HIGHWAY CRASH WEDNESDAY NIGHT IS FATAL TO LOCAL GIRL

REHEIS GIRL IS KILLED; ROSS SPRINGER HURT

Car Strikes Bridge Railing; Springer Critically Hurt

Maurine Reheis, 19, was killed instantly and Ross Springer, 22, critically injured when their car crashed into the concrete railing of a bridge on Highway 370 near Newlin shortly before midnight Wednesday.

The car, a 1939 Ford V-8 sedan, apparently went out of control and crashed into the retaining wall at the south approach to the bridge with terrific impact. The motor was driven back into the body of the car, pinning the two occupants beneath it.

Springer is in a critical condition in a local hospital, his right leg broken in two places, severe cuts about the head and face, and possible internal head injuries of an extremely serious nature.

The car, driven by Springer, was traveling at high speed and went out of control as the driver passed another car on the curve a short distance south of the bridge. The impact of the crash was so great that one section of the concrete railing was torn completely away.

Springer was rushed to a local hospital by a King ambulance immediately following the crash. The girl was pinned beneath the seat by the engine of the car, and her body was removed with difficulty. Both were badly cut and battered. Maurine was the daughter of

R. S. Greene Wins First Flight in Tri-State Golf

Memphis Veteran Defeats Amarillo in Senior Golfers Classic Thursday

Rufus Greene, veteran Memphis golfer, captured the first-flight championship at the annual Tri-State Senior Golfers Tournament at the Amarillo Country Club Thursday, blazng down the fairway to take out Charles McAfee of Amarillo 6 and 5 in the final.

Greene defeated A. N. Holmes of Shamrock in the semi-final, going three-up on the seventeenth. He had previously advanced in the first round over W. T. Rogers of Lubbock 4 and 3, and in a second round match over Dr. R. P. Parsons of Amarillo 3 and 2.

He had won the first-flight championship in the Memphis city golf tournament over the local country club course a week before.

Greene qualified for the first flight in the Amarillo tournament Tuesday morning, June 27, with a score of 91, missing the championship division in which he played at the Tri-State last year. Bog Skaggs of Clovis, N. M., won Thursday, after qualifying earlier in the week with the lowest medal score of the tourney, 74 strokes.

G. D. Beard, only other Memphis entry in the regional senior tournament, was placed in the fourth flight and lost his first round match to J. T. Patman of Clarendon. He went out of the tournament after dropping a hard-fought consolation match to Ed Clark of Oklahoma City, 1 up on the 19th hole.

Roadside Park Is Given Approval

The Texas Highway Commission Wednesday announced approval of a $6,000 appropriation for a roadside park on Highway 370 ten miles south of Memphis. The roadside park, which will be one of the largest to be built in this section, will be placed on the highway near Newlin. The appropriation was approved and added to the current regular federal aid program of the highway commission.

ESTELLINE HAS BIG RECEPTION FOR TRIPPERS

Third Good Will Expedition to Go To Hedley Monday

A delegation numbering more than 100 boosters from north of the river joined the second "good neighbor" expedition to Estelline last Monday night and took part in a friendly get-together, street dance, and program on the Estelline city square.

Led by the Memphis band, the huge crowd attired in cowboy and pioneer regalia formed a mile-long parade to the city across the river where they were met by the largest crowd of Hall Countians yet to attend one of the good-neighbor programs.

Fifteen hundred people crowded the square to take part in festivities. The Memphis band opened the program at 8 o'clock with their theme melody, "I'm An Old Cowhand," sung by Miss Nell McNeely.

Songs by Nell McNeely and Anita Meacham, a tap dance number by Charlene Gerlach, brief talks by Mayor J. Claude Wells and Mack Wilson, chairman of the Memphis Rodeo committee, a tripping demonstration by Jess Nichols of Estelline, a comic monologue by Mrs. Donald May masquerading as "Daisy Mae," numbers by the "cowboy trio," Buster Heim, T. E. Noel, and J. C. Ross, and a string band performance featured the program.

At the close of the program, the string band, "The Red River Buckaroos," composed of Tommy Ellis, Mack Graham, Arthur Howard and Gordon and Edwin Gilliam, took the platform and played for an old-fashioned square dance on the square.

Carroll Smyers, secretary of the Memphis Chamber of Commerce and general manager for the Hall County Old Settlers and Cowboy Reunion and Rodeo, which will be held here July 27-28, announced the appointment of John Ewing of Estelline as chairman of the Reunion planning committee in Estelline.

Accompanied by the band, a large delegation from Memphis attended the annual Fourth of July Rodeo at Clarendon Tuesday morning and moved on Tuesday afternoon to McLean to attend a similar celebration there, advertising the Hall County Reunion and Rodeo at both stops.

The third "good neighbor" trip will leave Memphis next Monday evening for Hedley. All who will join the expedition are asked to meet at the City Hall at 7 o'clock. The program at Hedley will begin at 7:30 p. m., according to plans.

The fourth expedition will go to Turkey Friday evening of next week.

Window Decorations to Change Memphis Into Pioneer Museum

Memphis merchants, together with study and civic clubs of the city, are co-operating 100 per cent in decorating windows and placing relics, antiques, and mementoes of pioneer days on display for the Hall County Old Settlers Reunion.

Plans have been made by the decorations committee to turn the entire business district into a historical museum for the two-day reunion. The committee, headed by Mrs. John Deaver, includes the presidents of all clubs and civic organizations.

A prize of ten dollars is being offered the organization putting up the best display, and a number of interesting collections are being planned.

The Woman's Culture Club is planning to make a miniature replica of early-day Memphis, using a street scene including old churches, the general store and wagon yard, the first train, covered wagons, oxen, and old buggies.

Thompson Brothers Hardware is planning an interesting display of old saddles. Norman's Auto Shop is using a collection of old guns used in the Spanish

PIONEER — Mrs. L. D. Stout of Hulver, a resident of Hall County for 33 years, died at her home early Thursday morning.

Mrs. L. D. Stout Dies at Hulver Early Thursday

Funeral Services for Aged Pioneer Woman Set for Friday Afternoon at 2:30

Mrs. Nancy Cason Stout, 79-year-old Hall County pioneer settler, died at 12:30 a. m. Thursday morning at her home near Hulver. Funeral services have been set for Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Hulver Methodist Church. Rev. Franklin Ivy of Newlin and Rev. J. A. Anderson of Estelline will officiate.

Mrs. Stout, wife of L. D. Stout, had been a resident of Hall County for the past 34 years. Mr. and Mrs. Stout were recognized last year as the longest-wed couple in Hall County, having been married 59 years last January.

She will be buried Friday afternoon at Hulver Cemetery, with King's Mortuary of Memphis directing the service.

Survivors include her husband and four children, C. F. Stout of Memphis, Mrs. N. B. Curtis of Estelline, Mrs. J. L. Richburg of Turkey, and Mrs. J. H. Wright of Estelline; seventeen grandchildren, and nine great grandchildren.

