Weaver Elected District Governor At ABC Parley

American Business Club delegates from the Eighth District selected R. H. Weaver, Big Spring, as their new district governor and picked Odessa as the 1955 meeting site.

Weaver won the post in a spirited contest. Chuck Hawkins, Lubbock, was chosen as first lieutenant governor of the district, and Hugh Gatlin, Amarillo, was elected second lieutenant governor. Weaver will appoint a district secretary-treasurer at a later date.

Groundwork for possible participation in a speech corrective program, as an adjunct to the national project of aiding young victims of cerebral palsy, was laid here Saturday.

ABC members broke precedent by admitting members of the women's auxiliary to business sessions in order to hear a speech from Oklahoma Women's College at Chickasha present a proposal.

Heading the group was Dr. Charles D. Proctor, president of the college. He was accompanied by John Harris, director for corrective speech, and Bob Parks, governor of the Sixth District, and Orville George, pilot.

Parks proposed that districts Six and Eight raise approximately $5,000, which would be the equivalent of $5 per capita, for a corrective speech fund. This would entitle each club to send two youngsters to the Oklahoma school for corrective work, and a teacher prospect for intensive training in the field. He demonstrated results dramatically by playing before and after recordings. Action on the

Reviewing The Big Spring Week

With Joe Pickle

Notwithstanding a dry birth occasioned by unrelenting drought, spring was popping out all over at the end of the week. Temperatures were pushing up to the upper 80s and for a change winds had subsided mainly to zephyrs. Spanish daisies were sending up their flowers spikes; bitter weeds and scrambled eggs gave a dash of gold to borrow ditches and pasture flats. Here and there wild verbena added a dash of lavender. Filarex was all but completely where it had prostrated in prayer for rain... but still it held on for that rain that must come.

A musical treat, at no charge to you, is in store for those who turn out Monday evening for the Cisco Junior College "Jubilee" at the city auditorium. Couden and Howard County Junior College are teaming to bring the 40-voice choir here as a public service. By the way, call George McAlester today or HCJC Monday if you can give the visiting collegians overnight lodging.

Another of those sure signs of spring was the sound of hickory against horsehide out at Steer Park. In addition to high school and junior college baseballers, Pepper Martin last week rallied his Broncs to begin training for the Longhorn League season. Fans seemed to like what they saw at first glimpse, maybe no world beater but a hustling club.

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce paid a fitting tribute to J. H. (Jimmie) Greene, our Chamber of Commerce manager, in naming him one of four top West Texans at the regional party last week. When he gets a few more gray hairs and a few more years, we'll refer to him as the grand "old" man of Chamber of Commerce work.

French Planning A Spectacular Evacuation Try

By LARRY ALLEN
HANOI, Indochina, April 3 (AP)—The French clung grimly, without further retreat, to their battered Dien Bien Phu fortress tonight and announced a spectacular attempt would be made to evacuate their wounded by plane Monday.

Gen. Henri Navarre, commander of French Union forces in Indochina, said he planned to land mercy planes, marked with the Red Cross, on Dien Bien Phu's shell pocked airfield about noon Monday while a planeload of neutral observers and newsmen of the international press corps watched the operation from the air.

The landing will be made, he said, after the Communist-led Vietminh forces have been advised by Col. Christian de Castries, the Dien Bien Phu commander of the exact time of the operation.

French guns at the fortress 175 miles west of Hanoi will fall silent at the time, except at points where attacks are in active progress and the sky will be swept clear of all other planes, Gen. Navarre said. He recalled that the Vietminh had failed to reply to his March 27 appeal for a cease-fire on mercy planes.

The neutral observers, he added, will assure that the Red Cross-marked planes carry no supplies into Dien Bien Phu—only medical corpsmen and crews.

Among dignitaries here for the meeting were Jess C. Colbert, Huntington, W. Va., national president; Hal Edinburgh, Danville, Ill., national executive secretary; Russell Glenn, Odessa, national first vice president; George Zachariah, president of the Big Spring club, headed the host committees in receiving delegates from Odessa, Lubbock, Amarillo and Dallas as well as Big Spring.

At Benevides, an extremely light figure representing possibly no more than one-tenth of the potential, was cast.

Little time will be lost in swearing in the new members.

The board of trustees previously had set the April meeting up for Tuesday when returns could be canvassed and the top two candidates could be qualified for membership.

Also taking leave from the board will be H. W. Smith, like Miller a veteran trustee. Hold-over trustees include Dewey Martin, Clyde Angel, Dan Conley, R. E. McKinney, and John Dibreil.

One of the first problems to face the new members and other board members is a major building program. Contracts were let Friday on 24 additional elementary classrooms. In the matter of weeks bids will be received for a new Lakeview school in the Negro neighborhood of northwest Big Spring. Together they involve about half a million dollars.

Deats, Phillips, Adams Elected To HCJC Board

Thompson And Jones On City School Board

Omar Jones, building contractor, and R. W. Thompson, vice president of Couden Petroleum Corp., were elected trustees of the Big Spring Independent School District in balloting Saturday.

Close behind in the field of three candidates for two vacancies was Dick Simpson.

Jones, who is a graduate of the school system he now will serve as trustee, polled 330 votes. Thompson had 321 and Simpson 282.

There were write-in votes for Marvin Miller, board president who is retiring after the end of his term on Tuesday, Truett Thomas, Dr. C. E. Thomas Jr., and Jack Pearson.

A total of 495 votes, an extremely light figure representing possibly no more than one-tenth of the potential, was cast.

Little time will be lost in swearing in the new members.

FOR DROUGHT RELIEF

Area Group To Ask Liberalized Loans

STANTON, (SC) — At a four-county meeting held here Saturday a committee was appointed to immediately communicate with Congressman George Jahn to determine what steps it will be necessary to take to liberalize drought loans made farmers through the Farmer's Home Administration so as to give them an increase in the allotted living allowances.

The meeting was sponsored by the Chambers of Commerce at Stanton, Lamesa, Midland and Big Spring and was attended by about 20 bankers, businessmen and Chamber of Commerce officials from these cities.

A second meeting is planned in the future to receive reports from those who attended Saturday's conference after they have had an opportunity to travel over their respective counties and areas to observe drought conditions and to talk with farmers and country merchants.

It was also proposed that a request be made that FHA loans be rewritten so that the farmers approved for them will be granted a large enough loan to pay up bills which have accumulated, and which they have not been able to liquidate because of the drought which is starting in its fourth year. The assumption of these debts would cover only those incurred for such necessities as clothing, fuel, gasoline, food, medicines and items of that nature, it was stipulated.

Country merchants and merchants in the cities whose business is derived principally from farm sources, have said they have extended credit about as far as their operating capital will enable them to go. They have pointed out that they gave this credit to enable farmers to stay on their farms when adequate government loans were not available for the purpose, and that the FIA will underwrite these obligations it will enable them to continue to support their regular farmer customers with further credit which will otherwise be impossible.

The matter of the distribution of surplus commodities was brought before the meeting and discussed.

Contracts Let On School Job

Big Spring School trustees awarded contracts Friday afternoon for construction of a new elementary school and additions to two others. Contracts were extended to low bidders which were determined at the opening on Wednesday.

The general construction contract went to W. E. Abbott Jr., of Lubbock on a bid of $187,484. A. F. Kasch and Son of Big Spring got the contract for plumbing and heating, while D&H Electric Co. of Big Spring was awarded contract for electrical work on bid of $11,721.

Kasch's bid was $29,011. This, however, is due to be increased by approximately $2,700 following a decision by the board to change specifications on heating units for the classrooms. The original plans called for two-room forced draft gas heating units. The board decided Friday to change to single units of the same type for each room. This will permit each room to set its own temperature, while the previous plan would have made it necessary for one thermostat to control the heat in two rooms.

Hale Is Named County Trustee For New Term

Voters Saturday apparently named Dr. C. W. Deats, Edgar Phillips and Charles M. Adams as trustees for the Howard County Junior College.

J. A. Jolly was close behind on the complete but unofficial returns. Dr. Deats received 411 votes, according to returns from Big Spring, Coahoma, Forsan and Knott, the four polling places for the junior college county-wide district. Edgar Phillips was next with 324 and Charles Adams next with 274. J. A. Jolly polled 250, Ralph White 214 and Richard Clifton 188.

H. T. Hale apparently was back for another term as county trustee-at-large. He had received 98 votes in the Coahoma, Forsan and Knott boxes, and there were no votes for any others.

Jolly ran second on the HCJC ticket in Big Spring, but Adams picked up strength in the rural boxes to ease out front.

Phillips and Adams are both incumbents. Dr. Deats will replace Leroy Echols, Coahoma, one of the original members of the board and who did not stand for re-election.

This is not Dr. Deats' first entry into a public place, for he served on the city commission. His father, the late L. T. Deats, was an early trustee in the Big Spring school system and was also mayor of the city.

Phillips has extensive farm operations north of Big Spring and last year was named the best conservation farmer in the Martin-Howard Soil Conservation District.

Adams was a long time resident of Forsan and is well known in Big Spring. He has resided in Howard County most of his life.

Barnett, Grissom, Tate Are Elected To Forsan Board

FORSAN — Frank C. Tate, Harry Barnett and E. A. Grissom were elected to the Forsan Independent School District board of trustees in light voting Saturday.

They were the only candidates named on the ballot. Tate received 39 votes, Barnett polled 36 and Grissom received 34. Write-ins went to L. T. Shoults, 5, and W. J. White, 3.

Hunt For Tot's Body On California Beach

HERMOSA BEACH, Calif., April 3 (AP)—The John McDonalds wandered, distraught, in their fenced-in back yard today as the search continued for the body of their baby, believed to have toddled to his death in pounding surf near their oceanfront home.

It was from the same back yard that 19-month-old Mike apparently escaped yesterday and made his way to the beach.

Members of the family said the McDonalds have about given up hope and it is "pretty well settled in their minds" that Mike drowned.

"Mike could swim in his bathtub when he was only six months old," Mrs. McDonald recalled. "He forgot how later, but every time he got loose he headed for the water. He loved it."

After a sedative-induced sleep the McDonalds visited the beach today, but mostly they wandered in the back yard.

Yesterday they stayed until nightfall, McDonald combing the beach restlessly for some sign of his son's body. He had to be restrained by his wife and county police, at times, from plunging into the waves.

While swimmers nearby took advantage of a sunny day, crewmen of a county rescue boat dragged for the body today and in beyond the surf.

Beverly Murdock, 22, said she had seen the youngster floating in seaweed yesterday and ran six blocks to police headquarters to report it.

At Benevides, a complete count showed incumbent board members with a better than 2-1 majority over rival Freedom Party candidates.

The count at Freer was incomplete and not expected to be known until nearly midnight.

But Parr said: "It's going as expected. The only question in my mind had been how much strength my opponents had gained."

He said he believed as the vote was counted at Freer, the ballots would be in his favor.

Freedom Party members said they were pleased at the showing they had made.

Texas Rangers patrolled voting booths as crowds turned out. There were no election day incidents.

Parr's Ticket Still Out Front

SAN DIEGO, Tex., April 3 (AP)—George B. Parr apparently is still top-man in the rough and tumble politics of Duval County.

Parr-backed candidates were out in front by a comfortable margin in a school board election in the Benavides Independent school district.

The stakes were small: three seats on the board. But the election was the first to be held here since state and federal agencies and citizens groups rose up to challenge the rule of the "Duke of Duval."

It was billed as "test of Parr's political strength."

Car Tag Sale For County Hits 12,000

More than 12,000 motor vehicle and trailer licenses had been issued at the county tag office Saturday, and requests for 1954 registrations still were coming in steadily.

No accurate count on the number of registrations is available as yet, but the total will include more than 9,000 passenger cars, around 1,500 commercial vehicles, nearly 700 farm trucks, more than 150 truck-trailers, about 400 trailers, 20 house trailers, and nearly 100 motorcycles and scooters.

The demand for license plates continued steady Friday and Saturday, although vehicles had to have new tags for operation after April 1.

Few penalties were being assessed for late registration. Deputies in the tax office said the penalties are assessed only when owner says the vehicle has been operated since April 1 without license.

Clerks said the applications for car registrations were handled more rapidly this year than in the past, chiefly because six lines could be formed in the new courthouse. In the old building last year, only four clerks could work at a time due to the shortage of space.

More cars were registered at the substation at 18th and Main this year than last, also, helping to relieve the load at the tax office.

Britain, U. S. Ask Early Session Of Disarmament Unit

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., April 3 (AP)—The United States and Britain called today for an early meeting of the 12-nation U.N. Disarmament Commission which is empowered to deal with the A-bomb, H-bomb and conventional disarmament questions.

U. S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. delivered a note to the U.N. addressed to T. T. Tsiang, Nationalist Chinese delegate and chairman of the commission for April.

A similar note was delivered by the British.

There was no direct link between the call for the meeting and the recent talks held by U. S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and Soviet Ambassador Georgi Zarinin in Washington, one source said.

The 11 members of the Security Council — including Russia — plus Canada are members of the commission.

Sen. Capehart (R-Ind), chairman of the Senate Banking Committee, noted that the Senate always has taken the lead in annual public housing fights between the two branches. He expressed belief this year would be no different and said: "I'd guess we'll have a public housing program in the Senate."

Capehart's committee handles all housing legislation. Sen. Maybank (D-SC), a leading public housing proponent, is pushing an amendment which would authorize a total of around 630,000 new units with a maximum of 200,000 in any one year. This is the same pro-

Attlee Takes Reins To Reduce British Hydrogen Bomb Scare

By TOM OCHILTREE
 LONDON, April 3 (AP)—Clement Attlee held a tight rein on the Labor party today in what political informants said was an effort to prevent hydrogen bomb fears from being exploited to harm British-American relations.

Former Prime Minister Attlee has also talked his fellow Laborites out of launching a full scale assault on the prestige of his aging political rival—Prime Minister Churchill.

This unusual political situation has developed out of the U.S. H-bomb tests in the Pacific which have caused concern to all sections of the British public.

In the House of Commons debate on the H-bomb Monday the Laborites will not seek to censure Churchill's government. Instead they will ask the Prime Minister to try to arrange a Churchill-Eisenhower-Malenkov meeting on the subject.

Attlee will open Monday's debate. Churchill will follow him. Political writers believe Churchill will agree—when the time is ripe—for Britain to take the initiative in suggesting a Big Three meeting on thermonuclear problems.

The 71-year-old opposition leader won the Laborites over to a moderate approach at a party caucus Thursday night. Persons present said Attlee delivered the speech of his life.

The meeting was closed, but newspapers carried reports Attlee had said "we are not going to make party capital out of this issue." He said the party must avoid the temptation to embarrass the government.

The censure motion originally sought by left wing Laborites would have called for the halting of further American hydrogen bomb tests. It would have forced a debate in which British-American relations would be an issue.

Attlee's call for restraint appeared to strike a responsive cord even among Aneurin Bevan's left wing Laborites and the party's pacifist bloc.

As newspapers and pictures told of the awesome force of American H-bombs, these undertones developed both in Parliament and outside:

1. There was a fear that Britain, now closely allied to the United States and highly vulnerable geographically, had lost control of her own fate.
2. There were suggestions—later categorically denied from Washington—that the scientists engaged in the tests had unleashed forces beyond their control.

JUDGE HAPPY TO GIVE HELP

DETROIT, April 3 (AP)—A judge solved 39-year-old Ellis Woodhead's unemployment problems today.

Woodhead lost his job as a janitor in the Wayne County Jail Friday when he completed a 90-day sentence on a drunk charge.

He appeared before Judge John Ricca today on another drunk charge and asked to be returned to jail for another 45 days.

"I really like my job over there," he told Ricca.

Sheriff's deputies liked Woodhead's work. They asked that he be given a 60-day sentence.

Judge Ricca agreed and Woodhead beamed.

Reports On Cancer Bring Few Changes In Smoking Habits

Local retailers and wholesalers say that the "Cigarette cancer scare" has not affected cigarette sales in Big Spring.

However some dealers say that the filter-tip cigarettes are now selling in greater quantity than before, with a slight cut-back on the regular brands.

Most indicated that there has been no change in sales, with the popular brands still selling as fast as ever.

"One out of every three packs we sell here contains filter-tip cigarettes," one dealer said. "Before there were very few filter-tip cigarettes sold."

Dealers said that the theory of cigarettes causing cancer has caused quite a bit of conversation but little action. "Most people who were smoking before are still going strong," one merchant said.

Establishments selling filtered holders for cigarettes report that there has been no noticeable increase in sale of the holders.

McCarthy At Crossroads Of His Furious Career

By RELMAN MORIN
 WASHINGTON, April 3 (AP)—One of the great controversies in America today whirled about the figure of a burly, dark-haired man—Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy—and the effects of his one-man-gang method of searching for Communists in government, the Army, and industry.

It is only four years since McCarthy, from a platform in Wheeling, West Va., held up a sheet of paper and said, "I have here in my hand a list..."

He told listeners it contained the names of known Communists working in the State Department. He said these people were shaping, or helping to shape, American foreign policy at a time when the Western democracies, led by the United States, were locked in desperate struggle with the forces of international communism.

Between that date, Feb. 9, 1950, and today, McCarthy has become a national issue. The inclusive term for the man and his work, McCarthyism, has become a common term and he proudly accepts it.

His charge that day—that the American government was cancerous with Reds and subversives—touched off a chain-reaction blast of controversy. It stirred great passion, cast a shadow over the reputations of many men, encouraged the informer, brought such terms as "guilt-by-association" into the consciousness of a startled and frequently bewildered citizenry.

Today, nobody knows the size of his following. Nor can the dimensions of his opposition be gauged with any certainty. He is the object of intense admiration and fierce hostility.

But the evidence is strong that the Wisconsin Red-hunter has reached a crossroads in his furious career and that now he is confronted by forces of restraint stretching from the White House through both the Republican and Democratic leadership.

The turning-point speculation developed out of McCarthy's reverberating collision with the United States Army.

He had extended to the Army his investigation of Communist-infiltration. At a closed hearing, the rough-tongued Brig. Gen. Ralph T. Zwicker, a much-decorated combat officer. He told Zwicker he was unfit to command and, by implication, unfit to wear the uniform of his country.

Even some powerful newspapers that usually support McCarthy rebuked him for this.

Secretary of Defense Charles Wilson said "tommyrot" to McCarthy's claim that the Army was "coddling" Reds. Secretary of the Army Robert T. Stevens heatedly told McCarthy he would not countenance having Army officers "abused" and "browbeaten."

Shortly afterward, the Army—evidently with the President's knowledge—issued a report that carried the fight into McCarthy's office.

It asserted that Roy Cohn, the senator's young, fast-talking chief counsel, and at times the senator himself, had attempted to use McCarthy's influence to obtain special treatment for G. David Schine, a draftee. Schine had been an unpaid consultant in McCarthy's office before he was taken into the Army.

McCarthy and Cohn not only denied this, but accused Stevens and Army Counselor John Adams of "blackmail." They said the two had tried to persuade McCarthy to break off his hearings on the Army, using Schine as a "hostage," and offering to furnish the senator with "dirt" on other branches of the armed forces. Stevens said this contention was "fantastic."

Somebody, clearly, was juggling the facts.

McCarthy's own subcommittee delegated itself to find out who. Three Republican members joined with the Democrats in refusing his request to go ahead with other investigations, pending the finish of this dispute.

But even before this impasse developed, there were indications that pressures were building up against McCarthy within his own party. Some of them—

1. The Republican National Committee—with the President's approval—bypassed McCarthy

when he demanded network time to answer a speech by Adlai Stevenson. The senator argued that he should have equivalent free television time because he had been one of Stevenson's principal targets. Instead, Vice President Nixon made the reply for the Republican party. The networks simply declined to accede to McCarthy, although he threatened them. In his reply, Nixon discussed the problem of Communists in government and took occasion to say: "Men who have in the past done effective work exposing Communists in this country have, by reckless talk and questionable method, made themselves the issue rather than the cause they believe in so deeply."

2. In a Senate speech, Sen. Ralph Flanders (R-Vt.) ridiculed McCarthy's Army hearings as having produced only "the scalp of a pink Army dentist." He said, "We may assume that this represents the depth and seriousness of Communist penetration into this country at this time."
3. The following day, in a news conference, President Eisenhower said Flanders had done "a service" in pointing the dangers of "internecine warfare."
4. People who should know describe the President's present attitude in this way: He is "fed up" with McCarthy. He is not going to speak out directly, or by name, against McCarthy. He considers this inconsistent with the dignity of his office.

Coahoma Students Complete Course

Certificates are to be presented in the next few days to 16 members of the homemaking class of Coahoma High School for successful completion of a Red Cross home nursing course.

The certificates have been ordered from the national Red Cross headquarters and will be presented as soon as they arrive, Mrs. G. G. Sawtelle, Howard - Glasscock chapter secretary, said Saturday.

To receive the certificates are Martha Camp, Faynet Graham, Joyce Hill, Deanna Hunter, Patsy Jenkins, Naths McMinn, Patsy Owens, Delores Proctor, Sandra Reid, Doris Robinson, Yonna Springfield, Elsan Findel, LaBeth Walker, Charlene Williams, Daria Woodson and Vestal Shaw.

Truancy Leads To Checks' Recovery

CLEVELAND (AP)—A 14-year-old boy cut his high school classes, and the truancy led detectives to the recovery of about $100,000 in stolen dividend checks.

The checks had been in two mail sacks taken Thursday from a Central National Bank mail truck while the driver, leaving the vehicle unlocked, had stopped for a cup of coffee.

Some of the missing checks were found on the boy when he was searched after being taken to the juvenile detention home by a truant officer.

The boy led police to his attic, where one sack was cached. He told police he found the bag lying on his back lawn.

Detectives said it appeared all the negotiable checks were accounted for. The second mail sack was still missing.

Police speculated the thieves may have thrown the bags away after the robbery.

Tarzan Group Seeks Bracero Contracts

Representatives of the Tarzan Marketing Association were to be in El Paso this weekend to arrange for the employment of an additional 30 braceros.

The TMA officials also were to secure extension of the contracts with about 50 Mexican Nationals already employed on farms of TMA members.

Employment of the additional alien workers was authorized by the Texas Employment Commission in Big Spring follow-up a labor recruiting program in Stanton Wednesday. Only two workers asked for farm employment and both were placed as a result of the advertising program, Leon Kinney, Big Spring TEC manager, said.

The Bracero contracts are made for a maximum period of six weeks.

Disaster Plan Is Talked At Session

The Red Cross disaster preparedness plan was discussed at a meeting of regional, area and local Red Cross officials here Friday.

Participating in the discussions, which dealt with coordination of Red Cross and Civil Defense disaster work, were James R. Hamilton, Sweetwater, area representative for Red Cross; Jack Bassett, St. Louis, regional official; and Jake Morgan, Douglas Orme and Mrs. G. G. Sawtelle, all of the local Red Cross chapter.

Poland Shows Mixture Of Strength And Weakness

Editor's Note — Frederick Koh, veteran foreign and Washington correspondent of the Chicago Sun-Times, recently spent two weeks in Poland. His report, "Poland: A Mixture of Strength and Weakness," is condensed from the Chicago Sun-Times by The Associated Press. Copyright 1954.

By FREDERICK KUH
An astute observer in Warsaw said a free election in Poland today would give the Communist government less than 20 per cent of the vote. This is of course an arbitrary judgment. But from talks with many scores of plain citizens, foreign ambassadors and even top Communist leaders, it seemed to me a reasonable estimate.

The people are fed up with propaganda. They are bored to death with glorification of the Soviet Union, for which millions of Poles have no love.

A prominent member of the Communist Central Committee said the regime made a grave propaganda error.

"I lacked the courage to tell the people the situation was bad and they would have to suffer," he said. "Our regime lied about the well-being in the country."

I was told that a confidential sampling, conducted by a responsible Polish state authority, revealed more than 500,000 Poles listen regularly to foreign broadcasts despite jamming. Many more are said to listen at irregular intervals. Every intelligent Pole with whom I discussed this topic spoke highly of the British radio and poured ridicule on the Voice of America and on Radio Free Europe. They said the BBC, while hostile to Red Poland, is truthful and objective. They said the Voice and Radio Free Europe "drool propaganda and are often inaccurate."

I heard and saw much of the social advancement. I visited several creches, state medical clinics, workers' homes, colleges and universities—many places where the class that was till a few years ago grossly underprivileged today is on top. Social and economic benefits add up to about one third more than the average citizen's earned income.

The great negative factor, about which the government is discreetly silent, is the immense gap between wages and prices. On the basis of the hours the Polish citizen must work to buy common articles, living costs are 3 to 10 times higher than in the United States. The leaders know communism must do better than that if it is to attract people in countries with a decent living standard.

Culturally, Poland presents a few bright spots in a predominantly bleak scene. Culture has deteriorated. They said films—12 full-length films are produced yearly—are poor and modern painting is mediocre. Great effort is being made in music, but many gifted musicians were Jews who vanished in the gas chambers. The oasis in this cultural desert is books. Poland never had such a flood of books as it has in the past—world classics and Polish works.

Poland is busy digesting almost one fourth of prewar Germany. In August 1945 the United States, Britain and Russia put under Polish German provinces of Silesia, Pomerania and most of East Prussia. Poland, backed by the Soviet Union, has disregarded the provisional character of this arrangement.

Polish officials said the Poles, especially in the "recovered regions," register immediate anger and some nervousness whenever America or Britain gives the slightest encouragement to West Germany's campaign for revising the Oder-Neisse frontier. The Polish Communist regime's grip on the nation is strengthened by U.S. promotion of West German rearmament and by America's fence-straddling on the German-Polish border issue.

The government has been packing the new western territories with so many workers, peasants and military and air bases that nothing short of full-scale war could uproot Polish power there. I talked with the vice president County Council, Jerzy Zientek.

"There was a sense of insecurity here in 1945-46," said the Silesian official. "Now people see the state's big investments in reconstructions, homes. They've come to believe the Oder-Neisse frontier is permanent."

Stanislaw Kulezycki, deputy speaker of Parliament, told me five million Poles have been settled in the new territory and the population is less than 1 per cent German today.

Soviet control over Poland's armed forces goes very far. Cyrankiewicz, otherwise a fable, showed displeasure when asked about this. I put the question bluntly: "To what extent does the Soviet general staff influence the Polish forces?"

He replied stiffly: "Poland has its own general staff. All that's happening in that sphere, as in others, is open and within the frame of Polish-Soviet friendship."

"Are there Soviet advisers in the Polish army?"

"No permanent military advisers," he answered, flushing. "You mean there are only temporary Russian advisers?"

"No," he said, visibly uncomfortable, "not temporary ones either."

I knew otherwise from two of Cyrankiewicz's closest associates. The army is reported to consist of about 22 divisions or 440,000 troops, including supporting units.

More than half the officers in the army, navy and air force, a high Communist official in Warsaw told me, were trained in the Soviet Union.

Russia has equipped the new key industries. Most of the new power plants are getting their installations from the U.S.S.R. In Warsaw Russia is erecting its greatest window exhibit. This is the Palace of Culture, a 36-story edifice around which the reconstructed Polish capital is being built.

In 1945 when guns were silenced, four of every five buildings in Warsaw were destroyed, and only 1 in 20 habitable. Warsaw's chief city planner, Zygmunt Skibniewski, told me some 75,000 building workers are engaged in building the capital anew. Despite flaws, the state is providing decent housing, still often crowded, for the mass of people.

Three miles from Cracow is the new industrial city of Nowa Huta. Until 1949 there were four peasant villages where today a great city has arisen. In this brief time 30,000 workers and their families—three in five were farmers until then—moved into freshly constructed apartment houses. Half completed, this is the first Polish postwar city to be built from the ground up where no town ever existed before. The new steel industry, started early in 1953, is scheduled to begin production by the end of 1954. When finished, this works alone will manufacture more steel than did all Poland before the war.

The U.S. Embassy is isolated and inadequately informed despite the able ambassador, Joseph Flack, and his staff. Members of all non-Communist embassies are incessantly watched. The mediocre press must serve as the main source of information for Western diplomats.

Responsible members of the American Embassy believe the secret police run Poland. They are mistaken. Poland's secret police is an adjunct to the armed forces. Like the Soviet MVD, it has its own troops. Unlike the secret police in the Soviet Union before Stalin's death, the UB in Poland is no state within a state. It is firmly under the control of the ruling Communist party. Its head, Stanislaw Radkiewicz, is considered an obedient party official. The UB are hated and feared. Absence of civil liberties, of the four freedoms is less irksome to Poles who have almost never known them at home. Yet the strait jacket of totalitarian ideology is throttling cultural life in Poland today.

Bureaucracy is another evil. In taking possession of 99 per cent of the national economy, the state and other public authorities have swollen their ranks beyond belief. My belief is the majority of Poles are definitely against the regime.

Producers, Royalty Owners Slate Meet
HOUSTON, April 3 (AP)—The 8th annual convention of the Texas Independent Producers & Royalty Owners Assn. opens here tomorrow with a series of policy committee meetings.

The three-day program will include a foreign trade forum on imports, a speech by Lamar Fleming Jr., chairman of the board of Anderson, Clayton & Co., and presentation of special awards to William J. Murray Jr., member of the Texas Railroad Commission, and to Standard Oil Development Co.

Imports of foreign oil will figure prominently in the convention's discussions.

