RODEO HEADS COUNTY SEEKS MORE CATTLE PURCHASES

Order for 100,000 To Be Bought in Panhandle Received

No cattle purchasing orders for Hall county had been received this morning by County Agent James A. Jackson although it was announced yesterday at Fort Worth at 100,000 additional head would be purchased in the Panhandle on the government's drought relief program.

"We are doing everything in our power to secure additional cattle purchasing orders for this county, but are unable to say at this time as to whether any more drought stricken cattle will be bought here by the government," Mr. Jackson said this morning.

At least 1,000 head must be disposed of in this county to prevent a crisis this winter, Mr. Jackson has pointed out. With more than 3,000 head of distressed stock listed for sale to the government by Hall county stock raisers, present indications are that unless a part of this number is disposed of, many head will starve or freeze to death this winter, it has been pointed out.

In its counties in the Panhandle cattle purchases will continue Monday morning, it was announced yesterday at Fort Worth. County quotas were set in a meeting Wednesday at from 500 to 1,000 head to be bought in each county.

The buying will be according to the seriousness of the drought conditions existing in the different counties" Grover B. Hill, of Amarillo, AAA representative of this section said yesterday. A majority of the Panhandle counties (Continued on Page 8)

Rescued from Cellar Dungeon

Weak from hunger and two weeks' confinement in the opium-laden darkness of the cellar dungeon in which the gang that smuggled them into the United States had concealed them, these Chinese youths are shown philosophically accepting their new status as prisoners of Federal agents, who rescued them in a raid on a deserted mansion at Keyport, N. J. Three of the 18 men seized are pictured at Keyport before being sent to Ellis Island.

10,000 EXPECTED TO WITNESS EVENT HERE

WORLD CHAMPIONS ARE ENTERED

Featuring world champions, outstanding mounts and noted entertainers, the American Legion's great Armistice rodeo gets underway tomorrow afternoon with first events in the contest affair.

Ten thousand people are expected to witness the three performances in two days of the event, making the celebration here one of the largest ever staged in the Panhandle.

All arrangements have been completed by Promoter Roy Mayes and L. L. Doss, commander of the Charles R. Simmons post of the Legion, and everything is in readiness for the affair to click with clock-like rapidity at Fair Park athletic stadium.

Cowboys and cowgirls have flocked into Memphis from over the entire western United States, with the event drawing as none other in the Panhandle has ever done. They promise the stiffest of competition, the finest in riding, roping and bull-dogging and the ultimate in thrills and excitement.

Ten events will be staged in the opening performance tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. The second session, at 8 o'clock will have eight events, omitting two races, as will the championship contests Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The order of the events is as follows:

- FIRST EVENT—Grand entry, announcing of judges and special characters.
- SECOND EVENT—Kids' pony race.
- THIRD EVENT—Calf roping.
- FOURTH EVENT—Bronc riding.
- FIFTH EVENT—Trick roping.
- SIXTH EVENT—Wild cow milking.
- SEVENTH EVENT—Ladies bronc riding.
- EIGHTH EVENT—Steer bulldogging.
- NINTH EVENT—Brahma steer riding.
- TENTH EVENT—Quarter-mile free for all pony race (to be staged on race track outside rodeo grounds.)

Approximately 100 contestants will be entered in the different events. The group will be divided in half, with one group competing tomorrow afternoon and the other tomorrow night.

Winners of tomorrow's contests go into the championship events Sunday afternoon, which will end the rodeo with a grand finale.

World's Champion

A big feature of the entire program will be the riding of Mrs. Rose Davis Breeden, 1933 world's champion cowgirl bronc rider. She won the title in Madison Square garden, New York, in 1933 but did not defend her title this year because of an injury sustained while riding.

Another champion who has assumed the promoter he will be here for the contests is Jonas de Arman, perhaps the best known performer in the southwest, who captured the world's all-around championship last year at the New York show.

Outstanding Entrants

Many other outstanding contestants are here, coming from as far as Omaha, Neb., for the events. However, it was impossible to obtain a list of the entrants this morning since registration was not to begin until 3 o'clock this afternoon. Entries will be closed at 10 o'clock tonight.

Some of the outstanding performers who announced they would be on hand included, Buck Standifer, Oton; Odus Riddle, Odell, who was a member of Tex Austria's London, England, troupe; Odell Betsill, Odell; "Sex" Harrison, Bailey, Okla.; Buddy Ellison, San Jon, N. M.; Hal Cooper, Woodward, Okla., and many others.

'Northern Star'

The one mount in which spectators will be most interested is "Northern Star," the most infamous outlaw in the southwest, now that "Midnight" has been re-

MEMPHIAN DIES IN WICHITA HOSPITAL

Mrs. Mary Allen Succumbs This Morning After Illness

Mrs. Mary Allen, about 55, of this city, succumbed to an illness of several weeks duration this morning at 7:15 o'clock in a Wichita Falls hospital, it was learned by relatives here.

Mrs. Allen had been a resident of Memphis for 22 years and is well known in this section. Funeral arrangements had not been announced at noon today.

The deceased is survived by four sons, three of whom reside in Memphis, and three daughters, all of whom reside here. The sons are Will, Finis and John of Memphis and Bob Allen, of Electra. The daughters are Miss Margaret Allen, Mrs. Isabel Smith and Mrs. Frank Painter, all of this city.

$46,000 in Cotton Checks Arrive Here

LEGISLATURE IS AGREEING ON REPORTS

Service Station at Esteline Robbed

Armistice Service Sunday for All Ex-Service Men

Additional cotton acreage reduction checks were received in Memphis yesterday for Hall county cotton farmers, totaling $46,095.59, it has been announced by County Agent James A. Jackson.

The checks received yesterday are the second group received on acceptances of approximately two-thirds of the 1934 cotton acreage reduction contracts in this county. The first group of checks totaled more than $31,000, bringing the grand total of checks now being distributed in the county to more than $77,000. Distribution of the checks began Tuesday morning of this week.

The amount received yesterday will be issued in 532 checks, Mr. Jackson said. Acceptances of contracts for which checks have not been received will total more than $28,000, he said.

Only the 1934 rental checks are being received at this time. Parity checks on contracts accepted will come out of Washington offices in the near future, it is believed.

Rental checks to be issued in Hall county after all acceptances are received will amount to more than $100,000 while parity checks will total approximately $66,000, Mr. Jackson stated.

LEGISLATURE IS AGREEING ON REPORTS

Speedy Action Before Close Expected on Several Bills

AUSTIN, Nov. 9.—A virtual agreement on a bill to form the Lower Colorado River authority was reached today by a conference committee, but opposition to adoption of the report by the house is promised.

Amendments objected to by the Public Works administration as jeopardizing a four and one-half million dollar loan for the completion of a dam near Burnet were removed.

The house adopted a conference report on the permanent delinquent tax payment relief bill before it finally started action on Centennial legislation.

Service Station at Esteline Robbed

The Texaco Service Station at Esteline was burglarized last night of cash and merchandise amounting to approximately $10, it was learned here at noon today.

Burglars gained entrance to the station by breaking a front window and unlatching the door. Cash taken from the cash drawer amounted to $2.50 and a check-up this morning showed cigarettes and candy missing from the stock.

The robbery occurred about 11 o'clock last night, it is believed.

Armistice Service Sunday for All Ex-Service Men

A special Armistice service for all Legionnaires and ex-service men in this section will be held Sunday morning at 11 o'clock at the First Presbyterian Church, it was announced this morning by L. L. Doss, commander of the local legion post.

Dr. John Angus MacMillan will conduct the morning service. All legionnaires and ex-service men in the county are invited and urged to attend the service, Commander Doss said.

Two Women Killed And Man Injured As Car Overturns

SAN ANGELO, Nov. 9.—Mrs. Carl McAfee and Miss Beatrice Crow, of San Angelo, were killed, and W. A. Palmer, of Dallas, badly hurt last night when their car toppled into a ravine 17 miles north of here on the Robert Lee Road.

Palmer was thrown clear of the wreckage. The women were apparently killed instantly. The car was almost out of sight of highway traffic and the tragedy remained undiscovered until today.

Ed Burleson Gives Ed Burleson Term

WACO, Nov. 9.—Ed Burleson prosecuted Ed Burleson yesterday and obtained a 15-year sentence for hijacking.

The assistant district attorney is no known relative of the defendant. He sought a 30-year sentence. The holdup man was accused of robbing a taxi driver.

Football Trip Ends In Tragedy for Two

CARRINGTON, N. D., Nov. 9.—A football trip ended late yesterday in a tragedy near Heaton when the assistant coach and one member of the Minot Teachers College squad were killed and six others taken to hospitals with injuries as their bus left the road and overturned.

The two killed are Oran Marrett, Minot, assistant coach, and Allan Aufforth, Kenmare, co-captain.

Four Men Burned In Elevator Fire

NEWPORT NEWS, Nov. 9.—Four men burned to death in a fire that leveled the mammoth Chesapeake and Ohio grain elevator here late yesterday.

The dead: George Martin Jacob Ellis, Sr.; George Thomasson and Charles Shelton.

One other man, Jacob Ellis, Jr., was seriously burned and three others at work in the elevator escaped unhurt or with minor injuries.

The fire was believed to have started from a dust explosion.

The property loss was estimated at $2,000,000.

1933 WORLD CHAMPION WOMAN BRONC RIDER ENTERS RODEO

FIRST CONTEST SINCE INJURY LAST SPRING

23-Year-Old Bride Won Title In New York Contest

Rose Davis Breeden, 1933 world's champion lady bronc rider and rodeo performer, will ride in Memphis tomorrow and Sunday in the American Legion Rodeo for the first time since she sustained a sprained ankle last spring. The champion arrived in Memphis Wednesday and announced that she would enter bronc riding, trick riding and fancy riding events during the three performances in this city.

Mrs. Breeden, a bride of only three months, is a native Texas girl, whose home is in Fort Worth. In October of last year she was awarded a large silver loving cup as the winner of the 1933 Madison Square Garden world's bronc riding event in New York City.

