METHODISTS TO OPEN REVIVAL TODAY

Morning Service To Start All-Week Meeting

Beginning this morning with the subject "God's Plan for a Revival," Rev. T. J. Rea opens the series of revival services at the First Methodist Church, which will continue throughout the coming week both morning and evening, with the possibility of the services being extended into the next week. Rev. Rea will build his evening messages around the topic, "Great Characters of the Old Testament," and it is expected that it will be inspiring and helpful.

Meeting at Church Of Christ in Full Swing This Week

The meeting that started Thursday night at the Church of Christ will continue in full swing this week, it was announced yesterday.

MEMPHIANS ON VACATIONS

Where Local People Go; What They Do

BILL BOWERMAN: My recent trip east was more or less for business reasons, but I consider it a vacation. It isn't every day of the year a fellow can fly to the eastern coast to buy an airplane, so for this reason I really feel like I have had a vacation, and to go still farther, I am still having one.

I motored to Amarillo and took the Transcontinental Western Airways plane to Pittsburgh. From there I boarded the train to complete my journey to Bradford, Penn., where the Taylor Aircraft factory is located.

I had completed the deal with these people before leaving Memphis, so when I arrived the plane was waiting for me. However, I did take some time to go through the factory on an inspection tour. I was told by my guide that the company turned out eight planes a week and still they were behind with their orders.

The day I began my homeward flight I flew from Bradford to Columbus, Ohio. This hop took me five hours to complete and I experienced no difficulties, whatsoever. I did run low on gas, thought, and found it necessary to set down on a highway to refuel. This country was very much deserted and off of the regular air routes, consequently there were no air ports for me to stop at. When I landed in the road and taxied up to the pump I have never seen such a surprised gas attendant in my life. He filled the tank for me and as I was leaving he told me that he had filled practically every make of car and truck, but this was the first time he had had the opportunity to wait on an airplane.

County Budget To Be Approved, Tax Rate Set Monday

'Snatcher' Takes Packages, Lands In County Jail

A modern "snatcher" who went about taking packages from automobiles after they had been placed there by shoppers landed in the county jail here last night.

RANGER SHOTS MAN

ROCK SPRINGS, Aug. 17.—John D. Smith, Junction, was shot to death in front of a local cafe last night. Roscoe Morris, special ranger employed by ranchers interests in Real County, surrendered to Sheriff Young.

Hall County's 1935-36 budget will be adopted tomorrow and the county tax rate set at the regular monthly meeting of the Hall County Commissioners Court, postponed from last Monday due to the absence of County Judge Jim Vallance.

Notice was served last week on tax payers to appear before the court if they desired to object to the adoption of the budget. There has never been an objection recorded, County Clerk Floyd Springer said.

The court will be in session all day. The morning will be devoted to routine business, Judge Vallance stated, and the budget and tax rate will not be discussed until the afternoon session.

Judge Vallance returned Friday afternoon from a vacation trip to northern New Mexico and Lake City, Colo., and resumed his duties yesterday morning.

45 Boys Will Be Enrolled in CCC Camps This Week

Authorization for 45 boys to report to the local relief offices Wednesday morning, Aug. 21, to be registered for CCC Camp enrollment was received yesterday morning.

This enlistment of 45 boys will be Hall County's quota to be filled, said A. C. Hoffman, recent administrator of relief in this county, who has volunteered his services to assist the Welfare Department in registering the boys.

France Presnets Plan for Peace

PARIS, Aug. 17.—Premier Pierre Laval tonight submitted to Italy a rough outline of proposed solution of the Italo-Ethiopian trouble.

The plan provides: 1. French and British renunciation of further Ethiopian economic privileges in favor of Italy. 2. That Italy be aided in floating loans for colonial development in Ethiopia. 3. That Italy be given political rights in the appointment of technical advisors to Ethiopia and department heads of customs.

Democrats Start Adjournment Plan

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—The Democratic high command concentrated its efforts today on a drive to adjourn congress next week. Immediately, predictions were heard that several major bills, including the utilities measure for which the administration fought strenuously, may be scrapped for this session.

Plans for a last minute rush of business will be discussed at a White House conference between the President and congressional leaders tonight.

END FIRST WEEK OF EROSION MEETINGS

With Large Session Here; Meetings To Continue

The first week of educational meetings on soil erosion work to be done by the Government CCC camp here was closed with a mammoth meeting of farmers in the Memphis district yesterday afternoon.

The sessions will be continued throughout the first half of this week with the following schedule: Estelline 2 p. m., Tuesday; Baylor, 4:30 p. m., Tuesday; Parnell, 2 p. m., Wednesday, and Weatherly, 4 p. m., Wednesday.

Meetings were held during the past week at Brice, Leslie, Lakeview, Plaska, Eli, Newlin, Turkey and Memphis.

Approximately 75 farmers gathered here yesterday for the meeting, conducted by Soil Conservation Superintendent George E. Hull; R. C. Nelson, engineer; E. B. Ebersole, agronomist, and County Agent James A. Jackson.

Details of the work to be done by the camp were discussed and the part to be played by the farmers was outlined. Mr. Hull urged the cooperation of all farmers of each community so that the work may become successful from an engineering standpoint.

Amendments to Gold Clause Bill Killed

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—The House today rejected the Senate amendments to the bill barring suits of the government gold clause securities and sent the measure to a conference with the Senate committee in an effort to adjust differences.

The House voted to bar any further suits for payment in gold upon enactment of the bill. The Senate decided to forbid them after six months.

WILL, POST STARTING HOME

FAIRBANKS, Alaska, Aug. 17.—Through the same Arctic skies that lured them to death, Will Rogers and Wiley Post were borne to Fairbanks today in the first phase of the long and sorrowful journey home.

Joe Crosson, ace pilot of the far north and close friend of the distinguished dead, made the solemn and dangerous 500-mile flight from Point Barrow in four and one-half hours.

Between lines of sorrowing Alaskans the linen-wrapped bodies were moved to an undertaking establishment for embalming.

The "mercy" flier said he would proceed on the homeward journey as soon as possible.

The bodies were to be flown to Seattle, then the body of Rogers was to be taken to California and Post's to Oklahoma.

Over 1,000 Attend Donley County Old Settlers' Reunion

A crowd estimated at more than 1,000 people, including 200 old settlers, attended a Donley County Settlers' Reunion held near Hedley Friday.

An interesting program was given, and at noon a picnic lunch that rivaled the old fashioned picnics was served.

Among those attending from Memphis were Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Bales.

ABOUT 75 MEN ARE PLACED IN CAMP

Final Group of 100 Expected 'Before Tuesday'

Memphians today were welcoming World War veterans who will make up the CCC personnel here.

The camp will be composed of Company 1821, who are being transferred here from the Palo Duro Canyon.

Nearly 100 enrollees, camp officers and technical officials already are on hand, and another 100 men are expected to arrive to fill out the camp "before Tuesday."

The first detail of 17 men arrived Friday afternoon. They were placed to work yesterday about the camp, finishing up pipe connections to the buildings, cleaning off the camp grounds, etc.

