LIGHTS GO OUT-GAMES DELAYED

Lakeview Again Leading In Softball League; Play To Be Resumed Monday

Delay in the completion of the first half of the Hall County Softball League was caused this week when the lights on the diamond were removed Tuesday to be used at the stadium during the Old Settlers Reunion and Rodeo.

Only two more games are yet to be played to complete the first half. Lakeview, leading in the league now since the Phillips team was downed Monday night, will play the Fire Department in one of the games; and the FFA boys will play Cudd's in the second remaining tilt.

Lakeview now has five victories and one loss to their credit, while Phillips has five victories and two losses. A victory over the Fire Department would give the Lakeview team a clear title to the first half prizes. The game will probably be played next Monday (Continued on page 12)

Funeral Services For Mrs. Phillips Are Held at Carey

Rites Are Conducted by J. D. Rothwell of Seymour In Carey Church of Christ

Funeral services were held last Saturday afternoon from the Church of Christ in Carey for Mrs. Margaret Virginia Phillips, 75, who died Thursday of last week. The rites were conducted by Minister J. D. Rothwell of Seymour.

Survivors include J. W. Phillips of Carey, Mrs. H. G. McJunkins of Sweetwater, Mrs. Nora Bell Day of Carey, J. D. Phillips of San Angelo, Mrs. Mildred Patillo of Carey, A. T. Phillips of Odessa, R. F. Phillips of Guyton, Okla., L. O. Phillips of Vidor, 23 grandchildren, and 12 great grandchildren.

In charge of floral arrangements were Margaret Ruth Efrid, Jewel Jones, Helen Frisbie, Mary Anis Bowman, Emogene Williams, and Alice Holtman. Pallbearers were Tom Arnold, Paul Arnold, L. O. Jones, Jack Lanham, Roy Doss, and Paul Efrid. The Womack Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Golden Jubilee Edition Quite A Paper-60 Pages, 4,283 Names, 87 Pictures

Last week's issue of The Democrat was the largest ever published by Hall County newspaper.

In 1935, on the first anniversary of The Daily Democrat, the publishers at that time came out with a 64-page edition, four more pages than last week's paper, but eight of those 64 pages were the regular Sunday comics which were included in each Sunday issue of The Daily Democrat.

The Democrat last week, then, was the largest in number of pages of any newspaper ever published and printed in Hall County. Little time was available up to the week for the staff to work up any statistics on the Golden Jubilee edition. But here are a few of the figures which will make you sit up and take notice. First of all, the 60 pages contained the amazing number of 4,283 names of people. Some of these names were of old timers, some of them of new comers, some of them people who are now dead, and some of them out-of-town citizens. The edition contained 169 stories and articles, and, in addition, 45 sketches of the lives of "Golden Pioneers," the title given to

Plans Complete For Democrat's Election Party

Plans for the regular election party, to be held at The Democrat office Saturday night, were completed this week as arrangements were made to post returns on the various races on a large board in front of the office.

Everyone is invited to attend the party. The Democrat publishers said, and obtain the latest results on all races.

Returns on all county and district races will be in full, it was announced, as quickly as the results are turned in. State race returns will be posted as often and as quickly as possible, and will be based on radio reports.

The board on which the returns are to be posted will be placed in front of The Democrat office. Those interested may also obtain the results by telephoning The Democrat office as the returns come in.

History of County Released for Sale By Mrs. Inez Baker

Books to Be Sold During Reunion; Books Consist of 250 Pages, 40 Illustrations

The authentic and comprehensive history of Hall County, "Yesterday in Hall County," by Mrs. Inez Baker, went on sale this week as the first shipment of the books was received in Memphis.

A large number of the books, which sell for $2 each, were reserved in advance. Mrs. Baker said. Only 1,000 copies were printed. A booth will be set up near the old settlers tabernacle where the books will be sold, the author said.

Each of the books consists of about 250 pages, contains 40 illustrations, and is bound in an attractive cloth finish. Publishers were The Book Craft of Dallas. Work on the book has been in progress for a number of months. Mrs. Baker was first induced to write this history by an editorial in the Amarillo Daily News in 1938, and immediately began her work.

Since that time, she has spent a great deal of time interviewing old settlers, and gathering material from legal records, museums, and other places.

Chapters include "Early Life on the Plains" (as related to Hall County), "Legal and Judicial History of Hall County," "Ranch History," "Settlement," "Transportation," "Industry and Agriculture," "Newspapers, Finance, Professional Men and Women," "Education," "Religious and Fraternal Organizations," "Woman's Clubs and Civic Organizations," "Military History," and "Tales of Yesterday."

those who have lived in Hall County 50 years or more.

There was a total of 2,262 columns of actual reading material. A column inch is one inch long and two inches wide. For every column inch of reading material, the linotype operator had to hit 272 keys, as did the typewriter operators. Both the linotype operator and the typewriter operators together struck 827,528 keys, which, incidentally, is a lot of keys.

Pictorial material comes in for its share of the glory, too, as the paper carried a total of 87 pictures, excluding those used in the advertisements. Of the 87, 58 were pictures of individuals, and 29 were pictures with more than one person shown or pictures of edifices. A total of 4,887 column inches of advertising was included in the edition, carrying the ads of 195 business houses and individuals. If all the material in one single copy were placed in a Texas form about the size of a Texas Almanac, the book would contain about 540 pages. If all this material were stretched (Continued on page 12)

E. M. EWEN DIES FOUR DAYS BEFORE REALIZING ONE OF HIS AMBITIONS

E. M. Ewen is not present to realize one of his ambitions of the later years of his life—that of presiding at the sessions of the Old Settlers Association during the Golden Anniversary festivities of Hall County.

Mr. Ewen died last Saturday afternoon, less than four days before the initial meeting of the association was scheduled to be held. He had been ill for several weeks, and during the past week his condition grew gradually worse.

Officials had hoped that some arrangements might be made for Mr. Ewen to talk by telephone to the old settlers during the sessions, if his condition permitted.

The president of the Old Settlers Association had served in that office since the group was organized five years ago. He was one of the leaders in getting the first reunion held in Hall County, and since that time has been active each year in the work.

Early in the year, Mr. Ewen went around to a number of the officials of last year's celebration. He told them at that time that he would not ask for their help again—all he wanted was for Hall County to have a "real Golden Anniversary" celebration.

When Mr. Ewen became ill a number of weeks ago, the leaders in the movement for the Golden Jubilee party began working (Continued on page 7)

Memorial Coins on Sale During Three Days of Festivity

To Be Distributed From Booth at Tabernacle; Funds Used for Monument

The coins commemorating the 50th anniversary of Hall County are being sold throughout the three-day celebration at a booth near the tabernacle at 8th and Main streets.

A drive to sell the coins, 2,000 of which were ordered and received, was held about two months ago, and almost one thousand of them were sold at that time.

The monument erected to the memory of old settlers and pioneers of the county, which will be dedicated Friday morning, is being paid for with funds derived from sale of the coins.

A sufficient number of the coins to pay for the monument have not yet been sold, members of the memorial coin committee said this week, and all Hall Countians, as well as other pioneers of the Panhandle, are urged to get one or more of the medals.

The monument will be unveiled Friday morning, following the dedication address given by Judge H. E. Hoover of Canadian. Those attending the dedication services will gather at the tabernacle, and, following Judge Hoover's address, will march to the courthouse square.

Representation of the monument will be made by Sam J. Hamilton, Memphis attorney, and then the monument will be unveiled as the audience sings "America," accompanied by the Memphis Cowboy Band.

Amarillo Group to Be in City Today

One of the largest delegations to be sent from Amarillo this year is expected in Memphis this Thursday.

The delegation will be headed by Bill Beecher, Clay Thornton, N. F. Nelson, and others, according to a story in Monday's Amarillo Globe. In the caravan will be the Legion bus carrying the drum and bugle corps.

"Memphis certainly sent one of the largest delegations of the season to Amarillo and we ought to repay the visit with a delegation just as large," the article quoted Mr. Nelson, manager of the traffic and industrial departments for the Amarillo chamber of commerce, as saying.

The caravan was scheduled to start at 9 o'clock from the Amarillo chamber of commerce office.

July 31 Is Deadline For Registering of School Transfers

Last Call for Transfer Of Students Is Made by County Superintendent

A last call for student transfers to be registered in the office of the county superintendent was issued this week by Tops Gilreath, superintendent. The last day on which transfers can be registered is July 31.