Unable To Defend
Because of injuries to her right ankle sustained while bronc riding last spring, Mrs. Breeden was unable to defend her title this year at Madison Square Garden. The event this year was staged October 10 to 28.

The large gold and silver loving cup presented to the champion cowgirl last year is now on display in The Memphis Democrat show-window. The cup is Mrs. Breeden's permanent property and is a foot in diameter. It is inscribed: "Presented to World's Champion Cowgirl Bronc-Rider, at Madison Square Garden, 1933, by Ranch Romances." Her name, then Miss Rose Davis, is also engraved on the cup. Mrs. Breeden also won an ornate saddle at the rodeo, as well as a large cash prize and daily "money."

Author Is Freed From Grid Star

Charging cruelty, Adela Rogers St. Johns Hyland, noted magazine writer, shown here in Los Angeles court, was granted a divorce from Dick Hyland, former Stanford University football star. The couple has one child, Richard Rogers Hyland, 5.

23 Years Old

She won the title in competition with cowgirls from all over the world, and only after a close contest with Alice Greenough, of Red Lodge, Mont.

Mrs. Breeden, who is only 23 years old, is undisputedly attractive. Her large brown eyes sparkle brightly as she tells of the thrilling events she has taken part in. She and her new husband have just returned from Omaha, Neb., where they took part in a big rodeo in that city. They had planned to enter a rodeo at Yuma, Ariz., but decided to stop over in Memphis for the event here this weekend. They are stopping at Camp Alhambra.

In Leading Rodeos
Both Mr. and Mrs. Breeden

have taken part in some of the biggest rodeos in the world. They are regular performers at the Fort Worth stock show and have both taken part in the Madison Square Garden event for the past several years. They have also performed at the Cheyenne, Wyo., round-up, as well as all other "big-time" shows in the United States.

After winning the title at Madison Square Garden in 1933, Mrs. Breeden was entitled to enter the London, England, rodeo, but was unable to attend, she said.

Brought Up Riding
Mrs. Breeden was "brought up riding horses" as she explains. Her first riding was of the sandlot type in the outskirts of Fort Worth. Her mother and father were both riders. She has been a regular rodeo performer since 1927. She and Mr. Breeden were married at Cheyenne on July 28 of this year.

The champion cowgirl does not speak boastfully of her title or her ability as a bronc rider, but adds that "I like 'em as they come, good or bad."

Does All Stunts
"In trick riding I do just about all the stunts I've ever seen a man do, such as vaulting from ground to the saddle and over to the other side, riding the horse's belly, climbing under and around and riding just about all over him."

Attired for the contests, Mrs. Breeden wears riding trousers, boots, colored shirt and a "ten gallon" hat, and occasionally, chaps.

When a timid Democrat reporter asked her if she liked rodeo work, her enthusiastic reply was "Sure. It's a great life and I'm crazy about it." And, take it from that same timid reporter, it must be!

Boa Constrictor Visits Texas With Bananas

MASON, Nov. 9.—A live boa constrictor journeyed to West Texas in a bunch of bananas.

John Richeau, owner of a Mason grocery store, discovered the reptile when, in cutting some bananas from a bunch, he clipped off half an inch of its tail. The snake, measuring two and a half feet in length, was placed in a glass jar and sent to San Antonio, where zoologists at Brackenridge Park identified it as a young boa constrictor.

Welcome to the American Legion Rodeo

In true western spirit the First National Bank cordial welcome to all visitors who will attend the American Legion Rodeo in Memphis tomorrow and Sunday. You can easily recall when wrangling bad steers, roping calves and breaking wild horses were every day the lives of customers of this bank. There were no audiences, but it took real he-men for the part. We pay our respects to those brave settlers who made possible the civilization we enjoy in the Panhandle. Many have passed on, but to their survivors and their successors we extend our welcome. This year's two-day revival of the Old West we once knew.

Mayes' trail that has led him up and down the nation and placed him as a world champion in the steer roping contest at Durango, Colo.

Injured in Fall

His trail, entirely too long to follow now, has led him, either as promoter or contestant into practically every state in the union. He, like all showmen, has had his ups and downs in the game, but none of his misfortunes have equaled the one he suffered at Henrietta.

While participating in a bulldogging contest, he missed a dive at a steer while racing at break-neck speed on his pony. He dived too late, striking the steer's hip in such a manner that his back was injured and his right hip was paralyzed. He suffered from that injury for almost a year before he was able to again take up the trail.

Other Relics of Cowboys Are Shown In Window

In addition to the silver and gold inlaid loving cup presented to Mrs. Rose Davis Breeden as the world's champion lady bronc rider, The Memphis Democrat has on display in its showwindow this week-end, one of the oldest and most widely used saddles in the Panhandle.

The saddle being displayed is more than 31 years old and came to Memphis from the world famous Coon & Culberson Ranch near Dalhart. It is the property of J. H. Norman & Son of this city.

According to "Booger Red" Rogers, who sold the old style Cogshell saddle to Norman, "it has broken more brones and been used in branding more cattle than any saddle in the Panhandle."

"Booger Red" bought the saddle from Andy McAdams while working on the Coon & Culberson ranch in 1932. It had been used for more than 15 years on the Dalhart Ranch where more than 4,000 registered bulls are stationed for service all over the United States, he said. The saddle was used extensively in all parts of the Panhandle and New Mexico before being used on the Dalhart ranch, "Booger Red" said.

Other interesting items in The Democrat showwindow include a coyote hide, Holstein cow hide, cowboy boots, "ten gallon" hat, pistols and other items of the "old west."

A FULL WEEK-END NINE MAJOR ATTRACTIONS HERE IN THREE DAYS AS PARTS OF ARMISTICE CELEBRATION

A full week-end of "holiday" events are in store for Memphis visitors today, Saturday and Sunday.

With an interesting football classic opening the string of events tonight, the three days and nights will be packed full of sport and social attractions, including a dance and three rodeo performances.

Tonight the Memphis Cyclone entertains the Clarendon Broncs on the grid at Fair Park stadium. Because of rivalry existing between the two schools for years, a large crowd of gridiron fans are expected to see the game.

Dance Friday Night

Following the grid game, a dance has been scheduled to be held at the American Legion hall. The dance will continue past the midnight hour, advance publicity states.

Saturday morning will by no means be quiet in Memphis, either. A free picture show is being given by the Ritz Theatre for children at 10 o'clock Saturday morning, and all children are invited to attend. Many Saturday shoppers are planning to come to town early Saturday, also, and do their week-end buying before the hour for the first performances of the American Legion Rodeo Saturday afternoon.

Army Chow Line

At noon Saturday an old fashioned chow-line is being sponsored at Fair Park by the American Legion. Real army "slumgullion" is to be served from 11:30 to 1:30 o'clock at 30c per "helping," and everyone is invited out to join the line. The "slumgullion" and army feed is being prepared by real army cooks in the real army fashion, according to L. L. Doss, Legion Commander.

At 1 o'clock Saturday a mammoth down-town parade of cowboys and cowgirls taking part in the American Legion rodeo will take place. Crowds will follow the rodeo parade to Fair Park to see the first rodeo performance at 2 o'clock.

Under Floodlights

Saturday night Memphis visitors will have an opportunity to see probably the first night rodeo ever held in the Panhandle. At 8 o'clock the rodeo will continue under the giant floodlights at Fair Park.

Two Memphis theatres are showing mid-night previews of unusual screen attractions Saturday night, beginning at 11 o'clock. The Ritz theatre is showing "The Barrotts of Wimpole Street" and the Palace is showing "Dr. Monica", featuring Kay Francis. They will also show these pictures Sunday afternoon.

At 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon the last performances and final prize events of the American Legion rodeo are to be staged, closing a complete week-end of activities.

Cyclone and Broncs Renew Grid Rivalry Here Tonight

Memphis 'Doped' To Sweep Traditional Enemy From Field

Nations Grid Schedule Enters 'Home Stretch'

BY JOCK SUTHERLAND
Head Coach, University of Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 9.—Big teams going into the home stretch in races for sectional, intersectional, traditional, and national honors on Nov. 10.

There isn't a section of the country that fails to advance at least two outstanding attractions. Intersectional contests will attract the most attention. Following a hard game with Notre Dame Pittsburgh plays Nebraska at Lincoln. I have taken four good football teams to Lincoln and we have returned with one victory. Three games have resulted in scoreless ties.

Dana Bible has a good Cornhusker crew—one that has come along rapidly since losing an early season fray to Minnesota. Nebraska plays football that is hard to beat before a home crowd, I am looking forward to another scoreless tie, if we can hold the Huskers.

Two of the best teams in the country meet when Tulane tackles Colgate in New York. I am picking Colgate after a scoring spree. Notre Dame and Navy meet on a neutral field in Cleveland, and the Irish should continue on the victorious way, avenging last defeat.

Another southern array comes north when Georgia meets Yale, and the quest will be successful. Harry Meigs's Bulldogs should be too much for Ducky Pond's Bulldog, although it will be close.

Ram Must Be Ready
Jimmy Crowley's Fordham Ram after three tough games in a row, will have to be set to withstand the attack of Trusty Tailman's West Virginia Mountaineers. Fordham should win, but any slip is likely to mean defeat.

There are five important eastern games, although none of them will have a real bearing on the sectional leadership. Bowdoin and Maine meet in a game steeped in tradition. I am included to pick Charley Bowser's Bowdoin band. Holy Cross's Crusaders are going to prove entirely too much for Chick Meehan's men of Manhattan.

I expect Penn State, in the midst of a real football revival, to beat Pennsylvania. Washington and Jefferson meets Bucknell, and the edge must be given to the Presidents.

Every Western Conference outfit will be engaged in championship games. Bernie Bierman's Minnesota Gophers, favorites for the title have Indiana on their hands, and while they should win, any laxness is liable to prove fatal.

The closest battle of the day on this front should take place when Ohio State meets Chicago. I have an idea that Francis Schmidt's Buckeyes have lost the one game that they will lose this year and will have a little too much on the ball for the Maroons.