The Monday morning general session will be an open forum for a general discussion of industry problems. Murray will be presented an award of recognition at a noon luncheon.

Fleming will participate in the foreign trade forum Monday afternoon.

Standard Oil Development Co. will receive TIPRO's 1st annual award for merit at a Tuesday luncheon.

TIPRO president M. D. Bryant, San Angelo, said the award is being made in recognition of outstanding achievements within the oil industry.

'Loophole' To Be State Film

Barry Sullivan has the role of a young bank clerk involved innocently in the disappearance of $50,000 in "Loophole," film which shows Friday and Saturday at the State Theatre.

After that incident he is driven from petty job to petty job a relentless bonding company detective, played by Charles McGraw. He becomes a store clerk and a filling station attendant before landing as a taxi driver. There he's at least able to hold on to a job, for his boss won't give in to McGraw's pressure and fire him.

Eventually, encouraged by Don Haggerty, playing an FBI man, Sullivan goes after the real bandit himself. He now realizes that the bandit was a man who posed as a phony bank examiner.

Dorothy Malone stars with Sullivan as his long-suffering wife. The picture, an Allied Artists release, was largely shot in actual locales in the Los Angeles area.

In the last 10 years, U. S. farm production has increased by about a third because of improved farm practices, although the amount of cropland has remained about the same.

Stiff Traffic Fines Assessed In City Court

Hit-and-run drivers are finding that it costs in Big Spring to prematurely leave the scene of an accident in which they are involved.

City Judge W. E. Greenlees fined one man charged with the offense a total of $175 Saturday morning. Another man tried Friday afternoon was fined $100.

Jackie Hill, airman from Webb, was the man fined $175. He was charged with three offenses, and the fines were $100 for leaving the scene without rendering proper information, $50 for driving without brakes, and $25 for driving without a license.

Charles William Born, tried Friday afternoon, was fined $100 on one offense of leaving the scene. He resides at 819 West 4th Street.

Hill pleaded guilty to all three charges. He was in collision with Vernon F. Franklin of Fort Worth in the 1200 block of West 3rd about 9 a.m. Saturday.

Franklin testified that his 1933 Mercury was stopped at a signal light on 3rd, when the 1947 Chrysler driven by Hill rounded the corner and side-swiped him. Hill did not stop, he said, turning the car around the next corner and heading up an alley. Franklin said he chased Hill's car three blocks up the alley before it stopped.

Investigating officer testified in court that the car had no brakes.

Hill also admitted that he did not have a driver's license.

City Court records show that the airman was fined a total of $13.50 on March 25 for not having a license and driving on the wrong side of the road. He was also involved in a collision at that time, at 18th and Scurry.

Born pleaded not guilty to charges of leaving the scene of a collision with Cecil Leatherwood, Route 2, early last week. The accident was in the 300 block of Lancaster.

Judge Greenlees found Born guilty of the charge after Rev. S. E. Eldridge, pastor of the First Assembly of God Church at 4th and Lancaster, testified that he saw Born leave the scene. Rev. Eldridge said he chased Born down and brought him back.

Both Hill and Born were in city jail Saturday pending payment of fines.

40 Die As Fire Sweeps Big Slum Area Of Pusan

PUSAN, Korea, Sunday, April 4 (AP)—A leaky gas main turned "Little Chicago," a crowded packing crate slum, into a roaring fire trap yesterday in which many of the estimated 40 killed were piled on top of one another in their search for escape.

The victims, all South Koreans, included one nine-member family. A high wind kept the leaping flames out of control for three hours.

Lack of escape facilities were blamed by U.S. Army officials for the deaths and for the 100 injured. The 3,700 made homeless huddled in two theaters and a school building.

This third devastating fire in recent months in the refugee-jammed port destroyed 400 slum dwellings, then spread to Korean factories and warehouses loaded with tons of sorely needed rice, barley and other grains. Damage was at least one million dollars.

Although "Little Chicago" was close by huge port facilities of the U.S. Army, no damage was reported to the American installations.

Americans, British and South

Koreans fought the blaze. Two carpenters who touched off the leaking gas main were arrested.

Longest Waterfront Strike Is Concluded

NEW YORK, April 3 (AP)—This port's longest and costliest waterfront strike ended today as wage-hungry longshoremen returned to work.

The shipping industry estimated that the 29-day walkout cost the port a half-billion dollars and expressed fear some of the business diverted to other ports never would return.

The National Labor Relations Board has called for a new bargaining election in a move to stabilize the long tempestuous waterfront situation, but no date has been set.

Leaders of the International Longshoremen Assn., independent, said they bowed to an NLRB edict that unless the walkout ended "forthwith," their union would be left off the ballot.

The ILA called the strike in a jurisdictional dispute with the rival American Federation of Labor union. It hoped to win recognition as bargaining agent before the AFL made further inroads in its efforts to control the docks.

The ILA had won an NLRB election with the AFL-ILA but so many ballots were challenged no decision was reached. Charges that the ILA intimidated voters brought an NLRB hearing and subsequently a decision invalidating the election.

ILA leaders berated the NLRB edict as illegal but said last night they had no choice except to "bow to the mandate of our government."

They were under heavy pressure also from rank and file members who saw AFL men gradually taking over their jobs and who wanted to get back to earning pay.

Saturday is normally a light work day on the piers, but the backlog of cargoes provided jobs for about half of the port's 20,000 or more longshoremen. The full force was expected on the job Monday.

Help Is Plentiful On History Lesson

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A high school boy from suburban University City had some help with his history lesson last night—from the Belgian government.

Robert A. Hamilton Jr., 15, assigned to make a report on the Belgian Congo, wrote to the Belgian government short-wave station ORU at Brussels asking for written material and explaining he was a short-wave fan.

The station did even better. It broadcast a special program on the Congo, just for Bob, including music by a 1,500-voice choir of Congo natives. Bob recorded the program and will submit it along with a written report on his history class.

"It was very personal," Bob said. "They started out by saying it was beamed at University City through me, and they gave my school and everything."

Slapped

A striking dock worker slaps at a cop and got slapped back in a skirmish on the North River Pier 84 in New York. Another man, a bright, gives him moral support from a safe distance. # Dulles To Appear At Start Of Overseas Operations Survey

By RUSSELL BRINES

WASHINGTON, April 3 (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles will go before the House Foreign Affairs Committee Monday in the start of two weeks of survey hearings on the full range of U. S. operations overseas.

Rep. Vorys (R-Ohio), who will be acting chairman, described the hearings as preliminary to what he said probably will become a full-dress review of foreign policy. The committee will hold daily sessions through April 15.

Next month, it will begin studying the details of an expected 3½-billion-dollar bill to continue foreign aid until mid-1955. This is a billion dollars less than Congress voted last year.

Vorys, a frequent budget critic, would not predict the outcome of this measure. But Rep. Gordon (D-Ill.), another committee member, said there will be "very deep cuts."

President Eisenhower's foreign policy leadership once again will be under close scrutiny, against this backdrop of international complexities.

1. Evident congressional impatience with the prolonged delay by France in ratifying plans for a six-nation European army under the proposed European Defense Community. Dulles warned European leaders early this year that failure to act might force an "agonizing reappraisal" of this country's foreign policy.

2. The crisis in Indochina and uncertainty over how far the United States may have to go in stemming Communist aggression there.

3. A lingering dispute over the implications of the "new look" in U. S. military strategy and Dulles policy of trying to deter aggression by the threat of "massive retaliation."

These points are expected to bring sharp questioning by committee members, with primary emphasis on Indochina and the April 28 Geneva conference, called to consider this and the Korean problems.

But EDC doubtless will be a major point when the congressmen start trying to dovetail policy with the dollars to back it.

The House group was instrumental in writing into law last year a provision withholding half of European military aid from Western European nations until they ratify EDC.

Rep. Richards (D-SC), author of the holdback provision, says he sees no reason now to change the law, even if Congress supports greater aid to the French in Indochina.

The administration has not yet sent Congress a specific breakdown of the funds it wants for the next year.

Eisenhower said in his budget message he would request 2½ billion dollars for global military assistance and a billion for economic and technical aid—a total of 3½ billion.

This follows a progressive scale-down from the 7½ voted by Congress in 1950.

Gordon said "the mood of Congress indicates there will be very deep cuts, both in military and economic aid."

He added that "Congress is getting more impatient with European Allies that don't do enough for themselves. And another question is this: If we give more aid to Indochina, does that get us in deeper?"

Museum Opens In President's Home Town

ABILENE, Kan., April 3 (AP)—The Eisenhower museum was formally opened to the public today in this boyhood hometown of the President. A crowd of about 1,000 braved chill winds to attend the ceremony.

The opening came almost two years to the day since the first spade of earth was turned for the handsome, native stone building.

A red, white and blue ribbon stretched across the main entrance was cut by Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, youngest of the five living Eisenhower brothers, who represented the family at the opening program.

Sam R. Heller, president of the Eisenhower Foundation, opened the program with a few remarks and then introduced Gov. Edward F. Arn, who has been active in the museum project. Arn, after a brief talk, introduced Dr. Eisenhower.

He read a brief message from President Eisenhower which said: "To all who with loving care are developing a project, not to memorialize a man, but ideas and principles, I send affectionate greetings. I trust I shall be with you when the completed project is dedicated."

Foundation officials are hopeful of having the second wing of the museum completed and ready for official dedication by the President some time this fall.

The museum display includes medals, trophies and mementoes from the President's military career.

Jun Declares No Political Interest

LE HAVRE, France (AP)—Marshal Alphonse Pierre Jun said today he would not quit his NATO job as commander of all Allied forces in Central Europe until assured that some other French general would get the post.

He also declared he has no intention of entering politics. Jun was stripped of his French military posts March 31 after he failed to attend a special Cabinet meeting to explain a public speech he made attacking the European Defense Community. There was considerable speculation that he might enter politics to lead a fight against ratification of the EDC treaty.

Jun's dismissal has roused a political storm in France which some observers feel will weaken already wobbly support for EDC. The marshal's future at NATO also came in doubt because of the French government's action.

Candidate Plans Election Contest

RIPLEY, Tenn. (AP)—Dr. J. Louis Freeman says he intends to contest the re-election of Dr. J. B. Scott as mayor of Ripley.

Unofficial returns from Thursday's election gave Scott 160 votes; contractor Joe Tucker Jr. 346 and Freeman 57.

Said Freeman: "I have more than 57 relatives who I know voted for me."

Absentee Voting Starts Monday On Bond Issue

Absentee voting will start Monday in the $325,000 county bond issue election which is set for April 24.

Absentee votes may be cast in the office of the county clerk. The absentee voting period will extend through April 20.

County commissioners called the bond election for the purpose of purchasing right-of-way for the Highway 80 freeway from Big Spring east to the Mitchell County line.

The officials estimated the cost of right-of-way and the moving of some 45 houses and other structures in Coahoma and Sand Springs will amount to about $325,000.

The proposed bonds could not be issued at an interest rate in excess of three per cent. County Judge R. H. Weaver said that under present market conditions, the bonds probably could be issued for only slightly more than two per cent.

The proposal calls for the bonds to be retired in 10 years. At three per cent, the average annual requirement would be $39,830.50, according to the First Southwest Company, which is to handle technical aspects of the issue.

First Southwest also said that a 12-cent tax on the county's present property valuation of $36,378,786 would bring in $40,926.13 per year. Voters will be asked to mark their choice on the ballot's alternatives which read:

For... the issuance of bonds and the levy of ad valorem taxes in payment thereof;

Against... the issuance of bonds and the levy of ad valorem taxes in payment thereof.

Israel To Lodge Complaint In U.N.

JERUSALEM, Israel Sector (AP)—An Israeli foreign office spokesman said today Israel will lodge a complaint against Jordan with the U.N. Security Council.

He said the complaint will denounce Jordan's refusal to attend an armistice conference and its "acts of continued border violence," the spokesman said.

Israel's latest move to the Security Council is believed to have been inspired by deterioration in the frontier situation and Lebanon support of Jordan's case.

In 1949 about one U. S. civilian jobholder in 13 worked for a federal, state or local government, compared to one in 9 today.

Fabulous King Ranch Tackles Big Problems

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Reporter
KINGSVILLE, Tex., April 3 (AP)—The fabulous home of more and better steaks — the great King Ranch of Texas — does a fabulous variety of things, including encouraging black snakes to eat rattlesnakes.

FRED POLACEK

Fred Polacek Seeks Post As Commissioner

The Herald is authorized to announce the candidacy of Fred Polacek for the office of county commissioner for Precinct 4, subject to the Democratic primaries. Polacek has been a resident of Howard County for 49 years. For 25 years he was associated with Big Spring business, and then entered the armed services, to spend three years in the Asiatic-Pacific theatre of war as a machine gunner with an automatic weapons battery. After his return from World War II, he was associated with his brothers, Albert and Eddie Polacek, as operators of the Fashion Cleaners.

Polacek owns his home and several business buildings in Big Spring and pointed out that he has been a taxpayer on both rural and city property for the past 25 years. "I believe I understand the property owner's problems," he said, "and I am willing to lend all of my talents toward a business-like and progressive administration for Howard County as a whole and not for just the precinct in which I live."

Polacek said he believes that if the county is placed in the hands of a wide-awake commissioner court, assisted by a competent county engineer, Howard County's increasing demand for roads to serve rural communities and the farmers and ranchers could be accomplished at a tremendous saving in taxpayers' dollars. He expressed his view that the county highway system "should be mapped out on a county-wide plan, road machinery should be purchased under a centralized plan and kept busy at all times, and not be operated separately and independently in each precinct."

Polacek further said that he believes the taxpayer should be fully represented in the county commissioners court, and that the citizens of the county should be fully informed of the activities of the court at all times, "in meetings open to the public and the press."

School Fire Claims Its 14th Victim

CHEEK TOWAGA, N. Y. (AP)—The school fire that flashed through a sixth-grade music classroom Wednesday claimed its 14th life today. Susan Jors, 12, died early this morning, a few hours after two of her classmates, Donald Kelleher, 12, and Marlene Miller, 11, had died of burns. Ten other children perished in the flames that levelled the frame one-story annex of the Cleveland Hill Elementary School in this Buffalo suburb, and the 11th died a short time later.

ply involve selective help to nature. On the King Ranch black snakes are protected and encouraged. They kill and eat rattlesnakes. Not so simple is the search for a tough, nourishing grass that can resist searing drought. But nevertheless that's a problem the King Ranch finds it normal to tackle. Most everyone knows the King Ranch is one of the world's biggest. Few know the astonishing variety of its activities. It's so big that its land in Texas alone is equal to a strip a half mile wide and 3,000 miles long, running from New England to California.

It is a multimillion-dollar corporation, built upon beef and oil. It covers 940,000 acres in Texas, but has branched out into Pennsylvania and Kentucky, and, through partnerships, into Cuba, Australia and Brazil. It encompasses entire villages complete with schools. Some of its 650 ranch employees spend almost their entire lives on the ranch, as did their fathers and grandfathers before them.

It is the home of famous thoroughbred race horses—Assault and Middleground, both of Kentucky Derby championship fame.

It is science seeking better beef, better grasses to endure the cruel drought gripping South Texas. It is a headquarters of a ceaseless battle against climate and nature. King Ranch began with a modest 15,500 acres bought 101 years ago by Capt. Richard King, steamboat operator and businessman. He expanded to 500,000 acres, some bought for as little as 15 cents to $1 an acre, and started a cattle empire with Mexican longhorn cattle.

By 1925 the ranch had burgeoned to 1 1/4 million acres under the guidance of Mrs. King (Capt. King died in 1885) and the late Robert Justus Kleberg, her son-in-law.

Mrs. King died in 1925, and 10 years later the ranch was divided among heirs. Members of the Kleberg family, the late Mrs. R. J. Kleberg, daughter of Capt. King, and her sons, Richard Mifflin Kleberg (for 13 years a congressman) and Robert J. Kleberg Jr., bought the holdings of some other heirs to bring the ranch to its present near-million acres.

The ranch was incorporated for better operation of its myriad activities and to avoid such tremendous inheritance taxes as those which fell due (more than one million dollars) when Mrs. King died. Robert Kleberg Jr. is president and general manager, Richard Kleberg chairman of the board, and his son, Richard Jr., secretary and assistant manager.

King Ranch, Inc., now is an agricultural-industrial empire. Oil and gas are flowing from wells explored, drilled and operated by Humble Oil and Refining Co., which paid nearly one million dollars for oil lease rights in the 1930s. The ranch receives a portion of royalties from the oil and gas produced.

The corporation or its members have interests in a lumber firm, bank, newspaper—the Kingsville Record—creamery, department store and milling company. But it remains primarily a meat factory, its great herds dependent upon huge acreage in this sun-burned country where it may take up to 15, or sometimes even 30, acres of sparse grassland to support one steer. By contrast, in Florida, a single acre can support one or even two animals.

More and more of your steaks and roasts of beef will come from Santa Gertrudis cattle, the first officially recognized new breed of beef cattle developed in the United States, and the first new breed anywhere in more than a century. It is an animal that thrives in hot, dry areas where drought can lay its arid hand on land, people and cattle, but it fares equally well in humid and semitropical lands.

Santa Gertrudis cattle resist fever from high temperatures and seem to scorn insects and parasites. They can gain weight on grass alone, turning grass to meat with great efficiency. They grow fast. Range cows weigh 1,100 to 1,200 pounds, and bulls 1,800 to 2,000 pounds at maturity. They usually average more than other breeds of cattle raised under the same conditions. And the carcass yields a higher percentage of actual meat.

Aged Prospector Confesses Slaying

NOGALES, Ariz. (AP)—George Morris, 78-year-old prospector, who has lived alone in a remote canyon since 1888, slept and ate a big breakfast before riding a burro to a guest ranch 18 miles north-east of here yesterday.

It was six miles to the ranch—the farthest Morris had been from his cabin in a long, long time—but he had something to tell the sheriff.

"I shot and killed a fella who tried to take my ore," he phoned Sheriff J. J. Lowe. Morris told County Atty. Ruffo Eplonosa his victim, Elmer Grady McLain, 34, of Phoenix, had visited his shack several times while he was away, taking his high-grade ore, which was mixed with silver and lead.

The miner said he shot McLain after the man tried to run him down in a truck. Sheriff's deputies said broken bushes and tire tracks criss-crossed the rocky desert. Morris was charged with manslaughter and placed under $2,500 bond. Friends began raising money to free him.

Cisco College A Capella Choir Coming Here Monday Evening

Japanese Officers Turning To Poetry

TOKYO (AP)—Two high-ranking officers in Japan's wartime imperial army have turned from the sword to poetry for a living.

Col. T. Sugaya and Col. R. Kurimoto write love letters, in English or French, for a fee. Their rates—42 cents for a letter of routine emotion; 55 cents for extreme passion.

Choir Will Present Colorful Production

"Jooballa," a colorful vocal production of exceptional variation, will be presented Monday evening. This is the title of the interesting program which has won the Cisco Junior College choir wide acclaim.

"Smoky": "It's a Great, Wide Wonderful World," and others. For the first three parts the boys in the choir will be dressed in black slacks and black shirts.

A varied program in four parts has been planned for the Big Spring concert. The first part of the program has been given to secular numbers. The Gipsy theme and the Russian style of music will be featured in this part of the program.

Everett C. Colburn and Gene Autry have been engaged as producers for the annual Big Spring Cowboy Reunion and Rodeo. Directors of the association, following the annual stockholders meeting, announced last week that contract had been closed with the famous producers.

Mundt Okays Sears Quiz Again Monday

By JOHN CHADWICK WASHINGTON, April 3 (AP)—Sen. Mundt (R-SD) agreed today, in response to Democratic demands, to call the Senate Investigations subcommittee together Monday to seek "reassurance" from Samuel P. Sears that he will be objective in proving the McCarthy-Army row.

committee insisted, however, that they want to ask Sears about these statements before he gets to work preparing for public hearings on the charges exchanged by McCarthy and high Army officials.

North Side Says Thanks For Mail

We, the people of the North Side who recently were granted permission to receive house-to-house mail service, wish to express our sincere thanks and gratitude to all those who have helped us in this matter.

Mundt said that Sears' statement here, in answer to a reporter's question, that he had never publicly or privately taken a stand on McCarthy or "McCarthyism" was an answer "which could or could not indicate lack of candor."

New Auditor In Duval Resigns

SAN DIEGO, Tex., April 3 (AP)—Duval County Auditor W. M. Benson resigned yesterday, saying it was "due to press of private business."

Benson was appointed by former Dist. Judge C. Woodrow Laughlin in one of his last acts before he was removed from office by the Supreme Court about two weeks ago.

Collision Takes Five In Family

HOUSTON, April 3 (AP)—Five members of a Houston family, including a young couple, their two small children and an elderly woman, were wiped out in a collision 1 1/2 miles west of Barker on the highway to Brenham at 8:30 a.m. today.

Oilmen Predict Full-Scale Rush For Tidelands

By SAM DAWSON
HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Oilmen see a new land rush in the making. Spirited bidding for oil leases is predicted when the federal government opens its share of the submerged lands off the shores of Louisiana and Texas, possibly this month.

Atty. Gen. Edmund G. Brown of California has the recent refusal by the Supreme Court to consider a challenge to the offshore oil act as helping clear the way for granting of state leases for wells directly into submerged oil resources he estimates as worth billions of dollars.

Some strange new equipment may be used when the oilmen go seeking oil along the continental shelf in the Gulf of Mexico.

One outfit a-building is said to be as big as a small ocean liner. It expects to drive piles into the floor of the Gulf, then jack itself up above the waves, and later when it's time to move on, its planners say it should be able to pull up stakes and start over again at another likely spot.

Costs will run high, both for drilling and for leases.

Once Texas cleared title to tidelands for 10 miles out—the federal government holds title beyond that—it got $5 million dollars out of lease sales.

The highest price paid for a lease, (they cover 5,000 acres on the bottom of the Gulf) was three million dollars.

Louisiana leases haven't gone on the market yet. It's still feuding. The federal government says Louisiana's historic limit is three miles. The state claims three leagues (about 10 miles) as in the case of Texas.

Many oilmen say the oil prospects seem better off the Louisiana than the Texas shore. And bidding may run even higher when the leases are put up. Drilling on old leases (predating the court and congressional squabbles) already extends as far as 25 miles offshore.

Oilmen say that the cost of locating a producing well offshore averages three times that of getting one onshore.

Then why do they want these tideland leases so badly?

"It's getting hard to find rich new oil fields onshore," says K. H. Shaffer, California Oil Co. vice president with offices in New Orleans. "The tidelands are the one big place around where we're fairly sure there's oil."

E. W. Webb, vice president in charge of production for the Continental Oil Co. here, says, "Drilling offshore is like going from a poker game where the chips are 10 cents to one where they're $10."

The average cost of drilling a well in the tidelands is put by various oilmen as from 1 to 1 1/2 million dollars. Hence a dry hole is an expensive failure.

Because the stakes are so high, companies tend to team up to lease sites and to spread the risk by drilling in several places.

At present, 23 rigs, of all companies, are reported drilling offshore on old leases—they have to prove up on them before they run out. Since December, 20 outfits have filed intention to drill, and four platforms have been put in place in the water for drilling.

There would be more drilling now but for the lack of platforms and equipment according to Continental's president, L. F. McCaskey. He thinks there'll be a scramble for leases when the government sets the rules and calls for bids. And he fears his competitors will bid high.

Old Test Slated For Wolfcamp Look

W. P. Wells Jr. of Big Spring has made application with the Railroad Commission to rework a wildcat in southeast Borden County for a test of the Wolfcamp.

It will be his No. 1 V. H. Wolf, and location is some five miles northwest of Vincent. It was formerly drilled by Charles Green to 7,300 feet where it was plugged and abandoned.

Location of the renewed project is C NE SW, 40-25-H&TC survey. Wells will drill out to 6,500 feet for a test. Original abandonment was in April 1953.

Collision Reported

Magdalena Bondor Vaquera, El Nido Courts, and Gilbert White, 1204 West 3rd, were drivers of vehicles involved in a collision at 10th and Scurry about 2:38 p.m. Friday. White was driver of a Yellow Cab.

Attempt Made To Shut Off Water In Borden Venture

Attempts to cut off water from oil flow were being made this weekend at Texas Crude No. 1-44 L. M. Brown, wildcat in Borden County about three miles west and slightly south of the Good field.

Operator was squeezing cement in back of pipe Saturday to cut off the water. Total depth of project is 8,912 feet, where pipe is set, and top of reef is 8,870. Elevation is listed at 2,797 feet.

An hour drillstem test between 8,865 and 8,912 feet made Thursday yielded 150 feet of oil and gas-cut mud, 730 feet of oil, 300 feet of slightly water-cut oil, and 180 feet of salt water.

Drillsite is 660 from north and 1,700 from east lines, 44-33-4n, T&P survey.

Offer Raid Evidence

Fragments of a bomb are held by the mayor's wife in the village of Nahalin where nine Arabs were killed in an incident between Israel and neighboring Jordan. A Jordan official has called on the United Nations for "drastic and immediate action" to prevent Israel from making any more raids. Israel lodged a counter-complaint, alleging violations of the Jordan-Israel general armistice agreement. (AP Wirephoto.)

Americans Are Maintaining Airlift To Dien Bien Phu

By JOHN RODERICK
HAIPHONG, Indochina, April 3 (AP)—American civilians and U.S. Air Force technicians are working around the clock here maintaining the airlift between embattled Dien Bien Phu and the outside world.

Civilian air transport craft are flying daytime sorties over Dien Bien Phu, unloading tons of munitions and medical supplies from huge Flying Boxcar transports based here. Two hundred Air Force technicians here and at nearby Doon airport are keeping the Boxcars and smaller C47 transports flying.

"So far," said Maj. Thomas E. Yarbrough of Lubbock, Tex., a big easygoing pilot who commands the servicemen at Halphong-Catbi airport, "no one has got hurt. But we are keeping our fingers crossed."

He was referring to the Civil Air Transport pilots, some of whom were members of Gen. Claire Chennault's famed Flying Tigers in China during World War II. He also was thinking in particular about big James McGovern of Elizabeth, N. J., whose width and weight have won him the nickname of "Earthquake McGoon."

McGovern has returned from missions the past three days, his big flying crate pocked with machinegun and rifle holes.

"He's leading a charmed life," said Yarbrough. CAT pilots no longer skim in at about 1,500 feet to make their drops as they did in the early days of the battle for Dien Bien Phu. The withering fire of Vietnam antiaircraft defenses has forced them to climb much higher.

So far the burden of the airlift has been borne by the Americans by day and the French by night. The servicemen swarm over the returning planes to put them back in shape during the daylight hours. Another shift helps dispatch the nighttime airlift.

"The men are getting pretty tired," said Yarbrough. "But they are pepped up by the knowledge that in a small way they are keeping the garrison of Dien Bien Phu going."

The CAT operation is strictly a civilian one and the Americans are careful to keep within the terms of their contract to supply the French but not to participate in any other way in the war.

Sterling Test To Set Pipe

Boyin Brothers of Big Spring were preparing to set pipe Saturday at their No. 3 Bade, a Parochial Bade project in West Sterling County, for tests of the Queen sand.

The Queen sand has indicated as a new production formation, but operator has run into water difficulties. The new shows were uncovered after the old productive zone proved dry.

Top of the new shows is at 1,274 feet, and bottom is 1,334. Operator is underreaming before setting casing in an attempt to shut off water.

Location is about 10 miles west of Sterling City. Drillsite is 330 from south and 2,196 from east lines, southwest 200 acres, 22-22-H&TC survey.

Ares No. 1 George McEntire, wildcat some 12 miles west of Sterling City, has been plugged and abandoned at 2,563 feet in lime. It is 715.5 from east and 718.1 from south lines, northeast quarter, 8-23-H&TC survey.

Dameron No. 1 R. F. McEntire, 2,310 from south and east lines, 29-14-SPRR survey, is reported at 2,070 feet in lime. This project is also a wildcat, about six miles west of Sterling City.

Bay Petroleum Corporation No. 1-A W. L. Foster, wildcat about 11 miles west of Sterling City, is drilling at 2,065 feet in lime after setting 5 1/2 inch casing at 2,020 feet. Location is 330 from east and north lines, 28-22-H&TC survey.

Petroleum Industry Preparing For Spring, Summer Sales Drive

By MAX B. SKELTON
HOUSTON, April 3 (AP)—Oil companies have a big sales job on their hands for spring and summer months.

Gasoline stocks last week climbed to an all-time high of 180,384,000 barrels.

The gasoline consuming season normally runs from April through September but, as yet, there has been no strong indication of a boom among vacationing motorists.

The summer situation indicates strong competition among gasoline marketers. Refiners probably will continue reduced gasoline output rates until stocks drop to a more practical working level.

Sales personnel in general are agreed competition will be fierce. It may have been coincidental but one company (the Texas Co.) chose the April opening of the heavy consumption season to place a new premium grade gasoline on the market and launch its biggest sales and advertising campaign in history.

It is too early for tourist bureaus operated by a number of oil companies to have any definite indication of anticipated summer travel trends.

Statistics for January - March from two such bureaus are in sharp contrast.

One company operating on a national basis reported its requests for road maps and travel information the first three months of 1954 were from 20 to 25 per cent below the same 1953 period.

Another company operating on a Southwestern regional basis reported its January-March requests at about 15 per cent above 1953.

