

Comedy-Drama With Political Background Is Capra's "Mr. Smith Goes To Washington"

Jas. Stewart And Jean Arthur In Ritz Feature

Frank Capra, the successful young director who has been stealing the lion's share of Hollywood laurels in recent seasons, has captured first place in the spotlight this season with his "Mr. Smith Goes to Washington," which is featured on the Ritz program today and Monday.

Favorably received by the public and the critics, "Mr. Smith" has been called one of those films with all the essences of American entertainment, with comedy, drama, romance, near-tragedy, thrills and spectacle.

Two able young players, Jean Arthur and James Stewart, are co-starred, and the supporting cast includes such players as Edward Arnold, Thomas Mitchell, Claude Rains, Guy Kibbee, Ruth Donnelly, Eugene Pallette, Beulah Bondi, Harry Carey, H. B. Warner, Porter Hall and Grant Mitchell.

Setting for the story is Washington, or, more specifically, the United States senate. Background is made up of scenes—many of them familiar—in the nation's capital, and there's a lot of the patriotic motif to be found.

The story, briefly, concerns a "typical" young man, played by Stewart, who has high concepts of his public duty. A fellow who likes boys, he quite naturally becomes a leader of Boy Rangers in his town. When he and the Rangers put out a dangerous forest fire, the stage is all set for a miracle in his life.

Stewart, now a local hero, is appointed to the United States senate to fill an unexpired term. He is wined and dined, then sent to what he considers one of the highest offices in the land.

The youth is correct in his starry-eyed belief in the integrity of statesmanship, but he doesn't know that in addition to statesmen there are politicians. He has been appointed to the senate for a particular purpose, and by as corrupt a state machine as ever got its rolls around a local capital.

What young Senator Jefferson Smith does when he is disillusioned is extraordinary. It kept yesterday's audience on the edge of its seats, laughing and crying by turn, and always spellbound. Pretty Miss Arthur, as his secretary, helps him, after first fighting the gangling young senator.

SCENES FROM 'MR. SMITH GOES TO WASHINGTON'

Senators, girls—a lot of people appear and a lot of things happen in "Mr. Smith Goes to Washington," the new comedy-drama directed by Ace Megaphone Frank Capra, and which tells of the adventures of a naive youth when thrown into the U. S. Senate den of lions. James Stewart and Jean Arthur are co-starred, and the picture is at the Ritz today and Monday.

Lamarr-Taylor Combine Back At The Lyric

'Lady Of The Tropics' Is Another Adventure In Romance

Two of the screen's "glamor" personalities, Hedy Lamarr and Robert Taylor, are teamed for romantic purposes in "Lady of the Tropics," which returns here for Sunday-Monday showings at the Lyric theatre. It's a story with an Oriental setting, with Taylor seen as a young American adventurer and Miss Lamarr as a mysterious beauty of the East.

The setting of the story, written especially for the new team by Ben Hecht, takes place in the heart of the Orient, where wanderers of all races, irrespective of class, meet and mingle, seek love and sometimes die. As the love between Taylor and Miss Lamarr progresses, it takes them to the colorful harbor of Saigon, the "Paris of the East," along its teeming river docks, into the interesting quarters of the natives, their cafes and shops.

Settings faithful to the country also include the more fashionable cafes, hotels and government buildings where mixed society meets, from whence the interest of the two leading characters hold for each other ripens within the mystifying ruins of the great enigmatic temple of Angkor Wat, shrine of a forgotten race only recently torn out of the jungle by French explorers.

Taylor plays young Bill Carey, penniless American, who meets and falls in love with Manon, a beautiful half-caste, portrayed by Miss Lamarr, whose dream is to flee from Indo-China where no race recognizes her, and become a white woman.

Joseph Schildkraut, as Delacroix, throws all obstacles in her path because he also loves her, and even her marriage to Taylor by Ernest Cossart, falls to thwart Delacroix in keeping her bound to Indo-China. Miss Lamarr, after Taylor has voiced distrust in her, finds

Educators To Be Heard In Peace Discussion On Sunday Broadcast

Six college presidents from wide-coast-to-coast "Show of the Week," will present the views of educators on "How Can We Begin Now to Organize for Peace?" on Station KBBT and the Texas State Network at 7 p. m. Sunday.

Under the auspices of MBS and Phi Beta Kappa, the six speakers will be President Thurston J. Davies of Colorado college, President Gordon J. Chalmers of Kenyon college, Ohio; President Daniel L. Marsh of Boston university, President Franklin W. Johnson of Colby college, Maine; President John J. Tigert of the University of Florida, and former U. S. commissioner of education, President Armand Marks of Bucknell university, Pennsylvania. Following their brief address, there will be a half-hour panel discussion with Dr. William Allison Shimer, executive secretary of Phi Beta Kappa, serving as chairman.

NEW SOPRANO

Carolyn Webster, the new soprano of the Texas State Network, together with the TSN orchestra under the baton of Ralph Rose, will be heard in their regular "Concert Miniatures" program at 4 p. m. Sunday on station KBBT.

Heard on the half-hour musical program will be the following selections: "Tales of the Vienna Woods," Strauss; "When You're Away" from the "Only Girl," Victor Herbert; a medley of Irving Berlin waltzes; "Dance of the Comedians" from the "Bartered Bride," Smetana; "The Pink Lady" and a concert arrangement of the Third Movement of Cesar Franck's D. Minor symphony with interpolations of "Masquerade."

EDDIE DUCHIN

Eddie Duchin, the "limp rag doll of the keyboard," will brighten the the solution in a tensely dramatic climax. Important roles in the supporting cast are filled by Gloria Franklin from the New York stage, Mary Taylor, Charles Trowbridge, Frederic Worlock, Paul Porcasi, Margaret Padula, Grace Hayle, Elise Cavanna, Cecil Cunningham and Natalie Moorhead.

Bumsteads Are Back—With New Troubles

'Blondie Brings Up Baby' Featured At The Queen

Once a Bumstead — always in trouble! Blondie and her family proved it in "Blondie," in "Blondie Meets the Boss" and in "Blondie Takes a Vacation." Playing today and Monday at the Queen theatre is the latest in the hilarious series of Columbia comedies, "Blondie Brings Up Baby." This new Blondie film has been hailed as the funniest of the hectic films to date.

Action of "Blondie Brings Up Baby" begins with Blondie's purchase of a twelve-volume encyclopedia on child training. To the consternation of Dagwood, Baby Dumping, Daley and their erudite little neighbor, Alvin, she proceeds to regulate Baby Dumping's life in accordance with the dictates of the books. Complications mount with amazing rapidity and reach the pea koef hilarity with a kidnap scene.

Hailed as the merriest medley of misadventure the Bumsteads have yet encountered, "Blondie Brings Up Baby," once more enlists the services of that brilliant stellar quartet featured in the previous films. Again Penny Singleton is the enthusiastic and well-meaning Blondie; Arthur Lake, the harassed and bewildered Dagwood; Larry Simms, that little rugged individualist, Baby Dumping; and Daisy is still the cute pup.

For the fourth time Director Frank Strayer guides the Bumsteads and their associates through their brisk and amusing antics. An excellent supporting cast contributes to the high standard of the new "Blondie" offering.

Army Lays "Nest Eggs" On Coasts

FORTRESS MONROE, Va., Nov. 11 (AP)—The army is laying "nest eggs" up and down the Atlantic and Pacific coasts.

They are submarine mines, put away for the possible rainy day of attempted invasion by a foreign fleet. Each contains 200 pounds of TNT and can be fired electrically from an observation point miles away.

The mines are harmless for any American or neutral ship, even if it struck them directly, since they do not explode on impact as do mines used by the navy.

But the network, officials contend, would be fatal for any enemy battleship or submarine attempting to invade a harbor or the channels into coastal waterways.

Each mine in strings of 19 mines each, placed at strategic points in harbor entrances, is wired directly to a shore control point through an electrical cable. The mines are attached to anchors 100 feet apart and lie about 30 feet below the surface.

The mine defense crew of any harbor knows the exact location of every row of "eggs" and can check just as precisely the position of a ship as it moves toward any row.

By triangulation, which is simply observing from three points and plotting the intersecting lines, the course of the ship can be traced. Officers say they can predict within a few seconds when the ship will pass over a certain mine.

Then a button is pushed to fire the mine.

The Lamesa and Midland football clubs are the truest examples of what is called "one-man teams" this writer has ever seen. The merits of the respective clubs are well known to all who follow the game.

