

A HOME IN HALL COUNTY--THE RECOGNIZED GARDEN SPOT OF TEXAS

Price Paid For Cotton.

Monday of last week O. brought to Memphis cotton and put them on the market and told the buyers fifteen cents per bale. The samples on display very good and they were to him. These bales weighed 47 pounds all told. The highest price been paid for cotton. Burnett states that he did not sell this cotton until the 14th day of May and that there was a stalk showed up in the cotton from ten acres of land he had in cotton for him. The cotton was raised on improved cotton, Mr. Burnett has been studying and for the past three years which is now called Improved Panhandle cotton which is noted for its development, the qualities are so essential here in the state. Mr. Burnett is in order for a person to take the samples from his cotton and keep it there for several days before having it ginned. Burnett is a very practical man in all its branches, and his instructions would be very valuable if followed closely. Burnett also picked the bale which was at the fair in the same field, this also was a very handsome price.

Baskerville-Wheat.

Wednesday evening, Dec. 22, occurred the marriage of G. C. Baskerville and Miss W. L. Wheat. They were driven to the Methodist church where Rev. Bonner in his ceremony which made the ceremony a young cotton of this city and is well and known. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Wheat and has been in this city to young woman. This happy young woman has a host of friends who wish them well on their voyage of life. They went to the wedding at once on South street. The best wishes of the Democrat are extended to the young couple for a smooth voyage through life.

Stallings left Sunday on a business trip to Bowie, Texas, and Dallas to be gone several days.

Christmas Wedding.

A merry group of friends and relatives gathered at an early hour Christmas morning at the Pritchett Montgomery residence in Northwest Memphis. The occasion was the marriage of the oldest daughter, Miss Ann, to Enis Stallings a prominent young business man of this place.

The rooms were ornamented in a unique manner. The light was furnished by a number of fancy dutch lanterns suspended from the ceiling. To the music of a wedding march played by Miss Ellene Herod the couple came into the parlor and took their position before Rev. Frank who pronounced the ceremony that made them man and wife. Hearty congratulations were received. Among the many presents was a dainty wedding booklet from Rev. and Mrs. Frank in which was the marriage certificate and names of all the guests—a fine souvenir of the occasion.

After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served. The couple left on the 9 o'clock train for Bowie, Texas, where they will spend the holidays visiting among the groom's relatives.

Happy Married.

J. V. Patterson came in Thursday from Greenwood, Texas, where he had hied himself away for several days before bringing a bride back with him. He was married to Miss Carrie Louise Milligan of Greenwood. They were given a reception at the home of the groom's father, Judge J. W. Patterson of Decatur. They will be at home on Harrison street where Mr. Patterson had recently purchased a nice little home.

Mr. Patterson is a young attorney and is now city attorney of Memphis and has a bright and promising future before him. The bride is the accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Milligan of Greenwood. We extend to them a happy welcome to Memphis and our best wishes are extended for a long and happy life.

The musicale recital to have been given by Miss Eileen Herods class at the opera house last Thursday night did not take place on account of the very disagreeable weather. Miss Herod thinks she will get the opera house for one night the first week in the New Year at which time the program will be rendered.

W. M. Montgomery is hauling out lumber this week to his place near Lakeview where he will build him a nice home.

Amsbary Lecture Recital.

On Monday night, Memphis people were treated to a feast of good things by Wallace Bruce Amsbary, reciter. Mr. Amsbary showed himself a talented entertainer as he carried his audience from one spell of laughter to another or led them to depths of pathos. Among others he recited from Paul Lawrence Dunbar, Bill Nye, Kipling and Amsbary. His favorite author was James Whitcomb Riley. The evening's entertainment was concluded with a half hour lecture on Riley.

Many expressed themselves as having enjoyed Mr. Amsbary more than any number on the course. An exceedingly pleasing feature connected with the evening's entertainment were the numbers of special music rendered by the Presbyterian choir and Lady Washington Quartette Junior.

Rev. Frank as usual came out with a unique idea about advertising the course. On the stage behind the footlights were great white cards with letters on. In one position the letters spelled Glee-Club, when turned in another position they spelled January 17. Every five minutes before the program an usher stepped to the front and turned the cards.

The next number will be given by the famous Illinois Glee Club and Swiss Bell-Ringers. For accommodation Rev. Frank will receive orders for reserved seats at any time now. Order early so as to get a choice seat.

Indian Creek School Opens.

The Indian Creek School will open next Monday, January 3, with Prof. W. A. Thompson as principal and Miss Crews as assistant. The school will last for five months. Prof. Thompson will continue to do surveying on Saturdays and those desiring his service as surveyor can find him at leisure on that day.

Mrs. J. C. Thomas and little daughter came up from Childress Friday and spent Christmas with her mother, Mrs. Howell. Editor Thomas also came up Saturday morning and spent Christmas. He and Mrs. Thomas returning Sunday morning to Childress.

At the Marriage Altar.

At the home of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Arnold, last Thursday evening was solemnized the marriage of their daughter Miss Flora, to Mr. Carroll McDavitt.

