Women Work— CIVILIAN DEFENSE AUXILIARY NOTES

By INEZ BAKER Remember, you must mail your Christmas packages to the boys overseas before November 1.

Another call has come to Red Cross production. A call that will touch our hearts, articles for hospitals. Many new hospitals have been established at home and abroad, many hospitals have been enlarged and the need is great. Among the things needed most and immediately are: afghans, bath robes, bed jackets, bed shirts, bed pan covers, bedside bags card table covers, cushions for patients in wheel chairs and covers, ice bags and hot water covers, sewing kits, kit bags for patients' toilet articles, lap covers for wheel chair patients, pillows and covers for use in fracture cases.

Many of these things can be made of materials we find in our scrap bags. Aerials are not furnished by the National Red Cross but must be paid for by local chapters. Some materials, for bath robes and bed jackets have been bought, but many other things can be made of scraps. Go into your closets and see what you find there. Hoard nothing that may be used to give comfort to those who are, or will be hospitalized. Go to the sewing room for further information.

Surgical dressings classes are really working. It is true the material has not yet arrived for the actual dressings but Mrs. Phillips and Mrs. Davis are in the rooms four days each week, Tuesday through Friday and Thursday nights for the business women's class, to give instruction. Many more can be served, choose the day you can work best and report. This need is urgent and the chairman thinks actual work will begin in a few days. Let's be ready.

We have never seen a better response to anything than has been shown concerning the Soldier's Kits. Everyone wants to fill a kit and make one or more. The $400 is not yet all paid in but it is coming. Headquarters says ship all we can as soon as possible. The following have made gifts this week: Briece Auxiliary, $6.00, Memphis Little Theatre, $10.00; Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Reed, $2.00; Mr. and Mrs. Floyd McElreath, $2.00; Mrs. Chas. Crow (for Smith Club) $1.00; Mrs. Bill Johnson $1.00.

Sometimes we act like a Pollyanna, telling you of all the work done in the sewing rooms and not telling of the great amount to be done. There are dozens of blouses cut, ready to be made. Farm women are busy, they cannot help as they have been doing, their work at home is so important, are we the town women so busy that we cannot do an extra bit. If you cannot come to the rooms to sew there is no law against you taking garments to your home and making them as you have time. Let's keep up with the work, there is no telling when other calls will come.

DRAINAGE IMPORTANT IN BUILDING TRENCH SILO, SAYS COUNTY AGENT

Drainage is one of the most important factors to be considered when building a trench silo, says County Agent W. B. Hooser, in outlining the proper methods for constructing these economical storage spaces for feed.

A trench on a hillside provides easy drainage by sloping the floor from the back to the front, but if the hill does not have sufficient slope or afford drainage at the depth desired, both depth and drainage may be obtained by piling the excavated soil on the banks. On level ground, the trench should be constructed above ground, unless it can be dug down to a strata of sand or gravel which will provide drainage.

Above-ground construction calls for parallel levees of dirt. Height and width will depend upon the number of livestock to be fed. Hooser pointed out.

If the floor of the surface level trench gets muddy, cover it with rock, gravel, sand, brick or concrete. Such coverings improve the bottom of any trench. Trench walls should slope at least one foot in four but if they cave, slope the walls two feet in four. Walls may be made permanent by lining them with rock, brick, plaster or concrete.

When a trench is opened a slice at least four inches in thickness must be taken off the exposed end daily to prevent spoilage. As this involves possible wastage it is better to have a small trench than one which is too large. With a small container, two or more slices may be taken off daily if that much feed is needed.

For instance, if a farmer has only five head of cattle, Hooser suggests that the trench be made three feet wide at the top, two or two and one-half feet at the bottom and three feet deep. It may be as long as wanted, depending upon the amount of feed to be stored. The more livestock, the wider and deeper the trench can be made.