Vaughn does everything well, including the defensive work. He slowed down Francis and his mates for 85 minutes of the Friday night battle in Midland and apparently had staked his team to a sure victory but Jay suddenly broke the bonds and exhibited what Vaughn is truly a "team" player but dominates the Lamesa offense at all times because he can do so many things. When Francis is in the game the opposition must play football of 60 minutes for he is a youth who can alter the outcome in one dynamic run.

Ahlens' Eagles are improving, Birds lost their seventh straight game and may give the Steers plenty of trouble in their game this weekend in Abilene. The War

One of the three linemen named, Claxton, is a back, but has proved himself. Oglesby is a versatile little man who has played a large part in Westbrook's victories this year. McDonald is as strong on defense as on offense and played a consistent game despite injuries. Pinkston is a ramming type of fullback who would have made a grand 11-man game player. Tension left Forsan two weeks before the season was over and the Buffs suffered for it. Others who played consistent ball during the season were Garner, Donald Allred and Sonny Chapman, Coachman Wayne Munrosey and J. C. Tonn, Westbrook's Red Davenport and Courtney's Bill Schuelke.

Grapevine dispatches from the north reveal that Pampa leaders may lose a bombshell into the WT-NM baseball league meeting in Amarillo next Sunday by announcing their withdrawal from pro ball. Bill Terry, the Giant skipper, who is reported in "hot water" with Horace Stoneham, Giant operator, may start cleaning house on orders and Seeds may bob up with some other outfit.

Ponies Almost Score On Last Play Of Game

Kimbrough Plunges Over After Fumble Is Recovered

By GAYLE TALBOT
COLLEGE STATION, Nov. 11 (AP)—Texas A. and M.'s big, mobile eleven remained in the ranks of the nation's undefeated untied teams by defeating its strongest Southwest Conference rival, Southern Methodist University, 6 to 2, in a nerve-racking tussle before 30,000 drenched spectators at Kyle Field today.

In scoring their eighth straight victory, the Aggies bounced their lighter opponents all over the sticky turf for three periods, and then got the daylight scared out of them in the closing minutes of the contest.

After the horn had sounded to end the hectic affair, a far-flung Methodist pass actually hit the fingertips of a receiver in the end zone—and slipped off.

John Kimbrough, a 210-pound fullback with the kick of a mule in his long legs, plunged across for the Aggies' touchdown from the two-yard line late in the second quarter after an S.M.U. fumble had been recovered on the 16.

The Mustangs, fighting back hard, counted their points midway of the final period when Noble Goose, an end, broke through to block a punt by John Conatser, Aggie halfback, in the end zone.

Conatser was extremely lucky to recover the slippery ball and escape with no worse than a safety. It was a narrow squeak for a team that proved itself far the more solid outfit all the way.

Gains Advantage
The strapping Aggies, averaging around 200 pounds, ripped the Methodist defense for a net of 127 yards—every yard of it on running plays, and twice threatened to score in the second half. Once they were held for downs on the 20-yard line, and again they muffed an attempted field goal after having ploughed to a first down on the 11-yard line.

It was straight powerhouse football, and some of the Methodists got badly bruised up. Coach Homer Norton's candidates for national honors attempted only one pass, and it was of the "flat" variety and somewhat foolish, inasmuch as they were leading 6-0 at the time.

The Mustangs, who had lost only to Notre Dame in a spectacular 29 to 19 game, were roped and branded by a great Aggie line. They gained only 77 yards, 45 of which were accounted for in their last ditch aerial attack. Except for a few minutes at the start of the game their running offense was stopped short of the line of scrimmage. Only some magnificent kicking by Preston Johnston saved the Methodists from a worse defeat.

Thompson Impressive
A cold rain fell throughout the contest and made the footing tricky. Even so, the Aggies running game clicked smoothly, and their interference was something extra. Jim Thompson's blocking mowed down the Mustang wings and secondary for Kimbrough and Conatser.

The first downs were 10 to 5 in favor of the conference leaders. Kimbrough's plunging being largely responsible. The big, high-stepping junior lugged the ball 17 times for a gain of 52 yards, and only once was stopped without a gain. His defensive game, too, was brilliant. His time interception of a deep Mustang pass in the closing minutes enabled the 6,000 Cadets banked in the stand to breathe again.

The spectators were beginning to have visions of a scoreless deadlock when the Aggies got the break that led to their touchdown just before the half. Although the Aggies had jammed their way for four first downs in the opening period, the Mustangs had been stopping them short of midfield, and Conatser and Johnson were having themselves a fine punting duel.

But Johnston, attempting to skirt an end near his own goal line, lost his grip on the slick pigskin and Tommie Vaughn, Aggie end, swarmed on it. From the 10-yard line Kimbrough needed just three mighty licks to score.

Wilson's personal property, but the slick ball helped. He started the drive from his own goal line, where he dropped the ball and scooted to his 15. Then he kicked 53 yards and Texas fumbled, a costly fumble that was nobody's fault. Wilson then punted out of bounds on first down, putting the ball on the Texas 10. Texas kicked again and Wilson, on the first play, ran 11 yards for a first down. Graham of Baylor returned a high (G) 0, but recovered and hit from on near Crain finally nailed him. Witt passed accurately to Barnes for the touchdown, and Nelson made the placement good.

The game was late in the second when Crain went into the game, but he was never able to find an open field. His play at safety was consistently good.

The Bruins attempted three and completed two for a total of 12 yards, but both were for touchdowns.

Angelo Comes From Behind To Tie Steers

OLIE GORDILL STARS AS PASSER IN RICE-ARKANSAS 12 TO 12 DEADLOCK

By WILLIAM T. RIVES
HOUSTON, Nov. 11 (AP)—Rice Institute, playing without the services of its great passing man, Ernie Lala, fought back a wave of Arkansas Razorbacks today to gain a 12-12 tie.

Five times the Arkansas gang swept goalward on a batch of passes and plunges and twice they crossed the last stripe. But three times the outgained Owls gathered up their tired forces and checked-reined the invaders, and that meant a tie.

On the first play from scrimmage, Lala charged toward an Arkansas runner and in the melee along the sidelines, hurt his left arm.

He was taken to the hospital for an x-ray examination. Rice without Lala is a woebegone club but Olie Gordill, his favorite pass receiver, and the rest of the Owls played their hearts out to hold back a club which racked up 214 yards passing to the Rice 66; 175 yards rushing to Rice's 76, and 23 first downs to the Owls' 6.

Rice looked better than those statistics indicate and with Lala in the game, the outcome conceivably might have been different. Arkansas sounded the tocsin by taking the opening kickoff straight down field for a score from its own 58-yard line.

A couple of running plays and Kay Eakin, the team back for the Razorbacks, shot a 38-yard aerial to Maurice Britt, big end, on the Rice 16.

Eakin and McDaniel plowed through the Owl line to the 2, and McDaniel drove over. Stimpington failed to convert.

Rice charged back in the second period, thanks to a beautiful kick by Cordill, who added passing to his kicking and running chores.

Olie dropped the ball out on the Arkansas 2 with a 45-yard boot. Arkansas kicked to the 30, where Cordill took it on the fly and sped to the 50. Still a-working, the Owls star hurried to Bob Brandon, end, on the 4 and Whitlock Zander plunged for the tally. Price failed to kick goal.

Rice took the lead in the third when Cordill fired two eye-popping passes, one to Brandon on the 33 and another to Joe Price, a half back, on the 3 and then took Price's pass in the flat for the touchdown.

The latter maneuver baffled the Razorbacks, who were huddled close to the scrimmage line expecting a thrust at their forward wall.

Price again failed to convert. Arkansas took the next kickoff and smashed to another score. A spread formation, which puzzled the Owls throughout the battle, gained with the aid of line plays, from the Rice 40 to the 15.

Eakin got to the one-yard line and Cole took it over. Stimpington failed to kick goal.

Late in the third, Arkansas got to the Rice 10; and in the fourth, moved to the 11 once and the 5 minutes later, but couldn't put it over.

Rice had a chance in the first when it got to the Arkansas 5 after Gomez, guard, recovered a Razorback fumble, but the visitors held.

Through most of the game the field was dry but toward the end the players and 8,000 fans were chilled by a north wind and a drizzling rain.

Bovines Hold Big Advantage In Play

Fumble and Blocked Punt Leads To Bobcat Scores

By HANK HART
SAN ANGELO, Nov. 11 (AP)—The San Angelo Bobcats employed two breaks to come from behind and earn a 13-13 tie with the Big Spring Steers in a District 3-AA football game here Saturday afternoon before a crowd of 2,000 fans.

Completely outclassed through almost three periods of play by an inspired Big Spring eleven, the Angelons turned a blocked punt and a fumble into touchdowns within two minutes time.

