

Band And Twirling School July 14-27
McMurry College

Six additional twirling instructors have been added to the staff of the McMurry College Summer Band and Twirling School, set for July 14-27, Dr. Raymond T. Bynum, Director, has announced.

Dr. Bynum also announced the addition of one new instrument instructor and three members of the administrative staff for the school.

New members of the twirling staff are Andrea Aldredge of Dallas, and the celebrated "Maidenettes" composed of Barbara Brown of Brownfield, Leay Lenamon of Albany, Joretta Hall of Lorraine, Gena Cox of Brownfield and Jane Daugherty of Liberal, Kans.

Additions to the teaching and administrative staff include Russell McKiski, Oboe & Bassoon; Gene Young, dean of boys; Mrs. Gwen Green, dean of girls; and Miss Maedell Long, assistant dean of girls.

Classes will be offered in individual instruments, conducting, marching, and twirling, stage band, theory and concert band performance.

Miss Aldredge, instructor of a famous twirling school in Dallas, is one of the flashiest twirlers ever to perform in the Abilene area, Bynum said. She will have Lancelle Rowell, a professional twirler with the Dallas Texans, who is winner of 20 twirling contests and was "Miss Majorette of Texas" in 1957. Betty Tate, drum major and work specialist, and foundry drum major with the McMurry Indian Band, rounds out the twirling and marching staff. This is director of Jefferson Junior High School Band in Abilene.

All of the Maidenettes have won twirling in University Interscholastic League and are members of a national twirling association. They are all experienced teachers as well as performers.

A staff of at least 20 will lead the famed band and twirling school. Students will live on the McMurry campus during the two weeks but may live off campus if it is more convenient for them. Appropriate chaperoned social activities and sports are being arranged during the off hours and evenings.

Last year more than 500 students from over 80 cities in West Texas enrolled for the two week school. Students included both junior and senior high schoolers—both beginners and advanced students. Full information and registration blanks are available upon request from Bynum's office on the McMurry campus.

Reduced Long Distance Rates For Texas June 15

Telephone users in Texas will get their second reduction in station-to-station late night (after 9 p.m.) long distance rates effective June 15, according to a General Telephone Co. spokesman.

The new rates will apply to calls within Texas (intrastate calls.) Earlier this year long distance rates on station-to-station calls made to other states (interstate calls) after 9 p.m. were reduced, with some exceptions, to a maximum of $1.00.

When the newest after 9 p.m. rates become effective June 15 the maximum charge for a station-to-station call to any point in Texas will be 80¢; however, generally speaking, the calls will cost less than the maximum. The new after 9 p.m. intrastate rates will not apply to collect calls or calls charges to a third number.

The company spokesman emphasized that night rates will continue to be in effect between 6 p.m. and 9 p.m. and that the additional reductions will apply to station-to-station calls made to other points in

Bracero Labor Law Voted Down by House

The House of Representatives in Washington last week voted down a bill which would have extended the bracero farm labor law for two more years. This was an unexpected setback for the legislation. The present law expires on December 31.

Representative Geo. Mahon, who supported the House bill and spoke in its behalf, expressed disappointment over the refusal of the House to extend the program and pledged his best efforts toward renewed attempts to meet the threatened crisis in farm labor.

Mahon said that it was too early to predict future developments. An attempt to pass a one-year extension rather than a two-year extension is being considered. Another alternative being considered is the possibility of securing emergency farm labor under the provisions of existing immigration laws which permit the recruiting of foreign farm labor under certain conditions. In previous years Mexico has expressed opposition to this procedure.

Mahon pointed out that he and other supporters of the bracero legislation feel that domestic workers should be given preference and that braceros should not displace domestic workers. The regulations prohibit the use of braceros unless they are urgently required.

At the peak of the program in former years as many as 445,000 braceros have been used. By last year the program had dropped to less than 200,000 workers. Despite rapid developments in mechanized farming a limited number of braceros are required, according to Mahon, in order to prevent severe hardship and crop losses in certain areas.

Braceros are used principally in Texas and California and other areas of the Southwest. They are also used in vegetable crops in Colorado, Minnesota and Michigan.

Mahon has advised West Texas bracero users that he will continue to be of all possible service in connection with efforts which must be made to avoid a crisis in farm labor in bracero-using areas next year.

Hereford Youth Receives Journalism Scholarship Recently

Wain Miller, Hereford, will receive the West Texas Press Association journalism scholarship for 1963.

James Roberts, chairman, said that the scholarship committee had selected the young journalist out of a field of more than a dozen finalists. Roy McQueen, Andrews, was chosen as first alternate. The scholarship pays $600 over four years of college.

Committee members agreed that this year's crop of candidates was probably the outstanding one in history of the scholarship. Two valedictorians were among those considered, and several others ranked in the top ten of their classes. Most had experience either on their school or home town papers.

In addition to completing his high school career, Gordon Wainwright Miller served as sportswriter and photographer for the Hereford Brand. He was chosen in 1961 as outstanding Distributive Education student, edited his school paper, for a second time, won the Dorinda E. Bond outstanding journalist award of the Panhandle High School Press Association, and won first in newswriting in interscholastic regional contests.

He took second place in the Texas Press Association photo-journalism event, this being the first time a student had placed in this contest.

Wain won several other journalism and DE awards, was cited by his home town Chamber of Commerce, worked full time summers at the Hereford Brand, took an active part in high school dramatics, and was president of his church's youth club.

Large Quantities Of Water In Lakes Following Rains

A spokesman for the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District when contacted recently had the following comments on using lake water. He said, "The heavy rains that we've experienced during the past couple of weeks have left large quantities of water available in the thousands of lakes and depressions throughout the Southern High Plains."

W.L. "Bill" Broadhurst, Chief Hydrologist for the Water District, continued by saying, "It's true that most of the cropland does not at this time need additional moisture; however, there are areas where the rain fell so fast that most of the water ran off. Also, there is layout land or improved pastures that can nearly always use a little more moisture."

"At any rate, if an individual has a lake on his farm and does not presently have a way to pump water from it back to his cropland, now would be an excellent time for him to think seriously about installing a pump and pipeline. There are many reasons why we think that this is good business."

"First, runoff water that collects in the lakes is generally the least expensive water that can be developed."

"Second, water that remains in the lakes is largely wasted because probably 90% will evaporate and do no one any good."

"Third, a mosquito-breeding haven is alleviated when the lake water is used."

"Fourth, if the lake bottom is utilized as a pasture or some other income-producing endeavor, the lake water needs to be pumped from the lake as soon as possible to prevent additional damage."

"Fifth, lake water is probably more compatible than ground water to growing plants because of its warmer temperature."

Broadhurst continued, "There is one other important reason for using lake water when it is available. Using it, rather than pumping ground water from storage, results in substantial savings of underground water."

"We could go on and on talking about the advantages of pumping and using lake water, but however the individual personally looks at the picture will probably dictate what action, if any, that he will take in utilizing runoff water from his own lake."

"The High Plains Water District naturally urges the use of rainfall runoff to supplement ground water requirements. Our thinking on the subject is simple and two-fold: (1) Water pumped from wells is mined from storage, and (2) to prolong ground-water supplies, rainfall must be used."

Broadhurst concluded his comments by saying, "We would like for each irrigator who has a lake on his land, to consider putting the run-off water that it catches to a beneficial use. We think that this is just good, sound business any way you look at it; and not only for the irrigator, but for his entire community as well."
