Protest Clark Selection As Vatican Envoy

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20. (AP) — President Truman appointed Gen. Mark Clark ambassador to the Pope today, and stirred up immediate protests from his own Baptist and other Protestant churches.

Mr. Truman said he acted in the interests of "diplomacy and humanitarianism" and to coordinate the struggle against Communism. His critics denounced the appointment as violating the concept that church and state should be kept separate.

Dr. J. M. Dawson, executive secretary of the Baptist Public Affairs Committee, called it "perhaps a frantic bid for holding machine-ridden big cities in the approaching hot presidential race." He said it was "disruptive of national unity."

Pope Pius issued no statement but the Vatican was reported unofficially to be delighted at the appointment.

Francis Cardinal Spellman, a leading spokesman for the Roman Catholic Church in the United States, said in New York that he was very pleased. He said that the Vatican and the United States held "identical objectives of peace" and it was logical to have a practical exchange on how to achieve it.

The United States had consuls or ministers to the Papacy from 1798 until 1868, when Congress cut off funds for the mission. It has never had a full ambassador there, although Myron C. Taylor served as personal representative of Presidents Roosevelt and Truman from 1940 until last January 1. He had a personal rank as ambassador but his presence at Rome never constituted formal diplomatic relations.

Taylor, a New York financier, and Clark, who commanded in Italy during World War II, are both Episcopalians.

Clark's nomination went to the Senate only a few hours before the expected adjournment of Congress. There appeared no possibility the Senate would act at this session on whether to confirm him.

Officials of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee said the President would have to give Clark a recess appointment if he is to go to Rome before Congress reconvenes in January.

Dr. Edward Hughes Pruden of the First Baptist Church here, which Mr. Truman attends, said he was "very sorry" about the appointment.

"I would equally oppose a like appointment to the World Baptist Headquarters or the headquarters of any other religious body," he said.

"It is my conviction that this is entirely contrary to our historic American position regarding the papacy." See CLARK, Page 13, Col. 3

Three Angeloans Only Candidates For Blount Post

Voters in the 91st legislative district will choose between three San Angeloans for a representative in special balloting on Nov. 13.

Deadline at Saturday midnight found no additional candidates filing for the office, according to Walter Grife, Howard county judge. Later Saturday night no new candidates had filed at San Angelo.

Names on the ballot will be W. A. Stroman, W. E. Davenport, and Jerry Johnson.

Stroman has been a resident of San Angelo since 1920 and was admitted to the bar in 1923. He operated an abstract office there for a number of years and served as a clerk in the 33rd legislature. He is a World War I veteran.

Davenport is senior member of the firm of Davenport, Davenport and Johnson. He has been a practicing attorney in San Angelo for 23 years. At 60, he is the eldest man in the race.

Johnson is a native San Angelo, having graduated from the junior college there. He holds his bachelor degree in agriculture at Sul Ross and a masters in education from the same school. In World War II he saw service in the South Pacific. Currently he is associated with an implement manufacturing firm.

None of the candidates has outlined a platform. In announcement statements, they pledged to do their best in representing the district without obligation to anyone.

The special election was called for Nov. 13 by Gov. Allen Shivers after R. E. (Peppy) Blount, Big Spring, resigned. Blount said law school work and obligations to his family made it necessary to step out. Howard leaves the 91st district after next year. In the district are Glasscock, Sterling, Tom Green, Irion and Reagan along with Howard.

Congress Adjournment Sees Huge Money Bills Pass For Defense, Aid

Chest Report Deadline Is Set Tuesday

Final Chapter In '52 Drive Is Set

The final chapter of this year's Community Chest story probably will be written next week.

Tuesday has been set as the final deadline for reports from workers in the campaign. Chest headquarters, at Fourth and Main is due to remain open for the first two days of the week.

The importance of getting reports in by Tuesday cannot be over-emphasized, said Dr. J. E. Hogan, general campaign chairman.

Dr. Hogan has called a special meeting of campaign leaders for Tuesday evening, at which time the results of the campaign will be analyzed. The last official tabulation showed that the Chest need $4,000 to reach its goal of $48,562.

A few additional reports have been submitted since the last meeting of team captains, and another tabulation will be made Tuesday night.

Plans for a clean-up drive to reach individuals and business firms that might have been overlooked in the regular campaign, probably will be made.

Meanwhile, all workers who still have reports outstanding are being urged to submit them on Monday and Tuesday.

American In Court

THE HAGUE, The Netherlands, Oct. 20. — An American-born woman will become a member of Queen Juliana's household for the first time. The court announced that Baroness van Voetstelaer van Gosterhout has been named Dame du Palais (lady of the palace) to the Queen's Court.

One Issue Blocking Cease-Fire Talks

BULLETIN

PANMUNJOM, Korea, Sunday, Oct. 21. — United Nations and Communist liaison officers failed today to solve the one issue blocking resumption of the Korean armistice talks.

The Allied and Communist liaison officers, however, scheduled an afternoon session and hoped then to solve the matter of flights over the neutral zone.

MUNSAN, Korea, Sunday, Oct. 21. — Allied and Communist liaison officers met today in Panmunjom in an effort to remove the last obstacle to an early resumption of Korean armistice talks.

The United Nations officers appeared optimistic.

At issue was the meeting got underway whether Allied planes can fly over the neutral zone.

The two sides Saturday agreed on a security corridor astride the road to Panmunjom, where renewed armistice talks would be held.

Before the meeting Col. Andrew J. Kinney, senior Allied liaison officer, predicted today's meeting would see the issue of warplane flights settled "one way or another."

Brig. Gen. William P. Nickols, official spokesman for the United Nations command, cautioned, however, against over-optimism.

At the Saturday session, the Communists accepted a U. N. compromise proposal to establish a 400-meter wide (437-yard) safety zone along the road linking Panmunjom with Red truce headquarters at Kaesong and the Allied camp at Munsan. This means traffic on the road will be guaranteed free from attack.

Agreement was reached earlier on the establishment of security zones of three-mile radius around Kaesong and Munsan, with a 1,000-yard zone around the circus tent in Panmunjom where the talks would be resumed.

The remaining question was—Do the Allies have the right to fly over the security zones? The Reds have insisted on positive guarantees that there will be no flights over Kaesong or the Kaesong-Panmunjom road. The U. N. feels that such guarantees would leave the way open for Red claims of violations.

PLENTY OF FIREWORKS POPPED IN CONGRESS DURING SESSION

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20. (AP) — In the little less than 10 months it has been in session this year, Congress appropriated more than $90 billion and investigated things ranging from the firing of General MacArthur to the workings of big league baseball.

In between, it: Voted $7,329,000,000 for foreign aid, extended the draft law and lowered the minimum draft age to 18½ years, appropriated $56.9 billion for the military services, extended price and wage controls in modified form, boosted taxes by $5,691,000,000 and ignored President Truman's Civil Rights program.

The investigation dealt with crime in big cities, the alleged political influence on government loans, irregularities in tax collectors' offices and the problems of small business.

Freest Spending Year Of Peace, Solons Believe

Military Building Measure Includes Funds For BSABF

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20. (AP) — The 82nd Congress quit for the year tonight, voting $13,133,150,952 in appropriations as its swan song.

It had been in session since last Jan. 3, barring recesses, and will meet again next Jan. 8.

In the sometimes busy and sometimes idle final day, Congress completed action on: A $7,329,000,000 bill to finance military and economic aid for non-Communist nations.

A $4,138,000,000 military construction bill. And a $1,676,246,976 supplemental bill to help run the economic controls agencies and various defense activities.

In the months, President Truman signed the $5,691,000,000 tax increase bill that Congress sent him Friday, but said it wasn't enough. He said he would ask Congress to come up with better tax legislation.

Most Congressmen have been figuring that this was a $91 billion session of Congress, the freest spending of any year when the country was not formally at war. Senator Ferguson came up today, however, with an estimate of $97,678,326,891.

Ferguson told the Senate that the smaller estimate did not include more than $6 billion of "fixed" appropriations, mostly interest on the public debt.

This kind of heavy appropriations has got to stop, Ferguson said. "The government cannot spend money as fast as we are appropriating it," he said.

"But what this means is simply we are building up spending pressure toward an ultimate day of reckoning which will see fantastic annual deficits unless the trend is reversed."

Ferguson said that while the appropriations made this year were about $4.7 billion less than Mr. Truman had asked for, the total voted was still "a staggering figure."

HOUSING NEED STRESSED FOR CITY TO BE "CRITICAL AREA"

An "urgent need" for 1,164 living units is pictured in a brief to be presented to the Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency this week in support of Big Spring's application for designation as a critical housing area.

The brief, including results of local Air Force and chamber of commerce housing surveys, and "case histories" of AF personnel seeking homes here, will be submitted to W. H. Sindt, Fort Worth, regional representative for the FHHFA, by J. H. Greene, chamber manager. Greene is to go to Fort Worth Monday or Tuesday to confer with Sindt.

Application for the critical housing designation under provisions of Public Law 139 will also be submitted. It is signed by Big Spring Mayor G. W. Dabney and Chamber President M. H. Bennett.

Chamber and AF surveys show the need for 1,042 living units for future air base personnel and 150 homes for civilians now on a chamber of commerce "rental waiting list." With 28 known vacancies at present, the city is short a net of 1,164 homes, the brief says.

Designation as a critical housing area will relax credit and other building restrictions. The chamber hopes to proceed with plans for a housing project on approximately 30 acres of airport land, being excluded from the local air base, as soon as action is taken on the request.

GOP Seeks South's Nationality Groups

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20. (AP) — Republican National Chairman Guy Gabrielson announced plans today for broadening his party's 1952 campaign among nationality groups and in the predominantly Democratic South.

Gabrielson, just returned from a Western trip, said in a statement that the party will:

1 — Invite leaders of nationality groups with 22 million members to a Washington conference in December to set up an all-American division in the committee for next year's drive for votes.

2 — Try to build up the party in the South with a speaking trip in November by the chairman who also will confer with leaders in Mississippi, Arkansas, Louisiana, and Florida.

3 — Build toward an unprecedented goal of 5,000 Lincoln Day rallies across the country during February.

Gabrielson said Republican leaders throughout the west "told me the people demand a change." He added:

"The people have been convinced, after 19 years of government by crisis and crony, that new, honest and competent national leadership is required to halt this country's heading flight into war, inflation, socialism and bankruptcy."

The GOP chairman said he will speak before the University of Mississippi Forum at Oxford, Miss., Nov. 15. He will meet with the Republican State Central Committee of Arkansas at Little Rock the next day.

On the morning of Nov. 17 he will have a breakfast meeting with Louisiana leaders in New Orleans. That night he will address the party's State Central Committee of Florida at St. Petersburg.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20. (AP) — The Senate has approved the nomination of Alma A. Hall for postmaster of Roby, Texas.

With upwards of $4,000 to go, the Community Chest passed the formal termination of its drive. However, efforts are to be pressed to get reports on the multiplied scores of cards which have not been worked or returned. There are hundreds of people who have not yet had a part in this undertaking who ought to mail in checks today. The Chest agencies belong to everybody, not a generous few.

Little Bobby Sale of Stanton, who has been making the current circuit with Howard county 4-H boys, ought to be double tough before he gets through feeding. He won a reserve in class at Kansas City and then at Dallas last week. Bobby is only nine years old.

Pancho Nail called with great anxiety Saturday morning to learn if someone was in distress at the post office. The flag had been raised to full staff—upside down.

Our football team got their first win of the season Friday, and the way they got it was encouraging. It was proof of more fire and that digging for that extra yard; tackling with extra drive, and blocking with extra force will pay off. The

Shootings Shatter Suez Calm As British Rush Added Units

By FRED ZUSY

CAIRO, Egypt, Oct. 20. (AP) — Two more shootings shattered the uneasy calm of the canal garrison area today and Britain rushed new reinforcements, including anti-aircraft units, to ward off any surprise bombing raids and protect her Suez lifeline.

At the same time a strong police detachment unceremoniously deported from the Sudan an Egyptian education official who had ignored a British order to stay out of the country.

Western diplomats did not believe the Egyptian Army would wage war to enforce the government's scrapping of the 1936 alliance with Britain and the 52 years of Anglo-Egyptian rule of Sudan, on the Upper Nile.

But they believed it possible the Muslim brotherhood, extremist religious organization which once boasted two million members, might wage a kind of guerrilla warfare such as eventually harassed the British out of Palestine.

Strong precautions were being taken in view of reports by Egyptian informants that the brotherhood was threatening to "blow up" the Suez Canal and set fire to British camps.

The two shooting incidents today were in the guerrilla pattern. Near the Casino Palace Hotel at Port Said, where six Egyptians were killed in rioting and clashes Tuesday, attackers using automatic weapons fired 15 shots at a truck patrol, the British announced.

The shots apparently came from a crowd of Egyptians at the edge of an Egyptian Army camp, a spokesman said. None of the six British soldiers on the truck was hurt and none returned the fire, it was said.

On the Tel El Kebir-Kassassin road west of Ismailia, a British canteen truck was ambushed and the Egyptian driver wounded five times.

Mohammed Abden Hadi, Egyptian controller-general of education over eight million Sudanese, was the official ousted from the Sudan by the British.

British Governor-General Sir Robert Howe Friday ordered him and Brig. Gen. Abdem Fatah Bishari, chief Egyptian staff officer in the Sudan, to stay in Cairo on "grounds of public order."

Gen. Bishari, on instructions of Egyptian Army headquarters, obeyed the order, but Abden Hadi took an early morning plane for Khartoum, the capital.

He said he had not received the order, but a Cairo newspaper quoted him as saying he was obeying no orders except those of his own government.

A British-commanded police detachment met him when he arrived at the airport tonight and immediately put him on another plane headed back for Cairo.

Police also blocked Ismail El Azhari, chief of the Sudanese Ashigga Party and other pro-Egyptian political leaders, from seeing Abdel Hadi. The British have accus-

Four In Custody As Aftermath In Theft Of Checks

Plan Chapel Facilities

Col. Ernest F. Wackwitz, Jr., left, Big Spring Air Force Base commander, confers with Chaplain (Lt.) Robert Stelling regarding plans for chapel facilities here. The base will have a chapel of improved design. It will include Sunday school room and chaplain staff offices in addition to the chapel proper, said Col. Wackwitz. Chaplain Stelling, of the Wing Chaplain's section at Reese AFB, was here last week to check with Col. Wackwitz. (USAF Photo).

Red-Headed Texas Moslem Heads Home For A Divorce

CAIRO, Egypt, Oct. 20. (U.S.)—Shepard King, the red-headed Texas Moslem who is aiming to wed Egyptian Belly Dancer Samia Gamal, kissed her goodbye at the airport today and winged for his old home on the range. King had a busy time during his 12 days in Cairo. Besides getting a new religion and a new name to go with it, he started the legal formalities for government permission required of foreigners who want to wed Egyptian girls, he promised to pay Samia a $30,000 dowry. And, he said, "I saw a lot of Samia."

Four people have been taken into custody in Nev. Mexico as an aftermath of theft of checks from the Long Drilling Company here.

Joe Bedwell had been staid at Hobbs, N.M. last Tuesday and was moved to the Lovington, N.M. jail. Taken into custody since then were Jim Havard, Joe Havard and Mrs. Dona Havard, wife of Joe Havard.

The latter three were picked up by authorities at Carlsbad. Five checks taken from the rear of a check pad at the Long Drilling company office in the Petroleum building had been passed. One was received at the United Store here; two were passed in Midland, one at a Penney store and one at a super-food market; two were passed in Odessa, one at the Penney store and another at Pinkie's Liquor. One check was ruined, and three, filled out and signed, were taken with the suspects.

All were made payable to an Ellis Chapman, and one of the suspects had a social security card, which officers presumed to be stolen, for that name. It was used in cashing the checks, which were usually given in payment for merchandise.

A stolen car, taken with Bedwell, was packed with merchandise. A check writing machine, taken from the Duncan Drilling company, was recovered. Officers said it was used to put the checks through after they had been forged. Charles Long, head of the drilling company, and Deputy Sheriff W. A. Fields made a trip to Carlsbad, N.M. after the other suspects had been picked up there.

