The Democrat is authorized to make the following announcements subject to the action of the Democratic Primaries, July 22, 1916, unless otherwise stated:

For Tax Assessor—
A. G. POWELL
R. E. PAINTER

For Treasurer—
J. M. (JIMMIE) WILLBORN

For County Attorney
SAM J. HAMILTON—Re-election.

"If your coal bin could talk!" Headline. Yes, if ours and others could talk the grand jury would be in endless session throughout the year.

We have heard several say that their coal piles are diminishing quite fast this winter, and that they cannot account for it unless someone is trying to swing Hall county over on the republican side this year.

W. L. Fore, local Ford agent, made a flying trip to Amarillo last Saturday night to get a new Ford car for delivery to someone in this city. He recently received a car of these cars and they were all sold on delivery. He made the return trip in the car, reporting that on leaving Amarillo Sunday morning at ten o'clock the thermometer registered 5 below zero.

President Wilson will stump the United States in behalf of his "preparedness" program. Invitation has been extended him and the first lady of the land to place Dallas on his itinerary. Memphis, Tennessee is also on his list of towns to be visited. Don't suppose his train could be mis-sent, like letters occasionally, to Memphis, Texas, instead of Memphis, Tennessee.

The Board of City Development of the city of Amarillo have announced the establishment of a "Rest Room" for people who visit Amarillo. It is located in the Puckett building on Taylor street, opposite west front of court house. It will be under the management of the Federation of Women's Clubs. A matron will be in attendance at all times. Amarillo has accomplished what the Democrat has been trying to get for Memphis. A rest room is very essential to a town where outside people come to do their trading. We hope that before another cotton gathering season that Memphis will have had a comfortable rest room established.

"Lansing Again Warns Americans to Leave Mexico," headline in the dailies. Again. Yes, how many times has this warning been sent to the Americans who reside in troublesome Mexico and but few of them have heeded the warning. We might state here that those who heeded the warning were the ones that thought more of their lives than of the almighty dollar. The many who have been slain by the bandits are miners who grapple the dollar and seem to disregard their lives in spite of repeated warnings to leave. Then is the present administration to blame for the wholesale slaughters that have taken place in Mexico? We think not. The brilliant men who reside about the national capitol are reminded each hour of the day concerning the conditions in Mexico and are using diplomatic intelligence in the matter. It seems that a few irate men of El Paso are in favor of Uncle Sam's soldiers going over the border and whipping out every greaser in sight. This eruption was brought about by the killing of eighteen Americans the other day in Mexico by a band of bloodthirsty bandits. They, several scores strong, signalled a piece of paper and sent it to Ex-President Roosevelt requesting him to use his powerful influence, as it stated, to force Congress into intervention. Just after this child's play an order was placed with an El Paso printing concern for fifty thousand cards to be distributed over the United States with the following inscription:

"Remember the Alamo!"
"Did We Watch and Wait?"
"Remember the Cusi!"
"Shall We Watch and Wait?"
This we deem is the greatest insult to the Democratic administration and Mr. Wilson, in his earnest endeavor to keep the United States out of both the gruesome conflicts in Europe and Mexico. We hope that the men who the people of the nation have sent to Washington guide their destinies will not be so low minded and easily influenced by the petition sent by the people of El Paso and do something that only a few money-lovers want done and something that will cause many of our noble young men to lose their lives, besides the expenditure of great sums of money.

Sheppard Favors 1 Cent Drop Letter. Washington, Jan. 17.—Considering the demands that are being made for equitable adjustment of the postal rates Senator Morris Sheppard, of Texas, today declared that some move will probably be made by congress with a view of providing for a reduction in the rate of postage on local delivery letters from 2 cents to 1 cent per ounce. At the present time the 2 cent rate is applicable to all letters mailed, whether for delivery locally or at distant points—even to England and Germany.

Author Hauser Found Guilty. Omaha, Neb., Jan. 17.—Arthur Hauser, charged with killing W. H. Smith, cashier of the Woodmen of the World, on the night of October 16, 1915, was found guilty by a jury in district court here Saturday night and given a life term.

Six-Year-Old Had Croup. "I have a little girl six years old who has a good deal of trouble with croup," writes W. E. Currey, Evansville, Ind. "I have used Foley's Honey and Tar, obtaining instant relief for her. My wife and I also use it and will say it is the best cure for a bad cold, cough, throat trouble and croup that I ever saw. At Fickas Drug Co.

practically be doubled from the very beginning. If such is the case, I can see no good reason why definite action should not be taken on the matter when the regular postal appropriation bill is taken up for consideration.