Rev. H. M. Frank pastor of the Presbyterian church, pronounced the ceremony in a most beautiful and impressive manner. After the ceremony congratulations were extended. The groom was the popular cashier at the T. R. Garrott Co. until the day before the wedding, he having resigned his position. The bride is the accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Arnold of this city, and has been raised to beautiful womanhood here in Memphis.

The young couple left on Thursday night's train for Amarillo where they will visit relatives during the holidays and then return to Memphis for a few days visit. They are yet undecided as to where they will make their future home as the groom has good positions offered him both at Amarillo and Kansas City. The Democrat joins their many friends in wishing for them a long and happy married life.

Dr. Greenwood Resigns.

Dr. Greenwood has resigned his position as medical director of the Amarillo National Life Insurance Co., and is going to make some important additions to his office in the way of equipments and prepare to make Memphis his permanent home and do nothing but practice his profession. Drs. Greenwood & Dickey having dissolved partnership some time ago, Dr. Greenwood will still occupy the same suit of rooms in which he and Dr. Dickey officed, and Dr. Dickey will move to the suit of rooms formerly occupied by Dr. T. H. Ellis over Randal drug store. We are glad that Dr. Greenwood has decided to turn these foreign position loose and make Memphis his permanent home.

Stanley G. Berdine of Dallas was shopping in Memphis a day or two the past week. He is an old acquaintance of L. S. Stallings and wife.

Guy Hardwick is spending the holidays in Memphis with his parents.

Child Burned to Death.

A very deplorable accident happened last Thursday afternoon at the Lodge gin in which Raymond, the six-year-old boy of Ed Smith was so badly burned that the little fellow could not stand the pain and a few hours later succumbed. The little fellow struck a match near a can of gasoline near where his father was working, causing the explosion of the can of gasoline. The flames enveloped the child at once. The father was very badly burned about the hands in his frantic attempt to put out the flames. Bystanders pulled off their coats and smothered out the flames. The bereaved parents have the deepest sympathy of the Democrat in their sad hour of loss.

Fulton Hardwick Married.

The Democrat has just learned the news of Fulton Hardwick getting married on Sunday, December 19. We understand he was married at Wellington to a young lady by the name of Miss Alice Cole who has been teaching school at Rolla. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Hardwick of this city and is well and favorably known by a large circle of friends. The bride is of a highly respected family living in Oklahoma and is the popular school teacher at Rolla. The young couple departed last Thursday night for Hillsboro where they will spend the holidays visiting relatives, after which they will return to Memphis and the lady will finish her term of school at Rolla. The best wishes of the Democrat are extended to the happy couple for a long and happy married life.

Come and Gone.

Christmas has come and gone and we think it was the most quiet Christmas we have ever experienced. All day Christmas day seemed almost like Sunday here in Memphis. Everything was peaceable and quiet. John Barley Corn did not seem to be as much in evidence this Christmas as heretofore, yet there was a large quantity of whiskey shipped in here during the week; H. Brann & Co. at Fort Worth seemed to be in the majority for shipments of whiskey. Taken altogether we think Memphis spent one of the most pleasant and quiet Christmas' it has seen in some time.

There will be a call meeting of the M. W. of A. at the Odd Fellows hall next Friday night. All members are requested to be out as the officers for the ensuing year will be elected and other business matters attended to.

Knights Templar Day.

On Christmas morning at 9 o'clock, about 30 Knights Templar, of Memphis Commandery No. 50, with their wives and sweethearts, boarded a special train on the Fort Worth and Denver Ry. and left for Childress, Texas, where they were met by some 20 Knights Templar who reside there, together with a committee of Eastern Star ladies. The Knights were escorted to the Masonic Temple by the Knights, and the Ladies to the First M. E. Church South, by the Eastern Star Ladies. The Knights Templar marched to the church promptly at 11 o'clock, where an interesting and profitable religious service was held, and Rev. Sir Knight, S. H. Holmes making the principal address.

After the services at the church were concluded the Knights marched to the Masonic Temple and received their ladies, and at two o'clock repaired to the Denver Cafe where a bountiful banquet had been prepared by the Childress Knights. The inner man was bountifully satisfied and numerous toasts were responded to by the visiting and resident Sir Knights. After more than an hour spent at the tables, they all repaired to the Masonic Temple again where they were received by a large delegation of the members of the Eastern Star together with a number of Companions and Brothers of Childress.

A fine program was rendered under the direction of Sister Frankie Houssel, consisting of music, readings and speeches. At five o'clock the visiting Knights and ladies were again marched to the Denver Cafe where lunch was served by the ladies of the Eastern Star, until 6 o'clock p. m. when the visitors again boarded the train, full of good things to eat and pleasant memories and love for all Childress especially the Masons and members of the Eastern Star. We can not thank them enough for their generous and courteous reception and kind treatment, and we long for the time to come when we may meet them again. We feel that the day was well and profitably spent.

WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 29

OUR GREETING.