A larger group of about 50 enrollees arrived yesterday afternoon and were given quarters in the barracks, ready to start serious work of camp beautification and road-building tomorrow.

The final group may arrive today, although officials would be no more definite than to say that they were expected "before Tuesday."

Louis A. Hill, 1st Lt., Inf. Res., is the commanding officer of the local camp. He arrived yesterday. Robert E. Richards, 1st Lt., Inf. Res., is the second in command. James P. Luton, 1st Lt., Med. Res., is the camp surgeon. Riley W. Carleton is the educational advisor.

Local American Legion heads, as well as many other citizens, expressed pleasure that an old, established company made up of war veterans is being located here.

L. L. Doss, commander of the Charles R. Simmons Post of the American Legion, said: "We are mighty proud to have the veterans here, and we shall extend to them an invitation to share our hall with us. All of our facilities will be at their disposal."

Joe Reheis, commander-elect, echoed Doss' delight because the veterans are coming here, and added: "We want as many of them as possibly can to line up with our post and to become a part of the organization. We invite them to meet with us—we meet every first and third Tuesday nights."

Lt. Hill was quick to endorse his men. He said he believed "we have the finest CCC company there is, and we know we have the best in the Eighth Corps Area."

The Canyon News in Thursday's edition had the following to say about the transfer of the veterans' companies: "The two veterans CCC companies will be moved out of the Palo Duro State Park Saturday and Monday and will be replaced next week by two negro companies."

"Company 1828 will be moved to the new soil erosion camp 14 miles north of Amarillo Saturday, and Company 1821 will be moved to the soil erosion camp at Memphis on Monday.

WHAT DO YOU THINK?

Local Opinions on Pertinent Topics.

THE QUESTION: What do you think of the veterans' CCC company being located in Memphis?
THE ANSWERS: W. T. WILLIFORD: Every resident of Memphis should appreciate having a camp located here. I say this unadvisedly as I do not live in Memphis, but I have been traveling rather extensively and have seen the benefits derived by the different towns from these camps, and I say, the citizens of the community should consider themselves fortunate.

Regardless of the type or age of men put in the camp, I do not believe there will be any occasion for regret.

A. ANISMAN: Having a CCC camp located in Memphis is one of the greatest advantages presented to this city in many years. I see no reason why the citizens of this community would be displeased with any group, old or young, that the Government wants to send to occupy the camp.

LLOYD BYARS: I am especially glad the government is sending the veterans to the CCC camp in Memphis. It will increase the population of this city from 250 to 300 persons.

I understand many of the families of the veterans are coming to Memphis to establish their residence, so they can be near husbands and fathers. This will be of the greatest benefit to the local merchants and business men. But, I also understand that because there is an increased demand on apartments and homes and on the necessities of life that many of the landlords are raising their rents and some of the merchants are boosting their prices. While it is not my aim to dictate or pry into other people's affairs, I believe this is the wrong attitude to take. To me it seems we need more customers in Memphis and not higher prices.

Another thought along this line—by having the CCC camp in Memphis it will help to counterbalance our lack of permanent industry, instead of depending entirely on the cotton crop, a fall industry, for our livelihood and business stimulus.

R. S. GREENE: It will undoubtedly be to Memphis' advantage to have the veterans in our CCC camp. They have had previous experience in this line and know what to expect and what not to expect.

In lieu of this I can see no difference in either group. The young as well as the old are under army discipline and regulations.

However, I am glad to have such a camp located in Memphis.

Extending a Glad Hand to The Ex-Service Men

We fought our battles on foreign fields, and now you are to aid us in a peace-time battle against another foe—Soil Erosion—an enemy which threatens our well being and livelihood. We extend to you our sincere greetings as new citizens of Memphis. We are proud of our city, and feel that your coming is still another asset. We want you to feel at home here, and pledge ourselves to help make your stay with us pleasant—and, we hope, permanent. The following citizens and business houses join in this welcome.

Mrs. J. A. Whaley Honors Her Niece, Mrs. James Anthony, A Recent Bride

At the loveliest occasions of the summer season was set in the home of Mrs. J. A. Whaley Tuesday afternoon when a luncheon was given in honor of her niece, Mrs. James Arthur Anthony, who was recently married to Mr. James Anthony of Dallas. Mrs. Anthony is the daughter of Mrs. J. A. Whaley and her late husband, Mr. James Anthony. The bride is a native of Dallas and was educated in that city. She is now residing in Dallas with her husband. The luncheon was given at the home of Mrs. Whaley and was attended by many of her friends. The bride was accompanied by her mother, Mrs. J. A. Whaley, and her father-in-law, Mr. James Anthony. The luncheon was a most delightful affair and was enjoyed by all present.

Presbyterian Auxiliary in Joint Meeting

The Woman's Missionary Auxiliary of the First Presbyterian Church met Monday afternoon at the church in a joint business meeting and missionary program. Mrs. G. A. Sager was leader for the devotional of the business meeting using for her topic, "True Worship," reading the 101 Psalm and the 3rd chapter of Colossians for her scripture lesson. The hymn, "Oh Worship the King," was sung, followed by circle prayer. Roll call was on the topic of "True Worship."

Mrs. J. A. Grundy was leader for the missionary program and gave a report of the biennial meeting which was held in Asheville, N. C., recently, at which 661 women were present from all over the United States. Mrs. Mamie VanPelt gave the missionary devotion on the subject, "All Power is Given Unto Me." The same devotion was given at the biennial by Mrs. Nicol, a return missionary from Syria. The names of the missionaries were read and prayer was offered for them. No local report was given on account of the absence of the secretary, Mrs. J. C. Ross.

Ten women joined the missionary class for next month, when the mission study book, "Women Under the Southern Cross," will be studied, with Mrs. VanPelt as leader.

The meeting was dismissed with the Mizpah benediction.

Members present were Mrs. T. Kittinger, Mrs. G. A. Sager, Mrs. P. M. Fitzgerald, Mrs. T. J. Thompson, Mrs. S. S. Montgomery, Mrs. J. A. Grundy and Mrs. Mamie VanPelt.

Mrs. Mac Tarver Compliments Mrs. Bob Jones

Complimenting her niece, Mrs. Bob Jones, who has recently moved to Memphis from Lawton, Okla., Mrs. Mac Tarver entertained four tables at bridge Wednesday afternoon at her home, 213 North Tenth Street.

An arrangement of summer flowers made attractive decorations in the rooms where the tables were arranged for the games.

In the bridge games, Miss Shirley Greene received the high score favor and Mrs. I. C. Mundy, second high. The honoree was presented with a beautiful guest prize.

The hostess served a delicious salad and ice course to Mrs. I. C. Mundy, Mrs. Malone Hagan, Mrs. Frank Foxhall, Mrs. Adrian Odom, Mrs. Henry Wilson, Mrs. Carl Harrison, Mrs. C. L. Sloan Jr., Mrs. Don Taylor, Mrs. Robert Roark, Mrs. J. Emory Barton, Mrs. Wayne Davis, Mrs. O. V. Alexander, Miss Shirley Greene, Miss Maurine Thompson and Mrs. Ruth Lindsey.

