Same Old Stuff—HALLOWEEN DAY IS HERE AGAIN

Today is Halloween, and tonight is Halloween night. So what? Last year there appeared a story in the Democrat about Halloween.

Wales, where the Celts stood off foreign invaders, how the lighting of the bon fires remained a part of the celebration.

This year, the story is old—for it has already been told. We can't carry all this stuff about the origin of Halloween, because everybody has already read it.

.43 Inch Moisture Falls in Past Week

Showers late Wednesday afternoon and Wednesday night brought 25 of an inch of rain in Memphis to run the total amount of moisture received during the past four days to .43 of an inch.

F. H. Grazner Held 1st Serial Number Drawn Back in '17

A search through the files of The Democrat reveals that one Flavel Henry Grazner held the first serial number—258—drawn in the World War lottery.

The present address of Mr. Grazner, or whether he is still living, was not learned. He was, however, assigned Order Number 1 in Hall County for the World War draft.

Another interesting fact is that only 987 registered for the World War draft in Hall County, compared to 1,560 registrants here for the peace-time draft.

Lakeview F.F.A. Educational Booth Entered at Fair

Terrell Chapter Winner Of First Place; Wellington, Samnorwood Also Enter

Three F. F. A. Chapters in this region, those at Lakeview, Wellington, and Samnorwood, placed educational booths at the State Fair in Dallas recently.

The Lakeview and Wellington exhibits, winners of the first two prizes at the Tri-State Fair in Amarillo several weeks ago, each finished in points close to the winning chapter, the Terrell F. F. A. group.

Terrell scored 877 points, while Lakeview's exhibits brought in 821 points, and Wellington's 807 points. Each of the chapters permitted to enter exhibits was awarded $40.

Accompanying the exhibit from Lakeview were Carlton Wallace and Buddy Bownds. The two returned by way of Stephenville, Dublin, DeLeon, Gorman, and Eastland, visiting friends and relatives on their way home.

The Lakeview chapter has 46 members this year, all of whom are developing some outstanding supervised practice programs. Several are working toward the Lone Star and American Farmers degrees.

Miss June Seago visited her mother, Mrs. S. L. Seago, last week-end. She is in school at Cameron Junior College at Lawton, Okla.

Mr. B. P. Brents of Clarendon was here Wednesday and Thursday for the C. D. Denny funeral.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Sneed of Lakeview visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walls, Sunday.

The Estelline gin has been running day and night for the past two weeks. They have ginned about 1,200 bales.

Paul Garner of Amarillo is visiting his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Leary, while his mother is ill.

Estelline received a quarter inch of rain Sunday night.

A Gentle Laxative Good For Children

Most any child who takes this tasty laxative once will welcome it the next time he's constipated and it has him headachy, cross, listless, with bad breath, coated tongue or little appetite.

Syrup of Black-Draught is a tasty liquid companion to the famous BLACK-DRAUGHT. The principal ingredient is the same in both products; helps impart tone to lazy bowel muscles.

The Syrup's flavor appeals to most children, and, given by the simple directions, its action is usually gentle, but thorough. Remember Syrup of Black-Draught next time. Two sizes: 50c and 25c.

Second-Year Foods Classes Inspect Northcutt Cold Storage Lockers

By CHARLENE McBRIDE
Forty-five girls in second-year foods classes visited Northcutt's Cold Storage Lockers on Thursday and Friday, October 23 and 24. The history and explanation of how a cold storage locker plant is operated was made to the girls by Mrs. A. R. Northcutt. They were then shown into the locker room, where they saw a display of meats, vegetables, and fruits, as they are stored in the lockers.

Half a beef and half a hog were cut up with names, uses, and cost of each cut fully explained. The girls making this trip were Juanita Bidwell, Margaret Bourland, Johnnie Campbell, Jeanne Denny, Audrey Duke, Wynona Caudle, Lois Hamilton, Dorothy Hodges, Zettie Jo Jenkins, Thelma Lee Messer.

THE BLACK AND GOLD BAND IS OUTSTANDING

The Memphis Black and Gold High School Band is due the most complimentary remarks being made of their performances between halves at the football games this season. They are being looked upon with admiration by all the neighboring bands in this 3-A district, and have been recognized by our neighboring band friends as being leaders. Remarks such as the following are heard everytime the Black and Gold goes out on the football field to perform: "Boy, that is a real band," "Just look at that band!" "Have they got pep?" "I wish our band could do that," "Wasn't that a clever idea? and say! that band can really march."