Iowa figures to lose to Purdue; barring one of the biggest upsets.

Business houses are "all dressed up" for the American Legion rodeo this week-end. Attractive show-windows featuring the rodeo and "wild west" idea have been prepared by many of the Memphis business houses, while practically all of them have attractive "Welcome, Rodeo Visitors" signs in and about their business houses.

"Ten gallon" hats, cowboy boots and saddles and spurs comprise most of the special "rodeo display windows." An unusual arrangement has been prepared by the J. H. Norman & Son top shop in their show-window on the east side of the square. A dummy of a drunken cowboy riding back to the range on a saw-horse is the most unusual feature of the window. Guns, boots and spurs complete the display.

Other attractive display windows have been arranged. The Memphis Democrat and other business houses in the city, adding to the holiday spirit.

FAIR PARK STADIUM, tonight, 8 o'clock.

OCCASION, annual clash of two clubs, one of oldest rivalries in the Panhandle.

OFFICIALS, referee, Hyde (Hardin-Simmons); umpire, Penick (West Texas); Headlinesman, Jones (Texas Tech).

ADMISSION, 25 and 50 cents.

Tonight at Fair Park stadium the Cyclone is slated to renew its victories over the Clarendon Broncs, oldest and most bitter traditional rival of the Memphians.

Although Memphis is "doped" to carry the heavy end of the score by over half a dozen touchdowns, the game will draw unusual interest because of the tradition that has come down through the years along with the annual battle.

And at that, the dopster may find himself at great disadvantage. The clash has produced hard battles for so many years it is unsafe to allow too great a margin regardless of indications through the comparison of previous scores.

This is Memphis' year, however, Clarendon, for long unable to overcome the Cyclone "jinx", had never defeated the locals through a period of approximately a decade. Finally the time came, however, when that record, like all others, had to fall. It happened in 1931 when a powerful Broncs eleven caught Memphis in one of its slack seasons.

Tide Turns Again
The next two years were not so favorable, either. In the annual clash and for a time it appeared that the Broncs might run up a record that resembled that of the Cyclone from 1922 through 1930.

But suddenly the gods who rule the destinies of football teams changed their minds and this year the Cyclone is prepared to take up the victories where it left off four years ago.

Wanting Revenge
In the last two years the Broncs ran up a total of 58 points against the Cyclone, although the margins of victory were not so large since the local club was not blanked, and fans are looking for revenge tonight. However, in the writers opinion, to predict so many points in this game would be folly.

Coach Chesty Walker will send a crippled club against the Broncs but one that is not greatly hampered by injuries. These injuries are not sufficient to prevent the eleven from turning in a game practically up to par with previous performances.

Springer Is 'Out'
One player—Ross Springer, regular end—will be out of the game entirely. He received a broken nose in the Cyclone's championship clash with the Wellington Skyrocket last week, after contributing materially to the locals' 12 to 0 victory. Springer will be replaced on the starting line-up by Horace Malone, a 125-pounder.

According to figures sent here by the Clarendon coaches (and coaches are notoriously low guessers when they send the weights of their players away from home) the Cyclone has the Broncs out-weighted 10 pounds to the man. Undoubtedly the Memphis club is athletic stadium assures the night venture here of success if the weather conditions do not overcome that advantage. The lights flood the entire field, with each spot receiving the same amount of light "as bright as day." As shown at several football games this season, they also light up the surrounding area, making the rest of the ground light enough for any activity necessary in connection with the rodeo.

The night performance will be the second show tomorrow in the preliminary events for Sunday's final in the contest rodeo. It will start at 8 o'clock, lasting approximately two hours.

The lighting equipment at the of the day, Michigan and Wisconsin will battle along until Michigan wins, and Illinois will hand Northwestern a decisive defeat.

Decides Rose Bowl Team
The game that will decide the Pasadena Rose Bowl representative from the west will be played at Palo Alto, Calif. This brings Stanford and Washington into action in a battle worth going miles to see. Jimmy Phelan has done a good job at Washington but Stanford's fast team should be a little too much.

Southern California and California meet in a game that will have little bearing on the title, but one that means a lot to both teams. I expect to see a fairly decisive Trojan victory.

In the southwest, Rice, still heading the parade, will meet rugged opposition in Arkansas, but the Owls will be too much for the Razorbacks. Texas should get by Baylor, and Centenary and Southern Methodist should have little trouble with Tulsa and Texas A. & M., respectively.

Missouri Valley games will see the runner-up to Nebraska decide when Iowa State and Oklahoma meet. It looks like Iowa State. Kansas State should repeat Missouri.

There are no important battles in Dixie.

In the most important, Washington and Lee's General's, who have lost by close scores to good teams should beat Virginia. Mississippi is picked to defeat Florida, Auburn should defeat Georgia Tech, Maryland should trounce Virginia Military Institute, and North Carolina State should turn back Virginia Poly.

'Night Alarm' Showing Last Times Today
Admission to the Ritz Theatre tonight to see "Night Alarm," screen attraction appearing in Memphis under the auspices of the Memphis Volunteer Fire Department, is 25 cents for adults and 10 cents for children. Because of the nature and original cost of the picture, and in order to give a percentage of the door receipts to the Fire Department, it was necessary to make the admission charge for adults slightly higher than regular prices. It has been pointed out by Lee Bell, local manager of the Ritz.

The story concerns a newspaper reporter who "covers" night fires. This role is played to a perfection by Cabot. The romantic angle is aided by Judith Allen who portrays a character that really does her justice. The picture as a whole furnishes plenty of thrills, drama, romance and comedy that is worthy of being seen.

EVERY SECTION OF PANHANDLE INFORMED
15 Papers Give News Of Legion Rodeo Over Section

Every section of the Panhandle has been informed time and again of the American Legion rodeo being staged here tomorrow and Sunday, assuring that news of the event has reached every person in the territory who will be interested and plan to attend.

For more than two weeks the event has been advertised in 14 Panhandle newspapers throughout the Panhandle, these papers having also printed several news stories about the event.

In addition to news concerning the rodeo, it is drawing wide attention throughout the west because of information sent out through rodeo and ranch channels by Roy Mayes, promoter, who is known throughout that section. This is causing entrants to come from as far away as Nebraska that otherwise probably would have heard of the event too late.

Beside The Democrat, newspapers that have carried advertising and stories on the event throughout the Panhandle and that are contributing greatly to the success of the attraction are: The Amarillo Daily News-Globe; The Pampa Daily News; Clarendon News; Donley County Leader; Wellington Leader; Hedley Informer; Quitaque Post; Estelline News; Turkey Enterprise; Childress Daily Index; Childress County News; Childress Chronicle; Quanah Tribune-Chief and the Paducah Post.

Admission to the Ritz Theatre tonight to see "Night Alarm," screen attraction appearing in Memphis under the auspices of the Memphis Volunteer Fire Department, is 25 cents for adults and 10 cents for children. For the other events, approximately 100 head of Brahma steers, ranch steers, wild cows and calves have been obtained and are now corralled at the athletic field.

Other feature attractions of the events will be George Ace Newton, famed trick rider and roper, who with his "educated rope" has appeared at rodeos and on the stage throughout the United States. He will have a prominent place on the program. The other is "Booger Red" Rogers, 4 foot 11 1/4-inch cowboy whose clowning stunts will give the spectators many a laugh. Contest Judges. Judges for the contest events are Eddie Smith, Wellington; Nathan Jones, Mangum, Okla., and Murray Dodson, Browder's ranch. All are well versed in the rodeo game and will render quick and accurate decisions. Ralls Miller, of Silverton will be the flag judge.

Admission to all rodeo sessions is 25 cents for children under 12 and 50 cents, plus five-cent federal tax, for adults.

Advertised from one end of the Panhandle to the other; through ranch and rodeo circles throughout the western United States, the Legion affair has taken on such proportions as to be acclaimed the greatest ever staged in the Panhandle. Great interest has been manifested throughout the entire territory.

Many Other Events
Although the rodeo is the center of all attractions, many other events will mark the three-day celebration, which starts tonight and continues throughout Sunday. The city of Memphis is properly dressed for the occasion and will

Relief Group May Try To Keep President Warm

By Associated Press
SAN ANGELO, Nov. 9.—Among his souvenirs, President Roosevelt may soon have a nice, warm goat skin coat.

Six such coats are being made here and it is planned to present one of them to the President.

Another is to be offered to Harry Hopkins, federal relief administrator.

The Texas relief commission conceived the idea of giving the coats to the President and Hopkins.

The other four coats and 36 rugs, being made from mohair pelts, were requested of the Tom Green county administration by the state relief commission.

E. R. Bradbury, county relief administrator has applied to FERA for funds to set up relief tannery here and utilize the thousands of goat pelts that have been turned in by needy families who were given the animals for food.

Bradbury says that goatskin coats, properly made, are as attractive, warm and serviceable as any that can be had.

We have had a lot of pious twaddle from celibate clergymen who are about as far from knowledge of the realities of life as the man in the moon.

—The Rt. Rev. Simeon H. Huston, of Seattle.

I'd be delighted to be an old-fashioned Secretary of Agriculture and concern myself with scientific matters. It is a calm and peaceful kind of existence.

3. This offer is open to all except employees of The Democrat and their families. You pay nothing.

4. Awards will be made on the basis of the most nearly correct list of anagrams and the cleverest sentence. Simply rearrange the letters in each anagram to spell the name of a food or grocery item. Then check the food and grocery ads in today's Democrat and place a cross mark in the square if you find the item is NOT a grocery item.

Then arrange the letters in the anagram of not more than 30 words.

5. All entries will be considered on an equal basis. Contestants agree to the conditions of the contest. The names of the contestants will be published in the Democrat office the day after the contest.

6. All entries must be submitted by the day after the contest.

7. You need not write a sentence to compete. Simply submit your list of anagrams on a sheet of paper. Winners will be announced in the Democrat.

HANDY ENTRY BLANK

In the blank space below I have rearranged the letters in the anagrams to spell the names of the grocery items which I think to be the solution of today's game. The ones checked with a cross mark thus X are advertised in today's Democrat.