House Guests Are Honored With Picnic

Honoring Mrs. W. H. Lindsey, Miss Ema Ruth Lindsey and Mrs. J. Emory Barton of Denton, house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Lindsey and Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Webster, a number of friends went to the Brookhollow Country Club Wednesday evening for a picnic supper and a get-together meeting.

The picnic supper was served in the lakeside cottage of Dr. and Mrs. W. C. Dickey, and a time was spent enjoying reminiscence of former days.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Webster, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Wherry, Dr. and Mrs. W. C. Dickey, Mrs. R. C. Walker, Mrs. Nell and Jack Walker, Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Greene, Miss Shirley Greene, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Kinslow and Billie Kinslow, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Fitzjarrald, Mr. and Mrs. T. Harrison, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Harrison, W. P. D. and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Hill of Waco, Mrs. E. J. Donald, Mrs. E. J. Finner, Mrs. S. L. Sledge, Mrs. O. K. and Mr. and Mrs. Lindsey and Mrs. Barton.

Baptist Y.W.A. Is Delightfully Entertained

Members of the Y. W. A. of the First Baptist Church were delightfully entertained Monday evening in the home of Mrs. D. A. Grundy, with Mildred Lindsey as hostess. She was assisted by Lula Faye Oren and Hazel Davis.

Following a short business session, Una Loard, president, introduced the speaker for the evening, Mrs. W. D. Howell, of McKinney, state recording secretary of W. M. U. work.

Mrs. Howell, in her charming manner, brought a message on "Service" and showed Japanese articles sent her by Texas missionaries in Japan.

Ice cream and wafers were served to Mrs. Howell, Mrs. J. W. Fitzjarrald, Reba Fitzjarrald, June Cope of Childress and Hulda Jo Cauthen of Clarendon, who were guests of Mrs. Grundy; Mrs. W. Wilson and Miss Una Loard, Alva Crow, Mildred and Thelma Lindsey, Evelyn Lamb, Lois Hill, Lula Faye Oren, Hazel Davis, Mary Smith, Katherine and Marie Barber, Charlyne Drake and Imogene Evans.

Mrs. Roy Shumate Honors Husband

WELLINGTON, Aug. 17.—Mrs. Roy Shumate entertained Wednesday evening with a surprise dinner for her husband, on his 39 birthday.

A delicious dinner was served to Mr. and Mrs. Carl Abney of Rolla, Mr. and Mrs. Alton Wilkins and daughter, Barbara Bess, and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Shumate.

Mrs. H. B. Gilmore and children, Owen, H. B. Jr. and Jerry, are spending this week-end at Wellington as the guests of Mrs. Gilmore's sister, Mrs. Scott Sigler.

Business Is Looking Up!

Indeed, the upturn is here and the outlook couldn't be lovelier! Like business, taxes and government deficits, blond and beautiful Betty Davis of the films is looking up these days. This newest photo of the famous film star, by Ferenc, noted Viennese photographer, is right in the spirit of the season. And much more fascinating than the economists' charts, don't you think?

At The Theatres

PALACE

Viennese gaiety and music, whimsical comedy and lilting musical sequences mark "Escapade," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's new Continental romance coming today to the Palace Theatre, and in which William Powell is introduced in an entirely new type of role.

The picture has many interesting surprises. It brings to the screen the golden voice of Enrico Caruso, amplified from existing records into the most lifelike replica possible of his actual voice, for a great opera sequence.

It introduces to the American screen as Powell's leading lady Luise Rainer, Viennese stage star, acclaimed in the Old World as a great dramatic actress and owner of "Europe's Most Beautiful Eyes."

It marks the debut of Walter Jurmann and Bronislaw Kaper, composer of the European song hits of Jan Kiepura, as composers for the American screen.

The new picture, directed by Robert Z. Leonard, is a unique blend of whimsical humor with romance and a threat of serious drama. With unique dramatic twists embellished by amazing new tricks of photography.

Its cast includes Frank Morgan, Virginia Bruce, Mady Christians, Laura Hope Crews, Reginald Owen, Henry Travers, Mathilde Comont and others of note. A great Vienna state ball, a lilted evening in a Viennese music hall, and a Caruso premiere at the Imperial opera, are among its spectacular musical highlights.

RITZ

Boris Karloff comes to the Ritz Theatre today in "The Black Room," a mystery thriller suited to the famed originator of Frankenstein.

The picture is said to be filled with hair-raising mystery that should not be seen unless you are set for a production of horror and thrills.

MARY ELLEN NELSON
Mr. and Mrs. Scott Webster and family of Littlefield have been here visiting Mrs. Webster's father, C. E. Nail, and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Nelson of Springfield, Mo., have been here visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Loy Lewis.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Weatherford and little son, Jackie, of Commerce, spent last week-end visiting Mrs. Weatherford's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Stewart. They were accompanied home by Mrs. Weatherford's sister, Edna Stewart.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Painter of Chillicothe are here visiting their son, Jim Painter.

Miss Edna Messer spent the week-end visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Smith.

A large number enjoyed a birthday party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kerbow Tuesday night, honoring Ethel Lee Billing on her birthday. Cake and punch were served.

Miss Glenda Carter of Friona is here visiting her cousin, Ruby Lee Coldiron.

The Mothers' Club met with Mrs. Robert Snowden and quitted her a quilt.

Garland Coldiron returned home last week from the plains where he has been working.

The Methodist revival meeting started Wednesday night. Everyone is invited to attend.

Several from here attended the singing at Plaska Sunday afternoon.

Ruby Lee and Inie Coldiron, Glenda Carter and Lena Jim Gleaton spent Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Nelson.

The Baptist Missionary Society, organized a short time ago, met Thursday afternoon.

There was an agricultural meeting held here Thursday afternoon, with a large number of farmers present.

Mason King, who is director of racing, called attention to the opening date of the fall meet.

"With more, better entries and larger purses, the Tri-State fair racing meet will open one day earlier—Friday, September 13," he said. "Daily races with legalized wagering have become the major attraction at the fair. Thousands of turf fans from all over the Southwest pack into the grandstand daily to see the sport of kings."

"Of course, there will be a wide variety of other entertainment," he continued. "The largest mid-way attraction in the United States will be there, direct from an engagement in Detroit."

MASON KING

BILL BEECHLER

Bill Beechler, one of the vice-presidents of the Tri-State Fair and good will ambassador from Amarillo, and Mason King of the Amarillo News-Globe, another Tri-State Fair "evangelist" were here Thursday.

They brought a special invitation to Hall County to attend the Tri-State Fair, September 14-21, which this year will be the largest exposition in Texas.

"Cash prizes for the largest delegations visiting the exposition with bands have been increased this year," said Mr. Beechler. "On one day last year there were 12 delegations and nine bands at the fair."

Beechler, who for many years has served as Chairman of the fair's reception committee, believes there will be more entries and larger crowds this year.

"There will be no fair at Dallas this year and the Tri-State Exposition will be about the only attraction of its kind this fall."

Mason King, who is director of racing, called attention to the opening date of the fall meet.