Influenza Places Local Disease List

Influenza continued to pace communicable diseases in number of infections here last week, the Big Spring-Howard County Health unit reported Saturday. Diagnosed by local physicians during the week were 12 cases of four different infections. Influenza accounted for half of the total. Other diseases and number of infections were gonorrhea, four; chicken pox, one; and mumps, one.

WINGS OVER BIG SPRING

Traffic At Munny Airport Is Light; US Weather Unsettled

Municipal airport had its lightest traffic in months during the past week, Barney Edens, service manager, reported Saturday. The week's first Navy craft landed Friday, in contrast to normal weeks when Naval operations account for the bulk of airport activity. Several Air Force planes were in and out during the week, however, Edens said. Some of these brought government representatives here for airport lease conferences with city officials and private property owners. Unsettled weather here and throughout the nation may have accounted for some of the slowdown in aerial traffic, the service manager said.

Homer Beal, Gail rancher. Beal's plane has been in for several weeks.

J. D. Church, district airport engineer for the CAA, flew to Fort Worth Monday on airport business. He visited other North Texas towns before returning to Big Spring Wednesday.

Charlie Holderbaum, also a CAA engineer, flew to Sweetwater Monday for a terminal building inspection. He visited the Scurry county airport on a similar mission on the return to Big Spring.

C. L. Burr, assistant district engineer, spent most of the week on a tour of West and North Texas airports. He inspected CAA projects at Childress, Borger, Amarillo, Quanah, Vernon, Olney, Breckenridge, and Snyder.

Jack Robson has been spending annual leave with his mother in Pittsburgh, Pa. He is to return to Big Spring Monday, making the trip by air.

C. E. McMurray, other member of the CAA engineering staff, confined his week's activity to office work.

Employers To Get Tax Tables Soon Under New Rates

Employers will be required to withhold income tax from wages paid on and after Nov. 1, 1951 at higher rates provided by the revenue act of 1951.

Ellis Campbell, Jr., Dallas, collector of Internal Revenue, said that rate tables for employers are being printed in Washington. They are being rushed to the various collector offices throughout the nation. However, they cannot be released until the bill is signed into law. Employers who do not receive a copy through the mail may apply at the office of the deputy collector in the post office basement.

Employers are expected to make reasonable effort to comply with provisions respecting new rates. These include deductions on the first pay check on or after Nov. 1.

Vet Entertainment Calendar Is Large

A variety show, movies, bingo party, and a football game fill the entertainment calendar for Big Spring VA hospital patients this week.

The Abilene VFW post will send its Military Order of Cooties here this afternoon to present the variety show, starting at 2 p.m. Movies will be projected Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday afternoons and evenings.

The Odessa VFW post will sponsor a bingo party Thursday at 7 p.m. while patients will attend the Big Spring-Plainview football game Friday night.

Oil Drilling Wage Panel Is Named

DALLAS, Oct. 20. (U.S.)—Appointment of a special panel to study wage stabilization problems relating to the oil well drilling industry was announced by the 10th Regional Wage Stabilization Board Friday.

The board named members of the panel as Walter E. Boies, Jr., representing the public; Curtis Coadra, representing industry and George H. Casler, representing labor.

MR. AND MRS. J. J. HAIR

Love At First Sight Lasts For Long Time; Couple At 60th Anniversary

It was love at first sight for J. J. Hair and his wife who are observing their 60th wedding anniversary today.

The couple who met at their home town in Anderson, Texas, slipped off for a quiet marriage at the page of a Mississippi pastor some ten miles away on October 21, 1891. The news, however, had leaked out and they were surprised by friends from miles around who came to celebrate the wedding.

Today, just 60 years hence, the same scene may be reenacted as the Hairs make plans for a quiet week-end at home. Their friends and children have planned an anniversary occasion, as a special treat to them.

When Mr. and Mrs. Hair picked Big Spring from three possible sites in West Texas in 1898, there was only one good store here. The thriving town boasted a population of 500 residents, but most of these were travelling with the railroad.

Before coming to this city, Hair was in the mercantile and drug business, but when he and other citizens here decided that one bank was not enough, they organized what was then the West Texas National bank and entered the banking profession. It later became a part of the present First National Bank and J. J. Hair retired from business.

There are now three children, four grand children and two great grands to the Hair family.

The children are J. J. Hair of Houston, C. D. Hair of LaPorte and M. B. Hair, now working on his MA degree at Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene.

Grandchildren include, G. D. Hair, Jr. of LaPorte; Helen Hair of LaPorte; Sylvia Billings of Lubbock and Mrs. Jack Clenney of Albany, Ga.

The great grands are Mrs. Clenney's two children, Jacqueline and Connie.

There is no secret to wedded bliss according to the Hairs. As she expressed it, "we just loved each other at the start and never stopped."

Now that Mr. Hair has been the victim of two serious falls, his wife finds a great deal of enjoyment in keeping him employed at home. Together they reminisce and laugh over the old times while planning another "quiet" anniversary when their marriage years reach the century mark.

Mead's Advised To Reinstate One Of Its Employees

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20. (AP)—A trial examiner for the national labor relations board recommended today that Mead's Fine Bread Co. of Big Spring, Tex., stop "discouraging membership" of the firm's employees in an AFL union.

The intermediate report and recommended order was issued by Examiner Robert L. Piper. He said if the firm did not follow his recommendation within 20 days he would recommend to the NLRB that a formal order be issued.

The order arose from a complaint filed April 25, 1951 by the Bakery and Confectionery Workers International Union of America. The complaint alleged that the firm discriminated against three employees because of their union membership and activities, and violated the Unfair Labor Practices Act by discouraging membership in the union.

The trial examiner found that the firm did not violate the Unfair Labor Practices act by discharging two of the employees, but he recommended that the company offer William L. Wemberly immediate and full reinstatement to his former or equivalent position.

The complaint originally filed by the union also named Mead's Bakery Inc., as a respondent in the case. The respondents denied the charges in the complaint and answered that Mead's Bakery Inc. and Mead's Fine Bread Company of Big Spring, Inc., were separate and distinct corporations.

Piper recommended that the complaint that Mead's Bakery Inc. had violated the Unfair Labor Practices Act be dismissed.

Local Mead's bakery officials were out of town Saturday and could not be reached for comment on the recommendation.

Hearing on the union complaint against both Mead's Fine Bread company and Mead's Bakery Inc. was held in Big Spring early last May.

NLRB Examiner Robert Piper conducted the three-day hearing. Testimony was taken from 18 witnesses, including Mead officials from Big Spring, Abilene, and Wichita Falls, and William Louis Wemberly, former employee and resident of the Big Spring local, Bakery and Confectionery Workers' International union, AFL.

City Officials To Attend TLM Meeting Monday

MINERAL WELLS, Oct. 19.—For the first time in the state's history, more Texans now live in towns and cities than in the rural areas. Consequently, more responsibility falls upon municipal officials and employees than ever before.

With that idea Edgar Deen, president of the Texas League of Municipalities, will keynote the opening session of the League's 29th annual convention here Monday. His subject will be "A New Era for Texas Municipalities."

Two City of Big Spring officials will attend the TLM convention. They are City Manager H. W. Whitney and Attorney Walton Morrison. They were to leave Big Spring today.

Steel Shortage Hits Texas School Plans

The nation's steel shortage has disrupted vast building plans in hundreds of Texas school districts. Although overbooked with record enrollments, many schools are unable to expand because of federal regulations designed to conserve vital defense materials.

The Texas Education Agency reports: "The scarcity of steel and the difficulty in securing an allotment on other critical materials has seriously impaired our construction program."

L. P. Sturgeon, associate commissioner of education, reported that "some 500 school districts in Texas are now engaged in a building program."

"I do not believe that our federal authorities realize the seriousness of our situation," said Sturgeon, contending that additional allocation of materials should be made for school house construction.

"Unless there can be a liberalization of the present federal policy on allocation of controlled materials, many of the districts in our state will face a very serious problem of housing children."

Sturgeon said, "The education of children is as vital to the defense of our country as any other single factor."

SHERIFF, HIGHWAY UNITS WORK TOGETHER

Teamwork Makes Life Miserable For The Drunken Driver On Area Roads

A cooperative effort on the part of the Howard county sheriff's department and state highway patrolmen has made life miserable for a well-known public enemy, the drunken driver.

Both law enforcement agencies involved take some pride in the statistics for this year.

Based on cases that have gone to trial in county court during 1951, this group, representing about 20 per cent of the local law enforcement personnel, has accounted for about 80 per cent of the arrests involving "DWI" cases.

(DWI is the abbreviation frequently used on log books and court dockets for cases alleging "driving a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicants").

C-City Officer Is Back From Korea

COLORADO CITY, Oct. 20. (Sp)—After a year in Korea, Lt. M. A. Webb, Jr., of the U. S. Marine Corps, is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Webb, Sr., of Westbrook.

Lt. Webb was operations and embarkation officer of the First Motor Transport battalion, the first Marine division, and took part in the amphibious operation at Inchon in September of 1950.

Webb is a graduate of Colorado High School and Louisiana Tech and received his commission in 1945.

He is accompanied by Mrs. Webb, who is an employee in the executive officer's office, U. S. Naval Amphibious Base, Coronado, Calif.

After 30 days in Texas and Oklahoma, Lt. and Mrs. Webb will return to California, where Lt. Webb will report for duty at Camp Pendleton.

Robert C. Fable, Washington, D. C., assistant deputy administrator for the Veterans Administration, will pay a visit to the local veterans' hospital Wednesday. He is to conduct a station survey while here.

Reform Revolt Is Brewing In Historic Boston

BOSTON, Oct. 20.—There's a reform revolt brewing in historic Boston that supporters like to think of as another "tea party."

The sheriff's department has "pitched in" during busier periods however, to lessen the effects of a personnel shortage.

Currently, the custom is for a deputy from the sheriff's department to work the highways with Jack Taylor, the lone patrolman during nocturnal hours. They, of course, have the assistance of another sheriff's car with two more men whenever the need arises.

This plan has been particularly effective in circumventing a handicap of limited mileage allowed for the one highway patrol car. The patrolman and the sheriff's deputy who accompanies him use a state car for part of each night, and then switch to a sheriff's department car to finish off their "shift."

And a "shift" may run anywhere from 14 to 20 hours, but seldom less than 14 and sometimes more than 20. That is a grueling schedule, but the officers believe the percentage of violators apprehended has increased substantially since they started this plan.

200 Singers Take Part In Festival

Some 200 singers, representing the bulk of the 100 churches in the Eighth Baptist district, participated in the district Sacred Music Contest Festival held at the First Baptist Church here Saturday.

The festival was conducted by Dr. J. D. Riddle, head of the Baptist state music department, and Billy Rudd, music and education director for the East Fourth Baptist church. Purpose of the meeting was to improve vocal ability through performance grading.

The festival was concluded at 8:30 p.m. Saturday with singing by a "combined festival choir."

Like the highway patrol, the liquor control board here now has only one agent. There were two agents stationed here until a few weeks ago, and other personnel have been shifted here on occasion to help with some of the larger "raids."

But with the sheriff's department and highway patrol joining in, they have managed to field a team of at least six whenever the occasion demanded.

It already has gained so much ground old-time political leaders have shown alarm.

Behind the burgeoning drive to reform the city government is a 24-year-old lawyer, Jerome L. Rapaport, who claims he has no personal political ambitions.

"I am interested only in good government," he says.

VA Official Due Here

Robert C. Fable, Washington, D. C., assistant deputy administrator for the Veterans Administration, will pay a visit to the local veterans' hospital Wednesday. He is to conduct a station survey while here.

Sturgeon said 25 per cent of Texas' school districts, or about 500, have undertaken building programs.

The official indicated that materials must be made available or Texas' increasing number of school children will be without adequate classroom space.

292 Braceros Here; Entire Group Placed

Howard county cotton farmers who planned to use Mexican National labor for the harvest this year finally got some crews Saturday.

Ralph Proctor, president of the Howard County Farm Bureau reported that 292 Braceros arrived at the farm labor camp here Friday night.

By mid-morning Saturday the entire group had been placed.

most two weeks later than the Farm Bureau had hoped to bring in Mexican Nationals. The group which came in Friday night was assigned to Howard county through arrangements made with the Tarrant Marketing Association.

Earlier, the Farm Bureau had made arrangements to bring 500 Braceros here from the Rio Grande Valley. That transaction was nullified, however, because of complaints lodged against the Valley Coop.

With a short crop in sight, Howard county farmers are anxious to push the harvest forward as rapidly as possible to curtail waste and weather damage.

Big Spring has been invited to have a special "day" at the 1952 Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show in Fort Worth.

The invitation was included in a letter to the local chamber of commerce from W. R. Watt, president-manager of the exposition. No action has been taken here on the proposal, though Big Spring "days" are usually observed at the Fort Worth show.

The 1952 exposition will be held Jan. 25 to Feb. 3.

Memorial Fund To Honor Late Walter Cousins

AUSTIN, Oct. 20. (AP)—The late Walter Cousins, Sr., who became a pioneer Texas pharmacist by studying in off-hours while punching cattle, will be honored by a memorial fund at the University of Texas.

School officials announced today that a $5,000 grant had been made by Miss Margaret Cousins of New York City, university graduate and managing editor of Good Housekeeping Magazine, and Walter Cousins Jr., of Dallas, editor of Southern Pharmaceutical Journal.

The fund, honoring the donors' father, will be used to increase pharmacy library facilities.

Walter Cousins Sr. was secretary of the Texas State Board of Pharmacy for 21 years and editor of the Southern Pharmaceutical Journal for 27 years. He died in 1942. He was born in McLennan County in 1878. His family moved to West Texas frontier country when he was 18, and his first job was with Morton-Ferguson Cattle Co., which operated the M-N Ranch in Haskell and Knox Counties.

While cow-punching, Cousins carried pharmacy textbooks and a dictionary in the chuck wagon to study when he had a chance. He finally became an employee of Terrell's Drug Store in Haskell, passed examinations given by the district board of pharmacy in 1902 and opened a drug store at Munday.

Big Spring Band Prepares For Halftime Drill AND THEY WIN PRIZES, TOO Long Hours Of Preparations Bring Results For Bandsmen

By DOROTHY YATES
"Now count your cadence aloud... straighten that line... heh, if you do that tonight you'll ruin us!"

So Band Director J. W. King put his proteges through their difficult maneuvers Friday morning in anticipation of football halftime that evening.

This scene, however, is no unusual one for students who wear the Big Spring High school band uniforms. They know a few that hours of preparation outweigh those of performance some seven to one.

Each member spend 10 hours a week in group practice and some three to five more taking private musical work. For that time he is in uniform to play for audiences only about two hours of the week.

But this preparation evidently brings results, for last Thursday the band brought home a king size trophy for first place in the AA marching at the Brownfield Harvest Festival parade to which it was invited.

Previously, the 8-piece group took a marching first at the Texas Tech Rodeo parade at Lubbock. Other awards won during last spring include first division in concert and sight reading at the Inter-scholastic contests in Monahan in which 35 members also won individual solo and ensemble firsts.

Two of the group, Guy Knowles, a senior and Larry Evans, now graduated, were selected to play on the all-state band in Galveston last spring.

The members, who have already traveled 1,100 miles during the semester, are required to keep up the same scholastic standards as do school athletes.

Any student with an urge to play and a passing average is eligible to become a member, but his aptitude alone determines advancement. Competition for places in the regular group is so keen that about two ranks of substitutes are on the waiting list.

After one becomes a full member, he must keep in practice in order to retain his position. First chair players, who are top artists, are constantly being challenged by others who hope to oust them and take over their rank.

Music lessons and uniforms are free of charge to those who get into the band, but most students finish their own instruments. However, the more expensive ones, such as french horn, bass horn and large drums are furnished by the school.

Most trips made by the organization are paid for by the school. However, for meetings such as special invitational tournaments expenses come from local civic groups and from the band's activity fund contributed through the efforts of its members.

Money is raised in various ways by the young people. These include rummage sales, football button sales and spring concerts. The annual Christmas concert presentation is free of charge.

Having directed the ensemble since 1947, J. W. King, was formerly assistant head of the Texas Tech band in Lubbock.

