PROBLEM OF GETTING RELIEF TO PRISONERS OF JAPANESE UNSOLVED

Considerably greater difficulties are being encountered by the American Red Cross in getting relief to prisoners of war in Japan and Japanese occupied territory than to American and United Nations prisoners held by the Germans, according to a lengthy and detailed report recently received from midwestern area headquarters of the Red Cross by E. N. Huddins, chairman of Home Service for the Hall County chapter.

It is reported Koeninger inadvertently stepped into the burl conveyor with his left foot, with the result that the flesh and ligaments were lacerated and torn up to his knee. Attending physicians said today his injuries, while extremely painful, are not serious.

Koeninger was brought to the hospital here in a Womack Funeral Home ambulance.

CLAUDE'S Comments

It is surprising how many old useless kegs can be found around one's home. Last week a paper salesman left a small cardboard box about a quart size, saying he would pick it up the next time he came around (about 4 weeks from now). Already the box is over-filled, and the keys have just started coming in. As the mail arrives for larger containers they will be provided. Let's load that paper salesman down folks so he will either have to ship by freight or make an extra trip to carry them. Keys have some metal in them that are very vital to the war effort. When the delivery boy comes around your home, impose on his good nature to bring those old keys from your home to The Democrat office.

Are you saving those tin cans? Cut out both ends then flatten and store in dry place. Your country will be calling for them soon. Also, save grease fats--needed now.

Three-Day Rains Last Week Halt Cotton Gathering

Slight Reduction in Grade Seen as Only Damage Done By 3.34 Inches of Moisture

Heavy rains which last week drenched the Memphis area brought cotton picking and other activities incident to the harvest season to a complete standstill for several days.

During three days of rainfall, a total of 3.34 inches of moisture fell, it is reported by J. J. Mickin, local weather observer. The heaviest precipitation was on Wednesday, when 1.78 inches came down over a period of several hours. Thursday was partially clear with no moisture, but showers started again Friday morning and continued with varying intensity and almost without interruption for some 48 hours. The fall for Friday was .58 and for Saturday .98 of an inch.

The slow nature of the rainfall coupled with the fact there was little wind in this area, served to reduce damage to the big cotton crop to a minimum, farmers agree.

A fractional lowering of the grade is expected temporarily, due to a slight bluish tinge imparted by moisture, but it is believed that continued fair weather will serve to bleach out the staple.

Clear skies and bright sunshine prevailing since Sunday have rapidly dried out the fields; cotton pickers are busy today and the ginning plants of the county are again running at capacity.

Two Forged Checks Cashed by Memphis Business Houses

Merchants Told to Demand Identification in Cashing Checks for Any Strangers

Passing of two forged checks on local business houses during the past week should serve as a warning to merchants to be very cautious about cashing checks for strangers, Sheriff W. C. Anderson said today.

The cotton picking season has brought a large number of strangers to this area to work in the fields and it would be unusual if there were not a few dishonest ones among them, the sheriff pointed out. The fact that many farmers pay their help with checks provides an opportunity for crooks to get by with forgery in busy stores.

In cashing checks for strangers the merchant will be only protecting his own interests to demand identification. Any objection to such a procedure would be an indication that an attempt is being made to pass a worthless check.

When forged or "hot" checks are cashed, there is little chance to recover the money, the sheriff declared. Even if caught, the passer will most likely have spent the ill-gotten money.

OPA Asks Owners To Sell All Tires In Excess of Five

Program Now Voluntary But Will Be Mandatory After Gas Rationing in Effect

A campaign, on a voluntary basis, to buy up idle tires and tubes in excess of five per car is being conducted by the Office of Price Administration. With the launching of national gas rationing, now set for November 22, regulations will require every passenger car owner to certify that he has no more than five tires per car before he will be allowed to get or keep a gasoline ration book.

Owners are simply asked to keep their five best tires and tubes per car and deliver all others to the nearest railway express office. The agent will give a receipt.

19 Women Finish Red Cross Course In Home Nursing

Final Examination Is Held Tuesday Evening; Will Get Certificates From Austin

A class of 19 women took their final examinations Tuesday night at the Red Cross rooms in the approved Red Cross course in home nursing, which they have been studying two evenings each week for the past six weeks. The class has been taught by Mrs. W. Wilson, registered nurse.