ANAGRAM	SOLUTION
1. CROPPON	<input type="checkbox"/>
2. RATUMSD	<input type="checkbox"/>
3. ITLABHU	<input type="checkbox"/>
4. ROTSYES	<input type="checkbox"/>
5. AMTESOOT	<input type="checkbox"/>
6. HISLER	<input type="checkbox"/>

8. REFCOBNEED	<input type="checkbox"/>
Two Words	<input type="checkbox"/>
9. SLANTUW	<input type="checkbox"/>
10. ONMALS	<input type="checkbox"/>

I have used all of today's anagram solutions in the following sentence of not more than 30 words:

My Name _____

I buy my groceries at _____

If awarded a prize, I want my order drawn on the store checked below:

- City Grocery () Crawford Grocery ()
- Chitwood's Market () 'M' System ()
- Memphis Grocery Co. ()

Bring Tall Family Tree to Films

If family trees are any help in the Hollywood climb, these Atlanta, Ga., twin debutantes should go high and far. Margot and Mary Sage are in the film, rapid, determined to crash the pictures. They're daughters of Ira Sage III, construction firm head, granddaughters of the Southern Pacific railroad builder, grandnieces of Russell Sage, financial power of the 90s, and great-grandnieces of Eli Yale, founder of Yale University.

to mature the feed. Stock water still is a problem on many ranches.

Since feed and pasture is so scarce, ranchers are preparing not to "feed" lice this winter. Reports from the ranges in Texas indicate the western portion of the state is chiefly to combat lice.

Lice keeps cattle in poor condition even when grass and feed is plentiful. Cattlemen said agents of the AAA have been conducting surveys in the drouth areas in order to secure data that will aid in formulating relief plans.

The government buying program which ended recently eased the situation considerably by taking thousands of head of cattle from the range. Despite that fact, however, it was estimated by cattlemen that over 3,000,000 cattle are on the barren pastures of Texas, New Mexico and Arizona.

'Booger Red' To 'Make a Monkey Out of Everybody' in Legion Rodeo, Enters Two Contest Events Besides

Will the American Legion rodeo have a clown? Will it? Yes, sir! And he is none other than "Booger Red" Rogers, the great big man who stands four feet, 11 1/2 inches "in my sock feet and that's not including my hat."

"Booger Red" is another of the world champions who will appear here. He declares he won the world championship bareback bronc riding contest in 1921 at Tex Austin's title rodeo at Chicago. He rode the famous mustang "Headlight."

"Them's some of the tough one I rode," he concluded, "but I'm not telling you about the ones I didn't ride. That ain't the thing to go asking about."

"Booger Red" has never appeared as a clown in a rodeo here, although he has been clowning for Roy Mayes, the local promoter, Leonard Stroud and Tex Austin for the past 10 years. He did appear in a rodeo here, however, in 1923. All he received for his service was a broken leg. He was injured in an attempt to bulldog a Brahma steer.

Mrs. Charlie Holder and Mrs. Tom Boley of Paducah were guests of Miss Katie Sue Reed here yesterday.

Mrs. Carl Jones of Estelline is a Memphis visitor today.

Armistice Rodeo Here To Be Mammoth Western Show

Feature Attraction of American Legion Rodeo

GEORGE ACE NEWTON

Formerly of the Tom Mix company and heralded as a second Will Rogers, George Ace Newton will be one of the feature attractions of the American Legion rodeo here Saturday and Sunday.

Newton possesses a "trained rope" with which he has entertained many crowds at rodeos and on the stage.

Newton is a friend of Will Rogers and a keen admirer of him. He is a native of Oklahoma and first met Will in a Buffalo Bill show.

'YOUNG LOCHINVAR' TO ROPE RIGHT GIRL AND CARRY HER AWAY—WHEN HE LOCATES HER

Found — A young Lochinvar who comes out of the west!

But probably not knowing the story as he should, this big-sombreroed hombre doesn't come on a prancing steed, but he will have a twirling rope that does tricks.

Ace Newton is the lad, folks! His idea of romance is to drop a rope around the "right girl" and carry her away. Since that is so far from the "modern" conception, it might have its appeal.

"When I find a girl I want, I will drop a loop around her and take her away with me," says George A. Newton, the fancy roper and trick rider who will appear in the American Legion rodeo.

But Ace is a bit particular. He wants a "woman" he can trust, and one who will be a good "buddy". She must be able to ride and travel around with him, he says.

Take a look at the picture of Ace, girls, and see if you would like for that loop to "land" or if you want to have something handy to duck behind when he sets his loop a-whirling.

He may find the girl at any time and at any place, he says. That is something he cannot regulate or choose—it just might happen right now or he may go on looking without ever having any success. "You just can't tell."

The trouble so far has been that the girls he would like to marry don't like the sort of business he is in and the ones that flock around him (he admits it) are the ones he doesn't like.

"You can make anything he good by kindness," is Newton's philosophy. In training a horse, kindness is the first essential, "but never let him have his own way about anything," he advises. "Above all, don't feed him sugar or let a woman ride him. Those

SPECIAL EVENTS TO ENTERTAIN RODEO FANS

Trick Riders, Ropers And Clowns To Play Part in Affair

Playing no small part in the American Legion rodeo tomorrow and Sunday, the featured entertainers will receive the plaudits of the crowds.

There will be trick ropers and riders and the cowboy clowns who add spice to the regular performances of every rodeo. They will hold prominent places on the program at times, and others will come in at odd moments to bring a laugh from the crowd at unexpected turns.

Heading the list of entertainers will be George Ace Newton, pictured on this page, who is widely known as a trick roper. With his "educated rope" he has appeared throughout the country on rodeo and stage bookings.

The clowns with their brightly colored, ill-fitting garb, bawly donkeys and other characteristic paraphernalia will be on hand for the entertainment of the crowds.

Promoter Roy Mayes has secured some excellent performers for these roles, men who have, in most cases, for many years followed the bucking horses and snorting steers for no other purpose except to "cut a few capers" and get a few cheers from the crowd.

Trading Active in Irrigated District

By Associated Press. PECOS, Nov. 9.—Trading is active in irrigated lands under the new Red Bluff dam on the Pecos River.

C. C. Dorr, irrigation farmer at Grand Falls, said that in addition to land deals, many farmers in his section are profiting by oil leasing activities.

Some money must be spent in rebuilding the distribution system at Grand Falls, which has 43,000 acres of the 100,000 acres to be served with water from Red Bluff dam. Only 15,000 acres of the land is under cultivation this year.

The dam, estimated to cost about $2,500,000, is under construction. Workmen are erecting a power line from Pecos, throwing up quarters for employes to live in at the dam site, and the actual start of the main contract at the dam has been started.

Where Do Rodeo Broncs Come From?

Where do broncs come from in this day of automobile and tractors?

It may be surprising to many people here, but within a radius of little more than 100 miles many of the wild mustangs used in rodeos over the entire west are raised.

A large number of them come from the famous "Mata-dor country," which still is about as "rough and wild" as it was in the "old days."

From the Matador ranch hails Northern Star, one of the most noted "killers" in the game today. This steed has upset the hopes of many a cowboy to earn prize money—he is a horse no one wishes to "draw," but the real performer will not hesitate at taking his chance when he is the unlucky victim.

Northern Star will lead the list of mustangs at the American Legion rodeo here. If he is ridden, spectators will see an event really worth while and one that few others have witnessed.

Others of the broncs used here will come from the same area Southwestern Oklahoma, as well as other sections of the territory around Memphis, is also famous for its wild steeds.

Old-Time Cowhands to Be Featured at Rodeo

Few of the picturesque old-time cowboys remain, and Bob Crabb (shown at left) is one of the most characteristic of these.

Now 80-odd years of age, Bob says he is not too old to "ride 'em and rope 'em," and he plans to demonstrate this fact at the American Legion rodeo here Saturday and Sunday.

He is one of the remaining old-timers of the open range, who will be introduced and featured at the Armistice celebration being staged here.

He will appear in conventional cowboy garb, as he is shown in the picture, and will display relics of his "cowpunching" days, including his "faithful old six-shooter" with which he could "shoot as straight and as quick as anybody."

Bob Crabb came to Hall county in 1879—55 years ago—and went to work for the Shoe-Bar ranch, owned by J. K. Zimmerman, when Memphis had only one or two little stores and three saloons.

He worked for the one brand for 29 or 30 years and after the famous outfit began to break up, he had saved up a "small stake" with which to start in the business for himself. This he did and in a few years became an outstanding rancher. Like all the other cowmen, he had his "ups and downs" and, as he says, he was "made and broke by cattle."

In telling of his experiences during the early days when thousands of head of cattle roamed throughout this area, Bob states that for seven years of the time he worked for the Shoe-Bar he seldom entered a house.

Bob started as a cowboy when he ran away from his home in Hunt county and "went west" to become a cattleman. After a few years, he returned to his home and married "the girl he left behind". Mrs. Crabb will be with him here over the week-end. They had a family of seven children.

Like so many of the old-timers, Bob could not stand to be "bottled up" by barbed wire and cotton fields, so he moved on toward farther western fronts when Hall county's ranges began to give way to settlers.

Joe Merrick, ex-Hall county sheriff, and Bud McClaren are others of the old-timers who will be introduced during the rodeo here.

Barbecue Will Be Held in Palo Duro Canyon on Sunday

Armistice Day, Sunday, will be celebrated at Palo Duro Canyon park, south of Amarillo, by a good old-fashioned barbecue. Serving will begin at 11 o'clock Sunday morning and continue throughout the day. Adequate space and facilities have been arranged at the "Cow Camp" down in the canyon, and the public is welcome. Saddle horses will be available at the gate for those who wish to ride through the park, and a limited supply of tents may be had by those wishing to make an overnight visit.

Palo Duro State park is accessible by paved roads from Amarillo to Canyon, and surfaced road from Canyon to the park. There is also a good road from Amarillo via the Palisades.

