TEACHERS WILL MEET IN CITY TOMORROW

Organize the County Association and Elect Officers

All city and rural school teachers of the county are to assemble in the morning at 10 o'clock in the annex of the First Baptist church here for the first meeting this year of the Hall County Teachers' Association. The purpose of the meeting is to organize the association for the coming year and to elect officers.

Opening exercises of the session will be conducted by T. O. Neely, president of the organization last year. A program has been arranged by Miss Vera Gilreath, county school superintendent, together with T. O. Neely.

John Deaver, district attorney, will deliver the main address. Several musical numbers will be on the program. Announcements and election of officials will complete the main business session. Following this, the various departmental meetings will be held.

The Hall County Teachers' Association has been functioning for several years and handles such problems as the County Interscholastic League meet.

Three Seek Philippine Presidency

Manuel Quezon Emilio Aguinaldo Bishop Gregorio Aglipay

Three long-time leaders of the Filipino people are candidates for the presidency of the islands, to be decided at an election Sept. 17. Favored by most observers to win is the coalition candidate, Manuel Quezon, dominant political figure in the islands for 26 years. He now is Senate president and was Philippine commissioner in Washington. Emilio Aguinaldo, who led insurrections against both Spain and the U. S., is a strong contender. He was president of the first Philippine republic, his government later collapsing. The third aspirant is Bishop Gregorio Aglipay, leader of the Independent Catholic church of the islands, with 1,500,000 members.

Long's Foes Starting Sharp Attack on His Machine

A joint meeting of the three Memphis Parent-Teachers Associations will be held at the High School Auditorium tonight at 7:30, the purpose of which will be to acquaint our citizens with the splendid work of the organizations, and the solicitation of co-operation between the schools and their patrons.

The program will begin with a band concert by the two school bands, the Gold Medal and the West Ward Rhythm musicians.

Other entertainment features will include a tap dance by Bettie Frances Fultz, a reading by Mignon Womack, and a quartet composed of Harry Delaney, Ewe! Noel, David Fitzgerald and Omer Johnsey will sing several songs.

Several talks by local people will be on the program for the evening, but the principal address will be by Superintendent R. B. Fisher, of the Pampa schools.

Prof. Fisher, who is a recognized authority on school matters, has just returned recently from Europe, where he spent the summer studying the school systems and plans of the various European countries. He will bring to this city, in his address, his ideas of plans for the improvement and progress of schools in the country, and will explain the best features of the Continental institutions.

Following the program, a social hour will be held, and refreshments will be served.

Every citizen, whether the parent of a school child or not, who is interested in the upholding of our local school system, should attend this meeting.

District Court Will Start Criminal Cases Monday

Jury Summoned For Next Week

District Court, grinding slowly this week, is disposing of quite a number of civil cases and divorces, and clearing the deck for the criminal docket which will be taken up next week.

Six civil cases and three criminal cases in which the defendants pleaded guilty and waived jury trial were disposed of Wednesday, and a divorce case is docketed for today, and perhaps one or two uncontested actions.

The criminal docket, which will be taken up Monday, is going to be quite heavy, including bills returned by the present Grand Jury, and, according to District Attorney Deaver, it may take three weeks to dispose of the docket.

The Grand Jury was recessed the latter part of last week and will probably be reconvened next week, for additional inquiry into several matters.

The Jurymen who have been notified to appear Monday for next week's proceedings are as follows:

T. J. Dunbar, G. M. Bass, W. C. Dickey, Leon Ballard, W. F. McElrath, J. R. Hanvey, B. J. Ellerd, J. S. Ballard, Z. A. Moore, T. A. Paulsel, Leo Hendricks and G. C. Dickson, all of Memphis.

M. I. Alexander, M. E. Drake, B. H. Noel, O. E. Beavers, B. F. Cope and R. D. Hall, of Lakeview.

HOPKINS HEADS WORK RELIEF DRIVE

Permanent CCC With Smaller Personnel Is New Policy

HYDE PARK, Sept. 13.—President Roosevelt announced orders today for the Works Progress Administration under Hopkins to take over the work relief drive until the Public Works program under Ickes reaches a greater volume of employment. Ickes and Hopkins are reported satisfied with the orders.

