Harry Meredith And Rice Batson Are New Owners Barber Shop

Harry Meredith and Rice Batson have purchased the Memphis Hotel Barber Shop from Frank Painter, it was learned this week. Mr. Meredith for a number of years has been connected with the Biltmore Barber Shops in California and is a specialist on women's and children's hair cutting. Mr. Batson is familiar with all phases of the trade and has had a number of years experience. It is felt that the two new owners will be a welcome addition to the craft in Memphis and they guarantee to do as good barber work as can be found anywhere in the city.

Music Week Is To Be Observed Here By Band Concerts

National Music Week which begins Sunday, May 5, will be fittingly observed in Memphis, according to Paul James, director of the Memphis Gold Medal Band. The program for this week in all sections of the country will feature the work of American composers, it was said.

Concerts Planned
On next Sunday, the Gold Medal Band will give a concert in the Library Park beginning at three o'clock. On Monday night at eight, a concert will be given at the same place by the High School Band; Tuesday night the Estelline Booster Band will give a concert there; Wednesday night, the concert will be given by the Harrell Chapel Band; Thursday night, the Memphis Gold Medal Band; Friday night, the Newlin Majestic Band and Saturday night a massed concert will be given by all of these bands. Mr. James is the director of each band that will take part in music week locally.

American Composers
The American composers whose music will be featured are John Philip Sousa, Fred Jewell, C. L. Barnhouse, and K. L. King. Each concert will last for the period of one hour. The Library Park is convenient to all and large crowds are expected to attend the concerts.

Other Features Planned
Other features of Music Week are being planned by various clubs of the city. It is anticipated that community singing will be indulged in during the band concerts. This is being worked out at the present time by Mr. James. Special music will also be featured in connection with the presentation of the various bands of this county.

Mr. James is preparing the Gold Medal Band for the usual spring and summer concerts. These concerts are always popular and this year will be no exception to the general rule. New music has been secured and only by request will the old favorite pieces be played. However, suggestions regarding the programs are welcomed.

Former Auto Dealer States Mangum Will Open a New Airport

Mangum, Okla., will open its new airport, Ponder Municipal Field, today, according to W. E. Wilson, who recently moved to the Greer County town from Memphis. The city has planned a huge celebration, he said, and 50 planes have been promised for the occasion. A free ride to everyone desiring it is one of the features of the event. People in all this section of the Panhandle and Western Oklahoma have been invited to join the Mangumites in celebrating their acquisition of a standard landing field.

Brilliant Errors Of Luncheon Club Lead To Calamity

No casualties were reported following the Lions-High School baseball encounter Monday afternoon, but several Lions were fit for nothing but crutches and wheel chairs Tuesday morning. The High School boys almost ran themselves to death and when the smoke of battle had cleared away the score stood 32 to 4 in favor of Coach Swinburne's nine.

Umpire Favorable
Apparently nothing was in favor of the Lions team except the umpire. Charlie Meacham did his best to win the game but failed to get the proper support. But the Lions played a very close game. Oh, yes, so close they almost failed to score. No one knows yet just what break of good fortune is responsible for the club's lone 4 tallies.

Morale Was Broken
It is very likely that the score would have been reversed had not the Lion's morale been broken in the sixth inning when the captain and manager, R. D. Stuart, threw down his glove and said, "I've got to go home." His action almost caused mutiny, but spectators quieted the enraged jungle kings. Pitching on both sides was brilliant. As brilliant as a cloudy day at midnight. And the Lions' batting was superb. Most of them apparently were waving at some one in center field.

D. Columbus Hyder
Starring for the luncheon club, the dependable Dr. D. Columbus Hyder's fielding and base running alone was well worth the price of admission. Another would-be star had his light put out when he failed to last more than two innings in the pitcher's box. Dr. L. M. Hicks has been sent back to the bush leagues. Nine players starred for the High school team.

Failed to Materialize
The Reverend Arthur W. Jones, better known as "Razor Back," failed to materialize as one of the players, but was present in the grandstand and aided his club by razzing the umpires at proper intervals. He was assisted by Lee Madden, Theodore Swift and several others.

Batteries: Lions—Hicks, Montgomery and Miller, pitchers; Robert Turner, catcher. High School—Bounds, Dennis and McLearn, pitchers; Hill, catcher.

MUSICAL SHOW SELECTED FOR MAY 20

"Footlight Follies" Is To Be Directed By Paul James

The "Footlight Follies," a classy bit of musical comedy, plentifully interspersed with song and dance numbers, and requiring a cast of 50 players to produce, will be presented in the auditorium of the high school Monday night, May 20, beginning at eight o'clock. The production will be under the direction and supervision of Paul James, who has had years of experience in such production work.

Proceeds to be Divided
Proceeds from the "Footlight Follies" will be divided equally after all expenses are paid, between the Memphis Gold Medal Band and the fund now being raised for a stadium. The book for the follies production has been received by Mr. James from Chicago, and practices will be started immediately in order to have the production in readiness by the scheduled date, leaving only about two weeks for rehearsals.

Is Proven Success
The "Footlight Follies" is a proven success. It is not in the amateur class. The best musical talent that Memphis affords will be invited by Mr. James to take part in the production. Special scenic and lighting effects are to be designed especially for this show. A seven piece orchestra will furnish the musical accompaniment throughout.

Elaborate Costuming
The follies will be presented in two acts and five scenes. Elaborate costuming will do much to enhance its effectiveness. There will be eleven principals in the cast and twenty-one song numbers. The chief comedy parts will very likely be taken by Paul James and Frank K. Fore. Albert Pearson, who was the outstanding star of the "Football Follies," will have a leading part in this production. He will be assigned to a comedy role.

Securing the Cast
Tickets will go on sale within the near future for what is anticipated will be the very finest home talent show of many years. Mr. James has been at work this week securing the cast of the production, and the first practice will likely take place next Monday night. The people who see the show are guaranteed to get their money's worth and a good deal. (Continued on page 8)

Rotary Stumped

Rotary Anns Take Charge And Treat Members to Lunch

The Rotary Club got fooled and laughed at a plenty at the weekly luncheon Tuesday at noon. The unsuspecting club members came to the festive board on time, but when they got there, the board was bare. In its place, they were greeted by Rotary Anns in house frocks, bonnets and straw hats. It was announced that the meeting day, being the last one in April, that no luncheon would be held.

Picnic Luncheon
The Rotarians looked at each other without knowing why or when or how. The tables had been stacked in one corner of the room and not a chair was in sight. In the center of the room, newspapers had been spread. In a few minutes, the Rotary Anns appeared in the kitchen entrance with picnic baskets under their arms, and announced that a picnic would be the order of the day. Napkins and luncheon cloths were spread over the papers and food made its appearance. All the things that go to make a picnic lunch were in evidence and a few that were not.

Mrs. Figh Chairman
Mrs. Jack Figh acted as chairman of the meeting. She called upon Rotarian E. T. Miller to deliver the invocation. Then eating began in earnest. Each Rotarian and Rotary Ann had been equipped with a sofa pillow, which made the floor less hard. When everyone had partaken of the feast, Mrs. Figh called the roll of the club. The Rotary Anns made answer with appropriate poems detailing the classification of each Rotarian. This evoked prolonged amusement, for each club member was "hit" good and heavy.

High Brow Program
The chairman then turned the meeting over to Mrs. Turner L. Lewis, who was program chairman for the day. Mrs. Lewis stated that in view of the fact that Rotarians were so dignified, it was deemed advisable to give a program of a "high brow" nature, one that would appeal to their intellects. She read a long program that took in everything from Seventeenth Century Poetry to the Mathematics of the Law Profession.

The first number of the program was to be a reading by Mrs. Horace Tarver. She rose, but for (Continued on page 8)

LOCAL GOLFERS SEEK HONORS IN MEET

Several Players Are Out For Scalp Of Raines West

What Olin V. Alexander guarantees to be the best local golf tournament to take place here in six years is to be played by members of the Memphis Country Club, beginning Wednesday, May 22 and continuing through Sunday, May 26. Olin says that Raines V. West is to be offered some real competition for the first time when the play gets under way and local club members are out for the pro's scalp.

Club Members Eligible
Only members of the club will be eligible to compete in the tournament. Registrations should be made at the Harrison Hardware Company as soon as possible, and those who expect to compete are asked to bring with them the registration fee of two dollars. This is a little matter, of itself, but it is essential to make everyone perfectly happy and satisfied, according to the Main street clothier.