Our Readers may think us a little out of the ordinary with our Christmas greetings, yet they are none the less original on this account. You know Christmas lasts till New Year, so we come to you holding out our Christmas with one hand and reaching out to the New Year with the other.

This is the season of good cheer, the season of the holly and mistletoe, the time for bright and generous impulses, and glad some greetings, a time when noble resolves to be born, and old animosities to die, and when the benevolent side of our nature should eclipse the selfish side, a time when the thoughts should be turned toward home, a time when the usurping chains of business should be ignored. A time when the child with its golden curls, the man with his silvered locks, alike cry, "Glory to God in the Highest, peace on earth good will to men." These words have been chanted by all Christian nations since the infant Jesus slept in the rude manger in Bethlehem. The organs in the grand cathedrals have pealed forth these words and the hearts of the worshipers have been filled with adoration; those treading the flowerless paths of poverty echo the praises. The poor mother in the hovel as she bends over the smouldering embers upon the desolate hearth and weeps over the empty stockings of her neglected children, even she hears these strains in the distance and her plaintive voice, so full of want joins in the chorus, "Glory to God in the highest." Perhaps this mother is thinking deep in her girlhood when plenty crowned her board, and these memories may be feeding her hungry heart. Theologians may cavil over the date and origin of this day, but we will hold fast to our Christmas.

As we are about to let go this old year, we realize that to the most of us it has been a kind year to a few a dark side has been turned; to others, the sunnyside. We must not forget that upon the homes of some of our readers, since last Christmas tide, a shadow has fallen and the mantle of sorrow has wrapped the inmates in its smother folds. Other homes are like the empty nests that hang on the withered bow, desolate because the song went out with the birds. New homes have been made, new ties formed and old ones severed, but in our onward march it is well not to stop to measure the load each one carries. No life is either all sunshine or all storm. If the New Year brings prosperity, let us rejoice; if adversity, let us be brave. Let us be thankful that "our lines have fallen in pleasant places," that "it is as well with us as it is," and use our utmost endeavors to make this a happy year. Let us quickly over the sad page and look at the bright picture that awaits us; let us quickly penetrate any cloud that may float o're our pathway and view at length the beautiful silver lining beyond.

HAVE the courage to speak to a friend in a "seedy" coat, even though you are in company with a rich one, and richly attired yourself.

THE Cook-Perry question has again been resurrected, and it now looks like Perry is the real hero after all. Cook seems to have made a great financial success out of his lecture on his supposed trip to the pole which may act as a healing balm.

ANOTHER defender of the South's rights has passed away. Senator McLaurin of Mississippi suddenly expired at his home in Brandon, Miss., about six o'clock in the afternoon with an acute attack of indigestion. He was elected to the office of senator three times, and in 1895 was elected governor of Mississippi. Former governor James K. Vardeman has been mentioned as a successor to Senator McLaurin.

A VERY Decisive victory was won on the 22nd inst by the Insurgent army of Nicaragua under the leadership of Estrada, over the forces of Zelaya. One thousand men with their arms and accouterments. There was a total of 600 men killed and wounded on both sides. The battle is said to have been very fierce. The cruiser Des Moines landed surgeons who did all they could to care for the wounded of both armies. Zelaya's loss in killed, wounded and captured was 2,600.

SOME of our "Doubting Thomas" friends have already begun to ask questions about our oil well we spoke of several weeks ago, and wonder why the Memphis papers have not been saying anything about it in the last two or three issues. We will gaily answer their query by stating that we have had several delays with the machinery which has retarded the work very much, but the matters have all been adjusted and the drilling will now go steadily on. However, we are glad to say that there has been a very nice quantity of oil and gas produced, in fact, enough to insure the success of the project beyond a doubt. We feel assured of the fact that we can furnish oil and gas to our neighbor friends for power and fuel at a not far distant date at a great saving in the cost.

Young Boy's Effusive Greeting More the Result of Homesickness Than Anything Else.

A young Louisville man, who was out west not long ago has returned, telling a yarn which he admits is not at his own expense, but which he declares to be about one of the most interesting experiences of even his checkered career.

"I was walking along the street in a western town," he said, "when suddenly across the way I saw a Louisville girl whom I recognized immediately. She saw me, too, and I expected her to bow rather coolly and distantly, as had been her wont back home. I was considerably astonished, therefore, when she dashed across the street, seized me with both hands and fairly bubbled over in her delight. I was so surprised, in fact, that I commented on it.

"I'm glad to see you, too," I said, when I had managed to extricate myself from her exuberant greeting, "but, to tell you the truth, I hadn't expected to see you so excited over my appearance. You always treated me rather a la iceberg at home, you know; what has caused your change of heart?"

"She was nonplussed for only a moment and then explained: 'Mr. Smith, I've been away from home so long that I'd be glad to see even a dog if he came from Kentucky!'"

"I let it go at that."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

NO QUEEN OF THE MAY.