The President said that the program provided for six weeks with $85,000,000 additional for direct relief, and added that the bulk of the remaining $1,250,000,000 to be spent in the next four months would go for temporary jobs, although consideration would be given permanent projects.

He also announced a new policy of establishing the Civilian Conservation Corps as a permanent organization, with a decreased enrollment.

For rehabilitation and housing, he said he expected corporate entities to be formed to provide for repayment to the government for homes built by the government.

PEP SQUAD AND DRUM CORPS IS ORGANIZED TO LIVEN UP GAMES

YOUNG FISH TO BROOKHOLLOW LAKE

Over 100 girls in high school answered the first call for pep squad registration Wednesday, according to W. C. Davis, superintendent of the city schools.

Mrs. Carl Periman is sponsor of the organization, and she is laying plans to have the biggest and best pep squad ever produced at the local school.

A new unit is being added to the pep squad this year in the form of a drum corps. The drum corps will consist of 24 pieces, directed by Miss Mary Foreman. Members of the drum brigade will be outfitted in striking new uniforms. The drums used will be the property of the high school.

Complete new uniforms of a serviceable yet attractive design are being planned for the girls' pep squad. The squad will be furnished free transportation to all of the football games away from home as well as at home. Mr. Davis said.

Mrs. Periman is already planning for an elaborate dedication ceremony to be given here on the night of October 4, when the new Cyclone Football stadium will be dedicated. Lefors, one of the strongest clubs in the conference, will be met here on that night.

Transfer Made From Breeding Ponds To Main Lake

David Hudgins, "Os" Maddox and the caretaker of Brookhollow Country Club have finished draining the breeding ponds at the lake, and have transferred the small fish from the hatcheries to the lake.

There was approximately 3,200 crappie in the spawning ponds and only 500 bass, Hudgins said. This was a far less number of fish than was expected from the ponds.

Arrangements are being made at the club lake for the trapping this winter of raccoons. According to several members of the club, coons have been stealing all of the young bull frogs around the lake, and none of the members has had a good mess of frog legs to eat. Thousands of raccoon tracks have been seen on the shores of the lake.

McAdoo to Marry San Diego Girl

SAN DIEGO, Sept. 13.—Senator William Gibbs McAdoo and Miss Doris Cross, 26, daughter of Mrs. Nellie Cross, of San Diego, will be married tomorrow afternoon at the home of the Senator's daughter in Washington, Mrs. Cross said today. The announcement of the engagement was also made at the Senator's office in Washington. His associates said he had seldom been seen with Miss Cross, who is a public health nurse.

McAdoo has been married twice. His second wife, now divorced, was Eleanor Wilson, daughter of President Wilson.

Brice Schools Are Now Open

Brice's school system held its formal opening services yesterday morning with Miss Vera Gilreath, county school superintendent, present and giving an opening address.

Rev. Gattis, Lakeview, gave a talk, and Ed Todd of Brice told of a trip to New Jersey. He also gave a musical number on the program.

Brice school authorities yesterday declared their intentions of sending every eligible student in that community to the Tri-State Fair in Amarillo on Sept. 21.

Auto Safety Suggestions

BACKING OUT

Many a crushed fender results from the failure of motorists to use the proper caution when backing out from a parking place, and many a citizen has had to leap wildly aside to prevent being hit by a car which suddenly swings back from the curb.

Remember that when you're backing out from the curb, you are handicapped in two ways. Your vision is usually cut off by the cars on each side of you, and your car is in reverse, when your vision is not good at its best.

Before backing out, sound your horn briefly, then come out slow, at least until you can see back down the street, pausing momentarily until you see that the street behind you is clear. Then some on out at a moderate speed.

When parked in the center parking spaces on the square, never go out forward, even if there is no car parked opposite you. This is a dangerous practice and strictly unlawful.

In backing out, always use even more care than ever, because your car is much harder to control while in reverse and your vision is impaired.

