

Paul James Succumbs After Stroke Of Apoplexy

On the LEVEL

a colym by
William Russell Clark

It is not given to every man to be a "hero in the strife," but if ever a man were worthy of the name—that man was Paul James. For a number of years, his name has been linked with the history of Memphis and Hall County, as a man who was unafraid to voice his opinions and convictions; as an outstanding band director, musician, booster, friend. Surely, a first citizen of the town and county he served so long and well has gone to dwell with his fathers.

Paul James was one of the few men in public life who would understand his fellowmen. He could always see the other fellow's point of view, and while perhaps not agreeing with him, still he had an open mind. Sincere in his beliefs, he was not a person to let his thoughts go to seed, but rather, as a man of action, he will be remembered for the countless things he did to promote unity of fellowship, a progressive attitude, a willingness to achieve.

I recall a conversation I had with him on Friday, April 4. I was on my way to the postoffice, when Paul stopped me. We talked over innumerable matters. We discussed, in particular, the criticism of the public. "No man is worthy of his salt who is immune to criticism," Paul said. "If there are men in a community important enough to be criticized, it is a good omen. It proves that they have something to them, or otherwise, they would not be noticed." Those were his words and I agreed with him.

Paul was always thinking ahead—planning for the future. He told me that for years he had been desirous of seeing public school music become a part of the school curriculum. He told me that he would prefer to give up his other work and confine his activities solely to instructing young people in music. Paul James never grew old. His was the eternal youth that pays tribute to old age but refuses to recognize it as such.

In all the many honors that came to Paul as director of the Texas Gold Medal Band, he shared them unselfishly with the band membership and the community at large. On every trip the band took, Paul never set himself upon a pedestal as director, but rather, he worked in the ranks. He was one of the boys. He took what was coming to them. He never asked for favors his men were not entitled to receive.

Gifted as a musician, Paul

Singers To Gather At Easter Meeting

Singers from all sections of Hall County will gather at the Plaska school on Easter Sunday for an all day singing convention, according to Wesley J. Mangum, who will be in charge of the meeting. Many prominent singers of Hall and adjoining counties are expected to be present on that occasion and to take part in the day's program, according to Mangum.

Mangum stated that a report had been circulated recently that the convention would be held on Sunday, April 13, and many people have been making arrangements to attend on that day, but due to the fact that the Plaska people were not expecting the convention until Easter Sunday, it will not be held until that date. A quartette from Quannah will be special guests at the gathering and will render a number of selections, it was said.

Plans For Spring Style Show At Palace Nearing Completion

Plans for the Spring Style Show to be presented at the Palace Theatre Monday and Tuesday evenings, April 14 and 15, are nearing completion, it was announced this week. The show is sponsored by the Business and Professional Women's Club of Memphis. Five merchants are planning to enter models, selected from the young people of this city, to model sport togs, afternoon and street dresses, pajamas and evening dresses. The B. Y. C. Store and J. R. Jones and Company are to exhibit the latest in men's wear. The Marilyn Shoppe, J. R. Jones and Company and C. E. Stone Company are to show ladies' dresses. A. Baldwin and the B.

Y. C. Store will show pajamas. Music and Dancing Music and dancing will add variety to the program. Ben Weiss is to be featured in a dance number. The ever popular favorite of the Football Follies, Albert Pearson, will render a song number. Another Follies' favorite, Annie Ruth Johnson, will sing as well as model. Music will be furnished by Carl Reese. The department heads, representing the five stores, are making enthusiastic plans, and promise a novel and interesting Fashion Parade. The all-talking picture, "They Learn About Women," is a clean and lively comedy and promises to be well worth the seeing.

Director Dies

Paul A. James, who died Tuesday night, following a stroke of apoplexy Monday afternoon, was one of the outstanding band directors of the Southwest, having led the Texas Gold Medal Band in many championship contests. He had been connected with the local band, off and on, since 1910, and was prominent in musical circles over the state. He was president of the Texas Bandmasters' Association at the time of his death.

Regional Director Present As Ground Is Given Girl Scouts

The "adventure" of Girl Scouting, as expressed by Miss Margaret Twohy, Girl Scout Regional Director, was verified in the busy day enjoyed by Girl Scouts of Memphis Wednesday, with Miss Twohy as their honor guest. She brought to three schools, High School, Junior High and West Ward an inspirational message to encourage youth in the great game of living. At the Memphis Country Club at one o'clock a luncheon was held, taken part in by several members of the Girl Scout Council, honoring Miss Twohy. Those present were Mrs. C. R. Webster, Commissioner; Mrs. Seth Palmeyer, chairman of the Court of Awards; Mrs. T. C. Delaney, local director; Miss Ver-nadine Jones, first lieutenant of Troop 4, and Miss Verna Crump, Council treasurer. Ground Is Donated Miss Twohy addressed the Junior Advisory Board of the Girl Scouts at the Public Library at 3:30 Wednesday afternoon, and several senior members of the Advisory Board. The climax of the day came when the plot of ground at the south end of Tenth street was presented the Girl Scouts by Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Broome. Mr. Broome presented the deed to the land and Mrs. Broome added words of appreciation and encouragement. Betty Dale West accepted the gift. Short talks were also made by Lyman Robbins and Miss Twohy.

NOTED DIRECTOR HAD ACHIEVED MANY HONORS

Had Been In Charge Of Memphis Band Since 1910

Paul A. James, 49 years, 7 months and 25 days old, who had been actively identified with the life of Memphis and Hall County with the exception of a few years since 1910, died at a local hospital at 8:40 o'clock Tuesday night, following a stroke of apoplexy which occurred while he was playing golf late Monday afternoon on the links of the Memphis Country Club. Mr. James had complained of a headache earlier in the day, and mentioned the fact after he had started his game. Of a sudden, he told his companions that he was done for and could not see.

Hurried to Hospital Realizing the seriousness of his condition, W. C. Dickey and Tom Dunbar hurried with Mr. James to a local hospital. Their earlier surmises had been correct as the physician in charge announced that Mr. James had suffered a stroke of apoplexy and was in a serious condition. After arriving at the hospital, he never regained consciousness and his condition gradually grew worse until he expired early Tuesday evening. Paul A. James, Jr., was communicated with as soon as it was possible after Mr. James became ill and arrived in Memphis early Tuesday morning.

Was Born in Denton Paul James was born in Denton, Texas, on August 13, 1880. Much of his early youth was spent in and around Quannah. On April 14, 1900, Mr. James was married to Miss Hallie Tom Reed, who was born and reared in Quannah. Their children were born to this union: Paul A. James, Jr., and Mary Elizabeth James, who died in infancy. Surviving Mr. James are his wife and son, Paul James, Jr., three brothers and two sisters. A. B. James, of Los Angeles, California; Tylee James, of Denver, Colorado; T. M. James, of Quannah; Mr. George W. Green and Miss Myr James, of Quannah.

Body Lies in State Funeral services were conducted at the First Presbyterian church Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock by Dr. J. Hardin Maillard, assisted by Rev. H. A. Shay, Rev. E. T. Miller, and Dr. Ernest E. Robinson. The body was taken from the King funeral parlors at 12 noon and lay in state at the Presbyterian church until 2 o'clock. The altar was banked high in a profusion of beautiful spring blossoms, attesting to the high esteem in which Mr. James was held by a wide concourse of friends.

Executive Returns From Scout Parle

I. E. Jolly, Scout Executive of the Southeast Panhandle Area Boy Scouts of America, returned Tuesday night of this week from a two weeks trip to Fort Worth and Dallas, where he attended several meetings of Boy Scout officials. He attended the Nin Regional Executive meeting at the Texas Hotel in Fort Worth, March 28 and 29. Following that stay in Fort Worth, he went to Camp Wisdom, located 18 miles south of Dallas, where he attended a camp for Scout leaders which lasted for the period of one week. Jolly stated that he lived in the open, cooked part of his meals and attended classes in camping. Many of the lead camp instructors in the Boy Scout organization were present at the camp and gave many hours of interesting instruction. Jolly expects to make use of the ideas got.

PUPILS ENTERED INFESTIVAL BY 3 TEACHERS

Competition To Take Place Next Week In Amarillo

Three music teachers of Memphis will enter pupils in the seventeenth annual Panhandle Music Festival, which will be held in Amarillo, April 16, 17 and 18. Mrs. Elmer S. Shelley will enter fifteen pupils in addition to the high school glee club; Mrs. Conly Ward will enter two pupils, and Mrs. Margaret Morgan-Andrews will enter eight pupils. The soloists will go to Amarillo on next Tuesday afternoon and the glee club on Wednesday.

Pupils To Compete Mrs. Shelley's pupils will be as follows: Vera Neely, piano, 15 year class; Dorothy Jones, piano, 14 year class; Virginia Orr, piano, 12 year class; Juanita Jones, piano, 9 and under; Mary Ellen Hamilton and Lorraine McCowan, piano, 15 and under; V. L. McGlocklin, bass, twenty and under; Clarence Jackson, tenor, 20 and under; Omer Johnson, tenor, over 20; Iris Hollis, alto, 20 and under; Sarah Bradshaw, 20 and under; Martha DeBerry, mezzo-soprano, over 20; Ruby McCann, soprano, over 20; Vernadine Jones, mezzo-soprano, 20 and under; Mrs. M. C. Ward's pupils: Willie C. Wilson, piano; Billie Sigler, piano and voice; Mrs. Margaret Morgan-Andrews' pupils: Anna Kathryn Davenport, piano, 7 and under; Phyllis Howard, piano, 8 year class; Geraldine Kinard, piano, 10 year class; Crystal Howard, piano, 11 year class; Audrie Lofland, piano, 12 year class; and Royce Brooks and Harry Womack will each be entered among the musicians playing saxophones. Among the famous artists to be heard at the music festival are Rosalinda Morini, vivacious American girl soprano; Cornelius Van Vliet, Dutch cellist, and Cameron McLean, baritone; Joseph Rosenstein, boy prodigy violinist and Paul Van Katwijk, head of the piano department at S. M. U.

Attempt To Prove Practicality Of All Year Gardens

In an effort to prove to the people of Hall County that gardens throughout the year are not only possible, but practical as well, Miss Ruby M. Adams, county home demonstration agent, together with nine special garden demonstrators, have been working for the past month on a number of sub-irrigated gardens which they have started. These gardens, which are sub-irrigated by a network of tile laid underground to distribute water to all parts of the garden, will produce vegetables every month in the year, in the opinion of Miss Adams.

More Vegetables Needed "We believe that more vegetables and less meat on our tables will aid materially in giving us better health," Miss Adams said, "and with this in mind, we are trying to cultivate those vegetables that are most adaptable to this climate." Six varieties of vegetables are being planted by the demonstrators this year, and with the proper amount of attention the club women are expected to be able to keep their pantries crowded with fresh vegetables at all seasons of the year. They are making a special study of insects that infest the gardens in the county and how to kill them without harming the vegetables. The club women are also working to distinguish the vegetables which produce over the longest period of time.

Kinds Of Vegetables The kinds of vegetables especially adapted to Hall County climate are said to be: asparagus, rhubarb, New Zealand spinach, parsnips, salsify, fall onions, cabbage, Swiss chard, collards, kale and rape. These are in addition to two vegetables already extensively grown—turnips and greens. The club women who have laid out sub-irrigated gardens are: Mrs. T. M. Isham, Lakeview; Mrs. J. W. Smith, Indian Creek; Mrs. Holt Bownds, Memphis; Mrs. J. L. Darby, Estelline; Mrs. Lafe Jones, Turkey; Mrs. T. C. Hodges, Turkey, and Mrs. John Pierce, Leslie. ### TYLER WRITES LETTER ABOUT DEATH CELL

Draws A Rough Diagram And Details Life in State Pen

Hess Tyler, convicted at the February term of district court for the murder of Bryan Nall, Eli storekeeper, and who was given the death sentence, has written a letter to Mack Christian, Hall County jailer, giving a vivid description of conditions in the Huntsville penitentiary, and enclosing a diagram of the death cell in which he is kept. The sketch is roughly drawn with pencil on letter-size paper. On the (Continued on page 6)

Young People Will Attend Conference

Young people who are members of Christian churches throughout the northwestern part of Texas are looking forward to the first annual Young People's Conference, which will be held at Ceta Canyon, near Amarillo, from June 16 to 22, according to Rev. H. A. Shaw, pastor of the First Christian church here, who is assistant superintendent of the conference. Seven days of religious training is being planned by the executives of the conference for all young people who may wish to attend, and it is expected that quite a number from Memphis will go. A fee of $15 will be exacted of those who go to the encampment. All boys and girls from 15 to 23 years of age are eligible for the meeting, but only those of high moral and spiritual character will qualify, according to Mr. Shaw.

CLUB PROGRAMS WILL FEATURE LOCAL WOMEN

Memphis Will Bid For Convention Next Spring

Two local women who are prominent in the club life of the city will have a part on the program of the annual convention of the Seventh District Federation of Women's Clubs, which convenes in Pampa on April 23, 24 and 25. Club representatives from 134 counties in this section of the state will be present at the meeting, a number going from Memphis. Mrs. Edna Bryan, a member of the board of directors of the Seventh District and chairman of the division on Americanization and Citizenship Training will deliver the response to greetings given by Mrs. James Todd Jr., at the board of directors' luncheon. Mrs. A. W. Howard will respond to the address of welcome which will be given by a member of the Pampa Federation.

A strong bid will be made by the Memphis delegates to bring the 1931 convention of the Seventh District Federation of Women's Clubs to this city. Last year, at the meeting held in Snyder, local women put in their bid for the convention city a year in advance, and it is entirely probable that the convention will be brought here. Mrs. S. A. Bryant, president of the Women's Forum, stated that the Memphis delegation would be satisfied with nothing less than having the convention meet here in 1931 and that local delegates were going to the meeting in Pampa with that fact uppermost in mind.

A number of club women are expected to attend the three day meeting at Pampa, many more going who are not delegates. Clubs that will be officially represented are the Woman's Forum by Mrs. S. A. Bryant; Pathfinders' Council, by Mrs. Baily Gilmore; Woman's Culture Club, by Miss Edna Bryan; Atalantean Club, by Mrs. C. R. Webster; 1913 Study Club, by Mrs. M. McNeely; Harmony Club, by Mrs. Horace Talver, and the Delphian Club, by Mrs. G. W. Kesterson.

Senior Class And Faculty Of School Tendered Banquet

Honoring members of the Senior Class of Memphis High School and members of the High School faculty, the Federated Missionary Society entertained with a banquet in the dining room of the First Baptist Church on Friday evening of last week. The banquet is an annual affair. The Federated Missionary Society is composed of women from the Methodist, Baptist and Presbyterian churches of Memphis. The dining room was attractively decorated for the occasion. Decorations of balloons and Easter chicks were on the two long tables, the chicks being the favors of the occasion.

Dean Dutton Speaks Following the dinner, Mrs. C. W. Broome, president of the Federated Missionary Society, who served as toastmistress, introduced Dean Dutton of the University of Oklahoma, familiarly known as the "blue bird philosopher," who was the speaker of the evening. He discussed "The American Type" which was a fitting subject for the occasion. His speech dealt with the future of the American youth. Dr. Dutton held his large audience spellbound with his magnificently delivered address, which was replete with humor.

Songs and Yells Given Others appearing on the program were Thos. E. Noel, who sang two numbers, and Mrs. Maynard Drake who gave two solos, each being accompanied by Mrs. Elmer S. Shelley, Sara Hart and Homer Shankle gave two yells of Oklahoma University as a welcome to Dr. Sutton. Other songs and yells were given by members of the 1930 graduating class. The banquet came to an end at 10:45 o'clock, and it was the consensus of opinion of those who attended that of all the banquets tendered the Senior Class and faculty in past years, the one last Friday night eclipsed all former efforts. The Seniors express themselves as being greatly indebted for the enjoyable evening.

Little Theatre To Present Play Soon

"Kempy," a comedy of American life in three acts, by J. C. Nugent and Elliott Nugent, will be presented to the public on the evening of Tuesday, April 22, in the auditorium of the senior high school. The comedy had a long run in New York, opening at the Belmont Theatre there on May 15, 1922. Rehearsals have been in progress for the past three weeks and the cast is fast rounding into shape, according to Mrs. John Deaver, who is directing the play.

Special scenery and costuming will add to the enjoyment of the production. Some of the scenery has been ordered from a scenic house in Dallas, while other scenes will be constructed in Memphis. The cast of "Kempy" includes Vernadine Jones as Ruth Bence; David Fitzgerald as "Dad" Bence; Mrs. E. S. Greene as "Ma" Bence; Mrs. Frank Foxhall as Jane Wade; Mrs. W. S. Moore as Katherine Bence; J. R. Jones as Ben Wade; Lyman E. Robbins as "Kempy" James, and Harry DeLaney as "Duke" Merrill.