Poultry Houses Should be Made Ready for Winter

Good Care of Young Pullets Means Increased Production Of Eggs, Says County Agent

A large part of the chickens hatched last spring came into production during September, County Agent W. B. Hooser points out. The eggs these young layers produce during the fall and winter will count heavily in maintaining Hall County's quota of the 1942 food goals. Therefore, the hen should be provided with the most favorable surroundings in order to assure as nearly maximum output as possible.

To provide comfortable housing and safeguard the health of the poultry, Hooser suggests that poultrymen do the following things during October.

Clean and disinfect laying houses before pullets are moved in. Repair roofs, walls, windows ventilators and floors before cold weather.

Check all lightin' equipment. Lay in a supply of good litter. Provide at least one foot of feeding space for each five hens. If pullets have not been vaccinated for pox, do it now.

Provide plenty of ventilation in the house until cold weather. Cull hens and pullets closely. October is a good time to start fall chicks.

It takes plenty of good, clean feed to make eggs. A hen laying 110 to 120 eggs requires 69.6 pounds of feed and uses 7.04 pounds to make a dozen eggs. A hen laying 260 to 270 eggs needs 84 pounds of feed and uses 3.73 pounds to make a dozen eggs.

Coast Guard Still Asks for Recruits

Despite rumors to the contrary, the United States Coast Guard still is accepting enlistments from qualified men for general service, Lieut. Comdr. V. F. Tydlacka, in charge of the Fort Worth regional office, announced today.

Enlistments, in fact, have been so heavy that during September the main office and the five "mobile" units in Texas—located at Wichita Falls, San Antonio, Amarillo, Dallas and Waco—signed up 1,024 recruits. It was the biggest recruiting month in Coast Guard history in this area.

Charged to speed enlistments to the rate of at least 35 recruits for each man attached to the office, the staff of 17 instead signed up an average of 60 men apiece during the month—almost doubling its quota.

Wanted for general service in the oldest sea-going military organization in the country are physically fit men between the ages of 17 and 55 who have no police records. Birth certificates are required of those over 21, parents' consent papers of those under that age. Applicants may report to their nearest recruiting station or write to the Fort Worth office, in the Electric Building, for further information.

Coming Out

Coming out parties like this one are repeated 50,000,000 times a year as the nation's hatchery industry increases production of baby chicks. Fast becoming one of agriculture's leading specialties, the hatchery industry is guided by the Department of Agriculture to keep them spaced out across the country. Can't you just hear this barred rock chick demanding, "Let's get on with the war!"

be furnished, however, only where the shelterbelts have received proper care and cultivation, it was emphasized. Trees will be furnished to plant new shelterbelts, outside soil conservation districts, where plans and agreements have been developed by the U. S. Forest Service and cooperators previous to July 1.

It was estimated by the conservator that approximately one million trees and shrubs will be furnished by the SCS for all shelterbelt plantings next spring. Some 25 species of trees and shrubs adapted to plains conditions will be available.

The regular shelterbelt program, in the rolling plains section, which was supervised by the Forest Service, was turned over to the Soil Conservation Service last July by executive order of the Secretary of Agriculture, because it was considered a part of the department's erosion control plan.

The SCS previously had furnished trees for many shelterbelt-type plantings made a part of complete conservation farming plans in this section. The service will continue this practice to the extent current conditions will permit, as a part of the obligation to soil conservation districts, it was pointed out.

"Farmers who have shelterbelts they established in cooperation with the Forest Service, and who desire information about management or who need additional trees to fill in gaps in their shelterbelts should contact the nearest office of the Soil Conservation Service," Merrill explained.

VOLUNTARY MEAT RATIONING URGED

Food, shelter, clothing and transportation represent the Home Front essentials while most of everything else goes to war. And of the four essentials certain maximums will have to suffice for civilians.

During the last week while points concerning some of the maximums were being worked out, interest in all of the essentials except clothing was high.

FOOD—All civilians are asked to "share the meat" by going on a volunteer 2-2 pounds per person per week ration pending enforced rationing about next February. Although price control now has been extended to all but about 10 per cent of the average food basket, certain adjustments in prices are being made to eliminate inequalities.