Dr. Dickey Chairman
Dr. W. C. Dickey is chairman of the tournament committee, the other members being Olin V. Alexander and D. B. Gentry. Regardless of there being a chairman, Olin is doing most of the talking, and he guarantees that the prizes that will be awarded the winners in this tournament will make any golfer's mouth water. He has stacks upon stacks of prizes in his store already, he confided confidentially, ranging all the way from an ash tray to shoes especially designed for the golfing fraternity.

Tourney Starts May 22
The tournament which will get under way here on May 22 is a preliminary to the annual Greenbelt tournament which was held here last year, but that will be played in Vernon this year. The course in that city is a fine one, it is stated, and a number of local golfers are expected to have their appetites whetted for golf to just the right degree to keep Raines V. West from winning the tournament at Vernon.

In the local tournament, there will be four flights. The first play will take place on Wednesday, May 22; the second play Thursday, the semi-finals on Friday, May 24 and the finals on Sunday, May 26.

The grounds committee will have everything in spick and span condition for the opening rounds of golf, and from the way registrations are trickling in, more interest seems to have been aroused in the play this year than has been the case heretofore.

Are Seeking Honors
Several golfers whose names are not published by request are going out for honors in the tournament. There is one man in particular they are desirous of besting, but his name is also being withheld from the paper by request of those who are out to trim him.

To Have Window Display
For the benefit of those who do not think the prizes will be worth any considerable amount of effort, Olin V. Alexander is planning to arrange all the prizes received in one of his windows within the near future in order that local golfers may "lamp" them to their entire satisfaction. Before the writer got away from this golfer, he was told that The Memphis Democrat had been put on his list for a prize, and he was promptly informed that we knew of no good use a golfer could make of this newspaper. Whereupon Olin said we'd be surprised.

The consolation prizes are being designed to go to a few of the newer adherents of the game, those who are in the habit of taking as many knocks at the "pill" as they believe are necessary, with absolutely no regard for art or skill, insofar as anyone who has watched them has been able to ascertain.

Concert Of Massed Bands To Be Given At Newlin Friday

A massed band concert will be held at Newlin Friday night of this week beginning at eight o'clock. Five bands will take part in the concert under the direction of Paul James. The bands will be the Estelline Booster Band, the Harrell Chapel Agricultural Band, the Memphis High School Band, the Newlin Majestic Band, and the Memphis Gold Medal Band. Standard and popular selections will feature the program. The various bands will be served with refreshments by the newly organized Newlin Chamber of Commerce, and the general public is invited to attend.

Four Are Injured In Auto Accident Near City Limits

What came near to being a serious accident took place on Highway No. 5 Tuesday night about 8:30 o'clock, when a car in which four people were riding turned over one time while attempting to make the curve in the road just before crossing the Fort Worth and Denver railroad tracks at the end of the pavement.

Occupants of the car were Frank Morgan, John McCarty, and Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Shearer. The men in the party are employed in constructing the gas line to Lakeview.

Not Driven Fast
According to Mr. Shearer, the car, which was a Chrysler coach, was not driven at a high rate of speed, but due to the fact that the brakes failed to work when rounding the corner, the car ran into the ditch, turning over once.

Taken to Hospital
The injured were taken to a local hospital immediately following the accident, and it was at first thought that Mrs. Shearer was seriously injured. Later examinations developed that she was badly shaken up and had a broken rib. She is still in the hospital suffering from shock. Mr. Shearer was badly bruised and shaken up and he is also in the hospital. He has a bad bruise over his left eye.

Frank Morgan suffered a broken collar bone and John McCarty had severe lacerations on his face.

Car Complete Wreck
The wonder of the accident is that the occupants of the car were not more seriously injured. Probably the lives of those in the car were saved because it was not going at a fast rate of speed. The car is said to be a complete wreck, being bent and broken until it will be hard to salvage.

Mr. Shearer stated that this is the third serious automobile wreck which he has had.

Ready-to-Wear Dept. Of Greene Dry Goods Has a New Manager

Miss Patricia Allen, recently of Borger, is the new manager of Greene Dry Goods Company's ready-to-wear department, having assumed her duties locally Wednesday. She formerly was in the employ of the Carpenter Dry Goods Company at Borger and Panhandle.

When improvements and remodeling now underway shall have been completed, Greene's ready-to-wear department will be enlarged and refurbished, according to the proprietor, R. S. Greene. The new improvements are made for the convenience of customers.

Frank Foxhall's Golf Boys Win Feed At Expense R. V. West's Amateurs

Four insignificant, yet important, strokes cost Raines V. West's golf aggregation the price of a banquet, and opponents, headed by Frank Foxhall, collected Tuesday night at the Country Club house. With 60 golfers and would-be golfers participating, the Banquet Tournament ended last week to the tune of 2,854 to 2,858—Frank Foxhall's side nosing out by the close margin of 4 strokes.

Informal Feed
The "feed" was quite an informal and highly sociable affair. R. S. Greene presided as toastmaster and he informed the gathering early in the evening that no speeches would be tolerated, but he did grant time for three talks.

Dr. D. C. Hyder, who shot a 160, more or less, was called on for a dissertation on "How I Won the Tournament." He said he thought the tournament had made a better golfer of him.

Distinguished Pro
W. B. Quigley, the next speaker, thanked the toastmaster for the banquet in his honor. "When I took up golf," Mr. Quigley said,

"I took lessons from that distinguished pro, Raines West, and finally brought my score up to 60. I've discovered it takes brains to play golf. Raines chose a good physical bunch for his side in this tournament, but outside of myself I can't say that he picked many men with brains."

Must Be Brainy
"A real golfer must be brainy because he's got to be a good mathematician. You can read all the golf publications you want to, attain all the stance you please, and wiggle your body to perfection, but if you intend to be a successful golfer you must be a good mathematician."

Local Tournament
Mr. Greene announced May 22 as the date set for the beginning of the sixth annual local tournament and called on Dr. W. C. Dickey to make additional announcements concerning the event. The latter urged every club member to enter the play because of the renewed interest in golf and the local club that always follows the annual event.

The time is gradually increased, the duration of the bath being determined by the power to react and the temperature of the air. Great care must be taken to prevent chilling, and in all cases the bather should be out of the wind.

Artificial Sun, Too

By the use of the portable arc lamp artificial sunshine and cold air baths may be taken in combination. In doing this, and in fact in all types of cold air baths, the feet must be kept warm. Heavy military socks should be worn, one or two pairs, and felt shoes. In some cases it is a good thing to use fur lined shoes. It is bet-

Application of cold air to the body is highly tonic, according to Dr. Kellogg. The reaction from a cold air bath influences greatly the central nervous system, the force of the heart beat is increased, circulation is stimulated and the quality of the blood itself is modified to increase alkalinity and to decrease acidity. Precaution should be taken in the use of the cold air bath, and it is advisable to consult a physician before employing this system of bathing.

Young Man

--take your bride to a home of her own

LISTEN, young fellow, if you're planning to embark soon on the sea of matrimony arrange now to take your blushing bride to a home of her own. If you expect her to "love, honor and obey" graciously, show her that money usually spent for rent is going to buy a home she can soon call her own.

It isn't difficult to finance the building of a home. That is a mistaken idea so many have acquired. Many liberal building loans are available, and the balance on a "castle of your dreams" may be paid like rent.

Our free plan service makes it easier still. We invite consultations with any prospective home builders. You'll find us anxious to aid you in every way possible.

Throckmorton Man Being Pushed For Lieut. Governor

AUSTIN, May 2. (Special)—Judge A. H. King, Throckmorton, representative from the 113th district is being pushed as a candidate for Lieutenant Governor by many of his colleagues in the Legislature. King is one of the best known members of the House. He has served in the Legislature for twelve years, with one intermission, during which time he was on duty overseas with the United States army.

He is also a veteran of the Spanish American War. On more than one occasion King has stopped leaks in the treasury by suits designed to curtail unlawful expenditures, the most notable being his injunction suit to restrain the state comptroller from paying members of the Legislature for their services on the Tax Survey Commission which said members had voted to create and finance out of Legislature appropriations. King regarded such a practice as a dangerous violation of the Constitution. The Supreme Court agreed with him. Judge King has been called the "millionaire member" of the House due to a remark made at the time Speaker Barron placed him upon the powerful appropriations committee when a political observer stated that "King will be worth a million dollars on that committee to the tax payers of Texas." The recent "half-pint" bill designed to reduce traffic in liquor prescriptions and the search and seizure repeal bill were able sponsored by the Throckmorton man.