One official said there has been some indication in recent weeks the average trip by vacationing motorists will be shorter this summer than in recent years. He emphasized no trend has developed but said the possibility will be watched closely.

A spokesman for another company frankly admitted a drop in summer travel is anticipated.

Such a possibility would complicate the current situation even further.

Last year's heavy consuming season began with 162,878,000 barrels of gasoline in storage. By Aug. 22 the figure had declined to the lowest point of the season, 142,334,000 barrels.

A similar seasonal drop this summer would cut late August stocks to approximately 160,000,000 barrels.

Lower output in March prevented stocks from being much higher than 180,384,000 barrels.

VOTE for JACK Y. SMITH

for the CITY COMMISSION

Tuesday, April 6

Jack Y. Smith has served for three terms on our City Commission, has demonstrated that he is ready, willing and able to work in the City's behalf; has shown that he can work cooperatively with those members whose terms will continue; has been completely unselfish in time given and services rendered to our City.

He is a man of long local background, of outstanding business connections, of meritorious service to his community in a civic way. His experience and judgment in the City Hall are to be respected. He has consented to stand for re-election again, and his many friends feel that his record merits a vote of confidence.

He has done a good, sound job, and he can continue to do so. Your vote and influence for Jack Y. Smith will be appreciated.

Nixon Says Policy To Stall China Reds

DETROIT, Mich., April 3 (AP)—President Nixon said tonight the Eisenhower administration's "massive retaliation" military policy has "reduced to a minimum" the chance that Red China will send troops into the Indochinese war.

In an address prepared for a testimonial banquet here for Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich.), Nixon also said:

1. "The American people can be completely confident that the problem (of internal security) is being handled by people who know their business and who will protect America from those who would destroy freedom, without endangering freedom in the process."

2. "We are convinced that the adoption of the Eisenhower (legislative) program will bring an unparalleled period of prosperity in peace time for the people of the United States."

3. "The very existence" of the hydrogen bomb "may in itself prove to be the greatest force for peace in world history," because the Soviets, Nixon said, know that for them to start a war might mean "national suicide."

In a speech that obviously had White House approval, Nixon said that critics of the "massive retaliation" military policy had assumed that "the only choice we have is between a big war or a little war."

how and when to strike in retaliation against aggression—might permit the world to nibble away at the free world in small aggressions. They might get away with such aggressions, the argument ran, if the only available counter-measures were of the kind that would start World War III.

Nixon said that what these critics "fail to understand that because of the threat of massive retaliation action we may avoid having any war at all."

"Already the existence of this policy has reduced to a minimum the chance that the Chinese Communists will resume their aggression or that they will move overtly into Indochina," Nixon said. "They have been told that if they do so move they will run the risk of retaliation."

"Had this same policy been in effect at the time they entered the Korean War it is extremely unlikely that they would ever have embarked upon aggression there."

Nixon's speech was prepared for an affair primarily aimed at boosting along the re-election efforts of Ferguson, chairman of the Senate Republican Policy Committee.

The vice president brought along a letter in which President Eisenhower saluted Ferguson as "a worthy son of Michigan and a senator in the great tradition of the United States Senate."

Beyond the political objectives, the Nixon speech was regarded in some quarters as a partial preview of what Eisenhower is expected to say in a nationally broadcast talk Monday night aimed at quieting fears of the American people on international and domestic situations.

Democratic senators and Adlai E. Stevenson, the 1952 Democratic presidential nominee, have raised the question whether the new program—which Secretary of State Dulles has said would retain in American hands the decision on the election is slated for Tuesday. Voting at the City Hall fire station, will start at 8 a.m. and continue through 7 p.m.

Eight candidates have announced for three vacancies on the commission. They are M. W. (Bill) Horne, W. D. Berry, Roy Bruce, S. P. Jones, Curtis Driver, Jack Y. Smith, Roger Miller, and Alfred Goodson.

The election judges will be Horace Reagan and W. R. Yates.

Quite a bit of interest has been shown in the election up to date. City Secretary C. R. McCleary announced Saturday that 11 people had cast absentee ballots. To cast a ballot, a person must be a resident of the city and have a valid poll tax or exemption certificate.

Although three terms expire this year, only one of the present commissioners—Jack Y. Smith—has announced candidacy for re-election. Frank Hardesty and Cecil McDonald chose not to run again. Terms of the other two commission members, Mayor G. W. Dabney and Wilbur Sullivan, do not expire until 1955.

Statements from the various candidates follow:

third with 99, and Bryans was in fourth place with 84.

H. R. Seidenberger, a fifth candidate received 47 votes, and Lloyd Jones received 42 as a write-in candidate.

Other write-ins were Clyde Winans and M. B. Little, who received one vote each.

Officials said they do not think the missing box can change the final results.

CUSTODIAN IS FINISHED WITH JAIL CHORES

Perry Burleson, courthouse custodian is through with changing light bulbs in the county jail.

"If the prisoners want any more new bulbs up there, they can put them in themselves," Burleson says.

Perry was replacing worn out bulbs in the jail Friday when he accidentally got locked in. Deputy Sheriff Dick Stevens who had gone to the jail with Burleson, went back downstairs on another errand. He got busy and forgot about the custodian.

Burleson finished putting in the new bulbs and discovered he was locked in the jail's run-around.

He threw burned-out light globes at the door of the jail kitchen, hoping to attract attention. Then he tossed pieces of masonry out the window, trying to gain the attention of someone on the ground.

Finally, two hours and 15 minutes after he'd gone in the jail, Burleson caused enough commotion to draw the attention of a trusty, who released him.

New Members Are Elected At C-City

COLORADO CITY — Dr. Oscar Rhode and Johnny Moore were elected to the Colorado City school board Saturday.

Dr. J. D. Williams, an incumbent candidate and critic of the administration, was defeated in the election.

Dr. Rhode received 566 votes and Moore polled 545. Dr. Williams received 405 and A. T. Caffey received 202 votes.

The other school board member whose term expires this year, Abbe Northcutt, was not a candidate for re-election. However he received 32 write-in votes.

A total of 922 votes were cast in the election, considered a heavy turnout.

Interest in the election was heightened as a result of last month's school board meeting at which Dr. Williams questioned the legality of renewing the contract of Supt. Ed E. Williams.

Court Gets Records Of Chavez Probe

WASHINGTON, April 3 (AP)—Chairman Barrett (R-Wyo.) of a Senate elections committee which investigated the election of Sen. Chavez (D-NM) said today all of its records will be turned over to the federal district court in New Mexico.

Coahoma Elects Reid And Wallin

COAHOMA—Clay Reid and Horace Wallin were named trustees for the Coahoma Independent School District Saturday.

Three other persons received write-in votes for the two vacancies on the school board.

Thad Hale received 28 votes for Howard County trustee-at-large.

Reid received 40 votes and Wallin polled 39 in the independent school district race. One write-in each went to Fred Adams, Earnest Garrett and H. H. Tanner.

In the Howard County Junior College election, Coahoma voters gave 39 votes to Charles M. Adams, 23 to Ralph White, 24 to Edgar Phillips, 23 to Dr. C. W. Deats, 10 to J. A. Jolly and 7 to T. R. Clifton.

There were 41 votes cast in the school district election and 44 were cast in the HCJC balloting.

CURTIS DRIVER—Big Spring

has been my home since boyhood; I finished high school here; I returned here to establish my home and make a living; I therefore am interested in sound, progressive city government that will do its best to keep municipal services abreast of developments. I realize, too, that commissioners have a great responsibility in deciding matters of policy and that effective work is done in cooperation with others whom the people elect. I have no designs except to be of what help I can, based upon the experience I have had as a resident, as a working man and a businessman. I will do my best to do what is right for the most people.

Dickson, Gibson Named At Stanton

STANTON (C.)—W. L. Dickson and M. M. Gibson were elected to the board of trustees for the Stanton Independent School District in voting here Saturday.

Dickson polled 82 votes and Gibson received 75. A close third in the race for two vacancies on the school board was Elma Nichols who received 71 votes.

G. B. Shelbourne received 15 votes for the position of county trustee representing Precinct No. 2. Shelbourne was the only candidate in the Precinct No. 2 race.

THE WEEK

Webb AFB last week were classed as distinguished military graduates. This is a record number here and well above the Air Force ratio for this elite classification.

Both the House of Representatives and the Senate will confer the state's respects Monday in Austin upon George O'Brien Jr., Medal of Honor winner. He is to be given special recognition in a joint session at 11 a.m. Last September President Eisenhower personally pinned the highest honor upon him.

Highway projects were clipping right along. Several contractors were surveying the Fourth Street project which will be up for contract this month. Deeds were delivered on the U. S. 90 freeway west and the project will be advertised in a few days for May letting. The county is getting ready to go ahead on opening E. 2nd from State to Birdwell Lane.

Sharp bids were received for elementary school construction on Wednesday. One 12-room unit with auditorium and offices, plus two six-room additions will be built for approximately $232,000. Prospects are that they will be ready for use next September.

Big Spring has contributed another district service club governor. He is R. H. Weaver, who was elected Saturday to head the American Business Club district in Texas. Douglas Orme and Roy Reeder preceded him in that honored post. Once before the Rotary had Elmo Wasson as a district governor, and the Lions furnished two in the person of Joe Pond and Schley Riley.

The ARClub spring relays Saturday proved another in the long series of successes with 15 teams entered. Pampa took advantage of near perfect weather to romp away with honors. Speaking of honors, Big Spring High School girls tennis players are hobnobbing them up. Saturday they captured an unbelievable 18 out of 21 contests from San Angelo.

Two Incumbents At Knott Re-Elected

KNOTT (SC)—Two incumbents, R. H. Sample and M. A. Cockrell, were re-elected trustees of the Knott Independent School District in voting here Saturday.

Sample polled 19 votes and Cockrell 17.

One write-in vote each was accorded to B. L. Jones, John McGeehan, Cecil Allard and Grady Gaskin.

H. T. Hale received 16 votes for county trustee-at-large.

Pre-Election Statements Are Issued By City's Candidates

The Big Spring City Commission election is slated for Tuesday. Voting at the City Hall fire station, will start at 8 a.m. and continue through 7 p.m.

Eight candidates have announced for three vacancies on the commission. They are M. W. (Bill) Horne, W. D. Berry, Roy Bruce, S. P. Jones, Curtis Driver, Jack Y. Smith, Roger Miller, and Alfred Goodson.

The election judges will be Horace Reagan and W. R. Yates.

Quite a bit of interest has been shown in the election up to date. City Secretary C. R. McCleary announced Saturday that 11 people had cast absentee ballots. To cast a ballot, a person must be a resident of the city and have a valid poll tax or exemption certificate.

Although three terms expire this year, only one of the present commissioners—Jack Y. Smith—has announced candidacy for re-election. Frank Hardesty and Cecil McDonald chose not to run again. Terms of the other two commission members, Mayor G. W. Dabney and Wilbur Sullivan, do not expire until 1955.

Statements from the various candidates follow:

many years I have been in business, here, principally as operator of farming interests.

ALFRED (TUNNEY) GOODSON— I am an employe of Couden Petroleum Corporation and work as an hourly paid electrician. I am not a supervisor or management representative. I believe the public, which is made up outside of business and professional classifications, should be represented on the city commission. I have no quarrel with those people, individually or collectively, but I believe it would provide a better cross section if I am elected.

I am a Christian man, a graduate of Big Spring High School, and married to the former Ovella Shirley, and we have an infant son. I am a property owner and have worked for Couden nine years. In addition I spent 42 months in the service of my country as a member of the United States Navy.

I definitely feel that our police force can be improved. I am mindful however, that we usually pay for quality for community service.

Juvenile delinquency is a constant problem regardless of any rating our city may have. I feel we need more supervised play by qualified supervisors. Improved recreational facilities and not for a few or certain areas or race of people but for our entire city.

No community since the beginning of time has survived without God. Nor have all of his followers been able to devote all their time to his work. No good community exists that has not been properly tempered by the teachings of Christ. Likewise material values must also be considered in properly providing roads, buildings etc. The best community exists that has heeded the needs of each and properly evaluated them. The best policy is temperance in all things we do. Be sure that all groups of people be fairly considered and never ignored.

I ask your support in electing a wage earner who feels that: "God must have loved the common people because he made so many of them," and I am happy I am numbered among this group and wish to be elected to your city commission in the interest of better government and more government BY and FOR the people.

M. W. (BILL) HORNE—"I really have nothing to add to what I told the voters in my original announcement. I am sorry that I have not been able to meet more of them than I have, but I have a job to do, and a living to make, which I am sure they will understand.

"My one aim if elected is to make a dependable, conscientious city commissioner, doing it honestly and honorably. I am interested in everything that will be for the benefit of Big Spring, and Big Spring folks, distributing the patronage in an equitable manner, whether it be the widening of the highway through town or grading and upkeep of the streets on the north side.

"The city's safety program is a vital, continuous obligation, necessitating assistance to our fire and police departments in any manner possible.

I think it is the first duty of the commissioners to build the city, forgetting political and color lines, as well as petty differences, if any, with favors to none and fairness to all, to which I believe the majority of good citizens will agree."

JACK Y. SMITH—"I have felt very deeply the various problems connected with the operation of our city, and the many needs on the list for municipal progress. I have tried, during my past terms in office, to cooperate fully with all other commissioners in the advancement of our city, and at the same time keeping its fiscal affairs on a sound basis. I think the record shows that, in general, this has been achieved. I want only to continue such service, and pledge that my best efforts will still be to work for the interests of good government for the people.

"I am grateful to the many citizens who have given me and other commissioners assistance, and I want to merit their continued confidence."

ROY BRUCE—"If I am elected, I will try to see that the taxpayer gets the best city government possible for his tax dollar. I would strive to have close cooperation between city and county government and work for a strong efficient police department. It would also be my aim to encourage work for better recreational facilities for the youth of our city."

W. D. BERRY—As a candidate

for city commissioner I have the background to enable me to meet the demands of this office together with the integrity and desire for a good, clean city government. I have worked often, as an interested citizen only, with the city commission together with other civic enterprises, which I sincerely believe qualifies me to be one of your city commissioners.

Mahon Advises Area Officials Of Surplus Food

Letters concerning the availability of surplus government-held food for emergency utilization have been received from Rep. George Mahon by the Howard County Commissioners Court.

Similar letters have gone to all other county commissioners courts in the 19th Congressional District, Mahon said. Copies of a letter from the congressman to Judge R. F. Berry of Dawson County were enclosed.

Dawson County is now receiving some surplus foods as part of a drought-emergency relief program.

Rep. Mahon urged the commissioners that cheese, butter, canned beef and gravy, dry milk and shortening appear available for assistance in emergency drought areas of the southwest. He said that he was informed by the Department of Agriculture that dry beans and potatoes soon will be available also.

Mahon said he suggested that flour from surplus wheat and meal from surplus corn also be provided, and that the Department of Agriculture now is considering this proposal.

County Commissioner Ralph Proctor said Saturday that county officials here have given no consideration to the matter of applying for drought emergency foods. He said Mahon's letter will be saved for reference, however.

Reds Attack Dulles Policy

TOKYO, Sunday, April 4 (AP)—The official newspaper of Red China's ruling Communist party yesterday called the United States "the most perfidious government in the records of international relations."

An editorial of the Peiping People's Daily, broadcast today by Peiping radio, charged that policy statements of Secretary of State Dulles, the hydrogen explosion tests in the Marshalls, the mock re-invasion of Iwo Jima and air maneuvers over Korea all fitted into "American plans for war."

"All this," the editorial stated, "is deliberately and directly aimed at poisoning the international atmosphere on the eve of the Geneva conference and bullying the people of the United States and the countries of the Atlantic bloc to tighten their belts obediently and not say a word against American plans for war."

Hall Says Stevenson Is Candidate Again

WASHINGTON, April 3 (AP)—Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall said today he is "reasonably certain" Adlai E. Stevenson is "again a candidate for office" and he accused Stevenson of "glib misstatements" for publicity's sake.

Hall replied in a statement to a speech the 1952 Democratic presidential candidate made last night in Charlotte, N.C. Stevenson suggested the Eisenhower administration "stop calling names" and concentrate on international control of atomic destructiveness.

Hall said Stevenson was "dead wrong" in his criticism of the Republican administration.

Referring to Stevenson's remark that "government by slogan and deception leads all too quickly to government by slander and smear," Hall said the Eisenhower administration has only one slogan—"prosperity with peace."

"This is something America hasn't seen in 20 years," Hall continued, "we know we can achieve it under President Eisenhower."

"Mr. Stevenson," he said, "made so many glib misstatements last night that I am reasonably certain, now, he is again a candidate for office as the spokesman for the Truman-Stevenson wing of his party, and as such is desperately seeking publicity."

Hall in his reply made no reference to Stevenson's assertion, in discussing the fight over Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.), that President Eisenhower "will have to make his choice between uniting his party, and uniting his nation. So long as his party is constituted as it is at present, he cannot do both."

Taking up other points in the former Illinois governor's speech, Hall said:

1. Stevenson, in praising the 20 years Democratic record of "social revolution at home and mass slaughter of world crises abroad," lost sight of something the American people saw clearly in November, 1952, that the federal government "had become a huge and frightening colossus, which was lurching down the road to socialism."

2. The Republicans have taken more than 200,000 "unnecessary" jobs off the federal payroll in 15 months and would like to eliminate more but the Democrats "froze" them in the government by their own "spoils system." This was a retort to Stevenson's assertion that the administration had "embezzled our career services on the pretense that the spoils system is necessary for good government."

3. Regarding "name-calling" and "timidity" accusations, the President has "avoided the political petulance that made the last Democratic administration a laughingstock and which ultimately ruined it. Timidity? With what justice can Mr. Stevenson link this craven word to a leader who fulfilled his promise to go to Korea, to study the world's greatest mess firsthand, and then to do something about it!"

4. On the need for efforts to control atomic warfare, the President "has put forth a generous offer of international cooperation . . . no 'new' approach is needed. But good intent on the part of Soviet Russia is required."

5. Stevenson made a "misstatement of the cheapest kind when he says that President Eisenhower 'spoke of withdrawing the Seventh Fleet and unleashing the forces of Chiang Kai-shek.'" The record, Hall said, shows: The President said in his message to Congress in 1953 he was ordering the Seventh Fleet "no longer be employed to shield Communist China. . . . We certainly have no obligation to protect a nation fighting us in Korea."

6. Stevenson used "reckless, questionable words" on the eve of the Geneva conference when he asserted the administration's "bold, new policy" of liberating the enslaved peoples of Eastern Europe had turned out to be "just another sales slogan." Hall said Eisenhower remains the "major hope" of these peoples and "no disgruntled politician" can change that.

7. The administration is determined to root out "security risks" from the government. Hall said a man "need not steal a secret blueprint to be a security risk." Hall said Stevenson continues to display "the same woeful blindness" which characterized the last Democratic administration.

8. As for Stevenson's contention that the administration's tax bill favors the stockholder over the wage earner by cutting taxes on dividends, Hall said the last Democratic standard bearer wanted to substitute "a political tax and pump priming—both of which have been denounced" by Leon Keyserling, who was President Truman's chief economic adviser.

9. Stevenson "admits 'America wants an affirmative program.' After long years, thank heaven, we have one."

Veterinarian At C-City Gets State Honors

COLORADO CITY April 3—The Southwestern Veterinarian, published at College Station, has announced that Dr. J. D. Williams of Colorado City has been selected as the "Outstanding Veterinary Practitioner of Texas for 1953" after a statewide poll conducted by the publication.

Williams, 44, was born in Granbury in 1910 and attended John Tarleton Junior College where he lettered in football and track, later teaching and coaching at Bangs High School. He attended Texas A&M College during the summer and graduated with a degree in Veterinary Medicine in 1935.

Following his graduation Williams was employed by the Bureau of Animal Industry as a field veterinarian. In 1936, Williams moved to Colorado City to enter general practice.

Williams served on the Texas State Board of Veterinary Medical Examiners for two years, and is the immediate past president of the Texas Veterinary Medical Association.

At Colorado City, he is a member of the Chamber of Commerce and a member and past Master of the Masonic Lodge. He has served for three years on the Colorado City school board.

Dr. Williams is married and has three children.

Thurston To Head Joint Labor Unit

WASHINGTON, April 3 (AP)—The State Department said today Walter Thurston, former ambassador to Mexico, will serve as chairman of the United States section of a new U.S.-Mexican joint migratory labor commission.

The commission created by the U.S.-Mexican agreement March 10 is scheduled to serve until next Oct. 31 in observing the migrant labor movement between Mexico and the United States, both legal and illegal, and in making recommendations for possible improvements in this situation.

The Mexican laborers come to this country primarily to work on farms in the Southwest and West.

The first commission meeting is scheduled for April 5 in Mexico City.

Shivers Says Foe's Plan 'Smoke Screen'

By DAVE CHEAVENS
AUSTIN, April 3 (U.S.)—Gov. Allan Shivers said today one of the two teachers' pay raise plans ready for action in the House is a "smoke screen" to help defeat the compromise pay boost bill he supports.

Shivers said the measure by Rep. Charles Murphy, Houston, was a "confusing, inequitable plan for chaos."

The governor in a written statement called it an attempt to keep "small and poor" districts from boosting minimum salaries. He charged it would penalize small districts for "being poor and would only help the big and wealthy districts."

He said the Murphy plan had been endorsed by the Texas Manufacturers Assn. and the South Texas Chamber of Commerce. He said the plan favors work done by a committee of 25 businessmen, legislators, and school teachers—half of them named by the Texas State Teachers Assn.

The Murphy bill was approved by the House Appropriations Committee which also endorsed the Shivers-backed compromise bill by Sen. A. M. Alkin Jr., Paris. The committee decided to let the House take its pick of the two.

Shivers threw his full support behind the Alkin bill, saying: "In my opinion the main purpose of the Murphy bill is simply to defeat the sincere efforts being made to give school teachers a badly needed raise."

While lines were being sharply drawn for a battle over the teachers' pay phase of the special session, its tax program had also run

'Fantastic' Says Murphy

HOUSTON, April 3 (U.S.)—State Rep. Charles Murphy said today Gov. Allan Shivers' criticism of his teachers' pay raise bill is "the most fantastic misrepresentation of a piece of legislation I have ever seen."

The Houston legislator accused the governor of "questioning the sincerity of a legislator for political purposes."

Shivers earlier today said Murphy's proposed pay raise bill is a "confusing, inequitable plan for chaos."

Murphy said he had distributed to members of the Legislature copies of his estimates as to how his bill would work in 50 counties. "They are available if the governor cares to look," he said. "I speak from facts—not from opinion."

He said similar reports will be prepared for all other counties. "The bill is fair to local school districts, rich or poor," Murphy said. "As a matter of fact, the poorer districts will benefit most from the bill."

into a snag in a Senate committee. The Senate State Affairs panel yesterday failed to take a vote on the House-approved tax measure.

That negative action plus the impending battle over which teachers' pay plan to take means that the Legislature will have to work hard and do some first class get-together if it expects to finish its work in the prescribed 20 days for a special session.

The House Appropriations Committee approved a package bill wrapping up Shivers' $36,287,500 spending program for pay raises and emergency buildings.

It included a $402 base pay raise for teachers and a $100 per teacher credit to school districts limited to offsetting the local fund assignment, which is the amount each district has to put up for the minimum school program. That was a concession to opposition voiced by House Speaker Reuben Senterfitt who had objected to giving local boards too much latitude in spending the $100 per teacher.

The committee also approved the Murphy bill which came under Shivers' fire today. It is similar to the measure backed by the governor, but has one major difference:

The Shivers-Texas State Teachers Assn. bill was designed to offer an across the board boost in base pay. The Murphy plan leaves it up to the discretion of school boards to make the raises on a merit basis. Murphy said his plan would not make any school district raise additional funds from local taxes unless it wants to.

Shivers' statement said variations of this plan have been tried without success in several other states.

"No school district in Texas, to my knowledge, uses such a system now although many of them could do so if they desired," Shivers said. "The Gilmer-Alkin program provides a minimum salary schedule for Texas school teachers. Any district which desires and can afford to pay more than the minimum, as many of them do, can pay such amounts as its local school board feels are wise and just on any plan—merit or otherwise."

Contrary to the statements of its backers, the Murphy plan would decrease local control, Shivers said.

Members of the powerful 21-member Senate State Affairs Committee wanted to take the weekend to study two new gas tax proposals offered at yesterday's session. Substitutes plans for taxing natural gas were urged by Sen. Wardlow Lane, Center, and Alkin.

The House proposition would increase the production levy from 5.72 per cent of value to 9.06 per cent to raise 14 million dollars a year. The Senate committee will meet at 9 a.m. Monday and may vote then on what they want.

It appeared however, that tax

Rites Today

Services will be held at 3 p.m. today in Roby for Mrs. Betty Chapman, 30, wife of Carlton J. Chapman, Farm Home Administration supervisor. Mrs. Chapman died suddenly Friday of heart attack following surgery. Besides her husband she leaves a daughter, Carla, and son, Steven, and her father, Matt Rushing, Lenorah. Mrs. Chapman will be buried beside the grave of her mother who, ironically, died under almost identical circumstances in 1942. The Rev. Marvin Fisher, pastor of the Wesley Methodist Church, where the Chapmans were members, will officiate.

debate would not get to the floor of the Senate before the middle of the week.

The session is scheduled to end on Tuesday week, April 13. If this session follows historic patterns, the final tax bill will be written in a conference committee made up of both Senate and House members, although all revenue measures must originate in the House.

Final approval of appropriations bills cannot come until the Legislature has provided the money.

The House has advanced major spending bills to the debate stage. The special session was called to raise teachers' and state workers' pay, finance the increases, and provide emergency money for state buildings. Another primary objective is stricter Communism laws, and final action on at least one proposition to make it tough on subversives of all kinds is in immediate prospect.

Entertainment Is Set At VA Hospital

Entertainment for patients at Big Spring Veterans Hospital during the coming week will include three movies, a band concert, and programs sponsored by the Odesa American Legion and the Big Spring VFW.

Movies, on Monday, Wednesday and Friday, include "Hans Christian Andersen," "A Perilous Journey," and "All American." The Webb Air Force Base band will give a concert Thursday afternoon.

Jet Plane Crashes During Demonstration In France

PARIS, April 3 (U.S.)—A French jet fighter plane crashed during a demonstration today and parts of the exploding craft landed within 55 yards of Defense Minister Rene Pleven and his guest, Duncan Sandys, British minister of supply.

Sandys is a son-in-law of Prime Minister Churchill. Col. Constantin Rozanoff, 49, at the controls of the Mystere IV, France's latest model jet fighter, met instant death. A native of Poland, he was one of France's most famous pilots. Last October he pushed a Mystere IV to a speed of 837 miles an hour.

The group with Pleven and Sandys included French Air Minister Louis Christiaens and British Air Marshal G. B. A. Baker. They had come to Melun-Villaroche airport, about 35 miles southeast of Paris, to see performances of late model French planes.

Witnesses gave this account: Rozanoff took off while the small group of officials were watching several other types of planes perform. He climbed at a high speed, then put his plane into a dive that swept close to the ground over the heads of the group.

On a second sweep he pulled up a little in what appeared to be an attempt to avoid passing over the spectators. But the low flying plane encountered a strong gust of wind. One wing touched the ground. The plane crashed, exploded and burst into flames. Parts were hurled in all directions.

Rozanoff in World War II commanded the famed Lafayette fighting group in North Africa. He left the armed forces in 1946, became a civilian test pilot and was the first French pilot to break through the sound barrier in a French-manufactured jet.

Lions Ask Reform Of Criminal Laws

GALVESTON, April 3 (U.S.)—Plans for a crusade to reform Texas criminal law were to be made tomorrow in a business session of the district governors of Lions Clubs in Texas.

Texas district governors here for the session are Joe Phillips of Amarillo; R.A. Lipscomb of Wink, chairman of the board; O.L. Stamey of Cisco; Dave Wicker Jr. of Dallas; James L. Mogford of Carrizo Springs; Grady Hollingsworth of Victoria; Hulen Hall of Navasota and Allen Caldwell of Jacksonville.

Pedestrian Hit By Car Friday

John C. Ferguson of Rails was seriously injured Friday night when he was struck by a car on Highway 80 just east of Big Spring.

His condition was said to be satisfactory at Cowper Hospital where he was receiving treatment for brain concussion, a laceration over the left eye, and multiple abrasions. Deputy Sheriff Miller Harris said Ferguson was struck by a car operated by Ray Berry of Monahans. He quoted Berry and a companion, Coy Hughes, to the effect that the pedestrian suddenly started across the highway immediately in front of the car.

Ferguson was walking from Big Spring to Sand Springs where he hoped to find employment, Harris said. Berry and Hughes were traveling eastward on highway.

One Fined $6

One man was released and the other fined a total of $6 in a city court trial Saturday morning which resulted from an afloat and disturbance at the Jet Tavern, located on West Highway 80, last Friday night.

Pampa Wins Relays With 94 Points

Amarillo split its track and field squad Saturday and yielded team championship honors to Pampa in the tenth annual American Business Club Relays here Saturday.

Amarillo sent seven of its better athletes to Austin for the Texas Relays. The rest came here. The Harvesters, showing to best advantage in the relay races, scored 94 points to beat out the Sandies by 13 points. Third was Lubbock with 69 points, fourth Odessa with 65 and fifth Midland with 52.