Ninety Farmers Go To Plainview Show

Thirty-five business men, members of the Memphis Chamber of Commerce, furnished transportation to 90 farmers of Hall County to the Texas Panhandle-Plains Dairy Show in Plainview on Tuesday of this week. The party left Memphis at six o'clock Tuesday morning, arriving in Plainview shortly after nine o'clock and spending the entire day in witnessing the dairy show.

Largest Delegation There were some 30 cars that took the Hall County delegation, which was one of the largest groups in Plainview Tuesday, and the largest delegation from any one section of farmers. Many towns were represented at the show, but for the most part, the delegates were business men and band men, while the Memphis Chamber of Commerce made it possible for 90 farmers directly interested in dairying to attend the show and to witness what is being done to develop the dairying industry in this section of the state. The farmers were well pleased with the trip and expressed their appreciation to the Memphis Chamber of Commerce for the day's treat.

"Girl Scout Trail" To Be Shown Here

The career of a Girl Scout is the interesting and intensely human theme of "The Girl Scout Trail," a Viagraphic sound motion picture which will be shown at the Palace Theatre, Wednesday, April 23.

The picture abounds in action, one dramatic scene featuring a thrilling rescue by the Girl Scout heroine.

The musical synchronization of "The Girl Scout Trail," a masterpiece of adaptation, was supervised by Joseph Littau, noted conductor of Roxy's (New York) concert orchestra.

The story deals with the narrowing influences of home life upon Stella, the eldest girl in a typical American family. Circumstances place heavy domestic responsibilities upon this girl and she is compelled to forego the pleasures and the amusements that are the birthright of wholesome girls of her age.

A breach, caused by misunderstanding, exists between Stella and her father, a war veteran. All in all, the girl's life is unhappy—until the Girl Scouts present a new vista to her.

"The Girl Scout Trail" shows how the Girl Scout organization welcomes Stella and, through friendly contacts and understanding, develops her character and restores her confidence and happiness.

"The Girl Scout Trail" is a picture that gives the audience an insight into the splendid work accomplished by the Girl Scout movement—the development and character-building of young girls.

The final scenes in "The Girl Scout Trail" were taken at the Girl Scout camp at Bear Mountain, N. Y. Gladys Lee, who plays the leading role, is a Girl Scout and a member of Troop 66, Brooklyn.

Eight day of old fashioned preaching and singing of the Gospel in the old fashioned way.

Come to the services at the First Baptist Church and learn what is going to happen when your jazz days are over. Come and hear what to expect when you have danced your last dance, thrown your last wild party, bet your last bet, gurgled your last dram, and rejected God and His love for the last time.

Come to the services and hear about heaven and hell, repentance and faith, forgiveness and grace. Every sermon, every song, every prayer, every invitation in every service will be packed full of the love of God for a wayward and sinning people.

The pastor is declaring war on the devil and his crowd and means to fight and fight hard with the Word of God. He is going to take the lid off and expose sin and sinners in this town and offer a remedy through the Gospel of love to atone for the sinner's sin. We are going to have eight intensely hot days of soul-winning and enlistment. The public is invited to every service.

You will like the singer and the singing. Come to the meetings and bring your friends. You are WELCOME.

Erin Goes Easter Shopping

Dear Edith:
You should be here to help me go shopping. It is a delight to see what is shown in the new, fresh stocks, in so many of the stores.

At Greene Dry Goods Store, the new hats are in evidence. There are hair braid hats, in poke bonnet shapes, in pastel shades as well as the brighter reds and blues, and the dark colors. Straws, in the natural shades, and the dark colors are to be had as well.

Of interest to the home dress maker are the shantungs, and crepes in print, as well as solid colors. Many lovely wash materials are to be had in the piece goods department at Greene's.

The newest in foundation garments are found in flat crepe and satin, assisting in the new princess styles by moulding the figure to the newest lines.

The accessories in matching colors for the new costume are found in handkerchiefs and scarfs of print chiffon and georgette in all the newest colors, both pastel and the cardinal colors.

The shoe department at this store is fully stocked with the newest slippers in blonde, black, red, green, purple and the in-between shades, both in military and high heels. The hose to complement the shoes will be found in french creole, atmosphere, meteor, rachelle and clair tan as well as the many more familiar colors.

A new shipment of dresses is expected to complete the stock already on hand. The new costumes will be flat crepes, wash crepes and shantungs. Printed chiffons, both in afternoon and sport dresses will be in the new shipment. One lovely dress, already shown at this "Day Light Store," is a red and white crepe, with the latest fitted princess effect.

According to Mrs. Bartee, who is in charge of the ready-to-wear department, the best dress length for the coming season will be half way between knee and ankle for day-time wear, with slightly longer, and more uneven effect for evening. Printed chiffon dresses, ensembles and sport dresses lead in the display at The Little Mercantile Company. Many two piece garments with princess lines and flare skirt are shown here. According to Mrs. Saye, "Print is the thing for this season. This is an unusually pretty Easter, as the season is later than usual. More summery clothes will be worn, instead of the darker, sober clothes which have been the rule the past few seasons."

Here I saw hair braid hats and haku featured. A new shipment of shoes in black satin and nude kid is on hand for the Easter season, both with military and high heels.

A lovely stock of children's dresses is shown. Girls from seven to twelve can be fitted in the latest styles and newest colors. Darling dresses of crepe in pastel shades, moire taffeta with fitted and shirred effects, and with uneven hem lines are to be had to delight the heart of the most modern miss.

New pleated scarfs in rich colors were noted here, with handkerchiefs and hose to complete the costume.

Shown in the window at Hanna-Pope & Company, were clever little tea aprons in cretonne and print. Several very effective new prints were displayed, to fascinate the home dressmaker.

As National sewing week is set from April 7th to 12th, the dressmaker will be especially interested to learn that at Hanna-Pope's the new Pictorial dress patterns are showing some fascinating styles. Dress materials are here in print and solid colors, shantungs and many other more expensive silks.

New shoes in blonde, and darker colors, and the well-known Allen A and Hur-ming Bird hose are to be had here.

I was just in time to see the newest hats, a shipment having been received Monday, showing poke bonnet shape in lace straw black in straw and baku, as well as horse-hair in lovely shades. Shallow crowns with droop brims are distinguishing features of the latest in hats. One especially lovely model was of horse-hair, in blue, trimmed with a wide-velvet ribbon, and with orchid maline draped over the big, droopy brim.

A darling melon pink sport suit of flat crepe had a detachable cape, with a belt and buckle at the waist line. In the Co-ed wash frocks were shown a shantung with green polka dots on the white background, with ducky little cape sleeves. Another Co-ed frock was of white shantung, with tangerine trim, a contrasting jacket completing the costume. A yellow print frock with cape effect and circular skirt, another of flat crepe, with stitched design, cape sleeves in apple blossom pink. The Nelly Don wash dresses, show combination step-in, with wrap-around skirt. One Nelly Don frock was of tiny blue check in a soft wash silk.

Dark blue crepe elizabeth, in large sizes, will be of interest to the more mature woman who is style-minded. One lovely model in dark blue crepe elizabeth was shirred in at the waist line, with dainty lace collar and cuffs. Among the wash dresses will be found many with the new fitted lines, also Nelly Don smocks in tropical colors and big, interesting floral designs.

Easter shopping at Fain & Company was difficult, for it was hard to get past the attractive window display. There was a darling sport dress of yellow crepe, shirred and fitted in at the waist line, its soft bow tie lined with white. Another afternoon dress was of green georgette, with a bolero jacket over creme colored all-over lace. A red and white crepe had a skirt much longer at the sides than in front. A tea rose crepe had a tiered skirt. And then, the new lace straw hats were displayed in new shades, and all so reasonably priced, too. Of course, I did finally get past the window, and in the ready-to-wear department found one lovely dark blue georgette dress, with the skirt all of ruffles edged with silver stitching, with a silvery lace yoke. A tangerine georgette was lovely with its shirred waist line, and cape collar. A french grey georgette was banded in panels, all of the same soft color. And a banana shade, also of georgette, had a cape collar and a long draped skirt.

Among the wash frocks there were many shades of prints and plain colors, in linene and wash silk. The children were not forgotten here, for I saw several of print radium silk, that had ducky circular skirts, banded with contrasting material.

There were hose for the children, too, in new bright colors for Easter. Also hose for grown-ups and underwear in such pretty colors, and so reasonably priced that even I could afford all I wanted.

The girl graduate, or any girl planning for a recital, is sure to be pleased with the dresses shown at J. R. Jones & Company store. One of the most complete lines of lovely dresses ever shown in Memphis is to be found here.

One lovely dress was of rosy pink chiffon, with inlaid yoke of pink over oyster white, with rose stitching, a brilliant buckle, draped skirt, showing an uneven hemline. A yellow flat crepe, with butterflies printed over the paler yellow background, had cape sleeves, with narrow green banding. One of the most gorgeous evening wraps I ever saw displayed anywhere was of independence blue, with a large shirred, standing collar, and a little shoulder length cape. Evening dresses in white dotted net, and in printed net, showed tiered shirts, with tiny ruffles over the shoulder. One elaborate satin costume was in melon pink, with orchid lined drape, with a lovely flower tucked in at the waist line, it of course, was fitted and shirred in the latest princess effect.

Two lovely sport suits were made with sleeveless dresses, one was in green with a matching jacket of geometric design, with jacket outlining the pattern. The other suit was of eggshell, sleeveless dress, banded around the bottom with tangerine, with a jacket of tangerine, brown and green in the geometric pattern.

An afternoon dress in the new tea rose color, was shirred all over the body of the dress, tiny white collar and cuffs formed in points, tiny rose glass buttons down the back, with a beautifully full pleated skirt. And, oh, one lovely evening dress was of apricot color, with net ruffles forming a big bertha collar, edged with ribbon, the similar ruffles forming the long skirt, with flowers at the neck.

Among the more formal street clothes shown at J. R. Jones' was an unusually attractive suit of palm beach cloth, natural color. A bright crepe print, for afternoon, was distinguished by a vestee with red and orange stitching, sounds wild, but it is really very attractive. A printed chiffon dress made with a little separate cape, tied on, was of lovely dusty blue.

Children's crepe dresses are to be found here, of course, also silk undersuits for the girls. Hats in milam, braid, with bright colored ribbon bands.

Hats for the older girl, as well as the really grown-up, are in natural straw, pastel shades, lace straws and bakou in natural shades. Also lovely lacy crocheted straws, and soft, crushable hats in the lighter shades.

M. Rosenwasser carries some of the loveliest accessories that are to be found in Memphis, with gloves, purse, hose, beads and handkerchiefs all in matching shades. One especially attractive set in lavender was composed of an enamel mesh bag, lavender garters and buttonnaire and hanky.

A new shipment of dainty mardiera gowns forms an item of attractiveness to the particular woman. Little step-ins and dance sets in pastel shades are very fetching.

Practically everything in the line of hats is to be found, especially hair braids, and lacy straws. Something new in the way of trimming is the crystal strands on the lace straws. Flowers and velvet ribbon trims are also shown. Pastel shades in straws and hair braids are new, with green a favorite color. Poke bonnet shape, green with ecru lace trim made one hat I saw very attractive.

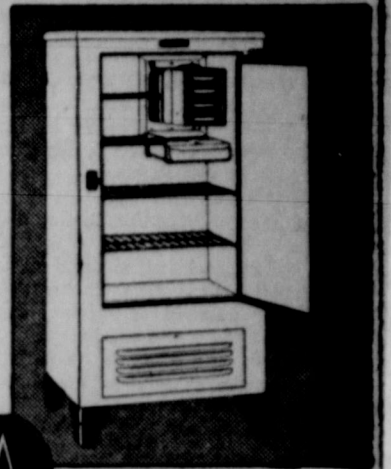

Among the many styles in sport suits, one in shantung in natural color, with green and black block print, three piece, with silk pique blouse, and white pearl buttons, also a suit in yellow silk, with tangerine print matching coat appealing to me particularly.

High in power—moderate in weight --and therefore SUPERIOR in PERFORMANCE

An 85-horsepower engine makes the New Oakland Eight the highest powered car produced for its weight and size, only racing cars excepted. Because it develops one horsepower to 37 pounds of car weight, few cars can match the New Oakland's speed, pick-up and power. This ratio of power to weight accounts for its superior performance. . . . Furthermore, the inherent eight-cylinder smoothness of the power plant is intensified by a complete down-draft fuel system—new type cylinder heads—a short, very rigid crankshaft—and laminated steel spring and rubber engine supports. . . . The New Oakland Eight is also very economical to own. Its gasoline mileage equals that of many sizes of comparable size. Its sound basic design assures dependability and long service. And the extreme accessibility of its parts keeps maintenance costs at the minimum. . . . Come in and see this car with smartly tailored bodies by Fisher. It will convince you that you can now own an exceptionally fine eight at a very moderate price.

pastel colors and in white are promised for Rosenwasser's this week, according to Miss Craver. She was lovely in showing the dresses already on hand, and one in silk flat crepe, in white with a blue print coat accompanying it, and with a soft pleated skirt, was very striking.

The kitchen pajamas are found here, regular over-all styles, and those with jacket to match. The wash dresses are unusually lovely in the Maybelle line, being the same line as the pajamas.

Rosenwasser also features children's dresses. Darling little silk crepes. One silk in blue had a cape collar, and silk tie and sash in natural color. One tiny model had a skirt formed of ruffles, one after the other, and all in buttercup yellow. Another was a print, with tiny flowers. Another darling dress was in green georgette, jacket effect, with a lacy skirt over green, trimmed with ribbon bows and flowers. An orchid flat crepe was hand drawn and hand embroidered, two tiers of ruffles forming the skirt.

Hats for children are also especially attractive, with leghorn and milam sailors, lace and hair braid hats, and silk bonnets for the tiny tots.

In shoes, there are to be had Deauville sandals for children as well as grown-ups. Patents and black and white kid, beige and white and blue, and white and beige combinations. Pumps in red, green and beige to match the print dresses. Sport oxfords with crepe rubber soles, blondes in high and with military heels. Hose to accompany all these in light tan, ceres, kid tone, rachelle, dream pink and beige shades.

The newest hats in Cross Dry Goods Store are in lace straw, pastel shades, droopy shapes.

A lovely little georgette dress, that will make a girl graduate happy some day soon, is in pale flesh pink, with ruffles in the skirt alternating the pale pink with a deeper shade. The skirt has a hoop effect at the sides. Another lovely dress at Cross' is in flowered print chiffon and crepe, with a lace trim. Sport suits in crepe with matching jackets are very appealing to a business woman, or one who goes in for sports.

Cross' are featuring children's dresses, in sizes from one year to fourteen. Many of these darling dresses are in english print, some in print and solid voiles. Some of the dresses with circular skirts, some opening under the arm.

Children will also find hats here, to complete their ensemble. Hats in straw, or silk, in bonnet shapes, and in sailor styles.

In dress material the seamstress is sure to find just what she wants in printed batiste, flaxon, organzie, and silks. There is also lovely organzie ruffling for trimming in many shades. Lace and net trim for the neck of the better silk dress is to be found in points and scallops. And the new McCall dress patterns are in, showing the new styles.

At Baldwin's I spent a delightful hour looking at dresses, hats and underwear.

One ducky little dress was white with tiny flowers in orange and green, two piece effect, with short sleeves, draped collar, a circular flare at the bottom of the skirt.

A model in flat crepe print with a white background, had tiny puff sleeves, a flare at the hips, soft flowers at neck, a circular skirt, and small patent belt. A mustard yellow had black flowers printed on it, black tie run through the big berth collar, and black belt, long sleeves, with inverted gauntlet flare just above the tight fitted cuff. A georgette crepe in navy was shirred in at the waist line, and had full draped sleeves, shirred into the fitted cuff, and a draped girdle. A two piece suit, in black and white checked silk, had a separate jacket, bows on the sleeve and at the front, and another bow at the back of the collar, the skirt had a fitted yoke and pleats. A flat crepe, in the new tea rose shade, was elegant with a flare skirt, fitted into a pointed yoke, pointed cuffs graced the sleeves, and rows and rows of tiny buttons constituted the trimming.

Useful little jersey suits were found here, one in lucerne blue, three piece effect, flared set in godets in skirt, white blouse. Another adorable suit was in castilian red, with pleated skirt, red banding on the white blouse, points on the banding, and pointed banding on the jacket. These little jersey suits were also in tan, mingled heather print, lavender, and blue.

Hats were especially attractive at Baldwin's. Many Fisk and Mancel models, lace straws, in pastel shades, bright yellow, black, and natural straws. Also bankok and bakou in black.

