School Editorial

Dear Patrons,

Students frequently come to us wanting and needing to take courses that will better fit them for jobs when they graduate from high school. Some students plan to go directly into business, some to business schools, and some to colleges and universities. For all of these students we present an excellent commercial department which includes typing, shorthand, and bookkeeping courses. In the commercial courses students build a foundation for advanced business administration and vocational training; they are trained to manage their own personal and business affairs in order that present social and economic situations may be improved; the students are ready to begin work as office clerks, machine operators, stenographers and bookkeepers.

The commercial subjects require a good foundation in mathematics for accurate bookkeeping; legible handwriting; correct spelling is necessary in transcribing shorthand; a knowledge of the rules of punctuation and sentence structure is essential for secretarial work; thus we see that mathematics, penmanship, spelling, and English are all used in teaching a commercial course.

Interest is created and maintained by introducing practical problems from the business world, by contests in typing and shorthand, and by showing the student how the principles learned in class may be used to their advantage

Seven Bands Will Play in Massed Band Concert

Third Annual Cap Rock Band Festival Opens Here Friday Morning

The third annual Cap Rock Band Festival will be held on Friday, April 28. Seven bands in full uniform are to participate in the festival. Mr. Neilson, of the Oklahoma City University, will be guest conductor of the Massed Band.

A full day of entertainment is planned for all the visiting band members and directors. Beginning at 9 o'clock in the morning the Massed Band will rehearse until noon. At 12 o'clock all directors, superintendents, principals, and their wives will be guests at a luncheon in the Memphis Hotel.

A lecture on "Brass Instruments" by Mr. Neilson will be given from 1:20 to 2:20 in the First Methodist Church. A colorful parade will be staged from 2:30 until 3:30, assembling at the High School building. The band members are to be guests at the Palace Theatre from 3:30 until 5 o'clock.

At 6:30 the band members and high school girls will take part in a play hour lasting until the Massed Band concert at 8 o'clock. Mr. James Neilson, director of the Oklahoma City University Band, will be conductor of the 250 band students. Mr. Neilson will also play a solo concert. The admission will be ten and twenty-five cents.

both now and later.

Material used outside the regular textbooks are charts, blackboard presentations, and lawyers' briefs and legal instruments in secretarial practice.

We feel that commercial courses are highly beneficial. The wise pupil uses his shorthand in taking class notes, and his typing skill in copying notebooks and themes. The many uses and benefits of commercial courses can be proved with the years.

Yours truly,
W. C. Davis.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Burks visited her parents in Lubbock Saturday.

West Ward Nature Study Interesting

Interest in nature study in West Ward is proving very interesting. It is a varied study of plant, insect, and animal life. The children are bringing in specimens daily, which are used in their study of elementary science.

In making a study of the clothing unit in Mrs. Hunt's geography classes, the pupils have been very enthusiastic in examining a real flax plant in bloom. They are also making an observation of the wheat plant, from the seed through the growth of the plant.

Miss Steen's pupils are doing some creative work in the study of the bird unit such as making bird houses, studying their habits, and watching them build their nests.

Bonny McElreath was proud to exhibit an owl last week which he brought in from his farm home. This caused much excitement as more than half of the children had never seen an owl before.

He lettered at a guard position last year, but this coming year he will be used as a utility lineman, putting in time at both the guard and tackle slots. Bobby has been looking good with his aggressiveness and is liable to make the starting bunch next fall. "Power to you, Bobby. Stay in there."

FHT Chapter Has Meeting Monday

The Lakeview chapter of the Future Homemakers of Texas met in regular session Monday, April 17. With vacation time just around the corner, the chapter realized that too soon it was time to consider next year's program, and those who were to lead for another year.

At the close of the meeting the following girls had been chosen to make next year's chapter a better one than this past one: Barbara Blanks, president; Carrie Dell Lenoir, vice president;

Pearl Shearer, secretary; Geraldine Tyler, treasurer.

