

Legal Beer To Flow Here After Midnight

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS: The National

Whirligig

Written by a group of the best informed newspapermen of Washington and New York. Opinions expressed are those of the writers and should not be interpreted as reflecting the editorial policy of this newspaper.

WASHINGTON By George Durno

Moley-Astor
How much is a name known to millions of readers worth to a man who wants to borrow it for his own purposes? Apparently $30 in good merchandise.

When Vincent Astor decided to tie up his yacht and try a hand at publishing a weekly magazine of political opinion he appropriated for its name the word "Today." Arthur Brisbane's column head since before you were born.

But Astor squared all this by sending the famous Hearst editor a box of twenty cigars, each worth $1.50.

There is one high official of the Roosevelt administration who may not fare so well in the Astor magazine. He is Robert Worth Bingham, American Ambassador to Great Britain.

Prof. Moley, late of the Brain Trust, who is going to edit the weekly, has it in for Bingham in capital letters.

Moley credits Bingham with all the subterranean propaganda at the London Economic Conference that brought him into disfavor with other members of the American delegation.

Friends of the former Assistant Secretary of State say he can prove if he chooses, with documentary evidence that only Bingham could have given out some of the stories that appeared to his detriment.

Further, assert the Moley adherents, this same documentary evidence will show that Ed. Hoover had cabled back to Washington been shown around in its entirety rather than in fragmentary agencies, a different aspect would be placed on his position in London.

Solid
Don't let anyone tell you that President Roosevelt is losing his magnetic grip on the country at large.

Not at least if the experience of the Washington correspondent for a prominent Republican newspaper is any criterion.

This reporter had occasion recently to make a trip through New York State and into New England. He came back fairly sunk over what he had seen and heard.

He was forced to make one jump by bus involving two changes.

On the first bus his attention was attracted to a well-dressed elderly woman of evident refinement, who seemed to know the driver through frequent travel with him. The two got into conversation and the reporter shamelessly eavesdropped.

They were talking about President Roosevelt and his recovery program in terms that must have burned his ears.

Waved
Changing to a second bus, the news man drew a seat opposite a swarthy chap of foreign extraction and his half-grown son. The boy was pursuing photographs in a tabloid.

Suddenly the father's face lit up as glanced over the boy's shoulder. He snatched the paper from the lad's hands and pointed out a picture to the reporter. It showed Astor's yacht steaming down the Hudson river with the President aboard.

"See that," the man said, bubbling over. "I seen it. I seen him. He wave to me. He wave to everybody."

To complete the story, the Republican news sleuth boarded bus No. 3 and sat down behind a couple in their late twenties.

The young man and his wife were agreeing vehemently with each other that President Roosevelt was just about the grandest man this country ever had, et cetera.

Pop
Prohibitionists may get some consolation out of this item. It seems the soft drink industry is coming back strong after taking a terrific sock on the jaw from 32 beer.

Beer became respectable during a normal off-season for beverages of all kinds. In the rush to dip a nose into the foam pop was pretty nearly forgotten.

Now, say the men here representing national carbonate beverage concerns, the novelty is gone from the lager.

Trading in soft drinks is largely 6-cent business with women and children as the predominant customers. The women seem to be

Accused In Slaying

Miss Frida W. A. Weltz (above), 33-year-old nurse, was held for the slaying of Francis J. M. Grace Jr., California capitalist, at Santa Cruz, Cal. (Associated Press Photo)

Commission For Barbers Now Allowed

18-Hour Week Stands; Owners Operating Shop Alone May Work 52

Journeyman barbers of Big Spring may be employed solely on a commission basis, provided they do not work more than 48 hours per week.

This ruling was received by the Chamber of Commerce Thursday morning from the Interpretation Section, Blue Eagle Division, of the National Recovery Administration.

Only exceptions to the ruling which substitutes the commission basis for the straight minimum wage of $13 per week is that the barber must have been solely upon a commission basis on June 16, and that owners of shops who do all the work in their shops (one chair shops) may work 52 hours per week.

The ruling concerning owners follows: "Individuals, owners and partners operating barber and beauty shops without employees, are limited to 52 hours per week of work as barbers or beauticians in order to operate under the substitution granted and signed by Administrator Hugh S. Johnson on August 9, for the Beauty Shop and Barber Shop industry. This limitation will continue in effect until the matter is finally settled by approval of a code for the industry by the President of the United States."

That disagreement between Bill Farish, chairman of the Standard Oil Company, and Charlie Reaser, member of the Oil Planning Board happened all right, in spite of denials by Farish and Walter Teague.

The information Reaser sought for the Board had to do with the refining value of West Texas crude. Reaser was acting under authority of the Oil Code. So was E. B. Reaser, who was refused information from company records by President Rogers of the Texas company. Rogers, however, did not try to squirm out of the facts. He told the Board, through Reaser, very frankly that he was refusing the information after conferring with other executives of the company.

The work of the West Texas Oil Producers and Royalty Owners' association, formed in San Antonio under leadership of Claude Aikman, Dan Morgan, Bob Cannon and a number of other men interested in the future of the oil industry out here, is bearing fruit. It has provided accurate data on the value of this crude from a refining standpoint, showing that the differential between East Texas and Mid-Continent base prices for crude and the prices paid in West Texas is too wide and that the production of West Texas fields is by all justice and equity due a higher market.

Big Spring's position with reference to prices in the oil business is different from that of other oil centers of West Texas. We are extremely interested, of course, in improvement of the crude oil market. Much of our business locally depends upon whether the producer of oil are able to make a fair profit and thus maintain jobs and wages. Not only that, hundreds of our citizens derive some of their

(Continued On Page 7)

(Continued On Page 7)

(Continued On Page 7)

(Continued On Page 7)

(Continued On Page 7)

(Continued On Page 7)

(Continued On Page 7)

(Continued On Page 7)

(Continued On Page 7)

(Continued On Page 7)

Fruits Of Chamber Of Commerce Farm Relief Efforts Seen In New Allotment By Federal Agencies

Howards, Neighboring Counties Certified For Direct Relief

Fruits of the efforts of the counties surrounding Howard, led by the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce and its manager, C. T. Watson, were seen in the allotment from Harry L. Hopkins, federal relief administrator, that sixty millions had been allotted for special relief in drought-stricken counties of the Panhandle and some other West Texas districts.

Data compiled under direction of Mr. Watson, with whom Senator A. P. Duggan of Littlefield and A. Davis of Lubbock worked, had been placed before Hopkins, as well as other officials. The data was declared to be the most complete gathered for relief purposes in the southwest. It was designed to show the exact financial condition of all farmers in about fifteen counties.

The Washington dispatch said the following counties, in addition to a number on the North Plains, had been certified as in line for direct relief: Borden, Midland, Martin, Andrews, Ector and Howard.

Mr. Watson declared here Thursday he was at a loss to know why Dawson, Cochran, Gaines and several other South Plains counties had not been included.

Hopkins said that families in distress probably would be given between $300 and $800 to tide them over a year. He figured that on the basis of 100,000 families in need in West Texas, the Panhandle, the Rio Grande Valley, in Florida and the Dakotas, the cost would amount to $100,000,000.

The new emergency aid program, estimated to involve a federal-state-local cost of approximately $60,000,000, will be restricted to the drought and grasshopper stricken areas of North and South Dakota, Texas, Colorado, Oklahoma and Kansas, and the hurricane-ridden regions of Texas and Florida.

This is a new policy and there will be some criticism, but the relief will be confined strictly to the areas affected, said Harry L. Hopkins, unemployment relief administrator. "No amount of pressure will cause an extension of the policy to the country as a whole."

Hopkins mapped out the program with Secretary Ickes, public works supervisor, and Henry Morgenthau, Jr., governor of the farm credit administration, soon after President Roosevelt had announced the government would go to the immediate assistance of the thousands in need.

Hopkins told newspapermen Ickes would be ready in a week to make some appropriations for road construction in the seven states and estimated approximately 40,000 men might be given work.

Morgenthau, he said, would follow "liberal credit policy" where loans could be made through corporations set up for such purposes as rebuilding homes. The public works money will be dispensed on a 30-70 basis with the states putting up the 70 per cent. Most of the 70 per cent, however, Hopkins expects to come from federal unemployment relief grants.

He figured some states would be able to supply more than others.

(Continued On Page 7)

Girls To Play At Dance Here Friday Night

Melody Maids Announced For Crawford Affair Tomorrow Night

Something new will be provided in the way of dance music, that is the orchestra will be something new in the way of orchestras for Friday night's dance at the Crawford hotel. The dance, incidentally, will occur the first evening on which the sale of beer will be legal.

The Melody Maids from Amarillo, a dance orchestra of seven members led by Willa Douise Bussey, will be here for the evening. They have been attracting record of dancers in towns of the Panhandle, eastern New Mexico and western Oklahoma. They will jump here to Clovis, N. M., for a Saturday night engagement.

Manager Calvin Boykin of the Crawford issued a special invitation to the people of Big Spring to attend. The dancing will begin at 9 o'clock.

ATTEND CONVENTION

Dr. E. O. Ellington and F. H. Spencer, who represents the A. P. Cary Company, Dallas, left Thursday afternoon for Abilene to attend the annual convention of the West Texas Dental Society.

The Weather

Big Spring and vicinity—Partly cloudy tonight and Friday, but much change in temperature. West Texas—fairly cloudy tonight and Friday unsettled in west portion. East Texas—Partly cloudy tonight and Friday, except occasional rain in southeast portion Friday. New Mexico—Local showers and thunderstorms this afternoon and tonight. Friday generally fair.

TEMPERATURES

Hour Wed. Thurs

1 76 69

2 75 68

3 78 68

4 79 67

5 75 67

6 74 67

7 73 68

8 72 68

9 71 71

10 70 71

11 69 77

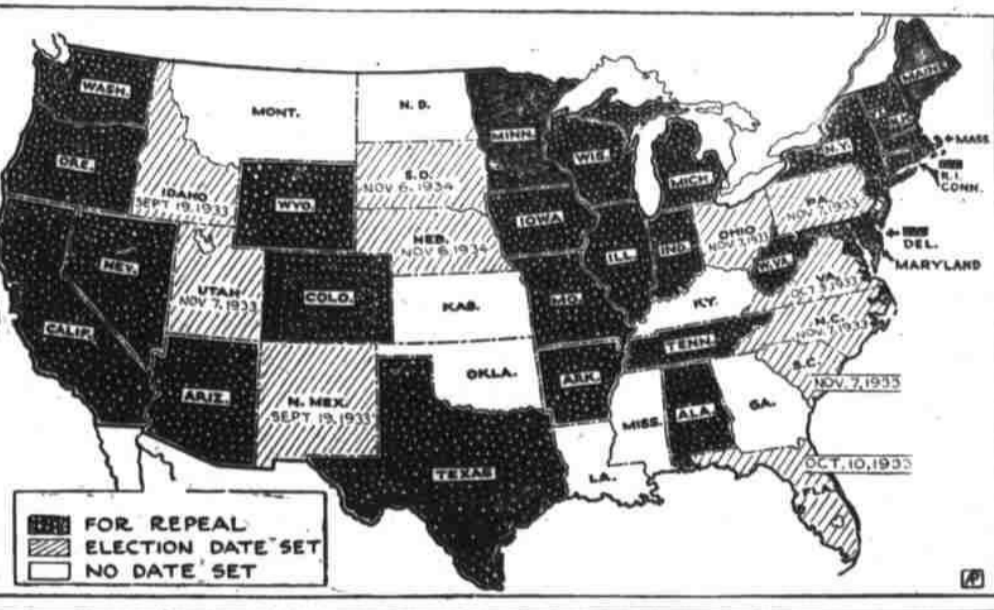

12 69 77

Highest—79, lowest 67.

Sun sets today 6:54. Sun rises tomorrow 6:30.

"The food I got from the Eskimo"

Status Of States On Prohibition Repeal

FOR REPEAL
ELECTION DATE SET
NO DATE SET

Flood Nears Rio Grande Valley Near Presidio Is Under Water

Reports reaching The Herald from Presidio, through the Southwestern Bell Telephone company, at 2:30 p. m. Thursday were that the valley of the Rio Grande river at Presidio was under water and that reports reaching Ojinaga, across the river, from Chihuahua City showed the crest of the flood had not reached the Rio Grande.

The editor of the newspaper at Presidio declared the populace was greatly disturbed.

PRESIDIO, (AP) — Report received here Thursday from Chihuahua City, Mexico, said a flood, the highest in a half century, was headed for the Rio Grande down the Conchos river. The report advised all residents of lowlands were warned to seek higher places. The Rio Grande was bank full here.

Legislature Opens Session For Revision Of Trust Laws, Passage Of Relief Bond Issuance Statute

AUSTIN, (AP) — Special session legislature convened noon today, prepared consider matters pertaining to this state's part president's National Recovery plan.

Members of both houses responded with quorums. Governor Ferguson's call, which listed two main legislative topics, laws authorizing direct administration twenty million dollars bond money for relief and liberalization of State's anti-trust laws, give business broader chance benefit from president's recovery program.

Both subjects likely will create controversy. It was expected several additional subjects would be presented as the session progressed.

The governor's message was ready but it was not decided whether it would be read before Friday.

The senate elected Senator Purl, Dallas, president pro tem.

By GORDON K. SHEARER
United Press Staff Correspondent
AUSTIN (UP)—The Texas legislature convened at noon Thursday for a 30-day and possibly a 60-day special session.

Earlier adjournment is possible. The members present, however, were almost unanimous in the belief at least a month will be needed to dispose of the matters for which the session has been called.

Relief for Rio Grande Valley hurricane sufferers promised to be the earliest work of the session. It was specifically included in Governor Miriam A. Ferguson's proclamation convening the session.

The legislature was called for issuance of $20,000,000 state unemployment relief bonds and to amend state anti-trust laws and requested by General Hugh S. Johnson, NRA administrator. The lady governor, a noted housekeeper, also asked an appropriation for a cooling system for the executive mansion and improvement of its grounds.

Relinquishment of delinquent taxes has been suggested as a measure of valley relief. The governor's advisers think relief may also be extended out of the $20,000,000 state bond issue proceeds. The issue, however, will not provide funds for the immediate emergency. Several months will be required to issue the bonds and market them.

Next to relief measures, interest is centered in the proposal to change state anti-trust laws, and the effect, if any, it will have on pending anti-trust suits against major oil companies and the American Petroleum Institute.

General Johnson has requested Texas, and all states, to make the necessary changes to carry out six salient points in the National Recovery Program:

- (1) Consent for the president to use state and local officers and employees in carrying out the NRA program.
- (2) Extension of regulations applied to interstate commerce to concerns which operate only in-state state lines.
- (3) Daily $500 fines for violation of fair practices as set out by the NRA codes.
- (4) Authority for competitors, as well as prosecuting attorneys, to enjoin code violators.
- (5) Exemption from anti-trust law violations if code rules are followed.

(Continued On Page 7)

Largest assortment toilet articles in West Texas. Cunningham & Phillips—adv.

27 Are Given Right To Sell Dry Since '06

County Collector Takes In $1,000, City $200 At 3 P. M. Thursday

At least eighteen retailers and two distributing agencies were preparing Thursday to begin sale of 3.2 per cent beer on the stroke of midnight—the first legal sales in Howard county since 1906.

Licenses paid for at 2:30 p. m. Thursday had swelled county receipts by approximately $1,000 and the city treasury by about $200.

Twenty-seven persons or firms have been granted permits to procure licenses to sell 3.2 beverage. Seven had not posted their fees at 2:30 p. m.

Retailers were charged $43.75 state and county license fees and $14.60 city which allow them to sell through December 31, 1933.

Distributors drew a fee of $78.48 while local distributors had to pay $21.90.

Mabel Robinson, county tax collector, declared her office would

AUSTIN (AP) — Transportation of beer into dry territories is not prohibited under the law regulating the manufacture and sale of beverage containing not more than 3.2 per cent alcohol, Ebert Hooper, first assistant attorney general, ruled.

Hooper said it would be lawful for a person to purchase beer in wet territory and transport it to his home for personal consumption. It also would be legal to have it delivered in dry territory by transportation agencies, he ruled.

Texas law regulating the manufacture and sale of beer will become effective at midnight Thursday. The law prohibits places whose principal business is the sale of beer from disposing of the beverage between the hours of 12 midnight and 7 a. m. of any day.

Also places whose principal business is the sale of beer are forbidden from selling it between the hours of 12 midnight on Saturdays and 7 a. m. on Monday's.

There is nothing in the law to indicate that restaurants, hotels, and other concerns not selling beer as their principal business would be required to desist from the sale at any time.

The regulatory law provides beer shall not be sold to a person less than 21 years old and directs that no person less than 18 years old shall be employed in any establishment whose principal business is the sale of beer.

Under Hooper's interpretation of the beer law, "the manufacture, sale, barter and exchange" of 3.2 beverages only is prohibited in dry areas.

not receive money for licenses after 3 p. m. but that she would open the doors of her office at midnight to deliver the licenses paid for.

The city was following a similar policy, except money was to be received there until 5 p. m.

As soon as state, county, city licenses can be obtained and brought back to the places of business, beer will be legally back in Howard county.

Meanwhile distributors were having everything set for the "big push" around midnight. Several have already made deliveries.

Much beer has been routed through here via the Texas and Pacific, but employees of the line would not make an estimate as to how much was on the tracks here Thursday.

Paying for licenses Thursday afternoon to 3 p. m. were G. C. Dunham, T. A. Dunbar, T. E. Bonham, Ed. R. Allen, I. H. Sumner, Mrs. Jennie Belle Potter, J. E. Crabtree, W. D. Miller, Josephine Washington, J. A. Smith, Calvin Boykin, Carl Eggleston, J. Z. Green, Joe A. Roberts, Settles Hotel, S. A. Gomez, George Zaranofsky, Distributors—Dr. Pepper Bottling company, Beverage sales company, and Lone Star Beverage company.

City licenses paid for at 3 p. m. included Beverage Sales corporation, J. E. Crabtree, S. A. Gomez, Settles Hotel, W. R. Perry, Calvin Boykin, I. H. Sumner, W. D. Miller, T. H. Crow, George H. Zaranofsky, T. A. Bumar, Ed. R. Allen, and J. A. Smith.

COTTON CONSUMPTION
WASHINGTON, (AP)—Cotton consumed during August reported Thursday by the census bureau totaled 568,570 bales, less and 53,371 of lint compared with 644,357 bales of lint and 55,495 bales during August of last year.

You can save money by buying school supplies from us. Cunningham & Phillips—adv.

Big Spring Weekly Herald
Published Weekly every Friday by BIG SPRING HERALD, INC.

Subscription Rates
One Year $1.00
Six Months .50

Notice to Subscribers
Subscribers desiring their address changed will please state in their communication both the old and new addresses.

Price of the Paper
The price of the paper is 10 cents per copy.

Copyright
Copyright 1933 by Big Spring Herald, Inc.

Advertising
All advertising orders are accepted on this basis only.