The Munsing underwear and hose are leading lines at this store. I was shown women's Ping Pong shorts, with braisere to match, in white with flame trim. Also the same shorts in columbine with sharon rose trim. Tip-toe panties, with bandeau to match in tea rose with sun tan trim, showing a yoke front. Pajamas, with tuck in blouse, and coat to match are shown in flame colored with black trim. Gipsie pajamas, in cinnamon brown are lovely with light tan trim, coat in knee length to match. Papamas in tangerine with light tan trim have full trousers, fitted into a yoke with a sash tie, tuck in blouse.

Teddy suits were in peach and black, with bandeau top, elastic fitted back, and a band at the bottom. Another suit was in flesh and peach, with circular bottom. Foundation garments, to attain the new princess style, are very necessary, and of course, Baldwin has them. I was shown one well shaped garment in swami cloth, bandeau top that would lend elegance to any figure.

The Munsing hose were shown in service weight and chiffon, in new shades, of ivoire, beige clair, plage, muscadine, sun brown, and afternoon.

A delightful assortment of styles in silk crepe dresses was shown me at Frank's Department Store. One flock dot in black and white, with a white collar made of a pleated frill was shirred in at the waist line. Silk suits, with white blouse, print skirt, separate jacket were shown both in black and white and brown and white. A rose crepe boasted of a circular skirt, shirred and fitted waist line, and an embroidered linen collar. A flower print chiffon with a big cape collar had dips to the skirt dropping down at the sides.

A red georgette was gorgeous with a silk lace border to the skirt and a lace berth collar, a fitted waist line, and detachable sleeves. An adorable little polka dot flat crepe was shaded from a light tan to red and blue, on a blue background, and had red bindings, and big red buttons on the side of the skirt yoke, and dipped at the side of the skirt. An appealing style in georgette of the new shades of roses color had an overblouse, drawn into a soft draped sash at the side, with a lace and net berth collar, and uneven hem line.

New shoes in various styles to match all these costumes, were found, some in lovely plain black kid opera pumps with spike heels, also the blonde kid in the same style. Oxfords, sport style, with crepe rubber soles. Woven sandals, and reptile trim blond kids. Moire satin opera pumps with spike heels, and all the new shades in Phoenix hose, some with plain heels some with fancy heels.

Lovely little pastel crepes, at very reasonable prices, are seen at The Famous. One clever little dress, with a bolera jacket, was in black and white print. Another adorable dress in rose and pink was of celanese voile.

The piece goods at The Famous were seasonable, featuring Cortecelli silks. Print crepe, with tree design, block print in rose and grey, bright prints, quiet prints in soft tans and beige, blue and hose print, all in this remarkably beautiful and long wearing Cortecelli silk.

The Cortecelli hose, with picated tops, in lovely sheer chiffons, showing the new colors—sunbask, nude, flesh, beige clair, are special bargains at the price asked.

New underwear, dainty silk braisiers and slips lending their slenderness to the new styles are very attractive here.

The Marilyn Shop was unusually well stocked with many beautiful garments. The wealth of printed chiffon dresses were almost irresistible. One crepe chiffon was in lavender and orchid, on white background, and had a circular skirt, sleeveless with a V neck, a fitted, tucked girdle with a flower at the waist, and was provided with sleeves to be set in if desired. A black and white polka dot in faille crepe with a brocade dot, was in three piece suit with a short waist line, pleats in front and back of the skirt, the neck had a self binding, covered buttons, and a cape collar on the coat.

The shantung suits were made with one piece, sleeveless dresses in white, with the jackets of figured or polka dot in red, white and green. Many little sleeveless dresses were in silk pique in solid pastel colors. One darling suit was of Pama cloth, white with yellow, with a flat crepe blouse, and a throw scarf on the separate jacket of yellow.

Among the georgette dresses I saw an elegant matron's dress of dark blue, with tiny fleck dots, in white, little sewed on godets on the skirt. Another matron style was in flat crepe, black with small yellow and orange flowers, cape sleeves lined with egg shell crepe, and a shirred and fitted waist line.

An adorable black chiffon, over black flat crepe slip, was distinguished by a battenburg yoke deep-set in back, and shallower in front, the yoke was edged with chiffon forming tiny cap sleeves, and had a full flounced skirt. The most gorgeous garment I saw was a black spanish lace evening dress, with an accompanying cape of cerise chiffon, the dress had a deep sultan back, with flowers to the waistline at the tip of the V, the evening wrap had a deep roll collar.

Hats were seen here of battenburg lace, in natural color. One Gold Medal Hat was of bakou, large brim, natural shade, with wide coral velvet ribbon formed into a soft bow at the back. Hair braid and lace straws there were in profusion, in soft natural shades, pastel shades, many of the lace straws being inset with battenburg lace, and trimmed with flowers and bows.

The Marilyn shop is well stocked in children's wear. There are solid and printed voiles, in small sizes for the tiny tot and in larger sizes for the growing girl. Hats and bonnets are found to match the dresses.

At C. E. Stone's I found that Mrs. Cunningham had just returned from market at Dallas, with a complete new stock of summer dresses, suits and hats.

There were California beach cloth suits, two and three piece, in natural shades, also in polka dots, red, green and with hip length coats. Printed crepe suits, in similar styles, and all colors are to be had here.

To accompany the sport suits, Mrs. Cunningham brought lovely little grosgraine ribbon hats, these are close fitting styles, and are made on the model to suit the individual type.

Sport dresses, sleeveless, with sun tan back, and coat to match are in stock, in many colors.

Among the chiffon afternoon frocks one in dark blue, with a white guinea dot, trimmed with blue and white chiffon in layers formed into a big berth, was especially appealing. Many chiffon dresses have their accompanying jackets to be worn for informal occasions, sleeveless without the jacket the chiffons are for evening and dinner wear. These come in bright and more quiet prints, in light and dark shades. Some are in solid colors some in white. One soft green chiffon had self material bows and flowers formed into a wreath outlining the yoke. One soft deep shaded flower print had elbow length flowing sleeves, soft bow at the neck, built over a flesh crepe slip.

One dear little suit was of silk in dark blue flecked with "music notes." The music print is one of the latest, according to Mrs. Cunningham. The suit was three piece, with a ripple at the hip line, and tuck in blouse, pleated skirt. A wash silk two piece suit was of coral trimmed with melon pink, and had a scalloped collar, ripple forming a cape effect on the jacket.

Sleeveless shantungs, in the more inexpensive wash dresses come in natural, green, blue, rose and white, for summer wear.

The new shipment of banquet dresses feature printed net and dotted net, with tiered skirts, bound with ribbon, and in extremely long styles, flower and bow trimmed. The airy styles and new touches would appeal to anyone. The nets for banquet and dance wear, and the chiffons for recitals and for girl graduates, and a wealth of styles to select from, make Stone's the shopping center for the well dressed woman.

I was told here that Mrs. Dyer is expected with her New York trunk line about April 17 to 19th, and will present many new summer frocks.

The Fay and Gage hats come in bakou, in fancy and plain styles. "Rio Rita" is the name of one style, that wears its soft bow at the back. Many spider weave braids are in natural and pastel shades. Gage hats in soft crushable models come in a variety of light tones.

The very necessary foundation garments in elastic step-in styles, laced at waist line, are to be had at Stone's. New pajamas, polka dot with the darker blue on light blue ground, three piece styles, tuck in shirts, are most attractive. New step-ins with lace and georgette ruffles are in many shades of pink, orchid, peach and buttercup yellow. Hand painted pajama sets, with oriental designs are gorgeous with their accompanying lounging robes.

New Deauville sandals are to be had in red and white, tan and white, nude shades in pumps, and beige and sand in reptilian and in water snake, some with military heel and some with spike heels show all the latest styles in footwear.

Gross Earnings Of Utilities Company Show Big Increase

Gross earnings of the West Texas Utilities Company for the year 1929 totaled $7,623,748.23, according to the recently released Annual Report published by the company. These earnings, which include merchandise sales, show an increase over 1928 of nearly $950,000.

Business Below Normal
Although business conditions were below normal this past year, it was found that the company's increase in earnings was due to the stabilizing influence of successful wool, mohair, and livestock industries. The decrease in the production of oil, a result of proration agreements, slackened the oil industry but due to the gaining popularity of electricity for drilling and pumping, the company realized a good portion of its revenue in this field. During 1929 the company sold approximately 194,000,000 kilowatt-hours of electricity, an increase over 1928 of 91,000,000 kwh. This phenomenal gain was due largely to increased activity in West Texas oil fields.

Serves Large Territory
Serving a territory with an estimated population of nearly 250,000, the West Texas Utilities Company rendered service to some 50,000 homes and business enterprises. In order to adequately serve these customers, a net work of high voltage transmission lines has been built over West Texas which, at the end of the year, totaled 2,238 miles. Three high lines are energized by three major generating stations and 17 auxiliary standby stations. High voltage current is "stepped-down" for industrial, commercial and residential usage by more than 180 substations. At the close of 1929 the company was serving 111 communities with electricity, 33 with ice, 2 with water and 2 with gas, more than 1,000 regular employees being required to furnish and maintain this service.

Purchase New Properties
During the year 1929, the West Texas Utilities Company issued and sold $2,250,000 in principal amount of First Mortgage 5 per cent Gold Bonds and 30,700 shares of Common Stock of no par value. Eight thousand shares of the company's $6 Non Par Cumulative Preferred Stock were issued and sold, the majority to West Texans. The proceeds were used for the purchase of new properties, for new construction and for mately $3,500,000 and in 1929 reached more than $7,600,000.

Major Improvements
Among major improvements started in 1929 was the Nasworthy Dam located near San Angelo. At the end of the year this Dam, which is to impound 10,500 acre-feet of water, was 60 per cent complete. Simultaneous with this construction, work began on the addition of a 15,000 kilowatt generating unit to the Concho Generating Station at San Angelo. When the unit is completed, the station will have a generating capacity of 25,000 kilowatts bringing the total capacity of the company to about 50,000 kilowatt with more than this available.

Noted Director—

General March, played by Mrs. Limer S. Shelley, church organist. Preliminary announcements were made by Dr. Mallard, after he choir had sung the hymn, "Abide With Me." He announced that Mr. James had engaged Rev. A. Shaw to sing with his band, and that Rev. Shaw would offer solo. He sang "The City Four-square." Dr. Mallard then announced what the beautiful floral offering meant, saying that it symbolized the affection held for Mr. James, and that bouquets, in the form of tributes, would be given by several of his friends.

Tribute As Friend

Rev. E. T. Miller paid a brief, stirring, tribute to "Paul James, the Friend." "Paul James, as well known as a friend as a maker," Rev. Miller said. "He never left his friends. He was a true and loyal. He did not assume; he did not pretend. His handshake and his smile were genuine. He was really at his best with his warm smile and friendly greeting. We never did agree on anything, but he let me know at I had his good will. I am glad I knew him and I feel that I am a better man from the contacts I have had with him."

Sager Lauds Director

George A. Sager, secretary of the Memphis Chamber of Commerce, who has been actively associated with Mr. James for the past nine years spoke on "Paul James As Memphis Knew Him." Mr. Sager said, "I have been closely associated with Paul. There never was a time when the Chamber of Commerce needed his help that Paul James did not give it gladly. There was never a time when he was not ready when called on to do all that was asked of him and more. We were honored being able to follow many of his suggestions that Paul made, has brought great recognition and a large amount of publicity to Memphis. Once, when I was away from home, I was introduced to a stranger. When he learned that I was from Memphis, he said, 'Oh, you're from Paul James' town.' One has been taken from the midst whose place will be hard to fill, and while our hearts go out to his sorrowing loved ones, our own hearts are broken at the loss."

Following the talk of Mr. Sager, a quartette rendered a sacred number. The personnel of the quartette consisted of Harry Delaney, Omer Johnsey, David Gerald and Thos. E. Noel.

As His Pastor Knew Him
Dr. Mallard closed the remarks the afternoon, having as his subject, "Paul James, As His Pastor Knew Him." Dr. Mallard said: "There is in every man an outstanding trait. One of the things I found out about Paul James was that he was the fulfillment of that little poem, 'He felt in a house by the side of the road and was a friend to man.' Paul James had a big, broad heart that had good will for every man, every man who passed his way. I love Paul James because he had the opportunity of knowing him. He was a man who tried to find the right and tried to do it. He was a man of a trusted God."

"Paul James knew his Bible. He did me often that people did not know because he was in the kind of business he was that he had a chance time for his God, but he did, could quote Scripture as well as any layman I ever knew. He did often discuss my sermons to me and the sermons of other preachers. To summarize, I am glad to be able to say that Paul James was a man of great fellowship and good will. He thirsted for the right and do it and he stood in God." The funeral services were concluded by a prayer offered by Dr. Ernest E. Robinson.

Filled to Capacity
The auditorium of the First Presbyterian Church was filled to capacity with those friends, many whom came from without the city, to pay final homage to Mr. James. Members of the bands which Mr. James taught, attended the funeral in a body. All the rest of the city remained closed during the hour of the funeral from two to three o'clock. The funeral cortege left Memphis shortly after three and proceeded to Quannah, where interment took place in the Quannah cemetery, a former student of Mr. James, now attending school at Abilene University, Abilene, attended the service at the grave, the service being Colby Delaney and Mrs. McNeely.

Association President
At the time of his death, Paul James was president of the Texas Teachers' Association, having been elevated to that position at the recent convention in Abilene. He had been vice-president of the organization for a number of years before he was tendered the presidency, and as vice-president, he was head of the Association in West Texas. Mr. James not only won a number of honors for his band, but he had been significantly honored from time to time as one of the greatest band directors of the Southwest.

List of Pallbearers
The active and honorary pallbearers were taken from the personnel of the band, for the most part. The active pallbearers were Jet Fore, Frank Fore, Dr. J. H. Croft, W. C. Milam, James E. Bass and R. E. Stroup. Honorary pallbearers were Harry Delaney, Harrell Read, Adrian Odom, Allen Dunbar, T. J. Dunbar, Jr., H. E. Easterling, Jr., Holmes McNeely, Colby Delaney, Sam Holder, Herbert Sisk, H. L. Woods, Erwin Johnsey, Omer Johnsey, Earl Potts, Thos. E. Noel, Earl C. Johnson, Lon Webster, C. T. Matkin, T. J. Dunbar, M. J. Draper, Lee Pope, D. H. Arnold, George A. Sager, W. J. Turnpseed, of Memphis; Charles Bugbee and Gus Stephenson, of Clarendon; Robert O. Sandusky, Shamrock; H. E. Berry, Quitaque, and Harold Woodson, Harrell Chapel.

Through the courtesy of Cicero Milam, who has been a member of the local band ever since Mr. James took charge in 1910, the following concerning the band has been obtained and Mr. James connection with it: Mr. James first came to Memphis in 1910. It seems that a number of local people desired to go to Clarendon, and take a band along, to hear Cone Johnson speak in his campaign for Governor. Mr. James, who was directing the band at Clarendon, at that time, was communicated with and directed the band upon this occasion. Local business men were so enthused with his musicianship that they told him the band treasury had $100 in it and that they wished he would instruct the band here as long as the money held out. He agreed to do so and gave instructions for some two months. He was then offered a better salary by local business men and he moved to Memphis.

Trip to Little Rock
The first trip that the band took away from home and under Mr. James' direction was to the Confederate Veterans' Reunion in Little Rock, Arkansas, in 1912. Shortly thereafter, Mr. James went to Amarillo as director of the band in that city. He remained in Amarillo several years, leaving there to take over the direction of the band at Tucumcari, New Mexico. In both places, he produced excellent bands, but his health broke down and he returned to Memphis in October, 1921. In May, 1922, he took the local band to Plainview to the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention. The local band took third prize in the competition, playing against the Old Gray Mare Army Band and a municipal band.

Went to San Angelo
In 1923, the Memphis band went to San Angelo to the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention. There the band won third prize. In 1924, the band took first prize and a silver loving cup, was designated as the Queen's own band at the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention at Brownwood, and was also designated as the official band of West Texas.

Trip to Mineral Wells
In 1925, the band went to the commerce convention at Mineral Wells as the official band of West Texas and did not enter the contest. In 1926, the band went to the convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce held in Amarillo, was entered in the sixth year class for bands of West Texas and won first prize, and the honor of being acclaimed the Gold Medal Band of West Texas. In 1927, the band went to the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention in Wichita Falls and entered the statewide contest in the sixth year class. The band won first prize and was declared to be the Texas Gold Medal Band.

To Houston Convention
In 1928, the Texas Gold Medal Band went to the Democratic National Convention in Houston, as the official band of the Texas delegation and was heralded as the outstanding band at the convention. In 1929, the band was taken to the State Fair of Texas in Dallas, taking second honors against the entire state, also being awarded a loving cup for the best dressed and best equipped band entering the contest.

