New Deal's latest "Share-the-Wealth" copy. From a broad copy, it is only the wind. Like many others which have been recent years, its purpose is to help those who are not helping themselves.

NATURE'S PRIZE PROGRAM

Should these recent acts of a government, such as the gold clause, the utilities, enact- mentary processing of the creation of a vast wealth of families is by the number and health and ability of children. Time was when the sole support of the fathers than de- pendent upon their children, rather than upon rents, interest, life and bank accounts.

VACATION EXCELLENT 'BUY' NOW

The above does not mean that good securities, insurance policies, and bank accounts should now be liquidated. In fact, I am bullish on these forms of investment, if well diversified, for the next few years at least. But I do warn investors that the events of the past three years are signposts showing the direction in which this country is drifting. So my advice is not to put all your money in intangible property which may be taken away from you when you need it. Invest some of your money now in the ways I have mentioned! Bulwark your security list, your bank deposits, and your insurance policies with the things that make for better and richer living and a fuller and more interesting life!

country busy in my mental ability. She writes very tenderly in an effort to convince Democrat readers that she couldn't possibly be guilty of watering my young flowers too heavily and knocking them down—a feat I charged her with two weeks ago.

Why, she'd even have you believe she does all the work in the yard, when the truth is I hired a negro boy for that purpose.

She told me confidentially that after I painted her as a destroyer of flowers not a soul came to visit her. She said I had ruined her social standing.

Even in her letter she accuses me of working cross-word puzzles (when I'm not sleeping) during the little time I'm at home. She says the only conversation I carry on with her is to ask the definition of a word or inquire the name of the king of some little-known country.

And I distinctly remember saying to her just two days ago: "Hot today, isn't it?"

Her complaint that there is no place left to burn the trash is unjustified, too. I told her weeks ago it would be perfectly all right to burn it under the house.

THIS AND THAT

BY L. E. R.

Doc Hicks says inasmuch as I've had nearly every other kind of animal in my flowers at home I might as well have a cow. He has offered to loan me one of his, and guarantees that in addition to all the milk I can drink I'll have plenty of trampled flowers. My Pal.

Who ever heard of getting milk from a cow? Everyone knows that milk comes from the dairy.

From the way I've been talking about them lately you might think I really have a profusion of flowers. The truth is, the plants are few and far between—that's why I'm guarding them with tender care: they're so scarce.

And in this connection, Mother thinks I've taken unfair advantage of her in this column during the last two weeks. She says that I've actually painted her as a careless old woman who goes around stepping on flowers.

To prove her willingness to cooperate she got out the other day and pulled all the weeds out of my flower beds. Of course that made me feel remorseful, so I offered to give her some of this valuable space today so readers (if any) of this and that could have both sides of the question.

Here's her contribution:

LETTER OF A GRAYHAIRED MOTHER TO HER SON

Don't you think that was fore- handed of me to cut the weeds and work around the flowers before the helpful rain came? Something had been cutting before I arrived for one of the Princess Feathers lay wilted beside its associates. The nasturtiums are feeble and the soil seems not quite right. I believe you should have planted them somewhere else—not out of this yard, but in the darker part of the ground. Oh, yes, I know what I'll do. I'll feed them coffee grounds every day. I had a rose in Quannah that thrived on such treatment. I just emptied the used grounds around it every day.

I was transported to my school days when I reached the cosmos and morning glory vines. How those vines were strangling those plants! Exactly like the poor little deer in the geography of the being treated by the boa constrictor in South America in 1885. I did some rescuing and hope to transplant the morning glories.

The stinkias are doing nobly, the corn is fine and the cotton plants are running up like weeds.

The grass that should be encroaching properly is not. It was

ECONOMIC CHANGES IN TEXAS
JUST as the turn of the century marked a turning point in the economic structure of the United States...

Elmer H. Johnson, industrial geographer in the Bureau of Business Research of the University of Texas...

"In fact, significant changes have been in evidence in Texas since the turn of the century," Mr. Johnson said.

"Without oil Texas would have been able to take and hold first place in production of a number of agricultural commodities," Johnson states...

Oil refining has led the procession of manufacturing or processing of Texas raw materials, and natural gas is cited as offering greatest inducements for migration into Texas...

By and large, Texas industry occupies a zone in the new industrial frontiers of America. There are no basic economic reasons to prevent the further growth and expansion of Texas industry...

GREAT CHANCE FOR YOUTH

ESTABLISHMENT of the National Youth Administration seems to mark the inauguration of another of those jobs which, if handled properly, could be of immense service to the nation...

With the aims of the project, no one can quarrel. It is planned to utilize the enormous potentialities of American young men and women—to see that they get the training they need...

A national advisory board is to co-operate with the state and city boards throughout the country to achieve these ends. Much will depend on the way these boards do their work.

ONE thing seems to be certain, in a world of uncertainties: New York City is about to get some real action in its huge work-relief program, for the simple reason that Gen. Hugh S. Johnson is going to be the administrator.