SHIFTLER—Nationwide rent control was ordered. Areas already designated will have enforced control as soon as the Office of Price Control can take necessary steps. Control in all other areas will be possible on and after December 15.

TRANSPORTATION—The office of Defense Transportation and the OPA announced that the national policy for mileage-gasoline rationing will be to keep cars rolling by saving every tire mile possible for essential use to help win the war.

The voluntary "share the meat" ration will not be entirely simple if each person is honest with himself and his country. The ration does not apply to light meat eaters, infants, invalids, and old people. But those who have been averaging more than the ration must eat larger quantities of foods with nourishment values similar to the "red-meats"—fruits, cereals, dry beans, soybeans, peas, peanuts, milk and cheese, poultry, fish, eggs and the like. Meat bones, included in the ration quota, will go more than ever into soup stocks and there will be servings of such things as kidneys, brains and hearts, which are not on the ration list, more often.

Farmers who slaughter their own meat and butchers who handle them are obligated to keep the same rations as the rest.

In addition to meat conservation, housewives are urged to store up foods for the coming year while farms and home gardens are still yielding fruits, tomatoes, cabbage, and a wide assortment of root crops. Jars, shelves and storage bins should be filled up with home canned products to supplement the nation's limited commercial supply.

Through another form of rationing, controls over coffee were tightened during the week with the quota delivery system extended to all restaurants and retailers, most of whom were not previously subject to restriction. Sales and use will be subject to percentage allotments.

As for the changing price control picture, the OPA announced a new alternative pricing formula which food stores and wholesalers may use to determine their ceiling prices if they are being "squeezed" by their March highest prices. Housewives will observe effects of the new formula in two ways—first, slightly higher prices—a cent or two for the most part—for the affected food stuffs in those stores which have been squeezed severely under the March "rule"; and second, the re-appearance on the shelves of these same stores of many brands and products that have been in scant supply or missing entirely.

The regulation, effective Oct. 15, applies only to the following groups of foods—breakfast cereals, canned fish, cooking and salad oils, sugar, canned vegetables, coffee, rice, hydrogenated shortening, other shortening, dried fruits, and lard. Wholesalers must complete their adjustments by November 30.

At first, on the basis of OPA

NEWS about boys in the Service

C. A. Powell Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Powell of Route 2 Memphis, has been promoted to technical sergeant. He is in the Air Forces and is stationed at Hondo, Texas.

Pfc. Dow Johnson came Sunday for a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Johnson. He is attached to the Air Forces in the Signal Corps at the Lubbock Advanced Flying school.

Pvt. James Weldon Smith returned here Tuesday night to make his home at Newlin with Bill Prater. He was stationed at Fort Francis E. Warren, Wyo., before his discharge. He made his home with the Prater's before his entrance into the army.

One well-traveled young man from Memphis is Curtis Harrell, former Democrat employee, who enlisted in the "See Bear" May 3, this year. No longer a "dry land sailor," Curtis can't disclose his present location, but he has been to the Samoa Islands, where he met up with Jim Moore, an old class mate from Memphis. His letter, dated September 1, follows:

Dear Mr. Wells: Starting May 3, 1942, I have come a long way. From Dallas I went to Great Lakes and then to Norfolk, Va.; from there to California and then to the Samoa Islands. Now I am at another residence, but I can't say where. In all I have seen 18 states and two groups of islands in less than four months. However, I think I will be here for a little while anyway.

One of the greatest thrills I have ever had in my life was meeting Jim Moore, an old high school pal. We had just landed in Samoa when I spotted him walking along. You could have heard me yell his name for miles!

There isn't much to do here but work and sleep. I am now working in the mess hall from 12 o'clock one day until 12 o'clock the next. I also have the same time off. At night we have picture shows, but I have seen them before. I have been to see "Abe Lincoln in Illinois" and "An Angel from Texas."

