Victory INVEST!

GERMANY MUST PAY 25 BILLION DOLLARS FIVE BILLION CASH

$20,000,000,000 IN INTEREST
BEARING BONDS PAID
IN INSTALLMENTS

THIS IS THE MINIMUM AMOUNT

Must Also Make Obligations to Pay Damages to Be Assessed
By Commission.

Paris, April 14.—Germany under the peace treaty must pay $5,000,000,000 in cash or the equivalent in commodities before May 1, 1921. She must also issue to the Allied and Associated Governments $20,000,000,000 of interest bearing bonds.

The interest on the bonds until 1926 will be either 2 or 3 per cent and after that date will be 5 per cent, according to the present plan.

The bonds will be payable in installments during a period of fifteen years. They probably will be kept in the control of a central commission of the Allied and Associated Governments so that they shall not be marketed in quantities sufficient to break the price.

Germany also must obligate herself to pay other amounts for damage done, appropriate to her means to be determined by a mixed commission of representatives of the Allied and Associated Governments, and of Germany, which shall report before May 1, 1921.

An Interesting War Exhibit

An interesting exhibit of war curios is displayed in the window at the White Rose Cafe. The collection consists of a large French shell converted into an ornamental vase, several smaller shells, a variety of cartridges, a hand grenade etc. and a number of articles of German make including a belt buckle, a match safe, cigarette lighter and a lot of buttons. There is also in the exhibit a variety of coins from various countries, gathered in France. The collection was sent by Sergeant C. L. Palmer to his brother, Bob, who loaned the exhibit for public inspection. The collection is the most complete sent home, so far, by a local soldier. Sergeant Palmer is a member of the 1st Brigade, 22nd Engineers.

Record Sale of Bulls.

Dr. B. F. Erwin went down to Childress this week to inspect and make a tuberculin test on a bunch of 48 registered Hereford bulls sold by John Johnson, of Peach Grove Farm, to a California buyer. Dr. Erwin also visited Dalhart last week to inspect and administer tests on cattle there.

Hugh Wallace and Bill Car were Estelline visitors Sunday.

Permanent Classifier.

(Special to Dallas News by Frank E. Buckhalter)

College Station, Texas, April 12.—Farmers of Smith county have found a system of handling their cotton at a profit which has been fully tested by them and they are so well pleased with that system that they are going to put up the money to keep it in operation hereafter, whereas for the last season the system has been financed by the Extension Service of A. & M. College and the Bureau of Markets of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. This system is simply the employment of an expert cotton classifier to come to Tyler, the county seat and principal market of the county, and give the farmers a scientific classing and grading of their cotton whereby they are able to sell the cotton at prices ranging all the way from $5 to $50 per bale more than they have been able to command for the same material before it was classed.

On the occasion of a visit to Tyler when the Co-operative Cotton Marketing Association was

EUGENE DEBS GOES TO PENITENTIARY

Declares That His Spirit Is Unbroken, and His Soul Unconquerable.

Moundsville, W. Va., April 14.—Eugene V. Debs, many times Socialist candidate for President entered the West Virginia penitentiary last night and began serving his ten-year sentence for violation of the espionage act. As the prisoner stood in the doorway of the penitentiary he said:

"I enter the prison door a flaming revolutionist, my head unbent, my spirit untamed, my soul unconquerable."

Debs answered the required questions put by Warden Terrell, who assigned the prisoner to cell 51.

Prior to retiring to his cell, Debs issued the following statement, addressed to Socialists of America:

"As I am about to enter the prison doors I wish to send to the Socialists of America who have so loyally stood by me since my first arrest this little message of love and cheer. These are pregnant days and promising ones. We are all on the threshold of tremendous changes. The workers of the world are awakening and bestowing and bestirring themselves as never before. All the forces that are playing upon the modern world are making for the overthrow of despotism in all its forms and for the emancipation of the masses of mankind."

"I shall be in prison in the days to come, but my revolutionary spirit will be abroad and I shall not be inactive."

"Let us all in this supreme hour measure up to our full stature and work together as one for the great cause. That means emancipation for us all."

"Love to my comrades and hail to the revolution."

VICTORY LOAN TO BE $4,500,000,000

Oversubscriptions to Be Rejected and Privilege of Redeeming in Three Years Reserved.

