Roosevelt, Allred Urge Aid for Red Cross Roll Call

Memphis Workers Named By Smyers As Annual Drive Starts Here

Both Governor James V. Allred of Texas and President Franklin D. Roosevelt last week issued proclamations urging state and national wide cooperation with the American Red Cross as the twenty-second annual Roll Call Drive of that organization began on Armistice Day.

Citing the many accomplishments of the Red Cross in Texas during the past year, Governor Allred stated: "In order to maintain the regular services of the Red Cross already established and to meet additional needs existing, I urge every adult in Texas with an income to re-enroll if already a member, or to join if not."

President Roosevelt likewise urged the American people to aid the great humanitarian work of the Red Cross by enrolling as members during the annual membership drive.

"Once each year," he said in a message directed from the White House, "the American people are asked to contribute to the support of the Red Cross."

SAM M. BRASWELL of Clarendon and RAY H. NICHOLS of Vernon, district and Conference Lay Leaders, respectively, are both prominent West Texas newspapermen. Braswell is editor of the Clarendon News, and Nichols publishes the Vernon Daily Record.

RAY NICHOLS, SAM BRASWELL ARE PROMINENT METHODIST LAYMEN

Sam M. Braswell, lay leader of the Clarendon District of the Northwest Texas Methodist Conference, and editor and publisher of the Clarendon News, has long had an active part in both church and civic affairs in this section of the state.

Mr. Braswell was a member of the General Conference of the Methodist Church, South, serving as one of seven lay delegates representing the Northwest Texas Conference, at the meeting of that body in Birmingham, Ala., last April.

Prominent for many years as a newspaperman and publisher in the Texas Panhandle, he has also been interested in road development in this section of the state, and served as president of the old Panhandle-Plains Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Braswell was president of that organization at the time that it was united with the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, taking a prominent part in the union of the two organizations.

He served as president of the Panhandle Press Association in 1921, and two years later, in 1923, was president of the Texas Press Association.

Mr. Braswell has been prominent in the Lions International Clubs, serving twice as district governor in this district and two years as International Director.

He has been choir director in the Clarendon Methodist Church, and states that his choir is one of the oldest and best in this section.

His proudest accomplishment, however, by his own admission is the act of becoming a grandfather. Sam 3rd is now 8 years of age.

As lay leader of the Clarendon District, Mr. Braswell is host to laymen of the Northwest Texas Conference now in session here.

Pastor Who Built Church Here Thirty Years Ago Returns

Rev. R. B. Bonner Attends Annual Conference In Church He Helped Build

Rev. R. B. Bonner, pastor of the First Methodist Church in Memphis thirty years ago when the present church building was erected, returned to his old pastorate this week to attend the 29th Annual Northwest Texas Methodist Conference meeting in the same church which he helped to build.

Rev. and Mrs. Bonner, who are now living in Dallas near the campus of Southern Methodist University, arrived in Memphis Wednesday to be present for the opening conference session. They are guests of Dr. and Mrs. W. C. Dickey while in Memphis.

Rev. Bonner served the local pastorate for three years, during 1907, 1908 and 1909, and the present church building was completed during the last year of his ministry here. Memphis, incidentally, was Rev. Bonner's last pastorate.

Local Methodists were worshipping in a small chapel when he became pastor here, Rev. Bonner said. "The new church represented a great sacrificial offering on the part of the people of Memphis," he related, "but they built for the future."

Rev. Bonner himself took charge and superintended the erection of the fine building, which even today, thirty years after its completion, is modern and up-to-date.

There were not more than five hundred members in the church at the time it was built, Rev. Bonner said, and not more than 2,500 people in the entire city.

Rev. Bonner entered the ministry in 1892. His preparatory work was done in a course of study outlined by the Weatherford College for two years.

After leaving the pastorate here in 1909, he was made Conference Superintendent of Sunday schools. He is now superintending in Hawaii.

Former Pastor Is Enjoying Session

Rev. C. E. Jameson is one preacher attending the conference who is enjoying every minute of the time he is spending in Memphis. He was pastor of the local church here for four years, going to Canyon for four years, then to Shamrock for the same length of time, and has been serving the Colorado church the past year.

He and Mrs. Jameson arrived in Memphis Tuesday and are staying with their daughter Mrs. (Elizabeth) Noah Woodley and her husband and year-old daughter Sue Ann at the Huddleston apartments, who moved here two weeks ago from Shamrock. Mr. Woodley is inspector for the Old Age Assistance Commission and is stationed in Memphis.

Sue Ann was one year old Tuesday and her birthday was celebrated by her parents, Rev. and Mrs. Jameson, Mrs. Jameson's mother, Mrs. Dave Goodwin of Paducah, Mrs. Henry Woodley of Quanah and Mrs. Ella Doolen and son Loren of Paducah.

Miss Ellen Jameson, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Jameson, is teaching social science in the Clovis schools, and Alfred Jameson, her son, is in the aviation department of the Army stationed in Hawaii.

Mr. and Mrs. Goodpasture moved here last week to take over the local bakery.

The front of the building in which the plant is located is undergoing extensive re-modeling, and the entire plant is to be reconditioned, Goodpasture stated.

Contracts Awarded By Board for New Gymnasium Here

Wichita Falls Contractor To Build New $28,000 Gymnasium-Auditorium

Contract for construction of the new physical education building for Memphis public schools was awarded to M. W. Hibbs of Wichita Falls, subject to approval by PWA officials, at a meeting of the board of trustees of the Memphis Independent School district Tuesday afternoon, according to H. D. Delaney, secretary of the board.

It will probably require ten or fifteen days to get the bonds approved by PWA officials and have work orders ready, Delaney said. Contractors believed that the building could be completed within 150 calendar days or less if weather permits.

The contract was awarded on a bid of $28,148.35 submitted to the board by the Wichita Falls man. The bids were opened at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon when the board of trustees met.

Public Works Administration is paying approximately 55 per cent of the cost of the building. The remainder is provided by a local bond issue.

The new structure is to be built between the present high school building and the West Ward school building, joining both of these structures. It has been designed to serve as a gymnasium and physical education building for the local schools as well as an auditorium.

The building will have sufficient floor space for a full-sized gymnasium, replacing at last the "Cracker-box" gymnasium which has long handicapped indoor athletics here. In addition, it will be equipped to be used as a modern auditorium, with ample provision for seating facilities, to be used in school and community gatherings.

Plans for the structure were drawn by Voelker and Dixon, architects, of Wichita Falls.

Estelline FFA Has Boxing Tourney

Golden Gloves Championship bouts, staged by the Estelline FFA chapter at the high school auditorium there Tuesday night, drew a crowd of three hundred and fifty fans.

Winners in Tuesday night bouts were J. W. Gilbert in the 55-104 pound class; Edward Koeninger, 110-120; Huvert Richards, 120-130; George Zint, 130-140; Gene Ewen, 140-150; Ernest Chandler, 150-160; and Buck Ewen, 160-170.

