Election Deadline Near

Deadline for filing for alderman for the City of Earth is today at 5 PM.

City Cleanup March 5

It is extremely difficult to sit here during a sand-storm and make a plea for the people of our community to make an all-out effort this Saturday to CLEAN UP EARTH. Nevertheless, that is just what we are trying to accomplish.

Possibly the one overriding item that is on the minds of local Chamber of Commerce members is the upcoming cleanup campaign. They have worked hard getting this project lined up by talking to local businessmen and citizens in an effort to have a good turnout for the cleanup this Saturday.

We all need and want a community that we are proud to show to visitors, and one in which we can say we are proud to live. The only way for us to accomplish this is by pure hard work and that is what many of us will be doing this Saturday. Several members have already volunteered their time and equipment for this project but more help is needed and hopefully anyone with a truck or trailer and some free time Saturday morning will join the crew which will meet at the QP Parts parking lot on Main Street.

LET'S MAKE THIS ONE OF OUR BEST COMMUNITY EFFORTS!!!

Guidelines For School

Board Candidates

"So You Want to be a School Board Member: A Candidate's Guide" is available for veteran and potential school trustees through the Texas Association of School Boards, Austin.

The guide includes procedures for running for office, filing for office, and complying with the Texas Election Code. Two bills passed during the 64th Legislature, HB 4 and HB 275, amended the Texas Election Code with regard to campaign disclosures and election dates, respectively. The candidate's guide explains the implications of both for school board elections.

Generally, school trustee elections are the first Saturday in April. Candidates must file 30 days prior to that date.

Therefore, citizens in most counties interested in filing for a school board position must file on or before March 4 for the April 2 election.

The candidate's guide is a result of action taken by the TASB Delegate Assembly at its annual meeting. The Assembly adopted a resolution providing for an information campaign on school trustee elections. Members of the Association agreed that in order for qualified citizens to continue to seek offices of school trustee positions an explanation of the duties and requirements was needed.

Copies of the pamphlet are available by contacting: TASB Publications, P.O. Box 400 Austin, Texas 78767.

Traffic was re-routed from Hiway 84 and the area was being cleaned up by crews from Reese Air Force Base, and Santa Fe Railroads.

Fire trucks from Amherst, Sudan and Littlefield responded to the call.

It will be several days before the area will be clean.

Cattlemen Testify

Austin: President T.A. Cunningham and Vice President Dr. Eddie Payne of the Independent Cattlemen's Association of Texas both testified before the U.S. Senate Committee on Agriculture in Washington regarding the Agriculture Bill.

T.A. Cunningham told the Committee of the general conditions of the cattle industry throughout the United States and stated that this had been caused by a number of factors including "price ceilings, grain embargoes and foreign beef importation."

"We as the Independent Cattlemen fully endorse and support free enterprise and free markets, but not at the cost of completely destroying one of the industries that has historically been the backbone of this country. We are not asking for any subsidies or handouts as are given to the cattle industry by other countries such as Japan, Sweden and the European Community. We are just asking for a fair shake," Cunningham said.

President Cunningham and Dr. Payne both elaborated on the agricultural research that is needed in this country, especially animal health research. They asked that monies be authorized on a line item basis for brucellosis research. "During the past 45 years, the primary means of attacking the brucellosis problem has been the test and kill method. Strain 19 was introduced to the industry about 25 years ago," Cunningham continued, "and to my knowledge, no further research has been done. It occurs to me that with the advanced technology in other fields of medicine, we must desist from this rather medieval means of hiding from this disease in the 20th century and find a cure for brucellosis." Cunningham concluded.

Cunningham and Dr. Payne were both questioned extensively regarding Brucellosis, fever ticks, screwworms, and cattle entering this country from Mexico.

Chamber Meeting

The Earth Chamber of Commerce will meet at 8 a.m. Friday, March 4 in the lobby of the Citizens State Bank.

The Speaker Reports

by Bill Clayton

AUSTIN--Funding of special education in Texas public schools has been a matter of increased concern in the last few weeks. This concern has resulted from the belief of many persons that special education funding will be reduced for the next biennium. This is a misconception that I believe needs to be corrected.

An appropriations bill has been introduced in the House of Representatives which differs from that prepared by the Legislative Budget Board. In the House version, changes have been made in various programs in an effort to save taxpayers money and fund the programs in a fiscally responsible manner.

Changes were made for special education which had the end result of reducing the amount which had been recommended by the Legislative Budget Board by approximately $25.1 million.