Quotations as the above mentioned are among many complimentary remarks made about the Memphis High School Band. We wish to scatter a few roses where they are due and when they are due, so we give a few to our band. We feel that we have one of the best band directors in Texas in Mr. Heath; the way the band is performing now, it will prove to be the best in Texas before the year is gone.

To the Memphis High School Band we remove our hats in recognition of the good work you are doing. When you get dressed up in those new uniforms, I know you will prove to our city, school, and community that you appreciate their splendid cooperation spirit.

Band Performs for Wheeler Grid Fans

The Memphis High School Band performed Friday night at the Memphis-Wheeler game. The band formed a large heart with red lights and of blue lights through the heart. After the football game the Wheeler Band entertained the Memphis Band by serving them sandwiches and drinks. The band is planning another colorful formation for the game in Wellington next Friday night.

W. B. McQueen to Attend National FFA Convention

Meeting to be Held Early In November; Kansas City Site of Nat'l FFA Meet

W. B. McQueen, agriculture III student, will represent the Memphis FFA at the national convention this year in Kansas City.

McQueen will travel by bus with about 35 other boys from FFA chapters over the Panhandle of Texas. The bus passes through Shamrock at about 12 noon Saturday, November 9, going to Oklahoma City, where the boys will spend the night and will arrive in Kansas City on Sunday afternoon. The delegates will remain in Kansas City until Thursday morning, November 14, and come back to Memphis on Friday morning, November 15th.

The boys will have opportunity of attending the national FFA convention, the American Royal Livestock Show, packing houses, stockyards, and many other points of interest.

McQueen will give his chapter a full account of the happenings and procedure of the convention when he returns.

Miss Mary Isabell Hanvey, a student at WTSC visited friends and relatives over the week-end.

Regular Meeting Of Hi-Y Club Held

The Memphis Hi-Y Club met Tuesday night, October 22, with Lois Kerr presiding. The program consisted of short talks by each member present. J. W. Harrison's talk was selected as the best.

Members present were John Hall, Jack Miller, J. W. Harrison, Wiley Crump, Orville Jones, Gene Robertson, James Baldwin, William Clark, Billy Joyce, Hubert Jones, Louie Grimes, Lois Kerr, Floyd Melton, John Sargent, and Robert Devin, sponsor. Bill Browning, a new member, attended.

Local FFA Group Has Farm Display

A miniature farm has been placed in the display case on the first floor of the high school building.

A tiny farmhouse, barn, windmill, and feed stacks are in the center of the farm. An orchard, garden, and field of cotton and grain sorghum being worked by a farmer mounted on a tractor makes up a part of the land. On the other tract of land is a pasture and a pasture with cattle and horses grazing.

STATUE PICTURE SHOWN

A picture of the Statue of Liberty in colors in a gold frame has been placed in the outer office in high school.

English diagnostic tests have been given in high school from the 8th through the 12th grades. The state requires that these tests be given each year during the first semester and at the end of school.

He Administers Selective Service

Dr. Clarence Dykstra, above, has accepted position as director of the peacetime selective service act. Dr. Dykstra, president of the University of Wisconsin, has been granted a leave of absence to assume the federal post.

Local Legionnaires Invited to Meeting

The post commander of the local Legion Post is expecting a large delegation to go from here next Saturday to the 18th District Legion convention at Borger. He states that one of the biggest Legion conventions ever held will start that day.

The program consists of fun for all Saturday and on Sunday the business sessions will be held.

Wm. George Gilks, National Chaplain, will deliver the sermon at the morning church service and Ed Riedel, department commander, will give the principal address in the afternoon. At noon Sunday will be the big chicken dinner. John L. Oliver, commander of the Borger Legion Post, is expecting 3,000 Legionnaires and wives to attend.

Misses Topp and Jimmie Guireath, Mrs. Jack Norman, Miss Inez Mason, and Earl Stargel were Clarendon visitors Sunday.

HERE'S one time when even the hardest cold facts read like a page out of a story book! That's why we say—judge this car by the evidence you get when you're in there behind the wheel!

Judge it by the traditional Dodge craftsmanship that helps explain why there are more Dodge cars on the road today than any other car in the Dodge field! Witness the new jewel-case instrument panel!...The fittings that gleam like fine silverware!...The deep, pillow-type upholstery!

There are new safety and economy advantages besides! For example, a spring-balanced rear deck lid to the luggage compartment, that raises or lowers without effort—and that can't fall accidentally! New Safety Wheel Rims to hold the tire to the rim should a "flat" occur; new Oil Bath Air Cleaner that prevents grit from attacking the engine's "innards" and greatly prolongs its life!