Nancy Cason Hodges was born in Tennessee May 1, 1860. She was married to L. D. Stout on January 21, 1880, and came to Texas in 1890. Mr. and Mrs. Stout had made their home at Hulver since 1905.

She had been a member of the Methodist Church since early childhood, and was one of the pioneer members of the church at Hulver.

"Lone Wolf" Wears Pioneer Reunion Headgear To World's Fair But He's No Paul Revere

By BOBBY CLARK

"The Lone Wolf of Cass County," who has traveled 20,000 miles pushing a 500-pound cart which bears the title, "One Man Band," through 43 states during the last 11 years, blew into Memphis Friday morning.

The bearded red-faced traveler stated that he was en route to the New York World's Fair, where he will appear as the only living human who can play a guitar with a stick. He started on his strange adventure to satisfy an ambition to be the only man in the world to push a cart over the country and make a living playing a guitar with a stick.

"The Lone Wolf" has been pushing the cart around the country ever since he gave up being a private detective in Cass County 11 years ago. He makes a profitable living playing at street dances and over the radio.

He says that he is a great reader of everything from the Bible to politics, is fond of his wandering life, and feels alone in a crowd. "The Lone Wolf" doesn't "mooch"

Lone Wolf Makes Speed . . . Weather Hard on Hatband

"The Lone Wolf," who left Memphis Friday wearing the 10-gallon hat with the familiar black and gold Pioneer Reunion hat band given him by the chamber of commerce, ordered a copy of The Democrat sent him at Childress but mailed the following card Wednesday morning from Goodlett:

Please change my address from Childress to Quanah. Making better time than expected. Also please send me two more hat bands. The wind is bad."

Prizes for Rodeo Winners Are Selected; Judges Are Named

Three fine $125 saddles made by the Brown Saddle Company of Amarillo will be awarded top cowhands and riders in the Memphis Rodeo, main feature of the Hall County Old Settlers and Cowboy Reunion, here July 27 and 28.

The saddles, which will be embossed with the legend, "Memphis Rodeo, 1939," top a long list of prizes to be awarded outstanding performers in rodeo and sponsors contests.

One saddle will be awarded to the winning out-of-town entry in the sponsor's contest. Another goes to the best all-around cowpuncher in the rodeo, and the third will be won by the contestant making the best average time for the four rodeo performances in call roping.

A thirty-five dollar pair of shop-made boots will be awarded the winning local sponsor, and a number of other prizes are scheduled for winning rodeo performers.

Mack Wilson, chairman of the rodeo committee, announced Thursday morning that he had contracted for 110 head of Class A rodeo stock from Red Lyons of Byars, Texas.

Wilson, C. C. Meacham, T. D. Weatherby, and D. L. C. Kinard attended the Stamford Rodeo Tuesday and Wednesday, and were permitted to advertise the Memphis show over the public address system at the rodeo grounds. Wilson and Kinard also broadcast notice of the big reunion celebration over an Abilene radio station.

The committeemen were jubilant over securing the Lyons stock for the local show. "This is the same stock which was used this year in the Stamford rodeo," Wilson said, "and the same which was used last year in Madison Square Garden, New York City."

Wilson also said that a number of sponsors from other cities have promised to attend the Memphis show.

Rodeo judges and officials have been selected, and have accepted their assignments. Jess Slaughter, sheriff of Howard County and a top-notch rodeo official from Big Spring will head the list of judges. Frank Rhode, Throckmorton rancher, who has worked with Slaughter in the Stamford and several other big Texas rodeos; and Mills Miller, (Continued on page 6)

Forger Arrested By Dallas Police

W. A. Morrow, wanted by Hall County officers on charges of forgery, was arrested early this week by Dallas police and held in that city pending arrival of local officers, Sheriff Lindsey Hill said Monday.

Deputy Sheriff W. C. Anderson and Chief of Police Edd McCreary left Memphis Monday morning for Dallas to return the prisoner to this county for trial. Hill announced, Morrow was wanted on charges of forging a check on W. A. Miller.

Thirty-four Firms Place Entries In Sponsors Contest

Others Coming In As Time For Deadline Draws Near; List Closes This Week

Twelve sponsors were added to the number who will ride in the Old Settlers Reunion Parade and the Memphis Rodeo here July 27-28. Mrs. Murray Dodson, chairman of the committee on sponsors, announced this week.

Thirty local firms have agreed to enter sponsors in the show, and a large number of others are expected to fall in line. The first out-of-town entry in the sponsors' contest was received this week from Lakeview. Wells Grocery and Market of that city is entering Mrs. Paul McCann, Del E. Wells announced Monday.

Added to the list published last week are Hattie Dem Ward, riding for Weatherby Feed and Storage; June Power for the Memphis Cotton Oil Mill; Jean Draper for the Palace and Ritz theatres; Anita Jean Phillips for the Conoco Oil Company; Anna Kathryn Davenport for Davenport & Company; Wilma Norman for Norman's Auto Top and Body Shop; Mary Jane Thompson for Charm Beauty Salon; and Avarie Broome for Baldwin Variety Store.

Dorothy Montgomery for the Memphis Hospital; Idell Burnett for Lion Auto Store; Owen Gilmore for Phillips 66, and Barbara Belle for Foxhall Cotton Company.

This is the last week for turning in entries.

Additional Checks Bring $4,808.07 To County Farmers

39 Checks Received This Week; $47,000 Still Due AAA Cooperators Here

Thirty-nine farm subsidy checks totaling $4,808.07 were received at the County Agent's office this week and have been distributed to Hall County farmers in cotton benefit payments, according to Assistant County Agent F. R. Curtis.

The week's shipment brought the total received in this county under the 1938 triple-A program to $402,710.98. The local office has handled 2,290 checks since the first payments were received here last April.

Farmers in this county are still due approximately $47,000 on last year's crop, Curtis estimated. The total payment was expected to reach the $450,000 mark this year.

Most of the payments now being received are on multiple-farm holdings which were delayed in order to permit a complete check-up in the state offices. Individual farmers received payment earlier in the year.

The group met at the home of Miss Maxwell and went from there to Roadside Park where a lovely picnic supper was served.

Those enjoying the picnic were Nina Ruth Nelson, James Fultz, Charlene Gerlach, Gene Lindsey, Owen Gilmore, A. G. Kesterson, Patsy Ruth Hall, Keith Wells, Betty Callahan, Tye Williamson, Mary Bess Cole, Talmadge Pounds, Elizabeth Maxwell, R. D. Easley, Bobby Lindsey, and the honoree, Miss Shelton.

Miss Gertrude Rasco spent Thursday in Amarillo.

Women Answer From 12 States

To date, Touring Reporters have visited the principal cities of 12 Southern states; have asked 1297 users their famous question: "Did CARDUI help you?"