THE PRICE WE PAY FOR BLEND LEADERSHIP

The price the world sometimes has to pay for human blindness and suspicion can be one of the most appalling chapters in history.

James M. Cox, who recently served as vice chairman of the American delegation to the World Economic Conference, shed a new ray of light on that chapter in an interview not long ago.

To Milton Bronner, London correspondent for the Newspaper Enterprise association, Mr. Cox revealed that a workable and final settlement of the German reparations question was actually within sight in 1922. If it had been attained, he said, the world probably would have been spared its present economic, industrial and financial chaos and some 30,000,000 persons would have been saved from unemployment, hunger and want.

It failed of attainment, Mr. Cox said, because the statesmen of France, England, Germany and America failed to seize the opportunity that offered itself to them.
In 1922, said Mr. Cox, he went to Europe to study the situation. He knew Germany could not pay the fantastic reparations then demanded for her without ruining herself and the nations to whom the payments were due. So he set out to find just what Germany really could pay.

In Paris he talked with a spoken-man for Poincare, then premier, and got from him, in confidence, a figure which the spokesman stated was the minimum French statesmen and financiers thought Germany could pay.

Then he went to Germany and talked with Chancellor Worth, who gave his figure as to the maximum Germany could pay. Between this and the French figure there was only a gap of four billion marks—a gap which, as Mr. Cox said, could easily be bridged by negotiations.

Then Mr. Cox went to England and got Lloyd George's figure—which, in its turn, was not far from the two estimates already given.
That none of the statesmen dared move. The hatreds and suspicions of the war had not yet cooled. In each capital Mr. Cox was assured that only if America took the initiative could an agreement be reached.

Mr. Cox returned to America and issued a statement urging President Harding to act. President Harding ignored him. The great opportunity passed.

In London this spring Mr. Cox was told by Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, a leader of the German delegation.

"If President Harding had acted in 1922, we would not be here today.
There would have been no occasion for an economic conference, because the world would have been well on its way to complete recovery."

ABUSING "MODEL PRISONS"
Some time ago New York state spent a good deal of money on a model prison—an institution out in the open country, without walls or iron bars, very different from the ordinary penitentiary. It was hoped that it could be a place for the rehabilitation of young criminals.

Right now the state is somewhat disturbed because certain convicts who have a good deal of political influence are getting transferred to that prison from such places as Sing Sing and Dannemora. The former deputy county treasurer, who was sent up a couple of months ago for going south with $24,000 of county funds.

And right here you have a pretty good explanation of the widespread public hostility to "model prison" schemes. A model prison that is actually used to reform young

Johnnie Fischer Medalist Of Amateur Tournament With Record Breaking 141 Score

Gus Moreland, Dallas Walker Cup Star, Finishes In Tie
For Fourth. Scoring 144 Strokes; Johnnie Goodman Seventh

By ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor
KENWOOD COUNTRY CLUB,
CINCINNATI—Two youthful collegians waged a record smashing fight Tuesday for the qualifying medal of the United States amateur golf championship with Johnnie Fischer of Cincinnati and the University of Michigan, triumphant by a single stroke over Pat Sawyer of Minnesota and the University of Minnesota.

Fischer captured the low scoring honors for the second consecutive year with the new record figures of 72-69-141, in one of the wildest and most exciting finishes in the 37-year history of the national tournament.

Fischer gave a brilliant performance under heavy pressure. His closing 69, two under par equalled the new competitive course record for Kenwood, named out Sawyer and lowered the tournament qualifying record by one stroke.

Sawyer, who finished second with 72-70-142, had no sooner equalled the old mark than Fischer came galloping home to wipe out the record that had stood for nine years.
The mark of 142 was set in 1924
by D. Clarke Corkran of Baltimore, equalled twice by Bob Jones, in 1927 and 1930, and by Fischer himself, just a year ago.

Fischer and Sawyer, with 72 each yesterday, both started their final qualifying round two shots behind the pace-setters, Jack Somerville of Canada, the defending title holder, and young Jack Munger, of Dallas, Tex. Fischer caught Somerville at the turn and Sawyer passed the champion on the last nine.

Munger faded from the pace-setting picture in a jambores that carried on to a comfortable refuge for crooks who have a drag is something entirely different. Until that sort of thing ends, the public will continue to look on prison reform movements with suspicion.

Philadelphia, Nicol Thompson, Jr., of Canada, Eddie Held of Jamesburg, N. J., who had seen previous playoffs; Spencer Overton of Balli-more, who came back with a sub-par 70 after his opening 80; Will Cunn, Jr., of Wallingford, Pa., and Ira Couch of Chicago.

Young Sidney Noyes, Jr., of New York, furnished the day's most electrifying sport with a 31, four under par for a new record over the incoming nine. This pulled him down to par 71 for the day and a qualifying total of 149.

Noyes clipped the mark of 32 over the same nine, made by Leland Hamman, of Paris, Tex., whose performance, after an outgoing 45, was not good enough to get him a qualifying place. Hamman totalled 156.

Coach Cranfill
Starts Simmons
Cowboy Workouts

ABILENE—Twenty-four men reported today to Coachas Leslie Cranfill and Pettis Anderson in the first practice of the year for the Simmons University Cowboys. One other is expected by Wednesday who will complete the squad for the year.

Coach Cranfill started his men early working on formations as well as fundamentals, for he must have his men ready to meet the strong Dixie University Rebels in Dallas on Sept. 22. The Cowboys have a schedule of eleven games for the season.

Weak in reserve strength, the Cowboys will rely mainly on their experience. Eleven of the candidates are letter men, ten of them fourth year performers, five of them are junior college graduates and the others are squadmen of experience.

Lettermen who reported for first workouts were: Co-Captain Carl Pee, Clyde; Eugene McCollum, Estilline; Guy Creighton, Chillicothe; W. E. Routh, Abilene; backs, Co-captain G. L. Huettis, Snyder; Jim Neely, Frederick, Okla.; Odell Winters, Hillsboro, ends; J. B. Neely, Abilene, Jake Bentley, Abilene;
Carr Spraberry, Lamesa, guards;
Loyd Cope, Del Rio, center.

Members of the 1932 squad who returned: Bill, Ramsey, Orville Mc-Leod, Gid Bowers, Bill Ledbetter, tackles; Bernard Seed, center;
Deedie Thompson, Johnnie Hill,
Ira Ribble, backs.

Junior college grads: Jordan, center, Thigpen, halfback, Ellis-ville Mississippi junior college;
Rhyme, tackle, Weatherford; Mil-

Code Governs Wage On Rigs

Special provisions under terms of the Code of Fair Competition for the petroleum industry, now in effect by order of President Roosevelt, specify the basis on which wages shall be paid in each geographic area to drillers, tool dressers, roughnecks, and other workers on oil drilling rigs.

Contrary to information gathered Monday by The Herald, whose sources declared no specific basis for different wages for different classes of workers were, placed in the code it does set up such a basis.

Section 4 of Article 2 of the code reads: "It is the purpose of the labor provisions of this code that all employees engaged in similar work in each of the geographic divisions shall be placed on the same basis of hours and receive at least the minimum earnings provided for each class of work in the industry."

To effectuate this purpose, the differentials between the rates for skilled jobs and the minimum established in this code for common labor will not be less than those existing in the industry in each geographic area on July 1, 1929; but in no case will such differential for first grade refinery stillmen be less than 45 cents per hour or for rotary drillers less than 75 cents per hour.

The minimum hourly wage fixed for common labor in Texas is 48 cents per hour.

Section 4 of Article 2, quoted above, therefore, means that the minimum wage to be paid rotary drillers is 48 cents plus 75 cents or $1.23 cents per hour.

The men are allowed to work not more than 72 hours within any period of 14 days, that is an average of 36 hours per week.
A man does not necessarily have to work six days of six hours each to comply with the code, but there is this restriction: he may not work more than 16 hours within any two consecutive days.

Although the code says the differentials between the rates for the skilled jobs and the minimum established on the code for common labor (48 cents) shall be no less than those existing July 1, 1929, it also says the differential for rotary drillers shall be not less than 75 cents, or $1.23 per hour.

Based on his figures upon the wages paid July 1, 1929 for various types of work on drilling rigs, and complying with the basis for differentials set up in the code a majority of companies have fixed the following scale:

- Rotary drillers, $1.23 per
hour.
Cable tool drillers, $1.17 per hour.
Cable tool dressers, 85 cents per hour.
Rotary roughnecks, 70 cents
per hour.

Mexican Parties
Form Coalition
For Next Election

By JOHN R. MORRIS
United Press Staff Correspondent
MEXICO, D. F. (UP)—A coalition of all the opposition parties in Mexico has been effected with a view to terminating the domination of the National Revolutionary Party. General Antonio Villarreal told the United Press in an exclusive interview today. The outline of the coalition platform, as revealed by General Villarreal, indicates clearly an appeal to Mexicans who consider the present government conservative and reactionary.

General Villarreal, twice an exile in the United States for participation in revolutions which failed, or Colonel Adalberto Tejeda, ex-governor of Vera Cruz, whose radical views are both hated and feared by all property owners, are the two leaders at this moment considered likeliest to receive the coalition's nomination for the presidency. The nomination will be made at a convention in December or January, soon after the convention of the National Revolutionary Party.

Owing to Villarreal's long absence from Mexico, he spent 12 years in New York, Texas and California returning here only a few weeks ago, some politicians to the coalition headquarters now consider Tejeda the favored candidate. His red shirt is the strongest single unit cooperating to form the coalition. Tejeda, a national radical figure for years, appeals to most discontented classes.

The new party, as yet unnamed, in the opinion of observers will need to be radical in its platform to appear sufficiently more advanced than the present government.
President Rodriguez has resumed on a large scale the distribution of free lands to peasants, one of the objects of the revolution and one of the most important planks, also, in the new coalition's tentative platform. The definite platforms of both groups will be formulated at their respective conventions this winter.

Even the greatest of the coalition's rallying cries, that of anti-re-election, is also a cardinal principle of the National Revolutionary Party. Every government document and letter written by a government official, is signed with the slogan, "effective suffrage; no re-election." The dominant national Revolutionary Party within the

"We believe that the general desire for such a change is so great that public opinion will rise on this occasion to achieve the miracle of the country entering, by new paths, an era of true liberty.

A characteristic plank of the platform being drafted tentatively by the coalition leaders was quoted to the United Press as follows:
"Property and wealth, being by modern revolutionary concept purely social factors, shall be limited to the degree demanded by the public interest."

The political groups listed by Villarreal as composing the coalition include, besides Tejeda's military followers, the Liberal Constitutionalist Party (which carried Obregon to power but later broke with him), the National Agrarian Party, the Cooperative Party, the Socialist Party, the Radical Party, the National Railroad Party (composed of railway workers), and the Anti-Reelection Party.

Convict's Wife
Says She Slipped
Arms Into Prison

NEW ORLEANS (UP)—Police announced Tuesday Mrs. Marion Russell, wife of one of eleven convicts who escaped from the state penitentiary last Sunday after slaying 3 and wounding a dozen others she had confessed to smuggling firearms into the prison while visiting her husband, James Russell. She was arrested here Monday.

Five points of satisfaction quickly explain
Why Pontiac
Outsells
all other cars in its price range!

Pontiac's 5 points of satisfaction have won the commanding leadership in its price range shown below. Buyers know that these things make value, especially at the following low prices:

Webb Motor Company
4th & Rannels Sts. Big Spring, Texas

THE UNITED'S BIG DRIVE for NEW FUR TRIMMED COAT
Customers
A Dramatic Selling At August Prices
United Dry Goods Store, Inc.
BIG SPRING, TEXAS DAVID MERKIN, Mgr.
In Two Great Price Groups
12.75
16.75
EVERY BRAND NEW FASHION. Here are shown just 5 of the many luxurious models which are typical of the new styles—very wide shoulder effects, more restrained sleeve fullness, longer lengths, rippled fur lapels, straighter silhouettes, luxurious face-framing fur collars, materials and colors that are gloriously new.

For The Love of Eve by Lucy Walling

CHAPTER III

Eve awoke with the dawn and lay for a long while watching the wintry Hudson river as the train sped by. She wondered about Dick...

Over her black pajamas she slipped a black silk robe with a great golden dragon...

"Good morning," an uncertain voice greeted Eve as she entered. "Good morning," Eve answered with a swift appraisal of the young creature before her...

"There! All ready for the big adventure," she announced pertly. Eve lifted her eyebrows inquiringly. The girl lit a cigarette and confessed, "I'm nervous as a cat..."

Married girl friend lives right across the river in New Jersey but she doesn't expect me. You see I've taken my life in my own hands. I want to find a husband before the bells ring 30. There's a new crop of girls springing up every year and there certainly aren't enough eligibles to go around at our four corners...

"Don't," he said. "It spoils the illusion." Then he added, "With apologies to Miss Carter!" Freda smiled. She did not mind.

"And don't drink either," Reece added, as he poured the contents of a silver flask into three glasses of ginger ale. "We want you to keep that 'little girl' look. It's a rare thing in a place like this."

As they left the night club Ernest Franks suggested walking a few blocks before he escorted Freda to her sister's home in Brooklyn. "Fifth Avenue is right across the corner," he said. "It's a glorious night and the windows after midnight are always worth looking at."

Freda agreed to walk with him. The sidewalks were dry and her long fur coat protected her against the cold. But Reece protested that Eve's wrap was inadequate, so they separated. Reece signaled a taxi and he and Eve drove to her hotel.

"Are you so absurdly young as you look," he said. Then, without waiting for an answer, he abruptly took her hand. He held it tightly and Eve did not try to withdraw it. After all, it was but a few blocks to the hotel.

Suddenly the man took her in his arms and, before she could free herself, pressed his lips to hers. They arrived at the hotel and Eve, without so much as a good-night, hurried to the elevator.

CHAPTER IV Eve sat at the desk in her hotel room until nearly dawn, writing a letter to Dick. After her unpleasant experience with Theron Reece in the taxicab she longed for the safety and contentment she always felt in Dick's presence. In the letter she did not mention any of her companions except Freda Carter.

Freda left the next evening after a day in which she and Eve were extremely busy. They dined together and Freda asked Eve to call at her apartment after she returned to Lake City.

For the rest of the week Eve devoted herself to work but in spite of this preoccupation she was worried. No word had come from Dick. Pride would not allow her to call him by long distance.

She stared at the message a long moment. It read "Interview Phoebe, Inc. She knows what Lake City is wearing before we know it—Earle Barnes."

Eve sank weakly into a deep cushioned chair. She was more than hurt. She was even a little frightened. Would this thing she had done always stand between her and Dick? He couldn't leave his work to come with her on a honeymoon trip. Why should he expect her to give up this whole world as she brought a honeymoon home? Oh, why had this whole miserable situation come about?

Later however as she rode to the style advisory bureau of Phoebe, Inc., Eve's trained mind concentrated on the business of the day. Freda Carter was to meet her there. They had made the appointment in a hurried telephone conversation. Freda seldom stopped at a hotel when in New York, as she had a sister living in Brooklyn.

With Freda who was just back from Paris, her head full of fashion news and her trunks packed with French gowns, Eve made the rounds of New York's smartest shops. They spent a leisurely afternoon with some advertising woman over a meal served in a restaurant in a quaint French restaurant.

"That evening Eve dressed for dinner in a new gown of pale gold lace. It represented the measure of her yielding to the temptation to purchase every lovely thing she beheld.

She found herself warming to Freda Carter. With her Eve felt none of the barrier of formality that often exists between women who are brought together by professional interests. They dined pleasantly at Eve's hotel.

"About tonight," Freda said over the coffee cups, "I thought you'd like a musical comedy so I arranged it. I met an interesting man on the ship, Ernest Franks is his name. He's going to call for us at eight o'clock."

The Prantles apartment consisted of a luxuriously furnished living room and a spacious sleeping room with all its furnishings in pairs—two beds, two chests of drawers, a slipper chair and sturdy arm chair, two night stands, two reading lamps. There was a cozy yellow and blue kitchen and here Freda laid out the table for three. Irene explained that for "special guests" they used the gate leg table in the living room. Eve, however, was accepted as a bosom friend. She enjoyed the simple meal of boiled potatoes, broiled chops, creamed carrots and lettuce and an icebox dessert.

The two girls cleared the table and stacked the dishes. Then they left Freda to pore over a magazine, and went out to a concert. "I'll never be famous," Irene said as they walked down the quiet street. "Probably I'll never be free from worry, either, but there's one thing I'm thankful for—good old Ell. Get yourself a good man, Eve, if there's one to be found these days!"

Reece was disappointed when the head waiter was unable to seat them at a table in the inner room. A smart chorus of young girls was singing vivaciously, beautifully. The applause was hearty and long. Then the dancing space was cleared for patrons. Franks did not dance but Reece apparently wanted to be on the floor all the time. Again and again he managed so that the center of attention before the other dancers left their tables. Eve was not quite sure she liked this. The lights turned to a rosy glow and the orchestra played a waltz that made Eve think of Dick. Reece held her closely but Eve drew away.

"When they returned to their taxi," Franks was displaying a new cigar case he had purchased in Paris. She passed it around. Eve glanced at the other tables, then hesitatingly took a cigarette. Franks closed his hand over it.

"Don't," he said. "It spoils the illusion." Then he added, "With apologies to Miss Carter!" Freda smiled. She did not mind.

"And don't drink either," Reece added, as he poured the contents of a silver flask into three glasses of ginger ale. "We want you to keep that 'little girl' look. It's a rare thing in a place like this."

As they left the night club Ernest Franks suggested walking a few blocks before he escorted Freda to her sister's home in Brooklyn. "Fifth Avenue is right across the corner," he said. "It's a glorious night and the windows after midnight are always worth looking at."

Freda agreed to walk with him. The sidewalks were dry and her long fur coat protected her against the cold. But Reece protested that Eve's wrap was inadequate, so they separated. Reece signaled a taxi and he and Eve drove to her hotel.

"Are you so absurdly young as you look," he said. Then, without waiting for an answer, he abruptly took her hand. He held it tightly and Eve did not try to withdraw it. After all, it was but a few blocks to the hotel.

Suddenly the man took her in his arms and, before she could free herself, pressed his lips to hers. They arrived at the hotel and Eve, without so much as a good-night, hurried to the elevator.

CHAPTER IV Eve sat at the desk in her hotel room until nearly dawn, writing a letter to Dick. After her unpleasant experience with Theron Reece in the taxicab she longed for the safety and contentment she always felt in Dick's presence. In the letter she did not mention any of her companions except Freda Carter.

Freda left the next evening after a day in which she and Eve were extremely busy. They dined together and Freda asked Eve to call at her apartment after she returned to Lake City.

For the rest of the week Eve devoted herself to work but in spite of this preoccupation she was worried. No word had come from Dick. Pride would not allow her to call him by long distance.

She stared at the message a long moment. It read "Interview Phoebe, Inc. She knows what Lake City is wearing before we know it—Earle Barnes."

Eve sank weakly into a deep cushioned chair. She was more than hurt. She was even a little frightened. Would this thing she had done always stand between her and Dick? He couldn't leave his work to come with her on a honeymoon trip. Why should he expect her to give up this whole world as she brought a honeymoon home? Oh, why had this whole miserable situation come about?

