Official Says New Men Will Go In Service

CITIZENS SERVED BY ROAD APPEAL TO PRESIDENT FOR INTERVENTION

WASHINGTON (AP)—The dispute between the Southern Pacific and its employees in Louisiana and Texas was referred Friday to President Roosevelt when the federal mediation board decided there was nothing more it could do.

HOUSTON (AP)—Employers and employees of the Southern Pacific Railway in Texas and Louisiana stood their ground Friday while residents of the area the system serves looked hopefully to President Roosevelt to avert the strike scheduled for noon Saturday.

It was estimated 3,000 men planned to quit their jobs at the appointed hour unless adjustment of differences is made with the railway or the federal government intervenes.

McDonald, general manager of the lines in the two states said Thursday night "no further negotiations will be made to the workers."

The Houston Chamber of Commerce, and the Lafayette, La., Rotary club sent telegrams to President Roosevelt urging him to take a hand in the controversy. They said business generally was greatly alarmed over prospect of the strike, and expressed the hope he would take steps to prevent interruption of interstate and intrastate commerce.

McDonald said the company was making plans to replace the workers who strike. Applications are coming in by the "armful," he said.

Telegrams from the principal cities of the east offering to furnish any number of experienced men, have been received, he said. Railway brotherhood officials say their position is unchanged and that the strike goes on unabated unless there arises some means of intervention.

De-Doled—

Pasts this up as a prediction. A definite formula for taking care of the unemployed by work rather than charity is going to grow out of the Civil Works Administration experiment, designed to put 4,000,000 men in jobs by the first of the year. Federal bread relief is about at an end.

The Roosevelt administration is evolving a long-range planning proposition that will put the payroll in place of the dole over a period of at least ten years.

De-Sabotage—

Still predicting, this will be worked out on a definite ration of financial outlay by the national government and by the states, municipalities and counties. The bulk of the money as usual will come from the federal government.

HOBBBS, N. M.—When the Hobbs Eagles soundly thrumped Carlsbad last Friday by a 19-0 count, "Saw the Steer's Horns" was their battle-cry, and it is very probable that the green proteges of Coach West, playing for the first time against a Class A Texas club, will play about forty per cent above their heads to do that very thing.

3 Thousand Evangelical Pastors Revolt Against Radical Nazi Churchmen

BERLIN (UP)—Three thousand evangelical pastors were in revolt against radical Nazi churchmen. Church observances of the 450th anniversary of Martin Luther's birth were made the occasion for the reading of a manifesto complaining that high church officials failed to protest when Rev. Reinold Krause, of the German Christian church faction, made a speech in their presence urging further "Aryanization" of the church.

cause of old age, physical infirmity or other inability to do hard work. In 1932 there were tens of thousands of elderly people who had saved enough money to secure them for the rest of their lives. The crash left them destitute and helpless. This is the group that will be shouldered back on the community for care while the government gives employment to the able-bodied. The theory is that the community's load will be lightened sufficiently to harbor its own inefficient without further government aid. This whole idea will be complicated seriously if the communities balk or fail to cooperate. In foreign countries there are no state lines and the government arbitrarily puts its people to work. Here each state is jealous of the other's appropriation. Deep-rooted political bias in demand a pro-ratio cut regardless of merit. If the administration can overcome this the age line should dissolve into one of meat and vegetables. Bait—Now that the master code for the food industry has exploded square in front of the gentlemen running the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, they are trying a new tack. They couldn't get everybody under one tent because each group thought it could spot the twist of the knife. Here's what's about to be proposed: A sweeping distributive code that will embrace the wholesale and retail grocers; a blanket code for manufacturers of food products. There is one big cut in the manufacturers' code. It will be like the President's blanket NRA agreement in that any sub-division may enter a code of its own and work under it thereafter if approved. This will be the bait to get an original agreement.

Fog—The highlight of the retail-wholesale grocers' distributive code will be a definite declaration that the grocers agree to prohibit "destructive price-cutting or use of loss leaders." Amplifying clauses will set forth exactly what price-cutting and loss leaders are. If the NRA code for retail dry goods merchants is held legal in its stipulation that a reasonable markup should be added to actual cost to take care of wages, AAA may include a like paragraph in the distributive code. If they do they will use the word "shall" instead of the foggy "should" that is causing all the trouble in the dry goods agreement. Notes—General Johnson probably wishes he'd never added that phrase "crack down" to his explosive vocabulary. The records so far show he hasn't. Negotiating with Henry Ford at Warm Springs places President Roosevelt at a disadvantage. Ford's son, Edsel, put up the money for the swell swimming pool the patients use. Postmaster General Jim Farley should take heart despite the hearing repeal got in North Carolina. An editorial in a leading newspaper, after reviewing Farley's rebuff in the Carolinas and the New York mayoralty fight, calls attention to the gloomy outlook a year and a half ago when Jim was seeking delegates for Mr. Roosevelt. "Farley's too good a fighter to go down with a couple of light taps on the chin" it is observed.