"With more, better entries and larger purses, the Tri-State fair racing meet will open one day earlier—Friday, September 13," he said. "Daily races with legalized wagering have become the major attraction at the fair. Thousands of turf fans from all over the Southwest pack into the grandstand daily to see the sport of kings."

"Of course, there will be a wide variety of other entertainment," he continued. "The largest mid-way attraction in the United States will be there, direct from an engagement in Detroit."

Editor's Note—This space is open to all readers of The Democrat for the purpose of expressing their opinions on any and all subjects. All signed letters will be printed here upon request, so long as they carry clear, unambiguous material. The following should be considered as the opinion of the writer, in no manner reflecting on the editorial policies of this newspaper.

Los Angeles
Dear Editor of the Democrat:
I have just finished reading The Democrat of August 11, and to say I enjoyed it and the one just preceding it would be putting it very mild.

So many of the old settlers I know, as my father moved there in 1889, and I lived there myself until 1918, I must say your paper has greatly improved in the last few weeks. You have more personal locals and I enjoy "We Saw" very much.

I would surely like to see Memphis again.
Very Kindly Yours
Mrs. Henrietta Fore.

Lubbock

Dear Sirs:
On August 1 the adult teachers of Hall County received telegram authorizing transportation to Lubbock for a 30-day intensive training school at Texas Tech College. These teachers were assembled from all parts of the country and were routed by the F. W. & D. by way of Estelline—and what a ride it was from Estelline to Lubbock!

We arrived at Lubbock about 10 p. m. and found by counting noses we were 34 in number. We were informed at the depot that the college authorities had made all necessary arrangements to take care of us at the dormitories and were taken there by taxis.

Friday morning, Aug. 2, work started, which included lectures, instructions as to the training course and group classifications. Our start was good and the work has been increased each day, and we are now putting in six and seven hours in the classrooms everyday except Saturday and Sunday, with some assignments and committee meetings extra.

Everyone is enjoying the work and getting lots of good out of the course which they hope to be able to pass on to their students when they return to their various homes and resume teaching their adult classes.

(Signed)
Committee.

BUILDING CONTRACT
VOIDED AFTER PWA
AID FALLS THROUGH

Hackney, Hall, Thomas, local building contractors, received word Friday from school authorities at Hinds, near Vernon, that their contract for the erection of a new school building there had been voided. This was due to some technicality in the application for P. W. A. aid in the project.

The local firm was awarded the contract several weeks ago, and sub-contracts had been let and everything was ready to begin work on the building in the near future.

On solicitation of the school authorities, the local firm will again submit bids on the building.

Keeping Faith!

We have endeavored to keep faith with the people of the Memphis Area by keeping abreast of the times in the matter of modern equipment.

Among innovations we have introduced locally may be mentioned our Oxygen Tent, Modern Sanitary Operating Room, Slumber Room, and Grave Tent.

It is our aim to always provide a sympathetic service, with the latest equipment, regardless of the family means.

BEGIN HERE TODAY
 JO DARIEN breaks her engagement to BRET PAUL, college athletic star, because he objects to her taking a job as hostess at Crest Lake Inn, fashionable summer resort owned by wealthy DOUGLAS MARSH. Jo goes to Crest Lake and later Bret arrives as a life guard.

Douglas Marsh's eccentric mother dislikes Jo. PETER GRAGONET, film actor, pays Jo marked attentions and asks her to marry him as soon as he can get a divorce. Jo becomes friendly with LOLITA MONTEZ, film actress, prompted by his mother, Marsh asks Jo to leave Crest Lake. She decides to go to Hollywood to look for a job and Fragonet persuades her to go with him by plane. He takes her to an attractive hotel, promises to call later to take her to dinner.

Jo waits, but Fragonet does not come. She learns he is at the theatre with Mrs. Fragonet. Later he arrives, makes explanations. Fragonet tells Jo he has leased an apartment for her.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XXXVII

Without a word to Fragonet, Jo walked to the telephone, lifted the instrument from its cradle. "What are you going to do?" he asked, moving across the room.

Jo spoke quickly into the mouthpiece: "Hello? Please let me have the cashier's office."

Fragonet reached out as if to take the telephone from her hand, but Jo turned guardedly. "Cashier's office? This is Miss Darien in 718. There's been a little misunderstanding about my account. I want the statements to come to me—and not to Mr. Fragonet. Thank you so much."

Replacing the telephone, she smiled to Fragonet again. "I may as well stay here until the end of the week. But after that, Peter, I want you to be a sensible person and not to try to find my new address."

 "But, Jo, it's so foolish not to accept my help. After all, I brought you here—and I'm responsible."
 Jo smiled. "I'd rather be responsible." She held out her hand. "Good night... and good-bye, Peter."
 He took her hand. "It's not good-bye, Jo. You can't dismiss me so easily." His eyes were clouded with faint anger, and Jo was fearful of one of his unreasoning outbursts. But with obvious effort he held himself silent, and left without further protest.

If Jo Darien lived to be a hundred she would always remember her first days in Hollywood—remember them in conglomerate nightmare detail. In her mind she had not dismissed Fragonet as completely as she wanted him to believe. In her heart she knew that if he proved himself really finished with Edna Fragonet, if he was sincere in not caring for the public fable of Peter Fragonet, she would be willing to see him again. It could be true that he loved her, as he said; and, after all, nothing that had happened was really his fault. Poor Fragonet was caught up in the complications of his own tenuous fame.

But, despite these conclusions, Jo was resolved to carry herself in Hollywood. Just how this should be done, she hadn't the slightest notion. The morning after Fragonet's revelation that he was still inextricably imprisoned within the destinies of Edna Fragonet and the Atlas organization, Jo took inventory of her resources. When she had paid a week in advance at the expensive apartment on Wilshire Boulevard she found to her alarm that she had less than $100. She recognized too late that she should have moved at once and, spurred now by the swiftly approaching necessity, she spent hours in the bright sunlight of Hollywood, hunting for a job.

By bus and street car and on foot she searched through the shops and the stores and the restaurants—sometimes guided by "want ads" and sometimes going it blindly, hoping by sheer luck to run into something. But there were thousands like her in Hollywood—thousands who had come for money and fame and who were now anxious enough to settle into the security of a low-paid job at almost anything.

 Her pride kept her from taking what little she had left and escaping with it to Weston. And in a few short days her money dwindled to the point where escape was impossible and a job—any sort of a job—was more important than ever before. She had not even advised her parents that she was no longer at Crest Lake, for she didn't want to worry them until she could assure them she was safely situated in a city which her mother had always regarded with more or less suspicion.

Jo knew that an appeal to Fragonet would surely find her something, and she suspected he was waiting for this appeal. It was this suspicion which made Jo all the more stubbornly set against asking his help. At the end of the fruitless week she left the luxurious apartment he had selected. Leaving no forwarding address, she moved into a single narrow room in an outmoded stucco bungalow owned by a widow who had descended to roomers in order to hold her property.

