Do you know which is the one distinguishing feature of American currency?

If you guessed the Treasury Seal, you're right. With the exception of those bills made in the first year of printing, the seal has appeared in one form or another on every piece of paper money ever issued by the Treasury Department.

The Treasury Seal is the final stamp of approval that insures the legality of our currency. When it's combined with the two signatures and the expressed obligation of the government, it notarizes the contract, to speak, made between the holders of its currency and the United States.

Red, brown, blue, green, gold and yellow are all colors that have been used for the Treasury Seal. The component parts are a key for safety, a square for rectitude and scales for equality.

Ski Party Ends Seminar

The 1970 session of the Summer Seminar held July 27-31 at the First United Methodist Church of Earth concluded Friday as twenty-five tired and happy youths returned from an overnight camping adventure at Buffalo Springs Lake near Lubbock.

Seminar activities got underway Monday evening with a Progressive Supper which began at the church with crackers, cheese spread and tomato juice. The main course, a delicious enchilada supper with all the trimmings, was enjoyed at the J. A. Littleton, Jr. home before the group returning to the church for dessert consisting of sherbet.

Following the meal, Charles Axtell presented a film showing his experiences in Vietnam prior to worship services attended by twenty-four young people.

Sponsoring Monday's activities were Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Glasscock and Mr. and Mrs. Ross "Sheeter" Brock.

Approximately sixty youths from different area churches attended the seminar session Tuesday evening.

Hot dogs, chips, dips and homemade ice cream were enjoyed at the church prior to the introduction of the guest speaker.

On Wednesday, twenty-five youths and their sponsors met at the church for a sack lunch meal to begin the session.

The program, presented by Mrs. E. C. Hudson, concerned Atheism and how today's youth may be confronted with it later in their lives. Informal worship services were held on the grounds of the church.

At noon Thursday, a group of twenty-five Methodist youth and their sponsors left the church to go to Buffalo Springs Lake for an overnight excursion.

An afternoon of skiing fun was enjoyed before the group partook of a hearty hamburger supper prepared by their sponsors over campfires.

The evening program was presented by Jimmy Littleton and consisted of a film entitled "Parable" which presented the life of Christ in a circus environment giving the life of Christ in different ways.

Friday morning found the group up early enjoying a breakfast of scrambled eggs, bacon and sweet rolls to supply the energy necessary for a morning of skiing activities before the trip home from the Wesleyan Lodge.

A delicious noon meal was eaten at Furr's Cafeteria in Lubbock by those attending.

Accompanying the young people were Mr. and Mrs. Sheeter Brock, Mrs. Ed Dawson, Hugh Alexander, Mr. and Mrs. Orville Cleavinger, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jackson and Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Coker.

- 2) The test ration consisted only of corn silage and supplement. Same quantity of feed was consumed in all test pens.
- 3) All steers consumed 3.7 tons per head during 150 days.
- 4) Steers receiving the Krop Keep treated silage gained .16 lbs. more per head per day than the steers receiving the untreated silage (2.04 lbs. vs. 1.88 lbs.) This amounted to 24 lbs. extra gain per steer during the feeding trial!
- 5) By using market value of 25 cents per pound, the steers receiving the Krop Keep treated silage returned

Communism, Addiction Citizenship, Seminar Topics

Johnny Kelley, senior student at Springlake-Earth High School, returned Saturday from the eighth annual High School Students Citizenship Seminar held July 28-31 in Waco. The seminar was sponsored by the Texas Farm Bureau.

