1,000 MINERS IN PITCHED BATTLE

Members of Rival Unions Clash With Stones, Clubs

By Associated Press
 WILKESBARRE, Penn., Nov. 2.—More than 1,000 miners, members of rival unions, fought a pitched battle with stones and clubs at dawn today at Number 7 colliery, of the Susquehanna collieries company at Nanticoke. Scores were cut and bruised, but none seriously, in the fight which lasted for two hours.

Efforts of the new United Antracite miners of Pennsylvania to close the colliery in protest against dismissal of several of their members precipitated the riot. United Mine Workers of America sought to keep the mine in operation.

The crowd was dispersed after scores of United Antracite miners were routed. Special guards are patrolling the region to maintain peace.

By Associated Press
 WACO, Nov. 2.—A man who said he was Raymond Hamilton, and who answered the general description of the escaped Texas fugitive who robbed the Blue Bonnet grocery of $150 in a daring hold-up yesterday afternoon and fled in a stolen automobile.

The man entered a demonstration automobile with a car salesman, robbed the salesman, J. B. Burch, of $30 and then forced him to drive to the grocery store.

Burch entered the store ahead of the robber and five employees were held at bay while the man sacked up the $150. He thanked Burch for the use of his machine and drove away in it.

Rainbow Trail That Ends in Jail

Iron bars at the end of the rainbow trail await thousands of the itinerants who are flocking to California, a typical group of whom are shown here in gondola and boxcar, nearing the Golden State border. Scores of the wanderers, drawn, Upton Sinclair's foes have charged by his Epic job and land plan, are being given jail terms, as many as 30 a day receiving sentences in a single Los Angeles court.

Canning Plant Here To Pass 2,000 Mark With Output Today

NO STARVATION HERE THIS YEAR

Besides Food Put Up at Canning Plant, 12,000 Cans Received From Amarillo

Present indications are that there will be little or no starvation in Hall county this year, despite drought conditions. In addition to the food stuff to be supplied by the two canning kitchens in the county, foods are being received from the government canning plant in Amarillo for distribution among the relief clients of Hall county.

More than 12,600 cans of beef were received by the local relief office this week. The shipment included 528 cases of meats canned by the Amarillo plants.

Very little of the food will be distributed at this time, but will be held until more urgent need is shown this winter, Judge A. C. Hoffman, county relief administrator said yesterday.

Senate Seeks To Reduce, Adjust Rates on Cotton

AUSTIN, Nov. 2.—The Texas Senate today by resolution petitioned President Roosevelt to reduce and adjust the high rates on cotton and other southern agricultural products.

T. & P. SHOPCRAFT MEN TO VOTE ON UNIONISM
 DALLAS, Nov. 2.—Shopcraft employees of the Texas and Pacific Railway will vote Saturday to decide whether they want a company union or an organized labor union. About 55 employees are expected to cast their ballots. A representative of the United States Department of Labor will conduct the election.

DAM BURSTS; 3 DIE
 GUANAJUATO, Mexico., Nov. 2.—At least three persons perished yesterday, many houses were destroyed and a large area flooded by the bursting of a dam recently constructed by the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company.

The government canning kitchen in Memphis today will pass the 2,000 mark, with every can of food stuff labeled, divided and ready for release, according to Mrs. Charlie Williams, supervisor of the local plant.

Only vegetables are being canned this week, due to the change in weather and the probability of a freeze soon. Mrs. Williams said this morning. More than enough vegetables are on hand to keep the kitchen busy the rest of this week, and the canning of meats will probably not begin before Monday. Some 15 quarters of beef have already been listed for canning when the plant can get to them, Mrs. Williams said.

580 In One Day
 At noon today 1,740 cans had been turned out by the kitchen since the beginning of operation Monday afternoon. The peak in production for one day was reached Wednesday when 580 cans were produced in the opening day. Production yesterday was slow, and all food stuff on hand was labeled and the kitchen's commission charge taken out.

Those who wish to have any kind of canning done by the kitchen are urged to call Judge A. C. Hoffman at the county relief office for appointment. A percentage of all food stuff is being charged as operating expense, and that part retained by the plant is to be distributed among the needy in the county this winter. The commission on vegetables varies in accordance with the condition of the food stuff, with rates ranging from 40 to 70 per cent. The commission to be charged for the canning of meats has been set at 50 per cent.

"Everything is running nicely and if people will just continue to bring in food, there is no doubt about the Memphis plant being successful," Mrs. Williams said this morning.

A second plant is to be opened in this county at Turkey in the near future, according to Judge A. C. Hoffman. Operation of the plant is being delayed by the failure of sufficient equipment to arrive, he said.

BLAST KILLS GIRL
 SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 2.—Iona McBee, 12-year-old Sayers school girl, died yesterday in the county hospital of the burns she received at her home when kerosene exploded as she poured it in a hot stove at her home.

CLAIMS GERMAN TERRORISM IS HIDING ARMS

Winston Churchill Charges 'Feverish' Rearmament

By Associated Press
 "A reign of terror in Germany" to keep the world ignorant of her "feverish" rearmament was the accusation Winston Churchill, Great Britain's former chancellor of the exchequer, leveled at the Nazi government Thursday as Europe's governments worried over the outlook for peace.

LONDON—Churchill, addressing members of his constituency, asserted Germany was rearming "secretly, illegally and rapidly" and assailed the national government for failing, he said, to speed up its program for air defense.

Paris—The fear of war overshadowed visits of the French people to graves in connection with All Saints Day, as the government stressed the necessity for national defense and made ready to throw troops into the Saar if the league's governing commission so requested.

