First Strip Of PAVEMENT IS COMPLETED

Work starts Thursday on remaining part of new road

The first part of the paving on the Memphis-Mulberry Bridge highway, by way of Lakeview, was completed last Monday afternoon when the strip between Memphis and Eli was finished. It will be about 21 days before the road will be opened to traffic, Sam Riza, general superintendent of the project, stated.

All paving equipment is being moved to Lakeview, where work on the other part of the road is scheduled to begin Thursday. It will take something like six weeks to complete the remaining five and one-half miles, Riza said.

To Employ 45 Trucks
It will be necessary to employ about 45 trucks to haul material for the mixers, according to the superintendent, the distance of the haul being some 12 miles. In paving the strip from Eli to Memphis, only 13 trucks worked regularly, however, due to the distance from Lakeview to Memphis more trucks will be needed, it was said.

According to Mr. Riza the complete highway from Memphis to Lakeview will be opened in about two and one-half months. The job will take approximately two months to complete but due to the curing process used, 21 days are required before the road can be used. It is thought that the highway will be opened to traffic about October 15.

Contract Let In Sum Of $209,463.57 For Paving Project

Ralph Pleasant, Amarillo contractor, was tentatively awarded the contract for the construction of the remainder of the Memphis-Mulberry Bridge highway project, by way of Lakeview, Monday morning at a meeting of the Hall County Commissioners' Court. The contract was let in the sum of $209,463.57.

Other bids were received from Hyde Construction Company, Enid, Okla.; McClung Construction Company, Fort Worth, and Columbia Construction Company, Waco.

To Pave 10.885 Miles
The contract calls for the construction of 10.885 miles of paving and other necessary equipment such as wire mesh to be used for protection on the approaches of bridges and on curves. The new road will join the one now under construction one mile west of Lakeview and will be extended to Mulberry Bridge, it was said.

A railroad side track will have to be constructed for the purpose of unloading gravel, according to the highway engineer. The one being used by the present company must be turned back to its owners by October 1, according to contracts, thereby making it impossible for the new company to secure the use of the spur.

Bond To Be Made
Actual construction work on the job will begin in the near future, it was said. It is thought that work will begin in time so that the road will be finished by early fall and will be in use before the first of next year.

The company does not own any sand and batch trucks and it will be necessary for local trucks to be used, representatives stated. Approximately 85 per cent local labor will be employed as the only men retained by the construction company are those who perform special duties, it was said.

According to representatives of the company, approximately one mile of hard surfacing can be laid in one week, and every effort will be made to finish the paving as soon as possible.

Mr. Pleasant was not present to turn in his bids but was represented by the general superintendent of the company from the central office at Amarillo. The company headed by Mr. Pleasant laid about 28 miles of pavement in Texas last year in Hale and Cottle counties. This is their first job in this vicinity, it was stated.

MORE AND LESS GAS

A significant step was taken by the City Council at its regular meeting Tuesday night of last week when this body passed an order calling for an election to be held in this city on Tuesday, September 8, to vote on the issuance of bonds of the city in the amount of $65,000 for the purpose of purchasing, constructing and operating a gas distribution system for Memphis. For long, the matter of lower gas rates for this and other Texas cities, has been one of the chief topics of conversation here and elsewhere. An awakened public conscience has demanded that summary action be taken rather than a continuation of parleys and conferences that have led nowhere and would evidently bring about further postponement and delay in the matter of getting equitable relief.

The fact that Memphis is paying 75 cents per thousand feet for gas with a discount of 10 percent allowed if bills are paid by a certain date each month does not only seem to be eminently unjust, but unwarranted, as well. Since the boost in gas bills during the winter months, one complaint after another has been registered with the City Council. Investigations were undertaken and it was found that the rate here is entirely out of line and the Councilmen forthwith started a series of conferences with other municipalities and with representatives of the Northern Texas Utilities Company.

One delay followed another. Reports asked for were put off from time to time and when the City Council became convinced that no relief was to be forthcoming except vague promises that might or might not affect the situation, they took the matter into their own hands and the election order resulted. We do not know of anything that the city administration has done that will meet with as widespread approval as the action in connection with floating the bond issue. Even those in our midst who are inordinately opposed to bond issues and have voted against them repeatedly are loud in their praise of the action taken.

The bond issue is not designed to raise taxes in this city. On the other hand, the municipal gas system is expected to pay for itself within a relatively short time from its earnings and Memphians are to be given a rate they can pay, a live and let live rate in keeping with the amount of money invested. The bulk of the money taken in will be spent locally and that is another big point in favor of a municipally owned system.