Of those 1297 users, 1206 said they were definitely benefited by CARDUI. That's 93 out of every 100. What a record!

CARDUI is a good stimulator for lagging appetites, a real aid to digestion and assimilation. That's why its proper use enables so many women and girls to build up physical resistance, and thus helps them avoid the periodic pain of functional dysmenorrhoea due to malnutrition.

Power and Sound Pitching

BY IRVING DIX

THEY haven't had a pennant in Cincinnati in 30 long years, but Fountain Square fans finally believe their time has come.

Rhineland baseball bugs are particularly pepped up over the current edition of the Reds because the one world championship Cincinnati did win was at the expense of the ill-famed Chicago Black Sox in 1919.

Right now, Bill McKechnie is the toast of the town. Wilkinsburg Will in two seasons has pulled the Reds out of the doldrums and put them on top of the heap.

With the July 4 milestone passed there is every indication that the Reds will remain on top. The best combination of hitting and pitching in the senior circuit should be insurance enough.

It was just a few years ago that Bill Terry told Buck McCormick to stick to his job in a New York antique shop and forget baseball.

Today Buck McCormick's homers and other extra base blows are a major part of the strongest batting attack in the loop.

But if McCormick doesn't hit a homer, Ival Goodman does, and if Goodman doesn't come through, then Ernie Lombardi is sure to connect.

DEFENSIVELY the Reds were bolstered greatly by the acquisition of Bill Werber from the A's. Lonnie Frey has rewarded McKechnie's faith in him at second, and the Reds' mound staff includes five starters who are moving along at a merry clip.

Paul Derringer... league's best.

Paul Derringer, right-handed star of the staff, is the leading pitcher in the league, and very possibly will end the season in the same way.

Other starters are Bucky Walters, Johnny Vander Meer of two-time, no-hit fame, Lee Grissom, the big left-hander, and Lloyd Moore. So far this season there has been nothing particularly brilliant about any of them except Derringer, but for consistency they're a hard bunch to beat.

Small wonder the fans around Fountain Square are all worked up these days.

Making The Most of Pastures

RUTH J. COOPER, Consulting Home Economist
Breeder-Feeder Association

It is conceded to be a mistake to grow a pasture-growing implement and this applies sometimes to summer pastures (Succinea, etc.) as well as to permanent pastures. Both on permanent and on summer pastures the use of a mower is not to be recommended, but must depend upon the conditions to be met. In most cases the spring growth should be mowed before the plants begin to bloom.

Temporary summer pastures will also furnish more and better grazing if they are divided and the divisions grazed in rotation. Here again the temporary fence, electric or otherwise, pays well for the trouble and the moderate expense of installing. Dollars are lost every year on many Southern western farms through failure to take advantage of the grazing available, when it is available. There is no form of wasted opportunity so common, and which offers so great a promise for extra farm income.

The new agriculture which is growing out of the cotton crisis is a balanced agriculture, of which both crops and livestock are essential parts. We have too long thought of "agriculture" as crop farming, and "animal industry" as a thing apart. True agriculture includes both, for nature's own laws demand that plants and animals be kept together in that God-given reciprocal relation by which each feeds the other and the residue returns to the soil—nothing lost.

Joe and Jerry Martin were honored with a party on their first birthday last Tuesday afternoon in the home of their aunt, Mrs. Joe Durham. The honorees are the small twin sons of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Martin.

Glendon Henry spent Sunday visiting DeWitt Roberson.

Miss Jessie Wood, who has been employed at Baldwin's Variety Store for the past five years, has resigned to accept a position with Montgomery Ward at Childress. Jesse Reed, R. L. Adams and Blackie Montgomery were Clarendon visitors Sunday.

NEWLIN

By MRS. FRED HEMPHILL

The shower which began falling in Newlin early Saturday night and which amounted to about a tenth of an inch here, became considerably heavier in the Gilpin area, where crops were damaged with a fall of from three to five inches. The heaviest fall covered an area of about three miles. Cotton and feedstuff, which was just coming up will have to be replanted.

News was received here Sunday by Mrs. S. B. Admire, that her son-in-law, Cecil Hunter, was seriously hurt when some oil-well casing fell upon him knocking him unconscious. Mr. Hunter is employed as a welder near Corpus Christi. Details of the accident were not learned.

The Life Story of the Apostle Paul was shown in color on the screen and the history was very ably given at the local Baptist Church Friday night by Rev. and Mrs. Schuster of Michigan, Rev. Schuster is a native of Pennsylvania, coming to this country as a boy of 15. Having secured a college education here, his dialect is still very much German. The lecturers have traveled in 38 states the past three years.

A general assembly of the young people of the Vernon District will meet at the Childress First Methodist Church with services beginning Saturday night and continuing throughout the week. Reports will be given by delegates who attended the assembly at Mt. Sequoah.

Delford Stillwell of the Gilpin community, while plowing recently, found a quail nest with 32 eggs in it which he carefully carried to the house and placed under a bantam hen which was setting. After some weeks 20 of the young birds were hatched, much to the dismay of the bantam mother who frantically tried to keep up with the wild birds. The young birds will feed and water near the house and are reasonably tame until frightened by some noise. Then they immediately "take to the air" landing most of the time on the house-top. Delford is hoping to be able to raise them to be grown birds but cannot tell what success he will have at this early date.

Early Sunday morning Mrs. John Rowell was attracted to her chickenhouse by the cries of her hens, and upon reaching there found that 13 big fryers and 4 hens had been killed and partly eaten by three dogs. She managed to drive them away, but her husband has threatened vengeance on them if they return.

Misses Lucille Thornton and Evelyn Benge of Lela are visiting their aunt, Mrs. Frank Solomon, here this week.

Miss Nordica Clack and mother, Mrs. Clack, of Silverton, spent Sunday with their aunt, Mrs. W. A. Morrison. Miss Clack was formerly telephone operator here.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Joyce and children June and Sara and Bob Pope, visited friends in Newlin, Sunday en route to Wellington for a visit with Mr. Pope's parents.

Mrs. R. A. McDaniel of Crawford, Colo., is visiting her grandchildren, Doris Iris Lee, and Lawson Long, here.

I had just about decided to discontinue my part of the Memphis Democrat indefinitely, for it sometimes seems such a thankless job, and doesn't amount to anything; and really takes up several hours of my time that I feel I could use more profitably, when a subscriber, who lives across the river in another community, quite out of a clear sky, expressed her appreciation to me for the accounts of "goings and comings" of various friends of hers in this community. And another lady wanted me to "please write something more about 'Aunt Maggie' Harrell whose husband was her pastor many years ago. So, if by "keeping on," it will keep Newlin in touch with friends in other communities, why just turn another page of the Democrat and you will, most of the time, find Newlin.

Mrs. J. T. Rasco and daughter Gertrude and Miss Bonnie Beth Baker spent Wednesday in Wellington visiting Miss Baker's relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Richardson of Turkey were in Memphis Monday.