He takes a personal interest in planning half time reviews for football games and is assisted by drum major, Glenn Bunn.

Ideas for formations are secured from various sources, other than a regular preparation bulletin. It depends upon the season, occasion or mascot of the opposing team.

After the plans are carefully laid out, the real work begins. Constant drilling and precision timing are necessary in order that members will be capable of going through their movements even if blindfolded.

It takes a lot of preparation, but as one member expressed it, "When we hear folks in the audience applaud our results, we just forget all that hard work and enjoy it."

Domestic Labor For Farming Is Urged Of West

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 20. (AP)—Glenn E. Brockway, federal manpower administrator for California, Arizona, Nevada, and Hawaii, today warned Western agriculturists to develop a long range program for maximum use of domestic labor in farming.

"The regional labor-management committee has expressed its interest in assisting to develop a program for the 1952 agricultural season which will make for a more stable agricultural labor supply by creating conditions of work and home conditions which are more comparable to those for industrial workers," Brockway said.

The committee is in accord with the use of Mexican nationals for the 1951 season, but recognizes that foreign labor is supplemental to the domestic labor supply. Therefore, agriculture should do all within its power to meet its manpower needs through the distribution and utilization of the domestic labor supply, Brockway said.

"Mexico, our next door neighbor and perennial friend, repeatedly has come to our aid in recent years by permitting her citizens to work in the United States under certain conditions," Brockway stated.

"The present agreement terminates on Feb. 11, 1952, and it is hoped that it will be renewed. But any assumption on the part of agriculture that it can relax because Mexican nationals always will be the answer to their manpower problems would be entirely fallacious."

Local Farm Loan Group Is In Sound Financial Shape

Solid conditions were reflected in reports made to the annual meeting of the Big Spring National Farm Loan association here Saturday.

Walter Robinson was re-elected president of the association in the directors meeting following the membership parley held in the Texas theatre. D. F. Bigony was named vice-president and Ira Driver was re-elected secretary-treasurer for the 17th time.

Assets of $130,809 were reflected in Driver's statement to the membership. Capital stock stood at $42,060. Investments at $83,200, cash $5,049. The surplus account showed $75,000 and the legal reserve $13,300.

Currently there are 248 loans outstanding in the amount of $605,000. This is considerably below the peak of 600 loans in the aggregate of $2 million a few seasons back.

L. H. Thomas, a past president of the organization, spoke briefly. D. F. Bigony served as Dr. I. Q. and paid off 15 silver dollars for correct answers. A guest was Newby Pratt, secretary of the farm loan association in Colorado City. Prizes awarded at the meeting included a pressure cooker to Bernard Fisher, copper bottom skillet to Earl Hull and aluminum water set to J. E. Norris.

Directors of the association are Walter Robinson, A. J. Stallings, Edd J. Carpenter, C. H. DeVaney and D. F. Bigony.

October Term Of Court Set Monday

Ever stop to think Your First Car can be a Buick!

THIS being a land where it is every man's right to dream of getting ahead—and the pursuit of happiness is guaranteed by the Constitution—it happens that a great many people aspire to own a Buick.

But too often they start with a lesser car first—from a feeling that Buicks are something you have to build up to gradually, as your take-home pay improves. So—if you have any such notion—we'd like to set you straight, right here and now.

You don't have to hope and dream and wait. If you can afford a new car—the first car you buy can be the Buick SPECIAL pictured here.

Its price tag says so. Its low cost of operation says so too.

We know that it looks like a lot of money. That's what makes it such a buy.

We know that it has a long list of features found in costlier cars, and that it rides and handles like cars that sell for a great deal more.

But that simply means that—at its price—you're getting a very big money's worth.

All of which adds up to one conclusion: the smart thing to do is come in and give this neat and nimble new SPECIAL a thorough going-over.

Try out its power—the power of its high-compression, valve-in-head Fireball Engine.

Try out its ride and handling—and you'll discover it has the "big-car feel" that you'd expect from a Buick.

Try it out for size—for room—for comfort—for all the things that you've dreamed someday of having in a car—and you'll thank your stars that you found out the facts of life in time.

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. *Standard on ROADMASTER, optional on other Buicks. WHEN BETTER AUTOMOBILES ARE BUILT BUICK WILL BUILD THEM

NO OTHER CAR PROVIDES ALL THIS:
• DYNAFLOW DRIVE • FIREBALL ENGINE
• 4-WHEEL COIL SPRINGING • DUAL VENTILATION
• PUSH-BAR FRONTEND • TORQUE-TUNE DRIVE

Mac Gets The Gifts, But Who Foots Bill?

HOUSTON, Oct. 20. (U-P)—Ollman Hugh Roy Cullen's offer to pick up the check for General Douglas MacArthur's trip to Texas today had no taker.

Glenn McCarthy, oilman and hotel operator who requested the city of Houston and other Texas cities help foot the bill, brushed off questions with "I'll have everything worked out by Monday." He left the impression he would handle the matter himself.

While the question of who would pay the airplane cost of the general's Texas tour in June spread, Houston City Councilman Phil Hamburger confirmed reports that the Elks Lodge here was still raising funds to pay for a $5,000 Cadillac president the general.

Hamburger said directors of the Elks had obtained the $5,000 automobile cost on a bank loan and that the plan at the time was to pay off this loan in monthly installments. He said he did not know what balance was left, but that subscriptions were still being taken.

The question of the unpaid bills for the MacArthur tour was raised earlier this week by McCarthy. He requested the city council here to pay $2,500 of the $5,000 it cost to furnish the general and his party air transportation. The city council agreed.

Cullen, wealthy oilman and philanthropist, Friday released a letter he had written McCarthy. He expressed "deep embarrassment" that McCarthy had asked the city to help pay the check.

Cullen offered to pay part or all of the tab.

It was then revealed that McCarthy and Mayor Oscar Holcombe of Houston had asked other Texas cities on the general's tour to chip in on the expenses.

Houston, San Antonio, Austin, Dallas and Fort Worth were visited by MacArthur.

McCarthy said the bill for MacArthur's Houston trip was $8,510.55. Of this, $5,000 was for the airplane that carried the general throughout his Texas tour and to and from New York.

Cullen said he would have rather paid the entire bill than have Houston embarrassed before the nation.

Austin Mayor W. S. Drake, Jr., said he had told McCarthy's secretary that he had paid expenses for entertainment of the general in Austin out of his own pocket. He said Austin didn't raise any money and that "we couldn't help them out."

No action has been taken by Dallas or Fort Worth, but Mayor Jack White of San Antonio indicated his city might contribute towards the cost of the airplane.

The Texas Legislature enacted a concurrent resolution inviting MacArthur to visit Texas and address the legislature. No money was appropriated by that resolution to defray expenses for reception of the general.

Men In Service

Pvt. Clarence Parr Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Parr, Sr., of Big Spring has completed his Air Force basic airman indoctrination course at Lackland Air Force Base.

Pvt. Parr

Prepared him for training into Air Force technical training and for assignment in specialized work.

Capt. James R. Coker, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Coker of Knox is now serving on the central Korean front with the IX Corps' 2nd Armored Field Artillery Battalion.

Capt. Coker is a veteran of World War II with 10 years of active service. His unit, the "Red Devil" Battalion, participated in the amphibious landing at Inchon early in the Korean conflict. Since then his 15-mm artillery has fired over 15,000 rounds in support of UN troops across the entire Korean front.

Capt. Coker's wife, Camella Coker, lives in Belton.

Lt. Col. Darrel G. Welch, son of C. O. Welch of Coahoma, has been joined by his wife, Mrs. Lucile R. Welch, and two children, Deanna, 6, and Darrel Jr., 5, at his station at Clark Air Force Base on the Philippines.

Col. Welch, who arrived at Clark AFB from an assignment in Japan last January, is petroleum lubricants officer for the Air Force Philippines command, and the 13th Air Force. He began his military career in 1940 and is a holder of the Silver Star.

Loss Of Purse Told

Loss of a purse containing approximately $20 and miscellaneous items was reported to police Saturday by Mrs. Guy Mitchell, 305 E. 19th street. Mrs. Mitchell said the purse may have been stolen from a car parked in front of her house Friday night.

Wins Award
Mr. and Mrs. V. H. Woods, 1500 W. 8th, have received a gold loving cup won by their son, Pvt. Victor H. Woods, Jr. He was awarded the cup for being soldier of the week in the 38th company, 30th Battalion, Hlt. Hawaii. He enlisted April 1, 1950 and took his basic training in Hawaii. Soon he is to be shipped to Japan.

Nearing Production

The United Concrete Pipe Company is nearing production of pipe in its factory here. Steel tubes are being fabricated now and within three weeks finished pipe may be coming off the production lines. Above, a heavy roller shapes flat steel into a cylinder (shown at left). The pipe moves from this machine to a rig that completes the operation and tack welds the seam. Another, barely discernible at left, welds the seam automatically. Some of the finished tubes may be seen at center. Below, the 800-foot plus cranesway is going in place opposite the big hopper which feeds the shot cast machine. Pipe will move off this unit and down the cranesway for proper curing.

Public Has A Chance To Speak About Care Of State's Money

By MAC ROY RASOR
AUSTIN, Oct. 20. (U-P)—"If you ask me," has said many a Texas taxpayer, "I could tell the state a thing or two about taking care of money."

Now it has happened. The state is asking you a thing or two about spending money and probably nothing would make it happier than to have every taxpayer answer — at the polls Nov. 13.

There'll be five proposed changes in the state's constitution to vote on then and every one of them involves a major money policy.

To help the voter decide whether the changes are good or bad, the Texas League of Women Voters has prepared a folder which sets out the arguments both for and against each one of the proposed amendments.

Members say they aren't interested in HOW you vote — just that you DO vote.

Here are excerpts from some of the arguments, taken in the order the amendments will appear on your ballot.

No. 1. To authorize a statewide system of retirement and disability pensions for county appointive officers and employees.

Those who are for it say county participation would be entirely voluntary and would first have to be authorized by voters of a county before it could be put into operation there. Administration of a unified system would be less expensive. It leaves decision of financing up to the individual county, providing only that the state would pay no part of the benefits.

Those who are against it say Texas already has laws adequate by providing for setting up of retirement and disability funds for county officials and employees. It does not provide that both the county and employee contribute to the fund and does not provide death benefits. Employees couldn't be placed under the federal social security act if covered by another government retirement system.

No. 2. To permit the investment of the permanent University of Texas fund in securities other than bonds of the United States, the State of Texas and certain municipal bonds.

Proponents say income of the fund would be materially improved, reducing demand on the state's general revenue fund for appropriations. Other leading American universities have already broadened their investments to include high-grade common stocks, returning 4 to 6 per cent, compared to the university's 2½ per cent last year.

Opponents say complications of an undesirable nature could result if abuses ever developed in the choice of stocks and if the economy of the country should run into a deflationary period.

No. 3. To authorize a maximum tax of 50 cents on each $100 valuation of property in rural fire prevention districts to provide equipment and personnel for fire fighting.

Friends say the tax cannot be levied except by a vote of the people living in the fire prevention district affected. Adequate fire prevention facilities will result in lower fire insurance rates and better protection to property.

Opponents claim the amendment doesn't limit the size or power of such districts or define rural fire prevention. Commissioners purchase already have power to purchase county fire fighting equipment.

No. 4. To permit the total amount of bonds that may be issued by the veterans' land board to be $100 million instead of $25 million.

Those in favor of it say the amendment will not cost the state any money as the program has proved self-sustaining. Veterans can better afford to buy farms and ranches under the long-term, low interest program and more idle land will be put into production.

Opponents contend the expanded program may not prove self-sustaining. The bonds issued are a binding obligation on the state and might prove a terrific burden if bad times brought many defaults in payments of the veteran's notes.

No. 5. To increase from $35 million to $42 million the limitation in state assistance to the needy blind, the needy aged and needy children.

Those for it argue the amendment offers an opportunity to improve the state welfare program by increasing the maximum aid payments. Present allotments are too low to provide bare necessities in today's high costs.

Opponents claim the amendment removes citizenship requirements for recipients, thus opening the pension rolls to a flood of aliens with five years residence. That would likely reduce individual payments so there would be enough money to go around instead of increasing individual payments.

IN KOREAN WAR

Four UN Minesweepers Sunk; 28 Other Ships Are Damaged

By O. H. P. KING
TOKYO, Sunday, Oct. 21. (U-P)—Four United Nations minesweepers were sunk and 28 other vessels damaged by Communist mines or gunfire from the start of the Korean War to Oct. 1. Naval and Marine aircraft lost from all causes during the period totaled 534.

These figures were disclosed by Naval Headquarters, Far East Saturday during an exclusive interview with Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chief of the Pacific Command and the Pacific Fleet Command. Radford, who had completed an inspection tour praised Allies and the Navy for sweeping enemy warships from Korean waters. He declared Allied warships now are tying down important enemy ground forces by holding over the Communists the threat of an invasion of North Korea from either the East or West coasts.

The visiting admiral did not go into details on naval losses. Navy records, however, showed that besides the four minesweepers lost, this breakdown of ships damaged:

By mines, four destroyers; by gunfire, 10 destroyers, the Battleship New Jersey, two heavy cruisers, one destroyer-minesweeper, two minesweepers, two destroyer escorts, three tank landing ships, one patrol frigate and two rocket-firing landing ships.

Sea action accounted for 400 casualties. Fifty Navy hospital corpsmen were killed and 540 were wounded or missing while serving on land with Marines.

Of losses inflicted on the North Koreans, Radford said:

"They have no more Navy and they cannot use the sea. The North Korean air force was wiped out quickly. But I don't care to dwell on figures. Sometimes I think we are kidding ourselves on enemy losses — we shouldn't be too optimistic on claims."

Radford emphasized the importance of Wonsan, the North Korean port which has been under continuous siege by Navy vessels for eight months. He said it was useless to the Reds as a supply port and that bypassing the port in moving supplies south by rail was difficult.

Then he added an even stronger reason for the endless naval shelling of the port:

"If the peace talks fail and we press for a military decision in Korea, the enemy knows that we will have to use Wonsan again. This knowledge causes him to tie down considerable men there for defense because an amphibious assault might come at any time."

The admiral said that at Wonsan and Chinnampo, West Coast port for North Korea's capital, Pyongyang, U. N. Naval forces pose a flanking threat on the Communists and force diversion of defense troops there from the main front.

Recalling the Allied landings at Inchon in September, 1950, Radford observed that the enemy "learned a lesson at Inchon he won't forget — he wasn't ready to defend Inchon."

Radford added that the Republic of Korea Navy is participating effectively in the blockade of Korea's coasts. He said the South Korean government "can be very proud" of its Navy and called its personnel "reliable, tireless and technically extremely competent."

Traffic Mishaps Worry Police

Several minor traffic mishaps worried city police Friday and Saturday. One involved an unidentified driver who left the scene of an accident without leaving necessary information, officers said.

Dosswell O. Wortham, 200 Mt. Vernon, was driver of the vehicle in collision with the hit-and-run machine. The mishap occurred Friday at 3rd and Scurry.

In a Brooks Humphries, 705 Abrams, and Mary Jo Barnes, no street address given, were drivers of cars in collision at 1101 E. 14th Friday. Herman Conway, 700 Nolan, was operating a vehicle which struck a Stripling Supply company truck at 700 Nolan about 1:30 a.m. Saturday.

Cars in collision on the west viaduct at 9:15 a.m. Saturday were driven by J. L. Van Dyke and C. M. Nunez, both of Big Spring, according to investigation officers. No extensive damage resulted from any of the accidents.

Fined $100, Costs For Concealment

A fine of $100 and costs was assessed in county court against Ismael Canas, who entered a plea of guilty to a charge of carrying a concealed weapon.

In another case heard Saturday, Eugene Perez pleaded guilty to a charge alleging illegal sale of alcoholic beverages and was fined $100 and costs. Perez had previously entered a plea of not guilty.

They are the plant advisory committee for some 30 companies and 60 individuals cooperating in the operation.