And now, the car that pioneered the All-Steel Body, Equal-Pressure Hydraulic Brakes and other vital improvements offers you Fluid Drive™—for the first time in a low-priced car!

GENERAL ELECTION DAY

NEXT TUESDAY voters over the entire United States will go to the polls to cast their ballots in the general election for officials of their choice.

In Texas, the only offices which create any sort of excitement in the general elections are the offices of president and vice president. And Texas is always almost certain to vote strongly in favor of the Democratic candidates.

We have heard little this year concerning the presidential race—that is, little as far as this state is concerned. Before either candidate was nominated, Texans felt sure that they would in all likelihood support the Democratic nominee.

Then came the Willkie boom in the Republican convention, and before anyone had heard the Republican nominee speak, a number of Texans had declared they were for him through and through.

The next move in the political battle was the overwhelming nomination of Roosevelt—with the Democratic candidate seeking a precedent-breaking third term.

At first still more Texans seemed to side in with Willkie against the third term seeker. But something happened.

The thing that happened was that Willkie began making speeches. For eight years, U. S. citizens had been hearing the smooth, almost perfect speeches of one of the greatest orators ever heard—Franklin Roosevelt.

Willkie, however, did not prove to be such a smooth speaker. He not only sounded slightly rough around the edges, but he said some rather rough things about Roosevelt, and about the Democratic administration in general.

That hurt Willkie, and he went down in popularity, not only in Texas, but all over the United States.

Now Willkie is showing a little more power and strength in various places. Apparently the Democratic leaders became a bit worried, because Roosevelt began last week making a series of political speeches—something he apparently did not intend to do.

The difference in the two candidates, according to one well-known columnist, is that one is for the government assuming slightly more control over private business, as long as it is for the benefit of the people, and the other is for the discontinuance of practically all government operations in a business-like field.

But even with these two outstanding principles, the two candidates express themselves as in favor of practically the same measures of legislation.

It's really a sort of mixed-up campaign not especially of issues, but more one of personalities.

Issues or personalities, Texas, in all likelihood, will go Democratic.

CONGRATULATIONS, LAKEVIEW

THE SCHOOL AUTHORITIES of Lakeview are to be congratulated on obtaining aid through the WPA to improve the Lakeview High School football field.

The game of football is spreading in popularity each year, and its increasing popularity must have some reason.

Perhaps that reason is that educators throughout the United States are coming to the conclusion that football offers an outlet for the spirit of combat embedded in almost every youth.

The players themselves exercise that spirit in actual physical combat, in fair play and sportsmanlike play. The rest of the student body of a school watch the games with interest, playing the game in their own hearts if not with their actual energy.

With the improved field, the students of Lakeview will have the opportunity of seeing these games at night. In addition, the authorities have in mind the erection of a stadium some time in the future.

With improvements in the physical plant of a school, whether it be on the gridiron or inside the building, the school is almost sure to progress even farther than it has. Congratulations are correctly in order to the Lakeview authorities.

FIFTH COLUMN CONVERSATION

Press Paragraphs

CULLED FROM THE DEMOCRAT'S EXCHANGES

A Good Time
Ed Bishop in the Dalhart Texan: Any way you take it, now is a mighty good time to keep our heads. We might not have them long.

Hitler
Bill Sercomb in the Clarendon News: Humor: The English sense of humor (one of the best) as received from the tight little aisle by a friend who passed it along to us is as follows:
If Hitler was what Hitler seems, When Hitler dreams his nasty dreams, We'd all be sure to fear and faint, If Hitler was—but Hitler ain't.

A New Menace
The Quanah Tribune-Chief: When a Quanah man returned from South Texas with a number of armadillos he had no idea of the interest, damage to local lawns, and general consternation that his collections would cause. Some of the animals were sold to small boys, others to Negroes for eating purposes, but a number escaped and the free ones rooted up well-kept lawns. Banker J. D. Hughes noticed peculiar berings in his lawn and a day later one of the rooting animals was killed on his premises. Quanah people prefer this animal in basket form rather than the nocturnal prowling state.

Skunk Story
The Hereford Brand: The skunks are getting desperate and in their latest blitzkrieg attack used poison gas, a weapon which is pernicious, atrocious, and totally uncivilized.

At least that is what Chris Wagner says.
Friday morning about 5 o'clock he heard a noise in a chicken coop so he took his pistol and went to investigate, clad only in his BVD's. Mrs. Wagner accompanied him.
Firing once he was certain he got the skunk, but Mrs. Wagner said he missed. About that time a skunk came into view turning loose the gas, and Chris fired again, killing the skunk. When daylight came not one skunk, but two, were found dead.
Mr. Wagner sums up the battle as follows:
Two empty shells.
Two dead skunks.
Ten dead baby chickens.
One pair of highly-perfumed BVD's.