BERLIN—The government newspaper Deutsche Diplomatische Politische Korrespondenz warned France she "is playing with fire" and asserted discipline in the Saar is excellent.

GENEVA—The League of Nations council was called to meet Nov. 21 in special session to discuss the Saar problem.

SLOGAN—'A BED IN EVERY HOME'

At Least 100 Needy Families To Have Place To Sleep—Get Relief Mattresses

At least 100 of the needy families in Hall county will have a decent place to sleep this winter, it was revealed yesterday by Judge A. C. Hoffman, county relief administrator.

One hundred mattresses were delivered to needy families in this county the earlier part of the week, through the efforts of the local relief office. The mattresses were made at a government-leased plant in Childress where beds for needy families in several counties are being made.

All of the beds for this county have already been distributed and it is unknown when additional allotments will be made, Judge Hoffman said.

Million Dollars In Texas Relief Bonds are Sold

AUSTIN, Nov. 2.—One million dollars in Texas Relief bonds were sold today to Hahan, Dittmar and Company of San Antonio.

Mahan, Dittmar and Company's split bid of 704,000 at 3 3/4 per cent interest and 296,000 at three percent plus a premium of $7.60 on all at par and with accrued interest was the best of 12 bids by nine firms.

The total cost to the state is $159,762.

Five Men Killed When Pipe Bursts

GAULEY BRIDGE, W. Va., Nov. 2.—Five men were killed late yesterday in a surge of water after a 14-foot water pipe burst while being tested at the Hawk's Nest hydro-electric power development project under construction for the electric metallurgical company.

They included John W. Hall of Montgomery, resident engineer in charge of construction of the huge power project in the New river. The other dead are D. W. Haines, 34, of Charleston; A. L. Kube, 51, of Rhoadesville, Va.; Ralph Stringer, 23, of Cleveland and Paul Sykes, 23, of Gouley Bridge.

Adult Education Classes Will Be Started Tonight

Teachers of free adult education classes in Hall county have been in group meetings today, working out all details in connection with the classes, scheduled to begin tonight. Sixty teachers have been employed by the federal government to teach 54 classes in this county during the next three months.

Approval of the teachers named to instruct classes was given yesterday by state education heads at Austin, and the classes authorized to begin today. Present indications are that more than 600 people will attend the free schools being taught at various points over the county.

Local Teachers Meet
 Teachers of 18 classes in Memphis were in a meeting this morning in the office of Mrs. Roy Guthrie, county school superintendent. Most of those present indicated that they would teach at night, with classes to meet at places and hours most suitable to those attending.

Teachers in meeting today are urging everyone who is at all interested in any of the 25 or more subjects to attend some of the classes. They emphasized the fact that there is to be no required attendance, no past school requirements, or no written examinations. The classes are free to all adults in the county, and, as has been explained by education heads, "those attending will get just as much out of the classes as they put into them."

Other Classes
 Besides the 18 classes to be taught in Memphis, there are to be 15 held in rural precincts, 13 at Lakeview and 12 at Estelline. Cieron M. Murry has been named supervisor of classes here, Mrs. Albert Bailey, supervisor at Estelline, Paul A. Thompson at Lakeview and Mrs. Brunetta Morris, of Plaska, supervisor of classes in rural precincts.

In addition to the classes to be taught in Memphis as given in yesterday's Democrat, a class in manual arts is to be taught by Roy McQueen. This class was also authorized in the approval received yesterday morning by County relief administrator Judge A. C. Hoffman.

Oklahoma U. Queen Kidnaped; Whiskers Demanded as Ransom

NORMAN, Okla., Nov. 2.—Nadine Hughes, queen of the University of Oklahoma Roughnecks organization, was kidnaped Thursday and an envelope of whiskers was the ransom price demanded for her release.

Miss Hughes was whisked away from the university by three men, allegedly members of a rival campus pep organization, the Jazz Hounds. She was said to have been accompanied by Mrs. Judy Lawton, Phi Kappa Phi house mother.

George Borelli, president of the Roughnecks, said, "We'll get our queen back or else—"

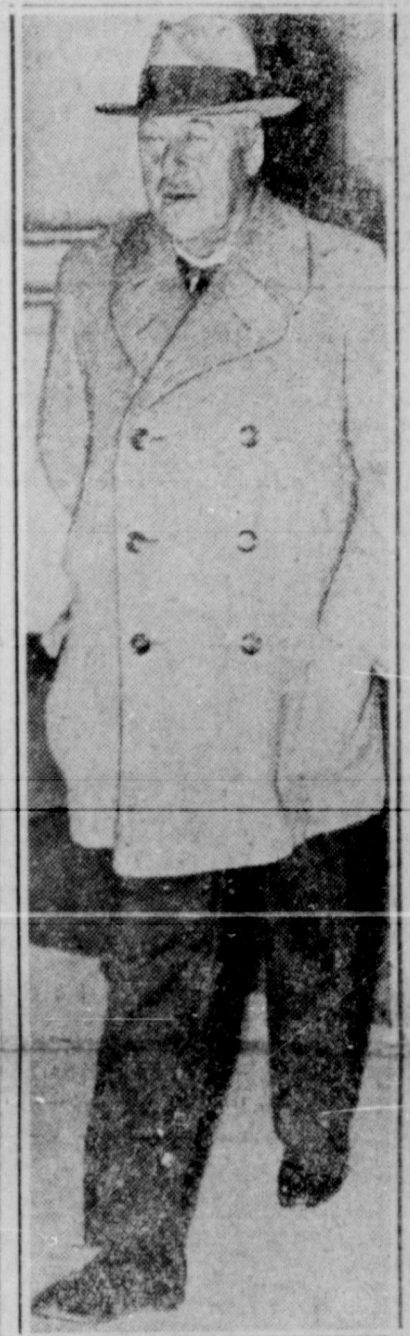

Later a telegram signed by Lungford Livingstone, the Jazz Hounds president, was received by Harry Kornbaum, named as intermediary, saying Miss Hughes would not be returned for the football coronation Saturday until the Roughnecks have shaved their beards, which have grown since the Oklahoma-Texas game, and put them in an envelope and delivered them to Kornbaum.