In connection with the final meeting of the class, a "commencement" address was given by Mrs. Inez Baker, who emphasized the importance of the knowledge and training gained by those taking the course in the care of sick persons in the home. She pointed out, in view of the great demand for doctors and nurses in the armed forces, that occasions are bound to arise in the future in which this knowledge will be invaluable in meeting emergencies.

The examination papers of the 19 students will be mailed to Austin, together with records of attendance and application, and those deemed to have successfully completed the study course will receive certificates from state.

Home on the Deep-- Boat Solves Family's Housing Problem

The exigencies of wartime housing in the busy defense area around Port Arthur has been pleasantly and economically circumvented by R. L. Brooke, former Memphis man and nephew of Mrs. J. M. Lane of this city, according to a feature story appearing in the Fort Worth Press recently.

Ants, roaches, weeds and those other foes of domestic felicity, do not menace the housekeeping happiness of the Brooke family, which includes Jimmie, 4, and Manya, 2 because they make their home aboard a schooner moored at the yacht club.

Evenings when Brooke comes home from his job as draftsman at a manufacturing company, he sits in solid comfort on a boom and reads the paper, pleasantly oblivious to the rattle of lawn mowers pushed by perspiring burghers throughout the city's suburbs.

"It is the life," says Brooke casting a paternal eye along the length of his 50-foot auxiliary schooner. "It is less expensive than a house and it carries the added advantages of mobility." Brooke rented a house when he first moved to Port Arthur, but was forced to move a few days later when the place was sold. He couldn't find another dwelling (Continued on page 5)

Women Work— CIVILIAN DEFENSE AUXILIARY NOTES

By INEZ BAKER

The business women's class made the first surgical dressings for the Hall County Chapter last Thursday night. There were ten women working and 200 4x4 flats were made. Our quota calls for 18,000 of this one item, and as one lady said there now only 17,800 more to make. Our fingers were a little clumsy at the start but we can do better next time. Or, maybe the women working in the afternoons will finish these before we have another chance. But there are several thousand dressings to be made, also many blouses and shirts to be finished. Please do realize there is much to be done.

The Red Cross has instructed classes in First Aid, Nutrition and Home Nursing in Hall County. The latter class finished this week. We consider this one of the most important things to know, how to take care of the sick in our own homes. Soon the shortage of doctors and nurses will be more serious than the shortage of tires, for they are being called to the army and navy at the rate of several thousand each month.

Now comes Mrs. Taylor's Bible class of the Methodist church with $7.00, a dollar each for its seven members. This is the oldest Sunday school class in Memphis and is known as the 100 Per Cent Class, because each member gives one hundred per cent of her services and each holds an office in the class, as follows: Mrs. W. R. Taylor, teacher; Mrs. Wilber Jones, assistant teacher; Mrs. T. R. Franks, president; Mrs. S. O. Greene, secretary; Mrs. J. B. Wrenn, treasurer; Mrs. W. M. Hill, devotional; Mrs. T. R. Blades, hostess. They have also just finished seven baby afghans for the Red Cross and a quilt for the Methodist Orphanage. In olden times the number 7 was considered as one pertaining to wisdom.

We wish we could share with you the great joy we have in receiving and checking the gifts coming in for the Kit Fund. Last Friday, (our birthday) a pretty little girl from Junior High came into the office and gave us an envelope, saying: "I have brought you this for the Kit Fund. There is a note inside." On opening the envelope we found, quarters, dimes, nickels and pennies, and this note: "The Citizenship Clubs of Sections 71, 72 and 73 are happy to turn in $3.00 for Comfort Kits, Pres. Sec. Section 71 Gayle Stillwell; Pres. Sec. 72 Doris Kesterson; Pres. Sec. 73 Mary Nell Evans."

Well folks, this is just about broke your reporter down. Citizenship Clubs, Webster says: "Citizen free man of a city or country; Citizenship, the state of being vested with the rights and privileges of a citizen." Citizenship Clubs! FREE MEN, helping to win this war, so that there will be a tomorrow for America. The little note goes into our war scrap book, along with other treasures—pictures of our men in the service and stories of their bravery. It is the nicest birthday present we ever received.

And other gifts pour in to make us glad. From teachers, grandmothers, farm wives, nurses, organizations who serve mankind who are mindful of heroes of other wars, whose beginning dates back to the time of Solomon. Mrs. H. B. Estes $1.00; Mrs. Forest Hall and mother, Mrs. Alice Smith, $2.00; Mrs. Gerald Knight (for Smith Club) $1.00; Mrs. W. Wilson $1.00; The U. S. D. C. $5.00; Methodist W. S. C. $5.00; The Masonic lodge $10.00.