War—The truce between Washington and Wall Street—result of the spring emergency on Washington's terms—over. Preliminary signing will soon give way to a general engagement with publicity for bullets and "round money" for battle-ground. Local financial powers have recovered from the fear of general collapse which caused them to accept Roosevelt's leadership some months back. Recovery to date has changed their ideas of taking the veil permanently. So now they want to lead the nation back to "common sense." The financial big shots are authentically interested in orthodox money but that's only part of the picture. Their real aim is the restoration of their own importance in the national scheme. The world is out of joint when they don't run it. The ancient slogan "less government in business" will be overhauled and given new motors. Impartial New York observers size up the rebellion as poor strategy badly timed. They point out what a break the President gets when the Tory opposition out in the open. They predict it will effectively unite Congress behind him on monetary policy with a keener yen than ever for rigid regulation of the various phases of high finance. An important part of the war will be fought in the air (waves). It is something more than poetic license to say that Father Coughlin—the radio priest—is an unofficial big gun for the government. Will Rogers is an important piece in the opposing battery. Armies—The Wall Street generals prefer to direct things from an invisible dugout if possible. But it isn't likely they can stay out of sight. They had a deft hand in arranging the sound money meeting at Carnegie Hall under the auspices of the American Legion, the Federation of Labor, and the Crusaders. The demonstration is local as far as these organizations are concerned. It is doubtful whether they will commit themselves nationally. Comeback—The infatuation comeback to the capture gathering will probably be a man meeting at Madison Square Garden with Father Coughlin as chief speaker. Madison Square holds about seven times as many people as Carnegie and they expect to pack it to the roof. Local inflationists say they wanted the opposition this would happen if they started anything. The opposition has gone ahead regardless. Captures—Keen New York observes comment that the left wing radicals have failed to capture the Democratic or Republican party, the Federation or the Legion—any one of which would have put them on the map for keeps. But the Tories have captured the U. S. Chamber of Commerce and the National Association of Manufacturers for whatever good it will do them. C. of C.—The Elias Strawn-Julius Barnes leadership of the Chamber of Commerce anti code drive is locally rated a big help to the administration. Both were staunch Hooverites. A leading New Yorker of the younger flight comments: "The main trouble with the Chamber is that it's too McKinley-minded." The utilities still cherish fond hopes of heading off public-ownership competition through the Chamber of Commerce. That seems to be the King Canutes. Supporters—There is a definite cleavage growing wider between the Stock Exchange crowd and the banking community. The brokers are more and more inclined to string along with the new monetary policy although opinion is by no means unanimous. The banks are still standing very pat. Approval—The industries which staged the toughest battles before accepting their codes are now privately more pleased with them than anybody else. Steel, oil and coal executives are fairly purring at the prospect for rational future development. That makes it sort of hard for the conservatives to prove the codes are unjust monstrosities and that business must be handed back to its own control forthwith. It's like a temperance lecturer having his horrible example walk out on him. Exports—The slump in the dollar has been peaches and cream to the motor industry. For the first time in years they are having trouble keeping export shipments up to date. Some companies have had to solve a crate shortage—having failed to stock up because they didn't see what was coming. Some manufacturers may hold up their new models several weeks to take full advantage of this unexpected outlet for their surplus stock of current models. Gold—Financial experts say that the Roosevelt monetary policy includes the purchase of gold from the Bank of France as a means of forcing the franc up. When it reaches a sterling they think it likely that France will have to abandon gold payments. They add that a world price rise is at the bottom of the President's international monetary manipulation—in spite of Europe's squawks. Miss La Velle Is Shower Honoree—On Thursday evening, Miss Pauline Schubert entertained with a lovely bridal shower for Miss Wanda LaVelle. The house was attractively decorated with a color scheme of pink and silver. Miss Agnes Bugg registered the guest in a clever umbrella guest book. Then followed some appropriate contests, in which Mrs. Rippe, Mrs. C. E. Willis, and Mrs. Harry Weeg won the prizes, which they presented to the honoree. Miss Mary Alice Leslie gave several beautiful selections on the piano accordion and Miss Stella Schubert gave two vocal solos. Then the bride was presented with an umbrella of beautiful gifts. The bride cut the three tier wedding cake, which was decorated with a miniature bride and groom. Refreshments were served to the following guests: Misses Mary Alice Leslie, Agnes Bugg, Stella and Lillian Schubert, Edna Sikke, Francis Barnett; Meses Harry Weeg, W. Clifton, J. V. Davis, A. M. Rippe, Geo. Mims, S. F. Leathers, C. E. Willis, J. J. Green, Tom Slaughter, Bill Gilmer, M. Schubert, Frank Wilson, Sophie Cochran, Chas. Cooksey, Edith La Velle, Mrs. Fannie Buckley and the hostess. Those who were unable to attend but sent gifts were: Misses Jessie and Evelyn Bugg, Minnie Morgan, Mrs. Des Davis, Miss Alma Rueckart, and Mrs. Bertha Rueckart.

