QUIDA RICE BECOMES BRIDE OF EDWARD L. BOST IN IMPRESSIVE CHURCH CEREMONY JUNE 18TH

Following Short Wedding Trip Couple Will Reside In Trinidad, Texas

Miss Quida Rice, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Rice, became the bride of Edward L. Bost, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Bost of Rhome in a simple but beautiful service Friday morning, June 18, at 7 o'clock at the First Baptist Church.

Rev. J. Wm. Mason, pastor of the First Baptist Church, read the ring ceremony in the presence of relatives and friends. The vows were spoken before an altar of greenery and flowers. On either side were tall baskets of lilies, roses and snapdragons, adorned with white cathedral tapers in brass candle-labra, lighted by Joe Chitwood Jr. just before the ceremony.

A solo preceded the ceremony. Roland Leath of Fort Worth sang, "I Love You Truly." As his song ended Mrs. J. William Mason, who had accompanied him at the organ, started playing the wedding march from Wagner's "Lohengrin" for the entrance of the bridal party.

Rev. Mason entered and took his place, followed by the bridegroom and his best man, Harry Sharp of Waxahachie. The maid of honor, Miss Lula Faye Oren, came next wearing a burgois rose crepe dress with white accessories and carrying an arm bouquet of orchids, snapdragons and fern. She was the bride's only attendant. The bride entered with her father, H. J. Rice, who gave her in marriage. She was gowned in white crepe fashioned on tailored lines, with matching accessories. Her arm bouquet was of red Killarney roses and white feverfew. The wedding party left the church to the music of Mendelssohn's Wedding March.

Immediately after the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served the wedding party at the Rice home, 721 West Bradford street, after which the couple left on a honeymoon trip to points in Texas and New Mexico. The bride's traveling suit was of beige shark skin worn with a lace blouse and British tan accessories. Following their honeymoon trip they will be at home in Trinidad, where Mr. Bost has been elected football coach.

Mrs. Bost is a graduate of the local high school finishing with the class of 1933, then from the Decatur Baptist College in 1935.

Mr. Bost graduated from the Rhome high school in 1933 and the Decatur Baptist College in 1935. He received his B. A. degree from Trinity University in Waxahachie this month.

Preceding the ceremony Mrs. J. W. Mitchell sang "Sweet Mystery of Life" accompanied at the piano by Mrs. E. S. Butcher, who played "The Wedding March from Lohengrin" by Wagner as the bride entered.

The bride and bridesmaid, Miss Lorea Bradford, wore lovely white sport dresses with the bride's corsage of white rose buds and the maid's corsage of white sweet peas.

Mr. E. S. Butcher acted as best man to the groom.

Adding color to the room decorations were a bowl of white sweet peas centering an ice blue reflector on the dining table, and a lovely bouquet of pink sweet peas on the piano.

Immediately after the ceremony a lovely coffee was given in the E. S. Butcher home by Mrs. Butcher and Mrs. Everett Jones for the couple and their group of wedding guests.

Project In County Expected Reduce Menace Of Typhoid Fever

In Hall County a large number of sanitary pit-type toilets have been constructed by the WPA at a small cost to the owners. The method of cooperation is for the Works Progress Administration to furnish the labor and the owner the materials, most of which usually can be found about the average farm, thus reducing the cost of the improvement to the owner. The extreme cost to such owner, it is said, is about $25, while usually the outlay to him is closer to $6.

Applications for the projects should be made through the county sanitation supervisor, who, in Hall County, is T. A. Messer. City Health Officer O. R. Goodall recently took a stand in favor of the construction of the sanitary toilets in Memphis.

The work thus far done, said Dodson, has little more than scratched the surface of the problem. However, the projects are well distributed so as to give visual example of their effectiveness to the larger number of homeowners.

Pan Americans To Appear In Memphis

The famous Bird-Brand Pan Americans, outstanding radio entertainers, will make a personal appearance in Memphis on Wednesday, June 30, at 11 a. m. This well known band features Pan American music and entertainment, and its members are representatives of the Greater Texas and Pan American Exposition to be held in Dallas this summer and which opened this month.

