

U.N. Proposes Compromise Buffer

Shaded line is the buffer zone across the Korean Peninsula proposed by the United Nations in a give-and-take compromise. The line, which criss-crosses the current battle line (heavy black line) calls on the Allies to yield about 200 square miles of North Korea in the East and for the Reds to give up a similar area in the West.

MUNSAN, Korea, Oct. 26. (AP)—The Allies quickly rejected today a Communist buffer zone proposal that the U.N. give up such bitterly won Korean areas as Heartbreak Ridge, the Punchbowl and Iron Triangle.

Allies describe as militarily unimportant. The subcommittee met again at 11 a.m. Saturday (5 p.m. Friday, CST). It appeared the two delegations were entering a period of horse-trading.

New York Times Says Open Drive For Ike Is Set

NEW YORK, Oct. 26. (AP)—The New York Times said today that an open drive will be started within two weeks to get the Republican Presidential nomination for Gen. Eisenhower.

LONDON, Oct. 26. (AP) — Winston Churchill returned to power in Britain today. He led his Conservative party to victory over the Labor government in a desperately fought election that rang down the curtain on six years of Socialist rule but left the Tories far short of the House of Commons strength they hoped for.

Churchill, just turning 77, won a majority, or more than 313 seats, in the House of Commons. The exact size of the Conservative majority will not be known until a few outlying districts report next week. But it will be a slender margin—leaving possibly 300 seats to Clement R. Attlee's Labor party.

Churchill was jubilant — and grateful. Speaking to his constituents he said: "You have given me wonderful support. It never reached a higher pinnacle than it did today."

Iran Oil Talks Still Going On

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26. (AP)—Iranian Premier Mossadeq began the fourth day of his visit here apparently not committed, despite official U. S. blandishments, to a new start at settling the bitter Anglo-Iranian oil dispute.

submitted offers to buy oil from the new Iranian National Oil Company, and that explaining why Mossadeq summoned Kazem Hassani, Iranian oil expert, to fly here from Tehran.

President Truman said Thursday that some progress has been made in the talks with Mossadeq. He added he is hopeful Iran will resume negotiations with Britain for a settlement.

Hassani, Iranian Deputy Foreign Minister, said Mossadeq's discussions with the President, Secretary of State Acheson and other officials have been only exploratory and have developed "nothing tangible."

Fatemeh, often spokesman for the ailing premier, said also: "It is up to Britain to reopen negotiations on the basis laid down by Iran—to deal only with arrangements for selling oil and the compensation to be paid for the forcible nationalization of the vast holdings of the Anglo-Iranian oil company. Britain has been unwilling to deal on these terms."

Truman Seems Certain To Seek Appointment Of Vatican Envoy

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26. (U.P.)—President Truman's evident determination to resubmit the appointment of Gen. Mark Clark as ambassador to the Vatican forecasts a bitter battle when Congress returns to Washington.

Mr. Truman told a news conference Thursday the hubbaloos raised by his decision to establish formal diplomatic relations with the Roman Catholic Church State was not as great as he expected. The President asserted that sending an ambassador to the Vatican—where the U. S. recently has been represented only by a personal representative of the President—does not conflict with the traditional American policy of separation of church and state.

This issue has been raised by Protestant church groups, among them the Baptist denomination to which Mr. Truman belongs.

With the obvious inference he plans to resubmit the Clark nomination when Congress returns in January, Mr. Truman said there would be time in the interim for the people to get the criticism of his action off their chests. The President dashed the hopes of some Democratic Senators who have been urging that he sidestep out of the controversy by naming Clark as his personal representative. Myron G. Taylor previously served in that role.

Asked why he nominated Clark as an ambassador, Mr. Truman said because that was the way he wanted it. That's my choice, he said, indicating he is willing to face the church-state issue squarely.

He took the step, the President added, because he believed the cause of peace would be served by having an official representative at the Vatican. He did not mention, as he had last Saturday in announcing the appointment, the Catholic Church's opposition to Communism.

Mr. Truman made it plain that he, and not Clark, had stipulated the general was to retain his active military status. It was the same sort of arrangement he had made in the past with Gen. Omar N. Bradley, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff and former veteran's administrator, and Gen. George C. Marshall, former secretary of defense, the President said.

Congress passed laws to exempt Bradley and Marshall from provisions of a law against a military officer's holding a civilian post.

With Clark remaining technically on active military duty, the question of approval of his appointment will be thrown into the House as well as the Senate.

There was obvious sentiment among some senators and representatives for shelving any such measures. At least that could also tie up the nomination, on which only the Senate needs to act.

Unless Chairman Connally, (D-Tex.) changes his mind, the Senate Foreign Relations Committee might decline to hold any hearings on the appointment until the fate of the legislative bill was decided.

Connally has announced he will fight confirmation of Clark on the ground that the four-star general "mistreated" troops of the Texas 36th National Guard division in the Rapido River crossing in Italy in World War II. Mr. Truman commented that it was Connally's privilege to do as he chose.

TEXAS BRANDS # ON

By JOHN M. HENDRIX

Among the highly legible brands of the early '80s was the brand of J. D. Merchant whose post office was Belle Plain and ranch on Mehair Creek in Callahan County. He gave an NO on the left side with the Pigpen on the left hip.

Belle Plain in the early '80s gave promise of becoming a real cowtown for west Texas and served as headquarters for a number of big outfits over quite a period of years. Later when the Texas and Pacific Railroad was built, it missed Belle Plain by eight or ten miles and Abilene became the natural center for that area. There is little left today to mark the site of this once promising young cowtown.

TAFT LEAD GROWS

Murray Says Ike Better Decide Now

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26. (U.P.)—Senator Murray (D-Mont.) said today Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower had better make up his mind fast if he wants the Republican Presidential nomination.

Otherwise, Murray predicted to a reporter, Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio will walk away with the GOP prize.

Murray's comment came after President Truman told a White House news conference Thursday he thinks the New York Herald Tribune certainly picked a fine man in editorially supporting Eisenhower as a candidate for the Republican nomination.

In other political developments 1. Taft backers arranged to open national headquarters here today in charge of Victor A. Johnston, once a supporter of Harold E. Stassen and sometime Republican "shadow" of the President in the 1950 whistle stop tour.