King is a business man of ability and has large farm and ranch holdings in West Texas. Mrs. Frances Stevens visited in Chillicothe from Sunday until Tuesday with her son Virgil, and sister, Mrs. Walter Stevens. Daughters of Wesley Bible class will meet May 9, with Mrs. Doss.

Plans Made For Organizing City-Wide Baseball League

SIX TEAMS ARE NEEDED FOR LEAGUE

Play Is Proposed To Be Continued For Several Months

Plans for the organization of a city baseball league are now underway, it was learned this week. As tentatively scheduled, the league will be composed of six teams who will play on a regular schedule of two or possibly three games per week. If the organization goes forward as planned, the following are expected to have teams in the league: The Lions Club, Grocers, Dry Goods stores, Mechanics, Barbers and the Automobile Dealers. If some of these classifications fail to materialize, others will be added.

Trophy Awarded
Some kind of trophy will likely be awarded the winning team. The teams will play throughout the summer months and by the time the season gets somewhat advanced, a number of good baseball games can be seen locally.

A number of the younger business men of the city are greatly interested in such an organization and have expressed the desire to have the league started as soon as possible. Not only will it provide the men with an interesting sport, but it will give the Memphis baseball players a chance to distinguish themselves and to develop some real talent.

Rev. C. E. Jameson Holds Funeral Of Little Davis Girl

Funeral services for Jean Davis, 5 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. S. (Shake) Davis, were held last Thursday afternoon at five o'clock at the First Methodist church, with Rev. C. E. Jameson in charge of the services.

Beautiful floral offerings attested to the love and affection felt for this wonderful little girl. Those in charge of the flowers were the little friends of Jean. Pallbearers were C. L. Caviness, C. R. Webster, Oattie Jones and Bailey Gilmore.

Those attending the funeral from out of town were F. M. Cummings and D. H. Cummings of Berger, Mr. and Mrs. John Owens and daughter, Roberta, of Wellington.

Rev. Arthur W. Jones, pastor of the First Christian Church of this city preached at Hedley Sunday afternoon. He began a revival Monday which will last over this next Sunday, May 5.

Local Nine Wins From Paducah In A Dazzling Game

After 11 innings of some of the best baseball seen in Memphis in a long time, the High School nine came out victorious over the Paducah team to the tune of 7 to 6 last Friday afternoon on the local diamond.

A tense moment in the game came in the last half of the ninth inning. The score was 6 to 5 in favor of the visiting team, two men were out and McLearn went to bat. The visiting pitcher seemed to dislike the man at the plate so he was promptly walked. McLearn then stole second, third and on home in rapid succession, thus tying the score 6 to 6.

The tenth inning came to a close without either team scoring. In the last half of the eleventh inning, after the bases were loaded, Messer singled and brought Pearson in for the winning tally.

Clarence Jackson pitched the best game of his career, striking out nine batters and letting the visitors down with only six hits.

Mr. C. F. Redlich, the successful expert says:

The "Perfect Retention Shields" hold the rupture perfectly, no matter what position the body assumes or how heavy a weight you lift. They give instant relief, contract the opening in a remarkably short time and strengthen the weak tissues (the real cause of rupture) so that they frequently recover their previous natural retaining power, needing no further outside support. Stomach trouble, backache and constipation often caused by Rupture promptly disappear.

Truly remarkable and prompt results have been obtained not only with recent and not fully developed ruptures but also with old, long neglected ones.

Ingenious, recently perfected devices are now holding ruptures firmly which heretofore never had been retained.

No elastic belts nor filthy leg-straps are used.

I guarantee to hold the rupture and also the durability of my absolutely sweat and moisture proof, sanitary appliances.

75 per cent of ruptured children recover completely through expert mechanical treatment according to statistics.

Bacillary White Diarrhea Found In Baby Chicks

By H. R. Ellis, County Agent Many of the young chickens have been dying all over the county lately and the following things will greatly help any flock of young chickens.

The first principle in the treatment of the disease is to buy your chickens from breeders with accredited flocks. Such flocks have been tested and all infected birds are removed. By this method, the baby chicks do not come in contact with the disease and the losses will be reduced 75 per cent.

Impossible to Cure

It is impossible to cure white diarrhea in the baby chicks when once the disease has been established. By careful nursing, and rigid sanitation, the disease might be checked in a small degree.

About the best treatment is the placing of Permanganate of Potash in the drinking water until the latter turns a deep red color.

Also, buttermilk may be used as a food as it combats the development of the germs in the intestines, due to the lactic acid it contains.

Should be Removed

All sick chickens should be removed from the well ones as soon as the first symptoms are noticed, as the disease is contracted in the first forty-eight hours. This method of procedure tends to prevent a general spread of the disease through the hatch.

For adding machines, Standard and Portable typewriters, see Zeb Moore. 50-tfc

Formal Opening of Phillips Filling Station Saturday

The formal opening of the Phillips Petroleum Company's new filling station will take place Saturday of this week. In order to become better acquainted with the motoring public, this station is offering free of charge a five gallon coupon with every purchase of five gallons of 'Phillips 66' gasoline. The coupon will be redeemed whenever the motorist desires to have the gasoline. All that is necessary is to drive in and say, "Phill-er Up," pay for five gallons of gas and get the coupon free.

After French Style

The new Phillips station is one of the most attractive in the city. It is built in the French style of architecture and is equipped with every convenience. The station was opened for business last Monday afternoon.

In addition to the 'Phillips 66' gasoline, the station will carry a full line of Phillips motor oils, and a green gasoline known as Benzol Motor Fuel. The station will remain open until 10 o'clock each night in the week except Saturday night, when the station will remain open until midnight.

Brewer Is Manager

Many Features Planned

The "Footlight Follies" will take about two hours to present. Chorus work, dances, individual song numbers and clean comedy throughout will feature the production. Dance steps similar to those used by the large Eastern producers will be a part of the show.

The purpose for which the show is being staged is a worthy one, the show itself is the best available for production, and a packed house will more than likely greet the performance.

A new reservoir that will insure Memphis an adequate water supply for years to come will probably be built in the near future, it was learned this week. J. Z. Martin of Breckenridge, district manager of the Texas Water Utilities Company, accompanied by Mr. Robinson, an engineer from the Fort Worth office, inspected the property here this week, making a survey of the water supply for the city.

The reservoir will have a storage capacity of 500,000 gallons, it is estimated.

New Refrigerator Has Heat On One Side, Ice On Other

Maybe you never heard of a refrigerator with heat on one side and ice on the other.

That, briefly, describes the Electrolux, a gas refrigerator for which the Harrison Hardware Company has secured the local dealership. Heat that freezes is just a little out of the ordinary, yet the Electrolux freezes its own heat into ice, according to T. M. Harrison.

A tiny gas flame and a trickle of water constitute the machinery that manufactures ice in this novel machine. The ice forms into cubes, similar to that of other automatic refrigerators, and ample space for various foods is provided in the large cabinet. It is claimed to be noiseless and free of moving parts.

WINNERS IN COUNTY-WIDE LIVING ROOM CONTEST SELECTED

MUCH INTEREST AROUSED BY CONTEST

County Winners Are To Compete For State-Wide Honors

The Improved Living Room contest, sponsored by the Dallas Semi-Weekly Farm News, in cooperation with the Extension Service of Texas A. & M. College, came to a close in Hall County Monday of this week.

The aims of the contest were to encourage interest in more comfortable living rooms by making them more livable and attractive; to teach the best use of what is on hand; to teach the wise expenditure of money and to teach the wise selection and arrangement of furnishings.

Mrs. Smith spent the sum of $36.65 in improving her living room and Mrs. Williams spent $120 in making her living room the most attractive part of her new seven room brick home.

In company with the County Home Demonstration Agent, this writer visited the homes of Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Williams. To make such an attractive living room on the comparatively small sum of $36.65 was quite an accomplishment for Mrs. Smith.

Mr. Leopold states that Mr. James makes an interesting address and that he knows agriculture inside and out. In Mr. Leopold's opinion, his chief value lies in the fact that he can sit down with an agricultural committee of a chamber of commerce, together with farmers, and build a sound agricultural program for the local chamber of commerce to follow.