Invitations to mayors and other officials are brought by the Pan Americans in their visits up and down Texas, presented by Rosita, a traveling Texanita, as representative of Frank L. McNeny, director-general, and James V. Allred, Governor of Texas and honorary director of the Exposition in which all the Central and South American nations are taking part.

Memphis people will be delighted with the show to be staged by this popular organization, and it's all free. They will appear in local stores on next Wednesday.

Bigger Resettlement Loans Advocated By New Regional Chief

Loans which merely serve to hold families at a point bordering on poverty are not rehabilitation loans, and the families will never be rehabilitated, Paul V. Maris, acting director of the Resettlement Administration, told district farm and home supervisors of Texas, meeting in Dallas, last week in their first conference with the new regional chief.

"We must stop this parceling out a little bit of money to a great many people. We must get down to the business of lending fewer farmers more money so they can actually move up the ladder of independence. We must be able to add up their assets column in two years and show that they are definitely on their way to future independence," Maris said.

Rehabilitation loans must be for longer than one year, he said, because it is practically impossible to do any amount of good on a year-to-year basis. He said that tenant-landlord relations which permit longer land tenure are very desirable, but that rehabilitation loans extending over a period sufficient to allow the families to succeed should not be dependent upon the length of the land lease.

It is our job to see that our people do not get the feeling that the United States Treasury is a reservoir out of which to draw insurance for crop failures, whether those crop failures are due to weather or negligence, he told the supervisors.

STAMFORD, June 23.—Veterans of the range and trail who crowded the Indians and buffaloes from Texas plains and established a great cattle empire are turning eager eyes toward Stamford as the time approaches for the Eighth Annual Texas Cowboy Reunion on July 1, 2, and 3.

The round-up of pioneer cowboys and cattlemen to renew acquaintances, revive memories of the old west and keep alive customs and traditions of the early day cattle country is the original purpose for which the reunion was organized in 1930.

Membership of the association now numbering 1,400 is limited to men who were actively employed on ranches 35 years or more ago.

LIST YOUR FRIENDS FOR DEATH

HAVING NOTED an automobile accident near Memphis a few days ago in which the wrecked car was said to be traveling 85 miles an hour when the mishap occurred, we were keenly interested in an article by a Mr. H. W. Magee in a recent issue of Popular Mechanics Magazine. What Mr. Magee says pertains to Memphis and New York and Walla Walla, Wash., alike and gives us a good opportunity to point out some of Mr. Magee's remarks:

There's one law which, sooner or later, is going to stop every reckless or careless driver. That's the law of averages. And when this law of averages is applied to traffic accidents today, the rows of cold figures scream a grim warning which every sane motorist should heed because you can't break this law without eventually breaking your neck.

From 1922 through 1935 automobile accidents snuffed out the lives of 380,000 persons in this country. That's more than twice the total of those killed in action or who died of wounds in all the wars in which we ever participated. It's more than the combined population of Vermont and Indianapolis. And deaths continue to mount.

Last year 40,000,000 motorists burned up 16,250,000,000 gallons of gasoline driving 26,250,000 cars over our 3,250,000 miles of roads. Statistics of the National Safety Council show this traffic resulted in 37,000 deaths—an all time high—105,000 persons permanently disabled, 1,180,000 others temporarily disabled, and 6,500,000 accidents causing damage to property. And that's one death for each 85 miles of highway, one permanent disability for each 31 miles, one temporary disability for every three miles, and a property damage accident for each half mile. Truly, death and destruction stalk our highways.

There's just one message in all these figures—be careful or be killed. But how do these statistics concern you directly? You consider yourself a careful driver, you've never killed anyone, never injured anyone, perhaps never dented a fender. Well, that's where the law of averages comes in. If the present traffic accident rate continues, one out of every 20 persons in this country will be injured or killed in an automobile accident within five years. And that includes you!