Snyder came next with 38 points while Lamesa had 33 1/2 of seventh. Eighth was Big Spring with 21. Ninth Plainview with 13, tenth Price College with nine, 11th Stanton with eight, 12th Lorraine with 6 1/2, 13th Roby with six and 14th Forsan with four. Ackerly did not score.

Three records were broken and a fourth tied in a track carnival that was run off in near-perfect weather.

Troy Harber, voted the outstanding entry in the meet, equalled J. Frank Daugherty's year-old mark in the final of the 100 when he covered the distance in 9.8 seconds.

Pampa's quartet of John Darby, Walker Bird, Ed Dudley and Harold Lewis roared to a new mark in the sprint relay, not once but twice during the day. The Harvesters covered the distance in 44.4, which was four-tenths of a second under the standard set by Odessa in 1952.

Lubbock's Jerry Davis cleared 12-feet-9 in the pole vault and almost went over when the bar was upped to 13 feet. He beat the old record by five inches. As a matter of fact, the second place man in the event, Larry Palmer of Midland, shaded the old standard by two inches.

Pampa also shattered the 800-yard relay record by covering the distance in 1:32.0. The old mark of 1:32.3 was set by Brady two years ago.

Big Spring made a reasonably good showing. Frosty Robison improved enough to finish second in the discus throw, although he did not push another record breaker. Joe Irvin, who broke his own mark with a toss of 164 feet 7 inches.

Bobby Fuller, a sophomore miler for the Steers, was beaten out in Chisolm of Odessa, after leading most of the way. A great future is forecast for Fuller, who paced himself well. He improved almost five seconds over his finish of last week at Odessa.

Other Steers who placed included Bennie Compton, sixth in the 100; Lamarr Davis, sixth in the 220; Troy Elison, fifth in the shot put; and the local medley-mile team, which was sixth.

Chas. Finley Hired By Miss. Southern

HATTIESBURG, Miss., April 3 (AP)—Mississippi Southern named Charles Finley head basketball coach today. Finley resigned Monday as basketball coach at the University of Idaho.

Finley succeeds Lee Floyd, who guided the Southerners to 117 victories and 46 defeats in 5 years. Floyd resigned to enter business at El Paso, Tex.

Finley, 43, had coached earlier at the Texas School of Mines.

Braves Invade Colorado City

The Big Spring Braves play their first baseball game of the season at 3 p.m. today, meeting Colorado City there.

Allen Gilbert, a left-hander, will probably open on the mound for the Braves. Cornelius Price and Joe Sherman will be available for relief duty.

Billy Weatherall will do the catching for Big Spring. Sherman will be at first base until he goes to the hill. Price will hold down second. Alvin King will man the shortstop position and Robert Lee Johnson will patrol the hot corner.

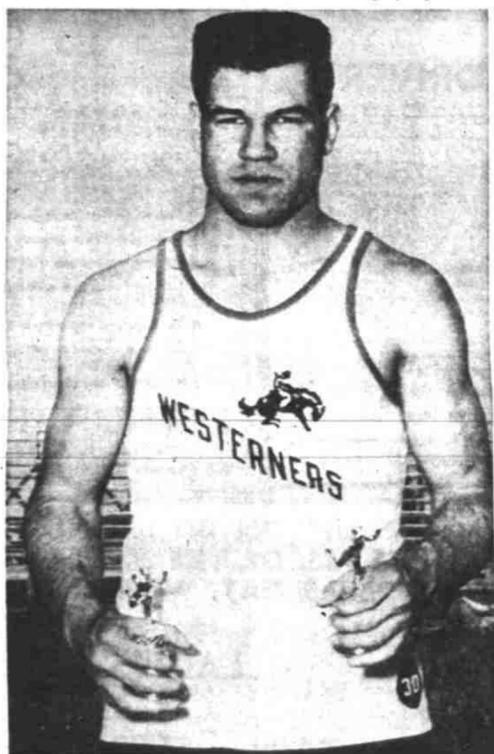

In the outfield, it will be Lieutenant Seaggs in left, Nathan Molden in center and Junior Molden in right.

Cecil Hart is the Braves' manager while Roosevelt Brown serves as his assistant.

Sanny Williams will be carried to Colorado City as a utility infielder.

Record Breaker

Joe Irvin, Amarillo senior, shattered his own record in the American Business Club Relays here Saturday with a toss of 164 feet 7 inches. Joe says he will probably attend college either at the University of Texas or SMU.

Top Athlete Of Relays

Troy Harber, a Lubbock Junior, was named the outstanding athlete of the tenth annual American Business Club Relays here Saturday.

Harber, who ran a total of ten races, won both the 100 and 220 and equalled the meet record in the former race in the time 9.8 seconds.

Harber is due to be the first string fullback on the Westerner football team next fall.

Here's Summary Of Tenth Annual ABClub Relays:

200-Yard Shuttle Hurdles Relay—1. Amarillo (Ken Osborne, Ronnie Nuttall, Charles Hiltner, Jackie Cain), 2. Midland, 3. Odessa, 4. Lubbock. (Only teams in race), 44.3.

100-Yard Dash—1. Troy Harber, Lubbock, 2. Harold Lewis, Pampa, 3. Paul Davis, Midland, 4. Walker Bird, Pampa, 5. Gary Kenna, Price College, Amarillo, 6. Bennie Compton, Big Spring, 7.8 (New meet record set by J. Frank Daugherty, Odessa, in 1952).

High Jump—1. The between Don Sheppard, Odessa, and Lester North, Plainview, 5'9". 2. Norman Black, Stanton, 5'7". 3. Jim Berry, Lubbock, 5. Gary McKenna, Price College, Amarillo, 5. Larry Bailey, Big Spring, 22.6.

400-Yard Relay—1. Pampa (John Darby, Walker Bird, Ed Dudley, Harold Lewis), 2. Lubbock, 3. Amarillo, 4. Snyder, 5. Midland, 6. Plainview, 1:32.0 (New record, Old record set by 1952 relay team in 1:32.3).

800-Yard Relay—1. Ben Chisolm, Odessa, 2. Bobby Fuller, Big Spring, 3. Don Carter, Amarillo, 4. R. D. Ross, Lamesa, 5. John Smith, Midland, 6. Archie Butler, Stanton, 4:35.4.

1,600-Yard Relay—1. Jerry Davis, Lubbock, 2. Larry Palmer, Midland, 3. Fred Ebert, Odessa, 4. Three-way tie between Gene McCann, Lamesa; Richard Blair, Lamesa; and Jimmy Lawler, Lamesa, all 21:30. (New record, Old record set by Thomas, Chisolm, and Trickey, Amarillo, 1952, 17:47).

Medley Mile Relay—1. Odessa (Ted Brown, Bob Wacker, Jay Amburgey, Don Sheppard), 2. Pampa, 3. Amarillo, 4. Lubbock, 5. Midland, 6. Big Spring, 2:44.3.

Who's The Winner Here?

The Big State League with the "new look" and the "let's pay expenses first" attitude opens its eight race April 13.

This circuit, notorious in the past for so-called "under the table" pay and exceeding the salary limit, is heaving to the line this year. The result is that with most of the clubs, youth will predominate. The veterans just won't sign at the salary being offered.

Lubbock Clubs Steers, 29-8

Lubbock's Westerners wore their hitting clothes to Big Spring Friday afternoon and slaughtered the Big Spring Steers, 29-8, in an exhibition baseball game.

The Westerners combed the offerings of four Big Spring hurlers for 25 assorted hits, including home runs by Allen, Stanford, Sampson and Garrison and a triple by Higginbotham.

The Steer defense fell apart, the locals committing eight bobbles in the second inning game.

Of the seven Big Spring hits, three were boundary swats. Robert Broughton hit one in the second, Tommy McAdams one in the third and Ronnie Wooda another in the seventh. McAdams' came with a mat. aboard.

Frank Long was the starting and loser hurler for Big Spring. The Westerners enjoyed a 13-run fourth inning, during which time they sent 18 men to the plate.

Hogan To Replace Par As Standard

AUGUSTA, GA., April 3 AP—Ben Hogan, the current king of golf, will replace par as a standard for measuring the success of champions competing in the 18th Masters Tournament next week.

Par for the rolling, 6,900-yard Augusta National course with its tremendous, close-cropped greens is a routine 36-36-72. But par golf never has been—and probably never will be—good enough to win a Masters.

Last year par came out a poor second when the painstaking Texan shot the "best four consecutive rounds" of his championship-studded career: Hogan won with a 274, which is 14 strokes under par and 5 strokes under the previous course record.

Play starts Thursday and the big question is, can Hogan do it again? Nobody knows. Like Ben said, "you never can tell about golf; some of the darndest things can happen." But a lot of folks think he can, and will.

If he does, it will be the first successful defense of a Masters title since the tournament was launched in 1934.

YANKEES WIN ONE JACKSONVILLE, Fla., April 3 (AP)—Yogi Berra and Irv Noren hit homers as the New York Yankees blanked the Jacksonville Braves in the Rally League today 6-0. The Braves made only two hits off three front-line members of the Yankee pitching staff, Tom Morgan, Allie Reynolds and Johnny Sain.

Texas League Looks For More Fans, Hotter Race

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF Associated Press Sports Editor

The storied old Texas League launches its 59th season Thursday amid predictions that there will be a marked upturn in interest and attendance and that the pennant race will be stronger.

John Reeves, who succeeds J. Alvin Gardner as president of the Class AA circuit, had this optimistic outlook as the campaign neared:

"Presession indications are that 1954 Texas League attendance should be greater than last year by at least 12 per cent. In 1953, the league drew 1,192,427 paid admissions, so a 12 per cent increase would mean a turnout of more than 1,430,000 this year.

Advance ticket sales for some clubs are considerably larger than in 1953 and that's always a good sign. One possible explanation of the stimulated interest in the coming season is the return of players who have been in military service for the last two years."

The league will play 161 games this season opening the race April 8 and closing Sept. 6. The opening schedule:

Oklahoma City at Shreveport. Tulsa at Beaumont. Dallas at San Antonio. Fort Worth at Houston.

The clubs play this way for three nights. April 11 they change stands with Fort Worth at San Antonio, Oklahoma City at Beaumont, Tulsa at Shreveport and Dallas at Houston.

Dallas, which was straightaway champion, won the playoffs and whipped Nashville in the Dixie Series, is due to be fully as strong if not stronger. Dallas pitching should be better.

Reeves said without exception, the four clubs that finished in the second division last season should be stronger. Beaumont has acquired some seasoned players and should benefit greatly from its new working agreement with the Chicago Cubs. San Antonio again will be managed by Don Heffner, who led the Missions to a Dixie Series title in 1950.

"Observers who have seen Houston in spring training unanimously agree that the Buffaloes will be a much stronger club than in 1953. Shreveport barely missed the playoffs last year (by one game), and again should be a definite threat. The 1953 records of the first division clubs—Dallas, Tulsa, Fort Worth and Oklahoma City speak for themselves."

Reeves said that a concentrated effort would be made to give the league "the best umpiring possible, with the ultimate view of developing it."

Geneva Brown (Dibrell's) scored 191 for second high for one game and 457 for the second high individual score for three games.

The Standings

STOCK CAR RACES ARE SCHEDULED FOR 2:00

More stock-car races are in the offing at the Big Spring Speedway today, starting at 2 p.m.

At least six races will be staged, including a special event that will go five laps and will have the winner climbing out to eat a hard-boiled egg before he can qualify for top money.

The customary Trophy dash is also booked, as is the feature race, the longest of the program. Speedway promoters promise there will be more cars present than ever before, including Car 66, which again will be driven by Clyde Majors.

One of the new entries will be a Chevrolet, piloted by Cotton Mize. Several Fords have been added to the field, too.

Spectators can watch the races without leaving their automobiles. Concessions will be sold on the grounds.

CONGRATULATIONS To THE GREGG STREET CLEANERS BOWLING TEAM

We of the Jet Tavern Bowling Team wish to congratulate you on winning the Men's Bowling Classic League Trophy. The crown could not go to a finer team.

Jet Tavern Bowling Team And The J. O. Whitefields

ing umpires for the major leagues. We have a reasonably young staff, with an average age of slightly under 35 years per man.

The only new rules of significance to fans are:

1. During the first 30 days of the championship season, each club may carry not more than 22 players on its active list. Previously, there was no player limit during this period. After 30 days, each club must trim its active roster to 19 players. This is an economy measure.

2. To speed up the games, the pitcher will be required to take his position in the batting circle when he is to be the next batsman.

3. The total salary of an optioned player—regardless of whether paid by the optioner or optionee club—will be counted toward the Texas League monthly team salary limit of $10,000. Previously, only the portion paid by the optionee club was counted. Independent clubs—and there are four in the Texas League—previously had complained of players sent down to Texas League clubs with only the portion paid by the optionee club being counted. The independents said this put them at a disadvantage since they had to report all of their salaries.

Big Spring Tennists Win 10 Matches At San Angelo

Big Spring's girl netters all but swept matches from San Angelo Saturday, winning 10 out of a series of 11 contests.

In the only match dropped during the day, Nanette Farquhar and Peggy Hogan actually won more games than the opposition but were nosed out in two extra game sets.

In the No. 1 singles match, Betty Anderson clipped Wanda Tate, 6-2, 6-2. Faulkner took Nancy Dean, 6-4, 6-0, in the second match. Other singles matches showed Nita Beth Farquhar beating Jimmie Jennings, 6-2, 6-1; Janice Rome beating Allene Byrd 6-0, 3-6, and 6-1; Karla Kesterson defeating D'Ann Carle, 6-2, 6-1.

Clara Freeman and Nancy Smith captured the No. 1 doubles match from Wanda Tate and Nancy Dean, 6-3, 8-6. In the No. 2 match, Nanette Farquhar and Peggy Hogan were nosed out by Pat Humphries and Allene Byrd, 7-5, 1-6, and 7-3. Other results included:

Mary Ella Bigony and Pat Tidwell over Jimmie Jennings and D'Ann Carle, 6-0, 6-2; Claudene Butler and Maxine Rosson over Pat Daniels and Helen Roberts, 6-4, 4-6 and 6-2; Sandra Fox and Lila Jean Turner over Barbara Young and Pat Adair, 6-0, 6-0; Jacqueline Smith and Sue Barnes over Pat Daniels and Helen Roberts, 6-2, 6-1.

Billie Clyburn, coach, said it was doubtful whether the Andrews matches could be rescheduled for this week. If not, then the next round for the girls, all of them juniors or lower, will be in the district contests at Odessa next weekend.

Dibrell's Leads Ladies' League

Dibrell's Sporting Goods team maintained its lead in the Ladies' Bowling League during the week, winning two of three games in a series with the Little Package Store.

Big Mike's keggers took two of three games from Pinkie's, also. Dibrrell bowlers chalked up the high team scores for both a single game and three-game series, scoring 666 in one game and 1,806 in a series.

Big Mike's team was second high at 632 for a single game, and the Little Package Store scored 1,681 in three games for second high. Jessie Pearl Watson (Dibrell's) had individual high score for a single game at 222 and for a series at 526.

Geneva Brown (Dibrell's) scored 191 for second high for one game and 457 for the second high individual score for three games.

Local Fans Get First Real Look At Baseballers Today

Scrimmage Set For 2:30 P.M.

Local fans will be afforded their first real look at the 1954 Big Spring Broncs this afternoon, when the local mercenaries scrimmage HCJC's Jayhawks. The first pitch is down for 2:30 p.m. There'll be no admission charge.

The Cayuses will furnish hurlers for both teams. Jim Morehouse, from Long Island, N. Y., will probably start for the pros while Kenneth Henson of Stanton and Sam Dawson, San Francisco, Calif., will follow. All are rookies.

Manager Pepper Martin will save his veteran hurlers, Mike Rainey and Larry Cummins, along with rookie Martin Orlando for Tuesday night's game with Roswell here, which officially opens the exhibition season.

Degberto Gutierrez is set to open behind the plate for the Cayuses. He'll divide the catching chores with Ed Donovan. Gutierrez is a Cuban while Donovan hails from New York.

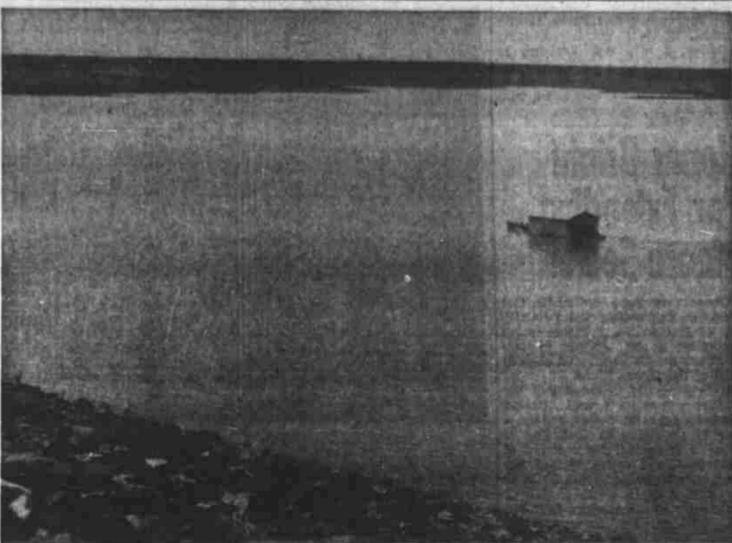

Tony Martinez will play first base. Floyd Martin second, Louis Cabellero shortstop and Julio De la Torre third.

Johnny O'Neil will be in left, Gil Silva in center and Harold Berry or Juan Mejido in right.

George Becca will spell Cabellero at short stop.

Martin is due to pare the squad after Tuesday's game with the Rockets. The Seeds go to Wichita Falls for games on Thursday and Friday.

Today's scrimmage is due to last between one and two hours.

House In Tow

This house is not waterbound, but rather in tow across Lake J. B. Thomas. It is the boathouse constructed by Ned Sanders on the north slopes. It was launched and then floated across the lake to anchorage on the south side. Sanders is developing concession and boat facilities at the Lake, and the house will be used to accommodate boat enthusiasts of this area.

HUNTING AND FISHING

Local Party Goes To Devil's Lake

By JOHN BUSER

Although generally reports of fishing luck seemed dismal the past week, one party of Big Spring men wasn't complaining.

They went down to Devil's Lake for a week and found the bass biting readily. The catfish weren't so eager but they did get some channel cat.

On the trip were Wayne Allen, Cecil Mason, Charles Buckner, Bill Merrick Odie Moore, T. J. Allen, Charlie Mason and Glenn Napper. They did their fishing in the upper part of the lake and came back with 35 pounds of fish. Besides that, Allen estimated they ate at least that much.

They did most of their fishing with rod and reel. Allen said they didn't do too well with trawls. They had a trolline out and got a couple of three-pound cats while some boys fishing nearby got a 27-pounder and a 41-pounder to show for their efforts.

Allen also reported no trouble in setting for minnows.

The San Angelo Chamber of Commerce is crowing about the new North Concho lake, set to open on May 1. They say that Texas Game and Fish Commission officials have estimated that there are 2 1/2-million bass in the lake and many more catfish and crappie.

They also reported a ratio of 50 game fish to one rough fish in the lake since it was stocked with bass, channel cat, bluegills and crappie. Rough fish were eradicated in an extensive fish eradication program.

Fall rains filled the new lake to 32,000 acre-feet, nearly three times as large as Lake Nasworthy, they report.

Development of roads and parks in the lake area is under way.

George Choate reports that fishing was none too good at Nasworthy last Sunday. He reports many people fishing but hardly anything being caught. The water was very muddy.

A report on W. W. (Red) Arant's five-pound channel cat catch there the week before got left out last week due to space being tight. We understand, though, that it was one of the largest channel cats ever known to have been caught there.

Fish can change their minds in a hurry—about biting, that is. Jack Cook and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Pursor found out for themselves the other day at Lake Colorado City. They went over to fish on Wyatt's Point, and as soon as they dropped anchor Cook hooked and landed a five-pound bass. Pursor immediately pulled in a pound and a half crappie, and another good sized bass struck in short order but got hung in a tree and got away. This all took place in three minutes, and the party didn't get another bite all day.

91-B Meet Slated For 1:30 Friday

The annual District 91-B track and field meet will be staged in Forsan, starting at 1:30 p.m. Friday.

In the past, the meet has been staged at Big Spring but Forsan is a track and offered to hold the track show this year.

Stanton, Coahoma, Knott, Sterling City, Garden City and the host school will be represented in the meet.

Bud Taylor, Midland, will serve as starter.

Athletes finishing among the first three in each event will be eligible to compete in the regional meet. In the relay races, the first two teams are eligible to go to Regional.

Forsan, sparked by Harold Hicks and Albert Oglesby, will be among the favorites.

Hawks, Bulldogs Split West Zone Double Header

Howard County Junior College and Clarendon halved a twin bill in the opening West Zone baseball tests for both teams here Friday night, the Jayhawks winning the first game, 21-4, and the visiting Bulldogs the second, 9-2.

Charlie Rose hurried the ball for the Big Springers in the second game, giving up only four hits, but his mates had trouble solving the slants of Bill Hutchinson.

The morningcap went an extra inning, the Bulldogs getting an earned run in the sixth to finish in front. Garland Fielder scored the winning run after reaching first on a bobble. Alexander was struck with a pitched ball with the sacks jammed to force him in.

The Jayhawks had no trouble at all in the first game, getting 20 assorted hits to win going away. Jack Williams hit a home run, double and single to pace the Big Spring attack.

Tommy Randolph, on the mound for HCJC, gave up only two hits and struck out ten. He fanned seven of those in a row.

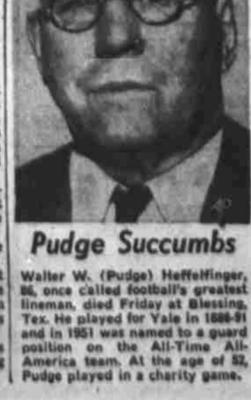

The outcome left the Hawks' won-lost record at 3-3 for the season.

HCJC goes to Odessa for a Zone double header Tuesday.

Observer Rates Teams, Players In Spring Camps

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK, April 3 (AP)—Impressions and observations of a wandering baseball writer back home from a six-week inspection of Florida's 12 major league spring training camps:

Best team: Brooklyn Dodgers.

Most improved team: Boston Red Sox.

Most disappointing teams: New York Yankees and Philadelphia Phillies.

Most surprising team: Pittsburgh Pirates. (Won 8 of first 10).

Best hitters: Yogi Berra, Stan Musial, Red Schoendienst, Bob Boyd.

Best slugger: Frank Thomas, Pirates. (Hit 7 homers in first 13 games).

Best pitcher: Gerry Staley, Cardinals. (Permitted only five hits in 17 innings. Allowed one run for an 0.53 ERA).

Most disappointing pitcher: Whitey Ford, Yankees (Allowed 12 earned runs and 20 hits in 14 innings, walking 13 and striking out only three).

Most improved player: Billy Consolo, Red Sox and Bob Boyd, White Sox.

Best looking rookies: Henry Aaron, Braves; Bill Skowron, Yankees; Wally Moon, Cardinals; Vic Power, Athletics and Jerry Lynch, Pirates.

Best looking rookie pitchers: Tom Brewer, Red Sox; Ray Crone, Braves; Rudy Minarcin, Reds and Jack Harshman, White Sox.

Best for future: Al Kaline, Tigers and Bill Skinner, Pirates.

Best comeback: Earl Torgeson, Phillies; Pete Runnels, Senators; Joe Black, Dodgers and Joe Presko, Cardinals.

Best fielder: Billy Cox, Dodgers (infield) and Jimmy Piersall, Red Sox (outfield).

Best hitting feat: Carl Furillo's four extra base hits in four times at bat against the Yankees March 20.

Best pitching feat: Don Newcombe's six-inning no-hitter against the Yankees March 19.

Longest hitting streak: Granny Hamner, Phillies, hit in 15 straight games before he was stopped by the White Sox March 20. He went 19 for 54.

Longest scoreless pitching streak: Rookie Tom Brewer, Red Sox 22-year-old righthander, hurled 17 consecutive scoreless innings against the Phillies, Dodgers, Tigers and Reds.

Biggest slugging bee: Pittsburgh's 25-11 swamping of the Braves on March 12.

SENS SINK REDLEGS

COLUMBIA, S.C., April 3 (AP)—Specializing these days in late inning rallies, the Washington Senators battled back from a five-run deficit, scoring four in the seventh and six more in the ninth, to stun the Cincinnati Redlegs 12-7 today.

BUCS EDGE A's, 6-5

NEW ORLEANS, April 3 (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates scored five runs in the fifth inning today as they edged the Philadelphia Athletics 6-5 for their second consecutive win over the American League Club.

Eight Records Bettered, Santee Again Honored

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

AUSTIN, April 3 (AP)—Wes Santee, the Kansas flash with the minding but deceiving stride, and those cyclones in spikes who make Texas the greatest in sprints, dominated the Texas Relays today as five more records fell and three were tied.

Santee, the cocky youngster who runs with a chop stride but can do it all day, was picked as the outstanding performer of the relays for the second time in a row and justly so.

In the eight records that were set in the two-day period of the giant track and field carnival, Santee,

PLAYOFF SET

Big Spring Win Knots Net Race

Big Spring clipped Lamesa here Friday evening, and the girls volleyball teams of the two schools now will play off a district tie.

Lamesa, playing without services of its star, Estelle Prather, was never able to head the Steerettes. Big Spring ailed in 25-13 after leading 12-5 at halftime.

Louise Burchett sparked with her spiking, and Elinoris Carroll continued as the smoothest setup.

Others figuring prominently in the triumph were Anna Mae Thorp, Nell Glover and Bernice Dies. The entire squad functioned smoothly.

Arah Phillips won the toss and the first game of the playoff will be in the Big Spring gymnasium on Monday at 8 p.m. The second game will be at 8 p.m. Tuesday in

Bob Bluhm Number One On Golf Team

Bob Bluhm will serve as the number one man on the Big Spring High School golf team which will compete in the district meet at the Odessa Country Club next Saturday.

Bluhm won the top-seeded spot in 27 holes of medal play the past week.

Eddie Harris will be the number two player. James Lee Underwood is seeded third and Richard Pachall fourth.

Midland, Odessa, Lamesa and Lubbock will be other teams competing for individual and team crowns.

Dan Lewis will take the Big Spring team to the meet.

Evans State Drug Noses Out Tavern

Evans State Drug emerged as the champion in the Men's Classic Bowling League race by sweeping a three game series from Cosden in matches the past week.

The Druggists' margin of victory over Jet Tavern, the second place club, was a mere half game. Jet Tavern yielded the lead by being tied by Big Spring Herald in one game. The Jets took the other two.

In other matches, Team 8 took three games from Lee Hanson's and Frank Sabbath Insurance won three from Gregg Street Cleaners.

Gross, Leopard Shine In Meet

AUSTIN, April 3 (AP)—Bobby Jack Gross, Big Spring student at Texas A&M, won first place in the university shot put event and fourth in the discus throw at the Texas Relays here Saturday.

Gross pushed the shot 52 feet 8 1/2 inches to beat out Bill Neider of Kansas by more than a foot.

In the discus, he finished behind Robert Van Der Oklahoma; Nick Spillous, Houston; and Clifford Dale, Nebraska, with a throw of 151 feet 4 inches. The winning toss (by Van Der) was 159 feet 3 inches.

Leon Leopard of Big Spring and Abilene Christian College anchored the Wildcats to a victory in the college mile relay race.

The Abilene Christian had as other members Burt McCoy, Don Conder and George Adrian. The foursome covered the mile in 3:16.4, which beat the time in the university class by .7.

SOX SCUTTLE ATLANTA

ATLANTA, April 3 (AP)—A 12-run, fifth inning explosion against three Atlanta pitchers, with Jackie Jensen setting the pace, sent the Boston Red Sox rolling to a 14-1 victory over Atlanta of the Southern Association today before 2,460 fans.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

There's no assurance John Ulrey will be the next basketball coach at Big Spring High School. . . John, now at Hempstead High School, hadn't returned his signed contract at this writing, although he was forwarded it some time ago. . . Seems John was offered a raise in pay to remain on his present job and it may have been too much to turn down. . . John Ray Dillard, the local horse trainer, applied for stall space at Churchill Downs in Kentucky. . . Dillard would have to have his Equichall and other horses run at the famed track this spring. . . Incidentally, one of the horses trained by Dillard, Flying Bry, won a six-furlong race at Oak Lawn in Hot Springs, Ark., the day before the track closed last week. . . Flying Bry is owned by Claude Kelly of Jayton, Texas. . . H. Craig, the leading rider at the Hot Springs meet, was in the frons. . . Stanton is losing its able assistant coach, Red Gilmore. . . Red is moving to another section of the state because his daughter can't take the dust and the wind. . . The former Stanton mentor, Red Read, is selling irrigation equipment in Lubbock, by the way. . . And Leo Fields, who gave Stanton a football champion three years ago, coached the Dimmitt girls' team that won the state basketball championship recently. . . Leroy (Red) Gibson, a fine fullback on Fields' potent Stanton grid team, quit the Naval Academy at Annapolis and is now in school at North Texas. . . He won't play football, however, due to a bad back. . . A Longhorn League club unloaded one of its best players for two good reasons, (1) the veteran thought he should get a bonus every spring for signing and (2) he believed in looking for that high ball in the gin mills while refusing to go after it in the ball park.

