Stars Of Opera, Stage, Radio And Screen Appear

What Samuel Goldwyn has produced as the musical extravaganza to top all musical extravaganzas is his new "Goldwyn Follies," headlining the Ritz theatre's program today and Monday. The picture, done in technicolor and combining almost all conceivable types of entertainment that can be brought before a camera, represents a big splash even for the big-splurging Mr. Goldwyn.

He has rounded up stars of stage, screen, radio, grand opera and the dance world, fitted them into a Ben Hecht story and added the last music of the late George Gershwin. The result, most reviewers agree, is a production worthy of the vast amount of money and talent it represents. It is Goldwyn's first swing into color films.

Charlie McCarthy From the radio world, Goldwyn has recruited Edgar Bergen and Charlie McCarthy, Kenny Baker, who is already known to screen audiences, and the irrepressible comic, Phil Baker and his accompanist, From the screen come the suave Adolphe Menjou, those mad, merry Ritz Brothers, Andrea Leeds, the lovely young actress who scored so heavily in "Stage Door"; and Jerome Cowan. From grand opera, he has brought us the Metropolitan Opera's lovely star, Helen Jepson, and the talented newcomer, Charles Kullmann, both of whom make a triumphant screen debut. From the world of the dance there is the gorgeous Zorina, who proves talented as an actress as well as a dancer, and George Balanchine's famous American Ballet. From musical comedy comes frantically funny Bobby Clark, who finds a perfect foil for his peculiar brand of madness in little Ella Logan. Then, of course, there is the usual dazzling aggregation of gorgeous Goldwyn girls, supplemented by a dozen of Hollywood's loveliest and most talented tap dancers.

Story of Hollywood The story, a comedy of Hollywood, tells of a movie producer, played by Menjou, who finds he doesn't know what the public wants. So he hires a small town girl, in the person of the lovely Miss Leeds, to keep him posted and places her on his staff as "Miss Humanity." He falls in love with the girl, who in turn falls in love with a young tenor who runs a hamburger stand. The young man, played by the silver-voiced Kenny Baker, gets his big film chance and proves a sensation. Menjou means their romance for a while, but finally relents and agrees to let young love triumph as it should.

Woven into the story are many production numbers, including two beautiful ballets, which prove a

BALLET ENTERS THE FOLLIES

The "Goldwyn Follies," spectacular musical extravaganza which is at the Ritz today and Monday, has all the music, dancing, comedy and romance of such productions; but it has new entertainment specialties, too, among them being ballet numbers by the American Ballet, starring the beautiful Zorina. Above is a scene from one of the ballet sequences. An all-star cast recruited from stage, grand opera, screen and radio appears in the "Follies."

welcome addition to screen entertainment. Among the many hit tunes introduced by the film are "Love Walked In," "I Was Doing All Right," "I Love to Rhyme," "Love Is Here To Stay" and "Spring Again."

ABANDON PLANS FOR AIR MAIL ROUTE

WASHINGTON, April 9 (AP)—The postoffice department abandoned plans today for a new airmail route between San Antonio and Corpus Christi, Texas, via Brownsville.

Harlie Branch, second assistant postmaster general, notified Texans by letter the proposed line had given rise to such controversy, "with congressmen and others being divided in their opinion as to whether such a route should be advertised, that the department had decided to abandon its plan for such a route."

Delegation members said the disagreement arose over whether the Braniff Airlines should be allowed to extend its present routes to include the new line. They said that unless Braniff were permitted to do so the department would have to advertise for bids.

Chemical Firm Gets Helium For Use In Hospitals

WASHINGTON, April 9 (AP)—Secretary Ickes announced today the Ohio Chemical and Manufacturing company of Cleveland would be permitted to buy for $60 a shipment of helium that would have cost more than $6,000,000 in World War days.

The announcement was made in connection with the first assignment of helium to a non-governmental agency. It included 15 cylinders to be used in hospitals, clinics and sanitariums for treatment of patients suffering from respiratory diseases.

The government which has a world monopoly on helium, will ship the gas to Cleveland from its Amarillo, Texas, plant.

"The helium in this shipment will cost less than $60, whereas, at the price for which helium sold in 1917, it would have cost more than $6,000,000," Ickes said.

Until the World War helium was a chemical curiosity and small quantities sold at the rate of $2,500 a cubic foot.

Congress authorized the sale of helium to private concerns by an act approved September 1, 1927.

Loretta Young, Tyrone Power Co-Starred

Appear At Lyric In 'Second Honeymoon'

Those modern youngsters who—most fans agree—make exciting sweethearts on the screen, Loretta Young and Tyrone Power, are back again at the Lyric today and tomorrow, appearing in an up-to-date comedy romance, "Second Honeymoon." Acclaimed for previous pictures together, the two are charming sweethearts again, and their love is news again.

Love at first sight is romantic enough, Loretta and Tyrone agree, but love at second sight is really something. They fall for each other twice in this gay story. After parting in Reno, they meet accidentally under a thrilling Miami moon and kiss impulsively, to find they have fallen in love all over again.

Having left Tyrone because he was mad, irresponsible and gave her no sense of security, Loretta finds she wants him back for the same reasons. But a honeymoon renewed is not so easily accomplished as a honeymoon "Renold," especially when Loretta's second husband is considered. Played by Lyle Talbot, he is a common garden-variety of spouse out-bloomed by the hardy perennial that is Tyrone's and Loretta's love.

There are others, also, who have a say in the matter. There is Stuart Erwin, who is crazy about pretty Marjorie Weaver, and, as a conscientious gentleman's gentleman, wants his employer, Tyrone, to enter into a similar state of bliss. There are Claire Trevor and J. Edward Bromberg, a sophisticated couple carelessly throwing interesting little monkey-wrenches into the not-too-smoothly running machinery of matrimony.

The whole trouble starts, however, when Husband Number One and Husband Number Two try to become friends. Tyrone arranges a "propping" expedition, a new pastime of spear-fishing at night under powerful searchlights, and the entire party is invited.

It is this expedition that proves to Loretta that her divorce was a mistake. But when she sets about to rectify it, she finds Tyrone apparently much interested in Marjorie Weaver. The misunderstanding is caused by Miss Weaver's constant efforts to be near Stuart Erwin, who in turn is always near Tyrone. It requires an exciting, swiftly paced climax of events to result in the only proper solution.

GETS LASHING FOR STEALING CHICKENS

GEORGETOWN, Del., April 9 (AP)—Violet, negro, who pleaded guilty to stealing six chickens, was given ten lashes today with a cat-o-nine tails at the Sussex county prison.

The court ordered that he be given ten more lashes next Saturday. He was sentenced to 18 months in prison.

GAS WELL EL PASO, April 9 (AP)—A. S. Atkins, Van Horn abstractor, reported today a gas well of 2,000,000 cubic feet a day had been brought in 80 miles northeast of Van Horn by Harry J. W. Nicholas of St. Louis for C. M. Caldwell of Abilene.

Mrs. Ernest Higgins and son, Don Wayne, are in Kilgore for a three weeks visit with Mrs. Higgins' mother.

IN MELODRAMA AT THE QUEEN

John Littel, June Travis and Dick Foran are the principal players in "Over the Wall," a melodrama of prison life which is booked at the Queen today and Monday. It gives the stellar role to Foran, who is quitting western pictures for dramatic parts.

Disney First In Perfection Of Animated Cartoons, But Story Of 'Snow White' Preceded Him

Walt Disney, who is just about king in the motion picture industry these days because of his exceptionally successful "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs," has been a pioneer in all forward steps in the making of animated pictures. He pioneered with "Snow White," of course, in that it is the first feature-length animated cartoon.

"Snow White" comes to the Ritz for four days beginning Friday, and every indication is that West Texans by the hundreds will be on hand to view the famed fantasy. There will be five shows a day on Friday, Sunday and Monday, beginning at 1, 3, 5, 7 and 9 o'clock. On Saturday, the theatre will open for screenings beginning at 9 a. m., and shows will be presented thereafter at 11 a. m., and at 1, 3, 5, 7, and 9 p. m. Short features will occupy the first 20 minutes of each complete show period.

If "Snow White" is the best known of the Disney "firsts," there have been others of importance. The first animated sound picture was his Mickey Mouse "Steamboat Willie," made in 1928; the first one in color was "Flowers and Trees," which raked in many awards; the first animated picture to show an illusion of third dimension was "The Old Mill," recently completed.

"Disney wasn't first, however, with the story of "Snow White." In earlier days, many peasants believed that such fellows as those little dwarfs really existed, and would swear they had seen the little chaps going to their task of unearthing gems from fairy mines.

It was from such villagers that Jacob and Wilhelm obtained much of the material for their famous Grimm's Fairy Tales, from which the Disney film is adapted. Rural superstitions have always credited the Hartz Mountains with being the favorite hunt of spirits and fairies, both good and bad. Among the good ones are the elves who protect the Princess in "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs."

These gnomes were supposed to possess magic powers, utilized in summoning the various wild animals and birds of the Hartz Mountains to their assistance, when engaged in fighting off the assaults of evil spirits. So it follows that in the film one sees the birds and beasts helping the seven dwarfs to rescue Snow White from the Witch Queen.

In working out the dramatic plot of "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs," the Grimm brothers naturally brought to the assistance of the little Princess the "Seven Dwarfs Under the Hill," guardians of the innocent who defy the Powers of Darkness!

ONE CHARLIE LIKES BUCK JONES BEST

OMAHA, Neb., April 9 (AP)—Charlie McCarthy dined at the union station here today—minus Edgar Bergen.

Charlie, 5, and his brother, Warren, 10, were en route from their mother's home in Minneapolis to their father's home in Los Angeles.

"Who's your Hollywood favorite?" Charlie was asked.

"Buck Jones," he replied promptly.

Joe Franzer, Colorado postmaster, and his assistant, Eddie Moeser, Owen C. Taylor, Lamesa postmaster, and Mrs. Taylor were here Saturday on a brief visit. They inspected the local postoffice and working arrangements.

Early Morning News Report To Be Inaugurated By KBST Monday; Palm Sunday Program Today

A new feature, "What Happened Last Night," becomes a part of the week-day log of KBST tomorrow morning at 7:30 when news happenings of the night before will be presented.

"What Happened Last Night" will be each morning, Mondays through Fridays, from the studio. Saturday mornings, because of the Swinger program from 7 to 8 a. m., the news will be broadcast at 8:30.

Other newscasts heard on KBST are under the sponsorship of the Big Spring Herald. These are heard at 9:55 a. m., 10:55 a. m., 2 and 3 p. m. from the Herald office. At 6:15 p. m. a final release is given from the studios.