Carter Delivers Armistice Day Address Here

Rev. Orion W. Carter, pastor of the First Methodist Church, delivering the memorial address from the courthouse square in Friday's Armistice Day celebration, paid tribute to veterans of the World War and their families, but warned against the danger of a future world cataclysm growing out of present-day unrest.

"The war is not over," Rev. Carter said, stressing the fact that thousands of soldiers are still in veterans hospitals or camps and the nation is still fighting an economic war growing out of conditions following the 1914 conflict.

Memphis paid tribute to world war veterans Friday morning in a great demonstration commemorating the twentieth anniversary of the signing of the Armistice. Following the Armistice Day parade, which featured the Memphis high school Black and Gold Band, under the direction of G. W. Johnson, the high school and junior high pep squads, members of the American Legion, and a number of floats representing local organizations, a special program was conducted from the courthouse square.

Carroll Smyers, secretary of the Memphis Chamber of Commerce, acted as master of ceremonies, introducing Mayor J. Claude Wells, who delivered the address of welcome.

In a brief address, Mayor Wells paid tribute to war veterans and extended a welcome on behalf of the city to Legionnaires and their families, striking the keynote of the day's celebration with the statement that "We do not want any more war, and we rejoice that we are out of any conflict, but face the future with confidence."

Promptly at 11 o'clock, the exact hour at which the Armistice became effective twenty years ago, the assembled crowd faced the west for one minute of silent prayer, following which Rev. J. William Mason, pastor of the First Baptist Church, led in a prayer for peace.

Mrs. C. L. Sloan Jr. sang "The Long Long Trail" and "My Buddy," after which Rev. Carter delivered the memorial address.

War veterans climaxed the day's observance with a luncheon at the Memphis Hotel.

The Armistice Day parade, which preceded the program at the square, was led by Capt. Fred Maxwell of the veteran's CCC camp as Marshal of the Day. Floats represented the local chapter of the American Red Cross, the Parent-Teacher Association, the Legion Auxiliary, and the U. D. C. Memphis' Gold Star mothers were given a place of honor in the parade.

A number of local firms were represented, and members of the veteran's camp, the American Legion, band and pep squad, marching in formation, added color to the occasion.

The parade formed at 10th and Main streets and proceeded along Main and around the square. The Black and Gold band played several numbers during the program, climaxed the observance with the national anthem.

Practically all business houses in the city remained closed for several hours Friday in honor of the occasion.

Rev. Marvin B. Norwood, Now Littlefield Pastor, Recalls Boyhood Here

By MARGARET BAUDY Reporter Lamb County Leader

Go ye, therefore, into all the world and preach the gospel," that was the call Rev. Marvin B. Norwood received in early boyhood at his home in Memphis, Texas. He made public declaration of studying for the ministry during a revival conducted by Rev. D. L. Cole, in Memphis about 1915, and was recommended for license to preach by the quarterly conference there in the fall of 1918.

Rev. Norwood returned to Memphis this week for the annual Northwest Texas Conference, as one of the successful preachers in the conference. This year is the first time annual conference has met in Memphis since 1917, and Rev. S. on the debating team, basketball, and for three years won the county meet in declamation. He entered Southern Methodist University, Dallas, in the fall of 1918, served in S. A. T. C. of the United States Army during the World War, and received his A. B. degree from S. M. U. in 1922, with a D. D. degree in 1924. He received his M. A. degree from the University of Chicago in 1926. He was united with the Methodist Church in Memphis in the summer of 1909, on profession of faith and was baptized by Rev. R. B. Bonner, pastor, now of Dallas. Through the years of his childhood, he was active always in the activities of the church, the Sunday School, and both the Junior

All-America Experts Are in for Tough Job Picking Stars

BY IRVING DIX

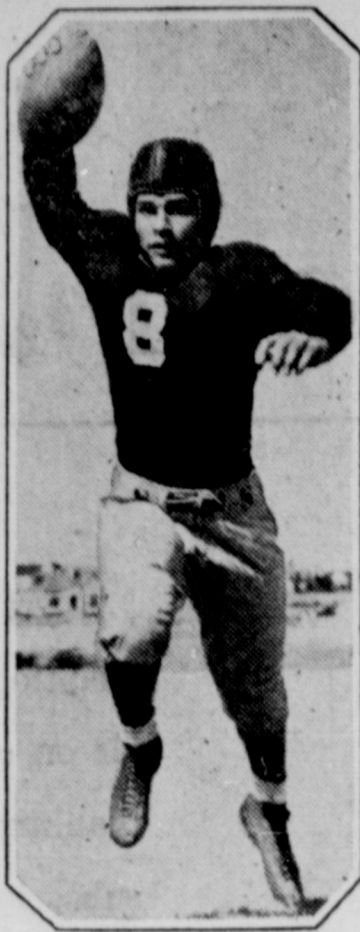

ANOTHER couple of weeks and it'll be All-America time and the experts will be at it again.

It is hard to pick the 11 best men from a field of a couple of thousand, but there are some boys who just can't be overlooked when it comes to handing out all-star honors.

Leading the parade of potential All-America backs this year are Marshall Goldberg, Pitt fullback, and Vic Bottari, California halfback. It'll be difficult to keep these two stars off any honor team picked.

There are plenty of other standout backs, however, and the battle for the four positions will be a torrid one right into the final week of action.

Included among the possibilities are Sid Luckman, Columbia; Davey O'Brien, Texas Christian; Eric Tipton, Duke; Warren Brunner, Tulane; Wilbur Moore, Minnesota; Johnny Pingel, Michigan State; Bill Dwyer, New Mexico; Bob MacLeod, Dartmouth and George Cafego, Tennessee.

Davey O'Brien

LUCKMAN and O'Brien are probably the best passers in the nation and it will be hard to name any team that doesn't include at least one of them.

All kinds of talent is available at the ends. Bill Daddio of Pitt possibly is the outstanding choice here, but there are a half dozen or more boys who are very much in the picture.

Among them are Sam Boyd, Baylor's pass receiver de luxe, who was an All-Southwest Conference choice in 1937; Ole Nelson of Michigan State; Ken Kavanaugh of Louisiana State; Ralph Wenzel of Tulane; Roland Young of Oklahoma; Butch Nash of Minnesota, and Brud Holland of Cornell.

The tackle list is headed by Ed Beiner of Notre Dame; I. B. Hale, of Texas Christian, who is the outstanding choice in the southwest; Eddie Gatto of Louisiana State; Karl Kaplanoff of Ohio State; Bob Voights of Northwestern; John Kuzman of Fordham, and Al Wolff of Santa Clara.

and Senior Leagues, besides being for a time assistant secretary of the Sunday School, with Chas. Webster as secretary. He was licensed to preach by a committee, in a called meeting at Clarendon in the home of the presiding elder, A. W. Hall. Rev. John H. Henson was the pastor.

