LEONARD McMURRY

Scholarship is Awarded to Local Man at St. Louis

Leonard McMurry to Travel North and South America to Visit Art Centers and Study

Announcement has been received in Memphis that Leonard McMurry, son of R. B. McMurry of this city, has received a scholarship from the school of fine arts at the Washington University in St. Louis at the same time he received his degree this month.

This scholarship entitles Mr. McMurry to travel and study in Europe, following his chosen line of work—sculpturing, it was reported. Since the war in Europe makes such study impossible at the present time, Mr. McMurry will use the scholarship in traveling on the North and South American continents, visiting art schools and museums, it has been announced, with all his expenses paid.

Mr. McMurry has made an unusual record in Washington University, according to reports, inasmuch as this is the fourth scholarship he has won while attending the school. This is the first time in the history of the institution, school officials state, that a scholarship has been awarded four times to the same student.

McMurry is a native of Hall County, having been reared in this locality. He attended the local high school and following his graduation here he attended one year at West Texas State College at Canyon and one year at Texas A. and M. Mann Speaks To Reunion Crowds Here Tuesday

Following Speech to Old Settlers, Attorney General Broadcasts Over Network

"To those pioneers of us of the West who conquered freedom and democracy for us, we owe a united front today," Attorney General Gerald C. Mann declared before a crowd that overflowed the program tent of the Old Settlers Reunion in Library Park, as the 1941 celebration opened Tuesday morning.

"We owe those who have gone before us a united front," Mann said in his speech following the coronation of Miss Dorothy Bragg as Queen of the West in which Mann officiated. "The sons of our pioneers must work together as a team to present such a front against those who would wrest from us our freedom and democracy, which were made possible by our forefathers."

"Our freedom has not been handed to us on a silver platter. It has been paid for by those before us on the installment plan. They paid their part, many by fighting for freedom. We of today have lived for freedom and many of us may have to fight to preserve it."

"If so, we will be bound together, united, as were the pioneers of the west in conquering freedom and democracy."

Vigorously condemning strikes in defense industry Mann said, "We must have action in stopping them."

"Strikes in defense industries must be stopped," Mann declared as he spoke to the throng of Hall County pioneers. "They imperial the freedom which has made it possible to strike. A defense strike is a blow at democracy."

Wheat quotas are now in effect and will apply on the 1941 wheat crop. D. A. Neeley, chairman of the Hall county AAA committee announced this week.

Tabulations compiled in the local AAA office of Memphis indicated that wheat farmers of the county approved wheat marketing quotas by a majority vote of 100 per cent, when they voted in the nation-wide wheat referendum, Saturday, May 31.

Neeley also announced that preliminary but unofficial figures from the State AAA office indicate that Texas farmers approved quotas by a vote of 13,974 to 938, or 93.7 per cent, while the United States voted 80.3 per cent for quotas.

"All farmers who have planted within their wheat allotments for this year," Neeley said, "may continue to sell or feed all they produce. They may also dispose of any old wheat carried over from previous years."

Since quotas are approved, wheat farmers who have planted within their allotments are eligible for a wheat loan which will approximate 93 cents per bushel net in Hall County for No. 2 wheat, although the rates have not been announced officially. The amount of excess wheat will be the smaller of actual production or normal yield on the overplanted acres for the farm, the committee explained.

Overplanted wheat farmers, Neeley continued, who have a marketing excess may dispose of it in one of three ways, (1) they may market it and pay the penalty, which will be 50 per cent of the national average loan rate, (2) they may deliver it to the Secretary of Agriculture through the local AAA committee for relief purposes or other purpose that would divert it from the normal channels of trade, or (3) they may store it under bond, in which case the wheat is sealed in storage approved for government loans and the farmer will be eligible for a loan on it at 60 per cent of the regular loan rate.

Two thirds of all the motor fuel consumed in the United States is used in connection with earning a livelihood, studies of the federal government indicate.

Defense stamps and bonds will make ideal gifts.

WPA Workers are Available for Private Work

Farmers May Hire Relievers For Field Work; No Worker Can Refuse Bona Fide Offer

WPA District Manager A. A. Meredith this week reiterated his reminder to farmers and other private employers that all WPA workers are listed with the Texas State Employment Service and are available for private employment. WPA workers will be released from projects wherever needed to make farm help available, Meredith declared. "Prospective employers should consult local representatives of the Texas State Employment Service," he explained, "as this is the duly constituted agency for referring WPA workers and other persons seeking private jobs to employers."

Rolls of the WPA are constantly open to private employers, Meredith emphasized, and workers who refuse a bona fide offer of employment will not be retained by WPA. This regulation is based on the following section of the WPA appropriation act:

"No person in need who refuses a bona fide offer of private or other public employment under reasonable working conditions which pays the prevailing wage for such work in the community where he resides and who is capable of performing such work shall be employed or retained in employment on work projects under the funds appropriated in this joint resolution for the period such private or other public employment would be available."

Currently employed on WPA projects in this district are 2,504 men and women and an additional 1,033 persons are certified as eligible for WPA employment and are awaiting assignment whenever jobs are available. All of these persons are registered with the Texas State Employment Service and are immediately available to private employers, Meredith stated.

Gas Company To Aid In Canning

The canning and preservation of fruits and vegetables as a part of the nation's home defense program will be actively promoted this summer by United Gas Corporation, G. L. Taylor, district manager of the company, announced today.