Snyder Natural Gasoline Plant To Be Dedicated On Wednesday

SNYDER, Oct. 20—This booming oil town, the center of production activity in the Scurry County oil fields which furnished the industry's biggest boom in 1949-50, will become the focal point of news interest Wednesday when the operators formally dedicate the new Snyder Gasoline Plant to the general purposes of oil progress and conservation of natural gas resources in that section.

at 1:30 p.m. on the plant grounds about 2 1/2 miles from the town of Snyder, and will be opened by a band concert from the Snyder high school band, raising of the American flag, and welcoming remarks by Ralph Gelsenbonor, director of the Scurry County Chamber of Commerce, and Snyder bank official, speaking for the Fluor Corp., Ltd., contract builders for the project, will be James Wiseman, Los Angeles, Calif., a Fluor vice president, who will review briefly the processing features which made this plant unique and possibly the largest producer of natural gas liquids in the world at this time.

Spraberry Still Clings To Lead In West Texas Play

By JOHN B. BREWER
SAN ANGELO, Oct. 20—Spraberry play, making it a habit, again took the West Texas oil spotlight this week.

Reagan County had a variety of activity, in the northwestern part of the county two miles southeast of production in the Weiner-Floyd field and four miles northwest of the North Pemb. & pool, Schio No. 1 Leonard Proctor, was bailing three barrels of oil hourly, naturally, from perforated casing at 7,565-596 feet. Clearing out and hydraulic fracturing was planned. Earlier the test recovered 35 feet of clean oil and 60 feet of oil and gas cut mud on a one-hour test from north, 1,980 feet from east lines of section 32-36-5s, T&P.

A Helping Hand

Dick Prahm (No. 44) lends a helping hand in Big Spring's effort against Haskell with a jaunt into the line. Frank Clarkson of Haskell is awaiting Prahm while Doug Dendy (25) and Ralph Offill (84) look on. Big Spring won the Friday night game, 12-7.

FRANKLIN SCORES TWICE

Steers Ease Past Haskell Indians For Initial Win

The Big Spring Steers tasted a sweet victory for the first time this season here Friday night but ate sparingly.

In a hula of a struggle, the Longhorns nudged an inspired Haskell outfit, 12-7. In order to finish ahead, the Steers had to dig in and repel a spirited Indian threat late in the fourth period, a drive that finally succumbed on the Big Spring eight-yard line.

Big Spring struck twice in the first half to lead 12-0, at the intermission. Haskell came back to get its TD on a 95-yard drive early in the fourth.

The Longhorns had another TD nullified in the third quarter by a penalty. Doyle Maynard scooted behind the Haskell defenders and accepted a payoff pitch thrown by Frank Long but a man-in-motion infraction was called against the Longhorns.

Fumbles hurt the locals, too. Three times the Big Springers lost the ball inside the opponents' ten-yard stripe. The Indians' scoring drive, incidentally, was set in motion following a Steer fumble on the Haskell five.

Buddy Collins, a converted tackle, proved tremendous in the Haskell attack—in fact, he was the whole show on the ground. Of the 122 yards Haskell gained from scrimmage, Collins bruised for 103 and scored the Haskell six-pointer from ten yards out.

Speck Franklin scored both the tallies for Big Spring, one on a nifty 30-yard pass from Long and the other from two yards away.

Franklin played his best game of the season. Jimmy Ellison was outstanding at times. Bobby Hayworth continued to show improvement, both as a ball carrier and on defense. Harold Haynie played his usual fine game.

No one contributed anymore to the victory than little Robert Hayes, a demon on defense. Hayes intercepted two passes to ruin Haskell drives and turned in tackle after tackle that slowed the Indian attack.

Eldon Amonett, Haskell's top back, didn't even suit out for the contest. Haskell missed him no more, perhaps, than did Big Spring its star end, Raymond Gilstrap.

Haskell started off as if it were going to eat the Steers alive, driving all the way to Big Spring's 12 before the Herd riveted its defenses and gained the ball on downs.

After that, it was pretty much Big Spring's show in the first half. A first period drive sputtered out when Hayworth fumbled the pigskin on the eight but eight and seemed certain of going over but the Big Springers had other ideas.

The Steers hit the jackpot in a hurry when Long drew a bead on Franklin and hit him on the goal line.

A pass interception by Hayworth set the Steers in motion again in the second period. Franklin's scoring jaunt culminated a 52-yard drive.

A 15-yard penalty against the Steers, which moved the ball down to the Steers' ten, proved a big assistance in Haskell's TD drive.

Following the Haskell score, Bobby Porter tried to capture the ensuing kickoff but let it get away and Haskell pounced on the ball on the Steer 45. From that point, Haskell drove all the way to the

TWO OF GREATEST CAGE STARS ARE ARRESTED

By ROBERT GOLDENSTEIN CHICAGO, Oct. 20. — The spreading collegiate basketball fix scandal today engulfed the University of Kentucky's fabulous 1948-49 team — one of the greatest in the history of the sport.

Investigators from the New York district attorney's office seized the two former All-America greats, Alex Groza and Ralph Beard, in Chicago, and ex-Kentucky team captain Dale Barnstable in Louisville.

After questioning, the investigators said the three today admitted accepting $500 bribes each to shave the point spread in 1949 invitational tournament game March 14, 1949 in Madison Square Garden, New York.

Loyola of Chicago, underdog by around 10 points in that game, whipped Kentucky, 67-56, in a stunning upset.

The fix scandal now has implicated at least 34 players from seven teams. Other schools involved are Bradley, Toledo, CCNY, Manhattan, Long Island and New York U.

Groza and Beard, now stockholders and mainstay players on the professional Indianapolis Olympians of the National Basketball Association, were suspended from professional basketball after their arrest.

Maurice Podoloff, NBA president who flew to Chicago from his New Haven, Conn., home announced the action.

Groza, six-foot, seven-inch center, and Beard, a guard, were arrested Friday night at the Chicago Stadium where they watched the Rochester (N. Y.) Royals defeat the college All-Stars.

Their old mentor, Adolph Rupp, Kentucky's basketball coach, directed the All-Stars.

Assistant District Attorney Vincent A. G. O'Connor of New York took them to the Criminal Courts Building where they confronted Nick (The Greek) Englis and Nat Brown — gamblers under indictment in New York on charges of game fixing.

O'Connor questioned the former players for seven hours and then announced that both had admitted receiving bribes in the Kentucky-Loyola game. He told newsmen: "The fixers insisted the payoff in the Kentucky-Loyola game was 2,000 with Groza getting $1,000 and the other two $500 each. The gamblers said the only other point shaving was in a Kentucky-Tennessee game at Lexington in 1949. But Groza and Beard would not admit to any fixing except in the Loyola game."

Groza and Beard were in custody for some 15 hours before they were released on $1,000 bond each today. The bond was put up by a professional bondsman.

Cadets Shelled By Crimson Tide

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 20. — Harvard's young hopefuls subjected Army's winless football remnants to their fourth straight setback, 22-21, today.

The Crimson youngsters clinched their first major victory of the season by converting a blocked Army punt into a second period safety.

Defensive Halfback Bob Hardy smeared Freddie Attays when he attempted a boot from Army's 25. The ball bounced into the Cadets' end zone before Attays could smother it.

At the outset, Army launched a drive from their 20, which Attays ended by going through right guard for 4 yards and the game's first touchdown.

Harvard's aerial attack got going early in the second period, and Johnny Tulenko put his team back in the game with a 18-yard touchdown pass to Paul Crowley.

The significant safety and Fullback Johnny Culver's two-yard scoring slam followed to give the Crimson the upper hand.

OLIE MATSON SHINES NEW YORK, Oct. 20. — Olie Matson, San Francisco's highly-heralded All-America candidate, lived up to his advance notices today as he led the undefeated Dons to a 25-20 victory over Fordham.

BEAR STAR HURT

Troy Astounds Cal., 21 To 14

By RUSS NEWLAND BERKELEY, Calif., Oct. 20. — Mighty California's football empire collapsed with a roar today, levelled by a 21-to-14 beating by Southern California's thundering Trojans before a capacity crowd of $1,490.

The nation's No. 1 team in the Associated Press football poll bowed to the 11th-ranked club in one of the tremendous upsets of the season.

California, for a large portion of the game minus the services of star Fullback Johnny Oliszewski, fell as the charging Trojans scored three touchdowns in the second half.

Oliszewski was injured early in the first quarter.

The Bears, in command the first two periods, led at the half time 14-0.

California went into the game a 13-points favorite. They left the field thoroughly beaten.

California was working on a spectacular record of 23 games without defeat in Pacific Coast Conference play. Only a 7-7 tie last year with Stanford marred the record.

California crashed to a 49-yard touchdown in the initial quarter and went 46 yards in the second to hold what appeared to be game control at the half time.

But the Trojans surged back in the third period. Frank Gifford, left half, raced 69 yards for a USC touchdown and kicked the extra tally to put USC seven points behind the Bears.

In the same quarter the Trojans put the ball into play on their own

40. They smashed and passed the 60 yards to tie the count. Gifford tossed a short, soft one to Quarterback Dean Schneider from Cal's 6 and Schneider jumped two yards for the score. Gifford again converted to make the game 14-14.

The Trojans sewed up the game as it neared the end. A 20-yard punt return gave them the ball on California's 22. In seven plays they went over, with Fullback Leon Sellers driving through for the last two yards. Gifford converted.

Spartans Outlast Penn State, 32-21

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Oct. 20. — Mighty Michigan State, in trouble for the third successive week, showed its class by coming from behind to give Penn State a 32-to-21 licking today.

The Michigan State Spartans pulled their long-gaining plays out of the bag in the third quarter after Penn State had taken a 14-13 lead.

Jim Ellis, a sophomore, galloped 57 yards returning a Penn State punt for a touchdown. Quarterback Al Dorow added another by pulling in a 41-yard pass from Don McAuliffe, and Leroy Bolden, the little freshman sprinter, dashed 66 yards for the final score.

These three plays gave Michigan State its fifth straight victory. The Spartans, ranked third in the nation in the Associated Press weakness poll, had barely eked out triumphs over Ohio State and Marquette in its last two games.

BY RICE OWLS

Mustangs Snowed Under, 28 To 7

By ROBERT E. FORD DALLAS, Oct. 20. — A slashing Rice football team, showing even the great Fred Benner some thing brilliant in a passing game, soundly trounced Southern Methodist University tonight, 28-7.

It was Dan Drake who stole the passing magic of Benner, conqueror of Notre Dame a week ago, and routed the Mustangs. He threw three marvelous touchdown aerials to sew up the game for the Owls.

It was considered an upset in many quarters — certainly the size of the margin was unexpected.

The other gem in the Owls' arsenal show was Bill Howton, left end, who gathered in all three of Drake's scoring heaves.

Rice also displayed a solid running game that the Mustangs couldn't match. David (Koss) Johnson, weighing in at only 177 pounds, crunched consistently through the SMU forward wall, once going all the way to score from 22 yards out.

Benner looked like he might come back with his old passing skill at times, but he never could hit pay dirt. The Owls were pounding him hard and he did not play at all the time SMU had the ball. At least twice he was injured, finally leaving the game midway of the final period never to return.

In the first quarter, it looked like Jerry Norton's running would chase Rice out of the Cotton Bowl.

Starting on the SMU 20, he ate up yardage with steady gains, aided by a 30-yard pass, Rusty Russell Jr. to Dave Powell, and short gains by Benton Musselwhite and Powell. With the ball on the Rice two, Norton charged over left guard for the only Pony score. Sam Stollenwerck converted. The drive covered 71 yards.

Trinity Triumphs

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 20. — Two sparkling runs, one for 5 yards the other for 46, gave Trinity a 20-12 victory over Austin College here today.

Andy Kalmanir, Trinity tailback, tight-roped the sidelines for 85 yards in the final period after an Austin rally had grown cold on the Tiger 3.

Dogies Defeat Snyder, 33-6

SNYDER, Oct. 20. — The Big Spring B team battered the Snyder reserves into submission here Saturday night, 33-6. Big Spring led at half time, 19-6.

James Hollis scored two touchdowns on long runs for the Dogies. David Wilkerson made one on a pass. Rex Bishop turned in a 30-yard scoring run and Guard Jackie Milam made a six-pointer on a pass interception.

The victory was the fourth in six starts for Big Spring.

Princeton Routs Lafayette, 60-7

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 20. — The lowly underdog, Bill Tryon, outdazzled dazzling Dick Kazmaier today in pacing Princeton to a 60-7 rout of Little Lafayette for the Nassau Tigris' 17th football victory in a row.

Tryon, a junior tailback who had been threatened with demotion to the junior varsity, scored two touchdowns and passed to two others in a sparkling individual display.

Purple Trips Aggies, 20-14

Fourth Quarter Rally Pays Off

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
FORT WORTH, Oct. 20. (U-P)—Texas Christian's battered Horned Frogs pulled themselves together for a final quarter onslaught that brought them a 20-14 victory over Texas A&M today.

Conference standing, with two victories against no defeats. Baylor, the only conference team left with an undefeated, untied record, has won one conference game.

The Aggies battered Texas Christian with a vicious ground attack for three quarters but had to use the forward pass to score on the burning, crippled Frogs who never fought harder and never won against adversity more than today.

In an amazing finish that saw the Frogs, who last week fell before Texas Tech, 33-19, knock A&M from the ranks of the undefeated and untied, Texas Christian wrapped up the game in a span of about five minutes.

It was one of the greatest upsets a Horned Frog team ever pulled and it brought Coach Dutch Meyer onto the field to plant embarrassing kisses on his guards, tackles and backs.

Texas A&M entered the fourth period with a 7-0 lead and should have had more scores, three times being repulsed by the limping but battling Frogs deep in TCU territory.

Then the Aggies got another touchdown and the crowd of 24,000 figured the game was over except for the formality of playing it out.

But Texas Christian, with a number of its team members playing with bandaged legs and hands, roared 6 yards for a touchdown. The crowd perked up at that.

Then TCU city-kicked A&M with the on-side kick. The Aggies drew a 15-yard penalty before the kick-off for having roughed Keith Flowers, TCU extra-point kicker, as he converted after the Frog touchdown.

Flowers ran toward the ball as if to kick it but Ray McKown, heart of the Frog backfield, crossed in front of him and booted the oval.

Razorbacks Turn Spoilers By Licking Texas, 16-14

Arkansas Line Provides Edge

By CARL BELL
FAYETTEVILLE, Oct. 20. (U-P)—A hopped-up band of Arkansas Razorbacks today defeated Texas, the nation's No. 4 team, 16 to 14, the first time in 13 years. Two big, rugged lines fought each other to a standstill for most of a great defensive scrap, but the Arkansas forwards were the ones who were able to open the holes when opportunity knocked.

untouched. June Davis converted to make it 7-0.

The Razorbacks took the next kickoff and, by pouncing out to seven yards a play, drove to the Texas two, where on the fourth down Co-Captain Pat Summerall kicked a field goal.

made a first down on the 10. Then, Troxell again skirted right end, going all the way this time. George Thomason converted to make it 16-7.

Texas got the wind to its back again in the fourth period but could not muster as consistent offense. The Longhorns, however, put the pressure back on the Razorbacks when June Davis recovered a fumble on the Arkansas 16. Five plays later Dan Page passed eight yards to Tom Stolhandske for a touchdown.

Junior Athletic Program May Be Lessened Soon

School board members, principals, coaches and superintendents of area schools met at Coahoma the past week to discuss athletic policies for the remainder of the school year. It was the consensus of the group that so many athletic events were conducted last year that some students were seriously handicapped in their school work.

Tarheels In Near Upset Of Terps

COLLEGE PARK, Md., Oct. 20. (U-P)—Maryland had to struggle mightily today to wrest a 14-7 victory from North Carolina and stay undefeated. The tarheels threatened to stage an uprising against the seventh-ranked team in the nation by gaining at least a tie. On the Maryland 15 for the second time in the last quarter, Billy Williams rifled the ball to Bob Gant over the goal. Gant had just started to wrap his hands around the ball when Joe Petruzzio hit him so hard he dropped it.

Anson Clouts Colorado City To Protect Unbeaten Record

COLORADO CITY, Oct. 20.—The undefeated Anson Tigers invaded the lair of the Colorado City Wolves Friday night for the 5-AAA conference opener and came away still undefeated. The hapless Wolf pack which had been unable to score for two games, made it three in a row and the Tigers won, 27-0.