Johnston turned up along the route of Mr. Truman's cross-country speaking tour in early May, 1950. He said he was checking audience reactions, and on several occasions made comments on them. The Truman party dubbed him "the shadow."

2. Mr. Truman divulged he hasn't yet picked a man from a list of about 20 being considered to succeed William M. Boyle Jr., resigning Democratic National Chairman.

3. The President spoke out against a reported plan of Wisconsin Democrats to invade the Republican primary in that state in an effort to defeat Senator Joseph McCarthy (R-Wis.). He believes in the two party system and the Democrats should vote in their own primary, Mr. Truman said.

4. Tom Coleman, a member of Taft's campaign strategy board, told reporters he doubts Eisenhower can be represented in the April 1 Wisconsin primary unless the general consents publicly to become a candidate.

Murray said he hopes Eisenhower won't be lured into the political arena.

"I don't believe it's a good idea for a military man to be President," the Montana Senator said.

Mr. Truman indicated pretty clearly, as he has done before, that he doesn't regard Eisenhower as a Democratic Presidential possibility.

Reminded that Jake Arvey, Illinois national committeeman, had commented favorably on the Herald Tribune endorsement to Eisenhower, the President said Jake was in the same frame of mind in 1948. Arvey supported Eisenhower for the Democratic nomination that year but backed Mr. Truman when the general wasn't available.

Conductor Is Out Of A Job

SEATTLE, Oct. 26. (U.P.)—Manuel Rosenthal, Seattle symphony orchestra conductor who made the headlines but not the deadlines, was out of a job today.

At least, so far as directors of the symphony are concerned, the peppery little Frenchman who came here in 1949 has been discharged from his $15,000 a year job. Rosenthal's attorney says he intends to hold the board to its two-year contract.

The diminutive, 47-year-old conductor was fired Thursday while a U. S. immigration board in New York was investigating problems that put Rosenthal in a bad light here.

He was detained in New York Oct. 13 when he and Claudine Pillard Verneuil, known in Seattle as Mrs. Rosenthal, returned from a vacation in Paris. This was after Mme. Lucie Troussier Rosenthal of Paris had reported various individual she and Manuel had never been divorced.

CHARGED WITH MURDER Ex-Convict Said Moonshine Mixer

ATLANTA, Oct. 26. (U.P.)—A former convict charged with murder in the death of 31 persons who died here after drinking poisoned liquor was identified Thursday night as a mixer of deadly moonshine.

Solicitor Paul Webb of Fulton County said a North Georgia farmer told him he saw John R. Hardy blend wood alcohol and well water at an abandoned farmhouse.

The brew was made a few days before a wave of moonshine liquor deaths began sweeping Atlanta, Webb said the farmer related.

Webb said the farmer, Luke Turner, 52, told him Hardy was aided by an unidentified Negro in mixing the liquor.

The solicitor filed murder charges against Hardy, a 360-pounder. The huge one-time convict admitted he had peddled 99 gallons of a mixture of wood alcohol and water to Negro bootleggers here, Webb said.

Hardy, 44, was found Thursday in an Atlanta hospital where he was being treated for a fractured arm suffered in an auto accident. He was placed under guard.

Since the moonshine deaths began Sunday night, 29 Negroes and two white persons have died and 301 other victims have received hospital treatment.

Also, two men died of wood alcohol poisoning at Winder, Ga., bringing the total fatalities in the Atlanta area to 33.

Population Of Texas Increases By 20 Per Cent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25. (AP)—Texas had a population of 7,711,194 April 1, 1950 — an increase of 20.2 per cent in ten years.

Final figures were released today by the Census Bureau. Texas is sixth in population.

Texas population in April 1950 was 1,296,370 more than the 1940 population of 6,414,824.

The figures showed that 62.7 per cent of the population lived in urban centers — places of 2,500 or more. Texas' urban population was 4,838,060 and its rural population 2,873,134.

Between 1940 and 1950, some of the 254 counties increased in population.

The most rapid rate of increase was in Andrews county, on the New Mexico border north of Midland. It jumped from 1,277 in 1940 to 5,002 in 1950 — a 291.7 per cent increase.

Four more counties more than doubled their population. Three were in West Texas near Andrews county — Ector and Midland — in an area of oil development.

The other two were at opposite ends of the state — Moore, in the Panhandle, and Orange in the southeast corner.

The largest numerical increase took place in Harris County (Houston), with a 1950 population of 806,701 — largest in the state. The 1950 Harris County figure was an increase of 277,740, or 32.5 per cent over 1940.

Dallas, Bexar (San Antonio) and Tarrant (Fort Worth) had increases in excess of 100,000.

ASK LEVEL OF POLICEMEN

Firemen Seek Pay Increase; City To Undertake A Study

No action was promised but the city commission undertook a study of the salary schedule for city firemen Thursday, after receiving a petition for pay increases.

City Manager H. W. Whitney was asked to contact other cities in this area to determine salaries paid fire department personnel.

The commission said it will study the petition in the light of the manager's findings.

The petition had been signed by all Big Spring firemen, excepting the fire chief. It requested that firemen be paid salaries commensurate with those of policemen.

The request pointed out that living expenses are increasing steadily and that an income tax boost is about to go into effect. Signers said that several had received offers of jobs with higher salaries, but that they preferred to remain with the fire department.

The petition was submitted to the commission by the city manager who had received it from firemen. Discussions revealed that firemen receive base salaries of $230.50 per month, compared to $267 for police patrolmen. Fire captains are paid $255 and police captains receive $309 per month.

Pay for the two departments was the same until policemen were placed on 10-hour shifts, the city manager said. However, firemen are on duty 24 hours at a time, he pointed out.

Taking up other business, the commission designated the city manager as Big Spring's representative to attend district court proceedings in Austin Monday. Occasion is the petition of the Colorado River Municipal Water district for an injunction to prevent the Martin County Underground Water district from initiating water usage regulations detrimental to the interests of the CRMWD and member cities, Big Spring, Odessa, and Snyder.

Commissioners granted authority for the mayor to sign a "consent to lease" on the American Legion building at Municipal airport. The Legion proposes to lease the structure to the Federal government for use as a part of the Big Spring Air Force base.

Montgomery Sand and Gravel company was granted right-of-way for a "haul road" across Moss Lake property owned by the city. The concern is to fence the road and equip entrance with a lock-gate to prevent trespassers from interfering with other city operations at the lake.

