Columbia River Is Spawning New Flood

PORTLAND, Ore., June 3. (AP)—The Columbia River system spawned a new flood in its headwaters today. Crest of the old one still threatens to punch out weakened dikes far downstream near the sea.

Portland and Vancouver, look out. Portland and Vancouver—across the Columbia—are at the confluence of the great river and the Willamette, biggest stream arising in Oregon.

The time of greatest suffering is over in the Portland area—the hardest hit. Over for the moment—until the new crest mounting up-river plunges down through the rock walls of the mid-Columbia gorge.

Cabbie Sought For Abduction

YORK, Pa., June 3. (AP) — State police have sent out a broadcast for the arrest of a taxicab driver accused of abducting Mrs. Mary Kolinski, 17-year-old bride who was to have graduated from high school last night. The police message stated that Arthur D. Deets, Jr., of Kingston, Pa., has been charged with abducting Mrs. Kolinski, who disappeared from her home last Friday. The charge was filed, state police said, by Thomas T. Kolinski, 25, a New Britain, Conn., salesman, who said he and the missing girl were married at Elkton, Md., April 15, planning to announce their marriage after her graduation. Deets' wife told police that her husband left home last week, telling her he was going on a business trip. Mrs. Deets, police said, expressed the belief that her husband had become ill and was in a hospital somewhere.

Woman Tells Of Assaults By Three Men

TEXARKANA, June 3. (AP) — A 35-year-old Texarkana woman told Bowie County officers she was beaten and raped while held captive by three men Tuesday night and early yesterday.

The men, 18, 20, and 22 years old, surrendered to officers yesterday. Sheriff Bill Knight of Cass County, Tex., where two attacks on the woman allegedly occurred, told Bowie officers he would take the men to Linden today and file charges.

The woman was under care of a physician.

Bowie County Attorney Bun Hutchinson said the woman told officers she was in a cafe here with an escort Tuesday night; that the three men joined them, and the five set out by auto enroute to a night club just over the Louisiana line.

Near Atlanta, Tex., about 21 miles south of Texarkana, the three forced her escort out of the car, the woman said.

She said she was beaten, dragged out of the car and raped by two of the men pushed back into the car and driven toward Jefferson and Marshall.

Near Marshall one of the men dragged her out of the car and raped her again, the woman said. Early Wednesday she told the three that if they'd take her back to Texarkana she would tell her family she received her injuries in a car wreck, the woman said.

The men brought her back, put her out of the car in front of her brother's house in Texarkana, Ark., and left. Her brother reported to Bowie County officers.

Hutchinson said the escort hitchhiked to Texarkana early yesterday and also reported to officers. He said the woman suffered severe lacerations and bruises.

Airlines Set Safety Record

CHICAGO, June 3. (AP) — Two hundred and eighty thousand times around the globe without a fatal accident.

That, in effect, is the combined safety record compiled by 23 airlines through last year, figures released by the National Safety Council showed today. The lines completed more than seven billion passenger miles without a single fatality to a passenger or crew member.

A 24th airline — Pan American Airways, Inc. — was honored for completing 1,443,699,000 (B) passenger miles between Aug. 3, 1945 and June 19, 1947, without a fatality.

Fifteen of the 24 winners of the council's 1947 aviation safety awards not only went through 1947 without an accidental death, but completed a fatality-free record ranging from two to 18 years.

Other billion-mile class winners besides Pan American were American Airlines, Inc., and Northwest Airlines, Inc. American traveled one year and 1,502,499,000 passenger miles since its last fatal accident Dec. 28, 1946. Northwest traveled five years and 1,228,604,000 passenger miles since its last fatal accident May 12, 1942.

Woman Pilots Meet At Miami

MIAMI, Fla., June 3. (AP) — Women pilots converged on Miami today from all parts of the country for an air show and the climax of a 2,600-mile cross-country race.

First to land here in the California-to-Florida race was Jeanne D'Ambly of Palm Springs, Calif., who landed her Stinson at Amelia Earhart Field after a two-day daylight trip. Miss D'Ambly arrived at 3:50 p.m. (CST) yesterday.

Five others competed in the race. Mrs. Frances Nolde of Reading, Pa., spent the night at Waco, Tex., and planned a stop at Pensacola, Fla., enroute here. She said she had to be back home in Reading Monday "to do washing for the youngsters."

Dorothy Krovova of Stockton, Calif., forced down by engine trouble near El Paso, planned an early takeoff to finish the race. The twin sisters, Claire McMillen and Betty McMillen Louflex of South Pasadena, Calif., also were somewhere along the route.

Helen Griente of Bloomington, Ill., and Darlene Thurmond of Van Nuys, Calif., were the others competing.

The race is on an elapsed time handicap and officials said the winner probably would not be determined until late in the week. They must fly only in daylight and chart their own courses.

Sound engineers estimate that about $2,000,000 a day is lost over the country in lower efficiency and accidents caused by excessive noise.

KATE MORRISON COMMUNITY PROJECT INTEREST IS HIGH

Attendance of both adults and children continues at a high level for the Red Cross-YMCA community project at Kate Morrison school.

Upwards of 30 youngsters and adults witnessed showing of motion pictures in the school auditorium while approximately 30 women participated in the Red Cross home nursing course.

In the latter function, Mrs. Moore Sawtelle, Red Cross executive secretary, Mrs. Louise Horton, health nurse, and Jewel Barton, chapter home nursing chairman, are instructing the Latin-American women in fundamentals of nursing.

Mrs. Dorothy Wilson is assisting as interpreter.

Children and others are kept occupied by informational and entertaining motion pictures projected by Lee Milling, YMCA executive secretary.

One of the next steps likely will be to encourage adult participants to select hosts for the meetings and perhaps to organize some sort of a council to direct their own activities. As for the nursing, interest has been sufficient that it is planned to offer it on a "cycle" basis, that is to run in continuously so that new students may enter at any point and continue through to where they started.

GOVERNMENT IN BALANCE

Newfoundland Holds Critical Election

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., June 3. (AP) — Residents of this rocky island colony, Britain's oldest, vote today to decide Newfoundland's future.

After a hot political campaign which at times reached the intensity of a civil war of words, the voters are called upon to make a choice among three alternatives:

1. Shall Newfoundland join Canada as that dominion's tenth province?
2. Shall it return to independent status, with responsible government, such as it had before 1934?
3. Shall it remain as is, with a commission form of government, under a governor appointed by the British crown?

Still another proposal—economic union with the United States—was injected into the campaign, but it is not on the ballot.

Approximately 170,000 of Newfoundland's 320,000 inhabitants are expected to cast ballots. Joseph Smallwood, leader of the party urging union with Canada, predicted victory with 70 percent of the total vote. Chesley Crosbie, a campaigner for independence, and Peter Cashin, spokesman for the "as is" group, claimed victory just as flatly.

To win, a proposal must receive at least 51 percent of the total vote, a clear majority. In case none does, the top two will be voted on again, in a runoff.

The question of economic union with the United States was tossed into the campaign by Crosbie's party. He charged this proposition was left off the ballot deliberately and contends it is Newfoundland's

Many Superstitions Collected In Book

By DOROTHY ROE
NEW YORK, June 3. (AP) — Modern men may understand the atom and the fourth dimension, but he still refuses to walk under a ladder or let a black cat cross his path. The most mature minds cling to childhood superstitions, sometimes in fun, often in earnest, says Claudia de Lys in her new book, "A Treasury of American Superstitions" (The Philosophical Library, N. Y., $5). Having devoted her entire life to the study of origins of superstitious beliefs throughout the world, Miss de Lys has assembled her findings in an impressive and entertaining volume which will hold many surprises for the best informed. Did you know, for instance, that the girl who darkens her lashes with mascara is following an ancient superstition used by primitives to ward off the "Evil Eye"? Did you know that the wearing of earrings was started as an amulet, to bring good luck and ward off bad fortune? How often have you heard someone say "Keep your fingers crossed" when awaiting the outcome of a business deal, a horse race, or an expected bonanza of good luck? This superstition, one of the most widespread in modern times, dates back to the ancient belief that the sign of the cross brings good fortune, says Miss de Lys. Many superstitions surround the subject of romance and weddings, and the overwhelming preference for white as a bridal gown may be traced back to the old verse: The custom of throwing rice at a wedding also has ancient origins, says the author. It is believed to be a survival of ancient religious rites of the Hindus and Chinese, who believed rice to be the symbol of fertility. The word "honeymoon" originated with the ancient Teutons, among whom a newly married couple used to be given a kind of honey wine to drink, for a period of one month or "moon" after marriage. Fashion also is affected by folklore, says Miss de Lys, pointing out that the modern custom of wearing a triangular scarf over the head dates back to an ancient style based on the belief that the triangle was a mystic symbol, able to ward off evil spirits. The ancients believed the hair often harbored evil spirits—hence the phrase—"He gets in my hair." Thirteen has been considered an unlucky number ever since man learned to count, except among the Egyptians, who regarded it as lucky. The number has been called "the devil's dozen."

Figures Confusing On May Weather

Figures don't lie—so they say—and yet figures do not always give the whole picture. Thus it is with the May precipitation totals. The U. S. weather bureau reported a total of 2.60 inches of moisture during the month—which is exactly what the U. S. weather bureau received. Yet, scarcely a couple of miles to the northeast, the U. S. Experiment Farm showed .84 of an inch for the month, reflecting the spotted condition of rains. As a matter of fact, the bureau location was just about the wettest spot in the county in May, and interestingly, it has been one of the driest since a wet spell was welcomed in June. Although the recorded moisture at the bureau was .08 of an inch above normal, it brought the total for the year to only 3.58 inches, which is 2.73 inches below normal for the period. Moreover, it left the total since July 1, 1947 at 9.16 inches, or 7.14 inches below normal. Except for areas which have since received exceptionally heavy showers, this portended further period of travail for some sections unless the summer turns into a season of showers. Mean temperature, according to the monthly summary released by G. A. McGahan, in charge of the bureau, was 74, which was 2.4 above normal. Only one day, June 15 with a 101 reading, reached 100 or above. Minimum reading was 51 degrees on June 4. The month continued blustery with prevailing winds ranging from 12 to 40 miles per hour. Hail fell on June 15, and seven days with thundershowers. Thirteen days were partly clear, 10 partly cloudy and eight cloudy. VATICAN CITY, June 3. (AP)—Pope Pius XII has called a secret consistory Monday, June 21, to name new bishops and archbishops. It was announced today. Vatican sources said it is unlikely the pontiff will fill any of the 10 vacancies in the College of Cardinals at that time.