Plan Trip To Amarillo

According to Director W. C. Milam of the Gold Medal Band, final arrangements are being made for the trip of the band and Hall County school children, to the Amarillo Tri-State Fair, on Saturday, September 21st.

Approval of both the Memphis school board and the County School Board has been secured for the plan to take at least 500 school children to the fair, using county school buses for transportation. Other local boards are now being contacted, and it is thought that all will be in accord with the plan.

It will be a wonderful opportunity for the children, and every school child possible should make the trip. They will be taken to Amarillo and back in the buses, and will be under the supervision of several of the school authorities during the entire outing.

HULL'S APPEAL ENDORSED BY PRESIDENT

America Is Definitely Neutral If War Declared

The latest developments in the Italo-Ethiopian crisis are as follows:

President Roosevelt announced his thorough endorsement of Secretary of State Hull's appeal for adherence by quarreling countries overseas to the Kellogg peace pact, and expressed concern over the situation.

The President also made it very clear that America would remain definitely neutral in the event war is declared.

France's support of the League of Nations covenant and her attitude that financial economic sanctions would be necessary if Italy attacks Ethiopia was indicated today in Paris and Geneva.

In a speech before the League, Premier Laval demanded the enforcement of the covenant. French officials say that means France will impose sanctions on aggressive nations in the event of war.

Italy continued troop movements toward East Africa.

Emperor Selassie ordered mobilization of 75 per cent of government employes.

Secretary Hull's statement was received in Rome with the attitude that Ethiopia had already violated the Kellogg pact.

Italian naval maneuvers in the Mediterranean have resulted in representations by the Greek government that Italian warships had entered Greek waters without permission.

Held for Murder, Released on Bond

WESTCHESTER, Pa., Sept. 13.—Henry H. Rogers, Jr. and William Kelly, arrested in connection with the fatal shooting of torch-singer Evelyn Hoey, were released today under $2500 bond each.

As the law debated whether to charge him with murder, Rogers moaned in his cell "Give me a gun to kill myself, too", he cried when officers found the body of the girl in a bedroom of his farm home near here. Today he was near hysteria.

Importance of School Health

AUSTIN, Sept. 13.—The beginning of another school year is near at hand. The weeks have provided for school children the opportunity for mental rest and relaxation; they have likewise made for physical growth and development. Thousands of boys and girls will advance to a higher grade as they turn toward the schoolhouse. In addition, a new group of children, escorted by parents or older children, will be entering school for the first time.

The years spent in school represent training for life work. Such training accomplishes most when administered to pupils and students with clear minds and sound bodies. Moreover, this training must go on without serious interruption. Other things being equal, the school with a fine record for attendance is more apt to approach a high standard of education than the school with poor enrollment due to avoidable disease, declared Dr. John W. Brown, State Health Officer.

It is unfortunate from any standpoint when children are absent from school because of illness; doubly so when sickness is due to preventable causes. No school need have its attendance record shattered because an outbreak of smallpox or diphtheria. Parents in increasing number are having their children safeguarded against these diseases in the first year of life. Likewise, through child health conferences, for preschool children, more and more attention is being given to work of immunization against preventable diseases and to the correction of dental and other remediable physical defects. Such measures will go far toward assuring good health and regular attendance throughout the period of school life. See your physician about diphtheria and smallpox immunization.

School Assembly

This morning's assembly period at the High School featured a very enjoyable program, and was one of the best yet held in the present term. Both teachers and students entering into the occasion with a splendid school spirit.
 The musical part of the program of piano duos was introduced by Mrs. Marion McNeely. Valse Op 38, by Durand, and original arrangements of several popular numbers were played by Miss Nell McNeely, student of W.T.S.T.C., at the first piano, and R. E. Martin, Jr., High School Senior at the second piano.
 In response to demands for an encore, the two responded with "When I Grow Too Old to Dream" and "A Latin From Manhattan."
 The program, conducted by Principal Gore, gave a general working setup for the school year, with explanations of the many things planned for the best interests of the schools.
 Superintendent Davis spoke on the splendid school spirit which is already manifesting itself. He paid particular attention to the 82 students from other districts who are attending the local schools. He said that the Memphis schools were proud to number them among the student body, and that he trusted the students themselves were glad to be with the schools.