All transfers of students from one school district to another, regardless of whether the school transferred from has the grade which is sought, must be registered on or before July 31, the county superintendent said.

Transfers to be registered include those who move from one district to another, even though the district previously attended may have the grade which is desired, it was pointed out. Some people have misunderstood the ruling, Miss Gilreath said, and (Continued on page 12)

$30 Is Taken In Daylight Robbery

Approximately $30 in cash was stolen from the office of the Miller-Miller freight company in a daylight robbery last Saturday afternoon.

Employees of the company were temporarily out of the office for a few moments, Sheriff W. C. Anderson said, and the money was taken during their absence. A man was being held in the city jail early this week in connection with the theft.

More Than 2,000 Throng Sidewalks Of Turkey for Night of Celebration

When Turkey citizens celebrate, they all turn out—and along with them turned out a large group of Memphians, a crowd from Estelline, a group from Quitaque, and still others from other towns.

The celebration, held last Friday night, was a preliminary activity to the Golden Jubilee celebration being held this week in Memphis.

More than 2,000 people thronged the streets and sidewalks, crowded the cafes and even took over one and almost made it into a dance hall, and kept the drug store soda jerkers so busy they hardly knew what was going on.

Highway patrolmen were there in full force to keep the main street open for the highway traffic, but most of the time the road was too crowded with spectators for traffic to get through.

The program for the night started off with the Memphis boosters presenting their variety of numbers, with Carroll Smyers,

Opening Day Highlights

Little things, just plain talk between two old-timers or among a group of old-timers, unnoticed happenings—these are the things which make a get-together, such as the Old Settlers Reunion and Rodeo, the enjoyable times and days of festivities which they really are. Here's just a few of these little, insignificant, and yet so important, things which took place on the opening day:

J. E. Couch of Turkey, forgetting that the reunion was going on, and telling a candidate that his home housed two votes and that that candidate was to get both of them.

Old-Timer John Bownds saying that he didn't get in town in time to attend the morning session of the Old Settlers Association, but he was here in time to see O'Daniel—although he couldn't get close enough to hear him.

Two fiddlers, trying to find out how to enter the old fiddlers contest, and finally locating A. W. Howard, who was in charge of the event.

The last of the ten entrants in the pony express race finally arriving in Memphis. He said he held no grudge. His only trouble, he said, was that he "ran out of gas" too early in the race. At one time, he said, he did speed up and get in sight of the leading runner, Leland Timmons.

B. F. Cope, in a conversation with L. T. Price, saying it may be dry now, but he can remember when it was really dry 11 years ago. Cope is vice president of the Old Settlers Association, and Price is an old-timer from Brownfield.

Slaves of the old U. S. entered into one conversation when H. Gilmore and W. Q. Montgomery of Turkey were discussing how their grandfathers and great-grandfathers freed the Negro slaves way back in the 1860's.

J. C. Neeley telling O. D. Bray Sr. how he (Neeley) went to Amarillo years ago, met up with a cowboy friend, and really "painted the town red."

W. P. Cagle Jr. of Pedro, Calif., a long way from home, but enjoying visiting with old friends. Cagle, who is a former resident of Memphis, attends the reunion each year.

The largest political audience in the history of Memphis hearing W. Lee O'Daniel make his regular daily noon broadcast from the courthouse square in Memphis, and also hearing him repeat his new slogan, "There ain't gonna be no run-off." At the same time, crowds of other spectators stood in business houses and heard the same address over their radios. The thousands in the audience cheered frequently during the address. O'Daniel later rode in the parade.

MUSIC, RODEO, SPEECHES FILL DAY'S PROGRAM

W. Lee O'Daniel Rides in Pioneer Parade Downtown

The first day of Hall County's Golden Jubilee celebration is over and more than 20,000 early arrivals had a full day of activities—starting with the pony express race early in the morning, and ending with the dances held at night.

The heat failed to slow down the spirits of the old timers who gathered at the tabernacle at Eighth and Main Streets to visit, hear speeches and music, and witness the old fiddlers contests.

Winners of the first three places in the fiddlers contest were Alva Wood of Wellington, Jack Kizzah of Stamford, and Pete Chandellir of Wellington.

Elmore Dodson, Collingsworth County pioneer, was unable to be present to give the response to the welcome address given by District Attorney John Deaver, so John Gist of Odessa and E. H. Watt of Giles addressed the tabernacle gatherings.

Following the address of Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel from the courthouse square shortly afternoon, the pioneer parade was held, and sidewalks were crowded with spectators. The parade featured more than 100 horseback riders. (Continued on page 7)

Matador Cowboy Winner of Turkey To Memphis Race

Leland Timmons Finishes 37-Mile Run in Two Hours, 25 Minutes; Awarded $50

Finishing a full 10 minutes ahead of nine other contestants, Leland Timmons of Matador won the pony express race from Turkey to Memphis by crossing the finish line in two hours and 25 minutes. The race officially opened activities Wednesday morning for the three-day Golden Jubilee celebration.

Second in the race was Jimmy Blackwell of Turkey, and third was Ralls Miller, also of Turkey. The only woman entry, Miss Vurlyn Rogers, who lives 12 miles south of Silvertown, finished in 7th place.

The race started at 6:15 o'clock from Turkey, and was run over a marked course, which measured 37 1/2 miles. The winning rider reached Memphis at 8:40 o'clock. The next two riders, Blackwell and Miller, were at least 10 minutes behind Timmons. Miller finished only about four feet in front of the rider who came in fourth.

Timmons was awarded $50 for his first place money, Blackwell got $30 for second place, and Miller got $20 for coming in third. Each of the other contestants who finished the race were given two season tickets to the rodeo.

A large number of Turkey citizens, and some from Memphis, accompanied the riders on the route from Turkey. Ed Foxhall of Memphis and Roy Russell of Turkey were in charge of the event.

Fire Burns Case In Local Pharmacy

Fire, originating from an unknown cause about 12 o'clock Saturday night, burned a show case and damaged a portion of the soda fountain of Durham-Jones Pharmacy.

Whether the fire started from wiring on a cash register in the front part of the building or whether a cigarette stub had ignited loose papers at the soda fountain is not known. O. B. Jones said Monday.

The glass in the cash register, and some damaged wooden part of the soda fountain was broken. The material on the register was broken. (Continued on page 12)

A simple method has saved many women a lot of suffering! It is based on the fact that headaches, nervousness, cramp-like pain are often symptoms of functional dysmenorrhea due to malnutrition.

Help for this condition so often follows the use of CARDUI, because it usually increases the appetite and the flow of gastric juice; thus aids digestion and helps build physical resistance. Usual result is less periodic distress.

Many who take CARDUI a few days before and during "the time" have found this helps ease periodic discomfort. Women have used CARDUI for more than 50 years!

Five Girls Enter Dalhart Contest

Canadian, Texline, Stratford, Shamrock and Cross Roads, N. M., have definitely promised entries in the first annual XIT Cowgirl Sponser contest that will be a high spot of the XIT Reunion in Dalhart August 3-6. Lubbock, Midland, and Dumas have tentatively arranged for entries, Charlie Coombes, general XIT chairman, has announced.

Cross Roads will send Miss Fern Sawyer; Canadian will send its ready-made nationally-known cowgirl, Sydna Yekley; Shamrock will send 12-year-old Sally Small, who has been riding several years and in sponser contests has already won a second prize at Memphis and a third at Clarendon. Other entries have not been named.

First prize is a saddle horse; second is a specially-made saddle; third is a pair of shop-made boots.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to take this opportunity to express our thanks to all the friends and neighbors for their acts and deeds of kindness during the illness and death of our mother and wife. We also appreciate the many floral offerings which were given. May God rest with you, and may you be shown the same kindness in your time of grief.

S. H. Wills and children.

John Gist of Midland arrived in Memphis Monday for the Old Settlers' Reunion.

Mrs. Bertha Carter, Mrs. Charlotte Carter, and Sheldon Carter visited in Midland last weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Montgomery, Elizabeth Johnston, and Tommie Noel spent Sunday in Frederick with Mr. and Mrs. Milton Tomlinson and daughter Ann. Mr. and Mrs. Montgomery are grandparents of Mrs. Tomlinson.

