FDR Sets Friday As Victory Book Day

In his press conference Tuesday President Roosevelt designated Friday, April 17, as Victory Book Day, and asked that Americans everywhere contribute as many good books as they can spare to the men in the armed forces.

Hall County people are asked to cooperate in this Victory Book Day and are urged by T. H. Deaver, chairman of the Victory Book Campaign, to bring volumes to the First National Bank of the Democrat office on Friday.

"Our people have already given generously to the book campaign," Mr. Deaver said, pointing out that 265 volumes were recently shipped to headquarters at Amarillo and that about 100 more have been brought in since. The chairman added his belief that local people will still further contribute to provide good reading material for the nation's fighting men.

Drastic Order by WPB Suspends All Civilian Building

Materials, Equipment and Labor Affected by Newest Victory Program Ruling

That dream home many a couple was planning to build this spring, in Memphis and Hall County, as well as every other part of the nation, has been postponed indefinitely by the war.

The War Production Board provided a realistic awakening from those dreams last week when it suddenly issued a stop building order, forbidding the start of any civilian construction after April 7.

This order—Conservation Order No. 1-41—applies to all buildings, private, commercial and public, unless they rate as military work, or national war effort. A copy of the complete text of the order is being distributed to all building owners.

The latest training information for Boy Scout leaders will be available in Memphis in a series of meetings beginning tonight in the high school building.

Realizing that effectively trained Scoutmasters and assistants is the key to successful Scouting for boys, the National Council of the Boy Scouts of America has developed a new training course for leaders. This new training is the simplest and most effective yet offered for volunteer leaders.

The meetings are open to Scoutmasters, assistants, members of troop committees and any adult interested in the program of the Boy Scouts of America. The sessions to be held here are primarily for men of Memphis, Salisbury and Lesley and will be held on alternate Thursday nights. It is an annual event.

Regular monthly meeting of the district, American Legion Post 121, will be held at Vega on Friday evening, April 22, it was announced by J. H. Johnson, district commander.

Registration of Men 45 to 65 to Be Held April 27

Registrants Not Liable to Military Service, So No National Lottery Slated

Instructions have been received by the Hall County Selective Service Board concerning procedure for the registration on Monday, April 27, of men 45 to 65 years old, W. J. Bragg, chief clerk of the board, stated this week.

Bragg said essentially the same procedure will be followed in the coming registration as prevailed in the three previous ones. Registration points will be the high school building in Memphis and school buildings in Turkey, Estelline, and Lakeview, with teachers assisting at all four places.

Supplies for the registration will be distributed as soon as received, it was stated.

State Selective Service Director J. Watt Page anticipates that one and one-half times the men registered in the third registration will be registered in the 45 to 65 age bracket.

Men who register in the fourth registration are not subject to military service and, therefore, there will be no national lottery to determine order numbers.

Scotch Those Rumors

IT IS NOT NECESSARY to defend the American Red Cross and the war work that great organization is doing. Neither is it necessary to remind most people of the importance of sharing in that work. This is not written with either purpose in mind.

As far as it is possible for any human agency to be, the Red Cross has been and is above reproach. Those who serve in it do so with devotion and unselfishness and the confidence of the overwhelming majority of American people in the organization is unshakable.

BUT—right here in Memphis and Hall County—Dame Rumor, the old witch, is busy at her underhanded work. "They say" are helping to spread reports that would be ridiculous if they were not so dangerous.

COUNTY RAISES SUM OF $2,816 FOR RED CROSS

Contributions to the Red Cross Emergency War Relief Fund since the last report on March 19 have pushed the total for Hall County to $2,816.62, according to figures submitted by D. L. C. Kinard, treasurer. This represents a sum of $516.62 above the county's quota of $2,300.

Increased Church Attendance Noted in Laymen's Move

Lapel Buttons With Words "Go to Church Sunday" Are Ready for Distribution

Gratifying increase in attendance at both morning and evening services are reported by the five churches participating in the Back to Church movement sponsored by laymen of the United Churches of Memphis, Oattie Jones, chairman, said this week. Growing attendance at Sunday Schools is also reported.

About 50 men attended a second meeting of the laymen held Sunday afternoon at the First Baptist Church to lay further plans for the campaign.

"We have this campaign rolling," the chairman said this week, "and everyone feels that results have been good, but we are not satisfied. In fact, we won't be satisfied until every person in Memphis has had a personal invitation to attend the church of his or her choice. We don't know whether it's possible to persuade every person in town to become a member."

Rev. Dick O'Brien of Big Spring and Joe Trussell of Brownwood in Charge

Rev. Dick O'Brien, pastor of the First Baptist Church at Big Spring, who is well known to the people of Memphis and vicinity, will open a revival campaign at the First Baptist Church here tonight at 8 o'clock.