Commissioners moved to include in the minutes their opinion that the Cactus Paint company had a year's lease agreement, with a 60-day cancellation clause, on its building at Municipal airport. E. B. McCormick and Bill Jackson, Cactus officials, attended the meeting to request a written lease on the building. They said they had never had a contract other than a "gentleman's agreement."

Members of the commission also agreed to help the firm secure as much advance notice as possible before the Air Force takes over the building. Finding a suitable location and moving the paint plant will involve a considerable amount of time, the Cactus officials said.

'Official' Figure Of City Population Is Set At 17,286

If it's any news to you, Big Spring's population for 1950 was 17,286; Howard county's total was 24,722.

These figures were made "official" today with a formal announcement from the Bureau of Census, which has completed its final tabulation for the state of Texas. The 1950 figures show that Howard county had increased from 20,990 in ten years, and that the city's total was up from 12,604 in 1940.

Overall population for the state of Texas on April 1, 1950, was given as 7,711,194. This gave the state a gain of 1,296,370, or 20.2 per cent, in ten years.

Of Texas' 254 counties, 108 had a population gain, and the biggest increase, percentage-wise, was in Andrews county. Ector and Mid-

Vatican Appointment Draws "For Shame" From Baptists

HOUSTON, Oct. 25. (AP)—Texas Baptists cried "for shame" at President Truman Thursday night and Evangelist Billy Graham asked Texans to beg for acceptance of Christ and score the way of transgression.

It marked the close of the Texas Baptists 86th annual convention.

Graham extolled a crowd which jammed City Coliseum to "follow the way of the cross."

He pleaded for a "return of the religion of our grandfathers."

He urged Baptists to next year "vote for the man with the strongest moral and spiritual qualifications, no matter how he stands on other issues."

President Truman's appointment of Gen. Mark Clark as U. S. ambassador to the Vatican brought bitter sermons and cries of "moral degeneracy" during the three-day meeting.

"For shame! This action from a man who calls himself a Baptist," cried J. D. Grey of New Orleans, president of the Southern Baptist Convention.

The attacks against the President overshadowed routine business at the convention, including the final check of a $10 million budget, and establishment of a building and loan association to aid church construction and repairs.

The convention adopted a resolution giving support to the United Dry of Texas.

Twelve directors were named for the first year of the loan association. They were:

Dr. J. H. Landes, Wichita Falls; Dr. Guy Newman, Brownsville; Luman W. Holtman, Jacksonville; Dr. Carlyle Marney, Austin; John S. Tanner, Dallas; Herbert Burleson, Dallas; A. B. Culbertson, Fort Worth; Jim Whittenberg, Amarillo; Homer Covey, Fort Worth; T. C. Bateson, Dallas; J. M. Waddell, Kermit; J. T. Luther, Fort Worth.

Dr. Walter J. Fezzer of Waco was elected president of the convention; Dr. E. H. Westmoreland, Houston, first vice president; Rev. Arthur DeLoach, Odessa, second vice president; D. B. South, San Antonio, secretary of registration; Roy L. Johnson, Kingville, secretary of proceedings, and J. Earl Mead, Dallas, secretary of the corporation.

San Antonio was selected as site of the 1953 convention. The time will be decided later.

Darrell A. Mock Joins Local Church

Call to Mock was voted at a mid-week conference. He plans to assume his duties here on Nov. 18. Mock is married and Mrs. Mock has been an intermediate worker in Oklahoma Baptist circles. He has been serving as director of education and music at the Calvary Baptist church in Enid. His training includes an academic degree from Oklahoma Baptist University, and a master of religious education and master of sacred music degrees from the Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary at Fort Worth.

Water Distribution System Expansion Plans Are Complete

Plans for expansion of the city's water distribution system are complete and will be submitted to the city commission Tuesday for approval. H. W. Whitney, city manager, has announced.

Plans were turned over to the engineering department Thursday by Fress and Nichols, Fort Worth engineers. The plans will be given a thorough study by the engineering department before presentation to the commission.

If the plans are approved, advertising for bids on the expansion program will probably be started next week.

EAT PLENTY AND TAKE OFF UGLY FAT

Many people have reported amazing results with this home recipe. It's easy to make and takes little time. Just go to your drugstore and ask for 4 ounces of liquid Barocortin. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it. If the very first bottle doesn't show the change, order way to lose body fat and looks regular, more graceful curves; if reliable pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic, from neck, chest, waist, abdomen, hips, thighs and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back.

Lost 39 Pounds
"I was really happy and surprised with the results obtained taking Barocortin," says Mrs. Lillian Flowers, 114 Durant St., San Antonio, Texas. "I have lost 39 pounds and feel so much better and look 16 years younger."

Lost 15 Pounds
Mrs. D. C. Baker, Box 51, Bryan, Texas, writes as follows: "I weighed 115 pounds when I commenced to take Barocortin. After one month I have lost 15 pounds and am going to continue taking it until I am down to 100 pounds. I have several of my friends taking Barocortin and they are losing weight also."

Traveling Tips From Girl Producers Of Home Talents

By DOROTHY ROE

Meet the U. S. traveling girl.
Here is a brand new career in a national economy long dependent on the traveling man.
She's a new breed of Miss America, modern to her fingertips. She's brisk, capable, businesslike and

Safety Conference Planned In Midland By Federated Clubs

Delegates from Big Spring P-TA associations and other organizations will attend an accident prevention program in Midland at 9:30 a. m. in the high school auditorium, Nov. 1.
Highlighting the program will be Mrs. Agnes Beston, Washington, D. C., director of women's activities of the Automotive Safety Foundation, who works with women's clubs throughout the nation in formulating safety programs.
Also on the program will be J. O. Musick, general manager of the Texas Safety Association from Austin. He will discuss the phases of accidents that annually take some 5,800 lives in Texas.
The meeting has been arranged by Mrs. Charles M. Goldsmith, president of the City Federation of Midland, and is open to the public.

Baptist Sunbeam Group Meets In Faulkner Home

Members of the First Baptist were treated to a party when they met in the home of Mrs. B. T. Faulkner, 1415 Wood, recently.
Community mission work was also considered and a box of fruit was packed and delivered to a shut-in.
Besides the three sponsors, 27 children attended. Mrs. Joy Clark, Mrs. J. O. Skiles and Mrs. Faulkner are the sponsors.

