Word of "Prosperity Money" to Released to Memphis Trade

Plans for the long-heralded Memphis Prosperity Day were released this week by the chamber of commerce with the announcement that local merchants will begin distribution of $200,000 in "prosperity money" next Monday.

The Memphis prosperity plan embodies all of the best features of an inflationary era. Memphis merchants are prepared to trade dollar for dollar with their customers during the next few months.

Briefly, local merchants plan to give one dollar in "prosperity money" for every dollar paid for merchandise or on account. $200,000 worth of the facsimile money has been ordered printed, and more will be available if it is needed.

The "prosperity money" will be honored at weekly auction sales to be held each Tuesday in Memphis. A total of $175 worth of merchandise will be auctioned off to the highest bidders at each week's sale, the bids to be paid in "prosperity money."

Plans now call for a total of $1,000 worth of merchandise to be placed on the block during the auctions. The first sale will be staged here on Thursday, July 6, according to present plans. The Memphis band will be on hand to entertain the crowds, and a large number of bidders are expected to be present.

Merchants plan to place the money in circulation next Monday, allowing more than two weeks for bidders to accumulate funds for the first auction.

Memphis Baseball Team In League Lead With Win

Local Nine Defeats Rival Estelina Club Sunday To Move Into Top Spot

Swinging the big hickory with a vengeance, the Memphis baseball team climbed back to the top rung of the ladder in the Hall County Baseball League Sunday afternoon by dropping the Estelina club 11-3 on the Estelina diamond.

Three Cub hurlers paraded to the mound as the Memphians slammed out sixteen base hits driving Slover, Estelina's ace pitcher, from the box with a five-run barrage in the third frame to put the game on ice.

Hoover, pitching for Memphis limited Estelina to 8 scattered blows while his team-mates continued to blast two Cub relief pitchers, Weatherly and Marcum, to pile up a commanding lead. Sunday's victory was an answer to the 28-9 shellacking administered by Estelina earlier in the season, and dropped the Cubs into second place, giving the locals a one-game lead in the pennant chase.

Lakeview held to third place, half a game behind Estelina, by taking Hedley 17-12 in a wild game. A scheduled double-header was not completed, the second game ending early in the second inning with Lakeview leading 4-2. The game will be played at a later date.

Tell and Goldston met on the Tell field in a double-header Sunday afternoon, Tell capturing both ends of the feature to climb into fourth place. The Tell nine blanked Goldston in the opener, 9-0, and took the nightcap 7-5. The double loss dropped Goldston into the cellar, half a game behind Hedley.

The battle looms for fourth position in the Shaughnessy play-off as the first three teams appear to be well-away. Tell is now a game and a half away from fifth-place Hedley.

Next Sunday's games pit Memphis against Hedley at Hedley, Lakeview at Tell, and Estelina at Goldston.

The standings:

Team	W	L	Pct.
Memphis	7	2	.778
Estelina	6	3	.667
Lakeview	5	3	.625
Tell	4	5	.444
Hedley	2	6	.250
Goldston	2	7	.222

The Memphis Chamber of Commerce, anticipating the demand, has prepared special postal cards bearing an invitation to the reunion, a poem by I. G. Thomas dedicated to the pioneers, and appropriate sketches in color. Oh yes, as an afterthought, there's a place to write your name and a personal message.

The cards are being distributed free of charge, while they last, at the Chamber of Commerce office in the City Hall. Get yours today.

Rain, Hail and Hot Weather Visit Area

A heavy rain, accompanied by destructive hail visited the section of country between Brookhollow lake and Quail early Tuesday morning.

The rainfall ranged up to more than two inches, while the hail covered the ground and played havoc with crops that were up and growing.

Fifty-hundredths of an inch of rain was recorded here Sunday afternoon and night by the government rain gauge, according to J. J. McMickin.

Friday of last week was one of the hottest days of the year, and Wednesday of this week the thermometer registered 108, with hot winds blowing from the southwest. This Thursday promises to be another hot day.

McMickin said Wednesday that he believed the 108 degree heat to be near record for this time of the year.

DEMOCRAT ADS ARE WINNERS OF TPA AWARD

Two Prizes Taken By Local Entries In Texas Press

First place for the best-set advertisements of 30 inches or less was awarded to The Memphis Democrat in the state-wide contest sponsored by the Texas Press Association meeting at Lubbock last Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Third place was captured by The Democrat in the division for ads over thirty inches. Credit for the winning advertisements goes to Donald W. May, Democrat advertising manager, who prepared the lay-outs, and Lloyd N. Cagle, printer, who set the advertisements.

Editor and Mrs. J. Claude Wells and Mr. and Mrs. May attended the three-day convention of the association, held in a West Texas city for the first time in many years.

May appeared on the convention program Thursday afternoon, speaking on the topic, "Selling Advertising in a Small Town." His talk was well-received by several hundred editors gathered from all sections of the state.

Mr. Wells served as chairman of the committee on revision of rolls, delivering the committee report at the final business session of the convention Saturday morning.

Deskins Wells, editor of the neighboring Wellington Leader, and president of the Texas Press Association, presided at all sessions of the convention. Walter Buckner of the San Marcos Record was elected to succeed Wells to the office.

Sam Harben, veteran secretary of the association, was re-elected Saturday after an opposition bloc placed Douglas Meador, editor of the Matador Tribune, in nomination for the place.

Mr. and Mrs. Wells and Mr. and Mrs. May went to Lubbock Thursday morning, returning to Memphis late Saturday after the close of the convention.

Ewen Urges All Communities to Take Part in Planning Pioneer Reunion

"Every Hall County citizen, whether pioneer or newcomer, is invited and urged to attend a mass meeting at the Memphis High School gymnasium Friday night, June 16, at 8 o'clock in order to hear and discuss plans for the 1939 Hall County Old Settlers and Cowboy Reunion and Rodeo." E. M. Ewen, president of the Hall County Old Settlers Association, said Wednesday, issuing a personal appeal to everyone in the county for cooperation.

"I would like to see delegations from Lakeview, Turkey, Memphis, Estelina, Deep Lake, Lesley, Plaska, Newlin, Giles, Pleasant Valley, Webster, Harrell Chapel, Friendship, Fairview, Ell, Antelope Flat, Brice, Parnell, Liberty, Salisbury, Bethel, Gammage—every community in Hall County—represented at the meeting here," Mr. Ewen said.

