WOMEN WORK

By INEZ BAKER

Do you realize that priceless history is being recorded each week by your local newspaper? Not only is it a record of the progress of the global war but also of the part your boy is playing in it. The editor expects no praise for this service, it is in appreciation of the boys who are fighting for their country, boys whom the editor has known from childhood. It is only one of his many services to his country.

The Plaska Auxiliary sent in recently a lovely box of baby clothes for the emergency chest, in all fifty-one articles. With this also came nine pairs of socks, four sweaters, five helmets and three finished quilts. The women of Plaska are busy now with canning and harvest but they find time to serve the Red Cross.

Mrs. B. Webster, production chairman, requests if you have sewed garments you have not returned to the Red Cross rooms, please, send them in at once.

A very welcome letter today from a former neighbor, one whom I loved very much, Mrs. Mae Lofland, who now lives in Amarillo. She grieves because the only Red Cross work she does is three or four knitted garments a month. Some of her time must be given to little Jonnie, the son of her daughter Billie. Billie does drafting and blue printing at Amarillo Air Field and her husband is in service.

Mrs. Lofland still loves Memphis people and wishes to have a part in our Red Cross chapter production. So she is sending a quilt pieced by ten and eleven year old girls of Amarillo under her supervision. She is also sending the lining and money for the cotton. We are indeed grateful for this kind thought and I know some one will telephone the minute they read this and say they want to finish Mrs. Lofland's quilt.

3 REASONS why I head for Phillips 66

1 My boy is a fortress bombardier in the Southwest Pacific. So it means something special to me that Phillips is putting a mighty shoulder to the wheel in our war effort, making lots of 100 octane aviation gasoline and butadiene for synthetic rubber.

2 I like the kind of service I always get at Phillips stations even when I don't buy a thing. "Good Neighbor Service," they call it, and they're right.

3 For more than ten years, Phillips 66 Gasoline and Phillips 66 Motor Oil have been my favorites. They still are!

You are invited and urged to bring your car to the Phillips 66 Service Station at least once a week because your car is a vital link in the nation's transportation resources . . . and Phillips Service Wardens have pledged their help in preserving the efficiency of your car and in extending its life.

To help you CARE FOR YOUR CAR—FOR YOUR COUNTRY, Phillips tire-saving service includes checking air pressures, inspecting for cuts and bruises, criss-crossing with the spare every 3,000 miles.

Phillips car-saving service includes inspection of battery, air filter, and radiator; lubrication at every point specified by your car manufacturer.

Good products . . . Good Neighbor Service . . . offered by an organization whole-heartedly devoting its best efforts to war production . . . doesn't it all add up to three good reasons why you, too, should head for the Phillips 66 pump, whether you buy one coupon's worth of famous Phillips 66 Gasoline or merely want water or air!

They're Counting on a Victorious Peace, Too!

In training camps at home and at far away battle fronts, they are talking it over, dreaming of fulfilling unrealized ambitions in a peace-restored world where opportunity and individual enterprise are given free reign.

They know that their future depends on the future of America. They have confidence in that future. They believe that free enterprise . . . will make the America of tomorrow even greater. These are the thoughts that are giving them comfort and assurance . . . the courage and determination to fight for Victory in a way that soldiers of dictator nations can never understand.

Our organization, like our fighting men, is all out for Victory today. But we are planning now, with all the resources at our command, to be ready for Victory when it comes. We will welcome back our more than 800 fighting men to their old jobs, and will look forward to working shoulder to shoulder with them in preserving and extending the free enterprise system that made America great.

father, Dad and All: I just got into this wonderful trip, no exception. It has been really a trip. I think it will continue to be about the same wherever we go, so there's no use in your worrying about me. I'll tell you now I feel wonderful, have gained a little weight, in spite of the heat.

It was hot coming across the equator, especially in the engine room. I was in there eight hours every day and boy, at times, when we couldn't get any air down there it was plenty hot. Some of the time it was 120 degrees in the fire room where I was working and that is hot enough for me. There were places in the 'v that were 160 degrees nearly all the time. I enjoyed it just the same, for it was something new and different to me.