Turkey Bootlegger Released on Bond

One Turkey bootlegger, who was doing a thriving business just before the candidate speaking there last Friday night, was caught in the act by Sheriff W. C. Anderson.

About 30 cans of iced beer were taken by the sheriff, and the man placed under arrest. He was released on bond shortly after.

Mrs. George Carter and children of Lubbock are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. V. Clark.

Beard Disputes Salisbury Article In Pioneer Edition

Inference in Historical Story Causes Childress Man to Write Correction

Editor's Note: The following letter was received this week by The Democrat from G. D. Beard of Childress. The Democrat did not mean for the article referred to reflect the opinions of the writer, but the opinions of those old timers who have handed down the materials which were used in the article. There can, of course, be little doubt that General Dodge did contribute greatly to the building of Hall County, as did every settler who came to Hall County in the early days.

Dear Sirs: I have read the article in your Pioneer Edition, page 8, section 5, entitled "Salisbury 'The Town' Back in '89" written by someone that did not sign their name.

The ignorance of this person as to the facts is no doubt excusable, but the defaming of the character and attacks on the integrity of people mentioned is not.

Alex Sime was not imported to this country by any one. He was a true pioneer, an honorable man (a Scotchman and not a blue-bellied Yankee), with a fine family who was the original grantee from the state of Texas of land adjacent to and part of the townsite of Salisbury.

Mr. Blanchard, I did not know, but the writer states that he was a newspaper man, and as such I have no doubt he was instrumental in bringing settlers to Hall County.

Perhaps he and Mr. Sime sold lots in Salisbury, it is possible that they needed the money, but that did not make them... The Pan Handle... party, of which R. E. E... was president and J. C... was sales agent, and... and sold the lots in... townsite. I don't... G. M. Dodge was ever... in his life.

2 Typical experiences WITH THE FREE MILE-DIAL

CAREFUL SHOPPER type tells you:

"I'm driving the car all day while my husband's at work, so I really buy most of the family gasoline out of my own budget. If I can get even 2 or 3 miles more to a gallon I want to know it. That's why I went to a Conoco station for my Mile-Dial—not just because it's free, but because it really lets you know your true mileage, exactly as a woman wants to really know about anything she pays for. I like buying tested things—the same as any up-to-date consumer—and this certified Mile-Dial is like giving us consumers our own easy way of testing Conoco Bronz-z-z for mileage.

"Anyway, it's almost like a game, dialing your correct mileage on the Mile-Dial—awfully clever. My husband says so, too. By the way, my driving is just as economical as his, the way it proves out on our Mile-Dial. Isn't that interesting? And we're keeping on dialing to make sure of our average in all different driving. Right now, after 61 gallons of Bronz-z-z in all, we're a good 200 miles ahead of what we used to expect from that much gasoline."

"DIDN'T CARE" type of driver says:

"I didn't much care what gasoline I bought to go along. But this Mile-Dial being free, it really daring you to keep your own close tabs on Conoco Bronz-z-z gasoline, I went for it. And now I know why they've got the gimp on the Mile-Dial tell all. For you can see by the Mile-Dial right on the dash that I've gone 37 miles on 37 gallons of Conoco Bronz-z-z.

"Now if you'll watch this smart Mile-Dial work—next to automatic—you'll see it give the answer: ... above 17 miles to the gallon. Bronz-z-z in this big eight, around town here. But I'm leaving for about a 700-mile trip mostly open country. So don't be surprised if I even get better mileage. And don't say that's a brag, because you can't help believing in Mile-Dial. Besides settling the economy of Conoco Bronz-z-z it's sort of swell fun dialing your honest mileage. The Conoco boys know what their gasoline's got to give you Mile-Dial free. I'll bet you would like one yourself and they're free as air, around a Conoco station. You ought to get quick and get your...

Wake Lazy Insides All-Vegetable Way

Thousands turn to this way to get relief when they're lazy intestinally and it has them headachy, bilious, irritable, listless: A quarter to a half-teaspoonful of spicy, aromatic, all-vegetable BLACK-DRAUGHT on your tongue tonight, a drink of water, and there you are! Thus, it usually allows time for a night's rest; acts gently, thoroughly next morning; so relieving constipation's headaches, biliousness, bad breath.

BLACK-DRAUGHT'S main ingredient is an "intestinal tonic-laxative," which helps impart tone to lazy bowel muscles. The millions of packages used prove its merit. Economical, too: 25 to 40 doses, 25c.

Varied Program Given at Rotary

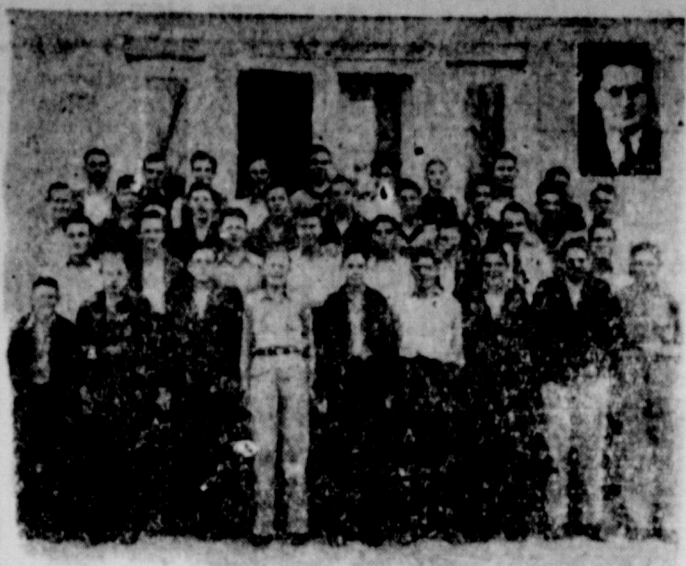

The program of the Rotary Club at the regular Tuesday luncheon was somewhat varied this week as a trick roper performed, and a group of four musicians played. The trick roper was Ace Newton, one of the star performers at the rodeo this week. The Rotarians expressed themselves as being well-pleased with the roper's performance. The musicians were J. W. West, bandmaster, James Fultz, Earl Springer, and R. E. Martin Jr. West played two saxophone solos, "Schon Rosmarin," by Fritz Kreisler, and "Saxanolo," by Doerr, accompanied by Martin on the piano. A quartet of the four played the first movement from "Hayden Sonata," No. 5, "in an arrangement for four clarinets. Martin at the piano then accompanied the other three on their clarinets in playing "Merriment Polka," by Barnard.

Windows Depict Life in Early Days

The two windows of Greene Dry Goods have been made into scenes depicting early life in Hall County by Mrs. R. S. Greene, wife of the manager of the store, R. S. Greene. One of the windows contains life-size dummies of a man and woman, dressed in old-fashioned clothes, and seated at a table set with the type of ware used in the early days. In one corner of the room is an old-fashioned wash stand, with a pail of water and a wash pan on the crude bench. The other window, entitled "Now and Then," shows the contrast between clothes worn in the early days by pioneer women, and those worn in the present day. One of the most contrasting articles is the pair of shoes, with high tops and pointed toes, which show how the style in woman's footwear has changed.

Logs Make Store Front 'Old-Timey'

The front of Perry Bros. store has been decorated with logs to make it resemble the store of the early days. The logs, which have been placed about the front windows, give the store front the appearance of one of the old-fashioned log-cabin stores. Miss Lena Belle McCrary of Lone Wolf, Okla., is the house guest of Miss Anita Meacham. Visitors in Childress Thursday night were Miss Bettye Johnson, Burl Springer, George Carter, Jake Webster, Dortha Fultz, Rebecca Ray Weaver, J. C. McClure Jr., Miss Anita Meacham, Bobby Clark, Berkeley Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Garold Kunkler, and Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Rule. C. T. Johnson attended a convention of the managers of the J. C. Penney stores in Abilene Monday and Tuesday.

Clarendon FFA Chapter Made No. 1 Group in Texas at State Meeting

Chosen as the most outstanding FFA chapter in Texas, bringing the honor to the Panhandle for the first time in the history of the organization, the Clarendon chapter will represent Texas in the national chapter contests, to be scored in September and October of this year. The award was made to the Clarendon group at the state FFA convention, held in Houston July 11-13, and state officials said that the chapter members had done the most outstanding year's work in the history of the organization. The Clarendon chapter is one of 621 FFA groups in the state, with the total membership of the chapters showing more than 27,000. Three local livestock and poultry shows were sponsored by the members during the 1939-40 school year, and every member exhibited animals in two of the three shows. Twenty-one grand champion baby beeves, fat barrows, and poultry were exhibited by the Clarendon youths at four of the state's major shows and fairs, and a total of $1,945 in cash premiums was won by members at these shows. A number of other projects were also carried out. At present, the chapter has a bright outlook on next year's work, according to information from J. R. Gillham, vocational agriculture instructor and leader of the group.