Please remember the hospital articles, which are so much needed. Many of these can be made from scraps you will find at home. One club in Amarillo is furnishing material and making layettes. Also Amarillo has a Navy Mothers' Club. There has been some talk of a War Mothers' Club here. Has anything been done about it?

Role of Power Industry in War Effort Recognized by Magazine

E. M. Wilson, local manager of the West Texas Utilities, said yesterday that the tribute to the nation's natural resource industries, in the latest issue of Industrial News Review, "of course includes such industries in this part of West Texas."

An editorial in the Review referred to light and power, coal and oil. "West Texas can't claim much production of coal," Wilson said, "but as for the rest, we can be justly proud of our contribution to the war effort."

In part, the editorial says: "The job of the natural resource industries are doing on behalf of the war effort deserves national-wide recognition and admiration."

"The power and light utilities are among those industries. For many years, the utilities have been subjected to the most bitter kind of political and legislative attack. They have been subjected, in addition, to tax-subsidized competition from the socialized power systems built by the government. Yet, in the face of these tremendous difficulties, they have successfully met any and all demands for power. They have expanded their plants to the limit of their abilities. They are serving war industries, consumer industry, agriculture and homes with complete efficiency and at an extremely low cost."

"Around 90 per cent of all the commercially-generated power in this country is produced by the private utilities—and in some of our major industrial areas, where key war plants are situated, they produce all the power."

ODT Ruling Covers Farmers Trucks

Owners of farm trucks will need to acquaint themselves with the new government orders which vitally affect them, and they can get help in so doing through the county agent's office, says W. B. Hooser.

A new regulation of the Office of Defense Transportation requires a Certificate of War Necessity for the operation of farm trucks as well as other trucks, buses and taxis. The regulation becomes effective November 15.

"The Extension Service is interested in helping farmers and ranchers conserve their equipment for war purposes," Hooser asserts.

Certificates of War Necessity will govern a truck's maximum mileage or minimum loads, or both, and no operator subject to the order will be able to obtain gasoline, tires or parts without a certificate. Enforcement officers of all states and political divisions have been authorized to report violations of the order.

Owners and operators of farm trucks and other commercial vehicles will make applications for their certificates on forms supplied by field officers of the ODT. They will also be required to keep records of their operations.

GASOLINE RATIONING NEXT STEP

With gasoline-mileage rationing to start a month from now, interest of Southwestern motorists centers in plans for registration.

The period of registering every passenger car actually starts next week when the County War Price and Rationing Board will make available at centrally located places the application forms that every car owner will have to fill out to obtain his ration book.

The filled application forms will be turned in beginning November 9 at school houses and other designated registration places. Start of rationing is set for November 22.

Between now and registration November 9, everyone has the opportunity to learn the part he is called on to play to reduce the nation's use of rubber and how to qualify for a mileage rationing book.

The first requirement to obtain a ration book will be to dispose of all tires in excess of five for each passenger car. This can be done by taking the surplus tires to the nearest Railway Express office, or in cities where there is an express pickup service the express company will call for the tires if notified by telephone or mail.

The serial number of each tire will have to be given on the ration application for each car. Between now and the start of rationing persons driving their cars to and from work should get a ride swapping club in operation as such ride sharing will be a necessary requirement to obtain supplemental gasoline for excessive mileage.

Above all, each driver should stay under 35 miles an hour. In addition to preparations for registration of passenger cars by the office of Price Administration, the Office of Defense Transportation is proceeding rapidly to supply owners of trucks and commercial vehicles with certificates of war necessity on which they will obtain gasoline, tires and replacement parts beginning Nov. 15.

Mailing of application blanks has just about been completed by the ODT and machinery has been set up to issue the certificates from Detroit as rapidly as the applications are returned there.

The ODT urges care in the filling out of the forms, and where help is needed on the forms, the ODT advises truck owners to seek the assistance of the County Farm War Board.

Truck owners will not have to register for gasoline rationing since they will obtain their ration books by presenting their certificates of war necessity to the ration board.

The increasing range of various kinds of war controls, restrictions and use of materials, production and service point to the fact that the nation is entering a stage of war economy in which everyone will have less choice of all the things he might want—even though he has the money.