Just jot down your name, then add the names of 19 relatives and friends. One of you will be killed or injured in a traffic smashup by 1941 by the law of averages. Here's another way of looking at it. Write down the names of three children in your neighborhood. Two of the three are sure—not likely, but sure—to be injured in auto accident during their lifetimes if the present rate continues. Or perhaps you have a 16-year-old boy. If he looks forward to a lifetime of driving and is exposed to both driving and pedestrian hazards, your son also is certain, by the law of averages, to be hurt in a traffic accident unless the present rate is reduced.

Not a very cheerful outlook, is it? Now let's compute the economic loss in addition to human lives wasted. Last year we spent about $2,638,000,000 for new cars and trucks. During the same period accidents cost us more than $1,600,000,000 in wage losses, doctor and hospital bills, insurance overhead, and property damage. Thus, for each $1,000 spent for new cars in 1935, another $600 went for accidents. Most of that money was wasted. Some of it was your money—paid in high insurance rates if for nothing else. Project this loss over the next 10 years and you have a figure approximately half the national debt.

"So What?" you say. I'm a careful driver. A lot of other fellows are causing this. They ought to be ruled off the highways. But why pick on me?"

Well, you'll be just as dead if the "other fellow" kills you as if you do the job yourself. And are you careful every minute you're behind the wheel, or do you think you are? For every accident last year which went to pile up the grim total of accidents—situations when something almost happened but did not. Every driver has had these narrow escapes—some call them "lucky breaks." Who had all those accidents last year? Some were physically defective, some didn't know how to drive. But the great majority were competent drivers who had acquired careless habits. They went too fast, passed on hills and curves, sped through intersections, and did a thousand and one other foolish things until the law of averages caught up with them. They didn't actually

PANHANDLE PARAGRAPHS

In its frantic haste to do the bidding of the office-holders' lobby at Austin, the Texas legislature now appears to have pulled one of the biggest boners in the state's history. The proposed amendment to permit restoration of the fee system would give the legislature the power to fix the compensation of "all district, county, and precinct officials." Since state senators and representatives are elected by districts, the effect of the amendment would be to empower the legislature to fix the pay of its own members. . . . But we cannot believe that the voters of Texas are so soundly asleep that they will approve an amendment to let the legislators raise their own pay at will.—Wichita Times.

A certain wife complained to her husband that he had told her his fortune ran into five figures. He replied that his statement was true, since he had the noble sum of $104.25 in the bank. A wise man, he said, always counts his pennies.—Tulsa Herald.

Two sons of C. C. Willingham were riding tractors in a field a mile south of Sudan when a hail-storm struck. In an effort to escape the hail, they crawled under their tractors, where they were found later unconscious from being struck so many times by the hail stones. After receiving treatment from a doctor, they were reported all right.—Wellington Leader.

The best way to preach the trade at home doctrine is to let the folks at home know through the medium of advertising what they can buy at home. It often happens that buyers go to the big town and make purchases only to find out afterwards that they could have secured the same articles here for less money and less trouble.—Foard County News.

We got pretty sore at our county agent, Jake Tarter, yesterday. In a talk at the Boosters Club he thanked everybody in town but us for what they had contributed or done toward helping the grasshopper poisoning plant which happens to be situated directly across the street from the Texan office. He even thanked Bedford Harrison for putting in three or four days of manual labor helping mix the ingredients. But do you think for one minute Jake said anything about two electric light bulbs (one of them a new one) that he borrowed from us? He never even mentioned electric lights in his whole talk.—Shamrock Texan.

Big News will likely break in a short while regarding water conservation in the Panhandle. Engineers from Washington have come to the Panhandle and been convinced. Publicity is not desired as to who came, what they did, or what they recommended. Congress might vote to do the wrong thing, or undo the ambitions of a people. Be that as it may, careful consideration is being given water conservation in the Panhandle. Results count. Saving the water which falls in this section is the big aim of the conservation movement.—Canyon News.