Dr. Hugo Eckener, shown above leaving the White House after outlining to President Roosevelt plans for dirigible service between United States and Europe, told the Federal Aviation Commission he was seeking a suitable base for the experimental trips. He hopes the naval station at Lakehurst, N. J., will be made available.

STOCK RAISERS $8,126 RICHER

Checks totaling this amount received today in Government's Cattle Program

Hall county stock raisers were $8,126 richer this morning as the result of purchases made by the government on its cattle buying program in drought stricken sections.

Checks totaling this amount were received today by County Agent James A. Jackson for distribution to 113 stock raisers. They are in payment for cattle purchased recently on the AAA drought relief program, including a number of head of cattle bought on the county's last quota of 500 head.

Farmers for whom the checks were received will be notified today, Mr. Jackson said.

Dies of Starvation With Food Plentiful

PECOS, Nov. 2.—Starvation took Earl Leslie Cobb's life, yet he had an abundance of food.

Physicians traced his strange fate to a severe blow he suffered on the head recently. It apparently caused concussion and paralysis of that part of the brain directing digestive processes.

In effect, he was unable to assimilate food.
 Cobb, 35, was a laborer at the Red Bluff Dam project.

INSULL SAYS HE TOOK TRIP FOR REST, QUIET

Gave Creditors 'All I Had' After Crash Of Empire

By Associated Press
 CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—Thirteen salaries, paid to Samuel Insull by his companies, gave him a pay check of roughly a half million dollars in 1930 and 1931, Insull admitted today under cross examination.

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—Samuel Insull told the jury trying him for mail fraud today that when he left the United States in June, 1932, it was for "rest and quiet."

He gave this explanation for the two-year European stay a few minutes after he testified that in the crash of his public utility empire he turned over "everything I had" to creditors of the system.

Insull told a detailed story of the trip which prosecutors called a "flight" and of his pursuit by American authorities across Europe. He knew he had been indicted, he admitted, when he left Paris.

A whispering campaign was directed at Insull's companies in 1930 and 1931, he testified, in an effort to drive down the value of stocks and hurt Insull's credit. Insull told of rumors against him in that period, including one that J. P. Morgan and Company, New York financiers, "were out to do me up."

The testimony came after he admitted that the Insull companies dealt in stocks of their Insull companies in 1929 to 1931, but he defended it as a way of supporting security values for stockholders and one practiced even by the federal government.

Insull claimed he fled across Europe "to avoid being persecuted as a part of a political campaign, purely."

Insull finished his direct testimony.

Judges for Legion Rodeo Announced

Contest judges for the American Legion rodeo here November 10 and 11 were announced this morning by Roy Mayes, veteran promoter and contestant, who is staging the local affair at Fair Park stadium next week-end.

The three contest judges are Eddie Smith, Wallington; Nathan Jones, Mangum, Okla., and Murray Dodson, from Browder's ranch. These men know the rodeo game and stock as well as any men in the southwest. They are by no means new to the game, and therefore spectators can be sure that decision will be rendered quickly, without any misunderstanding, and their decisions will be as nearly correct as it is possible to be.

Ralls Miller of Silverton was named flag judge.

Shutes and corral at the stadium are almost completed, Mayes said, and preparations are almost finished, with the rodeo more than a week off. Every detail will be cared for in advance.

The rodeo is to be staged twice on Saturday, Nov. 10, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon and at 8 o'clock Saturday night. The final performance is to be staged Sunday afternoon, Nov. 11, at 2 o'clock. Admission is 25 cents for children and 50 cents plus five-cent federal tax for adults.

HEROES ARE MADE—NOT BORN

The Claw of the Forgotten Murder

by CARLETON KENDRAKE

BEGIN HERE TODAY When DAN BLEEKER, publisher of The Blade, learns that CHARLES MORDEN, police reporter, has been mysteriously killed he employs SIDNEY GRIFF, famous criminologist, to solve the murder.

I think, although she didn't care much for them. "She came home late?" "Yes, quite late." "Did you tell her what time to come home?"

Morden had been investigating the affairs of FRANK B. CATHAY, wealthy and prominent, who had threatened to sue The Blade because the newspaper reported Cathay had been arrested. The man arrested was an impostor giving the name of Cathay and accompanied by a girl called MARY BRIGGS.

"No," Alice Lorton said, "that's the funny thing about her. She used to get up early, before any one was stirring. She got up at 6 o'clock in the morning and always left the apartment by quarter to 7, sometimes earlier. She was gone all day, invariably. I don't know where she went or what she did."

Soon after Morden is found dead comes news that Cathay is dead—possibly poisoned. Morden's fingerprints are found in the apartment of a girl named ALICE LORTON who has reported the disappearance of her roommate, ESTHER ORDWAY. Griff and Bleeker visit Alice Lorton and question her.

"That's going to get us into trouble with the postal authorities," Bleeker objected. "It won't if they don't find out about it," Griff remarked. "But they'll be bound to find out about it."

Sidney Griff started pacing the floor. Bleeker watched him with frowning speculation. Alice Lorton's blue eyes were fastened upon him with wide candor, the candor with which a young patient regards a skilled physician who has come to minister to his suffering—an expression of blind faith which bordered upon devotion.