On The Level—

James had none of the earmarks of the temperamental artist. His art was uppermost in his mind and his interpretation has become unique in the annals of music. He was never happier than when he knew that one of his students, one of his pupils, one of his boys, had left Memphis to gain honor in the world of music far from his native heath. He had enthusiasm, without which little can be accomplished. I have watched him as he would speak of concerts that had been played, of others planned for the future. His face would become animated as he discussed music, and this animation was infectious. He passed it along to others.

Paul James knew how to handle men. When his band was to make a trip and he desired to have some of his old players accompany him, he always succeeded in getting them. No matter how busy they were, or what demands were made on their time, when Paul James made a request of them, they acquiesced.

Such leadership, such personality, such personal magnetism as were possessed by Paul James in such full measure, are hard to reconcile with the ordinary man, but Paul was in a class by himself. His labors here have proved that. The service he rendered was genuine service, and the imprint he has made on our community, the wedge he forged for future advancement and a more equitable civic consciousness, will gain in power as time goes on and his talents become the more appreciated. Paul James is the one man in Memphis we could ill afford to lose, whose place cannot be filled.

clubs have taken to the idea and are cultivating their gardens. They are Miss Esther Jones, Salisbury, and Miss Ola Garner of Buffalo Flat. There are 13,398 square feet in cultivation in the nine gardens. It has been found that it costs only fifty cents for every 200 square feet to construct the tile for sub-irrigation.

Tyler Writes—

right of the entrance is the place Tyler designates as "bed." In the center of the cell is a wash stand and on the left of the entrance is the toilet.

Is Six Feet Wide

From the front to the back of the cell, which is constructed entirely of reinforced concrete, is 10 feet in length. The cell is six feet wide. A steel door with a powerful lock furnishes the only entrance. There is a place at the bottom of the bars, where food is furnished the prisoner. On the arch over the cell, Tyler has written the words, "Death House." He says there are two lights in front of it, and that the cell faces west. At the top of the drawing, Tyler writes: "It is Hell boys." On the reverse side of the drawing, he has written these words: "This is the best I can do toward drawing a picture of the cell I'm in. Hess."

Letter From Tyler

Accompanying the drawing was a letter written by Tyler, headed "Huntsville, Texas, Box 32, April 7, 1930." The letter is addressed to "Dear Mack and boys." It reads in part, as follows: "Was glad to hear from you all again. I was out on the yard yesterday in the sunshine for exercise and I am a little 'sore' today. I certainly enjoyed the outing, tho. Yes, I hear from my folks quite often. I think the most of them will help me all they can, but they are all so poor they can't do much, but every little bit helps."

Needs Money "Bad"

"There isn't any use to send me anything down here for I am not allowed to receive anything but money, and I sure do need some money 'bad.' All I've got is a real bad cigarett habit. I sure wish I was back up there, but I expect to be here some time yet. I don't know much news so will close with good wishes to you and the boys. Your friend, Hess Tyler."

Wichita Falls To Be Scene Of Big Masonic Meeting

According to D. H. Arnold, an interesting meeting of Masons will be held in Wichita Falls on Thursday, April 17. He said that 5,000 Master Masons are expected to attend, and Mr. Arnold hopes to have at least 100 representatives from this district.

Among the important speakers will be Melvin Johnson, Past Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Massachusetts, author of "The Beginning of Masonry," and one of the country's foremost educators and one of the principal Masonic students in the entire world. Hiram F. Lively, of Dallas, Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Texas, will also be present at the Wichita Falls meeting.

"Blue" Lions Reap Reward In Dinner

"Blue" Lions reaped their reward for best attendance last Thursday evening when they dined at the Memphis Hotel at the expense of the "Red" Lions who lost the recent membership and attendance drive contest.

Several trumpet numbers were rendered by Paul James, who was assisted at the piano by Carl Reese. R. D. Stuart, chairman of the program committee, passed around a pseudo bottle of whiskey to determine how various Lions stand on the prohibition question. A highly entertaining talk was made by Grover C. Good, Y. M. C. A. executive, who was in Memphis Thursday in behalf of the local Hi-Y organization. He drove home some pertinent truths concerning boys of the teen age. The club voted to have a ladies night the latter part of April, or early in May, and R. D. Stuart, Ben Weiss and Paul James were named as a committee to arrange the program.

When Boss Lion R. L. Madden called for 8 volunteers to assist a like number of 4-H Club boys in financing the purchase of pigs, the following responded: Chas. Meacham, L. M. Hicks, D. J. Morgensen, R. D. Stuart, George Spann, J. H. Croft, Paul James and Theodore Swift.

Filling Stations Change Hands

Announcement was made this week of the change in management of the Stovall and Hughes Filling Station, which is located on Main and Seventh streets. J. D. Lagrone, former Breckenridge business man, is the new manager of the station, which he took charge of a few weeks ago. W. R. Stovall and Wesley Hughes have been jointly connected with the filling station for some time past.

Lagrone says he is equipped to give the best service available, and has to offer a complete stock of Federal tires and Pennant gas and oils. He will be assisted at the filling station by Richard Longshore of Memphis. "The new management extends a welcome to the people to visit our place of business. We expect to make this our home and want to be useful citizens." The Indian Creek Service Station, which is located on the South side of the highway at the east end of the Indian Creek bridge, changed management, effective the first part of this week. T. H. Byrd and A. J. Watts are the new managers of the station, which will be known in the future as Byrd and Watts Service Station. W. J. McMurray was manager for some time previous to the change this week.

T. H. Byrd is well known in the Indian Creek and Lakeview communities, having lived two miles north of Lakeview for the past 19 years. Watts recently came from Raton, New Mexico, where he has resided for a number of years. Both of these young men invite their friends and new acquaintances to visit them in their new location when they are in need of anything they have to offer at the station. They will carry a complete line of Gulf and Cities Service Gas and Oils, automobile accessories and groceries.

Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Major are expected home Thursday from an extended visit in Vernon with their daughter, Mrs. Andrews.

Is Your Child Eligible for This FREE CAMERA and Roll of Film?

HOW OLD is your youngster? Has he become twelve years of age this year, or will he be before 1931? Any boy or girl whose twelfth birthday falls in any part of 1930 is eligible, right now, for a FREE camera and roll of Kodak film—the gift of the Eastman Kodak Company to mark the 50th Anniversary of Kodak.

Five hundred thousand of these cameras and rolls of film are to be distributed in this country during the month of May, but only as long as the supply holds out. Our stock of Anniversary Cameras is very limited, so if your youngster is eligible bring him or her in at once to avoid disappointment.

There are no additional conditions to meet. No red tape. No delays. The only stipulation is that each child be accompanied by a parent or guardian. And our only advice is to act promptly, for these gift cameras will not last long.

FINAL RESULTS DEMOCRAT'S STRAW VOTE

For Sunday	183
Shows in Memphis
Against Sunday	198
Shows in Memphis
For City	334
Mail Delivery
Against City	38
Mail Delivery

The straw vote is over and all is quiet along the Potomac. With a total of only 381 votes cast, the result can hardly be considered the sentiment of Memphis as a whole. When the polls closed, the anti-Sunday Shows voters had a lead of 15, and I imagine they would maintain and probably increase this lead if the voting were continued longer. Those favoring city mail delivery have a majority of 296, which lead would likely grow in numbers, in my opinion, if the voting continued.

In other words, even though the vote was not sufficiently large, it appears that a majority in Memphis is against Sunday shows, and that a decided majority favors city mail delivery.

When I asked last week how to spell "hygeery," that new feed, I got action. Some man called me over the phone and said "h-e-g-a-r-i" right quickly and hung up before I could ask him his name. Then E. W. Thomas, the county agent called me and spelled it the same way.

But those two claims have been contradicted by the following letter I received:

Memphis, Tex., April 6, 1930.
Dear L. E. R.:
I read in The Democrat that you were on the horns of a dilemma concerning the orthography of the new feed plant. I find in the Semi-Weekly Farm News it is spelled "hegira." Farmers pronounce it "highgear," but I suppose the editor of the Semi-Weekly Farm News must be correct, for your fraternity usually are.

Respectfully,
MRS. W. A. McMURRY.
The result is, I'm just as mixed up as ever. Which is it—"hegari" or "hegira"? The dictionary says "Hegira" is "the flight of Mohammed from Mecca to Medina in 622 A. D." What the flight of Mohammed has to do with feed is beyond me. But I agree with Mrs. McMurry about editors always being correct. She is absolutely right. I have never known an editor who was wrong; that is, one who would admit he was wrong. I'm glad I'm not an editor. I'd rather be wrong than president.

Speaking of being wrong reminds me about our rose bushes. Some of them were wrong and The Democrat has already refunded quite a few dollar bills on this account. Don't hesitate to tell us if your roses are not growing. You are entitled to roses or your money back—one of the two. Some of the bushes are thriving, but others seem to have been in poor condition when they arrived in Memphis. Some, that looked at first like they were dead, are now putting on life. Water yours thoroughly every day and perhaps they will do likewise.

Three other farmers and I went to Plainview Tuesday to attend the Panhandle-Plains Dairy Show. The other farmers were M. F. Crowder of Eli, T. A. Messer of Memphis, and L. G. Yarbrough who lives 12 miles east of Memphis. We looked at the cows and the bulls and the calves and the heifers and drank pink lemonade and bought red balloons. We were just farmers together, that's all.

I had to get up at 4:30 that morning in order to be a good farmer. I haven't been any good since. There's a train that leaves Memphis for Amarillo at 5:12 every morning and I saw it Tuesday for the first time in my life. I don't see why people want to go right in the middle of the night.

We hadn't driven a mile from town until Mr. Crowder remembered the only time in his life that his automobile ran out of gas. "I left here once for Alabama," he said, "and ran out of gas a mile south of Memphis." L. G. Yarbrough spoke up: "You weren't very enthusiastic about your trip, were you?"

"So you're the publisher of the Memphis Democrat, are you?" Mr. Messer asked me. "I take one paper that I can strike a match to and read everything in it before it burns up. I could walk to every house that subscribes for it in three hours. Is that your paper?" "Well," I replied, "I certainly hope not!"

When we went through Parnell, Mr. Messer "broke out" again. "You know," he said, "the founder of this town was a good man, but he had to move north of the river, near Memphis, to make a living."

He told me a story on Conly Ward. I don't know whether it's true or not, but I'll tell it anyway. Conly doesn't weigh very much, and I'll bet I can outrun him. When Conly was in business on the west side of the square, Mr. Messer declared, he put up a sign like this in his store:

NO GOODS SOLD ON SUNDAYS (And D— Little on Weekdays)

But that's not as bad as the fellow who went broke and had to borrow $3 to file bankruptcy papers.

One of Memphis' optimists said "I'm not worrying about business. I haven't got any to worry about. But I caught him yesterday worrying because he didn't have anything to worry him."

Poor Plainview! She has a huge institution and doesn't realize it. The Texas Panhandle-Plains Dairy Show grounds and buildings are about one-fourth large enough to accommodate the entries and the crowds. People didn't have room to breathe over there Tuesday. And most of the stock just gave up and lay down in a sweat. The finest animals I've seen were on exhibit, and the Dairy Show, though young, is already responsible for a large increase in dairying enthusiasm in the Panhandle.

What surprised me was the fact that Plainview evidently didn't expect its Dairy Show to amount to much, judging by the meagre accommodations. I've always heard that Plainview is alive and quick to grasp an opportunity. Well, Plainview has a big thing now whether she knows it or not. The Dairy Show needs four times as much room, in my humble judgment. I'm not a prophet or a prophet's son, but I'll do the prophesying until the prophet comes.

Did you ever hear about the Scotchman who was trying to cut down the expense of raising cattle? Just about the time he thought he had them cured of eating they all died.

Ne plus ultra.
MRS. HOLLIS BOREN HOSTESS AT MEET OF PATHFINDERS

The Pathfinders met Tuesday, April 8, in the home of Mrs. Hollis Boren, in a Children's Program, with Mrs. H. L. Nelson as leader for the evening.

The club enjoyed hearing Mrs. Nolan Walters as guest. Mrs. Walters told in her very interesting way "The Prince Harweta." Old as well as young enjoyed this interesting fairy story.
Play, "School Day Fever"—Mary Helen Nelson, Jackie and Billy Boren.
Piano, "The Circus Arrives"—Owen Elyne Gilmore.
Reading, "Home is Where the Heart Is"—Helen Ruth Wiggins.
Play, "Dolls"—Anita Meacham and Nelle Parks.
Reading, "Kangaroo Hop"—Jeane Parks.

PARENT-TEACHER ASSOCIATION HAS DISTRICT MEETING

The Texas Parent-Teacher Association of the Eighth District held one of the most successful meetings in its history in Childress April 2-4.

The busy days included reports and formulating plans for the coming year also the biennial election of officers.
The theme "Worthy Home Membership Through Parent Education" proved especially interesting in the presentation of the well planned program.

Mrs. Stephen Chamness of Austin, the state executive secretary, was recognized as an outstanding speaker in her presentation of the work of the P. T. A. in the workers' Conference each day when delegates were privileged to discuss many items of interest. The prime motive of the Parent-Teacher Association is the development of the child.

The District president, Mrs. J. M. Crain of Claude, brought a vision of the possibilities of the Eighth District based on the work already established. There are twenty-six counties in the district with 5,000 members. 112 are taking correspondence courses in the work of the P. T. A. and members are urged to take advantage of this.

Memphis has the distinction of having registered the third largest number of paid members in the state office. Childress is first and San Jacinto, Amarillo, the second. Two objectives for the district call for every member participating in the activities and every one an informed member.

Mrs. Frank Creighton of Wichita Falls, president of the 13th District addressed the conference on the timely subject of Youth. She stated that at one time the thing sought for was Power, but now it is Light and this is the Golden Age, the Age of Beauty and Art in all things pertaining to the advancement of Youth expressed in home, school, church and state.

An address "Engineering the Home" by Phoebe K. Warner, National chairman of rural life in women's clubs, held much for every mother and was a beautiful tribute to home.

Dr. Dean C. Dutton, director nation wide citizenship building campaign gave a masterful lecture each of the three days discussing "Training for Citizenship," "The Romance of the American Life" also a lecture to high school boys and girls. Each lecture brought a heart throb of deep appreciation of the blessings and opportunities given to Youth today.

Many worthwhile subjects were presented throughout the sessions which included reports from the many organizations represented.
The report of the local P. T. A. given by Mrs. N. A. Hightower tells of the splendid work of this organization during the year just closed, and will be appreciated by the citizenship of Memphis.
"There are 48 teachers in the school, and they are one hundred percent active and one hundred and thirty patrons, ninety percent active members."

Our work closed last spring with a banquet given by the Association to our Hi-Y boys and Girl Reserves—one hundred and twenty-five young people from these two organizations attended.
Our activities opened in September with a reception honoring our teachers, all of whom attended. This is our first year to have Year Books. They have really been the one outstanding achievement which has helped our work to grow rapidly. We have had every monthly program with at least two educational numbers, students program and special music. We encourage and sponsor Glee Clubs in the school.

Fire prevention and Health weeks have been observed with an exhibition of posters which were made by the children. Prizes were awarded for the best posters. Book week was observed with a book shower and a large number of volumes were thus added to the school library.

A prize of five dollars was given to the room which first attained one hundred percent membership of mothers. One hundred and fifteen visits were reported on parents' visiting day. The general chairman of room mothers, has put a real inspiration into the work. Two and a half dollars is allowed each month for the purchase of a book, to the room having the greatest number of mothers present at regular meeting.

National Founders Day was observed with a beautiful candle lighting ceremony, three cakes were presented, one to each of the past presidents and one to the acting president.

An Art Exhibit furnished by the Practical Art and Drawing Company of Dallas was sponsored by the room mothers, as a result five pictures were attained for the school.

A Martha Washington Benefit Tea was given, an interesting program was presented in costume. Fifty dollars was received.

Health Committee sponsored the sale of Tuberculosis Association stamps to the amount of sixty dollars. The committee received six first aid kits for this service.

The Association helped furnish teachers rest room. The following were added to the school: A $125 slide; Music Appreciation Records; 30 copies of "My Weekly Reader Magazine" two College Dictionaries; Furnish slides monthly for the stereophones. Gave $5 to Girl Scout drive; $550 was spent in our work this year.

CHRISTIAN WOMEN MEET ON MONDAY IN ELLIOTT HOME

A splendid and enthusiastic meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society of the First Christian Church was held Monday afternoon, April 6, in the home of Judge and Mrs. J. M. Elliott.