In the little French town Magny-en-Vexin, which is picturesquely situated on the banks of the Aubette, there is a feeling of unusual unrest because of a peculiar strike. For many years it has been one of the customs in connection with the celebration of the Feast of Roses to crown one of the girls as queen—Rosiere—and the one on whom the choice fell always received at the hands of the mayor a gift of 300 francs and the homage of the participants in the feast. For the first time there has been no aspirant for the distinction this year. Up to the last moment it was hoped that a candidate would step forth, but no one came, and the crowning feature had to be abandoned. One of the conditions under which the gift was made was that the queen must marry within the year, and the inference is that the strike was caused by the inactivity of Cupid, that none of the maidens of the place saw any matrimonial prospects ahead and therefore could not accept the crown.

SAINT GAUDENS' PHILOSOPHY.

"The prevailing thought in my life is that we are on a planet going, no one knows where—probably to something higher (Darwin evolution)." writes Augustus Saint-Gaudens. "But whatever it is, the passage is terribly sad and tragic, and to bear up against what seems at times the great doom that is over us, love and courage are the great things. I try to express it without entering into any philosophy or definition of art. I care nothing for the thousand philosophies about art, the intricacies of which seem too complex for me to delve into. The thing to do is to try and do good, and any serious and earnest effort seems to me to be, to our limited vision, a drop in the ocean of evolution to something better."—Century.

MAY MAKE A DIFFERENCE.

There has been much talk throughout the country in regard to the employment of children in the anthracite region and the amount of illiteracy among them. Now Mrs. Annie E. Leisenring of Allentown, Pa., state deputy factory inspector, will try to find out how much truth there is in the reported large child labor employment. All children who seem to be too young will have to show birth certificates.

SOME EVIDENCE.

"Jinx says they have got a mighty poor police force in his town."

"He has a right to think so."

"He has had evidence of their inability, has he?"

"Well, he's never been in jail."

KNOWING FISH.

"Don't you know it is wrong to fish on Sunday?"

"Sure and I believe the fish know it, too. I've been sitting here all the morning and haven't had a bite."

Beautiful Home-Wedding.

The Democrat takes pleasure in recording the nuptials of Miss Pearle Noel and Mr. Conley Ward. The love-affair was of long standing but the decision to marry was as usual sudden. In twenty-four hours time the arrangements were completed, not one of which but what involved numerous details.

Promptly at 8 o'clock Tuesday night Dec. 28 the bride and groom made their appearance before the open door here stood Rev. Frank ready to receive them. A number of guests consisting chiefly of relatives filled the parlor. Overhead the wedding party, hung a large beautiful bell artistically made in white, circled around with a profusion of white ribbon, the clapper consisting of a bunch of red roses. The wedding march played by Mrs. Baskerville continued softly throughout the entire ceremony.

The ceremony was made all the more impressive by the kneeling of the bride and groom during the more important parts. The wedding ring but added beauty and sanctity to the service.

Some very fine and costly presents were received.

In the wedding booklet souvenir some forty persons signed their names. A delightful luncheon was served immediately following the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Ward left Memphis on Wednesday morning for DeKalb, Texas, where they will for the present reside.

The public school, the Presbyterian church, the town and especially the Noel home will miss her who goes to make another happy.

MEMPHIS DEMOCRAT.

Judge T. R. Philipps performed the ceremony last Sunday at four o'clock at his residence here in Memphis that made C. B. Stephens and Miss Mamie Gates husband and wife. The young man is a highly respected young man in the Eli community and the young lady is of one of the best families of the county west of Memphis. The Democrat extends best congratulations to the happy couple for a long and happy married life.

Will you please call at the Famous and pay Herod that account. Come about next Saturday, this will be about the 1st of the new year and Herod needs all his money then to help shove the business along.

Judge Phillipps purchased twelve office chairs for the court house Monday. They will be used in the county and district court room.

Prompt settlements expected and very much desired at the Famous about the 1st.

Northwestern to Enter Wellington.

H. C. Wells and Captain M. W. Daveport passed through Memphis Sunday on their way to Wichita Falls where they were going to meet the officials of the Wichita Falls and Northwestern railroad in regard to the contract for that road going to Wellington. They returned from there Monday night and state that they received what they went after. The substance of the contract will be found in another column of this paper, clipped from the Wellington Times. Kemp and Kell of the Wichita Falls road was in Memphis Tuesday night on their way home from Wellington where they had been to sign up the contract for their road to enter Wellington. It is now an assured fact that Wellington will have a railroad, and not later than June 1. At which time this road proposes to be running trains into Wellington.

And the Wellington people do not have to put up a cent of the bonus until the road is completed and trains running into Wellington. This practically sounds the death knell for the Kennedy proposition in this section and what we want to do is to go after the Rock Island now. Kennedy may come over and "spue" and "sputter" around awhile, but we now think he is a "four flusher" however, we will wait and see.

The elocution and musical recital at the opera house Saturday night by pupils of Mrs. McNeely's class was largely attended and the whole program was heartily enjoyed by all. It was a splendid success.

The candy stand on west side of square was broken into Sunday night and a good many cigars and about twenty pounds of grapes were taken. The night watchman will have to keep his eyes open.

Mr. Berdine, the singer who was with Abe Mulkey during his last meeting here in Memphis was in the city several days the past week visiting friends.