COUPLE FILES SUIT

Says Sterilization Operation Fails

NEW YORK, June 3. (AP)—A man and wife are suing a doctor for $100,000, charging that a sterilization operation on the husband failed to work and that persons who knew it had been performed suspected the wife of adultery when a child was born. The Ellenville, N. Y., couple, Jack Berman, 38, and his wife, Esther, contend in their state Supreme Court action that failure of the operation had caused them "humiliation, shame and disgrace." On behalf of Mrs. Berman, the suit, filed yesterday, stated: "Members of the family who were informed and believed that my husband had become sterile as a result of the operation, believed that my child was illegitimate and born out of wedlock, and that I had been guilty of adultery." The Bermans charged that Dr. Emanuel Donheiser, Manhattan physician, was "careless and negligent" in performing the operation. The action related that Berman went to Dr. Donheiser after the couple's family physician advised Mrs. Berman that it was of "the utmost importance to my well-being that I should not again become pregnant," because "my life and mental stability would be endangered." Surgery was performed on Oct. 26, 1945, the suit set forth, adding that "afterwards we were advised that it was entirely safe for us to engage in intercourse, and that under no circumstances could I be-

School Probers Make Report At Garden City

GARDEN CITY, June 3.—The Glasscock county Glimmer-Akin committee, seeking suggestions and plans for better schools, completed its first step Monday. C. G. Parsons, superintendent of schools, was elected chairman, and H. M. Fitzhugh was selected as secretary. Two optionaires, dealing with many phases of school work, come pregnant." On Oct. 9, 1946, a daughter, Iris, was born to Mrs. Berman and as a result she "sustained serious and permanent injuries, and suffered excruciating pain and agony," the suit held. Dr. Donheiser filed a general denial except to say that "I did perform an operation on the duct of plaintiff, Jack Berman, in order to effect sterilization."

were completed and forwarded to the state committee. The most discussed subjects were teacher tenure and teacher qualification. Because Glasscock county has had a county-wide unit since 1937, one of the chief objectives of many counties, the reorganization of school districts, was marked off as accomplished. Among those on the committee and their field's of occupation are: Parsons, Gordon Griggs, Miss Garcia Ross, Mrs. Alton Cook, L. O. Shelley, schools; Ira Lee Watkins, here.

Backache, Leg Pains May Be Danger Sign Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day. If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Present or easy passage with stinging and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Deane's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 25 years. Deane's gives happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Deane's Pills.

SHOVEL and HOE

A Garden Column by Virginia Scott. Presented by the Big Spring Garden Club.

A gardener from Illinois says she is planting boxes and beds of White Petunias this year because all her neighbors will have colored ones. It is nice to be different sometimes, and we believe she has something about most people using colored plants. White is none too popular, but it certainly can be a boost to the garden, if used carefully. White combines well with anything, and is pretty by moonlight.

Commercial growers are usually left with a lot of white Columbine at the end of each season, as everybody rushes in and buys the brighter colors. The white plants are equally pretty, when used in the right setting. They are lovely against a green background.

Columbine, Aquilegia to the botanical minded gardener, is a splendid long-blooming plant. The two names are taken from two very opposite kinds of bird. Columbine comes from dove, Aquilegia is derived from aquila, the eagle, but whatever name you call it, it is well worth having. Buy plants in bloom for this fall. They are so hardy that very small seedlings set last fall, too late to form good root system, were found putting on top growth this spring, even though completely heaved from the ground.

A study of plant types is interesting to the more serious gardener. Take Boxwood, for example, there are several kinds and sizes. Korean Box grows about two feet high, is the hardiest of all; English Box is taller, can be used for hedges. The True Dwarf Box is used to edge formal beds. Not hardy in the north.

There is such a large family of Junipers that it would take too much space to list them. Some good ones are the tall, upright kinds such as Cannarti, Virginiana Glauca, Irish, and the broader, lower Spiny Greek. Of the spreading Junipers, Pfitzer seems better adapted to most situations, unless a lower, creeping plant is needed, in which case, use Andorra. Learning the different varieties can be very pleasant, if one takes time to go into it. Don't feel depressed if you don't know very many, you are certainly not alone.

Mrs. C. E. Johnson Wins High At Bridge

Mrs. C. E. Johnson won high score at the Nite Out Bridge Club Wednesday night at her home.

Franny Perez Registers 7th Win As Broncs Blank Sports

S'west Athletes Won't Compete

DALLAS, June 3. (U.P.)—Seven Southwest Conference trackmen have withdrawn from the "dual of champions" meet here tomorrow night between Big Seven and Southwest Conference athletes.

Withdrawal of the seven men, all place winners in conference competition, enhanced the Big Seven's chances at an upset victory.

Four A and M athletes dropped out in favor of commencement exercises.

Richard Brooks, Texas, dropped out of the mile; Webb Jay, A and M, from the broad jump and 100 yard dash; Bill Cardon, A and M, from the 440 yard hurdles; Arthur Hays, A and M, in the high jump; Jim Hoff, Rice, and Don Sparks, Texas, from the 880-yard run, and Johnny Davis, A and M, from the pole vault.

Replacements include Allen Lawler, Texas, who will defend his meet championship in the 100-yard dash; August Erfurth, Rice, who will do the same in the 220-yard low hurdles; Bob Walters, Texas, in the pole vault and Walter Coleman, A and M, in the broad jump.

The first group of Big Seven athletes is due to arrive here tonight.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With TOMMY HART

Pat Stasey's baseball Broncs are getting better at pulling games from the fire but they've still dropped more one-run decisions than they've won. That could be indicative of the strength of other Longhorn league nines rather than the betrayal of any weakness here.

In seven contests involving Big Spring which have been decided by a single tally, the Hosses have succeeded in winning but three of them.

They were nudged by Odessa, 6-5, in Odessa April 28 but returned to floor Del Rio, 9-8, here May 1. Three days later, Ernie Faccio of Odessa and Our Town's Bert East booked up in a hurrier's duel here that went 12 innings before Odessa won, 2-1.

Vernon nosed out the Cayuses, 4-3, in Vernon May 16 to start a three-game sweep over the locals. Midland cuffed them about, 6-5, in a May 19 contest at Midland.

After that, the Steeds began to play steadier ball when the going was close. They came from behind with a three-run outburst in the ninth to spank Vernon, 5-4, here May 23 and exactly a week later rallied again to sink Midland, 6-5. Both outings were in the local ballpark.

RED HENNECH TURNS ATTENTION TO LEGION BALL

Red Hennech, who opened the season with the Odessa Oilers and played regularly for a while, is coaching the Odessa American Legion team in Odessa.

From all indications, there is more interest in Legion baseball in West Texas than there has been in years. Doc Swain, tutor of the local Legionnaires, blanketed West Texas with telegrams seeking games the other day and got favorable replies from all but two cities.

The local lads are in for a busy summer.

Lights at Steer stadium were recently adjusted and the arc system is supposed to be in better shape than any time since 1947. The dead lamps were replaced. All of them were focused more directly upon the field.

The local field, all the plants within the circuit for that matter, could make good use of a hundred more lights.

LARRY DRAKE GOING LIKE HOUSE AFIRE

Larry Drake, the former Big Spring fly-chaser, has been hitting at such a sizzling clip since he was sent down to Chattanooga by Washington, he is almost certain to earn another tryout with the Senators.

Drake was never known as a hitter here but has since learned to clout. He was one of the deadliest hitters in the Big State league last season.

NEW SPORT INFIELDER TEXAS WESLEYAN PRODUCT

Howard Reynolds, the new second sacker of the Sweetwater Sports, is a Texas Wesleyan college product. Bill Gann, the Sweetwater skipper, is also looking over an infielder by the name of R. W. Bruce, down from Shreveport.

LOCAL RAILROADER PLANNING TO SEE SERIES AGAIN

M. E. (Andy) Anderson, the local railroader, is planning to take in part of the World Series again this year if the St. Louis Cardinals win the National League pennant.

Anderson saw the 1946 show, when the Red Birds took the measure of the Boston Red Sox.

Louis May Meet Gus Lesnevich In September

NEW YORK, June 3. (U.P.)—Joe Louis is weakening in his determination to retire after the Joe Walcott fight June 23. If he wins and continues, his likely September foe is Gus Lesnevich, the durable light heavyweight king from Cliffside Park, N. J.

The champ isn't looking past Walcott who came so close to grabbing his heavyweight title last December. However, is so anxious to dispel reports of his poor condition that he talks of the future.

Writers who watched him weigh in at 216 pounds, popped the retirement question. They asked if he really meant it.

The answer was evasive, not in the customary Louis fashion. "I don't know yet whether I'm going to change my mind or not," he said.

That could mean a lot of things but it definitely was a change from his original "This is my last fight" statement. There are many who never took his retirement talk too seriously.

Louis hid away in Harlem for a few days after the December fight. He would see nobody. There were reports that he never would fight again but no confirmation.

Sol Strauss, acting promoter of the Twentieth Century Sporting Club and Harry Markson, the Club's publicity man, went to Harlem to see the champ. They asked him about his future plans.

"After the next one," Joe said, "I'm retiring."

When Strauss persisted, Joe held firm.

"One more," he said, "that's all."

Then Markson spoke his oft-quoted piece.

"Well Joe," said Harry, "Every prima donna, like Sarah Bernhardt, is entitled to at least six retirements."

Louis laughed and gave him a knowing look.

Lesnevich is in light training for a July 26 bout at London with Freddie Mills. He is scheduled to leave on the Queen Mary, June 24, which, by a strange coincidence is the day after the Louis-Walcott go.

If Louis should dump Walcott and announce his retirement had been postponed, many think Gus and Manager Joe Vella might miss the boat to England.

Norton To Coach

GALVESTON, June 3. (U.P.)—Homer Norton, who guided Texas A and M to one national championship and who has coached college teams for 20 years, is going to be head man of KJrwin High School's football team next fall. Rumors say he'll get $3,600 for the chore.

In 75 years, the New York Society to Maintain Public Decency has confiscated 203,350 pounds of obscene books and paper stock.

Stasey Clouts Two-Run Homer

Francisco (Pancho) Perez contributed his finest pitching performance of the Longhorn baseball league season as the Big Spring Broncs blanked the Sweetwater Sports, 9-0, before a sizeable turnout here Wednesday night.

The triumph enabled the Steeds to increase their circuit lead to two full games over the Midland Indians, who lost to Odessa.

Perez set the guests down with four scattered blows and allowed only one man as far as third base as he notched his seventh victory of the campaign. A great throw by Manager Pat Stasey in the eighth inning helped insure his shutout. Stasey grabbed Richie Lee's fly ball and then doubled Coleman Robinson at third.

Stasey sent the Big Springers away to a flying start in the initial inning when he homered over the left field wall with Jake McClain on second base. McClain had singled and stolen second.

The Cayuses came right back with three runs in the third. Armando Traspuesto, who had a big night, singled to open the round and went to the half way station on a bouncer by Joe Arencibia. Orlie Echeverria hit a hopper right at Richie Lee in the short field and the rookie bobbled it. Traspuesto ambled home and Orlie scurried to second.