The recent establishment by the president of a committee for Civilian Defense, with Mayor La Guardia of New York as its head, has called attention to the emergency situation in America, Mr. Taylor said. One of the first requirements will be for increasing quantities of foodstuffs, owing to the great demands of armed forces on American food production.

"The fine old American tradition, 'canning time,' which has largely gone out of practice in later years, is certain to be revived in this national emergency," said Mr. Taylor. Our government has already indicated that home gardening, canning, and preserving will be stimulated as much as possible as a part of the home defense program.

"The management of our company recognizes this need for added food production and preservation," Mr. Taylor continued. "Since our business is the furnishing of natural gas for household use, we feel an obligation to cooperate with the national defense program by arousing the interest of our customers in putting up fruits and vegetables this summer as never before."

Earlier this year, representatives of United Gas corporation offered their co-operation with newspapers in the territory served to promote the planting of home gardens. This promotion, it was said, was the first step in the company's self-initiated plan to cause the public to can and preserve more foods.

"In this program," said Mr. Taylor, "we feel that our customers should protect themselves now against possible shortages of food in the future. There is plenty of natural gas for all the canning and preserving that our customers wish to do. There will continue to be an abundance of natural gas, available at low cost. The fact that may change is the food itself."

"Every loyal American householder and housewife will be ready and willing to co-operate with our defense leaders, hardware and other supply stores will have the equipment available, and grocery stores will stand by to provide at low summer prices the vegetables and fruits that home gardens have not been able to produce. The chief beneficiary, in the long run, will be the citizen and his family, who will have a continued supply of food at low cost, irrespective of what future food prices may be."

The company will promote the canning and preserving program through window and floor displays made available to dealers, food stores, canning supply stores and others, as well as in its own offices, through special home demonstration programs, the furnishing of free recipes, and the like. The public has been invited to call on the gas company for information and free recipes, Mr. Taylor said.

Some Crops May Grow Again After 'Beating Up' by Hail

Roots May Not Be Hurt, Will Sprout Again; Advice Does Not Apply to Cotton

Even though they are "beaten up" by hail, some crops such as tomatoes and Irish potatoes will sprout and develop new shoots.

This heartening information comes from J. F. Rosborough, horticulturist for the A. and M. College Extension Service, who explains that these plants will not need to be replanted as the roots are already established and will come out more quickly than if new plants are set.

This advice, however, will not hold true for cotton and crops which will not sprout again. They will have to be replanted.

Rosborough says trees which are seriously damaged by hail will need rather careful attention for several weeks. The damaged upper surface of the limbs may be painted with orange shellac. Or on the hard wood growth, carbolineum or asphaltum paint may be used. These materials will serve as a protection to the cambium layer (a soft, formative tissue which gives rise to new growth) and will prevent further drying out of the plant tissue.

Pruning should not be done soon after hail damage. The horticulturist says it is best to wait until the next winter. In the meantime, the more leaves that can be grown on a tree or plant after hail damage, the quicker it will become normal. Even sprouts on the trunk and lower branches of the tree should be left to supply the needed foliage for carrying on the normal plant processes.

If the sprouts on the trunk of large branches become too rank, the tops may be pinched off to stop their onward growth, but the leaves will serve a valuable pur-

Shelterbelts Protection To Growing Crops

Costs Are Less Than Protect Land, W. States in Interview

"Reducing the cost of crops is one way in which shelterbelts help to insure economic stability of farm areas," S. (Bill) Greene, the department of Agriculture Service representative.

This, Greene explained, is particularly the case in sections where seed is sandblasted by young trees frequently. Each required adds just the cost of producing a crop, some cases, the trees only part of the cost of crop was lost from the portion. In other fields were fully protected he could compare his with that of his neighbor.

Illustrative of the concentrated shelterbelts in Hall County over the years are lower seedling returns, reported farm operators of the Brice concentration as a common story is that protection afforded by shelterbelts is the difference between a crop and no crop at all. Besides reducing the farming, the Forest of make crops more sure of fluctuating precipitation year to year. Keeping off the ground, the conserve moisture in the reducing evaporation as tects fields from hot Texas consumers three fourths as much as Texas produces.

CONOCO Nth MOTOR OIL

with its Man-made new Economy aid

The record long life that defied Death Valley comes from a new laboratory creation... man-made... called Thialkene inhibitor. Its action in some ways suggests Vaccination—which puts the right protective substance on guard to keep a trouble from even starting on you.

The trouble aiming to start on motor cars lurks in the engine's normal fring. It is formed that tends to start the oil "fettering." First one drop spoils—then two drops "catch it"—then four—then eight—faster, faster, FASTER. Soon stamina is sapped; the engine sputters and cries for quart after quart... but not when the worst of this "fettering" attack is nipped in the bud—inhibited—by the life-giving Thialkene inhibitor in new Conoco Nth motor oil.

Now you'll never rashly exceed the proper oil-change period for your car and driving conditions—any more than you ignore traffic rules just to "get away with it!" But Certified Proof from the desert that new Conoco Nth could outlast the other oils in the test by as much as 161%, gives you more than mere hopes of long Summer mileage between quarts. Change to Conoco Nth—at Your Mileage Merchant's Conoco station... today. Continental Oil Company—Pioneers in Bettering America's oil with Synthetics

AND CONOCO Nth OIL OIL-PLATES YOUR ENGINE!