Washington, April 13.—Terms of the Victory Liberty loan were announced today by Secretary Glass. They are:

Amount $4,500,000,000, oversubscriptions to be rejected. Interest 4% per cent for partially tax exempt notes convertible into 3% per cent notes wholly tax exempt.

Maturity four years with the Treasury reserving the privilege of redeeming the notes in three years.

The size of the loan was much smaller than had been anticipated by most financial observers, who looked for an issue of about $6,000,000,000, particularly in view of Secretary Glass' past statements that the loan would be five or six billions.

In many communities the selling campaign already has begun actively, without formal acceptance of subscriptions, said reports today to the Treasury, although the official opening date is April 21, one week from tomorrow. The drive will continue three weeks, until May 10.

E. Bahr of El Paso, Company A, 141st Infantry who was recently invalided home after receiving sharpnel wounds in the Champagne when the Seventy-First Infantry Brigade drive was launched."

Numerous improvements, including the placing of concrete curb around the grounds and the planting of trees and flowers, are in progress at the city hall. These improvements will add much to the beauty of the city property, which is well situated and is now among the most handsome places in the city.

CHALLIS THE LATEST WHIM IN FASHION

The Passing of Extremely Long Skirt Forebushes the Prestige of the Abbreviated One

The modes of New York are quite as capricious as the weather. No sooner is a style launched and accepted than something new attracts the eye of the designers and then—another new mode. Such has happened with the popular long, narrow skirt. No longer is the long skirt the smartest thing to wear. Skirts are becoming

A Chic Design in Challis

ing shorter. This change we may easily hold Paris responsible for. During the craze for the long skirt here, Paris slowly shook her head in disapproval, and now we are feeling the effects of her negative mien. Street dress, suits, evening gowns, every skirt is becoming shorter. This will be a welcomed style, for the discomfort of the long, tight skirt will be eliminated. The shorter length makes the skirt less cumbersome about the ankle, thus affording more freedom in walking. And freedom in walking means grace of carriage, so we herald the mode with a sigh of content.

The same attitude that Paris took toward the long skirt has been lavished on the straw hat. Though New York is overrun with hats of straw, reports from Paris say the in the restaurant and on the street one sees little if any hats of straw. The French women realize the folly of rushing the seasons and are clinging to their hats which are developed in fabrics. Of these satin seems to be the most predominate material used, and usually one finds ostrich trimming present. If a touch of Spring is desired, the hats are graced with coquettish little flowers in pastel shades.

Old Time Challis

A myriad of designs are offered in the fetching challis creations that promise to be an essential part of the summer wardrobe. This soft woolen material makes up in the prettiest of designs. If the challis is of a plain color, then one deftly embroiders it in silk or wool of a contrasting color. If it possesses pretty dots or delicate stripes then one adds a collar of sheer organdie or soft linen with cuffs and a sash to match.

Dressed in a challis frock one wears a hat of the same material which is faced with straw or some contrasting material and completes the costume with a challis parasol. A frock of foulard will be desirable, and a Paris designer presents an innovation in the looping four times of the back and front panel and bound in white at the edges.

Moire Crepe de Chine

A new note in overblouses is the use of moire crepe de Chine. Moire crepe de Chine is effective in black with bonnaz embroidery in pastel colorings with girdle of self material. The oriental spirit enters into these blouses, which have Chinese lines and Japanese motifs. The Chinese round neck and side opening are used, and from Japan comes the pagoda and the charming little garden scenes that are developed in fine beads and decorative the unique blouses.

Three Materials Combined

For late summer wear, organdie and linen will be used for these blouses. So strongly are they favored that all materials available are used for their development.

Tier Skirts

Skirts built up in tiers are especially favored by fashion. The frock shown here is developed in flowered challis, and the chemise and cuffs are of crisp organdie. The grace of line and simplicity of style are the salient features. A combination of three materials is seen in the suit coat illustrated. The underskirt foundation section is developed in black satin, the upper section and coat are developed in serge, and the vest and collar are of a heavy broadcloth material, rich in color and ornamental in design.

For the magnificent waistcoats which are seen, many designers use wide ribbon of fantastic design and brilliant colorings. It may be purchased at any of the shops and with the aid of a helpful pattern may be executed by the home dressmaker.