This is Palm Sunday, and a quarter hour of choral music will be presented by the choir together with the Biblical story of the religious significance of the occasion. The program will be introduced with "The Palms," played by our organist, and the choir will sing "There Will I Love," "Hallelujah," and "Unfold Ye Portals Everlasting." The latter hymn is from Charles Gounod's Oratorio, "The Redemption." The Palm Sunday program is scheduled for 10:45 o'clock.

Regularly heard on KBST at 11 o'clock on Monday of each week is the Farm and Ranch hour. Scurry county will be represented at the studios and will present the following musical selections:

"Out on the Texas Plains," "Soldier's Joy," "Green Valley Waltz," "My Mary," "Arkansas Traveler," "Just Because," "Moonlight and Roses," and "Under the Double Eagle."

Replacing Joe Green's orchestra on the schedule today at 2:45 will be the "Cosmic Concert"—the first in a series of programs to be presented at the same time.

"Cosmic Concert" is especially designed for lovers of concert music, and is presented in such a way as to capture attention and provoke pleasure. You are invited to listen.

This first "Cosmic Concert" will be composed entirely of selections taken from Edward Grieg's "Peer Gynt" suite, conducted by Rosario Bourdon.

GAME CONSERVATION STATUTES FAVORED BY THOMPSON

LUBBOCK, April 9 (AP)—Col. Ernest O. Thompson, gubernatorial candidate, this afternoon announced a new plank in his platform, which already bristled with his espousal of state's rights.

"There are in Texas today more than half a million hunters and fishermen," he said. "Sports constitutes one of the greatest heritages of American life. My happiest recreation has come from hunting and fishing and my understanding and sympathy are with those who share with me the love of these outdoor sports."

"Fostered by intelligent legislation, the proper measures of protection and conservation of wild life can make our fields and forests, our lakes and streams, a very paradise for hunters and fishermen. I shall continue my efforts to reach this goal and, as governor, would urge and support the passage of helpful fish and game laws."

Colonel Thompson was in Lubbock for an address tonight before the state convention of Star Mail Route Carriers. He will open his political campaign Tuesday night.

LOCAL NURSE WILL RECEIVE TRAINING AS STEWARDESSE

Miss Lois Smith, surgical nurse at Big Spring hospital, is leaving via American Airlines plane Sunday afternoon for Chicago, Illinois, where she will attend a school of instruction conducted by the airlines for stewardesses. Miss Smith is attending the school prior to accepting a position as stewardess on American Airlines. Miss Smith made a trip to Chicago several weeks ago to be interviewed by officials of the company.

CRIMINAL CASES SET IN COUNTY COURT MONDAY

Approximately a dozen cases from the criminal docket and half that number from the civil docket are due to be heard this week in the county court.

Criminal cases are set for Monday, and a great per cent of those due to be tried involve liquor law infractions. One civil suit was set for trial this week by default when the First National bank was given judgment on a note over Wendy Hedrick.

Regulations Drawn By WTCC For Soil And Water Conservation Contest Slated For Counties

WICHITA FALLS, April 9—Regulation to govern the $1,000 inter-county annual soil and water conservation contest, that the West Texas chamber of commerce expects to inaugurate at its 20th annual convention here in Wichita Falls, April 24 to 27, have been approved by the WTCC agricultural development commission.

All the 130 counties within the boundaries of the regional organization, second only in size to the United States chamber of commerce, are eligible to compete.

The award will be made each year to the county showing the greatest improvement in soil and water conservation practices. Of the $1,000 award, $250 will be retained by the winning county, and this county, in turn, will administer distribution of the remaining $750 to other West Texas counties with outstanding soil and water conservation improvement records.

Specialists Consulted

Time for the first contest, after approval of the plan at the WTCC convales here, will be the 12 months between the 1932 and 1933 conventions.

Specialists who have drafted the regulations are Roy W. Kridler, superintendent of special extension services at College Station; M. R. Bentley, agricultural engineer; R. E. Dickson, superintendent of the Spur experiment station; A. L.

The Markets

Stocks Stage Big Advance

Defeat Of Reorganization Bill Touches Off Buying Spree

NEW YORK, April 9 (AP)—A tumult of buying today rolled up the broadest advance in security markets in months, leading stocks rising $1 to more than $6 a share.

Big-scale buying at the stock exchange opening—in wake of the unexpected defeat of the administration's reorganization bill in the house—transformed the ordinarily tame Saturday session on the exchange into a feverish market.

The administration setback, brokers said, obviously was a surprise to most traders, and was construed bullish by many as possibly indicating the blocking of further reform or restriction legislation.

Coming immediately on heels of reports the administration was preparing another spending and lending drive in an effort to start business recovery, brokers said, the news imparted fresh impetus to a strong rally from the March decline which has added billions of dollars to quoted values the past week.

May Recover From Gas

Man Is Lone Survivor Of Nine In Oil Field Home

PAMPA, April 9 (AP)—W. I. Martin, lone survivor from asphyxiation of eight persons who sought warmth in a snow-bound oil field home, regained consciousness today and physicians said he probably would recover.

First reported to have lost his life also in the tragedy, Martin was carried with great difficulty over highways deep in snow to a hospital in Pampa for treatment. He was barely breathing when neighbors broke down a door to the home and found it filled with fumes from burning gas stoves.

The dead were Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Turner and their two children, Leroy, about 10, and Anora Fay, 8.

Mrs. W. I. Martin, Edwin Martin, 10, and Betty Jo Martin, 4.

The Turners formerly resided in Carnegie, Okla., and the Martins in Bristow, Okla., and relatives from that state were expected here today to complete funeral arrangements.

The Martins were spending the night at the Turner home, and investigators said the victims apparently were overcome in their sleep.

IT SEEMS IT'S A CAR FOLKS WON'T DO WITHOUT!

WE were pretty sure we had a great car when some months ago we checked the final blueprints on the 1938 Buick.

It had the new and mighty DYNAFLASH engine for sparkling action—the sensationally desirable TORQUE-FREE SPRINGING for a lullaby of a ride.

Looking ahead in that promising day, we figured we had every chance of getting our sales share by reason of what this car gave the buyer for his money.

Now, when times are sterner, it appears we built better than we knew—we've got a car folks just won't do without!

This great new Buick was first introduced to the public last fall. Through September, October, November, it sold in steadily increasing volume.

In a period when sales of other cars were sliding off it went ahead, in one month actually outselling one of the Big Three of the lowest-priced field.

It's still going ahead—not car Number Seven or Eight, as one might expect by its price-class, but one of the season's Four Best Sellers!

There is only one explanation of such a record when made by a car in the thousand-dollar bracket.

Such a car is so good—has so much of value in it—people just won't do without it!

They buy it not only in preference to other cars—they buy in preference to waiting for easier times and readier money-to-spend!

That's the convincing sort of car you're about to drive when you first take the wheel of a 1938 Buick.

If you haven't yet handled a new Buick, you ought to—just to see what such a car is like!

THE SPORTS PARADE

BY HANK HART

Charles Barnabe, Big Spring's brand new baseball Napoleon, will discourage his athletes from participating in all other sports, including golf and tennis, during the actual playing season. . . Says those types of recreation are too strenuous on the players. . . Plays very little of the game himself and will follow his own orders once he hands them out to his youngsters. . . Chollie is a California boy who expects to get many a good prospect from the winter leagues in Southern California where the up and coming lads have good opportunities to pattern their styles after the major leaguers. . . In case you didn't know, he's 38 years old or will be pretty soon, having seen the first light of day back in 1900. . . He ran into an old acquaintance in Neal Barnaby here Friday. . . Neal, who is no relation despite the similarity in names, knew Barnaby when he hurled in the Texas league. . . Recalls of one time that Charles went 16 innings against Waco in 115-degree weather to win, taking time out every inning or two to doff his sweat shirt and ring the sweat out. . .

In that nicknaming contest, wouldn't names for men or something pertaining to men be more appealing than animals? . . . Jim Recknagel, who spends his time cooking what time he isn't pointing to a pointer came through with a nice little label Friday. . . Wanted to call the locals Antelopes because he hoped the players would run those bases. . . It's a wonder, tho, he hadn't wanted to tag 'em '16 gauges' or 'chukors' or something of the nature. . . Aubrey Jackson supplies 'Buffaloes'. . . You'd better hurry to become eligible for the season pass being offered to the winner. . .

Oscar Sensabaugh, who helped to sell sign space on the Midland park, has joined forces with the local committee for that purpose. . . The Anderson Music Company is offering a 28-inch trophy to the home club playing to the largest opening day crowd. . .

The country club in March enjoyed its most profitable month since 1929, says Manager Shirley Robbins. . . The veteran Robbins, who is attempting to start a city golf league or two to operating here, once shot the Dayton course in 29, seven strokes under the standard figure. . . However the layout had coffee cans for cups. . . Shirley will probably attend the Southwest Invitational golf tournament which begins Thursday along with Obie Bristow, Lola Madison, W. W. Barker and Doug Jones. . . Incidentally, Bristow challenged Jones for the No. One spot on the Sand Belt golf team the past week and came up second best on as many tries. . . Members of that team are of the opinion that Odessa is the team to beat for the league title, that Midland won't have a chance when the going gets tough. . . Whereas it took a 79 to rate the local team, a round of 75 strokes or less were required to make the Odessa team which shows how tough the Ector county team really is. . . Eddie Morgan, who was No. two man last season directly under Jimmy Walk-up, had to fight to get the eighth spot on the eight man team. . . The race now appears to be between Big Spring and Odessa with the locals on the inside track for the title that the Odessans captured last season. . . The Munny course suffered only slight damage from the recent freeze and will be all right in several days. . .

SAND BELT GOLF TEAM PLAYS CRANE TODAY, NEEDS WIN

Midland's golfers, pace setters in the Sand Belt league, are expected to retain their leadership today when they oppose Colorado on their own course but the Big Spring representatives should not lose any ground despite the fact that their No. two man, Obie Bristow, will not be able to play.

The locals are scheduled to oppose the new member of the league, Crane, on the Crane course. Colorado last Sunday held the loop's freshmen to a 29-29 deadlock. Capt. Sammy Bain expected to see the Big Spring mashie welders smash through.

Lib Coffee challenged successfully for the eighth spot on the local outfit last week, beating Tommy Hutto. Doc Watts, an alternate, is expected to replace Bristow.

Stanton and Odessa tangled in the loop's third encounter, meeting on the Odessa course.

Midland is leading the other clubs with 32 points. Big Spring is in second place with 22, Crane has 20, Colorado 20, Odessa 18 and Stanton 8.

Valentine And Petty Winners

TUCSON, Ariz., April 9 (AP)—Russell Valentine, University of Arizona ace, and Robert Petty, Roosevelt, N. M., emerged as finalists tonight after a thrill-packed day of play in the annual Southwestern golf tournament.