The Colorado City team found themselves unable to run or pass against the tough defense thrown up by the Jones County boys and managed to net only 22 yards rushing as compared to 229 for the Tigers, while four passes brought 29 yards, with the Tigers completing 5 for 130 yards—and a brace of TDs.

The score could have been higher except for stout defensive play on the part of Bill Post, Billy Shoemaker, and Maynard of the Colorado City team. Post intercepted two passes, recovered a fumble and was getting tackles all over the field. Shoemaker recovered a fumble on the 13 in the third quarter when the Tigers were threatening on the 13 and Maynard in-

Mustangs Belt Childress, 20-6

SWEETWATER, Oct. 20.—Sweetwater's Mustangs emerged triumphant over the Childress Bobcats, 20-6, in a football game played here Friday night.

James Butler scored the initial Sweetwater TD on a pass from Joe Smith in the first period. Don Reagan made the second from the one in the second period.

In the third, Hal Byrd went over from the one. Reagan made two extra points.

Everett Jones slammed over for Childress' only score from 15 yards out in the third.

Nation's Top Horses In Eastern Show

HARRISBURG, Pa., Oct. 20. (AP)—Pennsylvania National Horse Show opened its doors today for what show officials were calling the world's largest array of horse-flesh.

More than 700 of the top horses of the country and five foreign nations will compete today through next Saturday for a prize list exceeding $33,000 in cash prizes and trophies. There will be no show Sunday.

The center of attraction will be divided between the International Jumping competition and the first appearance in America of France's famed cavalry drill team, Le Cadre Noir (The Black Troop).

tercepted a pass and ran 60 yards to take his team out of another hole.

The first score came midway of the first quarter, Kenneth Helms of the 1st quarter, Kenneth Helms lofting a flosler to Jerry Bingham scampered the other 30 yards for the score. Wayne Connell added the point. A spread play brought the next score, with Willie Goza through the middle for 7 yards. Connell converted.

The passing combination of Helms to Bingham scored in the 4th quarter from the 27-yard line. Connell converted to bring the score to 14-0.

Big Kenneth Scott, star fullback for Anson, had been kept under control for three and a half quarters, but finally broke into the secondary and simply ran over anything that got in his way. His TD added another six points and the final score, 27-0.

Colorado City plays Rotan at Colorado City next week, another 5-AAA conference game.

Stanton Buffs Bow To O'Donnell Eagles In District Game, 40-0

STANTON, Oct. 20.—The O'Donnell Eagles battered the hustling but green Stanton Buffaloes, 40-0, in a conference football game played here Friday night.

Kellias Davis ran over three touchdowns for Coach Ed Robertson's team. One was on a jaunt of 50 yards, another for 15 and the third on a one-foot plunge.

Wayne Mott, a freshman, intercepted a pass and ran 75 yards for another O'Donnell score. Red Raines, a sophomore, churned 65 paces for a TD while Wendell Edwards, a junior, cruised over for another.

Billy Clark, junior quarterback, played an outstanding game for O'Donnell while up front Gerald Moore, 220-pound sophomore tackle; Don Fritz, 215-pound junior guard and Odell Howard, 210-pound junior tackle, were tops up front for O'Donnell.

O'Donnell did most of its damage in the last half. The scrappy Stanton outfit held them to two touchdowns in the first two quarters.

O'Donnell plays the Lubbock B team in O'Donnell next Friday. Stanton goes to Whiteface for a contest.

Tiremen Beaten In Clinic Five

Phillips Tire dropped two of three games to Gregg Street Health Clinic but retained L. J. lead in Men's Bowling league standings here this week.

Other matches, Lee Hanson's won two from Cabot, the Eagles Club romped on Team 4 in two of three games and Big Spring Herald nudged Team 5 by the same margin.

Virgil Long notched the high score and series with 223-568. E. B. Dozier, Jr., had a 216.

Phillips now has won 15 games and lost six, Gregg Street and Lee Hanson's each 14 and T. Cabot 11 and 10, Team 4, ten and 11, Eagles Club, 16 and 13, Team 5, six and 15 and Dally Herald, four and 17.

Bearcats In Tie With Christoval

GARDEN CITY, Oct. 20.—Garden City came from far back to tie the Christoval, 19-19, in a District Eight six-man football game here Friday night.

Christoval led, 19-7, at half time but Jimmy Robinson and Wilburn Bednar scored touchdowns in the last half that deadlocked matters.

Jack Pardee scored all three touchdowns for the Christoval gang. Bednar raced cross for Garden City's first tally in the second period.

Starting lineup: Christoval—Leon Wyatt, Jack Pardee, Bucky Atkins, Charles Bollinger and Jack Wilkerson.

GARDEN CITY—Bill Robinson, Tommy Rich, Wilburn Bednar, Darrell White, Alton Cope and Bryant Harris.

Longhorns Play Dragons To Tie

FLOWER GROVE, Oct. 20.—Loop's Longhorns scored on the last play of the game to tie the Flower Grove Dragons, 12-12, in a District Seven six-man football game played here Friday afternoon.

The Steers went out in front with a first period tally but Flower Grove came back after the intermission to count twice.

West Ward Runs Over Airport

West Ward ran roughshod over Airport, 33-0, in a Ward School football league game played at Steer stadium Saturday morning.

Lyle Spencer proved the offensive star for West, scooting for four touchdowns and three extra points. Edgar Patterson ran the opening kickoff back for a West touchdown.

The contest between Central Ward and East resulted in a 6-6 deadlock.

Jimmy Tucker breezed 58 yards for a touchdown that put East ahead in the second period.

Muri Dean Harter put Central back in the game with a 30-yard scoring sprint in the third period.

Hooper and Robertson were outstanding in line play for the East. Kate Morrison and College Heights postponed their game because Kate Morrison students were attending the State Fair in Dallas.

Counterpoint First In Jamaica Classic

NEW YORK, Oct. 20. (AP)—C. V. Whitney's Counterpoint took the lead from C. T. Chenery's Hill Prince in the stretch today and went on to win the $5,900 Empire City Gold Cup at Jamaica.

The chestnut son of Count Fleet, ridden by Dave Gorman, covered the mile and five-eighths in 2:42 4-5 seconds, which equalled the track record set by Stymlie in 1946.

Third in the small field of four starters today was Hull Down.

KNIGHT SCORES TWICE

Coahoma Bulldogs Down Trent Gorillas, 12 To 0

TRENT, Oct. 20.—Tommy Proctor's Coahoma Bulldogs kept alive their title hopes in District 5-B by belting Trent, 12-0, here Friday night.

Jimmy Knight cracked the line for both Coahoma touchdowns, getting the first on a two-yard run in the initial quarter and the second on a one-yard smash in the second.

The Bulldogs had the ball on the Gorillas' three yard line in the third period but could not get it across. Trent was on Coahoma's 18-yard line when the half ended.

Gary Hoover and Jack Owens played outstanding games for Coahoma. Bob Garrett, subbing for the injured Elvon DeVaney, was impressive, too. He is only a freshman.

Coahoma blocked three punts during the battles. Johnny Bob Turner and Billy Joe Cramer each accounted for one and the whole line, led by Jim Spears, got through on the other.

Each team made ten first downs. Coahoma led in yards rushing, 123 to 149.

The victory was the second in three conference starts for Coahoma. The Bulldogs host Hobbs in an important 5-B game next Friday night.

Lorraine Loses To Robert Lee

ROBERT LEE, Oct. 20.—Robert Lee added to its 5-B victory skein by belting Lorraine, 27-0, here Friday night.

Donnie Duncan counted the first Robert Lee touchdown from the 18-yard line in the first period.

Bill Harris intercepted a pass and sprinted 25 yards for the second. In the fourth, Havens intercepted a pass thrown by Bobby Trice and breezed 30 yards across the double stripes. Havens counted a short time later on another interception, going 80 yards to pay dirt.

Gainesville Will Stay In Big State

FORT WORTH, Oct. 20. (AP)—Gainesville, the 1951 champion, will retain its franchise in the Class B Big State Baseball League, Howard Green, president of the circuit, announced Saturday.

Green said he had been informed by R. D. Clark, president of the Gainesville club, that directors had voted unanimously to operate as a local organization next season.

The club has been operated by R. W. Burnett, president of Dallas' Texas League team, the past two seasons. It drew poorly the past season despite leading virtually all the way, and there had been speculation the franchise might be shifted.

The league is now set for 1952, other members being Austin, Waco, Sherman-Denison, Texarkana, Wichita Falls, Temple and Tyler.

Hobbs Falls Bronte

HOBBES, Oct. 20.—Bronte fell before Hobbs, 19-0, in a District 5-B football game here Friday night.

Earl Lynn Neves, Bill Etheridge and Bill Masters scored Hobbs' touchdowns.

'Guard Around' Play Clicks For Muskegon

MUSKEGON, Mich., Oct. 20. (AP)—Ever hear of a "guard around" play? Muskegon High School — undefeated so far this year — is using one.

The play, as used by Coach Harry Potter, calls for a guard to pull out of the line, take a back lateral pass from the "T" quarterback, and hit the other side of the line.

Guard Eugene Curthrell scored on the play Friday night as Muskegon whipped Ham-track, 45-4.

Britain's Grand Old Tory Tries Again On Thursday

Statesman, soldier, writer, artist —amateur bricklayer. Winston Churchill's career is more colorful than one of his own canvases. As a youth he became a lieutenant in the Fourth Hussars. He fought with the Spanish in Cuba in 1895 (he had special leave), on India's frontier in 1897, on the Nile in 1898, in the Boer War in 1899-1900 and in France in 1915-16. In each campaign he won medals for personal bravery. Part of the time he served as newspaper or combat correspondent — sometimes as both soldier and writer. Early in his career, he began to write books, the most famous being those about World Wars I and II. He got into parliament in 1900, was undersecretary of state for the colonies in 1906-08 and president of the Board of Trade in 1908-10. In later years, he held many cabinet posts. During both world wars he was first lord of the Admiralty. But his greatest fame came as war-time premier in World War II. His flaming oratory stirred the world to fight Hitler. Now he is again campaigning to win back leadership of England from the Labor Party. (AP Photos).

Editors Think Truman, Taft Best Qualified

CHICAGO, Oct. 20. (AP)—President Truman and Senator Taft (R-Ohio) have been named in a poll of newspaper editors as the 'best qualified' in their respective parties for the presidency.

The poll was conducted by the National Editorial Association with 319 editors of small daily and weekly newspapers participating. The editors, a NEA spokesman said, were 'pretty well scattered' across the country.

In the vote for best qualified Democrat, Mr. Truman received 64 ballots, with Senator Douglas (D-Ill.) second with 63 and Senator Byrd (Va.) third with 62. Others receiving votes included General Eisenhower, 19; Chief Justice Vinson of the Supreme Court 14; Senator Kefauver (Tenn.), 8; Governor James Byrnes of South Carolina 5. Taft polled 128 votes to lead the Republicans. In second place was Gen. Eisenhower with 7, followed by Gov. Earl Warren of California 35, former Gov. Harold Stassen of Minnesota 28; Gen. MacArthur 10; Sen. Morse (Ore.), 5 and Sen. Duff (Pa.) 4.

Conservative Victory Is Seen By Press

LONDON, Oct. 20. (AP)—Britain's newspapers editors have forecast a Conservative victory with a majority of 76 seats in parliament in the general election.

In a nation-wide survey conducted by the Bournemouth Times, editors were asked which party they thought would win in their constituency. A similar survey last election was fairly close but failed to give the Conservatives as many votes as they polled.

BBC Plans Special Broadcast For King

LONDON, Oct. 20. (AP)—The British Broadcasting Corporation is planning a special broadcast for one man — ailing King George VI. The king, who is recovering from a lung operation, will not be able to attend a star-spangled variety show in a London theater next week.

So, the BBC has promised to bring the show to the monarch's sickroom, piping a broadcast of the performance by private line into Buckingham Palace.

Minister

Cabinet Minister Anuran Bevan is an arch foe of the Churchillian forces. Solidly against rearmament and firmly behind more socialism, he not only finds himself at odds with the Tory leader, but with his own party chief, Clement Attlee. Bevan consistently has scored the lowering standard of living in England while American standards grow higher in our defense build-up.

Nationalized Industries To Stay Even If Churchill Party Gains Power

LONDON, Oct. 20. (AP)—Most of Britain's nationalized industries will remain nationalized — even if Winston Churchill's Conservatives win the general election next Thursday.

The Labor Government has taken over many of the nation's key resources; coal mines, iron and steel mills, railroads, docks, airlines, power and gas plants and long distance trucking; plus a few extra frills such as Britain's biggest cable company. That's an estimated 20 per cent of the nation's industry, but the Conservatives say, if they oust Labor, they will return to private owners only the iron and steel plants and some of the 40,000 trucks. All the rest would remain in state hands.

That doesn't mean the champions of private enterprise have fallen under the influence of Karl Marx. But the Socialists have been thorough and, as Churchill's deputy, Anthony Eden, puts it, the Tories have more important things to do than to try to "unscramble the eggs."

There has been so much reorganization in the nationalized industries that the nature of the investments has changed beyond recognition and even with the best will, it would be impossible to bring the old shareholders and their assets together again.

That applies to the power plants, for instance, and the docks, canals and airlines. There are also national development programs which the government — whatever party it came from — would not like to interrupt. British Electricity Authority, which runs all power plants, is in the middle of building 43 new electricity stations and expanding 27 others.

In some cases, such as the airlines, the pre-nationalization business enjoyed a government subsidy, so that was practically government-controlled anyway.

Nor is there any big public demand for denationalization. Many consumers complain of high prices, but no private industrialists have come forward with offers to do the job in competition with the government — and bring prices down.

Some Conservatives say privately that state control of coal mines and the railroads was inevitable. There's no doubt now that it's permanent.

At the end of World War II a weary, battered Britain needed extra coal supplies to raise the groggy country off her knees. But the mines themselves were in hardly better shape.

That's why all Conservatives admit state intervention was needed, and today, nearly five years after the mines were socialized, Tory strategists are not disposed to argue about who ought to own them. The main job, they say, is to push ahead with the national coal development program and make the mines administration more efficient.

The National Coal Board — which runs the mines — is spending $1.45 billion on the development projects.

So far deep-mined coal production has been boosted from 181 million tons a year before socialization to some 204 million tons. The aim is to reach 240 million tons by 1961 — and Britain is likely to need every ounce of it.

The increase is due entirely to better organization and equipment. Tens of millions of tons actually have been lost to the nation because there are not enough men in the pits to fill the jobs going.

Lack of manpower is only one of socialized mining's headaches. Higher output hasn't avoided frequent fuel shortages because consumption increased just as fast. London was blacked out by fuel shortages in February 1947 — two months after nationalization — and Britain still avoided the same fate last winter by buying American coal. It's a nip and tuck whether the nation will get through this winter without a similar shopping expedition.

Consumers have three big complaints about nationalized coal: The first—they don't get enough of it. Secondly, that prices keep rising. The third kick is about the quality. There's no doubt that some pretty poor fuel is being hauled laboriously out of the depths of England.

Bowles At Work

NEW DELHI, Oct. 20. (AP)—Chester Bowles, new U. S. Ambassador to India, arrived today and said, "It's the wisest, honest thing to do to solve Indian and American differences is to discuss them frankly and openheartedly and I will do my best to remove them."

Even the miners are not completely happy about nationalization — which they strongly urged in the past. They say they've changed the boss they knew for a remote bureaucracy that sits in London and gives orders. It's here that the Tories say they will make changes if they are elected. Instead of one administration centralized in London, authority would be divided amongst numerous regional groups in close touch with their own workers.

The coal mines pay their own way, but they are not likely to be money makers for a long time owing to the big development expenditure.

There's no money at all in the nationalized rail system, however. They were $30 million in the red last year. But Britain's railroads were running at a loss long before nationalization.

Apart from a few prosperous war years, when they earned big sums hauling troops and ammunition, the four privately owned railroad systems had been getting deeper into debt almost since World War I.

That's why many Britons who aren't Socialists long regarded nationalization of railroads as inevitable. The railroads are essential national communication links — and could not be allowed to run down. Private enterprise was not inclined to invest sums which brought no returns.

