Mercury Skids To Freezing Early in Week

Residents of the Memphis area got a taste of real winter earlier in the week, when temperatures dropped to the freezing point, with cloudy skies and a damp north wind.

J. J. McMickin, official weather recorder, reports Sunday's low was 40 and high 60 degrees; Tuesday the thermometer dropped as low as 34 degrees, while Tuesday morning the mercury skidded down to 32 degrees, with a high of 60 for the day.

Cotton picking was again retarded by the dampness of the weather, but warmer temperatures later this week enabled pickers to get into the fields again.

Pirates, Cyclone Battle to 0-0 Tie In Conference Tilt

Home Boys Outplay Visitors But Lack Scoring Punch in Crucial Moments of Clash

The Memphis Cyclone outplayed and outfought a tough Pirate crew from Lefors at every stage of a 3-A conference game on Cyclone field last Friday night, but decisive victory eluded their grasp through a combination of cold fingers and bad breaks. The game was a scoreless tie and both teams were inside the other's 20-yard zone twice, but the clash was no as even as that would indicate.

As a matter of fact, the Pirates were unable to gain at all, either through or around the Cyclone line, or by the aerial route, and failed to chalk up even one first down.

The Cyclone appeared able to gain at will in the center of the field and reeled off eight first

Nazarene Pastor To Preach Final Sermon Sunday

Pastorate at O'Donnell Is Taken by Rev. D. M. Duke; Will Move There Next Week

Rev. D. M. Duke, for the past two years pastor of the Church of the Nazarene in Memphis, has accepted the pastorate of the church at O'Donnell and will move with his family to that city next week.

He will preach his farewell sermon to the local congregation next Sunday night, it is announced.

New pastor of the local church will be Rev. J. L. Crawford of Hamlin, who will move to the city next week. He comes highly recommended, both as preacher and citizen.

Rev. Duke, accompanied by Rev. H. L. Smith, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene at Hedley, left Tuesday morning for Lubbock to attend the thirty-third annual assembly of the Abilene district Church of the Nazarene, which will be opened Wednesday morning.

Rev. Duke will offer the report from the Memphis church. "I have enjoyed working in Memphis," said Rev. Duke, in speaking of his impending departure. "The people have been good to us, both within the church and in the town. The church has increased about 95 per cent in each department, and I hope it will continue to grow under the new pastor."

Plan Second Class In Home Nursing

Plans are now being made to begin another Red Cross course in home nursing, it is announced by Mrs. L. W. Stanford, and any woman who is interested is requested to contact her for enrollment. The second course is contemplated because of interest shown by a number of women who did not take the first course.

If a sufficient number are enrolled the class will be started in about two weeks.

Nineteen women completed the course of training last week in a class taught by Mrs. W. Wilson and will receive a certificate from State Red Cross headquarters.

ARMY SILVER STAR POSTHUMOUSLY AWARDED SGT. FREEBOURN DURRETT

On September 27 the Army's Silver Star was posthumously awarded Staff Sgt. Freebourn E. Durrett, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Durrett of Lakeview, who lost his life in mid-Pacific fighting against the Japanese on June 6. The award was made by Maj. Gen. Willis H. Hale, commanding the 7th Air Force at Honolulu.

The sergeant's mother said this week she had not yet received the award but had not yet received the medal.

The Army's Silver Star is fourth highest in the list of United States military decorations, ranking just under the Distinguished Service Cross. It is awarded for "gallantry in action in situations not warranting the award of either the Medal of Honor or the Distinguished Service Cross."

Juniors Call Off Hallow'en Event

Recognizing the critical nature of the times and the need for devoting time to more productive activities, the Junior Class of Memphis High School has announced that the Hallow'en Carnival, which has been an annual high spot in the school year, will not be held this year.

This decision was reached at a meeting of the class recently when it was pointed out that the carnival would be a drain on the school and people of the city. School authorities highly commended the juniors on their realistic attitude toward conditions brought about by the war and their willingness to sacrifice in entertainment for more serious pursuits.