"That's the going to get us into trouble with the postal authorities," Bleeker objected. "It won't if they don't find out about it," Griff remarked. "But they'll be bound to find out about it."

"How about magazines?" Griff asked suddenly, sweeping his hand in an inclusive gesture toward the magazines on the table. "These weren't purchased at news stands, were they?"

"That's the going to get us into trouble with the postal authorities," Bleeker objected. "It won't if they don't find out about it," Griff remarked. "But they'll be bound to find out about it."

Turns New Leaf In Fashion Book

check out, and they seem perfectly logical. There's something uncanny about the way you get to the heart of a situation. "We had a little luck on that girl business," Griff said dreamily, "but there's something else we're overlooking—something that's a key point, something that's been reported to us and the significance of which we haven't appreciated."

Tired, Talks Trade

Too old at 36, according to his own admission, Manager Bill Terry of the New York Giants, is looking for a first baseman to succeed himself. Bill, shown here as he was touring the south, made the statement in New Orleans that his club is due for a violent shakeup. A deal which will send Dick Bartell, Phillies' shortstop, to the Giants for Blondy Ryan, Johnny Vergez and possibly Phil Weintraub or Hank Leibler, is expected to be announced shortly.

"I've got a theory about Esther Ordway," he said. "So far I haven't got enough data on the subject to back up the theory, but I want to get some additional facts just as rapidly as possible. In the meantime, you can have your men cover the outgoing airplanes if you want to, but if you make a bet, you're very likely to lose it."

(To Be Continued) In the next installment a hotel register yields information about the man who impersonated Frank Cathay.

"What would Mrs. Malone have to do with the case?" Bleeker asked. "We seem to have located the woman in the case."

Griff shook his head. "You never can tell," he said, "until the cards are all on the table. You've got to get all the pieces of a jig-saw puzzle before you can put the thing together and have it make sense. I think Mrs. Cathay employed Racine to locate Mrs. Blanche Malone. REVIEWS OF CURRENT MOTION PICTURES

RITZ
As a stage play "That's Gratitude" established one of Broadway's most unique engagements. Authored, acted and directed by the super-versatile Frank Craven, the play ran for over two years on Broadway and on tour, gaining the enviable reputation as one of the most hilarious comedies of representative American family life.

Brought to the screen by Columbia Pictures with Frank Craven still enacting the multiple roles of actor-author-director, "That's Gratitude," which opened last night at the Ritz Theatre, emerges as a wholesome, screamingly funny screen comedy in many ways superior to the original play.

The gentle sarcasm of "That's Gratitude" is enacted and unfolded with great finesse, subtle sarcasm, and superb acting by such veteran troupers as Mr. Craven himself, long a Broadway favorite; Arthur Bryon, noted for many a dramatic and comedy hit in this 45 years on the stage and screen; Helen Ware, also with an enviable record of 30 years a stage favorite; and three very promising newcomers who have made their marks on Broadway, Sheila Mannors, Charles Sabin and John Buckler.

PALACE
"The Love Captive", the strange Universal drama which shows for the last times today at the Palace Theatre, is the story of an unscrupulous doctor who treats drug addiction by means of hypnosis, and tense drama enters the story when he uses his power to make conquests among the women of his acquaintance.

Nils Asther plays the role of the rascally doctor, and contributes a characterization which is uncannily sinister even though the man is at all times the suave, polished gentleman. Gloria Stuart is seen in the leading feminine part, and makes us really feel the helpless state in which she has been placed, entirely without her own knowledge. Completely under the control of the doctor, she follows his every suggestion and even aids him in combating the desperate efforts of her lover and friends to release her from the spell.

Important supporting roles are played by Paul Kelly, Alan Dinehart, Renee Gadd, Russ Brown and others, all of whom combine their talents with those of the leading players to produce a screenplay of a very unusual quality.

3. This offer is open to all except employees of The Democrat and their families. You pay nothing.
4. Awards will be made on the basis of the most nearly correct list of anagrams and the cleverest sentence. Simply rearrange the letters in each anagram to spell the name of a food or grocery item. Then check the food and grocery ads in today's Democrat and place a cross mark in the square

Then arrange the ten grocery items found in the anagrams into a sentence of not more than thirty (30) words. You may use less if you wish.
5. All entries will be considered by a committee appointed by the Democrat. Contestants agree to accept the decisions of the committee as final. Judgment will be based upon suitability of words inserted, accuracy in checking, cleverness in arranging the sentence, time submitted and neatness. No special consideration will be given elaborate entries. In case of ties, duplicate prizes will be awarded to tying contestants.
6. All entries must be received at the Democrat office by four o'clock Saturday afternoon.
7. You need not purchase the Democrat to compete. You may use the handy blank submitted here, or you may submit your entry on a separate sheet of paper.
Winners will be announced in Sunday's Democrat.

Memphis 'Moves In' on Wellington Grid Tonight

SECTION TITLE AT STAKE IN CLASSIC

However, Club, Fans Believe They Have Better Eleven

Memphis "moves in" on Wellington tonight as it has not done in several years—all for the thrill of battle upon the gridiron—battle that has prospects of glory at the end of the fight.

Cyclone and Skyrocket, trim and keyed to the breaking point, clash tonight on Wellington's Powell field for sectional gridiron honors—the highest attainment of the regular season's schedule.

One 'Goes On'

And after that—one club, adjudged the stronger of the two, the luckiest or the pluckiest (whatever cause one wishes to attribute to the victory), continues into district and perhaps bi-district and regional competition; the other completes its schedule, perhaps with some important annual battles, and then joins the ranks of boosters for the other club.