Perez helped his own cause along with a one-baser that moved Echeverria to third and Ace Mendez walked to populate the sacks. Justo Azpiazu then singled and two runs resulted.

In the sixth, a hit by Perez, a misplay by Lee on Mendez's ground ball, a couple of bases on balls and a long fly coupled with another infield bouncer scored three more runs, all of which provided plenty of insurance for the stylish Perez.

Irv Keller, who had a 2-2 record going into the fray, started on the hill for Sweetwater and labored until the trouble looped in the sixth. He then gave way to Coleman Robinson.

DIAMOND CHAFF—Bobby Fernandez, the Broncs' leading hitter, went for a very bad pitch in the second and struck out with the bases loaded. He was later to be robbed of a base hit by Mel Wiebel in the sixth. Mack Dunlap speared Jake McClain's sizzling drive down the first base line in the second to save a couple of runs. Arencibia made a one-handed catch of Howard Reynolds' ground ball—a la Gaspar Del Toro—in the fifth and caught the runner at first.

SEVENTH WIN — Francisco (Pancho) Perez registered his seventh pitching victory of the season by blanking Sweetwater behind his Big Spring Broncs mates here Wednesday night, 9-0. (Photo by Jack M. Haynes).

Pipeliners Play Nathan's At 8:30 Tonight In Forsan

Starting time of tonight's Texas softball league game between Nathan's Jewelers of San Angelo and the Cosden Pipeliners booked to be played on the Forsan diamond, has been moved back to 8:30.

The change in time was announced this morning by M. M. (Blacky) Hines, who stated many of the Angelo players could not be on hand before that time.

L. D. Cunningham goes to the pitching rubber for the Forsan-Big Spring entry.

Nathan's defeated the Cosdens in a close struggle several weeks ago but their scheduled second bout was rained out.

The Pipeliners invade Crane Saturday night for a twin-bill with that community's strong nine.

Bums Pulling Back Into National League Scrap, Wallop Cards, 5-3

By The Associated Press

Slowly but surely the Brooklyn Dodgers are climbing back into the National League pennant race.

The defending champions, after a disastrous start that found them in and out of last place are in sixth place today, only five games behind the pace-setting New York Giants and two games out of the first division.

Manager Leo Durocher's pitching staff, which took plenty of beatings in the early going, has suddenly righted itself with big Ralph Branca, Preacher Roe and Joe Hatten leading the way.

In the Dodgers' first 31 games the starting Brooklyn pitcher managed to finish only seven times. In the last seven starts Durocher's opening selection has gone the distance five times. During this streak the Dodgers have won five games, lost one and tied one.

Hatten went the route for the second time this season last night, pitching the Brooks to a 5-3 victory over the fading Cardinals in a night game at St. Louis. It was the Dodgers' first victory in five meetings with the Cards, who now have lost six straight.

By losing, the Cards dropped a game and a half behind the Giants who trampled the Reds, 7-4, in a day game at Cincinnati.

Larry Jansen, star Giant right-hander, scattered 11 Red hits in posting his sixth win of the year. Jansen helped his own cause, driving in three runs on two singles.

The third place Pittsburgh Pirates also lost ground, falling two games behind the Giants as they bowed, 5-1, to the Boston Braves in a night game at Pittsburgh. Johnny Sain held the Pirates to three safeties, one of which was Ralph Kinser's 12th home run of the year in the ninth inning.

In the American League the Cleveland Indians retained their slim first place margin over the Philadelphia Athletics. The Indians dropped a 2-1 five hit decision to Rae Scarborough and the Washington Senators but remained seven percentage points ahead of the A's as the Athletics also lost, 7-3 to the Chicago White Sox.

Bob Lemon, who entered the night game unscored on in 25 straight innings, went the route for Cleveland. It was his third loss as against seven wins.

The last place White Sox raked Bill Dietrich and Nelson Potter for 11 hits in their after dark struggle in Philadelphia while Joe Haynes halted the A's on nine safeties in coasting to his fourth victory.

St. Louis' surprising Browns moved over the Detroit Tigers into fourth place as a result of their 3-1 night game triumph over the Red Sox in Boston.

Fred Sanford checked the Sox on seven blows while his mates collected nine off Lefty Mel Farrell.

ODESSA PILOT Davis To Get Look At His Oilers Tonite

Odessa's Oilers of the Longhorn league are due to attempt fourth recovery under their third manager of the season when John (Red) Davis, infielder for the Dallas Rebels of the Texas league, reports for duty.

Davis was expected to get the first look at his Oiler squad today, and he probably will be at the helm when the Odessans square off against the Midland Indians tonight in Odessa.

The Dallas club requested waivers from all other clubs in the Texas league on Wednesday afternoon, and if no other organization in the AA circuit claims his services within 48 hours, Davis is free to remain in Odessa. He will succeed A. D. (Shadow) Ensey, Oiler business manager and owner, as pilot. Ensey took over temporarily last week when Bill Davis, a pitcher, resigned.

Davis has been a favorite among Dallas fans since 1946 when he was a member of the Rebels' Dixie championship crew. Last year he played 147 games at third base for the Rebs, and finished the season with a batting mark of .235 and a fielding average of .955. He tallied 11 home runs, batted in 79 rallies and participated in 25 double plays from his hot corner position.

This year, Davis was off to a slow start, and he only began playing regularly a few days ago. Through Tuesday night's game he had appeared at the plate 38 times, had collected four hits for an average of .105.

He probably will play shortstop for the Oilers, since Leon Brinkopf has been performing third-base duties in creditable fashion.

Floods

Grand Coulee on the upper Columbia has increased the past four days.

Any new flood will add to the cost of reconstruction that already is in the planning stages for the four-state region.

Lt. Gen. Raymond A. Wheeler, chief of U. S. Army engineers, promised adequate funds to repair all Columbia basin levees. He arrived here yesterday from Washington. Senators and representatives from the region asked Congress yesterday to appropriate $75 million for reconstruction of public works. President Truman requested $60,000 for emergency relief.

Suspect Is Held After Jail-Break

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., June 3. (AP)—Detective Chief C. O. Fink said yesterday a man identified as one of three who broke jail at Tyler, Tex., May 26 has agreed to waive extradition.

Fink said the prisoner, captured in a laundry here Sunday night, is Wilbert J. Simmons, 21. A night watchman found Simmons in the laundry, and making him believe a black cigarette holder was a pistol, held him at bay until police arrived.

Meanwhile, members of Selfridge's 56th Fighter Group gave their own version of the assault and the defense they put up with their P-51 jet planes.

Their reports were enthusiastic. "We gave them a real working over," one pilot reported after returning from the flight. "We intercepted the bombers very successfully and made a lot of passes at them."

Lt. Col. David Schilling, group commander and a wartime fighter ace, termed the defense action "a successful mission."

Reports from other quarters, however, were varied. Some ground observers said the B-29's, carrying an estimated bomb load of 1,125 tons, could "have torn Detroit to bits."

The raiding force was assembled from units at Spokane, Tucson, Ariz.; Kearney, Nebr.; Roswell, N. M.; Fort Worth, Texas; Rapid City, S. D.; Tampa, Fla.; Manchester, N. H., and Salina, Kas.

Fighter Pilots Claim Maneuvers Victory

DETROIT, June 3. (AP)—Young pilots who defended Selfridge Field against the nation's mightiest peacetime horde of bombers were confident today they had saved their base from becoming a theoretical rubble.

But the Air Force waited for pictures to tell the story.

The mock bombing raid over the Michigan base came with scant warning. It was the biggest the Air Force has staged since V-J Day.

Target for the 200 B-29 bombers and 150 escort planes was the strategic Selfridge Air Base, located about 30 miles from Detroit's industrial arsenal.

The Air Force announced that bombers and the P-51 escort craft had assembled from all over the nation for the test. It remained mum, however, on the results.

Meanwhile, members of Selfridge's 56th Fighter Group gave their own version of the assault and the defense they put up with their P-51 jet planes.

Their reports were enthusiastic. "We gave them a real working over," one pilot reported after returning from the flight. "We intercepted the bombers very successfully and made a lot of passes at them."

Lawmaker Asks GOP To Carry Out Platform

WASHINGTON, June 3. (AP)—Rep. McCormack (D-Mass.) said today Republican lawmakers ought to "do something" about promises made in their 1944 party platform.

The No. 2 Democrat in the house gave that reply to the suggestion of Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) earlier this week that the Democrats "get specific" in their 1948 platform.

McCormack, chairman of the 1944 democratic platform committee and now assistant minority leader, told newsmen:

"No matter what platform the Republicans adopt in Philadelphia, it will be meaningless unless they take action on important bills before Congress adjourns."

Taft, chairman of the Senate's GOP Policy Committee and a presidential aspirant had said:

"I want to put the Democrats in a position where they will have to get specific about where they stand on such issues as civil rights."

Republicans meet in Philadelphia June 21 to draft a new platform and nominate party candidates for president and vice president. The Democrats meet in the same city, July 12.

McCormack didn't have anything to say about civil rights. That was the biggest headache the Democrats had at their 1944 convention, and the final wording represented a compromise. But on the subject of being "specific" he said:

"It is interesting to read of Sen. Taft's maneuverings in politics. His latest is his effort, as he says, to have the Republican platform one that will not be general in order to have the Democratic platform specific."

"The Democratic platform is always frank and specific. For example in 1944 the Republican platform on Palestine called for 'a Jewish commonwealth' there. The Democratic platform called for 'a free and independent Jewish commonwealth in Palestine.'"

"The Republican plan was vague. The Democratic plan is definite."

Amplifying his "do something" challenge, McCormack quoted twice from the 1944 Republican platform, as follows:

Social security—"Extension of the existing old-age insurance and unemployment insurance systems to all employees not already covered."

Housing—"The stimulation of state and local plans to provide decent low-cost housing properly financed by the federal housing administration, or otherwise, when such housing cannot be supplied or financed by private sources."

McCormack then said the Republican-controlled Congress apparently does not intend to accomplish these and other pledges.

SPEARS CONVICTED

MIDLAND, June 3. (AP)—Armo Spears today was convicted of murder and sentenced to 15 years in the state penitentiary.

The 42-year old former cafe and liquor store owner here was convicted by a 70th district court jury at 11:20 a. m. He had been charged in the fatal shooting last October 12 of Robert L. Wallace, 30, a safe cook. He had testified he shot Wallace when he found him in the home of Mrs. Spears, from whom he had been divorced and to whom he was subsequently remarried.

Borger Blast Kills Two Men

BORGER, June 3. (AP)—Two Oklahoma men were killed today when a water tank exploded at the Phillips Petroleum Company refinery two miles northeast of here.