Valentine, former Arizona state champion, dropped a 26-foot putt for a birdie three on the 19th hole to defeat Jack Harden, El Paso, Texas, veteran and 1935 Southwestern titleholder, in a semi-final match.

Petty went to the finals with a two-up match victory over Jim Lansing, Arizona collegian who scored one of the major upsets of the tournament by defeating Dave Peter, Arizona state champion, 3 and 2, in the morning round.

Steers Beat Three For Track Title

Texas Scores First Places In All But Two Events

AUSTIN, April 9 (AP)—University of Texas tracksters coasted to an easy victory in a quadrangular meet with other Southwest conference schools here today.

The Longhorns totaled 107 1-2 points to Texas Christian's 41; Baylor's 17 1-3, and Southern Methodist's 9 1-6.

Wendel Siebert of Texas, conference half-mile champion, took individual scoring honors with firsts in the quarter and half and running in the winning mile relay team to total 11 1-4 points.

The Steers grabbed first places in all events except the 220-yard dash and shot put. Bacuss scored S.M.U.'s only victory by outdistancing Graves of Texas in the furlong, won in 21.5 seconds. Robert Erwin of T.C.U. won the shot put.

Most of the Christians' points were tallied by Erwin, Cook and Hall who tallied 19 points in the weights. Hall, the football star, entered more events than any other performer, placing in all. They included the quarter, furlong, sprint relay and javelin.

MUSTANGS LOSE TO AGGIES, 9-3

COLLEGE STATION, April 9 (AP)—The Texas Aggies came from behind today to defeat the Southern Methodist Mustangs, 9 to 3, and take their third straight Southwest conference baseball game.

Despite Sophomore Ralph Lindsey's four-hit pitching, the Aggies lagged until the sixth inning, when they scored three runs on a walk, an error and Catcher Charley Kirkpatrick's double. Kirkpatrick stole home in this frame.

They then nicked Billy Dewell, who relieved Guy Dougherty in the seventh, for four runs off three hits and four walks in two innings to ice the game.

Today's loss was the Mustangs' second in three days, the Rice Owls having split a series with them Thursday and Friday.

CONOCO OILERS OF FORSAN MEET HERDERS IN ANGELO

FORSAN, April 9—Forsan's Continental Oilers debut on foreign grounds today when they meet the San Angelo Sheep Herders in San Angelo in a baseball battle scheduled to begin at 2:30 p. m.

The opener will prove an experiment for Manager C. J. Reed and his men. Maxie Beard, ace left-hander recruited from Coahoma, may start the battle but Al Batte is expected to see plenty of action on the hill.

Reed was undecided on the remainder of his starting lineup but indicated that practically every member of the squad would see action. Don Lonquist is expected to be back of the plate unless Aubrey Harlow makes the trip.

Yanks, Giants In For Close Races

Cleveland To Supply Great Threat

Chieubs Rated One Of Strongest Clubs In Natl. Circuit

NEW YORK, April 9 (AP)—Stormy weather, which has upset the semi-final week of training for big league ball clubs and cancelled a score of exhibition games, may be the tipoff on the forthcoming pennant races.

The world champion Yankees and their victims for the past two years, the Giants, probably will be the expert choices to win again, since past performances have an annual habit of being a decisive factor in prognostications. Yet the latest signs all point toward a double-barreled struggle for both New York clubs, and the possibility, for a change, that the American league will develop a more wide open race than the National.

The Yankees may explode the theory to bits, just as soon as they get recalled. Jim Dillmaggio, back into the fold, but it is impossible now to escape the suspicion that the world champions are "riding for a fall." A poor start for the Yankees would give their chief rivals, Detroit and Cleveland, the encouragement they need to make a real fight for the pennant.

Without Dillmaggio, still scornful of the club's $25,000 salary offer, the Yankees do not resemble the same club that finished 13 games in front of the Tigers and 19 ahead of the Indians in 1937. Moreover, there is doubt whether Joe Gordon adequately will fill the big shoes of Tony Lazzeri. The pitching staff, outside of Huffling and Gomes, looks like another problem.

Detroit's power and the possibility of improved pitching, based on addition of Vernon Kennedy and a comeback by Schoolboy Rowe, combine to make the Tigers a formidable contender.

For several reasons, Cleveland may be the sensation of the race. The Tribe has acquired fresh spirit under its new big chief, Oscar Vitt. Part of the infield problem seems to have been solved by development of a rookie star at third base, Ken Keltner. Potentially, the pitching staff headed by Johnny Allen, Bob Feller and Mc Harder, is the best in the league.

Bad luck caught up with the White Sox, just when it looked like Jimmy Dykes' outfit would go places. The loss of shortstop Luke Appling with a broken ankle, following the trade of slugging Zeke Bonura for Joe Kuhel, robs the Chicagoans of their one-two punch. The condition of Monte Stratton's pitching arm is another source of worry.

Meantime, the Giants seem better fortified than ever. The latest break in favor of the National league champions is return of Clyde Blalock to the fold. If this powerful young right-hander is fully recovered from a spinal operation he will solve most of Manager Will Terry's pitching problems. With or without Burgess Whitehead at the start, the team will continue to be well fixed at second base, where Lou Chiozza has shown his versatility once more.

The Giants have the best catching combination in the league, in Danning and Mancuso; one of the best keystone pairs in baseball; and alternate sluggers in Hank Leiber and Wally Berger for the centerfield spot.

Chicago looks like the one club capable of upsetting the Giants, but except for the addition of Tony Lazzeri to the board of strategy they do not appear stronger than last year.

No team with such an outstanding trio as Dizzy Dean, Joe Medwick and Johnny Mize can be discounted but it remains to be seen whether the Cardinals develop pitching, catching and infield strength otherwise or sufficiently to become real contenders.

Frank Strafacci Trims Dunlap In North-South Meet Finals

PINEHURST, N. C., April 9 (AP)—Frank Strafacci of Brooklyn annexed the North and South amateur golf championship here today with a 5 and 4 victory over George T. Dunlap, Jr., of Pinehurst, in the 36-hole final.

The match was played in a blustery wind and Dunlap, five times winner of the tournament, did not handle the conditions so well as the Brooklyn player. Dunlap, a heavy favorite, was seven down at the end of the first 18 holes.

He carried his opponent to the 14th hole before he lost. The Pinehurst golfer started out on the second round by winning the first and second holes, sinking a 40-foot putt on the second for a birdie 3. He won the next, halved the next four, won the sixth three to become four down.

Then he lost the par four fourth tee after sending his fourth 30 feet to hang on the lip of the cup for a 5. Strafacci was on the green in two and took two putts to clinch the championship.

Tracksters To Tune Up Again

Brandon To Take Advantage Of Extra Time Afforded

Three track and field representatives of Big Spring high school will tune up this week for the district meet at Sweetwater which was scheduled to begin Saturday but was postponed due to bad weather.

Cochair Carmen Brandon plans to run Paul Stevens in two events and feature Alton Bostick and Red Womack in one each. Stevens has been showing up well in the 220-yard and 440-yard dashes and will participate in both Saturday. Bostick will carry Big Spring's colors in the quarter mile while Womack will take part in the mile run.

The little redhead captured first place in that event two weeks ago in the Monahans Relays.

Gridders Don Togs

Back To Spring Work For Four Weeks

Candidates for the 1938 Big Spring high school football eleven will gather with Coaches Pat Murphy and Carmen Brandon again Monday afternoon for a four week's windup drill in spring training.

The gridgers called a halt three weeks ago when track and field candidates donned their togs and the mentors had to spend their time in drilling the thimble clads for the district meet.

More than 40 are expected to dress for the occasion Monday afternoon. Murphy indicated that he would give them several plays with which to work before the drills were completed.

The training season will continue until May 6.

Vets Of Last Year's Crew Due Monday

Californians Not To Arrive Until School Team Visits Here

Following the example set by major league teams by necessity will have been unveiled upon its return, the Big Spring West Texas-New Mexico baseball club will begin practice Monday morning at 10 o'clock on the Continental diamond at Forsan.

In tending his prospects out of town for the initial drills, Manager Charles Barnabe said that the West Fifth and San Antonio streets diamond here was far from ready and the youngsters would not open their sessions here until more progress was made on the infield and the grandstand.

The entire team will not greet the manager Monday morning. Several of the athletes are traveling here with the National Baseball School team of Los Angeles, Calif., and were not to arrive until around April 18 but last year's regulars and the West Texas freshmen who are attempting to break into professional baseball will be there.

Regulars Return

Among the kids expected to show up for the initial drill are Marv Keller, Bob Decker, Joe Saporto, Frankie Jacot and Clarence Trantam, all vets returning from last year's squad. Also scheduled to report are Pat Stacey, a youngster who performed for the Big Spring Oilers last season, Johnny Stone and Lefty O'Brien. Stacey, Stone and O'Brien are all being ushered into professional baseball for the first time.

Barnabe indicated that he preferred but one workout a day and would drill the boys about four hours daily beginning at 10 o'clock each morning.

Actual Combat Due

The veteran southpaw intends to send his hopefuls into actual combat as soon as possible and expects within the first week to have them playing intra-squad games. Arrangements have also been made to meet the Continental Oilers as soon as the park is ready.

The fence of the park has been completed and work is progressing on the grandstand. The foundations were being laid Saturday morning and the frame work was possible.

Net Meet Set For Monday

Second Attempt Is Made To Form A Local Club

Rebuffed in their first efforts to organize last week, local tennis enthusiasts will congregate in the offices of The Herald Monday evening, 7 o'clock, in an attempt to form Big Spring's first such club in several years.

Net interest has been widespread here during the past several weeks and has brought forth an acute need for extra tennis courts. Only two are in operation within the city at the present time.

Jimmy Myers will lead the discussion.

ROBBINS SEEKS TO ORGANIZE GOLF LEAGUE, TEAMS DRILL

Qualifying will begin today and continue through the week over the country club course for the Big Spring city golf league, which is being formed by Shirley Robbins, country club manager.

The circuit, which Robbins hoped would be formed by six of the city's teams, will be operated much on the order of the Sand Belt golf league. Eight men will form a team and results will be decided by dual matches on the point system. In addition handicaps are expected to govern equality of the league.

A post office team, a barbers' team and golfers representing Wooten's Grocery are already practicing and Robbins expected to have the other lined up today.

A service club league, consisting of teams from at least four local civic organizations, is also in prospect. The ABC, Kiwanis, Lions and Rotary clubs have all promised cooperation.

The local course is in excellent shape for the expected onslaught. Colored tee boxes have been added and the greens have all been re-scrubbed.

SOFTBALL MEET DUE

Softball representatives are scheduled to hold their first meeting of the season Tuesday evening in The Herald offices in an attempt to revive interest in the game.