Long the keystone of Conoco success, OIL-PLATING comes from another great Conoco synthetic... man-made under the famed Germ Processed oil patent. By magnet-like action, OIL-PLATING is bonded to inner engine parts. Then it can't all drain down—not even overnight—not while you're using Conoco Nth. So OIL-PLATING is on guard against wear in advance!... and helps mileage, as it did in Death Valley. An OIL-PLATED engine is one more economy you get from a change to popular-priced new Conoco Nth oil.

CERTIFIED I hereby certify that the Death Valley Test and related work were thoroughly and fairly conducted. Engine Destruction occurred in each case at the mileage stated.

Locals Win 9-4 From Amarillo

The Memphis Spudders, local baseball nine, checked up another win Sunday afternoon as Herschel Stewart, hurler, carried his teammates to a 9-4 victory over the Amarillo Transfer team of Amarillo.

During the nine-inning melee, Stewart allowed only four hits, while 12 batters went out swinging before his effective pitching. Stewart to Watkins were the batteries for the local team for the entire 9 innings.

Manager Don Wright expressed his pleasure at the crowd turning out at this game in spite of unfavorable weather conditions. Mr. Wright announced another game for next Sunday at 3 o'clock to be played against the same team at the Spudder field. He urged all Memphians to attend this game and support the local team.

bill I have advocated. I shall draw it and make it available to Congress and my congressmen opponents are welcome to it. Until such a bill as mine is passed the President should use his emergency powers to see that the wheels of industry continue to run," Mann declared as he carried his speech into the United States Senatorial campaign in which he is a candidate.

Following Mann's address at the Old Settlers Reunion tent, he made a fifteen minute broadcast thru the facilities of the Texas Quality Network, speaking at 12:30 from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Smyers, 209 North 14th Street. During the address, which was relayed from Memphis by telephone to the network's Fort Worth studio at station WBAF, Mann entered into a discussion concerning the senatorial race and openly denied being under his opponent's, Governor W. Lee O'Daniel, classification as a professional politician.

Mann pointed out that 45 rulings he had made as Attorney General of Texas, at the request of the governor, had been accepted by Mr. O'Daniel and used in administration of state affairs.

"You know and I know," Mann asserted, "that the governor would not have followed and accepted these rulings, had he considered me a professional politician."

Mann stated that the race had narrowed down to himself and the Governor.

Windows—

Contrast of styles of yesterday and today was the theme of the Sub-Deb club that decorated a window at the Rosenwasser dry goods store.

The Pathfinder Club decorated a window at Meacham's Pharmacy with antique objects actually used in pioneer days in this locality.

The Bluebonnet Club window, also at Meacham's Pharmacy, was decorated with handwork of the club members. Interesting in this window was a collection of miniature shoes of Mrs. Claud Johnson and a collection of horses of Mrs. T. M. Potts. A small chair, used by T. M. Potts as a baby, was displayed in this window.

The American Legion Auxiliary, decorating a window at the Wherry Jewelry Store, featured old china and crystal in their display.

Thompson Hardware Store's window, decorated by Dave Price, depicted an early day ranch scene showing the corral, ranch yard, and ranch house. This window was not in the competition for prizes but attracted much attention and comment.

The Needle Club featured old dolls of Memphis people in a window at Tarver's Pharmacy.

Wedding dresses and furbelows of other years were featured in the window decorated by the 1913 Study Club at the Selby Boot and Shoe Shop.

Dolls playing instruments were featured in a window decorated by the Harmony Club at the Durham-Jones Pharmacy.

The Mystic Weavers depicted an old fashioned bedroom scene in the window at King's Furniture Company, using authentic furnishings of the pioneer era in furnishing the scene. The clock in this window was hand made by H. L. Selby's father, Mrs. Lee M. Thornton, dressed in costume of the day, sat in the window, rocked the cradle, carded cotton, and ran a spinning wheel.

The other window at the King Furniture Store was decorated by the Memphis Garden Club with vases and floral pieces picked from the yards of the members. The name "Garden Club" was spelled out in cut flowers on the sign placed in this window.

Milk Production To be Increased

Texas is in position to turn out more milk during the next six to twelve months than any similar period of its history, said General Agent Jack Shelton of the Farm Credit Administration of Houston, in commenting on the Department of Agriculture's program to moderately increase a milk production as a part of the national defense.

"It will be not only a practical and profitable part in the food-defense effort," Shelton said, "but it will help farmers in many cases this year to overcome the threatened loss of income from cotton due to the excessive rains."

"Milk production is based on good grazing, abundant cheap roughage, and cows," said Shelton, who spent 20 years with the state's dairying industry as an operator and also in the educational work of the opportunity for plenty of roughage, hay and ensilage because of the moisture. We have the cows, so our production can be stepped up with just a little extra care."

The farm Credit Administration is joining in the Department of Agriculture's effort to raise milk production, particularly around cheese and evaporated milk plants, Shelton said. The Farm Credit Administration comprises the Federal Land Bank, the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank, the Production Credit Corporation, and the Houston Bank for Cooperatives.

The average American family pays about $10 a year in indirect gasoline taxes collected on motor fuel used in moving food, fuel, and clothing over the highways.