Later however as she rode to the style advisory bureau of Phoebe, Inc., Eve's trained mind concentrated on the business of the day. Freda Carter was to meet her there. They had made the appointment in a hurried telephone conversation. Freda seldom stopped at a hotel when in New York, as she had a sister living in Brooklyn.

With Freda who was just back from Paris, her head full of fashion news and her trunks packed with French gowns, Eve made the rounds of New York's smartest shops. They spent a leisurely afternoon with some advertising woman over a meal served in a restaurant in a quaint French restaurant.

"That evening Eve dressed for dinner in a new gown of pale gold lace. It represented the measure of her yielding to the temptation to purchase every lovely thing she beheld.

She found herself warming to Freda Carter. With her Eve felt none of the barrier of formality that often exists between women who are brought together by professional interests. They dined pleasantly at Eve's hotel.

"About tonight," Freda said over the coffee cups, "I thought you'd like a musical comedy so I arranged it. I met an interesting man on the ship, Ernest Franks is his name. He's going to call for us at eight o'clock."

He withdrew his arms, turned and walked to the window. Then he said, "Looking for an apartment, of course?" "This one is perfect," Eve assured him. "I'm sure I'll never tire of it."

Dick was silent. Obviously something was wrong. Eve made another attempt. "It's a terrible thing for me to do, I know," she conceded. "I don't believe any girl ever had such a situation to face on her wedding day. I'm sure no one ever had so unsatisfactory a honeymoon."

Dick turned and her penitent expression quite melted him. "That wasn't our honeymoon," he answered huskily. "We're divorcing over a magazine, and went out to a concert."

"I'll never be famous," Irene said as they walked down the quiet street. "Probably I'll never be free from worry, either, but there's one thing I'm thankful for—good old Ell. Get yourself a good man, Eve, if there's one to be found these days!"

Reece was disappointed when the head waiter was unable to seat them at a table in the inner room. A smart chorus of young girls was singing vivaciously, beautifully. The applause was hearty and long. Then the dancing space was cleared for patrons. Franks did not dance but Reece apparently wanted to be on the floor all the time. Again and again he managed so that the center of attention before the other dancers left their tables. Eve was not quite sure she liked this. The lights turned to a rosy glow and the orchestra played a waltz that made Eve think of Dick. Reece held her closely but Eve drew away.

"When they returned to their taxi," Franks was displaying a new cigar case he had purchased in Paris. She passed it around. Eve glanced at the other tables, then hesitatingly took a cigarette. Franks closed his hand over it.

"Don't," he said. "It spoils the illusion." Then he added, "With apologies to Miss Carter!" Freda smiled. She did not mind.

"And don't drink either," Reece added, as he poured the contents of a silver flask into three glasses of ginger ale. "We want you to keep that 'little girl' look. It's a rare thing in a place like this."

As they left the night club Ernest Franks suggested walking a few blocks before he escorted Freda to her sister's home in Brooklyn. "Fifth Avenue is right across the corner," he said. "It's a glorious night and the windows after midnight are always worth looking at."

Freda agreed to walk with him. The sidewalks were dry and her long fur coat protected her against the cold. But Reece protested that Eve's wrap was inadequate, so they separated. Reece signaled a taxi and he and Eve drove to her hotel.

"Are you so absurdly young as you look," he said. Then, without waiting for an answer, he abruptly took her hand. He held it tightly and Eve did not try to withdraw it. After all, it was but a few blocks to the hotel.

Suddenly the man took her in his arms and, before she could free herself, pressed his lips to hers. They arrived at the hotel and Eve, without so much as a good-night, hurried to the elevator.

CHAPTER IV Eve sat at the desk in her hotel room until nearly dawn, writing a letter to Dick. After her unpleasant experience with Theron Reece in the taxicab she longed for the safety and contentment she always felt in Dick's presence. In the letter she did not mention any of her companions except Freda Carter.

Freda left the next evening after a day in which she and Eve were extremely busy. They dined together and Freda asked Eve to call at her apartment after she returned to Lake City.

For the rest of the week Eve devoted herself to work but in spite of this preoccupation she was worried. No word had come from Dick. Pride would not allow her to call him by long distance.

She stared at the message a long moment. It read "Interview Phoebe, Inc. She knows what Lake City is wearing before we know it—Earle Barnes."

Eve sank weakly into a deep cushioned chair. She was more than hurt. She was even a little frightened. Would this thing she had done always stand between her and Dick? He couldn't leave his work to come with her on a honeymoon trip. Why should he expect her to give up this whole world as she brought a honeymoon home? Oh, why had this whole miserable situation come about?

Later however as she rode to the style advisory bureau of Phoebe, Inc., Eve's trained mind concentrated on the business of the day. Freda Carter was to meet her there. They had made the appointment in a hurried telephone conversation. Freda seldom stopped at a hotel when in New York, as she had a sister living in Brooklyn.

With Freda who was just back from Paris, her head full of fashion news and her trunks packed with French gowns, Eve made the rounds of New York's smartest shops. They spent a leisurely afternoon with some advertising woman over a meal served in a restaurant in a quaint French restaurant.

"That evening Eve dressed for dinner in a new gown of pale gold lace. It represented the measure of her yielding to the temptation to purchase every lovely thing she beheld.

She found herself warming to Freda Carter. With her Eve felt none of the barrier of formality that often exists between women who are brought together by professional interests. They dined pleasantly at Eve's hotel.

"About tonight," Freda said over the coffee cups, "I thought you'd like a musical comedy so I arranged it. I met an interesting man on the ship, Ernest Franks is his name. He's going to call for us at eight o'clock."

He withdrew his arms, turned and walked to the window. Then he said, "Looking for an apartment, of course?" "This one is perfect," Eve assured him. "I'm sure I'll never tire of it."

Dick was silent. Obviously something was wrong. Eve made another attempt. "It's a terrible thing for me to do, I know," she conceded. "I don't believe any girl ever had such a situation to face on her wedding day. I'm sure no one ever had so unsatisfactory a honeymoon."

Dick turned and her penitent expression quite melted him. "That wasn't our honeymoon," he answered huskily. "We're divorcing over a magazine, and went out to a concert."

"I'll never be famous," Irene said as they walked down the quiet street. "Probably I'll never be free from worry, either, but there's one thing I'm thankful for—good old Ell. Get yourself a good man, Eve, if there's one to be found these days!"

Reece was disappointed when the head waiter was unable to seat them at a table in the inner room. A smart chorus of young girls was singing vivaciously, beautifully. The applause was hearty and long. Then the dancing space was cleared for patrons. Franks did not dance but Reece apparently wanted to be on the floor all the time. Again and again he managed so that the center of attention before the other dancers left their tables. Eve was not quite sure she liked this. The lights turned to a rosy glow and the orchestra played a waltz that made Eve think of Dick. Reece held her closely but Eve drew away.

"When they returned to their taxi," Franks was displaying a new cigar case he had purchased in Paris. She passed it around. Eve glanced at the other tables, then hesitatingly took a cigarette. Franks closed his hand over it.

"Don't," he said. "It spoils the illusion." Then he added, "With apologies to Miss Carter!" Freda smiled. She did not mind.

"And don't drink either," Reece added, as he poured the contents of a silver flask into three glasses of ginger ale. "We want you to keep that 'little girl' look. It's a rare thing in a place like this."

As they left the night club Ernest Franks suggested walking a few blocks before he escorted Freda to her sister's home in Brooklyn. "Fifth Avenue is right across the corner," he said. "It's a glorious night and the windows after midnight are always worth looking at."

Freda agreed to walk with him. The sidewalks were dry and her long fur coat protected her against the cold. But Reece protested that Eve's wrap was inadequate, so they separated. Reece signaled a taxi and he and Eve drove to her hotel.

"Are you so absurdly young as you look," he said. Then, without waiting for an answer, he abruptly took her hand. He held it tightly and Eve did not try to withdraw it. After all, it was but a few blocks to the hotel.

Suddenly the man took her in his arms and, before she could free herself, pressed his lips to hers. They arrived at the hotel and Eve, without so much as a good-night, hurried to the elevator.

CHAPTER IV Eve sat at the desk in her hotel room until nearly dawn, writing a letter to Dick. After her unpleasant experience with Theron Reece in the taxicab she longed for the safety and contentment she always felt in Dick's presence. In the letter she did not mention any of her companions except Freda Carter.

Freda left the next evening after a day in which she and Eve were extremely busy. They dined together and Freda asked Eve to call at her apartment after she returned to Lake City.

For the rest of the week Eve devoted herself to work but in spite of this preoccupation she was worried. No word had come from Dick. Pride would not allow her to call him by long distance.

She stared at the message a long moment. It read "Interview Phoebe, Inc. She knows what Lake City is wearing before we know it—Earle Barnes."

Eve sank weakly into a deep cushioned chair. She was more than hurt. She was even a little frightened. Would this thing she had done always stand between her and Dick? He couldn't leave his work to come with her on a honeymoon trip. Why should he expect her to give up this whole world as she brought a honeymoon home? Oh, why had this whole miserable situation come about?

Later however as she rode to the style advisory bureau of Phoebe, Inc., Eve's trained mind concentrated on the business of the day. Freda Carter was to meet her there. They had made the appointment in a hurried telephone conversation. Freda seldom stopped at a hotel when in New York, as she had a sister living in Brooklyn.

With Freda who was just back from Paris, her head full of fashion news and her trunks packed with French gowns, Eve made the rounds of New York's smartest shops. They spent a leisurely afternoon with some advertising woman over a meal served in a restaurant in a quaint French restaurant.

"That evening Eve dressed for dinner in a new gown of pale gold lace. It represented the measure of her yielding to the temptation to purchase every lovely thing she beheld.

She found herself warming to Freda Carter. With her Eve felt none of the barrier of formality that often exists between women who are brought together by professional interests. They dined pleasantly at Eve's hotel.

"About tonight," Freda said over the coffee cups, "I thought you'd like a musical comedy so I arranged it. I met an interesting man on the ship, Ernest Franks is his name. He's going to call for us at eight o'clock."

He withdrew his arms, turned and walked to the window. Then he said, "Looking for an apartment, of course?" "This one is perfect," Eve assured him. "I'm sure I'll never tire of it."

Dick was silent. Obviously something was wrong. Eve made another attempt. "It's a terrible thing for me to do, I know," she conceded. "I don't believe any girl ever had such a situation to face on her wedding day. I'm sure no one ever had so unsatisfactory a honeymoon."

Dick turned and her penitent expression quite melted him. "That wasn't our honeymoon," he answered huskily. "We're divorcing over a magazine, and went out to a concert."

"I'll never be famous," Irene said as they walked down the quiet street. "Probably I'll never be free from worry, either, but there's one thing I'm thankful for—good old Ell. Get yourself a good man, Eve, if there's one to be found these days!"

Reece was disappointed when the head waiter was unable to seat them at a table in the inner room. A smart chorus of young girls was singing vivaciously, beautifully. The applause was hearty and long. Then the dancing space was cleared for patrons. Franks did not dance but Reece apparently wanted to be on the floor all the time. Again and again he managed so that the center of attention before the other dancers left their tables. Eve was not quite sure she liked this. The lights turned to a rosy glow and the orchestra played a waltz that made Eve think of Dick. Reece held her closely but Eve drew away.

"When they returned to their taxi," Franks was displaying a new cigar case he had purchased in Paris. She passed it around. Eve glanced at the other tables, then hesitatingly took a cigarette. Franks closed his hand over it.

"Don't," he said. "It spoils the illusion." Then he added, "With apologies to Miss Carter!" Freda smiled. She did not mind.

"And don't drink either," Reece added, as he poured the contents of a silver flask into three glasses of ginger ale. "We want you to keep that 'little girl' look. It's a rare thing in a place like this."

As they left the night club Ernest Franks suggested walking a few blocks before he escorted Freda to her sister's home in Brooklyn. "Fifth Avenue is right across the corner," he said. "It's a glorious night and the windows after midnight are always worth looking at."

Freda agreed to walk with him. The sidewalks were dry and her long fur coat protected her against the cold. But Reece protested that Eve's wrap was inadequate, so they separated. Reece signaled a taxi and he and Eve drove to her hotel.

"Are you so absurdly young as you look," he said. Then, without waiting for an answer, he abruptly took her hand. He held it tightly and Eve did not try to withdraw it. After all, it was but a few blocks to the hotel.

Suddenly the man took her in his arms and, before she could free herself, pressed his lips to hers. They arrived at the hotel and Eve, without so much as a good-night, hurried to the elevator.

CHAPTER IV Eve sat at the desk in her hotel room until nearly dawn, writing a letter to Dick. After her unpleasant experience with Theron Reece in the taxicab she longed for the safety and contentment she always felt in Dick's presence. In the letter she did not mention any of her companions except Freda Carter.

Freda left the next evening after a day in which she and Eve were extremely busy. They dined together and Freda asked Eve to call at her apartment after she returned to Lake City.

For the rest of the week Eve devoted herself to work but in spite of this preoccupation she was worried. No word had come from Dick. Pride would not allow her to call him by long distance.

She stared at the message a long moment. It read "Interview Phoebe, Inc. She knows what Lake City is wearing before we know it—Earle Barnes."

Eve sank weakly into a deep cushioned chair. She was more than hurt. She was even a little frightened. Would this thing she had done always stand between her and Dick? He couldn't leave his work to come with her on a honeymoon trip. Why should he expect her to give up this whole world as she brought a honeymoon home? Oh, why had this whole miserable situation come about?

Later however as she rode to the style advisory bureau of Phoebe, Inc., Eve's trained mind concentrated on the business of the day. Freda Carter was to meet her there. They had made the appointment in a hurried telephone conversation. Freda seldom stopped at a hotel when in New York, as she had a sister living in Brooklyn.

With Freda who was just back from Paris, her head full of fashion news and her trunks packed with French gowns, Eve made the rounds of New York's smartest shops. They spent a leisurely afternoon with some advertising woman over a meal served in a restaurant in a quaint French restaurant.

"That evening Eve dressed for dinner in a new gown of pale gold lace. It represented the measure of her yielding to the temptation to purchase every lovely thing she beheld.

She found herself warming to Freda Carter. With her Eve felt none of the barrier of formality that often exists between women who are brought together by professional interests. They dined pleasantly at Eve's hotel.

"About tonight," Freda said over the coffee cups, "I thought you'd like a musical comedy so I arranged it. I met an interesting man on the ship, Ernest Franks is his name. He's going to call for us at eight o'clock."

He withdrew his arms, turned and walked to the window. Then he said, "Looking for an apartment, of course?" "This one is perfect," Eve assured him. "I'm sure I'll never tire of it."

Dick was silent. Obviously something was wrong. Eve made another attempt. "It's a terrible thing for me to do, I know," she conceded. "I don't believe any girl ever had such a situation to face on her wedding day. I'm sure no one ever had so unsatisfactory a honeymoon."

Dick turned and her penitent expression quite melted him. "That wasn't our honeymoon," he answered huskily. "We're divorcing over a magazine, and went out to a concert."

"I'll never be famous," Irene said as they walked down the quiet street. "Probably I'll never be free from worry, either, but there's one thing I'm thankful for—good old Ell. Get yourself a good man, Eve, if there's one to be found these days!"

Reece was disappointed when the head waiter was unable to seat them at a table in the inner room. A smart chorus of young girls was singing vivaciously, beautifully. The applause was hearty and long. Then the dancing space was cleared for patrons. Franks did not dance but Reece apparently wanted to be on the floor all the time. Again and again he managed so that the center of attention before the other dancers left their tables. Eve was not quite sure she liked this. The lights turned to a rosy glow and the orchestra played a waltz that made Eve think of Dick. Reece held her closely but Eve drew away.

"When they returned to their taxi," Franks was displaying a new cigar case he had purchased in Paris. She passed it around. Eve glanced at the other tables, then hesitatingly took a cigarette. Franks closed his hand over it.

"Don't," he said. "It spoils the illusion." Then he added, "With apologies to Miss Carter!" Freda smiled. She did not mind.

"And don't drink either," Reece added, as he poured the contents of a silver flask into three glasses of ginger ale. "We want you to keep that 'little girl' look. It's a rare thing in a place like this."

As they left the night club Ernest Franks suggested walking a few blocks before he escorted Freda to her sister's home in Brooklyn. "Fifth Avenue is right across the corner," he said. "It's a glorious night and the windows after midnight are always worth looking at."

Freda agreed to walk with him. The sidewalks were dry and her long fur coat protected her against the cold. But Reece protested that Eve's wrap was inadequate, so they separated. Reece signaled a taxi and he and Eve drove to her hotel.

"Are you so absurdly young as you look," he said. Then, without waiting for an answer, he abruptly took her hand. He held it tightly and Eve did not try to withdraw it. After all, it was but a few blocks to the hotel.

Suddenly the man took her in his arms and, before she could free herself, pressed his lips to hers. They arrived at the hotel and Eve, without so much as a good-night, hurried to the elevator.

CHAPTER IV Eve sat at the desk in her hotel room until nearly dawn, writing a letter to Dick. After her unpleasant experience with Theron Reece in the taxicab she longed for the safety and contentment she always felt in Dick's presence. In the letter she did not mention any of her companions except Freda Carter.

Freda left the next evening after a day in which she and Eve were extremely busy. They dined together and Freda asked Eve to call at her apartment after she returned to Lake City.

For the rest of the week Eve devoted herself to work but in spite of this preoccupation she was worried. No word had come from Dick. Pride would not allow her to call him by long distance.

She stared at the message a long moment. It read "Interview Phoebe, Inc. She knows what Lake City is wearing before we know it—Earle Barnes."

Eve sank weakly into a deep cushioned chair. She was more than hurt. She was even a little frightened. Would this thing she had done always stand between her and Dick? He couldn't leave his work to come with her on a honeymoon trip. Why should he expect her to give up this whole world as she brought a honeymoon home? Oh, why had this whole miserable situation come about?

Later however as she rode to the style advisory bureau of Phoebe, Inc., Eve's trained mind concentrated on the business of the day. Freda Carter was to meet her there. They had made the appointment in a hurried telephone conversation. Freda seldom stopped at a hotel when in New York, as she had a sister living in Brooklyn.

With Freda who was just back from Paris, her head full of fashion news and her trunks packed with French gowns, Eve made the rounds of New York's smartest shops. They spent a leisurely afternoon with some advertising woman over a meal served in a restaurant in a quaint French restaurant.

"That evening Eve dressed for dinner in a new gown of pale gold lace. It represented the measure of her yielding to the temptation to purchase every lovely thing she beheld.

She found herself warming to Freda Carter. With her Eve felt none of the barrier of formality that often exists between women who are brought together by professional interests. They dined pleasantly at Eve's hotel.

"About tonight," Freda said over the coffee cups, "I thought you'd like a musical comedy so I arranged it. I met an interesting man on the ship, Ernest Franks is his name. He's going to call for us at eight o'clock."