The reduction was possible by placing a cap of 15 percent on the total of the Foundation School Program funding to be expended for special education.

This approach has been investigated by the Texas Education Agency, and it is the opinion of leaders in the Agency that such a cap would supply adequate funding in keeping with recently formulated federal guidelines.

Despite the fact that the House recommendation is less than the Board's, it must also be remembered that the House recommendation provides more money for the program for the next two years than has been expended previously.

The bill provides for $234,400,000 for fiscal year 1978 and $237,930,650 for fiscal year 1979; this compares to $218,255,083 which was expended in the 1976 fiscal year and $228,623,000 which was actually budgeted in 1977.

Obviously, the House recommendation provides for more money to upgrade special education throughout the State while placing reasonable funding constraints on the program. A continuation of the "open-ended" approach to financing special education that has been used in the past could create serious budgetary problems in the future.

The amounts that have been recommended by the House do not represent budget cuts--just sound fiscal management.

I am sensitive to the needs of all education, including these programs for the handicapped. I want to see that the best educational opportunities affordable by the State are provided to all Texas school children.

It is significant that over 50 percent of all State revenue is expended for public education, and that there is much consideration of increasing that amount.

The Texas Legislature is concerned about education and will continue to be responsive to its needs. However, during a time of budgetary constraints and increasing demands on the State Treasury, restraint in spending must occur.

The funding of special education has been restrained but not reduced. Our special children will continue to receive adequate services so that they will have the opportunity to become productive citizens.

Shutdown Gas Leaving Texas

AUSTIN--"I'm about ready to vote to shut down all production of oil and gas going out of Texas," said Representative Fred Head as he called on Texans to write President Carter and White House Energy Chief James Schlesinger.

"We've got to let the President know that we've been drilling day and night and paying through the nose for oil and gas while other states have sat back and bought our oil and gas cheaper than we can buy it ourselves," Head continued.

"These other states have not developed their deep coal reserves or their off-shore wells because it might make their pretty countryside look bad," Head said. "One of these days those people are going to understand that oil and gas wells and producing coal mines are a beautiful sight."

"I've had a number of people suggest shutting down Texas production to out-of-state users. Others have suggested separating Texas into five states to take advantage of the cheap interstate gas. One even suggested seceding from the United States. One thing is for certain, Texas residents have footed the bill for the gas to heat America's icy northlands and something drastic must be done to put a stop to it," Head concluded.

control or register guns. I'm against legislation requiring registration of guns or taking away the right of law abiding citizens to keep and bear arms," Head continued.

The Texas Muzzle-Loading Rifle Association with headquarters in Brady appeared with Representative Head at a committee meeting in Austin.

The bill passed the Committee and will be heard in the House within the next few weeks.

Muzzle Loaders Converge on Capitol

AUSTIN--Davy Crockett, Jim Bowie, and William B. Travis used the muzzle-loading rifle to win Texas' independence from Mexico. Those same long barreled, single-shot firearms that made Texas history may soon be back in the woods after Texas deer and turkey.

State Representative Fred Head is the author of the bill which would create a two-week muzzle-loading rifle hunting season immediately before the regular big game season.

"This is a pro-gun measure," Head said. "All we've seen lately are bills which try to Selling cotton is a new ballgame under the free market concept engendered by the Agriculture Act of 1973. "And it is a game cotton producers must learn to play and play well." So advised Frank Jones of Lamesa February 22 at the Western Cotton Production Conference in Lubbock. Jones, a Dawson County cotton farmer and a director of Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., addressed the conference on "Using Cotton Marketing Alternatives."

The Lamesa resident stressed that selling cotton for maximum income requires a series of marketing decisions based on a broad understanding of market forces. "Producers need to maintain or acquire the ability to market their production over a longer period of time than has been customary," he said. Jones outlined five possible alternatives which can improve chances for profit and discussed some of the advantages and disadvantages of each.

The traditional method is to average cotton into the Spot Market as it is ginned, he noted. "which in times of surplus stocks and stable prices is o.k., but may not now be the best way to go because of wide market fluctuations before, during and after harvest."

Hedging cotton on the New York Cotton Exchange futures market "can work well for some growers under some circumstances, but involves several problems, especially for High Plains growers." the PCG director stated. High Plains cotton, he explained, generally is not tenderable on futures contracts; there can be and often is an erratic basis between spot prices and futures prices, and there is always the possibility of crop failure, which opens the door to losses on the futures market with no spot sales on which to show offsetting profits.