NBC President To Honor Texas With Broadcast

NILES TRAMMELL, Dallas—Niles Trammell, president of the National Broadcasting Company, has accepted an invitation to take part in the dedicatory ceremonies of the new WFAA and KGKO penthouse studios in Dallas on June 29 and 30, preliminary to their formal opening to the public on Monday, June 23. Trammell has followed closely the construction of the unique new broadcasting quarters for NBC's Red and Blue Network affiliates in Dallas, and engineers from Radio City in New York are especially interested in the mysterious dispersive treatment used by acoustical experts in the WFAA-KGKO studios.

State Plans to Fight Malaria

"A marked saving in human lives and improved health conditions may be obtained in large measure by an educational program for the control of the mosquito," suggests Dr. Deo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

"Malaria is transmitted to humans," he said, "by the bite of the Anopheles mosquito. This mosquito acquires the malaria parasites by biting a person who has these parasites in his blood. She (it is the female who transmits this disease) then bites a well person. The parasites enter the blood, grow, and multiply there. Poisons are formed and carried in the blood stream to all parts of the body. The person bitten by the carrier mosquito begins to shiver with chills, burn with fever, and have a headache."

"Prevention of malaria should start with the protection of humans from the bite of the infected mosquito and continue through to the elimination of the mosquito."

"The protection of humans may be accomplished by screening all houses to prevent the entrance of mosquitoes. A 16-mesh wire screen should be placed over all openings. Be sure that all chimneys, cracks, and other openings are covered."

"The malaria mosquito breeds in still water and the pools and grassy edges of running water, as well as in many places where water is allowed to collect or stand. The female mosquito then lays her eggs on the surface of the water, where they float, and in a few days hatch into 'wiggle-tails.' These live in the water and in time turn into mosquitoes. These changes must take place in the water and require twelve to fourteen days in summer to complete the cycle."

"In order to prevent the malaria mosquito from breeding, destroy their breeding places in water by spraying the surface with oil or putting top-feeding minnows in waters where oil or drainage cannot be used. Such a campaign will be waged around all military areas in Texas."

is a miniature painting of Miss Presler and is as like her as it was possible for the artists to make it from the pictures available, it is reported.

The panel will accompany a collection of books to be dedicated to the children of Memphis, it was announced, whom Miss Presler greatly loved. Each month the donor, Frances Presler, will add one book to the collection and each of the books will carry a memorial plate, it was stated. Any one desiring to increase this memorial by adding books are invited to do so, it was announced.

Because Miss Presler loved people most and books next, her sister has stated, she has chosen this means of perpetuating her memory and service to those whom she loved and served so long.

The public is invited to attend the dedication ceremony Sunday afternoon at 4:30 at the Carnegie Library, it was announced.

High School Grads May Be Flyers

High school graduates who are ambitious to become pilots in the Regular Army Air Corps now have the opportunity. Even if their educational qualifications will not permit them to become commissioned officers, they still may fly Army airplanes and may look forward to careers as pilots.

All they need to do is to enlist in the Army Air Corps and this course of training will be opened to them after July 1, 1941, as soon as administrative details can be arranged. They will be taught to fly and they will be paid while learning. After they have qualified as pilots their futures as Regular Army pilots are assured.

All this is made possible by a bill which has just passed Congress and which has been signed by the President. It authorizes the Secretary of War to detail men for

Corn and Beans May Be Grown

A new ruling handed out by the AAA authorities makes it possible for farmers to grow corn, snap beans, and peas on conserving land, according to a report released here this week by W. B. Hooser, Hall County agent, provided these products are to be used for processing.

Mr. Hooser pointed out that the AAA program was not primarily a crop reduction program as many people thought. He stated that the same machinery used in reducing crop production in certain localities, may also be used to increase the production of the same products in other localities where such products are needed. Mr. Hooser pointed out that this was an equalizing measure to insure sufficient products in these localities and surplus in none.

Cotton Industry Pledges Support

Cotton industries in Hall County, including the compress, gins, and the cotton oil mill have pledged their support to the cotton farmers of the county in any fight they might make against boll worms, weevils, and leaf worms, W. B. Hooser, county agent, announced Wednesday.

Mr. Hooser pointed out that since this spring has been exceptionally wet, insects and pest expectations is unusually high. Plans are being made to eradicate these pests as soon as they make a showing, Mr. Hooser stated.

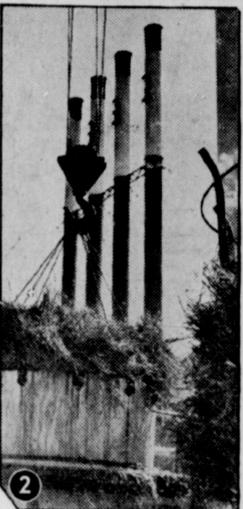

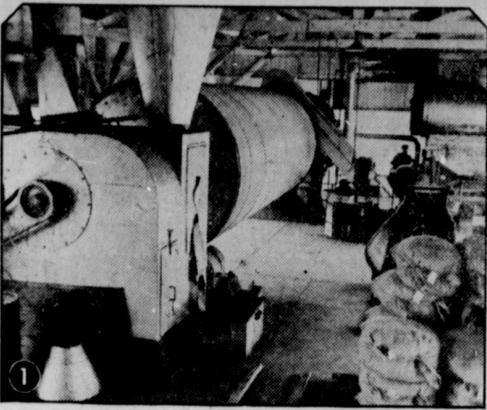

Lemon Grass and Blackstrap Molasses Combined to Produce New Cattle Feed

By-Products of Two Industries Used in Process

TAKE by-products of the sugar industry and the perfume industry, mix them together by a new process, and you get... a new type of cattle feed.