Coasting along with a 13 point lead the Bovine machine lost its rabbit foot when Lefty Bethell attempted to quick kick from his own 15-yard stripe and the Cats swarmed in to smother the boot. Pat Drake picked up the ball, which was bouncing crazily on the 17, and dashed untouched to the goal.

On the following kickoff D. R. Gartman fumbled J. W. Stewart's boot on his own 20 yard stripe and Pike recovered for the Blue and Orange. From that point a 15-yard pass—Stewart to Bill Gibbs—and a five yard line smash by Stewart gave the Angelons their other score. Stewart played the line for the point.

Outside of those two thrusts, the Bovines dominated the show. Despite a soggy field and a drizzling rain, they stepped out after the kickoff and had a touchdown in five plays, scored again early in the third period.

Big Spring's Harold 'Lefty' Bethell was a sensation. He unreeled a marvelous running game that saw him gain 115 yards in 17 tries for a seven yard average and exhibited an unerring kicking toe that at times had the Cats gasping in astonishment.

It was the wronghander who engineered both touchdown drives. Johnny Miller grabbed Pappas' 45-yard kickoff and raced 26 yards before being drug to earth. After Owen Brummett had twice rammed into the center of the line for short gains, Bethell grabbed the oval and scampered 29 yards to the enemy 18 before he was bowled over. He picked up eight on his follow-up try. With the ball resting on the ten, Miller faded back, spotted D. R. Gartman in the end zone.

BAYLOR BRUINS SMOTHER GRAIN TO CORRAL TEXAS LONGHORNS, 20-12

Wacoans Take To Air Early To Score

By DAVE CHEVENS
WACO, Nov. 11 (AP)—Baylor's bruising line smothered Jackrabbit Jack Crain and his University of Texas teammates in the mud today while the Bruin offense piled up 50 points to nothing for the Longhorns.

Despite a drizzling rain that made a slough of the field and kept the ball slick throughout, Baylor went into the air in the first and second periods to score touchdowns on passes, and in the third the powerful and speedy Wilson dodged around right end seven yards for a touchdown.

Baylor played without showing any evidence of knowing the ball was slick and the field muddy. The heavy, veteran Bear line stopped Texas running plays before they started. Crain carried the ball nine times for an average gain of one and two-tenths yards, while Wilson and Jimmy Witt consistently eluded the Longhorn defense. The victory left Baylor very much in the running for the Southwest conference flag.

Wilson threatened early in the game, taking the ball to the Baylor 12. The Baylor line held and an attempted place kick by Preston Flanagan was wide.

Baylor got the ball deep into Texas territory late in the first period after the Bruins gained a net of 20 yards in a series of punt returns. Then Wilson slashed through the line for 15. On the next play, Witt dashed from the 44 to the Texas 20 after taking the ball from Wilson on a neat reverse.

Lammus Receiver
Wilson then made it first down on the nine and two plays later, in the next period, Wilson ran wide to the right, leaped into the air, and threw the ball to End Jack Lammus for a touchdown. Lammus also jumped for it from a near Longhorn defender. Center Bob Nelson, who led the Baylor line in its overwhelming charges, placed the point.

The second Baylor score was practically Wilson's personal property, but the slick ball helped. He started the drive from his own goal line, where he dropped the ball and scooted to his 15. Then he kicked 53 yards and Texas fumbled, a costly fumble that was nobody's fault. Wilson then punted out of bounds on first down, putting the ball on the Texas 10. Texas kicked again and Wilson, on the first play, ran 11 yards for a first down. Graham of Baylor returned a high (G) 0, but recovered and hit from on near Crain finally nailed him. Witt passed accurately to Barnes for the touchdown, and Nelson made the placement good.

The game was late in the second when Crain went into the game, but he was never able to find an open field. His play at safety was consistently good.

The Bruins attempted three and completed two for a total of 12 yards, but both were for touchdowns.

Tech Raiders, Centenary In Scoreless Tie

SHREVEPORT, La., Nov. 11 (AP) Playing in a steady downpour of rain that left miniature lakes on the field, Texas Tech and Centenary battled to a scoreless tie here this afternoon, waging a punting duel in which 75 kicks were made.

Soggy condition of the playing field made footing uncertain and ball carrying a near impossible art although Centenary backs, paced by Weenie Bynum, did manage to finish with a net gain of 31 yards on scrimmage plays as compared to a net loss of eight yards for the West Texas Red Raiders.

Playing for breaks on fumbles, both teams resorted to punts shortly after the opening kick-off, with Charles Calhoun of Lubbock, Texas, matching his kicking ability against that of Bynum and Max Bowerman of Centenary.

Leon Apper set the stage for a Centenary score in the first quarter when he covered a fumble by Calhoun on the Tech nine, but after Bynum had gained one yard through right tackle the Gents attempted a field goal with Al Birkelbach doing the kicking. The kick was low.

In the second quarter Curtis Jones, Centenary tackle, broke through the Tech line to cover another fumble by Calhoun on the Tech 10. Two drives advanced to the Tech three where Bynum fumbled and Bing Bingham covered for Tech on his five-yard line.

This marked the last scoring opportunity for Centenary, Calhoun keeping the Gents well away from the scoring zone with beautiful punts through the next two quarters.

Failing to get within the Gents' 30-yard line through the first three quarters, Tech rode to the 22 in the last two minutes of play on a 20-yard punt return by Milton Hill. Three running plays gained four yards, and on the fourth down Raymond Flusche went in to attempt a field goal. His kick was low, the ball bounding around on the six-yard line where it was picked up by Cotton Barnes, Cent halfback, who ran it out to the Centenary 31 as the final whistle sounded.

Calhoun punted 36 times for Texas Tech, averaging 38 yards. Bynum matched Calhoun's punting work until he was forced out of action in the third quarter with an injury.

St. Mary's Upset
WAXAHACHIE, Nov. 11 (AP)—Trinity university's Tigers scored a 2 to 0 upset victory over the heavy St. Mary's university Raiders from San Antonio here this afternoon before a small rain-soaked homecoming crowd.

With only two minutes of the game remaining, Horde, Trinity lineman, broke through to down Curtis Sandig, Rattler triple-threat fullback, behind his own goal line to give the Tigers a safety.

WEATHERFORD BEATEN
STEPHENVILLE, Nov. 11 (AP)—Playing on a muddy field and in a mist which fell throughout the game, John Tarleton college turned back Weatherford junior college in a conference game here this afternoon, 15 to 6.

Paris Sophomore Plays Despite Knee Injury

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
FORT WORTH, Nov. 11 (AP)—Scholarly Kyle Gillespie, an iron-nerved sophomore with a trick knee but a flaming heart, broke the drought on victories for Texas Christian university here today, smashing and passing the Frogs to a 16-0 conquest of Tulsa university.

Gillespie, a 158-pound youngster from Paris, played more than half the game with his knee in a brace and, wincing with every step, drove through the Hurricanes in a way not equaled before this season by a T. C. U. back.

A crowd of 5,000 fans huddled in the stands while a drizzling rain drenched the field already turned into a quagmire. But the weather did not hold back the bouncing sophomore who led the way to all the Texas Christian scoring. He was given a rising ovation as he left the game in the third period because of a recurrence of the knee injury.

Stanton Stops Odessa, 12-0

By HANK HART
STANTON, Nov. 11 (Sp)—The Stanton Buffaloes defeated the B team of Odessa high school Friday afternoon, in a non-conference game, 12-0. Stanton ran up 13 first downs to only 3 for the opponents.

In a meeting of the District 6-B heads at Lamesa this week, Stanton Buffaloes were declared champions of the district for the football season. The local team was defeated only once in conference play, by Seminole, who later forfeited the game for playing an ineligible man. The protest of ineligibility was made by Stanton.

Lubbock High Grid Mentor Death Victim

LUBBOCK, Nov. 11 (AP)—Weldon Chapman, Lubbock high school head coach since 1931, died today of bronchial pneumonia complicated by a throat ailment. He had been ill since Nov. 2.

Chapman, 38, one of the most popular coaches in Texas, had rallied Wednesday and seemed to be improving until a hemorrhage came at 5 a. m. today. Physicians then hoped only that he would live to know the final score between his team and Plainview high school. Lubbock's 19-0 victory was announced a few seconds before he died.

Born at Allen, Collin county, Chapman attended high school at the Odd Fellows Home at Corsicana where he was an honor student. He was graduated from Austin College, Sherman, in 1922 and became head coach at Cisco high school that year. There he produced some of the strongest teams in the state.

Chapman succeeded Henry Frkus as Lubbock head coach in 1931 and that year his team won the first district championship for Lubbock. That team gained recognition as an "iron man" outfit of a dozen able boys who won three games in ten days after a three-way tie. Last year Chapman's team went to the state finals, losing to Corpus Christi at the Dallas Cotton Bowl.