A great amount of work has been expended upon the roads in the park recently, and they are fast becoming a pleasure to motorists. The descent into the canyon is a masterpiece of engineering and workmanship. The surprising beauties of this great natural park are daily becoming more easily accessible to visitors, and all Texans should visit the park.

RODEO TO BE DEDICATED TO RANCHERS LIKE ZIMMERMAN, 'FATHER OF THE SHOE-BAR'

The "Father" of the Shoe-Bar!

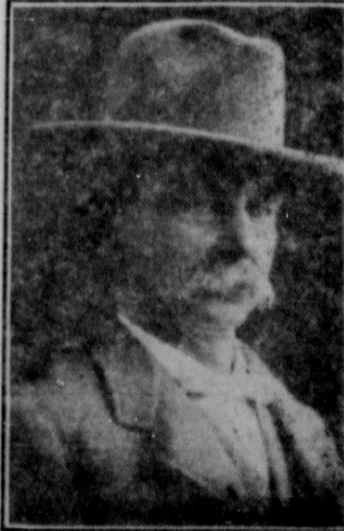

Those words describe not only the owners of one of the greatest ranches in this section of the country, but they tell of one of the leading men in the colorful history of Hall county.

The man was J. K. Zimmerman, owner of the famous old Shoe-Bar ranch that once took in a great portion of the county. It is to such men as Mr. Zimmerman (shown in the accompanying photo) that this section owes its beginning, and it is to them that the American Legion dedicates its Armistice rodeo Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. Zimmerman owned and ruled a dominion in the Upper Red River Valley that took in hundreds of thousands of acres and upon which roamed almost countless hundreds of cattle.

The greatest tribute that can be paid the man is to say that among the ranch people of this country his name was "standard". He was at the head of a great "family" of cowboys and he knew each one and treated them like members of his own family. He was known and loved by every cowman in the county.

Mr. Zimmerman passed with

J. K. ZIMMERMAN

the passing of the open range in this area. He was a part of that open country and the fenced-in farming lands were not within his kingdom, although he undoubtedly knew of the success that lay before his ranges as producer of farm products and assisted in the advancement that was sure to come.

REVIVAL OF OLD DAYS WILL BE FEATURE

Outstanding Events To Draw Hundreds Of Spectators

Colorful. Thrilling. Wild. Gigantic.

The American Legion's Armistice rodeo to be staged in three performances at Fair Park stadium tomorrow and Sunday will be one of the mammoth western shows for which in old days this section of the country was famous.

It will be a revival of the old days, combining all the features of rodeo entertainment, western atmosphere and old-timers with the glamor and excitement that goes with a whole-hearted, wide-open celebration.

Hundreds of Visitors Expected to draw spectators by the hundreds from the entire territory within a radius of some 100 miles of Memphis and others from over the entire Panhandle and southwestern Oklahoma, it will rival any such event ever staged in this section of the southwest.

Sponsors of the event—the American Legion—and Roy Mayes, the promoter, were assured of its success from a standpoint of actual performance long ago when they secured a greater group of leading riders and ropers, bulldoggers and entertainers than any ever to appear in such a contest in the Panhandle.

Besides these, they also have gone to great difficulty in securing the most outstanding bucking horses, wild steers and other animals in the southwest. Combined, they will make the contests as a whole some of the toughest many of the entrants have competed in.

World Champion Heading the list of entrants is Jonas de Arman, present all-around world champion, who, although entries will not be actually listed until tonight, informed Mayes he would be on hand for the contests. The Oklahoma cowboy won the world title at the rodeo annually selected to be for official world titles.

The contestants started drifting into Memphis early this week and not a day has passed that has not seen at least half a dozen come in, most of them bringing their favorite mounts with them for the roping contests. Several have arrived from Omaha, Neb., where they completed competition in a rodeo early this week, and others were expected to follow them, according to discussions of the local event circulated among the contestants at Omaha.

Outstanding Broncs Through the work of Mayes, who is a veteran promoter and at one time a world champion bulldogger himself, all the outstanding contestants, many of whom know Mayes personally or have heard of his record, were contacted and were interested in the contests here.

The stock for the contests naturally are headed by the broncs—those are the animals in which the (Continued on page 8)

Rodeo Starts Tonight—With Two Events

The American Legion's rodeo which celebrates Armistice Day with a two-day stand at Fair Park stadium, actually gets underway tonight.

But the session will be short and will not be the center of attraction, regardless of the interest it draws tomorrow and Sunday.

Two events will be staged between halves of the Memphis-Clarendon football game as a stunt to advertise the regular performances.

These events will consist of a bronc riding attempt and a demonstration of trick roping. It's just a forerunner of what is to come during the regular rodeo show.

The Clew of the Forgotten Murder

By CARLETON KENDRAKE

BEGIN HERE TODAY

When CHARLES MORDEN, reporter for The Blade, is found dead DAN BLEEKER, publisher, employs SIDNEY GRIFF, famous criminologist, to solve the murder.

Morden had been investigating the affairs of FRANK B. CATHAY, wealthy and prominent, following the arrest of an impostor claiming to be Cathay and accompanied by a girl called MARY BRIGGS.

The day following Morden's death Cathay dies of poisoning. Griff learns that Morden had visited the apartment of ALICE LORTON who has reported to police the disappearance of her roommate, ESTHER ORDWAY.

Griff accuses Alice of being involved in Morden's murder but does not succeed in breaking down her story. He learns Cathay broke an appointment with HARRY FANCHER, inventor, the night of the arrest, and goes to see Fancher who tells him he saw Cathay leave the Hillcrest hotel with a young woman.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XXIV

Sidney Griff paused, his hand on the door. "It doesn't matter about the telephone," he said. "I'll send a messenger for you if I need you."

Fancher followed Griff outside the house and stood meekly watching as the criminologist strode down the cement walk toward his car.

"That wind," Fancher said apologetically, "has made the yard look like a mess. I hope you don't mind."

"Oh, no," Griff called as he climbed into the car. "I don't mind in the least."

Before Griff started his drive back to the city he telephoned the detective agency that had shadowed Alice Lorton the night before. From that detective agency he found out that Alice Lorton, together with a male companion, had journeyed to the Trent Apartments on 312 West 16th street; that the couple had entered the apartments and had not left them; that, as nearly as the detective could ascertain, the man was Kenneth Boone, who rented apartment 209 in the front of the apartment house. A light had shone in the window for a moment just after the pair had entered. Then a man had pulled down the shade and the detective felt certain that the man was the same one who had escorted the young woman to the apartment.

Griff instructed them to keep the apartment house under surveillance and to shadow the pair whenever they should leave, putting sufficient men on the job so that they could shadow both the man and the woman. He also instructed them to cover the Hillcrest hotel thoroughly, searching for a young woman who had been registered there on Monday night, who was about 22 years of age, a brunet, and who had had dinner with the man who had registered as Frank B. Cathay of Riverview.

He also instructed the detective agency to ascertain whether the man who had registered under the name of Frank B. Cathay at the Hillcrest hotel had issued any checks, and, if so, what had happened to the checks.

Having set those wheels in motion, independently of the investigation which was being made by the newspaper, Sidney Griff yawned, climbed back in his car and started the long ride back to the city. When he had arrived he went directly to a Turkish bath and remained there until morning, when he had a leisurely breakfast and then strolled to his apartment.

It was approximately 10:30 Monday morning that Bleeker telephoned and announced he was on his way to Griff's apartment with important news. He arrived less than 15 minutes after the telephone call had been completed.

Griff, looking fresh and rested, reclined in the large lounging chair. There was a glint of lazy humor in his cold, blue eyes—eyes that could, upon occasion, become as penetrating as twin searchlights. Now he seemed utterly relaxed, completely at ease.

"You've got important information?" he asked.

Bleeker nodded, took a notebook from his pocket.

"In the first place," he said, "we found the taxi driver."

"What does he remember?"

"A lot. He says that Morden engaged him by the hour on Thursday morning; that Morden went to a garage at the corner of Robinson street and Huntley street. He made some investigations there, went to the Elite Apartments on 319 Robinson street, returned to the cab within a matter of five minutes, went to Ninth and central streets, and the cab park around the corner on Central. The cab driver thinks it may have been the Monnock building. Morden was gone for nearly half an hour, returned to the cab and discharged it, remaining at the Elite Apartments."

Sidney Griff jumped to his feet, dropped the cigaret in an ash-tray. His lazy relaxation had vanished as completely as a cloud wisp drifting from the edge of a snow-capped mountain out over a dry desert.

"And I claim to be a criminologist?" he exclaimed.

"What's the matter?" Bleeker inquired.

Griff swept his hand toward a batter of filing cabinets which lined one side of the room.

"I study crime," he said. "I study the modes and methods of operation. I study the habits of criminals. In these card indexes you'll find digests of every major crime for half a century. The big embezzlements! The big murders! The big hold-ups! Crimes of passion. Crimes of deliberation! Crimes of violence!"

"I've concentrated for years on the best methods of getting quick results in criminal cases, and here an ordinary newspaper reporter thinks of something that has entirely escaped my mind!"

"What do you mean?" Bleeker asked. "I don't see it. I don't get the sketch."

"The garage," said Griff, striding up and down the long room, flinging the words over his shoulder without turning his head. "It's a new city ordinance, of course, but I should have thought of its possibilities."

"I don't follow you," Bleeker remarked. "Do you think you know what Morden had in mind? What he was doing?"

"Of course I know what he had in mind and what he was doing!" Griff said, turning on his heel and striding back toward Bleeker, making fierce, impatient gestures with his hands as he walked, emphasizing his words with little jabs of his extended right forefinger. "It's that new city ordinance, the one that requires garages to turn in the license numbers of all cars that are stored in the garage over night. It was sponsored by the automobile insurance companies in order to give the police a chance to check up on stolen cars. Every public garage has to submit such a report."

"I still don't see," Bleeker said, "what you're driving at."