Lea Disgruntled Over Pay Offer

Chick Evans, one of the top amateur linksters in the country, says Sam Snead is the model shotmaker but points out no one should copy his back-breaking swing. . . "It has a loop designed to throw the right hand under so as not to smother the shot. This puts a strain on the spinal column," says Chick. . . Casey Jones, a tremendous basketball guard for HCJC last year, played for a San Diego Navy cage team the past season. . . Carl Anderson, who was to have been the second-string catcher for the Big Spring High School club this year, is now living near Kerrville. . . Ken Kowalik and Johnny Tayan, who have worn the livery of the San Angelo Colts the past several years, were here looking for baseball jobs several days ago. . . Both are class-men and, for that reason, may find it hard to land jobs. . . Leo Eastham,

Webb Lauds Miler's Potential

Don Webb, who used to be quite a miler himself for Big Spring High School, says the Steers' Bobby Fuller is potentially the best distance runner he's ever seen wearing a local uniform. . . "It's rare when you see talent combined with a desire to win," comments Webb. "In Fuller, you have that combination. He should be a great miler before he gets out of school!" . . . Bobby is only a sophomore. . . Baytown High School may have the best high school mile relay team in the nation. . . The Gasper quartet has covered the distance in 3:24.2. . . The National schoolboy record, set in 1929 by a North Hollywood High School team, is 3:21.4. . . Speedy Moffett, the former Big Spring, will direct the Snyder Little League baseball program again this sum-

Lea Disgruntled Over Pay Offer

the Odessa outfielder, had a right to yelp—which he did—when he received his pay offer from the new management of the Odessa club. . . It called for $250 a month "plus transportation to camp." . . The salary offer was over $150 less than what Leo had been making. . . "And where do they think I have to travel from, Panama?" inquired Eastham. . . He spent the winter in Odessa, said he would have needed only 35 cents for a taxi ride to Oiler Park. . . After moving into camp with the San Francisco Seals, following his purchase from Carlisle, Audie Malone told manager Tommy Heath he could pitch with either hand and would welcome the chance. . . Pat McLaughlin wouldn't let him to do with the Potashers last year. . . Dixie White, the former Lubbock assistant coach, is now in the insurance business in Wichita Falls.

91-B Meet Slated For 1:30 Friday

The annual District 91-B track and field meet will be staged in Forsan, starting at 1:30 p.m. Friday.

In the past, the meet has been staged at Big Spring but Forsan is a track and offered to hold the track show this year.

Frank Selvy Makes A Clean Sweep Of All Cage Honors

NEW YORK, April 3 (AP)—Furman's Frank Selvy made a clean sweep of all significant major-college basketball scoring records, final official N.C.A.A. Service Bureau figures showed today.

The 6-foot-3 All-America from Corbin, Ky., set 24 major records and innumerable minor ones for one game, one season, two seasons and career, in field goals, free throws and total points.

In fact only two records remain in the book without his name, and both deal with attempts rather than accomplishments. He wound up 20 free throw attempts short of the career record of 926 held by Walter Dukes of Seton Hall, and 23 field goal attempts short of the one-season standard of 964 set by Temple's Bill Mulky in 1951.

Otherwise everything Selvy did was unprecedented. He completed the season with a 29-game total of 427 goals, 355 fouls and 1,209 points, an average of 41.7. That's an increase of more than 40 per cent over his 1953 average of 29.5, which was an all-time record then. He is only the second player to win the national scoring title twice, joining George Mikan in the exclusive category.

His career total of 2,538 points is the highest ever recorded in any college competition, surpassing by one point the Seattle's Johnny O'Brien compiled in two seasons of minor competition and one major. Selvy's three-year average of 32.5 points a game is

Oil Executive Visits Here

Wells Gain Sharply In First Quarter

Oil well completions gained 27 per cent and their potential jumped 83 per cent during the first quarter of 1954 over the same period for last year in Howard and six contiguous counties.

Howard County accounted for practically all the increase. Completions were up by more than 100 per cent and the amount of potential production multiplied five times.

Record for the first quarter, based on reports to the Herald, showed 89 producing wells completed in Borden, Dawson, Glasscock, Howard, Martin, Mitchell and Sterling counties. A year ago the figure for the same period was 70. These wells had a combined potential of 22,714.2 barrels of oil as compared with 12,428.09 in the first quarter of last year. There were 27 abandonments, the same as for the first three months of 1953.

The picture was fairly static except for the Howard gain and a substantial decline in Glasscock County. Howard completed 41 wells against 29 a year ago. Glasscock had 12 completions against 21 for the same quarter last year.

The rate of discoveries was up significantly. During the first quarter of this year wildcats came through as producers in the seven-county area.

By counties, the figures for the first quarter show completions, potentials and abandonments (with comparative figures for 1953 in parentheses):

BORDEN—9 completions for 2,265.66 barrels and 6 abandonments (6 complete, 1,221.97, and 4 abandoned).

DAWSON—12 completions for 1,805.23 barrels and 4 abandonments (10 completed, 3,131.21 and 5 abandoned).

GLASSCOCK—12 complete for 3,507.77 and one abandonment (21 complete, 3,901.42 and 2 abandonments).

HOWARD—41 complete for 12,940.48 barrels and 10 abandonments (20 complete, 2,549.40 barrels, 7 abandoned).

MARTIN—4 complete for 575.3 barrels, 2 abandonments (3 complete, 1,070.24 barrels, 3 abandoned).

MITCHELL—9 complete for 1,458.26 barrels and 4 abandonments (7 complete 548.93 barrels, 6 abandonments).

STERLING—2 completions for 158.2 barrels, no abandonments (3 complete, 492 barrels, no abandonments).

Four discovery wells were logged in Borden County. Three were in the Pennsylvanian, and one was in the Spraberry. The Spraberry discovery was J. E. Jones No. 2 W. L. Miller, which was completed for a 348 barrel potential some 1 1/2 miles southwest of Gall.

Falcon, Seaboard, Green and McSpadden No. 1 Clayton and Johnson was a Pennsylvanian discovery about 11 miles north of Vealmoor (five north of Good field). It made 202.86 barrels. Russell Maguire No. 1 H. D. Beal, about 13 miles southeast of Gall, was listed as a 416.63 barrel Pennsylvanian discovery. Stephens No. 1 Bacon, 20 southwest of Snyder, was the other, which made 25 barrels.

Dawson County logged two wildcat completions. Stanolind No. 1-A Graves was listed as a 13-barrel Pennsylvanian discovery some 2 1/2 miles northeast of Ackerly, and Murphy No. 1 J. B. Walls, five east of Lamesa, was logged as a 163-barrel Pennsylvanian discovery.

Martin County's Stanolind No. 1 C. M. Brown, about a mile south of Ackerly, was completed for a Pennsylvanian discovery of 16.59 barrels.

In Mitchell County Lee No. 1 Ross D. Dixon Jr., about 17 miles southeast of Colorado City, was listed a discovery. It made 729.46 barrels of oil on potential test of the Strawn Sand.

Russell Maguire No. 1 Chandler, some two miles west of Vincent, was a Howard County discovery. It made 183.87 barrels of oil on potential test. Completion was in the Canyon Reef. Another Howard field opener was Trans-Tex No. 1 Read Ranch, which made 504 barrels in the Pennsylvanian. It is about 27 miles northeast of Big Spring.

There were 23 wells completed in the Moore Field of southwest Howard during the first quarter. The aggregate potential gauged on these wells was 2,372.71 barrels of oil.

Only the Spraberry Trend Area of Glasscock County and the Oceanic (Pennsylvanian) Field of Howard County surpassed the Moore Field in total potential, and both fields fell far short of Moore in the number of wells completed.

Six projects were finalized in the Oceanic Field for a combined potential flow of 8,486.63 barrels of oil. There were eight completions in the Spraberry Trend Area of Glasscock, accounting for potential of 3,240.11 barrels.

Nine new wells were added to the producing ranks of the Howard-Glasscock Field. Aggregate potential here was 553.81 barrels of oil. Five of the new producers are in Howard County, the other four being in Glasscock.

Other fields having large combined potentials in the three-month period are the Spraberry West Field of Dawson, which had three new wells for 1,010.58 barrels, and the Luther Southeast Field of Howard, which logged 1,103.46 barrels.

A further breakdown by fields follows:

Borden: Reinecke, one for 145.06 barrels; Winfield, one for 34.16; Good Northeast, two for 796.5.

Dawson: Welch Southeast Spraberry, one for 207; Welch, six for 466.55 barrels.

Howard: Iatan-East Howard, two for 185.34 barrels; Snyder, one for 118.2.

Martin: Block 7 Field, one for 329; Mabey, two for 219.91.

Mitchell: Westbrook Field, three for 162.92 barrels; Sharon Ridge 1700, two for 282.68; McCabe, two for 248.9; and North Coleman Ranch, one for 55.

Sterling: Herre, one for 58.01; Parochial Bade, one for 100.19.

Projects in the Luther Southeast Field were drilling ahead Saturday, with no unusual developments reported.

Texas Pacific Coal and Oil No. 1 W. V. Boyles, C NE NE, 15-32-2n, T&P survey, hit 7,933 feet in lime. The same firm's No. 1 W. E. Hanson, C SW SW, 2-32-2n, T&P survey, got down to 7,425 feet in lime. The No. 1-B Phipps, C NE SE, 10-32-2n, T&P survey, reached 8,148 feet. And the No. 1-D Torn Spencer, C NW NE, 11-32-2n, T&P, bored to 7,925.

Another Luther Southeast project, Lone Star Drilling Company No. 1 W. V. Boyles, is drilling at 6,995 feet in lime. It is 467 from south and west lines east third, south 384 acres, 15-32-2n, T&P survey.

Texas Pacific Coal and Oil No. 2-1 Read Ranch, C SW NE, 22-25-H&TC survey, made it to 4,710 feet in lime. This project is some 10 miles north of Coahoma.

Andrews Sets Pace In Area Drilling

Andrews County has become the "hottest" area in the Permian Basin from the standpoint of rotary rig activity, according to a Reed Roller Bit Survey.

Other areas with a large number of rigs operating include Lea County, New Mexico, with 59; Ector County, with 29; Howard and Gaines counties, with 28 each; Coke, with 24; and Crane, 24.

Andrews County has 75 of the Basin's 497 active rigs. The total number of rigs dropped from the 500 counted on the mid-March survey. One year ago there were 503 active units in the area.

Most of the local counties either held their own between the two surveys or showed an increase. Glasscock is the only exception, dropping from six to five.

Howard County rigs rose from 28 to 28. Borden's count went from nine to 11, and Midland rigs increased from 16 to 19. Martin retained five rigs, as did Mitchell. Dawson kept the 10 rigs previously counted.

Total number of rigs operating at the end of March in the immediate seven county area was 83. There were 77 on the mid-March survey.

Counties and the number of rigs operating, with the number of earlier survey in parenthesis, follow:

Andrews, 75 (72); Borden, 11 (9); Cochran, 3 (1); Coke, 24 (24); Concho, 2 (1); Crane, 24 (28); Crockett, 7 (6); Culberson, 1 (1); Curry, 0 (1); Dawson 10 (10); Ector, 29 (29); Eddy, 6 (8); Gaines, 5 (5); Garza, 5 (4); Glasscock, 5 (6); Hale, 3 (1); Hockley, 8 (7); Howard, 28 (28).

Jeff Davis, 1 (0); Kent, 8 (5); Lamb, 2 (2); Lea, 59 (73); Lubbock, 2 (7); Loving, 3 (4); Martin, 5 (5); Midland, 19 (16); Mitchell, 5 (5); Nolan west, 9 (2); Pecos, 11 (12); Reagan, 6 (10); Roosevelt, 1 (1); Reeves, 2 (2); Runnels, 2 (1); Scurry, 6 (10); Schleicher, 10 (10); Sutton, 10 (9); Tom Green, 7 (6); Tarrant, 1 (0); Terry, 11 (9); Upton, 17 (14); Ward, 12 (12); Winkler, 8 (8); and Yoakum, 11 (11).

There were 35 rigs counted in the Spraberry, as compared with 11 on the previous survey.

Hopes Bright For Extending Moore Sector

Observers were optimistic this weekend concerning the possibilities of Hamon No. 1 Mabel Quinn becoming a San Andres producer about a mile south and slightly west of the Moore Field.

It is generally believed that the wildcat will make a well. Casing has been set at 3,315 feet, and operator is preparing to test. Top of porosity is unofficially reported at 3,300 feet, and some sources say lime was picked up from 30 to 50 feet high.

Drillite of the venture is C NE NE, 35-34-1s, T&P survey, some seven miles southwest of Big Spring.

Another wildcat in the southwest corner of Howard County is expected to pick up at the San Andres sometime over the weekend. It is Cosden No. 1 H. O. Phillips, which is reported at 3,100 feet in anhydrite.

This project is about four miles southwest of the No. 1 Quinn, drillite being 330 from north and west lines, 42-34-1s, T&P survey.

In the Moore Field, Duncart Drilling Company's No. 1-A Wilkinson had depth of 3,015 feet. Operator expects to core about Monday to see if the San Andres has been picked up. Location is 990 from south and 1,650 from west lines, 24-34-1s, T&P survey.

Duncan's No. 1 Barnett, also in the Moore Field, was rigging up with a new rotary rig Saturday. The surface string is expected to be set before Monday. Location is 990 from south and west lines, 28-33-1s, T&P survey.

North Howard Test Plugged

A North Howard wildcat was plugged and abandoned this weekend, and another in Southeast Dawson was being tested for a last time prior to abandonment.

Abandoned was Davis No. 1 R. G. Wilson, wildcat about two miles east of production in the East Vealmoor Field and a mile south of the Borden County line. It was bottomed at 7,712 feet in reef lime.

Top of the reef was tested between 7,865 and 7,702 feet for 70 minutes. Recovery was 100 feet of oil and gas-cut mud. Then operator cored from 7,702 and 7,712 feet and recovered 10 feet of lime stained with fluorescence. Another test was taken from 7,697 to 7,712 feet with tool open three hours for recovery of 450 feet of salt water.

Davis No. 1 Wilson was drilled at C NE SW, 46-31-3n, T&P survey. It is 20 miles north, northeast of Big Spring.

A test was being run in Dawson County on Humphrey's No. 1 J. L. Billingsley this weekend in the Pennsylvanian reef. Following the test, below 9,210 feet, operator plans to abandon the wildcat because he does not believe it can make any sort of a well.

Location is about two miles east of Ackerly. Another drillstem test in the reef was taken between 9,167 and 9,190 feet for four hours which had recovery of 30 feet of oil, 270 feet of oil and gas-cut mud, 90 feet of salty oil and gas-cut mud, and 90 feet of salt water.

The No. 1 Billingsley is C NW NW, 12-34-3n, T&P survey.

Mitchell Prospect Has Mud On Test

McAlester Fuel Company of Magnolia, Ark., was deepening its No. 1-A Roy Largent this weekend following a drillstem test in which recovery was only 35 feet of mud.

The test, for 25 minutes, was between 7,030 and 7,058 feet. Flowing pressure was zero, and the 15-minute shutin pressure was 760 pounds. At last report bit was turning at 7.38 feet.

The No. 1-A Largent is about 3/4ths of a mile north of Ray Aulbaugh No. 1 Whittington, recent discovery. It is to test both the Pennsylvanian and Ellenburger. Location is C SE SE, 8-17-SPRR survey.

National Drilling Rate Down Slightly

DALLAS—A total of 2,654 rigs were active in oilfields of the United States and Canada for the week of March 29, 1954, according to a report to American Association of Oilwell Drilling Contractors by Hughes Tool Company. This compares with 2,754 reported a week ago, 1,641 a month ago, and with 2,639 in the comparable week of 1953.

Wildcat Is Staked In Vincent Area

Activity in North Howard County was sparked this weekend by the spotting of a new wildcat near Vincent and a new location in the Oceanic Field.

Dan-Grise Oil Company and W. W. Harvey et al of Abilene staked their No. 1 E. J. Carpenter as a prospect about a mile and a half west of the recently completed discovery, Maguire No. 1 Chandler (Carpenter).

The No. 1 Carpenter will be drilled by rotary to 8,200 feet, where a test of the Canyon Reef, is scheduled. The wildcat is about three miles west of Vincent and some 13 miles northeast of Big Spring. Drillite is C NE SW, 17-25-H&TC survey.

The addition to the Oceanic Field is Oceanic et al and Phillips No. 2 J. F. Wiggins, located some three-quarters of a mile southwest of Vealmoor. It will be drilled by rotary to 8,300 feet. Elevation is listed at 2,685. Location is 230 from south and 2,271 from east lines, 25-33-3n, T&P survey.

Rotary was being rigged this weekend at Texas Crude No. 1-34 J. I. White, a stepout to the Oceanic Field some three miles southwest of Vealmoor. Drillite is 330 from north and east lines, southeast quarter, northeast quarter, 34-33-3n, T&P survey.

Cosden's No. 1 John Jackson, also in the Oceanic Field, was waiting on cement Saturday for 8 1/2 inch casing set at 3,151 feet. About a half mile southeast of Vealmoor, location is 1,040 from north and 230 from west lines, 30-32-3n, T&P survey.

Projects in the Luther Southeast Field were drilling ahead Saturday, with no unusual developments reported.

Texas Pacific Coal and Oil No. 1 W. V. Boyles, C NE NE, 15-32-2n, T&P survey, hit 7,933 feet in lime. The same firm's No. 1 W. E. Hanson, C SW SW, 2-32-2n, T&P survey, got down to 7,425 feet in lime. The No. 1-B Phipps, C NE SE, 10-32-2n, T&P survey, reached 8,148 feet. And the No. 1-D Torn Spencer, C NW NE, 11-32-2n, T&P, bored to 7,925.

Another Luther Southeast project, Lone Star Drilling Company No. 1 W. V. Boyles, is drilling at 6,995 feet in lime. It is 467 from south and west lines east third, south 384 acres, 15-32-2n, T&P survey.

Texas Pacific Coal and Oil No. 2-1 Read Ranch, C SW NE, 22-25-H&TC survey, made it to 4,710 feet in lime. This project is some 10 miles north of Coahoma.

Historic Haul

This transport was making history Thursday when it carried the first load of asphalt to be hauled under a new contract between C. & R. Transport and Cosden Petroleum Corporation. The brand new rig was loaded out at Cosden for delivery to Collins Construction Company in Midland, the forerunner of a growing volume that will keep Cosden's asphalt production flowing all over Texas. Pictured are L. A. Moss, C. & R. driver, Van Hall, manager of the C. & R. asphalt division in West Texas; Ernie Richardson, assistant Cosden superintendent; Andy Cox, terminal manager for C. & R.; Jack Alexander, in charge of sales and asphalt production in Texas for Cosden; Henry Covert, Cosden's asphalt superintendent.

New Transport Firm Begins Asphalt Haul

C. & R. Transport Company has begun operating under a new contract to transport Cosden Petroleum Corporation asphalt in Texas.

With 40 new rigs, representing an investment of three-quarters of a million dollars, the company launched operations April 1.

Although headquartered in Winkboro, C. & R. Transport will maintain approximately 35 families in Big Spring to handle the distribution through its asphalt fleet.

The concern is owned by Thomas and Ray Rollen, and terminals also are operated at Fort Worth and Dumas as well as Winkboro and Big Spring. The Rollen brothers started in the oil business 50 odd years ago. In the interval they have expanded their business from two transports to the present 75. Thirty of the fleet of trucks handle gasoline shipments.

Van Hall, manager of the asphalt division for C. & R. will be in charge of operations out of Big Spring to all Texas points. He will travel the area served by Cosden with a telephone equipped automobile to help expedite service.

Terminal manager at Big Spring will be Andy Cox, while Ralph Ingram will be superintendent of the shops which have been set up on U. S. 80 east in the building which formerly housed the Driver Truck Company.

Equipment secured for the Cosden contract is the most efficient which can be had for this type of operation, said Jack Alexander, in charge of asphalt production and sales for Cosden.

Each of the new rigs will handle a capacity load of 4,450 gallons of all types of asphalt.

The C. & R. fleet is in addition to that of Art Tucker, who has been delivering asphalt to New Mexico and outlying points for Cosden. He will continue this phase of the transport with 60 trucks busily engaged in supplying the orders.

To meet expanding markets, Cosden recently made arrangements for 5,000 barrels per day additional production.

Martin Project

Hall No. 1-A University, 1980 from south and 330 from west lines, 16-7-University survey, was being drilled below 11,281 feet in lime Saturday. This Martin County project is a stepout to the Block 7 (Devonian) Field.

THRIFTY, MAYBE, BUT IS IT PRACTICAL?

The laddie above has found a thrifty mode of travel, indeed. But we question its practicality. There are also many ways of handling your money. Keep it in a sock, a dresser drawer or bury it. But are they practical?

To thinking people, the only practical way of handling money is depositing it in a checking account and paying all bills via check. Why not drop in and talk to our people at your early convenience? You'll save in many ways, let us tell you about it.

PETROLEUM BUILDING

MEN'S WEAR OF CHARACTER

IUOE Slates Meeting Here

Delegates from a dozen states are expected here this week for the Allied Petroleum division meeting of the International Union of Operating Engineers.

The Allied Petroleum locals, representing the stationary group, will send delegates from territory west of the Mississippi.

D. A. Brazel, district representative for the IUOE, will join with Alfred Goodson, president of the Cosden local, for arrangements here. Mayor G. W. Dabney will welcome the visiting delegates to Big Spring at 9 a. m. Thursday in the Settles ballroom.

William Maloney, Washington, D. C., president of the international, has been invited to take part in the council. Jerry Holzman, Austin, executive secretary of the Texas Federation of Labor, is to be one of the principal speakers at one of the sessions.

James Garrett, Borger, who represented the Operating Engineers at the biennial United Nations labor parley in Belgium last year, is president of the council.

Delegates are expected here from Illinois, Colorado, Oklahoma, Louisiana, Arkansas, California, New Mexico and other states.

Cox Is Candidate For Glasscock Post

GARDEN CITY — Milton Fern Cox has announced his candidacy for the office of county commissioner from Precinct No. 2 in Glasscock County.

In entering his name in the Democratic primaries, Cox is making his first appearance in politics. If elected, he said, "I will work for the best interests of Glasscock County in a cooperative, courteous and economical manner."

To Lead Meeting

The Rev. Walter Dever, pastor of the First Baptist Church at Clyde, will lead in a revival meeting starting Wednesday at the Airport Baptist Church. The Rev. Warren Stowe, Airport pastor, said the Booster Band would meet at 7:30 p. m. daily with evening services half an hour later. Services will be held also at 6:45 a. m. daily. The meeting will continue through Easter. Gordon Williams will be leading the singing. The Rev. Dever was many years ago pastor of the Baptist Church at Forsan.

$1,000 Bonds Are Set In Two Cases

Bonds of $1,000 each were set Saturday for two persons charged in Justice Court.

Joe R. Cahey was charged with breaking and entering. He waived examining trial.

Complaint against Calley alleged he broke into a car owned by Tom Helton. He was arrested by city police on Wednesday and charges against him were filed Saturday.

John Wesley Walker, who Friday was charged with driving while intoxicated, second offense, Saturday waived preliminary hearing. Justice of the Peace Cecil Nabors set the $1,000 bond in each case.

Williams To Oppose Dividend Tax Cuts

By JOE HALL.
WASHINGTON, April 3 (AP)—Sen. Williams (R-Del) said today he will join in a fight to knock out of the general tax revision bill a key section giving tax reductions to stockholders on their dividend income.

The Senate Finance Committee, on which Williams serves, is opening three weeks of public hearings Tuesday on the 875-page measure which represents a complete rewrite of the nation's whole tax structure.

Williams said he was not passing on the merits of the dividend provision, but he contended the government could not afford now to lose the millions of dollars of revenue he said was involved.

"It is ill-advised at this time," he said. Several Democratic senators also have said they will try to knock the provision out of the bill, and the issue is shaping up as one of the biggest fights ahead on the measure.

Sen. Byrd (D-Va) takes the same position as Williams—that the budget must not be thrown further out of balance. Other Democrats argue the dividend benefit, would be largely for the wealthy and that what is needed now is more buying power for low income families. They contend that 80 per cent of all publicly held stock is owned by six-tenths of one per cent of American families.

One Republican Senate leader on tax questions told a reporter privately today he was confident the dividend section could be retained, but he conceded it would be after a tough battle.

President Eisenhower and Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey asked for the provision on the ground that it was a step in the direction of ending "double taxation" of corporation profits. These profits are taxed both as corporation income and as income to the stockholders.

State Building Gains In Month

AUSTIN, April 3 (AP)—A February construction boom in Texas cities, as measured by building permits issued, compared to January, was reported today by the Bureau of Business Research of the University of Texas.

However, January and February figures still remained below the 1953 figures for the two months.

Figures compiled by the bureau showed the value of new buildings authorized gained 23 per cent from January to February, 1954, "in spite of the fact that a normal seasonal decline of 7 per cent was anticipated."

The bureau said that according to a recent tabulation Texas has a bigger construction backlog than any other state.

The biggest gain in construction permits was in cities between 25,000 and 50,000 population, the bureau said. The rise in cities of that size averaged 155 per cent.

Changes in value of building permits issued by cities from January to February included: Vernon, up 2,000 per cent; Greenville, up 675 per cent; Tyler, up 64 per cent.

There are more business firms in proportion to population in the United States today than in 1900—38 firms for every thousand people today compared with 21.

HI--TALK

By Libby Jones

The spring play cast all breathed a sigh of relief Friday night after their final performance of "Arsenic and Old Lace." Following the play, a cast party was held in the cafeteria. Janice Anderson, student director, presented Mr. Dell McComb a shirt from the cast members as a token of their appreciation to him. Seen at the party were Robert Angel and Sue Barnes, Judy Douglass and Frosty Robinson, Norman Dudley and Frances Walker, Jerry Hughes and Freida Daniels, Don Swinney and Ellouise Carroll, Anna Mae Thors and Roger Brown, Bill Earley and Nina Fryar, Rodney Shepperd and Kenda McGibbon, Don Reed and Margy Keaton, Jackie Milam and Kay Miller, Freddie Blalack, Shirley Burnette, Gay Jones, Glen Hancock, Joe Liberty, Dean Lowe, Glenna Drennen, Betty Ford, Joy Towery, Mr. McComb, Miss Mary Herring, and Mr. Keith Odom.

JANICE ANDERSON

The sophomores and juniors have been busy this past week electing their student body officers for next year. Glenn Rogers will lead the student body as its president next year. The first and second vice presidents, corresponding secretary, and recording secretary will be announced Monday. In the run-offs for vice president were Brick Johnson, Shirley Ward and Pat Tidwell; for secretary, Betty Anderson, Peggy Hogan and Betty Earley. Campaign speeches were given in an assembly Wednesday at noon.

The students will all welcome the band director, Mr. Rowe, when he returns to school Monday.

A number of students at BSHS have been making preparations to attend the Interscholastic League contests which will be held Saturday, April 10, in Lubbock. Those going for the boys debate are Benjie Compton, Charles Saunders, Tom Guin, and Gary Tidwell; girls debate, Sylvia Johnson and Anne

For our senior-of-the-week, we have chosen a girl who has done a fine job as student director of both of the school plays this year, Janice Anderson. Janice's activities do not stop here though. She is captain of the Tri-Hi-Y club, a society editor of the "Corral," and a member of the student council. Janice is also sweetheart of the DeMolay Club. Her plans for next year are to attend North Texas State College at Denton.

Mrs. Brooks Is Honoree At Shower

An arch of white wedding bells was combined with an arrangement of white stock and candytuft to form a centerpiece for the tea table when five hostesses honored Mrs. James Edward Brooks, a recent bride, with a bridal shower Friday evening. White tapers in crystal holders were placed at each side of the arrangement, used on a Madeira cut-work cloth.

Co-hostesses for the party, which was given in the home of Mrs. J. P. Dodge, were Mrs. W. G. Wilson Jr., Mrs. Ethel Crenshaw, Mrs. C. D. Wiley, Mrs. A. C. Bass and Mrs. Zolite Mae Rawlins. Guests were greeted at the door by Mrs. Rawlins and Lorena Brooks, sister of the bridegroom. They presented Mrs. Brooks. Other hostesses alternated at the register, punch bowl and the display of gifts.

Additional members of the house-party were Mrs. Willie Anderson, mother of the bride, and Mrs. E. L. Barrick, grandmother of the bridegroom.

Fishing Holds Spot Of Forsan Interest

FORSAN—Mr. and Mrs. Sammy Porter and family and Mr. and Mrs. Berl Griffith and Vane Ray have been fishing in Brownwood Lake.

Fishing at Possum Kingdom Dam were Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Asbury, Mrs. O. W. Scudday and Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Hines.

Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Anderson and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Cowley and Bobby were fishing on the Llano River near Mason.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Fairchild and Mike, of Jal. N. Mex., have returned to their home after visiting their parents here.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Parker were visitors in Colorado City recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Claud King and Joe, of Snyder, visited the Eddie Ray Kings recently.

From Sterling City, the James Craigs have been visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Craig and Mrs. Vera Harris.

Pfc. and Mrs. Theibert Camp have recently arrived for a visit with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Byron Neal, of Big Spring, and Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Camp. Mrs. Camp will remain here while her husband serves in the far East.