Funeral arrangements were incomplete.

Surviving are his widow, the former Minnie Eleanor Pettit of Cisco; his mother, Mrs. L. J. Chapman, Dallas; two brothers, John of Dallas and Emmett, coach at Fairfield, Tex.; and five sisters, Mrs. F. T. Clark and Miss Arlie Chapman, both of Dallas; Mrs. L. E. Clevenger of Waco, Mrs. N. F. Kelsper of Houston and Mrs. J. E. Kelsper of San Antonio.

Midland Rallies To Defeat Lamesa Tornadoes, 33 To 26

Francis Scores Thrice In Last Five Minutes

By HANK HART

MIDLAND, Nov. 11 (AP)—Ted McCullom's Lamesa Tornadoes employed an eight-man line with astounding success against Midland here Friday night, a bulwark that tied the Bulldogs' attack in knots for 55 minutes but they failed to respond to Jay Francis' spread formation in the waning moments and the speedy quarter ran them silly to score three touchdowns and give the Dogs a 33-26 triumph in one of the most amazing finishes ever witnessed in these parts.

Francis, a worker who can rise to the heights when the chips are down, rallied his forces at the eleventh hour after the partisan crowd had lost hope.

The Lamesans made their mistake when they abandoned their attack and fell back to defensive tactics. Apparently that was the proper thing to do with a two touchdown lead. In reality it was just what Francis wanted.

Gaining possession of the ball in midfield, the Dogs emerged from their huddle to maneuver into a spread formation that forced the Tornado to withdraw two of their line backers and move out into the flat zones for expectant passes. Francis did pass once—successfully—for a first down but the next time he wrapped the pig pelt under his arm, swept past the line and roared 22 yards into the end zones. Lamesans swarmed in from all angles when they discovered he was running but it was too late. Jay had disappeared.

Lamesa took the kickoff and played for time. Fighting for possession of the ball, the Bulldogs kayed three successive Lamesa off-tackle drives and forced the invaders to kick out.

Midland whined into that spread formation again to move in one play 15 yards down to midfield before Francis again took the ball, eluded the onrushing ends, kept going after twice being tossed off balance, blazed into the score.

Fifty yards he galloped this time for a touchdown that tied the score. Pau Klatt then booted the goal and Midland led, 27-26.

With less than a minute to go the Tornadoes put the ball in play from their own 35 after a kick-off by Klatt and opened a desperate passing attack. Jackie Vaughn, the Lamesans' ace grenadier, looped one high and long and his receiver, Wilson, glided down field waiting for it but from no where came Francis to take the heave, waltz gracefully through no man's land and romp 38 yards to the score.

The final gasp popped immediately after the kickoff.

Vaughan Outstanding

The Lamesans' Vaughn was the game's outstanding man despite Francis' flurry. He stopped Francis on two touchdown runs and was truly a marvel on offense. He propelled the Tornadoes to all their touchdowns.

The lead changed hands on five different occasions. Lamesa scored first on a short plunge by A. B. Furlow, capping a 50-yard drive. The Dogs were kept in their own end of the field the duration of the first period but stepped out early in the second to score, Francis traveling 19 yards to pay dirt. Klatt's try for point was good.

The Lamesans stormed back shortly after to count when Vaughn passed to Wilson for 14 yards who traveled 17 additional paces up the sidelines into pay dirt. Vaughn booted the point and the Tornadoes took a 13-7 lead they did not lose until the third period when Midland's J. M. White climaxed a 45-yard drive with a two-yard jaunt across the double stripes. Klatt booted the point and the Dogs again led.

Lamesa waited until the second play of the fourth period to strike again, taking the advantage when Vaughn drove over from the one-yard stripes.

Vaughn then chucked the job to Francis who failed miserably until he changed formations.

Score by quarters:

Midland 0 7 7 19—33
Lamesa 6 7 7 6—26

AUBURN WINS
BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Nov. 11 (AP)—Auburn gave Villanova an intentional safety in the fourth quarter and won a 10-9 victory over the easterners in an intercollegiate game here today before 12,000 fans.

RUN INTO TROUBLE
RALEIGH, N. C., Nov. 11 (AP)—Duke's undefeated and untied footballers found North Carolina State's Wolfpack tough here today but mustered one scoring punch for a 7 to 6 victory in an intercollegiate game played before 12,000 spectators.

Volunteers Cop From Citadel

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 11 (AP)—Tennessee's mighty bowl-bound juggernaut crushed The Citadel, 34 to 0 today before 8,000 spectators, but the Volunteers' 20th consecutive victory proved a costly one.

George (Bad News) Cafego, the Vols' triple-threat all-America half-back candidate, was carried from the field with a knee injury midway the first period after colliding with a teammate, Larry Tanner.

Trainer Mickey O'Brien announced following examination of the injury in a hospital that Cafego definitely was lost for Tennessee's traditional battle with Vanderbilt here next week.

The wiry West Virginian played approximately seven minutes, but that was long enough for him to romp 87 yards in five sprints from scrimmage, 14 yards more than the total of 73 amassed by the South Carolinians.

MIDWAY CAGERS WIN, LOSE AT MIDWAY GYM

Midway junior girls dropped a close 9-8 decision to the Moore girls Friday in a basketball game at Midway, but the Midway junior boys pulled a stirring finish to nose out the Moore juniors 18-16 in the curtain affair.

In the girls affair, Priddy for Midway and Phillips for Moore each scored five points.

Although they trailed most of the way, with the exception of spasmodic tying spurts, the Midway youngsters whipped out at the end to down the Midway lads for the first time on a Midway floor in the memory of most fans. It was the first time Moore had lost in many games. Loudamy, with 10 points, paced the Midway attack while Brown scored eight for Moore. E. Tonn, substitute Midway center, scored but four points, but he was the outstanding defensive performer. Coahoma and Midway junior boys play Monday evening at Coahoma while the Moore and Coahoma junior high school boys will tangle in an added attraction.

KENTUCKY BEATEN ATLANTA, Nov. 11 (AP)—

A lightning-like, last minute rally gave the Kentucky Wildcats a touchdown but failed to have them from a second, 16-6 kicking by Georgia Tech's raspy-dazzle Yellow Jackets today before a turnout of 22,000.

Tide Subdued By Green Wave

By KENNETH GREGORY

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 11 (AP)—Tulane's Green Wave overcame a three-year "jinx" today to subdue Alabama's Crimson Tide, 13 to 0, and remain among the nation's undefeated football machines. A record-breaking crowd of 52,000 watched the battle.

The triumph, putting Tulane in a tie with Tennessee and Georgia Tech for the Southeastern Conference leadership, was featured by a sensational 69-yard touchdown run by Harry Hays, a 166-pound halfback from San Angelo, Tex. Tulane's play, a bit ragged, showed complete superiority.

After most of the first half saw nothing of importance happen, Hays made his spectacular dash. With the ball resting at the Wave 31, he swung to the right then back through tackle. Picking up wonderful interference, he made Tulane's longest run from scrimmage this season. Bobby Kellogg's try for the extra point was blocked.

A "break" early in the third period set up Tulane's second touchdown. On a punt, Alabama's Jimmy Nelson ran to the Tide 30, but Alabama was penalized to its one-yard stripe for clipping.

Charley Boswell punted from the end zone and the ball went out of bounds on the Alabama 20. After two plays, Kellogg shot a 16-yard pass to Quarterback Stan Nyhan. Buddy Banker hit center for three and Kellogg breezed outside tackle for the score. Kellogg converted with a placekick.

go in the second period when Floyd Thompson, another sophomore, kicked a field goal from the Tulsa 22-yard line. A booming punt by Gillespie had driven Tulsa deep into its territory and the Hurricanes never could get out of the hole. Shortly before Thompson had missed a field goal from the 17-yard line as the result of a momentary fumble by the ball-holder, who, incidentally, was Gillespie.

The Frogs scored twice early in the third period, marching 59 yards for the first with Gillespie pitching a 30-yard pass to Earle Clark who ran the remaining 6 yards for a touchdown, and the other time on Gillespie's sprint around right end after his 12-yard pass to Looney had put the ball on the Tulsa 3-yard line.

Bob Cook kicked one point after touchdown.

HUSKERS WIN

LINCOLN, Neb., Nov. 11 (AP)—A 32-yard march after a 26-yard punt return by Herman Rohrig gave Nebraska a second quarter touchdown and a 7 to 0 victory over Kansas university before 26,000 here today. Rohrig scored the touchdown on a smash from the six-yard line to send the Nebraska homecoming crowd home happy.