"Morden," said Griff, "wanted to check up on what Cathay was doing in the city. Remember that he wasn't sent out to check up on the man who had assumed Cathay's identity; he was sent out to check up on Cathay. You wanted to get something that would put Cathay on the defensive. "Probably some other lead," Bleeker said. But how did he get it?"

Griff shrugged his shoulders.

"No matter," he said. "We'll run that down a little later. In the meantime we've got a live lead on this garage business. Suppose you have one of your men run over to the garage with a picture of Morden. Find out if Morden wasn't there making inquiries about the car that was registered in the name of Frank B. Knowing Rules of Game Adds Interest to Rodeo Events

THRILLS BIGGER IF ONE KNOWS ALL RULES

Rodeo Contests Are Governed Simply But Strictly

Memphis at one time may have been in the center of the cow country, but most of the citizens in this area now do not really know the rules of the oldest game of the lot in the southwest—the rodeo.

They do not know what the judges are watching, in other words, to see if the riders, ropers and bulldoggers qualify for a place in the money.

The thrills come, of course, when a rider "bites the dust," a calf is tossed by a taut rope or a cowboy flips a steer by his horns—just as the biggest thrill in a football game comes when a team scores a touchdown. But, just as in any other game, knowing something of the rules adds greatly to the interest.

Rodeo rules are comparatively simple, and they are not changed from year to year by some kind of national rules committee so that fans can hardly keep up with the game.

Here is a brief summary of the do's and don'ts of rodeo events, and including some good marks set in each, so that spectators at the American Legion rodeo tomorrow and Sunday can tell what the judges are watching and whether a contestant has made good time.

BRONC RIDING—Rider must leave starting place with spurs against shoulders of mount and must begin scratching the moment the horse leaves the starting place, riding without kicking or scratching will count against the rider. Rider must hold reins in one hand and must not change hands on reins, and must keep his free hand above the waist line. He must not touch the horse with his hat or hand.

Riders will be disqualified for pulling their feet out of stirrup, railing or not attempting to scratch, being bucked off, changing hands on the reins or "pulling leather." Riders are judged by the amount of scratching done by them, the masterfulness of the manner in which they ride and the toughness of the mount.

ROPING RECORDS—World's fastest records in steer roping and tying: 17 seconds made by J. Ellison Carroll in 1906 and Clay McGonigal in 1908. The world's fastest records in calf roping and tying are 18 seconds made by Jack DeFraftenreid in 1921, 17 4-5 seconds made by Henry Sadtler, February, 1923, and 16 4-5 seconds made by Lee Robinson, March 1923.

BULLDOGGING RECORDS—The world's fastest records in bulldogging are: Frank McCarroll, 1921, 7 3-5 seconds; Mike Hastings, 1922, seven seconds; Rube Roberts, May, 1924, 6 2-5 seconds, and Johnnie Roberts, June, 1924, 5 4-5 seconds.

BULLDOGGING RULES—Time is taken from the time the steer crosses the deadline near the chute until the bulldogger has

California Frees Vagrants if They'll Quit State

With thousands of itinerant workers flocking to California, the law's wheels have been set in rapid motion to discourage the influx. Judge E. R. Brand of Los Angeles is shown here as he tried out a new plan, freeing 50 vagrants with the promise that he will dismiss charges against them when they send him postcards from other states. The prisoners, most of whom pleaded guilty, said they had hitch-hiked and beaten their way by rail to California in search of jobs.

leaped from his horse to the steer and twisted the steer down. The steer must be laid flat on the ground with all four feet out. If the steer is once stopped and starts running again and the bulldogger throws the steer by pushing his horns into the ground, then the steer must be let up and twisted down. Bulldoggers will be fined not less than 15 seconds for crossing the deadline before the starters' flag drops.

WILD STEER RIDING RULES—Rider must leave the chute with both spurs against the steer's neck and must scratch and keep scratching. Riders must ride with only one hand on the surcingle. If rider holds with both hands he is disqualified. Riders are judged by the masterfulness of the manner in which they ride, with due consideration given for the roughness of the mount. Riders will be disqualified for touching the steer in any manner with free hand, changing hands on the surcingle or being bucked off.

BEN BERNIE TO APPEAR IN AMARILLO

All the Lads' Play Concert, Dance on November 17

Special to The Democrat
AMARILLO, Nov. 8.—Ben Bernie and all the lads, who come to Amarillo Saturday night, November 17, for a concert and dance engagement, are enjoying almost phenomenal success on their present tour of the Southwest.

Headed for Hollywood, where they will make another picture to follow the highly successful "Shoot the Works," the Old Maestro and his boys are packing them in at concerts and dance palaces. In some places the interest in Bernie's appearance is so great that $5 per person is being charged for the dances. This is the case, for instance, at Shadowland in San Antonio.

The famous band leader and master of ceremonies, whose drawing "Yowsah" has become a by-word throughout America is being booked by the Music Corporation of America by Wilbur C. Hawk and will be presented in both concert and dance by the Nat Dance Palace. All profits from Ben Bernie's engagement in Amarillo will go to the Junior Welfare League of Amarillo which is helping the Nat Dance Palace to sponsor this engagement.

Bernie is known far and wide through his weekly radio broadcasts. He may be heard every Tuesday night at 8 o'clock over the NBC network. Last Tuesday he played his broadcast from Oklahoma City, and next Tuesday he will play from San Antonio.

The Bernie Orchestra, which includes some famous entertainers besides the Old Maestro, himself, was one of the principal World Fair attractions during the first year of the exposition. He played nightly in the Blue Ribbon Casino there. Following that engagement he went to Hollywood, where he made his successful film, "Shoot the Works," with Jack Oakie and the late Dorothy Dell.

Tickets for both the concert and the dance may be reserved now by writing Miss Lois Black, care of the News-Globe, or the Nat Dance Palace, Amarillo. Concert prices are 35, 50 and 75 cents, $1, and $1.50. For the dance $2.50 per person will be charged, one of the lowest prices ever asked for Ben Bernie.

Shortly afterward, a man suspected of stealing sheep was arrested and Crowell went to see if he could pick out any of his from those recovered.

"That one will have a black string with two knots around its neck; the one there has a green string with three knots and that one will have a string with five knots," he told officers. And he regained his sheep.

VETERANS EARN CENT A PIECE ON POPPIES

Can Make As High as $3 Per Day Because Of Poppy Sales

"A penny a piece is paid for each poppy made. A veteran, if he is not too badly disabled, can easily turn out 300 of the flowers in a short working day. This is usually the maximum number the disabled men are permitted to make in a day to prevent them from overtaxing their strength, and means earnings of three dollars a day.

"For men who have lain in hospitals for months feeling that they were useless incumberances on the earth, three one-dollar bills actually earned are worth a fortune. For the families of these men—the poppy makers are all men who receive little or no government compensation—the money earned often means food, shelter and fuel for the winter. For the men without families the poppy earnings provide a 'stake' for the day when they must go out and attempt to re-establish themselves in life against the handicap of their disabilities.

"Veterans too badly disabled to make complete flowers sometimes form what they call 'Poppy Corporations'. Several of them work together on the same flower, each performing the operation which he can do and passing the flower on to the others to be completed. Even blinded veterans can take part in the work under this arrangement.

"Manufacturing the poppies involves large problems of financing, management and distribution for the Auxiliary women directing the project. This year wages paid to the disabled veterans will total nearly $100,000. Employment has been given to many hundreds in 58 different hospitals and workrooms in 40 states.

"The funds derived from the poppies are used by the Auxiliary and the American Legion in giving aid to disabled veterans, their families and families of the dead for whom no other aid is available. Groceries for the family of a veteran too sick to work—shoes for the children of a veteran lying ill in a distant government hospital—a loan to a convalescent veteran struggling to get back on his feet—these are typical of the purposes for which the poppy contributions are used. The money is expended largely in the community in which it is raised under the direction of the rehabilitation and child welfare committees of the local Auxiliary unit and Legion post.

"The wearing of the poppy draws its wide appeal from its dual purpose of honoring the dead and serving the living. Every red flower on a lapel on 'Poppy Day' means that the wearer has thought of the men who lie beneath the poppies in France, and has contributed something to the relief and rehabilitation of the men, women and children who are still fighting the long battle against physical and financial handicaps resulting from war service."

Ask Teachers To Make Park Study Class Projects

By Associated Press
AUSTIN, Nov. 9.—The Texas State Parks Association has asked teachers of history in schools of the state to make class projects of the points of historic importance in their communities.

Fred M. Herndon, Association secretary, said the last called session of the legislature authorized the state parks board to gather this information and to mark the spots of historic interest. However, no appropriation was made to carry on this work.

Neither the Parks Board nor the Association has ever had any funds to even conduct parks work, yet today Texas has 72 state-owned parks with an aggregate area of 258,405 acres. These have been donated to the state without cost to taxpayers.

Herndon said that under existing conditions it will be impossible for the Parks Board to place suitable markers at historic spots. Nevertheless, the board and the Association have proceeded with the collection of information necessary to the marking when funds become available.

School teachers, Herndon said, are in position to make school work projects of local history and send their summaries of facts to the State Parks Board here, for compilation by counties. These data will be used for reference in connection with marking.

There is scarcely a county in Texas but has a background rich in history interest. Herndon said, but without funds, the board or the Association cannot gather this valuable information.

Deer in Texas Are In Good Condition

By Associated Press
MASON, Nov. 9.—Deer are reported to be in good condition in the "Hill Country" this year, despite dry weather. A good crop of persimmons, along with "pear apples" and some acorns, have provided feed.

Ranchmen are said to have "leased out" their hunting preserves in most parts, particularly for the first week of the deer season, opening Nov. 16.

John O'Donnell, Mason county game warden, said more deer were killed in this county the last hunting season than in any other two counties of the "Hill Country."

Figures for the "Hill Country" last year were: Mason, 1,679;

Gillespie, 749; Llano, 66; Werr, 588; Comal, 769. The figures were taken from shooting preserve license records, kept by ranchmen. They are not complete in some instances.