DRESS PARADE

Evelyn Merrill wears to work a navy linen dress with bolers trimmed with navy and white stripes. Buttons are placed on a diagonal at one side of the skirt which is also trimmed with the stripes. Her navy pumps feature the same diagonal lines and white trim. Loop earrings and heavy bracelet are smart tailored accessories for a "girl on the job."

At a party for visitors at the ABC convention Mrs. J. D. Jones matched her dark beige coat dress of linen with kid opera pumps featuring white trim. The dress was outlined at neck and sleeve line with brown and white stripes. Mrs. Roy Reeder wore brown and white cotton in a suit with high necked white blouse which she accented with a pearl choker. Mrs. R. H. Weaver chose a printed glazed cotton in the colors of black, white and beige. Vertical tucks decorated the bodice and the skirt was full. Black shiny straw hat, black patent pumps and bag were her smart accessories.

At the Officers' Wives' Club meeting Mrs. Alex P. Goodkin found herself involuntarily in the fashion show leading her two little girls, who were models. She was in the right place, however, in her smart black and white silk print dress made in the "little girl" style that is becoming so fashionable. Mrs. Aaron C. Andrus wore a charming two-piece combination of white linen blouse embroidered in shades of green on collar and front opening exactly matching her heavy linen printed skirt. Her white bandeau-type hat featured tiny white buds. Mrs. Walter R. Stewart wore a black faille hat which she had made herself and which sat fashionably flat on the head.

MU ZETA PLANS BENEFIT PARTY

Mu Zeta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority will have a bingo party Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock at the Girl Scout Little House. Proceeds from the party will go to the sorority's project, Girls' Town, in Whiteface, Texas. The public is urged to attend.

Shirley Ache Is Wed To Stephen Gay

A mid-morning ceremony at the First Methodist Church, Friday, united Shirley LaVerne Ache, daughter of Mrs. Bertie Ache, and Stephen E. Gay, son of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Gay, all of Big Spring.

The bride wore a two-piece beige dress, with brown accessories and a white hat. Her corsage was of gardenias. Her maid of honor, Jo Ann Gay, wore a navy taffeta dress with white accessories. Her flowers were carnations. John W. Smith was the best man.

Immediately after the ceremony, the couple left for a trip to Arizona and California. For traveling, Mrs. Gay wore a light blue two-piece linen dress with white hat and accessories. They will return to Chandler, Ariz., to make their home.

The bride attended Big Spring High School and was employed by Woolworth's. Mr. Gay is a graduate of Knott High School. An out-of-town guest for the wedding was a cousin of the bridegroom, Mrs. Frank Robertson, of Fort Worth.

Golf Group Has Luncheon

Thirty-six attended the first regular meeting Friday, of the Ladies Golf Association since its re-organization about a month ago at the Country Club. Luncheon was served at small tables decorated with spring flowers. Carlos' did the catering. Following the luncheon, bridge was played, with Mrs. R. R. McEwen and Mrs. Rosalind Craig winning high scores. Members were urged to bring their children to the party to be held at the club at 7 p.m. on April 16. Teen-agers will be given a dance on April 30. It was announced that bridge will be played on the second and fourth nights of the month.

Two Members Give Program For Forum

Mrs. Clyde Thomas and Mrs. W. F. Taylor gave the program on National Defense and on Religion and Democracy at the meeting of the Modern Woman's Forum in the home of Mrs. T. G. Adams Friday afternoon. Mrs. R. A. Eubank was co-hostess.

Letters were read, announcing the National Convention of Women's Clubs to be held in Denver during the first part of June. Plans were told of the luncheon to be given at Morales' on April 19, in honor of Mrs. A. J. House, vice president of the Federated Clubs. Mrs. Thomas reported on the district convention which she attended in Fort Stockton.

This Melodeon Played A Part In History

Mrs. G. G. Sawtelle sits at her antique melodeon which once stood in a Revolutionary era home where George Washington made his headquarters. Akkin to an organ, the melodeon is played by pumping the bellows. Mrs. Sawtelle is an antique fancier and has several interesting items in her home.

ANTIQUE MELODEON

It Came From House Where 'George' Slept

Mrs. G. G. Sawtelle is in the market for a choir boy. She is the proud owner of a lovely old melodeon which has been in her family for many years. At the moment its bellows leak, hence the need for the choir boy to pump. The instrument has a fascinating history. It is one of those rare pieces of furniture that actually belonged to a home which could really claim, "George Washington slept here." It was a home in Newburgh, N. Y., where George Washington stayed during the winter of 1782-1783 when he quartered his troops in that town.

Also from that home came a heavy solid mahogany table which Mrs. Sawtelle now owns. The melodeon, the forerunner of the upright organ, is done in satiny rosewood veneer. Mrs. Sawtelle explained that there is no such thing as solid rosewood. It's always a veneer. At any rate it has retained the same smooth finish for the 30 years that Mrs. Sawtelle has owned it.

Mrs. Sawtelle has a definite interest in antiques, probably because she can trace her family tree back to the early days of American history—she is a member of the DAR. Her family Bible, which she has preserved, shows entries of family slaves back to 1795—"Negro Isaac was born August 15, 1785; Negro Willie, Negro Hannah, etc." The slaves are listed right along with members of the family.

The Sawtelle coffee table is a little piece of western history in itself. It is an old solid oak window from the old Fort Union munitions ruins at Watrous, N. M. It is plainly hand-hewn and has the old-type square wooden pegs in-

NCO Club To Have Semi-Formal

The Webb Air Force Base NCO Club will be the scene of a semi-formal dance Monday when personnel of the top three grades are hosted by base tech sergeants.

Music will be furnished by the Hart Saybell Quartet and a free smorgasbord will be served. The dance begins at 8 p.m. and will last until midnight.

According to T-Sgt. Leon Donaldson, chairman of the dance committee, formal attire is optional. Tickets have been on sale this week in squadrons and are also available at the NCO Club. Admission is $2.50 per couple, or $1.25 single. Planning committee members are Tech Sergeants Gerald Keene, John Pritchett, James Carroll, Francis Mount, Leo Donaldson, Anthony Putz and D. W. Patton.

All top three grades of non-commissioned officer personnel are urged to attend the dance. According to Sgt. Carroll, if the event is successful, more dances will be held in the future with staff, tech and master sergeants combining forces to plan the projects.

Bride-To-Be

She'll Tell You What's Cookin'

Mrs. Jewel Bowen, demonstrator for Texas Electric Company, pulls out a pan of cookies — just one of the good things to eat she is planning to demonstrate this week in the offices of the company. Local electrical appliance dealers and the electric company are cooperating on "What's Cookin' Week."

Here's a snack for weight-watchers — a sandwich without bread. Spread salami slices with seasoned cottage cheese: top each with another salami slice. At serving time, cut each of these sandwiches into four wedges.

'What's Cookin' Week' Starts Here Monday

Starting Monday and continuing through Friday, local electric range dealers and Texas Electric Service Company will cooperate in telling the benefits of cooking electrically. As its part in the observance of "What's Cookin' Week," Texas Electric Service Company will present continuous demonstrations of electric cooking in the company's office from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. during the five days. Electric range dealers also have planned special attractions.

At the electric company's office, Mrs. Jewel Bowen, home service demonstrator, will demonstrate cooking in electric ovens, on surface units and in deep well cookers each day during the week. Present users of electric ranges and also others who are interested in cooking electrically are especially invited.

"These demonstrations are designed to answer the questions of women who are not familiar with all the cooking possibilities of an electric range, and to point out the many advantages of modern electric cooking," R. L. Beale, electric company manager, said.

Monday's demonstration will include preparation of an angel food cake and rice. On Tuesday she will cook fruit fritters, angel pie and ranch style beans. Wednesday's demonstration will show the preparation of jelly tarts, tuna sandwiches and a white loaf cake with broiled frosting. Thursday's cooking schedule includes hot rolls, refrigerator fruit pie and hush puppies. The demonstrations will close Friday with the preparation of TV snacks, beanburgers and angel food cake.

Eat a variety of food! If you do, nutritionists say that you are practically certain to get all the nutrients your body needs. A variety of foods also makes a family's meals interesting from the point of view of flavor, texture and color.

Melba Smith Is Wed To Waco Airman

In an informal ceremony in the parlors of the First Baptist Church Saturday evening, Melba June Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jess Smith, became the bride of A-3C Louis Davenport Jr., son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Louis Davenport of Waco.

The Rev. P. D. O'Brien, pastor of the church, read the vows. Alice Ann Martin, organist, played the traditional wedding music.

For her wedding, the bride wore a rose eyelet dress with white accessories. Her something old was a handkerchief belonging to her grandmother, Mrs. W. J. Smith, and something borrowed was a pair of earrings belonging to Mrs. Bernard Fisher. She wore a penny in her shoe.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held, with Mary Elizabeth Ivey, Audrey Arnold and Mrs. Fisher presiding at the bride's table. The couple will be at home at 506 Gregg St.

Ready For Spring

Rhonda Fleming, soon to be seen in Paramount's "Jivaro," talks to Lydia Lane about her beauty routine. The popular redhead also makes her special diet available to "Hollywood Beauty" readers.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Attention To Hair And Diet Give Star Charm

By LYDIA LANE
 HOLLYWOOD—The most striking thing about Rhonda Fleming's beauty is her coloring and she is considered by many the most beautiful redhead on the screen.
 "My kind of skin has its disadvantage," Rhonda confessed as we had tea recently in her lovely new home in Bel Air. "It gets red and peels if I'm in the sun very long at a time. I used to feel awful about this but now I know that too much sun does ugly things to any skin. I've seen teen-agers sun day after day, seeing how brown they could burn and at the end of the summer they had dried out their complexions so that they had lines all around their eyes."
 "It's a good idea to have some sort of plan for caring for your skin at every age," Rhonda added. "And with all the beauty advice and beauty preparations offered today you have to be lazy to let yourself go."
 Rhonda remarked that she realized that running a house and taking care of children didn't leave much leisure. But very often women with the largest families look better than childless wives, and busy Rhonda is certainly in that group.
 "They say if you want to be sure something is done ask a busy person to do it," I commented.
 "That's true," Rhonda agreed. "Getting things done is a matter of planning. If you want to improve your appearance you don't have to spend a great amount of time on yourself but you do have to devote a few minutes every day."
 Rhonda feels that everyone should try to make their hair one of their big assets. "Every night and morning I brush my hair for fifty strokes—that's not much but if you bend over and brush away from your scalp you bring the blood up and keep your hair in good condition."
 "I'm a fanatic about clean, fluffy hair," Rhonda exclaimed. "I wash mine every three days."
 "Don't you find this drying?"
 "I use a mild shampoo and once a month I use a conditioning cream. I rub it into the scalp and then steam it with one of those electric caps. If you've had a bad permanent or your hair is dried out from bleaching, this type of treatment will give new life to your hair."
 I asked Rhonda about her night club act.
 "I was a singer before I was an actress," Rhonda confided.
 "In fact one of my singing teachers thought I might try for an operatic career. But even if you don't have a great voice I think singing lessons are valuable because they teach you how to breathe properly. And so few people realize the value of giving your system sufficient oxygen."
 "I start the day with setting up exercises and deep breathing. I get on the floor and stretch until I can feel all the kinks go out of my body. Then, lying flat on my back, I raise my leg from the floor, feet together and lower them slowly especially the last few inches. This doesn't take long but if you do it every day it keeps your posture good and your tummy flat."
 We chatted about keeping in condition and Rhonda remarked that she was thoroughly sold on the part food played in building firm muscles.
 "If more people had knowledge of the nutritional value of food and trained themselves to avoid useless foods, you wouldn't hear so much about reducing."

 "Don't you ever have to diet?" I asked.
 "Not seriously," Rhonda confided. "But just after Easter every year I go on what I call my spring cleaning diet. For two days I take no solids at all and I feel and look so much better afterwards. It's a special diet that seems to work like magic."
 "Don't you get weak or terribly hungry?"
 "Not at all because you are getting plenty of nourishment—just a different kind. I suppose if you are used to large meals you might feel uncomfortable but I don't believe in loading the stomach. I prefer to eat lightly and more often."
 "Do you lose a lot of weight with this diet?" I asked.
 "It varies with the condition you are in. If I need to lose weight I can drop six pounds in two days but even if I don't want to take off much I like the diet for the way it makes me feel. Most of us eat too much anyway so it's good to give your system a periodic rest."
 "In addition to the right food," Rhonda continued, "there is nothing which makes a face more attractive than being well fed, spiritually. Everytime you see a woman who is startlingly beautiful you will find this comes more from the expression on her face than the regularity of her features."
 "A big beauty secret for everyone," Rhonda said with finality, "is to practice positive thinking."
 "How do you do this?" I wanted to know.
 "You have to determine to keep your mind open. And always look for the bright, good side of anything. By being in a happy frame of mind you can't help but reflect a glow in your personality."

Athletic Banquet Held In Forsan

FORSAN — The athletic banquet was held Friday at the school cafeteria with a review of the season's sports given by Harold Hicks, Betsy Wise, Albert Oglesby, Ann Green and Johnny Brown.
 Mistress of ceremonies was Lela Fletcher. Invocation was given by Glen Whittenberg. A vocal solo was presented by Lucie Jacobs with accompaniment by Mary Lou McElrath.
 The head table was centered with an arrangement of a miniature football field and miniature football players crowning a football queen.
 Other tables were centered with trophies won in district games. A large arrangement of cherry blossoms placed in a football was on the piano behind the head table.
 Nut cups were miniature gold loving cups and place cards featured mounted footballs and basket balls.
 Junior high school girls served the 66 guests.

XYZ Club Entertains Guests At Convention

A refreshment table laid with a dark green linen cloth with copper appointments was the background for an afternoon party, given in the home of Mrs. Horace Garrett for members and visitors to the XYZ convention which ended Saturday.
 Vari-colored daisies in a two-tiered copper bowl were flanked by bottled drinks each tied with a small bow of ribbon holding straws. Yellow ribbons radiated from the arrangement to each corner, where they were tied with a bouquet of daisies.
 Music was furnished during the afternoon by Janice Nalley and Kendra McGibbon at the organ. Special prizes were awarded to Mrs.

W. D. Duggan and to Mrs. Porter Garrett, of Lubbock.
 Friday evening, the club joined their husbands for a barbecue at the Country Club. Following this was a party for all the "Big Hat" members, which was a stag affair.
 Saturday at noon, the group met for luncheon at Morales', at which time, Mrs. Clyde Angel reviewed "Forty-Odd." Mrs. Walter Pinder, accompanied by Mrs. C. A. Boyd, sang.
 The convention closed Saturday evening with a dinner dance at the Settles Hotel, honoring the club's governor.

Mrs. Wilson To Head VFW Women

Mr. Jack Wilson was installed as president of VFW Auxiliary 2013 at a meeting Thursday, Mrs. C. G. Barnett past president, was installing officer.
 Other officers installed were Allen Guesz, senior vice; Mrs. Dwight McCann, junior vice; Juanita Hamlin, treasurer; Mrs. Nathan Wilson, chaplain; Mrs. Barnett, conductress; Mrs. Clyde Dooley, guard and Mrs. Stella Tyson and Mrs. La Roma O'Brien, trustees.

 Mrs. Frankie Tucker and Mrs. McCann gave short talks on auxiliary work. A general discussion followed. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Barnett and Mrs. Ethel Crenshaw. The next meeting will be April 24.

Rice-Strawberry Bavarian Is A Glamorous Dessert

Ingredients:
 1/2 cup cold water
 1 envelope gelatin
 1 cup hot cooked rice
 1/2 cup beet or cane sugar
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1 teaspoon vanilla
 1 cup whipping cream
 1/2 cup mashed strawberries

Method:
 Pour the cold water into a saucepan and sprinkle the gelatin on top of the water. Let stand for 5 minutes. Place saucepan over a low heat and stir until the gelatin has dissolved. Add the hot cooked rice. Add sugar, salt and vanilla. Mix well and cool. When mixture begins to thicken, fold in the cream which has been whipped. Add the mashed strawberries and mix well. Some strawberries are sweeter than others, so taste to see that the sugar used is enough. Turn into a greased mold or individual molds or pile into individual dessert dishes. If the Rice Strawberry Bavarian has been molded, chill until firm. Then unmold and serve with sliced sweetened strawberries. This recipe makes 5 servings.

BABY DRESS! Crisp And Cool Design Like Frosting On Cake

The "Baby Dress" is the Big Fashion News! The latest word from the fashion designers is to have a dress with a "baby look." So Harvey Berin puts frosting on the birthday cake with this design. It was originally made in palest pastel linen with trim of white ball fringe on the collar and around the skirt. This easy-to-make new "Baby Dress" would be crisp and cool in pique or other cottons with trim of Irish lace, tating or any eye-catching braid from the notion counter. Made in a paisley print with a tailored braid, or in black silk trimmed with matching ball fringe, it would be a perfect afternoon dress in big cities now; made in taffeta or faille, it becomes a party dress you can wear on into the winter. This pattern is cut in Designer sizes.

 Size 10, bust 34, waist 24, hips 35; size 12, bust 35, waist 25, hips 36; size 14, bust 36 1/2, waist 26 1/2, hips 37 1/2; size 16, bust 38, waist 28, hips 39; size 18, bust 40, waist 30, hips 41.
 Size 12 requires 5 yards of 36-inch material for the dress and 1/2 yard of 36-inch material for interfacing. To order pattern 1180, address Spadea Syndicate, Inc., P. O. Box 335, Dept. B-5, G. P. O., New York 1, N. Y. State size. Send $1.00. Airmail handling 25 cents extra. Pattern Booklet 10 available for 25 cents.

Men, Like Dogs, Have Day In Flower Show

An unusual phase of the Big Spring Garden Club Flower Show, which will be held in the gymnasium at Howard County Junior College on April 10-11, will be the division "for men only." The theme of the show is "Through the Garden Gate."
 In Section III, which is open to all members of all garden clubs in the city, is one marked "Head of the House." The division is exclusively for the artistic arrangements fashioned by men, not necessarily husbands of club members. Some of the other intriguing names of divisions are "In the Oriental Manner," "Memories of our Grandmother's Gardens," "Tribute to a Garden's Best Friend—The Bird" and "Queen of the Show," featuring the iris in an arrangement.

 The other division open to other than garden club members is the Iris Horticulture Division. The general public may enter this one. Requirements are that the iris be grown by the exhibitor out-of-doors. All iris must be labeled as to varieties.

 Interesting awards are in store for the winners in the iris division, such as named iris rhizomes and cash prizes. The American Iris Society is offering a silver medal to the winner of the most blue ribbons in the Iris Horticulture Division and a bronze medal to the second greatest number of blue ribbons in that division.
 A named iris rhizome will be given as a special prize to every 15th paid admission during the flower show. Judges for the occasions are accredited by the National Iris Society.

 Other divisions of the show make provision for the judging of perennials and annuals as specimen blooms or in collections. Bulbs of various kinds may be entered as well as one branch from flowering shrubs or trees. There is also a group for potted plants.
 The schedule, giving requirements and prizes offered, may be obtained from any member of the Big Spring Garden Club for 50 cents. This will serve as an admission to the show as well as a mission to the preparation of any entries to be placed in the exhibition.

Try Peanut Butter In Cupcakes

Food and nutrition specialists at Texas A&M suggest the following as recipe-of-the-week:
PEANUT BUTTER CUPCAKES
Ingredients:
 1-3 cup butter, margarine, or other shortening
 1/2 cup peanut butter
 1 teaspoon vanilla
 1-3 cups brown sugar
 2 egg yolks, plus 1 egg
 2 cups sifted flour
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 2 teaspoons baking powder
 1 cup milk
 Meringue (see below)
 1/2 cup chopped salted peanuts

Method:
 Blend shortening, peanut butter, and vanilla. Gradually add 1 cup of sugar, creaming until light and fluffy. Beat eggs with remaining 1/3 cup sugar. Sift dry ingredients together and add alternately, with milk to the peanut butter mixture. Fill lightly greased muffin pans half full, cover with meringue, and sprinkle with chopped peanuts. Bake at 350 degrees F. (moderate oven) about 25 minutes or until the meringue is set and well browned.
 Makes twenty-four 2-inch cupcakes.
MERINGUE FOR CUPCAKES
 2 egg whites
 1/4 teaspoon salt
 1/2 cup brown sugar
 Beat egg whites and salt until stiff but not dry and add sugar gradually. Continue beating until the mixture is stiff and glossy.

The length of time colored clothes are washed may cause them to lose color. So if you use a washing machine, keep them in the machine only long enough to get them clean. To avoid the need for long or hard washing, colored clothes should not be allowed to become badly soiled before laundering.

M-SGT. AND MRS. W. W. PEARCE AND FRIEDA

YMCA, You Should Meet Mrs. William Pearce

The local YMCA and other youth groups will be glad to hear that among newcomers to Big Spring is Mrs. William W. Pearce, 217 Elm.

Mrs. Pearce can boast six years of YMCA work after graduating from Russell Sage College in Troy, N. Y. She was in charge of all teen-age activities at the "Y" in Albany, N. Y. and coordinated all youth programs including day camp. She worked there four years. After she married M-Sgt. Williams she did the same kind of work for the Altou, Ill., "Y."

The Pearces have no children but they have a "most human" dachshund named Frieda. Although the Pearces say she is spoiled, she impressed us as a pretty intelligent dog, especially when she managed to get a piece of dog "candy" for each time she "sat up."

The Pearces are ready to take issue with a recent magazine article that says dogs are dumb. The sergeant is a maintenance and repair man for link trainers at Webb. He is originally from Florida but now claims Winchester, N. H. as home, as does Mrs. Pearce.

The Pearces were at Waco before transferring to Webb, and Sgt. Pearce was among the men from the Waco Air Force Base who helped the town "dig out" after the disastrous tornado last year.

The sergeant is a whiz at making delicate little airplane models which he carves himself. Mrs. Pearce is looking forward to joining a bridge group.

Charlene Fortune And Roy G. Smith Are Wed

An improvised altar decorated with white stock and greenery formed the setting for the informal wedding uniting Charlene Fortune and Roy Glenn Smith Thursday evening in the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. Howard Reid, 209 Andree.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. K. Fortune of Knott and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Maye Crossley of Athens.

Reading the double ring rites of the candlelight ceremony was T. H. Tarbet, minister of Benton St. Church of Christ. Traditional wedding music was played.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a light blue silk shantung two-piece dressmaker suit with light blue nylon blouse. Her accessories were white and she carried a white Bible topped with American Beauty roses.

As maid of honor, Betty Caughy wore a deep rose two-piece dress and an orchid corsage.

Paul Eslingo was the bridegroom's best man.

The mother of the bride was dressed in beige and wore a carnation corsage.

Following the ceremony a reception was held. The bride's table was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake. A lace cloth and a crystal punch service were used.

Serving were Mrs. Henry West and Miss Caughy. Mrs. Reid kept the bride's book.

The couple left for a trip to Little Rock, Ark., and Athens. They will make their home here. The bridegroom is stationed at Webb Air Force Base.

Mrs. Smith is a medical stenographer at Medical Arts Clinic-Hospital and is a graduate of Howard County Junior College.

Mrs. June Eslingo was hostess recently in her home at 1313 Wood at a miscellaneous shower for the bride.

Guests were served from a lace covered table featuring a bride's cake and crystal punch service. Thirty-five attended.

Celebrates 87th Birthday

M. H. O'Daniel was honored by his children and grandchildren recently, when his wife entertained with a party on the occasion of his 87th birthday. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. E. T. O'Daniel, Mr. and Mrs. O. D. O'Daniel, Janie and Judy Echols, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Bass, Mrs. Mary Brown and Wendel, Mrs. Lowell Baird and Mrs. Horace Battenfield. Mr. O'Daniel is a retired pioneer-rancher and oilman, who moved to Howard County in 1901. He owned and operated the ranch now known as the J. P. Anderson Ranch, northeast of the city. From 1902 until 1910 he lived in Mitchell County and Colorado City.

ESA Rushees Entertained

Rushees, dates, husbands and families were guests at the tennis party and wiener roast held at the City Park Friday evening by the Epsilon Sigma Alpha Sorority. Fifty-nine attended. Guests of honor were the rushees: Joyce Woodard, Bonnie Lindley, Mrs. Dennis Turner, Louise Felty, Mrs. Tolford Durham and Mrs. Charles Vaughn.

It was announced that the next event in the "rush season" will be a tea in the home of Mrs. A. K. Turner on April 13, when Mrs. Harold Davis will review "Next Week—East Lynne," by Gladys Hurlbut.

Good Old Boiled Shrimp A Favorite

Just plain boiled shrimp is a seafood favorite with many people.

- BOILED SHRIMP
- 1 quart water
  - 1 stalk celery
  - 1-3 cup sliced onion
  - 6 to 8 black peppers
  - 1 bay leaf
  - 1 teaspoon salt
  - 2 pounds shrimp
  - 3 thin lemon slices
- Combine water, celery, onion and seasonings in a saucepan. Bring to a boil, lower heat and allow to simmer while shrimp are being prepared. Shell and clean shrimp. Add with lemon to the liquid. Boil 15 to 20 minutes or until shrimp have become pink and are tender. If possible let the shrimp cool in the cooking water. Drain. Makes about 6 servings.

Fish, soup and dishes containing milk or cream—in addition to meat—should be stored in the coldest section of your refrigerator, usually just beneath the freezing compartment.

Nurses Disaster Workshop Planners

These nurses have been taking a refresher course in first aid and have made some plans for the workshop in disaster training to be held here next month. From left to right they are Mrs. Frederick Brodt, standing, instructor; Mrs. Clyde Thomas Jr., Mrs. E. P. Driver, inactive nurses; Mrs. Nina James, Mrs. C. O. Trantham, industrial nurses; Marie Brand, local chairman for the Texas Graduate Nurses Association; Jewel Barton, district chairman for the Texas Graduate Nurses Association and local nurse chairman for the Red Cross disaster nursing; Mrs. Louise Horton, school nurse and Mrs. Letha Duke, industrial nurse.

Nurses To Have Course In Disaster Training

If there are just two in your family, you'll find a smoked boneless pork shoulder butt is a good buy. You can use it sliced hot for one meal, sliced cold for another, and have some leftover to serve with eggs at breakfast or in sandwiches for lunch or evening snacks.

"What would you do if disaster struck Big Spring or one of our neighboring towns?" That is the question asked by Marie Brand, local chairman of the district Texas Graduate Nurses Association, in an appeal to all local nurses to register with her so that they would know what to do and where to report for duty in case of disaster.

Citing the needs for nurses to be prepared to help in case of a tornado, explosion or other disaster, Miss Brand pointed out that District 21 of the Texas Graduate Nurses has a planned disaster program. Jewel Barton, local city-county public health nurse, is general chairman of the district disaster committee.

Miss Brand would like to know all nurses in this area so that they may be reached in case the need arises. Registered nurses will be given a workshop in disaster training about the first week in May. A course will be arranged later for vocational and practical nurses.

The course is being co-sponsored by the local health department, the District Graduate Nurses Association and Howard-Glasscock County Red Cross.

All nurses are urged to fill in the form below and mail to: Miss Marie Brand, RN, care of Veterans Hospital, Big Spring.

Modern Ideas For Short Ribs Add Much Menu Appeal

Beef short ribs are on the list of so-called less demanded cuts. These are the cuts that many homemakers overlook, thus, they are frequently a good buy in your market, points out Reba Staggs, food authority.

New ideas for short ribs can lead to interesting meals. Spanish short ribs is one way you'll want to try. To make these add sliced onion and green pepper and a can of tomatoes to the browned short ribs. Season with salt, pepper and Worcestershire and cook covered until tender, about 1 1/2 to 2 hours.

Browned short ribs with sauerkraut is another favorite. Deviled short ribs, too, are good: add sliced onion, dry mustard and vinegar to the water used to cook the meat.

Short ribs also may be cooked as a stew, in liquid to cover, thus adding still more ways of serving them. The alternate layers of fat and lean in short ribs adds extra flavor to any kind of stew chosen. Add your choice of vegetables just long enough before the end of cooking so they will be tender. These beef cuts are a natural for a "bodied" dinner. To the ribs add cabbage wedges, carrots, turnips and onion.

Woman's Forum Plans For Federation Tea April 23

The Woman's Forum made plans for a Federation Day Tea to be held April 23 in the home of Mrs. J. D. Jones at a meeting Friday in the home of Mrs. Jack Y. Smith, 206 Washington. The tea will be from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m.

The program consisted of three talks by members. Mrs. Smith discussed "Habits Which Affect Family Living" and covered both alcohol and narcotics. She said that alcohol could be a family, social, moral, spiritual, mental and economic issue and stressed that liquor never makes a good social life. She also pointed out that wars had been fought over narcotics.

In discussing "Devotion to God, Home and Country," Mrs. Joe Pickle emphasized the need to follow the path of honesty. She said that Communism began when people separated themselves from God. She suggested that women set examples for their children in their home life.

Mrs. Clyde Thomas Jr.'s topic was "Activity for the Aged." She said that everyone should prepare for old age by having hobbies and cited that too many people of old age become misfits because they do not have activities.

It was announced that the forum won first place in the Department of Family Living and Mothercraft programs in the eighth district of Texas Federated Women's Clubs.

Mrs. W. W. Hunt will review for the Thursday Review Club April 22, it was announced.