In the earlier days of Mule-shoe, girls used to kiss and make-up. Now the make-up has to be done over again after the kissing spree has been finished.—Mule-shoe Journal.

The Boss of the Odessa News-Times says that he found something while attending the annual state press convention in Brown-wood that he wanted to take home with him but couldn't. It was Texas Sweetheart No. 1, Miss Grey Downs. She was an attendant at the convention, and the graciousness of her smile and the appeal of her personality makes it easy to see why she was selected for the position. She attended the Editor's Annual Ball and danced with every newspaper man there. (And we stayed at home.)

Some genuine, hard-riding cowboys doff saddle uniforms for the more conventional garments worn by school athletes and sportsmen and now after their day's work on the prairie, return to town and mingle with the citizens who pursue less colorful occupations. Naturally they avoid the stares of a curious generation, which, decades ago, would have shown equal curiosity in a stranger not wearing the regalia of the range. It is well perhaps that counterfeit cowboys in circulation supply plenty of atmosphere for the benefit of tourists who might be less pleased with the true waddie.—Matador Tribune.

If lotteries are demoralizing and against the law, they will be that whether conducted by private interests or by churches.—Quannah Tribune-Chief.

The Daily Oklahoman bragged considerably about Vice President John Nance Garner stopping at a filling station there 15 minutes en route to Amarillo to visit his son, Tully. In fact, they carried quite an item about the Vice President filling his gas tank there. All we have to say is that Mr. Garner stopped a few miles west of Shamrock and waited an hour until a delegation of our citizens could get out there and talk to him, before proceeding on his trip. All of which may have been caused by the fact we do not have any large "Shamrock" markers out on the highway. We regret the impression in the article today that water running over U. S. Highway 66, west of our city, might have caused his long stop here. Of all the absurd attempts to discredit the prestige and national importance of our little city—water running over our paved highways. Aren't you ashamed, John McCarty and the Amarillo News? And, Mr. Garner, come back and see us oftener! —Shamrock Texan.

Miss Patty Freeman, of Roswell, N. M., is the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Baker Jones. Miss Helen Madden is here from Geneseo, Ill., to spend the summer vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Madden. She has taught in the Geneseo school for the past seven years and has been re-elected for the coming term. She was accompanied for the visit by Dorothy Helen and Billy Hoy. J. S. Reese of Dallas is here to spend the summer with his daughter, Mrs. E. E. Davenport. Miss Frances Bost of Rome was here last Friday to attend the wedding of her brother, Edward L. Bost, and Miss Ouida Rice. Miss Jane Guinn returned to her home in Abilene Monday after a visit here with Geraldine Kinard. J. E. King and his niece Miss Helen Boswell made a business trip to Shamrock Thursday of last week. Cearley Read Kinard went to Abilene Monday to spend this week visiting with friends. Wortham Power of Dallas was a business visitor in Memphis Monday. He visited with Mrs. Forrest Power and daughter June during the time.

County Baseball League Results

The climbing Cross Roads team stepped into a tie with Salisbury in the pennant chase of the Hall County Baseball League last Sunday afternoon by administering a thrilling 10-inning defeat to Salisbury's aggregation.

Lesley and Parnell advanced past the 500 percentage mark with victories over Memphis and Quitaque. The defeat dropped Memphis farther in the cellar. Lesley beat Memphis 8-5, and Parnell downed Quitaque 12-3.

Members and managers of the county league met in Memphis last Friday night and voted "no protest" in the Cross Roads-Parnell controversy. Parnell was protesting the Cross Roads victory the Sunday before on the grounds that Cross Roads had played an ineligible man. The vote was 5-1 for no protest.

County baseball fans are continuing to mail ballots to The Democrat, making their selections for players to participate in the double-header baseball game that is to be played on the Salisbury diamond near Memphis on the afternoon of July 4. All votes must be in by Sunday, June 27. The league standing:

Team	W	L	Pct.
Salisbury	7	4	.636
Cross Roads	7	4	.636
Parnell	6	5	.545
Lesley	6	5	.545
Quitaque	3	4	.429
Memphis	4	7	.364

The schedule for Sunday, June 27: Quitaque at Memphis, Salisbury at Parnell, Lesley at Cross Roads.