PERILOUS HOPS OUT, STATES FLYER

Kingsford-Smith Says Satisfied With Present Fame

CHICAGO, Sept. 13.—Sir Charles Kingsford-Smith, Australia's ace of the airways, is through with thrills and from now on his air jaunts will be "just sissy flights."
 Conqueror of two hemispheres by air, he isn't wasting any sorrow over the fact that there aren't any more to span in his Lady Southern Cross.
 "My wife wants me to settle down, and it looks like I'm going to," he said when he arrived here by train.
 Discounts Flight Perils
 A moment later he explained that he intended to fly the Lady Southern Cross from London to Melbourne, Australia, a flight which impressed his listeners as being packed with danger and daring.

 "No, I wouldn't say that," he said. "It's more or less of a sissy flight, and I'm flying because it seems to be the most convenient means of getting there."
 The Lady Southern Cross, now in a hanger at Burbank, Cal., will be shipped across the Atlantic to London by boat.
 Interested in Air Mail
 Sir Charles said that his interest at present isn't concerned with new achievements of daring, but with the establishing of regular commercial trans-Pacific air service.
 "The policy of the British Empire is to carry all first class mail by air by the end of 1937," he explained.
 "Mail traffic between Australia and New Zealand totals four tons a week. I hope to land the contract for the Auckland-Sidney link of 1,350 miles. Then I'd be satisfied to leave the spectacular flights to others."
 The death of Wiley Post, Sir Charles said, was a serious loss to the progress of American aviation.

Army Will Miss Backfield Ace in Its Lineup of 1935

HENRY SUFER
Staff Correspondent
St. Louis, Mo. — Having their first victory over the Army last season, the U. S. Naval Academy is hoping that they will continue their domination on Nov. 30 as training for the coming campaign.
The team, which lost only two games in 1934, will be a combination of the "Buz" Borries, halfback; Slade Cutler, who kicked the field goals; and other players who gave the Army their most brilliant performance in 1934.
The backfield, weakened by the loss of Borries and Clark, is Hamilton's chief worry. The line is strong, bulwarked in the middle with veterans headed by Captain Lou Robertshaw, of Haverford, Pa., Hutchins, Brown and Fincher.

Strong at Guard Positions

At guard, the sailors are the strongest in years. Dave Zabriski, who made several All-Eastern teams last year, heads seven prospective candidates. Wye and Ferrera, who saw some action last season, head the group of tackle aspirants, which includes Sloan and Lynch, two powerful stars from the 1934 plebe team.

There are a host of candidates for end positions, with Bull, the team's drop kick expert, and Bringer possible first-stringers.

Dick Pratt and Tommy King, the pass defense ace, probably will be the nucleus of the backfield, with several promising candidates available from the "A" squad and last year's plebe eleven.

Yale Added to Schedule

Navy's schedule, which includes one game on a Thursday — that with Virginia on Oct. 10, commemorating the 90th anniversary of the Naval Academy—follows:

Sept. 28, William and Mary; Oct. 5, Mercer; Oct. 10, Virginia; Oct. 19, Yale, at New Haven; Oct. 26, Notre Dame, at Baltimore; Nov. 2, Princeton, at Princeton; Nov. 9, Penn., at Philadelphia; Nov. 16, Columbia; Nov. 30, Army, at Philadelphia.

Yale and Mercer are the only newcomers. They replace Pittsburgh and Washington and Lee. The Navy-Yale meeting will be the first between the two teams in 34 years.

Childress Takes Chillicothe Team

Scoring in the first minute of play, the Childress High Bobcats crushed a light Chillicothe Eagle eleven last night in Childress to the tune of 52-0 and gave fans of this section their first glimpse of high school football this year.

Carl Lanningham, Childress back, took an Eagle punt and galloped 55 yards to score in the opening minute of play to send Childress on their touchdown parade. From then on they had the game well in hand.