The Democrat expects a record vote to be cast. This is a matter that is of interest to every taxpayer in the city. The widespread attack against gas rates must be justified or there would be only a few scattered complaints against utility companies. As it is, a statewide organization is being perfected to fight gas rates. We believe the City of Memphis is amply justified in the action being taken and that the bond issue will carry overwhelmingly. The proof of the pudding is in the eating. The proof of equitable gas rates here is in the outcome of the election. Let's all vote. We owe it to ourselves and to our city's self respect.

TIME FOR COMPLAINT—MAYBE

THE tax to be exacted of cigarette smokers the latter part of this month and from that time on will be heralded in more than one way. The smokers who have been accustomed to buying cigarettes already rolled have reason to kick at the tax imposed, whereas those who have been rolling their own will have reason to laugh. Cigarette dealers will be hard hit, for in addition to having to charge for the tax, the tax stamps must be placed on each package and that will entail time and worry.

This is a good time for those inordinately opposed to smoking in any form, shape or fashion, to chime in and say if people must smoke cigarettes, it is a fine thing that a part of the money from taxing cigarettes will be used for the public school system. We are not implying that the tax is not a good one. We are merely trying to point out that various groups will be hit as well as helped.

It may be that cigarettes are injurious—that they tear down the body tissues, that they impede growth and all that, but we have found that users of the weed will get it some way or some how regardless. Reformers have been eminently unsuccessful in trying to break or cure people from the habit of smoking and they might just as well utilize their energies elsewhere where they will be more appreciated.

The Democrat made a survey recently and found that there are any number of regular cigarette customers in this city who are women. Just how will the tax affect them, we wonder? Will they start rolling their own to cut expenses or will they adhere to the cigarettes already rolled? Time alone will tell, and equally, will demonstrate the wisdom of the new law as to whether it is here to stay or whether it will be up soon for repeal.

THE MILK AND ICE FUND

ATTENTION of Democrat readers is invited to the fact that the Milk and Ice Fund in this city is still going strong. We would greatly appreciate receiving the names and addresses of under-nourished children in the city that we may furnish them with milk and ice. We know there are many, but getting in touch with them is the big problem.

There is only a small balance left to the credit of this fund at the present time. If it is to accomplish the desired good, additional funds must be forthcoming. The Democrat will be glad to receive all contributions. Make checks payable to the "Milk and Ice Fund," and bring or mail to The Democrat office.

Hot weather has a long time to run yet and there are many children who may be aided through the medium of this fund. You will stand the depression a great deal better if the other fellow is thought of—even occasionally.

HIT OR MISS

a column by T. R.

If you happened to be on the north side of the square Friday morning between the hours of nine and ten o'clock, I am sure you wondered what all the excitement was about in front of the Palace Theatre. Well, it all happened like this. Through the courtesy of The Democrat, tickets were given free to the first fifty children who appeared at the box office to see the show "Christus." The announcement of what was to be done was printed in the paper Thursday, and from the crowd that came, it seems that the word free has some attraction to the public.

I have never seen such a crowd of boys and girls in one place in my life, except in the old days of silent pictures when Tom Mix was featured in one of his western stories on Saturday. About very seriously if there was ever a child who did not hold Tom Mix as an example of "the perfect man" in their minds, and every time the chance came to see him in action they would beg and plead with their parents for a dime to see their hero.

One little boy trying to get a free ticket attracted my attention particularly. He was too short to see above the level of the window and was standing on his tip toes trying to get a ticket. Children larger than he were pushing and shoving him out of position, but he never gave up. Two of the boys around him managed to get his head between their arms and in the mad rush, were cutting his air off. The boy's tongue began to hang out and his face began to turn red. He was turning his head from one side to the other trying to say something but the words would not come.

Hollis Boren, manager of the showhouse, saw the lad and started to his rescue. He got about half way out of the door when some little fellow hit him just below the knees, which almost made him lose his balance. Finally he reached the lad in distress and lifted him so he could get the desired ticket. With the prized red card in his hand, he went up the street waving it in the air. His lips were swollen but he had won the victory and was ready for some one to try and take it away from him.

Bill Huddleston, chief of police, was in the center of the mass trying to get them in line. One of the boys evidently knew Bill was bothered with corns on his feet, and made it his sole object to step in the middle of one. Bill gave the little fellow a shove that almost sent him off his feet, and grabbed for his foot. It wasn't long until Bill left the crowd limping on one foot.

About five hands were in the window at all times. The lady in charge of the tickets, was unable to tell whether some had both hands in or not? She finally gave up and waited until they had formed some sort of line before giving away any more tickets. Another lady was taking the names of those who had been given tickets. Some of them could hardly give their names they were so elated over having gotten one of the priceless slips. Not half of them knew where they lived or what their addresses were.