WISCONSIN UPSET

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., Nov. 11 (AP)—An 82-yard touchdown run by Sophomore Jimmy Smith in the second period today gave Illinois a 7 to 0 victory over Wisconsin, in a thrill packed battle which ended with Wisconsin in possession on the Illinois one-foot line as the final gun exploded.

SOONERS EKE OUT MANHATTAN, Kan., Nov. 11 (AP)

Oklahoma squeaked through with a 13 to 9 victory over Kansas State today for its eighth straight Big Six victory. By the triumph the Sooners marched into a first place tie with Missouri for the conference lead at three victories each.

Nile Kinnick Is Difference In 7-6 Game

Lou Zontini Misses Vital Extra Point; 45,000 Look On

By L. E. SKEELLEY

IOWA CITY, Iowa, Nov. 11 (AP)—Iowa's fighting iron men toppled proud Notre Dame from the ranks of the country's undefeated football teams today.

The durable Hawks, eight of whom played the full 60 minutes, snapped Notre Dame's six-game winning streak by a 7 to 6 score in an exciting, pulse tingling game that had 46,000 fans standing for the last four minutes of the battle.

Nile Kinnick, who completed his fifth straight game without relief, sent the Hawkeyes into a 7 to lead with a four-yard touchdown plunge and an all-important drop kick for the extra point with only 40 seconds remaining in the second period.

Iowa had recovered a fumble to get the scoring chance.

The Hawks fought off Notre Dame until late in the third period. The fighting Irish climaxed the surge with Milt Pipeful's cutback through center from the four-yard line for a touchdown on the second play in the fourth period.

Lou Zontini dropped back to try for that big extra point that would have meant a tie. He took careful aim but the halfback, whose points after touchdown beat South-ern Methodist and Carnegie Tech, booted the ball to the left of the goal posts.

That cooked the Irish goose. The game they had scheduled for a breather backfired to end Notre Dame dreams of its first undefeated season since Knute Rockne's last team won the national championship in 1930.

The Iowa victory also duplicated the performance of the 1921 Hackeye when which whipped the Irish 10 to 7 to crack a 20-game winning streak.

YARDSTICK

Brummett (BS)—Seven yards in nine tries.

zones and let him have it. Gartman gathered the pitch in easily and the Steers led, 6-0. That had to do for two periods for Bob Savage missed the try for point.

The Longhorns made two other threats before half time while the line was doing an excellent job of throttling the Angelo backs but couldn't reach the goal. One of their drives ended on the Cats' 16 yard stripe.

A short time later Bobby Martin raced into try for an interception of Stewart's desperate flat zone pass around the Angelo 15-yard line but dropped the ball. He was in the clear.

Romps To Score

Early in the third Bethell dashed off the second Big Spring scoring drive when he dashed 26 yards up the sidelines and across the double stripe. Savage, who had recovered Stewart's fumble to set the stage for the drive, this time booted the point.

Kicking on both sides was phenomenal. Bethell's 43 yard average would have been even better had he not pointed for the sidelines several times.

His most thrilling boot came in the fourth quarter when he lofted one 44 yards that sailed out of bounds on the Bobcats' one-yard stripe.

Stewart booted a better average than the Big Springer, but punted fewer times. He looked best at quick kicking, twice getting 70 yards on his unexpected punts.

Savage and Hal Battle dominated the Big Spring line play while Douglass Pyle gave plenty of assistance. Pike was Angelo's defensive star.

IRISH, KENTUCKY AND BIG GREEN UPSET VICTIMS

Tennessee And Other Leaders Come Through

By HERB BARKER

NEW YORK, Nov. 11 (AP)—There was no armistice for football's favorites today.

Notre Dame, Dartmouth, Kentucky and Catholic all were beaten for the first time as a half dozen other prime favorites also bit the dust.

The proverbial luck of the Irish finally deserted Notre Dame for Elmer Layden's South Bend outfit in an exciting, pulse tingling game that had 46,000 fans standing for the last four minutes of the battle.

Nile Kinnick, Iowa's great back, playing his fifth successive game without relief, scored the Hawkeyes touchdown and drop kicked the decisive point. Notre Dame drove over for a fourth quarter touchdown but Lou Zontini "blew" the extra point.

Dartmouth, hailed as Cornell's only real rival in the Ivy League, bowed to Princeton, 9-7, while Kentucky's Wildcats dropped a 13-0 decision to Georgia Tech and Catholic, previously unbeaten and untied, was soundly whipped by St. Anselm's, 39-13.

Other Surprises

There were other surprises but the upset parade failed to catch up with Tennessee, Tulane, North Carolina, Cornell, Oklahoma, and Texas A. and M., all of whom remained unbeaten.

Texas A. and M. barely got past Southern Methodist, 6-2, in a great battle at College Station that just about decided the Southwest conference championship, and Cornell needed two extra points to stop Colgate's Red Raiders, 14-12. Oklahoma likewise found the going tough before it could get past Kansas State, 13-10, but Tennessee and North Carolina won as they pleased. Tennessee whipped The Citadel, 34-0, and North Carolina pushed over Davidson, 33-0. Harry Hays' 69-yard run helped Tulane to a 13-0 victory over Alabama.

Missouri, which faces Oklahoma next week in the game that will virtually settle the Big Six title, provided the highlight of a slender intercollegiate program, knocking New York University, 20-7, as Paul Christman scored two touchdowns, passed for the other and generally outplayed his N. Y. U. rival, Ed Boell. The east dropped another intercollegiate decision when Villanova bowed to Auburn, 10-9, but won three games. Fordham tripped Indiana 13-0 as Len Eahmont dashed 74 yards for one score; Duquesne nosed out North Carolina State, 7-0, to remain unbeaten and untied; and Boston College nipped Detroit, 20-13, on a fourth quarter pass by Charlie O'Rourke.

A crowd of 65,000 saw Minnesota upset favored Michigan, 20-7, in their annual struggle for the little brown jug. Fred Montague's field goal gave Purdue a surprising 3-0 verdict over Northwestern as Illinois stopped Wisconsin, 7-0, and Ohio State swamped Chicago as Nebraska scheduled, 61-0, in the Big Six, Nebraska blatted Kansas, 7-0, as Iowa State absorbed a 21-2 beating from non-conference Marquette.

Baylor retained its slender chance for a share in the Southwest title by walloping Texas' Longhorns, 20-0, while Rice and Arkansas played a 12-12 tie. Texas Christian won from Tulsa of the Missouri Valley conference, 16-0.

Shutout Loss

In the east, Penn State, Pitt and Harvard all overturned betting favorites. Pitt stopped Carnegie Tech, 6-0, on a pass from Edgar Jones to Bob Thurbon in the last two

Christman In Box As Tigers Defeat NYU

YANKEE STADIUM, New York, Nov. 11 (AP)—The big blond kid with the don't-care manner just stood back there loose as a rubber band. Sometimes he'd throw, sometimes he'd run, sometimes he'd kick, and when finally, after 57 long minutes, he jogged to the sidelines he had pitted the Missouri Tigers to a smashing 20 to 7 victory over New York university.

The 30,000 fans homing in the gridiron this balmy afternoon never saw better pitching in Yankee stadium when Red Ruffing was in top form, and they never saw anything quite like the way this Paul Christman adroitly mixed that pitching with running to keep the willing Violets back on their heels for all but five minutes of the game.

The 30,000 who had come with the names of Christman and long Ed Boell on their lips straggled away with just one muttered word—Christman.

The big kid from the corn county just stole the show. He scored twice himself, pitched to the other touchdowns, called signals, intercepted passes, punted, tackled, blocked and in general had a field day.

That does not mean that Boell was a washout. He was the best of a N.Y.U. team which was pretty much out-played all afternoon. Christman had able help from a stout line, from driving backs such as Bill Cunningham, Jim Starmer and Clarence Hydrum, and sticky-fingered lads like the double-trouble Oris and Blaine Currence and Ronald King.

From the opening scrimmage play of the game the Violets may have known they were in for it. Christman shot the ball down the field like he was tossing an apple into a barrel. Currence snared it, lateraled it to Bud Orr for a 23-yard gain, and the Missourians were on their way.

MINERS COP, 14-6

EL PASO, Nov. 11 (AP)—Outplayed in the air and on the ground, Texas College of Mines today struck twice in the first quarter to defeat the University of Arizona 14-6 before 8,000 homecoming day fans.

Quarterback Kenneth Heineman Mucker sparking, started the fireworks with an 83-yard return of the Wildcats' opening kickoff.

Want to Feel like a Big Shot?

PROBABLY you're a big shot already to someone, so you know something of how good it feels.