Co-hostess for the meeting was Mrs. C. M. Boles. Nineteen members were present.

Any Chinese cabbage in your market? It makes a pleasant flavor change for a salad. Mix it with Never use the end of the spatula to other greens and French dressing; or put it into a carrot slaw.

Originals Of Local Scenes To Be Shown

A high point of interest in the Antique and Art Show, to be presented by the 1953 Hyperion Club on Wednesday afternoon at St. Mary's Parish house, will be the originals by Russell Vernon Hunter.

These are the paintings of scenes in and around Big Spring which were used to illustrate Margaret Cousin's article about "our town" in the March issue of "Ford Times." Of course, there is the picture of the big spring, and travelers up and down Gregg Street will immediately recognize the watermelon stand and the old house with two entrances—even though a small cafe is encroaching on the front yard.

Scenic Mountain comes in for its share of the art, and the carbon black plant east of town shows the commercial aspect. Besides these imported paintings, there will be a display of local art.

Some of the local artists to have work on exhibition are: Mrs. Robert E. Lee, Mrs. J. Emmette Miller, Mrs. Ira C. Raley, Mrs. Terry Patterson, Leon Sparkman and Mrs. M. W. Stoutenburg. Mrs. D. M. Conway and Mrs. J. F. Skalicky will display some of their ceramics. C. H. Tibbels will show commercial art work. Brass and copper articles which are over 2,000 years old will be on exhibition. Proceeds from the silver tea will go to the general federation project of preserving Independence Hall in Philadelphia.

Stock Market Pushes Ahead To New Peaks

By RADER WINGET
NEW YORK, April 3 (AP)—In its strongest advance in well over a year, the stock market this week pushed ahead to new peaks. It was a rolling advance with most divisions getting in on the act at one time or another during the week.

Profit-taking was a selective affair, but at no time did selling undermine basic values.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks gained $2.50, the greatest advance for the average since late in November of 1952.

During the drive ahead, the average reached a peak of $117.80, a new high for the year and the best since May 14 of 1950.

And to back up that strong showing, volume this week hit a daily average of 2,157,000 shares, the greatest daily average for business since Easter week of last year.

The advance really started at the end of last week, and it carried through in a moderate manner on Monday and Tuesday on mounting volume. Aircrafts were quite strong on those two days.

Many rushed to buy the Aircrafts as Secretary of State Dulles turned the attention of the country to the need for firmness against the Reds in Indochina. Later, President Eisenhower said we must be prepared to meet any kind of an attack.

Wednesday, the day the President signed the bill cutting excise taxes, the stock market got rolling. Aircrafts continued their strength, but they faltered when the lure of profits brought on selling.

Railroads then came to life and took the role of leader.

The session ended with the best average gain of the year on the heaviest volume of the year.

Those who expected the market to drop back on Thursday were fooled. Aircrafts continued to back and fill, but leadership revolved through several key divisions.

Friday's market held to the best gains of the week with tenacity and declined only slightly on average.

The five most active issues this week on the New York Stock Exchange were:

RKO Pictures up 4 at 6 on 388,100 shares; Glenn Martin up 3 1/4 at 24 1/4; Curtiss-Wright up 1/4 at 10 1/4; Fairchild Engine up 1 at 13 1/4, and U. S. Steel up 1 1/4 at 43.

Civil Engineers Set Meeting In Midland

A variety of engineering topics will be discussed this weekend, when the Texas Section of the American Society of Civil Engineers holds its spring meeting in Midland.

Headquarters for the session will be the Scharbauer Hotel, with meetings scheduled Thursday, Friday and Saturday. The West Texas Branch, youngest group in the Texas Section of ASCE, will serve as host unit for the occasion.

Several committees have been at work and E. T. Shahan, chairman of general arrangements promises a well rounded technical and social program. The program will be highlighted by the appearance of Dean Daniel V. Terrell of the University of Kentucky, president of the ASCE.

Program Chairman M. T. Rowland announces that engineers and others in the West Texas area will be particularly interested in pipeline construction panel, sponsored by the national pipeline committee. This panel will hear several nationally prominent speakers, including Eldon Hunt, superintendent of Ebasco Services, Inc.; and Ford Bartlett, president, Lockwood, Kessler and Bartlett, both of New York City. This panel, scheduled for 2 p.m. Friday, is open to non-ASCE pipeline contractors, operators and engineers.

Another panel of general interest will be that on water resources, also scheduled for 2 p.m. Friday. A. P. Rollins, of the Texas State Board of Water Engineers; R. W. Sundstrom of the U. S. Geological Survey; William F. Guyton, consulting ground water hydrologist, Austin; W. L. Broadhurst of the High Plains Water Control District; E. A. Vaubel of the Layne Texas Company, and Victor Bouldin, attorney of Houston, will take part on this panel.

Organization of a soil mechanics group will constitute another group session. Speakers here will include Raymond F. Dawson of the University of Texas; Frank H. Scrivner, Texas State Highway Department; and Mason G. Lockwood of Lockwood & Andrews, Houston.

An extensive social program has been planned for visiting ladies.

Dean Terrell's address will be delivered at a luncheon program at noon Friday. Terrell has been a member of the ASCE since 1919, and has been a leader for many years in highway improvement. He has been head of the Kentucky State Highway Research Laboratory since 1942, and has served on many state and federal bodies as a highway authority.

Randle B. Alexander is president of the Texas Section, ASCE.

DANIEL V. TERRELL

A number of Big Spring members are assisting in program arrangements for the convention, including J. M. Tidwell, J. R. Wilson, and E. V. Spence.

Removed Tonsils Called Factor In Bulbar Polio Risk

CHICAGO (AP)—The Journal of the American Medical Assn. said today there is growing evidence that the mere absence of tonsils and adenoids increases a person's risk of developing the very serious bulbar or bulbospinal forms of poliomyelitis.

Citing one of several independent studies of the question, the journal said in an editorial:

"Analysis of the data suggested that the absence of tonsils and adenoids, regardless of the time of their removal in relation to the onset of poliomyelitis, increased the risk that the bulbar form of the disease would develop.

"Of 85 patients in whom bulbar poliomyelitis developed, 85.9 per cent had previously been subjected to tonsillectomy; of those in whom tonsils were still present, bulbar poliomyelitis developed in only 14.1 per cent."

The journal said that most doctors agree that it is a matter of days after a tonsillectomy there is greater risk that the patient will have the bulbar type and severer illness.

The editorial said further study is needed to answer all the questions.

Monticello Search Reveals More Of Jefferson's Genius

By ROBERT P. JORDAN
CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., April 3 (AP)—Secrets Thomas Jefferson took with him to the grave have been uncovered at Monticello—by men intent on preserving his mansion in Virginia for the ages.

They are not secrets of state; rather secrets a man of genius might confide to his love.

Jefferson loved Monticello. He loved it when it was nothing but a dream, and he moved a mountain top to make it true. He started building it in 1769 and he built for 40 years. He built his love into his house.

Today, recently renovated Monticello is as lovely as before, a mountain-mansar between the rounded knolls of the Blue Ridge on the north and the Piedmont Plateau on the south. It is, as it has been, serene in classical austerity, noble in outlook, warm in humanity.

Until a few weeks ago, when the completely renovated mansion was reopened to the public, Jefferson's gracious home was a rubble inside, a vast mass of scaffolding and torn-out walls, of heating pipes and basement tunnels, of air-conditioning ducts and steel beams and rotted floor joists. Architects, carpenters, painters and plumbers were busy replacing worn-out construction with new lumber, metal and paint.

That was when some of Jefferson's secrets were disclosed—like the double glass doors between the reception hall and the drawing room.

Both open when one is pushed. No one had known how they operated—or even where the mechanism was hidden.

The experts learned the truth this way:

When Jefferson built the house he filled the space between floors with and earth. This served to sound-proof floors, helped control temperature and resisted fire. But it also was heavy, loaded with moisture and a haven for termites.

In removing the hogging beneath the first floor, workmen uncovered the secret of the double doors. Jefferson had swung each door on a drum beneath it. The drums were connected with two hand-wrought-sprocket chains similar to bicycle chains. The chains crossed each other, turning the drums in opposite directions with the movement of either door.

TEC Interviewer Attends Institute

Ted Vinson, interviewer for the Texas Employment Commission office in Big Spring, attended an institute on employment matters at San Angelo Thursday and Friday.

The two sessions of the institute dealt with "The Employment Outlook," and "Personnel Problems and Practices." The meeting was sponsored jointly by the TEC and San Angelo Junior College.

Irrigation Gas Bills Set For Hearing

AUSTIN (AP)—Bills designed to help farmers in the Texas Panhandle to get natural gas for irrigation pumps will receive public hearing by the House Oil, Gas and Mining Committee Monday at 7:30 p.m.

Both are sponsored by Rep. Guy Hazlett, Borger, and Rep. Sam Wohlford, Stratford.

Panhandle gas producers have cut off supplies of gas to farmers to avoid being classified as public utilities. They fear such classification would bring the threat of utility regulation by federal and state agencies.

One of the bills would exempt companies delivering gas for irrigation or other agricultural purposes from being considered a public utility.

The other would require producers to furnish gas to farmers even though they may not have been furnishing it in the past.

Companies would have to furnish the gas on order of the Texas Railroad Commission after public hearing.

Two Moved To State Prison

Jack Thompson and Randall Hendrix were transferred from the Howard County jail to the state penitentiary at Huntsville Friday.

Hendrix is under sentence to 15 years in the penitentiary. He was sentenced to three years in the prison Thursday on his plea of guilty to jail breaking charges. He already had received sentences totaling 12 years on conviction on burglary and murder without malice charges.

Thompson received a two-year sentence Thursday following his plea of guilty to jail breaking. He previously had been sentenced to five years for robbery.

Thompson and Hendrix are two of the five men who escaped from the Howard County jail on the night of March 15. Two others, Johnny Springer and David Leach, also pleaded guilty to charges of escape and received five-year sentences. They were transferred to the penitentiary earlier in the week.

The fifth escapee, Thomas Taylor, is not subject to prosecution as he has never been convicted of a felony in Texas.

Hendrix and Thompson were taken to Huntsville Friday by Chief Deputy Sheriff Floyd Moore.

Postal Receipts Gain In March

Postal receipts here showed a gain of nearly $2,000 in March over the same month a year ago, Postmaster Elmer Bostler reported.

The total for March was $18,388.73. For the same month in 1953, the amount was $16,703.23. March receipts brought the year's total to $51,908.48. The quarter's aggregate is nearly $2,000 less than the total for the first quarter of 1953 when receipts amounted to $53,703.19, the postmaster said.

MARVIN WRIGHT

Sgt. George E. LeMay, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. LeMay, 606 1/2 Lancaster, is now serving in Germany with the medical company, 172 Infantry Regiment, 43rd Division.

LeMay, who graduated from high school in Abilene and later worked in a hospital at Dallas, also served in Japan and Korea. He was awarded the bronze star, the combat medical badge, and the Army occupation medal.

He entered the Army in January, 1951.

Rodney Kramer, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Cramer of Coahoma, recently began eight weeks of basic training in the Antiaircraft Artillery Replacement Training Center at Fort Bliss, near El Paso.

Cramer will spend eight weeks on fundamental infantry subjects and maneuvers. He will then be assigned for further training at Fort Bliss in the techniques of anti-aircraft artillery.

Pfc. H. E. Bost, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Bost, 803 North Gregg, is now stationed with the 82nd Airborne Division at Fort Bragg, North Carolina.

Bost, a graduate of Big Spring High School, completed his basic training at Camp Roberts, Calif. As a member of the 82nd, he will receive advanced training in military tactics and participate in training exercises and maneuvers held by the division.

Second Lt. A. T. Broadwell of Colorado City recently arrived at Okinawa for duty as a platoon leader with the 29th Regimental Combat Team.

Lt. Broadwell, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Broadwell, 1406 Dallas Street, entered the Army in March, 1953. Broadwell, 23, is a graduate of Texas Technological College.

Marvin Wright, whose wife Frances lives at 601 East 17th, is due home today on a two-week furlough before going to technician training school at Fort Eustis, Va.

Wright has just completed two-months basic training with an anti-aircraft artillery unit at Fort Bliss, near El Paso. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Wright, 710 Galveston.

Wright, 24, has been assigned to direct electronics school. Before going into the Army he was an electrician for the Texas and Pacific Railway. He graduated from Big Spring High School, where he played football in 1945.

Mrs. Wright lives with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Neel.

Pvt. James R. McKinley, 20, whose parents live at 1306 S. 31st, Lamesa, recently graduated from the 3rd Infantry Division Non-Commissioned Officer Academy in Korea.

An engineer specialist, McKinley received instruction in leadership of units, map reading and other military subjects. He entered

Shrimp Luring Fishermen From New England To Gulf Of Mexico

BROWNSVILLE, April 3. (UP)—Hardy New England fishermen are filling their nets in the warm waters of the Gulf of Mexico.

The lure is shrimp. A generation or two ago the fathers of these men would have laughed at the idea of leaving their haddock and cod fishing waters for the spawning grounds of a thing as insignificant and unfishy looking as a shrimp.

At the same time, these fishermen are following right in the tradition of the old-time New England sailors—men who headed out all over the world in their Clipper ships and to the Antarctic seas in their whalers.

About 40 New England fishing boats made the move last fall. They came from Stonington, Conn., New Bedford and Gloucester, Mass., and other Atlantic points to try their luck in the semi-tropics.

Now you hear twangy-voiced Down Easterns dicker with soft-voiced Southern fish house owners. The children of the Yankees who stay here will be learning Spanish in the third grade.

These newcomers are businessmen as well as fishermen. That's the main reason they came. It doesn't take much work with a stub pencil in a garbled hand to figure the difference between a net full of golden Brazilian shrimp at 67 to 70 cents a pound and the $16.50 a ton a man would get for a netful of trash fish hauled from New England waters.

"I'll never go back," said Fred Kabler, his German father taught him to make nets when he was five years old. He was working here in shirt sleeves in the 80-degree February weather. The 95-foot, 950-mesh net he was making brought him $45. He can make $100 to $300 a week that way.

"I'll never go back," said Fred Kabler, his German father taught him to make nets when he was five years old. He was working here in shirt sleeves in the 80-degree February weather. The 95-foot, 950-mesh net he was making brought him $45. He can make $100 to $300 a week that way.

Brownsville, which styles itself

"the Shrimp Capital of the World," is at the western end of the Yankee shrimpers' travels. Eight boats are strung out—back through Aransas Pass, Mobile, Tampa, the Dry Tortugas to Key West, southern-most city of the United States.

Without stopping to fish, the boats on the long run down the Atlantic coast, through the Florida straits and across the Gulf made the trip in 18 days.

"I wish I'd come here 20 years ago," said Kakies as he wove his net.

"Look at it this way," said Capt. Karsten Kristiansen, skipper of the 57-foot Pvt. Frank T. Kesler out of Stonington, Conn. "A thousand pounds of shrimp is equal to several thousand pounds of fish, when you have to separate out the trash fish."

Or take the letter Capt. A. Rodrick of the Miss Rita, also out of Stonington, received from New England. "We've had only one day's fishing in a month and a half here," the writer said.

Shrimp are not the only lure here. The New England fishermen are teaching the local crews something about hard, methodical work to make the most of the full time at sea. If they aren't making a run far enough out to catch shrimp, they'll catch red snapper, which the Brownsville boats bring in only if they happen to get in their nets.

There's nothing incidental about the snapper the New Englanders bring in to Buck Spiller's Silver Valley Fish House, however—up to 1,800 pounds at a time.

"Take that one-day trip I just unloaded," said Spiller, an ex-Georgian. "They fished all day for snapper because the shrimp are out only at night, and then they fished all night for shrimp."

"They brought in $200 worth of shrimp and $157 worth of snapper. That's $357 for 24 hours—half for the boat and the rest for the crew gives the three men nearly $60 each for a day and a night. Of course, they can't fish a two-week run without sleep, but two men can fish while the third sleeps and they can change about as long as they're catching anything."

Three of the eight New England skippers here have brought their families already and have put their kids in school here. More families are expected to come when the Northern school terms end. A man who brings his boat and family here has come with an investment of about $30,000 minimum.

They work hard, maybe harder than the local crews—but they call it a "vacation" compared to fishing in the North Atlantic.

"I'll make three shorter tows a night instead of the usual two," says Capt. John Houser, skipper of the Maria Julia, out of Stonington. "That way if I lose one, I've lost only a third of a night's catch, instead of half."

Tore Rubin, a Swede who left his job on a yacht one day when he saw an American girl he wanted to marry, has this reason for leaving New England:

"I fished there for five years and knew only one neighbor. When I came here the fish house owner and his daughter spent an afternoon helping me house-hunt."

"The fish house people don't do that for a deck hand up there."

Michigan is credited with setting up the first U. S. agricultural college in 1859.

THE VILLAGE CHURCH
The Church has been the most powerful factor in American life. Nowhere has the influence of the Church been more potent or more far-reaching than in the villages and small towns of the nation.

A large percent of our population lives in these areas, and they also furnish a large percentage of our state and national leadership. The church on Main Street or at the cross-roads draws people from far and near. They listen to the preaching and praying, join in the singing, and enjoy the fellowship of their friends and neighbors.

Many of the most cherished experiences of life are associated with these little churches. Their influence is stamped on the lives of the people, and their teachings help to form the character of this nation.

The Church needs and deserves the love and support of the people, whether it be in a big city, a small town or a rural village. It is an influence for good, a source of strength, a tie that links humanity with God.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

DO IT YOURSELF Beginners Go For This Lamp-Table

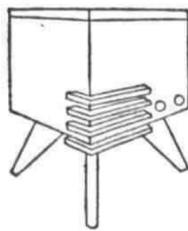

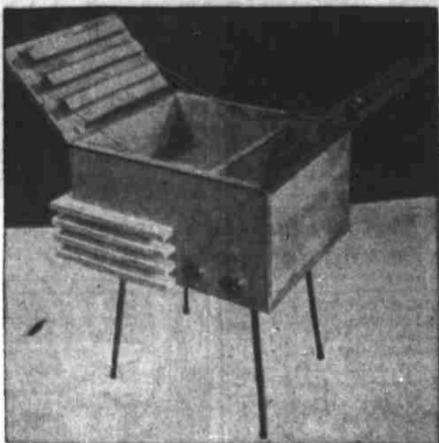

By BILL BAKER
Here is a bridge lamp-end table that stands as firmly on its merits as it does on its broad, solid base. Furthermore, it's a do-it-yourself project that has special beginner's appeal in the fact that it requires only a modest investment in time and money. As veterans of the home workshop will probably recognize at once, it's a very easy article to build. No special tools or expensive equipment will be needed to add this item to your home.

Combining good illumination and the convenience of a well designed end table in a single piece of furniture, this unit has the added advantage of being built with a useful bottom platform that can serve as a stand for stacking current magazines and newspapers in one neat, easy-to-find pile. The upper level is ideal for the current book you are reading, or as a stand for ash tray or other frequently used objects.

Long ago I discovered that the chore of dusting and polishing difficult corners is the fastidious homemaker's nightmare. And so, when it came to designing BILL BAKER'S EXTRA-SIMPLE PATTERN NUMBER 109, I kept the lady of the house in mind, giving the bridge lamp-end table smoothly rounded surfaces that banish unnecessary problems in care and cleaning.

If you want to show the grain of the wood, just finish your bridge lamp-end table in either a stain or colorless varnish. Otherwise, paint the piece, using it to pick up any desired color accent contrasting or harmonizing with the decor of the room where it will be used. The Bill Baker pattern you'll use in constructing this useful piece of furniture has many advantages. First of all you'll be working with exact-size, heavy-duty paper pattern pieces. You simply paste, tape or thumbtack them to your wood for precise, trouble-free tracing and cutting. Shop-tested instructions and a complete list of materials needed are also included in every pattern package.

To get your bridge lamp-end table pattern, send your name and address (clearly printed), together with only fifty cents (50 cents) to Bill Baker, BIG SPRING HER-

SIMPLE, WELL-DESIGNED LINES, as seen in this side-view drawing (left) make Bill Baker's Bridge lamp - end table an ideal project for the woodworking beginner. Shade and bracket, which are easily attached, are inexpensive items.

ALD, P. O. Box 1111, Los Angeles 33, California. REMEMBER TO ASK FOR PATTERN NUMBER 109. Other Bill Baker patterns available: No. 106, Compact Fishing Box, $1; No. 104, Two-level end table, $1; No. 101, Lazy Susan Coffee table, $1.

County Schools Show Gain Of 63 Scholastics In Year

Howard County schools gained 63 scholastics in the past year, according to the consolidated census rolls in the office of County Superintendent Walker Bailey.

Total counted in the latest census was 6,708. A year ago the total number of pupils in the county was 6,645.

There was a considerable shifting of students among the various districts in the county during the year, the census shows.

Big Spring and Coahoma Independent School Districts showed distinct gains, while slight losses were registered at Forsan and Knott.

Common school districts, as a whole, lost enrollments, although gains were recorded at Gay Hill and Elbow.

The consolidated census roll is to be submitted to the Texas Education Agency where checks will be made for duplicate scholastics, both in the county and between local and other schools. Report on the duplicate check probably won't be available until August.

Bailey reminded Saturday, also, that inter-district transfers must be made by June 1 this year, instead of by August as in the past. The transfer rule applies to the transfer of a student from one district to another without change of residence, or from one of the county elementary school districts to a high school.

Comparison, by districts, of scholastics for 1953-54 and 1954-55:

SCHOOL	1953-54	1954-55
Big Spring	5,240	5,336
Coahoma	445	491
Knott	217	189
Forsan	205	191
Gay Hill	85	96
Center Point	100	122
Midway	151	122
Elbow	101	106
Lomax	42	34
Vealmoor	59	54
Totals:	6,645	6,708

UNCLE RAY'S CORNER

Humor is welcome in this column when it is good-natured. I am happy to relate that the readers who write me about names are showing the right spirit.

There is nothing amusing about the name Snow, for example, but when a Mr. Snow marries a Miss Frost, many persons chuckle. From Myra Wells Brewer, I have this note:

"When I was a child, our church was something of a menagerie. Our pastor was the Reverend Wolf, and singing in the choir were Lambs, Bears and Lyons. The rest of the Wolf family sat in the pews. Later a Miss Wells married a teetotaler named Brewer."

Mr. J. C. Armstrong writes: "In the town where I was raised, there were Koats, Wood and Ash families, also White, Black, Brown, Blue and Greens families." The automobile comes into the picture in a letter from Mrs. Homer Ives, who says:

"About 35 years back, in a Vermont village, there was a family with the name of Carr. The first child was given the name of Ford, and the second was Maxwell. Then came a girl and they named her Iona. That made Iona, Ford and Maxwell Carr."

Mr. T. B. tells me that his home town, 70 years ago, contained a Mr. Laffin and a Mr. Cryan, as well as a Mr. Cross and a Mr. Pleasant. He says that they were "all good citizens."

Mrs. Bennett Miller writes: "I have read your column for years, and never miss reading it. Having noticed your invitation to send in unusual names, I wish to speak of this coincidence. During my girlhood, my sister and I attended a box social. We drew names for partners. Our family name was Horn, and we happened to draw the names of two brothers named Fife. Some of the others started to imitate a band, and looked at us. My partner wondered what it was about, and I told him that they noticed that the Fifes and Horns were together."

"One sister married Mr. Farmer, and a niece married Mr. Thrasher. I married a member of the Miller family."

Stenographic Help Is Needed In Area

A shortage of stenographic help was reported here Friday by Leon Kinney, manager of the Texas Employment Commission office.

Kinney said he has openings for "two or three qualified stenographers."

A testing service is being conducted by the local TEC office in connection with placement of clerical and sales personnel. All applicants for such positions are given the tests as a service to both workers and employers, Kinney said.

Placement of workers during March was at a slightly higher rate than in February and January. There were 120 placements reported for March, compared with 100 in February and 102 in January.

Unemployment compensation claims were filed at about the same rate in all three months. There were 143 of these actions in March, Kinney said.

Treats 'Em Rough

Marlon Brando, as the "The Wild One," apparently never heard of a code of chivalry or anything like that. He's clutching at Mary Murphy in the above scene from the film showing today through Tuesday at the State Theatre.

Marlon Brando Stars In Shocking 'The Wild One'

Marlon Brando stars in the title role of "The Wild One," which features the shocks attendant on a bungee by a bunch of motorcycle cronies in a small town which wrecks the town's peace and quiet and nearly wrecks the town itself. "The Wild One," a Stanley Kramer production for Columbia release, shows today through Tuesday at the State Theatre.

Brando is the leader of a gang of roughneck cyclists who roar into the town spoiling for trouble after being barred from a meet in a neighboring town. They wreck a car, insult the town's lone policeman, chase the local girls and otherwise make themselves entirely unwelcome. A peaceful interlude comes when Brando meets Mary Murphy, playing the role of the policeman's daughter, and makes love to her. This brief incident ends when his impassive attitude frightens the girl.

'Scaramouche' Is To Show At Lyric

M-G-M's Technicolor adventure, "Scaramouche," plays Tuesday and Wednesday at the Lyric Theatre. Starring Stewart Granger, Janet Leigh, Eleanor Parker and Mel Ferrer.

'Calamity Jane' Due To Show At Terrace

"Calamity Jane" will show Thursday and Friday nights at the Terrace Drive-In. Doris Day has the title role and Howard Keel plays "Wild Bill Hickok," her erstwhile boyfriend. The film is a Technicolor musical, featuring among other songs, "Secret Love." Dick Wesson and Allyn McLerie also play in the Warner Bros. film.

At His Command

Linda Christian as the Princess Panthea is enslaved by love to the Israeli slave, Nahum, played by Richard Conte. The scene is from the Technicolor tale of Babylon under the rule of the tyrant Nebuchadnezzar, "Slaves of Babylon," which shows Wednesday and Thursday at the State Theatre.

Romantic Interlude

The scene above pictures a romantic interlude from "Fighter Attack," which shows today and Monday at the Lyric Theatre. George Cole and Nadia Gray star in the film.

Too Much To Handle

Howard Keel is warning Ann Blyth of some of the pitfalls she faces, but it doesn't seem to be doing much good judging from the expression on her face. The scene is from the CinemaScope musical, "Rose Marie," which shows today through Wednesday at the Ritz Theatre. Fernando Lamas stars as the apple of Miss Blyth's eye, a north woods trapper. The picture was shot in famed Jasper Park in the Canadian Rockies.

Ritz Showing 'Rose Marie'

"Rose Marie," the first big musical in CinemaScope and Technicolor, is due today at the Ritz Theatre. The picture, featuring music from the Rudolph Friml show of the same name still popular after many years, stars Ann Blyth, Howard Keel, Fernando Lamas, Bert Lahr and Marjorie Main. The story of a French-Canadian girl of the woods (Miss Blyth), a fur trapper (Lamas) and a Canadian mountie (Keel) was shot against the famed Canadian Rockies in Jasper Park, Alberta, Canada.

Audie Murphy Stars In 'Ride Clear Of Diablo'

Audie Murphy, Dan Duryea, Abbe Lane and Susan Cabot star in "Ride Clear of Diablo." The film, in Technicolor, shows Thursday through Friday at the Ritz Theatre.

The Mountie adopts and tries to civilize Miss Blyth but the task is almost more than he can master. She falls in love with Lamas but her happiness is short-lived for Lamas is accused of murder. A hide-and-seek romance gives Lahr and Miss Main room for comedy. He's an intrepid Mountie who's hiding because she, a spangled and sequined hotel hostess, has that let's-get-married look in her eyes.

Diablo, in this film, is a town. The reason one should ride clear of it is that it's lawless and many an honest man has died there. Notwithstanding the town's gory history, Murphy, wearing a brand-new deputy's badge rides in. He's hunting for the killer of his father and 14-year-old brother. Duryea has the role of a locally famous desperado, whom Murphy outdraws and brings in to "justice." A rigged trial soon results in Duryea's freedom but he doesn't hold a grudge against Murphy and, in fact, forms a curious sort of a partnership with him. Abbe Lane, the beautiful singer from Xavier Cugat's band, has the role of the sweetheart of another wrongdoer, played by Russ Johnson.

Miss Cabot has the role of the crooked sheriff's daughter who has a yen for Murphy. Lahr sings the comedy number "I'm a Mountie Who Never Got His Man" while Miss Main sums her goal up by singing "Love and Kisses." The picture, which will continue its showing through Wednesday, is a Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production. Mervyn Le Roy, responsible for films such as "Quo Vadis" and "Million Dollar Mermaid," is the director.

Dan Dailey Stars In Film About Baseball

"The Kid From Left Field," starring Dan Dailey, is set to show Tuesday and Wednesday nights at the Terrace Drive-In. Dailey has the role of a down-and-out-but-out-ex-major leaguer, now reduced to selling peanuts in the ballpark. But his son, played by Billy Chapin, gets him back into the game, by passing along his dad's tips on what's wrong with the team, deep in last place.

Joan Taylor has the role of Wanda, an Indian girl whose love for Lamas has caused her to commit murder out of jealousy. Keel sings the title song and "The Right Place for a Girl," joining with Miss Blyth in a duet of the spirited "Song of the Mounties." With Lamas she sings "Indian Love Call." By herself she sings "Free to Be Free" and "I Have the Love."