Hall County Maps Show Ranch Area

If you want to know where some of the early ranches which extended into Hall County are located, the maps in Thompson's Hardware Store window will help you quickly locate them. Two maps of the county were drawn by Dave Price, an employee of the store. One of the maps shows the location and boundaries of the early ranches, and the other shows the present network of roads, rivers, and streams in the county. The map showing the early ranches also points out many of the places where old settlers, such as J. M. Lane, D. H. Davenport, and Bob Crabb first settled when they moved to Hall County. In addition, the map shows the place where Geo. M. Thompson settled in 1909 when he first moved to the county. Mr. Thompson later bought the hardware store, which is now the oldest business house in Memphis.

Another 8 Days' Summary of— WHAT HAPPENED 'OVER THE SEAS'

Editor's note: The following is a summary of the European war news during the past 8 days. News of July 23 is given first, followed by news of July 16, and the next 6 days.

JULY 23

The game of "watchful waiting" was still continuing as Nazi authorities said that the British had "cast their dice," and as the British awaited with readiness the invasion expected from Germany. Reports indicated that increased activity was going on in the Dutch and Belgian dockyards and railroads, which led observers to believe that the time of the invasion will not be far away. The reports indicated that the Germans were apparently concentrating military supplies in the western lowlands, the logical place for the invasion to come from.

The British, in the meantime, announced a new income tax, and a new tax on the luxuries of that empire's citizens. The budget for the year totals more than 13 billion dollars.

Rumania, Bulgaria, and Hungary prepared to lay their problems before Germany at Salzburg Friday, when Rumania may be asked to give up a portion of Transylvania.

At Havana, representatives of the United States proposed that all American republics join in a mandate over European possessions in the Western Hemisphere to keep their sovereignty inviolable until Europe's war is over, or eventually to give them independence.

JULY 16

The British were kept busy on all fronts as Italy hammered at the forces of Great Britain and as Japan threatened new clashes with British and American interests by pushing expansionist plans in the Far East.

Italian bombs fell on the Egyptian port of Alexandria again, and unidentified planes appeared to have started a fire by a new bomb attack on Gibraltar.

German bombers attacked the Scottish coast and a camp at Scapa Flow, and British planes dumped more explosives on German bases and arms factories.

Japan moved to the advantage of Britain's position in Europe by a stronger drive for a dictated peace with China and for the spread of Japanese influence throughout Asia and the South Seas.

JULY 17

The lull in the European war continued, but the eyes of the world were turned on Japan as that nation's government gave way to a militaristic group bent on complete Japanese domination of the Orient.

The new premier is Prince Konoye, and he went about quickly gathering in a cabinet composed of leaders who want the rich possessions of conquered European nations.

Britain consented to close the Burma road, the Japanese announced. The road, which is China's vital supply route, has been causing much of the trouble between Japan and Great Britain.

The United States opposed the closing of the road.

Another anti-American rally was held by the Japanese in Shanghai. The Orientals demanded an apology for the treatment of several Japanese in the American colony two weeks ago.

No large action was seen in the Mediterranean, although the British and Italians continued to scrap with each other there.

President Roosevelt was nominated for a third term in a precedent-breaking move. The Democratic party adopted a platform opposed to fighting abroad.

JULY 18

Most of the activities for the day were confined to speeches, victory celebrations, and clamors by the war chieftains for more territory.

German bombers, however, rained more of their missiles of death and destruction on the British isles, while the British were awaiting the mass attack which is expected to start any time from the Nazis.

The famous rock of Gibraltar figured in the day's activities as long air raids from unidentified planes were made on the fortress.

JOHN PAUL JONES LEADING CANDIDATE

John Paul Jones of New London, Texas, will be in the run-off for the office of Railroad Commissioner, is the prediction of his friends all over the state. Jones is one of the best qualified men in the race for this important office due to his 25 years experience in the oil field of Texas.

Jones favors raising the present 7,000 pound truck load limit, citing the fact that surrounding states have raised this limit to much larger figures, resulting in handicapping Texas truckers and shippers. He favors high wages and better working conditions in all branches of labor. Jones also favors payment of the old age pensions without further delay. Remember JOHN PAUL JONES tomorrow!

(Political advertising paid for by Clint Howard, former resident of Memphis and a friend of John Paul Jones.)

General Franco of Spain has served notice that that nation intends to regain the rock.

If the Axis powers captured the rock, it was pointed out, Great Britain's life-line thru the Mediterranean will be cut off. As a result, British ships would have to travel around Africa's southern tip to reach certain colonies.

The celebrating was done in Berlin, as victorious Nazi troops were returning home. At the same time the Nazi high command was making announcements concerning air raids on Britain during the day.

In the United States, the war department disclosed plans for the formation of an experimental unit of parachute troops and for mass training of air corps bombardment crews.

JULY 19

Little Adolf Hitler used up an hour and 35 minutes to offer Great Britain "still another appeal"—this time the last—to reason, and the British scorned the offer for peace and answered with air raids.

The British evidently did not like Hitler's offer, and apparently it would have to be on the Germans' terms. Hitler gave no indications of the terms which would have to be agreed upon, but he did make it clear that the peace terms would have to be his own.

The Nazis launched one of the widest and heaviest air raids Britain ever has experienced, and at the same time the British air force bombed German factories and military storage places.

Off the southeast coast of England, more than 150 German and British planes fought it out. The British defenses shot down at least 11 of the German aerial raiders, and the Germans downed 15 British pursuit planes, it was reported.

Closer association between Japan and the Rome-Berlin axis was expected as the new Japanese foreign policy went into effect. The new government is of the totalitarian type, under the regime of Premier Prince Fumimaro Konoye.

In Shanghai, Hallett Abend, correspondent for the New York Times, was assaulted in his apartment by two Japanese who seized several pieces of manuscript after demanding "all his anti-Japanese writings."

JULY 20

The Nazis were still angry because England had rejected their offer of peace. But Great Britain did not seem to mind, and the two nations squared off against each other.

Neither of the two had made any great offensive against the other, however, but both were apparently practicing the "Watchful waiting" policy.

The German press unleashed an attack of words on the regime of Winston Churchill, urging the British to break off from the government of the present prime minister. There was no hint in a speech made by Hitler that the Nazis were letting up in their preparation for the great attack which the British are expecting.

In the United States, Roosevelt signed a bill authorizing 70 per cent or four billion dollar in-

If Cotton Don't Make 'Scents'—Just Try Onions

Farmers in Hall County during the past few days may have been having trouble making "cents," but L. M. Thornton, who lives in town, has the solution by making "scents."

Mr. Thornton gathered 34 pounds of onions from a garden spot at his home in Memphis, and the spot consists of only 90 square feet.

He immediately applied a little simple mathematics, and figured that on an acre of land he could raise 16,622 pounds of onions. And at four cents a pound he could take in $664.88 on the acre's crop.

To say nothing of the million halitosis "scents" he could make.

increase in the expenditures for naval strength. Construction has been started on 92 vessels during the past 40 days, officials said, and the new bill authorizes immediate negotiations for 200 new combat vessels.

JULY 21

Three small nations gave up their independence to Russia. The countries forfeiting their independence were Lithuania, Latvia, and Estonia, all of which were created following the World War 22 years ago.

The three nations proclaimed themselves as part of Soviet Russia, and the Communist parliaments in each nation, elected only a week ago, voted unanimously in wiping the independent nations out of existence.

Meanwhile the Germans kept sending out air raiding parties, despite the loss of 24 of their number in two days of accelerated air fighting. The story of which the British were proud was of the six British Hurricane fighters which swooped out of the clouds above the English Channel in the afternoon, destroying one of 80 German planes and drilling holes in many more.

Military experts in the United States announced that plans here will continue to be based on "tried and proved" tactics, and will not be altered because of German successes in Europe. Nothing sensational in the way of tactics were used by the Germans, the U. S. authorities said.