One Trouble
The Claude News: The trouble with a lot of self-made men is that they stopped working before they had completed the job.

Southern Volunteers
The McLean News: The rest of the country likes to poke fun at the "solid South" for being set in its opinions, but the fact that the South has led all parts of the country in volunteer enlistments in the army recently, might well be taken to mean that there is more appreciation of Americanism here than elsewhere.

Distinctive
Douglas Meador in the Matador Tribune: Probably my solitary claim to distinction may rest in the fact that my faults are so obvious they cannot be disputed or concealed.

The Middle Names
Jimmie Gillettine in the Hereford Brand: The real thing I started to write about is the fact that we are publishing a complete list of Numbers, Names, etc., in the paper this week. The excuse is so people can know their numbers, but the real reason is because we think folks will get a real kick out of some of the middle names to be found in the list. Save this paper and next time you have an hour or so to spare just check through the list of registrants and look over the middle names. It is really a scream. In a way, this is sort of dirty. Lots and lots of people try to keep their middle names a secret, but the government says they will appreciate publication of the list—and it will really have lots of reader interest because of the middle names—so we are cooperating with the government to the fullest extent.

A Mistake
The Claude News: An asylum inmate named Cohen, who was recently declared sane and was released, took the next boat to Germany. The authorities have now realized their mistake.

A Healthy Nation
The Ochiltree County Herald: A healthy nation is desirable not only in war. A program which would generally toughen up the average American is bound to have beneficial effects in time of peace as well. We have gone far in eliminating certain diseases and increasing the life span, but much remains to be done. Such common ailments as indigestion and headaches and the common cold take a great toll in the nation's efficiency. That toll can best be reduced in city and country alike by any program which will actually produce tougher Americans.

Newsmen
Virginia Anderson in the Shamrock Texan: Headline: "Newsmen Are Professional If Salary Is $200 A Month." The office force agreed that any newsman receiving a salary that large is an executive.

Jesus' Redemptive Purpose

The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for Nov. 2.
Text: Luke 4:16-30.

THE mission of Jesus is stated in a few words not a part of this lesson. The 10th verse of Luke 19 says: "For the Son of Man came to seek and to save that which was lost."

From time to time Jesus defined His purpose in other words. He said, for instance, that He had not come to call the righteous, but sinners, to repentance. When He stood before Pilate, He said:

"For this cause was I born, and for this cause came I into the world, to bear witness unto truth." He also said He had come to give life and to give it more abundantly.

But these, and all other definitions of His mission, had the one thing in common, namely, His redemptive purpose. When He came to save men, it was not by some process that did not change their lives.

It was not as if He were snatching men from some serious peril or fate, regardless of their characters. He saved men through calling them to repentance and through bringing them under the domination of righteousness and truth. There is no salvation except for those who are zealous for right and whose hearts and minds are attuned to truth.

It was both fitting and significant that the more elaborate announcement of His mission, contained in our lesson, should have been made in Nazareth where Jesus had been brought up.

It was here, after the return from Egypt, that He had "increased in wisdom and in stature, and in favor with God and man." Here He had received the instruction which every Jewish child received, and here He had attended the synagogue. Now when He came to His former home, about to enter on the mission that He had taken to the Cross, He said to the synagogue on the Sabbath Day, as was His custom: "He was well received of them, and he began to teach them, and they were astonished at his doctrine." He was well received given the book of Isaiah, from which He read to speak. But the words changed as Jesus read the prophecy the words of which hearers understood as being the Messiah. "The Lord is upon me, and he has anointed me to preach the good news to the poor."

Calmly, as He closed the book, He announced to the hearers, "Today hath the scripture been fulfilled in your ears." They marvelled at his doctrine, or, as Luke expresses it, "the words which proceeded out of his mouth," but in their hearts they did not forget that Joseph's son.

Perceiving that the prophet was not willing to save in his own country, enforced from their own history the incidents and concerning those who had refused to repent, He refused to accept of prophet or listen to him. People do not like to be filled with wrath, and as violence took Him out of Nazareth, He was threatened to be stoned from the brow of the hill on which the city was built. It was not an accident, beginning for such a common people were the people of Nazareth, who Jesus gladly, but the day of bigotry and prejudice, that day in Nazareth, when He had received the instruction which every Jewish child received, and here He had attended the synagogue. Now when He came to His former