Miss Myrtle Downing of Irene, Texas, is in the city visiting her aunt, Mrs. B. W. Moreman.

San Antonio, Tex., Dec. 22.—While delivering a Christmas package at 2 o'clock this morning Ev Shannon, a brakeman on the Sunset, was shot and fatally wounded.

The bullet struck Shannon in the rear portion of the fleshy part of the right hip, inflicting a bad wound. He was moved to a local hospital for treatment to locate the bullet but far failed.

BEDFORD, Iowa, Dec. 22.—Martin Van Dersly, a farmer near here, fell 65 feet Sunday afternoon, landing squarely on the back of a thoroughbred valued at $875, and escaped injury. The cow is dead.

Van Dersly says his death did not last longer than seconds, but in that time his tire life passed before him a moving picture. While the cause of the cow's death is confident she saved his life.

On last Wednesday evening just as the schools were closed for the Christmas holidays Taggart was agreeably surprised when Prof. Kiel on behalf of teachers of the Memphis school presented him with a very some traveling set as a token of their appreciation and friendship. THE CURTAIN FALLS.

Over the sorrow and over the bliss,
Over the teardrop, over the kiss,
Over the chimes that blotted and blurred,
Over the wound of the angry word,
Over the deeds in weakness done,
Over the battle lost and won,
Now at the end of the flying year,
Over our freedom, over thralls,
In the dark and the midnight the curtain falls.

Over our gain and over our loss,
Over our crown and over our cross,
Over the fret of our discontent,
Over the ills that we never meant,
Over the scars of our self-denial,
Over the strength that conquered trial,

Now in the end of the flying year,
Year that tomorrow will not be here,
Quietly final, the prompter calls;
Over it swiftly the curtain falls.
Over the crowds and the solitudes,
Over our shifting, hurrying moods,
Over the hearths where bright flames leap,
Over the cribs where the babies sleep,
Over the clamor, over the strife,
Over the pagantry of life,
Now in the end of the flying year,
Swiftly and surely, from starry walls,
Silently downwards the curtain falls.

A HAPPY NEW YEAR.

Delight and pathos are inextricable mingled with the thought of New Year's day. It is only a conventional point of time; any other would do as well. Every day closes an old year and begins a new one, but for all that we cannot help feeling that this day, which is agreed upon throughout Christendom for the beginning of a new year, is somehow unique. The pathos comes from the review of the past, and from the sense that another notch has been cut for us on the stick of time. The delight arises from the anticipation of the new and better experiences of the year to come. What interest any rational person could have in having his fortune told is a mystery. The zest and charm of life consist largely in the fact that each day is like a new page in the story. If you wish to enjoy your book you do not, when it is half-read, turn to the closing chapter to discover how it turns out. You do not thank anyone for telling you the plot. It is so with life. There is infinite satisfaction in each day's contribution to the record. You do not want to anticipate it. It would be a curse if any one could tell you just what the year would bring. It is just as reasonable to suppose the year will be happy as sad. Who can tell? Who can control that? Are we not in the hands of God? That is the reason for a happy New Year's day.

GLANCE BACKWARD.

Turn the corner into the year, look back a minute and you find a road you have been on the past year. It is a long way when you look out but it traversed at the line of the year.

promised yourself in your better moments, "I will turn over a new leaf." Have you been true to your self? If not, once more before you step out into the pure New Year, renew your promises to your better natures. Don't stray, but linger near the pleasant outlooks, keep near the bits of high ground where you breathe purer air and can see afar off Heaven's high hills of blue, make the motive pure work for the object. Be diligent in seeking better ways and in twelve more short months, take another retrospective glance and see how much pleased you will be with yourself, how much more goodness and genuine worth this world will seem to possess.

WHAT TO FORGET.

If you would increase your happiness and prolong your life, forget your neighbor's faults. Forget all the slander you have ever heard. Forget the temptations. Forget the fault finding, and give a little thought to the cause which provoked it. Forget the peculiarities of your friends, and only remember the good points which make you fond of them. Forget all personal quarrels or histories you may have heard by accident, and which, if repeated, would seem a thousand times worse than they are. Blot out as far as possible all the disagreeables of life; they will come, but will only grow larger when you remember them and the constant thought of the acts of meanness, or, worse still, malice, will only tend to make you more familiar with them. Obliterate everything disagreeable from yesterday, start out with a clean sheet today, and write upon it for sweet memory's sake only those things which are lovely and lovable.

How time flies! Here we are again with our cheery greeting! Happy New Year, boys and girls of the Home Circle. We must teach it to abominate every sort of cruelty, and to love its fellow-men. We must make it grow in grace wisdom and good works. We must stand by it if it falls in to trouble, and we must keep pace with it when it grows well. No lagging behind these times, dear young people. Be brave, true, progressive, and thus may the New Year to you be fruitful and happy all the year.

The best of all gifts at the present time is yourself. Make yourself in some way more pleasant and helpful to others. You may have been neglected of them; be mindful henceforth. You may be quick in temper and have spoken hastily; put on restraint and speak kindly now. Restrain all evil habits and make yourself a joy and a help to others. They will bless you.