The local chamber of commerce is particularly interested in advancing the farming interests of Hall County. A dairying program has been undertaken that is meeting with good results and what Mr. James will have to say in this connection and what he thinks of diversification and rotation of crops is awaited with interest.

If the farm program that Mr. James is prepared to outline meets with the approval of the directors and membership of the local commercial body, work on agricultural matters will be materially enhanced. Officials of the Memphis Chamber of Commerce feel that a well organized agricultural program is one of the most important matters before the body.

Driving back to Memphis and out to the Williams home near Salisbury was a matter of a very short time. Mrs. Williams ushered her guests into the large living room and dining room combined. The room has hardwood floors as is the case with every room in the house. The floors are well finished and excellently stained.

Delco Lighting Plant A few pictures, well placed, grace the walls. A piano adds to the effectiveness of the living room and the dining room with its adequate furnishings, including a serving table, sets off the appearance of the whole. All the work of getting this room set up was done by Mr. and Mrs. Williams.

The winners in the county contest are to enter the district contest to be held in May. They will go to College Station this summer to attend the Farmers' Short Course as a prize for winning.

Basement Floor Of County Courthouse Will Be Remodeled

The ground floor of the Hall County Courthouse is to be remodeled within the near future, according to County Judge A. C. Hoffman. The remodeling has been contemplated for some time, but public announcement was withheld until plans could be completed.

Re-arrange Rest Rooms Judge Hoffman stated that the work is to be done in order to re-arrange the ladies' rest rooms and also to provide for the accommodation of negroes and to provide additional office space.

Planned Improvements Detailed plans and specifications of the work may be seen for examination, and information may be obtained at the office of Judge Hoffman in the courthouse.

Space Was Wasted It has been thought by the Commissioners' Court that much space has been going to waste in the courthouse under the present arrangement of the basement floor.

Has Rapid Growth The Nazarene church has experienced a rapid growth, according to Rev. Gustin, during the time it has been functioning locally. It is located on Tenth and Bradford streets and arrangements are being made to accommodate the large crowds that the messages of Rev. Woodrum are expected to draw.

Invitation Extended A cordial invitation is extended to the citizens of Memphis and surrounding territory to take a part in this meeting. In speaking of the meeting which will open Friday night, Rev. Gustin said: "We are expecting many conversions and as a result of the evangelistic campaign, reclamation of back-sliders and sanctification of sinners. If you are a Christian, come and be a blessing to the meeting. If you are not a Christian, come to get blessed." It is held twice daily.

Woodrum Is Remembered Rev. Woodrum will be remembered by local people for a lecture he delivered here within the past two years against Catholicism at the Baptist tabernacle. Professor Jack Carter, another evangelistic worker who is known widely in this city, will be in charge of the music. He has a good voice and understands how to get the most from his songs. Mrs. Ruby CONVERTED CATHOLIC WILL HOLD REVIVAL FOR NAZARENE CHURCH According to Rev. A. C. Gustin, pastor of the local Nazarene church, a revival will be started by his congregation beginning Friday night, May 3, to last for a period of two or three weeks.

Rev. Gustin said that the evangelist selected to hold the meeting, Reverend Gustin says he is a young man of much promise, who has spoken in Memphis previously and is not a stranger to the people here. He was formerly a Catholic, and is expected to tell some of his experiences while a member of this church during his series of sermons here.

Rev. Woodrum will be remembered by local people for a lecture he delivered here within the past two years against Catholicism at the Baptist tabernacle. He's Real Author Of Jones Law

While all this talk has been going around about the "Jones law," it might be just as well to explain that Congressman Gale H. Stalker, above, an Elmiran, N. Y. lumberman, is the real author of the law. Stalker introduced the bill in the House Jan. 18, 1928, and Senator Jones later was asked to introduce the same bill in the Senate. The law provides for five years imprisonment and $10,000 fine for prohibition violations.

Contestants Leave To Enter In Meet

Five students of Memphis High School, accompanied by Coach Blake Bolton, left this city Wednesday for Austin, where they have gone to compete in the state Interscholastic League Meet. The boys were in the best of spirits when they left believing that they have as good a chance as any at the meet to bring honors to their school and city.

Ted Read is the only boy who is not entered in one of the athletic events. He is entered in extemporaneous speaking. Ted has been working on his speeches since winning out in the district meet at Childress and he is of the opinion that "anything might happen."

All Round Athlete Lee May, probably the best all round athlete that Memphis High School has ever had, is going to do his best to win first place for his school in one or more of the events in which he will be entered. He is entered for the discus throw, the 440 yard dash and the broad jump.

Chorus Well Received The Dairy Maid's Chorus and the Sailor's Chorus appealed to the audience. The end of the performance, or the grand finale, climaxed an evening of genuinely funny entertainment. The estimated attendance for both nights was placed at 1,200 people. The American Legion, under whose auspices the production was presented, cleared $188.87, over and above expenses.

CRIPPLED CHILD EXPRESSES HIS APPRECIATION OF SHRINE CLUB

Few people in Memphis recognize or are acquainted with the activities of the Al-Morrah Shrine Club of this city. This organization has helped a number of crippled children to ruddy and healthful manhood. No children coming to the attention of the club are barred, whether they belong to a family whose head is a Mason or not.

Hopeless Cripple A case that has come to the attention of this paper recently is that of George Glover, 15 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Glover of Memphis. When George was discovered, he was a hopeless cripple. The Shrine Club sent him to the Shrine hospital in Dallas for treatment and his condition has improved considerably.

George has written a letter, which is quoted in part: "I was stricken with infantile paralysis when I was two and one-half years old. I was sick for about a month and a half. It was for a long time before you could hear me cry across two rooms. The doctors said that I could never

Efforts Being Made For An Early Start Getting District Fair Exhibits

Plans are already being made for the Hall County District Fair, according to George A. Sager, secretary of the Association. While a profit was realized from the Fair last year, it is hoped to make even a better showing this year and plans to that end are being formulated.

Plan Early Exhibits Mr. Sager stated that farmers are being urged to plan their exhibits early. He requests that he be notified when the second cutting of alfalfa is ready and when their oats, rye and barley may be obtained. If the products are sent in to Mr. Sager early, they will be adequately cared for until time for the Fair, and this very necessary material will be on hand and will not have to be collected just prior to the Fair's opening, as has been the case in the past.

County Agent H. R. Ellis is working on exhibits for the Fair and he expects to have this work well in hand long before the exhibition opens. Miss Ruby Adams, the county home demonstration agent, is also planning for the Fair and discussing it with the clubs she visits each week.

Estelline Usually Wins Estelline has won first prize in the agricultural exhibits the past three years at the Hall County District Fair and expects to repeat this winning streak again this year. Fred Landers, editor of The Estelline News, has been largely responsible for the success of the Estelline exhibits. He has collected a large part of the products and has supervised the arrangement of the booth and the placing of the products in it.

Other towns and communities in this section are out for Estelline's scalp this year, and it is going to take an excellent exhibit to "walk away" with the first premium.

Makes Good Showing As has been the case heretofore, it is anticipated that Hall County will have exhibits at the Tri-State Fair in Amarillo and the State Fair of Texas in Dallas. Hall County has, for several years, made a good showing in the display of agricultural products at these two fairs, but this year, Mr. Sager is hopeful that the showing will result in some substantial recognition in the form of prizes. That is one reason that work on the exhibits is getting under way so much earlier than is generally the case.

Mr. Sager is urging the people of the several communities in Hall County to begin planning their community exhibits for the local Fair before the summer sets in, as this kind of work is usually held up during the summer months. He would appreciate knowing when early fruits are ripe, such as apricots, cherries, dewberries and blackberries.

System Used A system will be used in connection. Every boy in the water and for him. At intervals of five minutes, a whistle and a checkup will be taken if every boy can "Buddy." Every boy will be taken to pre-disease, accordingly. The water is before the camp gets germs.

Prevents Problems of the coming camp. "Many parents where they are gone" this summer. Other place than this camp. President Elmer once said, "A boy who is not completely had a period in because there they together and get another. The boy gets out of college is the ablest. Thus, the in a camp does this boy will get physical, spiritual growth, and leadership guidance.

Farm Bureau Cotton Association Plans For Dallas Meeting Members of the Texas Farm Bureau Cotton Association are to have their annual meeting in Dallas on Monday, May 13, according to information received from J. M. Kayser, field representative of the organization in Hall County. Mr. Kayser was in the county the first three days of this week and he says a good attendance is promised from this county.