In charge of the song service will be Joe Trussell of Brownwood, choir leader and vocalist of extraordinary ability, according to reports.

This evangelistic team led a highly successful revival for the local church last year and left a favorable impression, both upon the Baptist congregation and the general public, church officials stated.

"Everyone has a cordial invitation to attend this series of services," declares Rev. Sid F. Martin, pastor. "We are looking forward to a spiritual uplift among members and friends of the church that will greatly benefit the entire community. Those who have heard Rev. O'Brien and Mr. Trussell will want to do so again, and those who have not heard them have a treat in store for them."

The Baptist revival will continue through Sunday, April 26, with daily services at 10 a. m. and 8:15 p. m., except Sunday, when the morning service will be at the regular hour.

Ott Bevers Named County Chairman of Navy Relief Drive

Waggish Burglar Returns Checks Through Mails

A sense of humor is not usually associated with burglary, but the person who burgled the Kraft Cheese Company's office here Sunday night is evidently something of a wag.

Gaining entrance to the plant by cutting screens until he found a window that could be raised, the prowler took $3 in stamps, a number of unendorsed checks and a box of cheese.

Tuesday morning came a letter, postmarked Memphis and addressed to John Hellman, manager of the Kraft plant, which contained the checks and a note, which read:

"Dear John: Maybe from now on you'll keep your place locked as it should be. I just did this to show you how easy it could be done. Will send the rest later. It won't do you any good to try to find out who done this." The note was signed "Mr. X."

Appointment of Ott Bevers of Lakeview as Hall County chairman of the Navy Relief Society by Gerald Mann, state chairman, was made this week. In accepting the appointment, Bevers immediately announced plans for raising the county's quota of $370.

Active assistance by school children of the county will be sought in raising the funds asked of their county for this worthy cause, Bevers said. He has appointed as chairmen in the four commissioners precincts, superintendents of schools as follows: J. T. Duncan, Estelline; Lee Vardy, Turkey; W. B. Swinburn, Lakeview; and W. C. Davis, Memphis. S. S. Montgomery has been named honorary chairman.

L. A. Woods, state superintendent, has suggested that all Texas schools observe Thursday, April 23, as Navy Relief Day, with especial effort directed toward raising the state quota of $210,000. Hall County pupils will be asked to take part in this observance, Bevers said.

While solicitation of funds will be made through schools of the county, those who wish may leave their contributions at the First National Bank of Memphis and The Democrat office in Memphis, the First National Bank in Lakeview, or with any of the four.

Defense Shop Adds Electric Welding

Permission to order a new electric welding unit has been obtained by the Memphis Defense Shop, located at the high school, it is announced. This piece of equipment will enable the shop to still better serve the farmers of this community, as well as the students who are learning the metal working trade.

The shop is already equipped with a complete set of wood working tools, acetylene welding equipment, forges, grinders, pipe threaders, drafting equipment, and tools to do tractor repairing.

The Hall County USDA War Board is urging that farmers use this shop and equipment to get their machinery and implements repaired now, rather than wait until it is needed and labor and materials are unavailable.

Health Campaign For Children of County Under Way

Free Immunization Against Diphtheria and Smallpox Is Available for Youngsters

Supplies for immunizing preschool and school children against smallpox and diphtheria were received Monday from the State Health Department and the campaign for protecting Hall County children against these contagious diseases is already under way, Dr. O. R. Goodall, county health coordinator, said this week.

Mrs. T. D. Weatherly, trained nurse, has been appointed by County Judge M. O. Goodpasture, to be in direct charge of the vaccination work and she will be assisted by Mrs. Thelma Lemmons Holcomb. They will visit all schools and communities of the county, making available without charge the immunization service to all youngsters of nine months and older.

Friday, May 1, has been officially proclaimed by President Roosevelt as National Child Health Day, and he has asked the assistance of all health authorities, physicians, nurses, and parents in dedicating the day to studying and working for protecting the health of the nation's children.

Parents who wish to have their children vaccinated against diphtheria and smallpox are urged to make arrangements for the service before May 1, as that will be the final day of the campaign. All immunization work will be done through the schools of the county.

Drastic Order by—order has been sent to The Memphis Democrat and may be read by anyone interested.