The meeting was opened by singing "Rescue the Perishing," followed by roll call and business session. An Easter prayer service for the ladies of the church was arranged for next week. The following short but interesting program was given:

Topic: Witnesses to His Glory.
Worship Theme: The Joy of Jesus, Heb. 12:2.

Devotional—Mrs. Arthur W. Jones.

Foreign Missions as I See It—Mrs. J. P. Watson.

Review of paper on "Mexican Work"—Mrs. J. B. Wright.

Through Western Szechwan, the return trip to Tibet of Marion Duncan and family—Mrs. W. R. Cabaness.

Lovely refreshments were served during the social hour to about 30 women, all of whom are members of the organization, with the exception of two.

PROMINENT CLOVIS IS MARRIED TO HEDLEY WOMAN

Announcement of the marriage of Mrs. Gladys Adamson Ewen, of Hedley, to Ed Hartley, of Clovis, New Mexico, was received by friends of the couple. The wedding took place Wednesday in Clovis.

The bride is well known in Memphis, as she formerly resided here, and is the daughter of Tom Adamson, of Hedley, a pioneer resident of that city. Mrs. Hartley has held a responsible position for the past two years as secretary with the West Texas Utilities Company in Hedley. Mr. Hartley is a prominent business man in Clovis, being engaged in the creamery business, though he was formerly associated with the C. E. Stone Co., at Plainview.

Previous to their departure for Clovis, where they will make their home, a dinner was served in their honor at the Cooper Hotel at Hedley. A number of immediate friends of the happy couple gathered at 6 p. m. Wednesday in the spacious dining room for the dinner. The table was beautifully decorated in pink and white, the chosen colors of the bride elect. The same color scheme being carried out in the room decorations.

The guests at this happy occasion were Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Norred, of Clarendon, Mr. and Mrs. Luther Grundy of Memphis, Mr. Ray of Clarendon, Miss Cloteel Moreman, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lowry, Dick Merrick, Mrs. Dannie Battle and son Jack, Miss Inez Ewen, daughter of the bride, all of Hedley, and the honorees, Mrs. Ewen and Mr. Hartley.

BUSINESS GIRLS HOLD REGULAR TUESDAY MEETING

The regular Tuesday evening program of the Business and Professional Women's Club was held at the Memphis Hotel Club Room. The short business session, following the luncheon, was presided over by Gladys Hammond, club president.

Edna Bryan was in charge of the program, subject being "National Government." Altha Tom Bridge talked about "The Executive Department," and Rose Cohen "The Judicial Department."

Borrowing from the Lions Club, the Business Girls unanimously and uproariously selected Tess Potter as "Tail Twister." The next meeting is to be held at the Memphis Hotel, April 29, with Clem Wyatt as hostess and Maud Worsham in charge of the program.

Y. W. A. HAS JOINT MEET MONDAY WITH BUSINESS GIRLS

The Y. W. A.'s met Monday night in joint session with the Business Girl's Circle in the Ladies Parlor of the First Baptist church. After hearing an enjoyable program, given by the Business Girls, the following officers were elected for the Y. W. A.: Martha Baskerville, president; Shirley Hill, vice president; Una Loard, secretary-treasurer; Miss Mary Burks, sponsor.

After the election of officers the clubs adjourned to the kitchen where an enjoyable social hour was spent. Ice cream and cake were served by the hostesses, Miss Lois Harrell and Mrs. O. N. Hamilton, to the ten members and the sponsors, Mesdames V. O. Williams and Jet R. Fore.

T. M. Cox and E. M. Dennis returned Friday from Gainesville.

WOODMAN CIRCLE HAS BUSINESS MEET WEDNESDAY NIGHT

Woodman Circle, No. 803, met in regular business session Wednesday night, April 2nd, in the I. O. O. F. Hall, with Mrs. Willie B. Cudd presiding.

Thirteen officers and members were present. After the closing of the session a very pleasant social hour was enjoyed by all, during which time the members engaged in piecing a quilt to be sent to the home at Sherman.

Jim Wilson, a former Memphian, but now residing in Wyoming, is visiting with friends here this week.

MEMPHIS REBEKAH LODGE HAS MEET MONDAY EVENING

Memphis Rebekah Lodge No. 346 met in regular session Monday night, in I. O. O. F. Hall, Mrs. W. E. Hill, Noble Grand, presiding.

After the business was disposed of, the degree was conferred on one candidate, Miss Ophelia Webb. Several talks on the good of the order were given.

Following dismissal Mrs. W. E. Hill Noble Grand, and Mrs. Ray Taylor, vice grand, surprised the officers and members by serving most delicious cake and cream to twenty eight members.

MONTHLY LUNCHEON FEDERATED BOARD AT CLARK HOME

The monthly luncheon of the Executive Board of the Federated Missionary Society was held Monday at the home of Mrs. L. S.
Clark on South Seventh street.
Lovely spring flowers, lilacs and roses were used in profusion in the reception and dining rooms.
At 12:30 o'clock, luncheon was served, each one helping themselves. The menu consisted of sandwiches, salads, fresh Irish potatoes, pickles, iced tea, ice cream, fresh strawberries and cake. Prettily appointed tables with dainty covers centered with vases of flowers were arranged in the large reception room, four being seated at each table. The committees were seated together.

The president, Mrs. C. W.
Broome called the house to order. The meeting was opened by singing "Sweet Hour of Prayer."
the service by reading from Romans, Phillipians and John, taking for her subject, "Prayer," and making an intensely interesting talk concerning the effectual and strengthening power of prayer. At the close of her talk, Mrs.
Henderson Smith gave the prayer.
This was followed by Mrs. Thos.
E. Noel reading the minutes, when the meeting was declared open for the business deliberations.

After reports were heard from the Civic and Interracial committees a motion was adopted that the Civic Committee take steps toward beautifying the main entrance to the Public Library. Concerted effort at present is most needed in the improvement of the Library yard facing Main street. It was also voted to give five dollars toward repairing the Negro school window and buying flower seed, encouraging civic pride in the Negro addition. Mrs.
S. T. Harrison gave notes from the Senior banquet which was under the auspices of the Federated Missionary Society, which was served in the dining room of the Educational Building of the First Baptist church. The interesting feature of the occasion was the splendid and impressive talk made by Dean Dutton to the students.

At the close of her report, Mrs.
Harrison was given a rising vote of thanks for her efficient service in making the banquet a success.
The meeting closed with prayer
by Mrs. Slover.

Those present were Mesdames
Broome, Noel, Wheat, Kittinger,
McMurry, Williamson, Floyd Mc-
Elreath, Allen Grundy, Draper,
Bass, Moore, Beard, Powell, Shaw, Slover, Van Pelt, Delaney, Mallard, S. T. Harrison, Henderson Smith, J. P. Montgomery and the hostess.

WOMAN'S FORUM OF MEMPHIS MEETING HELD LAST FRIDAY

On Friday afternoon at three o'clock, the Woman's Forum of Memphis held its first regular meeting. Forty-five members of the various women's clubs met at the Legion Home for the conference. Mrs. S. A. Bryant, president, stated that the first procedure of business would be the election of the officers yet un-chosen. The entire corps of officers who will serve the organization until September 1931
are: Mrs. S. A. Bryant, president; Mrs. W. C. Dickey, recording secretary; Mrs. M. J. Draper, first vice-president; Mrs. Clyde Millam, second vice-president; Mrs.
E. S. Foote, third vice-president; Mrs. L. P. Lane, corresponding secretary; Miss Edna Bryan, treasurer and Mrs. Roy L. Guthrie, press reporter.

It was decided that the Forum would officially extend a most cordial invitation to the club women of the Seventh District to hold their next meeting in Memphis. Mrs. Bryant was elected delegate, with Mrs. T. J. Dunbar, alternate. Mrs. Guthrie was chosen to give the invitation.

The president sincerely expressed her personal appreciation for the use of the Legion home in the completion of the organization of the Forum, and thereby voiced the sentiment of the membership. The corresponding secretary was instructed to send a card of thanks to Post Commander Nelson.

The Forum will convene on the first Friday in May, the second day, and is most eager to cooperate with all civic interests. It is hoped that all citizens wishing the services of this unit of activity will avail themselves of the opportunity of calling upon it.
Realizing that as we serve we are strengthened, the members of the Woman's Forum are ever alert to the problems of the community, and are most willing to assist in solving them.

PARTY IS GIVEN PRISCILLA CLUB BY MRS. HATTENBACH

Mrs. Hattenbach and Mrs. Watson were hostesses to the members of the Priscilla Club and their husbands, also several guests, at the home of Mrs. Hattenbach,
Friday, March 28.

The house was beautifully decorated with roses, sweet-peas and ferns. A three course dinner was served by the hostesses, and much merriment accompanied the games of "Forty-Two" which followed.

The guests were Mr. and Mrs.
M. J. Draper, Mr. and Mrs. Her-sal Whaley, Mr. and Mrs. John A.
Wood, Mrs. Oren, Mr. and Mrs.
G. D. Beard, Mr. and Mrs. Sam
Foxhall, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Shaw and Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Kinslow.
The club members and their husbands, enjoying the evening's entertainment were Mr. and Mrs.
Art Miller, Mr. and Mrs. B. L.
Beach, Mr. and Mrs. George Sager, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Caba-ness, Mr. and Mrs. Will Kesterson, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Dickey,

Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Dial, Mr. and Mrs. Seth Palmeyer, and the hostesses and their husbands.

THIRTY DALLAS BUSINESS MEN VISIT CITY

Homer Wade Among Speakers In Meet At Courthouse

Thirty Dallas business men, presidents, vice-presidents and general managers of large Texas concerns, said Memphis an hour's visit last Friday afternoon in a four car special train that toured 1,265 miles of West Texas and the Panhandle before it completed the trip on arrival in Dallas at 10:55 p. m. Saturday.

Arrived Friday Afternoon

The good will evangelists arrived in Memphis at 4:30 o'clock and were greeted at the Fort Worth and Denver station by some fifty business men who supplied automobiles for a short tour of the city. The trade trippers were shown over a portion of the business and residential districts and were then taken to the district court room where a short meeting was held. Lyman Robbins, as president of the Memphis Chamber of Commerce, presided, and introduced W. B. Quigley, president of the Citizens State Bank.

Address of Welcome

In delivering the address of welcome, Mr. Quigley pointed out reasons why Dallas should be the friend of West Texas, and West Texas, in turn the friend of Dallas. He spoke of mutual helpfulness that could be brought about by a better understanding between the Southwestern metropolises and the Panhandle. He gave the Dallas party an insight into local conditions, what Memphis and Hall County are doing in advancing the interests of this section.

Revival To Start At Baptist Church Sunday Morning

A revival meeting will be conducted at the First Baptist church, beginning next Sunday morning and continuing through the services on Sunday evening, April 20, according to an announcement by Rev. E. T. Miller this week. Mr. Miller stated that he would not follow the usual procedure of getting an out-of-town man to conduct the services but would do the preaching himself. However, he will be assisted by J. D. Riddle, of Amarillo, who will be in charge of the large chorus choir.

The Baptist pastor is desirous of having a meeting that will reach into all parts of the community and is making his plans accordingly. He invites the other churches to cooperate in making the evangelistic campaign successful. It is understood that two services will be held daily, one at the morning hour, and the other at night.

Memphians Who Are Alleged To Have Been Transporting Liquor Apprehended

After having eluded officers practically all the way from Shamrock to Wellington, J. T. Reed and Horace Hooks when apparently making a getaway were surprised by officers when they neared Wellington last Saturday and were arrested. Reed and Hooks, who are said to have been used as car salesmen in Memphis, were alleged to have been bringing in a shipment of whiskey from a town in Oklahoma when they were surprised by members of the sheriff's department at Wellington. It is said they had five gallons of whiskey in their possession at the time of their arrest.

Favors More Playgrounds

J. R. Jones, manager of J. R. Jones and Company, local dry goods store, believes that the Library Park is inadequate as a playground for the children of Memphis. More parks and playgrounds tend to foster organized play, Mr. Jones states, and keeps children off the streets. This is the eleventh in the series of articles on the subject, "What Memphis Needs Most."

More Playgrounds And Parks Needed To Help Children

BY J. R. JONES

In my opinion, one of the most outstanding needs of Memphis is more parks and playgrounds. In fact, Memphis does not compare favorably with other towns even smaller than this, in such projects. Since we are progressive in other ways, why neglect a thing that is so necessary?

More Recreation Places

The need of more places for recreation is demonstrated by the appreciation shown for our small library park. One rarely passes it without seeing a group of children at play, and a playground is not merely a place for play or a place in which to give boys and girls a good time. It is also a sign of a community's mental and (Continued on page 5)

Tribute Is Paid To Endeavors Of James To Build Good Will

A stirring tribute to the life and endeavors of Paul James was paid by J. Claude Wells at the weekly meeting of the Memphis Rotary Club Tuesday at noon. "He has done as much to build good will for Memphis as any man I know, and has performed a real and genuine service," Mr. Wells said. A guest, Dr. J. Hardin Mallard, made a short inspirational talk.

Andrew Womack, a new addition to the club, under the classification of Groceries, Retail, was instructed in the work Rotary attempts to accomplish by Jeff Watson. Frank Phelan instructed him in the matter of table manners.

CHANGING ROAD ROUTE WILL AID PUBLIC

Right-Of-Way Is Not Secured From All Property Owners

In discussing the route of the new highway from Memphis to Mulberry Bridge, by way of Lakeview, with County Judge A. C. Hoffman, the Judge handed a representative of The Democrat a copy of the official order as passed by the Commissioners' Court of Hall County on March 31. In a story that appeared in one of the local newspapers last week, several gross inaccuracies were noted by Judge Hoffman.

Inaccuracies in Story

The story stated that the new highway would pass within a few miles of Eli, when in fact, the highway, as routed by said order of the Commissioners' Court, will pass only a very short distance north of the town of Eli. The story further stated that the right-of-way had been procured from property owners all along the route, when in fact, no additional right-of-way has been secured from the property owners, as the order will show that the engineer was instructed to proceed with plans and specifications and to furnish the Commissioners' Court with field notes, giving a legal description of land required from each property owner over and through whose land the highway will run.

Order Passed March 31

The order, as passed by the Commissioners' Court, reads as (Continued on page 5)

Golf Professional Gives Instructions To Pill Followers

John Livingston, well known professional golfer, has been in Memphis since the latter part of last week giving lessons to local golfers and he states that he has enrolled quite a large number in his classes, working daily in giving instructions. Livingston is touring the country, staying at each golf club as long as there are enough golfers who are interested in improving their game. He has been instructing in golf for a number of years, and is said to be an excellent teacher.

Livingston charges a fee of two dollars a lesson for his instruction. Each golfer who desires his services is given personal attention and after watching him go through all his strokes, Livingston shows him how to improve them. The professional plans to remain in Memphis for about a month, provided there is enough interest taken in his classes.

50 GALLONS LIQUOR DESTROYED BY POURING EVIDENCE IN SEWER

When County Judge A. C. Hoffman issued a writ ordering the sheriff's department to confiscate certain liquors which had been held as evidence in a number of cases, fifty gallons of wine, whiskey and beer were poured into the sewer on the south side of the courthouse last Saturday morning. The liquor, which was emptied into the man-hole by Deputy Sheriff G. C. Baskerville and Jailer Mac Christian had been used as evidence during the last three terms of court held here.

"Believe It Or Not" Character Pays Visit To Memphis Monday

County Agent Proves Value Laying Mash

According to County Agent E. W. Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. B. T. Smith of the Buffalo Flat community produced from a flock of 198 White Leghorn hens during March 370.4 dozen eggs at a feed cost of 10.8 cents per dozen. He pointed out that even at the low price of 18 cents per dozen, the flock showed a substantial profit over the cost of the feed.

"At this time, there is a tendency among farmers to discontinue feeding laying mash on account of low prices being received for the eggs," Mr. Thomas said. "The above flock is fed laying mash continuously the year 'round. All feed was purchased at market prices and a considerable saving would have been made on the cost of production had home grown grain been available for feeding. One poultry demonstrator ran out of laying mash for a few days during the month and production fell off about fifteen percent at once."

Local Physicians Go To Meet Of Medical Society In Amarillo

A number of local physicians went to Amarillo this week to attend the two day meeting of the Panhandle District Medical Society. Among those who expected to attend the sessions of the meeting were Dr. J. M. Ballew, Dr. Winford Wilson, Dr. J. A. Odum and Dr. D. C. Hyder. Physicians from all sections of the Panhandle were in attendance and a number of papers were read.

One of the most interesting papers was delivered by Dr. Winford Wilson on the subject, "Rational Therapeutics vs. Rational Surgery." All meetings of the doctors were held in the Crystal ball room of the Herring hotel.