RECALLING THE 'OLD WEST'

RECALLING the "Old West" is no more appropriate anywhere than it is right here in the Memphis Area—today one of the most advanced agricultural centers in the entire country, but at one time the center of just as big ranching enterprises as could be found in the western states generally recognized through writings and pictures as the "heart of the cowman's country."

Too, the spirit of the range has not passed from this territory. The great J A ranch and the famous Matador still are near the top of the list of outstanding cow-raising country, and there are others that help to keep the "Old West" alive right here in our own area.

The American Legion is celebrating Armistice Day with a revival of the old contests of our western days. These two occasions—the ending of a great war and the passing of the west—are greatly different, yet there seems to be some connection in spirit of the two that makes it very appropriate that Armistice Day should be celebrated in this manner, that the American Legion should be the one to sponsor such an event.

Memphis will be the mecca of thousands of holiday thrill-seekers this week-end. The holiday spirit will prevail here, and the city will be thrown open to its visitors as never before. Everyone in the entire country—anyone who has seen the event advertised or has heard by word of mouth that the event is being staged—is invited to attend. Visitors are expected from over the entire Panhandle and southwestern Oklahoma.

Counting the entrants, visitors will be here from over the entire west, for the entries and inquiries concerning contests and prize money have come from far and near. This is attributed to the fact that Roy Mayes, the promoter for the Legion, is so widely known among rodeo performers and because he knew how to reach them with advertising of the event. The $500 cash prizes, of course, are also no small inducements.

Whatever the cause, which after all is only a means to an end, this area is assured of the greatest rodeo event it has ever seen if weather conditions are favorable. The greatest list of entrants, including the world's all-around champion, Jonas De Arman, and nearly 100 contestants in the five events; some of the most notorious broncs, headed by Northern Star, infamous outlaw from the Matador country, and Brahma steers, wild cows and plenty of calves, point to thrilling events. Double chutes already constructed make it possible to keep things moving at all times.

Roy Mayes has promised no dull moments. "I have been in the game long enough to learn that the only way a successful rodeo can be staged is to keep things going, not to let the spectators get tired," he said. He is recognized as a highly successful promoter and states "because I do not allow things to drag along is the biggest reason, I believe, for my success."

Also quite fittingly, Memphis will be the first city in the Panhandle to combine the old and the new. It will stage a night performance under powerful floodlights. Such performances have been found only in large cities and nationally recognized rodeo performances. Bringing night events to this section is a feat the Legion can well be proud of.

The rodeo, although the major attraction, is only a part of the mammoth celebration planned here Saturday and Sunday. It will be a gala occasion on every hand. Everyone is invited to make this his or her celebration and take an active interest, having as much fun, experiencing as many thrills and celebrating in general as much as can possibly be crowded into two days.

MORE MONEY FOR WAR

WITH the single exception of Germany, every major power in the world is spending more money today for arms and armies than it was spending just before the World War broke out. And the armament race that preceded 1914 is given a large share of the blame for the coming of that conflict!

This summary is made by the Foreign Policy Association. Rises in military expenditures run like this: France, 25.8 per cent; Italy, 26.3 per cent; Great Britain, 43.2 per cent; United States 190.9 per cent; and Japan, 283 per cent.

All in all, this makes a dismal outlook. And in our own nation—considering that its military expenses have nearly tripled—is hardly in a position to point the finger of scorn at any foreign countries, either.

Things Just Seem To Be Getting All Mixed Up

HEALTH

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN
Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygeia, the Health Magazine
One of the commonest conditions resulting in destruction of the teeth is pyorrhea. Yet a simple routine of cleansing and care should enable you to prevent such pus formation, irritation, and loosening of the teeth.

Mummies found in Egypt showed signs of having had this disease. Mummies dug up in northern Italy had gold bands which held their teeth in place, because pyorrhea had loosened them.

The disease persists among a great many of us, and yet a review of the causes can show you how easy it is to prevent it.

First, there may be a mild infection around the gums. Then, deposits of tartar around the teeth and under the edges of the gums may cause trouble. Third, wedging of food between the teeth, where they do not touch properly, and similar factors, may be responsible for pyorrhea.

Whenever tissues become infected or irritated, it is easy for the germs to attack them and break them down. Pyorrhea slowly destroys the tissue by which the roots of the teeth are attached to the bone. Little pockets of pus form between the gums and the roots. These are called pyorrhea pockets.

The way to prevent pyorrhea should be obvious from this description of its nature. Since the condition usually begins at the margins of the gums, it is important that you keep these margins clean.

The teeth must be brushed regularly and properly. Dentists see the teeth for cleansing purposes at least twice a year, preferably four times a year.

If there is a tendency for particles of food to catch between the teeth, some dental care may be necessary to realign the teeth. The dentist can also instruct you as to proper methods of mouth hygiene to keep these particles of food from collecting.

Many persons with pyorrhea require special information as to their diets, so that they may have the food substances associated with sound gums and sound teeth.

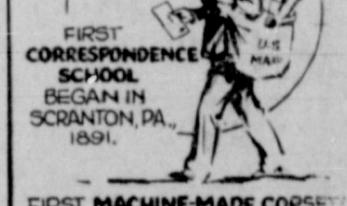

Once pyorrhea is well established, it is hopeless for the average person to attempt to control

FREDERICK AUGUSTUS CONRAD MUHLENBERG was speaker of the House during the first Congress, 1789-1791. A course in coal mining, launched by Thomas Foster, newspaperman, in October, 1891, for enlightening and welfare of miners, developed into a national correspondence school with student numbering nearly 4,000,999. James Lyle, inventor of corset-making machine, established the U. S. Corset Company in 1870.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

By RODNEY DUTCHER
(Democrat's Washington Correspondent)

WASHINGTON. — Detective novels are gathering dust here as scores of amateur sleuths seek to penetrate the biggest mystery of the New Deal: What happened to Bobby Hutchins?

There are several clues, but as yet there's no complete solution. The brilliant young president of the University of Chicago came to the White House with a general understanding that he was to be appointed to a very important administration job.

He went away from there saying that President Roosevelt would issue a statement. No statement came and mounting speculation as to the prey's disappearance act begins to classify him along with Dorothy Arnold, Justice, Crater, and the prophet Elijah.

Most insiders would be surprised if Hutchins now suddenly arrived with his luggage and joined the New Deal. Some of them, especially among the "brain trusters," would be horribly shocked.

For those who know President Hutchins suspect that the "brain trust" might soon become a one-man affair consisting of President Hutchins. They even suspect that he might soon have most of the New Deal under his arm—or upset a lot of things in the attempt.

Wants to Pick Own Job
Widespread sentiment of this sort and Hutchins' desire to choose his own job are chief factors in the probability that he will stay in Chicago.

Roosevelt apparently had no definite post in mind for Hutchins. The two men talked about what Hutchins might have if he wanted it and what Hutchins would have if he got what he wanted.

Hutchins didn't want to succeed Lloyd Garrison as chairman of the National Labor Relations Board. But apparently he would have accepted a large executive post with NRA.

The possibility of making him vice chairman of the National Industrial Recovery Board, with wide administrative powers, was discussed.

But the NIRA—at least a majority of it—turned down its thumbs. Members let the president know that they considered the board well balanced, that the addition of Hutchins would make NRA topeavy with "professors."

arranged as not to interfere with the football game tonight nor to obstruct the spectators' views of the game. In this manner, all work on the rodeo ground can be completed before the game. All the change that will be required will be the removing of the goal posts at the north end of the field.

Other activity going on at the stadium includes the erection of booths and concession stalls in the large space behind the west bleachers, which gives the entire stadium a real holiday appearance.

Along with the football bleachers, arrangements are being made to seat some 2,000 spectators at each performance of the rodeo. Still a greater number can be accommodated around the sidelines, but the late arrivers may find themselves without seats with a choice of standing room only.

Revival Of—

spectators are most interested. One of the most notorious broncs in the southwest will be the animal the boys will have to "try" here. He is Northern Star, from the famous Matador ranch. He is known as a "killer", a horse nobody can ride, wherever rodeos are staged in this section of the country.

In addition to some 25 broncs, nearly 100 head of Brahma steers from South Texas, wild cows and calves will be on hand for the other events.

Still another factor—besides the contestants and animals—that goes to make a successful rodeo is the manner in which events are handled, whether they are rushed through, with one contest following another in rapid order, or if they are allowed to drag along, with nothing happening most of the time.

Time of Events

In fact, the latter type of rodeo has been staged so often in this part of the country that many spectators are "burned out" on them. However, Mayes has promised that there will be no delays in events during the Legion affair. It is upon his speed in handling events that he bases much of his claim to being a successful promoter, and he has staged contests over the entire west.

The opening event of the rodeo will be staged at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon. The second will be a night performance, under the powerful floodlights, which gets underway at 8 o'clock Saturday night. The climax performance will be staged Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Each performance will last about two and one-half hours.

Admission will be 25 cents for children and 50 cents plus a five-cent federal tax for adults.

two things will spoil him. The reason my horse has god sense is because he's done neither.

Newton didn't say if he was going to apply his philosophy to the woman he ropes the same as he does to his horse—"you can make anything good by kindness, but never let them have their way about anything". It has its good point as well as its bad.

Hunger Marchers Felled in Battle With Police

When the 200-odd New York City hunger marchers who planned a two-day convention in the state capital to formulate their demands for relief this Winter reached Albany, police were on hand to turn them back. In the battle that ensued at the Hudson River bridge the marchers lost, as is obvious from the picture above. Injured men are shown being helped into patrol wagons by their foes in the melee. Three went to the hospital "to wait" to fall.

Miss Beatrice, J. D. and Myrtle Henry and Louis Orrell spent last week-end visiting in Oklahoma.

A large number enjoyed a fruit supper Saturday night in the home of Miss Nell Cochrane, celebrating the birthday of Miss Augustine Mills.

Mrs. Hensley from Lelia Lake is here visiting her daughter, Mrs. Whittie Wallace.