Rufus Alvies Are New Grandparents

Mr. and Mrs. Rufus M. Alvies, 505 Johnson, have been informed of the birth of a grandson to their daughter and son-in-law at Colorado City Oct. 25.
Parents of the 7 lb. 12 oz. boy are Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Medford, former Big Spring residents. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Medford of Lamesa, well-versed in the rules of travel. Typical of this new clan are some 200 girls who travel thousands of miles annually producing and directing "home talent" shows supplied by the Empire Producing Company of Kansas City.

These "traveling girls" visit practically every community in the U. S. A. and put on show, sponsored by local civic groups, clubs or fraternal orders.

Since millions of American girls are on the move these days, traveling to and from college, jobs and new homes, some of the travel tips gleaned by these professional travelers should be useful.

A questionnaire recently was circulated among the group of 200 girl travelers, resulting in this advice:

Q—What do you do with wolves?

A—Ignore them. Hire public porters to help with luggage rather than accept favors of eager males. Don't ask strangers for advice; ask police, bus, railroad and airplane employees. Report persistent pests to authorities.

Q—How do you control conversation with fellow travelers?

A—Keep it short. Keep it impersonal. Be aloof, but polite and businesslike. Don't reveal anxiety when traveling alone.

Q—What do you do when faced with a stopover?

A—Rest and relax as much as possible. Avoid park benches and public rooms that invite unwelcome strangers. Use a professional service for sightseeing. Use the time to write home or to office and do necessary shopping. Never loiter or look "lost."

Q—What cosmetics do you use?

A—The kind that don't spill. Creams rather than liquids. Cleansing cream, foundation, lipstick, powder and a purse-size vial of perfume.

Q—What kind of shoes do you wear?

A—Comfortable, practical, and well-made. Avoid high heels and shoes with long laces. Use a professional service for shoe repairs.

Q—What kind of hat do you wear?

A—A hat that is comfortable, practical, and well-made. Avoid high heels and shoes with long laces. Use a professional service for shoe repairs.

Ruffled Curtains Go Well In Period Furnished Room

By ELIZABETH HILLIER
"All the curtain ideas for big windows," writes Mrs. P. B. M., "seem to be for homes that are furnished in modern. I still like ruffles, and my great-grandmother's four poster and the old cherry in our sun room. Will you please tell me how I can use especially large windows and on a row of windows that almost make up a whole wall?" Here are three types of sheer curtains, Mrs. M., that are as ruffy as a first party dress, and you can make them or perhaps find them ready-made. Double or triple ruffled tier curtains may be made as one long, wide curtain, or a pair of them, or they may be made as separate tiers, each to hang on its own rod. Rods at various levels make it easy to fit window groups of any size with sectional curtains, some of which can be open while others are closed. The old favorite criss-cross curtain, too, can be more of a success than ever as it grows longer and wider. Instead of tie-backs, large size criss-cross curtains should have shirring tapes set into the curtains to keep them evenly

A Bible Thought For Today—

Jerusalem was magnificently rebuilt, but its inhabitants learned no lesson. It is being restored once more. It has a glorious chance. Again and again the famous city missed its chance, and was repeatedly destroyed. There is a lesson. "Thou shalt call thy walls Salvation, and thy gates Praise." — Isa. 60:18.

We Should Do Some Uprooting But Not Turn Our Backs On Real Job

"The impact was overwhelming," reported David M. Nichol upon his return to America the other day after an absence of nearly six years in Central Europe. The Chicago Daily News correspondent told his readers that Americans are only vaguely aware "how they themselves have grown in wealth, power and confusion," and after seeing the enormous industrial expansion of America in the last half dozen years he wondered "what could have convinced Stalin and his followers in the Kremlin that they could challenge such a system successfully? Or dare to challenge it at all?"

He noted how "repeated scandals in public life have eroded the faith of the people," until "many persons seem unable any longer to believe anything," so "their refuge is complete cynicism."

In a speech at Brownwood Wednesday—a day dedicated in his honor by that city—Senator Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas touched on somewhat the same theme. He declared: "With Russia exploding atomic bombs and building more jets than we are building and arming more men than we have available to arm, we must spend all our time worrying about Washington secretaries who may have mink coats in their closets—we want to know what we have in our arsenal."

He added: "We've got to get the influence-peddlers, the chiselers, the middle-headed free-riders out of positions of influence in our government. But we can't afford to drop everything else while we do that. We're hunting bears. We're not out to chase rabbits."

What this adds up to is that if we allow the misconduct of a few in government to blind us to the many thousands who are above reproach, if we permit these terms to undermine our faith and to drive us to the refuge of cynicism, we will be doing what Russia would most like to see us do—turn inward upon ourselves, and vitiate our strength in squabbling among ourselves. Send the grafters to limbo or to jail, by all means, but don't lose faith in our country and above all don't fall into the mortal disease called cynicism.

Take It Doubly Easy; Odds Are Increasing Against You On Road

Public safety officials, notably the Texas Highway Patrol, are busily reminding motorists and pedestrians that we are entering the most dangerous time of the year from a traffic standpoint. The need for care in driving and walking increases with the decline of day-lengths, until it reaches the climax about December 22, the winter solstice.

Nights gradually lengthen and days shorten for the next two months. Dark thickness, and visibility declines. In this half-light pedestrians are hard to see, and motorists run them down. As the season advances, more and more people pour out of offices and stores and shop in the gloaming, when visibility is poorest, and start the mad rush home. Unless they use greater care than in the period of longer days, there is tragedy. And the record shows that many of them fall to use greater care.

It is dangerous to walk along a road in dark clothing at any time of the night, and doubly so in the half-light of dusk. If you must walk along a road, take the left-hand side, against oncoming traffic. If you walk along the right-hand side with moving vehicular traffic, you are taking your life in your hands.

It is suicidal to exceed the speed limit when visibility is at its poorest, for you're on a pedestrian before you know it, before you have time to stop. Unless you can contemplate the destruction of a human life with equanimity, slow down, take it easy, use extra care.

This is the time above all others to obey traffic rules, for a violation can easily result in disaster. Stop at stop signs. Hold out your hand for a turn. If you're walking, cross only at intersections, and be careful to look both ways before stepping off the curb. And don't forget that the driver you think can see you may not be able to do so in the semi-darkness.