Avoid "Summer Complaint" in Babies By Taking Summer Precautions

As the thermometer shows signs of climbing higher and higher some of the ways by which babies may be kept well and comfortable during the hot weather and may be safeguarded against "summer complaint" are outlined by the Texas State Department of Health.

"The best way to keep your baby well," advises the department, "is to take your well baby to your doctor regularly for advice and supervision, and to follow the doctor's instructions carefully and very faithfully. If your baby develops any digestive trouble, call your family doctor at once. He'll tell you what to do."

"Summer complaint, or cholera infantum as it is sometimes called, and other digestive diseases that are dangerous for babies, are germ diseases. The germs that cause the disease get into the baby's food or in the water given the baby to drink. Babies who are nursed by their mothers and who are given cooled, boiled water to drink are protected from these sources of danger. Care should be taken not to wean a baby in hot weather except under a doctor's orders.

"If mother's milk is not available, the best substitute for it is fresh cow's milk or unsweetened evaporated milk mixed with an equal quantity of water. If sugar or additional water is needed, it should be mixed with the milk according to your doctor's directions. All milk or milk mixtures given to children up to two years

Grain Harvest Estimates Dip as Drouth Advances

Harvesting their wheat crop near Wichita, Kan., expected to lead all states in wheat production, Bob and Lloyd Maechten sight a 20-bushel-per-acre yield.

THE biggest news from the farm front—according to the men who figure crops on paper—is that this year's wheat harvest will be about 238 million bushels below the bumper yield of 1938.

Department of Agriculture statisticians cut 20 million bushels from their earlier estimate of wheat production, made in May. They now sight a total harvest of less than 700 million bushels. As the sun boosted the mercury in the southwest, drouth sent the figures down. Unfavorable weather conditions in some sections of the winter wheat belt also contributed to the change in estimates.

BUT the United States begins the new season with an ample supply of grain, due to the large surplus carried over from last year. The approximate supply on hand, left from 1938, is between 250 and 275 million bushels.

Thus, the total available wheat supply during this year will be in excess of 900 million bushels. And normal domestic consumption wavers between 600 and 650 million bushels.

Kansas is expected to lead the principal wheat-producing states with a 105 million bushel crop. Oklahoma is a likely second with more than 44 million. Nebraska should be third with 36 million, although it will be pressed by Ohio with upwards of 35 million.

The other states, in probable order, are: Illinois, Texas, Washington, Indiana, Pennsylvania, Montana, Michigan, Colorado, Idaho, Oregon, and California.

Under the agricultural adjustment act, the secretary of agriculture may impose marketing quotas on the crops when prospective supplies exceed normal need and exports by a specified margin. Henry Wallace, however, has already announced that he will not do this in 1939.

LACK of rainfall hit the rye crop more than it did wheat during recent months. Rye production has been placed at 35 million bushels. Last year's rye hit 55 million, but average yield over a 10-year period is only 34 million.

The government sees an oats crop of 930 million bushels—120 million bushels less than were harvested in 1938.

On June 1, the condition of oats and barley was 72 per cent of normal, the lowest ever reported on that date with the exception of 1933. About a year ago oats and barley had a condition of 87 per cent of normal.

Green Feed Necessary for Profit In Poultry Production, Says Expert

A poultry flock without green feeds or green feed substitutes is a poultry flock without profit.

This flat statement comes from Geo. P. McCarthy, poultry husbandman of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service, who points out that research workers are agreed that six of the known vitamins are essential to profitable poultry production, and that of these vitamin A, which comes primarily from green feeds, is the most likely to be deficient in Texas poultry rations.

Absence of vitamin A, even for a short time, lowers the resistance of the birds to diseases and, over a longer period, brings on the serious condition known as nutritional roup.

Tests with identical lots of 25 white leghorn pullets fed identical diets and supplemented with vitamin A showed that one lot without vitamins produced only 682 eggs while another lot supplemented with green alfalfa was producing 3,021 eggs.

Fresh green feeds are the most economical source of vitamin A, McCarthy says. Most commonly used are alfalfa, barley, oats, wheat, lettuce, swiss chard, sudan grass, kale and johnson grass. Vitamin content is highest before the woody or mature stage is reached.

Yellow and red carrots, yellow corn, and dried greens, such as alfalfa meal, alfalfa leaf meal, and cured alfalfa or peanut hay are also sources of vitamin A. Freshness, color, and freedom from excessive stems are indications of high vitamin content.

CHAMPION TIRES

FIRESTONE WINS 20th Consecutive Victory In Indianapolis 500-Mile Race

A merciless sun beat down upon the speedway as Wilbur Shaw drove to victory on Firestone Champion Tires. The blise ring brick of the main stretch, and the granite-hard surface of the turns and the back stretch put tire safety to the test supreme! Record after record was shattered. Speeds reached as high as 160 miles an hour on the straightaways, as 33 of the fastest drivers in the world waged a breath-taking battle for gold and glory.

Never before in all the history of the motor car have tires been put to such a torturous test. And never before has any tire so firmly established itself as a Champion in construction and performance, as well as in name. Here is dramatic proof of the extra strength which the revolutionary new Safety-Lock cord body provides in Firestone Champion Tires—of the extra protection against blowouts assured by the new and advanced Firestone patented Gum-Dipping process—of the extra mileage resulting from the tougher, wear-resisting rubber compounds in the sensational new Gear-Grip tread.

No longer can there be any question of which tire is safest. One tire—and only one—provides these exclusive safety construction features. One tire—and only one—has been on the winning cars at Indianapolis for 20 consecutive years. Motor car manufacturers enthusiastically adopted the Firestone Champion Tire for their 1939 models. Order your new car equipped with this amazing tire. Or drive in and let us equip your present car with a set of new Firestone Champion Tires, the one tire—and only one that is safety-proved on the speedway for your protection on the highway.

See Firestone Tires made in the Firestone Factories and Exhibition Buildings at New York World's Fair. Also visit the Firestone Exhibit at the Golden Gate International Exposition at San Francisco.

of age should be boiled. The feedings should be kept in individual bottles and kept on ice until used. Each feeding should be warmed as needed.

"Always wash the hands thoroughly before preparing the baby's food, and before handling the baby's bottle. All dishes, pots, pans, bottles and nipples should be sterilized by boiling.

"Throw out any milk left in the bottle after feeding. Don't leave the bottle in the baby's crib or carriage. It will attract dirt and flies. Rinse out the bottle; put the nipple aside, and see that both are sterilized by boiling before using again.

"Be very careful to protect the baby and the baby's food against flies. Flies are potent disease carriers. Keep a supply of clean mosquito netting on hand to throw over the baby's crib or carriage while the baby sleeps.

"If your baby develops diarrheal trouble, don't let it run on. Call your family physician at once.