"This celebration does not belong to Memphis, but to the entire county, and we want every person in the county to have an active part in it," he concluded.

Road Bond Bill Hits Legal Snag And More Delay

House Refuses Revisions Set by Senate; Mann's Ruling Causes Changes

The county and district road bond indebtedness bill, which passed the Senate last week with amendments, received a severe setback Monday when Attorney General Gerald Mann ruled portions of the measure unconstitutional.

More delay appeared likely as the House, receiving the revised bill from the Senate last week, refused to concur in the alterations and sent the measure to a conference committee.

County Judge M. O. Goodpasture and James E. King, president of the Memphis Chamber of Commerce, returned from Austin late Friday after spending last week at the capital in the interest of the road bond bill. Judge Goodpasture expressed confidence that the bill, insofar as it affects the county and district road bonds, would eventually pass.

10-GALLON HAT GOLD SHIRTS WILL BE WORN

Black and Gold Is Picked as Official Reunion Color

Ten-gallon hats and gold shirts trimmed in black were selected as the official regalia for the 1939 Hall County Old Settlers and Cowboy Reunion, which will be held in Memphis July 27-28, at a meeting of the executive committee Wednesday morning.

The committee issued a decree that all men of Memphis should be in costume by June 23. On a committee appointed to enforce the decree are Leon Bullard, Lloyd Phillips, Horace Tarver, R. S. Greene, Jack Foust, Harry DeLaney, Rupert Cole, Roy Coleman, C. T. Johnson, and Murray Dial.

In issuing the proclamation, they expressed the hope that it will not be necessary to install a "ducking tank" to enforce the request.

The women of the community are not being slighted. Their costume after the June 23 deadline will be the old-fashioned sun-bonnet and gingham or calico dresses. Mrs. Leonard Doss, working with the social chairman of the city's several women's clubs, is in charge of the style revolution.

Members of the planning committee put the machinery of organization into high gear Wednesday with the appointment of sub-committees to handle the various phases of Hall County's greatest (Continued on page 6)

Coyote Hunters To Close $150 Prize Contest July 1

Two Weeks Remain for Hunters to Enter Pelts in Coyote-Death Race

Three lucky hunters will draw $150 in prizes on July 1, when the coyote killing contest, sponsored jointly by the Hall County Commissioners Court and the Memphis Chamber of Commerce, is scheduled to close.

The contest opened early in January, when the commissioner and business men decided to take steps to stop the heavy toll of poultry taken by coyotes and bob cats. The $150 will be distributed in three prizes of $75, $50, and $25 to the three Hall County farmers bringing in the largest total number of pelts from coyotes and bob cats killed in this vicinity.

The animals may be killed anywhere in this territory, according to rules of the contest, but the prizes can be claimed only by residents of Hall County. Pelts must be checked in at the County Barn by R. T. Kellison, caretaker.

One hundred seventy-five pelts have been turned in as contest entries to date, Kellison announced Wednesday. The hides are earmarked and returned to the trapper, and may be sold on the market after being checked for credit in the contest.

Carroll Smyers, secretary of the Memphis Chamber of Commerce, warned this week that several hunters may have an opportunity to win the prize money in the few weeks remaining before the contest closes. Coyotes, particularly, are numerous now, and a great saving to poultry owners can be made by eliminating the pests.

The toll in poultry and young stock has been estimated at between $1,500 and $2,000 annually in this county.

Commissioners In Session Monday

The Hall County Commissioner's Court was in session Monday and Tuesday, opening their regular session on the second Monday.

The meeting has been devoted to routine business, according to County Judge M. O. Goodpasture. Commissioners were engaged Tuesday in checking tax returns.

Plan To Stage Shows at Several Neighboring Communities Each Week

As a gesture of good will from Memphis to surrounding towns and communities, the Memphis summer band, under the direction of R. E. Martin Jr., will begin a series of concert tours on Monday, June 26.

The series of concerts has been planned by the Memphis Chamber of Commerce. Music by the band, special songs, and comedy acts will feature the programs.

In addition to the 40-piece band, a novelty German band and a cowboy trio has been organized to assist with the entertainment.

Their first scheduled show will be presented at Lakeview on the evening of June 26, according to Carroll Smyers, secretary of the Memphis Chamber of Commerce.

Other appearances are planned for Estelina, Hedley, Turkey, Quail, Plaska, Newlin, and Lesley, and other places.

In addition to their trips to other communities, the band plans a weekly concert on the square in Memphis every Friday night. The first was presented last Friday.

Definite dates for the concert tours will be announced later. A tentative schedule has been prepared, calling for one and two shows a week. Local talent will be welcomed at each appearance. Contests may feature the performances.

With work progressing rapidly on the 117-mile power line, officials of the co-operative are giving all attention toward pushing the wiring campaign in an effort to have at least 75 per cent of the 300 homes on the line wired for electricity by August 1, when the project is scheduled for completion.

Dairy Day Show Has Successful Run Saturday

Large Crowd Attends Demonstration of Dairy Manufacturing

Interest in dairying as a rising farm industry in Hall County was forcefully demonstrated here last Saturday as enthusiastic crowds attended the all-day dairy manufacturing show staged by experts from the Texas Agriculture Extension Service.

Nearly 100 farmers and farm women attended the demonstrations put on during the day by W. V. Maddox, extension service dairyman, and Miss Ruby Mashburn, state home demonstration agent. The show was pronounced one of the most successful in the state this year, County Agent W. B. Hooser stated.

Manufacturing processes for butter and several types of cheese were exhibited as an educational feature. The show was held in the Boren-Kinard building on the north side of the square.

Raw materials for the demonstrations were furnished by A. Womack, C. A. Williams, John Ewen, and T. T. Loard. Local utilities companies cooperated with the sponsors by piping the building for gas, water, and electricity free of charge. Use of the building was offered by the owners, Hollis Boren and D. L. C. Kinard.

The Memphis Chamber of Commerce assisted in making all arrangements for the demonstration, County Agent Hooser said. A number of local firms cooperated by placing exhibits on display and by donating equipment. Home demonstrations agents from several near-by counties were here for the show Saturday.