"Since local letters involve no railway or steamship transportation it is evident that the profit to the government on such letters must be exorbitant. Such being the case local users of the mails, which means practically every patron of the postal service, should be granted the concession with as little delay as possible. The creation of a one-cent rate on local delivery letters would undoubtedly serve to stimulate and encourage business to a better level of permanency. It will be of particular value to small merchants in developing additional patronage."

Panhandle State Fair Names Dates.

Amarillo, Jan. 18.—September 12 to 16 inclusive are the dates named for the next fair and exposition of the Panhandle State Fair Association in Amarillo. This change was made in the hope that more favorable weather conditions may prevail than those witnessed at a later date during the past year.

At the annual election of the association held Saturday P. H. Landergin was made president, J. L. VanNatta, vice president, H. A. Nobles vice president and general manager, and J. F. McGregor, secretary-treasurer.

It is understood that already a considerable sum of money is assured for the cattle division, from outside parties. This fact taken in connection with other prevailing conditions leads to the forecast that the premiums will be larger this year than ever before.

Statements are made to the effect that the catalogue will be distributed in June this year instead of July as heretofore.

292 Killed by Trains in Texas in Year Just Closed.

Austin, Texas, Jan. 17.—The annual report of the railroad commission, which was issued today, shows that the number killed in Texas by trains, in 1915, totaled 292 and the number injured amounted to 8,742. Both the deaths and injured for last year was a decrease over 1914. The gross income was $197,414,919 and the operating expenses were $85,909,984.

Get Rid of a Racking La Grippe Cough—It Weakens. For the severe racking cough that comes with la grippe, Foley's Honey and Tar Compound is wonderfully healing and soothing. R. G. Making Country Life Less Monotonous.

Included in the accessories, not to say essentials, provided for in the building of schoolhouses nowadays is a stage, to be used for various purposes. Among these are entertainments consisting of amateur dramatics, which constitute one of the most entertaining and interesting diversions in which young people can engage; and they are not only interesting and entertaining, but they are instructive and informing as well. The ability to appear at ease and speak well before a public audience is an accomplishment which all too few acquire, especially among young people living in the country, where there is more isolation and therefore fewer opportunities to become accustomed to appearing in large gatherings.

These thoughts at once bring us to a realization of the benefits to be derived by those living in rural communities from participation in amateur dramatic performances, debating and literary societies. There is practically unlimited talent among the young people of the country, as well as in the city, for attaining distinction in these things, just as they have done in all other lines of human endeavor. Nature is impartial in her gifts, and so no section or class, either in town or country, has a monopoly of talent or genius in any direction.

The News is inclined to emphasize the entertainment, instruction, information and pleasure to be derived from the utilization of the town and country schoolhouses as a center of social pleasures and literary, oratorical, dramatic and civic activities. It has been found helpful in some communities, especially where the population is not so great, to have a central organization or society, with practically every family in the community represented in its membership. Then it is divided into subdivisions—literary, dramatic, debating, etc., having an active committee in charge of each division, whose duty it shall be to prepare programs and attend to other features of their respective divisions.

Just a few minutes' thought by those most interested in regard to the suggestions made here will convince them of their practicability and benefit. Indeed, it seems hard to understand why there are not many more such organizations, for there can be no possible contention that they are not helpful in making life in the country less monotonous and therefore more enjoyable and happy.—Dallas News.

During his thirty years labor Abe Mulkey has held 601 revivals in twenty-two states and territories, had 57,000 reclamations and conversions, has preached 28,030 sermons, helped to build and pay out of debt 85 churches and parsonages; 36 young men have been called into the ministry and he has collected $843,320, a third of which he has retained for his old age, the two-thirds being disposed of for benevolent purposes. In order to hold these revivals he has traveled a distance equal to eight times around the globe, 200,000 miles.—Bartlett Tribune.

Or, how would for them to point—with propriety and declaim "Don't monkey with the tariff," another favorite cry republicans in the past. The whole lot of campaign tricks the democrats might borrow from the publicans, now that the democrats in and the republicans are Wichita Falls Times.

New York, World's Newest Metropolis

By Kenneth W. Pane.

New York, Jan. 13.—The great world war has given America the greatest city in the world! New York is grabbed for good and all London figures which admit Gothams metropolis! London has just admitted it herself!

Commercial supremacy, financial supremacy—and now supremacy in population! But the fact is, the London figures which admit Gothams championship are a bit ancient. They date from 1911 but they've only just been published in corrected form, and they show that London in 1911 housed 4,521,358 souls, while New York, the year before, had a population of 4,766,833!

As New York has been gaining ever since, and as London has been losing her thousands to the wars, there's no question but that today the world's highest population is housed on the banks of the Hudson.