Save a life by using prudence. That life, of course, may be your own.

Vatican Appointment May Hurt Dems; GOP Fears Ohio Probe

WASHINGTON. — Republican pundits have had time to take careful soundings on the President's appointment of Gen. Mark Clark to the Vatican and have concluded that politically it will do the Democrats more harm than good.

At first they feared the surprise move would win the big-city Catholic vote back to the Democratic party—a vote which, because of McCarthy's semi-successful cry of State Department Communism, was a definitely slipping over to the Republican side. However, they now figure that they can easily label the Truman gesture as politics for two reasons.

1. Although the President had talked to General Clark a couple of weeks earlier and got his consent to serve as Vatican ambassador, he did not send the appointment to the Senate until late on the last day Congress was in session. Thus, GOP leaders intend to point out, Mr. Truman could not have been too serious about getting the new ambassador confirmed.

2. The further fact that General Clark, a military man, must get a special act of Congress to permit him to serve, gives him a double hurdle to overcome and further postpones the date when he can take office.

Thus GOP leaders figure the President has made the mistake of alienating large segments of Protestant voters, while gaining no new friends among Catholics. And they certainly intend to brand the Vatican appointment—when the campaign gets hot—as pure politics.

Buried in the files of the Senate Elections Committee, however, is some anti-Catholic campaign literature which has a Republican slant much more worried. This is the reason why the elections committee has been teetering back and forth trying to make up its mind about a real probe of the Ohio election.

Senator Taft made what is now considered a serious error by demanding that the Ohio campaign be investigated. What he had in mind was the large amounts of money spent by labor against him. But what preliminary investigation turned up was:

1. Around $2,000,000 poured in by all sorts of people to support him.

2. An anti-Catholic campaign against his Democratic opponent, Jumping Joe Ferguson, a Catholic.

Highlight of this campaign was a letter, dated Oct. 3, 1950, signed by "Rev. F. R. Stoneburner of Dayton, a Lutheran, and widely circulated throughout Ohio. It read: "Dear Brethren: Please accept this letter merely as a matter of information. It should be known that Mr. Joseph Ferguson, who is running against Senator Robert A. Taft, is Roman Catholic."

"Knowing the efforts of the Roman church to get an official representative to the Vatican and its efforts to get public aid for parochial schools, I thought it equitable to pass this information on to you for what it is worth."

"Of course you know that our congressman, Edward Breen, is Roman Catholic and that he favors public aid for parochial schools."

"It is a mistaken public idea that Governor Frank Lausche is Roman Catholic. He was raised in an orthodox church. His family goes to a Methodist church. He has never been a Roman Catholic. These are the facts as I have been able to ascertain them."

"For the authenticity of this letter, contact the Lutheran pastor in your community or Rev. F. R. Stoneburner, 201 Commercial St., Dayton, O."

"If you wish the members of your congregation to receive copies of this letter, please send such list to Post Office Box No. 224, Greenville, O."

When Taft first demanded a probe of his campaign, the Senate Elections Subcommittee voted 4 to 1 for it, including the two Republican members, Mrs. Smith of Maine and Hendrickson of New Jersey. The only man who voted against it was GOP Senator Gillette of Iowa, Democrat.

However, when the elections committee picked Robert Murphy, an experienced investigator and a Catholic, as its counsel, Rep. Clarence Brown of Ohio, a Taft leader, blocked the appointment. He would not let a special bill okaying Murphy get through the House.

For weeks now the Ohio probe has hung fire. Committee investigators in Ohio have reported that Taft forces officially chalked up $2,000,000 as their total expenditure, but a sampling has revealed additional amounts spent by county and city groups. One Taft organization, "Labor's League For Taft," was organized not by labor but by J. Eugene Carr, ex-president of the Canton Chamber of Commerce and a radio executive.

With a full year passed since Taft's election, harassed and harried Chairman Gillette finally set November 19 as the date for a hearing. How far it will go remains to be seen.

GOVERNMENT EXPENSES: A mere clerk at the Army hospital in Tokyo rides back and forth to work every day in a Navy limousine. She is Mellicie Joy, daughter of Adm. Turner Joy, chief U.N. truce negotiator. Senator Benton of Connecticut is one man who never listens to the radio. As an advertising executive, he invented some of radio's first techniques—applause by a live audience, drinking coffee in a commercial, putting Fred Allen in front of a live background. Now he says he wants to forget radio. The House of Representatives postmaster must have been thinking of the famous letter Gen. Douglas MacArthur wrote to House GOP Leader Joe Martin when he received a letter addressed "Rep. MacArthur, Washington, D.C." Anyway, the postmaster sent it to Joe Martin's office. It turned out to be for Democratic Congressman Eugene McCarthy (not Joe) of Minnesota, and Martin passed it on. Bill Boyle, retiring chairman of the Democratic National Committee, is sicker than realized and may require an operation. The Air Force is begging for skilled manpower. Labor, however, is reluctant to sign up for what might be temporary jobs, unless all-out war explodes. The Air Force counters that it wrote $15,000,000 worth of contracts during 1944, the peak year of World War II. In fiscal 1952, it will write $16,500,000, while we're at peace—allegedly...

Color-TV Folded Up For Emergency As Operations Get Higher Priority

By JACK ADAMS (For James Marlow)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26. —The hundreds of U. S. cities and towns without any television service, form only limited service, got two big breaks Thursday:

1. Color television was officially folded up and put away for the duration of the defense emergency, at the government's request.

2. The National Production Authority (NPA), all-powerful in the materials field, gave both radio and television operations in general, a much higher priority on access to the scarce metals needed to build new stations or expand existing ones.

If there appears to be a contradiction in these two actions, it can only be explained by a composite of government thinking, which goes like this:

Color TV is a luxury, and a new one, and so can be dispensed with during the current anxious period of preparation for whatever emergency comes.

On the other hand, radio and basic television are rated as important, even vital, means of immediate mass communication, even more essential in an emergency era than in normal peacetime.

The break for TV-less areas in this way breaks Thursday:

Until a few days ago, everyone in the broadcasting industry and around the Federal Communications Commission (FCC), was all set for a new knock-down, drag-out fight over color rights.

It was pretty well accepted that either Radio Corporation of America or the joint TV-manufacturer group known as the National Television System Committee, or both, would go before the FCC early in 1952 to demand new hearings on color.