Dr. B. A. Bourne, chief of the United States Sugar Company's Experiment Station at Clewiston, Fla., has perfected the new process. The feed is a mixture of the thick blackstrap molasses which is produced in making sugar and of processed lemon grass, whose fragrant oils are used as a base for perfume.

While the process is still in the experimental stage, Dr. Bourne claims remarkable results have been obtained. A hundred head of cattle have been penned, and are being fed the mixture. The feed is being made in a new $50,000 plant at Clewiston.

Here's how lemon grass and blackstrap molasses are made into a new type of cattle feed. Into drier (1) goes lemon grass for dehydration. Next, it is pounded to bits by hammer mill. Lemon grass is dumped into cooker (2) where oil is removed by steaming. Then, after mixture with molasses, feed is ready (3) for steers on special diet.

THE new cattle feed was born of an idea to provide year-round employment for farm workers on the 10 plantations of the sugar company, in the Florida everglades. Clarence R. Bitting, president, suggested to his chemists and agronomists that a crop was needed to provide work for farm labor in the "off sugar" season, and at the same time employ the company's idle lands—idle because of federal sugar-growing restrictions.

Sugar cane is an old crop in Florida, having been introduced by the Spaniards. Lemon grass, whose technical name is long and Latiny (Andropogon nardus), is new. It was originally grown in Arabia and India. Lemon grass was selected as ideal, and was raised for its oils.

BEFORE long, the research staff noticed that after the oil had been removed and the lemon grass softened by steaming, cattle, which avoid lemon grass in its natural state, took to it like a cat to catnip. The idea of pulverizing, dehydrating and mixing it with the blackstrap molasses produced in the sugar house, was tested. So was born a third industry from the by-products of two established industries—and from the ingenuity of capable research scientists.

Appeal Made—

canning kitchen, the WPA labor can go to your garden and gather the produce. If you have children in any school in the county (which has a WPA luncheon) this produce which you donate for canning will be counted in payment for his lunch during the coming school year. If you have no children in school and would still like to donate fruit or vegetables, the produce will be gladly accepted. Here are the points of the canning program to be remembered:

The food canned is not only for the Memphis schools but for any school which the donor of the produce designates.

The canning is to be done only in the Memphis kitchen until the Lakeview kitchen opens the last of July. Then canning will take place at both kitchens.

The food canned is to be used only in the serving of lunches through the WPA school cafeterias and can not be sold.

Canning cannot be done on the "halves."

The food which you donate to be canned may be accepted as payment on your children's lunches for the coming school year.

If you have no children and still want to give surplus fruits and vegetables to the cafeteria, the food will be gladly accepted and your name will be added to the list of the contributors to the school cafeteria fund.

The vegetables will be gathered by WPA labor if the garden is within reasonable distance of Memphis.

Your contribution of vegetables or fruit to this worthy canning project will greatly benefit the schools of Hall County.

The vegetables and fruit which you can at home yourself cannot be accepted by the school cafeterias next school year unless your method of canning and home is approved by Miss Bessie May Love, Farm Security home supervisor.

The WPA School Lunch and Matron Project during the past year gave employment to approximately 55 workers and brought a payroll of $2,000 a month to Hall County. Lunches were served in 16 different schools and over 1,000 lunches were served daily. These 1,000 lunches call for an abundance of fruits and vegetables. That's why this appeal is made to the public—to bring your surplus vegetables to the Memphis High School. Call 18M for further information or get in touch with W. C. Davis, supervisor, or Mrs. Gene Barnett, county supervisor of the project.

Another contributor of $3 to the summer lunch program is Bailey Gilmore.

Don't Let Grass, Weeds Continue To Take Fertility

Extension Specialist Says Best Plan Is For Mowing Pastures Discriminately

There is no point in letting old grasses and weeds continue to take fertility and moisture out of the soil, says R. R. Lancaster, extension pasture specialist for Texas A. and M. College.

Therefore, mow pastures discriminately. Mowing, he adds, has another practical benefit. When there is too much grass for a few months, part of it may be mowed for hay and fed profitably when pastures are short.

Tall, coarse grass in humid regions is a bad kind of weed, but a good turf of thrifty, well-grazed pasture supporting a few broom weeds and dove weeds may not need too much mowing. When tall and coarse grass dies it won't let even its own kind grow. Suppose it is not cut or grazed, what kind of turf would there be under tons of rotted hay, the specialist asks.

"Mowing land that produces only needle grass and 'Poor Joe' is not worth the expense." If Bermuda, carpet and kindred grasses get too far ahead of stock cut them so new growth can start. Otherwise these grasses get tough and do stock no good when grazed.

Lancaster says that many pastures which need mowing cannot be cut because of worthless brush and trees. He cautions that these should not be confused with occasional groups of trees that form beauty spots or maturing timber, or protected patches of brush which provide feed and protection to song birds and game. The specialist explains that such growth may have greater value than grasslands, and suggests that few such places in pastures are worth saving and even fencing. He does not favor cutting grass along fences and in ditches because it, too, furnishes protection and feed for wildlife.