It was in that dingy, narrow room that the desperate Jo decided to make an appeal—not to Fragonet, but to Lolita Montez. With considerable trepidation she wrote her a note in care of the studio, for Montez, like Fragonet, had no listing in the directory. It seemed hopeless, for Jo felt certain that some secretary would answer her letter, that Montez herself would never see it. But Jo reckoned without the fact that Lolita Montez was a star who took the time to glance at her fan-mail.

"A lady called while you were gone," Jo's landlady told her one evening or two later when the girl returned wearily from another siege of employers' fortresses. "She wouldn't give her name, but she left her phone number and said for you to call."

Puzzled, Jo dialed the number. "This is Jo Darien. . . was there someone there wanting to get in touch with me?"
 "Miss Darien? Yes, just a moment. . . Miss Montez wants to speak to you."
 Jo's heart leaped, and after a short wait she heard, the familiar, husky voice of Lolita Montez. "Tell me where you are," the actress said. "I'm going to send the car around for you at once."
 Warm and deigned by Lolita's show of friendship, Jo gave her address and, within an hour, the star's unformed driver was helping Jo into a long, gleaming car. They pushed patiently through the traffic, then proceeded at a faster pace along wider boulevards toward the foothills. At last the car wheeled into a gravelled drive and brought up before a low, rambling white house that took Jo's breath away with its sunlit beauty.

Lolita herself was on the porch and hurried down to meet Jo. "I suppose you've been here for days, not knowing which way to turn," Lolita accused Jo. "And then you write a letter to the studio!"
 "I didn't know how else to reach you," Jo confessed.
Lolita laughed. "I suppose not. Come in. . . I want to talk to you."
 But before the huge English fireplace it was Jo who had to talk first. She had to tell Lolita how she had come to Hollywood and of her lonely, bewildering days since. "Of course," Jo said slowly, "I was a fool to come at all. . . But it's too late now to talk about that."
Lolita shook her head. "I knew all along that you'd come." "How did you know that?" Jo asked astonished. "I hardly knew it myself until the last moment when. . ." Her words trailed into silence.
 "I know," the actress nodded. "Until the last moment when Fragonet urged you. I know Fragonet—how well."
Montez rose, offered Jo cigarettes from a beautifully enameled box on the mantel. Jo took one and as she accepted a light, she heard the actress say in a queer tone, "Are you in love with him?"
 "I—I don't think so," Jo faltered.
Montez exhaled a pillar of gray smoke quickly, almost like a symbol of hot anger. "Take my advice and forget him. Forget him completely. I'm going to give you money to get back home."
 Jo shook her head. "I don't want that. You—you've been more than kind and I do know I appreciate it. I'll accept it your help. . . a job."
 The actress stared at a moment. "It's nice of you as you are, Jo, but get you into plenty of it. If I do help you to get to Hollywood will you be from Peter Fragonet?"
 "I'll do my best," Jo said.
 She was about to turn at that moment a tiny ran into the room—childlike replica of Lolita gazing at Jo with wide eyes.
 "This is Miss Darien's mother said.
 The child acknowledged introduction with politeness, then turned to her mother. "Can I ride to nurse? She's going to get her dark head, what child's dark head, what run out of the room." "She's lovely."

VETERANS ANNOUNCEMENT

An old, established veterans' CCC company is being located here was received with enthusiasm this week-end by local citizens. Everyone seemed to be of the opinion that Memphis would profit more and be better suited with a camp composed entirely of World War veterans than with any other group. The fact that the company has been organized for some time also is important.

It is impossible to get 200 men together, picked more or less at random, without finding some who are not morally and lawfully deficient or who would not come in conflict with his buddies or local people. However, this type of person does not last long. Therefore, the Veterans' Company 1821 is most likely to be already free of such an element.

These enrollees are now accustomed to camp life, and they understand what they can expect to do without running afoul of regulations. No matter how fine the group or where they came from, the young recruits just being taken into the service naturally would have a number of ideas that would have to be erased before they would fit into the general scheme.

From a financial standpoint, the veterans will place more money in Memphis than any other CCC group. Many of the veterans are married and have families to whom they are required to send a large portion of their money. Although they must remain at the camp during the week, at least, many of them probably will bring their families here so as to be near them and have an opportunity of seeing them more often. This will place all of their money here instead of sending it into some other section.

The veterans will strengthen the local American Legion Post. They will be quieter and more patient with conditions they might find not entirely suited to their desires. They will be more receptive to wholesome entertainment furnished by local organizations. All around, they are possibly more desirable than any other CCC group that could have been placed in

Production of Clear Milk and Cream

Clean Cows and Barn help produce Clean Milk, which, if milked into a partly closed-top pail and strained quickly will keep sweet a long time.

By BYRON A. BASSEL

The first factor to be considered in the production of high quality milk and cream, is the physical condition of the cow itself. The cow should be examined periodically and if any physical defects such as swelling or inflammation of the udder is noted, a veterinarian should be consulted at once, because these signs may be forerunners of indications of serious diseases in the cow, which might be spread to the others in the herd.

The next important step to be considered is the condition of the cow, as far as cleanliness is concerned. All long hairs which might hold dirt should be kept well trimmed, and, before milking, the cows should be brushed with a stiff brush, especially the belly, flanks and thighs. Then the udder should be well cleaned with a damp rag and dried thoroughly. With the cow in this condition the milker should then wash and dry his hands thoroughly. The milk should be drawn from the cow into a small top milk pail, because the use of this pail which is 75% covered means that there is 75% less chance for contamination of the milk from falling dust, dirt, hair, etc.

Of course the barn in which the milking is done should be kept just as clean as possible, trash and dirt should not be allowed to collect on the floor, because this affords just that much more chance of contaminating and ruining your milk. The walls and ceiling should be kept brushed off and clean so that there will be no chance of falling dirt getting into the milk. The barn should be well lighted and ventilated. Roughly should not be fed before milking, because the air will become filled with dust which will settle in the milk or in the milk pail, feed should not be stored in the loft above where the milking is done, because of the danger of feed dropping into the milk.

While on the subject of feed it would be well to mention the consideration which should be given feeding, in order to avoid off flavors in the milk and consequently in the cream. All highly flavored feeds such as turnips, silage, wild onions, bitter weed, etc., should be avoided entirely if possible, because their particular flavors will be carried over into the milk. If these highly flavored feeds must be used, they should be fed immediately after milking and never before, because by doing this the possibility of their flavor being given to the milk is avoided.

Some explanation is due as to why all of these precautions in producing milk should be taken. The importance of keeping dirt or any form of contamination from the milk and cream, is that this dirt etc., carries with it many germs, or bacteria, which cause the milk and cream to decompose in one way or another. This decomposition may be evidenced by souring, which is a natural process, ropiness, off flavors and odors, and many other conditions. When any of these occur you have a low quality product, which will bring you a low price; therefore, to insure the highest possible price, it is necessary that attention be paid to the items about which we have been talking, namely: the physical condition of the cow itself, the way in which the cow is prepared for milking, the cleanliness of the milker, the type of pail used, the sanitary conditions of the barn, and the feed which is given the cow.

The next article of this series will discuss cleanliness of handling milk and cream, and the proper cleaning and sterilization of the equipment, and will be issued in the near future.