At the Dallas meeting, directors and officers for the ensuing year will be elected. Detailed information will be given and plans and policies for the ensuing year outlined to the membership. A large attendance is indicated by advance inquiries from all parts of the state and this is scheduled to be one of the most important meetings ever held since the Association was organized in 1921. All railroads in the state are giving reduced rates to the meeting, according to Mr. Kayser.

'Aunt Lucia' Plays To Packed Houses As Legion Benefit

The collegiate comedy, "Aunt Lucia," played to packed houses at the high school auditorium Thursday and Friday nights of last week. The entertainment was one that provoked plenty of mirth from start to finish, and each number on the program received prolonged applause. To see business men dressed to represent widely known cinema stars and people in the public eye is not given to the public to witness every week in the year, and the audience seemed to appreciate this fact.

Outstanding Feature Probably the outstanding feature of the performance was the pageant entitled "Babyland," taken part in by a hundred local children. These little ones acted their assigned parts much after the manner of professionals and responded well to the director and to the stories told by Mrs. M. McNeely.

The Glee Club was another of the bright spots of the brilliant farce. This group was composed of twenty popular singers of Memphis and carried out well the collegiate atmosphere of the entire production.

Automatic Sparkler The playlet went forward without any rough jars and every character seemed to fit in well with the whole. David Fitzgerald with his automatic diamond sparkler was one of the "hits" of the show. The costumes were good and little was left to the imagination. The Sig-A-Rette Sorority made considerable "whoop-pee." Among the outstanding members of the sorority was May or Harrison as "the Girl with the Million Dollar Legs," Dr. D. C. Hyder as "the Dancing Girl," and J. U. Dennis as the "Hula Hula Girl."

Chorus Well Received The Dairy Maid's Chorus and the Sailor's Chorus appealed to the audience. The end of the performance, or the grand finale, climaxed an evening of genuinely funny entertainment. The estimated attendance for both nights was placed at 1,200 people. The American Legion, under whose auspices the production was presented, cleared $188.87, over and above expenses.

Contestants Leave To Enter In Meet Five students of Memphis High School, accompanied by Coach Blake Bolton, left this city Wednesday for Austin, where they have gone to compete in the state Interscholastic League Meet. The boys were in the best of spirits when they left believing that they have as good a chance as any at the meet to bring honors to their school and city.

Ted Read is the only boy who is not entered in one of the athletic events. He is entered in extemporaneous speaking. Ted has been working on his speeches since winning out in the district meet at Childress and he is of the opinion that "anything might happen."

All Round Athlete Lee May, probably the best all round athlete that Memphis High School has ever had, is going to do his best to win first place for his school in one or more of the events in which he will be entered. He is entered for the discus throw, the 440 yard dash and the broad jump.

Chorus Well Received The Dairy Maid's Chorus and the Sailor's Chorus appealed to the audience. The end of the performance, or the grand finale, climaxed an evening of genuinely funny entertainment. System Used A system will be used in connection. Every boy in the water and for him. At intervals of five minutes, a whistle and a checkup will be taken if every boy can "Buddy." Every boy will be taken to pre-disease, accordingly. The water is before the camp gets germs.

Prevents Problems of the coming camp. "Many parents where they are gone" this summer. Other place than this camp. ### The Rose Garden Of Texas

BY PHEBE K. WARNER

Last week it was our happy privilege to spend two whole days in the Rose Garden of Texas. Talk about beauty! If California can beat Tyler, and Smith County Texas raising Roses they have the right to boast.

How many of us who live right here in Texas know that the city of Tyler shipped out 60 car loads of rose cuttings and plants last year. Believe it or not. That's the record. Why a lot of us do not realize that there are enough roses in Texas to go around so that every one of our 1,000,000 homes might have an ever blooming rose bush by their door.

But there are roses and roses and roses of every kind and color in Smith county. Just acres and acres of them. And Oh! The joy they are to the people. Yet we couldn't keep from internally asking ourselves if those Tyler Club Women actually appreciated the real value of a rose? The way they piled them up all over the town and the way they scattered them all over the tables until you couldn't hardly find your victuals. Well, we just wondered if they realized how reckless and wasteful it all seemed to a Panhandle woman.

Now don't get the idea we do not have roses in the Panhandle. We do. But not by the mile as they raise them in Smith county. However, they grow on bushes here just as they do in Smith county. And they are beautiful.

But that's not all we saw in Smith county. The Blue Bonnets! All up and down the railroad and the highway and every where. But that's not all they raise in Smith county. Beauty is food for the eye and the soul but even roses and Blue Bonnets would not satisfy a fellow's stomach so very long.

If it's food you are craving then you should go to Smith county and take a look at those black berry fields. Not patches like the most of us are used to if we have any. But fields of blackberries. Acres and acres and acres of blackberries. And strawberries! Smith county, right over there in East Texas claims to have the largest black berry fields in the world. And for all we know, it's the truth.

Truly, Tyler is entitled to call herself "the Heart of East Texas" as her slogan suggests, if the heart is the source of beauty and kindness and courtesy and love and the spirit of cooperation, for that is just what the people of Tyler handed out unstintingly to every one who attended the Third District Convention of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs.

And when the Third District convention was over which was a joy and benediction from start to finish, we went across to Corsicana to take (not fill) a man's place on the program of the Texas Federation of Music Clubs.

And there again, was Corsicana all dolled up in the most gorgeous Spring style with roses and tulips and Blue Bonnets and carnations and everything lovely that Nature could bestow on a glorious state. You just wanted to stand round and look at those lovely yards. And the dinners those East Texas church women did serve.

Don't worry Brethren! Women are not losing their culinary art with the progress of the years. But they are adding beauty and loveliness to the same wholesome food your mothers fed you. But when the sun woke up the next morning I was gliding along on the Denver some where between Clarendon and Claude, four hundred miles from those glorious rose gardens of Texas. And there was not a rose, or a Blue Bonnet, or a blackberry bush, or a great oak tree to be seen any where. But stretching out and out and out in every direction as far as the eye could reach were our glorious Panhandle wheat fields, Texas' promise of bread. And I thought how great is Texas! And how I wish that we might all plan a way to trade our Panhandle bread and butter and beef for East Texas roses and blue bonnets and strawberries and black berries and beauty and trees. Folks: We Texas people ought to be the happiest, proudest, and most prosperous people in all the world. There is food and fuel enough, there is cotton and wool enough, there is wood and work enough and there is beauty and room enough in Texas for every one of our million families to have a beautiful home of their own with plenty of food and clothing and fuel and beauty and education and recreation if we only knew how to use our state and how to distribute its blessings justly to all the people. But here comes the tragic fact that spoils this dreamland vision.

With all our beauty and all our food and all our other natural resources, Texas today stands about tenth from the bottom in education. And when it comes to domestic strife and discontent, Texas leads the world in broken, wrecked homes, which means we have more crime, more orphans, more misery compared with our population and our God given opportunities that any other country on earth.

Don't that make your heart ache? And what's the cause? And what are we going to do about it?

Panhandle Press Paragraphs

Ninety per cent of all our troubles are caused from ignorance of the facts. When we learn to know each other, whether as individuals or cities, we usually find the other fellow is not what the knocker recommends him to be.—Estelline News.

While tornadoes and cyclones are raging in other parts of Texas, and in Arkansas, Oklahoma, Kansas and Missouri, we folks in the Panhandle are enjoying the beautiful spring weather with only an occasional sandstorm to remind us that the elements are being disturbed in other sections. This Panhandle country is practically free from cyclones which is another reason for making it the best place on earth to live.—Miami Chief.

Locust trees are blooming now and the air around Vernon is full of their perfume. The fragrance from the blossoms is everywhere. It is a beautiful sight in spring to drive through the streets and see trees in full bloom.—Vernon Times.

The average person is well disposed and honest. And the average criminal would swiftly eschew his profession if punishment were certain and swift. We need fewer and better laws, not more; simpler legal machinery, not a more ponderous one.—Shamrock Texas.

Quietly and unobtrusively but with an earnestness and enthusiasm deserving of the greatest success, Emil F. Myers of the Amarillo College of Music, is seeking year after year, to build up an appreciation of good music among the people of the Panhandle.—Southwest Plainsman.