Among those scheduled to be in attendance is H. F. Malone, recreation director of Big Spring, who has been canvassing the city in an attempt to interest enough players for two leagues.

A church circuit, composed of classes of at least three churches, is being talked and will probably be banded together while local business concerns will be represented.

The meeting will begin at 7 o'clock.

Bromberg Ties Into Kopecky At BSAC

Bill Hall And Soldier Thomas Grapple In Semi-Final

That German member of royalty, Count Von Bromberg, who professed to be a learned scholar when he was here two years ago but who dropped that pretext for some anonymous reason, bounds back into the main event on the wrestling card of the Big Spring Athletic Club Tuesday. The bearded nobleman will oppose Joe Kopecky in what should be a natural.

Beforehand Hollywood's Billy Hall, victorious in his beginner last week, and Soldier Thomas go to it for 45 minutes or less in the match leading up to the top spot.

The last match can be called a natural in that it matched a Hun with a Bohemian. Anyone acquainted with the likes and dislikes of the two can readily see that as a general rule persons of such ancestral bearings make no progress whatsoever in the other's company.

More interesting, however, from the spectator's standpoint may be the semi-mill. Hall made an impression last week by the peculiar antics he went through in winning his match with Kopecky while Thomas has taken Andy Tremaine's place as the real showman here. Since he first dropped a match here to Kopecky weeks ago he has operated very successfully in every other act.

BIG RACE RESTS WITH WHITNEY

NEW YORK, April 9 (AP)—The proposed $100,000 match race between War Admiral and Seabiscuit apparently hung today on the decision of C. V. Whitney, vice president of the Westchester Racing association.

Whitney, who has been on a fishing trip off the Bahamas, could not be reached for a statement, but the New York Sun said it learned from associates close to Whitney he is "unalterably opposed" to match races and "extravagant purses."

President W. J. Hutcherson, who is at his home in Monahan, was due to return to town Monday morning to complete his sign selling job.

Meanwhile plans were formulated for disposing of opening day and season tickets by Dr. P. W. Malone, chairman, and C. L. Rowe. One day this week will be dedicated to combing the business district for as many season ducaats sales as possible.

Going from here were Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Wasson, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Blankenship, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Pendergraft, Walton S. Morrison and Joe Ogden.

To Dedicate Hospital Monument In Dallas On Easter Sunday

DALLAS, April 9—A lovely study in pure white marble, portraying the ideals of the Texas Scottish Rite Hospital for Crippled Children, will be unveiled with appropriate ceremonies on the lawn of that institution in Dallas Easter Sunday afternoon. The public is invited to attend these ceremonies April 17, by President Walter C. Temple of the hospital board of trustees, and see the uncovering of what is considered a masterpiece of the talented sculptor, Raoul Joeset. The monument was erected last week on the grounds of the children's hospital. It depicts a nurse aiding a crippled child. Its theme is that of care, friendship and help on the part of the hospital to children who cannot aid themselves. The statue is dedicated to the people who have already endowed the Texas Scottish Rite Hospital for Crippled Children and to those who in the future leave legacies to combat crippling diseases and restore Texas childhood to normalcy. "To Live In Hearts We Leave Behind Is Not To Die," is the message engraved on one of the hexagonal sides of the statue. The names of those endowing the hospital will be carved on the memorial. The monument, with its base, is eighteen feet high and carved from a huge block of pure white marble which Raoul Joeset selected and quarried especially for the purpose in Canton, Ga.

 Marvin House, Jr., Roe Taylor and Martha Ehlman, Big Spring high school tennis representatives, will take advantage of the extra time afforded them when the district meet was postponed a week due to cold weather and get in at least four days of practice on the Munny courts along with Coach Wayne Matthews. House was due to leave for the Sweetwater meeting last Thursday and the girls were due to follow on Friday. First matches in both the girls' and boys' divisions were scheduled for Friday. House was due to run into plenty of competition in Tom Hill, Ahlens's 14-year-old freshman star; Joe Elrod, Sweetwater; Buddy Smart, Gail; Jack Kennedy of Roton, who won the title last season; Ralph Marshall, Conhoma; Elery Smith, Taylor county; Ernest Smith of Mitchell county and Rudolph Martines of Kent county. The two local girls will play only doubles. Big Spring will not be represented either by a girls' singles player or a boys' double team.

Steel Company Loses Labor Board Ruling

Republic Told To Quit Interfering With Unionists
 WASHINGTON, April 9 (AP)—The labor relations board blamed the Republic Steel corporation today for the death of three "Little Steel" strikers last July 11 in a riot near the corporation's Massillon, Ohio, mill. Backing up the unsuccessful C.I.O. strikers for the second time this week, the board decided the Republic had violated the Wagner labor disputes act on eight counts before and during the bitterly fought dispute. Wednesday, the board ordered the Inland Steel corporation, another of the four "independent" companies involved in the strike, to deal with the Steel Workers Organizing Committee (C.I.O.) as representative of its Chicago production employees, and to sign a contract based on an agreement reached. After enumerating Republic's alleged Wagner act violations, including responsibility for the Massillon killings, the board ordered the corporation:
 1. To reinstate approximately 5,000 strikers, with back pay from April 8.
 2. To reinstate with back pay 27 employees the board said had been discharged because of union activity before the strike.
 3. To break up the employe representation plans at its five Ohio plants.
 4. To compensate Canton and Massillon employes for the time lost during a 15-day shutdown just before the strike.
 5. To stop all practices which would lead employes to think that they were not free to join the C.I.O. or any other union. Republic officials, at their Cleveland headquarters, refused comment on the decision, but steel men predicted the corporation would test the decision in court. Philip Murray, chairman of the Steel Workers Organizing Committee, said the decision was a "damning indictment" of Tom Girdler, Republic chairman. The strike began last May 26 and petered out in mid-July although the C.I.O. maintains it is still in effect. Republic, Inland, Bethlehem Steel corporation and the Youngstown Sheet and Tube company were involved, and the strike zone reached from Johnstown, Pa., to Chicago.

LEGION SQUAD IN WORKOUT

Twenty-two youngsters reported to Carmen Brandon Saturday morning as the director substituted for Forrest McDuffie in sending the American Legion Junior baseball team through its training paces. The young hopefuls, taking advantage of the break in the weather, labored for two hours and finally went to bat in a scrub game with the Big Spring Outlaws. Brandon reported good prospects in Frank Barton and Pepper Martin, infielders; Bobby Savage, pitcher; and Six Wood and D. H. Gartman, catchers. McDuffie was due back from Douglas, Ariz., to take charge Tuesday.

When you buy an "8" to save money
IT'S NEWS!

The Standard Tudor

FOR YEARS, only the biggest, most costly cars had 8-cylinder engines. When the Ford V-8 engine was first introduced, people welcomed the finer performance that 8 cylinders provided, but kept their fingers crossed on economy. It somehow seemed as if 8 cylinders had to use more gasoline. But the news spread that Ford V-8 cars were giving just as good gas mileage as cars that did not offer 8-cylinder advantages. Good design, not number of cylinders, determined economy. By last year, four million people had stepped up to the 85-horsepower V-8 class. Then the slightly smaller 60-horsepower Ford V-8 engine was introduced. Reports soon rolled in from owners averaging 22 to 27 miles on a gallon of gasoline. More than any Ford car had ever given! A new standard of economy—a low price—and the smoothness of 8 cylinders! That was NEWS! America bought 300,000 Ford V-8 "60s" the first year and is still buying. If you'd like to know why—if you'd like to save money all ways—see and drive the 1938 version of this thrifty, modern car.

High Markers In Yoakum Location

Offset Test In Cochran Swabs 13 Barrels Hourly

SAN ANGELO, April 9—Helmerich & Payne No. 1 Ohio-O'Dowd, 2 1/2 miles southwest of Denver pool production in southwestern Yoakum county and in the northeast corner of section 896-D-John H. Gibson, was credited this week with the highest brown lime top in the area, 5,830 feet, 302 feet below sea level. Solid lime tops were high in Shell No. 1 Dowden, in the northwest quarter of section 894, at 4,300 feet, 701 feet below sea level, and in Shell No. 1 Dora Roberts, wildcat in section 793, at 4,410 feet, 716 feet below sea level. No. 1 Roberts is 1 1/2 miles southwest of The Texas Co. No. 1 Walker, a small discovery well three miles west of the Denver pool opener.

Devonian and others' No. 2-A Duggan, east offset to the most southerly well in the Duggan pool in southeastern Cochran county, swabbed 13 barrels of oil hourly bottomed at 5,063 feet, after re-treatment with 3,500 gallons of acid. It is in the southwest corner of labor 13, league 55, Oldham county school land, Helmerich & Payne staked a wildcat, No. 1 Westheimer & Daube, in west central Cochran county, 1,289 feet out of the southeast corner of labor 14, league 147, Stonewall county school land.

Fills 300 Feet
Topping first pay at 4,534 feet. Honolulu No. 1-77 Slaughter in the Slaughter pool in southwestern Hockley county filled 300 feet with oil in drilling to 4,967 feet. It is in the southeast quarter of labor 77, league 37, Zavala county school land, an east offset to Stanolind No. 1 Slaughter. Gulf No. 1 Gordon, three-quarter mile farther southeast, in the northeast corner of section 6-X-pal, was cleaning out following a 320-quart shot, with a plugged back depth of 5,060 feet.

Gulf No. 1 Mallett, two miles southwest of Slaughter production and in the northwest corner of section 12-X-pal, plugged back farther to 5,045 feet for a water shutoff. Huitt and Richmond No. 1 Gulf-Rosa, northwestern Terry county wildcat in the southwest corner of the northwest quarter of section 6-D14-C&M, had reached 1,980 feet in redrock.

Landrecht No. 1 Dalmont, in the northeast corner of section 24-A21-pal, topped the anhydrite at 1,830 feet, 1,467 feet above sea level, higher than Landrecht No. 1 Kirk. Gaines county's first oil producer 1 1/2 miles to the southeast.

New Pecos Co. Production Indicated

Ector County Test Has Show, Fills 250 Feet In Oil

SAN ANGELO, April 9—Flowing of 21 barrels of oil in seven hours by Cardinal No. 1 White & Baker following a shot to promise opening of a new Pecos county pool four miles west of the Yates field and rising of oil 250 feet in 2 1/2 hours in Sinclair-Prairie No. 1 Paul Moss, 2 1/2 miles southwest of the Harper pool in Ector county furnished widely separated oil developments in West Texas this week.