Our resolutions for the new year should be definite and specific. Do not say simply that you will be more liberal, but say just how liberal you will be. Do not say that you will be more faithful, but say just what duties, neglected in the past you will endeavor to perform in the future. promise that you will be more of your time to the service of the Master, but do side upon the proportion of your time which you will give. A promise may be almost or altogether worthless because of indefiniteness. Let us deal honestly and reverently with Him whom we serve. Vow and pay.

It is pleasant in these times to hear of occurrences that show the better side of human nature. It is not worth while to hate anyone. Life is too short to cherish ill-will or hard thoughts. What if that man has cheated you? or that woman played you false? or some friend forsaken you? Let it all pass. What difference will it make to you in a few years, when you go hence to that undiscovered country. All who treat you wrong will be more sorry for it than you in your deepest grief. A few more smiles, a few more tears, some pleasure, much pain, a little longer hurrying and worrying in the world, some hasty greetings and abrupt farewells and life will be over, and injurer and injured will be laid away and forgotten. It is not worth while to hate each other. This is our advice, and like salvation it's free. Try it during 1910.

It is because nearly all of us live in hope, because we are mentally sustained by expectations, that New Year's is always welcome. It is the one day of the twelve-month—Christmas is chiefly for children—that appeals most to men and women. Much of its attractiveness depends, for the multitude, on its nominal newness. We are all familiar and weary with the old. We are ever sighing for the new which seems as if it would bring a change of mind and condition. New Year's is not a whit newer for its name, as every one who thinks for a moment is aware, but names are potent, more potent often than things.

Please Pay Up.

All parties knowing themselves to be indebted to us on last year's ginning, by note or account will please arrange and settle at once, as we are needing our money very badly. And if not settled at once will be turned over to an attorney for collection. We have served you the best we could and have been as lenient as we possibly could, but we have obligations that must be met and are not in position to carry you any longer.

Very truly,
LEWIS & WATKINS.

Edison's Predictions. A. Edison predicts that in the next twenty years the art of moulding concrete will reach a marvelous degree of perfection in architecture. This will not be achieved by the expenditure of money; it will be accomplished by labor-saving appliances which will so reduce the cost of production that in twenty years hence the rich can aspire to the same things that the poor can now enjoy.

WIFE

More Him a Babe, Following Caesarian Operation, and Then Succumbed. In Springs, Ark. Dec. 22.—Harry Koch, editor of the Quanah Tribune-Chief, gives out the following letter from W. A. Johnson of Memphis, president of the Texas Press Association, in which Mr. Johnson announces he will be a candidate for State Senator from the Twenty-Ninth District. Mr. Johnson says: Memphis, Tex., Dec. 18.—Harry Koch, Quanah, Tex.: Dear Sir—So numerous and cordial have been the responses to your suggestion of my name as suitable material for Democratic candidate for State Senator to succeed Hon. John W. Veale, and so great the need of newspapers of the Panhandle to have a proper representation in the lawmaking body of the State, that I have decided to at the proper time make a formal announcement for this high and responsible position.

In this connection it will not be out of place to state that I have resided in the district for more than eighteen years. During that time as the publisher of a newspaper I have been continually in touch with the needs and desires of the Panhandle, often more especially the needs, for we who were pioneers had them. Five different subjects might be named as being among the things which shall receive my cordial and undivided support. These are: First and foremost, the return to the press of Texas the right of contract that is vouchsafed to them by both State and Federal Constitutions. Under this head I might also mention the necessary laws that the proceedings of the County Commissioners' Courts shall be published in succinct form in order that the voters and taxpayers may know in what way the business is being carried on. Second, I am in favor of State prohibition, and if elected shall do all in my power to have a constitutional amendment submitted providing for State prohibition. Third, I am in favor of a liberal policy to our higher educational institutions, and if elected shall endeavor to secure the submission of a constitutional amendment divorcing the A. & M. College from the University of Texas and levying a suitable permanent tax for the proper maintenance of the college, that splendid and popular school; also providing the terms of the controlling boards of the higher schools shall be eight years. Fourth, I shall favor an immediate remodeling of our penitentiary laws and a discontinuance of the convict lease system. Fifth, I shall favor the perfection of the State bank guarantee law to its fullest capacity or usefulness, that the savings of the people may be made as absolutely secure as human agency can provide. Other matters of State legislation will receive my close attention as they shall arise, and I shall be ever ready to heed the petitions of the Democrats of the district on such matters as they deem of sufficient importance to require my attention, if elected. I have lived in Texas since 1882, nearly twenty-eight years, and have spent nearly that entire time as the publisher of a country newspaper. I am 47 years of age and have been a platform Democrat all my life, as my father was before me. I have served three terms as president of the Northwest Texas Press Association. I am at present a member of the board of regents of the University of Texas. Being a poor man, I am not able to make a canvass of the district, but shall let my views be known from time to time through the public print. My whole

Hid Marriage Two Years; Now Admits It.

