A Three Days' Cough FACE ARRAIGNMENT Is Your Danger Signal IN MAIL THEFT

No matter now many mencines you have tried for your cough, chest cold, or bronchial irritation, you can get relief now with Creomulsion. Serious trouble may be brewing and you cannot afford to take a chance with any remedy less potent than Creomulsion, which goes right to the seat of the trouble and aids nature to soothe and heal the inflamed mucous membranes and to loosen and expel the germ-laden phiegm. Even if other remedies have failed, don't be discouraged, try Creomulsion. Your druggist is authorized to refund your money if you are not thoroughly satisfied with the benefits obtained from the very first bottle. Creomulsion is one word—not two, and it has no hyphen in it. Ask for it plainly, see that the name on the bottle is Creomulsion, and you'll get the genuine product and the relief you want. (Adv.)

Indians Quitting Medicine Man For Modern M.D.'s

HOUSTON, Feb. 3 (P)—The Badian has been driven from another frontier.

This time it is the Indian medicine man with his mumbojumbo. He is being replaced by modern, pill rolling M. D.'s.

The story of the red man's conversion from herb and drum beating cures to those of science, was told today by Dr. C. G. Salisbury, director of the Sage Memorial hospital at Ganado, Ariz, at a meeting of the American College of Surgeons.

It was eleven years ago, Dr. Salisbury, said, when white doctors got started on the huge Navajo reservation in Arizona. At first, he explained, the doctors almost had to catch the patients before they could treat them, but science prevailed and the Indians now not only come to the hospital for treatment but even the daughters of the old-time medicine men are becoming trained nurses.

The Indians may have turned trained nurses.

The Indians may have turned their backs on century-old tribal customs and knowledge about aches and pains but many of the Navajos still follow one custom. Dr. Salisbury said.

"They pay their doctor bills in corn, mutton, beans, rugs and wood," he said.

A slim, black-clad girl identified only as "Miss X" testified against P. E. Glading, former arsenal employe, and three arsenal workers accused of duplicating blueprints of army, navy and airforce weapons allegedly intended for delivery to an unnamed foreign power. The four defendants, arrested nder the official secrets act, were remanded until Feb. 7 and after "Miss X" had corroborated the prosecution's story of an alleged plot involving a mysterious couple from Moscow.

Speaking under apparent stress, "Miss X" told how she had entered the war office's counter-espionage service in 1931, doing volunteer work in "The Friends of the Soviet Union."

In 1934, she said, she met Glading, who had an office in the same building as "the friends." She testified she undertook "a special mission abroad" for him and in February, 1937, rented a London flat under his direction, where she learned photographic copying.

There, "Miss X" said, a couple named Stevens, who spoke French and who, according to Glading, had lived in Moscow, directed the making of hundreds of exposures of allegedly stolen plans. The Stevenses, she testified, lat-pockets to finance their trips here.

Dan McGillicuddy, lumberman of Aberdeen, Wash., figured his total expenses would be at least $400. He said he was willing to spend much more to stay here and help work out a program that would set the country on its economic feet.

Most fortunate of those attending were the Washington husiness men, who needed only a dime for trolley fare or 20 cents for a taxi to get to the commerce department auditorium.

Expenses for many of the conferees averaged $200. Among those estimating theirs at that amount were E. H. Batchelder, Jr., of Minneapolis, Richard Gill of San Antonio, Texas, and C. F. Hawn of Athens, Texas.

Hawn, listening to the storm of words at yesterday's session, said, "I don't think it'll be money wisely invested."