Their admitted object was to get approval for a "compatible" system, which could be tuned in by present sets in black-and-white in contrast to the approved Columbia Broadcasting System color, available to receivers now in use only by substantial addition of equipment.

The tentative schedule called for the filing of the color applications in January—just before the time the FCC is now expected to lift the freeze on new station grants.

But now, at the request of defense officials, there will be no color television for the general public for a long time to come. And certainly no new fight over the color rights in 1952.

That means that FCC has been freed for much faster action on the nearly 500 new television station applications now stacked up in its files and awaiting processing. New station grants for many communities may thus have been advanced by many months.

Old Joe, the office behemoth, has just passed on, mourned by his four bookies and a wide circle of distressed bartenders. How about some flowers for Good Old Joe, even though he would prefer to be buried with a case of Bourbons?

This Day In Texas

By CURTIS BISHOP

Some citizens with no state to call their own formally petitioned on this day in 1949 to become a part of Texas.

Residents of Los Alamos, the community created by the atomic bomb project, thus pointed out their dissatisfaction with a New Mexico Supreme Court ruling which declared the Los Alamos federal reservation outside that state's jurisdiction and its citizens ineligible to vote in state elections.

The petition requested that Los Alamos be made a city and county of the State of Texas. In addition, it suggested that all men in the atomic energy commission security service receive commissions as special Texas Rangers, "for the protection of those citizens living in the Los Alamos reservation who at present have no legally authorized government or civilian protection."

To make sure their petition reached the proper authority, the disgruntled citizens sent copies to the President of the United States, the governor of Texas and the legislature, and the Atomic Energy Commission. Apparently no one took the matter too seriously, however, for no reply has been brought to public attention.

Los Alamos, with a population of about 8,000, is nearly two hundred miles from the Texas-New Mexico border.

To The Men Of America: Denise Likes Marriage!

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 26. —The men of America may be happy to know that Denise Darcel is not bitter about marriage.

The French bombshell told me that marriage is a great institution. This despite the fact that her own marital bliss washed away when her mate, Peter Crosby, splashed a glass of whisky in her face in a New York night club. I said I thought it was champagne.

"It was not champagne," she corrected. "That shows you how stories can grow! I guess champagne sounded more glamorous. It was plain whisky. We were having one of our many arguments and suddenly I felt whisky dropping down my nose. That was the end of our marriage."

Today, many weeks and a Mexican divorce later, she is still mellow about marital bliss.

"I miss married life," she sighed. "It's so nice to be alone with another person and to share all your thoughts. But next time I will take my time about getting married. The French are right about having long engagements. You should have time to learn everything about a person and know if you are going to be able to get along with him. But she favors American customs in other regards. She agreed with another French girl, Leslie Caron, that American men are preferable to the French.

"The French got a girl in the old style, with flowers and candy and tender words," Denise remarked. "But once they have won her, she becomes very unimportant. Her wishes are not considered."

"But the American men—ah! They make a woman feel as though she is somebody. Sometimes they do not have as much time for women, because they are busy, making money to buy Cadillacs and garbage disposals and other things. But that is all right, too, because they also can buy mink coats."

Danielle said she admired the way American men help their wives around the house—"something a Frenchman would never think of doing."

"But I would never let a man wash the dishes," she added. "I think it is beneath his dignity. (Do I hear any votes of approval?)

Susie, the boss's variety stenog, has quit to go home and have triplets. Let's raise a fund to send at least two of the kids through college.

Pat, the young and popular stock clerk, has just come down with a bad attack of miasma in the adenoids. Come on, fellows, dip deep—and finance Pat to a week out on a beach at Miami. It's the only way to get rid of miasma his time of year.

Everybody sooner or later gets the chore of going around the office and taking up these collections. It's two advantages. It keeps you from having to do your own work, and if you make the collection nobody knows whether you actually contributed any cash yourself.

Here are some of the worthy causes victims you'll find in every office:

The stern-principled grouch — "I'll give two bits if it's for a funeral. Otherwise, count me out."

The pass-it-on-to-management advocate — "Why doesn't he have a fund for situations like this?"

The doleful donkey — he reaches in his pocket as soon as he sees you, and groans, "don't tell me what it's for. Just tell me how much you want."

The happy contributor — "Sure, put me down for a buck. I'm glad to do it. I don't have it with me—you put it in for me, will you? (Two weeks later he comes up and says, "Say, don't you still owe me that buck I put in for you to buy old Joe those roses?")

The coward — He hides out every day until noon so nobody can separate him from the four bits his wife gave him for lunch.

The empty-pocketed blime-singer — "Gee, you know I'd like to. But the mortgage on our television set comes due tomorrow."

The cry baby — "Nobody ever took up a collection for me."

The cheerful four-flusher — "I can't get in on it right now. But see me Friday for sure. Now don't forget."

Oh, Happy Titanium Age, Men May Get Life-Long Razor Blade

Back in the public school days we learned that diamonds, in addition to their ornamental uses, were quite valuable as a cutting and abrasive agent for hard materials. Diamonds, we were told, were composed of the hardest substance known.

Then it was a puzzle to contemplate the cutting of diamonds. If there is nothing else as tough as a diamond, what is there left to fracture one, we reasoned.

Of course diamond cutting is a precision-like craft and it is the handling of the tools rather than the tools themselves that accomplish the desired results.

Now, there is a similar problem facing the metal industries, we understand. The difficulties have resulted from a new type of metal which has been named titanium.

It is super-duper metal, being described as possessing the strength of steel but carrying only half of steel's weight. It is also said they have plenty of rust resistance, and in general has many characteristics which might justify some fancy titles, such as "miracle metal."

Like most good things, however, titanium is encased by obstacles. It is problem child when the time comes for processing. It will resist temperatures of something over 900 degrees, which is a desirable trait in a finished product, but a definite handicap on the assembly line.

In fact, molten titanium is considerably hotter than the melting point of containers generally used for handling metals. Refractory bricks, used to line metal melting furnaces, simply disappear when molten titanium hits them.

It all adds up to a nice chore for scientists, and of course they are confident that they will come up with a solution. When they do, we'll move into the titanium age, and with it I say are predicting an everlasting razor-blade. Oh, happy titanium age.