Fixed acreage, fixed price forward contracting, a common practice on the Plains, was the third marketing procedure discussed. "This is an effective way of transferring price risk to the buyer," Jones said. "but only if you are certain your buyer will live up to the contract if the market goes down, and when you transfer your price risk you also transfer your opportunity for gain from price movement."

Mentioned only briefly were "call contracts" under which all terms of a forward sale are fixed except price, with the producer given the right to "call" the price at a later date based on futures prices. Such contracts have not been available on the Plains, but could become popular if offered, Jones believes.

"In my own operation," he continued, "I lean toward alternative number five -- which is to use one of the first four alternatives to cover most or all of my production costs, then hold the remainder of my crop in inventory for possible profit." The disadvantage of this method lies in the necessity for a large investment in inventory, sometimes for long periods of time, with no assurance of a price increase.

To illustrate, Jones told of holding 1973 crop cotton while the price went from 50 cents a pound down to 28 cents before recovering in 1976 to 70 cents.

Marketing strategy each year for individual producers, he said, is dependent on market expectations and the producer's ability to hold cotton during periods of market weakness.

"Learning to play the selling game and play it well can be very rewarding," Jones concluded, "and I think we all should work to maintain the free market in which the game is played."

The three-day conference, of which PCG President W.B. Criswell of Idalou was General Chairman, was sponsored by PCG, other western cotton industry organizations, the U.S. Department of Agriculture and the Extension Services of California, Arizona, New Mexico and Texas.

"YOU SUPPOSE YOU COULD DO BETTER?"

Dealing With Drunken Drivers

Everyone wants to do something about drunken drivers, but no one is sure just what. Many propose tougher laws with harsher penalties. Yet this is not always effective. Juries have a tendency to avoid harsh punishment because, some think, the jurors take a "there but for the grace of God go I" attitude.

Consequently, harsher penalties are just never applied.

State Rep. Fred Head and State Sen. Bill Meier have introduced bills that might be a step in the right direction, however. The legislation would require judges to suspend drivers' licenses for 60 days and would require a person convicted twice in five years of DWI to serve some jail time.

Such a suspension is much less than the year that can be given now and might be more effective. But prosecutors worry that the mandatory suspension could clog the courts as persons charged with DWI contest the charges rather than plead guilty.

If so, other changes in the law regarding evidence are necessary. For example, a person can refuse to take a breath test, the results of which can be criminating, of course. And prosecutors can't refer to the refusal during the trial.

Either the breath test or a body fluids test should be mandatory, or the jury should hear about the refusal, prosecutors believe.

The state must crack down on drunken drivers. But if harsher penalties are the answer, changes are necessary in other laws to give prosecutors at least a fighting chance at conviction.

The Earth Town and Country Study Club met in the beautiful home of Mrs. Lillian Hamilton February 24, at 4:30 p.m.

The program theme was "Widening Horizons of Federation."

Mrs. Ray Kelley gave a timely devotional on "The Art of Saying Thank You."

Mrs. Gladys Parish, club president, introduced Mrs. Jack Akin, Caprock District President, who gave an interesting and informative resume on "Facets of Federation" in which she related many accomplishments of Texas Federation of Club Women.

A few of the many valuable and rewarding projects are roadside parks. TFWC, through state legislation, started those in our state. Four-fifths of all city and community libraries in the state were started by study clubs. Palo Duro Canyon became a State Park in 1922 as a result of the work of TFWC. Thousands of scholarships have been awarded to deserving high school graduates each year. Dozens of museums had their beginnings through efforts of local clubs.

Tourists, driving in blinding rain or snow may thank TFWC for the reflective buttons implanted on highways and freeways. They are silent guardians to a safe journey.

Three years ago, TFWC was successful in rewriting an improved statutory law on rape. The National project during this administration is "Hands Up" which is a drive to reduce crime, especially burglary. This program was delegated to NFWC by the U.S. Dept. of Justice. This work is done under the auspices and in cooperation with the local police. Recent reports from Galveston and Corpus Christi are very optimistic toward the success of the program.

When Girlstown was organized, Caprock District adopted it for a perpetual project. The gifts and money given there, even from our local club, is too numerous to mention.

Mrs. Sam Cearley, amenities chairman, presented a money corsage to Mrs. Akin.

During the business meeting, Mrs. Lillian Hamilton was elected delegate to District Convention at South Park Inn, Lubbock, March 11-12. Articles for the Country Store were made by Mrs. Cearley. Exhibits for Arts and Crafts was discussed. Delicious refreshments of chicken salad in lettuce cups, salad crackers, pickles, olives, blueberry squares topped with whipped cream and coffee were served to ten members and five guests.