As to just what the figures for New York are at the opening of 1916 you are at liberty to take your choice of numerous enumerations. New York has a school census and a city directory census and a state census, and a federal census, and a police census and a metropolitan district census and a census of the number of goats in Harlem.

Taking them all by and large, the unprejudiced observer would judge that the exact population of New York city today is either 5,000,484, or 8,000,000. But then, indeed, it may be somewhere between those two figures. Five million and a quarter, says one census. Five million and a half, reports another. Seven million seven hundred thousand, roars still a third, which, however, counts in the mournful millions who reside in Jersey and have to ferry Hudson daily to work.

And then there is the police census, which has just counted noses of passers-by at about four hundred important corners in the city, and has established the interesting fact that there are just a little more than twice as many pedestrians in the streets of New York daily as there are people in the city! The total number of passers-by, to be exact, is 15,144,745 between 8:30 in the morning and 6:30 at night!

There are more Italian-born inhabitants of New York than there are in the Italian city of Florence.

There are more German-born New Yorkers than there are inhabitants of Bremen.

There are nearly half a million Italian-born citizens of the city, and about half of them are congregated in what is the western hemisphere's largest city.

The total foreign-born population of New York city is about 2,000,000 souls.

The population of New York city exceeds that of each of the following twelve states: Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Rhode Island, Delaware, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, Oregon, North Dakota, Utah and Wyoming.

New York boasts a birth every four minutes, a marriage every ten minutes and a divorce as fast as the courts can work.

Old At 70? Not Much.

Thomas Watt Gregory, Attorney General of the United States, holds a federal judge at 70 is too old for duty and ought to be retired. He urges the passage of a law that would force a judge to retire when he reaches 70.

Edward D. White, chief justice of the United States, is more than 70 years of age. Thomas A. Edison is 83. Henry Glassaway Davis is 93 years old. He was the Democratic nominee for Vice President when he was 82, and he is as vigorous now. "Uncle Joe" Cannon is back in Congress at 70.

Old at 70? Untold riches have been contributed to the world's civilization by men of that age and even over 70. Plato took up music at 30 to banish the tedium of middle years. Victor Hugo was past 60 when he wrote "Les Miserables" and he was an old man when he finished Faust. The world is indebted to gray-beards for many of its greatest treasures and greatest deeds.

The greater the age the greater the wisdom, was the belief of the ancients and it comes near to being true today—in the war, at least, it is because there is not a man at the head of any of the great armies of Europe who is not past 60.—Ex.

Ella Has the Right Idea.

Anna Wheeler Wilcox says the loveliest sight imaginable is a young mother with a baby daughter. Ella had added that it is a sight she never saw in the mirror, either, for herself in the role of the young mother. Ella has always been younger, and not over-material.—Geo. M. ... in Houston Post.

The Busiest Nation the World Ever Saw.

When Chas. M. Schwab, president of the Bethlehem Steel Company, tells a Pittsburgh audience of every side-track of the Pennsylvania Railroad from Pittsburgh to New York being filled with freight cars loaded with commodities for export, and that five times the number of vessels available are required to carry the export trade of the United States, and when a great railway line like the Lackawanna issues orders to its agents to receive no more freight for export, the American citizens are mightily amazed at the prevailing business conditions. They are surprised and gratified at the stupendous volumes and values now marking the transactions in both our foreign and domestic commerce; surprised, chagrined and angry at the failure of the past Congress of this country to provide the merchant marine which the country has been entitled to for years and from the lack of which it is now so severely suffering. Huge as are our sales to foreign Nations, powerful as has become the influence of our export trade upon all classes of domestic commerce, the country finds itself limited by hundreds of millions of dollars in value of the foreign trade that is at its command if it had the vessels to carry the commodities, and the gain in the domestic commerce would be proportionately greater than it is now.

In every state of the Union the influence of improved business is telling, and in New England, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Ohio, West Virginia, Maryland and Virginia manufacturing plants already established are increasing capacity and new enterprises are being organized for construction work and operation. The conditions in the agricultural districts of the United States are well illustrated by a letter recently received in Washington from a business man in North Dakota, who wrote that the farmers of that state were so busy now counting the large sums of money they were receiving for their crops that they had no time for anything else. There are no recessions in trade in any part of the United States. There are constantly increasing calls from abroad for the products of our farms and the output of our mills, shops and factories. Millions of dollars of gold are coming into our ports weekly now, the financial tribute of the world to the labor and energies of our people. It will be little less than criminal now for any clique or agency or combine, whether financial or political, whether composed of foreigners or of the agents and representatives of foreign governments and shipping combines, to delay the Congress in providing for the vessels necessary to serve the country in ocean transportation. Give the farmers, the manufacturers, the merchant the needed vessels and this Sixty-fourth Congress, upon which body that duty of providing the merchant marine for the Republic pressed with a hundredfold the force of prior years, will be remembered with gratitude by succeeding generations for centuries to come. Business is magnificent in its present proportions, startling in its values, but it has not yet nearly reached its maximum in either proportions or values.—Washington Post

Home Credit System.