The dead were Earl O. Linn, 19, Meeker, Okla., and Herbert Haun, 26, Oklahoma City. Tom Goodner, 18, Clarendon, Tex., was hospitalized with burns. Extent of his injuries was not known immediately.

Phillips officials said they were unable to say what caused the explosion. The three men were cleaning the tank, which had been used for storage of salt water by sand-blasting.

The tank stands about 90 feet in the air. Linn was on a ladder just below it. Haun was on top and Goodner inside when the explosion occurred. The bodies of Linn and Haun were found lying on the ground. Goodner crawled out of the tank after other workers arrived at the site.

Linn and Haun evidently had been blown into the air by the blast.

C-C Is Compiling State Road Maps

As a service to local residents planning summer vacation trips, the Big Spring chamber of commerce is compiling a complete list of new official road maps for all states.

Many of the new maps already have arrived, and the chamber staff hopes to have 1948 editions of all states within the near future. The current selection is the most complete and up to date that has been available here since pre-war days.

Heavy Hopper Influx Reported

Heavy infestations of grasshoppers have been discovered in some sections of Howard county, and immediate steps should be taken to control the pests, County Agent Durward Lewter warned this morning.

A crop of young grasshoppers considerably heavier than normal has been observed in the Vincent area, Lewter said, and several farmers there are making plans to distribute poison.

Lewter and C. V. Ridgeway, of the Bureau of Entomology, inspected the area this morning. The young grasshoppers are thick in pastures and on the roadsides and fence rows, the county agent said. They should be exterminated as soon as possible before they spread to fields, he explained. Heavy infestations also have been reported in neighboring counties. Lewter said he had been advised that young grasshoppers in Scurry county were destroying new range grasses that have sprouted as a result of recent showers.

The county agent urged all farmers in Howard county to inspect their pastures and fields and make arrangements to put out poison if necessary. Assistance in planning poisoning operations can be obtained through the county agent's office.

POULTRY EPIDEMIC

Infection Wave Is Reported In Flocks

Waves of infection have been reported in Howard county poultry flocks, and County Agent Durward Lewter has been kept busy recently advising counter measures.

Several of the younger flocks have been stricken with what has the appearance of being fowl paralysis in its various forms. There is speculation among some that a few flocks have been visited by trichonitis, a relatively new ailment to this section.

Still another ailment rampant in many flocks is fowl cholera. Several cases of worms have been reported along with a considerable amount of fowl pox.

Strict sanitation is the best preventive and control measure in the case of fowl or range paralysis, said Lewter. Caused by a filterable virus, the malady is apt to affect flocks most in the early period of life and more particularly from three to six months. For this reason, young range birds should not be allowed to run with adult fowls.

Symptoms include involvement of the nerve so that loss of control or use of one or both legs and perhaps the wings is noted. Frequently, the iris of the eye becomes progressively cloudy, so that some call it "gray-eye." Usually, one eye at a time is affected. Post-mortems reveal substantially enlarged livers. When infected birds die, they should be burned or buried.

Not so much paralysis is noted in the case of trichonitis, and gasping for breath is marked. There generally is considerable mucous seen about the head, and in droppings, which may be bloody. There is a vaccine suggested, but its effectiveness has by no means been established.

Symptoms and prescribed treatment are both well established in the case of cholera, said Lewter.

One of the first signs is the finding of dead birds, without noticeable signs of previous sickness. Then others become sleepy, inactive and have ruffled feathers. There is a yellow or greenish diarrhea condition, and combs and wattles turn a deep purple. Egg production shuts off over-night.

Treatment should be thorough mixture of one ounce of sulfaguanidine to four pounds of feed for 100 birds or slightly more. No other feed should be given until this is cleaned up. The dosage should be repeated the second day, then skip four days before giving a final dose.

Sorehead or fowl pox is easily spotted by a swelling of the head, closing of the eyes by a heavy matting which may become thick and tough. Stricken fowls should be isolated and treated with corborated vaseline. A safeguard in the case of young pullets, which have not been infected, is vaccination. As for worms, any good commercial working pill or preparation will do the job, said the agent.

Navy Denies Any Bombing Of U.S. Sub

WASHINGTON, June 3. (AP)—A chorus of official denials today met a report that an Air Force plane had mistakenly bombed the U. S. submarine Carp off the California coast.

Rep. Hugh D. Scott, Jr. (R-Pa) told the House yesterday he understood the incident occurred about two months ago and that 50 of the submarine's crew had been hospitalized as a result.

But the Navy quickly denied the story.

"This is absolutely not so," said Vice Admiral Arthur W. Radford, vice chief of naval operations.

Air Force officials joined in the denial. They said their planes do not even carry out anti-submarine patrols, because that task was assigned to the Navy a few years ago.

Scott, told the Navy had denied the story, said "If it didn't happen I'll be delighted to know it."

The Pennsylvania told the House yesterday he got the information from a newspaper editor who said he had received a signed statement from a sailor claiming to have been one of the 50 hospitalized crewmen.

Navy officials said they checked such an account some time ago and found it to be only a tall tale which a sailor aboard the Carp had written to his family.

AMAZING RESULTS WITH MERTOX TONIC

Mrs. Ben Grossman of Houston writes as follows:
"For a long time I have had occasional bilious spells. My head would hurt and I would vomit my food. My last spell was very severe and I just thought I would die. My appetite was poor and I couldn't sleep at night. I was so troubled with my bilious spells just before I would have a spell of gas and blood. I would be dizzy and I would have a severe headache. My food soured and it just seemed as if everything was wrong with me. To anyone suffering like I was, I recommend MERTOX highly.
This splendid medicine, containing 23 ingredients, works fast to eliminate poisons from your system. Helps to build red blood. Relieves constipation within a few hours and helps to create a more active bowel action. Get MERTOX Compound today from any Texas drugstore at the REDUCED price."

Senate Approves Disputed DP Bill

WASHINGTON, June 3. (AP)—The highly disputed bill to let 200,000 homeless Europeans enter the United States during the next two years went to the House today with the Senate's 63 to 13 endorsement. One Republican, Sen. Hawkes (N.J.), and 12 Southern Democrats cast the opposition votes last night after an 11-hour continuous session. Early House approval of a similar bill is indicated since Republican leaders have placed a "must" tag on displaced persons legislation for this session.

The Senate bill would permit 100,000 carefully selected Europeans to come here in each of the next two years, starting in July. They would be in addition to the regular immigration quotas.

The measure survived an attempt by Sen. Kem (R-Mo) to junk it for his substitute bill which would have limited the total to 140,000, with half of these charged against regular immigration quotas.

The Kem substitute was beaten 50 to 27 after Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) said he "felt strongly" that 200,000 is the minimum number of displaced persons who should be permitted to enter this country.

Sen. McGrath (D-RI) in withdrawing a "liberalized" substitute which he and Sen. Hatch (D-NM) had prepared, expressed regret that the "mountain has labored but brought forth a mouse."

Sen. Eastland (D-Miss), one of the 12 Southern Democrats who fought the bill to the last, termed it the "opening wedge" to destroying the nation's immigration laws.

B-36 Is Delivered To Wright Air Base

FORT WORTH, June 3. (AP)—The second B-36 bomber has been delivered to the Air Materiel Command at Wright Air Force Base, making the 900-mile flight to Dayton, O., from Fort Worth in three hours and 55 minutes. An Air Force spokesman said work at Consolidated Vultee here was progressing rapidly on another plane which is destined for delivery to the 8th Air Force.

WHITE HOUSE PARLEY FAILS

Rail Union Leaders Turn To Congress With Dispute

WASHINGTON, June 3. (AP)—Railroad union leaders turned from the White House to Congress today in seeking a solution of their long-standing labor dispute.

With White House settlement attempts broken off, the three union chiefs decided to ask for a congressional investigation into the administration's handling of their wage and other demands.

The heads of the politically-potent unions are Alvanley Johnston of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, David B. Robertson of the Firemen and Engineers, and Arthur J. Glover of the Switchmen.

All three declined direct comment, but each plainly indicated irritation because the Army has refused to negotiate with them since President Truman's May 11 order seizing control of the nation's rail system.

That order, backed up by a court edict against striking, was obtained on White House orders to head off the nationwide rail walk-out that had been set for May 12.

Johnston, Robertson and Glover went to Capitol Hill late yesterday. But they failed to find the senators they sought and so planned to resume their button-holing quest today.

This all developed after the three union chiefs stalked angrily from the White House yesterday, saying Presidential Assistant John R. Steelman had "failed completely" in his three-week effort to bring the unions and railroads together.

The unions want an improvement on the 1947 wage settlement agreed to by other rail unions. This was a 15-cent hourly pay boost plus certain working rules changes that also meant more money. The three unions maintain they deserve more because of living cost rises since last year's settlement.

But the rail management has flatly refused to change the pattern fixed for the other unions. Steelman said there will be no attempt to call the parties back to the White House unless some basis of agreement seems evident beforehand.

UAW Wins Vote At Allis-Chalmers

MILWAUKEE, June 3. (AP)—Bargaining rights for Allis-Chalmers production workers apparently were on their way back into the Workers' turbulent local 248 today.

A count of 62 bargaining election ballots—challenged after the vote last July 17—gave six of the disputed votes to local 248 yesterday. The six raised the local's total to 3,675 out of the 7,344 valid ballots cast at the election, two more than the majority required.

All that remains now is official certification by the NLRB in Washington.

A series of court actions had delayed the court of the challenged ballots. The way was cleared after the international UAW took over the administration of local 248 and suspended the local officers who led the violent, 10-month Allis-Chalmers strike which ended last year without winning any concessions from the company.

LONDON, June 3. (AP)—"What is a thunderbolt?" 10-year-old Roy Scott asked his mother

Tuesday night. There was a blinding flash, cascaded down the chimney of the Scott's Cotman Gardens home in London, and tiles flew off the roof. "That," said Roy's mother.

IT MAKES CENTS TO CAN AND PRESERVE

One way of beating high food costs is to have plenty of delicious home-made preserves and jellies on hand this year... berries, peaches, plums, figs and grapes. Stack your pantry shelves full. Youngsters... and grownups, too, really go for berries and fruit preserved at home. To put up prize-winning preserves, the kind your family and friends rave about, be sure to use 100% Pure Cane Sugar. For the best pure cane, demand IMPERIAL Pure Cane Sugar. Imperial is pure cane, real cane, and quick-dissolving—so important in preserves and jellies. Imperial Pure Cane Sugar reaches you fresher too, because it's refined right here in Texas.

