Have We Outgrown Our Need for God?

By DAVID HARTMAN

Has the human race outgrown its need for God? You will likely answer that question in light of your personal spiritual experience or lack of it.

Is there an emptiness and void in your life? Reckon why it's there? What are you doing to fill the emptiness? Is it working?

Someone has said there is a God-shaped vacuum inside each of us and we will never be genuinely satisfied until we let God fill the vacuum.

It may be old fashioned to say, "God, help me, I need you in my life." Then so be it—I'm old fashioned. My fellow human

Anti Cloud Seeding Group File Petition in District Court

Approximately 125 names were on a petition filed in District Court in Littlefield, Wednesday May 1, by a group of farmers opposed to cloud seeding. The petition requested restraint of two Weather Modification program from seeding clouds over specified portion of land.

The petition was filed in judge Pat Boone's 154th. District Court on the very first day the better weather program for the year went into operation.

The petition specifically names Atmospherics, Inc., a private weather modification firm in its fifth year of contracting with Littlefield-based Better Weather Inc., for hail suppression and rain stimulation. A Plainview-

CORRECTION

An error was brought to my attention, in an Ad published in last week's issue entitled "After taxes Raised, Quail Hunting Mess Voters want Bill Angel."

The error was this, the News-Sun added the line paid for by Bill Angel.

However the Ad already had paid for by a committee of land owners, farmers and hunter to elect Bill Angel for county Judge, E. L. Latimer, Chairman. In taking the ad late, we overlooked the line as it was set in the same type as the entire contents of the ad. In overlooking it, we added the line Paid for by Bill Angel.

based weather modification group, Plains Weather Improvement Association, is named as co-defendant.

The hearing has been set for June 14 at 10:00 p.m.

A Littlefield attorney, Tom Tollett, and three Midland attorneys are representing the plaintiffs. Most of the Plaintiffs Tollett said the petition "basically asks for an injunction to keep the planes from seeding clouds above the land by our clients."

Most of the Plaintiffs are dry-land farmers who operate in the southern half of Bailey County northern Cochran and Hockley Counties and the southwestern portion of Lamb County. Additional plaintiffs farm in Hale and Deaf Smith Counties, according to Tollett.

Approximately eight of the clients reside inside the target area, with the majority operating along the western boundary of the program.

Last July the anti-seed group promised a court fight in a fund collection meeting in the district courtroom. In that meeting they claimed airplanes flying in the Bula area and southeast of Littlefield destroyed potential rain clouds in efforts to suppress hail.

Tom Henderson, President of Atmospherics Inc., said clouds are not seeded in an area that will affect precipitation beyond the borders of the defined target area. But do not seed areas affecting precipitation beyond the borders of the defined target area.

The natural weather advocates took their case to Gov. Dolph Briscoe who referred them to the Texas Water Development Board. The TWDB heard complaints of the farmers, and asked for documented evidence that the seeding planes caused injury to their crops. The permits of the Littlefield and Plainview based programs were never revoked.

The two operations were granted a permit for cloud seeding again this year over protests from the group when the TWDB met earlier this year and granted the permits.

Plaintiffs stated in their petition that the silver iodine used in the seeding the clouds artificially curtails precipitation. They charge that the result of this artificial nucleation is that clouds which naturally cause precipitation over their lands are prevented from following the natural and usual course of developing.

They further allege that many of the clouds which would come over plaintiffs' land in the natural course do not arrive because they are scattered and dissipated by defendants as they are formed and before they are able to reach their land.

The suit is brought by Ross Lunsden and other persons names in the plaintiffs' exhibit A, and by Farmers and Ranchers for Natural Weather, an association and organization of residents of Lamb Bailey, Hockley, Hale, Cochran and Deaf Smith Counties with land within said counties.

The petitions states these plaintiffs are entitled to air, sky atmospheres, air space, and clouds over and above such lands, including rain, snow, water, moisture, and any other form or precipitation naturally coming from the clouds and falling upon their lands.

The petitioners say they have a right to rely upon the natural weather conditions and the normal and natural rainfall and precipitation, free from interference by the defendants.