The Victoria public schools have adopted a very novel and commendable merit system, which will doubtless work out to the material benefit of the parent, teacher and pupil. It is known as the home credit system, and is to be instituted in the schools at once. The scheme of the plan is to encourage the pupils to assist their parents about the home outside of the regular school hours. Each hour's work at home, during the time of regular attendance in school, gives the child five points, and each 100 points thus made will add five per cent to the student's monthly average. Each student is supplied with a "Home Credit Card" with the necessary blanks for the parents to fill out showing the number of hours and kind of work the child has done about the home.—Farm and Ranch.

Getting the "Kick" in Cider.

According to a special news dispatch from Marysville, Ohio, farmers in the vicinity of New Charles have found a way to "beat" the local option laws. Thousands of gallons of cider were made in that section this fall, and the farmers have discovered that by running it through a cream separator the water is extracted, leaving little but pure alcohol remaining. "It's got an awful 'kick,'" declared one farmer, who allowed his barrel of cider to sit in the warm November sun for two weeks before giving it the cream-separator test. Since his discovery others are filling their cellars with jugs of the extract juice to tide 'em over the winter months.

Unity in Purpose.

The united people can accomplish great things. The country that is united in ideals and sentiment has nothing to fear in economics, sociology and citizenship. It is that unanimity of purpose that assures the success of a united people.

As a nation we are making use of our opportunities for co-operation as we should. We have not fully realized the close connection between the manufacturer and the farmer; the transportation companies and shippers; the professional man and the business man; the merchant and the farmer; capital and labor. We have not made use of the fact that every citizen engaged in serving society in a legitimate way is a factor for co-operation, and his interest must not be ignored in any system for economy.

The richest, most prosperous and most independent countries in the world are where people produce an abundance of food and clothing and have developed markets so that the surplus is disposed of economically. This cannot be done by antagonism, strife and bitterness engendered by and occupations. It must be done by co-operation and good will to all, and with special emphasis to economy and efficiency. If this requires monopoly it must be a monopoly for the benefit of the people.

Every farmer should be proud that he is a farmer; believe it is the best occupation among men; that in producing the people's food he is rendering society a great service as well as should recognize the importance of his fellow-men in other legitimate occupations. Markets must be had; the things that we cannot produce must be bought; professional services must be had; manufacturing, transportation, merchandizing, banking, etc., are necessary; facilities for education, reaction and human efficiency must be in our reach. To get the best results for ourselves, our state and our nation we should strive each to help the other and thus be helped by co-operation that builds up society and makes the earth a better place to live.—Farm and Ranch.

Negro Baby Girl is Found on Doorsteps.

Dallas, Texas, Jan. 14.—A little negro baby girl, wrapped in a newspaper and a sheet, was left on the front doorstep of the home of the Rev. S. E. J. Watson, 1817 Allen avenue, pastor of the Macedonia Negro Baptist church, when the thermometer was almost two dozen degrees below freezing yesterday morning. The infant was only a few hours old when discovered by the preacher. It was nearly frozen to death and many hours of strenuous work were required to save its life.

The baby was taken at once to the Dallas Baby Camp, where it reacted splendidly to the treatment of the trained nurses. Miss Mary Smith, the superintendent, said it is difficult to tell much about the ailments of newly-born babies, but she thinks it will recover. As soon as possible, it will be placed in some good home. The little girl weighs five and one-half pounds and Miss Smith says she is "real handsome."

Topsy Allen was the name bestowed upon the little ebony bundle of suffering and maltreated humanity. Topsy is from "Uncle Tom's Cabin," and Allen is the name of the street upon which she was found. Miss Smith said it is the first time she had ever heard of a negro baby being deserted by its mother.

Besides the baby, the stork brought six handsomely ugly bulldog puppies to the baby camp last night. The cold weather did not seem to deter the activities of the long-legged baby deliverers. The mother of the pups came to the camp several days ago and made her home beneath the house. One of the young dogs will be kept at the camp to guard the camp and its infantile patients.

"We'll just charge the mother dog one puppy for the rent of a home for her family during this cold weather," said Miss Smith.

Fifteen Babies in Camp.