Last night I listened to a football game between the Army All-Stars and the Washington Redskins. John Kimbrough played for Army and Dick Todd and Sammy Baugh for Washington. It was really interesting to hear those boys' names on the radio again. The score was 26 to 7 in favor of the Redskins.

While in Samoa I got a copy of The Democrat which was dated June 17 and was mailed to me in Norfolk, Va. So you see that the next time I get mail, there should be a big bundle, just for me.

As this is all I can write without giving away military secrets, I will close. Hoping to hear from some of my friends soon, I am With love, CHARLEY CURTIS HARRELL, S2C 7 Const. Batt. c/o Postmaster, San Francisco, Calif.

It's Corp. Merle F. Padgett now. Merle, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Padgett of the Friendship community, writes again from India, where he is stationed with the 16th Fighter Squadron, 51st Fighter Group. He is in good health, but longs for the "Good of U. S. A." His letter follows:

September 26, 1942 Dear Mom and All:

Well, I finally have gotten around to writing. I can't remember when I wrote you last, so I guess you will be looking for a few lines from me by now. I am still O. K. I guess there is only one thing wrong with me. I am sure wanting to see the good old U. S. A. again. But I guess everyone over here is wanting that just as bad as I.

It is getting hot over here again. Today is pretty and clear, with very little breeze blowing. It reminds me a lot an August day in Texas. They say that September I am beginning to believe it, although it is not as hot yet as it has been before.

Don't worry about me, mom. You see, I have gained back a little weight since I last wrote to you. I weigh around 190 now.

I am going to get a few pictures soon and send them to you as soon as I can. Probably in a week or so.

Tell everyone "hello" for me and I'll sign off.

Always your son, MERLE

Santa Claus, Uncle Sam Conspire In Planning Soldiers' Christmas

Scores of Hall County men will be far away fighting for those things all hold dear when Christmas day dawns in 1942.

War is an ugly thing and no respecter of persons, so these boys won't get time out to come home to share the traditional opening of Christmas gifts and Christmas dinner.

Santa Claus was aware of all these things when he made up his list of suggestions for these boys. It took plenty of head scratching to think of things appropriate, for here again war interfered with the pressing needs of shipping space for vital supplies.

Santa knows that Uncle Sam amply provides for his men in food and clothing and medical care. But on the other hand, Uncle Sam knows that these same young men like to remember and be remembered at Christmas time.

Both Santa and Uncle Sam emphasize that Christmas shopping for the young men overseas must be done and the package mailed not later than November 1 if he is to receive it in time for Christmas.

Memphis merchants represented in this issue have conspired with Santa to provide the things the soldier wants and are most easily transported. Let's follow the shopper as he visits the counters of these stores. Cigars, cigarettes, pipes and smoking tobacco are appreciated by any soldier for Christmas and these are to be found in ample quantities.

The young man over there anxiously awaits a daily letter from home and he likes to write home as well, but sometimes he does so under a handicap. So stationery pens and pencils and handy writing kits are appreciated.

Utility shaving kits, manicure sets, handkerchiefs, billfolds, tobacco pouches, zipper kits in leather or khaki, sweetheart photograph folders and similar articles are to be found on the shopping counters.

Other articles that make fine gifts include sewing kits, unbreakable mirrors, shoe shining kits, clothes brushes, waterproof wrist watches, lighters, military sets small cameras and toilet preparations.

All in all, it shouldn't be difficult to make selections, as the suggestions offered here form an orderly partial list of appropriate items available.

Regular dormitories on the campus of Texas State College for Women, Denton, provide college residence for approximately 1600 students.

ANOTHER BASELESS RUMOR

ONE OF the superhuman tasks assigned to Hercules, mythical Greek hero, was destruction of the Hydra, a formidable serpent with one hundred (count 'em) heads. The joker was that each time a head was cut off, two immediately appeared in its place, which presented quite a problem to the would-be-killer. The Greek hero, who was a pretty shrewd citizen for his time, solved the dilemma by having an assistant burn the necks as he sliced off the heads.