Used Acres May Be Shelterbelted

Texas Farms

Walter Cunningham
Service Editor

Reports received from various sources indicate that Texas handled about 3,674,000 acres of land for shelterbelting during the year ending October 1, 1934. This represents an increase of 1,100,000 acres over the year ending October 1, 1933. The total cost of the shelterbelting project in Texas was $1,726,395.44.

The shelter belt zone, which is about 100 miles wide, extends northward about 1,100 miles from Childress County in Texas through Oklahoma, Kansas, Nebraska, South and North Dakota, to the Canadian border. The main purpose of the shelter belt project is to check the sweep of winds, to conserve soil moisture, help prevent soil erosion and offer shade and protection for human beings.

Two phases of the shelterbelt project involve AAA cooperation. They are strip planting and farmstead planting.

For the duration of the AAA contracts, landowners would continue to receive AAA rental payments on acres taken over by the Forest Service. According to the agreement, the Forest Service would take over the land and make lease-option agreements to insure control of the land by the Forest Service after expiration of the crop adjustment contract, and to provide for purchase at a stipulated price at a time selected by the Government.

M. Cantrell, county agricultural agent.

Forms, tornadoes and floods which scourged the great midwestern wheat belt are gladly forgotten, where the golden grain is waving again and the reapers are humbly smiling Wichita girls, helping with an early harvest on a Kansas farm, reflect the wheat farmer's revived hopes and traditional optimism.

VETERINARY

With this issue The Democrat adds a feature that should be of value to many of the readers. Questions relating to the care and treatment of domestic animals will be answered by a competent veterinarian, either in this column or direct by mail. No charge is made for this service and it is hoped that the readers will avail themselves of it. All inquiries should be addressed to Veterinary Dept., Memphis Daily Democrat.

COLIC IN HORSES

From the beginning of work in the spring until fall is the worst period of the year for colics in work stock. In the early spring the animals are rather suddenly put to work following a long period of idleness. They are "soft" and unless carefully handled until they are "toughened" to the work some trouble is very likely to result. Later the long hot days come on, the weeds are growing fast and the farmer is in a hurry to get over as quickly as possible. The teams are hitched up early in the morning and driven, often without a stop, until noon. Dripping with sweat, they are then turned into the feedlot where they immediately engorge themselves with an excessive amount of water while in an overheated condition. Following this they proceed to bolt down a large amount of feed in a half-chewed condition. Then without giving them sufficient time either to rest or digest their food, they are again put to the plow and driven through the hottest hours of the day. An animal cannot digest his food properly while doing severe work and we thus have a combination of causes that is very likely to produce a case of colic.

Still later in the season we have the condition known as "float" caused by eating green feed.

The term "colic" really does not mean anything very definite. It is applied to perhaps a dozen conditions differing widely in their nature, but presenting somewhat the same line of symptoms. It may mean an overloaded stomach, impaction of either the large or small intestines, a twist of the intestines or any one of a number of other conditions. Therefore it is impossible to prescribe a treatment when it means so many different things.

"An ounce of prevention is worth a ton of cure," and the following suggestions, if carried out, will go far in preventing "colic."

1. Give the teams a short period of rest every now and then while in the field at work.

2. When they are brought in at noon and at night, allow them to drink only a small amount of water at first. Then take the away, remove the harness and let them cool off before allowing them to finish drinking.

3. Give only feed that is of such a nature they must chew it well before they can swallow it. Corn should not be fed shelled but on the ear. Kaffir or maize in the head. NO FEED SHOULD BE GROUND. Ground feed is a good thing for the veterinarians but is bad for the horse.

4. Allow the teams at least an hour of rest after they have finished eating. Time may be worth money but so is a good horse or mule.

In short, use ordinary common sense and treat your animal as you would like to be treated if you were a horse.

Finds It Pays To Care for Orchard

NEWTON, July 6.—J. H. Waterhouse of Newton is convinced that it pays him to care for his 100 peach tree orchard, for there is a heavier set of fruit and the peaches are one-third larger where he fertilized his trees than where he did not, according to J. B. Dorman, county agricultural agent.

Waterhouse sprayed his orchard in late winter with lime sulphur. At the suggestion of the county agricultural agent he also used two to three pounds of 6-12-6 fertilizer around most of his larger trees—those six years old and older. It is these trees that have the heavier set of fruit and the larger size of fruit.

37,000 Corn-Hog Contracts Signed

COLLEGE STATION, July 6.—Approximately 37,000 of the more than a million 1935 corn-hog contracts made throughout the states have been signed in Texas. This is an increase over last year's Texas corn-hog contracts of 32,500, according to E. M. Regenbrecht, Extension swine husbandman at College Station.

Regenbrecht also reports that Texas is one of the few states that have increased their contracts.

In connection with the contract totals, Claude R. Wickard, chief of the Administration's corn-hog section, announced that these contracts so far involve rental and benefit payments of approximately $186,600,000.

Makes His Harness At Cost of $6.30

GOLDTHWAITE, July 6.—At a cost for materials of $6.30, W. N. Griffin of Ebony in Mills County tanned three cow hides which he made into a set of wagon lines, two bridles, two sets of tugs, four harness strings, two belts, and had a supply of leather left, according to W. P. Weaver, county agricultural agent. The leather is a fair product, Weaver says, and Griffin probably could not have afforded the harness if he had not made it himself.