We are in a pretty place now, anchored out about one-half mile from the shore, but it's a beautiful view of the strange new land. I'd like to go ashore, but I don't think we'll get any liberty here. I'd like to just go and see how it is out there. Can't say that we'll be here for more than a day or two, and I have no idea where we will go from here. I can say one thing I've never been this far from home before. As a matter of fact I couldn't get much farther.

I'll never forget the day we crossed the equator. It will be easy to remember the date, but I can't even tell you what day that was. I know I was one of the men to be initiated. For my first crossing, I got my head clipped, got paint all over me and besides the many times my stern got bused with a board. I got a good sunburn standing out there without anything from my waist up. We wore shorts most of the time, just work clothes with the legs cut off. Everyone but the few who had been across the equator before got their hair cut and when you look in the mess hall at them all sitting there, bald heads shining, it reminds you of a meeting of a bunch of old baldheaded men at a meeting like congress or senate. A lot of them have long beards too, because very few of them shaved since we got underway.

I have a souvenir I got that day too, to show for it. It's a dinky and I want it framed after I get out of here. It's just a piece of paper to prove that I've been across and initiated on this ship.

The trip didn't seem so long to me and I can't believe we are as far from the U. S. as we are. It seems like it's been a long time too, in a way but after all these ships aren't quite as fast traveling as a car. The same routine day and night makes you forget about the time.

I hope everyone is well there and you aren't worrying about me much. I don't worry in the least about not getting back, for I still say it's safe enough out here. We are provided with the best of everything and everyone is doing his part on this ship. If there is any danger I think we'll be ready for it for the guys on watch sight things almost before they "get in sight" and we are ready.

I've never seen a bunch of men work together any better. Of course, there were a few at first who thought themselves better than others but after being out here for awhile, they realized they weren't and everything went along all right.

I've gotta quit now, so until you hear from me again,

Lots of love,

ly knit us together. No matter how long we stay away, home will always be as we left it.

Our campsite is on a high slope overlooking the Mediterranean Sea in an olive grove. Of course, it had to be an olive tree. I think half of my sleep since coming overseas has been under one of them. Visited one of the better cities here in Sicily, place and name unknown but it was a lovely town; that is, if you overlooked the bomb craters, broken windows and sordid atmosphere that goes along with such places. I did see a swell show put on by the American Red Cross with the help of the Special Service Branch, entitled, "So This is Sicily." It helped break the monotony and gave a few enjoyable moments.

Had my first hot shower since coming to Sicily and it was really swell, soap and everything. So you can see that things aren't too bad here.

Tell everyone hello.

Love,

CECIL.

Dear Mom and All:

I guess you are wondering just what this is. It is the drawing of a snake charmer here in this country. It was made by one of my friends who is an artist. He is pretty good too. I am going to have him make a painting of me and I will send it to you. This print is just the same as the original one that he drew at a city where we have been. The old snake charmer was on the street making his snake do all kinds of things. This is just about as good a picture as I have ever seen of anyone here in this country. I guess I will have a lot of things to tell you when I get home. Some of them I am afraid that you will think that I am not quite telling the truth, but some strange things happen over here; it is truly the land they call it—Mystic.

Just the same I will be glad to get back to where there is fresh cool air and a few cool drinks, besides that there will I know be a few white people to look at. I am trying to get a lot of pictures from here to bring home and I hope that I get all that I need to illustrate what I will have to tell you.

Well, I guess I will make this one short as I have a lot of work to do and try to write another one before long. I received four Democrats today and sure was glad to read of all of the news back there.

Love to all,

PAT.

Hello Folks:

Well, how are things getting along in that part of the world? We have made a very long and uneventful trip.

We haven't seen anything except a little anti-aircraft barrage. It just looks like a lot of roman candles going off.

It really seems good to be where we can get some news again. We didn't hear anything until we got here. We get the news here faster than you get it.

This is really an interesting country, and quite different to what one would expect. Just riding through the country you would think it was California except for the wreckage. Occasionally you will see a graveyard. Also I've found that "iron crosses" grow row on row just the same as "poppies."

There are four major types of people here—French, Italians, Jews and Arabs. They speak Arab, Italian and French. French is the official language and nearly all of them can speak it.