General Election Creating Minimum Interest Locally

Five Amendments to State Constitution Up for Vote Of People Tuesday, Nov. 3

Almost total lack of interest on the part of local people presaged an extremely light vote, in Hall County in the general election to be held next Tuesday, November 3. Ballots and supplies have been distributed to the various precincts by County Clerk Murray Dial and everything is in readiness for the election.

Nominally, a senator, congressman, state, district, county and precinct officers are to be elected Tuesday, but actually these were elected in the July and August primaries.

The only thing that could possibly interest the voters of this area are five amendments to the State constitution which are to be adopted or rejected by the voters.

A complete copy of the ballot including the amendments, will be found on page six of this issue.

High School P-TA Presents Program To Large Audience

John Deaver Main Speaker At Meeting Tuesday Held In High School Auditorium

"Follow the Leader" was the theme of a well attended meeting of the High School Parent-Teachers Association in the high school auditorium on Thursday afternoon, October 22, at 3 o'clock. District Attorney John Deaver was the principal speaker for the occasion.

A large number of parents and teachers were present and the entire high school student body was in attendance.

Mrs. Mary Newberry discussed, "Nutrition" and John Deaver spoke on "Follow the Leader." A vocal solo was given by T. E. Noel. The Boy Scouts unveiled a picture and the program was concluded with the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner."

MORE WORKERS ARE NEEDED TO MAKE DRESSINGS

Red Cross Chapter Is Falling Behind On 2-Month Quota

In order to meet the quota set for the Hall County Red Cross Chapter for October and November, it will be necessary to make about 500 surgical dressings per day, Mrs. Lloyd Phillips, chairman of this department, said this week, adding that in order to meet this goal, a great deal more help is needed at the Red Cross rooms. The largest number of dressings that have been made so far in one day is 300, said Mrs. Phillips.

The work of making surgical dressings for the armed forces is being carried on four afternoons each week, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, from 2 to 5 p. m., and those women who are reporting regularly are making splendid progress, the chairman declares. There is also a group of business women who are working from 7:30 until 10 o'clock each Thursday night, and this group is steadily growing.

The local chapter, along with a great many other of the smaller groups throughout the country was called upon to join in the preparation of surgical dressings when

New Cigarette and Cigar Tax Becomes Effective Nov. 1

Dealers Must Take Accurate Inventory of Stocks Close of Business October 31

Smokers need not be surprised if they pay a higher price for their favorite cigarettes and cigars after Sunday. A floor stock tax on cigars and cigarettes in the hands of dealers at the close of business October 31, imposed by the Revenue Act of 1942, becomes effective November 1.

All cigar and cigarette dealers, both wholesale and retail, are required to take an accurate inventory at the close of business on October 31 of all cigars and cigarettes regardless of the quantity in

Lost Army Pilot Reared at Quail

Capt. William T. Cherry, Jr., of Fort Worth, pilot of the plane in which Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker and seven members of the Army Air Corps are missing in the South Pacific, was born and reared in the Quail community, northeast of Memphis, it was learned this week.

Rickenbacker, Cherry and their companions were lost while on a secret flight and hope that any survivors had faded after several days search by all available planes.

Mr. and Mrs. William T. Cherry, Sr., parents of the missing pilot captain, and a sister, still reside in the Quail community, where Mr. Cherry moved from Tennessee about 1905, according to County Judge M. O. Goodpasture, who has known the family for many years.

One Cup of Coffee Per Day After November 29

Coffee rationing starts November 29, but it will be more liberal than the bugaboo which has frightened many housewives in many cities into hoarding and over-buying, the government announced today.

One pound every five weeks will be allowed for every person who was 15 years or older when sugar rationing started last May. This rationing started last May. This

IRISHMEN AND CYCLONE WILL CLASH FRIDAY

One of Best Games Of Season Expected At Cyclone Stadium

The Memphis Cyclone gr-machine is bracing this week for a major engagement when the rampaging Irishmen from Shamrock come raiding Friday night. The black-and-gold boys are polishing up their offensive maneuvers and plugging weak spots in the defense in daily workouts and everything is shaping up nicely for the coming conference game, Coach L. F. Gresham declared today.