He withdrew his arms, turned and walked to the window. Then he said, "Looking for an apartment, of course?" "This one is perfect," Eve assured him. "I'm sure I'll never tire of it."

Dick was silent. Obviously something was wrong. Eve made another attempt. "It's a terrible thing for me to do, I know," she conceded. "I don't believe any girl ever had such a situation to face on her wedding day. I'm sure no one ever had so unsatisfactory a honeymoon."

Dick turned and her penitent expression quite melted him. "That wasn't our honeymoon," he answered huskily. "We're divorcing over a magazine, and went out to a concert."

"I'll never be famous," Irene said as they walked down the quiet street. "Probably I'll never be free from worry, either, but there's one thing I'm thankful for—good old Ell. Get yourself a good man, Eve, if there's one to be found these days!"

Reece was disappointed when the head waiter was unable to seat them at a table in the inner room. A smart chorus of young girls was singing vivaciously, beautifully. The applause was hearty and long. Then the dancing space was cleared for patrons. Franks did not dance but Reece apparently wanted to be on the floor all the time. Again and again he managed so that the center of attention before the other dancers left their tables. Eve was not quite sure she liked this. The lights turned to a rosy glow and the orchestra played a waltz that made Eve think of Dick. Reece held her closely but Eve drew away.

"When they returned to their taxi," Franks was displaying a new cigar case he had purchased in Paris. She passed it around. Eve glanced at the other tables, then hesitatingly took a cigarette. Franks closed his hand over it.

"Don't," he said. "It spoils the illusion." Then he added, "With apologies to Miss Carter!" Freda smiled. She did not mind.

"And don't drink either," Reece added, as he poured the contents of a silver flask into three glasses of ginger ale. "We want you to keep that 'little girl' look. It's a rare thing in a place like this."

As they left the night club Ernest Franks suggested walking a few blocks before he escorted Freda to her sister's home in Brooklyn. "Fifth Avenue is right across the corner," he said. "It's a glorious night and the windows after midnight are always worth looking at."

Freda agreed to walk with him. The sidewalks were dry and her long fur coat protected her against the cold. But Reece protested that Eve's wrap was inadequate, so they separated. Reece signaled a taxi and he and Eve drove to her hotel.

Colorado To Tackle Class B Grid Teams

Big Jim To Send Wolves Against Roscoe On September 22

COLORADO—The Wolves are to have their first game of the new year in contest with the Roscoe Flawboys at Centrifl Field, September 22. The Flawboys, strong Class B club, is expected to give the Centriflmen something to worry about during the pigskin melee.

The following Friday, September 29, the Wolves will engage Roby Lions on the home grid. Roby, too, is a strong Class B team. October 6, 20 and 27 and November 24 are open but Coach Centrifl stated Wednesday afternoon that he was confident that games would be scheduled for those dates.

October 14 the local club will engage McCamey at McCamey. The following week, November 4, the San Angelo Bob Cats, among the strong clubs in West Texas, are to be engaged at stadium of the Concho City outfit. Armistice Day will find the Wolves playing the Bull Dogs in Midland.

Nov. 18 the Wolves are to go to Sweetwater for a game with the Mustangs. Thanksgiving they will play the Steers at Big Spring.

Centrifl has been giving his men strong work-outs during the past two weeks. From the letter men returning from last year and several other recruits, some of whom wore the Wolf uniform a year ago, Big Jim is hopeful of building a fairly good team.

DISTRUSTING DEER DEFIES RESCUE

This wild deer, a seven point buck, which fell from a cliff to a hazardous ledge, 200 feet above a dashing torrent at Watkins Glen, N. Y., spurned attempts of human beings to rescue him. Officials of the state park where he was trapped were puzzled over the best means of saving his life. (Associated Press Photo)

South Ward P. T. A. Gets Good Start

Executive Committee Had Four Recommendations To Present

The South Ward P. T. A. met Thursday afternoon at 3:30 in a most interesting and enthusiastic session to commence its work for the coming school term. Mrs. C. T. Watson led the devotional, taking the scripture from Isaiah 6, expressing the theme of service and cooperation.

Mrs. R. W. Henry presided over the business session, in which Mrs. C. C. Coffee, secretary, read the minutes, and the treasurer, Mrs. Jack Nall, gave her report. The executive committee made the following recommendations which were adopted: 1) that no collection be taken at regular meetings of the P. T. A., the financial report to be fostered by money-making projects; 2) that the sum of 35 cents be set as membership dues; 3) that a health rally be held in which all children of South Ward be given a general physical examination; 4) that a pre-school study group be organized.

Mrs. O. L. Thomas had charge of the program. Supt. W. C. Blankenship spoke on some of the problems that the school was facing. He said the P. T. A.'s could help solve these by creating a spirit of service and cooperation, and by seeking children not in school who ought to be there.

Mrs. A. S. Smith and Mrs. Low were the teachers whose rooms had the most members represented. There were 37 teachers and mothers present in all.

CRASH OF EXPRESS, MILK TRAIN KILLS 14

This Associated Press picture shows some of the damage caused by the collision of the Atlantic Express, Chicago-New York train, and a milk train at Binghamton, N. Y. Fourteen were killed and many others injured in the resulting wreck—most of the fatalities occurring in a wooden coach which was jammed at either end by steel coaches.

Miss Hardesty Becomes Bride Of Mr. Elliott

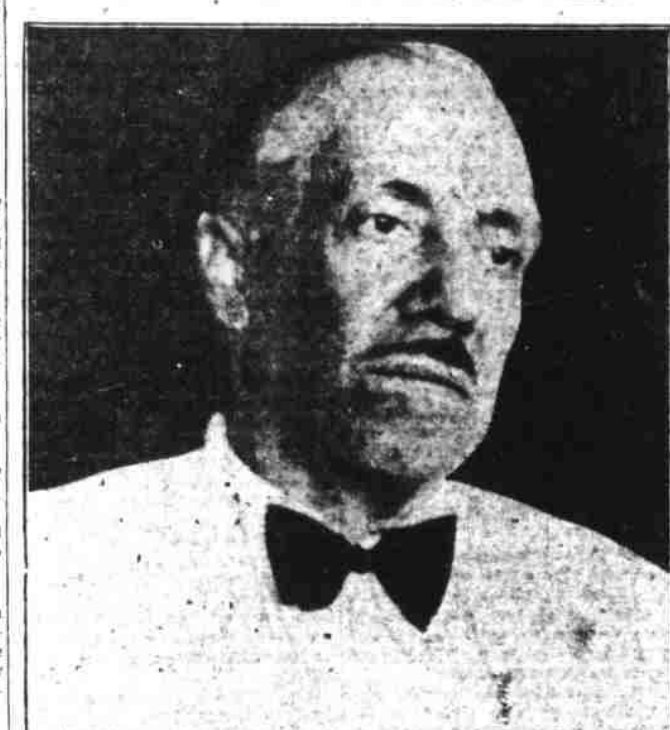

Sunday Morning Ceremony Unites Popular Young Couple

In a ceremony performed this morning at the First Baptist church, Miss Corone Hardesty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Hardesty of Fort Worth, became the bride of Mr. J. D. Elliott, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Elliott of Cleco. Mrs. Elliott, a former student of Simmons University at Abilene and Texas Technological college at Lubbock, has attained a wide circle of friends in this section during the past two years, since she has been on the faculty of the public schools at Ackerly.

Mr. Elliott, a member of the staff of the Cunningham and Phillips drug stores of this city, is one of the community's best-known young business men. He has been identified with the drug business in West Texas for the past eight years.

Mr. and Mrs. Elliott left immediately after the ceremony, which was witnessed by Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Howie, for a wedding trip that will take them to El Paso and Carlsbad, N. M.

MAY HEAD CUBAN GOVERNMENT

Here's a closeup of Dr. Guillermo Portela, member of the "Committee of Five," head of the Cuban revolutionary government, who was declared by the commission as the nominal president before the diplomatic corps. (Associated Press Photo)

Sheets Test Spudded; Work Progressing

Exploration is midway between Edwards Pool and Harding Producer.

W. A. Sheets Oil Co.'s No. 1 Wright, in section 41, block 33, township 1 south, T & P Ry Co. survey three and one-half miles northwest of the Edwards pool, westernmost section of the Howard-Glasscock county field, was spudded in Friday night and drilling started Saturday for a thorough test. W. A. Sheets announced Saturday morning.

Drilling operations will be in charge of Mr. Fairchild of Colorado, a veteran contractor.

This test is due to attract a great deal of interest in West Texas oil circles, as it opens for exploration a strip of country between the western end of the field and the Harding and Brindley producers of Continental Oil company, about three and one-half miles northwest of the Sheets test.

All-City Net Meet Opens

First Rounds In Singles To Start On School Courts

The city's collection of tennis stars and other wise will take to the high school courts at various times during the day for the initial rounds in the annual All-City Net Tournament.

Fifteen players, representing an unusually strong group of local netters, have registered for the event. Joe Davis, defending champ, will meet Fred Savage in the opener. The doubles matches have not yet been arranged.

Pairings:

Upper bracket—Joe Davis vs. Fred Savage, Charles Corley vs. Dr. Bivings, Dr. Bennett vs. Joe Galbraith, Curtis Bishop vs. Felton Smith.

Lower bracket—"Weber" Blankenship vs. Wayne Mathews, Tom Hutto, bye; Harold Harvey vs. Harry Jordan, Bill Savage vs. Jimmy Jones.

LEADER IN NEW CUBAN COUP D'ETAT

Top Sergeant Fulgencio Batista of the Cuban army (above) headed the coup by which the government of President Manuel de Cespedes was overthrown. Batista took charge of the military under the title of "Revolutionary Chief of the Armed Forces of the Republic." (Associated Press Photo)

103rd Death In Sleeping Sickness Area

Research Committee Believes Progress Made In Its Fight

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The toll death of the mysterious "sleeping sickness" in the St. Louis area reached 103 Saturday. Five deaths occurred Friday and Saturday. Friday the research committee reported that apparent induction of epidemic encephalitis in monkeys was seen as the first important step in efforts to ascertain how the disease is spread.

Mrs. L. G. Talley Is Elected President Birdie Bailey M. S.

Mrs. Bertha Martin resigned as president of the Philatelic Club of the First Methodist Sunday school at its regular monthly business and social luncheon Thursday. Mrs. Louis Gregg Talley was elected to fill the vacancy for the remainder of the term.

Mrs. Talley also agreed to meet on Wednesday hereafter instead of Thursday.

Mrs. C. C. Carter gave the devotional and Mrs. G. H. Wood gave a piano selection.

Mrs. Dorothy Levering of Waco was a guest. Members present were: Mmes. Lucille Meek, Howard Peters, Joy Stripling, Tom Davis, Morris Burns, J. P. Johnson, W. H. Remele, C. C. Carter, L. G. Talley, Calvin Boykin, Robt. Hill, L. A. Talley, C. T. Watson, Shirley Robbins, Cecil West, Clyde Watta, Jr., G. L. James, H. V. Crocker, Rex T. McCrary, A. A. Edena, K. R. Woodford, Tom Slaughter.

Westbrook

Miss Robbie Hudson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Hudson, went Friday to Yalena where she will again teach Spanish in the high school.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Barber are the proud parents of a baby daughter born Sunday afternoon at the Root Hospital.

Van Pearson and Calvin Boston are the week-end in Roscoe.

The "Bud" Simpson family of Buford were guests in the J. M. Berry home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Brown and family visited in the Berry home Sunday.

Rev. Murray Fuquay closed a two week's revival at the Westbrook Baptist church Sunday. He returned Tuesday at Plainview where he will reenter Wayland college.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Hooks of Dunn were visitors in the E. V. Bell home Sunday afternoon.

Miss Francis O. Kelly, whose home is in Abilene, arrived Sunday to take up her work as teacher of the first grade work in our school.

Little Misses Joyce and Geneva Campbell of Buford spent the first part of the week in the J. W. Ramsey home.

Miss Nelda Garrett of Colorado visited Burnice Ramsey several days last week.

Miss Luella May of Colorado visited Lauretta and Venetta Byrd last Friday.

Mrs. Bertha Barber, of Abilene visited old friends here Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Watson had the following as dinner guests last Friday: Rev. Murray Fuquay, Jerome Fuquay, Leslie McChira Venetta Byrd, Cassie Hedson, Bernice Ramsey and Nelda Garrett.

Miss Lena Lee Bird spent the first part of last week visiting in Big Spring.

E. P. Gressett returned home Thursday from Iola.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Lauderdale returned Friday from Denton where they attended North Texas State Teachers College this summer.

Miss Cora Ott came in Sunday from her home at Thibod to resume her duties as English teacher in the Westbrook high school.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Rucker and children Alda Rae and Bill, spent several days in Gaines county last week on a Prairie chicken hunt. They reported a good time and plenty of game.

Walter Smith, Mrs. John Wagner, Mrs. Hightower and Mrs. Carl Olesby, accompanied by Mrs. Holly Jackson left Monday for Boyd to attend the funeral of their grandmother.

Mrs. E. P. Gressett spent several days last week in Big Spring at the bedside of her daughter, Mrs. Earl Phillips, who underwent major surgery at Hall & Bennett's sanitarium Tuesday.

Little Miss Gypsy Ted McCollum of Lorraine visited her aunt, Mrs. Burr Brown a few days last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Mike Slaton of Sterling City visited in the J. L. Stripling home.

A. T. York and little sons returned Sunday from Ft. Worth where they have spent the past two months.

J. L. Stripling left last week for Abilene where he has employment.

H. E. Stewart, H. U. Parker and James Willie left Sunday for Wink where they have employment.

Westerners Train Daily

Rufus Ryan Only Regular Returning To Ranks Of Club

LUBBOCK—Coaches Chapman Huffman are putting their string of Lubbock high school Westerners through daily workouts for the approaching football season.

Only one of the candidates was a regular last year. Rufus Ryan, recently named captain of the 1933 forces, is the only returning regular. He was quarterback last year, but probably will be shifted to half-back this season. Rayburn Hale, reserve quarterback, taking the signal calling position. Big Edgar Boberty, tackle; Raymond Billings, halfback and Weymond Newton, fullback or end, are others who have had experience in the reserve corps.

The high school season opens on the night of September 22 when Ohio Bluffs brings his Big Spring high school Steers here. Class A tennis make up the schedule for the 1933 season, Chapman departing from the usual custom of engaging his warriors in Class B competition prior to the start of the conference season.

Lubbock will play the Sweetwater Mustangs at Sweetwater the first week in October.

Westerners Train Daily

Two more miracles must occur after beatification before canonization is complete.

Sister Delfina will testify that in 1925, after she underwent a major operation and extremeunction had been administered, Mother Cabrini appeared to her in a vision. She recovered in a few days.

Peter Smith will tell the tribunal that at his birth in 1921 a nurse accidentally washed his eyes in a strong solution. Blindness and pneumonia followed. After prayers were said asking Mother Cabrini to intercede, the boy's sight returned.

Dallas Man Says He Was Abducted And Taken To New Orleans And Memphis

MEMPHIS, Tenn., (UP)—Carl Bobo, 24, was en route to his Dallas home after kidnapers, having apparently mistaken him for another man released him 30 miles from here.

Bobo, employe of a Dallas bakery, said three men abducted him on a busy Dallas street, drove him to Shreveport, New Orleans and Baton Rouge and held him captive for eight days.

Questioned for more than an hour by detectives here, Bobo stuck to his original story.

The three men picked him up at Elm and Akard streets in Dallas on the afternoon of Aug. 31, he said. Throughout the southeastern ride, he was not harmed, but was repeatedly told to "shut up," he told detectives.

Williamson To Be At Regional Meeting Of Scout Officials

A. C. Williamson, area executive of the Buffalo Trail council, will attend the Region Nine conference opening in Mineral Wells Monday and continuing through Saturday.

The region composed of Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico will draw about forty-five council heads and several scout officials.

"Four men prominent in the national Boy Scout field will appear on the program. They are Arthur A. Shuck, director of the division of operations, Harold F. Pate, director of the division of personnel, Fred C. Mills, director of swimming and water safety, and Stanley A. Harris, director of inter-racial activities.

James P. Fitch, regional executive, who took part in the annual council meeting held here in January, will take a prominent part in the regional conference.

Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Coley have gone to Carlsbad Caverns for the week-end.

Oron Madison Gives Party Celebrating His Eighth Birthday

Ornon Madison, Jr., was given a pretty birthday party celebrating his eighth birthday by his mother at her home at 1905 Runnels street recently.

The guests were entertained by parlor and outdoor games. The grab bag, featuring lucky numbers, was won for girls by Betsy Payne who received a handkerchief and perfume set, and for the boys by Stewart Merrick who received a boy Scout knife.

The favors were white sponge return balls.

A large white, blue and pink cake was cut served on the lawn with ice cream. The guests were: J. W. and Bud Purser, J. W. Robinson, Stewart Austin and Billie Duzan, Commodore Rineer, Dan and Larry Lewis, Phil O'Gar, Billie and Judd Danner, Frank Wentz, Junior King, of Stanton; Gene Battle, Dick Ross Madison of Forson; Robbie Potts, Dean Miller, Lewis Thompson, Charles Mack Hingle, Marjory and Roberta Henry, Betsy Payne, Vernon Earley Wanda Madison, Patsy Madison, of Forson; Jamie Lee Hannah, Micky Gordon, Audrey Entley.

The hostess was assisted by the following mothers and friends: Mmes. Frank Merrick, Paul Madison, Carl Madison, O. B. Franklin and B. O. Franklin.

Woodrow Armstrong Leaves For Tulane

Army's gone! That big Coahoma boy left last Friday night for Louisiana where he will enter the fall session of Tulane University.

Woodrow will be the first Big Spring boy to enter Tulane, and school officials are confident he will make an enviable record in all branches of his work. Armstrong came here two years ago and lettered at tackle on the Steer team both seasons. He was very popular with the student body.

He took work during the summer in order to complete the necessary number of credits to enter college.

School Budget Hearing To Be Held Tuesday

Hearing on the budget of the Big Spring Independent School Building, closed on Monday evening as previously announced, said Prof. W. C. Blankenship Saturday night.

SCOUT NEWS

Scout troops of Big Spring are preparing to buckle down to renewed scouting activity since school has recommenced.

Many boys spent part or all of the summer vacationing elsewhere and attendance was somewhat cut down.

One troop changed its meeting night last week. Troop No. 5 now meets on Thursday evening instead of Friday. Meeting starts promptly at 7:30 p. m. and adjourns not later than one hour afterwards.

Troop No. 1, oldest troop in the state from point of continuous registration, is contemplating changing its meeting night after convening on Friday for a quarter of a century. Tuesday evening is the day in mind.

Big Spring troops are planning some inter-troop competition arranged along the lines of the annual council jamboree.

Area Executive A. C. Williamson, "Chief" to the boys, was in Big Spring briefly Friday. He reported that a new troop had been organized in Bartow and one in Stanton. Others are registering and prospects for the council getting a President Roosevelt award look good.

All Big Spring troops are working toward getting a troop President Roosevelt award, earned much the same as was the President Hoover award.