"If we cannot play for the district title, back the club that represents our section."

Which of these positions will be filled by the Cyclone and which

The Memphis - Wellington championship football game at Powell field in Wellington tonight will start at 7:30 o'clock. The Democrat was informed from Wellington this morning.

Since the time is earlier than Memphis games, local fans are urged to take special note of the advancement in starting time.

by the Skyrockets remains to be decided tonight, the deciding of which will draw hundreds of backers of each eleven.

Dope Is No Good

"Dope" has been figured from every angle, but after all, there is no margin between the two elevens when they meet in "age-old" competition with a crown at stake. Memphis points to Wellington's margin given in the Turkey game; Wellington points to the so-called "Memphis jinx."

Each trying to establish the other as the favorite.

There seems to be odds in favor of the underdog. When two clubs are so evenly matched, in other words, the team that believes it must fight hardest to win, is keyed to the highest degree, is likely to come out on top.

This "figuring of dope" to such a degree can be attributed only to the high pitch of excitement over prospects for a classical tilt that the fans themselves have attained. The game draws the fancy of fans as only championship football between old, strong rivals can do.

May Take To Air

The Skyrockets threaten to take to the air in an attempt to cope with the Cyclone's touted overhead charge, but that may be more or less of a gesture. That club's strength lies not in its passing but in its smashing power plays, led by big Fullback Bill Parker, who has gained most of the Rockets' ground this season, and upon sweeping end runs and off-tackle smashes.

The Cyclone, less powerful but more versatile, has as its leading threat a beautiful, dangerous aerial attack, featuring the tossing of Co-Captain Jack Norman to Halfback Chester Grimes and Ross Springer and G. C. Baskerville, ends. Combined with this overhead charge is a strong running machine, with Norman and Walker or Powers or Crump or Childress doing the smashing around the tackles and Deason picking up yards through center.

Defensive Comparison

But Memphis lacks the powerhouse defense of the Skyrockets. Several opponents, while not smothering the locals, have been able to push across several touchdowns, but the Rockets have limited six straight opponents to only two conversions. Whether this defensive power will be sufficient to decide the outcome is the big question that remains to be settled.

FEATURED GRID STARS IN SATURDAY'S SHOW

Action! There'll be plenty of it when this quartet of gridlers swing into the fray Saturday, Nov. 3. At left is Bones Hamilton, understudy to Robby Grayson, Stanford fullback. Bones will see action against U. C. L. A. Saturday, at Los Angeles. Upper center is Sam Brown, Vanderbilt tackle, whose outstretched arms will bear-hug many a George Washington runner at the capital. Below Sam, about to take off, is Shaun Kelley, Princeton end, who plays against Harvard at Cambridge. Right is John Theodore, sophomore Illinois fullback. Army would better not concentrate too much on Beynon and Lindberg at Champaign, Saturday—for John can go, too.

By JOCK SUTHERLAND

Head Coach, University of Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH.—The first Saturday in November will dish up the greatest bill of fare in football so far this year.

There are five intersectional combats this week-end, three of them bringing together six of the leading teams of the country.

Notre Dame brings its Irish to our backyard here, and I am looking for a game equally as tough as that encounter with Minnesota. After losing to Texas in the opener, Elmer Layden has brought his team along at a steady pace. The Notre Dame system is clicking smoothly this year, and my scouts report that the Irish are using from 40 to 55 players in each game.

Layden will have more and bigger football players than Pitt, and just as much experience. I'm picking Notre Dame in a close one.

Fordham has a chance to make up for its losses to St. Mary's by beating Tennessee. The Volunteers will be hard pressed, after two tough Saturdays against Alabama and Duke, to muster enough power to best the Rams. I'm picking Crowley's eleven.

Army travels out west to Illinois. This is very likely to go either way. Illinois almost won last fall, and ought to be better, while Army possibly is not as strong. The Illini, however, have had a couple of tough ones, and might not be back in form. Army, hesitatingly.

In other games, Navy should be too tough for W. & L., the same team that Princeton was lucky to beat, and Detroit should overpower Oklahoma A. & M.

In the middle-west, Chicago and Minnesota should stay at the top of the race for Big Ten honors by beating Purdue and Michigan.

Iowa and Indiana will be engaging in a grudge-fight, but the Hoosiers will be too much for the faltering Hawkeyes, who are having difficulty living up to their early season promises. Northwestern and Wisconsin meet in a game that will have little bearing on the title race, and if either team wins, it will be Wisconsin.

The two big games in the east will see Dartmouth and Princeton remaining undefeated. I think Dartmouth is going to make New England football history by defeating Yale for the first time. Princeton should have little trouble in beating Harvard.

Columbia will continue its winning way by handing another defeat to Cornell, and Carnegie Tech shouldn't find N. Y. U. very difficult.

There is little particularly exciting to watch for south of the Mason-Dixon line. Alabama will find Kentucky below its par of other years, Duke should have little trouble with Auburn, and Vanderbilt has nothing to fear from George Washington.

One close battle looms on the Pacific Coast. This should take place when California and Santa Clara meet. The Saints are tough, but California is about due to win a really decisive victory, and may elect to make it this week-end.

Washington likely will give Oregon State a trimming, and Stanford will keep pace with Washington by handing U. C. L. A. another defeat.

Iowa State, the same eleven that shell-shocked Iowa, is liable to do the same thing to Kansas, although in this case it will not be any surprise. Oklahoma will keep up with the Cyclones in the Big Six by whipping Missouri.

The sole important game in the southwest is a real headliner, bringing together Texas and Southern Methodist. Southern Methodist will be getting over the effects of a long trip and a hard game with Fordham. I'll pick the Longhorns.