The new building "freeze" does not cover projects started before April 7, but such projects already under construction will be examined carefully on an individual basis, where they require additional materials. Unless the WPB finds that they are necessary to the war effort, it may be that they will not be able to get any more critical materials.
Labor, material, and equipment urgently needed in the war program, are affected. This rigid control is equally binding upon property owners, builders, and suppliers, and prohibits the withdrawal from inventory, the purchase, sale or delivery of any materials for use in construction, unless expressly authorized by WPB.
Residential construction that is only maintenance or repair may be done, if its estimated cost is less than $500; so may agricultural construction, if its estimated cost is less than $1,000.
Provision is made that a person may reconstruct or restore property razed or damaged by fire, flood, tornado, earthquake, or enemy action.

school heads mentioned above, Bevers said.
The Navy Relief Society is a national organization having for its sole purpose the protection of the Navy's fighting men. This job is undertaken in the same spirit that the Navy, now nearing 500,000 strong, carries the fight to our enemies on the oceans, over the oceans, and under the oceans.
Interest in the work of the organization should find a high place in the hearts of local people, as a large number of Hall County's finest young men are serving their country in the Navy and Naval Reserve, it was pointed out.
The nation's chief executive, President Franklin D. Roosevelt, is honorary president of the Navy Relief Society. Concerning it he says: "There is nothing finer than to build up this fund for the Navy Relief Society. I urge you to do your utmost, and do it now!"

Admiral Harold R. R. Stark, active president of the society, has this message: "You can best help the Navy by helping the Navy man's family back home. You can do this through our own 40-year-old organization, Navy Relief Society, which belongs to the Navy and our most cherished people."

announced by Jack Jarrell, training chairman for district V.

The task of the Boy Scouts of America during the present war emergency is a big one, as they have been called upon by the Office of Emergency Management, and by the President himself, to assist their country in time of war. Only with well trained leaders will they be able to do their best.

Scoutmaster training will be offered in other sessions in this district for men at Estelline, Turkey, Lela Lake, Clarendon and Hedley. All registered Scouters are urged to attend, so that they may more effectively do their job in civilian defense.

VALUE OF FIRST AID TRAINING

BECAUSE IT IS UNLIKELY that Hall County will be bombed or shelled by the enemy in this war, there are some people who underestimate the importance of the classes in Red Cross first aid that have been and will be taught in Memphis and surrounding communities.

The average individual is prone to take the attitude that "I'll never need first aid knowledge, so why should I waste time learning it." But how does anyone know when and where knowing what to do in case of injury may be the means of saving a life.

Since the United States has been at war, a large number of Hall County men and women have been trained in first aid according to approved Red Cross methods. In addition, a number of high school students have taken the junior course. Only a nitwit of the lowest order would venture to assert that these people and these youngsters have been wasting their time.

It is possible, even probable that few if any of them will ever be called upon to use their knowledge of first aid in bombed or shelled areas. But any day and every day it is possible that their training may stand them in good stead.

There have been many instances where lives have been saved in highway accidents by some person who knew first aid. And it is a well known fact that more accidents occur in our homes than anywhere else. If you are one of those who have taken a first aid course, some relative or friend may have reason at some time to be thankful for that fact.

VICTORY

Excerpts from the Official
OEM Bulletin

Evidence of the ever increasing manufacture of weapons multiplied itself last week when the War Production Board moved in on a long list of civilian products with curtailment or stop orders. The industries involved represented a host of machines for war production, some already turning out military items and others to be converted shortly. WPB counted some three-quarters of a million tons of iron and steel to be converted annually by these actions, along with other, uncounted amounts of these metals and untold quantities of other vital materials.

At or near the top in the list of lines to be curtailed was metal office equipment. With the tools and facilities of the $100,000,000 metal office equipment industry soon to be converted to war production, an end to the manufacture of virtually all types of such furniture and equipment, effective May 31, has been ordered.

The War Production Board on March 30 prohibited the use of copper and copper base alloy in the manufacture of slide fasteners (zippers), hooks and eyes, brassiere hooks, snap fasteners and grippers, and other garment closures. The same order restricts the use of steel, zinc, and zinc base alloy in the same items.

Curtailed production of all kinds of mowers, except those used to harvest crops, has been ordered by the War Production Board during the next three months. Production will cease entirely after June 30. The order includes lawn mowers.

Because lumber is largely replacing steel in wartime building construction, nail manufacturers are being asked to increase production during the coming months. Nail production averaged 55,000 tons a month in 1940 and had climbed to 65,000 tons a month by 1941.

Because dyestuffs are necessary for the manufacture of military uniforms the Director of Industry has issued an order curtailing civilian use of organic coloring material. The order, effective immediately, provides that 10 dyes with colors ranging from orange and yellow to khaki and olive drab, be set aside entirely for war use.

Conversion of the entire electrical appliance industry to war production is expected in a few months, with production of such common household articles as percolators, juice extractors, electric toasters, food mixers and waffle irons ordered by the WPB to cease on May 31. Other appliances affected by the order include dry shavers, hair dryers, permanent wave equipment and hair clippers.