There is no set rule for the number of cuttings in pastures, but where three are planned the first should be made in late May or early June, and for two mowings June would be the most suitable for the first.

THE RIGHT TO STRIKE

DURING recent weeks it has become necessary for the United States government to move troops into and take over airplane plants in California, that were manufacturing airplane orders for the national defense program, because strikes on the part of employees of these plants stopped production. Widespread public opinion has labeled these strikes Un-American.

In the face of unfair practices on the part of capital and management, of low pay, long working hours, of poor working conditions, labor must have some method of retaliation. It was because of these conditions that the theory of strikes was first brought into being. Labor used strikes to good advantage during the rapid building era of American progress when capitalism was expanding rapidly, growing increasingly wealthy on the fruits of the laborers' efforts. They served as a control valve, in a measure equalizing the remuneration between the element that made production possible and the element that produced.

Strikes, like castor oil, when administered in proper doses and at proper times, have done lots of good. But strikes, like castor oil, can do serious damage when improperly used. Just because a little of both will do a little good is no reason that a large quantity will do lots of good.

Today the free people of the earth are fighting for the perpetuation of their way of life. Although the carnage and bloodshed of actual warfare have not spread to our shores, we are as deeply involved in the conflict as though our armies were marching into the battle and our navies sailing into the affray. Strikes, although sometimes justifiable under certain conditions, have no place in the scheme of things when an emergency, such as the one of national defense has brought about, arises.

The government, in taking over these plants, has been very lenient with those who have abused their rights and privileges by striking against the defense of the government that gives them the personal freedom to strike.

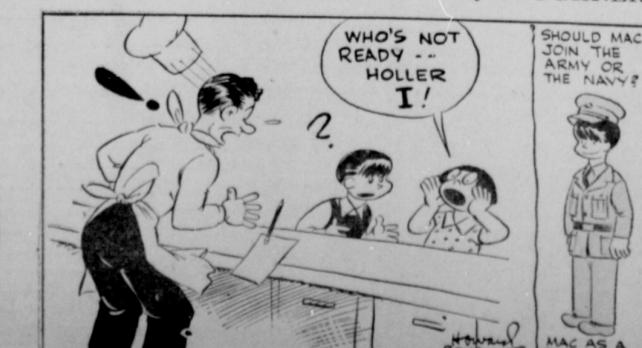

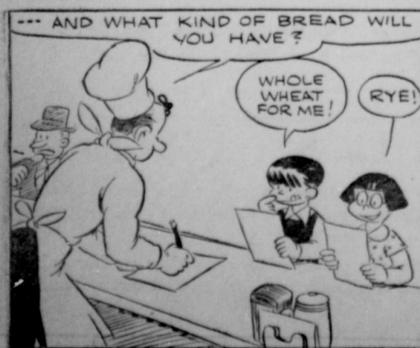

POLITICS

ALTHOUGH this year is an off year for politics in Texas, the next few weeks promises to find Texas in its usual summer hotbed of mud-slinging and promises to the old folks. The twenty-seven office-seekers who have announced for the United States Senate, subject to the special election June 28, will be going strong as the election day approaches.

This year's election promises to be unique in that only a plurality will be needed for any one candidate to be selected to fill the post made vacant by the death of Hon. Morris Sheppard. Of the 27 men in the race, political prognosticators have selected four to lead the ticket: Gerald C. Mann, Lyndon Johnson, Martin Dies, and W. Lee O'Daniel. It is evident that one of these four will be selected to go to Washington in the special election.

However, it is beyond the power of any political prophet, even one with clairvoyant insight into the future, to predict which one of these four will be selected. This election, unlike the elections held under the primary system, is truly an election of the proper people and holds no party lines. Everyone eligible to vote under the election laws of the state may participate regardless of party affiliation. Thus this election should be a true mandate of the people. It is, and should be, the duty of every qualified voter to cast his or her ballot in the coming special election so that the returns will be truly the voice of the people.

Traffic Troubles, Too
The Tactless Texan in Amarillo Globe: Why shouldn't something be done about our traffic and parking problem? Why shouldn't we try out the parking meters? I repeat that Amarillo has just about the worst-regulated traffic of any city in the southwest. Really, something should be done about it!

Tit a Brick to Her Tail
Floyd County Hesperian: Speaking of mosquitoes, the likelihood is that for size and length and strength of boring apparatus the plains mosquitoes will compare favorably with the mosquitoes hatched in anybody's clime. One way to dodge them to some extent, if you milk cows, is to change the cow's habits a bit to milk in the evening a good while before sun down, say around 5 or 5:30. And the next morning do the milking about 4:30 or 5 o'clock. The cows will switch less and you'll keep your temper in better fettle for use where it is more needed than in the cowpen and milking stalls.

Lots of Dollars
Miami Chief: It has been estimated that for the coming year an average of about $130 for every man, woman and child in the United States will be necessary for our budget, or about $500 per family. If a printer had started back before the time of Columbus printing dollars faster than one a second, and without stopping he'd catch up in a few years from now in the job of turning out the year's budget of dollar bills and if someone laid these bills end to end, they would encircle the globe 65 times with a few million to spare.

A Good Example

The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for June 22 Text: Acts 15:6-21

EVEN in the realm of religion and the church it is true that success brings its problems and difficulties. As Christianity spread and grew, these problems were two-fold. There was the problem of mingling races in a religion that, like its founder, was no respecter of persons. And there was the additional problem of a religion that rose among those of one race and with its roots and foundations in one religion becoming worldwide in its scope and application.