Pork Producers to Vote on Referendum

Texas pork producers will soon decide by referendum whether or not a check-off program will be begun for their commodity. The check-off is not to exceed 10 cents per head for all slaughter animals at the first point of sale.

Voting on the referendum will begin about May 1, with balloting done by mail. All ballots must be postmarked not later than May 14. Ballots will be sent to all producers by the Texas Pork Producers Association, points out Buddy C.

Lodsgon County Agent for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Producers who do not receive a ballot may obtain one from the county Extension Office.

In addition to voting on the referendum, producers will also be electing a board of directors from 15 districts which will be called the Texas Pork Producers Board.

If the referendum is approved, the board of directors will be responsible for handling all phases of the program. The money collected must be used only for developing and carrying responsible for handling all phases of the program. The money collected must be used only for developing and carrying out programs of research, education, promotion, and disease, insect and predatory animal control designed to encourage production, marketing and use of pork. Thus, the check-off system is a "self-help" program, explains Logsdon.

The upcoming referendum is being conducted under the Texas Check-Off Act of 1969 and is under the supervision of the Texas Commissioner of Agrculture. Approval of the referendum requires a two-thirds vote in favor of the check-off or that those voting "yes" produce at least 50 per cent of the state's pork for slaughter during a designated period. Producers must report their production at the time of balloting.

The Extension Service has conducted educational meetings in the past few months to inform producers about the provisions of the referendum and the Check-Off Act.

Producers who do not wish to contribute to the program through the check-off may ask for a refund on paid-in assessments.

A written request must be made within 60 days from the date of the check-off payments on a form provided by the Pork Producers Board.

The check-off program may be terminated at any time by a simple majority vote of qualified producers, adds Logsdon.

DKG Observes Founders Day

Mrs. Monarae Cummings and Mrs. Gladys Parish were present when Epsilon Delta and Gamma Iota chapters of Delta Kappa Gamma co-hosted the annual Founders' Day banquet at Wayland Baptist College Cafeteria Saturday evening, May 4, in Plainview.

International Delta Kappa Gamma is the largest organization in the world for women educators. It had its beginning in Austin, Texas, which is the location of International Headquarters. Almost fifty foreign countries have Delta Kappa Gamma Chapters.

Approximately 150 members attended the banquet. The following chapters were represented; Delta Ki, Iota Eta, Iota Zeta Gamma Iota, and Epsilon Delta. The Founders' Day tribute was a beautiful candle-lighting ceremony aided by an opaque projector as each founder was presented. Mrs. Lois McEachern, Plainview, Grand visitor, had leadership over the formal meeting. Forty-two Rainbow Girls attended.

The East Peditol was draped with green tafeta with a bird nest and a bird in one of the colors of the rainbow was the nest. In front of the pedestal was a miniature tree with several birds resting in its branches.

On the North, South and West walls matching green material draped the walls, which were highlighted by the words "Love", "Hope" and "Faith".

The seven color stations were topped by small bird nests with a bird representing one color of the Rainbow, sitting on the nest. The registration table as well as the dining table was covered with a white cloth. Bird nest and colorful birds were placed at intervals down the length of the serving table.

Delicious cookies and punch were served to all attending.

Choir Wins Sweepstakes in UIL Competition

The Springlake-Earth Girls Choir recently won the first Sweepstakes trophy any Springlake-Earth Choir has ever received. During the first day of the contest held in Lubbock on April 29, over thirty choirs sang and only two Sweepstakes awards were given. Incidentally, the other award went to the AA Girls Choir from Lockney. The mixed choir and the boys choir both received a "two" in contest and a "three" in sight-reading. Director Wayne Anderson said the judges were very impressed by all three local choirs. Anderson said that ratings were lower this year throughout the region because the contest was held on Monday, instead of later in the week. At any rate all three of the Springlake-Earth choirs made a very fine showing.

Local Couple Lose Everything In Fire Saturday

"When it rains it pours," That's not only the case with Morton Salt wither, Sometimes when trouble begins its trouble, more trouble and double trouble before it ceases. No one could vouch for the truth of that statement with more confidence than Mr. and Mrs. Gene Tunnell of near Earth, whose three bedroom home burned to the ground Saturday about 7:00 p.m.