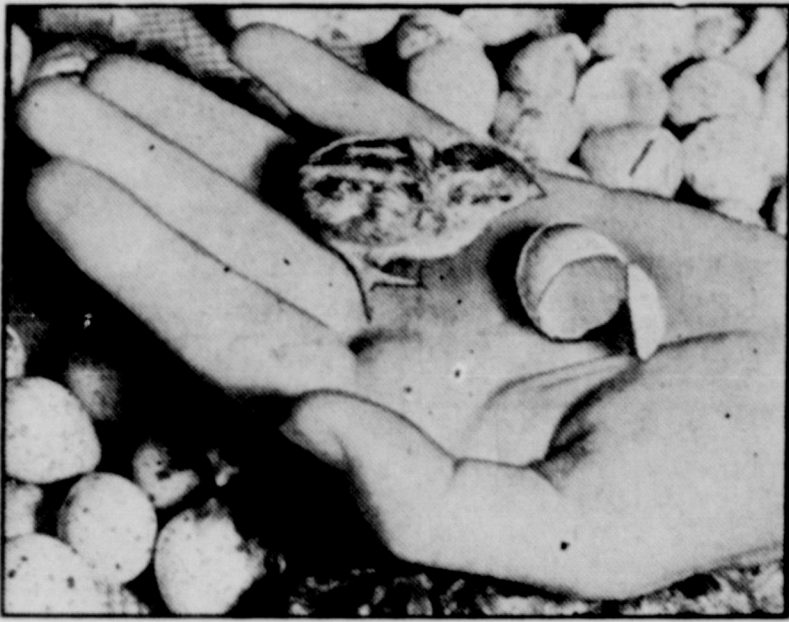

In proportion to its population, England has fewer telephones than Denmark, Hawaii, Norway and Sweden.

pioneer reunion. Mack Wilson was named chairman of the reunion committee, with Carl Harrison and Charlie Meacham. Mrs. D. H. Davenport heads a committee to arrange for the opening day memorial service. Mrs. John Deaver, appointed to head the relics committee, issued an appeal Wednesday for information in regard to antiques and relics of Hall County's pioneer days which may be in existence here. These mementos of other days will be placed on display in the show windows of stores throughout the business district, and will be carefully protected and returned to the owners, Mrs. Deaver said.

Assisting her on the search for relics is Mrs. R. S. Greene, and Mrs. Deaver has requested the presidents of Memphis clubs to serve on the committee.

Arrangements for the opening day parades have been assigned to the American Legion. Otis F. Jones, commander of the local post, has named Dean Morgensen, Dr. L. M. Hicks, Roy Guthrie, L. S. Edmondson, and Leonard Doss to assist on the committee, and requested anyone having old buggies, surries, sidesaddles, or other similar paraphernalia which might be used, to contact one of the committee members.

On the platform program committee are T. J. Dunbar, J. C. Roberts, Jim King, M. O. Goodpasture, Mrs. Tommie Harrison, J. Claude Wells, A. W. Howard, Mack Graham, and Mrs. Bill Howard.

The planning committee for the huge reunion barbecue includes Seth Palmeyer, Charlie Williams, Bill Kesterson, David Davenport, M. J. Draper, Capt. Fred Maxwell, Bailey Gilmore, Grover Moss, Wink Adams, D. A. Neeley, Jack Boone, Robert Sexauer, Tom Wilson, Mrs. Henderson Smith, and Mrs. N. A. Hightower.

On the finance committee were Sam Harrison, Frank Phelan, Ed Leary, Temple Deaver, D. L. C. Kinard, Chauncey Thompson, Matthew Allen, Roy Fultz, Ernest McMurry, Frank Foxhall, and John Deaver.

Mrs. Donald May Entertains Rotary

Mrs. Donald W. May appeared on the Rotary Club program at Tuesday's luncheon, entertaining members with two readings, one humorous and one serious. The readings were cleverly presented and brought an enthusiastic response from local Rotarians.

The regular luncheon will be held next Tuesday noon, and Tuesday night Rotarians, their wives and friends will attend a meeting at Chidress to hear an address by Dr. R. Thomsen, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Amarillo.

Rotarians, members of their families, and friends from all clubs in this area will attend the meeting at Chidress.

that lateral roads did not have to be a part of the state highway system to receive state aid, but full payment had to be made of all obligations already eligible for participation in county and district highway funds before the surplus could be devoted to new obligations.

Mann said that a portion of the measure directing cash payments to counties reimbursing them for road tax moneys used to discharge obligations eligible for participation in the original road bond assumption act was of doubtful constitutionality.

The bill provides, principally, for state assumption of county and district bonded indebtedness on highways which have been given state designation since 1932. Under the terms of the bill, county bonds for the highway from Memphis west to Lakeview and Mulberry Creek, originally built as a county road and later designated as a state highway, would be paid out of state highway funds.

Passage of the measure would mean a saving of half a million dollars to taxpayers in Hall County precincts 1 and 2. Final passage has been one of the major objectives of the Memphis Chamber of Commerce and Hall County officials this year.

Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Welcher of Parnell were Memphis visitors Monday.

Mrs. D. Rogers of Albany is here visiting her son, T. B. Rogers and wife.

School Transfers Must Be Made Before August 1

County Superintendent Warns of New Rules By Attorney General

All parents in the county who desire to transfer their children to another school district for the next term of school should do so as soon as possible, County Superintendent Vera Tops Gilreath warned this week.

A number of children will be required to transfer this year from schools where their grade will not be taught, the county superintendent pointed out. Even if the child's grade is not taught in the home district, a transfer must be made.

Attorney General Gerald C. Mann has ruled that the county superintendent does not have discretionary authority to refuse transfers, Miss Gilreath said.

Transfers must be granted if requested by the parents, and trustees who object to transfers must file their objections with the county board of trustees.

August 1 is the final date for transferring children from one school district to another. The transfers should be made as soon as possible, and must be made before that time, Miss Gilreath said, pointing out that in cases where the transfer is not filed it may be counted against the home district under the equalization law.

Louis Just About 100-1 Shot to Turn Back Galento's Bid

BY IRVING DIX
TWO-TON Tony Galento, the Orange, N. J., barkeep who shapes up very much like one of his own beer barrels, will climb through the ropes at a ring pitched in Yankee Stadium the night of June 28 and try to dislodge the heavyweight crown from the curly head of Joe Louis.