JULY 22

Latin American nations were offered leadership, and money, from the United States in a fight against the totalitarian system of self-sufficient economy by Secretary of State Cordell Hull before delegates to the second conference of foreign ministers.

Hull also called for joint trusteeship over any European territory in this Hemisphere threatened with transfer to any other European powers. It would be "suicidal," he said, for the American republics to fail to "recognize in time and not to prepare to meet fully and decisively" the dangers confronting them.

At the same time, President Roosevelt asked for half a billion from Congress to provide for building up the foreign trade of all the American nations. The money would be added to the capital and lending power of the Export-Import Bank.

 ever, hoping that make Mr. Ewen's
 a great celebration
 But Mr. Ewen never got to realize his ambition.

 The old settler was born in Chillicothe, Mo., December 23, 1866, making him 73 years, 6 months, and 27 days old at the time of his death.
 He came to Texas, and finally settled in Floyd County where he lived for a number of years. He was living in that county at the time of his marriage to Miss Bertie Pyle of Lakeview.

Mr. and Mrs. Ewen came to Hall County in 1896 to make their home. Mrs. Ewen died slightly more than a year ago.
 Since moving to Hall County,
 Mr. Ewen has been active in several lines. He was interested in the cooperative movement of farmers, and helped in organizing the Farmers Union Gin Company and the Farmers Union Supply Company. He was a director of the supply company at the time of his death, and had served as president until his health became bad a few months ago. He was the first manager of the supply company store in Memphis.

 He was also a part owner of the E. M. Ewen and Son stock farm of Estelline, which specializes in prize-winning shorthorn cattle and Rambouillet sheep.
 Funeral services for Mr. Ewen were held from the First Baptist Church in Memphis Sunday afternoon, with Rev. S. F. Martin, pastor, conducting the rites, assisted by Rev. E. C. Cargill, Presbyterian pastor, and Rev. E. L.
 Yeats, Methodist pastor.
 Survivors include two sons,
 John Ewen of Estelline, and E.
 M. Ewen Jr. of Wichita Falls, and two daughters, Mrs. Sam J.
 Hamilton of Memphis and Mrs.
 Roy Lagow of Marshall.

Election Time—
 night program were E. E. (Red) Walker and Stansell Clement, candidates for state representative.
 The other candidate, Paul Eubank, was unable to be present for the speaking.
 Both Curtis Douglass and Max
 Boyer, state senatorial candidates, addressed audiences on the courthouse square last Saturday afternoon. Douglass made a short address Saturday night at the regular speaking. Boyer was represented by Rush Record of Child-dress, and Grady Hazelwood, the third candidate in the race, was represented by Hayden Goodnight of Memphis.
 Four congressional candidates,
 Lewis M. Goodrich of Shamrock, Allen Harp of Lakeview, E. T.
 Miller of Amarillo, and James O.
 Cade of Amarillo, appeared on the program, and Deskins Wells of Wellington was represented by Logan Cummings, county superintendent of Collingsworth County.
 Only one gubernatorial candidate was represented—Col. Ernest O. Thompson of Amarillo, who was represented by Ewing
 Adams of Austin.
 Four candidates for governor spoke in the city during the past week. Jerry Sadler spoke Thursday afternoon of last week, Col.
 Thompson Monday night, Harry Hines Tuesday afternoon, and W.
 Lee O'Daniel Wednesday afternoon. Large crowds heard each speaker.
 Election judges for Hall County will be as follows (the number of each judge's precinct follows his name): Sam J. Hamilton, 1;
 W. E. Watson, 2; C. E. Wicker,
 3; J. B. Smith, 4; W. F. Holland,
 5; M. A. Barron, 6; T. J. Cope, 7;
 J. H. Young, 8; J. F. Mann, 9; N.

 New Supervisor
 Wynn Goode, former area supervisor of the Federal Surplus Commodities Corporation in Paducah, Ky., arrived this week in Memphis to assume the duties of supervisor of this district. He replaces Frank Ebaugh Jr., who has been serving in that office for the past few months.

 Mr. Goode will live in Wichita Falls, as Mr. Ebaugh has been doing, and will have in his territory the stamp plan offices at Mem-chuck wagons, buggies, and was spiced throughout with politicians. The governor rode in the parade, waving to the spectators along the route. In addition, a large delegation from Childress was in the parade.

The "best rodeo in West Texas" opened at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon before an audience of approximately 3,000 people. More than 100 cowboys have entered the rodeo, and most of them got to "strut their stuff" before the two performances were over.

Special tribute was paid to E.
 M. Ewen, president of the Old Settlers Association who died last Saturday, at the opening of the afternoon rodeo performance.

Highlight of the rodeo performances included bronc riding by Toots Betsill of West Point, Miss., the only woman bronc-rider entered in the rodeo contests; trick riding by Fagin Miller, the same rider who appeared in last year's rodeo; trick roping by Ace Newton, recognized as one of the leading ropers of today; performances by Winks Adams and his trained horse and T. A. Phelps and his horse; and clown riding by Skeeter Crist of Harmon, Oklahoma, on his horse, "Red Pepper."

Another feature of the rodeo is the grand entry, when all contestants, including the sponsors, ride into the arena. Added to the list of local sponsors entered since last week are Genevieve McCool, representing Foxhall Motor Company; Annette Boswell, for Bishop's Grain and Coal Company
 Margaret Allen, for Pounds Cafe;

Miss Betye Johnson, winner of last year's local sponsor contest, will ride as Miss Memphis. Out-of-town sponsors already entered include Miss Sydna Yokley of Canadian, Miss Allie Ware of Turkey;
 Mrs. Homer Bell of Estelline, Miss
 Penelope Blocker of Clarendon,
 Miss Gussie Bullock of Howard's Ranch, Miss Irene Reimer of Mc-Murtry Bros. Ranch, Miss Emma Lee Fambro of Breckenridge,
 Fern Sawyer of Crossroads, N.
 M., Jeanne Raphael of Canadian,
 and Alice Cockrell of Pampa.
 Some of the out-of-town sponsors will compete in the regular barrel run contest for the $125 saddle.

Three dances were held, one at American Legion Hall, one in the building west of J. C. Penney's and one in the old post office building.

Officials are in readiness for the final two days, Chas. R. Brice of Roswell, N. M., was scheduled to speak Thursday morning, and Judge H. E. Hoover on Friday morning. Memorial services are set for Thursday morning, and the monument dedication services for Friday morning. Rodeo performances are to be held at 2:30 and 3:30 o'clock each day. The square dance contest Friday afternoon.

Lakeview Man Is Overcome by Heat

First mishap of the Old Settlers Reunion and Rodeo happened Wednesday afternoon when A.

 Mr. Newby was rushed to a of Texas, taxes on oil producing properties make up 68 per cent of all local tax levies including cit-

Texas homes and industries are the largest consumers of natural gas, using three-fourths of the

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC

PARTY LOYALTY

QUITE OFTEN WE HEAR some one say that there is no reason why anyone should be loyal to a political party, indicating that that "some one" believes that each voter should vote just as he or she desires in every election.

Those who do not believe in party loyalty are those who never take part in any of their accepted party's activities. These are the people who just sit back and do nothing as far as the party is concerned.

A large majority of the citizens of Texas call themselves Democrats, and vote in each Democratic primary. Occasionally, some of these so called Democrats backslide in their beliefs and switch over to the opposition—merely because they do not like the choice of the presidential and vice-presidential nominees.

There can be only one reason this is done. Those backsliders are generally the back-slappers, the people who always want to be on the winning side, no matter how they go about it. Those people are the ones who care nothing about how their party is run. They do nothing to help the party, and by so doing, they hurt the party.

In order to become an active member of the party, a person must participate in the various activities. There are precinct conventions, county conventions, state conventions, and the national conventions.

No one can start at the top and expect to get anywhere in the party's activities. Becoming an active member of a political party is just like becoming an active member of any organization—time is required.

If those people who do not approve of party loyalty would work for the party, and with the other members of the organization, then they too might get around to believing in party loyalty.

After all no person can really believe in anything of which he knows little. By working up in the party's organization, a person can soon have some say so in what's going on, and then he will become interested. Then he will believe in party loyalty.

Last week, the Democratic party chose its standard-bearers for the general election in November. The convention was made up of delegates who were chosen to attend the convention because they had worked for the Democratic party. They were chosen from the groups who believe in party loyalty.