What we mean is, how'd you like to feel like you used to think a big shot must feel, cruising along in his big brawny Buick, envy of every youngster in town?

Fact is, a big brawny Buick—this year's beauty of a Buick—is within your reach right now, if you just put your mind to it.

A husky headlong 107-horse-powered giant valve-in-head straight-eight can be yours to command—you can roll around town in the staunch and steady carriage that's sure big, beautiful and a bearcat in action when its boss gives the word!

Yes, you can ride in the gentle lap of Foamtex-cushioned luxury—shift gears with a flip of your finger, take bumps without notice in BuicOil Springing's "full float" comfort, even signal your turns by a touch on a lever that shuts itself off when you're through with it.

And what do you pay for all this—budget-bursting prices?

Ix-nay! On the contrary, you can buy a Buick for less than some sixes! And you'll find when you look into what's included in these prices that they cover many an item that you will be asked to pay extra for elsewhere.

All it takes, really, is the imagination to step up to the car you've really wanted—and once you've made that step, there's no real problem, for this Buick retains its extra first cost in the extra trade-in value it has when you come to buy again.

So lift your sights. Quit grading yourself down. This year, go after the car you really want—which means talking delivered prices and trade-in terms with your nearest Buick dealer.

They Won't Agree, Governor

By attempting to get 181 legislators to agree on a tax bill before it is even introduced, Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel is trying to do an impossible job.

Every important piece of legislation is the result of compromise—the outgrowth of a stubborn battle at the end of which both sides make some concessions.

This is particularly true of tax bills. Taxes are more unpopular than sin, and whenever a tax bill slips through both houses of the legislature, it emerges as a measure which represents a compromise between the two conflicting groups.

Governor O'Daniel is asking the legislature to agree to a tax bill which will raise 25 or 40 million dollars to finance the state's social security program.

In his statement that he will call a special session if the legislature will agree in advance on an enormous tax bill, the governor is on safe ground.

It is like saying, "I will give you a million dollars if you will jump over the moon." You know in advance that your offer is so fantastic that it cannot be accepted.

The governor's declaration that 25 to 40 million dollars is needed for social security means just one thing—He is still plugging for the sale tax.

Unbiased observers know that an additional $15,000,000 would take care of the social security program handsomely, with money to spare.

The hitch is that if the governor admits that an additional $15,000,000 will finance the social security program, then he will have to admit that this money can be raised with ease by an omnibus tax bill which levies on natural resources and luxuries.

Only by insisting that the state must raise an additional 25 or 40 million dollars—a figure obviously out of reach of an omnibus tax bill—can the drive for a sales tax be maintained.

Hollywood Sights And Sounds

HOLLYWOOD—This is just a story about a pretty girl. If you aren't interested in pretty girls, per se, you may skip it and turn back to the war news.

Oh, so you're still around? Well, maybe this girl whose name is verbal music, Nanette Fabares, can act, too. I thought she gave an interesting sample of her wares in this department in "Elizabeth and Essex."

She was the girl who broke down and cried in sympathy for Liz, because she, too, was a woman in love, and she, too, was a "missin'" her man who was away fighting Liz's battles.

Mike Curtiz, who directed the picture, got that scene by telling Nanette she was a terrible actress. Mike liked Nanette in the part, but things weren't going too well on the set that day.

"Nanette," pronounced Mike with finality, "you are a terrible actress!"

And Nanette broke down and cried, and Mike, with a wink at Bette Davis, said all right they'd try it again, just rehearse it. And Nanette couldn't stop crying, and they "rehearsed" it, and when they finished, that was it, the scene. This Curtiz is a sly fella sometimes.

Fabares (pronounce it Fa-ba-raise) is an old Louisiana French name. Nanette's mother is of Irish descent. Nanette was born in New Orleans but she didn't grow up on gumbo, jambalaya and luscious oysters on the half-shell. Her mother brought her to Hollywood when she was three, and she has visited New Orleans only once since, very recently.

She is a pretty young thing, nice slim figure, long dark hair, intelligent and pretty dark eyes. She doesn't think she's a pretty young thing. She says Perc Westmore, the make-up man, has despaired of her. Says Perc kept telling her about her "bad camera angles" until she asked in desperation if she had any good angles. "No," said Perc.

Nanette was a baby dancing star on California stages, a "single" act, and later taught dancing to earn her way through school.

She had to give up dancing—tap, ballet, acrobatic, all kinds—a few years ago when his strenuous demands threatened to ruin her health. She never tried pictures, except for a brief rally in "Our Gang," of which she remembers little, until her work in a little theatre won a screen test. The test was terrible, she says, and she kept on working in the little theatre. She won a scholarship at Max Reinhardt's drama school, and a second chance at pictures. This time the test was better, and she played in "A Child Is Born"—she did her role two weeks after recovering from double pneumonia but it was a bed-ridden role—and then in "Elizabeth and Essex."

"I'm not sure my contract will be extended," she says with a frankness not too startling in these uncertain days when many contracts are being forgotten. "I may go to New York for a Reinhardt production, anyway."

Her pet interest is astrology—but not for telling the future. "Don't like that"—and her pet aversion is being called "no, Nanette!" which she is called by everybody, including her old enough to be called by everybody.

The Thrill That Comes Once In A Lifetime

The Creeping Man

by Frances Shelley Wees

Chapter 29 UNDERCURRENTS. Marie Murchison's long, crimson tipped fingers played languidly with the pearls at her throat.

"I've heard that one can get maids at the residences very often," Tuck said directly to Mrs. Murchison. "They train them, and pay them very small wages, and the girls won't stay very long. Did you ever get one there?"

"No, I never did," she smiled swiftly with a flash of white teeth. "I get a French girl whenever I can. They are so capable and quick, and I can speak to them in their language. It is a great advantage to know another language really thoroughly."

There was something vaguely ill-bred in the lift of her chin as she spoke across Miss Lissey. Tuck no longer felt sorry for her.

"Had you a French girl just before you left here, then? I rather wondered—there was a French novel upstairs, a very battered and torn one. The kind a servant would read. I burned it."

She flushed a deep painful crimson. Her mouth tightened. "It must have been there some time," she said. "I had no maid for a month or two before we left the house."

That was what Tuck had been after. No maid? Then, this woman herself had cleaned the study the morning after her husband's disappearance. If anything had happened... Tuck remembered the pipe, fallen from nerveless fingers. If there had been marks of a struggle, anything of the sort... this woman knew all about them.

Charlotte Jean interrupted with the tea tray. At the same moment the McBains arrived, and Duncan Murchison came up the path through the woods and into the garden. His step was light and buoyant, and he smiled cheerfully at Tuck, who in moving back to the house, had seen him and wondered, to look at Mrs. McBain. Dressed all in white she was the most beautiful thing, Tuck decided, that she had ever seen. She didn't look like a Greek statue as much as like one of Rossetti's painted women; her lids over the violet eyes were like the petals of heavy white camellias. Her husband knew her beauty; often and often Tuck saw his eyes go to her, as she sat with consummate poise and turned Devoe's compliments off as lightly as if they had been made of nothing more solid than fog.

Tuck could not refrain from mentioning that loveliness to Mrs. Deane, who was at the moment beside her. "Isn't Mrs. McBain perfectly beautiful?" she asked. "Who was she before she was married?"

"I don't know, I'm sure, except that her people were very wealthy. It was a love match, as you can see, and McBain was still at Medical school and had no money at all. He was an orphan or something out of a home. It's remarkable how he's gotten along without any help, and they're so happy together."

Tuck was glad someone was happy. Nearly everyone else in the sunny garden was carrying, it seemed, a heavy secret burden.

Only a few moments after the Devoes, who were the last to leave, had gone, the telephone rang. Michael lifted it from the desk and answered.

"Hello." He shook the phone. "Hello. Oh... yes, it's Michael Forrester. He listened, said, 'Yes, we will Right away,' and set it down. 'It's Alix Lissey.' He turned to the two girls. 'She wants us to come over. Right away. Her voice sounded queer.'"

"I wonder if she's sick?" Tuck said. "She looked so tired when she went home. I asked her if her head ached, and she said no. 'She didn't say she was sick,' he replied as they went out the gate. 'She just said she wanted to see us immediately. I rather think she wants to talk.'"

"Doesn't she always?" Bunny asked dryly. Miss Lissey's door was open, and her voice called "Come in, from an inner room. Michael closed the door carefully behind him, just as she appeared in the archway to the right. She still wore the hat she had worn all afternoon, and she still clasped in her hand the chiffon handkerchief she had carried. It was twisted into a string. There was a high spot of color on each cheek, and her manner was strange, excited.

"Come in," she said, and turned to precede them into her living room. "Sit down."