Rumor, like the Hydra, has a multiplicity of heads and is no less a formidable and fearsome monster. Old Herk's job of liquidating the Hydra was child's play compared to tracking down and scotching a rumor, especially in wartime. Every time one head is lopped off, others rise in unexpected places. The person or persons responsible for starting this wild phis is that soldiers and marines are obliged to pay one dollar for the comfort kits which are being made and filled by the Hall County and other Red Cross chapters, and for which individuals and organizations have been and are making cash donations.

The person or persons responsible for sharing this wild tale must not be sufficiently intelligent to even read and understand English. The only other supposition possible is that a deliberate effort is being made to smear the local Red Cross effort. Every bit of publicity with regard to the Red Cross kits has emphasized the fact that they are to be parting gifts to soldiers and marines embarking for service abroad.

And for the benefit of any who do not understand the term "gift," we quote the Standard Universal Dictionary, to-wit: "That which is given; a donation; a present."

We sometimes think it would be advisable, in some instances, to revive the ducking stool used by the Puritans to check the activities of rumor-mongers, scolds and gossips.

SALUTE TO THE JUNIOR ARMY

SOLDIERS of the Junior Army of Hall County schools, we salute you!

Your government called on you for a task that demanded persistence and a lot of hard work, and you responded with enthusiasm and energy that is a heartening example of those older and supposedly wiser than you.

Time and again the government has called upon your elders to turn in scrap metal and old rubber. The grown-ups responded, too, and turned in a lot of the materials needed for weapons of war. But not enough. The war machine has a tremendous appetite for metals and rubber, and scrap is an important part.

Finally the government decided to call upon you, soldiers of the Junior Army, to look in the attics, the basements, the barns, everywhere there might still be salvage materials. That it was a good idea is proven by the huge piles of junk on every school ground in Hall County—and all over the nation.

You have done a good job, junior soldiers. We are proud of you, and we know your Uncle Sam is. Many of you have fathers, brothers, other kin on the fighting fronts, or training to fight. You have not let them down. Keep up the good work.

Excerpts from the Official OEM Bulletin

Check Your Anti-Freeze

OPA cautions motorists to have the anti-freeze they saved from last winter checked before they put it back into cars to avoid risk of motor damage. Although anti-freeze production has been cut to 60 per cent of 1941 sales, to release critical chemicals for war use, the supply is expected to be adequate. Motorists are urged to buy only what they need and refuse to pay more than the ceiling price.

Turn-in Tubes Must Be Metal

Consumers who turn in collapsible tubes in exchange for new tubes of toothpaste and shaving cream should be sure the used tube is made of metal. WPB has warned that plastic and other types of tubes now appearing on the market are not acceptable for exchange.

-V

Price Leeway on Pine

Adjustable pricing of Southern pine lumber has been allowed by OPA for a limited period. The action was taken to prevent suspension of bids and deliveries at a time when immediate procurement and delivery are critically needed in the war effort.

-V

Rubber Footwear Rationed Only

To clear up some reported confusion, OPA has announced that the only type of footwear rationed are men's rubber boots and rubber workshoes. Leather footwear is not affected in any way. Only six types of footwear are being rationed, and those are ordinarily worn only by workmen. Sailors on ocean-going vessels may purchase rubber footwear from their ship's slop chests without ration certificates.

-V

Priorities Aid Offered Schools

After making every effort to obtain supplies and equipment with aid priority aid, schools, hospitals and institutions must have such assistance, the WPB region said. District offices in the Southwest will furnish information, copies of forms and orders without delay. E. Eugene Risser, WPB region director, states. He suggested that each school or institution centralize its priority activities in one office, such as the purchasing department or business office. In the Southwest region, WPB offices are located at Dallas, Houston, San Antonio, Fort Worth, El Paso, New Orleans, Shreveport, Tulsa and Oklahoma City.

-V

Substitute Jar Tops Available

Although zinc jar tops, like so many other metal items, will soon disappear, housewives can convert to war standards with little trouble. An excellent substitute for the zinc top, fixture of home canning since pioneer days, is available in a porcelain closure with a steel rim. Prohibition of the use of zinc inclosures for jars and bottles was effective October 10 under WPB order. It will save more than 15,000 tons of brass badly needed for ammunition.