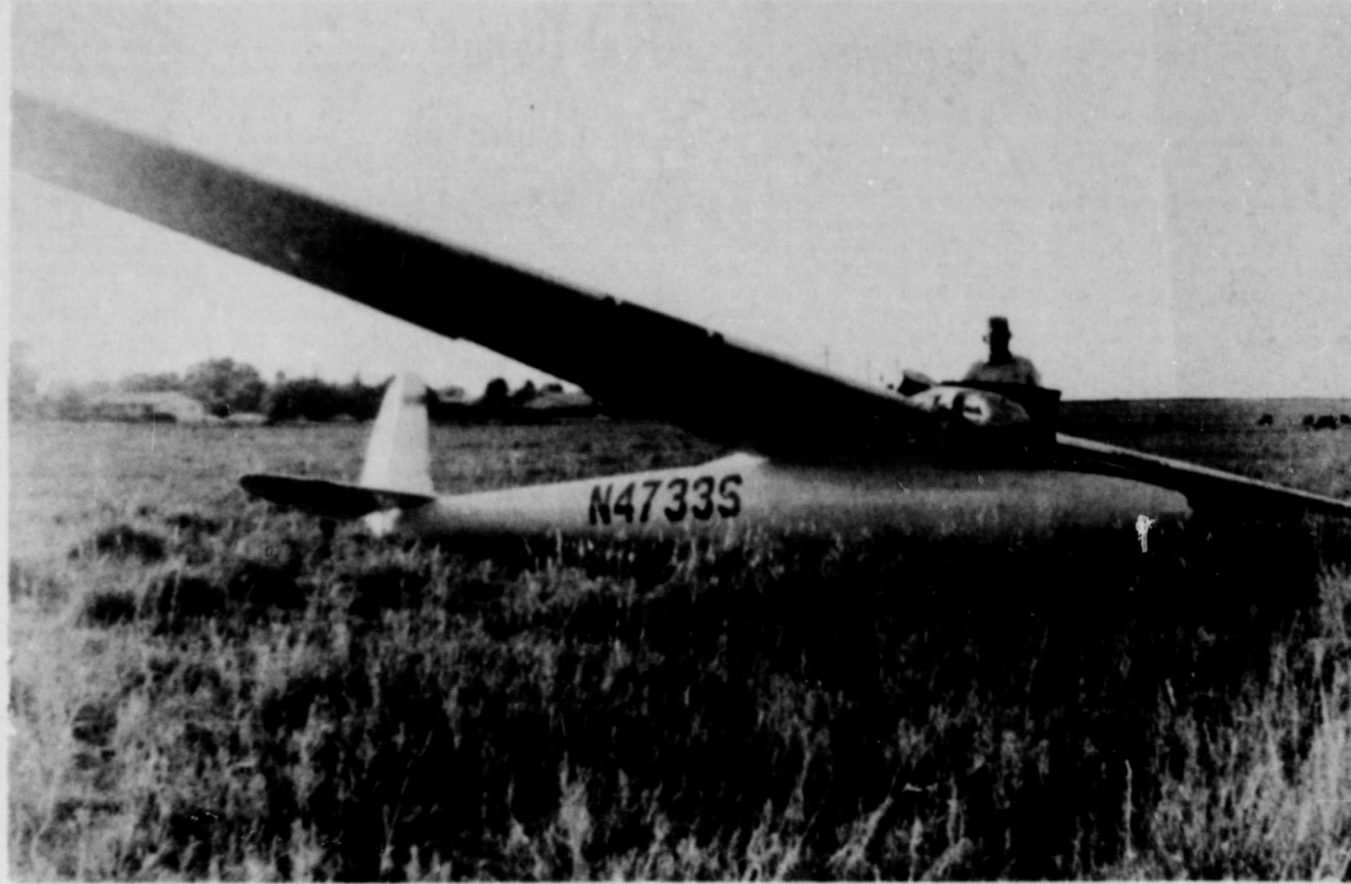

The 425 students, representing 200 Texas counties, who attended the seminar received three days of orientation on the American system and way of life. Among the subjects studied extensively were Communism and drug addiction. It was emphasized to the students that the spread of Communism in the United States is greater than ever before and is increasing steadily among the younger generation. Evidence of the Communism growth is clearly visible in the Black Panthers and similar Communist supported organizations.

Drug addiction among teenagers and young adults ranks second as an enemy of youth. Seminar participants were recounted on the personal life experiences of a group of four young convicts from Huntsville. This presentation is sponsored by the Department of Corrections as a deterrent to crime. In addition, a young former narcotics addict and ex-convict related the tragic story of his life as an addict and criminal. The youth, Richard Perigo of Dallas, is associated with HIP (Help Is Possible), an organization dedicated to the prevention of delinquency and drug abuse among teenagers.

Various ways of counteracting the spread of drug use and dealing with those already addicted were outlined for the students, along with the hazards of Communism, by four nationally-known lecturers. They were Dr. Clifton Ganus, president of Hardin College, Searcy, Arkansas; Dr. C. L. Kay, assistant professor of Lubbock Christian College; John Noble, Muncy, Pennsylvania, author of "I Was a Slave in Russia"; and W. Cleon Skousen, Salt Lake City, author, lawyer, educator and former FBI agent.

Kelley reported, "The speakers were excellent. The subjects on which they spoke were interesting and their presentations were unexcelled." He also stated that the seminar courses made him realize that something must be done in the United States about the growth of Communism and drug addiction afflicting the American youth. "Home is where work toward the betterment of citizenship and living should and must begin along with the firm belief of the entire nation in God," Kelley said.

During the seminar sessions films were presented on the American way of life. Four were on the subject of economics and how the economic system of the United States operates. The remainder of the films were centered on Communism. Kelley recalled that "Communism on Campus" was only one of the outstanding film presentations. All was not work during the three day session, however. Such recreational activities as dancing, bowling, ping pong, pool, snooker, swimming and gymnastics were enjoyed by the industrious seminar participants. The students attending were divided into groups and each group presented talent acts nightly. These acts were in the form of skits, songs, dances, etc.

Johnny, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy F. Kelley, was selected to attend the High School Students Citizenship Seminar because of his high scholastic record and over all participation in school activities. He is active in many school programs and will serve as vice president of the student council for the 1970-71 academic school year.

Feedlot Manure Available To Area Farmers

LUBBOCK--A Texas Tech University agronomist points out in a recent study the availability of a great tonnage of feedlot manure to area farmers, its nutrient content and extremely practical expense in its use as a fertilizer.