Tamale Casserole

1 tablespoon fat
 1 medium-size onion, coarsely diced (3-4 cup)
 1 pound lean beef, ground
 1 teaspoon chili powder

 One 12-ounce can whole-grain corn (1 1-2 to 1 3-4 cups)
 One 10 1-2 ounce jar tamales
 1-2 cup tomato juice
 1-2 cup grated white or yellow cheese
 Melt fat in large skillet over low heat; add coarsely diced onion and cook until partly tender, about 5 to 10 minutes. Add beef and mash with a long-handled two-tined fork until crumbled and it has just lost its red color. Mix in salt, pepper, ripe olives and corn (including liquid from can). Slice tamales in small pieces and mix in lightly along with tamale gravy from jar and tomato juice. Place in medium-size casserole and sprinkle with grated cheese. Bake in moderate (350 F.) oven about 30 minutes. Makes 6 servings.

Mix in dry ingredients alternately with applesauce; also raisins and nut meats. Pour into greased 9-inch round cake pan that is at least 2 inches deep. Bake in moderate (350 F.) oven about 1 hour or until done. Let stand in pan until cool. Run a spatula between edge of cake and pan and invert pan to turn cake out. SOIL CONSERVATION

Cooperators Save All Rain Water

Cooperators with the Martin Howard Soil Conservation District saved all the water from rains last week on their farms protected by a coordinated program of soil and water conservation measures. Fields protected by terraces, contour farming, crop residues and cover crops showed no signs of loss of water or soil while on unprotected fields lots of water ran off carrying with it good top soil.

A field on the F. A. Wilson farm in the Fairview soil conservation group which had combined maize stubble on it lost no water or soil while on adjoining fields which had been listed water ran out of the rows and filled the bar ditches.

The terraced and contoured farm of W. D. Miller in the Richland Soil conservation group soaked up all the rain that fell on it as a result of deep plowing with small sweeps. Rows running up and down the hills and some contoured fields on steeper slopes lost lots of water, especially where the rows were plowed out into the bar ditches.

Moisture penetration tests made on the C. H. McDaniel, Jr. dairy farm south of Big Spring last week showed that on areas with a good grass cover water soaked in the ground fifteen inches deep. Areas with little or no grass cover soaked up water only four inches. McDaniel took his cows off his pasture about a month ago and plans to keep them off about 60 days longer to let the grass make good growth.

O. H. McAllister, rancher cooperator with the district on his ranch in Midland county, plans to give his pastures a rest during the growing season this year. McAllister will take his livestock off the pastures to improve the grass cover on his range, which will help save his soil and moisture.

Marie Weeg made application to the district supervisors last week for assistance in planning and applying a soil and water conservation program on her pasture land eighteen miles south of Big Spring. A stock tank site was located by the Soil Conservation Service. Mrs. Weeg plans to build the stock tank as a part of her conservation program to provide a permanent water supply for her thoroughbred horses.

J. B. Calverley, rancher cooperator with the district in Glasscock county, laid off rows last week for irrigation of a maize crop this year. Calverley, whose ranch is about seven miles northwest of Garden City, had the help of the Soil Conservation Service in putting in his irrigation system.

Development of irrigation is going ahead rapidly in Martin county. About 40 wells have been put down in the Tarzan area northwest of Stanton and irrigation systems are being planned by cooperators with the district.

CAIRO, June 3. (AP)—The newspaper Al Misri said today in an Amman dispatch 16 persons have been arrested and accused of signaling with a very pistol to a Jewish plane which bombed Trans-Jordan's capital Tuesday. The dispatch said all those arrested are Palestine Arabs except one—an Armenian.

QUALIFICATIONS FOR COPS UPPED

DETROIT, June 3. (AP)—Police Chief Ralph B. Guy of suburban Dearborn has decreed that all future policemen must be at least six feet tall, with "commensurate weight" and have at least two years of college. Guy, who stands five-feet eight, said the Dearborn force has "too many undersized men, both mentally and physically."

Missing Jap Boat Found, Then Lost

TOKYO, June 3. (AP)—A U. S. Army B-17 sighted the Japanese fishing boat Taiyo Maru, adrift a month with 19 men aboard—but the vessel was lost again in stormy weather before a U. S. rescue ship could reach it. The Army reported today the 64-ton boat, adrift between Okinawa and Guam, was last seen Sunday. The B-17 dropped food and water. Hunt for the vessel continued.

Drowning Tragedy Occurs Despite Mistaken Identity

ALTOONA, Pa., June 3. (AP)—Mrs. Louis Goodfellow, Sr., wife of a psychology teacher at the Altoona undergraduate center, answered the phone last night. It was a neighbor calling. "My son says your little boy, Louis, is in a pool somewhere."

Frantically, Mrs. Goodfellow phoned police. She was told a boy had drowned in Ivyside swimming pool. Hurrying there, she found a boy had drowned, but it was James Sisco, 15, rather than her own seven-year-old son, Louis. James had dived, struck something and failed to come up.

Mrs. Goodfellow returned home. Louis still had not returned. She hurried to the neighbor's home and talked to Louis' playmate. He led her to the "pool" he meant—an 18-foot deep city reservoir. In its water police found her son, drowned three hours before.

MILWAUKEE (U.P.)—There are two kinds of burglars in Milwaukee, the tidy and the untidy. In the other robbery, burglars smashed a sporting goods shop window with bricks wrapped inside a rag rug. The loot was valued at $143.

Since garden vegetables are all important now, be daring and toss every kind together for a salad to serve with spaghetti and meat sauce. Either French dressing or mayonnaise will point up the many fine flavors. Don't look down your nose at rhubarb any more. Right now it is cheap and wonderful! Maybe these hints will help you. Cut rhubarb on the bias in 1/2 inch strips but never peel. Soak in cold water 10 minutes, and cook over a very low heat. Fresh strawberries stirred into the cooked rhubarb pep up the flavor.

Red Recognition Causes Dispute

BATAVIA, Java, June 3. (AP)—The Netherlands handed the Indonesian republic a note today which was said by informed Dutch and Indonesian circles to deal with relations of the republic with other countries.

Both Dutch and Indonesians are predicted the note would prove to be a repetition of The Hague's viewpoint that the republic can undertake no direct relations abroad without violating the Renville agreement on the Indonesian political setup. The republic recently was recognized by Russia.

The note's contents were not made known at once. A dispatch of the Indonesian news agency Antara from Jogjakarta, Republican capital, said Dutch Cabinet Minister L. H. Nieuwe gave the communication to Indonesian Vice-President-Premier Mohamed Hatta. A Dutch delegation has been negotiating with the Republicans in view of the Soviet recognition. A Dutch spokesman in Batavia said the note was the result of new instructions to the delegation. He refused to discuss its contents.

Antara quoted informed Indonesians in Jogjakarta as confirming that the note dealt with Republican foreign relations.

Official Dutch circles are frankly disturbed over the Soviet recognition. They term unsatisfactory the Republican explanation that the recognition was negotiated with the Indonesian government.

The Moslem Party, the republic's biggest, announced today its appreciation of the recognition, Antara reported.

Socialite Faces Murder Charge

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., June 3. (AP)—The socially prominent widow of a wealthy paper company executive today faced a charge of murder in connection with his death.

Walter Blackford, 61, sales manager for the Strathmore Paper Co., was killed with a carving knife, police said, as he lay helpless in bed—the victim of paralysis caused by a shock a month ago.

Police Chief George A. Yardsley said the murder charge was filed against his 55-year-old widow after he and State Police Lt. Richard Cotter questioned Mrs. Blackford for two hours last night.

Shortly after Blackford's body was found in the couple's Longmeadow home Tuesday, Mrs. Blackford was discovered lying beneath an automobile in the family garage. She was unconscious from carbon monoxide fumes.

Police questioned her after her name had been removed from the Springfield Hospital danger list. They said they received "irrational and unsatisfactory" answers.

IT'S BRITISH LORDS

Anti-Death Penalty Bill Hits Barrier

LONDON, June 3. (AP)—A proposal to abolish the death penalty in England has hit a rock in the House of Lords, and legislative experts predicted today the measure will founder.

The Lords, by vote of 181 to 28, balked last night at the proposal—already approved by the House of Commons—which would eliminate the death penalty for a test period of five years for all crimes except high treason and piracy.

In legislative corridors today the opinion predominated that the House of Commons now will reverse itself and go along with the Lords. The lower house could enforce its will on the Lords, but it would take time and most observers doubt that it will do so.

The vote by the Lords placed Home Secretary Cauter Ede in an awkward spot. On the basis of the lower house action in April he suspended all hangings. He explained in the House that while he favored abolition of hangings as a matter of principle he did not regard this as the proper time for it.

Four convicted murderers relieved by Ede's edict now find themselves in jeopardy again.

The House of Lords also has rejected a Commons-approved proposal to abolish the whipping post.

Refinery Unit Is Damaged By Fire

WICHITA FALLS, June 3. (AP)—A fire at one unit of the polymerization plant at the Continental Refinery plant here late yesterday afternoon caused damages estimated at $5,000 to $10,000.

Refinery Superintendent John A. Ramsey said the first was caused by a ruptured tube in a reboiler. Flames shot as high as 100 feet when the fire broke out.

The blaze was brought under control without the use of chemicals, plant officials said.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (U.P.)—A resourceful "fisherman" tried to beat the high price of meat but failed when his cane pole broke. Protest Air Incident

BERLIN, June 3. (AP)—The official Soviet news agency said today the Russians have complained to the Americans about another airplane incident over occupied Germany.

The report said Lt. Gen. M. I. Dratvin, deputy Soviet commander in Berlin, protested to Maj. Gen. George P. Hays, his American opposite number, about U. S. Air Force fighters flying a "protective escort" for a Russian transport flying from Berlin to Zurich, Switzerland, April 28.

Dratvin was quoted as saying that the American planes' action was a "violation of all laws" which "could have led to serious consequences."

"Only through the splendid discipline, experience and self-control of the Soviet fighter could a mistake be averted," the agency said Dratvin told Hays.

There was no immediate comment from U. S. occupation authorities.

She answered most questions with "no comment" but, referring to her small son, Frank, Jr., she added, "I think it's most unfair to drag the child through this mud."

REHEARSING WITH FRED ALLEN

Radio Comedians Waste Nary A Gag When Time Cuts Script

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
Newsfeatures Writer

NEW YORK, June 3. (AP)—Fred Allen, the flat-voiced comedian with the astringent wit, uses left-over gags the way a thrifty housewife makes a hash from the remains of the Sunday roast.

"The script always runs over-time," the comedian explained after a rehearsal of his half-hour radio show. "We have to cut it to fit, but we never throw away anything we can possibly use. Of course, we have to throw away stuff that is purely topical. Take Noise Abatement week gags. You couldn't use those after Noise Abatement week has passed."

But except for such humor, tied firmly onto the time element, almost everything cut from one week's show is pretty apt to appear in a subsequent one.