THE ENTIRE COST OF THE C.C.C. COULD BE PAID FOR THE TAXES OF THE BREWING INDUSTRY

The Treasury Department shows expenditures of 326 million dollars for the Civilian Conservation Corps for the fiscal year of 1939. The brewing industry pays over a million dollars a day in taxes.

What Beer contributes to the re-build of America would fill a great volume

Over 400 million dollars in taxes every year. Over 1,000,000 jobs. A market for 3,000,000 farm acres of produce.

The brewing industry would like to preserve for itself and the people the many economic benefits it has created in the past five years. Brewers everywhere realize that this is a question bound up with the proper distribution of their mild and wholesome beverage through retail outlets whose owner will be a credit to the community. Obviously, the brewers can enforce no law. But they can—and will—cooperate with the local law-enforcement authorities. They will cooperate with every group—friendly or hostile—to the end that retail beer will give no offense to anyone.

Hint Fowl Play Responsible for Freak Egg Style

There's "fowl-play" in the barnyard. Either Hall County is producing some highly eccentric poultry, or there's a witch-doctor in the hen house.

Last week a two-in-one hen egg broke all existing records for odd hen-fruit—but the newest freak arrived last Thursday in the form of a light green duck egg contributed by Mrs. T. D. Weatherly. Mrs. Weatherly found the egg in her poultry yard Thursday morning, and, after a hasty look at the calendar to make sure that it couldn't be Easter in mid-summer, she surmised that the egg had been laid by a Muskoegg duck.

These rare ducks were on display at Weatherly Feed Store recently, but in spite of their unusual appearance, their egg production, until now, has been strictly orthodox.

Egg-Eating Among Poultry Is Sign of Lack of Calcium in Diet of Flock

Egg eating among poultry is a habit of individual birds, but it is also an indication that the entire flock needs more calcium.

A hen that is getting all the calcium she wants for bone development, to make egg shells, and to satisfy her general body needs never acquires egg-eating habit, Geo. P. McCarthy, poultry husbandman of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service, has explained.

Most commercial feeds contain calcium, usually in the form of oyster shell, but home mixed feeds should always be supplemented with either calcium limestone or ground oyster shell. And it is a good idea to offer all flocks extra calcium, regardless of the kind of feed used.

Another common mineral deficiency trouble is perosis, or slipped tendon disease. This one is caused by a lack of manganese. Poultry usually get what manganese they need from a good grade of shorts, and it is found in most commercial feeds, but it can also be offered in the form of anhydrous manganous sulphate.

Chickens whose diets do not contain any animal protein may also need phosphorous in the form of steamed bone meal. McCarthy says a free choice mineral box, offering poultry these minerals and especially calcium, will pay dividends.

prominent Snyder rancher, complete the list.

Arena directors will be Bob Corley, a familiar figure in Texas arenas, who is being sent to Memphis by the Brown Saddle Company of Amarillo, and "Scandalous" John Slemmon, foreman of the famous Swenson Ranch at Snyder.

Names of the judges who will pick the winning sponsors will not be announced until the Rodeo opens, officials said.

The Memphis Rodeo, like most of the top-notch shows in the state, will be open to amateur performers only. Professionals are barred, and the officials reserve the right to penalize any professional rider who may be discovered in the arena, either before or after his appearance.

The fact that only amateur performers are eligible to enter the arena does not mean that the Memphis show will not be a top-notch rodeo, Mack Wilson, chairman of the rodeo committee, said, pointing out that most of the big rodeos are now barring professional riders. The best rodeo riders in the country are amateurs, he pointed out, and the fact that they do not make a profession of riding for prize money does not mean that they are not capable hands, either in the arena or on the range.

away from Memphis pledging support to the movement. One from a former Memphisian, Mrs. L. C. Gober, of Wink, says, "You can count on me doing my part, whatever it is."

I surely am proud of the people of this great Panhandle. They will not fail in this movement to beautify Fairview. I hope to have a concrete plan outlined within a few days. The work must be started right and kept going right, and it takes time to get started.

It looked like all of Estelline and Memphis citizenry attended the party at Estelline last Friday night on the square. The entertainment was excellent, and the people fell right into the spirit of the evening. Flashy costumes mingled with the staid old-time dresses, and if I were called upon to judge, the old-time attire would get my vote.

Every man, woman and child in Hall County, and surrounding counties, are urged by the regalia committee to wear some sort of pioneer or cowboy regalia for the next few weeks. No one will be forced to do so, but the coming celebration is for all the people of the area—not just for Memphis. Therefore, every person is invited to assist in every way to help create a pioneer atmosphere before July 27-28.

Goodwill entertainments will be put on next week at Hedley and Turkey—Hedley Monday night and Turkey Friday night. If you want to have an evening of real enjoyment, attend one of these parties. Plenty of band and fiddle music, songs, stunts, and other entertainment will be presented.

It's only a step from happiness to sorrow, celebration to tragedy, and from life to death. I am heart-sick. Yesterday, two fine young people were walking, talking and smiling—pleasantly attending to business and greeting customers with cheery words. Today, one is sleeping the last long sleep and the other is at death's door. One could have looked all the young people over and would have selected Maurine Reheis and Ross Springer as the outstanding personalities of Memphis, ever ready to smile and always pleasant in their greetings.

Our good friend, Mrs. L. D. Stout of the Parnell community, after 79 years of service to mankind, 34 of these years in Hall County, has gone to her reward. It seems only yesterday when she and her husband came to The Democrat office and related their early-day experiences in this county. Deeply religious, Mrs. Stout's thoughts naturally turned to the early-day church services. She recalled that in the early days the only church at Parnell was used by both Methodists and Baptists, and larger crowds attended services then even with slow means of transportation than now with speedy transportation and larger population. One by one the pioneers are leaving us, and in a few years will be gone entirely.

ing in the names of sponsors. Mrs. Murray Dodson, chairman of the committee, warned merchants Wednesday.

One change has been announced in the list, as Crystal Calhoun will ride for J. C. Penney Company instead of Myrtle Mayes.

More than 100 girls are expected to enter the sponsor's contest and compete for the rodeo prizes. A $125 saddle from Brown Saddle Company will be awarded the winning out-of-town sponsor, and a $35 pair of boots will be presented the winning local girl.

The girls will be guests of honor at the Reunion Rodeo, and will ride in the Grand Entry Parade at each of the four performances during the two-day show.

Tony Tumbled in Title Bid

Champ Joe Louis stands over his latest prey—roly-poly Tony Galento, who fell before the Bomber in fourth round of heavy-weight title mix at Yankee Stadium, New York City. Tony took no count after this second-round knockdown. Floored momentarily by his opponent in third round, Louis had to bounce from canvas to keep his crown.

Farmers Warned of Acreage Rulings

Any part of allotted cotton acreage that is not planted or fails to come up may be planted to any kind of feed and still comply with the terms of the 1939 AAA program, Assistant County Agent F. R. Curtis told Hall County farmers this week.