Joining the North Texas Conference, of which his grandfather, T. B. Norwood Sr., had been a charter member, in 1920, Marvin was appointed to West Dallas Methodist Church as a student pastor. He was ordained a deacon in 1922, and an Elder in 1924, at which time he was transferred to the Northwest Texas Conference, and was appointed to serve the Rochester-O'Brian charge. He had served Zybach Circuit as a supply minister for six months, after finishing S. M. U. Since that time, he has served the following churches: Avoca, Roscoe, Rotan, Albany, Texhoma, Okla.; and at the present time, has completed his second year's work in Littlefield.

A leader of the young people in his early youth, Rev. Norwood continues to be a leader among the many boys and girls who are seeking refuge in the kingdom of Christ. He served for ten years as the assistant secretary of the annual conference, four years as the Dean of the Young People's Assembly; and for the past three years has been Conference Director of the Young People's work.

Pleasant memories are recalled by Rev. Norwood at the annual conference this year. He has attended the conferences through the years in all West Texas, but never have they been as near and dear to him as this one, as he again walks the streets of Memphis, recalls the many happy hours spent with friends and high school pals, and the time he entered the great realm of preaching the gospel. His father was a steward in the Memphis Methodist Church, as usher, and the pastor's friend. When the conference met at Memphis in 1917, he was chairman of the entertainment committee, and due to the serious illness of the pastor's wife, was virtually host to the conference. Negro Gilbert, companion to Bishop Lambert to Africa, was the guest of honor in their home at a time when negroes were not allowed to stop in Hall County. His father moved to Dallas in 1920, and to Arlington in 1924, where he passed away in December 1937.

Rev. Norwood was married to Miss Marie Fears, in Muskogee, Okla., March 5, 1925. He and his wife have dedicated their lives to the uplifting of Christ's Kingdom, by serving Him in all that they do. They are very happy in their home in Littlefield, with two daughters, Idalou, age 11, and Margaret Lillian, aged 10. But they are ready to answer the call of the Master, if the Conference sees fit to move them into another field for work, in the annual session.

FAMILY REUNION

Dr. and Mrs. H. F. Schoolfield had their two sons and a daughter visiting them the latter part of last week, the first time they had all been together in 19 years. The two sons are Carroll Schoolfield of Avalon, Calif., and Harry Schoolfield, wife and son Ferrell of Dallas, and the daughter, Mrs. B. C. Jackson and daughter Joan of Fort Worth.

Fred Sanders visited in Amarillo Friday.

House in Washington, "the Red Cross appeals to all of our people to share in its work for the coming year through individual memberships. The membership dues paid at this time make possible its continued service. I urge most earnestly that this appeal be answered by our people everywhere."

The Roll Call, which opened last Friday, November 11, will close on Thanksgiving Day.

Carl Periman, county roll call chairman, and Carroll Smyers, local chairman, are directing enrollment work in this territory in an effort to fill the Hall County quota of 500 members set by the national organization this year.

Memphis' quota has been set at 350 members, Smyers announced. Eleven members of the local chapter have been appointed to conduct the enrollment campaign in this city. They are Zeb Moore, Lee Rushing, D. L. C. Kinard, Carl Harrison, Roy Fultz, Tommie Potts, N. W. Durham, Gayle Greene, George Cullin, and the chairman, Carl Periman and Carroll Smyers.

The local delegation began work this week in an effort to fulfill their quota before the Thanksgiving Day deadline.

Last Sunday was dedicated by Memphis churches to aid the Red Cross in the membership drive. Workers in other districts of the county are at work this week raising quotas for their respective communities, Periman reported.

A number of nationally broadcast radio programs are being dedicated to the work of the Red Cross during the two weeks' period of the annual roll call. These broadcasts began on November 2 and will continue through Thanksgiving.

 Agricultural agents in the AAA are relinquishing their administrative duties in becoming members of the AAA committee.
 The change in duties will enable our agents to carry a much broader program of work to the farmers in the county. County agricultural agents will continue to head up the AAA programs in the more sparsely settled counties, it was thought, since the employment of AAA assistants there would take a prohibitive cut from farmers' and ranchmen's payments.

Wellington and McLean to Play For Grid Title

Undefeated Skyrockets Meet McLean Tigers at Wellington Friday

Playing for the championship of District 3-B, the Wellington Skyrockets will meet the McLean Tigers on the Wellington grid tonight (Friday) at 7:30 p. m.

Sports writers have doped the undefeated Skyrockets to repeat last year's win over the Tigers, but a close game is in prospect for grid fans.

The Rockets two weeks ago clinched the south half title by defeating the Memphis Cyclone, and the Tigers are fresh from a 19-6 win over Wheeler which gave them the championship of the northern half of the district.

The Tigers have lost two games this season, one to Altus, Okla., by a 7-0 score, and another to White Deer by a one-point margin, 14-13. They are undefeated in conference play, however, defeating Shamrock, Wheeler, and Lefors by top-heavy scores and winning by default from Mobeetie.

Wellington holds impressive wins in conference play over Lakeview, Clarendon and Memphis, and is undefeated in eight games this season against top-notch Class B elevens.

Certificate Men Meet at Memphis Masonic Temple

Panhandle Certificate Men's Association Has Meeting Thursday

Members of the Panhandle Certificate Men's Association of the Masonic Lodge convened here at 10 o'clock Thursday morning for an all-day session at the Memphis Masonic Temple.

More than twenty-five visitors, representing lodges at Childress, Wellington, Wheeler, Panhandle, Groom, Pampa, Amarillo, Clarendon, Lakeview, Silvertown and Claude, were present for the morning session, while more than 150 visitors were expected to attend the meeting Thursday evening, beginning at 7:30 o'clock.

During the day session, a third degree was conferred by the certificate men's team. Practice of the esoteric work occupied the morning program.

The group re-convenes Thursday evening to see another third degree conferred by a certificate team composed of members of the Childress and Wheeler lodges with all participants in full regalia.

Earl Jones of Amarillo, brother of Congressman Marvin Jones and a member of the state committee on Masonic work, was expected to attend the meeting here.

The association meets every two months, circulating among lodges in Memphis, Clarendon, Shamrock, Wellington, Amarillo, and Pampa.

Conference Sidelights

Rev. A. L. Moore, pastor at Childress, and Mrs. Moore are attending the conference and renewing old acquaintances. He was pastor here some 15 years ago.

Rev. Sam Thomas, pastor at Canyon, is among those present. He was a citizen of Memphis several years ago and is known to many.

Rev. John Crow, pastor at Merkel, is an old Hall County boy who lived around Newlin and his principal occupation was playing baseball, and he was a good player. He is playing the gospel just as earnestly now as he played ball then, and is making good.

Thursday night's entertainers will be the McMurry Chanters, an organization composed of 28 members and directed by Mrs. Gypsy Ted Sullivan Wiley.

Rev. E. D. Landreth, who served as pastor here a few years ago and is now stationed at Clarendon, is another preacher who has been kept busy meeting old friends.