Mrs. Herman Haberer, first president of Town and Country Club was an honored guest. Other guests besides Mrs. Akin were Mrs. Erma Earls from Denver City, Mrs. Shanks Ivy from Friona and Mrs. Virginia Shultz from Muleshoe.

Get-well cards were signed for those members in the hospital, Mrs. H.S. Sanders, Mrs. B.F. Orteg and Mrs. Wayne Rutherford.

THIS STUFFED CABBAGE HAS A FLAVOR SECRET

A ground beef and rice stuffing, temptingly seasoned with onion, tomato and a measure of Worcestershire sauce is one of the best things to happen to a cabbage leaf. This is a healthful family main dish; thrifty and easily prepared, but you can also serve it proudly to guests whose tastebuds know what's good.

SAVORY STUFFED CABBAGE

- 1 small head cabbage
- 1 tablespoon oil
- 1 cup chopped onions
- 1 can (1 lb.) tomatoes, broken up
- 3 beef bouillon cubes
- 1 cup water
- 5 teaspoons original Worcestershire sauce, divided
- 1 pound ground lean beef
- 3 tablespoons raw rice
- 2 tablespoons water
- 2 tablespoons firmly packed brown sugar

Pour boiling water over cabbage to cover; let stand for 15 minutes. Remove leaves; set aside. In a large saucepot heat oil. Add onions; saute for 2 minutes. Stir in tomatoes, bouillon cubes, water and 3 teaspoons of the Worcestershire sauce. Bring to boiling point. Reduce heat and simmer, covered, for 30 minutes. Meanwhile mix beef, rice, egg, water and remaining 2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce. Place a tablespoonful on each cabbage leaf; tuck in sides, roll up. Place extra cabbage in sauce. Arrange stuffed cabbage on top; sprinkle with brown sugar. Cover and simmer for 1 1/2 hours. Uncover and simmer until sauce is slightly thickened, about 20 minutes. Yield: About 16 stuffed cabbages—4 to 6 portions.

Short courses in beef, dairy, horses and swine will be offered, as well as special programs relating to range, pasture, forage production and wildlife management, says L.A. Maddox, Jr., beef cattle specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Maddox, general chairman, said the conference will be keyed to producer profits. Short courses will deal with marketing, animal nutrition, health and reproduction.

Dr. O.D. Butler, head of Texas A&M's animal science department, will moderate the general session which will open the Animal Agriculture Conference. Five speakers will discuss key issues of concern to animal agriculture.

Dolph Briscoe on natural resources, will discuss "Water Planning for Texas: Present Supply and Future Demand."

Dr. Jacob Mosier, head of the Department of Surgery and Medicine at Kansas State University, will talk on "The Future of Antibiotics in Livestock Feeding." The importance of the forthcoming beef referendum will be discussed by J.D. Sartwell of Houston, Texas chairman of the Beef Development Task Force. Dr. Ernest E. Davis, Extension livestock marketing specialist, will describe plans for the referendum.

Headlining subjects for discussion at the beef cattle short course will be organized cattle marketing, a progress report on beef breeding and marketing work in Texas, breeding soundness in bulls and importance and control of internal parasites in cattle.

The dairy short course will feature discussions on dairy herd health, mastitis control to improve profits, service available to dairymen through the Texas Veterinary Medical Diagnostic Laboratory at Texas A&M, dry cow nutrition and management, and general feeding and management practices for dairymen.

Highlighting the swine short course will be a panel discussion on the future of antimicrobials in swine feed, a discussion on pseudorabies, a problem that is spreading through the mid-west and causing concern for swine producers; a talk on new ideas on swine waste handling equipment, and design criteria for farrowing and nursery buildings.

The Texas Pork Producers Association will hold its annual meeting in conjunction with the swine short course, and the association's annual banquet will follow at 6:30 p.m. April 4 at the Memorial Student Center.

Discussions at Texas A&M on April 4 and a tour of four Houston area horse farms on April 5 will be major features of the horse short course. Collins Seeks Gas Answers

Congressman James M. Collins reported that the record of the American Gas and Oil industry is strong. "Testimony given in the packed congressional hearings revealed that the oil and gas industry has been effective," Collins said. Much criticism is being heaped on the energy companies because of the gas shortage this winter. It was brought out that 5 percent more gas was actually delivered this year but the demand was 40 percent higher because of the cold winter. "For five years," Congressman Collins said, "the gas and oil industry has advocated expanding exploration and production in anticipation of a cold winter but they have been under price controls and therefore their financial possibilities have been severely limited."