New Haven, Conn., Dec. 23.—It was learned here today through an announcement the young persons sent out that for more than two years Natalie Barbara Zacher, the oldest daughter of Judge Edmund Zacher of Branford, has been married to Norman D. Brainard of the class of 1906, Sheffield Scientific School.

Miss Zacher was a Vassar College student at the time of her marriage and Brainard, just graduated, was an engineer in Branford, where Judge Zacher is the leading citizen.

The ceremony was performed in the Church of the Transfiguration, New York city, Aug. 24, 1907, and not even immediate relatives knew of the marriage until Mr. and Mrs. Brainard announced it.

Miss Zacher, graduated from Vassar, entered the Yale Art School, where she soon became the most promising pupil. Her husband worked near where she lived in Branford. He rose rapidly in his profession and when he accepted a first class position in Cincinnati he and his wife decided to announce the marriage.

Presbyterian Music.

The Presbyterian choir once more acquitted itself with great honor. The service of Christmas song on Sunday morning last went far beyond the fondest hopes of those who knew the record of the choir best.

The platform was specially arranged for the occasion. Christmas decorations were in evidence. Fourteen trained voices constituted the Christmas choir. They rendered a program of an hour and fifteen minutes in length, every number of which pleased and inspired.

The choir was assisted by the Presbyterian Ladies Quartette, by Mr. Hamilton who executed a life I have been under obligations to the press of the country, and I shall endeavor to in some measure repay them my obligation in this way. Yours very truly, W. A. JOHNSON.

This is a sort of topsy-turvy world. No one seems to be satisfied. One man is struggling to get justice, and another is flying from it. One man is saving up to buy a house and another trying hard to sell his dwelling for less than it cost to get rid of it. One man is spending all the money he can earn in taking a girl to a theater or show and sending her valuable presents in hopes that he may eventually make her his wife, and his neighbor spending all the gold he has saved trying to get a divorce. One man keeps a pistol to protect himself, while his neighbor doesn't keep one for fear of shooting himself or some of the family. One man pays for his paper in advance because he can read it with greater relish, while another takes it for an indefinite period without paying one cent for it and enjoys it hugely all the while. Surely a queer old world this is.

H. C. Stephens came in Saturday morning from Mercedes, Texas, and will spend several days in Memphis with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Stephens. It has been some three or four years since Hal was in Memphis and he notes many changes in the old town since he left.

Walter Howell came up from Childress and spent the holidays with his mother, Mrs. Howell.

Poor Name, But Good Joke.

The hero of this sketch was about starting a paper in a long-felt-want neighborhood. He was a real hero, too, for only those of heroic mold ever undertake a thing like that. He had everything in pretty fair shape, except the name, and that he took home with him to his wife. They had had experience in naming several lappfuls of babies, and he thought she might render valuable assistance on this occasion. After supper was over and the things cleared away, they got at it, and in a very few minutes she came up with what she thought was just the thing in newspaper nomenclature. "I've got it," she exclaimed, enthusiastically. "What is it?" he inquired. "The Item," she told him, with conscious pride in her effort. "That's the very thing." "Pshaw," said he, "that isn't any kind of a name." "What's the matter with it?" she pouted. "Well, to begin with, it is not general enough. It is too narrow, in other words." Shy resented the criticism. "Oh, she sniffed at him, "you are so stuck on editorial traditions that 'The Item' strikes you as narrow, does it? What you want to call it is 'The We-tem,' I suppose?" But he didn't, and not only complimented her upon her brilliance in repartee, but offered to give her a quarter for it as a joke for his funny column.—Exchange.

Then, of course it means a new roof, or patch up the old one. In either case it will take shingles. If it's your roof, then of course you want the best shingles. There is no question about Washington Red Cedar Shingles being the best shingles; and we don't think there's any question about this being the best place to buy them. (But that's a job for you to prove to your own satisfaction. If you come in, we will take pleasure in showing you our stock and quoting you lowest prices.

WOLVES DRIVES OUT INDIANA FAMILIES

After Several Battles Farmers Leave Their Homes Near Elkinsville, Ind.

Elkinsville, Ind., Dec. 23.—As the result of several fights with wolves, in which many families living two miles south of this place have been engaged for several days, four of the households were moved this morning to the vicinity of Hibbardsville, twenty miles west of here. The latest battle with the creatures was that of last Friday, when Simon Helms and his son Edgar were bitten by the animals.

The same afternoon the neighboring farmers heard of the fight at the Helms farm and went to get their children at the school house, bringing them home under guard of rifles. Early this morning Simon and Christian Helms, Charles Wilson and Adam Stevers all drove to Elkinsville and told their acquaintances here that they were fleeing from the wolves and going to the neighborhood of Hibbardsville to live. Some people here tried to get them to remain, but they refused, saying they wanted to have their children out of danger.

Old Time Spelling Methods are Best, Teachers Declare!

"Not until we revert to the methods of the old blue-back spelling book of our daddies will we become good spellers." This was the sentiment expressed in the Tarrant County Teachers' institute by a number of speakers Thursday morning, and the statement was accepted without contradiction.