All furniture, clothing, and contents of the house, went up in smoke. The four people in the house at the time of the fire were fortunate to get out alive. Although they were all up and about, preparing to eat the evening meal.

According to Mrs. Oliver Tunnell, no one could say for sure just how the house caught fire, but it was theorized that lightning struck the lines leading to the house, jumped the transformer, sending a powerful amount of voltage into the house causing flames to burst out all over the house. The 3 bedroom home was leveled in less than an hour.

Mrs. Gene (Linda) Tunnell, and her husband's parents, who lives a little more than a mile down the road had just returned from the hospital, where they visited with Gene who is in the Littlefield Hospital, where he has been a patient since May 1, with a severe case of infectious Hepatitis.

The couple had just let Linda out of the car and she had gone in and changed clothing and washed carefully (because of the Hepatitis) to go into see their new baby daughter who was 12 days old, Mrs. Tunnell's mother, Mrs. Wanda Stephens of Las Vegas was there helping with the new baby. The telephone rang and Linda answered it. About that time it all happened. Black smoke came pouring through the entire house, Mrs. Stephens ran to get the baby. Linda and their 8 year old daughter, Kerri also ran from the burning house.

The Earth Volunteer fire department was called and used to the scene. There was nothing any fire department could do. They did however prevent the well house from burning down.

After leaving their daughter-in-law at her house, the Oliver Tunnells drove down the road about 1/2 mile, and stopped at the pasture to feed the horses. They did not see the house aflame. As they reached the house, little more than a mile down the road the telephone was ringing, to tell them the house was almost gone.

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Tunnell owned of the house said they had insurance on the house, and the Gene Tunnells had insurance on the contents, but as always neither family had half enough to replace the tremendous loss.

The Tunnell home was located 6 miles West and 7 1/2 North of Earth.

She's Lynn Bourland, home management specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

The Federal Trade Commission (FTC) had purchases and refunds. Miss Bourland said FTC wants to hear opinions concerning the proposed revision, she added.

Basically, the new revision would extend a firm's allowable refund time from 21 days to 30 days--due to circumstances beyond his control--he could delay shipment.

"However, to do this, he would have to send the buyer a notice, and receive the buyer's consent before the time limit expired.

"If the buyer didn't respond, the seller would have to send him a refund."

Consumers can send written comments on the proposed revision to: Assistant Director for Marketing Practices, Bureau of Consumer Protection, Federal Trade Commission, Washington D. C. 20580, Miss Bourland said.

In case of extended credit, the seller would have to credit a buyer's account for merchandise not shipped, the specialist continued, citing other parts of the proposed revision.

"If another business--other than the mail order firm--handles the credit, it still would be the mail order firm's responsibility to have the account credited.

"The regulation would not cover magazines and other serial deliveries except for their initial shipment."

In addition, the new revision would require a mail order firm to keep records for 18 months concerning each "failure to de-

Savings Bond Sales Down

In releasing Treasury figures, County Bond Chairman James T. Lee, announced today that sales of Series E and H United States Savings Bonds in Lamb County during March totaled $7,221,000. Sales for the first quarter of 1974 were $24,811,000, for 19% of the yearly goal of $130,000,000.

Kelley Initiated into Phi Kapp Phi

The Honor Society of Phi Kappa Phi has initiated 271 new members from Texas Tech University in recent ceremonies conducted at the University. Among those students initiated was Johnny Kelley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Kelley, of Earth. Kelley is a Junior Engineering major at Tech.

Initiates included three faculty members and student chosen and from among the top 10 percent of graduates within the past year and from among the top two percent of the junior class at the university.

The objectives of the society are to emphasize scholarship and character in the thought or college students, to foster the significant purposes for which institutions of higher learning have been founded, and to stimulate mental achievement by recognition through election to membership.

Energy Crisis Could Renew Family Togetherness

COLLEGE STATION--"How the energy crisis will change family life concerns authorities more than the question, "Will it?" one expert said this week.

She's Dorothy Taylor, specialist in family life education, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

"Some authorities predict the crisis may help strengthen family relations, ties and understanding," she observed.

"Usually a family gets its goals from national standards--and its values and activities from relatives, the church, school or other organizations, in turn, the family adapts these for itself.