"THERE WAS A MAN."

There was a man who fancied
That by driving good and fast,
He'd get his car across the track.
Before the train came past.
He'd miss the engine by an inch,
And make the train hands sore;
There was a man who fancied this,
There isn't any more.

There was a wise old trainman
Expert at coupling cars;
He used his feet to push in place
The knuckles and draw bars.
He did it thus for many years,
And thought it was great fun;
He had two feet to push them with,
He now has only one.

Bill Jones, on the repair track,
Imagined he could do
A moment's work beneath a car
Without the flag of blue.
Well yes—he did it many times,
In spite of rule and warning;
One day an engine bumped the car,
Bill's wife is now in mourning.

Between the rails of the northbound track
Mike smoked his pipe of clay,
As "37" with Red Ball freight South.

Sped noisily on her way,
Would take four steps to clear both tracks.
These steps Mike did not take,
Then Number Four approached unheard.

Result—"An Irish Wake."
Jimmy was an active kid,
He lived beside the track.
He got on as the trains went up,
And off as they came back,
It did no good to warn him,
For Jim knew much the best
That he was in no danger,
His tombstone reads "at rest."

A FAMILY MEDICINE

In Her Mother's Home, Says This Georgia Lady, Regarding Black-Draught. Relief From Headache, Malaria, Chills, Etc.

Ringgold, Ga.— Mrs. Chas. Gaston, of this place, writes: "I am a user of Thedford's Black-Draught; in fact, it was one of our family medicines.
Also in my mother's home, when I was a child. When any of us chilren complained of headache, usually caused by constipation, she gave us a dose of Black-Draught, which would rectify the trouble. Often in the Spring, we would have malaria and chills, or troubles of this kind, we would take Black-Draught pretty regular until the liver acted well, and we would soon be up and around again. We would not be without it, for it certainly has saved us lots of doctor bills. Just a dose of Black-Draught when not so well saves a lot of days in bed."

Thedford's Black-Draught has been in use for many years in the treatment of stomach, liver and bowel troubles, and the popularity which it now enjoys is proof of its merit.

If your liver is not doing its duty,
you will suffer from such disagreeable symptoms as headache, biliousness, constipation, indigestion, etc., and unless something is done, serious trouble may result.

Thedford's Black-Draught has been found a valuable remedy for these troubles. It is purely vegetable, and acts in a prompt and natural way, regulating the liver to its proper functions and cleansing the bowels of impurities. Try it. Insist on Thedford's the original and genuine. E 75

Will Open Estelline Studio.

Mr. W. D. Orr will re-open his studio at Estelline next week. Because of war conditions, the impossibility of securing competent help etc. the studio at Estelline has remained closed for more than a year. Mr. Orr has a neat and well-equipped studio building at Estelline and, previous to the war, had a good business there; now that conditions are becoming normal he will doubtless, find business again good and that the people in that section will appreciate the convenience of having the studio open.

The work of preparation at the site of the Home People's well at Deep Lake is progressing rapidly. The derrick, which was blown down before completion, is now finished, much material has been transported and it is thought that everything will be ready to begin drilling within a week.

CLASSING COTTON FOUND PROFITABLE

formed by a number of the leading farmers of Smith County, the writer talked to a number of farmers personally and got their own story of what the cotton classing meant to them in dollars and cents so this article has to do with accomplishments rather than prospects.

It has been in the poor grade cotton that has been classed at Tyler by the official classer, W.
B. White of the Extension service of A. & M. College, that the farmers have realized their largest profits through classing, and a summary of the information the writer obtained by personal conversation with the farmers is furnished in the following table, showing the number of bales these men offered for sale, the prices they were offered before the cotton was classed, and the price they received after the cotton had been classed, and the gain to the farmer resulting from the classing:

ARNOLD & GARDNER

This table made up of actual bona fide sales, shows a total saving on twenty-three bales of $589 or an average of $25.60 a bale. Of course, it would be impractical to effect a saving of this sum on every bale of cotton grown through the simple process of having the cotton classed, but there is no question in the opinion of the many farmers with whom the writer conversed but that the cotton classing system had meant thousands of dollars to the farmers of Smith county last year and they have shown faith in the project by putting up $3,000 to carry the work on next season, now that the profit in such a system has been demonstrated by the Extension Service of the A. & M. College and the Bureau of Markets. This sum is to take care of the salary of a first-class classer and the expense of maintaining an office in which he can carry on his work.