A Gulf wildcat on University land in eastern Crane county showed oil in amount sufficient to cause pipe to be run and cemented preliminary to testing, and further high geological markers were logged by outposts and wildcat in Yoakum, Gaines and Andrews counties.

made 12 heads of oil estimated at 140 barrels when 7-inch pipes were drawn above Simpson sand at 5,271-80 feet to rotary for deepening from 5,444 feet in lime and shale. Stanley Thompson's No. 1 Elsinore, Pecos county wildcat in section 53-4-GC&SF, was drilling by tools lost at 7,212 feet, where several weeks ago it showed gas.

Floyd Dodson's No. 1-A Texas-American Syndicate, northern Brewster county wildcat in section 65-10-GF&SA, was fishing for a baller at 7,785 feet in sand.

Lower Markers
Sinclair-Prairie No. 1 Moss in Ector county showed oil from 3,890-98 feet and drilled ahead with 250 feet of oil in the hole. It was running 14 feet lower than Honolulu No. 1 T-P Land Trust, a dry hole one mile to the northeast and between it and the Harper pool. Located in 2,310 feet from the north and east lines of section 40-22-2a-T&P.

COMPLETION FURTHER POINTS SOUTHWEST TREND OF SNYDER POOL; WELL GAUGES 795 BBLs.

Further indications of a southwestward trend from the Snyder pool were shown the past week in the completion of the Moore Bros. No. 2-A Snyder for one of the largest potentials in the area.

Across the county where the Texas Co. No. 1 H. H. Wilkinson rank wildcat test eight miles west of Big Spring, 350 feet from the north and 904 feet from the west lines of section 32-34-in. T&P, was drilled to 2,385 feet in anhydrite and lime after topping the Yates sand at 1,751 feet. Top of the anhydrite had been called at 1,038 feet and salt top at 1,094 feet.

The Moore Bros. No. 2-A Snyder, 2,310 feet from the west and 330 feet from the south lines of section 25-30-1a, T&P, was shot with 640 quarts from 2,635-2,810 feet and gauged 795 barrels on a 24-hour flowing test. This was 150 barrels more than Moore Bros. No. 4 TXL, well completed a week ago half a mile to the southeast.

Deep Test Is Slated For Fisher Co.

Wildcat Development Holds Attention In Abilene Area

ABILENE, April 9—Scattered wildcat developments, which were headlined by the staking of a southwestern Fisher county deep project, held attention here toward the end of the week.

Shell Petroleum corporation was reported to have let contract for the drilling of a scheduled 4,000-foot wildcat near the center of its 12,000-acre Claytonville block in southwestern Fisher county. Location was staked in the northeast corner of section 205-3-H&TC survey, two miles north of Captolia.

ed Bluff Creek sand outpost, the No. 1 F. L. Telford, 250 feet from the north and west lines of the east half of the southwest quarter of section 49-12-T&P survey.

Five miles east of Anson, Unger & Frasier spudded a wildcat test for Luther A. Hedrick of Wichita Falls, the No. 1 W. D. Baker, 2 1/2 feet out of the northwest quarter of the south half of the northeast quarter of section 36-O&L survey. It is north of an abandoned test drilled by Gwynn & Overby, which had 60 feet of pure sand in the Hope section, but only a slight showing of oil.

SHELL CAMP HOME DESTROYED BY FIRE

FORSAN, April 9—Fire of undetermined origin destroyed the home of L. A. Mayfield in the Shell camp Friday afternoon. The house belonged to the Shell Pipe Line company and was located between Forsan and Chalk. The blaze destroyed all furnishings of the Mayfields when all effort was made to prevent other camp homes from burning. Their automobile was the only possession the Mayfields saved.

The Building Of Ranch Empires

The cattlemen have been the trailblazers in Texas since the beginning of her history. He pushed out beyond the line of settlements and opened up new communities. Railroads often followed him rather than preceded him. Often he was the small ranchman whose herds were squeezed out of their location by the larger herdsmen. It was either get out or be absorbed, and as a result we find the rancher moving westward, out in unbroken paths on the farflung frontier, hunting freedom of action and free grass.

These ranchmen were townbuilders. Their business was less precarious than farming, and brought larger returns in proportion to outlay. They were heavy consumers, and were willing to pay a good price for a desirable commodity. Their purchases often ran into the hundreds per month. The Big Spring trade territory during the peak of the cattle business was a little empire within itself, larger than some of our eastern states. It extended from Lovington, New Mexico, to the Big Lake country, and included ranches in the Lubbock and Post area. There were no wholesale houses nearer than Ft. Worth which was 270 miles distant. Goods were bought by the car lot. John Wolcott, who during those days was a member of the firm of Mathews-Wolcott Co., states that his firm bought at one time of the Colorado Salt Co. thirteen carloads of salt. In order to attract the ranchmen to the Big Spring market this salt was sold at fifty cents a hundred. Mr. Wolcott also says that his firm sold the Fishbrand outfit $1535 in supplies in three months time.

As already stated in this series, W. T. Roberts, who owns an eleven-section ranch near Big Spring, was the first ranchman to settle in this country. The first cattle baron to invade this vast range of free grass was Col. C. C. Slaughter. The Slaughter home was in Dallas, but his field of ranching moved westward with the frontier. He pushed out from Palo Pinto county to the Double Mountain country, and later to the Big Spring area where his cattle ranged westward throughout the region of "live water" to the Staked Plains. After the introduction of windmills and the use of wells as a source of water supply, he secured extensive holdings on the Plains and in New Mexico.

Our County In The Making

The manager of this vast range empire of the Slaughters during those days was Gus O'Keefe. He later engaged in the cattle business for himself and became wealthy. He moved to Ft. Worth, owned much property there, and was the builder of the Blackstone hotel. His salary while managing the Slaughter ranches was $5,000 a year—a large sum for those days. Cowboys were paid from $25 to $35 a month and their board and mounts. These wiry ponies were tough and enduring, but as riding was hard, each puncher was allowed several head. Old Slaughter punchers still living in Big Spring are R. E. Slaughter, cousin of the old colonel, J. W. Carpenter and J. W. Barnett. The range boss at that time was Henry Mason, a cousin of Col. Slaughter. The manager had full charge of the ranch. He usually hired and discharged cowboys, made purchases, contracts, and arranged for the delivery of cattle. As the title indicates, the range boss had charge of the work of the range. He was head of the working force, had charge of marking and branding of the cattle, and the general overseeing of the herd.

There were two Slaughter headquarters in the vicinity of Big Spring. The German headquarters were in Howard county about twenty miles north of town. The Buffalo headquarters were in Dawson county. It is estimated that the Slaughter ranches, at the highest peak, ran about 55,000 head of cattle and branded about 20,000 head of calves annually. The brand was a long S on both sides and the mark was an under-bit on each ear. The first cattle were of the longhorn type. Later blooded varieties were introduced, first the shorthorn and later the Hereford. There was much comment among cattlemen when Col. Slaughter bought "Ancient Britain," a registered Hereford bull from importers of Chillicothe, Mo., for the sum of $5,000. Another one of his bulls, quite as famous, was his "Sir Bredwell."

Except on the east, at that time, there were no county organizations. The whole range was in Big Spring territory. To the west and southwest there was the Houston ranch. The brand was A.L. connected. The Quinn ranch was acquired by F. G. Oxner, and the brand was a diamond. It was generally known as the Diamond ranch.

The Lucien Wells ranch was established by Hilburn-Pierce and Co. The "Co." were J. F. Wolcott, his father, B. F. Wolcott and a brother, A. J. Wolcott. This property was sold to Tobe Mabry and was later acquired by Will P. Edwards, the present owner. The brand was half-circle TT. This ranch installed the first windmill ever used in this country. Cattlemen came for miles to see the modern wonder. Pumping water before that time had been an arduous task. At times cattle were used in the old treadmill fashion. The beasts walked all day and never got anywhere. Not so strange, when you consider human nature, is the fact that stray cattle were generally used for this purpose. The ranchman regarded that it was a fair way for the beast to pay his board bill.

L. S. McDowell, a native of Ohio, came to Tom Green county in 1884 where he engaged in the sheep business. He is one of the leading breeders of Herefords in the West. His ranch in the Big Spring country contains fifty-one sections, and his Borden county ranch has twenty-five sections. L. S. McDowell, Jr., is associated with his father.

The Sanderson-Cushing ranch was located on the headwaters of the Concho. Today it is known as the Konohassett ranch and is owned by the W. F. Cushing family. Bud Brown established a ranch in the same vicinity. The W. B. Currie ranch was established by Mark Moody who was first engaged in the sheep business.

The sheep men often had serious difficulty with the cattle man. The sheep as an asset in destroying weeds had not yet been ascertained. Ike Grunsky was an old-time sheep man who had no little difficulty. When ordered to move on with his herd he often found it handy to have a broken down wagon wheel in the shop for repairs or some other mishap. He consoled himself over the fact that while he was fighting the cowman his sheep "was eating his weeds."

The Rock House ranch passed into the hands of Mrs. Rachel Williams, mother of Bud Roberts, who sold it to John Roberts, the husband of Mrs. Dora Roberts. The Roberts ranch, the Otis Chalk ranch, the Mrs. Hart Phillips ranch, the Settles ranch, and the Clay ranch are today in the center of the Big Spring oil field.

Until recently Dave Rhoton was the owner of the Moss spring property to the southeast. The Sims and Lewis ranch was located southeast of Big Spring. The Lewis brand was 172 while the Sims brand was H.M.S. Today it is called the H. S. Ranch and is owned by the Elwood and Scott heirs. The Parramore ranch of 46 sections is owned by D. D. Parramore and Mrs. Mary Douthitt of Abilene. Tom and Bob Deats owned a ranch east of Big Spring. Their brand was a "flying D." The Graham Furr ranch is located south of Coahoma, today is owned by the heirs and others, among them Louie Hutto, who for many years has been the manager.

C. D. Read owned a thirty-one section ranch in the vicinity of the Itan tank. Munday, Derling and Denmark owned a ranch in the northeast. The Christian ranch is located on that property. Other ranches in that vicinity are the Wasson ranch, the Currie ranch, Oldham ranch, and the Wilson ranch which is located in Howard and Borden counties. Doc Cauble is one of the leading breeders of pure bred cattle in the Howard country. Other ranchers and men interested in ranching in the county are Clayton Stewart, J. and W. Fisher, who run both cattle and sheep, the John Guitar Trust Estate, Mrs. Quinn, Bob Powell and J. T. Frazier.

Texas Pension Administration Rapped By Magazine Writer

NEW YORK, April 9—John T. Flynn, noted economist and political commentator, in a sweeping condemnation of graft-ridden and inefficient old-age pension plans, singles out the Texas pension system as one of several to illustrate his point that the issue has assumed the proportions of a "national scandal."