"This office will appreciate each operator checking his cotton and feed acreage before the reporter comes out to measure and check the farms," Curtis said. "Each acre of cotton over your allotment must be reported to the state office," he warned.

Excess cotton acreage may be destroyed, but must be reported regardless.

Hiway Crash—

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Reheis of this city. She is survived, also, by one brother, Olin, who is now in the United States Navy.

Funeral arrangements have been tentatively set for Friday, pending word of the arrival of the brother who is stationed at this time in San Francisco.

Springer is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Springer of Memphis.

A second serious crash was threatened Wednesday night a few minutes after the fatal wreck. Two trucks from the M and M Transfer Company of Amarillo, approaching the bridge from the north, were flagged at the north approach.

The driver of the second truck, George Caldwell of Amarillo, failed to see the flagman and, seeking to avoid crashing into the rear of the van ahead, swerved to the left as his brakes failed and crashed into the north end of the railing, catching the body of the truck on the concrete post.

Caldwell escaped injury, and his van was only slightly damaged. The truck body was pulled off its bed, and one gasoline tank torn loose.

Heavy traffic on the highway Wednesday night made difficult work for patrolmen and service men who were seeking to clear the right-of-way of wreckage.

Buck Seymour Wins Coyote Hunters Contest With 81,209 Pelts

Buck Seymour of Turkey, with 85 coyote pelts to his credit, won $75 in prize money Saturday as the county-wide coyote hunting contest, which opened last December, was brought to a close.

W. F. Bostick of Baylor community took a second prize of $50 with 50 pelts, and Louie Orrell of Lesley was third with 30 pelts, winning the $25 prize.

Hunters killed 190 coyotes during the six-month contest. The hunt was inaugurated through joint auspices of the Memphis Chamber of Commerce and the Hall County Commissioners Court in an effort to rid the county of the pests.

Authorities said that coyotes and bob cats had been taking a toll in poultry and livestock estimated at between $1,500 and $2,000 annually. The contest was opened early in December last year, and $150 in prizes was offered to the three hunters bringing in the greatest number of pelts before the July date.

Pelts were turned county barns in charge Kellison, caretaker, were marked and returned hunters, in order that be sold on the market owners.

Contestants in the limited to residents of the county, but no restrictions on the area covered. Accepted anywhere in the county and credited to the hunter.

Texas Agriculture Workers Meet On Short Course Date

Hold Annual Session at A. & M. in Connection With Farmer's Short Course

The Texas Agricultural Workers' Association will hold its annual summer meeting in connection with the Farmers' Short Course at Texas A. and M. College July 12, 13, and 14.

The meeting will be followed by a luncheon for the entire membership and visitors and Dr. Alice Sowers, professor of Family Life Education, University of Oklahoma, has been invited to speak.

Joe Miles Kinard Has Leg Broken

Joe Miles Kinard, young son of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Kinard, received painful injuries last week when he fell from a wheeled plow on which he was working at his home near Newlin.

A bone in his left leg was broken, and it is expected that the leg will have to be in a cast for several weeks. Joe Miles is spending a few days in the home of his grandmother, Mrs. J. A. Grundy, here.

S. Soil Conservation Service is president, and Fred Hale of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, E. R. Eudaly, extension dairyman, and Miss Hearn make up the committee on local arrangements.

Horses Get the Breaks --- Autos Get the Brakes

The horse has the right-of-way!

That's the law in Texas. An old state statute, which has never been repealed, provides that any vehicle meeting a horse on a public road must stop and allow the animal and his rider to pass.

Noted Stunt Man Featured Friday

Hal Mason, Hollywood stunt star associated with several major studios, will appear at the Texas Theatre Friday matinee and night with a novelty stage show which he guarantees to produce thrills in abundance.

Mason on leave of absence from the studio, is making a personal appearance tour at this time. He has appeared in several movie thrillers, one of the most recent being "Wells Fargo," the rambunctious western historical drama released this year.

PERSONALS

Mrs. W. R. Ward returned Wednesday of last week from Fort Worth and Arlington where she had been visiting relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Walker and daughters, Peggy, Mary Catherine and Zada, spent from Sunday until Wednesday in Lubbock visiting in the home of their son and brother, Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Walker. Miss Zada Walker remained for a week's visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Walker and daughter Penelope are spending this week in Vernon and Wichita Falls.

Mrs. Conley Ward spent Thursday in Amarillo where she enrolled in the Masters' Class of Silvio Scionti. Mr. Scionti is an eminent teacher and pianist of Chicago and is holding a class in Amarillo.

Miss Ruby Lee Stringer of Pampa spent the Fourth here in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Stringer.

Mr. and Mrs. John Barber and son Douglas spent the past week with Mr. and Mrs. John Ward at Swenson, and also attended the rodeo at Stamford.

J. F. Forkner, who has been seriously ill in a local hospital, returned home Wednesday and is reported to be very much improved.

Mrs. Bud Gilreath and Miss Margaret Crowder spent the weekend in Fort Worth.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere thanks and appreciation to the friends in Memphis and Lakeview who were so thoughtful and kind to us in our bereavement. To those who rendered the lovely service in the meals, to the pallbearers, pastors, and all who expressed loving sympathy in any way, may we give our love and gratitude; and for the many lovely flowers and cards may God's blessings fall as showers on each of you and your dark hours be brightened by friends as ours have been.

Mrs. J. L. Mason and children.

Hay Cut Before Maturity Has More Food Value

Later Cuts May Yield Greater Tonnage But Are Less Palatable

Not how much, but what's in it, is the question that decides the value of hay.

The stage at which hay is cut has a lot to do with determining its quality. If cut well before maturity—that is, before the seed stage—it will be more palatable, digestible, and contain greater food value.

Hay cut later may yield more tonnage, but the total value will be less.

The greatest amount of digestible protein will be secured through early mowing and this protein value has a lot to do with the quality classification, according to R. R. Lancaster, pasture specialist of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service.

"Tests based on 41 per cent protein cottonseed meal worth $28.60 a ton, and assuming that the cottonseed meal is bought for protein only, show that the value of the protein in a ton of alfalfa cut just before the plants start to bloom is about $14," Lancaster said. "As a comparison, the value of the protein in a ton of alfalfa cut after the seeds are formed is only about $8."

Leaves of legumes contain about two-thirds of the desired digestible protein, he said, plus most of the vitamin A and calcium.

Pastures that "get away from the cows" are improved by mowing, and reserves of hay and silage are necessary for best returns from grazing land, Lancaster pointed out.

west half of the south side of the farm in 1937. This year, the balance of the south side boundary has been planted in trees.

The trees have made rapid growth, Pearce said, largely due to the excellent care given them by Mr. Gowan.

Gowan Finds Shelterbelt Is Good to Crops on His Farm Here

owners in Hal on his farm.