Colonel Matkin saw what a fight some of the smaller ones were having, and pulled out a one dollar bill and bought twenty tickets that were given to the little fellows. Children from the ages of three to fifteen were there. One man had his young son in his arms. The big ones were pushing the little ones out of line, and the little ones were running in between their legs. The sight in itself was worth the price of a good show.

Al Cook, one of the boys who works in the show, said that some of the children were present at the box office when he came down at six in the morning. Approximately 85 children were present to receive tickets, and the sidewalk in front of the show was blocked completely. If one wanted to get by he was hit on every side, and looked as if he had come out of a fight when he got passed the line. I'll bet if some of the mothers whose children were there trying to get tickets could have seen them, they would have been astonished to see how eager they are to see a free show.

If you want results on anything, all that is necessary is to say that something is going to be free, but take my advice and have a fence put up so the mob won't get loose and hurt some one who is passing. If the crowd had been grown people at least two or three would have been hurt in some way or another. But none of the children were hurt so badly that they were unable to attend the afternoon show. I can't see how they do it.

Mrs. B. F. Shepherd and sons, Donald and B. F., spent Sunday in Amarillo visiting Mrs. Shepherd's sister, Mrs. George Russell.

CONSTIPATION
"If I got constipated, I would get dizzy and have swimming in my head. I would have very severe headache."
"For a while I thought I wouldn't take anything—maybe I could wear out the headache; but I found they were wearing me out."
"I found Black-Draught would relieve this, so when I have the very first symptoms, I take Black-Draught and now I don't have the headache."
"I am a firm believer in Black-Draught, and after using it 20 or more years, I am satisfied to continue its use."

TIRE VALUES versus TIRE DEFINITIONS

WE KNOW that car owners are interested in real TIRE VALUES, but are not particularly interested in tire definitions which manufacturers and distributors of special-brand mail-order tires had the National Better Business Bureau adopt that they could use to their advantage in their advertising.

When the National Better Business Bureau realized that the public was being misled—and an attempt was being made to keep the truth about real tire values from car owners, they issued a bulletin July 10th which in substance retracted their sponsorship of tire definitions.

Firestone extra values are the result of great savings in buying—great savings in efficient and economical manufacturing and distributing, plus the patented process of Gum-Dipping—the patented two extra cord plies under the tread—and a more efficient non-skid tread, which makes them safer than any other tire.

We have sections cut from Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires and Special-Brand Mail-Order Tires, and invite you to come in and judge for yourself the extra values we give you—values that you can see and understand instead of "definitions." Then we know you too will buy Firestone Tires as thousands of other car owners have done to the extent that during May, June and July they bought more Firestone Tires than during any like period in history—Drive in today!

When the National Better Business Bureau realized that their Bulletin No. 624 was being taken advantage of by some advertisers they issued a Bulletin dated July 10th as follows:

"In our Bulletin No. 624 entitled 'Definitions of Terms Used in the Tire Industry' we published definitions of First Line—Second Line—Third Line—Heavy Duty and Super Heavy Duty Tires.

"Our definitions pointed out, 'Although each manufacturer's or distributor's first line tire may represent his best standard size 4 or 4 ply tire, there is not necessarily an equality of competitive first line tires as to materials, workmanship or price.' This interpretation also applies to all lines of tires.

"We therefore recommend that advertising to the consumer shall avoid the use of these terms for the purpose of comparing competitive products."

SAVES FOR THE NATION

A CRUSADE FOR LOWER GAS

by citizens who believe that Memphis is entitled to it!

We feel that the local gas companies dilly-dallied with our City Government enough. We believe in fair play and are confident that the City Office shown the Gas Co. every consideration. Gas officials have repeatedly delayed taking any action whatsoever. It is time for the people to act. We are READY!

MEMPHIS' GAS RATE IS TOO HIGH!

We favor considerably lower gas rates for and if municipal ownership is the only means to this end---Municipal Ownership.

WE WANT LOWER GAS

Because:

We believe Memphis' rate of 75c is out of line with recent reductions in other cities.

Because:

We believe the Northern Texas Utilities Company can make a fair profit on a much lower rate.

Because:

We believe Memphis' commercial and industrial progress is being retarded by the present high rate.

People Turned Away

Approximately 100 people were turned away at Estelline due to the shortage of the typhoid biologicals, according to Miss Jones. The serums were secured through the Commissioners' Court for those turned away and sent to the city health doctor at Estelline for distribution, it was said.