In the hearings with Texaco officials, liberal members charged that Texaco had withheld gas from the public. The Texaco representative responded that the Louisiana offshore gas fields involved were under 20-year contracts. Any acceleration of drilling in those fields to produce more gas now would deprive customers of gas during the later period of their contracts. Thus, they maintained, they were actually being pressured to engage in activity that would involve breach of contract.

Liberals also charged that oil companies had not done enough in exploration and development. Congressman Collins brought out with questioning that Texaco last year had invested $1.5 billion in capital for exploration and development of oil and gas. Further questioning showed that Texaco earned $890 million in profits this past year, which meant that profits were only one-half their cash investment in trying to discover new gas and oil reserves. In addition, it was brought out that taxes for the oil industry have increased by 650 percent in Louisiana.

Mildred Hevern visited with Mrs. Doss, Mrs. Slate and Mrs. Coffey.

We can show you how to produce a better crop with less rain.

Just about any pivotal system can put out a lot of water. But that's not the important thing. The important thing is how it puts the water out.

The coefficient of uniformity is the key. That means that the overall crop yield will be better for any given amount of water applied.

That's where Gifford-Hill's 360 is unmatched. The sprinklers are smaller and spaced so you get a uniform coverage. Even the water drop is the right size to penetrate the ground instead of compacting and puddling.

And because of the sprinkler design, the 360 requires less water pressure so you also save pumping costs.

Gifford-Hill's 360. It's about time you started getting a better crop with less rain at less cost. Get the full story from us. Call today.

Gambling Income Must Be Reported

Taxpayers must report all winnings from gambling as income on their tax returns, the Internal Revenue Service said.

For tax purposes, gambling activities cover raffles, lotteries, horse racing and bingo games. The IRS considers cash won as prizes in contests and as awards from employers to be taxable income.

Non-cash prizes such as household appliances, all-expense paid vacations, and cars won as prizes or donated by employers must be included in income at fair market value. Taxpayers should report all winnings on Form 1040 under the category of "Other Income."

If a taxpayer loses money while gambling, the taxpayer may deduct his or her gambling losses on Schedule A of Form 1040 to the extent of winnings. For example, a taxpayer who loses $200 and wins $150 during the tax year may deduct $150 on his or her itemized deduction schedule in addition to reporting the $150 as income. A taxpayer must have records to substantiate gambling losses, such as racing stubs or lottery tickets, the IRS said.

If a prize or award is payable at some future time at the option of whomever is giving the prize, the amount is not taxable as income until the taxpayer either receives it or the prize is made available to him or her.

Irrigation Conference Set For Hereford

Price and availability of natural gas for irrigation is one of several featured topics planned for the 1977 High Plains Irrigation Conference in Hereford, Thursday, March 10, at the Bull Barn.

According to Deaf Smith County Extension Agent Juston McBride and Leon New of the Texas

Agricultural Extension Service, the one-day conference will include topics ranging from energy costs to irrigation pump efficiency.

Interested persons are urged to attend, says McBride. Registration is free and the program begins at 9:45 a.m.

Bill Marquis of Witherspoon, Aiken and Langley law firm in Hereford, is first on the agenda, discussing price and availability of natural gas. Next, cost comparison of fuels for irrigation will be outlined by Wayne Keese, Extension Service agricultural engineer from College Station.

Other speakers will touch on the more technical aspects of irrigation, says McBride. Dr. LaVerne Stetson, agricultural engineer for the Agricultural Research Service-USDA, Lincoln, Nebraska, will speak on power management with electricity.

Rounding out the morning session will be Les Schumacher, field service manager for Cummins Rio Grande, El Paso, who will provide tips on top irrigation engine performance.

Following a lunch which is being sponsored by Deaf Smith County Water Association, Dr. Bill Lyle will discuss characteristics of designed irrigation wells. Lyle is an agricultural engineer for the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station in Halfway.

Next on the program is Paul Coneway, president of Well Surveys Company, Hereford. Coneway's topic will outline a new method of investigating existing irrigation wells.

Final topic of the day is Charles Schlabs who will discuss his evaluation of soil moisture sensors. Schlabs is a grower, agribusinessman and chairman of the Deaf Smith County Water Association.

Sponsoring the annual irrigation conference are the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Panhandle Economic Program, Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce and the Deaf Smith County Water Association.