The Roman epicure, Marcus Apicius, spent $40,000,000 on odd and rare foods which he imported from every part of the world then known. His lavish living reduced his fortune to $400,000 and he killed himself because he would "rather be dead than eat ordinary food."

The word "hooch" came from "hoochinoo," a liquor made by a tribe of Alaskan Indians.

Farm House Is Refinished at Very Low Cost

SIERRA BLANCA, Aug. 17.—At a cost of only $19.50, the three room house of Mrs. V. Caulkins of Hedspeth County was almost entirely refinished, according to Miss Gladys Young, home demonstration agent. Mrs. Caulkins started with the living room which she calcimined and then refinished the floors and woodwork in light oak.

The kitchen was papered in light green with cream woodwork and ceiling to make it lighter, as it was a northwest room. An old hall tree, table and chairs were taken from storage, sandpapered and refinished with burnt umber and gasoline followed by a coat of varnish. Other furniture refinished included a steel cot, a day bed, and a chair. Shelves were also added to the closets and new shades and curtains brought.

14 Alfalfa Loads Harvested in Year

LA GRANGE, Aug. 17.—From an original seedling of alfalfa five years ago, Paul Teinert of Fayette County has just finished hauling in seven big loads of alfalfa on the second cutting, making a total of 14 loads harvested this year, reports J. C. Yeary, county agricultural agent. One cutting was lost on account of excessive rains.

Teinert is looking forward to harvesting at least two more cuttings this season. He plans to plow under the stubble this fall and follow with corn in 1936.

Lines Are Run on 2,210 Farm Acres

CHANNING, Aug. 17.—Terrace or contour lines have been run on 2,210 acres for seven Hartley County farmers during the past two months, according to the report of E. R. Duke, county agricultural agent. Interest in this work has been stimulated by the need for an effective control of wind erosion. Most of the farmers have received a heavy rain since completing their contour work, and the fact that the contoured rows held all the water that fell on the fields is interesting other farmers in these demonstrations.

Two farmers have terraced their pasture land, and they have found that in they way they can hold water on their pasture that normally goes to shallow lakes.

Farm Women Hold Regular Markets

GRAHAM, Aug. 17.—Ten No. 1 cans of ground turkey were sold by Mrs. H. G. Millican of the Loving Home Demonstration Club at 35 cents per can on the first market day held in Young County by home demonstration club women, according to Miss Norfleet Grimes, home demonstration agent. Mrs. Millican already has 20 orders for the next market day.

At the market, which was established early in June, the women have sold all kinds of vegetables, fruits, poultry, cakes, and breads. For the past five Saturdays the total receipts have been $137.32. The market is open only one-half day each week.

New York's statute books contain many don'ts. Among these are statutes prohibiting riding a bicycle with hands off the handlebars, flying kites in city streets, and firing a cannon in the city except with the mayor's permission, the cannon to be no larger than a four-pounder.

On Texas Farms

Minnie Fisher Cunningham
Extension Service Editor

About one out of every 12 cultivated acres was shifted from sorghum plus basic crops this year in the United States.

A related fact, as Joseph E. Cox, chief of the replacement corps sections of the AAA, sees it, is the largest increase in legume acreage ever reported in this country.

Alfalfa acreage went up from 11,482,000 acres in 1934 to 13,198,000 in 1935, a 14 per cent increase; soy bean acreage rose from 4,223,000 acres in 1934 to 5,463,000, an increase of over 29 per cent.

The significance of these figures will be felt by the children's children of the owners of this land. Soil erosion is checked and soil fertility built up by this type of crop.

More home raised meat will be served on the rural home makers' tables; more milk and butter and chickens and eggs will appear in the diet of rural families because of these crops.

Future generations will farm better land and enjoy better health because of today's agricultural program which conserves the soil and improves the food on the farms of today.

"She has an unbelievable charm already," the actress said quizzily. "It's from her father, I suppose."

"He—Is he—" "Indeed not," Lolita smiled. "Indeed not. Lolita's father is very much alive. I'm going to tell you something, Jo. Her father is Peter Fragonet!"

Jo's face drained to a sudden pallor. She hardly heard Lolita's low, husky voice continuing, "We were married hardly a year. It was before either of us were very well known—and even in the studios few people know about it. When Peter began going up he felt he should have a wife like Edna, and not an actress." Lolita smiled bitterly. "You see, Edna had family and background, and Peter was a little dazzled by those things then."

(Substituting for "This and That")

By E. C. J.

Every day tragedies happen which are confined to a family circle and a few friends. Often an entire state will grieve for the passing of some one. The nation occasionally mourns the passing of a well known figure. But seldom indeed arises the occasion when the whole world feels a heart pang at the news of the demise of a beloved character.

Such was the case Friday morning, when to the uttermost corners of the earth was flashed the news that two well known men had met the grim reaper together—Will Rogers, the homespun philosopher, and Wiley Post, the world-famous globe-girdling aviator.

Perhaps no figure ever in the public eye was known and loved by so many as was Will Rogers. The movies and the radio had made him one of the family circle in every country of the globe. Millions laughed at his droll comedy, and hundreds of thousands of hearts were lifted from gloom by his cheerful philosophy of life. His "The only thing I know is what I read in the papers" was a by-word the world around.

Wiley Post, as much a natural flyer as Rogers was a natural humorist, was almost as well known. In his famous old plane, the "Winnie Mae," he had girdled the globe twice. The eyes of the world had been centered on him during his cross-country dashes against time, and his more recent stratosphere flights.

The writer knew both men personally. Post was much on the field at Los Angeles where we once were employed, and we grew to know him as a prince among men. Modest about his many achievements in aviation, he was every inch a man and every inch a flyer. Rogers was often a passenger on Standard Airlines with headquarters at the same field. Often we have, with dozens of other employees, followed Will into the passenger station at the field, knowing we were to hear some of his honey philosophy and dry wit. Even funnier off than on the screen or radio, Will was in private life just what he was in his public appearances—a plain, unassuming chap with a heart of gold and an outlook on life that was both humorous and wholesome.

Other screen and radio humorists will flash across the silver sheet or come in over your radio, but there will never be another Will Rogers.

Other flyers will capture the public's fancy, but the memory of Wiley Post will always be green, especially among those interested in aviation.

Two great and good men are gone. They met death bravely and unafraid . . . the one, if we knew Will, with a quip on his lips and the thought of his loved ones in his mind . . . the other fighting to avert the catastrophe looming before them.

Will and Wiley . . . we salute your memory

This Lad Enjoys Being Tossed to the Lions!

A modern version of the Daniel story. "Dickie in the Lions' den" is enacted at the Salt Lake City zoo when Dick McCollin, 4-year-old son of the superintendent, indulges his hobby of lion-rassling as pictured here. Dickie and Rex, a 4-month-old lion cub, both enjoy their rough-and-tumble romps, though Rex refuses to play with the lad's two older brothers.

'There Ain't No Such Animal. Eh?

The zebra seems to be the answer to the old riddle. "What is as rare as a day in June?" This is the "first one to be shown" in the London zoo, a gift from the Prince of Wales, to whom it had been sent by King Leopold of Belgium; and only two others are in captivity. Practically a one-animal zoo, the okapi combines features of the giraffe, zebra and deer, and is a native of Belgian Congo.