Vocations has been the theme of this year's programs. Each meeting being devoted to one of the vocations that the girls have expressed an interest in and one they are likely to follow. The qualifications and personality required, length of time and expense of training and the chance for advancement were a few of the things considered.

SICKNESS TAKES TOLL IN SCHOOL ATTENDANCE

Bill Martin is back in school after recently having an appendicitis operation.

The senior class is very sorry to report the serious illness of Lou Ella Hall. She is in the hospital with pneumonia, and we hope she will be back in school soon.

We are also sorry that Mr. Mauldin has been absent from school because of illness. Mr. Mauldin has quite a record though, for this is the first time in eleven years that he has been absent from school due to illness.

The sophomore class is sorry to report John Allen Thompson's illness.

GRADE SCHOOL NEWS

The following poem was written by William Wheeler, a sixth grade student:

TEXAS
 W. Lee O'Daniel is governor
 Of our great state,
 He lives in the mansion
 So wonderful and so great.
 I'm glad I live in Texas,
 To join the happy band
 You can live in the mountains
 Or down by the Rio Grande.
 Hurray for dear old Texas,
 It is the largest state,
 You must also remember,
 It is one of the forty-eight.

The sixth grade has been studying about China and Japan. The girls are making fans and vases. The boys are making houseboats and jinnkisha.

The Lakeview High School has a new honor roll plate. Each year the honor student's name and the year which they finished will be engraved on the plate. We know each student will strive to get his name on this plate.

Grandmother's very elaborate shirt waist and skirt competed with sister Mary's wedding dress of yore days for the prize at the vocational tucky party held Wednesday night, April 19, at the Lakeview gymnasium.

Seventy-five boys and girls attended the tucky party given by the Future Homemakers with members of the Future Farmers club as guests at the party.

Chinese checkers and other games were played throughout the evening. The crowning event of the evening was the grand parade with prizes being awarded the tackiest couple.

Mr. Colley, commercial teacher, and Mr. Mauldin, principal, acting as judges awarded the prize of tackiest girl to Gwendolyn Brewer, tackiest boy, Junior Barbee; and tackiest couple, a family group consisting of J. C. Denton, Edward Hillis, and Billy Orcutt.

The serving of refreshments ended the evening with everyone agreeing it had been a good party and should occur more often.

PRIMARY NEWS

The Good Citizens Club of the first grade room gave a nice program on Politeness this week. The three best citizens for the week were: Don Wright Jr., Hendricks Williams, and Cecil Dorman Mitchell.

The baby bear has come to visit us. He is hungry because Goldilocks ate his porridge and we are feeding him on number flash cards.

For Highway Accident-Death Toll

Of the 353 persons killed in motor vehicle accidents in Texas during the first three months of this year, 95 were pedestrians, Harry S. Phillips, traffic and safety engineer of the State Highway Department, said today, pointing out that the pedestrian has an equal responsibility with the driver in avoiding accidents.

"Seventy-four of the total 95 pedestrians were more than 25 years of age, while only 13 were under 18, showing a contradiction to the general belief that children in walking and playing on the streets are responsible for a large number of accidents," Mr. Phillips said.

The traffic and safety engineer cautioned pedestrians to exercise as much care on the highways as on city streets since almost 50 per cent of the fatal accidents involving pedestrians occurred on the highways and county roads. The practice of walking on the left-hand side of the street or road, facing traffic, is a good one to follow, he pointed out, because the pedestrian can then see approaching cars in time to adjust himself to their actions and does not run the constant risk of being struck from behind.

Ninety-four per cent of those walking along traffic lanes who were killed were on the wrong side, that is, walking with traffic. 38 per cent were crossing not at intersections, with only 12 per cent crossing properly.

Inattention, confusion, and physical impairments on the part of the pedestrians were named as the primary causes of 64 per cent of the accidents, and 36 per cent were due to fault of the drivers.

"Both drivers and pedestrians should double their precaution at dusk and after dark since 48 per cent of the accidents in question occurred during the hours of 5 to 9 p. m.," Mr. Phillips stated.

Eighty-six of the pedestrians killed were male, and 79 per cent were students and 9 were classified as infants or under 5 years of age.