Strangest thing about the whole affair is that Signor Antonio is serious. Signor Galento might as well tackle Gargantua the Great as wade into Joe Louis.

True, the experts predicted the Brown Bomber would annihilate Max Schmeling when they met for the first time, but this—well, this would be too far a flight of fancy not to make Joe at least a 100-to-1 choice over the challenger.

GALENTO'S appearance in the same ring with the champion may be attributed to a great job of maneuvering on the part of Joe Jacobs, his manager. The fact that Galento had been licked about 28 times in his career and isn't much better now than he was a few years ago, didn't prevent Jacobs from getting his man named as Number 1 challenger.

This was accomplished by such means as allowing the little fat man to train on beer and stogies and getting his name in print by calling Louis a bum at every opportunity.

Joe repeatedly has indicated he didn't like the name-calling and Tony very likely will come to regret every utterance.

BASED on actualities Galento earned what little right he has to meet Louis by belting out people like Natie Brown, Jorge Brescia and Abe Feldman—which is absolutely no trick at all.

Tony's best equipment is a roundhouse left hook which leaves him wide open when he turns it loose. Putting Joe Louis to work on a man who leaves himself wide open is unmerciful.

Tony's only hope is to land one of his roundhouses flush on Joe's chin. Not only that, but he must connect some time within the first three minutes of the fight.

He probably won't be remaining upright after that.

ONE DAY APART

HONOR THY FATHER and mother. That is the command of the Holy Scriptures, and it is fitting and proper in this modern age that two days should be set aside during the year when the citizens of the world's greatest nation pause to pay tribute to the parents to whom they owe their heritage.

It is significant, too, that while neither of these occasions is a "legal" holiday, they are nevertheless observed throughout the land each year. The second Sunday in May has been set aside for many years as "Mother's Day." More recent, but almost as widely observed, is "Father's Day" on the third Sunday in each June.

Next Sunday, June 18, is Father's Day . . . in Memphis, in Texas, and throughout the United States. It was not created by law, but was given birth through a spirit of reverence on the part of the sons and daughters of the nation for "Dad."

Every person has someone to whom he looks with respect and gratitude for paternal guidance and help . . . if not his father, then some person who has taken a father's place in his life. That is a feeling often difficult to express, but one which certainly deserves expression.

A word or two, or a card or letter will do the trick. Next Sunday is set aside for that purpose. Don't forget Dad on Father's Day.

THE DEMOCRAT A WINNER

WE OF THE DEMOCRAT STAFF have made a conscientious effort every week to give our subscribers and advertisers the best newspaper which a city of this size is capable of producing. We have taken pride in The Democrat, and it is with considerable pleasure that we point to the record which your home paper made at the Texas Press Association in Lubbock last week.

Advertisements from recent issues of this newspaper ranked among the best in the state of Texas in contests sponsored by the State Press Association. One group was ranked first in its class, and another was awarded third place, in a contest to select the best-set ads from the weekly newspapers of the state. These winners were picked from hundreds submitted by Texas newspapers.

We are pleased that our efforts to produce an A-1 newspaper have been recognized in this manner, and believe that the business men who make publication of The Democrat possible through their advertisements may feel equally proud of the accomplishment.

A COUNTY WIDE EVENT

MEMPHIS AND HALL COUNTY will be given an opportunity this Friday night to give proof of its vaunted pride in its pioneers. A mass meeting of all Hall County citizens has been called at the high school gymnasium to make plans for a huge Pioneer and Cowboy Reunion and Celebration in July, and upon the response at that meeting will rest much of the success of the venture.

E. M. Ewen, himself a pioneer and president of the Hall County Old Settlers Association, is broadcasting a personal appeal through the columns of this issue of The Democrat to all citizens of the county to be present at the meeting.

The organization is already begun, and ambitious plans have been made. A few men have been devoting a great deal of their time and energy toward making this year's Pioneer Celebration an outstanding success, but an undertaking of the magnitude cannot hope to succeed without the active support and interest of the entire populace.

The 1939 Celebration should be made one of the greatest in the County's history. For many of Hall County's first citizens, it will be the last. Next year Memphis and Hall County observe a fiftieth anniversary, and half a century has taken a large toll of lives from the ranks of the early settlers.

All communities and all citizens in the County are urged to attend the meeting here. The pioneer reunion is not Memphis' celebration . . . Memphis is merely the host city . . . it is dedicated to the pioneers of this entire area, and all who would do them honor are invited to participate.

Flag Day this week brings back to mind a double-pointed quip to the effect that the sight of the Stars and Stripes should make us doff our hats . . . not just them.

CULLED FROM THE DEMOCRAT'S EXCHANGES

A new cure for traffic fatalities, and a new pension plan, is advanced by the McLean News: "More people were killed in traffic accidents during the past 18 months than there were soldiers killed in the world war. As it seems impossible to interest the average motorist in being careful, it might be a good idea to begin paying pensions to survivors of traffic accidents and add to the gasoline tax to raise the money."

The Canyon News: Time was when everything of major importance was accepted without question. People went to church because they considered it their duty. Now the world is asking, why go to church? Time was when going to school was taken for granted. A lot of young people are asking now, why get an education when so many college graduates are out of jobs? Time was when most young men looked either to the farm or the business house as a certain means of livelihood and future independence. Now they are asking, why go into business when 93 per cent of all business people fail eventually, and the government has to help the farmer make a living? Most young people have one idea: get hold of a car, drive like hades, have a swell time, and let the government look after you in old age. Living under these cock-eyed conditions of the past few years has made most people wonder just which way is the right way. But after all, straight living, honesty, thrift, and economy will win, regardless of what may happen in between times.

Add tall tales: "There was a time when half the population of Texas was said to be on wheels. When it got too dry to crop a bit, the family simply loaded into a wagon and moved. Some of them moved so often that when the old man and the boys carried the cookstove out the door, all the chickens ran up and laid down for their feet to be tied."—The Donley County Leader.

From the Ochitree County Herald comes the following comment on the proposal revived last week by an article in the Amarillo Daily News in regard to consolidation of County governments:

"Talk of consolidating Randall and Potter counties has been started by one of the Potter commissioners. This is a step in a more economical form of government. We venture to say that the 254 counties of Texas could be consolidated into one-third that number without decreasing a single item of service, but it would decrease the cost of government by millions of dollars in savings to taxpayers."