The Department of Agronomy at Tech now has available a new study on the "Value and Problems of Feedlot Manure as a Source of Plant Nutrients" prepared by Dr. William F. Bennett, agronomy professor.

According to Dr. Bennett's research, the analyses of the manure and results of demonstrations indicate that it has potential value as a source of plant nutrients.

"The nutrient content of manure," he said, "together with the results obtained from its use indicate that it should have a value of around $1.50 to $3.50 per ton when applied on the farmer's field.

"General guidelines established in the past have indicated that approximately $3 to $3.50 per ton could be paid for its application."

Dr. Bennett also stated that, "the manure will usually have a beneficial effect on the organic matter content, water infiltration rate, water holding capacity, ease of tillage, and similar characteristics."

"Organic matter," the agronomist said, "also increases the cation exchange capacity of the soil. Manure also contains other elements necessary for plant growth. These include potassium, calcium, magnesium and sulfur as well as the micronutrients."

Dr. Bennett pointed out in his study that there were also potential problems related to disposal of large quantities of feedlot manure. "One problem is the fact that the waste contains salts," he said. "If the quantity of salt or sodium is sufficiently high," he said, "there could be some detrimental effects on plant growth."

Manure also has a slight acidifying effect on the soil which could have a beneficial effect on the alkaline soils of West Texas, the professor said.

This new study is made available in folder form and may be obtained by writing to the Agronomy Department, Texas Tech University, Lubbock, Texas.

Mouthwashes Blah!

The Food and Drug Administration says eight mouthwashes offer little more than lip service.

As a result, the agency today ordered the manufacturers to knock off advertising claims of killing bad breath, curing sore throats, or ridding common colds.

If they desire, the FDA says, the firms may continue to advertise "a pleasing effect to the mouth." But no medical claims.

The makers and their products: Johnson and Johnson's Micrin Oral Antiseptic, Lever Brothers' Pepsodent Antiseptic Mouthwash, William S. Merrell Co.'s Cepacol, Warner Lambert Pharmaceutical Co.'s Sterisol, Purdue Frederick Co.'s Betadine, Iodine Pharmaceutical Co.'s Iodine, Kadosol Corp.'s Kadosol Mouthwash and Gargle and Marck Co.'s Tyrolaris Mouthwash.

NO POWER

The FDA said a National Academy of Science study showed the mouthwashes had little or no germ killing power and "all were found to be ineffective for preventive or therapeutic claims."

The makers have 30 days to respond to the order. If they don't the FDA can move to prevent sale of the products.

When we acknowledge that the struggle for a better environment takes place in the home as well as the lab, and in the marketplace as well as legislative chambers, we are on our way to helping solve the problem.

It may not seem so glamorous nor even so important to start in our own backyards, but one neat yard leads to yards of neatness. Efficient disposal of litter, trash and garbage has long-range implications.

Skipper, The Porpoise Will Be Added Attraction

LUBBOCK--Skipper, the performing porpoise which has been delighting audiences from coast-to-coast, will appear as a free attraction throughout the 53rd annual Panhandle South Plains Fair here September 28-October 3.

Skipper will be going through his aquatic antics in a transparent plexiglass tank, 25 feet in diameter and six feet tall.

The tank will be erected in the area of the Agriculture Building on the southeast corner of Fair Park. Free shows will be presented at 2 p.m., 4 p.m. and 8 p.m. daily. However, Skipper will remain in the tank throughout each day for public viewing.

Although the trained porpoise and his handlers present a fun-filled act jammed with hijinks, what goes on behind the scenes with the 450-pounder is almost as amazing as his show.

The Skipper crew travels more than 24,000 miles a year making fairs, sports and boat shows and shopping center promotions.

Transporting Skipper is a problem in itself. He travels in a custom truck, riding in a specially fitted "coffin" about nine feet long.

Actual auto safety belts are used to secure him tightly so he cannot harm himself while thrashing about on the road. While traveling, an automatic sprinkler system regularly showers the porpoise and keeps him wet.

Each week, two tons of salt are added to the water, together with numerous chemicals to create an artificial sea water.

Moving week after week, tearing down 2 1/2 tons of tank, then getting it back up as fast as possible in order to get Skipper back into salt water is a tricky feat.

It is the second straight year for officials of the fair to book a special free attraction. Last year, Danny Sailor thrilled huge crowds climbing a 100-foot pole, doing headstands atop it, then dropping his hat from the top of the pole and beating it to the ground.

A variety show also has been scheduled for Fair Park Coliseum. Ray Stevens appears with Jack Blanchard, Misty Morgan and Gloria Loring on Monday and Tuesday. Charley Pride, Johnny Duncan and Alex Houston and Elmer take over the spotlight Wednesday and Thursday; and the Porter Wagoner Show, featuring Dolly Parton, Speck Rhodes, the Wagonmasters and Jo Ann Castle, formerly of the Lawrence Welk Show, close out the weeklong run on Friday and Saturday.

Tickets are $2, $3 and $4