-V

Typewriters Go to War

About 4000 of the quota of 12,000 typewriters set as the WPB procurement goal in the Southwest region already have been released by private owners for sale to the government. Standard make typewriters manufactured since January 1, 1935, are being sought. These machines are urgently needed for use by the armed forces.

-V

Rubber Component Exempt

Agricultural components of furfural, a commodity used in making butadiene for synthetic rubber, have been exempted from price control by OPA. Products affected include cottonseed hulls cottonseed hull bran, oat hulls and others. The price control exemption is applicable only when they are sold for the specific purpose of making synthetic rubber.

Meat Substitutes Abound

High protein foods, recommended as substitutes for meat under the government's share-the-meat program, will be available for civilians next year in supplies larger than those of last year, with the single exception of manure. The Agricultural Marketing Administration reports. Poultry, for instance, will be ample, as little poultry is required for lend-lease shipments and production of 200 million extra chickens is planned for this fall and winter.

Share-Truck Plan Spreads

Texas' share-a-truck plan, endorsed by Region OPA Administrator Max McCullough, is to be adopted in Oklahoma and Louisiana, where state OPA directors have started preliminary work on the plan. As it operates in Ellis County, where the idea was first developed, a pool is allowed one eligible vehicle to each 450 acres. This truck does all the hauling for all members of the group, who agree in turn to receive tires from the local war price and rationing board, but only after all tires in his pool have been used.

SELECTED FROM THE DEMOCRAT'S EXCHANGES

Profits Are Out

We have about reached a place in this war where individual and organized groups had better give up the idea of trying to make a profitable thing out of it. No one should try to make any money out of a war. It isn't patriotic to even think of profits when men are giving their lives to preserve the nation. It is rather a time to think "what more can I give" rather than "how much can I get?"—Foard County News.

Negative Nations

Why refer to the outlaw nations as the "Axis" powers? Why not call them by their deserved place in the world today—the Negative Nations? They have a negative concept of freedom of religion, freedom of speech, freedom of the press, freedom of thought. They want to kill off all of us who do not think as they think, and do as they do. Durned if I will, and there are millions more of the same opinion.—The Apostle in The Donley County Leader.

No Place for Hoboes

There are still some tramps on the road. There are still some men who come to Quanah and strike houses for the housewife to feed them. At the present time there is no excuse for any man being hungry. There is less excuse for any man being without a job. When the hobo calls at the back door, the officers should be called and that individual investigated. Officers in every town in the state are considering the possibility of taking all tramps from trains and off highways for investigation. The man who is hungry and has no job nowadays certainly needs investigation. —Quanah Tribune Chief.

Bum Predictor

You will recall that Charles Lindbergh said just two years ago that there would not be a general election in 1942 if Roosevelt was re-elected. You will recall many of his other foolish statements. Lindbergh has proved to be the worst political prophet that the country has ever had.—Canyon News.

He Seems to Know

A newspaper man should have good legs to carry him to a given news source. Once reaching the scene of news, instinct will tell him when to leave and the degree of speed he acquires upon leaving will be automatic, depending upon what he has written recently and how it was accepted.—Dick Cooke in The Clareador News.

Happy Medium

No man is indispensable every death proves, yet some men holding on to their responsibilities long after they might do better. Of course, of men refuse to accept responsibility, but there should be a medium and the best man selected for responsible post in every community. —The Lean News.

BOWEN MOTOR COACHES

Suppose the POWER to Make this Bomber Was Still on Blueprint!

Another world war is being fought... a war between a group of countries (the United Nations) which believe in certain liberties for the individual and the institutions he has created, and a group of countries (the Axis) which do not believe in such liberties.

Meanwhile, a war is being waged within our own borders... an economic and political revolution, with those who believe in perpetuating free enterprise and opportunity on one side and those who favor political control and operation of productive resources on the other.