Take, for instance, the dialogue between Allen and his announcer, Kenny Delmar, on a recent Sunday show. Delmar remarked that a chemist had predicted whiskey of the future would be made of wood. Then ensued some chatter, climaxed by Allen's quip: "When a man picks up his cocktail he'll see a knothole in his martini."

This bit, Allen explained was salvaged from an earlier show. The sequence, however, was much longer in the rehearsal and contained cracks about people calling "timber" instead of "bottoms up," and about drinks really being on the house. Presumably these jokes will be forever lost to posterity if the theme has received its work-out by Allen and company.

Allen's rehearsal ran over almost five minutes in that instance, and plenty of material was chopped from the script before it went on the air. Most of it will show up on later programs.

One gag which hit the cutting room floor and undoubtedly will be heard on the air sometime soon, opened the talk between Allen and the character Titus Moody. Allen told him he looked sour.

"You'd have a sour look too if you dropped your teeth in the vinegar barrel," replied Titus Moody, "my mouth tastes like my tongue's been dilled."

That was deleted in the interests of time, but only temporarily.

Allen spends about 60 hours a week getting that half-hour program together one of his aides said. Fred and his three writers start working on the script more than a week in advance. They read newspapers from all over and get around. They start with a rough sketch. By the Thursday before the show, it's finished—and usually it runs minutes overtime.

Allen couldn't explain exactly how the job of molding the script to the 30-minute time allotment was accomplished.

"That's a comedian's business," he said. "You have to know which are the best gags and when music is more important."

In the show under discussion, the guest star was Gracie Fields. When it came time to bob the script, a couple of pages of lines between Allen and Miss Fields were taken out—but all of Miss Fields' musical numbers remained intact.

"In this case," Allen said, "we couldn't cut down on the music. But we could take out a whole sequence, or bob a line here and there."

One rule in writing shows is hard and fast: they are always too long, not too short. The writers would rather cut after a rehearsal than have to patch up and pull out a show with new material.

Atom Plant Has Strike Threat

OAK RIDGE, Tenn., June 3. (AP)—A new strike threat faced an atomic plant today in the wake of overwhelming rejection by its workers of a final contract offer.

The employees, members of the AFL Atomic Trades and Labor Council, turned down by a vote of 771 to 26 a 10-cent an hour average wage increase offered by Carbide and Carbon Chemicals Corporation.

The union has called a mass meeting for Sunday to decide on its next move.

The union seeks a 26-cent an hour increase above the current $1.38 average wage.

HIJACK VICTIM LOSES PANTS

CHICAGO, June 3. (AP)—A chiseling gunman stripped a truck driver of part of his clothing yesterday after stealing $250 from the safe in his truck.

Arthur L. Fuller told police the robber who held him up as he was delivering parcels ordered him into the rear of the truck. He took a chisel and hammer from the toolbox, broke open the truck's safe and stole $250.

Then he forced Fuller to remove his pants and shorts. He took them, too.

Rider Plays With Security

An old legislative trick is to tack an obnoxious or explosive issue on to the coat tail of some popular or urgent measure. It is scarcely hoped that the appendage will go through unnoticed, but that it will be accepted rather than risking an operation or the destruction of the whole bill.

This trick, and that is exactly what it is, has been employed by Sen. Richard B. Russell to make the selective service act a whipping post for racial segregation. He introduced an amendment which would empower any draftsman to enforce segregation in his personal behalf. One by Sen. William Langer has extensive prohibitions against any form of segregation in the armed forces.

We do not raise the issue of politics during an election year and thus question the sincerity of the senators. They may be obsessed with burning conviction on the issue. They certainly are aware that there are others who are of a contrary opinion who would be unalterably opposed to these amendments.

Thus, the gentlemen are toying with a mighty urgent piece of legislation in the interest of trying to force something they otherwise feel they could not bring about. If selective service is as important as many national leaders think it is, they may be doing more than toying with the passage of the act. They may be toying with the nation's safety.

Stimulation Of The Mind

To report that crowds had to be turned away from the auditorium Tuesday evening on the occasion of the world government forum would be more than slightly inaccurate.

As a matter of fact, in the expanse of the big building, the 150 or so people seemed lost. But those that came did so out of interest in one of two things—in the merits of world government or in enjoying the stimulation of the American tradition of a forum meeting.

And from that point, the meeting can be said successful. It demonstrated that there is a considerable number of people in Big Spring who are sincerely interested in objective discussion of important questions. The patience and attentiveness they gave the talks—which were at times almost too scholarly for mass consumption—hinged on interest rather than simple curiosity.

The thing that proved this was the number and quality of questions. Usually someone will hatch up a question that borders on personalities or ridicule in ignorance of the central issues. That was not the case Tuesday. They were clear-cut, searching and objective questions. We don't know how many went away convinced of the urgency of world government, but we do know that we went away convinced that there are quite a few people in Big Spring who like an evening of honest, mental stimulation.

Why U. S. Is Crowded

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK, June 3. (AP)—Do you feel crowded?

Well, no wonder. You ARE getting crowded. Every third breath you take somebody's born in the United States. But go on and breathe. If you held your breath an hour, it wouldn't cut down the population—except by one.

And that wouldn't help either. The cemeteries are getting crowded too. Practically everything's crowded. Cities, stores, offices, buses, trains, hotels, garages, bars, houses, streets, sidewalks. Even some churches. And all divorce courts.

About the only people today who complain they aren't crowded are night club or movie house owners. Who's doing all the crowding? Mostly it's people. But cattle, milk cows, hogs, airplanes, cats, dogs, and motor vehicles are also to blame. They all take space—and there seem to be more of them coming along all the time.

But it isn't the horse's fault. There were 26,493,000 horses and mules down on the farm in 1915. Last year there were only 10,024,000. And while the value of everything else went up, the average price of these plow-pulling oaf-burners dropped from $66.90 to $55.40. Nobody wants to trade his kingdom for a horse these days. But to get back to what's really crowding us:

In 1790 the population was 3,929,214, and the only folks complaining about being crowded were the Indians. They have the same squawk today. They're just like prices—increasing, too. Let us skip to the golden year of 1900.

There were then 75,994,575 people—look what Columbus started!—59,739,000 cattle, 16,544,000 milk cows, 48,105,000 sheep, 51,055,000 hogs, 20,995,000 horses and mules, and only 4,192 automobiles. Think of it—only 4,192 squawking motor horns in the 2,977,128 square land miles that make up America!

But today, ah today! Look who's showing whom! There are an estimated 145 million people competing for elbow room with 81,580,000 cattle, 26,100,000 milk cows, 38,571,000 sheep, 56,901,000 hogs, 10,024,000 horses and mules—and 34,373,002 (1946 census) automobiles, trucks and buses.

If you are having trouble crossing the street, it is because all these vehicles traveled 340,655,000,000 (B) miles in 1946—and more this year. Manhattan traffic cops are convinced all these 34,373,002 vehicles try to cross 42nd and Fifth Avenue every afternoon at exactly 5:30 p. m.

Where can you go to get away from all this crowding? It's hard to say. Even women and children aren't being spared. In 1941 there were only 247 cases of triplet births and three of quadruplets. In 1944 the triplet cases jumped to 288 and the quadruplets to 8.

Civil service is no answer. There were 559,579 employees in 1929; in 1947—there were 1,849,781.

Liberties Explained

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON, June 3. (AP)—Here's an ABC on the problem of communism and civil liberties in this country.

Under the U.S. constitution everyone is guaranteed certain civil liberties, like freedom of speech.

Because of that, you can criticize the government, even to urging a change in its form.

You can do this so long as you don't say it should be changed by force. You could be jailed for that. There's a law against that kind of talk.

But if the form of government isn't changed by a violent overthrow, how then, might the vote be changed?

By a vote of the people. (Last April in Italy the Communists tried to come to power by vote of the Italian people. They were defeated.)

But, so long as you don't urge change by violence, you can even suggest this:

That once the change is made, a dictatorship to crush all opposition mean wiping out the kind of civil liberties we have had so far in this country.

So that is one of the tests of the democratic system in this country: To protect the civil liberties of a person, or group of persons, even though you know they will use those civil liberties to gain power to crush those liberties.

This problem was summed up in 1928 by Justice Holmes when he was a member of the Supreme Court. He said: "When men have realized that time has upset many fighting faiths they may come to believe even more than they believe the very foundations of their own conduct that the ultimate good desired is better reached by free trade in ideas—that the best test of truth is the power of the thought to get itself accepted in the competition of the market."

And the Communist Party in this country is trying to do the very things outlined above: They are using the guaranteed freedom of speech to urge a change in the form of government.

Lewis Almost Helps Education Bill

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—In the minds of most people, the thorny problem of John L. Lewis is far removed from the problem of American education. Yet, through no fault of his, Lewis got into the middle of the battle over federal aid to education. In fact, he nearly did the teachers a good turn.

Here is the inside story of what happened. The chief, though secret, opponents of the federal-aid-to-education bill are Speaker Joe Martin and G.O.P. Leader Charles Halleck of Indiana. They have decided that this $300,000,000 grant to the nation's schools is not going to pass this session, even though it has already passed the Senate and with the backing of such Republican leaders as Senator Taft.

However, since it isn't politically popular to oppose education, especially with the nation's schools in their present condition, Speaker Martin and Halleck have passed the buck to Congressman Fred Hartley of New Jersey, chairman of the Education and Labor Committee.

Hartley isn't running for re-election, while Martin has presidential ambitions, and, secretly, so has Charlie Halleck. Thus it has been more convenient to let Hartley take the rap for blocking education, and it was announced that he was holding up the Senate bill in his committee.

This worked well until John L. Lewis went on a coal-strike rampage recently, causing Hartley to introduce a bill pinning Lewis' ears back. Simultaneously Speaker Martin stepped in, pulled some fast footwork with Lewis, and helped to settle the strike.

This infuriated Hartley. There is no man in public life whom he admires less than John L. Lewis and, as a result of Speaker Martin's intervention, Hartley's anti-Lewis law became unnecessary.

So, out of spite, Hartley threatened to report the aid-to-education bill out of his education Committee. This, he figured, was a good way of getting even with Martin.

In the end, the speaker persuaded Hartley he had been working too hard, got him to take a six-week vacation. He did.

Hartley has now come back, meekly willing to cooperate with Republican leaders in playing politics with the nation's schools. Unless the teachers find some real political dynamite, the education bill will not be passed at this session.

SALESMEN LOSE BENEFITS
The House Ways and Means Committee really is ringing the cash register for upper-bracket taxpayers. Not content with reducing gift and inheritance taxes, the committee now is going to the rescue of corporations in a bill revising social security taxes.

Highlight of the bill, prepared by G.O.P. Representative Dan Reed of New York, is a definition of "employee" based on the 18th Century British "master-servant" principle. Reed defines an employee as "one over whom an employer exercises such control as to make him an employee at common law."