There are fifteen babies at the camp—all of them sick and suffering. Most of them are boys, but Miss Smith says the girl recently monopolized all of the facilities of the camp. She said that the sexes take "spells" of being sick and that there is usually a large majority of either boys or girls. Most of the complaints at present are la grippe, bronchitis and pneumonia, the usual winter complaints. Intestinal troubles prevail in the summer months. Practically every baby received by the camp is suffering from malnutrition, which makes it difficult for the infant's constitution to combat other illnesses.

The Dallas Baby Camp is a member of the Dallas Federated Welfare Finance Committee which will resume its campaign for the raising of the 1916 budget Monday morning.

Cash System.

Tolar Standard: The long-time credit system, so long practiced in this section of the country, is just about a thing of the past. Most every business has adopted the cash system, and sells goods on cash basis. The farmers, almost to the man, have adopted the cash system, and buy and sell on cash basis.

Tolar is in Hood county, where cotton has long been the main dependence of all the people. And the conditions now prevalent in the Tolar section, as reflected by the Standard, prove that even in a cotton country the cash system can be inaugurated and maintained successfully. This is possible in 1916-17 because the cash is available. Cash was not available in 1885 or 1895, consequently yearly credits were the custom. The reason cash is to be had now and was not to be had twenty or twenty-five years ago is because every village now has its banks. These banks lend money in small sums, many loans to farmers being as little as ten dollars and few loans to farmers exceeding two hundred dollars. Often the interest rate exceeds the statutory rate, for the loans run usually for much less than a year. It is the contention of State Press—wherefore he has been charged with indifference to the rights of "the poor"—that it is much less expensive to a farmer to pay perhaps one per cent a month on a small bank loan for six months than to pay a hundred per cent profit to a mortgage supply merchant. Of course if a bank can stay in business and earn reasonable dividends on the prescribed interest rate, the bank ought to say within that rate—and most of them so studied do. But any legislation or regulation whereby the village banks would be abolished would work injury to the small borrowers, for the leading business would go into the hands of individuals whose operations would be safeguarded from the laws. Increased banking facilities have nearly established the cash system. Increased competition among banks has lowered the interest rate. What call is there for politicians to interfere with such beneficial progress?—S. P. Dallas News.

PLEASANT EVENING REVERIES

Crude Thoughts From The Editorial Pen

A Friend or Two.
James M. Pierce in his Iowa Home-stand says:

Sometimes in my reading I run across things so good I cannot refrain from passing them on to you. Who of us, for instance, does not know the value of a few good friends? Yet who among us has ever paid a tribute to our friends so gracefully and so beautifully as it has been paid by the poet who wrote the verses which I set forth herewith:

There's all of pleasure and all of pain
In a friend or two;
And all your troubles may find release
With a friend or two;
It's in the grip of the clasping hand
On native soil or in alien land
But the word is made—do you understand?—
O a friend or two;

A song to sing and a trust to share
With a friend or two;
A smile to give and a grief to bear
With a friend or two;
A road to walk and a goal to win,
An ingenook to find comfort in,
The gladdest hours that we know, begin
With a friend or two;

A little laughter, perhaps some tears,
With a friend or two;
The days, the weeks, and the months
and years
With a friend or two;
A vale to cross and a hill to climb,
A mock at age and a jeer at time—
The prose of life takes the lilt of rhyme
With a friend or two;

Then brim the goblet and quaff the toast
To a friend or two;
For glad the man who can always boast
Of a friend or two;
The fairest sight is a friendly face,
The blithest treat is a friendly pace,
And heaven will be a better place
For a friend or two.

It is one of the penalties of a busy life, such as I lead, that I often cannot find the time to sit in the ingenook or stop in the fence corner and chat with "a friend or two". There is so much work to be done, the day is so short, and so we go along denying ourselves the pleasure which we crave—the grip of the clasping hand, the cheery word of friendship that will lighten the burdens of the day and rob the nighttime of its darkness.

My friends, we do wrong when we do not stop, every little while, to get the full value out of our friendships. The season of the year is approaching when the most arduous, insistent duties of the farm are over for awhile. How better could we improve our leisure moments than by reading the best things we can get hold of and by renewing old friendships and making new ones which shall last until the last clod has been thrown upon our final resting place? Life offers us no greater blessing, outside the circle of our own family, than "a friend or two." They mean more to us of the farm than to any other men; let us grapple our friends to us with chains of steel, so that whatever comes neither life nor death can tear them from us. After all, no matter how heavy the burden, how dark the sky, how filled with foreboding the air, how affrighted the shadows:

All your troubles may find release
With a friend or two;

When Mother Calls.
When mother calls—you must come in!
And how that call through all the din
Amid the childhood memories high,
Is ringing still within your ears!
You thought it very awful then
To leave the game and leave the fun
And just because your mother called
To have to say goodbye and run.