These Arabs ride around on donkeys that aren't much larger than dogs. Their ears look as large accordingly as my dog Fussy's. They are nasty as can be. The women wear veils and robes wrapped around them. The robes may be anything from burlap bagging to down.

I've really seen some examples of American bombing. I've been to Bizerte and Tunis both. Boy, I would hate to have been there in the last few days before we took them. I have also been to the very ancient city of Carthage and had a swim in the Mediterranean Sea.

I was sorry I could not talk to you the night I called, but as you know by now I was a long way from Amarillo and wanted to find out something.

Love,

JOHN WRIGHT.

Indeed, I'm not!" the soldier said, as he lifted his head high and looked into the future.

"I'm dreaming of something much more real and much more American than that! I'm dreamin' of an OPPORTUNITY" he continued, "of the chance to make a living the American way—working till I'm tired, but very happy, the way my Dad always has."

"That's what all of us soldiers are dreaming about. Honest, we don't want dole or charity. We just want to be back in our own home towns in the little yellow houses on Main Street making a living down at Joe's garage, while we're saving money to buy one of our own."

"This American way of living, this system of free enterprise, has certainly done a wonderful thing for the war—take the electric industry for example—90% of all the electric power supplying the munitions is being produced by companies like the one in my home town. That same company serves lots of home towns, and it's doing a big job for all of us soldiers by perpetuating freedom of enterprise.

"That's the opportunity we soldiers are dreaming about. It's bred into the very soul of American life. It means that any man or woman is free to create a business that fills a particular need in my town or any other community, just so long as they give the best possible service at the lowest possible cost to the most people.

"That's what I'm fighting for!

checkerboards, and backgammon games, billfolds, with space for identification cards, foot powder, saddle soap and sun lotion. Soldiers want news from home and delicacies or useful articles that they cannot obtain. In general, they do not want food, cigarettes or elaborate prepared kits.

Christmas buyers should send compact and durable goods that are not available to the soldier. Quality is important, as poor quality leather or metal deteriorates in some climates, and the gift will get hard use.

China, India and Burma. Gifts to China, India and Burma must stand up under four months' shipping in extremely hot and humid climate.

Australia. Men stationed in Australia want the popular simple camera with film, shock-proof, water-proof watches and Boy Scout knives.

Alutians. Gift requests from men in the Aleutians are for luxury items and gadgets; they do not need clothing, food, cigarettes or books.

Puerto Rico. In Puerto Rico, a water-proof watch with a luminous dial is favored.

the enemy's just over the hill!

MAYBE I'm your boy—or the boy next door. You know, Mary's sweetheart. Joan's husband, Timmy's daddy. Your son, Father! Your boy, Mother!

Anyway, I've got something to say to you. I've got to make you understand.

This is it. This is zero. This is INVASION!

I'm here, with a million other boys just like me. We're your INVASION forces. And we're going to stay. It wasn't easy getting here, and it is going to be a lot harder before we're through.

WE'RE GIVING ALL WE'VE GOT

I said we were going to stay. I promise that, even if it means the thing—well, the thing we don't like to talk about. Because we're giving all we've got: Our minds, our strength, our blood.

But you see, this isn't going to be enough. Not unless those planes we need snarl down out of the sky on the enemy just over there. Unless those tanks get here. Unless the supply ships get through. Unless there are enough bullets for this rifle.

YOU'RE ON THE ## INVASION FRONT NOW!

It's that extra $100 War Bond, all of them together, making up the $15 billion worth they're asking you to buy in September, that will prove that you are on the INVASION front with him.

Your part is at least one extra $100 Bond during the Drive—at least $100. Of course, that's in addition to your regular bond buying. A $100 Bond is the rock bottom figure. Some of you will have to invest thousands to put this Drive across. Take it out of your pay check—or out of that nest egg you were saving for a rainy day.

All you can spare is too little, all you've got is just going to be enough.

Look at it this way: You won't be giving anything. You will be investing in VICTORY—and your future.

Things like safety for your family and money after the war to buy a new home, or to educate your children.

You're buying a stake in VICTORY—and that means America, yours and mine!

I guess that's all I've got time to tell you now. The enemy is waiting, just over the hill. Don't keep us waiting for you!