Production of vacuum cleaners must be discontinued after April 30, the WPB ruled, in a move to convert that industry's plants and tools to military manufactures. It also prohibited, effective April 1, the use of copper and copper base alloy and restricted the use of steel, zinc base alloy in the manufacture of zippers, snap fasteners, hooks-and-eyes, brassiere hooks and other garment closures.

"...and put some teeth into it!"

ONCE UPON A TIME, car owners were merely urged to use good oil, to change it regularly when worn, to adopt a regular schedule of lubrication service.

Now, in the new era filled with priorities, with the manufacture of new automobiles absolutely cut off, real teeth have been put into the idea of caring for a car in order to lengthen its life.

One of the most useful precautions you can take to preserve and protect your motor is to use good oil. But which oil is good? The following facts should help you decide:

Phillips, one of the great independents of the petroleum industry, with a fine reputation for giving greater value, makes this simple, straightforward statement: If you want our best oil, remember we specify that Phillips 66 Motor Oil is our finest quality... the highest grade and greatest value... among all the oils we offer.

Every time a new 1,000-mile mark clicks up on your speedometer, play safe with your motor, and play fair with your budget, by draining and refilling with Phillips 66 Motor Oil.

SOIL CONSERVATION METHODS TO BE EMPHASIZED IN PLAINS AREA

A widespread campaign for a more universal use of simple soil and water conservation practices that can be applied by farmers and ranchers without technical assistance is being conducted this spring by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, soil conservation districts, and other interested groups in the Southern Great Plains, according to H. H. Fennell, regional conservator of the Soil Conservation Service.

Even though great advances have been made in the general use of soil and water conservation measures during recent years, Fennell states that all agencies interested in the conservation program agree that it should be expanded at this time, not only as a safeguard to the land but because conservation farming is the most dependable means of attaining the Food for Freedom production goals needed for the nation's war effort.

Numerous experiments and demonstrations throughout the Southern Great Plains have definitely shown that conservation farming methods in this section increase crop yields during the first year they are applied, and greatly increase yields and insure a more dependable production over a period of years," the conservator states.

crops, contour furrowing of range and pasture lands on gentle or moderate slopes, the adoption of a more diversified system of cropping and the use of crop rotations, the conservation and use of crop residues, the use of more suitable and timely tillage methods, controlled grazing on range and pasture lands, and simple gully control measures.

The county war boards of the Department of Agriculture are taking the lead in the campaign for a more widespread use of these simple conservation measures. Among the agencies which are cooperating with the war boards are the Soil Conservation Service, the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, the Extension Service, the Farm Security Administration, and Soil Conservation District where organized.

Fennell states that all field conservationists of the Soil Conservation Service have been instructed to give full cooperation to the county war boards in offering technical advice about conservation practices. He feels that a more widespread use of conservation farming and ranching methods is absolutely essential to maintain expected war production goals if the war lasts for more than one or two years.

Almost any book with adult appeal will bring pleasure and profit to some person in the services, it is pointed out, because after all, these young men represent a cross section of American manhood, with reading tastes as varied as any other group.

This does not mean, however, that books their owners are ready to discard should make up the contributions. Nor has this been true in most instances locally. Every type of literature has, in fact, been represented and donors can be assured they will be appreciated by men in the services.

Uselessness of Hoarding Scrap Iron Emphasized

Ceiling Prices Not Likely To Be Raised, Says Texas Salvage Committee Head

Ceiling prices have been set on scrap iron and steel and there is no point in holding accumulations of these on the farm or around a city household in the hope of obtaining a higher price, according to George Butler, executive secretary of the Texas Salvage Committee.

"There is no profit in hoarding," Mr. Butler emphasized, "and fortunately, we find that the majority of farmers are only too glad to donate their accumulations of scrap, to charitable and civic collecting agencies, while others choose to sell. The important thing, though, is to get in that scrap."

The Office of Price Administration he said, has established a maximum price schedule for steel and iron scrap, and Leon Henderson, the price administrator, has made it plain that OPA has no intention of increasing these maximum prices. It took into consideration the fact that much material collected would be varied and would be unprepared for use by the mills. Also, much of this scrap is located in sections remote from the usual scrap collection areas and from steel centers.

"I can't conceive of anyone's withholding this vital war material for the selfish purpose of speculating on the possibility of higher prices in the future," Mr. Butler said. "That can only bring a loss of self-respect by anyone who gambles for personal profit, at the expense of our common effort to whip our enemies."

The salvage official called attention to the fact that labor and trucks will be provided by the War Projects Administration in areas where the state salvage committee hasn't succeeded in moving scrap materials.

Mr. Butler pointed out also that where instances of hoarding scrap steel and iron are found, the War Production Board's Bureau of Industrial Conservation has requisitioning powers, and it already has not hesitated to use those powers when anyone possessing scrap has refused to sell it to mills offering the ceiling prices.