Suddenly America Discovered Joe Stalin Had An Air Force . . .

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 26. —When you say out here that Bob Gross stole the show at the American Bankers Association convention early this month, that he made the outstanding talk, people are pleased but not surprised. They expect performance from Gross, even though he's a New Englander come west from Harvard and the old-line Boston investment banking firm of Lee Higginson.

They've watched Robert E. Gross and $40,000 take over Lockheed Aircraft Corp. in Burbank from the sheriff in 1932, and build it into a prosperous enterprise—one of the top five in the industry. Today Gross, a short, quick, polished guy, is a spokesman for the aircraft industry.

Talk with him for only a few minutes and you know why. You're an infected man—infected with logical enthusiasm. That explains how Gross "wowed" the bankers in Chicago. He has a mission in life, a mission shared by his manufacturing colleagues, says Gross.

Aircraft manufacturing and research must never go through what it did after World War II. Or rather, what it didn't go through. Think of it. In March, 1944, we produced more than 6,100 military airplanes. A year and five months later we were down to 2,800 planes. That was August, 1945, when Japan surrendered. And a month later, incredible as it sounds, we were down to less than 800. By the summer of 1946, we turned out only 66 planes a month. There went our air power.

"Then," says Gross, "suddenly somebody discovered that Russia had an air force." A grim smile. "So people asked: 'Where did Russia get the airplanes?' The answer is that Joe Stalin never stopped building the air force. We did."

"The airplane no longer is just a frame, an engine and a propeller. It's an assemblage of thousands of individual products, all of which have to be invented, developed, manufactured, and then housed in the mother structure that also has to be invented, developed, adapted, tested, and manufactured." Can't you feel the enthusiasm?

"All these products have to be fed into the master production process. Aircraft production is a series of rivers, all feeding into this Mississippi of manufacturing. And we let all these rivers run dry. We must never do that again."

Gross is a self-interested pleader, of course. He's in the aircraft business. He has to have sales to continue research, to expand, to prosper. He can't bear to think of another big upsurge in development and experimentation, another burst of manufacturing, and then—plop—down to nothing again. Nobody can run a business with such temperamental ups and downs and make money.

Gross' self-interest is in the national interest. Stop-and-go defense is the most costly kind of defense. You tool up, get plants running, and then demolish: Your labor drifts away, your machines, are packed in oil, your designers find other work. The productive air drops.

Worse than that, Gross points out, "We let our guard drop. We let ourselves open to world attack, and we waste money in the process. In the 20 years between World War I and II, we spent less than $28,000,000 a year for air. When World II came, we had to spend $28,000,000 a year in 1946, 1947, and 1948. Now we're spending $15,000,000 a year, and if conditions get worse, then we might spend twice that. That's what feast and famine, turkey one day and feathers the next, cost us. Americans must learn that steadiness in moderation rather than enormity in crisis is better and cheaper in the long run."

Such a program, suggests Gross, would yield "wondrous fruits." Out of it would come the next great advance in air transport. Not this year or next. But maybe in five years. What would that be? Gross isn't didactic or dogmatic. He thinks it would be a near vibrationless jet airliner, capable of carrying 60 passengers in luxurious comfort in all kinds of weather at a cruising speed of 600 miles per hour. Gross imagines:

"It will make Los Angeles to New York in just over four hours. Los Angeles to Chicago in three hours. Chicago to New York in one hour and 17 minutes. Crossing the Atlantic and flying ten hours a day, such a plane would transport 33,300 first-class passengers a year. The Queen Mary only does 39,000."

When you think of it, that's not a bad price for preparedness and peace—if we get peace.

UNCLE RAY'S CORNER

the first editorial job of the famous Benjamin Franklin.

The older brother wanted to keep on managing the paper, and soon fell into a quarrel with Benjamin. This led to an important event—Benjamin Franklin left his home town and went to Philadelphia to live. There he was to become one of the leading men of the American colonies.

At the age of 23, Benjamin and a friend named Meredith bought a paper which had been started by another man the year before. This paper was the "Pennsylvania Gazette." We are told that it had only 90 subscribers when it passed into new hands.

By his skill in writing, Franklin turned the "Pennsylvania Gazette" into a bright and interesting paper. It grew to be the largest newspaper in the colonies, with a circulation of about 9,000.

Ben Franklin Built Up Paper

When we speak about early newspapers, let us remember that they were of small size. The pages measured 12 by 15 inches or less. Let us also remember that these papers usually were published only once a week, and had limited circulations. The editors of the "Boston News-Letter" and the "Boston Gazette" were happy when they could sell 300 copies of an issue!

A young man named James Franklin was a printer in Boston and set type for the "Boston Gazette." When this work was taken from him by a new postmaster, Franklin started his own paper. He called it the "New England Courant."

James Franklin had visited England, and had seen the newspapers published there. These had given him ideas.

In his paper, James dared to say things against the government. This brought an order for him to change his course. He was told that he must show material for his paper to the secretary of the province before publishing it.

James was of a fiery nature, and believed in freedom of the press. He refused to do as he had been ordered, and the General Court decided that he must stop publishing the "Courant."

Having a 16-year-old brother, James turned the paper over to him. That was the first editorial job of the famous Benjamin Franklin.

The older brother wanted to keep on managing the paper, and soon fell into a quarrel with Benjamin. This led to an important event—Benjamin Franklin left his home town and went to Philadelphia to live. There he was to become one of the leading men of the American colonies.

Duck Hunters May Number 100,000

By L. A. WILKE
AUSTIN, Oct. 26.—More than a hundred thousand shotguns are now being made ready for opening of the Texas duck season Nov. 10.

Every duck hunter is required to have one of these $2 duck stamps and last year Texas hunters bought 131,674 to place it in third position for duck stamp sales in the United States.

The Big Spring Steers set out to prove tonight that their victory over Haskell last week is but an indication of better things to come.

Locals Seeking Second Victory

The Longhorns take the field at Steer stadium at 8 p.m. against a highly rated Plainview outfit. The game opens the District 1-AAA season for both teams.

Big Spring has scheduled Plainview from time to time down through the years but the teams are meeting for the first time as conference opponents. Up until this year, the Bulldogs were members of District 1-A, which also embraced Amarillo and Pampa.