Since it took over on January 1, 1948, the Nationalized Railway Executive has tried to plug operating losses by merging the four original companies standardizing every aspect of railroad administration.

So far that policy hasn't pulled the railroads out of the red — but it's made lots of rail employees see red.

Railroad men, like the miners, complain the centralized board running the railroads hangs like a deadweight round the necks of the men who do the work.

The Conservatives agree. They don't plan to denationalize the railroads — because it's pretty certain they wouldn't find a buyer.

But, as in the case of the mines, they promise to decentralize, restoring authority to regional bodies.

Unlike coal mining, railroads and power plants, iron and steel has not undergone any radical changes since nationalization. It was the last industry taken over by the Socialist state — only eight months ago.

With only a tiny majority in Parliament and facing a barrage of criticism that they were threatening Britain's highly feared engineering industries, the Laborites devised a cautious method of state ownership which left the set-up of private firms unaltered.

The 92 companies — who own every steel mill in the country except those operated by automobile manufacturers — are still churning out metal under the immediate leadership of their old private enterprise directors in most cases, but ultimate authority has been transferred from the shareholders to the British Iron and Steel Corporation and its Socialist millionaire boss Steven Hardie.

Hardie hasn't interfered much, although he has replaced some 40 directors, out of a total of several hundred, with his own nominees. Hardie's corporation by swapping their private shares for more than $784 million worth of government stock.

All the Tories plan to do under denationalization is reverse the Socialist procedure. First they would repeal the Iron and Steel Nationalization Act. That would entitle them to fire Hardie and dissolve his corporation. They would swap those shares back again.

Long distance trucking was taken under the wing of the Labor government in January 1948. Since then more than 3,000 trucking firms with 40,000 vehicles have been taken over by British road services, the state monopoly on the roads.

To avoid its monopoly being threatened by 54,500 private enterprise trucks still left on the road, the Labor Government limited them to runs of not more than 25 miles.

The Tories plan a gradual return to full competition on the roads, although their government would not necessarily go out of the trucking business altogether.

As truckers gradually buy their business back from the government, the Tories say they would simultaneously increase the 25-mile distance limit by stages until, when enough private truckers have been denationalized, it would be abolished altogether.

The Tories favor this gradual approach the best way of avoiding disruption in road shipments and freight charges.

A TEXAN ABROAD

Oxford Is Different From U. S. Schools

By RONNIE DUGGER

(Last year's editor of The Daily Texan at the University of Texas, Ronnie Dugger is attending Oxford on a Rotary International fellowship. This is another in a series of "A Texan Abroad" articles written by the young Texan for this newspaper.)

This is Oxford. It hardly seems proper to begin with the date, for in this thousand-year-old city of cobblestone streets, Medieval architecture, weather-worn walls, and wide green meadows, the date and even the time of day are unreal reminders of a turmoil far away.

I am writing from my rooms in Merton College. Three high, narrow arch-topped windows open from my study over a quadrangle blanketed with grass. Merton's gardens lie beyond an iron grill fence, and the college's meadows extend past the rock walls down to the River Thames.

Each college has a barge on the Thames, and many a student has gone swimming in some hidden cove of its winding waters. One time — so they say — three students went swimming in the nude while a "scout" stood watch. When two girls from a nearby finishing school came strolling down the bank, two of the swimmers grabbed their clothes and dived for some bushes, but the third — who stayed in the water — was calmly advised by the scout:

"Don't worry, sir. If they're ladies, they won't look if they're not, they won't mind."

Oxford is entirely different from our universities in the states. The very air seems to impart a sense of leisure, the college walls seem to be saying, "Now look here, we've been here 700 years, and we don't want to be bothered by a lot of impudent upstarts rushing past us all day."

A student's only formal contact with his college is a one-hour meeting with his tutor once a week, at which time he reads a short paper. His tutor suggests lectures he might attend, but none of them is compulsory. The system of a professor lecturing and students taking down notes is replaced by books, an armchair, and a fireplace.

Life at Merton begins every morning when my scout, a cheerful fellow named Baugh, crisply snaps my slumber with: "7.45, sir!" Most students spend the morning studying, but after lunch the universal custom is sports. In the evenings, somebody usually asks you to his rooms for tea and the talk goes on for hours. Yesterday afternoon I went out for rugby practice. In English football, two teams of 15 try to get a ball across the goal line by running with it, passing it (backwards only), or kicking it along with their feet. But when you're tackled, you have no shoulder pads or knee-guards you wear short pants. When you're tired, you can't call for time-out or a substitute there are none of either. The game goes on for 35 minutes without pause. For a year or so, I've been getting my exercise at the typewriter table, and I have

Leader

Clement Attlee, British Labor party leader, is fighting for his life as the Tory party lashes out against socialist living and the present crisis in Middle Eastern affairs. Sentiment among informed people concede little chance of Britain retaining its Labor party in power. Attlee's leadership, though favored by many, has been hit hard by Tory attacks and the more socialist elements in Britain, headed by Anuran Bevan.

remarkably strong fingers. After ten minutes of "rugged" practice I felt like a lion.

Jeanie and I bought bicycles as soon as we arrived. They outnumber cars in Oxford about 3 to 1, and they make a strange sight at streets, their single eyes blinking. Jeanie has also acquired comfortable "diggings" about five blocks from Merton, since women can't reside in the college.

Merton, one of many colleges, was founded in 1264, and its buildings are the oldest in the university. Its library is a rare relic, with some of its original books still chained to the bookcases, their pages frayed by the thousands of fingers of passing years.

Its Gothic chapel was built in the thirteenth century. Four great arches support its tower, which is a high, rectangular edifice with eight spires. An inaccessible balcony edges the inner walls of the Tower. The bones of many distinguished Mertonians lie beneath the cement floor of the transepts. The chapel itself is a long, high room with a mural ceiling. Seven religious windows, dating from the end of the thirteenth century and the oldest in Oxford, decorate either side.

England's royalty has always seemed to like the college. Catherine, wife of Henry VIII, dined in the cavernous college hall in 1518, and in 1922 Queen Elizabeth was entertained here. Queen Henrietta Maria stayed here during the Civil War while King Charles I was residing at Christ Church. Charles II also stayed here with the notorious Duchess of Cleves. If Merton then was as beautiful as it is now, the visits of royalty are not surprising. Broad paths, lined with rows of many-colored flowers, wind through the college's shaded gardens. Benches nestle beneath giant trees whose branches sag to the tightly-packed grass. It is autumn, and nut-brown and reddish leaves lie everywhere, strewn by bracing winds that sweep across the playing fields. Squirrels dart haltingly across the lawn, ushering in the new term.

Tonight back in my rooms, the moon, a glowing half-disc in the misty sky, is caught in the handle of a window. A ground-hugging cloud has transformed the meadows beyond the garden-enclosing stones into a lake of mist, but the greish stuff has not yet climbed the walls and the grass beneath my windows retains a darkening green.

Oxford is magnificent. No dates, no schedules, only a dinner bell and fields and gardens and narrow streets and quiet rooms. Tonight, heartbeats make the silence pound. Now the room is invaded by students from tea and argued. Now the mind flows out in words, and it is Oxford.

Policy Maker

Herbert Morrison, present foreign minister, finds himself looking for some help. He knows the election could put him out of a job and seeks to make a policy conducive to future good for Britain—a policy the Conservatives will follow if they should win, or a policy they will support should the Labor party triumph.

He's Waiting

Anthony Eden, Churchill's right-hand man in the conduct of foreign affairs, waits for the outcome of the British election. He may find himself replacing Herbert Morrison as British foreign minister. Eden has had wide experience in this role and served under Churchill's regime during the last war.

AT STATE FAIR

Martin 4-Her Has 2 Reserve Champs

Bobby Sale, 8-year-old Martin county 4-H club member, exhibited two reserve champions in the Hereford Steer show of the State Fair.

Sale's animals were judged the reserve champions in two classes. One steer was named the Junior Reserve grand champion of the Junior Steer show, and the other captured the reserve championship in the class weighing 850 pounds or less.

Young Sale paved the way for the championship honors by showing his entries to second place ribbons in the class of animals weighing over 1,000 pounds and fifth in the under 850 pounds division.

Howard county 4-H club boys copped their share of honors in the Junior Hereford Steer show at the State Fair of Texas in Dallas Thursday.

Eight of the young stockmen won a total of 10 individual places with their entries in the show. In addition, they copped second and third places in the "Best Group of Five" division of the Junior show. Perry Walker and Darrell Robinson each scored double victories. Walker exhibited the fifth place winner in the class of steers weighing over 1,000 pounds, and won eighth with his entry in the "under 850 pounds" class.

Robinson placed ninth in the under-850 class and 22nd in the 850-1,000 class.

Highest winner of the Howard county group was James Shortes who captured third place in the 850-1,000 showing. Seventh place in that division went to Lloyd Robinson, while Sonny Choate exhibited the 14th place winner.

Edgar Allen Phillips placed sixth in the under-850 class, and in the same division James Cauble won 10th and Melvin Blake showed the 14th place animal.

REV. KERMIT GIBBINS

Rev. Gibbins To Speak Here

The Rev. Kermit Gibbins, Methodist pastor at Edinburg, Texas, will be the guest speaker in the First Methodist church of this city during the All State Methodist revival which opens Oct. 28.

Services will be held at 7:30 each evening during the week of the meetings.

Also, in connection with the campaign other ministers from south Texas are to be preaching in the Wesley and Park Methodist churches here. They are Rev. C. H. Hardt, district superintendent of the McAllen district, at the Wesley church and the Rev. Walter Cartright of Hebbroville in the Park Methodist.

Trained representatives from each of these churches will participate in the revival by calling on residents and doing personal soul winning.

Pastors of this city returned last weekend from their meetings conducted in the southern area of the state.

Man Burned When Gas Pail Is Afire

Roger Hornsby, 1006 W. 3rd street, received first degree burns on his arm, back and side Saturday when a pail of gasoline caught fire in his apartment.

The burns were not serious, firemen said. The blaze had been extinguished when fire equipment reached the scene. No damage was done to the building.

Firemen Find Fire On Way To Fireman's Fire; Fires Put Out

Two fires a block apart, one of them in a fireman's garage, occurred at the main and substation fire fighters at the same time Friday afternoon. Neither resulted in serious damage.

Fire trucks were on the way to extinguish the blaze in Fire Capt.

Hubert Clawson's garage, 603 E. 12th, when they noticed another fire at 501 E. 12th street. Main station equipment paused to put out a burning dog house, then proceeded to Clawson's place to assist substation personnel.

A set of automobile seat covers was damaged in the Clawson blaze, while the doghouse at the other address was only slightly burned. Both fires occurred about 5:30 p.m.

Big Spring High School Students Name Student Body, Class Officers

As seasonal as the opening of school are the annual elections of class and student body officers.

On this page are pictured the recently-elected officers at Big Spring High and Junior High schools, now housed in one building. They are looking over the new $950,000 high school plant under construction for the past year and a half and into which the top three grades hope to move during the Christmas holidays.

The officers pictured here represent an enrollment of approximately 1100 students. With the opening of the new building, the older building will be devoted exclusively to the use of the junior high school—to include the seventh, eighth and ninth grades.

This will result in a 6-3-3 system which, Principal Roy D. Worley explains, is considered ideal by educators.

Bombardier School Officer Back With New Base---With New Family

Capt. and Mrs. L. G. Bradford are two former Big Springers who feel as if they'd been almost around the world and come home again.

The couple, who married here while he was an instructor at the bombardier school, are back again, by request, and making their home at 618 Ridgela. But this time there are three little Bradfords to swell the household—David Galen and Don Michael, 3-year-old twins, and Delinda Ann, 5.

A native of Lubbock, Mrs. Bradford and the captain were married here by a former pastor of East Fourth Baptist church, the Rev. R. E. Dunham. Capt. Bradford is from Bryson.

The family moved here from Austin, where they lived while he was stationed at the San Marcos base. He previously spent three years in Germany, where Mrs. Bradford joined him for 20 months and they visited Switzerland, France, Czechoslovakia, Luxembourg and Holland.

Delinda Ann was nine months old when Mrs. Bradford flew to Germany with her. Later, informed that the expected arrival was apt to be twins—and boys—Mrs. Bradford flew home two months before their birth. She shyly admits that she wanted them to be born in the States because "they might want to be President someday."

Other newcomers welcomed by Mrs. Joy Johnston, city hostess, and Nell Brown of Welcome Wagon, are Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Haurly, 808 E. 12th, formerly of Fort Worth. He is an electronic engineer with CAA.

Formerly of Brilliant, Ohio, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Hatcher and son, Gary, 3, now live at 506 Nolan. He is a party chief with Sohio Petroleum.

Former residents of Bonham, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Crutcher, 1105 E. 6th, have two children, Linda Fay, 3, and Charles Gayland, 1. He is a lineman with Stovall Construction company.

Col. and Mrs. Henry S. Tyler and children, Hank, 6, and Courtenay, 3, 1418 Wood, were transferred here from Perrin Air Force base at Sherman. He is wing executive officer at the base.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Williams, 1513 Scurry, moved here from Seminole. He is a driller with Grappe & Denton.

Mr. and Mrs. Noel C. O'Dell, 609 Bell, recently of Pecos, have a daughter, Chloege, 1, and a son, Carrol, 10. He is an inspector with Parkhill, Smith & Cooper.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Schofield and son, Jerry, 9, former residents of Abilene, live at 109 E. 18th. He is a driller with Fox & Weatherpoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Giles, formerly of Dallas, live at 204 Kindle Rd.

He is pipe superintendent with Wallace.

Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Brown, recently of San Angelo, are living at 808 Johnson. He is a dirt contractor and she is secretary in the Phillips Production office.

Birthday Celebrated At Party

Mrs. J. O. Sanderson, 140 W. 5th, honored her son, Billy Boots, with a birthday party on his third birthday recently.

Refreshments were served to Mrs. A. E. Sunday and Stephen Neal, Mrs. Elmer Hensley and Jimmy, Mary Louise and Doris Jo, Mrs. J. C. Gross and Ronald Lee, Mrs. Miles E. Moore, Jr., and Darla, Mrs. D. O. Wortham, Shirley and Jan, Mrs. J. W. Trantham and Lilton, Mrs. Wayne Burleson, David and Carol.

Mrs. W. E. Anderson, Donnie and Ronnie, Tommy Chancellor, Mrs. Ike Redell and Rita Ann, Mrs. Lloyd Hill, Lloyd and Pamela, Mrs. E. O. Sanderson, Judy Anderson, Mrs. Leroy Brooks, Larry and Alvin, Donna Wood, Kathy Sanders, Janice Chapman, Bobette Bankston, Mrs. Mack Sunday and Mrs. T. E. Sander.

Royal Ambassadors Have Regular Meeting

Members of the Dr. Carl Hunker Royal Ambassador chapter for intermediate boys of the East Fourth Baptist church met Thursday evening for business.

The next meeting has been announced for Thursday, Oct. 25 in the church parlor.

Some five members were present.

Halloween Carnival At Midway School

The Midway P-TA is sponsoring a Halloween carnival Friday night, Oct. 26, beginning at 7:30 at the school.

Midway's Halloween Queen will be crowned, and entertainment will include a fish pond, fortune telling, country store, spook room and a picture show. Funds from the games and food concessions will be used for the lunchroom and for school equipment.

Yearbooks Planned By Homemakers Class

New yearbooks were planned by members of the East Fourth Street Baptist Homemakers Class who met in the home of Mrs. E. L. Patton at 1103 Johnson recently.

Mrs. H. Reaves assisted with the affair.

The 15 members present also drew new names for heart sisters.

Mrs. Mabel Dunagan and Mrs. Danella Davidson were visitors.

HD Club Hears Talk On Houseplant Care

Iva Johnson, florist, spoke on "The Potting And Care of Houseplants" at the meeting of the Fairview HD club in the home of Mrs. Hollis Webb.

Mrs. G. W. Webb presided, and Mrs. Shirley Fryar was appointed living room demonstrator for next year. Mrs. Fryar exhibited samples of the new pottery pattern, "California Farmhouse."

Announcement was made of the tea and book review Thursday, Oct. 23, at the home of Mrs. G. W. Webb honoring outgoing and incoming officers.