These delegates are representatives of the people, just as the officers who are elected to serve in the public offices.

When the delegates nominated the party's candidates for president and vice-president, they did so because of their instructions from the state conventions. And when the delegates attended the state conventions, they were pledged to certain candidates because they were so instructed at the county conventions. And when the county delegates were pledged to certain candidates, they were instructed to do so at the precinct conventions.

In other words, what the delegates at the national convention did was done because they were so instructed in the early precinct conventions. That is one form of party loyalty, and is also the true form of representative government. What do you think of it?

ELECTION DAY

NEXT SATURDAY IS ELECTION DAY, and voters of the democratic party throughout the nation will go to the polls and choose their nominees for the various offices.

In Texas, of course, the Democratic primaries about all that counts, as far as the election of officers is concerned. Not since the carpet-bagger days following the war between the states has Texas had a Republican governor.

So next Saturday will be election day, and those who manage to get by without a run-off in the second primary in August will be proclaimed as winners.

It isn't often in the United States that elections get so "hot" fisticuffs, shooting scrapes, and the like occur. But it has happened, although not as in Mexico where bullets, not ballots, count.

As long as our elections go off in a peaceful manner, as long as we take the defeat of our favorite candidate in a sporting manner, as long as we preserve our rights of choosing our officers, then we, as a nation can still be called a democracy, and our democratic principles will prevail.

START OF THE HURDLE RACE

Press Paragraphs

CULLED FROM THE DEMOCRAT'S EXCHANGES

Too Bad

Will J. Miller in the Spearman Reporter: I suppose old man Hitler has written his last will and testament in the Panhandle of Texas, and it appears that the chamber of commerce only spent their money for a vacation trip for their country editor. However, all indications pointed towards Hansford County receiving a real lake if the program had continued. It is a disgrace to the splendid record made by Marvin Jones that at least one of the lakes built during the recent program is nothing more or less than a mud hole at this time. The lake has a nine thousand dollar bath house and no place for the bathers to wet their toes. The chances are this lake will eventually fill up and will provide recreation and entertainment for a pretty good slice of Panhandle people.

Where It Will Go

The Floyd County Hesperian: If you are a young man or woman without dependents and are making an income you are reasonably sure will reach as high as $70 per month net, remember you are going to get the news of the new defense program along in January, when income tax paying time comes. You will have to save up some money to meet that bill to which you have been unaccustomed. A thing that has been a remote matter of which you heard moneyed men talk heretofore will be yours to worry about, especially if you don't save up some money against the time. It is what they speak of in the newspapers of a lower standard of living. You will spend the money for ammunition, tanks and guns and motorized troops instead of for a payment on the car or new radio.

Another Danger

The Ochiltree County Herald: We are embarked on a war against the Fifth Column. The government has moved cautiously, but it is moving. Registration and observation of aliens will come soon—the Department of Justice has been given control of the Immigration Service. And far more severe measures are envisioned.

There is an obvious danger in all this—and a danger that is exceedingly hard to avoid. That danger is that anti-Fifth Column work may become a hysterical witch-hunt. People would exploit personal grudges by unjustly denouncing others to the authorities; vigilante groups, operating outside the law but supported by enraged public opinion, would come into being. The experience of the last war should be recalled, when we went to ridiculous lengths in prosecuting people of German and Austrian heritage whose patriotism was unqualified. Responsible government officials say that every effort will be given to protecting the innocent as well as apprehending the guilty—and that is one tough job.

Deserving

The Clarendon News: In all the history of Panhandle politics, The News doubts if any candidate for office ever had such unanimous, whole-hearted and enthusiastic support as the people of Collingsworth County are giving Deskins Wells in his effective campaign for Congress. The home-folks down Wellington way are making it their number one job these campaign weeks to write, travel, parade, talk, and advertise the estimable qualities of their hometown candidate for Congress. They are doing this in so persistent a manner that the whole district is being tremendously impressed.

There is only one publisher in the Panhandle section who holds a bitter jealousy against Wells, and the press generally is very open and generous regarding this brilliant young newspaper man's campaign, if not actually working for his election.

The loyalty exhibited by Wellington and Collingsworth County is monumental and must certainly be deserved. Anyway, it is a powerful reason why Wells is leading the field in the scramble for votes.

Their Candidate

The Canyon News: There are 12 candidates for Congress. The News knows all of them; has no particular opposition to any of them. We have simply applied the rule of reason and tried to eliminate those whom we did not believe the most available. In the first place, every candidate over 55 years of age should be eliminated, because we hire Congressmen to serve for a long time. Marvin Jones would never have rendered the service that he has without staying in Congress a long while. Likewise there might be the question of too much youth, and lack of practical experience on the part of the candidates. The ability to get along with people goes a long way in public office. Honesty, sobriety, past experience, and accomplishments go a long way in the selection of your new Congressman.

Considering all qualifications, we select Deskins Wells as our candidate. He has achieved great honors in his chosen profession, is a splendid executive; knows the people of the district and their needs; is just the right age to grow with the increasing demands of the office. He is more like Marvin Jones was 25 years ago when Jones started his public career than any other man in the race.

Gains of Righteousness Stressed

The International Sunday School Lesson for July 28

Text: Proverbs 1:7-10; Isaiah 5:11, 12, 15-23; Galatians 6:7-9

STRESS has always been placed on the substantial gains of righteousness and the well-disciplined life, in contrast with the foolishness of sinful and easy living.

Wisdom, not merely the opinion of philosophers, is the voice of experience, the well-considered judgment of those who derive their counsel from life itself. Wisdom is the product of observing what happens in life—the types of conduct that lead to unrest and disorder and unhappiness, even when sometimes they seem to lead to immediate advantage or gain.

The counsels of wisdom are based not upon a few temporary happenings or the experiences of a few lives. Their basis is found rather in long-range judgment concerning groups and nations as well as individuals, and developed out of observations that extend over a long enough time and over a wide enough area to make the judgments of eternity manifest as well as the judgments of time. It is these judgments of time and eternity that men rightly call the judgments of God.

HERE in our lesson, drawn from three sources, the Scriptural writers emphasize this elemental truth. The philosopher, writing in the Book of Proverbs, observes that "the fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom." It is in listening to sound instruction that young men take the right course in life, and it is in listening to the counsel of wisdom, which is changed by calling evil to light or by surrounding darkness with an approving light, and by sugar-coating pills with sweetness, eternal difference between good and wrong cannot be over.

PAUL, in his Epistle to the Romans, clinches all this strongly in his warning that they be not deceived, is not mocked, "he sows whatsoever a man sows, shall he also reap." Is anything that experiences man life and in history thoroughly bears out the words of Paul?

But let us not fail to see our lesson ends on a note of optimism. The law that a man sows he also reaps, to the things of the Spirit all that is good, as well as what is evil. "So" Paul "let us not fail to do: for in due season we reap, if we faint not."

The world never more needed than at present a sowing of good deeds and thoughts—of justice, love and goodwill. What hope there be if the sowing be violence, and hate, and lust of power?

Drip, Drip

"Daily Breeze" in the Claude News: "Hello! Hello! Is this the Smith apartment? Well, I'm Lewter, in the apartment beneath you. Listen, it's three in the morning now, and your party has kept me awake all night. Mrs. Vera Doyle is spending her vacation in Dallas with relatives. Word was received Sunday that her father, who lived in Dallas, had died.

Mrs. O. V. Alexander and A. G. Kesterson visited in Amarillo Wednesday of last week. Mary Jane and Martha Cayton of Hereford, nieces of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander, met them there and returned home with them for a visit.

Mrs. G. W. Davis of Corpus Christi and Nelda Earl Spinnett of Hale Center are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Bernie Davis. Mrs. Davis is Bernie Davis' mother.

Travis Cyfert left Saturday for El Paso where he will be employed.

Farmers' Income Shows Increase

Cash income from sale of products netted the American farmer $7,773,000,000 in 1939, an increase over 1938 but still below peak of 1929. Heavy line traces farm cash earnings since 1924 in billions of dollars. Inset shows where the farmer's 1939 dollar came from—34 cents from livestock, 38 cents from crops, 8 cents from government payments. Of this dollar the farmer never sees 12½ cents in cash, for he uses that much food from his farm on the table. Gross farm income in 1939, including parity payments and products retained for home consumption, totaled $9,769,000,000.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our gratitude and appreciation to the many friends and especially to the physicians and nurses staff for the devoted assistance rendered during the recent illness and death of our father, E. M. Ewen. Mr. and Mrs. John Ewen and Family, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Hamilton and Family, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Ewen Jr. and Family, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lagow and Family.