TROOP MEETINGS

TROOP NO. 3—The troop had its regular meeting Friday night with a very good attendance. Meeting was opened with the Scout oath, and closed with the Scoutmaster's Benediction, after which games were played.

Those present were Scoutmaster Jack Cummings, Halbert Woodard, Tommy Higgins, Aaron McGee, Bobby McVey, Jim Brigham, Wayne Burch, Jack Hatch, Harry Blomsheld, John Blomsheld, Eldon Dorsay Jimmy Meyers, J. B. Bronstein, Austin Burch, Lewis Coffee, Harold Plum, Jack Cook. Reported by J. B. Bronstein.

TROOP NO. 4—Members of the troop held their usual meeting Friday night and all were present but two.

Pastor Woodie Smith of the East Fourth Baptist Church which sponsors the troop paid a short visit. There were also three other visitors: Clinton Hall, Paul Rasch, and Barney Thurman.

After a business meeting a few games were played.

The troop is saving funds to buy some new flags.

Attending were J. L. Andrews, Weldon Biggins, Garrett Patton, Morris Burns, Billie Danner, Frank Lewis, Lee Wright, Billie Wright, Bruce Phillips, Vorda Taylor, Truman Cairns, Arthur Kasch, H. C. Smith, and Gattie Benard. Another attending was Joe Lewis Queen, who is thinking about registering. Reported by J. L. Andrews

Retail Price Control Chief Worry Of NRA

Consumers' Advisory Board Asks Suspension Of Master Code

WASHINGTON (AP)—Newly raised objections of the NRA consumers' advisory board to the price control provisions of codes of competition engaged the attention of the industrial administration Saturday.

The board asked that the master code for the retail trade be suspended pending investigation of the entire subject of minimum price control by a special committee.

Britain May Seek To Pay Ten Per Cent

France Also Believed Preparing To Discuss Debts On That Basis

PARIS (AP)—Information received in French diplomatic circles from London Saturday said that Britain expects to base further war debts discussions with America on a suggestion to pay 10 per cent of the amount owed.

It was learned authoritatively that France wants to negotiate on the same basis which corresponds to the reduction in German reparations agreed upon at Lausanne last year.

Mrs. W. K. Edwards, Mrs. J. Mason Resign From Congenial Club

Mrs. W. K. Edwards entertained the members of the Congenial Bridge Club with a charming party at her home Friday afternoon. Mrs. Sidney House was the only guest.

In a business session Mrs. Edwards and Mrs. Jimmie Mason resigned from the club. During the play Mrs. Miller made high score.

Members attending were: Mmes. C. C. Carter, W. H. Remele, Jimmie Mason, Raymond Winn, Alton E. Underwood, W. S. Wilson and Rufus H. Miller.

Mrs. Underwood will be the next hostess.

Eighty-Four Year Old Mother Of Local Man Dies Here Saturday

Mary B. Fields, 84, mother of Bert Fields, died here at 1:30 p. m. Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Fields, wife of the late Presley Fields, was born February 17, 1849 and was the mother of four children, three sons and one daughter.

Sons surviving are Albert F., of Knobcreek, Ark., Pedro of Southland, Tex., and Bert F. of Big Spring. The daughter is Mrs. Fred Paultz of Hialeah, Kansas.

Mrs. Fields had lived in Big Spring four years at the time of her death.

Services will be held at the home of Bert Fields, 1102 W. 6th street, Monday morning.

Burial will be in the Midway cemetery, fifteen miles north of Abilene.

Rix Funeral Home is in charge.

Rainbow Banquet To Be Given Monday Night By Birdie Baileys

The Birdie Baileys will put on a Rainbow Banquet unlike any other dinner that has ever been served in town Monday evening at the First Methodist church. All prospective members will be invited as guests of the society.

The program will open with a song, "Every Cloud Will Wear a Rainbow If Your Heart Keeps Right," followed by the invocation and welcome of guests. Mrs. W. K. Edwards will render a special piano solo. The chief feature of the program will be rainbow talks, the nature of these to be revealed only at the dinner.

Concluding the program will be a violin solo by Miss Margaret Wade accompanied by Miss Roberta Gay and a hymn.

Episcopal Women To Resume Auxiliary Work

There will be an important meeting of Saint Mary's Women's Auxiliary Monday at 3 p. m. at the Parish House.

All women of the church are urged to attend this meeting and take part in arranging for an informal indoor picnic dinner for the men and women of the church.

The guests of honor will be the Rev. Dr. Richard W. Trappell from National Council headquarters, 281 Fourth Avenue, New York City.

The church dinner will be for adult members and will be served in the Parish House at 7 p. m. Wednesday night, September 13.

Thimble Club Plays At Mrs. McDonald's

Mrs. D. W. McDonald was hostess to the members of the Thimble Club Friday afternoon with a very pretty party. Big Zinnias made charming floral decorations for her spacious rooms.

During the play Mrs. Sam Edson made high score and Mrs. J. R. Hodges visitors' high Mrs. R. A. Goban was also a guest. Mrs. Eubank assisted the hostess in serving ice cream and cake to the guests and following members: Mmes. Pete Johnson, Cliff Talbot, Fox Stripling, W. R. Ivy, W. H. Ward, Gus Pickle, Sam Edson, Joe B. Neel, E. D. Wilson, G. S. True, Russell Manion.

Mrs. W. A. Miller will be the next hostess.

Parliamentary Law Class Made Into Club

The Emma Lard Logan Parliamentary Law Club met for its permanent organization Thursday evening and spent its two hours of business in drafting, amending and accepting a constitution and by-laws.

Mmes. Miller, Underwood, Clere and Althart were on the committee to draft the constitution and by-laws.

Mmes. Blount, Tatum, and Miss Lillian Rhoton were elected as a nominating committee.

Members presented were: Mmes. E. W. McDonald, George W. Davis, W. J. McAname, C. C. Carter, Pat Tatum, R. E. Blount, R. H. Miller, A. M. Underwood, Joe Clere, Rull and Winnie Dell and Lillian Rhoton. Mrs. Newton was a visitor.

The next meeting will be held Friday, Sept. 22 at the Crawford ballroom at 7 o'clock.

Stamps Quartet At East Fourth Street Church Today, 2:30

The Stamps quartet will be at the East Fourth Street Baptist church today at 2:30. The object of the gathering is to perfect a regular singing class to meet once a month here.

All singers are invited to be there at 2:30. A great treat awaits you. New song books are to be used.

Inter-League Title Series Opens Tuesday

Wink Defeated Three Times In Play-Off Series Ending Sunday

ODESSA—The Odessa Oilers, having clinched the season's championship of the Permian Basin League, made the verdict stronger here Sunday by taking the third straight game of the play-off series with Wink, first-half winner, 7 to five.

Odessa was outbatted by Allen kept Wink's hit well scattered. The Odessa club will meet Texon, winner of the West Texas Independent League championship in a three-game series to decide the championship of West Texas. The first game will be played in Texon Tuesday of this week. Texon will come here Wednesday and the third game will be played at McCombs.

The Oilers clinched the championship Saturday by winning 7 to 1 with Brooks Travis, sensational little second sacker, leading the attack. Lefty Briggs, the Odessa Ace, allowed only four scratch hits and struck out seven. Watson, Pippen and Harris also had a touch to do with Odessa's victory. Hinson started the game for Wink, but Mayfield was sent in after four innings.

BOX SCORE:

ODESSA	AB	R	H	E
Travis 2b	4	1	1	0
Pippen 1b	3	1	0	0
Baugh 3b	6	2	1	0
Harris rf	4	0	2	0
Manny c	4	0	2	1
Watson ss	4	0	0	3
Hinson cf	4	0	0	0
Cook lf	4	1	2	0
Allen p	4	2	1	0
TOTALS	34	7	9	4

WINK

AB	R	H	E
Ellinger 3b	5	0	0	1
Hammett c	5	1	2	0
H. Scroggins cf	5	2	0	0
Johnson lf	5	0	0	0
Clingman 2b	5	3	0	0
Richter 1b	5	0	2	0
Porter rf	3	1	0	0
Lybrand p rf	4	0	1	0
Mayfield p	1	0	1	0
TOTALS	42	5	12	3

Summary: Odessa 102 000 40x-7 Wink 100 201 002-5 Runs batted in: Harris 4, Manny 2, Clingan 2, Two base hits: Clingan, Mammett, 2, two-base hits: Harris 2, struck out by Allen 2, Lybrand 2, Mayfield 1; Hit by pitcher: Oakes, 5; Wink 11, Time of game 2:34; Umpire, Curry of Midland; Sand Haven of Texon.

WINK

AB	R	H	E
Ellinger, cf	4	0	0	1
J. Scroggins, ss	4	0	0	1
Wade, 2b	4	1	3	1
Lybrand, lf	4	0	0	0
Johnson, rf	4	0	0	0
Richter, 1b	2	0	0	0
Bassett, cf	4	0	1	0
H. Scroggins, 3b	4	0	0	1
Hinson, p	2	0	0	0
Mayfield, p	2	0	1	0
Seybold, c	2	0	0	0
TOTALS	36	1	5	4

ODESSA

AB	R	H	E
Travis, 2b	5	1	3	0
Pippen, 1b	3	1	2	0
Baugh, 3b	3	1	2	1
Harris, rf	4	0	3	0
Manny, c	3	0	0	0
Watson, ss	4	0	3	0
Cook, lf	4	1	0	0
Lewis, rf	1	0	0	0
Bates, cf	4	1	1	0
Briggs, p	3	2	1	0
TOTALS	30	7	15	1

Summary: 2 base hits, Travis; Double plays, Travis to Pippen; bases on balls, off Henson 1, Mayfield 1, Briggs 0; Strikeouts, Mayfield 2, Briggs 7; Earned runs, Wink 6, Odessa 5; Umpire—H. Haven (Texon); Ellington (Pennwell); Hill (McCombs).

National T. B. Field Man To Be Here To Confer With Local Health Group

Arthur J. Strawson, field representative of the National Tuberculosis association, will be in Big Spring this week and asks a meeting at the Douglass Hotel of all members and officers of the local health committee. The meeting is scheduled for 3:30 Tuesday afternoon.

Officers Here Expect To Make Life Of Whisky And Home Brew 'Leggers' Hard; 27th Beer Application Filed

As the twenty-seventh application for a permit to obtain a license to sell 32 beverages was filed Monday, county and city officers made known that strict enforcement of the liquor laws will be attempted. A member of the sheriff's department, the constable's force, and city authority said that every effort would be made to curtail bootlegging and "home brew peddling." It was the sentiment of City Manager E. V. Spence and the city commission that city officers will be instructed to maintain rigid enforcement of the law.

HARVEY BAILEY BACK IN IRONS

Handcuffed and chained around the feet, Harvey Bailey is shown in charge of police and federal agents at Ardmore, Okla., where he was captured after his break from the county jail at Dallas, Tex. (Associated Press Photo)

Two Charged With Killing Electra Man

Bullet Ridden Body Found In Automobile, Quarrel Over Truck Reported

ELECTRA (AP)—E. A. Blair and Jim Hoyer were charged with murder and held under $10,000 bond each Monday in connection with finding of the bullet riddled body of Duke Martin in his automobile in front of his residence here Sunday night.

A quarrel over use of a tractor Martin borrowed from an oil company was believed to have caused an argument which led to the shooting.

SOASH

The Baptist revival meeting has been postponed for the present time.

Miss Laura Gene Henson of Ackerly spent the week-end at the home of Miss Delma Armstrong.

Mrs. Ed Pierce and family left Friday for Sweetwater, where they will pick cotton for a while.

Homer Palmer and family of Roman are visiting at the home of G. T. Palmer.

Edward Lauderdale and E. L. Pierce were Sweetwater visitors Friday.

Raymond Copeland and wife entertained with a party Friday evening.

Delma Armstrong and Laura Gene Henson visited at the home of the Hannah girls Friday.

Rev. Newcomer of Knott and family were guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hannah Sunday.

Mrs. Lovell Leach and children have been visiting relatives near Roman this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Herold of Bischo attended church here Sunday.

Frank Berens was visiting near Sweetwater Wednesday and Thursday.

R. N. Adams and family attended the Arkansas get together meet Monday at Lamesa.

Rev. Aslin, pastor, of the Highland Baptist church here, has been called to preach at the Baptist church in Lamesa the coming year.

American Support Of New Cuban Government Depends Upon Whether People Of Island Lend Allegiance

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Roosevelt let it be known Monday his attitude toward the new Cuban government headed by Dr. Ramon Grau San Martin depends on whether it has the support of the Cuban people.

While keeping a navy force rimmed about the island in readiness to protect American lives in event of outbreaks it was said at the White House the president is ready to support a government in Cuba which is the choice of people and which can maintain order. His present attitude remains one of watchfulness.

Rites Monday In Stanton For V. Y. Sadler, 65

Long-Time Resident Of That Community Succumbs To Long Illness

Virgil Young Sadler, 65, long-time resident and respected citizen of Stanton, was to be buried there Monday following funeral services from the Methodist church at 4 p. m.

Mr. Sadler, a native of Tennessee, died at his home Sunday about 6 p. m. He had been in failing health some time.

Besides his wife, Maude Alma Sadler, Mr. Sadler is survived by four children. They are Virgil R. Sadler, Mrs. Jim Tomms, and Mrs. Gilbert Graves of Stanton, and Mrs. C. W. Chesser of Southland, A. brother, G. D. Sadler of Tennessee, also survives.

Active pall bearers for the funeral were S. C. Houston, D. A. Purser, C. M. Houston, Milt Yater, W. A. Kaderli, R. L. Parks, Sr., G. M. Morrow, J. W. Chesser, R. E. Hill, W. Y. Houston, J. L. Hall, Claude Houston, A. R. Houston, Charles Ebersoll, J. W. Shortes, J. F. Milholland, G. W. Tomms, Luke Cathey, Tom Mashburn, E. B. Dickson, A. Loving, Wilmer Jones, Eugene Jones, J. R. Joiner, W. B. Montgomery, Charles Charnell, Dr. J. E. Moffett, W. W. Wilkerson, P. Sauer, George Lewis, J. N. Fox, W. D. McWhirter, Joe Stagner, E. F. Smith, Ed Woodward, all of Stanton; J. E. Thompson, Tahoka; P. C. Tomms, Lubbock; John Richards, Andrews; A. G. Odum, Lubbock, Frank Orison, Midland; Roy Ebersoll, Abilene.

Local Jeweler Discovers That Big Spring Rocks Will Take Fine Polish

For fifty years people have picked up colored stones on these Big Spring hills and admired them. Some have washed them off and used them to hold lily bulbs in bowls. Until this year no one has ever thought of using them as semi-precious stones in rings and brooches.

The man who thought of this was George Wilke, local jeweler. He experimented with a few and sent them off to be polished. The results were so lovely that he has sold them to people on the outlook for inexpensive but attractive stones for settings they already had.

Mr. Wilke has a display in his shop now. He shows the original stone and the polished stone. The results are surprising. Some of the stones will make handsome brooches and some dinner rings. What else they can be used for depends on the originality of the purchaser.

Mr. Wilke says these stones are just as pretty as many of the semi-precious stones that bring good prices.

Man Uses Axe To Kill Bride, Step Daughter

Police Catch Slayer In Back Yard Clutching Lethal Tool

CHICAGO (AP)—Peter Kowalski, 42, bridegroom of seven weeks, here last week by the Red Cross chapter were omitted from a list published Sunday.

The following firms had 100 per cent participation in the fund by employers: Big Spring Motor company, Biles Pharmacy, Collins Bros. Drugs, Smith Brothers drug, South Scurry drugs, Western Drug company, Douglas Barber Shop, Settles Barber Shop, Crescent Drug Store, Cunningham and Phillips, drugs, three stores; Cooperative Gin and Supply Co., Southern Ice and Utilities Co., M. E. Cooley, Settles hotel, 43.

Negro Health Week Work Here Ranked High By Officials

Big Spring was one of 64 Texas cities to receive an award from the Texas Tuberculosis Association in connection with the United States Public Health Service for its excellent report during the 1933 National Negro Health Week. Big Spring ranked in Class C in this work.

The report of the state association says that Texas Volunteer Health Leagues sent in more reports and received more awards than any other state in the union. Of these 15 were Class A awards.

This health work consists in the sale of tuberculosis Christmas seals which pays the bills of the health week campaigns and year-round health services among negroes.

The local health committee is meeting Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 at the Douglass Hotel with the national representative, Arthur J. Strawson.

Vacation Bridge Club Has Last Summer Meet

The members of the Vacation Bridge Club enjoyed a picnic at the 12 Mile Lake Thursday evening. This will be their last group meeting before several of the members leave to attend school.

Those enjoying a swim and a delicious lunch were: Mary Louise Gilmore, Margaret Taylor, Jessie Mae Coch, Ruth McIlroy, Dorothy Mae Miller, Mildred Herring, Barbara Freeman and Jennie Lucille Kennedy.

Show Business In Show Houses Must Be Bad

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP)—Texas Guinan said Saturday she was going to Angeles Temple Sunday night and "hit the dust trail," to become an adherent to Almee Seale McPherson's "four-square gospel."

Even for this farmhouse, Muspolini finds time to follow its progress. Whenever near, the indefatigable Muspolini never forgets the drop in the live stock prices. Inquiries of the live stock simple parlor of the house, precious photographs adorn its walls. They show it Duce when 20, his parents, family and on crutches as an invalid in a desolate way.

In no other place in Italy—not even in the security of the Palazzo Venezia in Rome—is the Duce so omnipresent as in Predappio Nuova where one feels a special kind of electricity in the air, trees and earth. For that reason, perhaps, we noticed along the road to Predappio Nuova an informal sugary scribbled in charcoal on the pink-stuccoed wall of a peasant's house: "Long live Duce!"

MRS. OWEN RECEIVES LINDBERGH'S

Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen (center), United States minister to Denmark, received Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh when a reception was accorded the flying couple upon their recent arrival in Copenhagen. (Associated Press Photo)

St. Paul Gang Robs Two R.R. Express Men

Police Says Two Boxes Contained Between $60,000 And $100,000

ST. PAUL (AP)—Eight masked robbers held up two Railway Express Company employees at the door of their office Monday, escaping with two cash boxes which police said contained between $60,000 and $100,000.

Minister And Wife Killed

Son, 16, And Slain Men's Automobile Can Not Be Located

RIPLEY, Va. (AP)—Beaten and shot to death, the bodies of Rev. A. M. Eddy and wife were found at their home at Grace Ford Monday.

The bodies were found by a neighbor who stumbled over Mrs. Eddy's body as he left home. He followed a trail of blood to the Eddy house and found Eddy's dead in bed. A weapon, found near the body of the woman, was identified as one borrowed from a neighbor several weeks ago by the minister's son, Ralph, 16.

Ralph could not be located nor could Eddy's automobile be found. Officers said Ralph is a son of Eddy's first wife.

Ranger Williams Guards Stanton At Murder Trial

When Ed "Perchmouth" Stanton went to trial Monday morning for the murder of Deputy Sheriff Brown of Rhome last winter, he was being guarded by a local officer.