"What is true in Texas as to an excess of governmental employees and sub-divisions is true in most other states. Some few states are making headway in county consolidation programs. Cost of government is increasing out of all proportion to the ability of the property owner and business man to pay.

"With consolidation should come a unicameral legislature doing away with the ineffectual two-house legislature whose present session is costing the Texas taxpayers the enormous sum of one million dollars."

One of the best headlines of the year appeared in the Pecos Enterprise recently, a caption over a story of Lou Gehrig's temporary retirement after a record string of consecutive baseball games with the New York Yankees. The caption read: "Iron Man Finally Rusts."

Jots in Jest

JUNE: The month when bridegrooms begin to wish there hadn't been a May, April, March, February, January, December, November, October, September, August, or July.

That new speed meter for measuring a pitcher's delivery should be a boon to baseball. It will show what a rookie has before the management has paid his expenses to training camp.

Pennsylvania has put through an anti-firecracker law. As far as the kids of that state are concerned, they might as well complete the job and repeal the Fourth of July.

Television isn't very successful, as yet, in broadcasting a sports event. Looks like we'll have to continue to listen to a commentator—and guess what's going on.

WASHINGTON LETTER

When Is a Worker a Farm Hand? That's Question Before Congress

BY SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT

WASHINGTON—When is a worker a farm hand and when is he a city wage earner? One of the bitterest fights of this congressional session is being waged over that question.

It centers right now about the wage-hour law, amendments to which are pending in the House. When that law was drawn up, it exempted farmers and their employees from its provisions. It also took in a number of non-farm workers whom it was never intended to cover; telephone company employees in small villages, for instance, and well-paid white-collar workers who have no need for its protection. So this spring a series of amendments to get these non-farm workers out from under the law were drawn up.

Along with these amendments, there came proposals that people working in agricultural product processing plants be exempted also. And it is over this point that the fight is now being waged.

As it stands now, the wage-hour law exempts agricultural workers employed in the "area of production" of any given commodity. Now, the act does not define what an "area of production" includes; so Wage-Hour Administrator Andrews has ruled that it includes all processors who work within 10 miles of the place where the crop is grown, or who work in towns of less than 2500 inhabitants.

But efforts are now being made to apply the exemption to all workers who are employed in any sort of agricultural processing plants whatever. This would include fruit and vegetable canners and packers, tobacco strippers, and even—under one amendment which has been offered—workers in packing houses.

Most of the big farm organizations, including the Farm Bureau Federation and National Grange, are supporting these amendments. The hour administration is openly opposing them, as are labor unions. And, as was in the beginning, the real question involved is—when is a farm laborer and when is not?

The farm organizations maintain that, even though the of these processing workers not actually work on farms, increase their pay and limit hours would directly affect the farmer by raising the cost of processing the things he sells. The wage-hour act counter by saying that the rise involved would be extremely small, and that it is ridiculous to say that a man has anything to do with a product anywhere along the line is an agricultural employee.

AMENDMENTS based on the same line of reasoning in line for the social act. As now drafted, amendments would remove agricultural processing plant employes from old age insurance and unemployment insurance coverage.

And the lineup for and against is about the same here as in case of the wage-hour amendments.

The social security amendments will probably pass, the wage-hour law, the issue more doubtful. The best right now is that the amendments will pass the House will fail in the Senate.

The liberalized old age bill is rather like giving a If there's money to your the check will be paid. It's like the pension bill Clarendon News.

Farm Short Course Opens July 5

A preview of the program for the annual Texas A. and M. College Farmers' Short Course plus the interest expressed by farm and ranch families, has led H. H. Williamson, director of the Texas Extension Service, to predict that the 1939 session will be one of the most successful in recent years.

As in 1938, the current meeting will be divided into two sections—one on July 5, 6, and 7 for 4-H club boys and girls, and a second one on July 12, 13, and 14 for adults. Division of the Short Course allows the institution to provide sufficient accommodations for the crowds.

The 4-H club program will consist of selection of outstanding club members, talks by representatives to the recent National 4-H Club Encampment at Washington, D. C., social activities, and will be climaxed by the colorful ceremony of the gold star awards to the 100 boys and girls selected for this honor.

The theme of the adult program will be land use planning, with farm people taking the major part. Guest speakers will be headlined by A. F. Lever of South Carolina, former congressman who was joint author of the Smith-Lever bill on which extension work is based. Walter Jenkins of Houston will again lead the group singing.

PROPER LOCATION OF STOCK water ponds and salt licks is doing much to improve grass land in the Southern Great Plains. Livestock will travel as far to reach a salt supply as they will for water. Distribution of water holes over the range and location of salting places in remote spots, as shown in lower picture, result in better utilization of grass and guard against overgrazing. In carrying out this program of better range management in the plains region the Soil Conservation Service has aided ranchers and farmers in constructing more than 1,200 ponds similar to that shown at top.

Good Management on Range Essential To Permanence of Ranching Industry

Good range management whereby the best utilization of grass is made and soil and water are conserved is essential to the permanence of the ranching industry in the Texas Panhandle, declares H. H. Fennell, regional conservator of the Soil Conservation Service.

"Once overgrazing has depleted the grass, the normal carrying capacity of the range is decreased," Fennell points out. "When grass is killed because of drought or continued misuse, the land owner faces a reversion problem which is a slow and costly process," he continues. One of the best methods for obtaining even distribution of grazing and to guard against overgrazing in spots is through the proper location of stock water ponds and salting places, it is pointed out. Where there are too few water holes, livestock are inclined to graze intensively near the pond or tank and neglect good grass on other parts of the range.

Constant grazing near a pond results in the soil being pulverized by the hoofs of the livestock with the result that silt soon reduces the storage capacity of the reservoir. Often such spots may become serious blow hazards where wind erosion is a problem, Fennell says.

Stock will go as far to reach a salt supply as they will go for water, it is pointed out, so by locating salt licks in spots far removed from water, stock can be encouraged to graze evenly over the entire range.

In addition to serving an important purpose in preservation of the range, stock ponds can contribute to flood control by retaining water that otherwise would go downstream. Fencing of stock ponds dams protects the structures from damage by trampling of livestock and often aids in the establishment of wildlife habitats. In cooperation with ranchers and farmers of the Southern Great Plains, the Soil Conservation Service has aided in construction of more than 1,200 dams within recent years, Fennell reports.