Bureaus exist within our government today that are completely dissociated from the war effort, methodically doing things to discourage free enterprise... constantly forcing the individual out of business through government subsidized projects.

This means only one thing in the end, if allowed to expand unchecked: the inauguration of government in business, or the socialized state—in plain English, the Nazified German system—at a time when the nation is fighting a second world war to prevent that very system from engulfing our American ways which have been contrary to that doctrine.

You think I ate the jam!

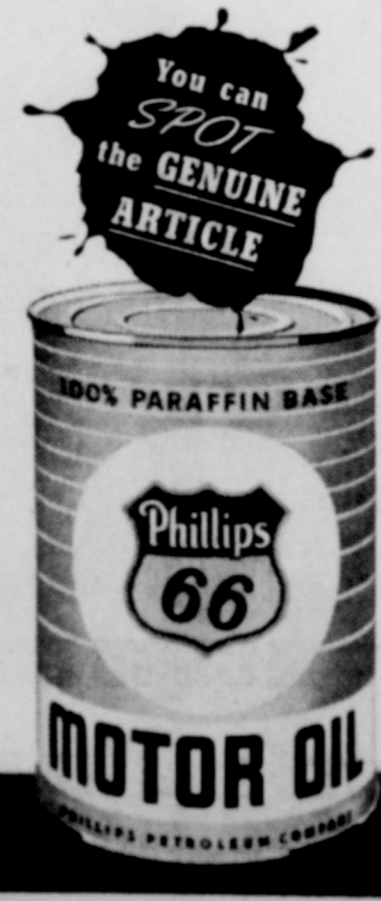

CIRCUMSTANTIAL EVIDENCE can sometimes be very strong, but it may be full of flaws when you are trying to choose a motor oil for your automobile.

Now, more than ever, you want a quality oil to "Care for your car... for your country." And that is why you will be glad to know that there is an easy way to spot the genuine article.

Read these facts: Phillips offers a number of oils to fit varying needs, preferences, and pocketbooks. But if you want our best oil, you need have no hesitation or doubt, because Phillips speaks out plainly. Tells you frankly that Phillips 66 Motor Oil is our finest quality... the highest grade and greatest value... among all the oils we offer to car-owners like yourself.

THE VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

(Editor's note—this space is open to all readers of The Democrat for the purpose of expressing their opinions on any and all subjects. All signed letters will be printed here upon request, so long as they carry clean, unbiased, material. The following should be considered the opinion of the writer, in no manner reflecting on the editorial policies of the news paper.)

THE POOR FARMER

Poor Farmer, he is having a hard pull. I am afraid this pull will put him in the hole. The New Deal, when it began to operate, told Mr. Farmer: "Plow up a part of your crop and you will receive a check for the amount you plowed up." The farmer didn't like to destroy what he had planted and planned to gather to support his loved ones, but the New Deal said there would be a pay day and he would receive a check from Uncle Sam for all he had plowed up. So Mr. Farmer, of course, did as he was told. The next thing the farmer and rancher was asked to do was to let Uncle Sam shoot his cows and destroy his little pigs. Mr. Farmer did not approve of all this but he was in Rome, as the old saying goes.

The New Deal's big idea was to destroy a lot of livestock, cut the farm production, and bring about higher prices. In order to make the farmer take to all this willingly, Uncle Sam's checks began coming in in large amounts. Then the landlords discharged all of the renters so that they could get all of the checks. Well the prices are higher now but the New Deal is still able to work out a plan. That plan is to put a ceiling price on all the farmer produces so that there will not be too much money in circulation. So the New Deal is going to make the poor farmer suffer in order to keep down inflation.

Labor is receiving more money for their time than they did when the farmer was selling cotton for 30 and 40 cents per pound. The amount of money labor gets may have something to do with inflation. Inflation, to me, is something like an optimist and a pessimist: one sees a light that isn't there, the other tries to blow the light out. It seems to me the New Deal does not have all things balanced yet.