Childress registered 18 first downs to five for Chillicothe and gained 353 yards from scrimmage to 122 for the Eagles.

Coach Chesty Walker, Memphis grid mentor, refereed the game.

If war fever dies down another time, the world should be in better shape next year; in fact it should achieve a perfect '36.

According to the Ohio college professor, Europeans could have served the world war never ended. The African dispute, then, will be a war to end war.

The BLUE DOOR

by Rachel Mack © 1935 NEA Service, Inc.

BEGIN HERE TODAY
RUTH WOODSON, 19 years old and an orphan, leaves Brooklyn by bus for the mid-west to look for a job. Unable to pay her fare, she is put off the bus in the town of Worthville, just as a storm is breaking. She seeks shelter in a huge old stone house with a blue door, and faints from hunger just as the door is opened by the old housekeeper, BERTHA GIBBS, whom she later learns to call "PENNY."

Ruth is carried upstairs by the old woman, assisted by JOHN McNEILL, from next door. The half-blind old woman mistakes Ruth for ELAINE CHALMERS, whose grandfather built the house, and who is now at college in the east.

Ruth is ashamed of her deception and resolves to leave, but agrees to stay longer when Penny tells her that tomorrow is her 75th birthday and pleads with Ruth to make a longer visit. Ruth has fallen in love with John McNeill and is eager to stay. She is not dismayed by the fact that old Bertha seems slightly "off" on the subject of the blue door, which, for some mysterious reason she paints afresh "every quarter-moon."

John is uneasy about the girl being alone in the house with the queer old woman but Ruth assures him she is not afraid. She says to him, "Please keep on worrying about me. I don't need it but I like it."

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XIII
 An immense stone building, across whose windows iron bars kept guard perpetually. This was the thing the man at the flower-beds hated with a consuming hatred—his home.

Along the gaveled walks a party of visitors was being conducted by a guard—men and women carrying open notebooks and ever-soiled fountain pens or pencils. They asked questions and wrote down the guard's answers avidly, consulting each other as they wrote, chattering, looking alertly around, sometimes laughing.

Laughing! The man who bent over the flower-beds gritted his teeth in hatred of all the laughter on earth.

As the party went on its way and entered the jaws of the grim building his hatred followed them. Yet the process did not ease his heart. There was more hatred with his notes. He wrote down a description of the gate and its defense. No one was more absorbed than he.

When the gate presently clinged behind them his knees felt suddenly weak and the breath of his body too light to support him.

A few cars were parked outside, but most of the crowd—there were perhaps 50 in all—moved toward a street car which was waiting on a switch. The car bore the sign: "CHARTERED. NORMAL SCHOOL."

Mr. Smith, still midway of the crowd, boarded the street car. He sat down in a vacant seat beside a woman who looked a little tired and vague. Presently the motorman changed his bell and they moved off. Mr. Smith looked over his notes.

"Did you see that?" he asked the woman. "The vague woman addressed me in a troubled way. 'Did you see that?'"

"Yes and no," replied Mr. Smith guardedly.

The woman said, "I feel that wry, too. I suppose a lot of these people feel as if they know all there is to know about the criminally insane, just from this one Mr. Smith frowned. 'That is utter conceit,' he answered. 'No one understands the criminally insane. Not even the doctors. The greatest fools on earth are your good psychiatrists. And when they're not good, but scheming quacks they're devils instead of fools.'

"Would you care if I'd write that down?" asked the untidy little woman earnestly.

"Not at all," Mr. Smith assured her, and watched with satisfaction as she did it.

She said then, "I'd appreciate any other conclusions you could give me. This course in abnormal psychology is difficult for me. Which type of insanity, for instance, do you consider most dangerous?"

Mr. Smith replied thoughtfully, "Not your dementia-praeceox case because his condition is usually very evident. He shows his mental disintegration. I'd say a certain type of paranoia is most to be feared because he's often an intelligent person with a screw loose. He has a delusion. He nurses it and weaves his life around it, sometime secretly. On the other hand, some people who seem insane are not insane at all but merely neurotic. Their emotions get the upper hand. All of us," he added after a pause, "are potential killers. We need only the right state of health and of external conditions to bring it out."