State Ranger John R. Williams of this city received notice Saturday to proceed to Lubbock where he would be held until a trial was set for him through out the trial.

Stanton was an ally of Glenn Hunsucker who was killed in a gun battle with New Mexico officers "Perchmouth" was subsequently captured as he hid in a grassy flat.

'Slim' Slaton Returns From Air Trip To Waco

"Slim" Slaton, local aviator, made a trip to Waco and return yesterday afternoon. Slaton left Big Spring at 1:30 p. m. and returned at 9:30.

He recently installed a new Siemens-Halske motor in his plane. Mrs. Gordon Phillips left Saturday morning for Chicago, where she will attend a Century of Progress. Her sister, Mrs. Naomi Lydia of Baird, and her sister-in-law, Miss Nell Phillips of Corsicana, were to join her for the trip.

Elbow Club Members Discuss Quilt Disposal

The members of the Elbow Club met at the school house Thursday afternoon with seven members and two visitors. The visitors were Mrs. Barnhill and Miss Inez Sellers.

The meeting was chiefly a business meeting in which they discussed the disposal of the quilt they have made. Mrs. Chas. Anderson outlined her trip to A Century of Progress in Chicago and also her home demonstration experience and told the women how active the home demonstration work was in the north.

Seven Men Killed In Mine Explosion

NEW KENSINGTON, Pa. (AP)—Seven miners were killed and one injured Monday in an explosion in the Barling mine of the Hillman Coal and Coke company. The blast was confined to two sections of the mine. Cause was undetermined.

Ray Chambliss, chief clerk of the Texas Electric Service company and Joe Galbraith, business manager of The Herald, left Saturday afternoon for Chicago and a Century of Progress exposition. They expected to be away two weeks.

Mrs. W. W. Smith and son, Charles, are expected to return Monday evening from a visit to San Angelo.

Three Killed, Four Wounded During Break

Officers Lose Trials In Cane Brakes Near Louisiana Prison

ANGOLA, La. (AP)—Scores of armed guards Monday searched cane brakes near the Angola prison farm where eleven convicts were believed surrounded after a bloody Sunday prison break in which three were killed and at least four wounded.

Using smuggled pistols, the convicts escaped from a camp on a Sugar farm at the state penitentiary during a baseball game. In a gun fight the convicts left one of their own dead, Bill Stone, 28, Dallas, as they sped away in a visitor's automobile.

J. W. Fletcher and Arnold D. Harris, also were killed. Captain John Singleton was wounded after he pleaded with the convicts to disarm.

Later it was believed the convicts had scattered into central Louisiana and Mississippi.

U. S. Commissioner Of Education Speaks Over Radio System Tonight

This evening beginning at 8:30 p. m., central standard time, an address on "The Emergency in Education" will be delivered by George F. Zook, United States Commissioner of Education, over a nationwide National Broadcasting company hook-up, according to an announcement received by Supt. W. C. Blankenship of the local schools, who urged all citizens who can to listen in.

List Started Of Unemployed

Effective Monday morning, Relief Administration Homer McNew began the enrollment of all able-bodied unemployed men.

McNew, who is serving as manager for the newly appointed Reemployment Committee for this county, will preserve a list of the unemployed registered. Contractors handling public works contracts in Big Spring and in Howard county will draw their employees from this list. Highway construction is also included in this class.

Those getting employment will be eligible to thirty hours per week. It is not thought that work will be split beyond that point, because such would probably impair the efficiency of a contract job.

Negro Slayer Of Girl Goes To Trial

DALLAS (AP)—Well guarded, Bluit Burkley, negro, went to trial here Monday for the slaying of F. Theryn Prince, 18, August 30. He pleaded not guilty.

Whether "finger man," Bluit and Sweetwater Saturday morning to attend a meeting of the West Texas Hotel Men's association. Mr. Boykin is vice-president of the association.

Miriam Club Members To Put On Play For Lodge

The Miriam Club met recently at the home of Mrs. Coffey for the purpose of arranging a play, "Sophonia's Wedding," to be put on to raise funds for the deprecate staff of the Rebekah Lodge.

After an hour of business, delicious refreshments were served to the members by the hostess. Attendance were: Bennett, Ora Martin, Elva McClendon, Anna Sinclair, G. L. Talley, C. L. Mann, Eula Robinson, Myri Hambrick, Kate Foster, Vera Robinson, Sallie Kinard, Raphael Larson, L. L. Gulley.

Judge William S. Kenyon, Former Senator, Succumbs

SEABOARD, Maine, (AP)—Judge William S. Kenyon, 64, of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals, died at his summer home here Saturday of a heart attack. He was a resident of Fort Dodge, Iowa. He resigned from the United States senate in 1917 to accept appointment to the bench.

Refiners And Marketers Expect Higher Prices For Oil Products Commensurate With Crude Hikes

TULSA (AP)—With crude oil prices near the long sought dollar a barrel range as a result of last week's increases, attention turned Monday to the expectations of refiners and marketers for commensurate gasoline tank car and retail price advances.

The gasoline men believe they will get substantial increases early this week, a belief in which they have been encouraged by activity of the federal agency administering the oil code.

In the manufacturing field low octane gasoline Saturday was quoted at around 4 3-4 cents a gallon. The middle at 5 1-4 and the high at 5 3-4 to six cents.

Trade journals have indicated they still hold quotations not below these figures and bring them up as the marketers who do not countenance cut rates increase their prices. A rising trend has been noted, and next week figures are expected to be around 5 1-2 to 5 3-4 for the low bracket, 6 1-4 for the middle and seven for the high.

A further advance in crude oil prices is not expected by a large mid-continent group immediately on the contention that this would precipitate additional gasoline increases and result in loud consumer protests. Higher crude prices, probably rising eventually to around $11 for 36-37.5 midcontinent crude, are considered likely before the present upward trend definitely is halted, however.

Steers Team Outlook Dark In Practice

Makeshift Combination Of Exes Win From Young Hopefuls

The Big Spring High Steers ain't what they used to be! A makeshift combination of 1932 Bovine stars proved this at Steer Friday afternoon out scoring the high school gridsters 12 to 0 in a forty-minute scrimmage. Bristow's young hopefuls were outclassed all the way feeling for only two first downs against the "Exes" and displayed little or no talent at protecting their zones from a wild passing attack that resulted in both touchdowns.

Howard Schwarzenbach and L. Van Harris formed the scoring combination upon both occasions. Swartz receiving passes that resulted in touchdown gains of 18 and 47 yards respectively.

Captain Bob Flowers of the Steers shone on the defense as recruit after recruit was rushed into the contest by Coaches Bristow and Brown. George Noel, peppy triple-threat quarterback, was injured in the second quarter and was carried from the field.

The "Exes" lineup included Elmer Dyer, Howard Schwarzenbach, Fred Koberg, Fred Townsend, Bill Gordon, Ralph Duval, Clot Cowler, W. H. Coats, Truman Smith and Lillian Harris.

Under The Dome At Austin

By GORDON K. SHEARER

AUSTIN (UP)—The Texas senate which spent many weeks of the regular session of the 43rd legislature in a battle with Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson over confirmation of her appointees, will pass on a new list of appointees at the special session.

Appointments made since the regular session and due for confirmation or rejection are: Member and chairman of the state highway commission, John Wood of Timpan.

Member state board of control, Henry C. Meyer of Rockdale.

State banking commissioner, E. C. Brand of Sweetwater.

Member state board of education, Ghent Standford, Belton.

Commissioner to assist the court of criminal appeals, Charles G. Krueger of Bellville.

State auditor of efficiency expert, George Simpson of Corpus Christi.

State reclamation engineer, A. M. Vance, Austin.

Meyer, who does not look to be with ten years of his 72, has temporarily taken over the portion of the board of control work that was handled by Adrian Pote of El Paso whom he succeeded.

That part is budget preparation and supervision of eleemosynary institutions.

Meyer has received many congratulatory messages on his appointment.

PRESIDENT'S SON AS BULL-FIGHTER

Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. (center) experienced a bit of practice bull-fighting during his visit in Spain. Here he is shown with his cap. With him are Senor Don Romualdo Arias de la Reina (left), his host, and Diego Gomez Laine, a Spanish bull-fighter. (Associated Press Photo)

Lucky Thirteen Husbands Guests Of Wives At Bridge Party At Crawford

The members of the Lucky Thirteen Bridge Club entertained their husbands Friday evening with a party in the Crawford Lounge. Cut roses were used for floral decorations. Mrs. Strippling made high for the women and received a green glass breakfast set. Mr. Collings made high for the men and received an electric lighter and ash tray.

An ice course was served to the one guest, Mrs. Willard Sullivan and the following members and their husbands: Misses Hubert Johnson, L. G. Talley, Mr. Herbert Keaton; Messrs and Misses O. R. Bollinger, Morris Burns, O. M. Waters, Cecil Collings, A. Schnitzer, Hayes Strippling and M. Wentz.

Afternoon, Evening Duplicate Clubs To Be Organized Next Week

Mrs. Ashley Williams announces that she will take reservations for membership in duplicate clubs, one meeting in afternoon and one in the evening, until Thursday. Both clubs will meet Thursday, the afternoon club at 2:30 and the evening club at 8 o'clock.

Due to ill health, Mrs. Steve Ford will not take part in the organization of these clubs. The meeting place for both will be at the Crawford ballroom. Mrs. Williams will lecture each meeting and entirely cover the Culbertson system. The clubs will meet on alternate Thursdays until eight meetings have been held. Then they will engage in a tournament with members of the Forsan club and play off for high.

Ferguson was governor he called these special sessions. Governor Ferguson called one during her former term.

The first legislature (1929-30) had five called sessions called by Governor Dan Moody. The longest continuous session was the regular session of the 43rd legislature which opened January 19 and ended June 1, this year.

Frank Lanham, who was chairman of the state highway commission in Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson's former administration, called upon the governor here recently.

Lanham had the highway department start bituminous road topping, now widely in use. Then was subject of attack.

"I was just eight years too soon," said Lanham laughing. "An engineer employed by the highway department then testified that it was like putting wall paper on a road, now they have caught up with the idea. Most of the highway work is of that type."

"But they are still eight years behind me," said Lanham. "Highway construction has been improved and there are still better methods I could tell them about."

Lanham, a paving contractor before his appointment on the highway commission, is a son of former governor E. W. T. Lanham, and a brother of Congressman Fritz Lanham.

Style Show At Auditorium Shows Big Spring People They May Buy At Home

Merchants Display Taste And Discretion In Selecting Costumes And Millinery For Day And Evening Wear

Style and beauty combined to make "Heads Up" an unusually attractive entertainment Friday evening for men and women. Style drew out the women; and they were well repaid. Never before has Big Spring put on a Style Show in which the models demonstrated with more grace and naturalness; and never before have styles been more striking and showy.

Four different appearances showed as many different winter costumes for various hours of the day.

Models for the Fashion were: Misses Anna Pauline Jacobs and Eva Mae O'Neal, Mrs. Harvey Williamson and Mrs. Tracy T. Smith. Those for Albert M. Fisher were: Misses Mary Alice Wilke, Jeanette Pickle, Marie Faubion, and Modesta Good. For J. C. Penney Co.: Mrs. Shine Phillips, Misses Maurine Leatherwood, Mary Louise Miller, and La Verne Stewart. For La Mode: Misses Pauline Hubbard, Lucile Rix, Alta Mary Shalcup, and Mrs. Arthur Middleton. For Victor Mellinger's: Misses J. T. Allen, Bill Turpin, and R. L. Weatherford. For Hollywood Shoppe: Misses Maxine Thomas, Lola Bell Stewart, Misses Charles Badwick, A. Schwartz, and Tommy Jordan.

Two stores displayed juvenile styles. Representing Mellinger's were Joan Young, Beene and Marilyn ("Toodles") Keaton. Representing Penney's were: Janice Slaughter and Marjorie Thurman.

Three stores demonstrated men's wear. They were: Elmo Wasson, Mellinger's and Penney's. Elmo Wasson and Clyde Angel represented Wasson's store. Cecil Nease and Glenn Queen appeared for Mellinger's. Collins Huggins and Cleo Loper presented men's wear for J. C. Penney Co.

Nelly Don Show Albert Fisher displayed only his popular Nelly Don line. He did this partly because it is one line that women look forward to for styles in popular-priced garments and because most of his New York merchandise has just now begun to come in. Nelly Don makes dresses for every hour of the day but nothing for evening wear, so Albert Fisher showed no evening gowns.

In the Nelly Don presentation were clever mannish type suits, double-breasted and broad-shouldered, dresses with hand-corded trimmings and in the new Fez red, dark blues, handsome fur trimmed coats, stunning silk dresses in silk and wool and jersey. All dresses were shown with all accessories from the Albert Fisher store.

The Fashion The Fashion's models displayed dresses that revealed the season's cleverly decorated necks. In their after-noon costumes in which they appeared in dresses for tea or bridge all four wore striking black ensembles with touches of white, such as embroidered lace, net bows, white braiding on black. The hats were smart close-fitting cloth hats that showed the new millinery style could be becoming and not bizarre as many of the advance illustrations have indicated. E. B. Kimberlin Shoe Store furnished shoes for the costumes for the Fashion.

Other appearances of these models displayed appeared in these: a dress of grey hatched wool plaid, a Kattin suit in zinnia red and coats in black, sea grey and brown trimmed with mountain sable, baby Kolinsky and a sports coat from Printzies in the Upon Downs made of exclusive strook material.

Models from J. C. Penney Co. showed all-around the clock for daytime wear. Most of Penney's new evening dresses had not arrived in time for the Style Show, so this store confined itself to showing what the well-dressed woman would wear in the daytime. Outstanding were their coat and suit combinations, particularly a set gray mon-tone costume modeled by Mrs. Phillips with hat of the same goods and reptile skin slippers.

The same material in a swaggar suit was shown with the coat carried over the arm. A sports dress of black and zinnia red trimmed with monkey fur was one of the striking sports costumes of the show. Another color that almost defied analysis was a mole tupe crepe that looks brown with brown or gray with black. It is very new this year and was worn at the show with brown accessories.

Fenny's made one showing of men's wear when the men appeared in business suits at the end of the afternoon wear. They wore furnishings to harmonize with suits.

Modeling juvenile styles, Janice Slaughter and Marjorie Thurman appeared in coats of green flecked tweed and of blue with two-toned fabric trimmings and hats of the same material as the coats. They showed smart apparel for the youngster during winter days and at winter parties. Janice and Marjorie were as eagerly looked forward to by fathers and school girls as any models on the stage.

Victor Mellinger's mannequins displayed a striking versatility, showing that this store can outfit men, women and child for any occasion of the day or evening. The smart riding habit drew most applause. The model wore boots from the famous Kirkendall boot-makers who make both men and women's riding boots. Even the youngsters appeared in boots.

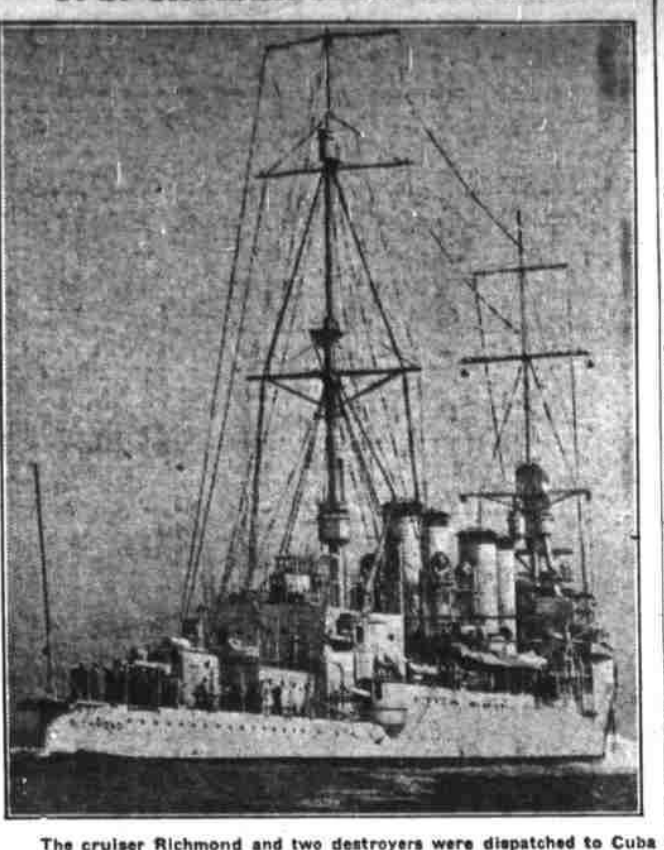

The Beene twins and Marilyn Keaton almost stole the show as they modeled to suit themselves, with Mrs. Turpin's expert management. They wore the cunning little Kate Greenway frocks of the Wohlne carried by Mellinger's only. The twins were darning in an all-white ensemble, white coats, white knitted caps and white boots, also in dotted Swiss frocks.

The men who modeled the popular Curlee suits for Mellinger's showed business suits and top coats at their best and completed the ensemble in a natural, easy fashion.

La Mode The La Mode displayed popularized merchandise on four very attractive models. Their coats revealed the attraction of a combined utility model for the business woman and everyday wear. Particularly striking was a brown striped afternoon frock of that popular new material that every woman must get acquainted with brown accessories and worn with brown accessories and was one that insisted on a second look. An sea gray afternoon costume was also up-to-date in every respect.

In the evening gown presentation the La Mode showed some charming frocks. One model wore a Marvel turban of black velvet with a hair braid veil. This hair braid veil effect is the newest thing along that line and subtly becoming. Another mannequin in a black taffeta evening dress wore a white bengaline coat that caught the eye. Waffle crepe was a popular material for handsome evening dresses, in white and colors. A luscious pink waffle crepe with a coat to match called forth applause.

U. S. CRUISER SENT TO CUBA

The cruiser Richmond and two destroyers were dispatched to Cuba to protect American lives and property from danger in the strife precipitated by the revolt of the army against the new provisional government. The cruiser has a complement of 462 bluejackets and 65 marines. (Associated Press Photo)

Governor Of South Carolina Says He May Declare Holiday On Cotton Ginning Until Price Is Advanced

COLUMBIA, C. C. (UP)—South Carolina Saturday faced possibility of a cotton holiday. In calling a mass meeting of farmers and "their friends" here next Tuesday to consider what steps they would take, Governor Blackwood revealed he is considering proclaiming a cotton ginning holiday until the price of cotton and seed advances.

Miss Robinson Now Collector Of Taxes Here

Loy Acuff, serving his second term as tax collector of Howard county, was ousted from his office Saturday when the commissioners court declared it vacant.

Action of the court came when Acuff failed to post satisfactory bond within twenty days after the United States Fidelity and Guaranty company asked to be released as his bondsman.

Miss Mabel Robinson, assistant to Acuff since he was sworn in as collector, was named by commissioners and County Judge H. R. Debenport to succeed Acuff.

Two dozen persons had placed application before the court when news leaked out that a vacancy would occur. Miss Robinson did not apply.