Rev. Hamilton Wright of Baird, an ex-newspaper man, is staffing the conference for the Associated Press. He is a specialist in reporting Methodist meetings, according to AP headquarters.

Rev. E. C. Cargill, Presbyterian minister here, represented the Memphis Pastors' Association in extending a welcome to the conference Wednesday afternoon, and also presented a gavel to Bishop Holt with the remark that "You are to use this gavel in presiding, and must give each preacher a better appointment." To which Bishop Holt stated that he also would have to see that each church is given a better preacher.

Seven of the 29 sessions of the Northwest Texas Annual Conference have been held in the Clarendon District, according to Presiding Elder T. S. Barcus. Memphis is now entertaining the conference the second time; the first being here 21 years ago.

After the welcome addresses had been made Wednesday afternoon, Bishop Holt responded for the conference and in his talk accepting Memphis' hospitality, related a story of a recent conference held at another place. A woman living several miles in the country was in town about a week after the conference had closed and asked the local preacher when the conference would be over. He replied that it closed a week previous. "Well," she replied, "Those two preachers you sent out to our place to stay during the conference are still there."

Three ex-Rotary governors are attending the conference: Bernard Bryant, of the Bryan-Link Co. of Stamford; Jim Wilson of Floydada, and Ray Nichols of Vernon.

The Methodist Orphan's Home children will give two programs during Friday. They will be at Junior High school at 2 p. m. and then at the church at about 3 o'clock.

One of the highlight speakers of the session was H. P. Myers of the General Board of Missions, Nashville, who spoke on Evangelism Thursday.

An old time friend of the writer is Rev. Finis Crutchfield of Vernon. In the early days of our existence, Finis' father was at Iowa Park and was looked upon as being one of the best preachers in that whole section of country. If reports are true, Finis is making good in a big way as a preacher.

A communion service, lasting some two hours, started the conference off in a great way. Bishop Holt's short devotional address and his earnest prayers, sermons in themselves, gave the session the spirituality that such a meeting is expected to have. Each service and each sermon are highlights that are enjoyed by large crowds.

Rev. Ben Hardy is another familiar figure in attendance at the conference, having been pastor of the church here a number of years ago. He is now stationed at Tahoka, and is planning to retire at this session.

A. J. Weeks, of the Southwestern Advocate, was one of the interesting speakers at the Thursday morning session. He told some interesting things about attending service in the old Wesley Chapel in England. In fact, he claims he is now an ex-choir singer of that chapel.

Active and ex-newspaper men like to attend Methodist conferences. Fred Story of Childress former publisher of Clarendon and Childress papers, now a publisher of a farm paper, is not losing a minute from the sessions.

A Memphis youth who is a member of the McMurry Band and here for the conference, is Wilson Kutch, and dressed in the flashy red uniform of that organization.

Visiting ladies will be treated to a tea at the R. S. Greene home at 3:30 Friday.

Hats are off to Mrs. N. A. Hightower for her gracious welcome to the visitors on behalf of the host church.

TO ORGANIZE HALL COUNTY WILDLIFE PLANNING BOARD

A wildlife planning board is being organized in each county in Texas by the State Game, Fish and Oyster Commission of Austin. J. C. Wells of Memphis has been appointed on the Hall County Wildlife board by the commission, according to a message received from Austin Wednesday.

Stretching the Story

Local ginsmen after reading the account of Frank Ellis' accident that appeared in this column last week wondered what kind of gin he could have been working with, when the statement that he was running the stands and got his head caught in the condenser appeared. According to them, these two parts of the gin are at least 30 feet apart, which shows that my knowledge of gins is not what it should be. But not too many people knew the difference, hence the mistake.

Boys Have Birthdays Too

Last Monday was the birthday of a small boy in this community who has several sisters whose birthdays had been remembered by some small gift from their parents, but his was passing unnoticed and he held out until dark, when going to his mother he told his woes in heartbroken sobs, saying, "You just have to be a girl to get a birthday present around here." In a very short time the family car was driven out and the parents hurried to town to get the belated birthday gift. A little extra portion of popcorn and candy helped make the occasion a glad day for the small lad.

Illinois Waste Land Study Tackles Erosion Problem

Measurement of soil and water losses is an important part of the Dixon Springs conservation experiment. Here is the device for such measuring being inspected by workers at the experimental station.

POPE COUNTY, Ill.—A testing ground and demonstration area that is expected to point the way to reclamation of 15,000,000 acres of wasting land in Illinois, Missouri, Indiana, Kentucky and other central states is being developed here.

Answers are being sought to such questions as these:

What types of agriculture may be practiced on this land without further loss of soil? What are the relative values of forestry and grazing as uses of land and as aids to the conservation of water and soil? What size farm units are required under a forestry or grazing economy? What is the effect of soil treatment on the loss of soil and water from pasture lands? How can careful management improve pasture and stock raising? And so on.

Plans for this 10,000-acre experimental area known as the Dixon Springs land utilization project were originated some 10 years ago by the College of Agriculture of the University of Illinois. Since the problem is one common to several states, the U. S. Bureau of Agricultural Economics is co-operating in the work.

Much of the work at Dixon Springs deals with methods of livestock production and pasture management practices that are profitable for the area. About 6500 acres are included in the pasture research and demonstrations areas. Nearly 5000 acres have been seeded, some sodding has been done, 4405 acres of soil have been prepared and pasture culture work has been done on 1160 acres. Lime is used as a basic treatment in the pasture improvement program.

In addition to all this, much has been done to improve the existing timber stand and to build a new forest. About 1,500,000 trees have been planted and seeded in 1578 acres and timber stand improvement work has been done on 2234 acres. This has included removal of some trees, encouragement of others, and brush clearance.

Said J. C. Blair, dean of the College of Agriculture, at recent dedication ceremonies in Dixon Springs:

"In this project we have once more gone to work to redeem our lost heritage. This modest effort here begun will be a challenge to the scientific man as well as the farmer. Methods and policies here established have been and will be determined by men who are devoting their lives to this type of work."

"Probably no country had a better assortment of live, forceful, hardworking people than those who cast their lot here in Pope county. They made the mistakes common to all newly settled areas. There has been waste of land, a robbing of its fertility—and a waste of many other natural resources."

Robertson Leads Cyclone Mates in Tackle Points

Crump and Kesterson Are Runners-up in Race for Defensive Grid Honors

With the 1938 grid season closed after Friday's game against the Amarillo High School Yagicians, Memphis' black and gold Cyclone warriors pause this week to add points and determine the leaders in the season's race for defensive tackle points.

In compiling the points, five counters were given for tackles made behind the line of scrimmage, three for tackles on the line, two for tackles made beyond the line of scrimmage, and ten points scored for tackles on kick-off and punts.

Robertson, Cyclone line-backer, held a wide margin over his team-mates with a total of 358 points for the season. Crump, halfback, was second with 218, and Kesterson, the Cyclone's ace center and line-backer, who, until the final game in which he was unable to play, had held second place was dropped to third with a total of 192 points.