Cottonseed Meal, Hay Is Adequate Dairy Cow Ration

Oklahoma Study Reveals Prairie Hay Proves Needed Vitamin A Feed

Dairy cattle of all ages may be maintained for long periods on a ration of cottonseed meal and prairie hay, investigations by Oklahoma Agricultural Experiment Station prove.

So-called "cottonseed meal injury" is an incorrect and misleading term, the report states, pointing out that "Investigations continued during the past two years by Kuhlman, Weaver, and Gallup confirm the results obtained in the preceding seven years which show that dairy cattle of all ages, including calves, heifers and milk cows, may be fed as much cottonseed meal as they desire without any impairment of health or of any normal function."

Even far larger amounts of cottonseed meal than are needed to supply the protein requirements of dairy cattle may be fed without ill results, it was found.

"When the basal ration consisted of cottonseed meal (43 per cent protein) and an average grade of prairie hay and both feeds were fed according to the appetite of the animals, the processes of growth, development, reproduction and lactation have apparently proceeded as satisfactorily as on a normal ration. About sixty animals have received this ration continuously for periods ranging from one to nine years. In no single instance have any of the usual symptoms of 'cottonseed meal injury' ever appeared, even when cows in milk have consumed from 15 to 21 pounds of cottonseed meal daily."

Dr. Kuhlman and his associates conclude, from the results obtained in this study, that cottonseed meal may be used in as large amounts as are necessary to supply adequate amounts of protein in rations for dairy cattle, or even in much larger amounts if price makes it economical to do so, provided it is fed with roughage or pasture which will supply sufficient Vitamin A. 1c

Revenue Collector Explains Security Statute Provisions

For the purpose of making clear certain provisions of the Social Security Law, the Collector of Internal Revenue stated today:

That the Social Security Act provides for the payment of taxes under two separate sections called Titles VIII and IX. Title IX applies only to those employing eight or more persons for certain periods of time and with which we are not here concerned. Title VIII is the one least understood and concerns every employer of one or more persons not specifically exempted by the Act itself.

Title VIII of the Social Security Act imposes an income tax upon the wages of every individual and an excise tax on the wages paid by every employer. The term "employment" means service, of whatever nature, performed within the United States by an employee for his employer. "Wages" on which the taxes are levied is held to mean all remuneration for employment, including the cash value of all remuneration in any medium other than cash.

Who are employers? The act defines them as follows: "Every person is an employer who employs one or more individuals for the performance of services not specifically excepted."

While both employer and employee are subject to the tax, the employer is required to collect or deduct from his employee's wages the employee's share of the tax, which in every instance is one per cent of his pay. This the employer must do on every pay day. To this employee's tax, the employer adds a like amount, based on a per cent tax of his pay roll, and the employer is liable for both amounts even if he fails to deduct the one per cent from the employee's wages.

Annual Pioneer Edition to Be Issued on July 16th

Plans Now Being Made for a Most Complete Historical Edition with Scores of Pioneer Pictures and News Stories

A Pioneer Edition is never complete without unusual relations of early day activity and occasions, and it takes an "eye-witness" to bring the correct story. Early pioneers of Hall County are invited to bring any information of early happenings to the Democrat staff within the next few days. Their help in making the Special Edition a success in historical value will be appreciated by the publishers.

If you were present when the county was organized, in 1890, and can relate an incident which occurred at that time, bring or send your information to this newspaper. If you remember when the city of Memphis held its first election, tell us about it. If you saw the first train pull into Memphis, let us hear about it. Countless other things happened back in "the good old days" that you may remember, and that would make good reading in a Pioneer Edition, we would like to have them.