SCHOOL NOTES

The P. T. A. met last week and had an interesting program. "Hot Lunches" was the topic for discussion. Mrs. Trostle and Mrs. Wheeler made talks and led in a general discussion of future plans. It was decided to plan hot lunches for the cold days during the winter months. Plans will be worked out more definitely by the next meeting. Although there was not a large number present, a great interest was shown and is was hoped to have every parent in the community present at the next meeting.

Mrs. Trostle entertained her pupils and their mothers last Wednesday afternoon. The school room was decorated with cats, bats and witches, and everything had a Hallowe'en atmosphere. The pupils were dressed as "spooks," appearing in masks and robed forms from dark corners. The mothers engaged in several Hallowe'en games and stunts. Everyone was served with cake and hot chocolate. The following mothers were present: Mesdames Marvin Alexander, Della Crozier, C. S. Davis, Lloyd Robertson and Butler, Martin and Ashcroft. Mr. Trostle took his pupils to a football game at Lakeview last week. It was the first game some of them had ever seen. The community had a successful pie supper here last Friday night. The proceeds of $18 will go for playground equipment.

Each Slow Start

May cost you 2 MILES OF GAS

HAVE you ever figured the high cost of starting with low test gasoline?

Even in warm weather, each start of the average car takes as much gasoline as driving it for two-fifths of a mile. On cold days, slow starts can easily consume two miles of gasoline!

This waste of mileage is a waste of your money. And the waste is worst in Winter. The starter whirrs. The battery weakens. Up go your temper, temperature, and upkeep.

What a difference with high test Phillips 66! Your motor starts with split-second speed. Warms up fast. Gets going without bucking. You get maximum power on a minimum amount of motor fuel. Zip-pier pick-up. And the silent action and anti-knock of genuine Lead Tetraethyl.

Why not check up today? See if you aren't missing extra miles on every gallon, extra pleasure in motoring! One trial tankful of gas, at any Orange and Black 66 Shield, is Phillips finest advertisement.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

The PELICAN

By WILLIAM FERGUSON

THE ADULT BIRD HAS A WINGSPREAD OF SIX TO SEVEN FEET.

VARIOUS SPECIES ARE FOUND THROUGHOUT THE TEMPERATE AND TROPICAL COUNTRIES; THREE OCCUR IN NORTH AMERICA.

A FULL-GROWN BIRD SELDOM UTTERS A SOUND... BEING ALMOST TONGUELESS!

IT BUILDS ITS NEST IN TREES OR ON THE GROUND. NESTING MATERIAL IS GATHERED IN THE BILL... ONE OF THE MOST UNUSUAL BEAKS IN THE WORLD! THIS BEAK CONTAINS AN ELASTIC POUCH, IN WHICH FISH ARE SCOOPED UP FROM THE WATER.

MOST BIRDS, WHEN FEEDING THEIR YOUNG, PUSH THEIR BEAKS INTO THE PARENT'S THROAT AND SPECIALLY ADAPTED FISH, WHICH THE SWALLOW BEFORE WITHDRAWING THEIR HEADS.

PELICANS FLY LONG DISTANCES TO THEIR FISHING GROUNDS! THEY TRAVEL IN SINGLE FILE, SAILING, AND FLAPPING THEIR WINGS, IN UNISON.

ISSENLAY, OUVAY! AMSCRAY OUYAY EREHAY, ORAY I'LLAY IVEGAY OUYAY A OODGAY IFTSWAY ICKAY!

-YOURS TRULY, E. DUZZEM.

THAT'LL BE ALL, KITTY! TELL SAM TO COME IN HERE, PRONTO!

SAY, WHAT'S THE IDEA OF ALL THAT CRAZY LINGO?

WELL, I TOLD A KID TO GET HIS PET OUT OF OUR STORE, AND HE WOULDN'T DO IT!

SO I WAS THREATENING TH' PET IN HIS OWN LANGUAGE — PIG LATIN!

SOLD!

OH, FRITZY-WITZY, YOO HOO! LOWER THE BRIDGY-WIDGY WE HAVE GUESTIES.

IS THAT-AH-THE WAY YOU TALK ALL THE TIME?

OH, YES, INDEEDY-WEEDY. IT'S MY WAY OF BEING CUTE. YOU SEE, IF I'M TO INSPIRE MEN TO GLORIOUS DEEDS, I MUSTN'T RELY ON MY BEAUTY-WOOTIE ALONE I MUST ALSO ELECTRIFY THEM WITH MY PERSONALITY!

I'M PRACTICALLY ELECTROCUTED, RIGHT NOW.

OH, YOU FUNNY-WUNNY MAN! TEE HEE, I'LL CALL YOU CAPTAIN EASY-WEEZY.

AND YOU'LL BE WISHIE-WASHIE.

WOTTA YA MEAN, I'M WISHIE-WASHIE?

RUN ALONG, PERSONALITY. TELL HER HIGHNESS WE'RE HERE. SHE'LL BE TICKLE-WICKLED TO SEE USSY-WUSSY.

BOOTS AND HER BUDDIES

GMORNING, SIS.

ONE THING'S SURE - I'LL HAVE T'USE TH' OL' NOODLE. N'WATCH MY STEP 'CAUSE THAT GAL IS NO DUMMY

WELL, HOW'D YOU ENJOY THE PARTY?

OH! OH, CHEERIO, THERE

MONA IS A WONDER! SHE CERTAINLY KNOWS HOW TO PUT OVER A PARTY! I NEVER KNEW SUCH A FIEND FOR DETAILS — AND SHE TAKES SUCH AN INTEREST IN EVERYONE

SHE SURE DOES

AH HUH, I TELL YOU, SHE'S CLEVER. THAT GIRL SMART AS A WHIP

YEAH — AN, OL' BOY, SHE'S PLENTY SMARTER EVEN THAN YOU THINK SHE IS, TOO

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

NUTTY, DON'T BREATHE A WORD TO ANYONE, ABOUT MY PRACTICING FOOTBALL WITH BIFF EVERY NIGHT! I'M KEEPING IT A SECRET!

BIFF GOT ME A LIST OF THE SIGNALS, AND I KNOW EVERY PLAY BY HEART! I MAY GET INTO A GAME, SOMETIME... YOU CAN'T TELL... AND I WANT TO BE READY!!

BUT, WHY KEEP IT A SECRET, FRECKLES?

WELL, IF I NEVER GET INTO A GAME, PEOPLE WILL LAUGH AT ME FOR PRACTICING! I'LL SORT OF BE LIKE DON QUIXOTE WITH WINDMILLS!!

WELL, WELL! IF IT ISN'T THE GUY WHO WANTED TO AMAZE THE WORLD WITH HIS FOOTBALL ABILITY! THE GUY WHO WANTED TO SHOW OFF FOR A GIRL, AND MAYBE COLLECT A KISS AS A REWARD!

HOW ABOUT YOURSELF?

HUH! WHAT'S A KISS, MORE OR LESS? I WISH I HAD A NICKEL FOR EVERY GIRL I'VE KISSED!!

WHAT WOULD YOU DO? BUY YOURSELF A PACKAGE OF GUM?

ALLEY OOP

USSEN, FOZZY! IF YOU HAD NOTHIN' T'DO WITH WOOTIES DISAPPEARANCE, FOUND AN YA KNOW WE BETTER SCRAM FORE THEY FIND HER AN TRY T'GO ON WITH TH' WEDDING!

WELL, I'VE A HUNCH TH' GAL WON'T BE CHANDAN YA KNOW MY LOGIC IS USUALLY SOUND

YEAH, BUT I'M THROUGH TAKIN' CHANCES! WE'RE GONNA GIT ON OL' DINNY AN LAM!

WELL, OKAY IF YOU THINK IT'S BEST, WHICH WAY WE GOIN', NORTH, SOUTH, EAST OR WEST?

UP WITH YA, PAL, AN HANG ON! WE'RE GONNA TAKE A LONG RIDE!

GIT GOIN' DINNY, AN DON'T SLOW DOWN FOR A LONG TIME!

THE NEWFANGLES (Mom'n Pop)

THERE! NOT BAD, FOR CLOSE TO FORTY, IF I DO SAY IT MYSELF! COME ON, DAN AND CLAIM YOUR LITTLE BRIDE!!

WHY, IT'S PAST NINE-THIRTY, AND HE SAID HE'D BE HERE AT NINE SHARP - I'D BETTER CALL HIM UP

HE DOESN'T ANSWER, I'LL GET READY, HE'S PROBABLY ON HIS WAY OVER HERE.

MEANWHILE, ED BACKMAN, THE CONSTABLE AND JUSTICE OF THE PEACE, AWAITS THE BRIDE AND GROOM

THEY'RE OVER AN HOUR LATE, NOW, I'LL BET OLD DAN GOT COLD FEET, AN BEAT IT

THERE'S THE PHONE, MAYBE THAT'S DAN, NOW...

BOZZY!

EGAD, SNUFFY, WE'VE BEEN OUT FOUR HOURS, AND NARY A SHOT, SO LET'S HAVE A BIT OF TARGET PRACTICE!

OKAY - AIN'T EVEN SEEN A CROW!

WE'LL FANCY THAT SIGN IS A MOOSE!

NOW I'LL TRY SOME DISTANT SHOTS - INTEND TO BRING DOWN A FEW BIGHORN SHEEP THIS WINTER!

WELL, WE'RE OUT OF SHELLS - BUT WE'VE SHARPENED UP OUR SIGHT!

YIP - BUT WHAT WE'VE BEEN HUNTING HAS BETTER EYE-SIGHT!

THINGS AIN'T LIKE THEY USED TO BE - I CAN REMEMBER WHEN YOU COULD GET A SACK OF RABBITS WITH A CLUB!

THIS AN OF FOR HURTY!

HEY! - WHAT'S THEM BIRDS?

MY WORD! A COVEY OF QUAIL!

DRAT IT - AND NEITHER OF US WITH A SHELL!

LOOK! GREAT CAESAR, A DEER!

OH, IF IT WOULD ONLY DROP FROM FRIGHT!

DRAT THE DRAT -

COME ON IN FOR SUPPER WITH US! YOU LIKE SPARERIBS DON'T YOU?