Writing in Collier's, Flynn charged that in Texas, Missouri, Ohio, Illinois, Oklahoma and Colorado, the old-age assistance—or pension—funds and facilities are being so misused by politicians seeking to curry favor with the public in order to promote their own political ambitions that unless swift steps are taken to remedy the situation, many of the states will soon be faced with bankruptcy. Launching a bitter attack on the men who are using the pension system as a means of getting votes at any price, Flynn says:

"The whole thing has become just another plum tree full of little plums for little people too old to work but not too old to vote. The beneficiaries of this scandalous misuse of public funds are the chiselers who get on the rolls without right. The victims are the worthy old people who have to be satisfied with inadequate pensions so that there will be enough for the politicians to hand around to the ineligible."

Flynn pointed out that the old age pension systems as they are presently constituted are not to be confused with the social security plan. The pension systems are controlled by state agencies and were designed to supply aid to those who were too old at the time of the passage of the social security act to benefit by it.

Referring to the Lone Star State's forthcoming political campaign for the governorship, Flynn asserted that most of the candidates have given every indication that they will hold out lavish promises to pensioners in an attempt to secure the necessary votes with which to ride into office at Austin.

"Despite the fact that Texas is at the present time confronted with the most crucial financial problem," Flynn says, "Clarence Jarner, one of the candidates for governor, is going to run on a bigger pension platform. Colonel B. O. Thompson, a conservative, is going to coo softly, I imagine, about economy. But William McCraw, the dynamic, red-haired attorney general, who looks like a winner from where I am sitting, is going to have plenty of kind words to say for the old folks of the grand old Lone Star state. Texas at the present time has, in proportion to respective populations, twice as many people on her pension rolls as New York state."

Suggesting that the pension systems in operation throughout the country should be made subject to a vigorous government investigation, Flynn says that before any improvement can be made, "relief and pension and subsidy laws must be severely dissociated from politics and committed to the administration of civil service staffs of trained workers."

Second Charge Is Filed In Death Of Texas Negro

SILSBEE, April 9 (AP)—Murder charges were filed today against Frank G. Vaughn, disbarred Beaumont attorney, in connection with the slaying of Willie Ray, 33-year-old negro whose skeleton was fished from a well today.

Charges were filed earlier in the week against Joe Collier, Vaughn's former runner.

Ray, whose home was in Chicago, had been working out of Beaumont for B. H. Willis, general contractor, a few years before he disappeared Sept. 6, 1935.

An investigation by District Attorney R. M. Briggs and Deputies U. C. McDaniels and Skeet Willford of Silsbee began a few months later.

Vaughn represented Ray in a compensation suit for injuries the negro received in 1932. Ray was awarded a $275 claim.

Briggs said today he had obtained a statement from Collier.

McCraw Gives Tax Views

Resources, Pipelines, Utilities Would Be Tapped If Necessary

AUSTIN, April 9 (AP)—Slightly higher taxes on natural resources, pipe lines and public utilities, provided additional revenue is needed to finance an adequate social security program, were advocated today by Attorney General William McCraw in the first part of his platform for the 1938 governor's race.

McCraw condemned both a general sales and an income tax and said sufficient governmental economies probably could be effected to permit the state to take a tax holiday. He added, however, that old age pension grants must be somewhat enlarged.

The attorney general said the remainder of his platform would be made public either in his opening speech at Arlington two weeks hence or shortly before it.

The state liquor control board was singled out by McCraw as one spot where substantial savings could be made. He said the annual appropriation to the board could be reduced "probably a quarter million dollars" without serious impairment of its activities. He added that State Auditor Tom C. King had estimated governmental economies amounting to between $2,500,000 and $4,000,000 a year could be effected.

Fund Needs

"The best estimates obtainable are that the teachers' retirement fund will need $2,250,000 on January 1," he said. "Child welfare will need $1,500,000—If Texas is to receive federal aid for this cause. To care for the blind will require $400,000. Old age assistance funds must be supplemented. Living costs are higher and the pension check of a year ago doesn't go as far today. It is general acknowledged old age assistance today does not even reach all the needy.

"All this adds up to a little more than four million dollars. Bear in mind, these are minimum estimates. Probably five million dollars will be needed. It could be a million under this mark and could be a million more.

"There is considerable duplication and overlapping of effort in our state government. When the state tries to do a job and the county has the responsibility for it, it is generally true that nobody does the job. The taxpayer does not complain when he knows he is getting his money's worth out of his taxes but he does and should complain at useless duplication, waste and extravagance in his government."

The boundary between Canada and the United States has a length of 5,000 miles, of which 3,100 miles are land boundary and 2,400 are water boundary.

The United States leads the world in number of telephones to the population, there being 14.2 sets for every 100 inhabitants. Sweden is second with 11.8 sets for every 100 people.

How Should The Quints' Schooling Be Handled? Guardians Ponder

CALLANDER, Ont., April 9 (AP)—If you think there's nothing new under the sun, you've overlooked a problem which is edging the brains of at least three men in Canada—the problem of how the Dionne quintuplets are to be educated.

Twins, triplets, even quadruplets, present no such teaser, and by comparison the educational program of British royalty is simplicity itself. For in a world full of curious things none today is as curious as the quints who will be four years old May 28.

That's what makes it a problem: the guardians wish, above all things, to keep the five girls from feeling, as far as that is possible, their unique standing.

Until recently the educational program of the famous babies had been in the hands of Dr. W. E. Blatz, noted Toronto child psychiatrist. Under his direction the children were being trained in social and language development by experts graduated from the advanced St. George's School for Child Study in Toronto.

The education of the Quints is now to be directed by Duncan McArthur, assistant deputy minister of education for Ontario, and an

Up To Three Men

The final decision, though, on whether the girls are to go to grade school with their three older sisters and two brothers will be in the hands of the board of guardians—Dr. Allen R. Dufosse, medical guardian of the babies, Percy D. Wilson, Ontario's official guardian of minor children, Judge J. A. Vain, of North Bay, and the children's father, Oliva Dionne.

Since Papa Dionne takes no part in the guardianship that leaves the problem in the hands of three men. There appears to be no uniform opinion on whether the Quints should associate with other children in the next few years or whether they should be trained in the seclusion of their closely guarded nursery. Child experts have said and still say a lot of both sides of the question.

They regard it as doubtful, for one thing, that interest in the Quints will ever diminish to a point where they can appear in public without attracting attention. On the other hand some child experts deem it necessary that the Dionne girls have normal companionship to insure their normal development.

Damage

way traffic became normal in other sections.

Despite severity of the storm, the worst April weather in 25 years, the loss of human lives was relatively small. The greatest tragedy was in the Pampa region where seven members of two families died from fumes from gas stoves as they sought warmth in a snow-bound oil field home.

Farms, ranges and orchards from the northern confines well into southern and eastern sections, however, suffered inestimable destruction.

Preliminary reports told of damage ranging from 20 to 75 per cent to the wheat crop. The West Texas cattle and sheep ranges suffered severely. Because of the mild weather of the past few weeks, many flocks of sheep had been sheared and were hard hit by the sub-freezing temperatures.

Hail which rode before the storm Wednesday played havoc with many North Texas orchards.

Insurgents Make Further Advances

HENDAYE, France, (At the Spanish Front), April 9 (AP)—Spanish insurgents announced advances tonight against a government army fighting desperately to protect its lifeline Mediterranean coast highways.

From the southern wing of the insurgent army driving to separate northeastern Spain from the rest of government territory came word that insurgent advance guards had fought their way into suburbs of San Mateo, less than ten miles from the sea.

The advance was made against government militiamen who, fighting with their backs to the wall as they did a year ago when the Madrid-Valencia road was menaced, earlier today had won one of their first victories in a week of hard fighting.

Government troops, massed in coastal ravines and ridges, took the village of La Gralla in the "Tucumel foothills" only to lose it again at nightfall. Despite bitter government resistance, insurgent infantrymen, aided by bombing squadrons and fighting planes which strafed the defenders, conquered the whole of the "Tucumel" mountain range, north of San Mateo.

Germans Will Vote Today

Hitler Calls Annexation 'Will Of God'

VIENNA, April 9 (AP)—Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler tonight justified his whirlwind annexation of Austria by declaring it was "the will of God" and pleaded for 50,000,000 voters to endorse the creation of the greater Germany in tomorrow's plebiscite.

Addressing 30,000 wildly cheering followers in the final appeal of the plebiscite campaign, the Austrian-born Hitler exclaimed:

"I believe it was the will of God to send this little boy to Germany to make him fuehrer of the reich and to bring Austria back to Germany."

"I Am In Power" He warned his enemies never to attempt to seize power here because 75,000,000 Germans would rise against them.

"Now I am in power and I shall not give it up."

In another breath he said his name "will stand out forever as the son of this great country."

Pleading for a favorable vote tomorrow, he declared:

"Just as you don't have to be ashamed of me, I don't want to be ashamed of you x x x."

Millions of Germans throughout greater Germany and elsewhere listened in to a broadcast of the speech.

Their day is tomorrow when they will vote on Austro-German union, effected after German troops marched into Austria March 12, and the new reichstag of the greater Germany.

Vast Demonstrations Nothing in the 1,900 years of Austria's recorded history stood as an equal to the demonstrations with which the nazis made their last bid for favor in the plebiscite.

Miles of flags fluttered. Every store—even in the Jewish districts—every bus and street car, truck and automobile displayed Adolf Hitler's picture, red-white-and-black nazid banners and slogans.

Throughout the world, Germans in foreign countries have been boarding German ships for the past week to cast their ballots.

Among the 50,000,000, from whom the nazis expect an overwhelming endorsement of Austro-German union, will be tens of thousands who have streamed into greater Germany from nearby foreign countries.

Jews cannot vote since they are not considered citizens.

Chinese Pull A Fast One

Battalion Gets Behind Jap Lines And Attacks

SHANGHAI, April 10 (Sunday) (AP)—Two thousand Chinese soldiers who posed as destitute coolies to filter through Japanese lines struck from behind today in a battle that threatened to wreck Japan's "grand campaign" in central China.

Inside walled Tainan, Shantung province capital, the disguised battalion attacked Japanese defenders who fought to stem Chinese columns storming its gates from the outside.

Capture of Tainan, base of Japanese operations in the "grand campaign" to swallow the unconquered portion of central China, would sever the link between Japanese forces far to the south and the Japanese munition and manpower reservoir at Tientsin to the north. Chinese who told of the rising of the disguised battalion, said its members had filtered into Tainan a few at a time for days. Each carried a revolver and several grenades. When the zero hour came, they attacked near the east gate and occupied several strategic buildings.

STORM WARNINGS WASHINGTON, April 9 (AP)—The weather bureau ordered storm warnings posted tonight from Boston to Sandy Hook, N. J. The bureau said the storm off the New England coast would continue to move northeastward, attended by strong northwest winds along the New England coast.