The devil's devices to entrap the righteous are many. Lent has hardly passed before the millinery bills begin to come in.

It looks now as if the next world-war might be fought to settle a controversy as to the best way to perpetuate peace.

The recent rain-storms seem to have been destructive to the West Texas derrick crop; but they did not hurt the wheat, oat or grass crops.

The horned-frog is an ugly bird,
Villianous looking and tricky;
Except that he never says a word
You might think him bolsheviki.

You never see a newspaper filled with local advertising from a dead town! The best boosting any town can have is through advertising from live local merchants. Thanks to this, and the almost universal use of the automobile by Hall county farmers, the trade territory of Memphis has tripled in area within the past three years.

A professor of the University of Chicago says that the "first man," who lived about 425,000 years ago in Java, was an ape-like brute with a thick skull and a powerful jaw, and that he was religious. Sounds like a description of some modern political-preachers, except that it is further stated that the Java species made personal sacrifices because of his religion.

Sinful Sim says that he had a hunch early last summer when Mrs. Sim's mother and her pastor were holding political caucuses that they were plotting to put up some sort of job while he was gone to the war; but he had no idea what form their fanaticism would take until he came back from overseas and learned that the Governor of Texas had vetoed the law allowing a discharged soldier to vote.

The soldiers should be given a full year's pay,
'Tis a shame they're not permitted to vote;
Remember the fair promises we made when they,
Were urged to go after Kaiser Bill's goat.

One of the initial undertakings of the organization being formed for the development of Hall county, and this immediate section, is to take the necessary steps to secure the services of a Federal cotton classer for this county. In this connection we call the attention of our readers to an article in another column of this paper, by Mr. Buckhalter, telling of practical results obtained by the farmers of Smith county. Judging from the results shown there the new organization will be well worth the trouble and expense if it shall succeed in its first effort even if it should never do anything else.

A British gent.
On a voyage bent,
Hesitates on the Emerald Isle;
His published notion
Is to cross the ocean,
But he seems content to wait a while.

Bolshevist propaganda, it is said, was the cause of the recent mutiny of American troops in Russia, a company of whom refused to obey an order to proceed to the front. That may have been true; but it is probable that the men did not need any one to tell them that since war upon Russia had not been declared by Congress, as the constitution provides, there would be but little risk in defying authority thus usurped. Practically all the Americans now in the army in Russia are drafted men; many of them well-educated, such men are not likely to be impressed by propaganda from an ignorant mob, such we are told is now in control in Russia.

"The cleanest town in the Panhandle." Strange as it may seem Memphis once enjoyed this distinction, and the satisfaction, of truthfully making this claim; but she can not now reasonably do so. We have in recent years had annual "clean-up" campaigns; but the efforts put forth have lacked the interest and enthusiasm necessary to thorough and effective work. To accomplish this work with the thoroughness needed to make and keep Memphis a really clean town, as it once was, will require the arousing of a public spirit and civic pride that is now either non-existent or dormant. Nothing but thorough organization and enthusiastic persistent agitation can effectually do this. This paper is willing to lend its help in any and every way possible, and would be pleased to have an opportunity to do so.

Reports indicate that the North Dakota Legislature, which recently adjourned, has made an unusual and an enviable record. During a session lasting less than 60 days an extraordinary number of wholesome laws were passed and a minimum of time seems to have been consumed over inconsequential matters. Five measures advocated by the organized farmers were passed and signed by the Governor.

In addition to these were a number of good laws asked for by the union labor men of that state; including a child-labor law, a full-crew law, a law prohibiting the coercing of employees by court injunctions. Over 100 farmers were members of this law-making body and they were in full control. Union labor organizations had but two members, a barber and a coal-miner, but every measure asked for by the labor organizations of the state was passed. Yet there are many professed friends of the farmers and of the laboring men who continue to warn them against allowing their organizations to take part in political matters and who continue to insist that the interests of the farmers, who are producers, and the laborers, who are consumers, are so opposed that they can not get together politically. The facts are that the interests of all workers are the same—for honest government; and their only hope to attain that is by organizing for political protection.