Advertisers are reminded that the special edition will only go into the homes of regular subscribers. It will be printed in extra quantities so that county-wide coverage can be made. The Democrat will pay honor to the Pioneers of this great state of Texas, and at the same time mark the completion of the Memphis Democrat's 30 years of publication. Business firms and individuals will be advised of the special within a few days.

We Need Your Help to Identify These Old Scenes and Individuals

Here on this page we are reproducing three of the many old, unidentified cuts now in our files. Some of these are perhaps worthy of good news stories once we have the characters and scenes identified. Can you help us?

If you can't name all the members of the band picture mark the ones you can and mail or bring your solution to the Democrat sometime within the next few days.

We would like to use these cuts in our Pioneer Edition which will go to press, in part, within another ten days.

The above cut isn't one of an extreme pioneer nature, however some of the five men standing on the sidewalk are unknown to the present Democrat force. Do you know them from left to right? 1 _____

Pioneer Edition to Honor Early Pioneers at Democrat's 30th Anniversary

The Pioneer Edition will be issued on Friday, July 16th, just five days prior to the annual Pioneer Reunion of the Hall County Settlers and will mark the celebration of the completion of the Democrat's 30th year of publication in the City of Memphis.

All advertisers in the edition will extend welcome to our readers at the Pioneer Reunion.

The paper's staff has already started working on the special.

The above cut has been in our "morgue" for an unknown number of years, without a single mark of identification. It has baffled all who have seen it. It may have something to do with Memphis or other town in Hall County and it may not. Your guess will be as good as ours, what do you think, or know, it is? Honorable mention will be given the person who enlightens us. Not all at once, now please!

This one should be easy for some early-day band member now living in Memphis. Can't identify all the members of the organization, the one or two that you point out, added to those others identify until all the above musicians are named. What year was it?

CHURCHES

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Rev. J. Wm. Mason, Pastor
 The pastor will preach Sunday morning on the subject "What the Gospel Does for Us," using as scriptural background II Timothy 1:1-7 and on Sunday evening "Storms, Anchors, and Ports" with Acts 27:20-44 as the scripture lesson. We are hoping that everyone who should be in the services will be there on this Sunday. The ordinance of baptism will be observed at the close of the evening service. We hope that everyone will do his best for the Sunday school and B. T. U. attendance. Please invite everyone who ought to come and let us preserve the interest of our revival meeting on through the weeks to come. We shall count on you.
 The daily Vacation Bible School is going along in a big way. Some 220 different individuals have been in the school thus far.
 There will be a picnic this Friday noon, June 25, and also a picnic on July 2 for those who attend the school regularly. We surely appreciate the work that different ones are doing to carry on the school and also everything that everybody did during the revival meeting.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Your rightful place in the church is important. The true value of this importance will increase as you give yourself over to the will of God. Your spirit of helpfulness is most encouraging. Let us make each service count for much in that we not only attend the hour of worship, but also that we give due consideration to singing, to Bible study, and to the message of the day.
 We will be pleased indeed to have strangers and friends in both the morning and the evening hour.
 Our Methodist friends are now in the midst of their revival meeting, and we rejoice with them in their good services.
 Will you help to increase our Sunday school and worship service next Sunday by attendance and ask others to come with you?
 E. C. CARGILL, Pastor.

CHURCH OF CHRIST

W. M. Davis, Minister
 The Bible classes meet for study Sunday morning at 9:45. These classes are taught by men and women who understand the plan of salvation, and know how to "rightly divide the Word of Truth." The morning worship will begin at 10:45 o'clock. At this service the sermon subject will be "The Rules of the Christian Life." The Christian life has two sides—the things we are to do and the things we are not to do. He who looks after only one side is only a fifty per cent Christian, and nobody can go to heaven on that. The evening service will be at 8:30, and the sermon will be on the subject,
 "Earnestly Contending for the Faith." On Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 the women's Bible class will meet for study. This class is now studying the gospel according to John. The mid-week prayer service will be held at 8:30 p. m. Wednesday. The public is cordially invited to all our services.

 ing the first and third Sundays

 Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock.