Prof. B. Carroll, principal of the Keller school, led the discussion of the question, "Are We Turning Out Good Spellers?" He answered the question with an emphatic "no," and proceeded to tell why. Prof. Carroll emphasized the importance of pronouncing each syllable of the word as it is spelled, as "S-t-a-s-t-a, s-i-l-l, s-t-a-b-i-l-i, s-t-a-b-i-l-i, t-y, t-y, s-t-a-b-i-l-i-t-y, s-t-a-b-i-l-i-t-y."

Prof. J. F. Sigler of Polytechnic college followed Mr.

Carroll, endorsed his remarks and elaborated upon them. "It is certainly a fact," he declared, "that our schools are not turning out as good spellers as in the old days. It is not uncommon today to find high school and college graduates who can't spell half the words in ordinary use. They don't even profess to spell correctly, and the same complaint comes from the offices of business men who employ stenographers and bookkeepers. If it is a fact that the old methods produced better spellers, and I believe it, then we must revert to the old methods."

Superintendent Hammond repeated that in the Fort Worth City schools the old method of pronouncing each syllable as it is spelled had been in use for the past few years and was giving satisfactory results.—Telegram.

At the Presbyterian church Christmas began on Friday night. The church was nicely decorated, a fine tree suspended from the ceiling filled one corner of the room. A short though interesting program was rendered by the children after which the treats were distributed to the classes in an orderly and systematic way. Much time was consumed in dismantling the tree of the many presents hung thereon. Mr. Nelson acted as Santa Claus. Everybody present received something in addition to the hearty welcome and good cheer.

S. T. Bell came in last Wednesday night from Colorado Springs on a business and pleasure trip. He will be down about ten days. He states that they have had some very cold weather in Colorado, the thermometer several times registering as low as twenty degrees below, and that the snow had been falling at regular intervals for several weeks. Mr. Bell is looking well and says Mrs. Bell is in good health.

Geo. Crowell, the man from whom the city of Crowell received its name died Monday morning at six o'clock at his residence in that city. Mr. Crowell is widely known throughout West Texas and has many friends in this section.

RAILROAD

Over before in Wellington has been so bright for the first time as a real promoter of the railroad. Kennedy promoters, and such prominent men to the Wellington Railroad Company come to the proposition to build a railroad through the town. They are ready to receive the money. The money already up is 15,000 dollars. We can pay the 15,000 dollars we can pay next fall, or we can divide it into partial payments and pay 5,000 dollars at a time convenient to our people. We must report our acceptance by next Monday. If we can accept the proposition, work will begin Jan. 1, and within ninety days trains will run into Wellington.

This money must be raised and this railroad problem settled. There can be no real future for our town without a railroad; there can be no real values on property until a railroad comes. All values at present are only fictitious and may be changed by circumstances. Now is the time for every man to rally to Wellington's support. A great mass meeting is called for Thursday and every man in the County should be there. Many of our substantial citizens have not given a dollar. They should help their fellow men in this struggle to build up our county and town. This $15,000.00 must be raised and every man should do his part. See that your name is written there and the amount is raised.—Wellington Times.

Rev. W. L. Head returned to Memphis last Friday and on Sunday preached two able sermons to the Baptist church at this place. He has resigned his pastorate at this place and announces that he will go into the evangelistic work out in the Pecos country and that he would probably be located at Pecos City as it is more centrally located to his work. We regret very much to lose Rev. Head and the best wishes of the entire community go with them to their new home. Rev. Head is an earnest and conscientious church worker and has done a great work in the advancement of the church during his pastorate here in Memphis.

W. B. Nichols came in from Dallas Friday morning where he has been attending business college for the past several months. He has accepted a position with the Cameron Lumber Co., at this place and will not return to school. Walter is a fine young man and we are glad he will be with us in the future.

Rev. R. B. Morgan of Fort Worth, will preach at the Baptist church tonight (Wednesday), and a large attendance of the members of the Baptist church especially are requested to be present. Everybody invited.

BURIED IN WET CL

Shot While Sitting on Bench Without Coffin.

An eye witness to the execution of the two Americans and Cannon in Nicaragua describes the scene of the execution and states he was afraid to make any statement heretofore. "Grove and Cannon were executed by firing squad. Cannon was condemned to death at 10 o'clock on the night of the 16th at El Castillo, a small town on the San Juan River, from Greytown. The execution was composed of officers, including Cannon and Ruiz.

The president of the United States appointed a civilian to train to defend the town and gave him three months to prepare the town. Solomon Selva, Zelandentative, conducted the training.

The prisoners were taken to their cell after the execution and shown the bodies of the executed. The execution took place at the Castillo Cemetery. "It is said Cannon was the commander, for the brother Mason. Grove was no use, because he was ordered the execution. "Capt. Annibal was ordered to conduct the execution but refused, and was threatened with a hundred fifty dollars if he did not do it. He refused to do it. When the prisoners were taken to their cell, the warden refused to let them in. The warden refused to let them in. The warden refused to let them in.