The remainder of the squad trailed the leaders in the following order:

Melton, tackle, 163; Dodson, guard, 152; Lindsey, half back, 140; Bruce, tackle, 140; Pounds, line backer, 138; Billington, end, 127; McClure, half back, 114; Morris, guard, 101; Hardin, Guard, 72; Morrison, half back, 60; Fultz, guard, 44; Clark, tackle, 41; and Kerr, tackle, 38.

Friday's game changed a number of places in the standings as several Cyclone regulars were out of the game with injuries.

Palat... Methodists Convene Here Wednesday for Annual Conference

CONFERENCE SESSION IN MEMPHIS IS TWENTY-NINTH ANNUAL MEETING

Methodist Organized Circuit Rider

Bishop Ivan Lee Holt, taking up the gavel as Bishop of the Northwest Texas Conference of the Methodist Church for the first time Wednesday evening, succeeded Elder Hiram A. Boaz who has served the conference for the past eight years as its president.

Bishop Holt is presiding over all sessions of the twenty-ninth annual conference, and Sunday afternoon, the closing service of the 1938 meeting, will read the assignments of ministers to their pastoral posts for the coming year. Four hundred and ten churches and congregations over this entire Northwest Texas area will be affected by the appointments.

Three presiding elders are definitely slated to step down. They have served their quadrennium and according to the laws of the church must return to the pastorate. The three retiring elders are the Amarillo District, Rev. T. S. Barcus of the Clarendon District, and Rev. Sam H. Young of the Sweetwater District.

The bishop will probably appoint a successor, also, to replace Dr. Tom W. Brabham as president of McMurry College at Abilene. Dr. Brabham resigned a month ago with the expressed desire to return to the itinerancy. A layman may be given the post, subject to approval of the conference.

The twenty-ninth conference will also elect delegates to the unification conference which will meet next year in St. Louis, at which time the three large branches of Methodism are expected to unite in one large denomination.

The Northwest Texas conference, one of the five in Texas, was organized at Stamford in 1909, being detached from what is now known as the Central Texas conference. It has approximately 80,000 members, an increase of 8,772 over last year. Some 2,777 of that number were received on profession of faith.

During the past year, 29 candidates have been licensed to preach, bringing the total of lay preachers to 133; 584 infants and 1,889 adults were baptized.

The conference has 326 church buildings, valued at $3,825,148 with a total indebtedness of $379,894; and 187 parsonages valued at $596,360, with a total indebtedness of $33,476.

Woman members of 329 missionary societies number 7,226 and they have raised during the year $39,794 for local and $19,719 for foreign missions.

WELCOME

(An Editorial)

The Memphis Democrat is glad to have this opportunity to join the entire community in welcoming the members of the Northwest Texas Conference, pastors and laymen, and the hundreds of visitors attending the sessions this week.

It is a distinct honor to have the privilege of entertaining a gathering of this magnitude. Every effort has been made by local people to entertain the visitors during their stay here with that whole-hearted hospitality so characteristic of Pan-handle people.

It is The Democrat's sincere hope and belief that the meeting of the annual conference here will prove a blessing and inspiration, not only to conference members, but to all Memphis church members and the community as a whole.

It is a pleasure to welcome former pastors and acquaintances as they return to Memphis to attend the sessions, and an equal pleasure to welcome many distinguished visitors and guests.

To all The Democrat extends a cordial and hearty welcome.

Rev. Orion W. Carter, pastor, and members of the local church are hosts this week to three hundred fifty-eight delegates to the conference, including both pastors and lay leaders. An additional group of lay visitors is expected to bring the total to nearly 1,000 guests by Sunday, when the annual conference closes.

Following the communion services Wednesday afternoon, Bishop Holt and the presiding elders of the nine districts making up this conference adjourned to the director's room at the First National Bank for an organization meeting.

Bishop Ivan Lee Holt, new president of the Northwest Texas Conference succeeding Bishop A. H. Boaz, has been a prominent and active leader in Methodist circles for many years, recently serving as president of the Federal Council and Fraternal Messenger to the general conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

Born in DeWitt, Ark., Doctor Holt graduated from the Training School in Fordyce, Ark., took his A. He has been a member of the General Epworth League Board, the General Board of Education, the Board of Trustees of Central College, and the Board of Trustees of Southern Methodist University.

In his own Conference he has been chairman of the Sunday School Board, chairman of the Board of Education, chairman of the Board of Finance, and chairman of the Board of Missions. '39 Cotton Acreage Allotments Given

The AAA's 1939 farm program for Texas goes into high gear this week with the release of cotton acreage allotments for individual farms.

Sixteen counties have already received the 1939 cotton allotments, and an additional 50 or 60 will have them this week, according to information released at the state AAA headquarters at Texas A and M. College.

"It's our intention to issue the acreage allotments for each farmer by December 10, when the cotton marketing quota referendum is called, so that producers will be able to vote with all the cards on the table," Slaughter declared.

It does such quick work." Mrs. C. Davis.

Thursday night he speaks on "Radical Religion," and in his closing sermon Friday night the subject of his address will be "The Gospel."

In addition to his three inspirational sermons delivered to the hundreds of pastors and laymen who are attending the conference, Dr. Schofield is conducting two forum discussions during afternoon services Thursday and Friday. The discussion Thursday afternoon centers on "Resources of Vital Preaching," and on Friday the group will join a discussion of "The Urge to Evangelize."

Dr. Schofield's selection as conference speaker was announced last August by Bishop Ivan Lee Holt of Dallas, who is succeeding Bishop H. A. Boaz this year as president of the conference.

Dr. Schofield is a well-known speaker and educator, and his series of sermons and forum discussions here are proving both instructive and inspirational to both laymen and pastors of the conference.

Land Gives Many Hall County Farm Families Cause for Thanksgiving

Kind and beneficent to those who tried for survival.

As in Plymouth, neighborliness and cooperation had brought about fair crops, bettered living conditions, and hope for the future. These families had applied to the Farm Security Administration for neighborly aid, and had been given a program of hope. Loans had brought funds for farming equipment, seed for crops, desperately needed homes, and in some cases even food. Trained workers who knew farm problems had been made available for suggestions and demonstrations.

To many families the FSA has offered complete rehabilitation, with a well-rounded program for recovery. To others only the loan of a small amount, necessary to buy some equipment which would add greatly to the family income, has been required. In some places, loans have been made to a group for some large piece of machinery, such as an engine cutter, which gives profit to a whole community.

In Hall County this collection of these loans, many of which have been in force for only a year, has been high. Supervisors report that 90 per cent of the borrowers are making satisfactory repayments. A great many have been repaid in full; and in most cases where repayment is slow, there has been such ill luck as crop failure or illness in the family.