The Shamrock Irishmen have never been in recent years opponents to be underrated. They have won the district pennant for the past two seasons and will likely be among the contenders this season.

While the Irish have not as yet met any major conference foes, they have shown up well in non-conference skirmishes. They have defeated the Lakeview Eagles, the Pannhandle Panthers and the Tullia Hornets by tidy scores. Their goal line has been crossed only by the mighty Blackhaws from Phillips.

The Cyclone's record is spotty but they have shown up well in defeating the Paducah Dragon 30 to 0 and in holding the favored Lefors Pirates to a scoreless tie. They have tasted defeat at the hands of the Lockney Longhorns and Borger's Class AA Bulldogs.

The coming encounter with Shamrock should create much interest among local fans. It is expected that a large crowd will attend the game.

Ed Evans, a mainstay in the Cyclone line, has been suffering with an injured hip, and there is a possibility that he will be out of the contest Friday night. Another of the first string who may not see action is B. F. Jackson

War Hits Memphis Schools in Loss Of Three Teachers

W. A. Foster Resigns; Frank Martin Goes to Army; W. S. Lyon New Junior High Head

The Memphis public school system has lost three teachers within the past two weeks, Supt. W. C. Davis said today, with only one replacement available so far.

W. A. Foster, principal of the Junior high school, has tendered his resignation to take a position in the Memphis post office and will leave the school system Friday.

W. S. Lyon, formerly of Plaska, has been given a contract to take Foster's place and will take charge of the junior high school Monday morning, it is announced. Lyon has been teaching in the Childress schools, but is a Hall County product, having taught several years in schools of the county.

Frank Martin, science teacher in the high school, has been inducted into the army. He is now on his 14-day furlough after physical examination and acceptance at Lubbock, and will leave some time next week to begin his training. Superintendent Davis said that efforts to replace him so far had been unavailing.

HALL COUNTY'S CLUB REPORTS— WEDDINGS

Program on Canada Heard by Members Atalantean Club

With "Canada" as the program topic, the Atalantean Club met Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Myrtis Phelan.

During the brief business session, Mrs. Troy Broome was elected delegate and Mrs. W. C. Dickey was elected alternate to the State convention. The program was introduced by the chairman of program committee, Mrs. Guy Smith, reading the quotation, "No one knows my country, neither the stranger nor its own Canadian sons."

Mrs. D. A. Neeley gave a pictorial review of "The Unknown Country" by Bruce Hutchinson. Taking her listeners on an imaginary tour: quaint old Quebec, the teaming metropolis of Montreal, Ottawa, the capital city, Toronto and Winnipeg, all passed in review. But, Canada has learned that her future depends entirely on "Collective Security."

"Kabloona" by De Poncio was given by Mrs. Jack Jarrell. In her review, she discussed the northernmost part of Canada, King William's land, which is the abode of the true Eskimo. Her revelation highlighted their queer philosophy of life, as well as their mode of living, as indeed strikingly unique in comparison with the Canadian and Americans.

Iced drinks with crisp wafer were served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. E. S. Foote and Mrs. W. C. Dickey.

Those present were Mesdames C. W. Broome, Troy Broome, W. C. Dickey, H. B. Estes, E. S. Foote, N. A. Hightower, Jack Jarrell, Claud Johnson, W. B. Kimberlin, D. J. Morgensen, D. A. Neeley, J. A. Odom, Guy Smith, C. R. Webster, J. A. Whaley and W. Wilson.

The next meeting will be Wednesday, November 4, at 4 o'clock at the home of Mrs. D. A. Neeley.

On the Home Front . . . .

Rubber Saving Aim of Gas Rationing

With two weeks remaining before registration gets under way for gasoline rationing and before trucks and commercial vehicles must have ODT certificates of war necessity in order to operate, all eyes on the Home Front this week turned to the government's mileage rationing plan—a plan which it is hoped will keep all American transportation rolling on rubber tires for essential travel.

Farmers, ranchers and others in the vast spaces of the great Southwest were asking: "Will I get enough gasoline to take my produce to market? Will I be able to haul enough gasoline to look after my stock? May I keep my trailer tires?" These were a few of the questions but hundreds of others were popping up.