Clarendon has never been more beautiful than she is becoming this spring. Trees and shrubbery are out in full leaf and even the locust trees are in the most prolific bloom witnessed in years. The perfume of these and other blossoms pervade the entire community and gladden the hearts of those who know and love nature. Clarendon is without a peer among the cities of the Southwest for genuine beauty and loveliness.—Clarendon News.

In order to abolish the uncertainty that prevails within the minds of numerous blondes and brunettes of the feminine gender of the younger set in this vicinity, the Enterprise, upon fairly good authority, takes this method of heralding the tidings that H. R. Ellis, newly appointed Hall County farm agent, is not a married man.—Turkey Enterprise.

With this issue, the Sterley Saturday Post makes its debut in the world of news publications. It will be the purpose of this publication to cooperate with all the newspapers in the South Plains area in the upbuilding and development of a vast empire.—Sterley Saturday Post.

What's Doing In West Texas

STEPHENVILLE will start work on the paving of 70,000 square yards of brick pavement to begin soon. The contract went to the Thurber Brick Company whose price on concrete was $2.01 for six inch thickness reinforced with 40 pound steel. The paving will amount to between six and ten miles.

CORRECTION: Level land's latest scholastic census showed a tabulation of 837 school children between the ages of 7 and 18 years instead of 206 as given out previously. This is an increase of about thirty-three per cent, and indicates that the county has a population of more than 12,600 at this time.

TURKEY is elated over the announcement of a $30,000 sanitarium to be built at once. An unlimited supply of water has recently been piped into town, two buildings of brick are under construction and plans for others are being made.

THE WEST TEXAS chamber of Commerce is sending an invitation signed by Governor Dan Moody of Texas, Governor Dillon of New Mexico and Governor Phil-

Your MODEL T FORD is still a good car

THE Model T Ford led the motor industry for twenty years because of its sturdy worth, reliability and economy. Those same reasons continue to make it a good car.

As a matter of fact, nearly one-fourth of all the automobiles in use today are Model T Fords. Millions of them can be driven two, three and even five more years with reasonable care and proper replacements. Figures show that the average life is seven years.

Don't sacrifice your Model T, therefore, but take it to the Ford dealer and have him estimate on the cost of putting it in A1 shape. A very small expenditure may be the means of giving you thousands of miles of additional service.

For a labor charge of $20 to $25 you can have your motor and transmission completely overhauled. This price includes new bearings, reboring cylinders and any other work necessary. Parts are extra.

Valves can be ground and carbon removed for $3 to $4. The cost of tightening all main bearings is only $6. The labor charge for overhauling the front axle is $4.50 to $5—rear axle assembly, $5.75 to $7.

New universal joint will be installed for a labor charge of $3. Brake shoes relined for $1.50. Rear spring and perches rebushed for $1.75. The cost of overhauling the starting motor is $3. A labor charge of approximately $2.50 covers the overhauling of the generator.

It will pay you, therefore, to see your Ford dealer and have him put your Model T in good running order. By doing so you will protect and maintain the investment you have in your car and get months and years of reliable transportation at a very low cost per mile.

After Careful Study—

IS it any wonder the Texas State Highway Department and many counties and cities in this great state build portland cement concrete pavements?

The Bates Road, built by Illinois Highway officials to test pavements, contained 63 sections of three principal paving materials in various combinations and thicknesses.

At the end of the tests, after 377,460 tons had passed—motor trucks gradually loaded until each rear wheel carried 8,000 pounds—only thirteen sections remained undamaged.

Ten were portland cement concrete; the other three had heavy portland cement concrete foundations.

Experience and use prove also—there is no other pavement like it!

PAINS In Side and Back

"I HAD BEEN miserable for a long time. My health was poor, and I suffered a lot from weakness. At times, my strength was so little that I could not stand on my feet. I would have to give up and go to bed. My sides and back hurt dreadfully.

"I grow discouraged, for I could do so little. I worried about myself, and almost gave up hope of ever being strong and well. I could scarcely lift a bucket of water. My housework went undone, for I was not strong enough to do it.

"After I had taken Cardui for a little while, I began to feel better. I grew stronger, soon found that I could do my work with less effort, and the pains in my back and sides left me. I think Cardui is a wonderful medicine. My health has been excellent since then."—Mrs. D. L. Beckner, W. Main St., Salem, Va.

Hitch-Hikes Way to Recover Son

Six months ago, Mrs. Edna Nettle, 24, of Seattle, Wash., left her son, Richard, 2, in care of relatives while she and her husband went to a show. Returning, they found the relatives had disappeared with the baby, "to give it a better home." Instead of seeking an arrest, Mrs. Nettle traced them to Atlanta, Ga. She and her husband had only money enough for one-way fare, so Mrs. Nettle hitch-hiked to Atlanta, recovered her child, and returned to Seattle on a train.

MAJOR SEAGRAVE IS KNIGHTED

WORD comes by way of the Associated Press from Bognor, England, where George V. "King, Emperor, Defender of the Faith", and other things, is recuperating from his recent serious illness, that Major H. O. D. Seagrave, the British speed king, who set a new speed record on the sands of Daytona Beach, Florida, has been knighted by His Majesty.

To tell the truth about the matter, it was really no more than George R. L. should have done for a worthy subject. The Major, beg pardon, Sir H. O. D., risked his neck for king and country and perhaps a few good American dollars thrown into the bargain to make it binding. In days of old, the valiant of England were remembered by kings and queens with gold, silver, precious stones and elevated to exalted stations before they went into the hands of receivers and were duly executed.

What more fitting tribute might have come from King George than that he bestow a knighthood upon the jaunty "old top", who said, just before he set a new record for speed at Daytona, that he figured he had one chance in ten of getting through?

We Americans might as well admit the truth. Those of us who have never been to London-town have a sneaking idea that a Britisher is known only by his monocle and the "bally old chap" kind of language used by Sir Cedric in amateur theatricals, when the entire town turns out and applauds a comedy over the footlights to local renown. Many of us were so far away from the scene of action of the World War that we know little of and care less about the part Englishmen took in that conflict, which shows the stuff out of which they are made.

With his recent elevation to the peerage, Sir H. O. D. can carry on a little better, it may be, for King and Country. In future, whenever he sings "God Save the King," he will probably remember that he has had an audience and that King George recognizes his existence on the map of the British Isles. We believe the King was really desirous of honoring Seagrave, but at the same time, he must have taken into consideration that a title is good bait for future exploits.

Englishmen like sports. That is one reason Wales has "gone over" in such a big way. They appreciate men and women with nerve who wear a monocle in one eye and vision worthy accomplishments with the other. That seems to just about express Seagrave, and it may be a criterion for measuring humanity. Most of us have a considerable amount of vanity, enough to look-life squarely in the eyes without blushing and to carry on without telling the rest of the world how we do it.

A HIGH SCHOOL EDITION

FOR the first time in the history of Hall County, an issue of a newspaper is to be published by high school students. The Democrat for May 10 will be edited by the journalism class of the Memphis High School, assisted by a few students who are not members of the class, but who have been actively identified with newspaper work the present school year.

Plans for the high school edition were evolved early in January of this year, and the course of instruction in journalism has been primarily of a practical nature, in order that the students have a real insight into the problems with which they will be faced when they have the opportunity of smelling printer's ink for a week.

So far as known, no high school in this immediate section offers a journalism course. Such a course, however, is becoming increasingly popular with the larger high schools of the state and each year journalism schools in the better known colleges and universities are adding appreciably to their enrollments.

The old-time newspaper man looks askance even today at the mention of the word "journalism." He feels that colleges are long on theory and short on practice. This has been the case until recent years, but now practical newspaper men are being secured as instructors; college dailies and weeklies are furnishing excellent laboratory equipment, and the old idea that newspaper men with college instruction should be banned is fast being dissipated.

It is not the purpose of a course in journalism either in high school or college to make of students that take it journalists. It is the purpose of such a course to familiarize students with the background of the profession, its history, its precedents and to imbue them with the right kind of attitude toward the public, that they are to eventually serve.

The students who will edit one issue of The Democrat have been thoroughly grounded in what is expected of them. They will know, as well as high school students ever know anything, how to proceed. They will take over the paper entirely for one week, under the general supervision of the editor, and will be responsible to him for everything that appears in this issue. Twenty-five percent of the advertising in the issue will be donated to the Stadium Fund. This is not being done as a gesture, but through a real desire on the part of this publication to contribute, in some measure, to the success of the stadium drive. The Memphis Democrat believes in the schools of this city. It stands ready at all times to help any worthy cause for the betterment of the schools, and it is for this reason that the school edition has been made possible.