After the first of the year, with even more drastic cuts in the manufacture of civilian goods, all will begin to notice how thoroughly our way of living is under-going changes. Travel by bus or train, already somewhat difficult, may be further restricted. Shipping household goods by freight will take longer because all freight cars will have to be loaded to full capacity.

With some 15 million persons now engaged in direct war work, more millions will have to be poured into their reservoir of war labor to replace those drained away into the armed forces and to take care of next year's expansion in production.

In preparation for the new year the Department of Agriculture last week called on farmers who raise vegetables for the winter and spring markets to increase their acreage of carrots, lima beans, snap beans and onions, and to maintain the 1942 production of other vegetables except for a sharp reduction urged in the planting of cantaloupes, cucumbers, cauliflower, eggplant, watermelons, green peppers and asparagus.

Winter Legume Seed Move from West Coast to South

With a shortage of nitrogen fertilizers resulting from the war, Southern farmers more and more are turning to winter legumes, which not only return nitrogen to the soil but also protect the land from winter winds and rains. West Coast farmers produce most of this seed. This year they produced about 220 million pounds—enough to plant 7 million acres. It takes 2,000 freight cars to ship this amount of seed. The upper left-hand photo shows Austrian winter pea seed being harvested in Oregon. Upper right, the seed have been cleaned and sacked and are ready for shipment. Lower left, bags of seed are loaded on a freight car. Lower right, one of the 40 solid train loads of seed being shipped from West Coast States to farmers throughout the South. Farmers can obtain this seed from their local AAA offices, and have the cost deducted from their AAA payments.

In addition to assisting farmers in filling out applications for certificates of War Necessity, the County Farm Transportation Committee will be responsible for developing conservation transportation plans. Under plans now being formulated, they also will be asked in the near future to provide information which the War Price and Rationing Board will use in rationing tires, tubes, recaps and gasoline and other fuels.

Certificates of War Necessity must be obtained by operators of the following vehicles: All types of trucks and other rubber-tired vehicles propelled or drawn by mechanical power and built or rebuilt primarily for the purpose of transporting property, except motorcycles, as well as all motor vehicles used in the transportation of passengers, or which are available for public rentals, including ambulances and hearses. Private passenger cars are not included.

Application blanks and instructions on how to fill them out are being mailed by the ODT to every person registered in 1942 as the owner of a truck, bus, taxicab, ambulance, hearse, jitney, or other motor vehicle available for public rental. ODT will announce when mailings to particular states and counties are completed. Any owner who does not receive an application blank when these announcements are made should apply to the nearest ODT field office.

The purpose of the Certificate of War Necessity is to confine truck operations to those which are necessary to the war effort or to the essential domestic economy, and to make the most use possible out of each vehicle. To this end, the certificate will set the maximum mileage and the minimum loads for each truck or vehicle for which a certificate is issued.

Without a certificate a truck cannot be operated lawfully and without a certificate, no gasoline tires or repair parts can be obtained. Possession of the certificate will not, in itself, make an operator eligible for new tires however.

In order to keep his certificate, an operator will be required to keep a weekly record of all operations on a form provided on the back of each certificate. Also the tires of every vehicle affected must be checked at an inspection agency designated by the Office of Price Administration every 5,000 miles, or at the end of each 60-day period, whichever occurs first.

Copies are available at the office of the Hall County War Price and Rationing Board at Estelline, and at sub-office in Memphis.

PLETCHER JOINS NAVAL RESERVE

Bill Pletcher, former athletic coach of Memphis High School has enlisted in the United States Naval Reserve, according to information forwarded from the Dallas recruiting station. Pletcher will have a rating of chief specialist (athletic) and will serve as physical or drill instructor in the Navy's gigantic physical fitness program, which is headed by Commander Gene Tunney, former world heavyweight boxing champion.

He will first be sent to a Navy training station, to go through an intensive indoctrination course and later he will be assigned to a base or perhaps aboard ship, according to Lt. L. H. Ridout, officer-in-charge of the Dallas station. The Hereford, frequently referred to as the "White-face," is the predominant animal of the Texas cattle range.

socking last Friday night at Wellington from the fiery Skyrockets. In three non-conference games so far this season, the Cyclone has lost two and won one. The defeats were administered by much more powerful teams—Lockney 39 to 0 and the Berger Bulldogs, a Class AA outfit, 24 to 0. The Cyclone dished out to the Paducah Dragons a 31 to 0 shellacking, showing power both on the ground and in the air.