"We've something to be thankful for, too," says Bob Land, county rehabilitation supervisor. "Not only for the high percentage of loan collections; but for the fundamental honesty of the American farmer; but also for the courage and resourcefulness they have shown in fighting out a major depression and drought."

Joy Coats of Childress was a Memphis visitor Thursday night.

Memphis Musician Plays With TSCW All-Girl Symphony

Amilda Thomas to Play in Dallas Before Music Clubs With College Orchestra

With the first concert on November 11, Miss Amilda Thomas, a Memphis musician, was presented in Dallas with the College Symphony from Texas State College for Women. The only all-girl orchestra in the Southwest with complete instrumentation, the symphony is under the direction of W. Gibson Walters, head of the instrumental department.

Miss Thomas, who plays the trumpet, was among those students chosen to appear before the Texas Federation of Music Clubs' district convention Friday, Nov. 11 at the Adolphus Hotel. Members of the 75-piece orchestra were dressed in pastel evening clothes.

In addition to the two former campus concerts to be given this year, one on December 5 and one on March 16, the group has accepted advance dates for presentations in nearby cities.

Miss Thomas is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Thomas and is doing her major work in the department of physical education. She is a freshman student in the college.

Horse, Mule Prices Drop Below 1937 Level This Year

Price Still Highest Since 1916 in Comparison With Other Farm Products

Horse and mule prices reached the highest point in 17 years in 1937, but during the latter part of 1937 and well into 1938, prices dropped 10 to 15 per cent below those of the previous year, according to figures released by the U. S. Department of Agriculture Bureau of Agricultural Economics.

"Even so, prices of horses and mules, when compared with prices of all farm products, were higher during the first 8 months of 1938 than in any other period since 1916," Jack Shelton, vice director and state agent of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service, commented. "This price relationship is expected to encourage colt production for the next two years or so."

The 832,000 horse and mule colts produced in 1937 were about 400,000 head short of the number of work animals disappearing that year. The downward trend in horse and mule numbers probably will continue for several years, the outlook report stated.

"We can't help but think that the disappearance of work animals has gone on at a faster rate than would normally be expected," Shelton said. "The droughts of 1934 and 1936 forced the sale of horses and mules in some areas, and sleeping sickness and old age increased the death rate of workstock. For a number of years almost no colts were produced, and we must remember that this has resulted in most of our workstock being either very young or very old."

"No one can deny that power equipment is the thing for some farms and for some operations. At the same time, there is going to be a continuing demand for workstock, and our country agricultural agents are encouraging the production of colts in cases where farmers and ranchmen can raise them profitably," the state agent pointed out.

Yvonne Jameson Is Given Scholarship

Miss Yvonne Jameson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. N. Jameson of Knox City, formerly of Memphis, was recently awarded the Janet Collett Scholarship, which is given to members of the Curtain Club of the University of Texas where Miss Jameson is a student, by Janet Collett, an Austin dancing teacher.

The scholarship, which offers a year of dancing instruction to Miss Jameson, was awarded recently at a meeting of the board of governors of the club. Miss Jameson has recently been cast for a part in the club's first dramatic production of the year, "Idiot's Delight."

Mr. and Mrs. O. N. Jameson were visitors in Memphis last week, spending Thursday in the home of Mrs. Jameson's sister, Miss Elizabeth Bryant.

Card of Thanks

We wish to express our heartfelt thanks to our friends for their words of sympathy and kindness shown us in the recent death of our wife and mother. We are indeed grateful to brother Orion W. Carter for his words of comfort, and to our friends for their beautiful floral offerings.

R. L. Jordan and Children.

Card of Thanks

It is from the depths of our hearts that we wish to acknowledge our debt of gratitude to those who have been so kind and sympathetic during the long illness of our husband, father, grandfather, and brother. And the other night when the end came you were so helpful and brought to us the assurance of real friendship in a time when we needed you most.

Words utterly fail to express to you our appreciation of every kindness extended, and the lovely floral offering had its ministry of cheer and heart comfort for us. If it were possible today to see you face to face we could not in mere words tell you how grateful we are to you and in the years to come we will not forget how thoughtful you were in so many ways.

We can truthfully say now real friends mean much more to us, and we know if our loved one could speak to you he would express in love and heart feeling during all the months you helped him.

In the noble pathway of life we shall hope in some way we can be of service and comfort to you. Most sincerely yours friends,

Mrs. W. J. Franks.

TWENTY YEARS AFTER

WHILE ORATORS all over the nation stepped to the platforms last Friday to pay stirring tribute to the veterans, living and dead, of the World War on the twentieth anniversary of the Armistice, each pointing with pride and thankfulness to two decades of world peace, there was an undercurrent of warning that the war is not yet ended.

Now, twenty years since the Armistice that marked the close of "the war to end all wars," the nations of Europe are once more on the verge of another great conflict, waging a desperate struggle to build armaments that will insure their supremacy while their own fear and unrest spreads to the rest of the world.

Twenty years have failed to erase the scars left by the Allied "victory" in the World War, even as that war failed to settle the differences which caused it. Another world war can scarcely be depended upon to do more, yet the world rushes blindly toward another disastrous conflict.

The war is not over either in Europe or the United States. This nation is still waging a battle against economic conditions resulting from the last war. But there is a ray of hope here, while Europe prepares for armed conflict, that the leaders of this nation are remaining steadfastly aloof from entanglement in foreign troubles.

The American people should not again be easily swayed by foreign propaganda. No war has ever brought lasting peace or prosperity, and no nation has ever "won" a war. That is a lesson which was impressed forcefully on this nation in 1918, and one which should not be soon forgotten.

If the United States will refuse to engage in another war until the last one is paid for in full there will be little danger for future generations in this country for many years to come.

INSIGNIA OF MERCY

BEGINNING with Armistice Day and continuing two weeks until Thanksgiving the 1939 Red Cross Roll Call drive is made throughout the nation. Community leaders in every locality and men and women, boys and girls, from every station of life lend both of their energies, time and material substance to the work and perpetuation of this world-wide organization of mercy.

During the World War the Red Cross became known in all nations as an insignia of mercy because of the seemingly impossible accomplishments it made during the conflict toward alleviating human sufferings in war torn areas. In time of peace the Red Cross has accomplished much more, although its manner has not been so spectacular. Working in all possible ways to improve standards of health in America, American Red Cross nurses last year made 1,000,000 visits to the sick in communities where nursing and medical aid were not readily available.

Fighting on all fronts, the American Red Cross last year advised 15,000,000 householders how to eliminate accident hazards in the home and at the same time maintained 2,265 emergency first aid stations along the nation's principal highways.

During the past twelve months the American Red Cross was in the vanguard of relief agencies who brought food, clothing, shelter and medical aid to 108,000 persons, victims of 129 major disasters including fires, floods, tornadoes and earthquakes.

All of these contributions, given unselfishly and equally to all men, regardless of creed, color or walk of life, are made possible by individual memberships in this great cause. The roll call in Memphis and Hall County is just as important in carrying on this work as though it represented the entire state and it is through your cooperation that the Red Cross can carry relief to suffering humanity throughout the world.