She would not sit down herself, but paced the floor restlessly. "I've come to the conclusion, it's time to talk," she said after a moment. "Don't know what's come over me. That creepy feeling at the tea—you felt it?" She looked directly at Tuck.

"I don't know what you mean, Miss Lissey."

"You know they were all hating each other—watching each other (Continued on Page 9)

Washington Daybook

WASHINGTON—British and French air plans orders coming after the lifted embargo will be passed around among manufacturers where they will do the most good for Yankee preparedness at the same time they get results for the Allies.

Here is a sample of what will be done. The French have taken a strong liking to the hot little Curtis pursuit plane, known as P-36. They say it is out-fighting the much feared German Messerschmidts, which were held up as tops among fighters when the war started. Likely the French would prefer to buy about all the Curtis plant can produce. However, the army has prior orders with Curtis for a faster and handier plane than the P-36. It is called the P-40.

The French will have to shop around among other factories. That won't be such a hardship. A half dozen other plane makers have submitted plans to the army and navy for ships considered only a shade less effective than P-40.

WILL CAUSE EXPANSION. The army-navy munitions board won't be able exactly to tell the French and British where they must buy but force of circumstances will compel them to buy from plants which are not filled with U. S. plane orders. That will mean expansion of plants which could not be boosted to mass production by U. S. orders alone.

Incidentally, it will put money in the pockets of some of the plants which heretofore have been less well-heeled. Then they too can experiment on better and better planes.

And, incidentally, long before repeal of the embargo was voted by the senate, the French had placed additional orders with American plane manufacturers—on a "soon as" basis. The British, more fearful of creating a backfire against repeal, appear to have withheld.

ODDS AND ENDS. Historical note: Naval hero Paul Jones once put the U. S. in practically the same position as Germany now is with respect to the captured City of Flint. Jones captured three British merchantmen and stowed them away at Bergen, Norway, which then belonged to Denmark.

The Danes, shivering under British guns, surrendered the ships to the British and we Yankees yelled like everything. The Danes, barked at force and aft, offered to pay us something but not as much as we asked, so we refused the offer. We never collected anything.

The French have a word for it. They describe the newly shaped neutrality as "neutralite bienveillant." It seems to mean neutrality—with a wish for the best.

Probably the most unsmiling of all senators is Frazier of North Dakota. Even in the piping times of peace he was almost never seen to smile and now is doubtless farther from a smile than ever. To him, repeal of the embargo is not a step toward war but a running jump.

To Mrs. Roosevelt has fallen the job of lightening the burdens of the president, now that he is so pressed with war problems. Diplomatic dinners have been abandoned by the White House for the winter. Receptions will go on as usual.

Replacing the dinners will be afternoon musicales and teas. Mrs. Roosevelt can handle them all by herself and the president doesn't have to show up at all. It saves him time and energy. It imposes more burdens on Mrs. Roosevelt, but when energy and endurance are needed, she has a boundless supply.

Man About Manhattan

NEW YORK—I have always heard that if an actor who has worn a certain necktie after day suddenly walks on the stage with a different tie on, the rest of the cast is likely to go sky-high in its lines. This happened once to Helen Claire in "Kiss the Boys Goodbye," and she says her mind was a blank for five minutes during which she spoke lines mechanically but had no knowledge or later recollection of what she was saying.

This same sort of "trip" almost got Katherine Hepburn off balance in "The Philadelphia Story," when Dan Tobin walked on the stage with a glaring red tie. After the scene she asked him never to do that again. Next night Van Heflin wore the tie in the first act, Tobin wore it in the second act, and Frank Fontone wore it in the third. On each occasion Kate's eyes opened wide, and her lines went fluttering out of reach.

But that wasn't all. There is a wedding scene during which Kate unwraps all her wedding presents, and you can imagine what happened when she unwrapped one package and found that red necktie.

Getting back to Dan Tobin, he confesses to being thrown out of universities three times, and finally he wandered away to Europe, got a brief stage job in London, and came back to New York, where his persuasive qualities won him his present part as Hepburn's brother, a writer, in "The Philadelphia Story."

After word of his success seeped out into the Ohio valley, he picked up a copy of the publication of the University of Cincinnati one day and found there not only his picture but an amazing story of his undergraduate career which ended on this note: "He is one of our most successful graduates."

This so delighted him that he wrote the university at once, demanding his diploma.

I won't ask you to believe this. I don't know whether I believe it or not. In any case, a man who is now about 50 years of age was sitting in a restaurant where a girl with a guitar drifts slowly from table to table, singing songs. As she approached his table the man began to stare at her, and suddenly his companion noticed that something was wrong with him. Then the man fainted.

The next night he came back, but the previous night had been the last night of this girl's engagement, and she was gone. "She reminded me of someone I knew, a long time ago—25 years ago," was his explanation.

But he looked her up, and found her, and she was the daughter of a girl he himself had once been engaged to marry. He did not say why the marriage never came off. But he has not been back to that restaurant since.

Archaeologists have discovered that prehistoric Siberian Eskimos built houses the entrances to which were on top. That is a point the designers of modernistic homes have so far overlooked.

Both Mr. Lewis and Mr. Green, in view of the present situation and what may come later, might well remember the words of Mr. Gompers under similar circumstances about 25 years ago: "The best way for labor to function is for labor to function."

Just to think: George Bernard Shaw may soon have been broadcasting through his whiskers during two world wars.

Old Books Are Treasured By J. R. Copeland

J. R. Copeland, who recently unearthed some old coins in a collection of family heirlooms, has discovered some rather old books among his belongings.

Perhaps the oldest is a statute book from Tennessee. It contains the acts of the first session of the territorial assembly at Knoxville on Aug. 25, 1794. In it are many interesting laws, particularly those pertaining to procedure of emancipating slaves.

The book came down through the H. A. Lones family, former residents of Tennessee, and related to the Copelands.

Another book is a French manual published in 1827. A complement to this book is a dairy written in French which has its opening entry in 1852 and the last in 1860. It is written partly in ink and partly in pencil. Copeland would like to have someone interpret it for him. This treasure came to the family through James Gaudin, a maternal grandfather to Mrs. Copeland. The Copelands are at home in the Settles.

His coin finds brought similar discoveries by T. A. O'Brien, who exhibited a 25-cent United States bill issued in 1868. In addition O'Brien had a 10-cent piece minted in 1843 and a 50-cent piece turned in 1869.

Operating Taxes On Texas Autos At $36 For Year

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11 (AP)—The average passenger vehicle owner in Texas paid a registration fee of $9.76 in 1938 and the average truck owner paid $21.14, according to an analysis of state statistics by the public roads administration.

Corresponding national averages in 1938 were $9.25 and $22.86. Average payments per vehicle in Texas for registration, permits, certificate of title and similar items amounted to $13.09 as compared with a national average of $13.19.

Gasoline tax collections averaged $26.61 per vehicle in the state and $26.17 nationally. Average tax payments per vehicle are considerably higher than payments by the average car owner because of the large gasoline consumption of trucks and buses, according to the administration.

The rank of the state in number of vehicles and in tax payments in 1938 follows: Number of vehicles..... 6 Total registration receipts and fees..... 6 Registration receipts per vehicle..... 24 Revenue from gasoline tax..... 6 Gasoline tax receipts per vehicle..... 23 Combined registration fees and gasoline tax per vehicle..... 23

FSA Stresses Trench Silos

Attention is again being directed to benefits of trench silos now that federal agencies are effecting plans drafted at the request of President Roosevelt to meet drought emergencies.

L. H. Hauter, regional director of the Farm Security administration, said that farmers who have feed reserves carried over from last year, in most instances, will be the last to benefit from the present emergency.

When advancing loans to farmers, the Farm Security administration encourages the construction of trench silos where possible, or some similar economical and adequate storage facility for feed reserve.

Mr. Hauter cited a survey conducted by the Farm Security administration which shows that 90 per cent of the borrowers in Region XII have adequate feed storage space. In one county alone, 82 per cent of the borrows have trench silos. The number of trench silos on farms as a whole, is increasing rapidly each year.

next twelve months, these quarters suggest. In addition, they said, England is studying monumental plans to invest a further amount exceeding that total in capital development of Canadian industries, primarily for munitions supply for a potentially long war, but also of a nature so that Canada after the war could become the foundation of the British empire's industrial structure.

Apodly part of the British capital outlay in Canada—which may reach or even exceed $3,000,000,000—will find its way into U. S. pockets, they said since negotiations are now under way whereby the British will lend large American manufacturers money to build plants in Canada, owned by subsidiary corporations.

Where England and France will get the five billions or so contemplated, of course is an interesting subject for speculation in Wall Street.