Ralph K. Bradford, of Indianapolis, Indiana, famous deaf mute hitch hiker, who has been recorded by Robert L. Ripley in "Believe It Or Not," paid a short visit to Memphis Monday of this week, en route from Paris, France, to San Francisco, California. Bradford is said to have traveled 30,000 miles in seven years, making total living expenses with his personal cards. He has journeyed through every state in the union and through England, France and Germany.

Bradford is 31 years old, an ex-student and graduate of The Indiana State School for the Deaf, Class of 1923. He was stricken by a stroke of Infantile Paralysis at the age of three years and attended the school for the deaf until he was graduated. Being in poor health, physicians advised him to keep out of doors in the fresh air, and as a result he has done better than 30,000 miles of walking and riding. He spent 7 months of his 1929 hike trotting over three European countries; his picture and story have appeared in many American and European newspapers.

Last summer, Bradford met a French war veteran, a Captain Louis La Verne of the French Cavalier Troops. He gave Bradford his helmet and Bradford promised him that he would wear it across the United States and he has kept his promise. He arrived in Memphis wearing his helmet.

Bradford has visited 41 State Schools for Deaf Mutes in the United States and 6 in European countries.

Will Demand That Corky Gets Share Of Coda Millions

Corky is his name—and he's a corking baby boy! That is what the nurse attending Mrs. Howard Randall says in regard to the new member of the Randall family. Corky, whose real name is Joe Pat Randall, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Randall and was born on Wednesday morning, April 2. He tipped the scales at eight pounds at the time of his birth.

"When Corky is a little older, I am going to get in touch with the artist who draws the daily comic strip, 'Gasoline Alley,' and demand that our Corky get his share of the Coda millions that Skeezix is going to inherit," Mr. Randall told nurses at the hospital. "It was his mother's wish that he be named Joe Pat, but I expect that he will always go by the nickname of Corky." While the nurses seemed to think that it was rather early for the baby to have a nickname, they agreed it might be all right.

New Trustee

Thos. E. Noel, cashier of the First National Bank, led the ticket in the school board election last Saturday, receiving a total of 251 votes. Mr. Noel has always shown an interest in school affairs and it is known that he has an open mind, when matters affecting the interests of the people come up for discussion or action. Mr. Noel is the only new school trustee, as the men re-elected with him were already serving on the board.

Editor Announces Sandstorm Work Nears Completion

Work on the 1930 Sandstorm, yearbook of Memphis High School, is fast nearing completion, according to James Hammond, editor. All copy for the book will be in by April 15, James hopes. The book will be much more elaborate this year than in years past. All departments will be complete in every detail, giving an accurate account of student activities.

Will Contain 90 Pages

The book will contain 90 pages, will have an agricultural theme and treatment throughout and will sell for three dollars the copy. The printing is being done by the Apex Printing and Stationery Company, of Waco. The Southwestern Engraving Company, of Fort Worth, is doing the engraving and the American Beauty Cover Company, of Dallas, is (Continued on page 5)

Farmer Returning To Hall County Is Glad To Be At Home Again

L. A. McKelvy, who formerly farmed near Plaska, has returned to this section from Alabama, where he moved 6 years ago. Unable to secure a farm in the Plaska community, he secured a place one mile south of Hedley. "This country looks mighty good to me," McKelvy said, "and I don't think I'll ever want to leave again." He will put 180 acres in cultivation.

He declined to state how many acres he would plant to cotton. "That seems to be a very touchy subject just now," he said. "I'll have to talk to my landlord first. However, I'm not in favor of too much cotton."

273 VOTERS GO TO POLLS IN ELECTION

Interest Aroused As Opposition Shown Board's Nominees

What will unquestionably be recorded on the pages of local history as an interesting school election, taken part in by 273 voters of Memphis, took place here last Saturday as the entire school board ticket was swept into office, when the four candidates put forward by the board achieved a signal victory at the polls. Thos. E. Noel, who takes the place vacated by Sam J. Hamilton, led the ticket with 251 votes. N. A. Hightower was second with 221 votes; M. E. McNally third with 196 votes and Elmer Shelley fourth with 181 votes. The independent candidates, Russell Clark and Dr. L. M. Hicks, received 118 votes and 101 votes respectively.

Replete With Interest

The election was replete with interest, due to the fact that this is the first time in several years that any opposition has been registered against the school administration at the polls. Campaigners for the school board ticket worked indefatigably in the interests of their candidates, getting out a large vote, especially among the women. Telephones were resorted to and women and men alike championed the cause of their candidates.

Points Are Cleared

There are a few points that should be cleared up, now that the smoke of battle has filtered away, in fairness to all concerned. It has come to the attention of the writer that various school board campaigners made the statement that the two opposition candidates had their names put on the ticket. This is true, but they did so at the solicitation of friends. It seems to be no more of a crime for them to have put their own names forward as it was for mem- (Continued on page 5)

Farmer Shoots At Prowler On Place Last Friday Night

When he saw a man sneak into a small building on his farm southeast of Memphis, near Red River, last Friday night, J. E. Cooper got out his double-barreled shot gun, blew the dust off the muzzle and fired twice at his unknown visitor. Although he did not bring the man down as he ran from the building, Cooper thinks the man was hit. With the aid of members of the sheriff's department, he has been making inquiries at various hospitals in this section in an effort to locate the intruder.

Only a short time ago, fire razed the large barn on the Cooper farm, destroying tons of feed that had been stored there, as well as harness and farm implements. As he could find no possible cause for the fire, Cooper believed it was of incendiary origin. He believes the prowler he shot at Friday night might have been responsible for burning his barn.

Local Home Economics Students To Compete In State Clothing Contest

Members of the home economics department of Memphis High School have been working diligently for some time past in making preparations to send two delegates from the high school to the state clothing contest, which will be held in Houston three days, May 1, 2 and 3. Miss Johnie Christian, head of the home economics department, stated this week that the members of her department were having some difficulty in raising funds to care for the delegates' expenses to the contest, but believed that by the time the contest is staged, enough money will be available to send the representatives.

In order to determine who will represent the local home economics department in the state contest, a clothing contest similar to the one to be held in Houston will be conducted by members of the classes here, according to Miss Christian. Every member of the clothing classes will enter the contest to be held at the high school on April 18.

Miss Estelle Shephard, head of the home economics department at Wellington high school and Mrs. W. Y. Burden, former county home demonstration agent of Collingsworth County, will be judges for the contest. The girls are to be judged on the clothing they made during the present school year, which they will model during the contest. Those winning the two highest places will accompany Miss Christian to Houston for the state contest there.

Rosenwasser Sale Offers Good Buys Men's Easter Wear

"I believe business will be particularly good before Easter this year," declared Jess Rosenwasser, manager of Rosenwasser's dry goods store, in speaking of his plans to care for the Easter trade. "I feel that our sale has started at an opportune time, as it will permit people to take advantage of the real bargains we are offering. If men or boys are in need of clothing for Easter, or any of the accessories that go along with clothes, they should come to Rosenwasser's. It is a pleasure for us to lose money during this sale. We must raise cash and are doing so at our loss and the customers' gain."

Heading the Easter list of fash- ions at Rosenwasser's are new Spring suits, two toned shoes, in white and black, and tan and brown dress oxfords, colorful neckwear, with the solid colors predominating. Rosenwasser's is also offering men's medium priced silk hose, a complete line of straws that will be displayed in plenty of time for Easter, which consist, for the most part, of sailors and hard straws.

Mr. Rosenwasser stated that any kind of shirt is good for Spring: whites, solid colors, fancy stripes, all are good. Any man who has a fancy for any particular kind of shirt will be safe in making a selection this year, for all models are good. Mr. Rosenwasser said. Other good numbers in men's accessories are two piece silk and broadcloth underwear and the new slip-over pajamas, which are essential to the complete Easter outfit.

Konjola Only Medicine That Did Any Good

New Medicine Banished Kidney and Stomach Ailments After Others Failed

"I suffered for two years with kidney trouble," said Mr. M. D. Abbott, 600 East Hattie street, Fort Worth. "I have scarcely been able to do any work. Lifting, or turning my body was the signal for severe back pains. Night risings were frequent. My stomach,

MR. M. D. ABBOTT

too, added to my misery. Anything I ate caused gas and a severe pain in the pit-of my stomach.

Konjola is the only medicine that did me any good. I now feel better than I have for many a day. I can eat what I wish without suffering and the pains in my back are gone. My kidneys now are functioning normally. Konjola has gone right to the spot in my case and I praise this wonderful medicine for all that it has done for me. A medicine that did all Konjola did for me can help others and I am recommending it to a lot of my friends who are suffering as I did."

Konjola is not a "cure-all." There is no such thing. But when taken for from six to eight weeks, Konjola will produce amazing results. The countless thousands of endorsements of Konjola have proven that it makes good, even in the most stubborn cases.

Konjola is sold in Memphis at Leverett-Williams Drug Co., and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.—Adv.

Frank's Dep't. Store Has Easter Selections Ready

Frank Bayouth, manager of Frank's Department store, is expecting a brisk Easter trade, and in preparation for such, has stocked an immense amount of merchandise that will appeal to men and boys. He says he is expecting a large Easter parade in Memphis this year, and he has backed up his judgment with the goods. This store keeps a popular priced line of men's and boy's clothing, as well as serviceable top coats, and the Spring line this year is more complete than ever before.

Offering specials in every department for men and boys, Mr. Bayouth has an exceptionally well rounded out line of men's low quarters, in dress shoes and in two toned and sports oxfords. The store carries dress shirts in all grades, colors and designs, featuring fancy and solid colors, broadcloths, and crepes in grey, tan, light blue and white.

"I have a wonderful line of broadcloth pajamas," Mr. Bayouth said, "as complete as will be found anywhere. They are being feaured in 'shiek' styles that young men and boys particularly desire." His underwear for men is well cut and patterned for comfort. He has the two piece and one piece silk underwear, and also has it in less fancy materials.

For the Easter trade, he will have a new shipment of Spring and Summer straws in the latest patterns and shapes, which will be moderately priced.

Greene Dry Goods Is Now Featuring Easter Sportswear

Easter sportswear and in fact every kind of apparel suited to the needs of men, young men and boys can be found at the Greene Dry Goods Company. If the "weather man" is favorable at Easter-tide this year, the man who enjoys the out-of-doors, and more particularly, the golfer, will want a new outfit, and there is no better place to buy it locally than at Greene's. This store features linen and wool plus-fours, golf shoes and socks in a large assortment. In addition, there are three popular numbers in sport oxfords.

Spring suits for men and boys at Greene's feature the new Zefrette cloth, which is a very light summer fabric in woollens. The suits are styled to please and the large quantity assures a good fit. The yacht style in straw hats is being featured this season. The store carries a complete line of shirts in solid colors, in broad-cloths and other material.

New patterns in fancy silk hosiery, rayon shirts and shorts to match, broadcloth pajamas in the new Spring weights, featuring checks and plaids, and in fact, everything for the man and boy desirous of being adequately attired at this season of the year, may be found at Greene's.

Color Playing Big Part In Easter At Cross Store Here

New Spring suits for men and boys in worsteds, tropical worsteds, in tans and grays, as well as pencil stripes, are recommended to those of the male element who are anxious to look their best for Easter. Topping these suits off are straw hats, panamas, soft Milams and sailors, to say nothing of the newest in Spring felts in the lighter shades and colors, all of which may be had at the Cross Dry Goods Store.

"Color is playing an important part in the apparel for men this Easter," declared W. S. Cross, owner of the store. "In keeping with that knowledge we have made our purchases accordingly. Here, you will find the best in merchandise for men and boys who care. We handle no shoddy material whatever."

A good seller at the store is the new rayon golf shirts in tans, blues and greens, with short sleeves. These shirts are particularly popular in the Spring and Summer and would go well with any part of the Easter costume. The store also carries a full and complete line of ties, both four-in-hand and bows, men's silk hose in fancy and solid colors, a celebrated line of caps for men and boys; one piece and two piece underwear in rayon and broadcloth patterns, and rayon pajamas in all colors.

It's wise to choose a SIX!

After all, it is a perfectly simple matter to decide which automobile to buy. Only two questions must be answered to your satisfaction—

First: Which car gives the most for my money?

Second: Which car represents the soundest investment in satisfaction and pride of ownership?

Six-Cylinder Motor

In buying a low-priced car consider the following facts:

It is wise to choose a six-cylinder motor—for six cylinders are necessary to take out vibration and roughness. Six-cylinder smoothness will save the motor, the whole chassis, the body, the passengers, and the driver.

The Chevrolet is a six. And yet it sells at a price that anyone can afford to pay.

This very low-priced car lasts longer, not only because of fine materials and oversize parts, but also because it is a six. Its big, smooth, 50-horsepower six-cylinder engine is always "taking it easy." There is no feeling of strain at any speed.

With all its six-cylinder smoothness and power the New Chevrolet Six uses no extra gasoline or oil. Efficient design makes this possible—overhead valves—high compression power from any fuel—very latest high-acceleration carburetor—close-fitting, long-wearing pistons—crankcase ventilation—air cleaner. You can really have extreme economy and still satisfy your ideal of truly modern transportation.

Chevrolet economy is also the mark of Chevrolet sincerity in manufacture. To illustrate:

Chevrolet valves are readily accessible and adjustable. This saves replacing valves, and also makes it possible to preserve efficiency.

Fully Enclosed Brakes

A similar example is found in Chevrolet's molded brake lining—reducing the necessity of frequent replacement, and consequent expense.

Furthermore, there is a rear axle inspection plate on the new Chevrolet Six. This makes it unnecessary to take the axle apart to examine it or clean it.

The Chevrolet Six is full of such evidence that true motor car economy comes from advancement and refinement.

Like the finest cars, the Chevrolet Six provides the comfort and protection of four springs controlled by hydraulic shock absorbers. They are mounted lengthwise, in the direction of car travel, and self-adjusting spring shackles maintain quiet.

STAPLE COTTON Will Put Farming On A Standard Basis

Staple Cotton Will Help Promote Prosperity

The entire business world is built and based on standards. It is only reasonable to suppose that farming must be built on standards, too, if it is to succeed. To accomplish this, we urge the planting of certified seed that will grow a staple product.

Sixteen million bales of cotton from this year's crop will be bad enough in itself . . . but sixteen million bales of short staple cotton will be a real disaster. Cotton is bought on its reputation and up until the past year Hall County has done very well—but with the production of so much short staple cotton, the cotton situation in this county has become deplorable. Hall County has gained a reputation for producing low class cotton . . . a reputation that will do much harm if not corrected.

It is to the farmer's own interests that he plant staple cotton. The announcement has been made that all cotton will be graded and bought this year strictly according to merit, which means that the farmer who continues to produce his half and half or other inferior grade will be penalized, while the farmer producing a staple product will receive a premium.

This, however, is not an agitation for Long Staple Cotton. One extreme is as bad as another. We urge the production of "Staple Cotton"—that will bring a staple of from 7-8 to 1 1-16 inch—and believe that unified action along this line on the part of every Hall County Farmer, will do much to relieve the cotton situation here.

bers of the school board seeking re-election to have their names placed on the ticket. It was further stated by the campaigners, or certain of them, that one of the opposition candidates was out to defeat Thos. E. Noel. Such a statement is a grievous error, although an issue was made of this alleged fact. The opposition candidate referred to gave Mr. Noel his vote as the ballots will testify. In fact, the candidate referred to did not know Mr. Noel was in the race until after he was made acquainted with this fact by the secretary of the school board.

The opposition candidates were campaigned against, especially one in particular, because it was alleged the opposition wanted to spend huge sums of money; that one of the candidates was a single man, without children, and hence, not qualified to know anything about the needs of the schools; and finally, that the opposition candidates desired to see a new gymnasium erected here. The first two contentions were without any basis of fact, and the third was only partially correct, for although the need for a new gymnasium is realized, it was not anticipated to try to have such a building erected here without giving the local people the right to state their preferences.

Election judges report that they had little time during the day Saturday for playing dominoes, due to the large vote polled, which was one of the reasons the opposition had for announcing—to see that local people used their right of suffrage in a city election.

Changing Road—

follows: "On this, the 31st day of March, the Commissioners' Court of Hall County met in special session, all members thereof being present and among other business the following order was passed:

"Whereas, heretofore on the 5th day of October, 1929, the legally qualified voters of Hall County Road District Number 1, voted for the purpose of constructing a paved road the nearest practical route from Memphis to

Mulberry Bridge by way of Lakeview, and

"Whereas, various lines and surveys have been run by the County Engineer for the purpose of routing said road as called for in petition presented to this court by the voters of said district, praying for an election to be ordered for the issuance of the above mentioned bonds, and

"Whereas, upon a full investigation and after giving due consideration of all requests and suggestions heretofore submitted by the citizens of said district and for the purpose of complying with the terms and requirements of said petition, and all orders heretofore passed in connection with the said bond issue, this court finds that the public will be better served to change the present existing road from Memphis to Mulberry Bridge by way of Lakeview, in order to straighten said road, cut down the distance, and make less the cost of construction, as it is contemplated that a new and improved road shall be built between the points above stated.