This year's drive, beginning with an observance of world peace and ending on a day of national thanksgiving, can be made a banner drive of Memphis and Hall County. Join now that the insignia of mercy may wave throughout the world wherever and whenever humankind is suffering.

Paragraphs Culled from The Democrat's Exchanges

O. J. Boone believes that he has filled one of the strangest assignments ever given a "soda sleet" here last Wednesday. A man in Kansas City wired 15 cents to Hereford demanding that a double dip ice cream soda be delivered to his girl friend as she passed through on the west-bound train. The wire cost him $1.28.

plus the fifteen cents for the soda. Yes, the young lady took chocolate, reports the Hereford Brand.

Radio Program on Dairy Thursdays

Beginning this month the three dairy departments at A. and M. College will put on a dairy program over the radio every Thursday. This program will be a part of the Farm and Home Hour put on by the Texas Quality Net Work from 11:30 a. m. to 11:40 a. m., according to R. E. L. Pattillo.

A drenching rainfall that at times amounted to a downpour gave Scurry County approximately three quarters of an inch of moisture last week.—Scurry County Times.

Some fellows in boosting themselves refer to their "college bred" experience. Not a bad idea unless he simply means a four year "loaf" on his father's "dough" . . . puns the Apostle of the Temple of Truth in the Donley County Leader.

On November 28 to December 2, inclusive, the dairy department at A. and M. College will hold their fourth annual dairymen and cow tester's short course. There are many dairymen throughout Texas who do not have the time to attend school or college for an extended period, and it is the purpose of these departments to offer an opportunity each year to as many dairymen as can be accommodated, to attend an intensive training course in dairying. The program this year will consist of discussions, demonstrations and illustrative lectures on problems of feeding, feed crop production, the sanitary production of milk and marketing of dairy products.

Reports are that the Nellie Kuteman No. 1, Hedley's oil test well, is drilling between the 3,700 and 4,000 foot level today. Geologists and local citizens are watching this test very carefully, and there is a general hope of rapid development if a fair showing is made in the Kuteman well.—Clarion News.

Room and meals are available on the campus at reasonable rates. Anyone who is interested in this short course should write the Dairy Husbandry Department of the A. and M. College, College Station, Texas.

Floyd County had the distinction of shipping the first carload of sugar beets ever raised in Texas to Colorado for refining last week. The car contained 35 tons of high test beets, and was shipped to Rocky Ford, Colo., where they were to be handled under contract. Digging began a week ago in the fields north of Lockney, but only a few acres of beets had been dug up to Saturday. Unless something goes wrong, the beet raisers at Lockney are due to produce at least 14 cars of sugar beets, and possibly will reach the 20 car mark.—Floyd County Hesperian.

Donald Olson, fifteen year old Randall County 4-H club boy, has been awarded a trip to the National 4-H Club congress at Chicago November 22 to December 2 by the Santa Fe Railroad. The trip is awarded to nineteen Texas 4-H club boys each year for outstanding work.—Canyon News.

According to R. F. Wilson, special agent, the census report shows that 539 bales of cotton were ginned in Gray county from the crop of 1938 prior to October 18, as compared with 141 bales from the crop of 1937.—McLean News.

Split tax paying has proved a success in collecting county and state taxes. It would help school and city, too, with its delinquents to let them pay that way. This is an age of installment buying.—The Quannah Tribune-Chief.

Off the Dole, On the Payroll

By T. C. RICHARDSON, Secretary Breeder-Feeder Association

Last week we discussed the folly of keeping livestock and poultry "on the dole"—just enough feed to keep them alive. Everyone will agree that they don't pay until they are on the payroll, which means placing them on a production ration. Thinking of the farm as a factory turning raw materials into commercially finished products, the livestock may be considered both as machines and as labor. As machines they transform materials into new form; as labor they do part of the work for themselves.

As machines they must have all the raw material for which they have the capacity; as labor they must work regularly at the job, if they are to pay a manufacturing profit to the owner. It is the owner's job to see that the raw material is supplied as needed, in the proper combinations, in productive quantities, and at regular hours so that there will be no idle time for the machines and laborers.

If it takes twenty-five pounds of feed daily to keep a cow giving a gallon of milk, she must have more feed to produce two gallons, and still more for three gallons. Authorities estimate that twenty-five hens can get along on seven pounds of digestible nutrients a day, but it will require nine pounds for the same twenty hens in full laying. Since no feed is totally digestible this means that allowance must be made for the indigestible waste materials in the feed, which varies widely in different feeding materials. Production for sale, whether of eggs or milk, comes from the surplus of feed above a living ration.

The substance of this theme is to take the animals and fowls off the dole and put them on the payroll. The quicker the feed is turned into a salable product the better the chance of profit—always with the reservation that the ration is properly balanced

It is common fat hen won't lay the cart before the hen gets fat because, and therefore into fat instead of laying capacity) likely to be better than to egg birds." Since turkey is practical more than the feed required to the finishing period for the market for the turkey. Whatever the season, it is only the top will bring the top.

Social Security for Farmers Will Be Asked of Congress

WASHINGTON—Upon recommendation of the Social Security Board, the next session of Congress will be asked for an amendment to give an estimated 6,000,000 domestic servants and farm laborers social security benefits. But it isn't likely that such legislation will pass next year. Farmers don't want it, and Congress will be particularly responsive to the wishes of the farm population.

Members of the Board have devised ways of meeting the objections that surely will be raised by this proposal. The reasons given for having omitted farm labor from the original law, the intricacies of bookkeeping and the difficulty of collecting taxes from farmers, will be heard again.

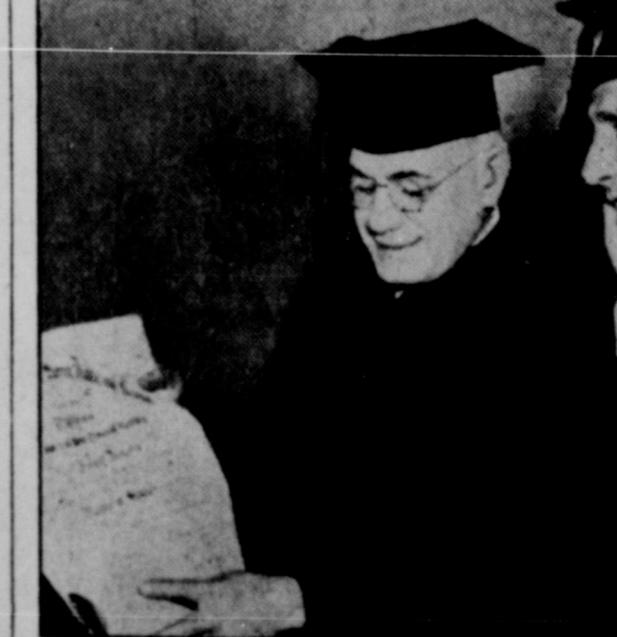

So the Board will recommend the issuance of social security tax stamps for this group. That is, the farmer employer would buy stamps at the postoffice to the amount of taxes he must pay on his laborers' wages. The farm laborer would carry a stamp book, so no matter how much he moved about, his book at the end of the season would show how much had been paid by his several employers in taxes to his social security account. With this cash and carry plan, the records of taxes paid for domestic and farm labor would not become part of the gigantic bookkeeping setup already established in Baltimore.