"Because the energy crisis is making families more home bound, the time is ripe for a renewal of family togetherness.

"For example, now families can choose activities that interested them earlier but were set aside when life became so busy, the specialist said.

"This is a prime time to revitalize family-centered recreation."

Because of less frequent, or shorter-spurred travel, families will stay home more, and they'll look for recreation with other family members rather than outsiders, she noted.

Table games--including chess, checkers and cards--emphasize some forms of family recreation.

"Stimulating sports like touch football, badminton and folk dancing offer additional possibilities.

"Some family members prefer to spend leisure time doing volunteer work--teaching and sharing skills and ideas with 4-H clubs or other youth groups.

"Still others' interests lie in studies. Such people study together to broaden their horizons through home study courses, craft classes or simply exploring their interests."

A GOOD COTTON TO TRY

So far, those who have planted Gregg 35W on the worst will ground, find its tolerance and performance highly satisfactory. We have received not ONE complaint about its wilt resistance, which is very pleasing to us.

In the year 1973, 35W has been impressive in staple lengths, when staples were generally shorter.

Gregg 35W is a good cotton to TRY -- it's a good cotton to PLANT.

SUNNYSIDE NEWS

SUNNYSIDE TEENY BOWDEN

2.60 inch of rain with heavy hail was recorded for Monday and Monday night. The hail was of four different sizes ranging from pea size to golf ball size. The hail was more spotted than in one swath as usual. The ground was white in many places and the slopes of the pastures and fields looked to be covered with snow from a distance. A tornado was sighted by several who watched it hit the ground in an open field to the southwest of Sunnyside, and then lift back into the cloud with a definite funnel from ground to cloud for only a few seconds. 120 inch of rain was recorded for Tuesday and Tuesday night. Wheat insurance adjusters said it would be ten days before the amount of wheat damage could be determined.

DOUBLE-O-SEVEN IS A DENTAL AGENT

The "Bass" method of toothbrushing is a technique preferred by many dentists. Dr. Charles Bass, dean emeritus of Tulane University's Medical School, is credited with pioneering present concepts of preventive dentistry. His original studies, about 25 years ago, showed that most dental decay and gum disease can be attributed to plaque and its resident bacteria.

Many dentists today are teaching effective plaque removal. The Bass method of toothbrushing calls for rounded nylon bristles with a diameter of .007. Such bristles are shorter, finer and more flexible than other multi-tufted bristles used in some brushes. They are preferred because they can reach all areas of the mouth more easily, without injuring gum tissue. Bristle ends slide easily and safely under the gum line. The Py-Co-Pay Softex toothbrush was developed to meet these criteria and is often recommended for use with the Bass technique.

Skilled removal of plaque may require a number of minutes, and dental patients are often hard to convince to take the time. They can't see the plaque in a mirror, and it is not always removed by ordinary brushing. However, chewing special red-colored "disclosing" tablets and waters made of vegetable dye temporarily show the areas of the mouth where plaque remains. It can then be removed and before long the red stain will disappear, too.

Home Gardens Could Boost Vegetable Industry

With the rebirth of home vegetable gardens, many folks will be giving their taste buds a real treat as they enjoy the fruits of their labors this season.

Furthermore, a vegetable specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service believes that the increase in home gardening will be a boom to the fresh vegetable industry in Texas. He feels more consumers will be "turned on" by fresh produce after having experienced vegetable production themselves on a small scale.

"In recent years many consumers have gotten away from purchasing fresh produce and have gone more for canned, frozen and instant vegetables," points out Sam Eotner. "But the surge in home gardens should bring some turnaround in this trend."

now engaging in home vegetable production will have a much better appreciation for the vegetable industry. "They will realize that there are many problems associated with producing vegetables--the weather, insects and diseases--plus the cost and labor required and the high perishability of fresh vegetables. According to the Texas A&M University System specialist, commercial vegetable production in Texas last year was valued at about $200 million, third in the nation. And he feels that the current home gardening craze will increase consumer demand for more fresh vegetables after appetites have been whetted by those fresh vegetables produced in the back yard.

Cotner believes that consumers