When mother calls—you wish that now
Her voice could call you as it did Way back in that old-dream somehow,
Amid the childhood memories hid,
You chafed because you thought it soon,
To have to come, 'twas early yet:
And so you left the game in tune
To some reluctant spell of fret.

When mother calls—so different seems
The memory of it now to you;
How beautiful she was in dreams
That decked her there in sun and dew!
But you were hateful, and at times
You closed your ears and winked your eye,
And made belief you did not hear,
And made her stand and call and cry.
You wouldn't keep her waiting there
As once you did. You'd hear her now
And leap to fly along the air,
And lean to kiss her dear old brow.
When mother calls—ah, lads of life,
Don't keep her waiting there to call!
Put down the tumult and the strife,
And go before the shadows fall!

When mother calls—come quick,
come sweet,
With smiling lips and dancing feet,
With all the childhood spirit true
To all the love she bears for you.
For some time, mid far on events,
You'll be glad you heard her cry,
And had the love and had the sense
To put your play and playmates by.
—The Benztown Bard.

City Tax Payments.
All tax payers in the city of Memphis are urged to call at the office of the city collector, with the office of the justice of the peace, in the north-west corner of the court house, before February 1, and save extra costs and penalties. After that date the council has directed that suit be brought to collect all delinquent taxes. You can save costs by calling before that date and paying up.
Respectfully,
M. J. CUMMINGS, Tax Collector.

SUNDAY SCHOOL.

Lesson IV.—First Quarter, For Jan. 23, 1916.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, Rom. viii, 12-30. Memory Verses, 16, 17—Golden Text, Rom. viii, 14—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

After a lesson on Pentecost and Peter's first sermon such a chapter as Romans viii seems to be an appropriate study, for in it the Spirit is mentioned nineteen times in connection with conversion, the daily life of the believer and the redemption of our bodies at the resurrection of the just. The epistle begins with a statement by the apostle, as a servant of Jesus Christ, that he was separated into the gospel of God concerning His Son, Jesus Christ our Lord, who was with power declared to be the Son of God by His resurrection from the dead (1:4). He said that this gospel was the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth, that it made him debtor to all who had not heard it, that he was not ashamed of it (1:14-16). In the following chapters he declares plainly that all, without exception, are guilty before God and cannot be saved by trying to be good or do good, but may be justified freely by grace through the redemption that is in Christ Jesus (iii, 9-24; iv, 17, 19-25; v, 11; vi, 23). Then in our lesson chapter, beginning with "no condemnation" and ending with "no separation" because of the love of God which is in Christ Jesus our Lord, he sets forth more fully the benefits of this great redemption to every believer and to the whole creation. The whole chapter should be studied, omitting none of it.

The phrase "in Christ Jesus" (verses 1, 2, 39) seems to me to be the key to the whole chapter. Nothing more is necessary, nothing less will suffice, for salvation or for the daily life of those who are saved. (Gal. v, 6; vi, 15; Eph. ii, 10, 13; iii, 13). The carnal mind, the flesh, the natural man, can never be improved so as to be fit for the presence of God, and, although it remains in us after we become "in Christ," we are under no confidence in it, but continually, prayerfully and persistently reckon it dead in the power of the Holy Spirit (chapter vi, 11; vii, 24, 25; viii, 1-14; I Cor. ix, 27; II Cor. iv, 10, 11; Phil. iii, 3). By the Spirit and the Word we are born again just as in the beginning of the Bible record the light shone in the darkness (Gen. i, 2, 3; II Cor. iv, 6), and only by the same Spirit and Word can we live the life of a child of God (John vi, 63; xvii, 17). The Spirit always works by the Word and thus bears witness to the believer. The witness of the Spirit is not a feeling, an emotion, an experience, but is simply a resting unwaveringly on what the Spirit says to us in His word. Compare lesson verse 10 and John i, 12, and see my tract on "The Witness of the Spirit."