I was raised a Democrat, I am 100 per cent yet, but I am not a New Dealer. Really I think 95 per cent of our voting population should be Republican so that the Democrats—especially those in Texas—would watch their step more closely. Texas gets Republican minded sometimes, we voted almost 100 per cent for Mr. Hoover when he ran for the presidency. Then we had another gentleman from Kansas, who wanted to be governor of the great democratic state, so he called himself a democrat, got on the good side of the old-timers and told them what he would do for them. That's the way Texas has got mixed up—Allreds, Lee O'Daniels, Townsendites and the New Dealers—not much democratic.

Why not forget politics, join the church and pray for VICTORY?

YOU need no cop but your Conscience to set your speed limit at 35 or under. It's better for your country and your car. But best of all... for your engine's life... is to double-cross Wear at 00 miles an hour.

While you decide gingerly to "let her in" after starting up cold... while the speedometer still is motionless... you risk grinding metal particles out of your engine. Or you can take steps against that by having your engine OIL-PLATED now, with your correct Conoco Nth motor oil for Winter.

MAKING HOT FOR THEM

THE METALS that used to go into gas heat-equipment are going to war in the form of tanks, bombs, planes. They are making it hot for the Axis.

Fortunately, however, your Dealer still has a supply of late models available. If you are in need of a heater, see your Dealer's stock and ask him if you are qualified to buy.

For your own heating equipment, take the possible care of it, for it may have to last the duration. Have your Plumber-Dealer check it, make necessary repairs and install before winter begins.

Because of shortage of man-power and it is important to have this work done now, and avoid the usual last-minute rush.

General Election—

tor and 21 representatives to the Congress from Texas, as well as state, district, county and precinct officials, are to be elected in the general election. As far as these officials are concerned, voting in the November election in Texas amounts to no more than a formality. Nomination in the Democratic primaries of July and August is tantamount to election.

There are, however, five amendments to the Constitution of the State of Texas that are to be decided upon November 3. Briefly, these are:

An amendment requiring appropriation bills passed by the Legislature to be presented to and certified by the Comptroller of Public Accounts as to available funds for payment thereof, limiting appropriations to the total of such available funds, providing for the issuance of bonds to pay off the State obligations outstanding September 1, 1943, and fixing the duties of the Legislature and Comptroller of Public Accounts with reference thereto.

An amendment authorizing the Legislature to pay for building constructed for John Tarleton Agricultural College.

An amendment providing that the Legislature may in certain counties create courts having either exclusive or concurrent jurisdiction with the county court in civil, criminal and probate matters.

An amendment permitting the accounting officers of this State to draw and pay warrants for salaries to officers of the United States Army and Navy who are assigned to duties in State institutions of higher learning.

An amendment authorizing the investment of not more than two million dollars of the Permanent School Fund in bonds of the State of Texas to be issued for the construction of a State office building or buildings and providing for the repayment of said sum of money to the Permanent School Fund.

demand for the fall movement of farm crops, and for wartime construction and industrial production.

"The result will be that our Board will have to apply the eligibility preference yardstick with even more severity," he said. "The shoe will pinch in many cases but we hope everyone will take these decisions with a wartime spirit of patriotism, and know that we are trying to do our duty honestly and impartially in a national emergency."

The state office of Price Administration headquarters has advised the Hall County War Price and Rationing Board, Sloan added, that from now on, monthly quotas will reflect a sharp downward trend, in order to stay within the year's rubber quota. "It is no longer possible to carry over unfiled applications from month to month," Sloan explained. "There will not be sufficient quotas in future months to relieve such carry overs. We must now eliminate all applications that are not essential to the war effort and to the public health and safety."

Wallace declared that American farm production this year is up 12 per cent over 1941, despite "many handicaps, such as labor shortage, machine— and fertilizer." He praised the work of the USDA War Boards, composed of the agricultural agencies in the field. These boards, he said, have been the "spearhead of all action agencies" and are only as strong as the agencies from which they draw their power.