All-Around Bridge Club Meets For Tacky Party—Mrs. R. V. Foresyth entertained the All-around Bridge Club Wednesday afternoon with a tacky party. The rooms were decorated with various-colored chrysantheums. The members were invited to wear tacky costumes. Mrs. Woods was the high scorer and was presented with a Hans handkerchief. Mrs. Chapman was voted the "tackiest" member and given a tie rack. Mrs. Black was "tackiest" visitor and was favored with a cigarette case. The refreshments consisted of corned beef, cabbage, buttermilk and cornbread, and were served to the following: Meses, A. F. Gilman, W. I. Carr, M. M. Woods, J. P. Chapman, D. E. Day, A. E. Walker, J. F. Price, E. B. Black, and L. J.

Church Topic Of Mr. Hailey

Evangelistic Services Continue At Church Of Christ "The Church of Christ," as it centers in and around Christ, was the theme of Homer Hailey's sermon last night at the Church of Christ meeting house, Fourteenth and Main. The subject of his address tonight will be "Identifying the Church Jesus Built." There will be no day service Saturday, but at the evening service Mr. Hailey will discuss "The New Creature in Christ." Every one is invited to these services. "The church," said Mr. Hailey, "is a called-out body of people, enjoying the remission of their sins to the name of Jesus, having been baptized into the name of the Father, Son, and Holy Spirit. Some of the things that characterize the church are: "Its foundation. Jesus said 'upon this rock I will build my church,' (Matt. 16:18); the rock being the confession made by Peter of His divinity. Paul declared 'our foundation can no man lay than that which is laid, which is Jesus Christ' (1 Cor. 3:11). Jesus was declared to be the Son of God by the resurrection from the dead, (Rom. 1:3, 4). Therefore, the rejected stone could not become the head of the corner; nor Christ's divinity foundation until His resurrection from the dead. Upon that foundation rests the faith and hope of the church. "Its head. Jesus Christ is the head of His church; 'He gave Himself to be head over all things to the church, which is His body, the fulness of Him that filleth all in all,' (Eph. 1:22, 23; 'He is the head of the body, the church,' Col. 1:18. As head He is mediator, 'there is one mediator between God and men, himself man, Christ Jesus,' 1 Tim. 2:5, with all authority in heaven and on earth. 'All authority in heaven and on earth hath been given unto me,' Matt. 28:18. 'That in all things he may have the preeminence,' Col. 1:18. "Its creed. Is Christ and His Teaching, 'teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you,' Matt. 28:20. The article of faith of the church is Christ, it is in Him that all faith is centered. "Its name: the church is generally referred to in the New Testament as the 'church,' but as it respects God, 'the church of God,' (1 Cor. 1:2) for it is His family; as respecting Christ, 'churches of Christ,' Rom. 16:18. His terms designate possession, ownership. In other places the church is spoken of as 'the household of faith,' the 'house of God,' 'the household of God,' 'the church of the firstborn'; all such terms designating ownership; belonging to God and Christ. God has named the individual members Christians; 'the disciples were called Christians first at Antioch,' Acts 11:26; 'but if a man suffer as a Christian, let him not become ashamed; but let him glorify God in this name,' 1 Peter 4:16. "Its price. continued the speaker, "was the blood of Christ, 'the church of the Lord which he purchased with his own blood,' Acts. 20:28, also 1 Peter 1:18, 19. The church is the saved, blood bought institution, made up of the saved. "Its membership is made up of 'added' individuals, the Lord having laid the adding, Acts 1:41, 47. In order for one to inherit with a family, he cannot be a member of the family except by process of law, either birth or adoption; both figures are applied to the Christian, John 3:5; Romans 8:14-17. Since the church is God's family, one can only become a member by obeying the law of induction. God hereby adding him to the family, he church. If a member by obeying the law of induction, God thereby adding him to the family, the church. If faithful until death, he becomes a joint heir with Christ, Rom. 8:16, 17," the speaker concluded.

It's A Whale Of A Story

Remember Moby Dick? And did you ever see a whale? Not a whale in moving pictures, but a real honest to goodness whale in the flesh? Not? Well, here's your chance. Macon E. Willis, general representative, for the Pacific Whaling company, of Long Beach, California, was in Big Spring yesterday making arrangements with city officials, to bring to Big Spring their mammoth marine exhibit, which features a monster whale fifty-five feet long and weighs more than sixty-eight tons. The exhibit is on a specially constructed all steel rail road car, 100 feet long, and will be placed on the siding near the Texas & Pacific depot for exhibition next Thursday and Friday, November 30 and Dec. 1. Everywhere this exhibit has appeared, it has created a wide community interest because of its educational value to the younger element who can see at first hand what their parents in most instances have not been able to witness during their lives. Captain Mike Dolan, veteran whaler, will be here with the exhibit, and is "skipper" in charge of the crew of men that explains the modern and old time methods of whaling.