Next Friday night's game will give more than a hint of how the Cyclone squad is going to stand up in conference competition, as the Lefors Pirates are opponents worthy of their best efforts. The set-to should draw a large attendance.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

The Aerial Camera for use on Scout and Observation and Reconnaissance planes is essential to both the Army and Navy air forces in planning battle formations and in obtaining information on enemy fortifications and movements. They look something like a cannon, and cost about $3,400 apiece.

The aerial cameraman can plot wide territories in bold relief so that Army or Navy Intelligence can make accurate measurements of enemy territory. We need many of these cameras so necessary to the air arms of the Army and Navy. You can help buy them with your purchases of War Bonds. Invest at least ten percent of your income every pay day, and help your country go over its War Bond Quota.

TOOL USERS AND TOOL OWNERS

In a recent advertisement signed by a well-known business concern, this statement appeared: "My boss has 14 Grand tied up in me." What that slangy use of words meant was that the average employee in industry represents a capital investment—in property, plant, machinery and equipment—of $14,000. In other words, labor has jobs only when some business man, or group of investors, puts up the money necessary for the creation of jobs.

It was well said recently, by a student of economics, that men in governmental authority too often forget that while the rights of workers are being considered, the owner of the tools used by workers must also have some consideration. After this war is over, the plants now devoted to military needs must be re-converted to peace-time activity; must be re-tooled for the kind of production they were engaged in when it became necessary to tool up for war. Labor will expect peace-time jobs then, but somebody must provide the money for re-converting and re-tooling. That money cannot be forthcoming unless enough profits or capital can be stored up to meet such requirements.

The First Job Americans are impatient people, says the Farm Journal. Impatience never won a war. Soundly planned action, backed by enough power, wins victories. The job now is not to remake America, but to save it.

One of Texas' most significant industrial developments of the last few years has been the building of the first paper mill to make newsprint from Southern pine.

Necessity mothered the idea of a boat (he has always been somewhat marine-minded), and he went to Houston, where he found a schooner for sale at $2,200. "Housekeeping on a boat does have some disadvantages," Mrs. Brooke admits. "Our children haven't learned to swim, and there's 10 feet of water off the side. I solve that problem by closing the companionway and keeping them below decks unless I'm on the topside with them." The "Valkyrie," water-born home of the Brookes, has four compact staterooms, a bath and a galley.

USEFUL KNOWLEDGE

EIGHTEEN Memphis women and one from Lakeview Tuesday night "graduated" in home nursing, the latest Red Cross sponsored course to be taught here. These women are to be congratulated upon having acquired additional knowledge that will be useful to them, not only in wartime, but for the rest of their lives.

The armed forces of the United States, expanding to unprecedented size, are calling more and more doctors and nurses to the colors. This can only mean that the services of those left in civilian life will be much in demand—often to an extent beyond human capability. Therefore, the knowledge of how properly to care for the sick will be valuable in months to come.

The women who have taken time out from their daily activities to equip themselves for this duty have prepared themselves to be of greater service to their families and neighbors in times of stress.

Excerpts from the Official OEM Bulletin

Scrap Shipped from Texas Yards
A total of 59,448 tons of metal was shipped to the nation's steel mills in September by Texas scrap yards, Thomas L. Mullican, WPB auto graveyard chief for the state, announced. October shipments are expected to be much higher, as a result of the newspaper-school scrap drives.

Mechanics Needed in Expanded Program
Over-age mechanics, men eligible for military service and hobby metal shop owners are being sought for employment in the expanded war production program. These men should register at their nearest U. S. Employment Service office, so they will be readily available for employment in shops making bits and pieces and repair parts for military equipment.

Housewives Help Keep Prices Down
With housewives, long schooled in thrift-marketine, will rest most of the responsibility for keeping food prices down, Price Administrator Leon Henderson has advised. With 90 per cent of food prices now under price ceilings it is the wartime duty of every housewife to make sure she does not pay more for foods than she paid during the five-day period September 28 through October 2. The price administrator suggested a check list, including prices paid for poultry, mutton, butter, cheese and eggs, canned milk, onions, white potatoes, dry beans, corn meal, fresh citrus fruits, and canned citrus fruit and juices, recently brought under price control by OPA.