If Congress payment to include may also broaden social security to the self-employed the owner-farmer participate in be the opposition to laborers might be Many part time already have social counts, establish leave the farm to work in mills a Whether or no employer and farm brought under coverage, the fa has already bene program. Local Schools Progress with Memphis

Organization of High-Y Club Is Completed Here

Sixteen High School Boys Become Charter Members In Local "Y" Group

Through the efforts of Superintendent W. C. Davis and Grover C. Good, state boy's work leader, there was organized this past week in Memphis High School a Hi-Y Club. At present the club is composed of sixteen representative boys of high school age, but more members may be added later.

The following officers were elected at the first meeting: President, Leroy Robertson; vice president, Cullen Chapman; secretary, Evan Roberts, and treasurer, L. F. Jones.

The Hi-Y organization is an outgrowth of the Y. M. C. A. Although a distinctively separate club, it is closely related with Y. M. C. A. The definite purpose of the club has been stated as follows, "To create, maintain, and extend throughout the school and community high standards of Christian thinking, and Christian service in the youth of Memphis."

The High School Band played for football games last Thursday at Lakeview between Lakeview and Kelton.

Saturday the band made a trip to Clarendon to play for the Clarendon College reunion of the students.

Local students took an active part in the Armistice Day parade supervised by the American Legion. The high school band playing marches and followed by pep squad led the parade.

Junior High Social Science Class Dines

During the last four weeks the seventh grade has made a study of the Colonial history of America. One phase of that period that was of especial interest to the pupils was the development of the Thanksgiving holiday as a tradition characteristic of the pioneer days of Colonial America. As an outgrowth of this study the Social Science department of the Junior High school opened the Thanksgiving season with a colonial dinner at the school building, Thursday evening, Nov. 10.

The students of the seventh grade planned and effected the entire program. The tables were decorated with autumn leaves, pumpkins, miniature turkeys, and fruits typical of the autumn harvest. The menu was characteristic of the pioneer days of new England.

Jim Deaver, toastmaster, introduced the honored guest and speakers. The social science department presented a lovely gift to the members of section 71 as a tribute for arranging the most colorful table.

High School Band, Speakers and Team Are Complimented

Principal Cites Value of Messages from Outside Speakers During Week

(The Principal's Column) All of you who attended the band concert Tuesday night will agree that we have one of the best high school bands in the Panhandle of Texas. Personally, I wish to add to the many complimentary remarks my appreciation of our band master, Mr. Johnson, and of our Cyclone Band. Our band is composed of a group of good looking, loyal boys and girls who will make progress in this world.

Our school has enjoyed the many valuable messages brought to us from outside educators. The lessons of healthful living, mental development, social relationship, political understanding, and personality development have all been discussed admirably by the different speakers, and may I pass on to you another thought which was given to me by Captain Norfleet.

Captain Norfleet, an old cowboy of the Texas South Plains, in speaking of character and mental development says, "Son, always remember this: 'Character and memory go hand in hand for memory is a luxury that only he who has character can afford.' If you will read this quotation and apply the mental process of thinking, it will mean much to you."

Football season is over and we feel that our team has given a good account of itself. The way the boys fought the Wellington Sky-rockets last Friday night was sufficient evidence that they have something that many more experienced teams have failed to acquire during all of their years of experience. These boys have fought!

The aims of the diversified occupations program summarized would be to establish a form of education which will prepare for, secure, and promote advancement in a gainful occupation.

Many Visitors Are Entertained At West Ward School

Pupils Demonstrate Work As Local Schools Observe National Education Week

West Ward School was well observed by a great number of visitors during education week. The assembly periods at 9 o'clock each morning were very interesting and impressive. The pupils gave a demonstration of some phase of work in each program which was followed by guest speakers on the four days of the week, including Mrs. N. A. Hightower, Rev. E. C. Carrig, L. C. Smyers, and Mrs. R. E. L. Pattillo.

The visitors who attended assembly and visited the school during the week were: Mesdames E. H. Godfrey, Randolph, T. E. Rogers, Dave Price, J. E. Biggs, R. E. L. Pattillo, J. W. Alexander, J. O. Home Ec, FFA Clubs Enjoy Tacky Party

The Home Economics girls and the FFA boys, sponsored by Miss Rachel Deahl and Johnnie Key, gave a tacky party in the high school gymnasium Wednesday of last week.

Lively games were played throughout the evening. Prizes for the tackiest attending were awarded to Allard Parker, tackiest boy; Roselyn Williams, tackiest girl; Neysnell Coursey and Ted George, tackiest couple, and Miss Gladys Schantz, tackiest faculty member. Each winner performed a stunt.

Refreshments of sandwiches, potato chips, olives, pickles, cookies and punch were served to about ninety-seven members and guests.

Washer Pitching Contest Completed This Week

Washer pitching, one of the boys' program contests, was brought to a close last week after five days of practice. The boys have been classified according to weight and each group has a sponsor. The final total number of points and sponsors were: Cowan 626, Cunningham 561, Key 547, Cox 468, Dees 444, and Devin 404.

Softball is the next event to be featured on the boys' program.

WEST WARD CLASSROOMS GET FAVORABLE COMMENT

Classrooms in West Ward school are creating quite a bit of comment. The displays of the pupils' work and the scenes depicting the old woman who lived in the shoe and the age of our great grandfather's day during Thanksgiving time deserve special recognition. This work not only lends color and interest to the rooms but creates a real, homelike atmosphere.

WEST WARD SAND TABLES SHOW INTERESTING SCENES

An interesting spot in West Ward is the sand-table scene in Miss Lee's room. Around the miniature log cabin is an old rail fence which encloses a fat "porker" and two Puritan ladies carrying pumpkins. Not even the log bench is missing.

Other decorations of the season are one frieze portraying the religious life and one giving a full harvest scene.

The children and visitors were very pleased with the atmosphere of the room. One mother remarked, "This makes me want to start to school all over again."

JUNIOR HIGH BOYS AID SCHOOL SAFETY PROGRAM

Clinton Voyles has called to our attention the fine work that the boys of Junior High are doing with respect to the safety signs, which aid in the protection of the children that walk to the Memphis public schools.

The boys who deserve this honor are Lewis Browning, Don Stephens, B. P. Kinsey, Jerry Doss, Bobby McMurry, Jim Deaver, and J. O. Gibson. These boys are doing a work that requires them to make a personal sacrifice to do as effectively as they are.