Peggy—I want you to help me to make Jim jealous—awfully, wildly jealous.
Paul—Er—let's get married.

'Human Icicle' Prepares for Test

While authorities threatened to ban the bizarre experiment, carefully prescribed diet became part of the regime of Stephen Siskindovitch, right, preparing in Los Angeles to allow Dr. Ralph Willard, left, to freeze him into a "human icicle" as a scientific experiment and in the expectation that it will be possible to revive him later. Dr. Willard, who hopes it will be possible to revive him later, is pictured here. Willard, who hopes it will be possible to revive him later, is pictured here. Willard, who hopes it will be possible to revive him later, is pictured here.

Goal Is Answer to Polar Secret

Wilkins Ellsworth
Two famed explorers will join hands in an effort, by a 20-hour, 1800-mile flight, to solve the greatest remaining riddle of the earth's structure—whether Antarctica is a single land mass or is cut in two by a strait from Weddell sea to Ross sea. Sir Hubert Wilkins, left, will meet Commander Lincoln Ellsworth, right, in Montevideo in October to set sail for the South Polar region.

Hollywood Cools Off With the Rest of Us

While we may look to Hollywood for new ideas in fashions and play, it's the same old thing, as here, when it comes to escaping from the summer heat. In the pictures of these three representative film colonists show. At left, Bette Davis puts on her dark apes to escape from the sun-glaring rays and cools off with the universal double-decker ice cream cone. In the middle, Paul Rogers washes off the perspiration with a cooling shower. At right, Patricia Ellis sips a lemon fix while waiting between scenes.

Hoover in East to Rally G.O.P.

Seeking support of Eastern Republican leaders and feeling out sentiment with regard to his challenge to President Roosevelt to bring the constitutional changes issue into the open, ex-President Herbert Hoover is shown on his arrival at New York. He refused to discuss his personal political plans, however.

A New Cause for Japanese Fury

With Japanese wrath still simmering over a satirical cartoon recently appearing in an American magazine, depicting the emperor drawing a military carriage in which reposed the Nobel peace prize scroll, fresh fury is expected with appearance of the above cartoon, drawn by the same artist. Published in the current issue of The New Masses, the cartoon is entitled "William Gropper's Answer to the Mikado," and caricatures the mikado in warlike pose, hiding behind a screen of peace.

This Cycle Is All Motor

Powered by a 92-horsepower engine, this motorcycle, by Freddie Lather, and designed by A. Thullier, has been going fast on Muroc Dry Lake, Calif., preparatory to setting speed records over the salt flats near Salt Lake City. It is the fastest creation of its type ever built, the vehicle starter, automatic clutch, gas control and 30x5 tires run throughout with steel wires.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

BY WILLIAM FERGUSON

FEAR IS UNKNOWN IN THE WOLVERINE'S MAKE-UP! BLACK BEARS, 20 TIMES HIS WEIGHT, WILL LEAVE A CHOICE MEAL, AT HIS APPROACH.

WOLVERINE

LIVES IN THE NORTHERN FORESTED AREAS OF AMERICA AND EUROPE! BECAUSE OF ITS DIABOLICAL CUNNING, INDIANS AND ESKIMOS BELIEVE THE ANIMAL IS ENDOWED WITH EVIL SPIRITS

ALTHOUGH THE WOLVERINE SELDOM WEIGHS MORE THAN 25 POUNDS, ITS SAVAGE FEROCITY AND ENORMOUS MUSCULAR POWER MAKE IT A WORTHY FOE FOR ANY ANIMAL IN THE NORTH WOODS... INCLUDING THE LORDLY BULL-MOOSE.

WOLVERINES FREQUENTLY ATTACK PORCUPINES, AND USUALLY DIE A WEEK OR TWO LATER, OF QUILL POISONING

THEY WILL FOLLOW A HUNTER FOR MILES, AND STEAL FROM HIM AT EVERY OPPORTUNITY

AFTER STEALING BAIT FROM A TRAP, THE WOLVERINE OFTENTIMES MISCHIEVOUSLY HIDES THE TRAP

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

Blosser

ALL YOU GOTTA DO IS TO STICK YOUR HEAD THRU THAT HOLE, AND DODGE WHEN PEOPLE THROW BALLS AT YOU!

THAT'S ALL HUH?

HIT HIM ON THE NOSE AND WIN A CIGAR

IF I CAN USE YOU, I'LL PAY YOU TWO BUCKS A DAY!!

GIMME A TRY!

REMEMBER! IT AINT EASY WORK. THE LAST KID WE HAD HERE WAS IN THE HOSPITAL FOR TWO WEEKS - HIS NAME WAS SHORTY - HE FORGOT TO DUCK!!

THIS IS A CINCH!

YOU'RE DOING OKAY! IT'S EASY, AS LONG AS YOU DODGE 'EM!

I'M FROM THE INSURANCE COMPANY... I HAVE A CHECK FOR SHORTY, TO TAKE CARE OF HIS HOSPITAL BILL!!

OKAY, I'LL SEE THAT HE GETS IT!

HERE'S THE NEW KID WHO'S GONNA TAKE SHORTY'S PLACE. I'D LIKE TO TAKE OUT A POLICY ON HIM. HE'S GOOD AT DODGING!

SORRY, BUT I DON'T THINK WE CAN SELL YOU A POLICY!

WHY NOT?

IN CASE OF AN ACCIDENT, OUR COMPANY PAYS THE INJURED PARTY, UNTIL HIS FACE GETS BACK TO NORMAL!