The Memphis camp has engineered and supervised the construction of 67 stock tanks on ranches in this area during the past 3 years. Plans for 5 additional tanks have been approved, which are now under construction, one on the Crews Ranch in Childress County and one on the Wilson Ranch in Collingsworth County.

AAA Urges Texas Farmers to Plant Soil-Builders

Cotton Acreage Cut to Increase Planting of Sorghums and Grasses

"Show me a crop that is being overproduced and I will show you a crop that is ruining the land on which it is growing."

Often quoted by R. M. Evans, national administrator of the AAA, that phrase keynotes the Agricultural Conservation Program, under which Texas farmers this year are advised to hold soil-depleting crops such as cotton to a maximum of 25,518,791 acres and devoted the other 10,945,340 acres of the state's tillable land to such soil-saving growths as clover, sudan grass, sweet sorghums and green manure crops.

The Texas Agricultural Conservation Committee, which makes headquarters at Texas A. and M. College, is determined to encourage greater use of available federal funds this year in conservation and improvement of crop and range land. George Slaughter, chairman, has disclosed. Texas farmers, about 85 per cent of whom took part in the program last year, held soil-depleting crops to around 25,100,000 acres, devoted about 7,500,000 acres to soil-conserving uses and carried out additional soil-building practices such as terracing, strip cropping and cover cropping on an estimated total of 6,500,000 acres of cropland.

Besides, Texas ranchmen adapted range-conservation practices to around 31,500,000 acres of grazing land, destroyed millions of acres of prickly pear and other noxious plants and built storage reservoirs capable of holding more than 100,000 acre-feet of water.

Slaughter looks forward to a creditable increase in direct soil and water conservation work by farm and ranch operators in the gigantic AAA conservation program this year.

Creamery butter production in Texas increased from 24,000,000 pounds in 1927 to 28,000,000 pounds in 1937. During the same period the ice cream production increased from 6,000,000 gallons to 7,500,000 gallons and evaporated milk increased from less than 1,000,000 pounds to 22,000,000. These dairy products are increased by the steady increase of small dairy herds such as can be found in Hall County.

All two-cent stamps, or their equivalent value, throughout the world, are printed in red through international agreement.

declaring their driver's licenses are still good even though they bear an April expiration date. Licenses were indefinitely extended pending action by the Texas Legislature in writing a new license law.

Police in most large cities have been notified of the license extensions, but Texans have encountered trouble with officers in smaller communities, according to reports to state police. The explanatory letters will not take the place of driver's licenses, state police warned.

The highway patrol has district headquarters at Austin, Dallas, Abilene, Wichita Falls, Amarillo, Lubbock, Pecos, San Angelo, San Antonio, Corpus Christi, Houston, Tyler, Harlingen, Fort Worth, Waco and Beaumont.

Uses For Cotton Being Sought

It is estimated that 99 per cent of the world's population uses cotton in one form or another, and still the search for more uses for cotton goes on.

This time F. E. Lichte, cotton gin specialist of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service, comes up with the idea that increased consumption of cotton is already established lines is needed.

"Insist on cotton materials instead of cotton substitutes," he says. "We know of a silk producing nation whose laws prohibit its people from wearing clothes containing cotton. Of course, we want nothing like that, but we can use more cotton."

course, we want nothing like that, but we can use more cotton."

Cotton cloth is an excellent binder for roads where concrete is costly. Around 20,000 miles of macadam roads are built each year, and another 45,000 miles repaired annually. Use of cotton cloth accounts for seven bales per mile.

Cotton fabricated houses are being tried out now, Lichte says. A five-room cotton house, with steel construction, complete, without central heating plant runs to around $2,200.

Cement in returnable cotton bags is cheaper than cement in paper sacks; asphalt treated cotton is being used a ditch and canal linings; cotton mats for curing concrete roads have been made to replace the usual method of curing by ponding. And so it goes.

Cattle Dipping To Be Demonstrated At Local Ranch

D. H. Davenport Ranch Is Selected for Sulphur-Cubae Dipping Exhibit

A cattle dipping demonstration, showing methods of killing lice with wettable sulphur and cubae, will be staged on the D. H. Davenport ranch Monday, County Agent W. B. Hooser announced yesterday.

The demonstration will start at 9 o'clock, Hooser said. All ranchmen in this section are invited to attend.

The demonstration has been arranged through the cooperation of the Texas Gulf Sulphur Company. Six hundred pounds of wettable sulphur and 60 pounds of cubae have been supplied by the company.

The sulphur, Hooser explained, kills blue lice but does not affect gray and black lice. Used with cubae, however, it is effective against all three types, since the cubae kills both gray and black lice.

Enough material has been supplied to prepare 3,000 gallons of solution. The dipping vat on the Davenport ranch has a capacity of only 860 gallons, so the demonstration may be continued over several days.

By BOYCE HOUSE

As plans go forward rapidly for another big Casa Manana in Fort Worth this summer, opening July 21, some of the "behind-the-scenes" events in connection with the great show in previous years come to mind.

When the grand opening of the Fort Worth Frontier Centennial was being broadcast over a national hookup in 1936 by Merle Tucker, a group of Indians were giving a war-song and war-dance but they were due for a scene in "The Last Frontier," so the director of that show rushed them off. As the sudden silence descended, the quick-witted Tucker assured the many thousands of radio listeners, "A peculiar thing about this particular war-dance is that the Indians stop right in the middle of it."

An Oriental dancer in Casa Manana, enraged at something a girl dramatic critic had written about him, made serious threats, so she was given a police whistle and, at the first toot, all eight members of the singing "Peppers" were in readiness to reduce the "Yellow Peril" in America by one.

Fortunately (for the Oriental), it was not necessary for the toot to be tooted.

During Casa Manana rehearsals, there was a man who was hired to do just one thing and that was to yell "Quiet," which he did five times louder than the talk he was complaining about.