Brookhollow Fish Stories Growing - - And So Are Fish

The fish being caught at Brookhollow Lake keep getting bigger and bigger, and this week a new high in size was reached. C. E. Willhite, keeper at the lake, and Pete Price and Aldon Risenhoover of Vega brought to town a 30-pound catfish which they caught on their trot line Saturday night. The fish was about three feet in length. In addition to the catfish, the men also caught a 7-pound bass, a number of channel cat, some goggle-eyes, and a few bream. Fishing has been in progress at the lake since May 1, and a number of local men have made good catches.

Locals - Personals

Abc Murphy of Shamrock was a Memphis visitor Monday night and Tuesday. Mrs. C. F. Spieker of Abilene is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Hayes. MEMORIAL COIN

MEDALLION—Shown above is the artist's sketch of the memorial coins which are now on sale. Funds from the sale of the coins will be used in paying for the monument which will be unveiled on the courthouse square Friday morning. Below is a vivid description of the coin and its historical background.

DESCRIPTION OF COIN
On the coin you will note that the flat-topped hill located southeast of Memphis is the center figure on the medallion. This historic landmark has played an important part in the settling of this portion of the west. During early times, before the coming of the white man, it was the site of transient Indian camps, and in all probability the great Geronimo and his party of warring braves camped in its shelter while a lookout sentry stalked back and forth across its flat top watching for approaching danger.

Later, as the Indians were driven back and the big ranches began to take up the Panhandle, wagon-freighters from Vernon, Wichita Falls and Fort Worth used this mesa as a landmark to guide their trails through the vast open country that was later to become Hall County.

A few years later the ranches were broken up and sold for farm lands and settlers seeking new homes brought to this territory. Again this mesa played an important part in the formation of the county. When settlers saw this mesa they knew they had reached journey's end, for they had been given instructions to "go to the flat top hill and turn west" into the fertile valleys of Hall County.

The first permanent settlement in the county, Salisbury, was located in the shadow of this old hill; the first land claim office stood near its foot where early day settlers filed claim and took up land; and in unmarked graves in a forgotten cemetery, bones of early day citizens lie buried on its top.

In modern days when the railroad and the highway drove their way into the west, again this mesa played another role. As though guided by the trails of dead and

Hogan Says Golf Stars' Drives Are Exaggerated

BY ART BRONSON
SPORTS slants, from every angle: Ben Hogan, the 140-pound Texan who is hailed as one of the mightiest swatters in golf, claims most tales of 273-yard drives you hear about are gross exaggerations. . . . Although he is said to be one of the longest hitters, himself, Hogan reveals he doesn't average more than 240 yards . . . and assures duffers that even Jimmy Thomson, the king of all drivers, doesn't do better than 275 unless he has an elevated tee and a sun-baked fairway.

Ben Hogan . . . averages only 240 yards.

Joe Ezar, famed trick-shot goffer, has a new stunt. . . . Tees up four balls and hits them all with one swipe. . . . Add unusual summer jobs for college graders: Max Nunn, Hardin-Simmons lineman, peddles Bibles in Florida. . . . According to statistics more than 2000 new bowling alleys already have been installed in the United States this year for a new record.

NELSON POTTER, Philadelphia Athletics' pitcher, has equaled a record that stood for 28 years. . . . When he handled five put-outs in one game recently he tied a mark for pitchers set by Smoky Joe Wood of the Red Sox. . . . Jimmy Slatery, one-time light heavyweight king, teaches boxing in Ithaca, N. Y.

Only female citizen of Boys Town, Father Flannigan's famed school near Omaha, is five-month-old Colleen Corcoran, daughter of Football Coach Ken Corcoran. . . . Bob Kennedy, youthful White Sox third sacker, says he'll enroll at the University of Chicago next fall. . . . Having heard of the caliber of Indiana basketball, schools in Panama, Peru, Bolivia and other South American countries have invited the Hanover College team to make a tour down that way next winter. . . .

ELEANOR TENNANT, coach of Alice Marble, says biggest trouble with women tennis players is that they're afraid to "scramble" for shots, for fear they'll look ludicrous. . . . Jimmy Wilson, Jr., son of the Cincinnati Reds' coach, will enter Princeton on a scholarship next fall. . . . The lad's quite a catcher himself, say critics. Frank Zmak and Lee Stanfel, Santa Clara linemen, are breaking rock on Alcatraz this summer. . . . not as inmates, but as day laborers. . . . When Bill Dickey batted seventh against the Red Sox a short while back it was the lowest he had slumped in the Yankee batting order. . . . he has been with the club since even the mighty can fail.

Flossie Rodgers and Gordon Fitzhugh Wed in Portales

Miss Flossie Rodgers, daughter of Mrs. J. D. Cain of Memphis, and Gordon Fitzhugh of Clovis, N. M., were united in marriage on July 13 at the Methodist parsonage at Portales, N. M., with the pastor of the church officiating.

The only attendants were close friends of the couple.

Mrs. Fitzhugh was dressed in white with navy accessories and carried a bouquet of pink sweet peas.

The bride finished high school in Memphis and attended Fleming's Business College in Amarillo. Before her marriage she was employed by the State Unemployment Commission in Amarillo.

Mrs. Fitzhugh was a member of the Beta Sigma Phi sorority in Amarillo.

Mr. Fitzhugh is a well known business man in Clovis, N. M. He is a graduate of Clovis High School and of Hardin-Simmons University at Abilene. At present, he is in the Real Estate and Insurance business in Clovis.

After a trip to Colorado and Yellowstone National Park, Iowa, the couple will be at home in Clovis.

BISHOP HERE

Judge Henry S. Bishop, pioneer of the Panhandle and candidate for congress from the 18th district, was in Memphis this week in the interest of his campaigning.

Judge Bishop is attending the Old Settlers Reunion and Rodeo.

Miss Neville Wrenn left Friday for Boulder, Colo., where she will enter Colorado University for the last six weeks of summer school.

Miss Joan Thompson, Miss Ann Bunton, and Miss Vivian Taylor of Clarendon visited Miss Martha Thompson Tuesday.

Mrs. Owen Bybee and sons, Bruce and Lynn, of Childress were house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Partain the first part of the week.

Mrs. M. D. Fry and daughter Shirley Ann and Mrs. Rosson of Dallas are visiting Mrs. Fry's mother, Mrs. J. H. Norman.

Mrs. M. W. Ward of Cole, Okla., and Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Cochran and daughter of Purcell, Okla., are visiting Mrs. Mae Cochran.

Norman Fry of Dallas arrived in Memphis Friday to visit his grandmother, Mrs. J. H. Norman.

Mrs. Murphy Eason of Birmingham, Ala., is visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Cochran of Lakeview. Mrs. Eason is Mr. Cochran's sister.

Underwater Harpooning Latest Sport

Latest fad to hit the west coast is underwater harpooning, in which players dive with spears at target below the surface. Audrey Forker, Jean Thomas, and Marjorie Waldron are pictured having a try at the novel game at Long Beach, Calif.

Three Additional Dances Being Held

The number of dances being held during the three-day Golden Jubilee of Hall County was increased to eight this week when it was announced that three dances, one each night, were to be held at the American Legion Hall.

Music is being furnished by Ocie Stockard and his "Musical Brownies," a dance band featured over Station KGKO of Fort Worth. The dances are being sponsored by Jim Cornelius of Memphis.

Three cowboy dances, one ballroom dance, and the sponsor's dance are being sponsored by officials of the Old Settlers' Reunion and Rodeo Inc.

WEDNESDAY—7:45 p. m., S. S. officers and teachers meeting. 8:45 p. m., Prayer meeting. Bring the family and friends to all of the church services. We extend a cordial welcome to attend. Remember the mid-week prayer service and the Sunday school officers and teachers meeting. There is a place for every member of the family in the Sunday school and Training Union.

Mrs. A. D. McCrory, Mrs. W. C. Snow, and Mrs. Walter Snow of Ralls are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Sid Baker. Mrs. Baker is Mrs. McCrory's daughter.

