoma on December 1, 1908. He was reared in Mangum, where he planned to remain a farmer with his father until his senior year in high school, when he won an amateur contest with his barnyard mimicry.

The $5 prize he won in a Mangum contest launched Davis on a show business career as a singing comic with bands and small stock companies, barnstorming up and down the Oklahoma dust bowl and touring whistle stops throughout the Southwest.

In Springfield, Missouri, Davis was discovered by Cicero Weaver, who signed him for the "Weaver Brothers and Elvira" big-time hillbilly act, which toured the country playing all the major vaudeville houses including New York's Palace Theatre.

He then became a member of the RadioRubes, another top vaudeville act, and later and later joined the Xavier Cugat Show at the Waldorf-Astoria's Starlight Roof. He has since appeared in most of the nation's leading hotel cabarets.

In motion pictures, Davis appeared in Bob Hope's first important film, "The Big Broadcast". Other film credits include appearances in "Doctor Rhythm" with Bing Crosby, "Cocoanut Grove" with Fred MacMurray, "This Way, Please" with Betty Grable and 12 shows in the Three Mesquiteers western series. He was Gene Autry's comedy foil in "The Strawberry Roan".

Davis joined Autry's Melody Ranch road show in 1950 and toured the United States and Canada. Later he circled the world twice as featured star of a USO camp show unit.

His major television appearances include guest roles on such programs as "The Danny Thomas Show" and the "Show of Shows" with Sid Caesar and Imogene Coca.

In recent years, he has spent eight months of the year touring night clubs, county and state fairs and conventions.

Davis plays the guitar and sings ballads and folk songs, but his stock in trade is his comic talent, combed patter, with an uncanny ability to reproduce almost any sound from an egg-laying hen to a freeway traffic jam, while he twists his moonshaped mobile face into incredibly funny expressions.

He makes his home now in Santa Monica, California, where he spends his leisure hours tracking down unusual sounds to add to his mimicry repertoire.

Davis stated to a news reporter that if you like the TV program, "Petticoat Junction" to write to the Columbia Broadcastint System and tell them so.

Mrs. Alice Martin was a Sunday dinner guest of the R. S. Coles.

James Glasscock, Melrose, New Mexico, visited several days last week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Glasscock and other relatives.

Jean Sawyer and Janette Ray students at West Texas in Canyon were home over the week end.

Mrs. Henry Randolph, Pat and Janie were in Plainview, Friday.

German Grain Industry Leaders Visit In Texas This Week

Six grain industry leaders from Germany visited the Texas and New Mexico grain sorghum production, marketing and utilization facilities September 29th through October 3rd.

The Grain Sorghum Producers Association invited them to the area because the use of grain sorghum in Germany is increasing and most grain people there have never seen its production or harvesting. Area grain sorghum sales leaped from 729,000 bushels in 1961 to 549,000 bushels this past year. Most of the grain sorghum is used in poultry and swine feeding in Germany.

Bill Nelson, Executive Vice President of Grain Sorghum Producers Association, said that after the group was briefed on the grain sorghum situation and given technical material as to its value and use at the organization's headquarters office in Amarillo on Monday they embarked on a tour of grain industry facilities throughout the Panhandle which included visits to the Amarillo Auction Company, a luncheon hosted by the Amarillo Grain Exchange Directors and terminal grain storage handling facilities and laboratories.

On Tuesday the group directed by R. G. Feeler, Grain Sorghum Producers Association Director of Hereford, visited cattle and swine feed lots, rural banking facilities and country elevators in a wide range of locations in Farmer and Deaf Smith Counties.

On Wednesday they had breakfast with the Directors of the New Mexico Grain Sorghum Producers Association at Clovis and afterwards visited a meat packing plant and grain sorghum milling and processing facilities in the Clovis area.

Wednesday afternoon and evening the foreign buyers were guests of B. R. Evans of Tulsa, a Director of the U. S. Feed Grain Council--co-sponsors of the group with Grain Sorghum Producers Association.

Nelson said that it is believed that the wide range of production, marketing and handling facilities visited and grain trade individuals conferred with will afford an opportunity to discuss and perhaps alleviate many problems which might have hampered expanded sorghum markets in Germany in the past and lay the ground work for future expanded use.

Members of the visiting group are: Dr. Egon Scholte, the Director for West Germany of the joint U. S. Feed Grain Council Grain Sorghum Producers Assn., Dr. Wilhelm Hammer, a member of the Administrative board of the Import and Storage Agency for grain and feed stuffs and a member of the Executive Committee of the European Common Market on grain and feed trade, Mr. Hans Burmester, who is Director of the Grain Trade Association of Germany located in Hamburg, Dr. Wolkward Koch, a member of the German Agricultural Association and editor of the Feed Magazine Kraftfutter, Mr. Heinz-Peter Franke, a partner with his father in the grain, oilcake and legume import firm of Messrs. Otto F. K. Franke, and Mr. Sophus Kruse, a member of the Messrs. P. Kruse who import feed grains and oilcakes.