And perhaps the most vivid sentence written about the 1937 Casa Manana was that of Jack Gordon of the Fort Worth Press: "The old Southern mansion is so realistic that the milkman leaves

John Naylor, conservative and widely-informed oil editor of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, comments that State Railroad Commissioner Jerry Sadler "struck a chord in sympathy with the feeling of most Texas producers" in suggesting that, after 60 days, all Texas wells run wide open because other states are not protesting to the extent that Texas is and oil from out-of-state is being brought into Texas. Naylor wrote:

"The large majority of Texas producers have felt for a long time that the operators of this state are holding an umbrella over the rest of the industry, making price stabilization possible, while some others have not been willing to co-operate but have taken advantage of the situation to skim the cream and leave a gradually dwindling amount of nourishment for the Texas industry as it restricts more and more to keep the situation together.

"To make the grievances felt by Texas operators greater, they feel that their efforts have not been seconded by the large units in the oil business. Many feel that the situation will not be corrected until there is a 'shake-down' and both political and industrial units get in line."

Vagrant memories from south of the Rio Grande—

A "believe-it-or-not" The only thing in English on the menu in one of Mexico City's leading restaurants reads, in large type, "Chili, a la Texas."

An eating stand bore this sign: "Los mejores hot dogs en Mexico" "The best hot dogs in Mexico."

Mexico has more dogs—not speaking now of "hot dogs"—than you can imagine, and all of them are hungry-looking. One beautiful lady in our Lions' group felt such pity for the "skinny dogs" that we avoided the reproach in her gaze as we guiltily ate our box lunches in the little park at the foot of the Pyramid of the Sun. In vain, we explained that—at best—only two or three of the creatures could be fed and that even they would be desperately hungry again the next day. So we went on short rations and were rewarded with a radiant smile as the lady fed bread, bananas, candy, ham, oranges and eyes were rapturous and their tails wagged ecstatically.

This is a fact that Congressman Martin Dies, whose work as head of the committee investigating un-American activities, spoke at a patriotic mass meeting recently in Fort Worth, with 20,000 persons present. Dies has been mentioned frequently as a likely candidate for the United States Senate in 1940 and undoubtedly would be a strong contender.

Former State Senator Tom DeBerry's favorite story is that of the fisherman who said, "Don't squirm, little fish; all I'm going to do is gut you."

Charles Harris, Fort Worth Star-Telegram editorial writer, was putting a dog he had trained through a set of tricks when a marveling neighbor commented, "I ain't never had nary dog that I could ever learn to do nothing."

We're a little behind in the "oldest joke" contest, so here are several entries:

An Irish immigrant was asked as he stepped off a boat in New York, "Are you a Democrat or a Republican?" He answered, "I dunno but I'm agin the government."

A 90-year old mountaineer, with long whiskers, was sitting in the doorway of his cabin when a stranger inquired, "Have you

Tested Recipes For Cheese Are Demonstrated

Maddox Gives Instructions For Cheese-Making at Dairy School Saturday

W. V. Maddox, Texas Extension Service dairymen, who conducted the dairymen and farm women instructions for preparing several types of cheese. Among the recipes demonstrated by Maddox were the following:

Neufchatel Cheese

Set one gallon of clean whole milk at a temperature of 78 degrees Fahrenheit. A 2-gallon shot-gun can is excellent for the purpose. Add 1-3 to 1-2 cup of starter or clabber milk free from gas holes or off flavors. Stir well into milk.

Add 2 or 3 drops of liquid rennet or approximately 1-4 to 1-3 junket tablet. Either must be mixed with half cup of cold water before adding to milk. Hold at temperature of 78 degrees for 12 to 14 hours. At this time, half an inch of whey should show on top of the milk.

Carefully dip the curd from the can with a cup or dipper and place in cloth to drain. Allow to drain for several hours without disturbing. At this point, the curd should be worked into the center of the cloth with a spoon.

When all free whey has drained off, fold cloth over the cheese and press for several hours. This can be done by placing the cheese between two boards and putting a gallon bucket of water on the top board. Pressing time may be shortened by chilling the curd in cracked ice, or placing it in the refrigerator.

After the curd has been pressed, you should have between 1 1/2 to 2 pounds of cheese. Work until smooth, add salt to taste, and mix well. The cheese is now ready to be placed in containers.

Neufchatel cheese may be served plain, or with ground pimientos or a mixture of chopped olives and nuts to give good flavor.

Processed Cottage Cheese

Take one gallon of separated milk and let it coagulate. Heat to temperature of 100 degrees F., stirring most of the time. Hold at this temperature for 30 minutes, continuing stirring. Drain off whey and squeeze drier than customary for ordinary cottage cheese.

Take 1-4 cup butter, salt to taste, and one teaspoon of soda, mix thoroughly with the cheese, and let it stand for 2 hours. Add 1-4 cup of sweet cream and put all into a double boiler and heat until a smooth consistency is formed. Remove from fire and add 1-4 cup of sweet cream to which cheese coloring has been added (1-4 teaspoonful).

Beat until smooth and turn into buttered dish to mold. The complete process should be finished within one day. This cheese is mild, and added flavor can be given through pimientos, caraway seed, or a small amount of strong flavored cheese, melted and added.

Pop Corn Type Cottage Cheese

Set one gallon of fresh skim milk at 75 degrees F. (A bucket, lard can, or iron dish can be used) Add 1-3 to 1-2 cup of starter or clabber milk and stir well. Hold at temperature of 75 degrees for 14 to 18 hours.

Cut the curd into 1-2 or 1-inch cubes with spatula or knife so the whey can separate. Allow to set 10 minutes before stirring or applying heat. The curd is ready to cut when it makes a clean break. This is determined by inserting finger in the curd obliquely, and on raising the finger curd should make a clean break.

After allowing cheese to set 10 minutes, add water (from one quart to 1-2 gallon) at 120 degrees F. directly to the cheese.

Golden Couple Celebrate Golden Anniversary Friday

By MRS. FRED HEMPHILL
Staff Correspondent

On Friday, June 9, Mr. and Mrs. Will Padgett celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary at their home here in Newlin. Mr. and Mrs. Padgett married in Cassville Georgia in 1889, and lived in and near Cartersville and Rome, Ga., until 1903 when they moved with their family of 3 sons to Roxton, Texas. They later moved back to Georgia and then to Wise County, Texas, where they lived until 1907 when they moved to Hall County, settling on what was known as the Shoe Bar Ranch, which was managed by Joe Merrick at that time. While they lived on the ranch it was sold and the thousands of cattle were shipped to South America. They later moved east of Memphis on the Joe Gates place and in 1909 they were ready to harvest a fine cotton crop of 200 acres, when a hail storm completely destroyed it. They saved about six bales that was not beaten into the ground. They moved from there to the Newlin community where they have lived since.