Lint Acreage Unchanged

Ruling Handed Down On Soil-Conserving Planting

Howard county's cotton allotment for 1938 will remain at 73,658 acres, the state committee advised County Agent O. P. Griffin late Saturday.

The ruling was made after a tabulation of the county's crop land totals and compilation of cotton acreage and diverted acres last year had indicated a possible allotment of 65,500 acres to cotton, despite the original figure released by the state committee.

Retention of the allotment left 40,234 acres for general crop base in the county and 59,626 to go for soil conserving purposes. This meant that there would be very little benefit payments off of the general base since there are only about 3,400 acres which would be eligible for the payment.

The state committee handed down a ruling, in connection with holding that the cotton allotment could not be changed, that soil conserving acreage could be planted to cane, sudan, peas which may be harvested and sold or pastured. Land may be planted to alternate strips of maize and fallow land or strips of soil conserving crops. The strips must be at least three rows wide. In event the fallow land strip is employed, only the acreage actually planted will be counted on the cotton allotment when measuring is done, said the agent.

The cotton allotment for the county will give approximately 41 per cent of the total crop acreage over to cotton, and an even greater percentage when around 7,700 acres to wheat, normally idle land and non-cotton farms are deducted. It is much greater than in some surrounding counties where the percentage runs to around as low as 30 per cent.

CLUBS WILL MEET JOINTLY TO GREET FT. WORTH GROUP

Three service clubs had accepted the invitation of the Rotary club Saturday to participate in a joint session April 19 when 100 business men from Fort Worth will be honored here.

The Fort Worth delegation will leave that point the night before on a special train for a tour through West Texas and New Mexico. A special program is being arranged in their honor here.

Plans Made For Easter Services

Cantatas And Choruses Will Be Presented

Although some of the churches have not completed arrangements for special music Easter morning and evening, practically all of them have plans underway for the presentation of cantatas, choruses, solos and other interesting features.

Between 25 and 30 voices will be heard in the cantata, "Christ Triumphant," by Fred Holton, Easter Sunday evening at the First Methodist church at 8 o'clock under the direction of George Crosthwait. The church choir, which is presenting the special feature, has been rehearsing for the past month.

Soloists include Mrs. V. H. Flew-ellen, Mrs. Herbert Keaton, Mrs. Bernard Lanum, Mrs. Olla Gordill, Herbert Keaton, H. S. Williamson, J. C. Milburn and J. H. Tucker. The public is invited to hear this outstanding presentation.

"Easter Joy," also a cantata, will be presented the same evening at the First Christian church by the choir under the direction of Herschel Summerlin accompanied by Mrs. J. H. Kirkpatrick. The program is as follows:

Hail Him.....by chorus
Welcome, Fair Season.....by Mrs. G. C. Schurman, soprano solo
To Life Awake.....chorus
Come, See the Place.....chorus
Victory.....Byron Voices
Wonderful Light.....chorus
.....Mrs. Byron Housewright
He Lives! The Saviour Lives.....Mrs. Herschel Summerlin, Mrs. Lloyd Brooks, duet
Awake! Awake!.....
Donald Schurman, baritone solo
Hail, Mighty Victor.....by choir
Annual Easter services conducted by the First Christian church will be observed this year. The church will be decorated, as has been the custom, with lilies brought by members in memory of deceased friends and relatives.

St. Mary's Episcopal church plans several musical selections for the morning service including an offertory anthem, "Break Forth Into Joy" by Dale. Other numbers to be heard will be "Angels Roll the Rock Away," "Gloria in the Highest," "The Strife Is Over," "Sanctus" by Gounod, "The Agnus Dei" by Brown, "Gloria in Excelsis" by Brown, and "Nunc Dimittis" by J. Barnby.

Presbyterian and Baptist churches also promise something appropriate for the special services but have not announced their plans yet.

Babies won't have anything; they can't put in their mouths, they won't have anything they can't put in their pockets, and women won't buy anything that won't go in their purses. All of the seven wonders of the world are to be found in a lady's bag. In her more pensive moods, she wonders about its contents. When she loses anything, she wanders around in her purse until it is found and other times she wonders if every woman's purse resembles her own and when she buys a new one, she wonders if it will get to looking like the last one. The amount of luggage carried in a lady's purse is simply wonderful.

If we women had been men, we would spend this week-end out of town and return to the wife with stories of boredom without her. If we had been man and not woman, we could tell the truth about our marriage and go without a bath this week. Some fun we'd have. We could drink hard liquor, chew tobacco, wear long pants and let our hair grow. To antagonize the ladies, we could talk about the triviality of woman, scoff at her efforts to secure equal rights with man, and remind her repeatedly of the masculine superiority, physically and mentally.

ABILENE, April 10—An honor student and member of the 1938 radiating class at Hardin-Simmons university is Miss Agnes Bentley, sightless as a result of two childhood accidents.

Miss Bentley, whose scholastic marks are almost straight "A," lost the sight of her right eye in an accident in infancy. She was 10 years old when a second accident destroyed the sight of her left eye.

At Hardin-Simmons, she is majoring in English, with a double minor in sociology and history. Her ambition is to be a proof reader for publications for the blind.

A devoted friend and classmate, Miss Wilma Richardson, reads Miss Bentley's lessons to her, and takes notes from which to prepare her studies.

Distinctive scholarship and character won for Miss Bentley membership in the Julius Olsen Alpha Chi, campus scholastic honorary society, in 1936.

"My favorite pastimes are skating and reading. Claudette Colbert is my favorite movie star. I am fond of fudge and malts, and like to bake cookies," she said of her hobbies.

Miss Bentley corresponds with former classmates and friends, using either the Braille writing machine, or her typewriter, which she uses expertly. Many lessons she prepares on the typewriter, in addition to tests and quizzes taken orally.

Many of Miss Bentley's books are in record form, and each record requires about 30 minutes to tell its story. She "reads" about a book a week this way.

Agnes Bentley keeps up with the news through Braille publications, such as the Readers' Digest, Weekly News, and All-Story Magazine.

A graduate from the Texas School for the Blind, at Austin, in 1934, Miss Bentley was salutatorian of her class.

"When a student goes through a university and makes nearly all A grades, without the aid of sight, she has achieved a goal that is remotely removed to the average person with the aid of this sense. Agnes Bentley has done just that, and because of her superb record in Hardin-Simmons she is more than entitled to the Silk Bandana," said the H-SU Brand, campus newspaper, in naming her recently as the week's wearer of the honorary H-SU Silk Bandana.

To rate a dinner invitation these days, you either have to possess personality and charm so tinkling any hostess would feel her entertainment a flop without you, or you must be endowed with a surplus of republican gall, a dash of Garner balanced-forethought, spiked with Roosevelt's persistency and appeal.

If you fall under either of the classifications and you still lack an invitation, you've got the wrong friends. Get a new set!

Return Home

Mrs. Dorothy Watson and children, Macky and Patsy, have returned to their home in Los Angeles after spending two months here visiting Mrs. Watson's father, J. M. Simmons. Mrs. Simmons accompanied them as far as El Paso where she spent several days visiting Mrs. J. J. Armstrong.

Back From College

Marjorie Hudson of Miss Hookaday's Junior college, Dallas, arrived Saturday to spend the Easter holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Hudson. She will return to the campus April 17.

Home For Holidays

Miss Mildred Darwin, student of Isabella's University of Beauty Culture at Fort Worth, is spending the Easter holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Bryant.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Townsend of Dallas are here this weekend on business.

BLOT ON TEXAS MUST BE ERASED

Texas cannot afford to criticize crime in any other sections of the country so long as we have such unspeakable things as the torture and murder of two California women, who were traveling in their car through the state. That they were murdered and robbed was bad enough, that they were burned and otherwise tortured is infamous.

And the regretful thing, said from the actual crime, is that there is little probability of discovering the inhuman persons who committed it. Let us hope they were not Texans, but that they came from another part of the world and happened to find occasion for their savagery while in this state.

Perhaps if we had swifter and surer enforcement of law there would be fewer crimes, or crimes of any degree. Not all of it can be prevented, but certainly of punishment, speed of determining guilt and adequate penalty exacted would help to decrease it at least.

WOMEN'S PART IN POLITICS

Have women made good in politics? Have they accomplished the things that some of the more enthusiastic predicted and promised when women were given suffrage? These are questions, academics to be sure, that are discussed here and there without any conclusion being reached either way.

It is too early yet to say definitely whether politics has been bettered by the participation of women in voting. One must remember that men did the voting and most of the office holding for more than a hundred years before women had an opportunity to show what they could do. So one should not expect that the political game would be played fairer and clearer and have more satisfactory results until there has been more time given and more opportunity for demonstration.

Mostly the women who have held and are holding office have demonstrated ability equal to that of men in the same positions. It is necessary to say however that in most cases, especially in the higher offices of state or national status, the successful ones have played politics to some extent. They have learned to control their emotions and to be polite or hardbitten as occasion might seem to require. They learned that from the men and they have practiced it because they realized it was necessary if they continued to hold their office or wield the influence they desired.

Possibly there will come a time when not so much of this will have to be done, but it is yet in the future. Women are innately clean, and through the slow processes of the years they may be able to instill into the minds of others some of the desire they have to have politics played fairly and cleanly, as other games are played, if they merit and receive approval.

On The Record

By Dorothy Thompson

(Miss Thompson's column is published as an informational and news feature. Her views are personal and are not to be construed as necessarily reflecting the editorial opinion of The Herald.—Editor's Note.)

REFUGEES

The appeal of Secretary of State Cordell Hull and of the president for international action to aid political refugees is not only timely, generous and imaginative, but it is extremely necessary not for the sake of the refugees only, but for the sake of all countries that are anxious to prevent further unrest and economic and social disquiet.

There is a very serious refugee problem already, and the events of the last weeks, and the probable events of the immediate future, have accelerated, and will augment it. And the fact is that there is no international mechanism that even attempts to deal with it as a whole, and as a political, rather than a humanitarian problem.

The activities of the Nansen Committee, which unless renewed next month expires at the end of the year, are limited and in no wise cover the problems of new political emigrants. The office of the high commissioner for refugees coming from Germany also expires unless renewed, and also has strictly limited authority.

It has been estimated that the application of the Nuremberg racial laws in Austria will affect nearly a million persons, or almost one-sixth of the population of that country, whose livelihoods thereby will be drastically affected. And the steps that Germany has already taken since the annexation of Austria indicate that many monarchs, Catholics, and persons of other groups will at least try to find refuge elsewhere.

The outcome of the war in Spain will also create a new refugee problem, inevitably, whichever way the die is cast.

The immediate popular response to the president's appeal to all countries to join in a movement to deal with the problem, indicates that in some quarters his move has been misunderstood. There is a strong fear in all the countries still open to emigration, that the barriers will be let down, and they will be flooded with newcomers at a time when many of their own citizens are unemployed.