Riding THE GRUB LINE With Franklin Reynolds

In talking with Luther Peterson, the merchant at Midway, a few days ago we learned he is a cousin of G. E. Peterson and Olen Peterson, brothers, and a mutual cousin, Marvin Peterson, who live out in Roosevelt County, N. M., and who have some of the finest Jersey cattle in the United States.

The New Mexico Petersons, who moved out there from Texas, live in the Dora-Elida country and so far as we know all of them are engaged, not only in dairying, but also in breeding fine Jerseys.

For a couple of years this writer was general superintendent of the annual Roosevelt County Fair and Livestock Show at Portales, and for longer than that was connected with the event, around the horse barn, some of this connection being at the dull end of a pitch fork.

It was always our proud boast that we had the finest dairy show in the state, finer and bigger and better even than the State Fair at Albuquerque. And that was true. The men in the dairy industry admitted it.

And usually at least one-fourth of our dairy barn space was allotted to Jersey cattle from the Peterson farms. One of the Peterson daughters, active in 4-H Club work, exhibited several grand champion Jerseys in the open classes and these were cattle she owned herself.

Members of the Peterson family from this part of West Texas have done more than any other family we can name to develop the dairy industry on the Eastside of New Mexico and much of the milk produced there is shipped to Lubbock, Littlefield and other High Plains cities, and to El Paso.

As we have mentioned before the folks out in the Patricia-Klondike area of south Dawson and north Martin counties now have telephones for the first time.

Maybe you have friends out that way; friends you haven't seen for a long time and would like to talk to again. Why not give them a telephone call?

Those who have just had telephones installed through the Patricia Exchange of the Peka-Lambro Rural Telephone Co-Operative which services that area are listed in the directory as:

A. J. Adams, W. N. Anderson, T. S. Applegate, James J. Aten, S. R. Barron, H. G. Bearden, W. W. Beeman, C. D. Benson, Willis F. Borland, W. E. Brown, E. S. Bruce, S. P. Bruce Jr., S. P. Bruce, Mrs. Juanita Bryant, G. H. Davenport, James H. Davis, J. E. Debnam, M. M. Debnam, J. R. Dennis, Edward Dunn, Carson Echols, Mrs. E. L. Eoff, L. M. Estes, Farmers Co-Op Gin at Patricia, George E. Filpot, J. H. Foster, D. E. Franklin, L. D. Freeman, Friendship Baptist Church, Ray Garrett, J. A. (Jim) Grammer, J. W. Greene, Glen Hanson and Charles T. Hatchett.

R. T. Hightower, F. O. Hogg, W. J. Hoppe, L. J. Holdomb, Slater Jones, Mrs. W. F. King, Klondike Baptist Church, The Klondike School, F. W. Lasky, Luther Lee, Ed Lewis, W. A. Lindsey, Cecil Lynch, H. T. Martin, T. E. Martin, W. H. McCulloch, R. W. McRube, G. Meyers, Arthur L. Nolen, Olen Norris, Cecil O'Brien, J. T. O'Brien, N. T. O'Brien, Andy O'Neal, and the Otis Pelham Store (Jack Pelham).

The Patricia Methodist Parsonage, Frank Perucca, Emmett Peterson, G. R. Phillips Grocery, B. R. Proctor, Herschel Raines, D. E. Richards, E. E. Richards, Delbert Rodgers, J. S. Scott, John N. Self, Irvin Snell, R. S. Sprayberry Jr., Mrs. R. S. Sprayberry, G. W. Teague, N. B. Teague, Three League Gin, A. A. Tuckness, E. L. Turnbow Store and residence, The Union School, Oscar Vogler, Jack Warren, R. C. Warren, Mrs. Julia E. Wasson, Edna B. Wilson, H. O. Wilson, and W. M. Yates.

These people are all mighty happy with their new telephones which are connected with Lamesa.

Judge Tom Garrard, the well known Tahoka Hereford breeder, is general counsel for the Peka-Lambro which is generally managed by W. D. Harmon.

Officers of the co-operative are James T. Dunn of Lamesa, president; Lloyd McCormick of Tahoka, vice president; V. H. Wheatlet of Brownfield, secretary-treasurer, and the following directors, George W. Teague of Lamesa, T. B. Mason of Tahoka, Lee Bartlett of Meadow, and C. W. Roberts of Post.

Toots Mansfield of Big Spring has been elected director of steer roping for the Rodeo Cowboys Association, and took office with the other new directors on April 1.

Among these other recently-elected directors are Dan Taylor of Doole, calf roping; Gene Pruett of Oark, Ark., saddle broncs; Harley May of Deming, N. M., bulldogging; Todd Whitley of Hugo, Okla., bull riding; Chuck Sheppard of Prescott, Ariz., team tying; Jack Buschboom of Cassville, Wis., bareback broncs, and Cy Tallon of Great Falls, Mont., contract business.

Bill Linderman of Red Lodge, Mont., was re-elected president.

More crops from the water from Midland's sewage effluent ponds on that city's sewage disposal farm, is the program of Joe Heidelberg and I. J. Howard.

Approximately 3,600 feet of new elevated ditch has been constructed and 23 acres is being leveled and bordered for flood irrigation. Another 10 acres will be bordered and watered with canvas pipe.

Walter Kelly, who farms about five miles west of Stanton, has been nominated by the Martin County Chamber of Commerce for the annual Karl Hobbittselle Agriculture Award.

This honor which has a cash value of $5,000 goes, each year to some individual Texas farmer or rancher who, it is determined by the committee, has contributed the most to rural life improvement for the three years preceding 1954.

Walter Kelly and his son, Owen, own and operate a 496-acre farm, part dryland and part irrigated. Of this, 415 acres are in cultivation and 81 acres are in permanent pasture. They usually have about 175 acres under irrigation. There are three irrigation wells on the farm. Sixty acres are flood irrigated, and 115 acres are row-watered.

Texas Solons Encouraged After Viewing New Weapons

By TEX EASLEY
WASHINGTON, April 3 (AP)—Texas in the congressional group which watched the Army's latest air defense weapons in action during a recent demonstration in New Mexico came back here feeling better about the chances of repelling an enemy air attack.

But, in a typical summary, Rep. Lloyd M. Bentley of McAllen, who piloted B34 bombers from an Italian base in World War II, said: "We've made remarkable progress, but we still don't have 100 per cent protection. Just one bomber getting through could wreak great destruction. That is why we must keep up scientific research."

Other Texans in the inspection party, which also viewed armored troops in mock tank battle at Fort Hood, included Reps. Clark Fisher, San Angelo; Olin Teague, College Station; Wingate Lucas, Fort Worth; W. R. Foage, Waco and Jack Brooks, Beaumont. They praised the "Nike" missile, which by electronics searches out and destroys opposing planes flying at supersonic speed.

The legislators seemed agreed that for the foreseeable future any enemy air raid on this country would come down from across the polar ice cap, and that Texas therefore had a big safety factor over large northern and eastern centers of population.

They pointed out that the petroleum and chemical plants along the Texas Gulf Coast would be prime targets, as well as the B36 bomber base at Fort Worth and the aircraft manufacturing plants in the Fort Worth-Dallas area. However, they listed New York, Washington, Chicago, Pittsburgh and Detroit among points likely to be higher on an enemy's priority list of targets.

"Texans can be thankful for their geographic location," commented Foage. "Enemy planes not only

New York Doctor To Receive Award

HOUSTON, April 3 (AP)—Dr. Peyton Rous, 75-year-old New York City scientist, is to receive Monday one of the top awards for cancer research.

Rous, who discovered over 40 years ago that a virus could cause a cancer, will receive the 4th annual Bertner Foundation Award presented for outstanding contributions to cancer research.

The presentation will be made during the 8th annual Symposium on Fundamental Cancer Research at the University of Texas M. D. Anderson Hospital and Tumor Institute.

Rous also will present the annual Bertner lecture Monday night. He would find Texas farther out of range from Siberian bases, but they'd have to fly through more than a thousand miles of continental United States where our defense would be strongest."

Dog Is Vaccinated After Master's Bite

EL PASO, April 13 (AP)—Dennis Kaufman, 3, grabbed his dog,

"Pal," by the tail and took a healthy bite. Dennis' mother, Mrs. Sidney Kaufman, grabbed the 6-month-old pup and rushed him off to a veterinarian for a rabies shot.

-AND NEVER FORGET THAT GRAND, OLD SLOGAN, BOY!!

WHAT'S GOOD FOR GENERAL BULLMOOSE IS GOOD FOR EVERYBODY!

The Knight of the Iron Arm IN THE DAYS OF KING ARTHUR by Harold R. Foster

Our Story: THE LEADERS OF THE REVOLT ARE BROUGHT BEFORE QUEEN ALETA FOR TRIAL, AND YOUNG PRIAN, HUMILIATED BY DEFEAT AND RECKLESS WITH RAGE, SPEAKS INSULTING WORDS TO HIS QUEEN. SIR GAWAIN BEGS THE HONOR OF BEING HER CHAMPION.

IN THE COURTYARD THEY ARM, PRIAN, MUSCULAR AND SUPPLE AS A TIGER, HIS GREEN EYES BLAZING WITH PASSION, A CRAFTY AND RUTHLESS FOE, FACES.....

..... SIR GAWAIN, RELAXED AND CONFIDENT. "THIS PRIAN LOOKS LIKE A HARDY WARRIOR; TAKE NO CHANCES," ADVISES VAL. "JUST REMEMBER THIS IS NO TOURNAMENT WITH FAIR DAMSELS WATCHING, SO DON'T PRANCE AND POSE AS YOU USUALLY DO."

NIMBLE AS A CAT. DEADLY AS A VIPER, PRIAN ATTACKS, TRYING TO TRICK HIS OPPONENT INTO SOME FATAL BLUNDER. GAWAIN SEEMS SLOW, PUZZLED BY THIS SUBTLE FOE. THEN PRIAN'S SWORD DARTS UNDER HIS OPPONENT'S SHIELD AND OPENS A WOUND!

THERE IS BLOOD ON PRIAN'S SWORD AND A SMOLDERING ANGER MOUNTING IN GAWAIN'S HEART. UNDER HIS SHIRT OF MAIL THE GREAT MUSCLES RIPPLE, THE BATTLE LUST FLAMES IN HIS EYES. LIKE A TERRIBLE INSTRUMENT OF DOOM, HE CRUSHES HIS ENEMY TO THE GROUND.

ALL THIS DIONSEUS SEES AND HIS HEART QUAILS. NEVER HAS HE SEEN ANYTHING MORE TERRIBLE THAN THE COLD FURY OF THIS NORTHERN KNIGHT..... AND GAWAIN OF THE IRON ARM AND IRON WILL IS HIS ENEMY!

AS IF HE READ THE FEAR IN DIONSEUS'S HEART, GAWAIN LOOKS UP AND SMILES. BUT THE SMILE IS AS BLEAK AND CHILL AS THE STAINED SWORD IN HIS HAND.

THEY TROOP SLOWLY BACK TO THE HALL IN SILENCE TO HEAR QUEEN ALETA PRONOUNCE THEIR FATE. NEXT WEEK - The Court.

By Warren Tufts

HOW COULD YOU DO THAT, UNCLE! YOU DELIBERATELY SENT CASEY AWAY!

IT'S ABOUT TIME, WELLS. FARSO HAS AN EXPRESS CONTRACT WITH HIS COMPANY, AND HE ISN'T DOING ME ANY GOOD SPENDING HIS VALUABLE WORKING HOURS LOOKING AFTER YOU.

HE WAS DOING ME SOME GOOD!

I WON'T ARGUE THE POINT, CYP. I HAVE WORK TONIGHT. IS SUPPER READY?

YOU'LL HAVE TO DINE OUT. I DON'T FEEL UP TO MAKING SUPPER.

WORK, WORK, WORK! THAT CONTEMPTIBLE, BLACK-HAIRED WITCH!—SHE'S TRYING TO TAKE HIM AWAY FROM ME!!

I KNOW HE CARES FOR ME!—HE MUST! I WON'T LET HER DO THIS...!

.....I WON'T LET HER DO THIS...I WON'T LET HER DO THIS...!

TARZAN

Edgar Rice Burroughs

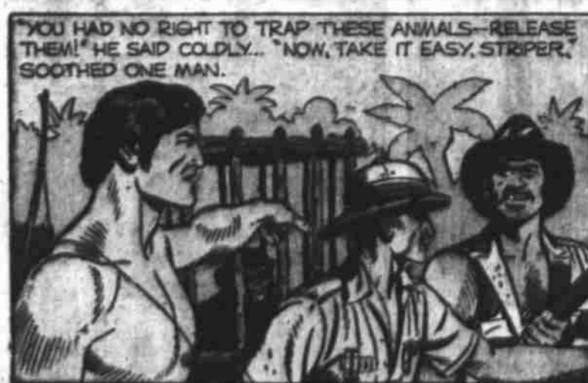

AFTER LONG, DARK HOURS TARZAN WAS ATTRACTED BY THE CLAMOR OF CREATURES IN DISTRESS. HE FOLLOWED THE SOUND TO A VILLAGE, WHERE—

TWO WHITE MEN STOOD GUARD OVER DOZENS OF CAGED BEASTS—INCLUDING GOVAT, THE KING APE!

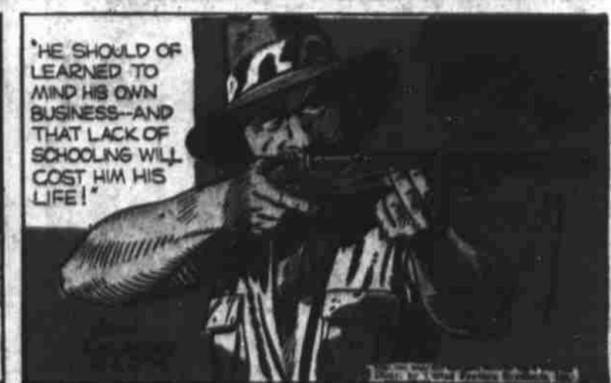

WITH A SNARL OF DISAPPROVAL HE LEAPED DOWN TO CONFRONT THE STARTLED MEN.

"YOU HAD NO RIGHT TO TRAP THESE ANIMALS—RELEASE THEM!" HE SAID COLDLY... "NOW, TAKE IT EASY, STRIPER," SOOTHED ONE MAN.

"EASY MY EYE!" RAGED STRIPER KNOCKING HIS PARTNER ASIDE. "I DON'T KNOW WHO THIS JOKER IS, BUT—"

"HE SHOULD OF LEARNED TO MIND HIS OWN BUSINESS—AND THAT LACK OF SCHOOLING WILL COST HIM HIS LIFE!"

DR. GIBSON PELTZ, ALIAS BUCKINGHAM 158, THE MOST BRAZEN SWINDLER IN THE ANNALS OF CRIME, IS ON THE BRINK OF ANOTHER BIG SUCCESS, WHEN...

BUCKY, I'M AFRAID TH' FAT'S IN TH' FIRE! I LEARNED—

OH, PROFESSOR! HOW'D YOU LIKE TO HUNT DAISES ALONG THE RIVER, WHILE MY HONEST OLD PAL STINKY FAUCES RESTORING MY NATURAL CHARIOT?

I'VE NEVER SACRIFICED SO MUCH COMFORT FOR MY ART! STINKY! BUT I CAN'T ABIDE THIS BRUSH PILE ANY LONGER! NOW YOU WERE SWIMMING—

THOSE EX-BALDIES AREN'T HAPPY WITH THEIR NEW HAIR, AND THREATEN TO SUE MCKEE! HE'S LOOKIN' FOR YOU AN' TH' PROF!

IF HIS SUSPICIONS ARE AROUSED, HE'LL STOP PAYMENT ON HIS CHECK BEFORE YOU CAN CASH IT TOMORROW!

YOU UNDERRATE ME, CHUM! AN, ONLY MCKEE AND TUBBS CAN IDENTIFY ME NOW!

PROFESSOR, WHEN DO YOU FIGURE THAT ER-HAIR ON MCKEE'S HEAD WILL DROP OFF?

LET'S SEE... BY MORNIN', I THINK, LORDY, WHAT A CHANGE, DR. PELTZ!

T. M. Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

...SO ALL OF THOSE INGRATEFUL WRETCHES THREATEN TO SUE ME FOR MILLIONS, QUIBBLE!

YE GAD, I.P. DOES THEIR HAIR LOOK AS GHASTLY AS YOURS?

MEANWHILE, IF MCKEE WISHES TO HIRE A LAWYER...

IS IT POSSIBLE, MY OWN MCKEE, I'M AFRAID THEY CAN COLLECT EVERY DIME YOU'VE GOT!

HOW CAN TH' COURTS FIGURE TH' AMOUNT OF DAMAGES TO AWARD 'EM?

BY SETTING A VALUATION ON THEIR BEAUTY BEFORE TREATMENT, THEN SUBTRACTING WHAT IT'S WORTH NOW, WHICH JURORS FROM MARE, IS VERY LITTLE ADDED!

BUT YOU GAVE 'EM NEW HOPES! THERE WASN'T A DIME'S WORTH OF BEAUTY IN THE WHOLE LOT TO BEGIN WITH!

THERE WAS, TO THEIR LOVED ONES, I.P. XXX, XXX... AND YOU PAID $68,706.50 FOR THAT MACHINE!

MAYBE SOMETHING WENT WRONG WITH IT THAT THEY CAN FIX... AND RUN US THRU AGAIN!

YOU SHOULD SEE THE HAIR IT RESTORED ON DR. PELTZ.

BUT I'D STOP PAYMENT ON THAT CHECK FIRST THING TOMORROW, TILL YOU KNOW IF—

NATURALLY, QUIBBLE! IF THIS IS FRAUD, THEY'VE COME TO THE WRONG MAN, I'LL BE WAITING AT THE BANK WHEN IT OPENS!

MR. MCKEE ALREADY CALLED HIS BANKER, BUT HE'S ONE OF TH' TEST CASES WITH A FEW SPRIGS OF HAIR, AN WAS TOO MAD TO TALK!

"IT'S TIME TO ACT!"

A CLEAN-UP CAMPAIGN IS ABSOLUTELY IMPERATIVE IN THIS CITY WITH ITS ATMOSPHERE CHARGED WITH CINDERS!

ARE YOU TOO BUSY TO DO SOMETHING FOR ME?

I CERTAINLY AM! I'M WRITING TO THE PAPER A SCORCHING CHALLENGE TO THE COMMUNITY TO WAR ON DIRT!

LISTEN! LET'S ROLL UP OUR SLEEVES AND PITCH IN TOGETHER TO MAKE THIS TOWN A SPOTLESS PARADISE!

THAT'S ALONG THE LINES OF MY IDEA—COME, I'LL SHOW YOU!

LOOK AT THAT BACK YARD—A SMALL EDITION OF THE CITY DUMP!

BUT, MARTHA! I'LL BE TOO BUSY DIRECTING THIS NEW DRIVE TO PERFORM SUCH SMALL MENIAL CHORES!

YOU REFUSE, EH?

INDEED, MY DEAR! THIS TIME I PUT MY FOOT DOWN FLAT—I ABSOLUTELY DO REFUSE!

WHAT STARTLED THE GOAT IN HOOPLE'S BACK YARD? COULD IT HAVE BEEN A SUDDEN SOUND IN THE HOUSE—A WHAM FOLLOWED BY A DULL THUD?

Reader's Digest Reports: ONLY NEW COLGATE DENTAL CREAM with Miracle Anti-Enzyme Ingredient GARDOL* HAS THE CLINICAL PROOF!

5 QUICK FACTS FROM THE READER'S DIGEST ARTICLE

"What About Anti-Enzyme Toothpastes?" December, 1953

- 1. Reader's Digest says—The most effective anti-enzyme toothpaste ingredient tested was developed in the Colgate laboratories.

(It's Colgate's miracle ingredient Gardol (Sodium N-Lauroyl Sarcosinate)—found in no other leading toothpaste!)
- 2. Reader's Digest says—One of the foremost dental authorities in the world proved that this ingredient binds itself effectively to the teeth—holds acid formation below the decay level in 95 per cent of cases tested.

(Unlike ordinary toothpaste ingredients, effective only for minutes, this protection won't rinse off—won't wear off—all day or all night!)
- 3. Reader's Digest says—Even 12 hours after brushing, this new Colgate anti-enzyme discovery continues to guard against the enzymes that cause tooth decay.

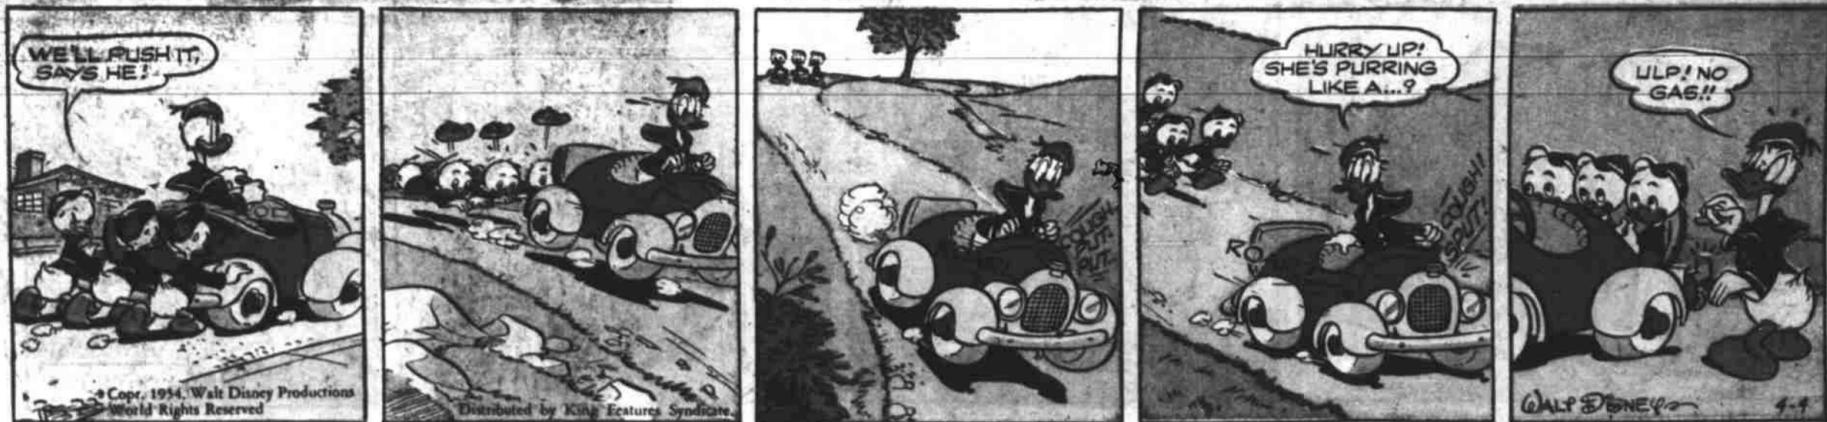

(Thus, just daily morning and night brushings guard against decay-causing enzymes every minute of the day and night!)
- 4. Reader's Digest says—In clinical tests, supervised by leading dental authorities—for a full year—people who used ordinary toothpastes averaged almost two and a half times more new cavities than those who used New Colgate Dental Cream with Gardol (Sodium N-Lauroyl Sarcosinate). In fact, of the group using New Colgate's, 4 out of 5 developed no new cavities at all!

(A group of distinguished dentists examined this evidence and agreed—New Colgate Dental Cream with Gardol gives the surest protection against tooth decay ever offered by any toothpaste!)
- 5. Reader's Digest says—New Colgate Dental Cream is the only toothpaste with clinical proof of its effectiveness in actually reducing the formation of new cavities.

NOW! NEW COLGATE
DENTAL CREAM
CONTAINS GARDOL (SODIUM N-LAUROYL SARCOSINATE)

IF YOU WISHED TO SEE ME, MR. RIDER?

MY DAUGHTER, MERRIE, MISSES THE NORMAL HOME LIFE... NOT HAVING A MOTHER, AND HAS ASKED ME TO INVITE YOU TO DINNER TONIGHT!

OH! I'D BE DELIGHTED!

DON'T ACT SO SMUG, GLAMOR PUSS! I'VE ALSO BEEN INVITED TO DINNER AT THE RIDERS' TONIGHT!

HOLY COW! WHAT IS THIS, A CONTEST OR SOMETHING? I'VE A GOOD NOTION NOT TO GO!!

BRENDA DOESN'T KNOW IT, BUT SHE'S JUST HIT THE NAIL ON THE HEAD!

YOU HATEFUL LITTLE MONSTER—I'M CALLING YOUR FATHER THIS MOMENT AND RESIGN AS HOUSEKEEPER FOR THIS MAD HOUSE!

GOOD! NOW MAYBE I WON'T BE THE YOUNGEST KNOWN ULCER CASE ON RECORD!

BUT MERRIE! I'VE ALREADY INVITED THEM!

DADDY, DON'T YOU GET THE SIGNIFICANCE?

BEFORE I PUT MY STAMP OF APPROVAL ON ANY PROSPECTIVE STEP-MOTHER BOY, SHE'S GOTTA KNOW HOW TO CATSUP A CHEESEBURGER!

ANNIE ROONEY

DON'T TELL ME! I CAN SEE BY YOUR FACE THAT THEY HAVEN'T CAUGHT LITTLE ANNIE ROONEY AS YET!! HOW LONG MUST I ROOST IN THIS HICK-TOWN HOTEL BEFORE I HEAR ANY GOOD NEWS?

QUITE SOME TIME, PERHAPS-

I MUST SAY YOU SEEM VERY CALM AND COMPLACENT ABOUT IT- SURELY YOU REALIZE THAT SOMEBODY IS HIDING THE LITTLE BRAT-BREAKING THE LAW--

OH, BEYOND DOUBT- BEYOND DOUBT-

IT'S THOSE COBBS - THAT'S WHO! YOU'RE MY LAWYER- DO SOMETHING- GET A WARRANT- GET A--

AT THE MOMENT I SUGGEST YOU GIVE THE COBBS THE SAME RESPECT YOU WOULD A VERY ANGRY BULL SAW - BESIDES, I AM REASONABLY SURE THEY DON'T KNOW WHERE THE CHILD IS-

AT THE HOME OF MAMIE McGUIRE

YOU BETTER STUDY ON HOW TO GET ANNIE AWAY FROM HERE, RIGHT SOON, AUNT MAMIE- IF YOUR LUCK RUNS OUT, OLD LADY MEANY WILL COME A-RUNNIN' AND GOBBLE UP BOTH OF YOU

YOU ARE SO RIGHT, MELLOWAY-

BUT HOW? ALL THE ROADS ARE BEING WATCHED- GUARDED-

OH, I RECKON I COULD EASY CARRY HER AWAY WITH ME IN MY JEEP- TAKING ALL THE BACK TRAILS AND SUCH-LIKE-

BUT EVERY LAWMAN IN THE COUNTY WILL BE WATCHIN' FOR A LITTLE GIRL AND HER DOG-

"A LITTLE GIRL AND HER DOG"?

GRANDMA

GRANDMA, WILL YOU TRIM MY HAIR A LITTLE BIT?

I WAS JUST PAST TH' BARBER SHOP AN' IT'S ALL LOCKED UP!

TH' BARBER SHOP CLOSED? GEE, LET'S GO SEE! MAYBE TH' BARBER IS SICK OR SOMETHIN'!!

YESSIR, LOCKED UP TIGHTER THAN A DRUM! H-M!! IT SURE DOES SEEM MIGHTY STRANGE!!

YEAH, I SAW TH' BARBER CARRYIN' A CAN O' SOMETHIN', GOIN' TOWARD TH' CREEK, AN' HE HAD A FAR-AWAY LOOK IN HIS EYES, AN'...

THAT SETTLES IT!! COME ON, MIKE, THERE'S NO TIME T' LOSE!!

GOLLY, WHEN BARBER BENNY CLOSES UP HIS SHOP AN' IS HARD T' FIND AT THIS TIME O' YEAR, IT CAN MEAN ONLY ONE THING...

...TH' BIG ONES MUST BE BITIN' LIKE ALL GET-OUT!!!

When you wash them with

Your nose tells you what your eyes can't see

Next time you take your wash out of the machine, we'd like you to do us (and yourself) a favor. It will take only a second. First, look at it; then smell it. You can tell how clean your laundry looks by using your eyes. But your nose tells you how clean it really is.

Your nose "sees" below the surface, deep down inside the cloth fibers themselves. And that's where SURF comes into its own. SURF dofts its cap to no product when it comes to getting white things white and hard-to-wash play or work clothes clean-looking. But it doesn't stop at the surface. SURF gets things clean clear through, so clean that they smell like sunshine.

We'll match SURF against any product in the world and we'll let you be the judge. If you don't think that today's SURF does a better job, we at Laver Brothers want to be the first to know about it. We'll refund every cent you paid (including the postage) in return for the information.

they smell like SUNSHINE

AIRMAIL. Laundries are so slow in some European places that a few impatient people have their shirts flown to New York City, washed, and flown back. Takes just three days, so I'm told.

*The rain clouds stay
Far, far away
And give no slightest sign,
Yet only lurk
To spring to work
When wash is on the line.*

FOLLOW YOUR NOSE. Did you know that smell is the keenest of all your senses? You can detect one drop of camphor in 400,000 drops of water. When we tell you to smell your laundry to see if it's really clean, we really mean it. Try it and see why so many women insist on today's Surf.