Routing of Highway

"It is therefore ordered by this court that said road from Memphis to Mulberry Bridge by way of Lakeview be changed and routed as follows to-wit: Beginning at Memphis on Noel street; thence in a southwesterly direction to new location of bridge on Indian Creek, about one thousand feet below the present bridge on the Memphis and Lakeview road; thence across Indian Creek and in southwesterly direction to a point east of the town of Lakeview; thence west on Upton street through said town of Lakeview to a point; thence in a northwesterly direction intersecting the present road on section lines; thence west with section lines to a point east of the present crossing on Bitter Creek; thence across Bitter Creek and west, intersecting with present road at Mulberry Bridge.

Proceed With Surveys

"It is further ordered that the county engineer be and he is hereby authorized and directed to proceed with the necessary surveys, plans and specifications for the construction of the proposed highway from Memphis to Mulberry Bridge as above outlined, in so far as same is practical and consistent with good engineering and road construction.

To Furnish Field Notes

"It is further ordered that the county engineer, at the earliest practical date furnish this court with field notes giving legal description of land required from each property owner over and across whose land the above road will be run in the construction of same and in no place shall the right-of-way be less than one hundred feet in width, except within the limits of an incorporated city or town, which shall be secured by the city authorities of said town.

"The above order having been read, it was moved by Commissioner B. T. Prewitt and seconded by Commissioner H. R. Irby that the same be passed. Thereupon the question being called for the following Commissioners voted "Aye": J. B. Burnett, A. R. McMaster, B. T. Prewitt and H. R. Irby."

More Playgrounds—

moral health, even a sign of advancing culture and civilization. In the past few years, psychologists have been discovering important facts about the play instinct. Work alone does not keep most of us in a state of perfect emotional balance. Few jobs permit of complete expression, so most people end their working day with a great deal of emotional energy undrained. It is, however, easier to diagnose an ailment than to prescribe a cure, but on one point there seems to be an agreement. The person who has learned to play has learned a good deal about handling this important human problem.

Adequate Opportunity

Every child should be given adequate opportunity to work out surplus nervous impulses in natural play under wise supervision. It is not enough for Memphis to have parks and playgrounds, but Memphis should have at least one supervised park where even small children can go each day and receive the right kind of recreation with fairness and safety insured. A neighboring town, not as large as Memphis, has a park of this description, equipped with every kind of playground apparatus to entertain the children. Slides, shallow swimming pools, merry-go-rounds, tennis courts, croquet grounds and other things. This would keep the children off the streets by giving them good playgrounds and our town would be a place where accidents involving children would be few and far between.

Increasing Activity

Communities all over the United States, small and large, are showing increasing activity in establishing playgrounds. There is a tendency to make organized play available to every child in the community in much the same way that the usual mental training has previously been made available in the public schools. Cities everywhere are showing an eagerness to provide play spaces for children, which is an indication of an advancing stage of American civilization. Hardly a week goes by without the establishment, in some city or town in the United States, of a new playground, dedicated to the use of American children. Real playground progress will not come from transient play areas, but rather, from permanent ones in which community interest, appreciation and tradition may grow with the years. Can Memphis afford to deprive her boys and girls of this privilege?

Acquired New Sentiment

A newspaper says of the experience of Decatur, Texas, that the community "has acquired a new and hitherto unknown sentiment in the erection of the park, that of organized outdoor recreation." Many other cities are having this same experience. Play means "doing something" to these active towns. It is a training of the play impulse which are as strong in children as hunger, and need to be satisfied rightly in order to nourish the character to a balanced development. The child who is taught to play is going to keep the power in later years. He will not be among those who quit because they are old. Most people become old because they quit the normal habits of taking time for play and recreation.

American Ideal Vigorous

From the middle-aged working man of the primitive settlement, driving himself at his task until worn out, with only occasional blind discharges of his surplus nervous energy, the American ideal has become the fit, vigorous, golf-playing, exercising business man of today. A little sand garden established in Boston in 1885 was a momentous event, for it was the first supervised playground reported in the United States. From that time until 1899, there were only thirteen cities that provided supervised play activities. In the next ten years, however, eighty more communities provided playgrounds for their citizens.

Now, the play idea has permeated not only large cities, but also, into rural sections and small communities where only the far-seeing minority at first realized the need for organized recreation. Let's adopt as one of our slogans, "More playgrounds for Memphis."

FORMER PLASKA WOMAN DIES ON MARCH 29TH

Mrs. G. E. West, age 39, former resident of Plaska, died at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. N. Robinson, near Muleshoe, March 29. Funeral services were conducted at the Circle Back Baptist church, by Rev. Cal MacGahay, of Sudan.

Burial was in the Sudan cemetery. Surviving are her husband, father, mother, two brothers, and two sisters, all living near Muleshoe, Texas.

THE DEMOCRAT'S PROGRAM FOR 1930
(Check Mark Indicates Project Has Been Realized)

1. Less selfishness and more selflessness in the business, professional and social life of Memphis and Hall County.
2. The placing of agriculture on a higher plane, with emphasis being put on diversification, live at home movement, and the cow, sow and hen route to contentment and general well being.
3. A better understanding between Memphis and the towns and communities in Hall County.
4. More respect for city ordinances in connection with parking of cars in the downtown district, observance of fire rules and regulations, and keeping the streets of the city in a clean condition.
5. More general cooperation in all movements seeking the betterment of Memphis and Hall County.
6. A municipal auditorium.
7. More paved streets.

"REVIVE US AGAIN"

VERY soon now the open season for revivals in Memphis will be on. Revivals are generally held by local churches several times a year, but the main evangelistic event usually comes in the spring. At that period of the year, the need for reviving seems more apparent than at other seasons, why we do not know, unless it be due to the fact that any number of folk have acquired bad cases of "Spring fever" and this malady has spread to their church life. We are in favor of revivals, although we do not make a practice of attending them, usually for the very good reason that we are busy in the spring as well as during other seasons.

We heard a local minister make the significant statement recently that it is becoming increasingly hard to get people to attend divine worship on Sunday evenings. It seems that the evening service offers no particular appeal. In some parts of the country, in the larger churches, only one service is held on Sunday and that is at the morning hour. With automobiles, radios, dances, card parties, visiting and all the rest, the church is getting to be slighted. Regardless of our personal beliefs, we think that churches are one of the strongest bulwarks of civilization and believing as we do, we favor them heartily.

When the revival season opens in Memphis, there will be plenty of church goers and non-church goers who will start complaining. What is the use of holding revivals during hard times will be their question. Why not wait until the fall of the year, or some other time? If we know anything about Christianity, and we know little enough, we are convinced that a person who is religious or claims to be religious knows no seasons. Consistency in church life is the all important thing that holds congregations together and makes the tasks of the ministers less arduous.

We do not believe in sentimentalism or a play on the emotions as means of getting people into the church. We believe that their reason, their sense of right, their intellect should be reached, and if a preacher is not gifted sufficiently to get hold of people in this way, there are many other jobs in the world awaiting him. We hope the people of Memphis generally will look with more favor upon revivals this spring than has been the case in the past. They are necessary, as much so as changing water daily to keep cut flowers fresh.

There is one church hymn, in particular, that has always appealed to us—not so much for the beauty of its music as the words of the hymn. We refer to "Revive Us Again." We all need reviving. We all need to get a new aspect of things, a newer and broader outlook, and sometimes this can be achieved very nicely through the medium of evangelistic campaigns.

PUBLIC SCHOOL MUSIC

WE believe Rev. H. A. Shaw, pastor of the First Christian church, was exactly right in the article he contributed to The Democrat last week in which he pointed out the need for public school music in Memphis. He made the significant statement that "we are certainly among the 'tail-enders' of the whole state when it comes to this most important phase of our school system. Music and music appreciation properly taught in the public schools, in its far reaching influence upon the lives of boys and girls, will have more to do in molding the life and character of our precious boys and girls than any other subject in the whole school curriculum."

We are behind the times in the matter of public school music but we are inclined to the opinion that something will be done about the matter in the near future. Public sentiment is becoming aroused and nothing does as much to make people "see the light" as to have a number of our citizens reach the same conclusion about a given thing. It is our belief that no school can hope to offer a system of instruction adequate with the times unless public school music is included in the curriculum.

One instructor could handle the music situation very nicely in our schools. She could devote her entire time to such a course and give every student, from first graders to Seniors, the chance of learning something about music and this instruction could be added to as time goes on. We believe that the outlay of money incident to putting in such a course is merely a matter of detail. It would be comparatively negligible in comparison with the good that would be accomplished.

While the Memphis Public School System is adequate in many respects, if it is to be in keeping with the best in the Panhandle, some attention must be given to music sooner or later. If it were not deemed advisable to put a woman in charge of this responsible work, we have in mind a thorough musician, who could handle the work very nicely, we believe. Regular examinations would be given in the courses, at least in the higher grades, and students would be expected to work as hard on this phase of their education as on any other subject they are studying.

Unless a person has some knowledge of music, his or her education is not complete. Say what you will, it is not enough to merely enjoy music. Appreciation of music is just as vital, and in order to appreciate music properly and intelligently, it must be studied. Many students there are who do not have the necessary funds with which to pay for instruction while attending school, and authorities should consider this in connection with the advisability of putting music in the public schools on a free basis, where the poorest and richest have an equal chance to understand the art, aside from the sheer enjoyment to be had from the study.

WHEN THE RED RIVER BRIDGE IS COMPLETED

WE understand a movement is on foot to have a general celebration, taken part in by Memphis, Estelline, Newlin and perhaps other towns and communities in Hall County when the Red River Bridge on the highway to Estelline is completed. We believe such an undertaking would be a worthy one and endorse it heartily. It seems that the bridge itself would be the most fitting place for a celebration of this nature to be staged. Cars could be parked at either extremity of the bridge and the meeting could take place in the very center of the structure.

We hope that the Memphis Chamber of Commerce will get busy in helping to make the celebration a reality and we believe that the civic clubs and women's organizations here would be glad to assist in the affair. Further, if Estelline and Newlin reach the conclusion that a formal bridge opening is desired, we feel sure these towns will cooperate in making the undertaking a success. One of the big features incident to such a program of entertainment would be band music. This music can be furnished by one of the three bands under the direction of Paul James or by a combined concert.

We understand that the bridge contractor is very agreeable to such a program as the one contemplated, stating that he will be glad to be present upon the occasion. The statement has also been made that some well known highway man is available. A program of the nature contemplated without speechmaking would not be very much of a program, and it seems essential to secure men who know how to talk and get through with their subject, giving way for others.

One of the needs of this highway for a considerable period of time has been the bridge which will be completed June 1. The bridge that is now in use seems to be standing as though by magic and if it continues to serve the purpose of conveying traffic until the new bridge is completed, it will have served exceedingly well its time and generation. Just as this old bridge is approached, a sign has been erected to the effect that the bridge is unsafe for travel. In other words, notice has been given that for heavily loaded trucks the bridge may or may not hold the load. Occasions have been frequent when travelers, seeing this sign, have driven their cars over the river bed rather than tackle the bridge.

Some idea of what the completed bridge will look like may be gained at the present time, as the structure is nearing completion rapidly. If good weather continues, there is no question but that the bridge will be ready for travel on June 1. To commemorate a real achievement, something of which the county has every reason to be proud, we believe a celebration should be held, of the nature outlined above, in which our citizenship generally can rejoice over the fact that the "connecting link" in our highway has become a reality.

Tweed Suits Head Easter Parade At Local B. Y. C. Store

Easter madness will be turned into Easter gladness if the men and young men of Memphis and vicinity patronize the only exclusive man's store in the city for their Easter outfit, according to J. C. Ross, manager of the B. Y. C. Store here. Mr. Ross stated that his store is equipped to completely furnish the man and the young man in the latest styles that are the product of fine American craftsmen.

Headlining the Spring array of fashion at the B. Y. C. Store is the line of tweeds, which Mr. Ross stated, will unquestionably lead the Spring and Easter revue. In an attempt to develop styles here that are authentic and that can be relied upon as in keeping with the trends in the larger cities, Mr. Ross has purchased tweeds that will appeal particularly to the young man. They have a mark of fashion about them, a sportiness of appearance that cannot be denied, and they have been designed by one of the best known manufacturers in this country.

Following the tweeds a close second at the B. Y. C. Store are the twists in new models and styles. This store also offers the style of the moment in hats and silk caps. The wide variety of patterns noticeable in both hats and caps, shows the good judgment that has been exercised in making these purchases. In addition, straw hats will make their bow to the Easter-buying public, straws that reflect the mode and trend of the times, and that will set off the Easter outfit to perfection.

Accessories include a complete line of men's hose in all colors and grades; dress and sports shoes; suits of blended underwear, in silks and broadcloth; tie and handkerchief sets; collar pins for the well dressed man at Easter, and in fact, a complete array of Spring furnishings for men that will set the style in Memphis for the "dress-up" event of the year—Easter Sunday.

By the time that the date of the primary rolls around, Texas will probably have an even dozen or more candidates for governor in the running—and not one of them of such calibre as to call forth an outstanding vote. Each one thus far has picked some particular "plank" to serve as a platform and divert the public mind from the appalling mediocrity of his proponent. . . . The Southwest Plainman, Amarillo.

LAST SIX WEEKS OF TERM STARTS NEXT WEEK

Next Monday will mark the starting of the last six weeks of this term; as a matter of fact, it is the last six weeks of school this year. The members of the Senior Class will get out one week early, in order to make necessary preparations for commencement exercises.

According to Supt. H. A. Jackson, it is high time for some of the students who have been loafing all year to "snap into it" and put on the last and final burst of speed.

REHEARSAL HAS STARTED ON DRAMA

Frank Simmons Will Play Leading Male Role

Practice began last Friday night on the Senior play that is to be presented some time the latter part of this month or the first of next month. "Daddy Longlegs" is the name of the play. It is a comedy-drama in four acts and is said, by those who have witnessed the performance in other towns to be one of the best plays of its nature that they have ever seen.

Directed by Mrs. Allen the play is under the personal direction of Mrs. Marshall Allen, local expression teacher and play director. She has previously directed the play in Shamrock, and it was a "hit" with the "people of that city."

The leading role is being played by Frank Simmons, who seems to be fitted for that place. He has had some experience in other plays and is working hard to fill his part well. The leading lady will be either Margot Shaw or Sara Hart.

Nineteen in Cast
Many of the nineteen members of the cast were in the Junior play that made a "big hit" last year. The play last year was under the direction of Mrs. Allen.

Miss Ora Lee Bray is assisting Mrs. Allen in directing the play. Miss Bray is sponsor of the Senior Class. She also assisted Mrs. Allen in the direction of the Junior play last year.

Ticket Sale Soon
The business management is being handled by Jerry Sitton, who also will act as publicity manager. He will have tickets to be placed on sale soon. Other arrangements are being made early, in order to provide extra entertainment for the patrons.

One between-act number is being rehearsed, and that is a tap dance that will be given by Homer Shankle and Albert Pearson. They are working out steps and expect to have it perfected within a short time.

The money that will be taken at the performance will be used by the Seniors to buy a gift for the high school. It is a tradition that the graduating class leave something for the school to remember them by, and the Seniors of 1930 are expecting to uphold the tradition.

Seventy Studes Are Victims Of Spring Fever On April 1st

BY MARY WINSTON WALTERS

A large school picnic was planned Monday, March 31, to be given Tuesday, April 1, but when Mr. Jackson called a meeting of the three classes, and plead and begged with the students to come to school on April Fools Day the picnic "fell through." Tuesday morning when the absentees were checked, only seventy-four students were absent. Just before 12:00 Mr. Jackson called the "faithful few" together in the auditorium and in appreciation of their presence, he gave them the afternoon off.

The unlucky seventy-four were required to remain in the eighth period forty-five minutes for every period they missed. This was to begin on Thursday and continue until the seven periods were "paid in full."

The Seniors were rather disappointed that the picnic had to be postponed, as they were planning to make it one of the outstanding events of the year. Senior Day is coming soon now, as the superintendent has promised it to and will see that it doesn't "fall through." Mr. Jackson held the Dignity of the school a few minutes after the other two classes were dismissed and in his talk, the class as a whole realized that the Seniors were to be the shining example of the school, and the responsibility was accepted.