The Bulldogs have a team built around 15 lettermen, ten of whom are regulars. The line boasts two tremendous tackles in Jimmy Jameson, 250, and Jake Finney, who tips in at 205.

State Drug Is Tops In Loop
State Drug and Toby's Fast Chick scored smashing victories in Junior Bowling league play last night.

Gregg Street Health Clinic moved to the front in Men's Bowling league standings the past week by sweeping three games from Team 5 while the erstwhile pace-setter, Phillips Tire company, was being surprised by Cabot in two of three outings.

Knott Takes On Dragons Today
Union, pace setter in District Seven six-man football standings, is idle today but there's plenty of activity within the wheel, nonetheless.

B TEAM HOSTS ANGELO
Nine local football teams will see action tonight and Saturday, eight of them here.

The variety Steers go against Plainview at Steer stadium tonight. Tomorrow night at 8 p.m., the Big Spring B team hosts San Angelo's Kittens in a return game.

Odessa, Pampa Clash Tonight In Headliner

By The Associated Press
Odessa plays at Pampa tonight in the week's feature Texas school-boy football game.

It matches two undefeated teams and is a crucial battle in the fight for the District 1 championship in Class AAAA.

The schedule is filled with important games in all classes as the campaign for district titles moves down the stretch.

In Class A the headliner — and also a highlight of the entire state — sends Wylie (Abilene) to Cross Plains. Both teams are undefeated and untied and will be battling for the top place in District 7.

Forty-four of the state's 47 undefeated teams have games and indications are that the circle will diminish by about 15 teams when the firing is over for the week.

Some games were played Thursday night. In Class AAAA Adamson (Dallas) whipped North Dallas 43-4 to take over the lead in District 4.

Yalea hammered Jefferson (El Paso) 43-0 in District 2. Jefferson (San Antonio) cracked San Antonio Tech 34-13 in District 6 and (Houston) 23-0 in District 7.

No games were played in Class AAA and Class AA but in Class A Santa Anna beat Rising Star 20-6 in District 7. Gilmer downed Arp 19-7 in District 11 and Ferris licked Seagoville 13-7 and Pasadena defeated Katy 13-6 in non-conference games.

Tyler 'Murders' John Muir, 75-14
Tyler slammed John Muir of Pasadena, Calif., 75-14 in the feature of Texas Junior College football Thursday night.

It was the sixth straight triumph for the Texas team and it came very, very easy.

Kigore, which along with Tyler is a member of the Big Six Conference, beat the University of Houston B 40-25 while the Cameron Aggies of Lawton, Okla., best Paris 2-7 in a Big Six Conference game.

Victoria of the South Texas Junior College Conference checked Southwest Texas State B 20-0. Blinn downed Henderson County 12-4 in a Texas Junior College Conference game.

Troy Won't Let Down, Says Hill
LOS ANGELES, Oct. 26.—Coach Jess Hill says his Southern California Trojans "don't fear Texas Christian, but we respect them."

Hill said Thursday his team will be at full strength when they meet the TCU Horned Frogs here Saturday.

USC, at 134 point favorite, had light contract drills and pass defense maneuvers yesterday because of wet weather.

Aging Bomber Meets Rocky Marciano In The Garden

By MURRAY ROSE
NEW YORK, Oct. 26. (AP)—Aging Joe Louis, who wants another shot at the heavyweight crown, risks that chance tonight when he faces Rocky Marciano in a Madison Square Garden ten rounder.

This is the big test of his comeback for the 37-year-old Brown Bomber and he knows it. A loss to the hard-hitting, 27-year-old boxer means the end of the trail for one of the ring's alltime greats.

The betting pros believe Louis is approaching the end. They have established him as a slim 6 to 5 favorite — the shortest odds in all of Jarring Joe's career.

By fight time (9 p.m., CST) the odds may go up to 8 to 5. The lowest price ever on Louis was the 9 to 5 odds for his second fight with Max Schmeling. You know what happened — Max was knocked out in 2:04 of the first round.

But 13 years have gone by and apparently so has most of the old dynamite in the Bomber's right fist. His reflexes have dulled and there isn't much resemblance between the young tiger of 13 years ago and the balding campaigner of today.

Louis feels he has enough left to whip the crude, rough ex-GI who has come up like a rocket. "I'll beat him," said Louis. "May be knock him out."

"I'll win," said Rocky. "Maybe knock him out. I think I can beat anyone in the world."

It's the old story of the ring — the veteran on the downgrade and the eager, hungry youngster on the rise. The ancient drama of the ring will lure over 15,000 fans and a gate of $150,000.

This is the ninth scrap for Louis since he was battered into dismal defeat by the raking punches of Ezzard Charles 13 months ago. Joe won all eight but only three by knockouts.

Marciano, one-time shoe worker who has been fighting for a little more than three years, has won all 37 of his pro fights, 32 by knockouts.

Jail Citizens-For Charity

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Oct. 26. (AP)—A group of this city's most prominent citizens is in jail today — but strictly for charity's sake.

The 36 leading citizens, wearing striped prison uniforms, were herded into jail Thursday night after being paraded through the downtown section of the city.

The jailing is part of New Brunswick's United Fund Campaign which is raising money for 25 community health and welfare agencies.

Each of the "offenders" is being held under heavy bail — a total of $500,000 worth — which will go to the fund.

Kate Smith, radio and television singing star spoke on behalf of the prisoners.

The jailbirds, "carrying torches, paraded to the court house square. There, Miss Smith and other speakers pleaded for bail and urged full support of the campaign.

The 36 citizens began imprisonment with a party in their cells. Each of them will spend a day in specially constructed cells in two department stores.

A brochure contained pictures of the volunteer jailbirds and described offenses.

An example: Dr. Mason W. Gross, provost of Rutgers University, alias Big Duth, the Dream Boy, the Duke. Charged with misquoting Jimmy Durante in his classrooms. Bail $22,000.

Army Won't Pay Premium Prices To Purchase Beef

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26. (AP)—The Army will not pay premium prices for beef, Defense Mobilizer Charles E. Wilson said Thursday night.

Wilson's statement followed reports that Department of Agriculture officials had been discussing premium price payments as a possible means of getting more beef for the armed services. They have not been able to get all they need in recent weeks.

Wilson said he was speaking for the Agriculture Department, the Army, the Office of Price Stabilization and his own office in stating "There is no intention to take such a proposal under consideration."