Cut electric bills

AUSTIN, Texas (Spl.)—If you want to cut your annual electric bill almost in half, don't march on city hall but take some simple steps at home, a University of Texas energy conservation expert advises.

Energy-saving tips offered by Dr. Jerold W. Jones include:

- Increase insulation in the attic to six inches.
- Weather-strip doors and windows, seal structural gaps with caulking, plug air leaks at light switches and electrical outlets.
- Use 60-watt bulbs except in work or reading areas.
- Set thermostats at 68 degrees in winter, 78 in summer.

SUNNYSIDE NEWS

By TEENY BOWDEN

Approximately two inches of snow was received Friday night bringing .15 inch of moisture. It was badly needed to settle the dust from the worst sandstorm in a long time Tuesday followed by another on Wednesday.

Coy Mason, a former resident of the community, died Wednesday night after his foot slipped and he fell into a tank half-filled with lime at the Allied Chemical Corp. plant at Hereford. Cause of death was suffocation from inhalation of the lime. He was operations superintendent for the plant. He and his wife Alene moved to the community as newly weds and worked off and on for Mr. and Mrs. E.R. Little from 1961 to 1968 when they moved to Hereford to work for Allied Chemical Corp. Their son, Delynn was born here in 1962. Their daughter, Amy was also born here, but he had farmed for his father a year or two between their births. He was born in Clovis and raised there and at Lazbuddie. She was raised at Muleshoe. Mr. and Mrs. Little visited with the family Thursday night and attended the funeral services Saturday afternoon in the Avenue Baptist Church in Hereford. Mrs. Little also visited with them Thursday morning after hearing about the tragedy. Cliff Brown, and Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Cox also attended the funeral services. After the Sunday night services, the readathon and book fair continued with popcorn, cookies, kool-aid and coffee and the pinata party for the small children. Each child got several swings with a small bat, and the candy filled pinata remained intact so a larger bat was used and each one took several swings with it before the little bull began to disintegrate. Adults watching threw hands full of individually wrapped candy onto the floor as the pinata began to spill its candy. Small paper sacks were used by the children to collect the candy. Nine children participated.

Now that all the smoke has cleared from the recent political activities, more people are looking on the bright side of the economy.

One of the things we hear about almost incessantly is unemployment. On the other side of the coin is employment. And employment is better than ever.

Figures recently released by the Department of Labor indicate during the past 10 years, while the population increased by 10 percent, employment increased 21 percent. Cutting through all the fancy economic terms, this means that for every 100 people (men, women and children) there are now 41 jobs. Ten years ago there were only 37.

Now the obvious question, "How can there be more employment and higher unemployment?" Here's how. More people are looking for jobs. A higher percentage of the population is at a working age than a decade ago... many more women are seeking work and more teenagers are working now than 10 years ago.

So, we have a classical paradox: unemployment is high, but the percentage of total persons employed is better than ever.

"The more you know about our business, the more we can help you!"

He was storekeeper aboard the USS W.H. Standley which was in ports of Puerto Rico, Spain, France, Italy, Greece, Crete and Cuba.

Gallagher is a 1970 graduate of Olton High School.

Gene was separated from active duty February 7. During his four years of service he stayed forty-two months at the Naval Communication Station, Yokosuka, Japan where he participated in maintaining Military Circuits as a radio man. He describes the climate at Yokosuka as being humid and at times very cold.

He spent some twenty days on a voyage to the Philippines from Japan. Gene graduated from Olton High School in 1971. Immediately following their arrival in Olton, Kenneth and Gene visited their grandmother, Mrs. Anna Gallagher, and other relatives at Grandview, Mo. They were guests of relatives in Lincoln, Nebr.

Mrs. Lily May Silcott of The Olton Enterprise checked with issues of that publication for comparative prices of coffee on February First throughout the years beginning with 1967. At that time coffee was 59 cents per pound with it being advertised at 66 cents on that date in 1968 and 69 cents February 1, 1969. It had risen to 89 cents in 1970 and remained that for 1971, 1972, 1973 and 1974. By 1975 it was 99 cents and February 1, 1976 the price was advertised at $1.29 per pound, as compared with $2.59 and $2.99 February first of this year. Monday of this week, February 28, one food store in Olton priced one brand of coffee at $3.39 per pound and two others at $2.99. It is explained that the price has risen the last two years because of a freeze two years ago in the coffee region of South America. This extreme weather killed or damaged 75 per cent of the coffee trees. Many small trees are too young to produce the coffee bean. Some retail merchants predict there will be no decrease increase in cost of coffee for two or three years.