Fan Picks Cyclone To Win by Two Touchdowns, 2,000 Follow Club

At least one Cyclone fan believes in the team's ability to smother the Wellington Skyrockets in their championship battle at Wellington tonight. He says, the dope, etc., notwithstanding, "I say the Cyclone will beat the Rockets by two touchdowns." He also predicts that 2,000 Memphians will go to the game.

His letter, signed as "a fan backing the Cyclone," follows:

"Dear Sports Writer of Democrat: "Now, old pal, after reading "the dope" on the Cyclone-Skyrocket football game as you gave it in Monday's issue of The Democrat, let's look in the old dope bucket real good.

"You said the Rockets had played against stronger teams than the Cyclone. Granted, but they haven't run up large scores like the Cyclone has, and they haven't played a single strong club like those first strong Childress Bobcats that walloped the Cyclone in the first of the season, and, by the way, could easily down those Rockets. All we fans and backers of the Cyclone know that these old boys are about four or five touchdowns the better team than when they played the Bobcats.

"I'll say that the Cyclone will go against Wellington not over-confident (they know they will have to fight hard) but sure of themselves and they will surely upset that dope bucket. This Cyclone we have at Memphis this year will not be hindered by being away from home. Most of the squad are experienced enough that they will play as good a game at Wellington or anywhere else as they would at home.

"Anyway about 2,000 good old Cyclone supporters will drive over Friday night to see them down those Rockets.

"I'll say that the Cyclone is two or three touchdowns better than the Rockets. Not saying what the count will be, I say the Cyclone will beat the Rockets by two touchdowns. Yea, Cyclone, I know you can do it.

"Signed, A Fan Backing that Cyclone". (We hope you're right.)

HARRY GRAYSON

So he married the boss' daughter, and was kicked upstairs.

One can't blame Clark Griffith for selling Joe Cronin, his son-in-law, for $150,000 and being the payee in the richest deal in the history of baseball.

The owner of the Washington club asked $250,000 for his manager and shortstop when Tom Yawkey, the Boston Red Sox magnate of many millions, opened negotiations during the world series.

Grimes, Ches. rh-lh Ford Deason f Parker
Officials: Byrd (Centenary) referee; Davis (Texas Tech) umpire; Enloe (West Texas) head-linesman.

And he can't blame Griffith for enabling his son-in-law to accept the best manager's job in the game, for that is what the Boston assignment is, with Yawkey's unlimited resources and willingness to spend. Cronin gets a five-year contract at substantially more than $20,000.

Yawkey's latest purchase swells his investment at Fenway Park to well over $3,000,000—$3,130,000 to be exact.

When T. A. Y. slipped the Cleveland club $25,000 in the Wesley Ferrell transaction last spring, some statisticians figured that he had sunk $2,980,000 into his hobby and desire to give the Hub a front runner.

Hero of The Hub
The Cronin deal figures to be the most satisfactory closed by Yawkey. When you are putting out $30,000 for players like Dusty Cooke and Lynn Lary, you scarcely can go wrong even when you cough up $150,000 for a (Continued on page 5)

ROCKETS FEAR OLD CYCLONE 'JINX'

'Dope' and 'Jinx' in Prominent Place in Calculations

BY JIMMIE GILLENTE
Wellington Leader Sports Writer
WELLINGTON, Nov. 2.—Holding their workouts behind closed gates, the Wellington Skyrockets this week concentrated a major part of their time to the possibilities of grounding passes—considering their ability along this line to go far in determining their status for champions of section 1, district 4, when they meet the dreaded Memphis Cyclone eleven Friday night.

Although Wellington players, fans and coaches feel that the Skyrockets have a slight edge in the game they are still afraid of the age-old "Memphis jinx." Memphis undoubtedly holds the larger number of victories over Wellington and in 1926 slipped over a 96 to 0 win on the Skyrockets, established a traditional jinx which has come down with the team through the years. Wellington feels that Memphis has frequently won because the Cyclone had the better team and there have also been times, they feel, that Old Man Jinx has crept up to give them an undeserved trouncing.

Not Over-confident

The factor of this jinx and the strong Memphis aerial circus leaves Wellington anything but over-confident. General observations lead to the fact that the two teams are well matched, but fans also hold that the winner of the game will like take the long end of a one-sided victory which either team is capable of accomplishing.

Wellington's undefeated record speaks for itself and the highly touted Skyrockets defense is expected to play a definite part in the game. Wellington has played six teams and has amassed a total of 191 points while the six opponents have counted for only 12 points against the 'Rocket boys. It is to be taken into consideration, however, that Wellington has played comparatively weak elevens today. The Skyrockets won over Childrens B team 25 to 0; Groom went down to an 18 to 0 defeat; Turkey was trounced 33 to 0; the strong Amarillo Yannigan played to the short end of a 6 to 0 game; Chillicothe was the first to score, but lost 20 to 6, and Quitaque

Fans Are Still Arguing About Softball Tilt

Those who witnessed the softball classic last night between the Business and Professional Women's club nine and Memphis women school teachers are still arguing as to whether there were more hits, more runs or more errors in the game. After a final check of the game it was found that the B & P W belles had tallied 13 runs, with the school. Ma's trailing with 11.

Because a full crew of substitutes were present, the game was carried to its full five innings—and from the time consumed and the number of scores tallied, it must have been a fast, snappy affair. Only 45 minutes playing time was used.

The school ma'ms evidently like the "spotlight" because when the fifth inning was finished they were crying for "more." They played under the floodlights at Fair park before a small crowd—who furnished nearly as much fun as the on the diamond.

suffered a 33 to 6 defeat.