Sixteen members and guests attended.

Mrs. Herbert Johnson Wins High At Bridge

Mrs. Herbert Johnson was the high scorer at the Friendship Bridge club meeting in the home of Mrs. Lewis Murdock this week.

Mrs. Pauline Garrison and Mrs. C. Y. Clinkscales binged, and Mrs. W. M. Gay took the floating prize.

Besides the six members attending, there were two guests Mrs. Howard Lester and Mrs. T. J. Johnson. Mrs. Lester was high for guests.

The next meeting will be in the residence of Mrs. R. F. Bluhm.

Treasures From Germany

The twins confuse their parents at times, but that's Don Michael at left. The family of Capt. L. G. Bradford is shown with figurines collected at Coberg, Germany. They were originally sketched in charcoal for children in the convent where she taught by Sister Hummel, a German nun who died at the age of 32 in 1946 of tuberculosis.

Party Entertains Aleen Reed SS Class

Mrs. Ben Hawkins was hostess to the Aleen Reed Sunday School class of the First Presbyterian church Thursday evening in her home. Mrs. Frank Taylor was co-hostess.

Present were Mrs. Albert Davis, Mrs. L. G. Talley, Mrs. Chal V. Nelson, Mrs. O. C. Chapman, Mrs. D. W. Conway, Mrs. Frank Medley, Mrs. Aleen Reed and Mrs. W. E. Greenless.

Luncheon Is Given By Trainmen Ladies

Red, white and green floral decorations centered individual linen laid tables at the Trainmen Ladies luncheon in Carpenters Hall Friday.

Mrs. Mabel Spears presided during the meeting attended by 22 women.

It was announced that new officers would be elected at the next meeting Nov. 2 in the hall.

Kouples Dance Klub Entertains Guests

Guests of the Kouples Dance Klub which held a masquerade ball at the Country Club Thursday evening were Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Ferguson of Snyder and Dr. and Mrs. Boyd Berryhill and Mr. and Mrs. Rayford Liles of Big Spring. Thirteen couples were present.

Roy Lee McMillan Returns From Korea

Mr. and Mrs. R. D. McMillan, 402 Lancaster, have received word that their son, Roy Lee McMillan landed in San Diego, Calif., last Friday after service in Korea. He was aboard the USS Sicily aircraft carrier.

McMillan will not receive his leave until January when he is to visit with his parents in Big Spring.

First Baptist Church Rites Unite Melba Preston And A. B. Sykes, Jr.

Before an altar banked with tropical fern, white mums and tapers, Melba Preston and A. B. Sykes, Jr., exchanged wedding vows and rings in the First Baptist church Thursday evening.

MRS. A. B. SYKES, JR.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Preston, 610 E. 15th, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Sykes, Sr., of Waco, Calif.

The Rev. Maple Avery, pastor of the East Fourth Street Baptist church, officiated in the semi-formal service as Mrs. H. C. Mobley, pianist, furnished a soft musical background. She also accompanied soloist, Munson Compton, who sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Entering the aisle on the arm of her father, the bride was attired in a ballerina length white lace gown with white satin underskirt. The low, scalloped neckline was inset with a high lace yoke-outlined in seed pearls. Her fitted bodice was caught to a full, circular skirt and the long sleeves descended in points over her wrists. The fingertip veil is attached to a Juliet cap pointed in front and with seed pearl edging.

cake was topped by a miniature bride and bridegroom beneath white wedding bells. A crystal punch service completed the appointments. Serving at the table were Rebecca Rogers and Mrs. A. J. Merrick, Jr. Mrs. Lucille Merrick, aunt of the bride, presided over the guest register. Jonel Neel and Lois Beagan also assisted in the houseparty.

She carried a bouquet of large white mums and baby mums. Quepha Preston, the bride's sister, was her honor attendant. She wore a gown of light blue net over taffeta patterned after that of the bride, with short, scalloped sleeves. Her headpiece was of braided blue net and satin ribbon and she carried a large nosegay of yellow mums.

The best man was Jim Lewis of Lubbock. Carl Preston, brother of the bride, and Eugene Carpenter served as ushers.

The church parlor was the scene of a reception with members of the wedding party greeting guests following the ceremony. Laid with a hand crocheted cloth, the bridal table was centered by an arrangement of white and yellow mums. A three-tiered wedding

Class meetings were called after second period Tuesday. At that time the nominees for Halloween Carnival Queen were selected. Those chosen to represent classes in the contest were: Senior, Annette Puckett; Junior, Iva Hampton; sophomore, Joyce Anderson; freshman, Dorothy Barton, and eighth grade, Sheila Sutphen.

During the campaign, the campaign manager and committee members from each class will collect votes. Votes will be one cent. Also to vote for your queen, there will be a box on the desk as you enter the dance after the football game next Friday night. The proceeds from each class booth or booths at the carnival will also count as votes.

The Student Council traveled to San Angelo Saturday to attend the West Texas Forum. Big Spring is the secretary chairman of this meeting. Our student president, Jeff Anna, will be attending political councils, while others at one time will be leading a discussion group. Those making the trip were Jeff Anna, Joyce Anderson, Shirley Wheat, Luke Thompson, Harold Haygle, Jimmy Porter, and Miss Jean Hyde, sponsor.

The band of Big Spring High school won first place at the Harvest Festival in Brownfield Thursday. Our band competed against approximately ten other bands to win this trophy. They were graded on appearance, precision, playing and general effects.

The five students chosen to participate in the last round of the speech contest which ran for three weeks at full speed met the final decision over KBST Tuesday night. At the time the speeches were given on the subject, "What The Oil Industry Has Meant To Howard County." Melva Jane Ray took first place, with a prize of $12.50; Barbara Smith received $7.50 for second place, and Tommy Thippen was awarded $5 for third place. The other two participants were Annette Puckett and Ray Arnold. This was the first contest of the year for the speech classes.

Connie Crow was chosen winner of the essay contest "What The Oil Industry Means to Howard County." The other finalists in the order of their placing were Bud Whitney and Janice Boardman. Lane Bond, Narel Dean Choate and Robert Utley also had essays entered in the run-off. This contest was a part of the Oil Progress Week activities. The prizes were $12.50, $7 and $5. All language arts students were eligible.

Brothers To Marry In Double Wedding

Double engagements of local brothers and their brides-to-be of Big Spring and Lamesa were revealed this week by the parents of the two couples.

Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Young, 610 Edwards Blvd., have announced the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Patsy, to Charles Wash, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Wash of Forsan.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Archer of Lamesa told of the betrothal of their daughter, Juanita, to Bob Wash, another son of the Forsan couple.

The two couples are to marry in a double ceremony at the First Baptist church Thursday evening, Nov. 1. The Rev. S. C. Crumley, uncle of the prospective bridegrooms, will officiate for the semi-formal service. He is pastor of the First Baptist church of Seagoville.

Miss Young, a 1949 graduate of Big Spring High school, also attended Howard County Junior college. While in school she was prominent in student and social affairs, having been selected for both club and class beauty awards. She was also president of the HJC student council during her sophomore year and is now employed as a secretary at the firm of Tate, Bristow and Parks.

Miss Archer was graduated from Lamesa High school in 1949, where she was a member of the pep squad, choral and library clubs. She has been employed by the Lamesa General hospital during the past two years.

Both bridegrooms-to-be are graduates of Forsan High school. Bob Wash also attended Hardin-Simmons at Abilene, Texas Tech and Baylor University in Waco. Charles Wash is now a sophomore in Baylor, where he is a member of the ROTC.

MR. AND MRS. RICHARD LEON LEPARD

Dixie Earlene Brown Bride Of Leon Lepard

Announcement is being made of the marriage of Dixie Earlene Brown of Brownfield and Richard Leon Lepard of Big Spring in a ceremony at the 14th and Vine Street Church of Christ in Abilene.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl J. Brown of Brownfield, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Lepard, 1104 E. 13th, Big Spring.

Dr. Orval Filbeck read the double ring ceremony Oct. 2 before an altar decorated with pink gladioli and orchid chrysanthemums. Tabernacles in candelabra flanked by greenery.

John Morlan sang "I Love You Truly" and "Because" with a background of choral music, and the traditional wedding music was given by a chorus composed of Blake Sicksles, Mary Blake, Peggy Block, Phil Phillips, Carl Wright, Bob Hunter, Carl Brecken, Anita Wood and June Wright.

Paul Faulkner gave a reading to a background of "O Promise Me."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a lilac pink crepe dress, the bodice trimmed in orchid velvet and rhinestones. A matching bolero featured three-quarter length shirred sleeves. She wore a matching hat and carried a white purple-tipped orchid atop a white Bible.

Her sister and maid of honor, Beverly Brown, wore a two-piece dress of orchid velvet with matching hat adorned with rhinestones. Her bouquet was of pink carnations and orchid chrysanthemums.

Don Chisom of Abilene served as best man, and ushers were Sam Volpe and Buddy Garner of Abilene.

At the reception in McKinnie hall, girl's dormitory on the ACC campus, the rooms were decorated with baskets of pink glads and orchid mums, and the refreshment table, laid with a cutwork cloth, was centered with the bouquet of the maid of honor.

Peggy Black, cousin of the bride,

A Bible Thought For Today

That is God's habitual command. That is why a race of slaves became a great people while the lords of the universe at that day have gone backward.

Housing Situation Can Be Solved Mainly By Those Who Will Invest

One of our current problems—and indeed ranking next to water as perennial vexation—is that of housing. About the time it seems that housing is coming abreast of demand, we suddenly awake to find it far behind.

CAMPUS CHATTER

By Jan Masters

While we groan about how hideous school is, it's honestly sort of fun, don't you think? There's a new challenge each year to see if you can raise those grades, and a thrill in the realization that you're college material. This is your chance to join a club, meet new people, just have fun. Look forward to making this year one of the most wonderful in your life.

ACE tests were given Wednesday and Thursday of this past week. Freshmen faces are very sad and sorrowful looking. They are hoping that it will not be discovered if they are really morose.

Enrollment at HCJC is now 409 students. This enrollment is expected to be increased by the class now in progress at the State hospital. A course is being offered which is related to the hospital work.

Officers of the Student Association were elected in the general elections held Thursday and Friday, Oct. 11 and 12. Bill Thompson was elected president of the Student Association. Other officers elected were: E. B. Murphy, vice president; Mary Felts, secretary; Mary Sewell, treasurer; Jan Masters, editor of the annual; Bobby Wheeler, business manager of the annual; Cecil Hoggard, editor of El Nido; and C. B. Harris, business manager of El Nido.

The Jayhawk Choir, under the leadership of Elizabeth Cope, elected officers. Bill Thompson was elected president. Other officers elected were Donnie Barnes, vice president; Betty Oglesby, secretary; Jo Nell West, treasurer; and Jan Masters, reporter. This organization plans to raise money for new choir robes by sponsoring dances and other activities. Also, these plans include a spring tour to other junior colleges, an Easter or a Christmas pageant, and possibly an opera in the spring.

HCJC basketball workouts started Monday, Oct. 15. There are several returning lettermen on the team this year.

Howard Jones was elected captain of the team with Bill Thompson serving as co-captain.

The Science Club met Tuesday, Oct. 16 to organize and to affiliate with Science Clubs of America. The members discussed possibilities of putting on science shows at a future date for assembly. Also, these assemblies will be put on for various high schools. Peggy Toops was appointed temporary chairman of the club. It was proposed that members form committees to pursue scientific studies and hobbies in fields of individual interests. Specific studies were suggested such as the history of life in the world, Howard county, fossils and stones, and also studies for those interested in pre-med. Those interested in photo work will have an opportunity to pursue their interests individually and report to the group.

The facilities of the science department are available to the members of the Science Club. These facilities include a large lecture room, 16 mm. motion picture equipment, a complete dark room physics, chemistry, and biology labs. Some members have expressed interests in geology, lapidary and taxidermy.

There will be a meeting next Tuesday, Oct. 23, to elect officers. Pictures for the annual were taken Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday of this week. Hugh Mathis is photographer for The Jayhawk.

The annual staff for the 1952 Jayhawk has been named. They are: Jan Masters, editor; Pat Lloyd, associate editor; Peggy Toops, art editor; Billy Tubb, sports editor; Bobby Wheeler, business manager; Jean Stratton, feature editor and Mr. Clements, sponsor. Other staff members will be named at a later date.

Several members of the faculty attended conferences the past two weeks. President E. C. Dodd and Mrs. Charlotte R. Sullivan attended an area meeting of district 4 of the Texas State Teachers' association in Lubbock, Thursday, Oct. 4. Coach J. A. Jolley and President Dodd attended the two-day A&M Junior College conference at College Station on Oct. 8 and 9. Mr. Bishop attended an English workshop in Lubbock on Oct. 15.

Fifteen hundred and five dollars was raised by a city-wide campaign to sell advertisements for both the annual and El Nido. The merchants were very cooperative and generous in their contributions. The student body of HCJC is very grateful for the kind and considerate way in which they were received by these business men.

The El Nido staff can boast of a job well done on their first publication for this year.

LEND THAT FESTIVE MARK TO A MEAL with Milani's Garlic Spread and experience a new delight in eating. Another choice delicacy comes your way from the HILLTOP GROCERY, and with it an unlimited opportunity for preparing unusual and tasty dishes. Today, many fine homes and restaurants surprise their guests by serving toasted garlic bread, and Milani's Spread is perfect to obtain just the right amount of flavor. Used in a dressing, it will make a mouth watering salad, and for grilling meats an especially savory flavor. It's a wonderful discovery. Try it soon, and notice the new enthusiasm with which your meals are received.

YOU'LL HAVE A BRIGHTER CHARM... a more distinctive personality... with a styled just-for-you coiffure. No matter what the size or shape of your face, the operators at the COLONIAL BEAUTY SHOP will demonstrate to you the amazing versatility and the unbounded flattery of the latest styles. For classroom, office or dancing 'til dawn, you'll be secure in the knowledge of a gleaming, flawless hairdo that will accentuate your poise and grooming. Let Colonial's experts shape, cut and wave your hair to create a lovelier, more exciting you.

YOU'LL MOVE IN A CHARMED CIRCLE of tantalizing fragrance with Ciro's Quintet of 5 world famous perfumes... Acclaim, New Horizons, Surrender, Danger and Reflection... This $5.00 set is now being offered to you by CUNNINGHAM & PHILIPS DRUG and the PETROLEUM DRUG for just $2.99 plus tax. Now you can change your fragrance to suit your fancy—discover which Ciro perfumes appeal to you—most—do the most for you—catch you the most compliments. These well-loved perfumes show you how interesting, how stimulating a variety of fine fragrances can be. With this Ciro "Sampler" you can change about at random... find out which you want to fit into your life for keeps.

A REAL FIND for mothers whose little girls are not blessed with naturally curly hair: The Richard Hudnut home permanent for children is now available at the HARDESTY DRUG. Your child's hair is different from yours—the hair is finer texture, less elastic and more porous; and as a result, more stubborn about taking a permanent. This new formula especially perfected by Richard Hudnut is designed to give children's hair soft, natural looking curls with a minimum of effort. It is also very effective for adults who have "baby-fine" hair.

Don't let your little girl be like Topsy, whose hair "just grewed."

FOR CHEER LEADERS, football fans, and the rest of the school crowd, WACKER'S has just what you've been waiting for... mercerized cotton socks in the school colors of black and gold. The nylon in heel and toe assures long wear and durability after many washings. If you like socks with a personality, there's nothing hesitant or half-hearted about your school spirit when you don a pair of these. When order-liney socks are ready to call it a day, these football specials will be getting their second wind. At only 35c a pair, these socks are another indication that Wacker's prices are never out of bounds.

FOUL WEATHER FRIENDS... The glamorous light-weight Booties from MARGO'S. Fashionable, durable, 100% waterproof, these elastic boots fit snugly in pocket size carrying cases for those rainy days that are bound to come to West Texas sooner or later. The tops may be turned down to form flattering cuffs; and the "Safety Tread" affords secure footing on slick sidewalks. Let the rain and ice come; it won't be hard to keep your feet warm and dry in a pair of these smart booties. For only $1.25, you can protect your shoes and hose, from rain or snow.