While there has been a 19 per cent reduction in the number of fatalities during the first three months of this year as compared to the same period last year, pedestrian fatalities have decreased only 8 per cent, Mr. Phillips pointed out. At night, pedestrians wearing dark clothes are hard to distinguish since the dark color merges with color of pavement.

and the hazard after dark is much greater. If you walk in traffic, don't expect the drivers of cars and trucks to do all the watching—look out for your own safety.

IT'S HERE! The NEW Firestone CHAMPION TIRE

with the NEW Safety-Lock Cord Body and NEW Gear-Grip Tread

Stronger Cord Body
More Non-Skid Mileage

Plus FAMOUS TRIPLE-SAFE CONSTRUCTION

FLOYD ROBERTS
1938 National Race Champion

Champion race drivers, whose very lives and chances of victory depend on tire safety, know the why they select and buy Firestone Tires for their racing cars.

FIRESTONE triumphs again! This time with the new Firestone Champion, the tire that sets the safety standards for 1939. This new tire provides a combination of safety features never before built into a tire. It is a completely new achievement in safety engineering.

From the experience gained on the speedways of the world and in the Firestone laboratories, Firestone engineers have developed a revolutionary new type of cord body called Safety-Lock, which provides amazingly greater strength. This outstanding achievement makes possible the use of a thicker, tougher, deeper tread which assures much greater non-skid mileage. Because of this new Safety-Lock Cord body and Gear-Grip tread, the modern streamlined Firestone Champion Tire establishes completely new standards of blowout protection, non-skid safety, silent operation and long mileage.

The Firestone Champion Tire embodies the famous Firestone Triple-Safe construction — you get the exclusive and patented Firestone construction features of Gum-Dipping, two extra layers of Safety-Lock cords under the tread and Gear-Grip tread design. Never in all the history of tire building has there been such a triple-safe combination to protect you against the dangers of blowouts, punctures and skidding.

Come in today and equip your car with a set of new Firestone Champion Tires — the only tires made which are safety proved on the speedway for your protection on the highway.

Listen To The Voice of Firestone with Richard Crooks. Listen To The Firestone Voice of the Farm—Everett Margaret Speaks and Alfred Wallenstein. Monday Mitchell interviews a Champion Farmer each week evenings over Nationwide N. B. C. Red Network. during noon hour. See local paper for station and time.

Survey of Texas Highways Shows Many Danger Points, Engineer Reveals

Alarmed by the great increase of highway accidents during the past few years, the State Highway Department, in co-operation with the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads, has completed recently a survey of hazardous conditions on all the highways of the state. This survey found a total of 42,863 danger spots on the 20,000 miles of state highways, an average of over two per mile. These facts were revealed today by Julian Montgomery, state highway engineer at Austin.

Danger points on the highways take the form of curves that are too sharp, grades that are too steep, and places where there is insufficient view of an interesting road or of the roadway ahead. The Highway Department's survey disclosed 9,255 excessive curves, 3,303 excessive grades, 2,357 intersections with inadequate view of the intersecting road, and 27,948 points with insufficient clear view of the roadway ahead.

Mr. Montgomery explained that these features were not regarded as hazardous at the time the roads were built. Driving at higher speeds has turned them into danger points. Highway building has failed to keep pace with the motor car industry, Montgomery admitted.

"While these danger points are being provided with warning signs, reflector buttons visible at night, scientifically designed center stripes, and other protective devices, it is obvious," stated Mr. Montgomery, "that greatly increased expenditure for highway construction is needed to eliminate permanently these hazards to the driving public."

Erosion Control in Panhandle Areas Reduce Floods, Increase Crop Yield

Delegates Attend District P-T.A. Meet at Borger

18 Hall County Men. Present for Opening of Annual Conference

Eighteen delegates from Hall County parent-teacher associations attended the 16th annual convention of the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers of District 8 at Borger last Wednesday and Thursday, April 19 and 20.