Having received the Lord Jesus it is our privilege to know, on the authority of the infallible word of God, that we have become children of God, heirs of God and joint heirs with Jesus Christ, have now eternal life and can never perish (verses 16, 17; John x, 28). While this assurance is not essential to salvation, it is necessary in order to live the life of victory that will glorify God. As the redeemed of the Lord we have become soldiers of Jesus Christ and are ever in a great conflict with the world, the flesh and the devil, so there will be much to endure in the way of trial as well as much to do in the way of service, but the way is all prepared for us and also the works we are to do. (II Tim. ii, 3, 4; Eph. vi, 10-18; II, 10; Rev. ii, 10; Phil. i, 29). God the Father, Son and Spirit are all for us (verses 26, 31, 34). All things are working together for our good, to make us more like Him, whose witnesses we are, and we are assured that all we can possibly need is freely given to us in Christ (verses 28, 29, 32). We shall not be the overcomers that we should be in the process of being killed all the day long (verse 36; Ps. xlv, 22) unless we lay to heart our lesson verses 18 to 25. There is real suffering with Christ, not for our salvation, but in service and fellowship, for every believer, and we will not triumph in the conflict nor endure patiently unless we have ever before us the glory of His kingdom, which we are to share with Him. The whole creation is groaning, and never before so severely as now (May, 1915), and there will be no permanent deliverance until the time of the manifestation of the sons of God—that is, the time of our coming with Christ in His glory to set up on earth His kingdom of righteousness and peace. It is true that if we are "in Christ" we are now children of God, but not until we meet Him in the air shall we know the full meaning of adoption, the redemption of our body (verse 23 and I John iii, 1, 2; see also Col. iii, 4; Rev. iii, 21; v, 9, 10). We groan while we wait for the redeemed body at His coming to the air for us. The whole creation groans while it waits for His coming with us to deliver it from its long bondage of sin and suffering (verses 19-23).

All things are not working for our comfort, but for our present and eternal good to His sight, and all is because of His love from which nothing can separate us (verses 38, 39). If we could see the glory which awaits us and for which He is fitting us by the all things we would be more willing to bear all.

Just Four—Read the Analysis.

You do just four things. You think; you remember; you imagine; you act. When you learn to think better, remember better, imagine better of act better, you are increasing your efficiency, and, therefore, your income. You may feel that you are very successful now, suppose you are; it isn't a question of what you know, but of how beneficial a practical business education will be to you in addition to what you already know. You will agree with us that to violate a part of the laws of business means partial failure, and to violate all the laws means complete failure. You are also aware that to observe part of the laws of business means practical success, and to observe all the laws means complete success. Our aim is to help you observe a higher per cent of the laws of business success. The late Prof. James of Harvard declares that the average man only uses ten per cent of his brain power. Suppose you are twice as capable as the average man? Even that would mean you are only twenty per cent of your maximum possibilities. The purpose of our course is to produce a maximum of proficiency with a minimum effort. Did you ever stop to think that eighty-five per cent of the men of this country are only earning $15 a week or less? That ninety-two per cent fail in business between the ages of 40 and 50? That ninety-five per cent have no money at the age of 60? We have been very successful in getting men out of the eighty-five, the ninety-two and the ninety-five per cent class. Why not let us help you? We have been marvelously successful in raising salaries, as is conclusively proven by the letters in our catalogue from former students. The business world wants thinkers and doers. There's a famine of high priced men today; there are thousands of men worth a thousand dollars a year, but only a few worth ten thousand a year. Be the latter kind of a man, you can if you will. We know that a man is worth only about $2.00 a day from the chin down, selling muscle, but as high as a hundred thousand dollars a year from the chin up, selling brains; but remember you must get them before you can sell them. Take our thorough, practical course of Bookkeeping, Shorthand, Business Administration and Finance and Telegraphy; learn how to think, to remember, to imagine and act. We can teach you and thereby greatly increase your usefulness throughout life.

Our large catalogue is free for the asking, if you will only fill in and mail the following blank at once.

Letter From W. J. Bowling and Wife Sallie.

Many be surprised to hear from us late hour as we have been gone more than a month. I have thought I would write you but neglected until now; not because I am not interested in Memphis and affairs. We are interested about Memphis than any place any reasons too numerous to list in a letter. But we mention you. When we first went to Memphis folks shunned us as though we had some contagious disease and they were not much to us. Miss Sallie looked dreadfully and was sick. But that noble fellow gave her some instruction and she looks now like a fine girl. So these friends manifested their friendliness towards her so nobly by the presents they gave her the day she met with them and she forgot them soon.

Left Memphis the 9th of December and stopped off at Harrold and there by our brother-in-law, Mr. Bramblet, in a Ford car, and certainly make us feel like we were in an automobile for 10 hours he lived. The road was fine and the country we through can't be beat for beautiful land is all in farms and hundreds in wheat, as nice as any could wish for. That part of the county northeast from Harrold is beat anywhere in Texas and a fine crop of everything. It was worked by good farmers; most of them renters. Saturday near Mr. Bramblet's and Clement, the pastor, was sick. Bramblet telephoned around and would furnish a preacher, so a nice congregation, both at 10 a. m. and at 4:00 p. m. They were country church and a good house close together. They had a Sunday School running during winter.