The following statement of fact was related to a Herald reporter Saturday at a meeting of the commissioners court with all members present.

For the past twenty days the office of tax collector here has been inactive, Acuff being legally unable to transact any business under provisions of the law.

Final attempt by Acuff to make bond collapsed Saturday when the Republic Underwriters of Waco, Texas asked the court to reject a bond a company agent had made.

Officials of the company sanctioned the bond Friday but with the stipulation that they would be released if an audit now being conducted failed to show balanced accounts.

The commissioners court could not accept such a bond and notified the company to that effect.

The present audit, which was ordered recently by the court on Acuff's request, shows a discrepancy in excess of $1,700 in unremitted taxes.

First trouble in the office arose October 19, 1932, when an auditor discovered unpaid accounts due the county and school districts.

Storm Relief Quota Raised Here Quickly

$200 Allotted Over-Subscribed Here, Says County Red Cross Chairman

Howard county has over-subscribed its quota of $200 fixed by the American Red Cross in the quick campaign to raise a fund for relief of sufferers from the hurricane in the lower Rio Grande Valley.

Dr. W. B. Hardy, chairman of the Howard County Chapter of the Red Cross, announced Saturday that a total of $264.87 had been received. He was enthusiastic in his commendation of the prompt and energetic work done by a group of local people and Mrs. Frank Hamblin and Bob Henry, who canvassed the oil field and the Coaden Refinery, respectively.

Mrs. Hamblin came in Saturday with $24 in cash and reported approximately $10 more would be subscribed in the oil field. Mr. Henry turned in $16 Saturday evening.

The remainder was obtained in the city by a group under direction of Shine Phillips.

H. E. Clay, J. F. Millaway, J. I. Pritchard, A. J. Merrick, Jess Slaughter, Mrs. F. M. Purser, V. V. Strahan, La. Mode, J. B. Collins, Jim Eason, T. W. Ashley, Leslie White, B. T. Cardwell, Edmund Sotestine, Nat Hatch, B. T. Piner, B. Rangan, Bob Middleton, Ira Thurman, Bill Inkman, V. H. Flewellen, R. F. Lyons, Blanche Richardson, Marie Faubion, Larson Lloyd, Bob Currie, Ira Driver, Bill Currie, Temp Currie, Grover Cunningham, Louis Price, V. O. Hennessy, Harry Hurl, L. E. Coleman.

A. L. Brown, W. J. Garrett, Amy Gray, Bill Edwards, T. C. Thomas, Albert Fisher, E. McDonald, L. B. Dudley, D. W. Webber, G. D. Graham, A. D. Brown, Jim Davis (Gas Co.), Allen Grocery, B. O. Jones, Barrow Furniture, Ponca Wholesale Co., H. S. Faw, Texas Electric Service Co., M. Prager, Andrew E. Chester.

Fred Hyer, J. D. Leonard, H. B. Hurley, Frank L. Hamblin, J. I. Johnson, Carl Patterson, Mr. and Mrs. Otis Chalk, D. F. Yarbro, Harry Miller, Roy Lamb, S. J. Huestis, Les Ratliff, W. Tate, George Green, C. E. Chatten, Glen Smith, U. I. Drake, E. L. Grant, Olen Caldwell, L. W. Willis, Art Stout, Frank Tate, Mrs. Idella Alexander, W. B. Dunn, W. H. Hurlin, Arthur E. Travis, Dr. D. D. Smith, C. J. Phillips, R. N. Wagoner, L. L. Martin, L. H. Pate, W. E. Harriot, Mrs. W. S. Williams, Mrs. Tillet, W. A. Hill, Glen Hartley, Jack Patterson.

W. G. Hayden, T. E. Jordan & Co., Charles Saunders, J. C. Costlin, H. H. Hannan, E. W. Pike, D. Bailey, K. S. Beckett, J. A. Davidson, W. H. Rennele, O. B. Bollinger, Ticket Agent, Max S. Jacobs, W. A. Sheets, A. Schwartz, C. H. Corley, Fern Wells, Dr. Rogers, Mrs. V. O. Hennessy, Mrs. H. F. Johnson, Shine Phillips, Lester Short, Jack May, R. W. Wise, Coffee, Fred Keating, Chas. Duberly, C. W. Cunningham, J. Moran, W. A. Mathews, Cash, No. 4, Cunningham & Phillips, Lee, Settles Drug, Mrs. G. J. Phillips, C. T. Watson, W. Bedichek, Settles Barber Shop, Handy Andy, Bill Penn, B. Welch, Jessie Cleanera, E. T. Taylor, O. Pitman, Jones Dry Goods, C. S. Willis, A. P. Clayton Jr., Bob Wolfe, Crawford Coffee Shop, A. G. Hall, Day Corneillon, L. A. Eubanks, A. E. Service, Ed Lowe, M. E. Savage, Elmo Wasson, Nat Shick, Mrs. J. C. White.

Fred Stephens, Big Spring Hardware Co., L. S. Patterson, Harold Homan, Thorpe Paint, Anderson Music Co., G. C. Dunham, E. L. Gibson, Snappy Service Station, C. Y. Cienkelski, Carter Chevrolet, W. R. King, Harry Stalcup, K. E. Gowen, Courtesy Service, E. V. Spence, J. V. Grant, George Dabney, Daily Herald, Merle Stewart.

Miss Robinson, who accepted the appointment as tax collector to succeed her former employer, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Robinson, pioneer residents of this county.

In tendering her the appointment, Judge Debenport said that the court's only wish was that she vindicate the court's action in placing this responsibility upon you.

WOODWARD and COFFEE Attorneys-at-Law General Practice in All Courts Fourth Floor Petroleum Bldg.

1st Baptist Y. W. A. To Aid Margaret Fund The Y.W.A. of the First Baptist Church will give the following program Monday evening at the church at 6:45 p. m.: Devotional, Mary Louise Burns, "Scene in College" by the Misses Rhoton; Talk Mrs. C. S. Holmes; "Students' Material By Our State and What the Y.W.A. Can Do for Them," Hazel Brown; Solo by Jessie Morgan. A free will offering will be taken for the Margaret fund.

Get Your Floors Sanded & Refinished While prices are at their lowest! R. L. Edson Phone 526 511 Gregg

Progress! During Our 42 Years of Banking Experience this Bank Has Always Kept Apace With The Changing Time and Needs! Your Account Is Invited! THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK In Big Spring

NATIONAL BANK 1st

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK In Big Spring

Delta Han' Aroun' Club Members Are Entertained By Miss Joe Cole

Miss Joe Cole entertained the members of the Delta Han' Aroun' Bridge Club Friday afternoon in the Allen Apartments with a very attractive party.

A unique color scheme of red and gold was carried out with the use of garden flowers and in the appetizer, playing cards and the refreshments.

Sets of three packets of sachet were presented to Mrs. Wilson for making high score and to Mrs. Kin Barnett for high cut.

Man Jumps On Running Board Of Car In Indiana And Beats Texas Girl

INDIANAPOLIS (UP)—Mrs. James Earhartman, 23, Houston, Texas, was suffering from severe scalp wounds after she was beaten by a young man who jumped on the running board of her automobile.

The attack occurred shortly after Mrs. Earhartman and her husband arrived here from their home en route to the world fair.

As she turned a corner, Mrs. Earhartman told police, a young man jumped on the running board, pressed a revolver against her head and ordered her to drive on. They went about four blocks until they reached a railroad elevation. The assailant ordered her to stop and started beating her on the head with her weapon. He then jumped from the car and fled. Mrs. Earhartman said.

Ikkes Promises Help To Rio Grande Valley

WASHINGTON (UP)—Public Works Administrator Ikkes promised immediate grant of federal funds to assist Texas communities stricken by the lower Rio Grande valley flood. Ikkes said needed money would be advanced without formal allotments in the emergency.

Maine, Dry Since 1851, Votes Monday On Repeal Of Prohibition, 39 States To Decide Issue By November Seventh

By The Associated Press Maine, cradle of prohibition, which went officially "bone dry" in 1851, will vote on a proposal to repeal the Eighteenth Amendment on Tuesday, Maryland, Minnesota, and Colorado vote on the question. By November 7, at least 39 states will have voted.

HERALD WANT-ADS PAY

One insertion: 8c line, 5 line minimum.
Each successive insertion: 4c line.
Weekly rate: $1 for 5 line minimum; 8c per line per issue, over 5 lines.
Monthly rate: $1 per line, change in copy allowed weekly.
Readers: 10c per line, per issue.
Card of Thanks: 5c per line.
Ten point light face type as double rate.
CLOSING HOURS
Week days 12 noon
Saturdays 5:30 p. m.
No advertisement accepted on an "until forbid" order.
A specific number of insertions must be given.
All want-ads payable in advance or after first insertion.
Telephone 728 or 729

ANNOUNCEMENTS

1 Lost and Found 1

LOST—Chinese Chow dog; wearing collar and vaccination tag; 2 warts on lower lip; liberal reward for return to Dad's place 2801 Seury.

6 Public Notices 6

NOVELTY WOODWORKING SHOP
Specialty—cabinet, novelty woodwork, scenic designs, sign painting, showcard writing. Leave orders with Thorp Paint Store, Knapp & Carmack.
307 N. W. 8th

YOUR car will be washed and greased the way you want it done. Our customers know they get a honest job. One drives 24 miles to let us service his car. Why don't you try us and let us prove to you that our wash and grease job is superior. We call for and deliver your car.
Frank's Quick Service
801 Seury — Phone 73
Gas With Frank

8 Business Services 8

L. S. SANFORD, National Cash Register sales and service man is at the Crawford hotel until Thursday. If in need of supplies or service call 803.

FOR RENT

82 Apartments 82

ONE modern garage apartment; 2 rooms; bath; garage; completely furnished; bills paid; also 3 room unfurnished apartment. Apply 111 N. Nolan. Phone 980.

84 Bedrooms 84

LOVELY furnished bedrooms in private home; meals nearby; very reasonable. 611 Bell St. Phone 1066-J.

85 Rooms & Board 85

Room, board, personal laundry; excellent meals. 806 Gregg. Ph. 1081.

89 Business Property 89

FOR LEASE: Beat 3.2 beer location in Howard county. Apply 1408 East 3rd St. Outside city limits; cheap rent.

AUTOMOTIVE

54 Used Cars Wanted 54

SEE Walker Wrecking Co., 206 Austin street for good used cars. See us before selling broken or wrecked cars. Want to buy some used sheet iron and dimension lumber.

55 Trucks 55

1929 Chevrolet roadster. A bargain at $50, cash. Has pickup body. See it at Filstone Service Stores, 507 East 3rd.

WHIRLIGIG—

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1)

The fizz water boys further are looking forward to repeat of prohibition. They anticipate big jumps in their rates of ginger ale and carbonated water.

Only one fifth of the new and heavy auto taxes. They say North Carolina's impost has forced half the bottlers in the State to fold up.

Breadlines—

The Federal Emergency Relief Administration is still engaged in compiling figures that will show a complete picture of the national bread line.

Final statistics won't be ready for a couple of weeks yet but those in so far, would indicate the prevalence in families and individuals dependent on charity has NOT been materially reduced.

Improvements reported (the figures are coming in by counties) are rather spotty. Gains show up in one place and losses elsewhere seem to largely offset them.

Officials of the Relief Administration are not ready to analyze their figures even though they show a slight net improvement for the country.

Privately they admit they are afraid the upturn may be seasonal. Many temporary down-and-outers

CONTRACTORS' NOTICE OF TEXAS HIGHWAY CONSTRUCTION

Sealed proposals for constructing 9,065 miles of Grading and Drainage Structures from the Glascock County line to 45 miles south of Big Spring on Highway No. 9, covered by N.H. 571-D, in Howard County will be received at the State Highway Department, Austin, Texas, until 9 A. M. Sept. 15th, 1933, and then publicly opened and read. The attention of bidders is directed to the Special Provisions covering subletting or assigning the contract, the use of Domestic Materials, the selection of labor, hours and conditions of employment, and hand labor methods.

The minimum wage paid to all skilled labor employed on this contract shall be forty-five (45) cents per hour. The minimum wage paid to all unskilled labor employed on this contract shall be thirty-five (35) cents per hour.

Attention is directed to the Special Provisions, included in the proposal, to insure compliance with requirements of House Bill No. 54 of the 43rd Legislature of the State of Texas.

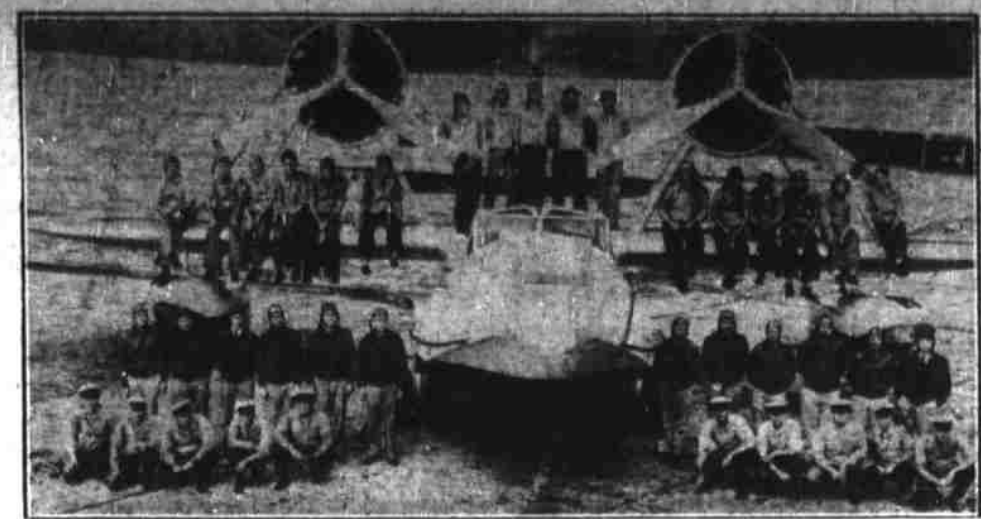

Prevailing Per Diem Hourly Wage (Based on Five (5) Hour Working Day) Prevailing Wage

Power Machine Operators $2.25
Truck Drivers (7 trucks over 1 1/2 Tons) 2.25
Mechanics, Carpenters & Blacksmiths 2.25
Unskilled Laborers 1.75

Overtime and legal holiday work shall be paid for at the regular governing rates.

A local employment agency from which the contractor shall obtain employment lists will be designated prior to the award of contract. Plans and specifications available at the office of W. A. French, Division Engineer, Abilene, Texas, and State Highway Department, Austin, Texas. Usual rights reserved.

NAVY AIRMEN BREAK BALBO'S LONG FLIGHT RECORD

Officers and men of the United States navy who flew six planes in mass formation 2,659 miles from Norfolk, Va., to Coco Solo, Canal Zone, are shown at Norfolk. The flight broke the mass flight distance record Italo Balbo's Italian flyers set in 1931 on a trip to Brazil. (Associated Press Photo.)

CUBA'S NEW 'FIRST FAMILY'

Dr. Ramon Grau San Martin, who was named as the new provisional president of Cuba, is shown with his niece and nephews in Havana. Left to right: Paulina Grau San Martin, Poitita Grau San Martin, Dr. Grau San Martin, Ramon Grau San Martin and Francisco Grau San Martin. (Associated Press Photo.)

Medalist, National Open Champion And Conqueror Among Casualties As National Amateur Matches Start

BY ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor

KENWOOD COUNTRY CLUB, Cincinnati—The "dark horse man" of American amateur golf galloped through the waterlogged battle ground in a "black Wednesday" that saw the national open champion, as well as his conqueror, ousted abruptly; the record-breaking medalist beaten; and the defending champion twice carried to extra-hole engagements to survive the first two rounds of the United States amateur golf championship.

Where other favorites faltered and fell by the wayside, in these "sudden death" skirmishes, C. Ross (Sandy) Somerville, the silent Canadian Scot, who wears the crown, twice came through under the heaviest pressure to save himself defeat.

Somerville went 21 stirring holes in the first round before he conquered the gallant former champion, Chick Evans, of Chicago, then came back in the afternoon to square his duel with Ernie Caldwell, Baltimore "dark horse," with a birdie on the 18th hole and to win with another birdie on the 20th.

Johnny Goodman of Omaha, national open king and one of the big favorites, was whipped in the first round by H. Chandler Egan, 49-year-old former champion from Del Monte, Calif., who fired a sub-par 70 at the Nebraska, bagging a birdie on the 18th to win. 2 up.

Egan, apparently tired by one of summer's pledges signed find that their average prospect doesn't have much idea what it's all about. They are being taught to explain the idea in words of one syllable.

Not all the ignorance is found in tenement districts either. For instance there was a Park Avenue lady who said: "I don't see much sense in this NRA business. It doesn't seem to be helping anybody but the unemployed."

Libel—Associated Gas & Electric is tired of turning the other cheek. This company has been subjected to a lot of adverse publicity in the last few years. Now it is going to file a $100,000 libel suit against the Atlantic Monthly for an article which appeared in the July issue. The author was N. R. Danielian, a Harvard tutor, who had done some routine work for the Rayburn Committee. The case will come up in Boston in October.

Utility companies in general think they've accepted too many bricks without protest.

TRANSFER STORAGE
FRAM WORK OF ALL KINDS
JOE B. NEEL
Phone 79 106 Nolan

Order Good, Clean Printing—And Get It!
HOOVER'S PRINTING SERVICE
Ph. 69 806 Bunnels Big Spring

CLEANING AND PRESSING
Prompt and Courteous Service
HARRY LEES
Master Dyer and Cleaner
Phone 420

BATTERY AND BODY REPAIRING
J. L.
Webb Motor Co.
4th & Bunnels Phone 548

JAMES T. BROOKS
Attorney-At-Law
Offices in Lester Fisher Building

LEGISLATURE—

(Continued On Page 1)

(6) Granting of public contracts only to code observers. The state board of control already has issued such an order without any statute on the subject.

Besides the subjects named in the governor's message, it is expected she will later submit many more topics. Among these expected are:

Amendment of the state racing and boxing laws.
Readjustment of state salaries, cut 25 per cent by the regular session.

Additional revenue to meet the state financial difficulties.
Amendment or repeal of the Robertson Insurance law, which opponents say, prevents foreign capital coming into Texas.

Numerous investigations are also being forecast including:
Investigation of reported sales of patronage, the granting of state mining and wrecking permits, the handling of state relief and an investigation of price fixing in disregard of existing anti-trust law.

The regular session of the 43rd legislature opened on January 10 and ended on June 1, the longest continuous session on record.

HOME TOWN—

(Continued From Page 1)

Income from royalties and from lease rentals. The extremely low prices for crude that have prevailed for more than two years has greatly diminished the income of these people.

Another phase of this question is the price paid refiners for their products. The existence here of the largest refinery in West Texas, with possibly one exception, and without doubt the most active refinery in the entire region makes this of vital and direct importance to this community.

This refinery must have raw material. It now is being reconstructed, with the latest and best machinery that money can buy. Hundreds of thousands of dollars are being into it in materials and labor.