"My shelterbelt has certainly kept the hard winds from blowing out my cotton," he told I. Frank Pearce, in charge of the sub-district office of the Forest Service here, "especially on the west of my 160-acre farm where the soil is very sandy. Also the intensity of the hot dry winds were reduced, and I am speaking mainly of those blistering winds we had before the recent showers."

The Gowan farm, just south of the Lakeview highway, is well protected by trees. A shelterbelt was planted on the west side and

LOOK AT THE RECORD

MOST FARMERS AND BUSINESS MEN as well should wake up and take notice of the 4-H Club boys who are making a very successful job of combining both farming and business into a profitable industry.

These youngsters, and there are 317 of them in Hall County now, are making a paying business of farming and have the records to prove it. And therein may lie the secret of their success, for they have learned that, by keeping an accurate record of all profits and losses, credits and expenses, they are enabled to expand the money-making features of their project and cut out non-profit and loss.

Four-H Club boys do not sell their time for nothing. Each boy, though he is his own employer, pays himself wages for the time spent in working on his project and charges his salary to expense of operation.

That is one interesting fact brought out by an examination of some of these unusually complete project-records kept by Hall County 4-H Club boys. Each young farmer pays himself 12½ cents per hour for work on his own project, and keeps an accurate record of this and other expenses involved.

At the end of the year, he knows exactly where he stands and can prove it. He is conducting an efficient business proposition, and what is more important, he is recognizing and evaluating his own worth and charging himself accordingly for his time.

He is making a business of farming . . . and making farming a paying business. Look at the record.

PREMIUM ON LAWLESSNESS?

WHILE PENSION BILLS and the Fair Trades Act occupied the headlines and received the bulk of attention at the recently closed session of the Texas Legislature, it appears that other measures of great importance to the people of Texas slipped by unnoticed and unheralded.

One of these was House Bill 988, which received virtually unanimous approval in House and Senate and has been signed by Governor O'Daniel.

The measure is brought to light for the first time, according to our observation, in a recent editorial in the Wichita Falls Daily Times. "The bill provides," according to The Times, "that in criminal cases a defendant may enter a plea of temporary insanity if it is shown that he had been drinking or using narcotics. Such a plea may be offered in mitigation of his offense."

"The effect," The Times comments, "is to penalize abstinence and sobriety on the defendant's part . . . The measure opens the way to numerous abuses, puts a premium on bad habits, and gives the lawbreaker a new loop-hole."

How any group of supposedly intelligent and public-spirited men, entrusted with the affairs of a great state, could have passed approval on any such measure is beyond comprehension. The kindest thing which might be said of them is that they were unaware of the provisions for which they were voting, and that, at best, is criminal negligence.

If a man is to be condoned for a crime committed while he is voluntarily under the influence of narcotics or alcohol, a condition which is in itself contrary to the laws of the state, then there is no justice.

The measure, supposedly designed to clarify the terms of an old law (Article 36 of the Penal Code), merely opens a wider loop-hole for the lawbreaker and allows a greater contempt for the already much-abused insanity plea. It adds one more black mark to the badly-tarnished record of the 46th Legislature, and deals another blow to Texas justice.

A NEW DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE

ONE HUNDRED AND SIXTY-THREE years ago the founders of this nation signed the Declaration of Independence, and many of them gave their lives in defense of that immortal document.

We, as patriotic Americans, have commemorated that event on the Fourth of July of each year by sacrificing the lives of many thousands of their descendants in automobile accidents, drownings, shootings, and other forms of violent death. The death toll through the years from Independence Day celebrations has exceeded many times the toll of lives taken by the War of Independence which we celebrate.

There is no call, in time of peace, to die for a cause that was won more than a century and a half ago. We need a new declaration of independence . . . from holiday tragedy.

Press Paragraphs

CULLED FROM THE DEMOCRAT'S EXCHANGES

STORY OF THE WEEK

The old reliable apostle from The Temple of Truth in The Donley County Leader breaks the spell of the heat wave this week with a good laugh-producer. Three men were scheduled for cremation at a Dallas funeral home, the Apostle recounts. One was from Illinois, one from Missouri, and one from the Panhandle of Texas.

The three bodies were placed in the crematory and the usual time allowed when the bodies would be reduced to ashes. When the door to the oven was opened, the Illinois man had burned up, the Missouri man was beginning to brown, but the Panhandler was sitting up wiping the sweat from his face and said to the man opening the door: "If this weather keeps up the wheat crop is going to be practically ruined."

GERTIE IS GRIPED

Gertie E. Haskett, who is "The Scribbler" for the Childrens County News, has been getting an ear-full. "Someday I'm going to grab my hat and walk right out on some statesman when he's using the air-waves to broadcast what he thinks is wrong with America," she complains. "But when some street corner orator, grinning from ear to ear, yells what's right with America, he is going to be assured an attentive listener."

AND HERE'S WHAT'S WRONG

"The Scribbler" probably would not appreciate the comments on T. A. Landers, editor of the McLean News, who not only tells what's wrong with America but prescribes a remedy:

"There has never been an easy way out of difficulties and we will never see a real recovery in this country until we quit asking the government for special privileges and go to work to see that private enterprise is kept free. Price and wage controls have been tried over and over in the past, resulting in disaster every time. We must go back to the fundamentals of thrift and economy, living within our means, both in private business and public spending, before we will see any real relief."

OLD GLORY IN THE STREET

A more optimistic view of America and America's future is presented by Bill Rutherford, editor of the Moore County News, who turns poet-for-a-day to give us this Fourth of July verse: Means a lot, "Old Glory" in the street.

Means a nation yet on its feet. Feet on earth, wide in scope, Head in clouds of faith and hope. Means schools open and churches too.

Free from despot's grim taboo. Presses run, day or night, Their single guide: To Be Right. Means again Fourth of July. Freedom too for you and I, From things abroad that seek to kill.

In God-made man, God-given will. We will join "The Scribbler" in a rousing cheer for a bit of real American pride well-expressed.

LESSONS IN NATURE

Douglas Meador, another poet of the Panhandle whose column "Trail Dust" in the Matador Tribune has gained national recognition, takes a lesson from the prairie-dogs and passes it on:

"It is difficult for man to reach the proficiency of lesser animals in constructing a stockade against the possible attack of calamity, despite his access to knowledge and multiplied resources. When the prairie dog selects a home-site, a high well-drained flat is chosen. But the small animal adds further security to the future and builds a strong mound or dike about the entrance of his underground shelter. Generations of prairie dogs may sift through the volent fingers of time without need for the precaution. Hot winds may burn the prairie grass at the throat of twenty summers and wilt the sunflowers that grow in the water holes; yet so long as restless clouds pursue their courses will danger haunt the mesquite flat. In that hour when flood waters rise above the swollen sea, the mound of dirt will extend above the surface. Intelligence evokes the grandeur of perpetuation."

Lust for Power Kills Opportunity

The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for July 9
 Text: 1 Kings 11:26-31, 37-40.