Scores Through Air

Despite the fact that only two touchdowns have been made against the Skyrockets this season it is anything but comfortable to recall that both of the counter were made through the air—and that where they were facing ordinary aerial attacks they will Friday night face what is considered to be the strongest array of passing material to be found in any class B team in the Panhandle. Wellington can stay the Cyclone passes they are expected to come out on top in the tangle.

Facing such air-minded opponents the Rockets may also take to the air for some substantial gains, but opinions center upon the assumption that if the game goes strictly to the "open spaces" Wellington is very likely to emerge on the short end of a long game. Wellington's offensive is expected to (Continued on page 5)

Expect Huge Crowd

The largest crowd to every witness a football game in Wellington is expected to congregate Friday night when the Skyrockets go to the mat with the Memphis Cyclone.

Memphis hears rumors that Wellington is giving points and on the other hand Wellington daily hears rumors that Memphis is giving points on the game, but none of the rumors ever materialize. On paper, the game is a toss-up and the wise fans may be smart when they say that the winner will pile up a big score, since both elevens have an offensive worthy of consideration in any financial class B section.

Harry Grayson—

Joe Cronin. Baseball men declare that Cronin, who celebrated his 28th birthday on October 12, is worth $150,000 as a shortstop alone, and his demonstrated leadership enhances his value.

Long highly regarded there, Cronin, a reasonable Irishman, will be the most popular individual in South Boston since Jim Maloney was shaking his fist at Jack Sharkey.

Blow to Babe

With all of Yawkey's money, Cronin will have his headaches in Boston.

Unless the old zing returns to the arms of Lefty Grove and Rube Walberg, the Red Sox will need pitchers to go with Ferrell and Ostermueller. Eddie Morgan won't do at first base. Max Bishop is no longer able to perform regularly at second, and Bill Cissell is a step or two shy of being a first-rate major leaguer.

Roy Johnson really is the only acceptable outfielder, Julius Solters having yet to prove his worth, Carl Reynolds being bric-a-brac, and the others little more than filler-inners.

The switch in Boston is another blow to Babe Ruth's chances of realizing his ambition to manage a major leaguer entry. If there was one spot where the Bambino fitted better than in New York, it was Boston, where he started his big league career.

ANOTHER AMENDMENT

PLEADING for votes for House Joint Resolution No. 30—the university school land amendment—H. G. Secrest, superintendent of schools at Rankin, visited here early this week.

Mr. Secrest realized the fact that this amendment means little to the people of this section, but he begged that it be considered because of what it means to people in his, as well as other sections of the state.

The amendment would make University of Texas land taxable by schools. As the state law now stands, the University of Texas pays county taxes on land it owns in numerous counties, but this land is exempt from school taxation.

"In my county," Mr. Secrest stated, "the university owns nearly half the land. The other half upholds all the burden of school taxes, while the people living on university land are allowed to send their students to our schools free of any charge."

"In other words," he pointed out, "about half the county is paying the school expenses, and we instruct the children from the other half entirely gratis; yet the university has thousands of dollars it does not know what to do with."

Although opposed to "some of the other amendments" in sympathy with the school teachers over the state, Mr. Secrest attacked the propaganda put out in which it has been advised "in order to be sure you scratch the right amendment, just vote against them all."

"This," he said, "is most unfair consideration of other peoples' rights."

HJR. No 30, as the amendment is known, has only indirect interest for us. The school taxation of university property would affect us very little if any. Yet in the interest of others—those who desire it and also the university—we should give it consideration.

GRISLY SPECTER TAKES PLEASING FORM

A GREAT deal has been said, here and elsewhere, about what the electric power and distribution schemes of the Tennessee Valley Authority are going to do for the consumer.

Less has been said about the effect on the private producers of electricity, and it is usually taken for granted that these people are tearing their beards and beating their breasts whenever they think about it.

But there is an article in the current issue of the magazine "Public Utilities Fortnightly," which gives an interesting new slant on things.

This magazine might be called the official mouth-piece of the power industry. The article in question was written by Leon H. Curtice, former chief statistician of the General Electric Co. and secretary of the National Electric Manufacturers' committee.

Mr. Curtice bluntly suggests that the whole TVA project will eventually be a most excellent thing for the power industry and for the makers of electrical appliances.

He recites how the TVA began by forcing reductions on power companies, and how it followed that by "persuading" makers of electrical appliances—stoves, refrigerators, heaters, and the like—to lower prices on their products.

Coming, as they did, at a time when the business of both parties was steadily dwindling, these steps looked like very hard lines indeed.

But Mr. Curtice looks at it differently.

"To have the TVA—government organization—co-operate with power companies and the manufacturers to promote the sale of appliances is a distinct asset to the electrical manufacturing industry," he says. "To find rates so lowered that prospective customers are not frightened at the possible cost of cooking electrically, heating electrically, or refrigerating electrically is an attractive prospect."

Now what, asks Mr. Curtice, will be the result of all this? Power companies will be bringing their rates down to a point where it will be absolutely necessary for them to get additional appliances on the line to justify lowered rates.

This will mean much new business for the manufacturer; that, in turn, will open a great new sales field to the power industry.

In other words, this dreadful specter of the government in the power business is quite likely to bring a new prosperity to all branches of the electrical industry.

HEALTH

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEN
Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygeia, the Health Magazine

The colon includes the large intestine, beginning with the cecum, from which goes the appendix, and including also the three parts—the ascending, transverse and descending colon. These in turn pass off into the sigmoid and the rectum.