Lorene Hill of Turkey is the house guest of Miss Betty Kellison.

Leather Goods on Display at Stores

Four local merchants believe in putting forth leather goods as a means of decorating their windows for the Old Settlers Reunion and Rodeo.

The stores are Selby Boot and Shoe Shop, Meacham's Pharmacy, Stanford's Pharmacy, and Norman's.

Selby's window features boots and other leather products made in his own shop. In the Stanford window, a saddle and a pair of boots, both prizes of the rodeo, are being displayed. Another saddle to be given away is in Meacham's window. In Norman's a variety of leather goods, used by cowboys, is on display.

Harrison's Have 'Old-Timey' Display

Some of the "older" of the old-fashioned household goods and other collections are on display in the window of Harrison's Hardware.

Two old pistols shown date back to the 1880's, and a piece of a plow used by W. M. Milam in 1889 in breaking land in Hall County is also shown.

The display also includes a stuffed, two-headed calf which was born near Lakeview and lived for eight days.

A hat rack, with horns as the "hanging place," is on display. The rack was made by Dewey Hendrix, using black walnut wood from trees raised in his own yard. A clock, which has been in continuous use for more than 50 years, is also on display.

First Payment on Bonds to Be Made

Notification was received this week by County Judge M. O. Goodpasture that the State Highway Department will make the first payment on the reimbursement to be made to Hall County for money which the county has paid for right of ways through the county.

The money will be paid over a period of about 10 years, Judge Goodpasture said, and the first amount, to be paid during 1940, will be approximately $9,000.

The payments will be applied on road bonds of the county as they come due, it was explained, and are to be made under the road bond assumption act passed by the last session of the Texas Legislature.

The regular service hours at the First Christian Church are as follows: Bible school 9:45 a. m. Sunday. Church services 11 a. m. and 8 p. m.

Christian Endeavor 7 o'clock Sunday evening.

Prayer meeting 8 o'clock Wednesday evening.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

E. C. Cargill, Pastor

Building not with spade and saw, cement or concrete, should we build our "World of Tomorrow," the church's "World of Tomorrow," but with ideas and ideals for which our Lord stood.

"Building a World of Brothers," "Building a World of Peace" are topics for thought in the "Young Peoples Sunday School Quarterly."

We with hundreds of others welcome to our community life this week a happy return of old settlers. Our doors are open to you, come in and make yourself at home again. Will be a pleasure to have good attendance in church services next Sunday.

PLASKA METHODIST CHURCH

Albert Cooper, Pastor

July 28 is preaching day at Plaska. Sunday School and League. We are planning a candle-light communion service at night. We would be delighted for every member to be present.

Remember that our revival begins at Friendship Friday night.

Rev. Frank Storey of Lakeview will do the preaching. Let us spend much time in prayer that we shall have successful revivals, not only in the church, but among those out of the church.

It's a GOOD Vote For GOODRICH

Lewis M. Goodrich
Wheeler County
Candidate For Congress
18th District

You have seen Lewis Goodrich and talked with him. You know he's the man we need in Washington. He wants your vote and will make you glad you had a part in electing him.

Remind your friends that it's a GOOD vote for GOODRICH

TO THE VOTERS OF PRECINCT 1

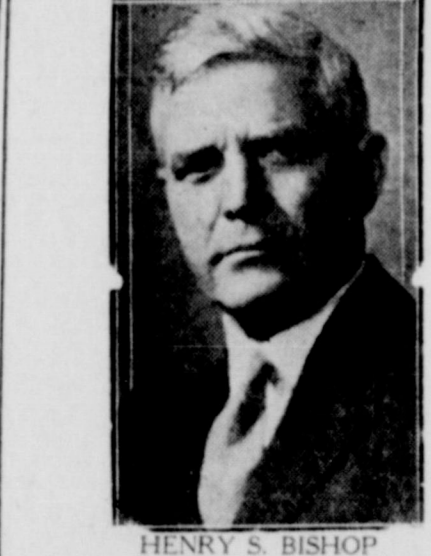

The campaign for the First Primary is nearly over and I have made an effort to contact every voter in the precinct in behalf of my candidacy for Commissioner.

However, I am sure there are some that I have missed, so I take this method of soliciting your vote and influence in the coming election, and assure you that if I missed you it was unintentional.

I am a farmer, an ex-service man, a resident of Hall County 26 years—and I will deeply appreciate your vote and influence and will make you the best commissioner that I possibly can.

County Commissioner, Precinct 1

HENRY S. BISHOP

TO THE PEOPLE OF HALL COUNTY

and the 18th Congressional District

OF TEXAS

To the people of Hall county and the 18th. Congressional District of Texas.

According to my announcement made early in the campaign I submit my candidacy for nomination for Representative in Congress in the Election July 27th.

I have lived in this Congressional District since 1893. I taught school, farmed, did ranch and railroad contract work, and graduated from the University of Texas Law School. In 1902 I was elected District Attorney, 47th. Judicial District of Texas—the then largest District in the State—and was re-elected six times. In 1918 I was elected District Judge of the same district and served in that office sixteen years, often overwhelmed with trials of cases.

The training and experience in this unusual tenure of public service in the administration of the law, and the intimate knowledge of the conditions and needs of this region gained by long residence here, is submitted in considering my qualifications for Representative in Congress. I believe in the principles of economy and honesty in Government; in the progressive democracy exemplified in President Roosevelt's New Deal, in the main, particularly the Farm Program (which needs some changes); the conservation of our natural resources, material and moral, and that every person should be protected by law in his personal and property rights. I favor complete adequate preparedness for National defense, and the rigorous suppression of all un-American activities and organizations; but oppose sending our armies across the seas into European combat. If elected, I pledge my best ability to faithfully represent the United States and this District.

I have worked hard at an aggressive campaign. My prospects are said by my friends to be good for election. Thank you for all support given me and I solicit the vote of every voter in the district.

STANSELL CLEMENT for State Representative

Stansell Clement, County Judge of Childress County received his license to practice law in 1936 while serving as Clerk of District Court, by studying nights. He has a wife and two children.

If elected, Stansell Clement pledges cooperation with the Governor of Texas, as long as it is to the best interest of the people of 121st District.

Having served as a public official, Stansell Clement is acquainted with the needs and problems of the citizenship, having had such experience he feels that he would be able to serve his apprenticeship in Legislature more quickly than someone inexperienced as a public official.

SCOOP—Tri-State Press can sneer at Claude Wells of the Memphis Democrat. Last week Claude was getting out a big edition and playing a little politics in the direction of Wellington. And the Democrat staff poet was turning out a poem—not for the Democrat but for Tri-State Press. It tells about Editor-Mayor Wells' woodwork shop. The poem is printed here for the first time, and the staff poet is planning to quit the Democrat and join TSP.

Solicits Your Vote and Influence in His Campaign

Saturday will mark the end of the First Primary campaign and I want to express my thanks and appreciation to my many friends and supporters in Precinct No. 2 who have loyally stood by me in this campaign. Their confidence in me and the encouragement they have given me makes this race worth while and I deeply appreciate it.

During the past few weeks I have made an effort to contact every voter in my precinct. There may be a few that I did not reach, but it was not an oversight and the mistake was unintentional. If I missed you it was because you were not at home when I called—and I take this means of soliciting your vote and influence in Saturday's primary, I will deeply appreciate it.

I make one campaign promise—that if elected to serve as your commissioner, I will devote my time and the best of my ability to serve you and to represent you in your county affairs. I will give special favors to no one, but extend courtesy, fair-dealing, and an honest hearing to every one, and I will make the best commissioner my capabilities will allow.

For an honest, clean, fair, straightforward representation in your county affairs—

Deskins Wells

for Congress

18th CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT

In uncertain times like these it is essential to place men in our government's key positions who are sane and sound in judgment, whose efforts will be directed toward the best interest of the people, and whose knowledge of the affairs of the district, state and nation are wide enough to cope with every situation.

Such a man is Deskins Wells, candidate for Congress from the 18th district of Texas. His training and experience eminently qualify him for the place he seeks, and his sound judgment in matters of state points the way for success for him as a statesman.

Deck Wells favors pensioned veterans, logical thinking in terms of a war-torn world, a sound program, and the perpetuation of the principles of right and Democracy.

A vote for Deck Wells will be an expression of confidence in a man who believes that the right to exist, and that is America.