DESPITE the splendor of Solomon's reign and the glory of his building projects, the people felt the burden of maintaining all this magnificence. Revolt broke out under Rehoboam, Solomon's son.

Much of this discontent seems to have found its center in Jeroboam, the son of Nebat, a servant of Solomon, who turned against his master. Jeroboam is called "a mighty man of valor." It is recorded that he was industrious and evidently ambitious.

Solomon apparently trusted him and gave him large responsibility. From what occurred later on, it would seem that Jeroboam was not moved entirely with the motive of righting the wrongs of the people, but that he had an ambitious and ulterior motive in trying to lead a revolt against Solomon.

WHEN the prophet Ahijah found Jeroboam in a field and tore a new garment into 12 pieces, giving 10 pieces to him, he prophesied that Jeroboam would rule over 10 of the 12 tribes of Israel. The prophecy so fitted in with Jeroboam's schemes of ambition that he became active in his opposition to Solomon, with the result that he had to take refuge in Egypt, for Solomon sought to kill him.

Here in Egypt Jeroboam bided his time, but we shall see him in a later lesson returning to Palestine when Rehoboam became king and taking part in the expression of content that led to rebellion and the overthrow into the Northern and Kingdoms.

HERE was a man with opportunity, a man with kingly power and in his grasp, whose ambitions coincided with need in the kingdom for to give the people just establish a common we. Jeroboam might have come even a greater Solomon, but Jeroboam power too much and a little, and we shall see also failed in the day of opportunity.

These lessons emphasize human elements that form or other have been in all history, and that absent even from an democracy where we kings. Here in our we have seen men served their master treachery in their leaders who have professed a chief concern has their own aggrandizement power.

Here also innumerable the ranks have had opportunity for greatness, but exceptional ones who above their love of their schemes of persuasion to find the real identification of their with the common cause the true service of the

Stamp Plan May Be Employed to Lick Cotton Surplus Problem

BY SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT

WASHINGTON.—Passage of the new agricultural appropriation act means that a more determined drive to solve the ever-pressing cotton problem will be made during the next 12 months.

It probably means, also, that relief clients will be given considerable quantities of cotton textile goods—shirts, cloth, and other items—under a variation of the stamp plan which is currently being tried out for the distribution of surplus food stocks.

That forecast can be made because of the phrasing of the appropriation act.

ROUGHLY, some $50,000,000 will be available to spend on cotton, if the Department of Agriculture decides to use, for that purpose, all the money it legally may use. Foremost in the program, of course, is the export subsidy plan which Secretary Wallace has been pushing lately. But the law provides that not more than half of the total sum spent on cotton may be spent on the export subsidy plan.

Consequently—assuming that the department uses all the "cotton money" available—around $25,000,000 will be on hand to spend on some other program. What other programs are in sight?

There are only two of any consequence. One is the general program of research, by which the department's experts try to find new uses for cotton and seek to promote the use of cotton in the fields thus uncovered. That program is pretty extensive, and will ultimately yield some important results; but, at the most, it will total $6,000,000 or $7,000,000.

So there will be some like $18,000,000 which spent on the cotton surplus the only other plan on the relief stamp program.

To date, the stamp plan applied only to foodstuff relief clients buy, at face stamps which can be purchase any type of food them, they get a number free stamps, which are the purchase of foods are listed as "surplus commodities." These stamps are good grocery store, and from indications, the program much to relieve the cotton surpluses in certain lines. To make the stamps a cotton, however, would cater matters—particularly grocery stores do not cotton goods. That would that the program would be extended to department stores.

FURTHERMORE, raw cotton not sold over the way the surplus foodstuff. There would be a tortoise involved trail to follow the cotton field through ton miles, down to the where cotton cloth is into articles of wearing and thence through the salers and jobbers to tailor.

Setting up a system cotton goods by the state would call for study and ning all along that trail. But, since the department a good many millions to spend on cotton surplus probably will go ahead job.

Attends Convention At College Station

County Superintendent Vera Tops Gilreath returned Sunday from College Station, where she attended the 16th Annual Convention of County Superintendents and County Supervisors of Texas, held on the A. and M. College campus June 26-29.

PARTY POSTPONED

The pre-celebration costume ball, scheduled to be held at Cyclone Stadium tonight (Friday) has been postponed until Friday night, July 21, according to Carroll Smyers.

Three 4-H Club Boys Leave for College Station

Delegates Attend Annual 4-H Club Short Course At A. & M. College

Three Hall County 4-H Club boys, accompanied by County Agent W. B. Hooser, left Monday for College Station where they are attending the annual 4-H Club Short Course at Texas A. and M. The short course opened Wednesday for a three-day session.

Boys selected to make the trip were J. B. Richards of Parnell, Winfred House of Turkey, and Keith Wells of Lakeview.

Hooser said that one boy would have been sent from each of the thirteen clubs in the county but for the fact that the clubs, which were organized this spring, have not had time to raise the money for delegates.

One boy from each club will be picked, however, to attend a district 4-H Club encampment at Canadian August 10-11-12.

Each club will select the boy who had the best project to make the trip. Qualifications are based on records (50 per cent), condition of project or demonstration (25 per cent), and 4-H Club, school, and community spirit (25 per cent).

Three hundred and seventeen boys are enrolled in 4-H Clubs in this county. All clubs were organized after the first of the year, when County Agent Hooser took over his duties at the local office.

Special emphasis is placed on record-keeping on the projects, and out of more than forty boys interviewed last week for the trip to College Station, only two failed to show complete records of their projects.

That is an excellent showing for first year club boys," Hooser commented.

FSA Supervisors Are Transferred

Mrs. Bula T. Doherty, home management supervisor of the FSA, has recently been transferred to this office from Paducah to succeed Miss Lois Waggoner who has been moved to Clarendon.

Mrs. Doherty's husband, A. Y. Doherty and children, A. Y. Jr. and Jim, accompanied her to Memphis and they are at home at 1322 West Main street.

Miss Vallie Harrell of Booker has returned home after a visit here in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Harrell.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Evans and Robert Evans of Lubbock visited friends in Memphis last week.

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. McClendon of Fort Worth celebrated the Fourth here with their granddaughter, Suzanne McClendon, who was four years old on that day.

Mr. and Mrs. Winfred Dishroom and children of Lubbock visited friends here last week.

"Guess Again" I am saying 'Good-bye,' once and for all, to the creaky old notion that electric cooking is costly. I am saying 'hello and welcome' to savings, cleanliness, freedom from the kitchen, and better tasting foods! THIS is a sample of the letters women write after trying out Electric Cookery. They learn that it costs only one-half what they thought. And they are delighted with the coolness, cleanliness, and spare time it gives them. One of your neighbors is among the 5,300 of our customers now using Electric Ranges. Ask to see her electric bill to learn about the economy of Electric Cookery. Then let us demonstrate one of the new ranges for you and tell you about the low down payment, easy terms and trade-in allowance on your old range.