At The Theatres

PALACE
"Gold Diggers of 1935," which opened at the Palace last night with a preview, was two years in the making, but it was well worth waiting for.

First National, always famed for magnificent musical spectacles, has outdone itself in this picture, which marks the advent of Busby Berkeley as the director of a complete production. Berkeley is well known for his direction of the spectacles in "42nd Street," "Wonder Bar," "Gold Diggers of 1933" and other outstanding musical productions.

In "Gold Diggers of 1935" he has created the most gorgeous and unique dance numbers of his career. There are three outstanding specialties including a dance in which 90 snow-white grand pianos actually cavort on the stage. The dance team of Ramon and Rosita is also featured.

In the cast are Dick Powell, Adolphe Menjou, Gloria Stuart, Alice Brady, Glenda Farrell, Frank McHugh, Hugh Herbert, Joseph Cawthorne, Grant Mitchell, Dorothy Dare and Winifred Shaw.

Three song hits are featured. They are "Lullaby of Broadway," "The Words Are in My Heart" and "I'm Going Shopping With You."

RITZ
Victor McLaglen fans will be delighted with his performance in "The Informer," which opened in last night's preview at the Ritz.

"The Informer" is human drama told against the background of Ireland's 1922 uprising. Much rarely attempted in screen entertainment is done in it. Essentially it is a gripping character study, not only of one man, but of many persons. The idea of the story is simple but powerful, qualities which intelligent direction and application of novel production effects, together with sincere and inspired acting, greatly accentuated.

Besides McLaglen, the picture features Heather Angel, Preston Foster, Margot Grahame, Wallace Ford, with a strong supporting cast.

Mrs. Carl Hill and daughter Rita Jean and Mrs. W. E. McGlocklin, of Buffalo Flat, visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. V. L. McGlocklin Saturday. Mrs. Hill and daughter returned home while Mrs. McGlocklin will remain for a week.

Adds Oxygen Tent To Funeral Home

The Hodges Funeral Home this week received an oxygen tent for the use of the public of the Memphis Area. It is one of the very latest models of this vitally necessary equipment, being equipped with air conditioning and cooling units, very necessary during the hot summer months.

Mr. Hodges, in speaking of this new feature of their service, said, "We felt that there was need for this equipment here so we purchased it. It will be available to all, on any physician's prescription, and we are going to make the rental surprisingly modest, bringing it within the reach of all who may need it. We will be pleased to show this new piece of equipment to any who care to see it, and especially invite physicians of the area to inspect it."

James Burj Lowe, who is a student at WTSC at Canyon, is visiting his parents and friends in Pleasant Valley during the July 4th holidays. James reports that he is a member of the Young Democrat's Club of Randall County.

W. C. Hodges made a business trip to Wellington Saturday.

It is estimated that the cost of operating an electric radio is about 2 1-2 cents an hour.

THE CURIOUS WORLD .. VULTURES ..

by
WILLIAM FERGUSON

THERE ARE TWO SPECIES OF CONDORS IN THE AMERICAN VULTURE FAMILY! THE CALIFORNIA CONDOR, SHOWN BELOW, IS ALMOST EXTINCT... BEING FOUND NOW, ONLY IN A FEW COUNTIES OF SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA.

The GIANT CONDOR, OF SOUTH AMERICA, IS THE LARGEST OF ALL FLYING BIRDS.

THIS BIRD GIANT WEIGHS FROM 20 TO 25 POUNDS, AND HAS A WING SPREAD OF TEN FEET! IT FLIES HIGHER THAN ANY OTHER BIRD, AND USES EXTREME CAUTION IN LANDING, LEST IT CRASH.

ALL VULTURES ARE SCAVENGERS, PICKING THEIR LIVING FROM THE BONES OF THE EARTH'S DEAD! LOW LIVING, INDEED, BUT IN EVERY COUNTRY THE BIRDS ARE PROTECTED AS INVALUABLE OFFICERS OF SANITATION.

KING VULTURE OF SOUTH AMERICA

WHEN DEATH STRIKES ON THE AFRICAN PLAINS, VULTURES QUICKLY ERASE ALL TRACES OF THE TRAGEDY.

BLACK VULTURE

IN MANY DISTRICTS OF SOUTHERN UNITED STATES, BLACK AND TURKEY VULTURES ARE DEPENDED ON TO DESTROY CARRION.

WE'LL THINK IT OVER!

I'M SURE I'D LOVE THAT HOUSE.... BUT MAYBE WE'D BETTER LOOK INTO IT A BIT MORE.

WE SHOULD BE ABSOLUTELY POSITIVE THAT EVERYTHING IS AS REPRESENTED, BEFORE WE CLOSE THE DEAL!

WHAT ARE YOU GONNA DO WITH THESE STONES WHEN WE GET TO THE DEPOT?

YOU'LL SEE!

WELL, I GUESS THAT PROVES IT!!

YEP!

MOM, YOU CAN TAKE THAT REAL ESTATE MAN'S WORD ABOUT THAT HOUSE BEING A STONES THROW FROM THE DEPOT!!