It was not unnatural that these problems should have arisen in the early church because we have the same problems today.

When conflict between Jews and Gentiles arose in far-off Antioch, the Christians held a conference in Jerusalem to see what could be done. This was, as our lesson calls it, "the first Jerusalem conference on world mission."

ONE is impressed with the way in which these early Christians, of so many sorts and types, went about solving their problems. They faced the plain fact that where the Gospel was preached Gentiles as well as Jews benefited from it. Many converts had not been brought up in the Jewish way. They did not understand the significance or the need of rites to which the Jews had been accustomed, which were deeply imbedded in their religious practice.

Should these practices be enjoined on the Gentile Christians? The wise leaders among the Jews said that they should not, and wisdom in this conference came particularly from James, the brother of our Lord, who made the influential speech that is recorded in the lesson.

IN brief, the requirement was that the Gentiles should practice the Christian way, that they should not give offense to their Jewish brethren by obtrusive disregard of Jewish customs, but that neither should they be under obligation to adopt these customs except as their own consciences should direct.

Would it not be well if all the problems of worldwide Christianity could be settled today upon so wise and practical a basis and with such courteous consideration for the ideas and rights of all?

Army Depends on Tough, Well-Trained Infantry to Play Major Part in Battles

BY DAVID A. STEIN

TOUGH, well-trained, efficient infantry divisions still win wars, United States Army experts are convinced. Upon the hard-fighting, hard-bitten infantry rests the winning or losing of battles.

The infantry is the largest arm of the service, both in peace and in wartime. The present training program will develop 45 infantry-artillery divisions, providing four infantrymen for every soldier motorized or in the cavalry.

Most of the nation's selectees are being trained in infantry tactics and techniques. During the first 13 weeks of training, the selectee is taught to march, to use his weapons, and to take care of himself in action. At the same time he is toughened up physically to endure the exertion of battle.

THE new triangular (streamlined) infantry divisions contain three infantry regiments, two regiments of supporting field artillery, one battalion each of engineer, medical, and quartermaster troops, and a company of signal corps troops. Total wartime strength is about 12,500, of which about 7,200 are infantrymen.

The shoulder rifle with its bayonet, the tank, and the machine gun are the chief weapons of infantry. Constant experiment is carried out with new and improved weapons and the infantry changes its methods and make-up to keep at highest efficiency. Powerful but light anti-tank guns have recently been introduced.

THE infantry is equipped with fast, modern tanks, which carry substantial armor and machine guns. Tanks are organized into separate infantry units. New training methods emphasize the need for co-ordination of infantry efforts with the supporting fire of aviation and armored units.

Taking its cue from developments in World War II, the infantry is changing its tactics to provide decentralization of command, so that squad and platoon leaders work independently to exploit "soft spots" in the enemy's position.

New Commander in Memphis CCC Camp

Captain Elmer H. Gibson, who was in command of the local CCC Camp was called into Active Service with the Regular Army, June 6 and was assigned as Recruiting Officer in Houston.

Subaltern Meredith M. Hopkins, 2nd, in command was promoted to Company Commander the same date. Commander Hopkins is a resident of Fort Worth and was formerly a professional ball player, having played with the Kansas City Blues, St. Paul, Minn., and the Chicago White Sox. His Alma Mater is Texas University.

The members of his command are well pleased in having Commander Hopkins as "skipper," for his keen interest in all sports, his popularity, experience, and interest of the men, they extend their congratulations, it was stated.

Farmers May Sell Wheat Quota Cards

If you have a wheat marketing quota card, you are free to dispose of your wheat in any way you wish, D. A. Neeley, chairman of the Hall County AAA committee, pointed out this week.

Under AAA regulations, which went into effect with the approval by wheat growers of marketing quotas in the referendum May 31, wheat producers cannot obtain a marketing card until they have satisfied any claims the AAA might have against their wheat for production on excess acres, the AAA committeeman said.

"Since this is true, then it naturally follows that a producer holding a card on this wheat can sell it, store it, or do whatever he wants to with it," he continued. "This wheat is absolutely clear as far as the AAA is concerned and is eligible to move in the regular channels of trade."

Producers who do not clearly understand the operations of wheat marketing quotas should ask for fuller explanations at the county AAA office, the committeeman declared.

Farmers Will Get Full Payment

Farmers with cotton in the government loan will receive full payments for their equities if the government should take title of the cotton.

This was emphatically pointed out today by Millard P. Brown, Hall county AAA secretary, when he was advised by the United States Department of Agriculture that title will not be taken to loan cotton without prior public notice.

If the government should take title to loan cotton, the cotton producers would be paid any amounts by which (1) the redemption costs of their notes (which include principal, interest, and carrying charges on the pledged cotton were exceeded by (2) a fair value for the cotton at the time, which would be determined by the Secretary of Agriculture on the basis of the then prevailing average market prices for cotton with reasonable allowances for differences in grades, staple lengths, and locations.

"Don't be misled by false representations to the effect that the government will not give full value for cotton equities when and if it is necessary for the Commodity Credit Corporation to take title to the cotton," the AAA officials warned.