When we telephoned that we were in Fort Worth. Mr. Bramblet intended to kill hogs, and some weighed 400 pounds, so we worked until thirty minutes before time. He said he could get the depot alright. He calls it Beckey. I was to keep time. I certainly familiar with the place. When a little behind time he says, a little faster, Beckey. We are 10 miles to Harrold in little over 20 min. Now Bob, when it is to race, you better not get out a firstclass Ford. We are in Fort Worth on time Monday about dark.

Both well. Lots of gripe. The Baptist had a county rally on Broadway church this week.

All the pastors made good reports and a marked advance on all lines was shown. Many visitors were present and the program was complete; many made good talks, which were very instructive. And then, O what a fine dinner was served by the ladies of Broadway. I did not see a single man who was too bashful or had stomach trouble.

I surely thank you, Mr. Editor, for sending the Democrat to us. Its visits are like getting money from home, so still let it come to 1415 Lincoln Avenue.

Very truly,

W. J. Bowling and wife Sallie.

In the Mutual Weekly you will be able to see the latest war news and the very latest news from everywhere with your own eyes.

In the productions on the regular program will see stars whose fame in film circles on the speaking stage is world-wide.

No details are being overlooked to make the Mutual's present unique position in the world secure and to give movie lovers the very best that can be produced.

In connection with the regular program the Dixie Theatre aims to run the best Feature Pictures obtainable.

From what the writer had a chance to see the Mutual pictures are all and more than advertised.

From an educational point of view the Mutual Weekly should not be missed by anybody.

Mr. George Wood who came well recommended from Amarillo, Texas, is not only a good manager but a piano player of some ability. He watches the pictures very closely and you not only see but feel the picture while listening to him.

It seems like a relief somehow to be able to see a pathetic love or death scene without being forced to listen to the latest Rag-time at the same time.

If Mr. Wood keeps up the work he has accomplished within a few days we shall have a first class Theatre yet. He has our best wishes.

Answers the Final Call.

Collingsworth County mourns the death of one of her very best citizens, Mr. C. E. Jones. On Saturday morning of last week Mr. Jones succumbed to pneumonia after a week's sickness. The funeral services, conducted by Rev. W. C. Benson, were held at the Baptist church in Wellington, Texas, on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Following the services at the church the Knights of Pythias took charge and the body was consigned to mother earth, and given burial, according to the rites of this order, of which the deceased was a splendid member.

At the services at the church the house was crowded, in fact possibly a hundred or more people were not able to gain admittance, and had to remain outside. The procession to the cemetery was also one of the largest ever attending a funeral here. Thus is attested the high regard held for the man who was summoned to answer the final call.

Rev. W. C. Benson, who conducted the services at the church, was a minister here in the early days, and it was at the earnest solicitation of the family that he came from Dryden, Oklahoma, where he is now located to hold the services. Mr. Jones was a consistent member of the Baptist church.

The deceased has resided in Collingsworth county for the past twenty-three years. He was a man of irreproachable character and was universally loved because of his real worth. He leaves a wife and a large family of sons and daughters, all of which were here at the time of his death except one daughter who came in from Seadrift Monday. Mr. Jones owned one of the finest sections of land in the county, which was his home place, a few miles northwest of Wellington.

The Leader extends sincere sympathy to the bereaved family in their sad loss.—Wellington Leader.

SIGNS OF DANGER

That Should be Heeded by Memphis People.

There's serious danger in neglecting any weakness of the kidneys. The warning that Nature gives should not be overlooked. If troubled by too frequent passage of the kidney secretions are highly coloring—if you have sediment when left standing—if you have backache, too, with frequent headaches and dizziness, make up your mind that your kidneys are affected and begin using some reliable kidney remedy. Deaths from kidney disease have increased in the United States alone, 72 per cent in the last 20 years. The risk is great—you can't afford to delay. Memphis people recommended Doan's Kidney Pills. Can you ask for better proof of merit than the statement of this Memphis resident?

Mrs. Jno. A. Wood, Eighth St., Memphis, says: "I, and others of my family have used Doan's Kidney Pills in the past with good results. I gladly advise anyone to get a box of this medicine at Tomlinson's Drug Store and try them, if troubled in any way with disordered kidneys."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Wood had. Foster Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.—Advt.

JACK FROST

Jack Frost comes like a thief in the night. If you have any growing plants out he will nip them—unless they are covered over—protected. How about your money? Is it protected against the burglar—another thief who comes in the night? Protect your money by keeping it here. It is safe here. No thief can get it while you do not need it and when you do need it you can get it at any time.