Under the present neutrality laws, loans or credits cannot be extended to nations which defaulted their war debts to the U. S. Both England and France are in this group.

However, these Wall street sources said it was believed the two countries have now, in the into cash totals of not less than $3,000,000,000, and some estimates, including real and personal property held here by the nationals of the two countries, increase that total several times.

brief address. "This country is practically unanimous in its fervent desire to maintain peace. x x x In the very disillusionment of the shattered dreams and ideals of those who survived the great war, there is a spiritual gain in the inspiring fact that we may keep faith with the dead by directing every effort to non-involvement in the present struggle."

Emphatic endorsement of that sentiment was added by Raymond J. Kelly, national commander of the American Legion, who said there was only one answer to the question of possible United States entry into the war abroad.

"The conclusive answer must be," he said, "that the armistice of Nov. 11, 1918, did end—in irrevocable fashion—for these United States any further participation in European conflict. To us it was a true armistice. To us it did mean the ending of a war to end war."

despite the inclusion of differentials, will be good news to those farmers who produce better quality cotton. It will offer an escape from the "hog-around" buying.

Speaking of cotton, E. N. Holmgreen, state AAA administrator, thinks that farmers had better forget about cotton ever again, a great comeback and to start looking for some way to balance their farm program to meet a changing situation.

One of the most interesting facts developed at the district AAA meeting here was a comparison on flood control. The Buchanan dam was built, largely for flood control, at a cost of $40,000,000. During the same period small dams were built on farms and ranches at a cost of a couple of million dollars and did much more toward flood control.

Housewives of Big Spring will be asked this week to become members of the Red Cross. Possibly many will have to sacrifice something to answer the roll call, but the giving that feels good is the giving that costs.

Any trade group which wishes to take advantage of a great opportunity might do well to investigate the possibilities of evening school classes. Adults may sometimes wonder about the relative value of schools, but here is a chance for adults to get something tangible from the schools.

As long as the present federal policy continues and unless Texas changes its constitution, the maximum pension grant in this state will be $30 a month. It could go up to $40 if Texas altered its constitution but so far there has been little demand for such a step. No constitutional alteration could be made before 1941.

Rep. Clinton Kersey, first-term from Bridgeport, said the Ohio and California votes apparently demonstrated that most citizens want pensions paid to needy persons and realize that there is a limit above which pension spending should not go.

Seagraves C-C Banquet Due To Draw Big Crowd

SEAGRAVES, Nov. 11—In order to accommodate the large attendance expected at annual banquet of the chamber of commerce on evening of Thursday, November 16, the affair is to be held in gym at the high school building. Joe H. Webb, chairman of committee on general arrangements, has announced.

The occasion will bring to this oil community the largest aggregation of outstanding men of affairs to ever assemble in Seagraves. From Midland came the statement that not less than ten men, several of whom are outstanding in the oil industry, will be present, including J. L. Greene, president of the Permian Basin association. Three vice presidents of that organization, Judge Charles C. Thompson of Colorado City; George Elliott, Jr. of Odessa, and R. V. Oberholzer of Seagraves, too, will be in attendance.

Lieutenant Governor Jim Murry of New Mexico, who will head delegation from Hobbs, states in communication received here that a number of men prominent in affairs of eastern New Mexico will be included in his group. The West Texas chamber of commerce will be represented by Jed Rix of Fort Worth, assistant manager.

Home Demonstration Club Tours To Begin Here Tuesday

The first of a series of home demonstration club tours to improve home demonstrations will be held Tuesday with swings to R-Bar, Coahoma and Midway.

Kitchen and bedroom demonstrations in the three communities will be visited during day and a picnic luncheon will be staged in the basement of the Coahoma Baptist church.

Lora Farnsworth, county home demonstration agent, said that club women from Big Spring and surrounding area would leave from her office at 9:30 a. m.

The first visit will be to the home of Mrs. H. C. Reid where her kitchen improvement demonstration will be viewed at 10 a. m. From there the club women will see a bedroom demonstration of Mrs. Gordon Buchanan at R-Bar before the luncheon. Each woman will bring a dish for the affair and also will bring sewing utensils.

In the afternoon the bedroom demonstration of Editha Wilson at Midway and Mrs. Freeman Denton's kitchen demonstration at Midway will be seen.

Similar tours will be conducted later in the other commissioner precincts of the county, said Miss Farnsworth.

FAULTY DESIGN IN NEW DESTROYERS IS CORRECTED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11 (AP)—The navy disclosed today that overweight designing had lessened the stability of some of its new destroyers but said that "fully adequate" measures to correct the defects already had been taken.

As a result of these corrective measures, Charles Edison, acting secretary of the navy, wrote Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.) "It can be stated without reservation that these destroyers will be superior to the earlier types and that they will give years of valuable peacetime service and greater reliability and effectiveness in time of war."

Edison wrote the Michigan senator after Vandenberg had sent him an editorial from the Grand Rapids, Mich., Herald referring to reports that the destroyers were so top-heavy that fuel oil could not be used out of their holds lest the ships fall over.

The editorial covered also reports that new 10,000 ton cruisers, built under the recent authorizations by congress, "shimmied" so violently that they cracked their stern posts and had to be rebuilt.

RED COTTON, FUZZY PLANTS SEEN AS WEEVIL DEFENSES

AUSTIN, Nov. 11 (AP)—Red cotton as well as plants with hairy foliage are the first two defenses against the dread boll weevil that University of Texas botanists have laid their fingers on in a four-year search for a strain not subject to weevil attack.

The information was imparted by John M. Carpenter, university entomologist, before the zoology section of the Texas Academy of Science meeting here.

Carpenter reported that of five varieties tested in the field red spot upland and Jassid resistant "show promise of boll weevil resistance."

As academy members divided into sectional meetings following a general conference, 46 papers were presented to representatives of colleges and universities.

BIG FREIGHT HIKE HANDLED EASILY

CHICAGO, Nov. 11 (AP)—J. J. Pelley, president of the Association of American Railroads, said today that the railroads of the United States had handled "without congestion or serious car shortage the most precipitous increase in freight on record."

In the week ended Oct. 21, Pelley reported, loadings of revenue freight totaled 861,198 cars, the highest for any week since 1930.

$17,000,000 ESTIMATED AS THE AMOUNT NEEDED BY STATE TO FINANCE SOCIAL SECURITY

Herald Austin Bureau AUSTIN, Nov. 11—If the Texas legislature could raise an additional $17,000,000 for social security purposes, the state's security program would be adequately financed. This was the inescapable conclusion to be drawn from figures compiled from state departments which show that Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel's estimates of a needed $35-40,000,000 tax bill are high.

In a recent speech the governor asserted that it would require from $25,000,000 to $40,000,000 a year to finance the state's social security program. A careful survey of the state's security need, however, revealed the following requirements as of Nov. 1, 1939:

Table with 2 columns: Item, Amount. Includes Teacher's retirement ($2,500,000), Aid to the blind (360,000), Aid to dependent children (1,500,000), Repayment of pension loan from Dallas banks (2,100,000), Additional pension funds (10,800,000), Total needed (12 mo.) ($17,260,000).

There is no difficulty in determining the needs in the first four items. Teacher Contributions The state has pledged itself to match contributions made by school teachers to the teachers retirement fund. These contributions now total approximately $2,500,000 a year, which calls for a like amount from the state.

The old age pension fund owed Dallas banks $2,200,000 on Oct. 1, 1939. One repayment of $130,000 has been made on this loan, leaving $2,100,000 that must be repaid before the loan is wiped out. It is this repayment program which necessitated the $6 per check cut in old age pensions in October.

How Much For Pensions? The only real problem to be solved in deciding how much money is needed to adequately finance the social security program is—how much additional money should be put in the old age pension fund? At the request of Executive Director Adam R. Johnson, Chief Statistician Garth Daniel of the public welfare board has just completed an estimate of the money needed to finance the present old age pension law.

At the present time pension rolls contain 121,000 names. Daniel's estimate is that under the present liberalized pension law, 150,000 names may eventually be listed. In other words, with present legal restrictions, an increase of 30,000 pensioners may be expected.

Texas old age pension officials have long wanted to increase the size of the average pension grant. If pensions had not been cut to $6 in October in order to repay the Dallas banks, the average grant would have been $14.24 as compared with a national average of $19.47.

In other words, if Texas paid her pensioners an average of $20 per month, it would be considered a reasonable program, so Daniel estimated that it would require $10,800,000 a year in additional pension revenues to carry out the new pension law using an average grant of $20 per month for 150,000 pensioners.

An incandescent lamp was invented by William Robert Grove in 1840; Edison's introduced in 1880, was an improvement.