MRS. DRAKE SINGS IN CHAPEL ON MONDAY

Monday morning in chapel, Mrs. Maynard Drake, who sang at the banquet given to the Senior class by the Federated Missionary Society, sang several songs that were well liked by the students. Mrs. Drake sang "Morning," several Indian songs, and one Spanish song. She was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Elmer S. Shelley, high school Glee Club teacher.

ON and OFF THE CAMPUS

BY THE EDITOR

"Fat" Hammond, otherwise known as James or Jimmie, editor of the high school yearbook, has won for himself considerable fame. He is recognized as an authority in etiquette. Almost all of the high school boys have been reporting to "Fat" for daily practice, as date for the Junior-Senior banquet is near.

"Fat" has always been known as a man with pleasing manners and habits. This is one of the reasons why he is so frequently seen in the presence of the weaker sex.

He is not only known for his pleasing manners, but he is well marked as a football player. He has won almost as much fame carrying the pigskin as he has with his natural habits.

When I was in another town recently, I was talking to a fair young damsel (believe it or not), and she inquired whether I knew a young man by the name of James Hammond. "I don't know," I said, "what kind of looking boy is this James Hammond?"

She then described him to me. "He is a stoutly built boy. He has very pleasing manners. He is always dressed well, and he is surely a good-looking boy. His finger nails are always well manicured; he is always neat; his hair is properly combed, his shoes shined, and he does everything that goes to make a boy tidy."

"Yeah," I scratched my head; "Oh, yeah, he is the man who is the football demon. Yeah, he is the captain of the team next year." Then I gave her a little lowdown on her hero. I gave her his address and other ways and means of communication with the man of her dreams.

Jimmie is not one of the common loafers. He was elected the Senior Class favorite the other day. He also ran a good race in the high school beauty contest, in fact his picture appears in no less than twelve places in the "Sandstorm."

There is not a subject that can be suggested upon which James can't express himself clearly. He discusses religion, politics, athletics, schools, state-wide problems, and other topics of the day. All of this is a natural ability for him.

James never fails to attend religious services on Sunday. He reads his Bible daily, and attends to other religious work. He trains every day in order to keep in perfect physical condition. He has much work to do with his annual and other things, besides his school work.

He is an excellent scholar of English, being particularly brilliant in fourth year English. It is a small matter for him to recite pages on "Hamlet" and other Shakespearean plays, almost as easy for him as to quote scripture.

He is a perfect dancer; many girls have fallen in love in his arms, while on the dancing floor. He is as a charm with all of the weaker sex; in fact, as I mentioned once before, one girl has an ambition to kiss him. Her ambition has not yet been realized. However, I enlightened James as to who the girl really was, and he has promised that in the near future her ambition will be realized.

There is one boy who has the ambition to succeed in everything the way "Fat" has, and that is none other than William Thomas

MEN WILL ENTER TRACK MEET FRIDAY

Massey and Phillips To Have Chance At Honors

At Childrens next Saturday, the District Interscholastic League Meet will be held. Coach Nolan Walter is planning to enter several of his track men in the athletic events there. Other entries in literary events will be made on the same day.

Massey Has Chance
Coach Walter's men are headed by Walter Massey, who has been high-point man in two track meets this season. Massey will enter in the 100 yard dash, the 120 yard high hurdles, the running broadjump, the shot put, and the discus throw. Massey has an excellent chance in being high-point man in this meet, as he defeated the Childrens men in three events and won seconds in the other two.

Phillips to Go
Bob Phillips has a good chance to show his "stuff" at the district. He won first award in the century at Turkey, and won second at a dual meet between Memphis High and Childress High at Childress last week. He has exhibited excellent form all season and has been clocked around ten seconds on several occasions.

Womack "Dark Horse"
Harry Womack is another dash man who will bear watching at the district meet. He has shown promise all season; however, in competition he has been hindered by sore leg muscles and back starts. Womack has done well in practice, stepping the hundred ahead of Phillips and Massey on some occasions.

J. W. West will be another Memphis lad, who will appear in his first year at the district. He will enter the mile relay at the 880 yard dash. Other men who will be taken are Roy Stargel, who will run the 880 yard dash, and Curtis Bourland, who will enter the mile. It is probable that other men will be taken to the meet.

Those who will represent the high school in literary events are Ernestine Walker and Sarah Bradshaw, girls' debates; Cearley Rea-Kinard and B. F. Shepherd, boys' debates; Harold Foxhall and Loui Foxhall, declamations; Betty Dal West, declamation; Dorothy Jones, essay writing; and Jerr Sitton, extemporaneous speaking.

Coach Walter Will Hold Spring Foot Ball Practice Soon

Plans for spring training in football are under way at the time. The practice will probably begin some time within the next two weeks under the direction of Coach Nolan Walter; he will be assisted by Walter Massey, who captained the Cyclone in the 1929 season.

Coach Walter plans to teach only the fundamentals of football during the spring session. He will not play any games, due to the fact that the weather will be too hot. He may decide to play a few practice games between the boys.

Each year previous, spring football training has been eliminated, due to the fact that track and baseball were given the attention. When spring training had not each year, the boys spend three weeks of hard work before the season starts each fall. This is not a very popular plan with the boys.

Coach Walter anticipates that a large number of boys will out for the squad. Twelve inter-men will be out to hold the positions, and a large number "rookies" have signified that they intend to report for the spring practice. The coach plans to issue equipment in the near future. The football ground is already in excellent condition.

Sanders, "Fat" has been coaching William Thomas for the last few weeks; however, he told confidentially that he didn't think William Thomas would ever hit the qualifications to realize his ambition. However, "Fat" is going to coach him.

James has announced that he will be in a position to coach some of the boys who are back yard, the near future. If any one can have lessons under the personal direction of James Hammond write or otherwise communicate with him at once.

34 YEARS AGO RINGING BACK THE PAST FROM THE FILES OF THE HALL COUNTY HERALD

the files of the Hall County Herald for Saturday, August 15, 1896)

Wheat was advanced a little first of the week and the farmers were bringing it in pretty early.

Several farmers talked with this week, report quite heavy ravages of boll worms on their cotton crops.

Supt. Goode's private car was latched to the south-bound train Monday.

Pat Dooling, the redoubtable look claim agent for the Denver, went Friday here.

Several cars of oats, watermelons, etc., have been shipped in here daily this week.

Capt. B. F. Wright has been appointed to hold the primary election at this box.

Man's New York speech has overshadowed the local election topic the last two days.

C. H. Hodge has a fine lot of Berkshire shoots from $1.50 up, and will trade same for kaffir corn, cattle or horses.

Tom Kemp, of Bowie, was in Memphis several days this week buying wheat, watermelons, etc. and bought several cars.

Gradually old landmarks are disappearing. This week the old wagon yard opposite the Herald office, which has long been an eyesore, was torn away.

W. A. Morris, the dentist, who was to have been here the past week, decided that he had best go on to other fields and only stayed in town twenty-four hours.

Gov. C. A. Culberson will speak at Childress on August 24. In connection there will be a big barbecue, horse racing, roping contest, etc. The citizens of Childress are making arrangements to entertain the entire people of the adjoining counties. Everything "free and unlimited." Everyone invited.

Strayed—a white heifer yearling branded circle J. A., dim, on left side. Anyone knowing her whereabouts will notify J. W. Brice and be suitably rewarded.

The grass has been burned off from large sections of the country between Quannah and Fort Worth. Unless there are good fall rains there will be no winter grass in that locality.

The way the boys did fall out of Mr. Howe's melon patch was a caution. Some of them swear that they have been to the war, at least they have heard the screech of bullets and smelled powder.

Not a few of the people of Hall appreciate the right and endorse the war the Herald is making for fairness and economical government of county affairs and the way they have come around and added their names to the roll of honor every week is quite encouraging to the publisher.

In addition to the other reliable values, The Famous is offering for the approval of men, a popular line of ties in light shades and solid colors; a full line of silk hose; Spring felts that are particularly serviceable at this time of year and two piece and one piece silk and broadcloth underwear.

Easter Clothes At J. R. Jones and Co. Detail New Colors

Spring suits in tropical worsteds and French worsteds for men and young men, and an excellent line of Spring clothing for boys, in all the newest Spring colors of pewter gray, brown and tan, as well as pin stripes, are to be found in the large assortment at J. R. Jones and Company, according to Lee Cason, local manager. "We have an excellent stock from which to make selections," Mr. Cason said, "and I believe men and boys would do well to look over our patterns before they decide on that Easter outfit. If we cannot fit them out for Easter, then no one can."

The J. R. Jones and Company store also features a beautiful line of Spring shirts in solids, stripes and checks, in broadcloth and madras. Heading the list is the popular new gray shirt for young men, which is proving to be a best seller all over the country. An adequate line of silk sport hose for men in various colors blend in well with the new low quarters.

The store has a nice assortment of Easter ties in solid and fancy colors, bright, gray and sober to suit the individual taste of the buyer, and in addition, the establishment carries a complete line of silk underwear in two piece suits, athletic underwear in silks and broadcloth in both white and colored lines.

Mrs. Eva Womack of Clarendon, stopped in Memphis Friday, for a visit with her son, A. Womack. Mrs. Womack had been visiting for about ten days in Childress.

THE FIRST REALLY NEW OIL IN 25 YEARS

This is the simple story of the new oil that is now enjoying such remarkable acceptance: Conoco Germ-Processed... In the first place, this new oil is an extraordinarily fine paraffin-base lubricant. And then... under exclusive Conoco patents, this oil is endowed with the unusual faculty of penetrating and combining with metal surfaces. This faculty, we call "Penetrative Lubricity." The Germ Process, by adding a precious oily-essence lacking in all other oils, does this... And so provides constant un-failing lubrication for your motor under any conceivable strenuousness of motor operation. Germ Process is the first fundamental improvement in refining methods in the last quarter century.

So won't you come into the next station you see bearing the Red Triangle and join the thousands of other motorists who have changed to Conoco Germ-Processed Oil in the last few weeks?

New Needle-Weave Suits For Easter Shown At Stone's

From the latest in hats to the latest in shoes, C. E. Stone and Company is adequately equipped to handle the question of Easter clothes for men and boys in Memphis," according to Heral Whaley, local manager of the C. E. Stone and Company store. "Our straw hats reflect youth and simplicity and will sit well on any head," continued Mr. Whaley, "while the new needle-weave suits are showing cannot be beat for value and utility."

The store has a complete line of men's silk underwear in the past shades, and both the one piece and two piece suits are available in a variety of colors and patterns. Also a complete line of low quarters is carried in black, the tan, brown and black setting off well the other parts of the costume agreed upon for Easter wear.

The store has a wide variety of popular patterns, representing the ultimate in value. Practically every wanted color can be found here. In addition, shirts in the newest colors, with solids and stripes predominating, may be had at reasonable prices for the man who desires to look his best at Easter.

Joe Davis, of Wilson, Texas, is spending the week with his sister, Mrs. W. D. Norvell.

Men's Furnishings For Easter At Big Savings At Famous

"Taking advantage of low prices offered in such a sale as we are conducting at the present time is the best way I know of for men to get what they want for Easter at prices within reach of every pocketbook," said Isadore Cohen, of The Famous, in detailing the Spring line of merchandise that will be offered during the sale now in progress. "We have cut our prices to the point where no good reason exists for people not taking advantage of the many bargains to be found at The Famous. By doing so, they are helping themselves and are preparing for a worth while Easter."

The Famous is featuring new Spring suits for men and young men in a wide variety of style and material—good substantial suits that are selling at bargain prices. The store also has a complete line of men's shirts in white broadcloth and the many solid colors that are becoming increasingly popular. The colored shirts represent the vogue of the moment and the old men and the young men are constantly finding them ever more satisfactory, Mr. Co-

Sale Bargains For Easter On Hand At Little Mercantile

"If the men of this section want some real bargains for Easter, they should patronize our sale which will be continued for some time in order to take advantage of excellent merchandise priced right and for quick sales," declared Henry Goodpasture, in speaking of the men's wear carried in stock by the Little Mercantile Company. "The bargains we are offering for men should be taken advantage of when planning on that Easter outfit, and I'll guarantee that no one will be disappointed."

A survey of the immense stock of men's wear at the Little Mercantile Company, together with the prices, bear out Henry's statement. Heading the list is a large shipment of new straws that has just arrived. These hats, selling at popular prices, are Milans and Florentines—hats that are always serviceable for spring wear and that make the rest of the Easter outfit show up well in comparison. The Little Mercantile Company is featuring a good line of men's dress hose in all the wanted colors for Spring; a new line of caps for boys and young men; a full line of dress shirts; nice numbers in low quarters and a popular line of Spring ties, in both loud and sober shades. Men's underwear reflecting the latest trends is to be found here in an ample assortment, which includes both the one and two piece suits, designed for Spring and Summer wear. In addition, there are pajamas galore, hose supporters, new belts and in fact, practically everything that a man could possibly want for Easter—and each item of apparel can be purchased at an exceptionally low price during the sale.

A. Baldwin Styles Perfect Outfit To Suit Easter Needs

There is no reason for a man or boy to feel conspicuous in church on Easter morning by not having a new Spring suit with appropriate "trimmings," for everything that the man or boy needs to make Easter a perfect day, in the matter of clothes, can be had at A. Baldwin's dry goods store. New spring suits in all the wanted styles and cuts are to be found here for the young man and the older man. Hats to suit the taste of the most meticulous and that will enhance the appearance of the Spring suit, or the tailored suit, for the store furnishes stock models or made to order suits, with equal ease and satisfaction, run a wide range in variety of color and class of workmanship. Boys in the 'teen age will find that A. Baldwin understands their needs thoroughly and that they can get outfitted at this store easily and at small expense. Soft straws are also available for the Easter trade.

To make the Easter outfit perfect, men's and boy's dress shoes, in black, tan and brown may be had to say nothing of silk underwear in one and two piece patterns, ties in plenty, colorful summer weight pajamas, men's and boys shirts from four years old up. Byron Baldwin stated that colored shirts are proving to be a good seller for spring and a man or boy cannot go wrong thus attired. In addition, there is a complete line of silk hose to choose from, to match the low quarters, and to enhance their looks in general.

Freiburg Passion Play Is Coming To Amarillo In April

AMARILLO, April 10. (Special)—The famous German cast of the Freiburg Passion play, headed by Adolf Fassnacht, seventh generation of his family to portray the Christus, are playing in Dallas this week and will start back toward Amarillo, by way of Oklahoma, to keep a return engagement on April 29 and 30.

Early Ticket Sale
Considering the fact that 3,000 or more persons were turned away from the three performances of the famous show in this city in February, Wilbur C. Hawk, president of the Tri-State Fair, under whose auspices they will appear, has arranged to start an early ticket sale so that everyone may have this last opportunity to see the Biblical story of Christ's activities during Passion week portrayed.

Three Performances
Three performances, two nights and a matinee, will be given on the return engagement. Seats will be reserved for each show. At the first engagement here, no reservations were made for the matinee, but seats will be reserved this time so that persons coming in from the surrounding territory may be assured of good seats when they arrive, Mr. Hawk said.

No Advance In Price
There will be no advance in prices. Seats will range from $1 to $2.50 each for the night performances. For the matinee, school children will be admitted for 50 cents, school teachers for 75c and other adults for $1 in the balcony and $1.50 for the first floor. Reservations will be accepted by mail now. Those writing in should specify the performance they wish to attend, whether Tuesday or Wednesday night, or Wednesday matinee.

Make Conoco Test—

local wholesale distributor of Continental Oil Company products, assisted by C. W. Bedwell and G. W. Brown, special Conoco representatives.

Drained Completely
The Ford, which had been using Conoco Germ Processed oil, was drained completely, in the presence of a number of disinterested spectators, and the front of the car was jacked up to make sure that all of the lubricant was removed. The car was then driven to Estelline at an average speed of about 35 miles an hour. On arrival at Estelline, the crank-case plug was again removed in order to drain the oil that might have been accumulated around the pistons when the oil was first drained. The return trip was made to Memphis, without oil, and the car was driven five miles around city streets for a total of 35 miles.

Film of Protection
"This test proves beyond a doubt," Mr. Sigler declared, "that the new Conoco Germ Processed motor oil provides a film of protection that permits an automobile to be driven for several miles, even after the oil becomes dangerously low, without harm to the motor. The Continental Oil Company has been making some pretty strong claims in its advertising, and this test should prove to the most skeptical that the claims are well founded."

Make Affidavits
Men who witnessed the test, seven of whom made sworn affidavits that the car was driven 35 miles without oil in the crankcase, were D. S. Baker, Frank Painter, James Skinner, C. W. Smith, Ben Woodington, Earl Parker, W. A. Vickers, E. C. Rudolph, L. H. Pritchard, S. L. Seargo, C. W. Bedwell, G. W. Brown, and G. S. Sigler.