Anyone outside this category cannot go on social security rolls. This automatically excludes salesmen and other semi-independent job-holders who work on commissions. More important, it relieves corporations employing them, such as insurance companies, of the burden of social security taxes.

To offset this big loophole, the Reed bill adds two minor employee groups to the rolls—members of charitable and other nonprofit organizations and employees of state, local and county governments. However, such employees can be enrolled only on a voluntary basis.

Approximately 20,000,000 workers now are barred from social security benefits. An advisory council of experts headed by ex-Secretary of State Edward Stettinius recently recommended coverage for many of these ineligible, including farm workers, domestic servants, the self-employed, railroad workers and others.

The U. S. Chamber of Commerce also has gone on record for liberal revisions of the law and the Republican Party itself pledged social security improvements in its 1944 platform. However, Congressman Reed and his G. O. P. colleagues apparently consider this pledge "campaign oratory."

HE'D ADMIRE HITLER
In the past, the ambassadorship to Egypt had not been considered a lush diplomatic plum. It's significant, therefore, that a strong pro-Arab friend of Secretary of Defense James Forrestal, Stanton Griffis, is being switched from ambassador to Poland to ambassador to Egypt.

Before Pearl Harbor, Griffis made a remark at the New York home of Dr. Foster Kennedy to the effect that Hitler was one of the great men of the world. The remark created such a furor that Griffis was asked to leave the Kennedy home.

Later when Griffis was appointed ambassador to Poland, Dr. Kennedy came to Washington to testify against him before Sen. Arthur Vandenberg's Foreign Relations Committee. Despite this, Vandenberg put through the confirmation, perhaps because Griffis had the vigorous support of a fellow investor, Secretary Forrestal.

Naturally, the Poles, whose territory Hitler first invaded, weren't pleased at having a Hitler-admirer as their ambassador. So Griffis, bored with Poland, first angled to become ambassador to England, now has settled for Egypt. Pro-Arab Secretary Forrestal wants a pro-Arab ambassador in the country now spearheading the drive against Palestine.

A Concert For Truman

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD
Singing solos for the President of the United States this month put butterflies in the stomach of a Texas girl, Marijane Maricle of Wichita Falls, Austin and Corpus Christi.

Miss Maricle, 24-year-old blue-eyed blonde soprano with whistle-able figure and face to match, sang three songs for Mr. Truman in Constitution Hall, Washington. She is now summering in Corpus Christi.

A member of the Sigmund Romberg touring show, she learned, a few hours before the performance, that the chief executive was supposed to be in the audience.

"At first," she told us, "I wasn't nervous at all. I didn't have to sing until 10:30 p. m. so in the early evening I went for a walk. I walked by the White House and that is where I began to get nervous. I told myself: 'The President of the United States may be in there right now, getting dressed to go out and hear you sing.'"

"When I reached Constitution Hall, the streets were blocked off. Mr. Truman had arrived, with Mrs. Truman and Margaret. A whole section of the hall had been reserved for him and his secret service men. The secret service men were everywhere. The impressiveness of all this added a flock of new butterflies to my stomach. There hardly was room for them.

"Then came the time for me to sing. When I walked out on the stage, my feet were heavy as lead. I could barely lift them.

"It was a brand new sensation for me. I do not suffer from stage fright. I had planned to look up at the President's box and smile, but I found that I could not force myself to look at him. I sang three Romberg numbers: 'Romance, from the Desert Song; 'Roll on the Drums,' and an encore, 'Lover, Come Back to Me.'"

"During the whole time, I never did see Mr. Truman. When it was all over, I really was happy to get off that stage."

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Maricle, Marijane was born in Wichita Falls and was graduated from Hardin Junior College there. Then she went to the University of Texas, graduating in 1944. Her parents had moved to Corpus Christi and in 1945 she took a job as music teacher in a junior high school in that city.

But she yearned for the stage. In the fall of 1945 she went to New York for a series of fruitless auditions "that convinced me that this is a harsh and cruel world."

But she was back in New York the next year, studying at the Juilliard School of Music. She auditioned for a part in Finian's Rainbow, a musical which opened in New York early this year, got a job in the chorus.

Last February, she auditioned for Romberg, who has always said: "I know a singer when I see one." She signed a contract with the composer the same month and in April she left Finian's Rainbow to go on tour.

Miss Maricle has studied dramatics under Margo Jones and others, hopes some day to give up singing for acting. She has no further ambitions to sing for any President of the United States.

"Whether you are a Republican or Democrat," she smiled, "it's too much of a strain."

Affairs Of The World

Smuts Is Not Finished

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Old soldiers don't quit under fire, and so Field Marshal Jan Christian Smuts is back on the political battle line, unbowing either by his 78 years or by his defeat in last week's election.

The world-famous soldier-statesman's United Party was beaten by the Nationalists headed by Dr. Francois Malan, and Smuts lost the prime ministership which he had held since 1939. The marshal even lost the race for re-election in his own constituency and so was deprived of his seat in parliament.

There was speculation that Smuts might quit politics and retire to his farm. However, there were two big arguments, giving them a majority of only five seats in parliament. Actually, despite the seat distribution, Smuts still had nearly 60 per cent of the population stand for isolation from British empire affairs and for the establishment of a republic. They also aim at social, cultural and territorial segregation of the nine million non-Europeans for the population of some 11,388,000.

There have been the makings of a fight. Smuts has battled such policies throughout his life. Above all, while he has affirmed South Africa's autonomy, he stands for the solidarity of the British commonwealth and empire. He has held that any threat to the safety of Britain is a threat to the safety of South Africa.

So Smuts has picked up the gauntlet. Tuesday he accepted the offer of a seat in parliament from a member of his party who was elected last week. The incumbent will resign and a new election will be held for that constituency, with the field marshal as candidate. When he is elected (as is generally regarded a certainty) he will continue active leadership of his party in the legislature.

This was no idle cynical concern, for after the first world conflict, the public seemed almost to be making a crusade of ignoring hospitalized vets. Two years ago the VA pioneered with soldier shows and experiments at Army hospitals designed to burlesque the hospitalized GI's own frustration. It was established as a "shock absorber" in the event the wounded were forgotten, "which would have followed the unfortunate pattern of things after World War One," a VA spokesman said.

To date, even though the public has been most generous and show business has demonstrated it hasn't forgotten, the idea of their own shows so well, they average about one a month in each hospital. "Regular Revels" was the title originally given the servicemen's intramural frivolities. "Mistef Roberts" will mark the 200th production in the series.

Around The Rim—By The Herald Staff

Sgt. Mac And The Other Side

Several of my colleagues have found it advantageous to recall childhood incidents for their "Rims." Though not too far removed from those days (which my mother never lets me forget) I find similar recollections pleasant.

Many have clear memories of grandmother and the cookie jar, but I can remember my grandmother mainly as a slight woman who wore beautiful silk dresses. It is my grandfather who is stamped indelibly in my memory.

A short man with splendid physique, Grandpa maintained his erect and stately posture even in his mid-90s. His smooth, fair skin, it seemed to me, was not marred by wrinkles. His white hair was abundant and his white mustache was well attended. He was a handsome man.

He loved a lot of things: Good automobiles, fine horseflesh, memories of his native state of Tennessee, a good chew of tobacco and a cup of wine after his evening meal. Grandpa had a gorgeous and spirited horse, Silver, that threw him when the old gentleman was 75. He shook dust from his trousers, had a word with Silver and continued his ride. Grandpa was durable, but even his pride could not remove a limp for several days.

Apparently, he was a generous man, for I have heard it said of him that he might have been wealthy had he cared to hold or "use" his money. He enjoyed his money by investing in people and from the bank president to the little Latin-American who hoed the cotton, people spoke fondly of "Mr. Mac" or "Uncle Joe."

Grandpa possessed a longing to go back to the hills of Tennessee, but invariably he stayed right here in West Texas when grandmother made a short visit in his native state. Another thing he possessed was a gift for gab, one that made him a first rate storyteller.

One night as we held our rendezvous in the quiet and coolness of the evening, he told me this story—which brings us to my story to you:

His father fought as a soldier of the Confederacy during the Civil War. His detachment had stopped in a little settlement near the battle line for food and rest. Sgt. Mac—that was the way he was remembered in the family—sat on the edge of a water trough, soaking tired feet. He became conscious of the presence of a girl who was scraping leather nearby. He sat for a long time looking at her. Then he arose, and walked, barefooted, to where she sat. He hesitated, then said boldly:

"Young lady, you are the most beautiful girl I have ever seen." The ring of his voice carried sincerity.

"Are you sure of that?" answered the young woman, pausing in her scraping but not lifting her head.

"Indeed," replied the sergeant in his most chivalrous, Southern manner. "You are the most completely lovely woman I ever fancied."

"Don't ever be too sure about anything, Sir," she said, almost with pathos in her voice—"not until you have heard or seen both sides.

She arose, turned toward him, revealing a hideously scarred brow and cheek. With that, she spun and vanished.

Other members of his detachment never believed the story, and Sgt. Mac would like to have disbelieved it, too.—LEATRICE ROSS

VA Personnel Take To Stage

By JACK O'BRIAN
NEW YORK—The Broadway hit, "Mister Roberts", will be produced at the Veterans Administration Hospital, Summumount, N. Y., sometime this month. The production is not being prepared as opposition to the Leland Hayward production at the Alvin Theater. Nor, even, are any of the principals kidding themselves that they'll be competition for Henry Fonda, David Wayne, et al. of the original cast.

The Summumount Players is a stock company made up of patients, doctors, nurses and other VA personnel at the Veterans Administration Hospital, Summumount, N. Y. The show is being prepared for their own amusement, and no outsiders will see it. And the reason "Mister Roberts" will have its first presentation outside the Hayward jurisdiction is that a good many folks were concerned whether the public would forget the fellows who fought a war and were stuck in hospitals long after the fracas was finished.

This was no idle cynical concern, for after the first world conflict, the public seemed almost to be making a crusade of ignoring hospitalized vets. Two years ago the VA pioneered with soldier shows and experiments at Army hospitals designed to burlesque the hospitalized GI's own frustration. It was established as a "shock absorber" in the event the wounded were forgotten, "which would have followed the unfortunate pattern of things after World War One," a VA spokesman said.

To date, even though the public has been most generous and show business has demonstrated it hasn't forgotten, the idea of their own shows so well, they average about one a month in each hospital. Suggestions For Picnic Lunch And Before Meal Munching Treats

By CECILY BROWNSTONE

If it's a custom in your family to have a picnic as your first spring outing, you may want some new ideas for carry-along food. I recommend that if you are motor-ing any distance you take some easy-to-eat food, such as fruit or sandwiches, to munch in the car and then pack a more elaborate spread to enjoy at the picnic spot. We always do this in my family because my nephew has the voracious appetite of a ten-year-old and I have the temperamental sort of stomach that is likely to get hungry at any time. My sister evolved the idea of bringing along a snack to keep us happy before the real spread.