Regional Price Administrator, Max McCullough assured farmers they would be allowed plenty of gasoline for their necessary travel. In the Southwest, he pointed out, we are rationing mileage to conserve rubber—not gasoline. The farmer is listed in the "preferred" class by preliminary regulations. He comes near the preferred classification when transporting farm products and necessary farm supplies between farm and market, shipping point or point of delivery, or between one farm establishment and another. If his occupational driving requires more mileage than is permitted with an "A" and "B" book he will be given a "C" book.

The "A" book, which every passenger car owner is entitled to if he owns no more than five tires for each passenger vehicle, is good for 90 miles of personal driving and 150 miles of occupational driving per month. The "B" book permits 320 miles of occupational driving per month. If the two books together still do not take care of the farmer's needs, then he can apply for the "C" book which contains 96 coupons worth four gallons each and is good for a three months' period. It may be well to point out that local boards can "tailor" the books to fit the individual's approximate exact needs. This is done by tearing out coupons or extending the period of time for which a book of coupons is valid. The motorist may get "A" and "B" books, or "A" and "C" books, but not all three.

The government's idle tire purchase plan caused many inquiries to OPA officials. It was emphasized that "A" books will be denied passenger car owners if they possess more than five tires for each passenger car they own. The Railway Express Agency is the official idle tire station. Excess tires are not included in the program but the government will buy them because they are needed badly. Truck-type tires are not included in the program but Uncle Sam will buy them too. Truck-type tires are marked as such on

SELECTED FROM THE DEMOCRAT'S EXCHANGES

Power of Suggestion "Worried Farm Woman" writes The Brand: "Will you please stop peddling some of the publicity on the government wanting so many eggs produced this year? It has given my chickens the idea that they are on a government project. Three hundred of them were on the job yesterday and they produced four eggs.—Hereford Brand.

Comparison It is said that the average age of the man in the armed forces of the United States is 30 years five or six years above World War I average. And do you also know that the average age of worker in the aircraft industry is only 23 years, seven years younger than the men in arms?

The truth about the matter—that there has been a rush of young men into war industries who ought to be in military service. There is no question but that thousands and thousands of young men of military age are in war industries because they do not want to fight and because of the extremely high wages being paid.—Van Stewart in The Ochsleitner County Herald.

Junk the Jukes We've been trying as a nation to think up new ways and means of getting in more scrap metals to junk yards, have even read of public buildings being razed to get reinforcement steel and have all this time overlooked the junk boxes of the nation. From the way music blares forth from most junk boxes we could well do without them for the duration—without involving loss of life or property. In fact the junking of most junk boxes would prove the sweetest music to ears of the general public—believe it or not. Hostesses were Mesdames Mac Tarver, R. S. Greene, J. A. Whaley, H. Smith, T. J. Dunbar, Clyde Milam, C. L. Sloan Jr., Aller Grundy, Roy R. Fultz, Louie Goffinet, R. C. Walker, S. B. Palmeyer, D. L. C. Kinard and Misses Tomye Noel and Jacqueline McMurry.

Guests were greeted at the door by Mrs. Kinard and Miss Jacqueline McMurry. Miss Tomye Noel presided at the guest book.

On the mantle was a miniature bride in white satin reflected in a mirror, entwined with ivy. The bride's chosen colors of blue and gold were carried out in the blue papers and gold mums which adorned the dining room table. Gold flowers in blue bowls were used in the other reception rooms.

Mrs. C. L. Sloan Jr. at the piano, played softly while the guests gathered. As the bride-elect arrived with her mother, Mrs. M. McNeely, and her sisters, Mrs. Alfred Freeman of Eldorado, Ark. and Mrs. C. K. Sensabaugh of Waco, her aunt, Mrs. L. O. O'Rear, entered into the strains of "Anchors Away."

A chorus composed of Mrs. R. S. Greene, Mrs. Clyde Milam, Mrs. Mac Tarver, Mrs. D. L. C. Kinard and Miss Mary Foreman, sang "Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes," "Believe Me If All Those Endearing Young Charms," and "Anchors Away." Mrs. R. S. Greene gave an original poem "Anchors Away."