It is a great sight to go out to the Coston plant and watch men at work. The construction program of the Coston Oil Corporation is one of the luckiest breaks Big Springs has had in many a moon.

But, when this plant has been completed it will be a dead monument of steel and stone and timber if crude oil can not be obtained in quantities large enough to make operations worthwhile. Not only must the supply of raw material be available but prices must be provided for the products that will preserve a margin that will pay cost of manufacturing and leave a fair profit.

Therefore, Big Spring people ought to be intensely interested in developments with reference to prices to refiners for gasoline.

MARKETS

Furnished By G. E. Berry & Co. Petroleum Bldg., Telephone 98
Jas. R. Bird, Mgr.

Opening High Low Close
Jan. 905 903 902 906-70
March 988 1000 981 986
May 1009 1018 996 998-1000
July 1018 1030 1011 1013
Oct. 938 953 930 937
Dec. 933 974 933 957-58

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

Jan. 962 976 958 961B
March 978 998 976 980
May 996 1015 992 998
July 1015 1027 1009 1016B
Oct. 929 950 927 933
Dec. 954 971 949 962-54
Closed Barely Steady.

CHICAGO GRAIN MARKETS

Sept. 89-12 89-5-8 87-5-8 88-1-4
Dec. 92-1-2 92-3-4 91-1-2 92
May 97-3-8 98-1-4 96-5-4 96-1-4
Corn
Sept. 48-7-8 48-7-8 47-1-2 48
Dec. 53 54-1-4 52-1-4 52-5-8
May 60 60-1-4 58-1-2 58-3-4

NEW YORK STOCKS

Amn Tel & Tel 130 132-1-4
AT&T Ry 69 68-1-8
Continental Oil 18-3-8 18-3-4
Consolidated Oil 14-3-8 15
General Electric 24-1-8 24-5-8
General Motor 34-7-8 34-3-4
Intl Tel & Tel 16-5-8 16-1-8
Mengel Co 14 14-1-4
Montgomery Ward 25-3-4 25-7-8
Ohio Oil 18-3-4 18-3-8
Pure Oil 12-3-4 12-3-4
Radio 9-3-8 9-1-4
Texas Corpn 29-8-8 29
U S Steel 58-1-2 58-1-2

NEW YORK CURBS

Cities Service 21-8 21-8
Elec B & S 23-3-8 23-7-8
Gulf Oil 86 87
Humble Oil 86 87

14 Men Shot, Many Beaten In Coal Field

President Orders Conclusion Of Bituminous Code Hearing

UNIONTOWN, Pa. (AP)—Fourteen men were shot and more than a score beaten and stoned Thursday as rioting at Three Mines organized the official start of the mining "holiday" in the southwestern Pennsylvania soft coal field.

Trouble flared at the gates of Edenborn and Footedale mines, all owned by the H. C. Frick Coke company, as pickets tried to prevent men from entering the pits.

The "holiday" was voted by representatives of more than 30,000 men impatient at delay in signing the coal code, the men decided to remain out of the pits until an accord reached.

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Roosevelt Thursday sent federal agents to Uniontown to cooperate with Governor Pinchot's representatives in an investigation of shooting between mine guards and miners. He also ordered immediate conclusion of negotiations for a code for the bituminous coal industry.

Coleman Pioneer Dies Near Here

Oliver Franklin Edwards, 84, who settled in Coleman county in 1883, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. J. D. Rosser, on the Brindley farm southwest of the city, at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday. He will be buried beside the grave of his wife following funeral services from the Stevens chapel at Coleman at 2 p. m. Friday.

Besides the daughter, Mrs. Rosser, three other daughters, Mrs. J. H. Curry of Augusta, Ga., Mrs. E. D. Strawn of Houston, and Mrs. Luke Patterson of Houston, and a son, Walter D. Edwards of Merkel, survive.

The body was to be taken overland by the Charles Eberly Funeral Home.

Palbearers for the funeral were to be W. H. Gay, T. D. Shepherd, Dave Kenley, R. V. Woods, Harry Thompson and Will Stevens of Coleman.

President Speeds Credit Expansion

WASHINGTON, (AP)—President Roosevelt speeded up his credit expansion program Thursday in a conference with Jesse Jones, chairman of the Reconstruction Corporation.

Jones said the administration was trying to work out something in the way of loans on payroll.

Linck's
FOOD STORES
1406 Seury 2nd & Gregg
FRIDAY
AT BOTH STORES
Hip! Hip! What Have We Here? Everything To Go With Legalized Beer!
AT A VERY LOW PRICE

Revival Meeting Gains In Force

Dr. A. Reilly Copeland, who is conducting a revival at the Fundamental Baptist church here, will speak this evening on "The Heart of the Gospel." The revival, which is attracting wide attention, gathered more force in Wednesday's evening services, when the evangelist spoke on the text in Romans 4:5, "To Him that worketh not, but believeth on Him that justifieth the ungodly, his faith is counted for righteousness."

World Series To Open October 3

CHICAGO, (AP)—The world's series will open Tuesday, October 3 in the city winning the National league championship, presumably New York, it was announced Thursday after a meeting presided over by Kenesaw Landis, commissioner of baseball.

BURGLARS ENTER EARLY

Taking advantage of an open window, burglars ripped off a screen at Buggs Grocery and made off with several cartons of cigarettes Wednesday night.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. King are moving to Amarillo to make their home.

Not Just Another Pill To Deaden Pain

But a wonderful modern medicine which acts upon the conditions which CAUSE the pain. Take them regularly and you should suffer less and less each month. PERSISTENT USE BRINGS PERMANENT RELIEF. Sold at all good drug stores. Small size 50¢.

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S TABLETS

FOR RELIEF AND PREVENTION OF PERIODIC PAINS

You're miles ahead and money ahead when you buy

US TIRES

of TEMPERED RUBBER

4.50x21	$6.30	5.50x17	$8.75
4.75x19	6.70	5.50x18	9.00
5.00x19	7.20	5.50x19	9.40
5.25x18	8.10	6.00x17	12.00

Every test we ever made, or had made for us, proved the important fact that Tempered Rubber gives 7% to 36% more miles at no more cost. You can easily verify this. Go to any U. S. Tire dealer and get the facts—the truth about tire mileage—the actual figures on comparative tread wear. See the proof that U. S. Tires outwear other leading brands.

PHILLIPS SUPER SERVICE STATIONS
Third & Goliad Sts. Big Spring, Texas

Only US builds TIRES of TEMPERED RUBBER

Cotton Seed Crushers In Code Parley

Proposed NRA Code Considered By Farm Administration Committee

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UP)—A fact-finding committee of the agricultural adjustment administration opened a two-day hearing here on a proposed code for the cotton crushing industry.

D. S. Purph, of the agricultural adjustment administration, and M. H. Pettit, of the NRA executive group, were conducting the hearing.

Evidence given by farmers and ginners from 18 states was in the hands of the committee after a tempestuous hearing on the proposed marketing agreement and code which ended last night.

Final decision will be given in Washington. Affidavits and statements relative to the costs of delivering cotton to the gin mill will be accepted by the committee at Washington until Monday.

Farmers were believed to have scored their first advance in their fight against increased ginning costs when a substitute for schedule was presented and filed with the committee. It was reported a number of ginners had approved the substitute, which would place ginning fees below the code rate.

The substitute suggested the following fees:

- For ginning upland cotton, 18 to 25 cents per 100 pounds of seed cotton in Virginia, South Carolina, Florida, North Carolina, Alabama and Georgia; 20 to 25 cents in Mississippi, Tennessee, Arkansas, Missouri, Louisiana, Kentucky, and Illinois, and 24 to 27 cents in Oklahoma, Texas, New Mexico, Arizona and California.
- For ginning long staple cotton, where special service is required, except in California and Arizona, five cents additional per 100 pounds.
- For ginning pima cotton, 60 to 85 cents.
- For drying and sterilization, five cents per 100 pounds.
- For cleaning snaps and bolls and rough and dirty cotton, five cents per 100 pounds.
- For preparing ginned cotton, 10 cents per 100 pounds.

The original fee schedule suggested a blanket beltwide fee of 25 to 30 cents for upland cotton with five cents additional for staple cotton in California and Arizona, 23 to 27 cents for picked cotton in California and sundry extra assessments.

Lower Passenger Rates Announced By Texas Pacific

Drastic reductions in passenger fares which will permit travelers to ride in Texas and Pacific coaches and chair cars for as little as 1-2 cents per mile are announced by Frank Jensen, general passenger agent.

The new reduced rates are now effective between Dallas, El Paso and intermediate points also on the Transcontinental Division between Fort Worth, Denton, Sherman, Paris, Texarkana and intermediate points.

The new round trip rate of 1-2 cents per mile for distance traveled in coaches and chair cars is considerably less than half of the old rate, Mr. Jensen said. This permits passengers to travel to their destinations and return for less than it formerly cost them to go one way. The new one-way rate is 1-4 cents per mile. The new reduced rates are good in coaches and chair cars on all Texas and Pacific trains including the famous "Sunshine Special."

In addition to the reduced mileage rates, the Texas and Pacific has made drastic reductions in coach and chair car rates from Texas points to and from Los Angeles, San Diego, San Francisco and other California points, Mr. Jensen said. The new one-way California rates probably are the lowest in the history of modern railway transportation.

How long the new rates will be continued in effect will depend largely upon public response to the reduction, Mr. Jensen said. It is expected that they will stimulate sufficient additional business to justify a continuance of the new low basis.

NEW CROP ON FLAINS

ABERNATHY, Tex. (UP)—Irish potatoes have been introduced as a new crop in Hale county. The first carload shipped in the county was from the irrigated farm of G. W. Starnes, 20 miles northwest of Abernathy.

GLASSES

That Suit Your Eyes Are a Pleasure

DR. AMOS B. WOOD
Optometrist
Refraction Specialist
305 Petroleum Bldg. Ph. 225

Woodward and Coffee

Attorneys-at-Law
General Practice in All Courts

Fourth Floor
Petroleum Bldg.
Phone 561

Noted Reporter Dies Following Stroke

WASHINGTON, (UP)—John Edwin Nevin, 57, one of the most famous reporters of his time, died at Mount Alto hospital. He suffered a stroke recently.

Nevin was known to practically every national political leader of the last generation.

As a star reporter for the United Press a quarter of a century ago, Nevin achieved a national reputation for news and graphic writing. His description of the escape of Harry Thaw from Matteawan prison was considered a classic. Nevin was chief correspondent of the United Press at Washington where he obtained a notable beat on the intention of William J. Bryan to resign as Secretary of State because of the Louisiana incident.

Bryan and Nevin were close personal friends and the Democratic leader frequently consulted him. Nevin was one of the limited circle of newspapermen who had the confidence of Woodrow Wilson.

Nevin was also an intimate adviser of Bernard M. Baruch.

After leaving the United Press, Nevin represented the International News Service.

Later Nevin organized his own feature service at Washington and was correspondent also of the Minneapolis Star and the Sioux City, Iowa, Journal. At one time he was chief political writer for the Washington Post and for a time represented the New York Herald-Tribune.

Herald Classified Ads for Results

Mrs. Nichols Entertains Club At Mrs. McCleskey's

Mrs. Vivian Nichols entertained members of the Ely See Bridge club Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. N. W. McCleskey.

Mrs. J. B. Young made a short talk calling the attention of the members to the NRA, and urging its support.

During the games, high score was won by Mrs. Young and second by Mrs. Bliss. Mrs. A. E. Service was the only guest.

Members present were: Miss Tom Ashby, Lee Rogers, R. E. Bliss, V. Van Gleason, O. L. Thomas, Victor Martin.

Mrs. Van Gleason will be the next hostess.

Read Herald Want Ads

666

LIQUID TABLETS, SALVE, NOSE DROPS

Checks Malaria in 3 days. Colds first day. Headaches or Neuralgia in 20 minutes.

Fine Laxative and Tonic

Most Speedy Remedies Known.

A Nation Wide Sale! Sensational 1933 Values! WARDS Great September SALE OF HOUSEWARES

<h3>Food Chopper</h3> A Word Value!  $1.00 Here's a $1.39 value! Cuts 3 lbs. per minute. Heavily tinned. Has four reversible knives.	<h3>Clothes Pins</h3> A Word Value!  5c doz. Good old favorites! Polished hardwood. 4-inch length. And you usually pay at least 10c!	<h3>Turn Toaster</h3> A Word Value!  $1.19 A turn-over toaster new in design with a bakelite base. Make a Toast to your taste. Buy it!	<h3>Stout Water Pail</h3> A Word Value!  12c Look! A 18c value. Better buy several 10-gal. hot-dipped, handy wire ball!
 69c 3-pc. Knife Set Stainless steel Keen. 89c value.	 $1.00 Deep Fryer— Cast iron, self basting. $1.25 value!	 29c Clothes Line— 50 ft. Strong. Solid braided cotton line. A 40c value!	 $1.49 Ironing Board — Padded. Sturdy. 3 legs. $2.00 value!
 59c 10 1/2-In. Skillet — Polished— cast iron. 79c value!	 $1.00 Dutch Oven— 5-qt. Self basting ing ground. $1.25 value!	 89c Clothes Basket — Woven top rim and handles. $1.00 value!	 $1.00 Bread & Cake — Ena meltd. Green, Ivory. $1.25 value!

Now! Introductory Sale of New ALUMINUM WARE

New Shapes! New Designs! New Low Prices—

5-Qt. Tea Kettle $1.19

Of extra hard metal, this kettle will bubble merrily thru years of service! Black bottom saves 10% to 20% in fuel cost. Stationary non-slip handle.

79c

Windsor Kettle
4-qt. For pot roast and general cooking.

69c

Double Boiler
1-1/2-qt. Wide bottom. Easy grip handle.

89c

69c

Sauce Pan
Windsor style
2-qt. Useful every day!

$1.00

Percolator
2-qt. Saves on fuel.

79c

French Fryer
3-qt. Patent basket means no dripping.

$1.29

Dishpan
Easy grip steel handles. Wide rim. 14-qt.

 14c 22-Oz. Soap-chips— Thin for quick suds. A regular 18c value.	 50c Wash Tub No. 2 Galvanized. 69c value!	 39c Wash Board— Crimp brass rubbing surface. 59c value!	 $2.88 Dinner Set— 32-pc. Service for 6! $4.95 value.
 69c Combined— 8-qt. vitreous Porcelain enamel. 89c value.	 95c 5-ft. Step Ladder— Each step rodged. $1.25 value!	 $2.89 Carpet Sweeper— Wood case. Sturdy. $3.50 value.	 49c New Dust Mop Washable— reversible. 69c value.

The "Latest Thing" Is Always At Ward's . . . DRESSES

$5.95

Priced with keen eye for values!

Smart detail at shoulders and neckline! Supple fabrics! Darker colors for fall! A fresh group of dark crepes for autumn is just in! Shop at Wards for "fashion-firsts"—you know they're new, you're sure they're smart, and of course, always thrifty priced! New fall crepes in sizes for misses.

Flat Crepe

Ward's Cotton

79c

After these are gone, the price goes up. Buy NOW—new fall prints.

Cotton Prints

Ward's "Silviana"

15c

Price alone does not sell "Silviana!" They're tubfast, smart, full 36 in.

Sturdy Muslin

Unbleached

10c

Standard quality. Makes sheets, mattress covers, etc. Full 38 in. wide.

Tots' Sweaters

All Wool!

59c

All wool and in newest pattern and color combinations. 3-6 years. Save!

LATEX welds Riverside Cords into a super strong unit—gives BLOW-OUT PROOF RIVERSIDE TIRES!

Save with Safety!

RIVERSIDE TIRES

Low $4.98 As $7.40-11

Other Sizes Similarly Low

Free Tire Mounting

Riversides are built to prevent the cause of blow-outs! Cords are of extra strong premium cotton. Every cord is dipped in LATEX—100% pure, liquid rubber. This welds them into a super strong unit! It gives Riversides the strongest carcass made! It resists the effects of blistering heat that develops inside the tire! It prevents cord separation—the cause of blowouts!

We Guarantee to Save You Money

*RIVERSIDE TIRES will not blow out under normal road conditions during the life of the tread if they are kept properly inflated according to specified air pressures.

FREE TIRE MOUNTING

Yes! Splendid Woolens . . . Brand New Fall Patterns! MEN'S SUITS $11.95

Wool Soared 100% Since This Purchase

The wool market "ran riot" these past few months. We bought way back in April. This exceptionally low price would be unheard of if we bought them today! Stunning new chalk stripes . . . plaids . . . checks . . . fancy blues. Excellent tailoring. Superb linings.

Sheer? Yes! And Long Wearing 3-Thread Chiffon HOSE 79c

Very special hose — for "special occasions" at a special price! Perfect quality — our finest gauge, full fashioned, pure silk. Dull lustre, looks expensive and alluring. New shades.

Cannon Towels

A Word Value!

19c

Deep, double loop turkish towels. 22x44. Bath size. Big colored borders.

81x99 Sheets

Ward's Treasure Chest

$1.00

Firm, smooth, fully bleached. Hand torn, and hemmed. No filling. Values!

SAVE HALF! 100% Pure Pennsylvania OIL 16c

Money can't buy better oil! Riverside Oil is made from crude of Bradford District, Pennsylvania, where nature stored the world's finest!

SAVE ON GREASE!

Riverside Cup Grease, 5 lbs. . . . 75c
Gear Lubricant, 5 lbs. . . . 79c
High Pressure Grease, 5 lbs. . . . 79c

Quart In Your Container

Men! Here's Value! Black Elk, Hi-Cut WORK SHOES $1.79

$1.98 buys a lot of value in this shoe! Grain leather insole. 3/4" ask leather middle sole . . . rubber outsole. Nailed and sewn construction. Cloth lined v.a.s.p. Comfortable plant toe.

Pioneers—are built to stand months of wear! OVERALLS (or Jackets) $1.00 ea.

Ward's most popular overall value! Extra heavy, extra sturdy denim. Triple stitched, bartacked, — strongly sewn at points of strain. Miners, farmers, builders.

Pillow Cases

Ward's Treasure Chest

27c

Actually improve with laundering! Soft, white muslin. 42x36 in. Values!

Blankets

Ward Value!

$1.98

3 lb. Blankets, 66x80 inches with sixteen bound ends. Pastel colors.

This Low Price can't last! TRUKOLD ELECTRIC $84.50 now only

Big price increases have been announced on other famous electric refrigerators! But Trukold's price is still at the all-time low! It can't last! Buy now and save!

This new roomy Trukold keeps food as safe as others costing $100 and more! Has 4 cu. ft. of food storage space. Freezes 42 ice cubes.

Larger Trukolds $104.50 - $147.50 - $179.50

WORK SHIRTS —at a price that's typical of Ward Savings 79c

Save now by coming to Wards for these Super Pioneers—made of fine yarn chambray, triple stitched. Double elbows. Eyes! Armholes! Boy's Work Shirts, 50c.

MONTGOMERY WARD

3RD & GREGG BIG SPRING PHONE 280