There was more hatred gave her a fairly accurate account of the lives of those who dwelt behind the walls he had just quitted. "I don't recall what he said about the violent cases," he added. "Those, I believe, are treated either as invalids or hardened criminals. Padded cells. Solitary confinement. That sort of thing—" and thanked him. "I'm ever so grateful to you," she said.

Mr. Smith noticed that everyone was getting ready to get off the car which had stopped before an institution, this one without walls or guards. It was the Normal School.

Mr. Smith got off with the crowd, paying his dime as he did so. His hand touched a billfold in his pocket gratefully. There would not be the dread of money that most fugitives had to face. "Good old Bertha Gibbs!" he thought. "How long since she sold that bond for me?"

He could not only know the safe in his pocket there for a long time and brain were from the tension. He thought, "I'll steamer for South course, but first I'll around a bit. They for me in railway ship offices. I've time—"

He saw that thinning. Those in the street could not follow he remain standing noticed the sign on his moved "CHARTERED SCHOOL" and "CROSS TOWN OF LINE."

P. T. A.
 SINCE the inauguration of the New Deal in national affairs, people have become initial conscious, and speak fluently of matters connected with the AAA, the NRA, the XYZ, or what have you.

There is one organization, however, which for years has been known by the initials of the words in its name, and which predated the New Deal by many years.

That is the P. T. A.—the Parent-Teachers Association.

The P.T.A. is an organization of school teachers and patrons, and its purpose is to further the advancement of the public school system in every way possible.

To do their work in the most efficient manner, the schools must have the co-operation of the school patrons, and here is where P.T.A. steps in. Without interfering with the conduct of the schools by the properly constituted faculty, the organization stands squarely behind the schools, lending its aid in the carrying out of the policies promulgated by the school board and faculty.

Memphis is fortunate in having not only one efficient P.T.A. organization, but three—the West Ward, the Junior High, and the Senior High Parent-Teachers Association, and each of them is an up-and-coming group which vies with the others in the matter of bettering our schools.

Tonight at the High School, a meeting of the three groups is to be held, and a number of interesting and worth-while features will be on the program.

Every citizen of Memphis who is interested in our schools, whether the parent of a school child or not, should make it a point to attend this meeting.

Lend your aid to the P.T.A., which lends its aid to the faculty of our schools—to the end that Memphis may be known far and wide as the home of one of the most modern and progressive public school systems in the Southwest, if not the nation.

ARKANSAS WILL AID IN OUR SHOW

Both Will Celebrate Centennials This Coming Year

DALLAS, Sept. 13.—Texas and Arkansas will work hand in hand during 1936 to sell the commercial possibilities of the Southwest to the rest of the nation. It will be Centennial year for both states and the Arkansas Centennial Committee and the officials of the Texas Centennial Exposition will cooperate in every way possible for their mutual benefit. Harvey Couch of Pine Bluff, Chairman of the Executive Committee in charge of the Arkansas Centennial celebration, recently visited Dallas for a conference with Walter D. Cline, Managing Director of the $15,000,000 Exposition which opens next June. It was agreed that maps and literature issued by the Arkansas Centennial authorities should note Dallas as the Texas Centennial Exposition site and feature the highways of Texas leading to the Mexican border. In return, the Texas Centennial Exposition will, in its literature, comment on the Arkansas Centennial celebration and feature Arkansas as being on the logical route to Dallas and Texas from the North and East. The Arkansas celebration is statewide during 1936 but will have no central exposition.

"Arkansas and Texas are bound together historically and commercially," says Walter D. Cline. "It will benefit both to coordinate their Centennial efforts."

Tri-State Fair Mecca Of Musical Groups Next Week

AMARILLO, Sept. 13.—Bands by the score, from far and near, will come here next week for the Tri-State Fair, which opens this Saturday.

Definite schedules already have been received by the exposition management from 19 delegations. Shamrock's green-and-white clad band will be in the vanguard, arriving Monday, to share honors with the Amarillo High School Band.