Greatly enjoyed sandwiches we recently made were smoked tongue slices with both prepared mustard and sweet pickle relish. Then we tucked a radish (with the green leaves left on), a carrot and a celery strip into each sandwich bag. Small sandwich bags made of waxed paper which you can buy packaged in almost any store have dozens of uses in and out of the house.

A sandwich spread that has been a favorite in our family for years is one made of yellow cheese, pimiento-stuffed olives, walnuts and mayonnaise. If the food grinder happens to be out, we put all the ingredients except the salad dressing into it; if not, we simply mash or grate the cheese and slice the olives and nuts. These are delicious on any kind of bread, white, rye or whole wheat.

For dessert take along some fruit. Then add a cake or cookies. The "Tomato Sauce Cake" shown in the photograph is something quite new and I thought it was delicious when I tasted it. It has some of the qualities of fruit cake but is much less expensive and quicker to make. It doesn't need a frosting and it is sturdy enough to travel well.

Tomato Sauce Cake
2 1/2 cups sifted cake flour
1 teaspoon baking soda
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon cloves
1/2 cup shortening

1 cup sugar
1 egg
1 1/2 cups canned all-tomato sauce
1 tablespoon hot water
1 cup dates (very thinly sliced)
1 cup nuts, coarsely broken
1 cup raisins, coarsely chopped
Sift flour, baking soda, cinnamon add sugar gradually and cream together until light and fluffy. Add egg and beat well. Add dry ingredients, all tomato sauce and hot water alternately to first mixture (about 1-3 of each at a time); add fruit and nuts with last addition of flour and mix well. Bake in tube or loaf pan which has been greased and lined with brown or waxed paper which has also been greased, in a moderate (350 F.) oven for 1 hour or until done.

Try Deviled Eggs With Cheese Sauce

Let's vary an old picnic favorite and have piping hot deviled eggs for a main dish.

We'll make the eggs more hearty with a tangy cheese sauce. For cheese gives added protein and has that stick-to-the-ribs quality.

The potato nests are a wonderful way to use left-over potatoes. Just make fluffy little mounds of mashed potatoes, indent the center to form a nest and brown them lightly in the broiler.

The pumpkin pie, rich with eggs and milk, rounds out a sturdy meal. Canned pumpkin and eggs both are in the plentiful class right now—and moderate in price.

Deviled Eggs with Cheese Sauce
4 eggs, hard cooked
1 teaspoon vinegar
1-4 teaspoon dry mustard
1-4 teaspoon salt
1-2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
3 tablespoons mayonnaise
Cut eggs in halves lengthwise and remove yolks. Mash yolks, add vinegar and seasonings and mayonnaise to moisten. Pack yolk mixture in the halves of egg whites; sprinkle with paprika. Reheat eggs in cheese sauce in a baking dish.

Hot Deviled Eggs with Cheese Sauce in Mashed Potato Nests
Green Beans
Prune-Orange Salad in Lettuce Cups
Pumpkin Pie

Cheese Sauce
3 tablespoons table fat
3 tablespoons flour
1 1-2 cups milk
1-2 teaspoon salt
3-4 cup cheese

Melt the fat, blend in the flour, add cold milk and salt, stirring until thickened. Add cheese, cut in small pieces, stir until melted and pour over eggs. When hot, serve in potato nests. Serves 4.

FOOD TIPS: Lower grades of many foods are just as suitable for some dishes as Grade A.

You can use Grade B eggs in today's deviled eggs, for instance. For Grade B eggs are good food.

Whites of Grade B eggs are not quite as firm as those of Grade A. Yolks are slightly more flattened and the flavor may be a little less delicate. But their nutritive value is just as high.

Grade C or Standard canned pumpkin may be used instead of Grade A in the pie, since spices lend flavor.

In searches for oil, more than 30,000 wells were drilled in 1946, compared with an average of 23,700 during 1942-45.

White Cake With Ambrosia Special

3 large oranges
2 fully-ripe bananas
1-2 cup diced pineapple or sliced strawberries
2 tablespoons sugar
1-4 cup moist shredded coconut
4 slices white cake
Whipped sweetened and vanilla-flavored evaporated milk or cream
Peel oranges so that they are free of membrane; cut in thick rounds and dice. Slice bananas into orange. Add sugar and coconut and mix. Put a slice of white cake on each plate, top with fruit and whipped evaporated milk or cream. Serve immediately. 4 servings.

Tapioca Cream

1 tall can evaporated milk
2 cups water
5 tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca
1-8 teaspoon salt
1-2 cup sugar
1-4 cup cocoa
1 egg, separated
1 teaspoon vanilla
Mix evaporated milk and water in top part of double boiler and heat to just below the boiling point over direct heat. Mix tapioca, salt, sugar and cocoa well; stir into hot milk with a whisk. Cook over boiling water, stirring frequently until thickened and tapioca is clear, about 10 minutes. Beat egg yolk and add a little of the hot mixture; pour back and cook, over low heat, stirring constantly, for 1 minute. Remove from heat and add vanilla. Beat egg white stiff and stir in hot mixture slowly. Chill. 4 to 6 servings.

Braised Shoulder Of Veal

5 pounds shoulder of veal
3 tablespoons enriched all-purpose flour
1-2 teaspoons salt
2 teaspoons dry mustard
1-2 teaspoons powdered ginger
2 tablespoons fat
1-2 cup tomato juice
Mix flour, salt, mustard and ginger together thoroughly. Coat veal with mixture, rubbing it in well. Heat fat in heavy kettle or Dutch oven and brown well on all sides. Add tomato juice, cover and simmer slowly for 2 1/2 to 3 hours, or until tender when pierced with a fork. Serve hot with drippings from kettle.
Note: Leftover veal may be served cold, sliced thin with a vegetable or fruit salad; or it may be heated in a curry sauce and served over steamed rice.

Orange Raisin Muffins

2 cups sifted enriched all-purpose flour
3-4 teaspoon baking soda
1-2 teaspoon salt
1-4 cup sugar
1 teaspoon grated orange rind
1-2 cup raisins
1 egg, well beaten
3-4 cup buttermilk
1-4 cup orange juice
1-4 cup shortening, melted
Mix and sift dry ingredients; mix in orange rind and raisins. Beat egg until thick and pale-colored; add buttermilk and orange juice and stir well. Add to dry ingredients along with shortening (slightly cooled) and stir only enough to moisten dry ingredients. Mixture will look lumpy. Fill greased muffin pans two-thirds full and bake in a hot (425 F.) oven about 20 minutes or until done.

BUSINESS MONEY-SAVER

Demands Growing
For Lie Detector

CHICAGO, June 3. (U)—The lie detector is being put to work now to save money for business firms and to aid research.

The ranks of specialists in what is known as the detection of deception are growing too.

Leonard Keeler, who brought out the Keeler polygraph, says 200 of the devices are in use. Police departments have most of them. Others are being operated by doctors, universities and hospitals in investigations of nervous, mental and speech defects. The Keeler machine is most widely used of the lie detectors which have been developed.

Keeler says the profession is "growing every year."

"Eventually," he adds, "there will be machines and operators in every city over 100,000 population."

He runs a school to train men for the work. There are 18 men in the current class. There are two from Washington State College, a post office inspector, and policemen from Providence, R. I., Elkhart, Ind., and the Illinois state force.

They are taught psychology, what they need to know about how a body functions, and the art of handling questions and the detector.

Keeler, 44 now, has been in private practice since he left the Northwestern University Scientific Crime Detection laboratory in 1938.

The polygraph looks like a short wave radio set with attachments. An arm cuff takes pulse and blood pressure rates. A chest harness checks the breathing rate. Hand plates give clues to action of the sweat glands. Three pens write the record on a moving sheet of paper.

Each person has a normal pattern on the graph. Fear causes changes in that pattern. Changes indicate he is not telling the truth.

Keeler and his aides work with the police, lawyers and insurance companies. They quiz witnesses and suspects. Employees of banks, stores and other business houses are examined when cash or goods are missing.

Some of the firms have the tests run from time to time. This makes the detector an instrument of reform. A report from the file shows why:

A large retail chain lost $1,400,000 one year in money and merchandise. Keeler found out that 76 percent of the workers questioned had been on the take. At a second session with the "lie box" a year later, the thief count fell to only three percent.

Applicants for money - handling jobs, such as cashiers and collectors, are quizzed to get a line on their honesty. The best group score, incidentally, was run up by a bunch of gambling hall workers.

All tests are taken on a voluntary basis.

"Most of our work," says Alex Gregory, a Keeler associate, "is done to remove the cloud of suspicion from people rather than to catch them in a lie."

Mayor Of Colorado City Resigns Post

COLORADO CITY, June 3.—Peter Martin, mayor of Colorado City, resigned yesterday, effective immediately.

His letter of resignation gave ill health as his reason for leaving the office. Victim of a train wreck after a London bombing during World War II, Martin has spent much time in Veterans Hospitals for treatment of severe back injuries.

J. C. Pritchett, mayor pro tem, is acting as mayor until aldermen meet to decide whether a special election will be called.

In 75 years, the New York Society for the Suppression of Vice, recently renamed the Society to Maintain Public Decency, caused the arrest of more than 5,500 people.

MEMORIALIZE CHIEF CRAZY HORSE

CUSTER, S. D., June 3. (U)—One year and $81,000 after it was conceived, the statue of Chief Crazy Horse will begin to take form today at nearby Thunderhead Mountain.

Gov. George T. Mickelson of South Dakota will detonate the first blast inaugurating work on the memorial to the proud Sioux warrior who s p u r n e d the white man's conference table.

The dedicatory ceremonies will bring several hundred Sioux Indians here from the Dakotas, Nebraska, Wyoming and Montana, including five survivors of the battle of Little Big Horn, the Custer massacre.

As envisioned by the sculptor, the memorial will be a gigantic carving in the mountainside, rough-

Three Mighty Important Ideas

Maybe you read, where a great encyclopedia has sorted all basic ideas into a few select groups. Under the letter "T" they have:

Temperance - Truth - Tyranny.

Sounds like a funny combination. And to philosophize a little, notice that Truth is in the center—between Tyranny and Temperance.

Now and then you hear folks criticize temperate people who enjoy a moderate glass of beer... who talk about "two beers" getting some one into trouble, and claim: "There ought to be a law!"

Then Truth steps in between, and points out that two beers never got anybody into trouble—and that somebody's trying to distort the facts. No, there shouldn't be a law—there should be Truth.

From where I sit, those ideas are arranged just right. Temperance on one side, Tyranny on the other—and Truth in the middle—seeing that Tyranny never encroaches upon Temperance.