Women Work— CIVILIAN DEFENSE AUXILIARY

American women are willing to do their part and more, but they are not yet fully awake to the needs and demands of the times. —Mrs. J. W. Walker, president Texas Federation of Women's Clubs.

We have not wanted to say this and have put it off until now—necessity demands. Work at the Red Cross rooms is suffering. Why? One reason is the rural women are not turning in the great amount of production they did a few weeks ago. We wish we had the exact figures to give you of what they have done since Red Cross production started in Hall County. Their large portion would astonish you, especially when compared with the total production. And why are the rural women not producing? Because they are busy with essential work needed now to win the war. They are cooking for hired hands, canning food, picking cotton, cutting feed, driving feed wagons, driving cotton trucks to the gins, and only they know what else. Their work must go on or the nation and our allies will suffer.

We town women are going to have to put in some extra time, or we are going to fall down on the job. Surely we realize that the demands and needs grow as war activities increase. There are not enough women sewing or knitting, there are not enough making surgical dressings. Hall County has never failed to accept and complete its quota. Is it going to come to that now? Perhaps we are thoughtless, we have not realized there is so much to do.

If you have hand knitted garments you are not using please ravel them up, wash and bring them to the sewing rooms. Yarn is needed badly for afghans and lap covers. The school girls want to work but have no materials. With this yarn and the woolen scraps at the rooms, they can make many nice things for the hospitals.

Well, we will make mistakes. Mrs. E. S. Jones should have been listed as assistant teacher in Mrs. Taylor's Sunday School class, instead of Mrs. Wilber Jones as we stated last week. We are just as sorry as can be. Mrs. Wilber Jones is serving in another class. Mrs. W. M. Hillyer of Mrs. Taylor's class gave the Red Cross a lovely quilt top this week. We also want to note that two women, not one, from Lakeview finished the Home Nursing class. They were Mrs. Don Wright and Mrs. Paul McCanne, and deserve much credit for coming to every class, when times are so busy and tires are growing thin.

The articles for the Soldiers kits have been ordered for about six weeks and still they do not come. We must just wait patiently. Gifts are still coming in and most of the kits are made. Received this week: 1013 Study Club $20; Mesdames Lee Rushing, Alla Boswell, E. S. Browning, $1.00 each, and from the downtown stations $8.50.

The Culture Club, $7.00. This is the second gift this club has made to the Kit fund. They no longer serve refreshments at the regular meetings but the hostess pays a hostess fee and this is being turned to the Red Cross. And do you know the women's clubs of Memphis have given $110 to the Kit fund? More power to them.

It will soon be Christmas time. Why not give war savings stamps and bonds instead of spending hours embroidering pillow cases or crocheting tidies? That time could well be spent in making articles needed in hospitals for our wounded soldiers. Some women in Memphis are leading the way. The Little Sewing Club at their regular meeting last Thursday donated the materials and made 5 hospital articles. There were: bedpan covers, bed shoes, hot waterbottle covers, cardtable covers, pillow cases for pillow used in fracture cases, all made in one afternoon. Two afghans also were started. This week the club will meet in the home of Mrs. J. H. Morris and make shirts. Machines will be taken to her home and the shirts, cut and all ready to be made, will be taken from the sewing rooms. What this club does, other groups can do. Think how much can be accomplished. Call in your neighbors, if you cannot go to the sewing rooms, and start some specific work.

Mrs. B. Webster, production chairman, urges every garment possible be finished and returned to the sewing rooms by December 1. She will make the final shipment for 1942 at that date. This gives us plenty of time to finish the garments we have on hand and make others. Let's make this the best shipment of the year.

The business women's class in surgical dressings continues to lead. Fifteen workers were present last Thursday night and over 300 dressings were made. There is still room for a few more in this class and the afternoon classes can use many more.

MECHANIC, REJECTED FOR SERVICE, BECOMES UNOFFICIAL RECRUITER

Sam Privitt has found that there is more than one way to do your part in this war.