In recounting her early days Mrs. Padgett said that the women of this day do not know the meaning of work compared to the women of her time, when everyone worked from morn' 'till night spinning thread, weaving material for their clothes and then sewing them by hand, and had to sit up until 10 o'clock knitting the family's hose, wool for winter and cotton for summer. The decorative ones boasted wide red, blue, green and white stripes, either around or up and down. The floor length dresses consisted of ten or more yards. Her wedding dress was of fine white lawn, which was very expensive at that time. The crops were worked with Georgia stocks and sulky plows, and cotton was picked in gunny sacks, which hung from the shoulder not touching the ground, then put in baskets of white oak splits. Everything they ate was raised at home. Pumpkins, apples, peaches and various other fruits and vegetables were dried for winter use. Green beans were pickled by the barrel, also kraut was put up by the barrel. Times were very hard, but folks managed to live at home better than they do now.

the flowers die. If it doesn't rain soon the shrubs will die. If they are watered, the water is hauled out there in buckets, cans, and barrels by the individuals. But it's a poor makeshift.

Twelve or fifteen hundred dollars would be sufficient to have a well dug, storage tank erected, and piping laid to all parts of the two divisions of the cemetery.

One hundred and twenty to 150 people could donate $10 each and put the project through. After the project was finished, from 25 cents to $1 per month dues for the summer months would be sufficient to keep a pump operating and hire a man to look after the burial lots. The writer will be of the number to start the campaign. How many will join me?

A committee or trustees could be selected to take care of the money donated and see that it is used for the purpose of providing water at the cemetery for the use of all who want to see that the burial plots of their loved ones are not neglected. With water provided the cemetery could soon be beautified.

Don't you think we have a dilly-dallied long enough? Isn't it time now to show our love and affection for those who have already passed on? If there is any response to this plea, detailed plans will be outlined next week. If no one responds with a year or nay, the matter will be dropped. Let's see what happens.

One year ago this week, several lives were lost and thousands of dollars worth of property were damaged by floods in this section of country where floods, until then, were unknown. Farms in Hall and Donley counties were inundated and crops had to be replanted. Although late, the crops grew and the yields were on a par with those that had been planted earlier and not damaged by floods. This week finds much of the county not planted to crops, due to lack of moisture instead of too much. Will history repeat in reverse this year, and let good crops be made again.

The road bond assumption bill now before the Legislature is being watched with interest by every Hall County taxpayer. For the passage of this bill will mean that a great deal of the tax burden will be lifted when Hall County road bonds will be taken over by the state. Judge M. O. Goodpasture and James E. King have spent many weary days in Austin working to get legislators interested in the bill. They have done some good work. Last week at Lubbock two members of the Legislature, one a Senator and the other a Representative, stated that Goodpasture and King had done splendid work by their contact with the lawmakers. They also stated that Allen Harp, representative from this district, is doing all he can to assist in getting relief for Hall County taxpayers, and that he is industrious, level headed and is fast developing into a leader, having already won the confidence and esteem of his fellow members.

Since summer time is the dull season of the year in a business way, business men and merchants could close their stores early in the evening and spend several hours in relaxation and pleasure, and their employees could get a much-needed if not well-earned rest. Why not close early? The business being done in Memphis during the summer can be done in much less hours-per-day time. The customers will be glad to do their shopping earlier. They know how the long hours on duty tires the employers and employees, and they know also that when the fall season comes all hands will have to begin early and work late without time off for recreation.

Plans are being made to take the band and other entertainment

Fly Hrap Proves Highly Efficient Sanitary Measure

FSA Co-Operator Builds Economical, Successful Trap for Summer Pests

For the purpose of maintaining sanitary conditions about the farm home, the Joshua Richburg family in the Wolf Flat community, cooperators with the Farm Security Administration, recently constructed a very economical fly trap which has proven to be very efficient in the eradication of flies about the premises.

The fly trap, 2 feet high and 12 inches square was constructed at a cost of only 65c and the family feels that they have been repaid many times for the cost and effort, according to Miss Lois Waggoner, FSA case-worker.

Mr. Richburg placed this trap over the garbage can which is located some 15 yards from the house. It has been in operation only a few days and approximately 4 gallons of flies have been killed and emptied from this trap.

Every home should have a trap in the barnyard and one near the back door, Miss Waggoner said.

A large number of old timers have filled out and returned the questionnaires sent to them by The Democrat. Two or three hundred more should be sent in right away. You, who haven't done anything about filling out the questionnaires sent you, will read in The Democrat's pioneer edition July 21 about your neighbors and friends, but they will not have the pleasure of reading about you if you do not send in your history. This is a case of publishing a Who's Who in Hall County, and if some don't "who-who," the list will be incomplete. Get the blanks filled out and to this office right away.

The Democrat has gone and done it again. Last year the paper won second place in an advertising contest conducted by the Texas Press Association at the annual convention in Port Arthur. This year it went one better by winning first place in the convention of the TPA held at Lubbock last week. Also, won third place in another division of the contest. A cash award was won in both places along with the nice honors.

Donald W. May, The Democrat's advertising manager, made a fine speech at the convention on advertising. After the honors were announced, the newspaper folks were convinced that May knew what he was talking about in his speech of the day before.

To the layout man, Donald May, and the printer who set the

Blind—But He Writes a Letter

Although he can't see, U. S. Navy Chaplain Joseph Earnest of Vallejo, Calif., is shown writing a letter. He uses the "writing aid," an inexpensive invention of his own. Spring clamp holds paper in place on board. Rubber bands stretched across at even intervals, and fastened into notches on sideboards, form raised lines which guide the writer.

Lubbock was a real host to the Texas Press Association's convention Thursday, Friday and Saturday. The citizens saw to it that real West Texas hospitality was dispensed freely. Entertainments and plenty to eat provided by Lubbock, and good programs during the sessions made the convention most interesting.

While in Lubbock a number of ex-Hall County people called to see us, and pretended like they like Lubbock for their home. Perhaps they do, but they are still interested in Memphis and Hall County. They asked about each and every one living here.

One of these days Lubbock will step into the limelight as the hub city of the Plains if Amarillo doesn't watch out. By the way,
