Aged Couple Wed -Lonely, and She Is Pancake Maker

It's not news just because someone drives all the way to Hollis, Okla., to get married that is a common thing. But when the two people are each 71 years old—that is news.

But it happened one day last week when Mrs. Hester N. Cole-man, 71, of Parnell, and R. L. Moss, also 71, of Ashtola made it to Oklahoma, bought a marriage license, and asked for a 'marrying parson."

Rev. J. H. McCuistion performed the services.

They were being married because, "well, just because," according to the bride. The groom had a different answer, "Because we were both lonely, and she is the best pancake maker there is."

To Keep Warm-Just Make Fire In Office Building

How to keep warm on a cold fall night was discovered by a man, or group of men, last Thursday night.

The man, or men, entered the rear of the First National Bank building through the door which remains unlocked all night. Up they went to the second floor, picked a lock on a door to an empty office space, and made the two office rooms their bed-

The men built a fire in one of the rooms, covering the windows with heavy cardboard to prevent being seen. They also brought along food—Candy and crackers, and ate the largest part of their snack.

Friday morning, A. A. Dun-lap, who is janitor of the bank building, discovered the door had been opened, and found ashes over the two floors. Luckily, the floors were made

Suffering Women Welcome "Build-Up"

A simple method is saving many women much pain and discomfort! It is based on the knowledge that women's headaches, nervousness, and cramp-like pain often are symptoms of functional dysmenorrhea due to a weak, run-down, undernourished condition. That so many women find relief from these painful symptoms through the CARDUI "build-up" is easy to explain. By improving the appetite, assisting digestion and assimilation, CARDUI helps to build physical resistance against periodic pain. Thousands of women also report that CARDUI, taken just before and during "the time," helps to ease periodic pain.

CEVENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO a document, known as the "Treaty of Geneva," was signed . . . and out of that document has grown a powerful and helpful organization, the American Red Cross.

Henri Dunant, a young Swiss idealist, called together in 1864 representatives of European powers to sign an agreement for the neutralization of the sick and wounded in war. The idea was at that time intended for the protection of those who went out on the battlefields to care for the sick and wounded. A symbol was needed to distinguish these workers, and as a result the symbol of a Red Cross on a white background was

HAVE WE HAD ENOUGH?

ARMISTICE, AS DEFINED by a modern standard dictionary, is "a temporary suspension of hostilities by agreement of the parties."

Next Saturday, November 11, people throughout the world will halt their activities to observe the anniversary of the greatest Armistice Day ever known ... that of November 11, 1918.

This great Armistice Day was only 21 years ago ... and the suspension of hostilities has ended in Europe. Another great war is on . . . a war which may prove to be even greater than that for which the world will be observing the Armistice anniversary.

But surely the United States has learned its les-

So far during this new World War, the citizens of the United States have been subjected to no "blackouts," as are common in Europe. Our nation is still able to be well-lighted without danger of an attack by a foreign power.

The men from Versailles 21 years ago thought they were relighting the nations of Europe . . . relighting those nations with both physical and spiritual light. But time has proved differently.

Americans need to think more than once before entering into another conflict like that from 1914 to 1918. The trouble seems to lie in the fact that what affects one part of the world affects all parts . . . we, stration in Amarillo last week. and no other country, are no longer able to draw up in our shell and live all alone.

But thinking twice before entering another war brings up many memories.

We did lose thousands of young men on the battlefields of Europe in that brief time when the U.S. was in the World War . . . young men who today would have been the backbone of the financial structure, of the physical structure, of the spiritual structure of the United States.