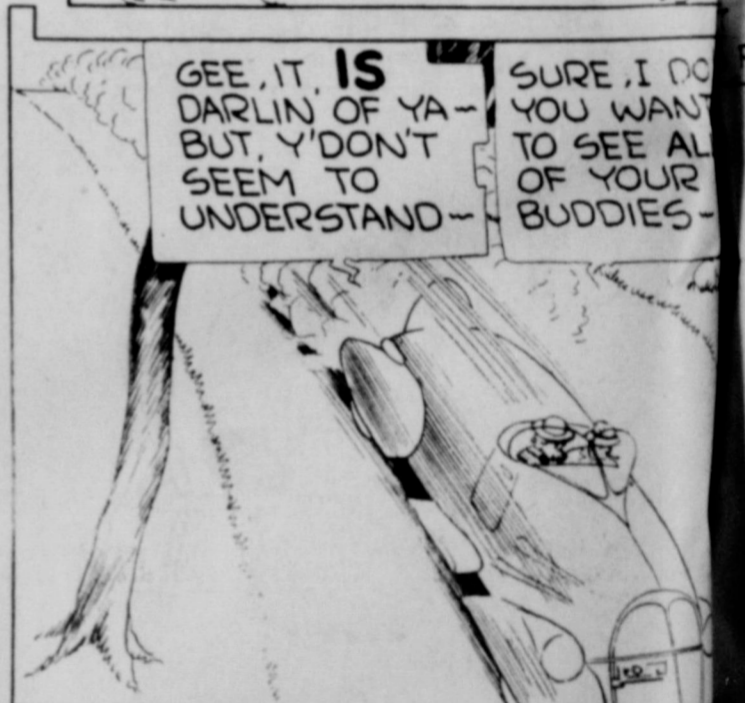

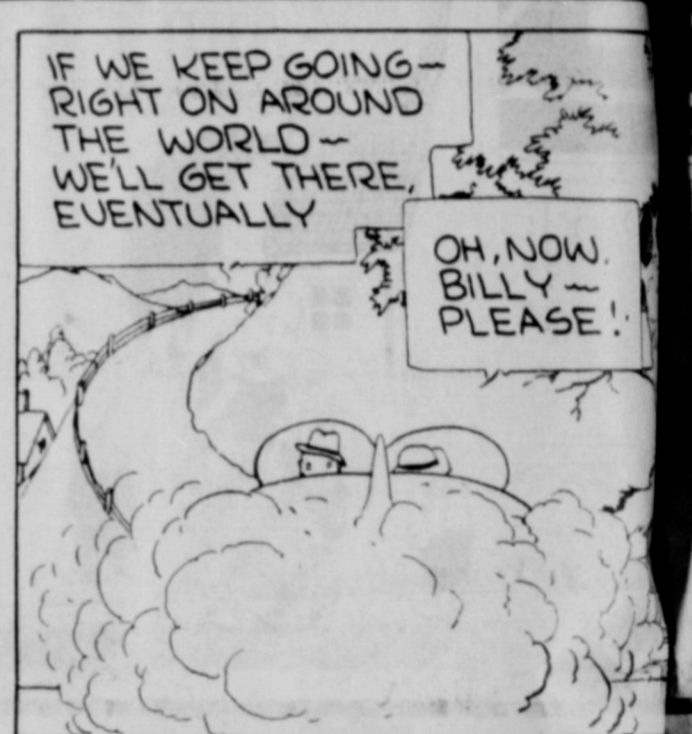

WHAT'S THAT GOT TO DO WITH IT?

- AND WITH THIS KID, HOW COULD YOU TELL WHAT WAS NORMAL?

CAPTAIN EASY

ROY CRANE

SOLDIER OF FORTUNE

PUBLICLY, COUNT ALEXIS HEYLOFF HAS BRAGGED THAT HE WILL MAKE A MONKEY OF EASY.

PRIVATELY, HE'S WORRIED.

OUTSMART HIM, DOT'S DER STUFF, LISTEN--

MEANWHILE, TWO OFFICERS VOLUNTEER TO ACT AS EASY'S SECONDS.

ACH! VOT A DUEL IT VILL BE.

EIGHT TO VUN ON DER COUNT.

TEN TO VUN.

MIND YOU, DOT CAPTING EASY IS A DANGEROUS SHOT.

VELL, VOT CAN I DO?

THEY MEET WITH COUNT HEYLOFF'S SECONDS.

SINCE IT ISS AGREED DOT VE HAF DER CHOICE OF VEAPONS, CHENTS, VE CHOOSE CAVALRY SABERS.

VOT!

DER BEST PISTOL SHOT IN NIKKA-TEENACHOOSES SWORDS?

AT YOUR SERVICE, HERR CAPTING.

VE CANT UNDERSTAND IT, SIR. HE VANTS TO FIGHT MIT SWORDS.

WELL, WHAT THE BLAZES! IT'S ALL THE SAME TO ME.

EASY GOES TO BED, AND SLEEPS LIKE A TOP.

DAWN, HE RISES, DRESSES, AND WRITES A FAREWELL NOTE TO HIS MOTHER.

FRONT ROW, DOT'S ME.

PEOPLE ARE HURRYING TO THE DUELING PIT, EAGER TO WITNESS THE COUNT'S 19TH VICTOR!

BY 6 O'CLOCK, THE PIT IS A HOWLING MASS OF PARTISAN HUMANITY.

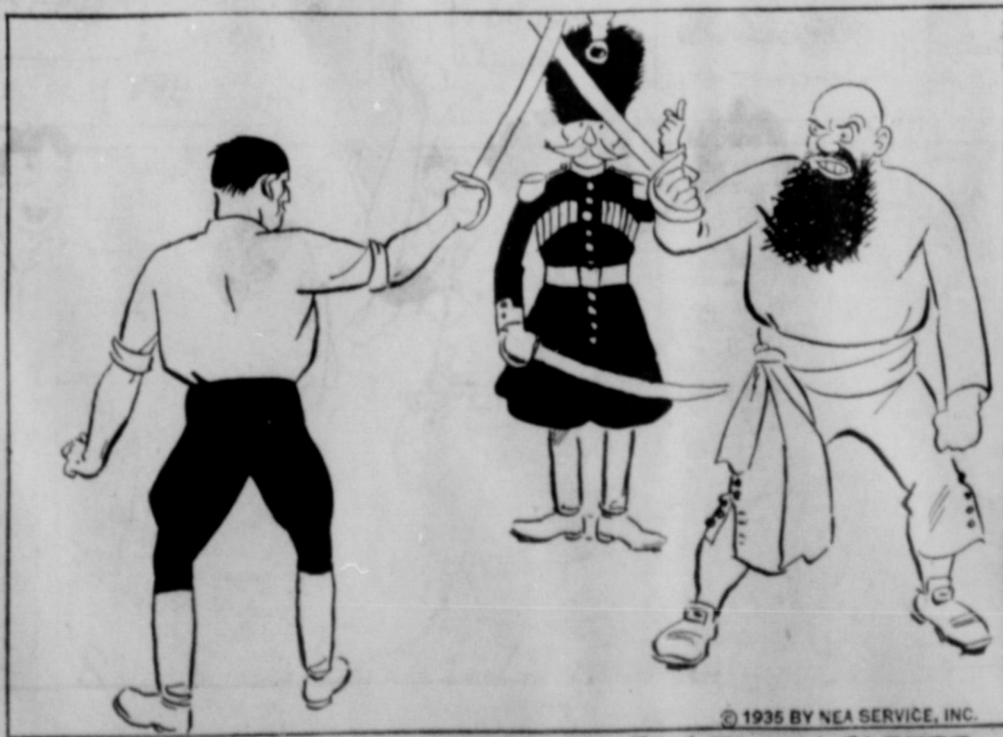

KILL DER FOREIGNER!

LONG LIFF COUNT HEYLOFF!

HOORAY! HOOROO!

VOOFEE!

EASY AND THE COUNT ARRIVE IN SEPARATE CARRIAGES. THE DOCTOR TENDERS, AND ARRANGES HIS BANDAGES.

A WHISTLE BLOWS. THE CONTESTANTS BOW, TOUCH SABERS.

ANOTHER WHISTLE. STEEL CLASHES AGAINST STEEL, AND THE DUEL IS ON. INSTANTLY, A LIGHTNING-LIKE THRUST! A ROAR FROM THE CROWD, AS THE COUNT'S BLADE FINDS ITS MARK!!

HA!

NEXT WEEK: HAIL TO THE VICTOR!