Four hundred fifty delegates from 21 Panhandle counties were registered for the conference. Mrs. C. T. Hunkapillar of Pampa, district president, was in charge.

At the award session, Memphis High school won the red ribbon for the second best report; West Ward received the blue ribbon for their summer round-up report; the Memphis City Council received honorable mention, and several other Hall County schools were given honors.

Memphis will be the host city for the 17th Annual Convention next year.

Mrs. D. L. C. Kinard of Memphis, district vice president in charge of Hall, Childress, Briscoe and Donley counties; Mrs. Dudward McCool, president of the Hall County P-T. A. council; Mrs. Bailey Gilmore, president of the city council; and Superintendent W. C. Davis of the Memphis schools were among the prominent local delegates.

Superintendent Davis was chairman of the Visual Education section, and appeared on the program Thursday morning in a panel discussion with Supt. C. M. Rodgers of Amarillo and Supt. J. N. Turney of Tulsa.

Hall County delegates attending the meeting last Wednesday were Mesdames Barney Lockhart, Ira McQueen, C. A. Williams, and L. I. Davis of Salisbury; Mesdames C. C. Crabb, Tom Pitts, and John Masters of Pleasant Valley; Mrs. W. B. Gilreath of Eli; Mrs. Whitley Wallace and Mrs. H. H. Colley of Lakeview; and Mrs. W. D. McCool of Memphis representing the county council, Supt. Davis, Mrs. D. L. C. Kinard, Mesdames Bailey Gilmore, Dean Morgensen, Emma Baskerville, and A. W. Howard, representing various P-T. A. Units in Memphis.

Run-off water not only is taking a heavy toll in soil losses, but also is robbing the Panhandle and Southern Great Plains of millions of dollars annually in lost crop production, according to H. H. Fennell, regional director of the Soil Conservation Service. Water can be controlled so soil erosion and flood dangers are reduced while crop yields are being increased, or it can be permitted to run off the land, muddying topsoil in the form of silt and leaving gullies and reduced soil fertility in its wake, Fennell says.

Texas Panhandle farmers are realizing the value of controlling water and each year more and more farms are being cultivated on the contour, strengthened by terraces where necessary. Many thousand additional acres are being planted on the contour for the first time this year, the Soil Conservation Service reports.

Experience of farmers using soil and water conservation practices shows that rows planted on the contour or around the slope instead of up and down the hill reduce the cutting force of water, prevent gullying, reduce the chances of seed being washed out of the ground, and give a more even distribution of moisture with the result that crop stands are more uniform and yields are greater.

Where fields are farmed continually up and down the slopes, crops often are washed out and most of the production comes from low spots where run-off water has accumulated. This rush of water down the slopes soon takes much of the rich topsoil from the hill-sides and reduces the productivity of the land. Furthermore, water allowed to rush off a field speeds on its way downstream, often adding to damage caused by floods.

Lakeview Church Observes Uniting of 3 Methodist Orders

Two unique services at the Methodist Church in Lakeview Sunday morning and Sunday night were held in observance of the uniting of the three branches of American Methodism into a single organization.

Sunday's services were the last to be held under the regime of the Methodist Episcopal Church South. A uniting conference meeting this week has made the three branches of the church, the Methodist Protestant, the M. E. Church (northern branch) and the Southern Methodists into one Methodist Church.

Morning services at Lakeview reviewed the history organization and re-union of the three divisions. At the evening hour, after a short introductory talk by the pastor, Rev. John W. Hawkins, each member of the church was called on to tell something of the time of his joining the church, the services rendered, and other items of interest.

Mrs. W. C. Wyatt had been a member of the church for 61 years, and second in period of longest service was M. O. Sammerville who had been in the church for 56 years. One Sunday school teacher had taught her class when 13 years old, and the pastor had been superintendent of his community Sunday school at the age of 16. Youngest members of the church in point of service were two children who had joined three weeks ago.

A small blaze early Saturday morning in servant's quarters at the Oren Jones home on North 14th street, was quickly extinguished by the local fire department and damages were slight. The blaze started when window curtains were accidentally ignited.