Bans Manufacture of Scales
Production of household scales and of commercial scales for retail trade has been banned by WPB order. Continued manufacture of repair parts is permitted, except for household scales.

Protein Content Guaranteed
Guaranteed minimum percent ages of protein for most meat scraps and digester tankage, used as animal feeding stuffs, have been established by OPA to prevent a diversion of supplies from their normal distribution channels. No premium is allowed for deficiencies.

Containers Assured for Truck Crops
Enough containers will be available next year to enable canners and growers of beets, carrots, and spinach to handle a minimum of 125 per cent of their 1940 pack, officials estimate. This information was published in order to permit canners' and growers to make plans for their 1943 pack, as planting season for these vegetables is approaching.

Women Urged to Save Used Hosiery
An appeal to women all over the nation to save worn and discarded silk and nylon hosiery has been issued by WPB's textile and leather branch. The Conservator Division of WPB now is planning a national salvage campaign to old hosiery, which will be used primarily to make powder bags. The WPB order freezing used silk hosiery in the hands of dealers has been amended to bring used nylon hosiery under its provisions. Sales are permitted only to the Defense Supplies corporation.

WPB Deals Golfers Another Blow
Golfers are hearing up under the third WPB order directed against the implements of their sport. The most recent blow came through an amendment to order L-93 which rules that no more iron, steel and other such critical materials can be used for manufacture of repair and replacement parts for golf clubs. After the current stocks of repairs are exhausted, no more repair parts will be available. Production of golf balls was cut off last April 1, and manufacture of clubs ended on June 30.

Students Will Christen Liberty Ships
School children of the nation will name and christen 49 Liberty ships, in connection with the school salvage campaign which ended officially on Oct. 17. Children may suggest names of distinguished citizens of their states now deceased, through a state committee. Representative students from three schools in each state which collected the most scrap per pupil during the campaign will christen the ships.

Sometimes It Works
If you are driving along a highway at the prescribed 35 miles an hour and somebody goes past you as if you were standing still, the other driver is of course violating the 35-mile limit. A Wichitan who was observing the limit and who was overtaken by someone who wasn't, tried out a plan which worked right nicely. He sounded a V-for-victory honk with his honker, three short and one long. And it had the effect of slowing the other man down to the proper speed. He probably had just forgotten to watch his speedometer. You might try it when occasion arises. We can't give any assurance that it will work, but there'll be no harm in trying.—John Gould in The Wichita Times.

Queer Questions
As the American forces pour constantly into the British Isles to the rescue of all Nazi-dominated and martyred populations in Europe, there have been interesting and sometimes queer questions brought up in the Anglo-American relations.

In England, millions of people who have never seen an American have acquired most of their knowledge of the United States from movies made in this country. What impressions of America these films have left must be a grave matter of concern to those who are interested in Anglo-American relations.

A number of puzzling questions are often asked of Americans: Are all movie actresses really beautiful? Do the people in Texas sing cowboy songs all the time? Why do you pay a radio crooner more than the president? Will the United States continue to be interested in Europe and international affairs after the war?

Why hasn't there been more sabotage in America with all the foreigners you have over there? Why do Americans drink ice water all the time? It is a good omen that the intellectuals of both countries are now spending more and more effort in attempting to interpret the people on one side of the Atlantic to the people on the other side.—Quannah Tribune-Chief.

CENSORED

IT'S ALL YOURS

...and the Japanazis Have Nothing Like It

You: And, pray tell, what is it we have that the Japanazis have nothing like—and is censored?

Reddy: It WAS a road map of Uncle Sam's electric power. It DID show how high voltage transmission lines criss-cross the country—carrying power to busy war plants and to 27 million homes. It's censored as to location of cities and plants because we're glad to cooperate in concealing information that might aid the enemy.

You: What else can you tell me about it?

Reddy: This: It's the greatest electric system in the world. No other nation has anything like it. The famous British "grid system" could be dropped into one small section. It carries more power than all the Axis countries combined.

You: And how did we obtain it?

Reddy: This nation-wide transmission net work was put together in peacetime to serve you and all Americans. It was built with the savings of the people it serves... individual citizens, churches, colleges, savings banks, insurance companies, all whom invested their savings in sound electric securities. It is operated under the American system of free enterprise by men and women trained and experienced in good business management. Their success depends on bringing the greatest service to the greatest number of homes at the lowest possible cost.