The Mitchells carried the mattress out of the house where it burned.

Fresh whole milk contains about as much protein as it does butterfat.

STARS OF THE WEEK

BACKFIELD

The Back of the Week honors go to Jerry Don Sanders, the sophomore quarterback who really had a night for himself, against New Deal... Jerry Don scored two touchdowns on runs of 17 yards, and 47 yards. Jerry kicked one extra point and did a good job of kickoff to New Deal. Jerry has been playing at halfback, but when Jerry Been hurt his hand Jerry Don changed positions with Been, and has turned in a good job. Between the two boys, they accounted for 24 of the points in the victory.. Friday night, against New Deal..

LINEMAN

This week the honor goes to "Mr. Where Do You Want Me To Play Tonight, Coach" Richard Mitchell. Richard played full-back last year, but this year was moved up on the line due to the fact that Springlake has a big reserve of backs and Richards big 180 pound frame makes him ideal for a lineman. In the 4th quarter against New Deal, Richard wanted to see if he could still carry the ball, and Coach Mahan gave him the chance & Mitch came through beautifully. Richard pounded the center.. for several plays, and one gallop was for 40 yards., and finally scored the final touchdown on a 4 yard plunge through center. Nice Going, Mitch....

SUBMERSIBLE PUMPS

Left to right are Eulis Waggoner of Dimmitt and O.D. Scheller, owner and operator of O.D.'s Pump and Machine Shop of Earth. The water is 350 feet down and being pumped up by this 40 horse power motor.

Since the U.S. Submersible Pump operates entirely in the well, it has many advantages over the standard shaft-type deepwell turbine pump. The submersible pump can be lowered to any depth desired where it will furnish years of efficient, automatic, trouble-free service without adjustment during or after installation. Because there is no power-drive shaft, no shaft alignment is required nor are costly replacements of bearings and shaft ever necessary. Submersible pumps are especially adaptable to crooked wells and to situations where surface space is too limited to permit building a pump house. Being in the well U.S. Submersible Pumps are unaffected by floods or atmospheric conditions; positively cannot contaminate water and are safe from vandalism.

This submersible pump is being installed by Francis Kelley, left, and Walton Scheller, right. This three stage pump will pump 600 gallons of water per minute from a depth of 350 feet.

NEW PLUS-FEATURES are now available!

- ★ Vitriolglass, porcelain-lined water passages to resist corrosion and sand damage
- ★ Long bronze bearings on each side of each impeller
- ★ Extra-heavy, all stainless steel shaft to prevent vibration and give long life
- ★ High operating efficiency to keep power costs at a minimum
- ★ Hand-finished bronze impellers; balanced for smooth operation
- ★ Heavy cast iron bowls; performance-proved for years on shaft-type pumps

Hints Offered On Cotton Gin Fire Prevention By Specialists

Careful planning and preparation now can reduce losses from gin fires this fall, believes B. G. Reeves, extension cotton mechanization and ginning specialist.

Reeves offers the following suggestions for reducing losses from gin fires. Keep fire extinguishers available in all parts of the gin house. And, he points out, be sure they are ready for use—properly filled and tagged with a dated retill card.

At least three covered barrels should be placed in the gin house and kept filled with water. They should be placed in strategic points in the gin along with several buckets. The buckets should be labeled for fire use only so they will be available in case they are needed.

He suggests checking to see that water lines are large enough to furnish adequate pressure. A two inch line with two inch riser is preferable. A half or three-quarter inch line is of little help against a hot cotton fire, he adds.

Sufficient hose, preferably one and a half inches in size, to reach any part of any building on the gin lot plus an extra 25 feet should be available.

The hose should be hung on racks and used only for fire purposes.

Gin owners and managers should find it very profitable to train their gin crews in fire fighting methods and familiarize them with the equipment available for fire fighting. A properly equipped and trained gin crew can play a major role, not only in holding gin fire losses to a minimum, but their alertness can also prevent fires.

Each piece of gin machinery should be checked before the rush season hits to make sure it is properly grounded as a prevention measure. Good housekeeping in and around the gin during the season can also be a big help in fire prevention the specialist concludes.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Barton, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. McCool and Mrs. H. S. Hickman returned Thursday from a week's vacation in Pierre, South Dakota where they visited a cousin, Mr. Norris Endsley.