THE LURE OF THE OPEN

WE took a trip recently—a little trip, to be sure, but out into the open. We were away from Memphis less than twenty-four hours and Memphis is not a city large enough for us to become "fed up" on skyscrapers and a cosmopolitan atmosphere. But the change has helped us to see things clearer, to be better satisfied with our routine and to appraise our fellows, as the days glide by, with just a bit more of forbearance and tolerance.

We wetted a hook, built a fire, ate bacon and buns, drank strong coffee and spring water, watched the midnight of a day of work pass tranquilly into the early morning of a day of rest, set apart and so ordained, heard those little, inconstant voices of the night, watched a distant campfire mirrored in the waters of a lake, and more than anything else, felt the strong bond of human companionship that has its fullest play in the open.

Dust has touched the lips of that sage of another time who recorded the fact that "a touch of Nature makes the whole world kin." But it does, and it will and it shall. The open is a synonym for freedom, of relaxation from the ordinary into the realm of the extraordinary. In other words, Nature has her say when the click of industry is hushed and when calm reigns unobscured and unincumbered by the restless voice of the crowd.

Our camp was pitched in a grove of cottonwoods. Years ago, the waters of a mighty river had tumbled madly over their roots. Now, only the flow from a spring gives their souls refreshment and nourishment. Hard by was a little lake with pasture land bordering its confines. Lazy cattle looked with mild-eyed curiosity at those who tampered with their broad estate.

Sunset, dawn and noonday came and went. The first passed out in a blaze of golden glory. The wind that had threatened a sandstorm died down to a fragrant breeze—reminiscent of early June and fields of crushed clover. Dawn—with the penitent sun playing into the faces of would-be lazy risers, dawn that promised a magnificent day and more than justified the promise. Noonday came; the sun rode the zenith, cutting a swarth into oblique shadows, heralding the time to return to Memphis and begin again the duties of a new week.

The call of the open, the invitation to return to it, has never been adequately described. Jack London, Kipling, Mark Twain, Burroughs, Bret Harte, Thoreau all have tried. They have done better than the many, but the call is still inexplicable. Go into the country by a placid stream, forget yourself and all else and you will understand why it is so.

This and That

By L. E. R.

Say people, Grady G. Roberts, editor of the Chillicothe Valley News, didn't like what I said about Chillicothe in this column under date of April 19. Read this excerpt from the editorial column of The News dated April 25:

He Would Poke Fun!
 From "This and That" in The Memphis Democrat: Have you been to Chillicothe recently? If you haven't you'll be surprised to know that automatic traffic signals—the same type Dallas uses—are employed in that hustling city. Perhaps the signals have been there quite a while, but it has been some time since I have paid Chillicothe a visit.

Really, I don't know why they want traffic signals down there. When Doctors Odom and Hicks and I passed through there enroute to Wichita Falls, our car and one other constituted the total traffic. But the lights were going full blast and we obeyed the red ones in order to protect our lives.

Doc Hicks heard a bell ring and asked what town we were in. I told him Chillicothe. He doesn't believe it yet.

Quannah and Chillicothe have vied with each other for years in everything. Now, I suspect that the reason Chillicothe has traffic signals is because Quannah hasn't. If we Memphians don't watch out, Estellipe will be installing the same system.

All of which goes to show if it proves anything, that the smaller cities sometimes set the pace for their larger sisters.

I don't believe Chillicothe needs signal lights, but the Chillicothe city council evidently thinks vice versa. I do believe Memphis needs a similar system, but the Memphis city council apparently doesn't think so. So that, indubitably, is that.

I'm not even positive that this argument is leading us anywhere, but who can deny that it is filling space?

The above appeared in a column headed THIS AND THAT, and we are of the opinion, and believe, rightly so, that the writer of this column hasn't "been tuk' out much" or else This and That would find that signal devices are in need, whether it holds true in Memphis or not.

Chillicothe has use for its signals, because traffic in Chillicothe is such to justify those beautiful red and green lights. Otherwise, Chillicothe would have never gone to the expense of installation. We dare say that signal lights installed on the streets of Memphis would not prove worth while. We doubt whether a motorist would be able to see the lights, because of the amount of sand blowing and which is usually found on the streets there.

This and That, perhaps is not acquainted with the fact, that Chillicothe is the smallest city in the state with signal devices, because This and That has been cooped in a country town just west of here so long that he has lost sight of the improvements taking place in more modern cities. You understand, This and That, Chillicothe is a progressive city. You even grant the fact that it is a hustling, up and going place. This is brought about by progressive people—not the kind who will allow a few dollars to come between modern devices, such as signal lights, and things the older generation once used, but still in use in some country towns!

Quannah and Chillicothe having a little prejudice amongst their own is a misleading statement, This and That. Chillicothe does not pick quarrels with its neighboring town. Residents of Chillicothe, are more progressive than to give that their time. But, what else could This and That know, since he admits he travels with Owedum and a Hick!

Gosh! all outdoors, This and That, wake up! Realize you are living in a modern age, an age where those who cannot dance to the step, are sitting on the sidelines!

Travel more! learn of the improvements taking place in this modern age, learn what other cities are doing—the progressive cities—not the country hick towns where you sit on the sidewalk all day long and whittle a stick, while a "cud of tobacco" rests inside of your mouth!

It is no wonder, This and That, that you are still in Memphis, and that Memphis is still without modern devices that regulate traffic. Just to show you you are in sympathy with you and your brethren over there, we extend you a cordial welcome to visit more often, and this will, at least, give you an idea "how to act" when you travel further and in to larger cities than Memphis.

walks all day long and whittle a stick, while a "cud of tobacco" rests inside of your mouth!

It is no wonder, This and That, that you are still in Memphis, and that Memphis is still without modern devices that regulate traffic.

Just to show you you are in sympathy with you and your brethren over there, we extend you a cordial welcome to visit more often, and this will, at least, give you an idea "how to act" when you travel further and in to larger cities than Memphis.

My feelings are hurt. I thought I was complimenting Chillicothe by letting this part of the world know about her traffic signal lights. I even went out of my way to refer to the Hardeman County town as a "hustling city," when in reality there were only two cars, counting ours, in motion on the street when we passed through there. This is an ungrateful world, anyway.

Maybe I haven't "been tuk' out much," Editor Roberts, but I have been through that industrial metropolis, Evans Switch, that separates Chillicothe from Quannah. You'll notice there are no signal lights at Evans Switch.

It's quite true we have some auto drivers who wouldn't see the lights if we had them, and we have some who couldn't stop if they saw them, but those speeders are due for a nice, big wreck one of these days and it is to be hoped they won't injure anyone but themselves.

But we can't agree about the sand blowing so badly in Memphis. However, we much prefer to have blowing sand than a blowing editor who overestimates his city's traffic.

Chillicothe, you have my compliments on being the smallest city in the state with signal lights. Memphis is becoming distinguished as the largest city in the state without them. So that makes us even.

Thanks, Mr. Roberts, for bestowing upon us the title of "country town." We are proud to be known as such because this is the finest country in all the world, rock-bound, hard clay Hardeman County not excepted. You do raise good coyotes, though. I remember how they kept me awake at nights when I lived in your country. Do they still drive herds of white faced cattle down your main streets, Mr. Roberts? Or do the traffic signal lights control that? How do you make an unruly steer stop for a red light?

Chillicothe, I can't help but believe you and Quannah have your little arguments occasionally. Why, the West Texas Utilities Company even found it necessary to establish its mammoth electric plant between the two cities in order that both could claim it! And please don't hold me responsible for having traveled with Dr. Odom and Dr. Hicks. Great Scott, I couldn't help it. There were no better doctors going the same direction that particular day.

Yes, Mr. Roberts, I am convinced this is a modern age. The fact that Chillicothe is attempting to control its alleys is proof positive that time has wrought changes in this old world. To tell you the truth, I'm afraid you'll be running cars down there the pass through.

MILLIONTH AND IS PRODUCED

Are Requiring Build Number 1,000,000 Cars

May 2. (Special)—The first "millionth" Oakland Motor Car was produced today. The new model—a new design—passed through the assembly line late in the afternoon. The car was received by factory executives and Mr. Glancy, president of the company.