THE GRANDEST GIFTS FOR GOLFERS have just arrived at HESTER'S. Any one or all three of these clever little items would be so light for the golfer on your list. First you'll find the Birds Brush. This useful gadget cleans irons, balls and shoes. A spike and brush are enclosed in a gaily colored plastic golf ball. With the spiked section chip away mud from cleats or around the sole and polish off with the brush. Then there's a Scorekeeper fashioned after a wrist watch for consecutively recording the number of strokes consumed while playing golf. Last, but not least, you can end the question of ownership with a clever golf ball marker that indelibly stamps your name on golf balls. All are real golfer's pals.

ROCK-A-BYE BABY... Your little one will take a fast flight into dreamland when the tinkling melody of "Rock-A-Bye Baby" lulls him to sleep. At FAY'S FLOWERS you'll find dainty little pottery cradle planters—each with a Swiss music box made into it, as a delightfully different approach in nursery novelties. Available in pink or blue, they're priced at $2.95 and can be planted or used as a charming setting for delicate cut flowers. They'll cradle your cherub's ivy and sing him to sleep, as well as capture your own maternal heart.

Singing Star

The South Pacific sensation, Ezio Pinza, has turned his singing talents to the screen. One of his new pictures is "Strictly Dishonorable," playing here for the first time at the Jet Tuesday and Wednesday. Janet Leigh is the lady with him.

The Swordsmen

Adventure of the swashbuckling type is the attraction in the Technicolor movie, "Mask Of The Avenger," playing today and Monday at the State theatre. John Derek and Anthony Quinn, antagonists here, are stars of the film.

Fighting The Horde

This thematic picture puts David Farrar in a fighter's role, overlooking a great battle scene in "The Golden Horde." The Technicolor story of the days of Genghis Khan will play today and Monday at the Ritz theatre.

"What's Up, Bud?"

Ann Blyth isn't just sure about the intentions of Mark Stevens in this scene from "Katy Did It." The two co-star in a romance with comedy, playing today and Monday at the Jet.

AT RITZ TODAY

Adventure Yarn In 'The Golden Horde'

Lavish entertainment is the word for "The Golden Horde," a technicolor opus playing at the Ritz theatre today and Monday. The story is laid in the 13th century when a mighty barbarian... led by the brutal Genghis Khan, sweeps westward out of Asia to destroy Samarkand, fabulous gateway city to Persia.

The Mongolian horde, though, meets its match in an army of knights led by Sir Guy of Devon who has been sent to warn Genghis Khan to stay out of Europe. In realistic battle scenes, Sir Guy saves the city of Samarkand and its beautiful ruler, Princess Shahnar.

In the leading roles of Sir Guy and the Princess, David Farrar and Ann Blyth make up an attractive romantic team. Farrar is a British film star making his American debut in this picture.

The role of Genghis Khan is portrayed by Marvin Miller. Others in the cast are Richard Egan, Henry Brandon, Howard Petrie, George Macready, Edwin Handeford and Peggy Castle. "The Golden Horde" puts emphasis on spectacular scenes, stirring action and broad color, in adventure-story book fashion.

Oklahoma Bandit Story Unfolded At Lyric Theatre

The real story of the notorious Doolin Gang, which operated in Oklahoma's Cimarron country before the turn of the century, is told in the Randolph Scott starrer, "The Doolins of Oklahoma."

Scott's supporting cast consists of George Macready, Louise Allbritton, John Ireland, Virginia Huston and Charles Kemper. Scott portrays Wild Bill Doolin, while Macready portrays a Federal marshal, Ireland and Kemper are two of the Doolin desperados, and Miss Allbritton and Miss Huston are two of their women. Gordon Douglas directed the Western for producer Harry Joe Brown.

SUNSHINE SHOWER

One of the brightest rays of morning sunshine coming from Don McNeill's Breakfast Club is the "Sunshine Shower" segment in which the toastmaster asks listeners to send post cards and letters to hospital patients.

The purpose is to provide words of cheer and encouragement to "shut-ins" during their lonely convalescence. McNeill presents the segment each weekday morning just prior to "Prayer Time" when he reads the name and address of a hospital selected from suggestions sent in by listeners. Since its inception in February, 1948, the "Sunshine Shower" has found over two million greetings going to patients in over 1,000 institutions throughout the United States and Canada.

Monte Cristo Into Action Again In State Offering

Monte Cristo lives, fights and loves again in "Mask Of The Avenger," adventure drama in color playing at the State theatre today and Monday. John Derek is starred and Anthony Quinn is in the principal supporting role. Other players are Jody Lawrence, Arnold Moss and Eugene Iglesias.

Derek portrays a young captain during the Italo-Austrian War of 1848 who returns home to find his father dead and branded a traitor to Italy. Assuming the guise and sword of the Count of Monte Cristo, Derek wages a one-man war to avenge his father's name and save his country from its enemies. Quinn plays Derek's arch-enemy; Miss Lawrence is cast as his spirited sweetheart; Moss enacts the part of Quinn's chief lieutenant, and Iglesias is a very young Italian patriot.

Set in an age of splendor, "Mask of the Avenger" is said to be a colorful, glowing drama. Once more the blade of Monte Cristo thrusts again, the lips of Monte Cristo kiss again and the vengeance of Monte Cristo strikes again.

Dr. Arthur Price To VA Hospital

Dr. Arthur L. Price, formerly of Beckley, W. Va., is to assume duties as urologist for the Big Spring VA hospital this week.

He is being transferred here from a veterans' hospital in the West Virginia city. Dr. Price will fill a position formerly held by Dr. Meritt Jacobson who is now continuing studies at the University at Oklahoma.

Trio Of Stars In 'The Guy Who Came Back'

Paul Douglas, Joan Bennett and Linda Darnell form the triple-star combination on view in "The Guy Who Came Back," at the Ritz Tuesday and Wednesday. It's a comedy drama about an ex-grid star who makes one magnificent comeback by proving himself the only guy capable of sinking the Navy team.

Douglas, a one-time grizzer in real life, enacts the leading role of the football star playing the hero when he's too old for it. Joan Bennett is cast as the little lady married to Douglas and eager to help him, although he doesn't know when to quit. Linda Darnell is the "other woman" who, after all, doesn't upset the tranquility of the story too much. Don DeFore, Billy Gray, Zero Mostel, Edmon Ryan, Ruth McDevitt and Walter Burke are others in the cast.

Fred MacMurray, Eleanor Parker In Light Comedy

The rollicking story of a broad-winking secretary with a yen for a rich husband, and a playboy radio announcer who inherits two million dollars — that's "A Millionaire For Christy." The picture is the Thursday-Friday attraction at the Ritz theatre.

Veteran Fred MacMurray is in the role of the playboy, and Eleanor Parker has the role of the secretary, one which puts her high on the list in comedienne. The story gives Miss Parker plenty of sassy situations.

HD Club To Hear Review Of 'Survival Under Attack'

FORSAN, Oct. 20—(Spl)—Mrs. John B. Anderson and Mrs. Frank Thieme were hostesses at the recent meeting of the Forsan HD club in the home economics department at the school.

Roll call was answered with "The Hand-made Gift I Have Enjoyed Most." Mrs. M. M. Fairchild led the recreation, and the council report was given by Mrs. Ray Shortes.

Announcement was made that a review of the book, "Survival Under Attack," would be made at a meeting in the near future. Mrs. Sammie Porter was elected to replace Mrs. Harley Grant as recreation leader. Mrs. Dave Knight as named 1952 council delegate, and Mrs. Fairchild as alternate.

A demonstration on the making of nylon corsages was given, and refreshments were served to 12 members.

Mrs. M. J. Bearden brought the devotional, "God Teaches Us About Human Rights," to the meeting of the Methodist W.S.C.S. The lesson from the Book of Acts was presented by Mrs. W. B. Dunn, and Mrs. Hamlin Elrod led the prayer.

Mrs. Elrod reported that 24 Christmas stockings, made and hand-decorated by the society, had been sold. Six members attended.

The Rev. and Mrs. R. L. Bowman have returned from Houston, where they participated in the all-state evangelistic campaign of the Methodist church. The work in this area will be undertaken Oct. 29-Nov. 4. The Rev. E. M. Bailey of Santa Rosa will be the guest evangelist, and the public is invited to attend the services.

Members of the Ladies Auxiliary met for a covered dish luncheon.

Attending B&PW District Conference

Velma O'Neal, B&PW president, Ruby Powers, Edith Gay and Oma Buchanan are in Odessa today attending a district conference of B&PW clubs being held at the Lincoln hotel.

Mrs. Powers is to speak on "Vocations and Education" at the workshop at 9 a.m. Visitors will attend First Methodist church in a body and be honored at a luncheon at noon in the Texas room at the Lincoln.

at the Country Club recently. Following the dinner, Mrs. James Underwood and Mrs. C. J. Wise were hostesses for bridge and canasta. Fourteen attended.

New students in the Forsan school include Muriel Smith, sophomore from San Angelo; Carlisle Kurtz, sophomore from Dallas; Louise Chatham, freshman, and J. W. Chatham, sixth grader, from San Angelo; Movetta Law, eighth grader, and Frank Law, third grader, from Hamlin, and Meivin Shoultz, first grader, Snyder.

Credit Club Installs At Banquet

New officers were installed by Velma O'Neal at a banquet given Thursday evening in First Methodist church by the Credit Women's club.

The new officers are Georgia Johnson, president; Pyle Bradshaw, vice-president; Flo Patridge, secretary, and Johnnie Morrison and Pauline Sullivan, directors.

Gifts were presented to the outgoing officers, Margarette Wooten, president; Mrs. J. J. Hardegree, vice-president; Pauline Sullivan, secretary, and Jewel Kuykendall, treasurer.

Music was furnished by Marshall Arnold, vocalist, accompanied by Mrs. Omar Pittman. The banquet was followed by a dance and bridge and canasta party in the Settles ballroom.

About 25 attended, including the following guests: Mrs. Aurora Etheridge, Mrs. Estah Flock, Mrs. Edith Trapnell, Mrs. John Lou Knappe, Mrs. Mae Hayden, Helen Jones, all former members, and Mrs. Beatrice Watkins.

At A&M-TCU Game

Mr. and Mrs. Buel Fox were in Fort Worth this week end to attend the A&M-TCU football game. They were joined there by their son, Bob, a senior at A&M.

I GOTTA GET BACK TO THE FERRIS WHEEL... A LOT OF CUSTOMERS ARE WAITING... DON'T FORGET ABOUT THE WEBLEY!

LEAVE IT TO ME... I WON'T FORGET... I THINK THE BOSS IS WAITING WITH THOSE CUSTOMERS

GEE WILLIKENS!... I BETTER FIND RUSTY AND TELL HIM WHAT I HEARD!

HELLO, BOSS... DON'T TELL ME YOU WANT A RIDE ON THE WHEEL!

BE YOURSELF, NICK... I JUST CAME FROM THE TRACK BARN... I GOT A HUNCH THAT MILESTONE'S ENTRY COULD MAKE ME LOSE A LOT OF DOUGH... GET ME?

BOSS, Y'GOT NO'NIN' TO WORRY ABOUT... THEY WON'T WIN NO RACE AGAINST YOUR NAG... I'M ALL SET... AND IT WON'T BE NO BROKEN SULKY, NEITHER!

OKAY... SEE THAT YOU DON'T MUFF IT... CAUSE I THINK THAT WHITE MARE IS REINA BLANCA!

OH, QUEENIE/DID THOSE MEN SAY ANYTHING... COULD YOU HEAR?

I SURE DID, RUSTY... THEY KNOW WE'RE ENTERING A DIFFERENT HORSE... AND THE FERRIS WHEEL MAN ASKED THE OTHER MAN IF HE BROUGHT SOME THING HE CALLED A 'WEBLEY'.

A WEBLEY?

'WEBLEY' IS THE NAME OF A KIND OF POWERFUL AIR SUN... WHAT DID THEY SAY ABOUT IT, QUEENIE?

THE FERRIS WHEEL MAN TOLD THE SHOOTING GALLERY MAN TO PUT IT UNDER THE SEAT CUSHION IN CAR NO. 10 ON THE FERRIS WHEEL!

BOSS, THEY'RE UP TO SOMETHING... THIS MAY BE THE PAY-OFF... DID YOU BRING THOSE MEN?

YES, TEX... THEY'RE A FEW SEATS BEHIND ME. IF WE GO OUTSIDE, THEY'LL FOLLOW.

TEX, MEET MR. JACKSON AND MR. LEWIS OF THE ALERT DETECTIVE AGENCY. NOW TELL US QUICKLY WHAT'S DOING!

HOWDY, GENTS... I'LL HAVE TO GIVE YOU THIS QUICK... IT'S ALMOST POST TIME!

GUY S. GIBBS! SURE AN' YOU'D THINK HE OWNED THE JOINT!

ORDERIN' EVERYONE AROUND! WHY...HE'S GOT ALL OF US WORKIN'! I'LL BE COUNTIN' THE DAYS TIL OUR DEAR MR. LIVWRIGHT GETS BACK...BLESS HIS SOUL!

...AND, KATY, BETTER NOT BREAK ANY OF THE STUFF THAT'S BEEN GOING INTO HIS OFFICE ALL MORNING.

WHAT CAN IT BE? I'M SO CURIOUS! NEVER HAVE I SEEN SO MANY CRATES, OR HEARD SO MUCH NOISE!

PROBABLY PUTTING IN A FEW TORTURE RACKS TO TAKE CARE OF US SLAVES, SHOULD WE LINGER TOO LONG AT THE WATER COOLER.

WELL, GET GOING, KATY. FIND OUT WHAT GIBBS IS BRINGING INTO THE BOSS' OFFICE.

SAINTS ABOVE!

Why Robert Merrill smokes Camel as his steady cigarette

FAMOUS STAR OF OPERA AND MOVIES

BEING A SINGER, I WANTED TO FIND THE CIGARETTE THAT SUITED MY THROAT-- AND TASTED GOOD, TOO! SO I MADE MANY DIFFERENT MILDNESS TESTS...

I MADE THE "TRICK" TESTS...

I MADE THE "QUICK" TESTS...

AND I MADE THE 30-DAY CAMEL MILDNESS TEST!

MY THROAT GAVE ME THE ANSWER. MY CHOICE IS SMOCKING / CAMELS ARE MILD AND THEY TASTE GREAT!

Make your own 30-Day Camel MILDNESS Test in your "T-Zone" (T for Throat, T for Taste)

Not one single case of throat irritation due to smoking CAMELS.

That's what noted throat specialists reported after examining the throats of hundreds of people who smoked only Camels for 30 days!

America's most popular cigarette by billions!

TARZAN

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

"PERMIT ME TO OFFER INTRODUCTIONS," SAID THE OLDER MAN. "RESPECTIVELY, WE ARE TUSKER AND SPORT--BEST IVORY POACHERS IN THE CONGO!" THE APE-MAN SMILED IN SPIITE OF HIMSELF, BUT SPORT SHUDDERED. "HOW CAN YOU JOKE, TUSKER? WHAT ABOUT THESE MEN -- AND THE WOMAN?"

REVIEWING THE GRUESOME SCENE, TARZAN SPOKE SERIOUSLY BEFORE LEAVING. "YOU TWO INVESTIGATE NEIGHBORING VILLAGES-- I'LL CARRY ON ALONE."

...TARZAN SOON PICKED UP A SINISTER TRACE OF HUMANS! THEN, AS IF DEFYING HIS DISCOVERY, A TROPICAL STORM BROKE IN ALL ITS FURY! A BLINDING FLASH OF LIGHT, AND--!

TREES CRACKED AND SPLINTERED UNDER THE TORRENTIAL RAIN. LIGHTNING FLASHED AGAIN--THIS TIME REVEALING THE LIFELESS FORM OF THE JUNGLE LORD--PINNED UNDER A MASSIVE BRANCH!

GRIN and BEAR IT

"After warning daughter about men, Roscoe... looking at you certainly ruins everything I told her..."

"There's a lady outside says she can lick anyone in the house... and ONE of you gents in particular!"

"Is sensational report from comrade agent... is listed those who really rule U.S... is drivers of ten-ton trucks..."