You: H-u-u-m-m. Quite different from the Nazi system. Under the Japanazis, their system of political management, or state slavery, the individual, or his institutions, is nothing. Only bureaucrats and political favorites have anything to be for.

Reddy: Yes. And in the long run, we won't win wars! Here in West Texas in this whole country... everybody has a personal stake in Victory—and in preserving the American way of living which made us the strongest nation on earth!

"Let me read your newspaper and I'll tell you what kind of a town you have."

This blunt statement is attributed to a leader of finance and industry, whose interest was being sought by a certain community. Later this man was asked to elaborate his statement. His reply is a challenge to everyone who has the interest of his community at heart.

"Show me a community that has a live, aggressive newspaper, made possible by well-filled advertising pages representative of local interests, and I'll show you the town that is headed for growth and development."

This is evidence of the degree in which the newspaper of today has come to be held as accurately reflecting the community which it serves.

Clothes Merchants May Get Booklets Explaining Ceilings

Men's and Boys' Tailored Garments and Work Clothes Covered by Price Rulings

Merchants who sell clothing were advised today by C. L. Sloan, chairman of the Hall County War Price and Rationing Board, that his office now has a quantity of pamphlets explaining how to set ceiling prices for men's and boy's tailored garments and staple work clothing.

"A quantity of these pamphlets is now available for any merchant who will come to my office," Sloan said, "and the pricing of these articles of clothing is explained in a very clear manner."

It is important that every merchant in the city or county have one of these pamphlets for a reference in his store. One of the pamphlets deals with Maximum Price Regulation No. 177, governing the prices for men's and boy's tailored garments such as suits with short pants, suits with knicker or golf pants, suits with long pants, and suits with breeches separate coats, including sport coats, sack coats and blouses made in the manner commonly used for coats, separate vests, ceremonial and religious vestments, topcoats and overcoats.

The other pamphlet deals with Maximum Price Regulation No. 20 governing the price of staple work clothing such as bib overalls, overall jackets, waist-band overalls or dungarees, work shirts and pants, one-piece work suits and work breeches, and such clothing materials as denim, carded yarn shirting chambrays and covers; finished jeans and drills, cottonades whipcords, moleskins and twills.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

The 75-millimeter gun is a divisional weapon used by the Artillery as an anti-tank gun. It has been replaced to some extent by the more modern "105", known as the heaviest of divisional weapons. The 75-mm gun costs $12,000 and has been converted by our Ordnance into a "blaster" twice as efficient as in the first World War.

This gun gets maximum power for minimum weight and cost, and the American people are providing the finance through the purchase of War Bonds. If you do your share and invest 10 per cent of your income in War Bonds, adequate supply of this efficient gun can be assured our fighting forces. Buy War Bonds every pay day.

'Devil' Employed To Clean Pipeline

The services of a "devil" were recently employed in the work of maintaining dependable natural gas service to industrial and city gate customers of United Gas Pipe Line Company, according to an announcement made this week by company officials.

The "devil" is really an internal pipe line scraper which the pipe liners call a "go-devil" or "rabbit." It is put into a pipe line and forced through by gas pressure at a moderate rate of speed. It cleans the inner walls of the pipe over distances ranging from one to five miles at a time, depending on the location of valves or other attachments to the line which stops its progress. It is then removed and again inserted on the other side of the obstacle where it continues its run.

United Gas Pipe Line company employees have been experimenting with the "go-devil" since 1940 as a means of maintaining efficiency of natural gas lines. A device of the same name, but entirely different in construction is used by oil companies to remove paraffin from the inner walls of oil pipe lines.

The deposits inside a natural gas line are very minute, consisting mostly of a fine scale, deposited in the steel mills where the pipe was manufactured. This method of cleaning natural gas lines affects every customer because it is a means of helping to meet the demands of wartime industries for more fuel without curtailing supply to domestic consumers.

Yes, modern vitamins well deserve the term of "magic manna," so astonishing is the part they play in restoring vigor and sparkle to listless individuals. If you are not "up to par" physically; if you seem to lack appetite and energy, then it may well be that a vitamin deficiency is robbing you. Better go and have a talk with your Physician. He will be able to diagnose your condition, determine the particular vitamins you require, and prescribe them as indicated. And may we suggest that you bring his prescription here to be carefully compounded. Our stocks are fresh and potent.