Actually what prompted the president was, no doubt, a keen sense of self-preservation. The world, as it is, is in a place of unrest and agitation, with desperate people taking desperate measures in the attempt merely to survive, and millions of people wandering more or less aimlessly, and battering at every conceivable door, being passed on from frontier to frontier, until certainly do nothing to help restore world order.

Nor can any democratic country wish its hand of the problem, if it wishes to retain its own soul. The spectacle of acute human suffering, arbitrarily imposed, incurred by thousands in defense of the very ideals which are the ones we are supposed to live by, cannot be regarded with equanimity or indifference, unless we are prepared to admit that the ideas no longer have validity. A defeatist attitude toward the refugee problem becomes a defeatist attitude toward democracy itself.

Obviously what is needed is a program and efficient organization, to deal with the whole matter diplomatically and politically, to coordinate and better direct the private humanitarian agencies already in the field, and to handle the whole problem on an international basis. That means an institution with sufficient prestige and authority to act as a diplomatic agency, between the countries which are enforcing emigration, and those countries which would accept immigrants, providing that the conditions under which they enter are such that they could become economic assets rather than liabilities.

Several experts who have had experience in dealing with the transfer of emigrants and capital from Germany to other countries, believe that it is not impossible to reach some sort of compromise with the German government, under which the capital of German and other Jews, now blocked in Germany, and still amounting to millions, may be used to finance equipment for colonization projects. This might act to the economic advantage of Germany, as well as to the economic advantage of the emigrants and the countries to which they may go.

Greater selectivity is also necessary. Most countries, including our own, could take with advantage certain kinds of workers. To an extent, also, the problem is one of re-training. Some of that has already been done, particularly with Jewish emigrants to Palestine.

The Thrill That Comes Once In A Lifetime

THE BEAUTIFUL LADY GOLF STAR

Man About Manhattan

NEW YORK — This is a story with a happy ending. It concerns Lucia, who lives on Long Island and will be 15 on her next birthday. I can show you her house, and perhaps even arrange an introduction, if you are interested.

Lucia wanted to become a dancer. Always she dreamed of swirling gracefully to soft music in a circle of flame-colored light. But when she was 11 she was cut down by infantile paralysis. Doctors said it was one of those things—maybe she would grow out of it in time. Meanwhile, there must be care and attention and long, long years of rest. You know, wheel chairs, and nurses, etc.

It wasn't so bad after she got used to it. People were kind and she had friends who told her stories about little girls who became famous dancers. They came to sit with her in the sunning and they brought her flowers, and after a while three years went by and she was 14, almost 15.

"When I get well, I'm going to do this and so," she would say. "And when I get well, I shall do this and that and the other." Most of the conversation and all of her plans were predicated on that simple little qualifying statement: "When I get well..."

Among the callers who came to sit by her side in the sun, on cheerful days, was an old Italian who served as a handy-man around one of New York's big pet shops. And one day he brought her a kitten, with a bow of ribbon around its neck. "It's easy for me to get kittens. We have them at my store...I hope you like it?" He didn't tell her that he had saved a few pennies for his earnings every week over a period of months to buy the kitten for her. She smiled with pleasure.

She kept it with her when she wheeled herself in the sun, and she carried it with her on those infrequent occasions when some one came by and took her for long rides in an automobile. And so she had it with her that slippery day when they were riding out through Long Island and the car crashed into another car with such violence that the windshield was broken and she was thrown clear. Two hours later, doctors were amputating her leg just below the knee. And when she came out of the ether the first thing she asked for was her kitten. "Miraculously, it was all right. It was unharmed."

"Oh," she cried, "and he's all right! You're sure? You're sure!" And when they assured her again and promised to bring it to the hospital she closed her eyes for a moment, and then opened them. "Really," she said, "I've never been so happy in my life." I told you this was a story with a happy ending.

Hollywood

Sights And Sounds by ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—That hazy-headed Joe Penner... Joe Penner, once a poor boy himself, has all he needs, with annuities and such, to last him a long while and he's using his money now to enjoy himself.

Like this: he hears of a children's hospital that needs an iron lung to fight an infantile paralysis epidemic, so he buys one for $18,000, all on the quiet, and gets it there. Then he knows some guys who need a job of work and he sends them on the road to give shows for kids and collect pennies to help support the lung.

One place it cost Joe $200 to send his show and the collection was $3 cents—and the $3 cents went into the fund. He has a Hungarian orchestra on his payroll, too, and it earns its keep by playing for Joe once in a while. Oldtimers who were big names when Joe was a struggling youngster hold his admiration—they're still "names" to him and when he can help, he does.

Joan Crawford's next film, "Fidelity," is taken from a yarn titled "Infidelity." And "Joy of Living," you know, began his career as "Joy of Loving." Both showing how nice Hollywood has become. Joan's spending her pre-picture time singing, and they say the voice is worth hearing, which he goes to know just as musicals (they say) are on the way out!

A while back when all the studios were building up their contract lists the free-lancers were doleful because most of the movie jobs went to people already on the payroll. The studios now have done something about it—by increasing the number of free-lancers to meet the "recession." Samples: Paramount's list of 150 players is now 107. RKO's 83 is a thin 36 now.

Barbara O'Neil has a dog named Snook—with three O's, but for no special reason. Frank Capra personally presided over Gloria Blonelli's screen test at Columbia. The net picture Ray Bolger will be cut from—if his past luck holds—is "Snug Harbor." Mrs. Jack Oakie (Vanita Varden) has gained six of the 15 pounds she needs to win a test for the role of Miss S. O'H.

Richard Lane's wrestler, Danny McShain, is the only one of his dozen-odd financial ventures the actor didn't seek. Lane saw Danny at a match in Texas, advised him to get a manager. Danny started writing the actor for advice, finally sent him a contract. Lane's been collecting—15 per cent—but only since Danny became "champion" in his light-heavy weight division. And Danny (take Lane's word for it, not mine) reads the Greek philosophers for diversion!

A novel shooting gallery, consisting of a target of original movie films showing game in the forest, has been introduced into Germany. When a shot is fired, the film is halted and a bright light appears where the bullet hit.

The Boxwood Barrier

Chapter 23 ONLY HALF ALIVE

A good quarrel would have cleared the atmosphere but they were so careful, so very careful to avoid even a remote hint of one. Perhaps neither could have told why they feared an eruption even while they longed for one that would rock the earth.

"Hurry and change, Reuben," Judith filled a bud vase with water, put the geranium in it and placed it in the center of the small table richly laid with damask, silver, crystal, "I'll keep the things warm until you're ready."

Despite their combined efforts it was not a festive meal. The disheartened turkey was quite tasteless from too long hours spent in a steamer. The cranberry jelly was leathery. The potatoes soggy.

"White they were pretending to enjoy themselves Mrs. Kraus came bustling in with a platter of piping hot home cooked turkey. The skin was golden brown, the meat tender, juicy. The dressing and gravy savory dreams.

"If I could cook like that!" Judith envied. "You could, if you tried hard enough," a woman told her. "The Row feels sorry for Mr. Oliver."

"Sorry?" The woman nodded. "It ain't right for a man to have to do outside work and inside too, so when I saw him coming with a basket—"

The neighbors felt sorry—not for her—for Reuben! They felt sorry for Reuben. "I'm afraid I wasn't out for a miner's wife," frigidly.

Mrs. Kraus agreed. "But the one sure way to keep your man always in the mine is to let your end down."

"Don't mind her," Reuben said when they returned to their interrupted meal. "This turkey is worth a few more."

Judith tried valiantly to capture the holiday spirit, so did Reuben. They tried too hard. Perhaps that was why it eluded them.

They had so pitifully little in common. Judith tried to take an interest in Reuben's work, but she hated the mine, so did Reuben. He would have talked of their days in Maryland, but the subject always led to regrets and hurt feelings, so they spoke brightly of impersonal things.

"I had a letter from Jim," Reuben remembered suddenly and felt his pockets. "Left it in my other coat."

"What did he say?" "Hugo is fine. Jim has been hunting with him a lot this autumn." He wanted to add that he hoped to send for Hugo soon, but planning for the future was taboo because Reuben visioned largely a panorama of vast proportions.

Sometimes sitting in the cluttered little room with Judith so near he could touch her, he knew a loneliness greater than any he had felt in the heart of the wilderness. If, for an hour, she would understand, if he could hear her laugh in the old spontaneous way.

He looked at her across the table with his lavish display of elegance so sadly out of place in the mean room. Perhaps he could find the right word—"Judith."

She met his eyes and smiled absently. She was reminding herself that the easiest way was just to live for each day at a time to feel nothing; want nothing; remember nothing—that was wisdom.

Amateurs To Appear Here April 22

Contest Sponsored by 40-B; Many Towns To Have Entries

Plans are being completed by the 40-B, honor degree unit of the American Legion, to present an all-star amateur contest at the municipal auditorium in Big Spring on Friday evening, April 22. The program is under direction of a committee headed by Sam Goldman.

Talent for the event is being chosen from Big Spring and all towns in this territory. Civic clubs in other cities have been contacted and asked to send the best amateur talent of their respective cities for the contest. Towns which already have agreed to send contestants include Brownwood, Snyder, Sterling City, Abilene, Sweetwater and San Angelo. Among entries will be string bands, singers, dancers and comedians.

Twenty-five acts will be selected to compete on the program. Goldman said, to make up a two-hour show of varied entertainment. A master of ceremonies will present the acts. Entertainers in Big Spring are invited to take part in the program, provided they have not appeared professionally. They may file their applications with Mrs. J. D. Nichols by writing her at 709 Aylesford street or calling her at phone No. 1648.

Prizes will go to the three winning acts on the program, with winners selected on the basis of audience applause. Awards will be $25, $15 and $10.

YOUTH CHARGED IN FATHER'S DEATH

McKINNEY, April 9 (AP) - Charges of murder were filed here today against 16-year-old Robert Davis in the fatal shooting of his father, H. H. Davis, 56, at his farm home south of Allen.

Young Davis waived preliminary hearing and made $750 bond, pending action of the grand jury which convenes April 25.

Justice of the Peace W. A. Stanley of Plano, who conducted an inquest, returned a verdict of death from gunshot wounds at the hands of Davis' son, seemingly self defense.

Mrs. Curtis Driver is visiting her parents in Ponca City, Okla., for about a week.

READING AND WRITING

"MACMILLAN'S MODERN DICTIONARY," compiled and edited by Bruce Overton; (Macmillan: $3.50).
A certain publisher must have been reading this writer's mind. For a long time he has been wishing for a real dictionary, but one that did not have to be kept on a stand and was not so unwieldy that consulting it required 15 or 20 minutes.