Inspection after the 1,000,000th car from the line, the Oakland product, a 2-door sedan, was inspected at the station. The car was then going out to all parts of the globe to satisfy the demand.

Many attended the production of the one-millionth Oakland car with a consequent interruption in the March car building. The 22 years the Oakland has been manufacturing the car was dispatched to Milwaukee to be displayed at the dealer.

In 1907, the Oakland company did not build with car until July of more than half years—while in half years were out its second car.

Mr. Glancy, other when the mill off the line were vice-president in charge of operation. H. Anibal, vice-charge of engineering.

Inspection chief inspector, in key on the car, to build the one as well as all other All-American place approximate inspections.

car came into existence in 1907, Mr. Vann stated that at that early date inspection was mostly by the trained eye of the mechanic. If a part appeared to fit, it did well enough. Today's precision methods require infinitely closer machining and allow for the huge production programs that have made possible so much value giving to the ultimate consumer.

Production Mounted But as the automotive industry developed, Oakland also grew. Its production in 1908 mounted to the then quite respectable total of 178 cars—four cylinder models which won numerous hill-climbing endurance and economy contests. In 1909, the year Oakland was taken over by General Motors, production reached 1,035 units.

During the next few years Oakland steadily progressed. Production reached five figures in 1915 when 12,311 cars were built—a total representing less than two weeks output under current factory schedules. By 1919—four years later—production had risen to a record of 54,401 cars.

New Triumphs Ahead But new triumphs were ahead.

For 1926 brought the Pontiac Six and with it an era of production which dwarfed the records of former years. And 1926 closed with a total Oakland-Pontiac production of 134,721 units—nearly three times the volume of the previous year. The next two years saw the completion of a mammoth factory building program and a rapid expansion of the dealer organization. With greatly improved facilities for manufacturing and marketing, and with both the Oakland and Pontiac Six meeting a constantly growing demand in their respective price classes, the Oakland Motor Car company swept on to successive records of 192,966 units during 1927 and 260,000 units in 1928.

This year's production and sales program calls for a substantial increase even over the huge volume of 1928. Dealer outlets are being constantly expanded under the direction of W. R. Tracy, vice-president in charge of sales, and with enlarged manufacturing facilities, Oakland-Pontiac sales are expected to total over 300,000 cars.

With both the new Oakland All-American Six and the Pontiac Big Six enjoying a high measure of public favor, Oakland officials are confident that the third 500,000th mile-post will be passed before the lapse of many months.

From its very origin, the new Dodge Brothers Six had to be what it actually is—a value beyond parallel or precedent. It was built with the studied care and uncompromising skill that have made the Dodge Brothers name a symbol for dependability. Walter P. Chrysler endowed it with innumerable refinements and more than a score of mechanical betterments. Outstanding among these is the exclusive Mono-piece Body—one of the most important developments of recent years. By a wide and commanding margin, the new Dodge Brothers Six is the greatest value in Dodge Brothers history.

Beyond comparison among low-priced cars

The improved Plymouth is today exhibiting new standards of performance, economy, comfort and beauty entirely beyond comparison in the low-priced field.

These include longer stroke and an increase in piston displacement; a heavier crankshaft; larger interchangeable bearings; larger connecting rods; a newly designed system of full-pressure lubrication. ### Texas and Texans

By Will H. Mayes,
Austin, Texas

Legislation and Time
Members of the legislature are already predicting that the body cannot complete its work in two months. Since the legislature seldom shows any disposition to work until nearly time for adjournment, it is probable that it would not complete its work in an orderly way even in six months. With the Board of Control and the finance committees of both houses having been at work for months on appropriation measures, little time need be spent in disposing of appropriations. The matters submitted by the Governor have been discussed in their every phase and if legislature will get rid of the big lobby in Austin and go to work as it should, there is no reason why the matters of real public concern could not be considered in less than a month. If more time than that is used it will be spent largely in efforts to advance political interests of legislators and their friends, and the public will be footing the bills.

Making a Governor
More thought will be given in Austin during the next two months to making a governor to succeed Dan Moody than to legislation. About half the members of the Senate are in a receptive mood and most of the other members of both houses have some favorite whom they are anxious to make governor. These are all hoping that in some way their interests may be advanced during the legislative session. However, they take themselves and what they do more seriously than do the voters of the state, who still prefer to make governors at a ballot box rather than in a legislative session.

They Come From the Country
In reading reports of the big things being done in the cities of the state, there is nearly always found a statement that they are being brought about by men who have moved to the cities from the small towns or the country. Texas cities are largely made up of small-town and country people who have left their first homes seeking opportunities for large achievements. They succeed in big ways because of big ideas that were born before they moved to the cities. What is needed most is for the places where such men are born and reared to create local opportunities that will hold their best talent at home instead of allowing it to leave for better fields.

Southwestern University
Some thirty-five of the friends of Southwestern University at Georgetown met recently and decided to use their influence and some of their wealth to pay off debts of that institution and create an endowment fund of sufficient size to retain the school at Georgetown where it has been located for so many years. Since church schools are being peddled around to the highest bidders by the church authorities, no school town or city feels that it can rely on retaining a school any longer than some city with covetous eyes decides that it is willing to pay a higher price for it than the smaller place can afford to pay. Southwestern has done a wonderful work at Georgetown and this fact should be the greatest reason for keeping it there. There are some things that should count for more than mere dollars and especially with the churches and their attitude toward the schools.

Carnegie Peace Mission
Judd Mortimer Lewis, Houston's well known newspaper poet, has been selected by the Carnegie

Peace Mission to go to China, Japan, Manchuria and other Oriental countries. We don't know exactly what is expected of Judd, but venture to predict that he will make the rounds without starting a war with any of the countries he will visit. He believes in peace and most of the time conducts himself peaceably.

San Marcos Record's Special
The Rogers Hotel special edition of the San Marcos Record, on the occasion of the opening of that hotel, was a credit to the Buckners of the Record and to San Marcos. Everybody in San Marcos is proud of the fact that it has a resort and hotel unsurpassed anywhere in the state. More than ever San Marcos will now be a town to which every visitor will want to return.

Heart of Texas Press
This writer was greatly disappointed that he did not get to attend the Heart of Texas Press meeting at Brady. There is not a finer group of fellows anywhere than composes that association and the Brady people have the kind of enterprise that it does a fellow good to know at close range. Harry Schwenker of the Standard, is lucky to get to live among such fine people.

Rock Island Extension
The Wellington Leader's map of proposed extension of the Rock Island from Shamrock to Quanah and the connection into Fort Worth makes one wonder why the road has not been built long ago. Certainly it would handle a large traffic from one of the richest sections of Texas lying along the upper reaches of the Red River valley.

Why Cast Reflections
The Dallas News made an ugly fling at the Texas legislature in announcing just before that body convened in Austin in special session that the sheep and goat population of Travis county would soon be greatly increased. The News need not have gone to the trouble to explain that the statement had reference to the lobby that would soon gather at the Texas capitol.

New World to Conquer
Having done all that he can for the present to make Lockhart the best paved town in Texas, Editor-Mayor Schofield of the Post Register, is now doing a double column, front page stunt to arouse Lockhart people to the advantages of having a country club. He must feel that he is getting old enough to begin playing golf as a pastime.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Lee Rushing have returned from Kerrville where they attended the Southland Life Insurance convention. They also made a ten day visit to other points before returning home. They report a wonderful convention, and a pleasant trip.

Much Interest—
After the best living rooms in each district have been decided upon, the state honors will be awarded by the state committee, which the Extension Service appoints. Announcements of the state prize winners is expected to be made during the 1929 Farmers' Short Course at the A. & M. College.

Miss Xuma Young and Miss Johnnie Christian, teachers in the Memphis Public Schools, judged the county contest at the request of Miss Ruby Adams.

Boy Scouts—
in the Southwest Panhandle Area are expected to avail themselves of this opportunity and take part in the camp. They will be given the opportunity to "live" a vacation and not just actually "spend it." Plans are underway whereby a permanent camp site for Scouts may be had, but the permanent camp will not be secured probably before next year.

Contestants Leave—
Plan for Good Time
The boys are planning to have a good time while away on the trip. Wednesday afternoon they saw a baseball game in Fort Worth, and a show there Wednesday night. They expect to see as much of Austin as is possible during the three days they are to be in the city. They will return to Memphis in time for school next Monday.