"We sincerely thank Judge Hoffman and members of the court for contributing money to buy serums and it is the belief of the county health committee that the people of Hall county will appreciate the work that we are doing," said Mrs. Guthrie.

ment estimate, we are face to face with five cent cotton this fall. What a break that is on the part of our Government! Hoover is fast sealing his doom which bids fair to be everlasting and complete. His moneytorium is paling into a sick background—a slough of despond. But few farmers care a hang about Germany at best and every one of them is a darn sight more interested in feeding and clothing his family than in permitting the Boche to feed on milk and honey.

I am looking forward eagerly to the coming Presidential campaign. If the Democrats will nominate a real man, without the taint of Mellonism or astigmatism on his shirt front and perspective, who has plenty of red corpuscles in his blood, and is ready to stand up for the rights of the common people, Hoover will be snowed under in the greatest political landslide in history. If I were a betting man, I'd wager the next President of the United States is elected by the people and not by the politicians, which would, indeed, be something unique in our annals.

About the only thing I know to do, in the face of this extremity, is to find new uses for cotton. I suggest that it be canned for future consumption. I have always read about the world's consumption of cotton but I never saw any one consume any. We might as well eat it as give it away. We'll be about as well off either way. At any event, some one will be holding the bag.

Sketch of Local Man Appears In The Dallas News

The following feature story concerning one of Memphis' well known citizens appeared in The Dallas News last Sunday. Through the courtesy of the managing editor of The News, we are publishing the story below, together with the drawing made by Wallace Simpson.

A longing desire to see the West, prompted by action, brought Henry Arnold of Memphis to the Panhandle country Sept. 14, 1888, two years before Hall County, which was at that time attached to Donley County, was organized. Seeking employment, he found that work as a cowboy on the large cattle ranches was practically the only form of occupation to be had. Consequently, he began work on the old Bar 96 ranch along Red River, owned by Finch, Lord & Nelson of Kansas City.

He worked for a year on the Bar 96 ranch and then went to the Diamond Tail ranch for two years. While working as a cowboy he had, however, visioned probable prosperity and independence that the few scattered settlers, who had come into the country in the meantime, would reap by tilling the virgin soil. So, following his decision to become a farmer, he quit the ranch and settled near Newlin in 1892. The result failed to measure up to his expectation, and a fire which burned him out in 1893 was the grand finale to his farming operations. He then went to the Collier brothers ranch near Estelline, where he worked for several years. In 1900-01 he served as Hall County Deputy Sheriff and Tax Collector and then engaged in the market business, trading, buying and shipping live stock which he continued until elected District Clerk. He is now serving his third term.

"Many changes, said Mr. Arnold, "have taken place in this country since I came. There are few people in this country today who remember old Salisbury, which boasted a small depot and two small box houses, which was located a few miles southeast of Memphis. The town ceased to exist many years ago. The depot was either torn down or moved away and the site is now the headquarters of a sheep ranch. "This country has developed into one of the greatest agricultural regions of the state, or the West for that matter. When I first came out here news was slow to reach us. However, I have long been a reader of The Dallas News and to get the straight of anything I always rely on The News." Mr. Arnold was born at Morris, N. Y., June 18, 1854, and in his early youth moved with his parents to Iowa, from where he came to Texas. He is a member and district deputy of the Masonic Lodge and a member and elder of the Presbyterian Church. Due to his long residence and activity in Masonic Lodge work he enjoys a wide acquaintance and many friends throughout the western part of the state.

Thus saith the Lord God; When I shall have gathered the house of Israel from the people among whom they are scattered, and shall be sanctified in them in the sight of the heathen, then shall they dwell in their land that I have given to my servant Jacob. And they shall dwell safely therein, and shall build houses, and plant vineyards; yea, they shall dwell with confidence, when I have executed judgments upon all those that despise them round about them; and they shall know that I am the Lord their God.

Pest Poisoning Is Demonstrated Here By U. S. Biologist

J. M. Hill, of the United States Biological Survey, with offices at Breckenridge, was in Memphis last Thursday and Friday giving demonstrations of modern methods used in killing rats, gophers, and sparrows.
Three Hall county farms were visited and demonstrations held using poison bait. The poison is to be sent here for use in combating these pests at an early date, according to County Agent E. W. Thomas.
Mr. Hill will be in this county again next spring, and a systematic poisoning campaign against pests will be planned, it was said.

Turkey And Chicken Losses Are Reported To Co. Agent Thomas

Several farmers in this county have reported losses of chickens and turkeys lately to County Agent E. W. Thomas. The losses upon investigation were found due to limberneck caused by eating blowfly maggots and rotten grain. It is important at this time of year, Mr. Thomas stated, that old straw stacks and other sources of spoiled grain be destroyed to prevent further losses of turkeys and chickens. Great care should also be taken to destroy any dead carcasses of any kind which might be a source of blowfly maggots it was said.