The notes secured by 1938 crop cotton, the maturity date for which was extended to July 31, 1941, are not callable on demand. The notes secured by 1939 crop cotton matured on July 31, 1940. The notes secured by 1940 crop cotton do not mature until July 31, 1941, but they are callable for payment on demand at any time. It is possible that the government may find it desirable to take title on August 1, 1941, to any cotton remaining pledged to secure notes which are overdue at that time. In the event, however, that the government should take title to any of the stocks of loan cotton, at least ten days public notice of such action would be given by a press release.

ed in the spirit of the festive occasion, horsemen, and sponsors, followed.

High-light of the opening day parade was the Will Rogers Range Riders, a group of Amarillo business men, mounted on matched horses, riding in formation. The Sons of the American Legion Drum and Bugle Corp of Amarillo was also featured in the parade. Bands from Shamrock and Clarendon, as well as the local high school band under the direction of Norman Heath, furnished parade music.

The second day parade was similar to the first, with the same floats and local attractions. R. E. Martin Jr., former Memphisian and band director at Paducah, presented his high school band in the second day parade, playing march music.

In the competition for the best decorated floats the Atalantean Club was awarded first prize and $7.50 in the club division; the Potts Chevrolet Co., was awarded first prize and $7.50 in the commercial division; Salisbury was awarded first place and $7.50 in the community division; and Rayburn Jones was awarded first place and $3 in the bicycle division. Honorable mention was awarded to the American Legion Auxiliary, the U. D. C., the A-Muse-U Club, Delphinian Club, Garden Club, and the Paducah Band. Judges for the parade were F. L. Decker, J. W. Chambers, and H. W. Shirley, all of Childress, and representatives of the American Legion there.

A program was carried on under the reunion tent during the morning and afternoon of both days. The first morning was given over to the coronation of the queen and a speech by Gerald C. Mann, attorney general of Texas. The afternoon program was impromptu, with old timers telling of their early day experiences and interesting side-lights of pioneer days. J. C. Wells, chairman of the program committee, and Judge M. O. Goodpasture, county judge, were masters of ceremonies at these programs. Dances, music, and other entertainment characterized these meetings.

Tuesday afternoon an old fiddlers contest, under the direction of Arthur Gidden of Plaska, was held under the tent. First place and $12.50 was awarded to Wesley Nivins of Parnell and second place and $7.50 was awarded to A. T. Lester of Wellington.

Wednesday afternoon at 5 o'clock a square dance contest, under the direction of M. E. Rule, was held. First place and a prize of 12.50 went to the Estelline dancers, and second prize and $7.50 was awarded to the Memphis dance team.

Wednesday afternoon at 4:45 the best regalia for women contest was presented at the tabernacle under the direction of Mrs. W. J. Bragg. In this contest Mrs. T. M. Harrison was awarded first place and $5.00 and Mrs. Glynn Thompson was awarded second place and $2.50.

Wednesday morning C. W. Howe of San Diego, Calif., pioneer Hall County publisher before the turn of the century, spoke to the reunion crowd, telling of his early Hall County experiences. In 1898 Mr. Howe left Texas to go to California, making the trip with a wagon and team.

A memorial service was held Wednesday at the reunion tent paying tribute to the members of the Hall County Old Settlers Association who had died since the last meeting in July of 1940. Mrs. D. H. Davenport, secretary of the association, called the roll of the departed members. This roll call was followed by a silent prayer and a poem, read by Mrs. D. S. Baker. A hymn, "In the Sweet Bye and Bye," was sung and the closing prayer was led by Rev. D. M. Duke, pastor of the Memphis Church of the Nazarene.

At a business meeting of the Hall County Old Settlers Association held Wednesday afternoon C. W. Williams, who has served the past year as vice-president of the organization, was elected to the presidency to succeed B. F. Cope of Mineral Wells. L. M. Thornton was named as vice president, and Mrs. D. H. Davenport was re-elected secretary.

The Queen of the West, Miss Dorothy Bragg, who ruled over the 1941 Reunion and Rodeo was presented with her court at each of the rodeo performances. This court consisted of Princess Gloria of the House of Howard; Prince Mack of the House of Wilson; King Murriel of the House of Scroggins; Knight Bobby of the House of Dawson; Duchess Caridell of the House of Lenoir. Carol Jean Delaney was crown bearer and Bill George Kesterson and Jackie Youree were trumpeters and the royal musician was Rayburn Jones.

section, went to Miss Barbara Bell who was awarded a $25 National Defense Bond.

In the out-of-town sponsors contest Mrs. Juanell Tinney of Floydada was awarded first place in a flag race contest, a time event, and was given a $75 National Defense Bond. Second place went to Mrs. Pete Snider who was awarded a pair of boots, and third to Mrs. Giles of Dalhart who was given a pair of spurs.

Elimination contests in these divisions were held at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning at the rodeo arena and finals were held after the afternoon performance Wednesday. Out-of-town judges were used in the contest and included John McClelland and Mrs. J. S. McMurtry of Clarendon and Eddie Caldwell of Henrietta.

uals, who assisted in the first registration last October have volunteered their services for the second registration. Texas has been fortunate in the patriotic response of both organizations and individuals in this connection.

New forms are being sent to all local boards, it was announced, since slight changes have been made in the procedure since the first registration last fall. General Page indicated that there would be approximately 65,000 men registered in Texas on July 1, or about 8 per cent of the total registration last October. Registration will be conducted between the hours of 7 a. m. and 9 p. m., he said.