A famous British doctor, Arthur Hurst, once said, "The sins of the colon are its diseases, but I sometimes wonder if it is not more sinned against than sinning, for with attacks from above with purgatives, attacks from below with enemata, and frontal attacks by the surgeon, its sorrows are numerous and real."

Functions of the colon include digestion of fibrous material, absorption of water, secretion of mucus, and formation and carrying away from the body of waste material from the digestive tract.

Persons differ in the rate at which material passes through the colon. In animals the cecum and the ascending colon are a reservoir in which food may be held for long periods of time.

In man, however, food is not held for such long periods of time and is moved on fairly rapidly to excretion once it gets into the colon.

There are, however, cases in which the colon is more irritable than normally and others in which it is less irritable. In those cases in which it is more irritable, food passes out very rapidly, with the symptom of diarrhea. Such diarrheas may arise purely from emotion, but are, of course, also associated with irritation of the colon by germs of various kinds and by such parasites as amebae.

There are also cases in which the nervous system is disorganized, causing contraction of the colon and resulting in a lessened activity and a form of constipation known as spasmodic constipation.

In cases in which there is lessened activity and irritability of the colon, it may be sluggish and fail to act. These are called cases of atonic constipation.

The colon is also affected by diseases in other parts of the abdomen, such as disturbances of the gallbladder and of the appendix. Occasionally the organs in women having to do with childbirth may become inflamed and Food faddists of various kinds have attempted to control activities of the colon by peculiar diets. People who deliberately starve themselves to become thin, living largely on fruit and salads, fail to provide the colon with the proper amount of bulky material to stimulate its activity.

As a result, it fails to act properly. In other cases the colon is fed such materials as bran and a great deal of roughage. These throw a burden on many colons which they cannot carry and as a result irritability develops.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

By RODNEY DUTCHER
Democrat's Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON. — This is an era of "coincidences and if you didn't know that the arm of coincidence was a long one you might be tempted to think the gentleman in the White House was no more virtuously aloof from the tricks of politics than his predecessors.

Mr. Jim Farley, of course, can't help being pleased by these freaks of luck the Democrats are having. But he will stoutly insist on the haphazard nature of them.

Just a few more "coincidences":

Mr. Joe Guffy, the slick Pennsylvania boss who's the New Deal candidate against Senator Dave Reed, and Guffy's running mate, George Earle, who would be governor, stepped out from a White House luncheon with a statement.

The president was ordering a survey of a $57,000,000 electrical development centering in Pennsylvania, to be based largely on water power.

"Merely coincidental," said Earle when asked how it happened the statement came so near election day.

What seemed to make the coincidence almost miraculous was the fact that Morris L. Cooke, administration power expert, who sat in at the luncheon, after his "Giant Power Survey" in Pennsylvania, had reported that coal, not water power, must be the economic base of Pennsylvania's electrical development.

"Coincidence" Aids Farmer

The big flow of AAA benefit payments to farmers this fall, especially on the corn-hog program, is just another pleasant accident—even though Democratic politicians are giggling rather happily about it.

The administration has lifted its first finger for Senator LaFollette in Wisconsin since the Roosevelt Green Bay speech at just about the time it became reasonable obvious that Bob would defeat his Democratic opponent.

Senator Joe Robinson's announcement from the White House steps that he would go to New Mexico to campaign against Roosevelt's dear friend, Senator Cutting, coincided with reports that Cutting was having a tough fight.

And of course the administration's original blessing on Sinclair in California has cooled off at almost breakneck speed as predictions of Upton's defeat have poured in.

Too Many Hails to Chief

There's a band down at Williamsburgh, Va., where Roosevelt spoke recently, which doesn't know that "Hail to the Chief" is supposed to be played only once at a time. Or maybe it gets the point now.

The president was about to enter his automobile when the band struck it up. He doffed his hat, held it across his breast and stood. Back went the hat as the piece was finished—and back went the proud band to "Hail to the Chief!"

Again Roosevelt stood hatless, though obviously a bit peeved. When the band started a third rendition, he passed into the car and gave orders to press on.

Overlook No Bets

It is axiomatic that the New Deal is full of contradictions and one of them seems to be Mr. Forney Johnston, a public utilities lawyer and politician of Birmingham, Ala., whose father was a senator and who has his own ambitions in that direction.

Forney Johnston is local agency counsel for the RFC down there and makes a nice little thing of it, drawing thousands of dollars from the government.

Forney Johnston is also the fellow who is bringing suits against the constitutionality of the Tennessee Valley Authority program on behalf of half a dozen coal power companies.

New Dealers are beginning to ask each other how Mr. Johnston gets that way.

Perjury Charge Is Returned Against District Attorney

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 2.—Perjury indictments were returned yesterday against Buron Fitts state's district attorney, and his sister-secretary as a sequel to the lurid Hollywood "girl market" case.

The indictments were based upon a statement by Fitts and the sister, Mrs. Borthel Gregory, before a grand jury which investigated the case in 1931.

Fitts, who a few years ago sent his predecessor, the late Asa Keyes, to prison on a bribery charge, had been under investigation for three months at the hands of the county grand jury and a special prosecutor appointed by the state attorney general at the inquisitorial body's request.

The district attorney calling the inquiry a political move, announced he had received offers from more than 100 attorneys to defend him "if court action became necessary."

Fitts' financial affairs as well as his connection with dismissal of charges in the "girl market" case reputedly were looked into the grand jury.

Upon Fitts' motion, morals charges against John P. Mills, reputedly wealthy real estate operator named as a central figure in the girl case, were dismissed by Judge Wilbur C. Curtis here in 1931.

Mills and Alexander Pantages, theater magnate, had been named as having been involved in gay parties with girls supplied them for money.