Already he has tried to enlist three times. Each time he has been turned down because of a physical disability—varicose veins. Some men might think they had done all they could, but Privitt doesn't look at things that way.

The third time he tried to enlist was after he had heard about the Army Air Forces technician recruiting program. Privitt wanted to become an airplane mechanic. Not satisfied to bring just himself to the Army Air Forces Bombardier school to apply for enlistment, he brought ten other men along with him. Six of these were accepted as technicians, but Privitt was not one of them. He didn't pass the physical.

However, he is still operating as a self-appointed recruiting agent. "Any boy who can get in should know about this chance," Privitt says. "Aviation is the coming thing. The country needs men now to keep the planes flying for the fight. And afterwards airplane mechanics will have plenty to do."

Privitt began doing his part long before December 7. Owner of an automobile paint and body repair shop, he employed boys as apprentices, trained them to be mechanic wise. In three years six boys worked for him. Now all six are in the service—four in the air forces, one in the marines, and one in the armored forces. All are doing maintenance work, except one who is a flying cadet.

But Privitt didn't feel that he was doing enough then. So he wrote the War Department a letter about it.

Last January he told the government that he would donate his shop and equipment for the duration for whatever use they could make of it. The W. P. A. was going to take him up on his offer and use the shop to train women a sheet metal workers, but the project was cancelled when W. P. A. activities were slashed by Congress.

After that Privitt began trying to do his part by enlisting, in spite of doctors who had shaken their heads over his disability for the last 15 years. The Navy said no in August. He couldn't get past the physical examination to serve in the 13th Armored Division Maintenance Battalion a few weeks later. The Air Forces were accepting men with minor physical disabilities to serve as technicians. So he tried that in September. He was refused the third time by the doctor in Lubbock.

However, Privitt has hope again. He is leaving Monday, October 26, for Fort Sill, Okla., as a draftee to have another shot at the physical. If they say no to him there, he knows another way he can do his part. He's going to apply for work at the Bombardier School as a civilian mechanic.

"He says he's come to give himself up." (New Yorker)

COTTON IS IMPORTANT AS FOOD AND FEED AS WELL AS FIBER

No Texan fails to recognize cotton as fiber when he or she sees it, but cotton as food and feed—the valued, important products of the Texas cottonseed—may not be so quickly recognized and appreciated by every Texan, says County Agent W. B. Hooser.

Cottonseed oil, however, is one of America's most important foods of the major fats and oils of which J. B. Hutson, president of the Commodity Credit Corporation, has said: "We must keep in mind continuously that during the last war a shortage of fats and oil in Germany was important in determining the outcome of the war. It is becoming increasingly clear that we cannot afford to take any chances on running short in these supplies."

Americans use about 1.4 to 1.2 billion pounds of cottonseed oil annually, the greatest part of it in the form of vegetable shortening, salad oil, salad dressing and mayonnaise, oleomargarine (margarine), and other foods.

Energy is supplied by cottonseed oil foods and all of our other fats and oils. And, energy is greatly needed in increased amounts, to day as Americans work harder and harder in the armed forces, in the factories or on farms and ranches. Adequate amounts of fat are essential in all diets—in the diets of those who are working harder to produce for victory, fat are of even greater importance.

Giving fats, such as cottonseed oil, a proper place in the diet of every member of the family is one way in which housewives can help to maintain health and vigor and incidentally, make efficient use of one of Texas' own cotton products.

Food comes from the cotton plant in other forms, too. Cotton seed meal, or cake, has been the leading protein concentrate used on Texas farms and ranches for many years. By "balancing" farm grains and roughages of range grasses with the essential protein that is furnished by cottonseed meal or cake, Texas livestock producers increase their production of meat, dairy and poultry products, wool and mohair and even power from well-fed work stock—all products that are essential in the Food for Victory program.

Food for Victory also is being produced by the use of cottonseed hulls in livestock rations. Cottonseed hulls, and easy-to-feed roughage, compare in feeding value with our Johnson grass or other grass hays in Texas, and are extensively used in rations of beef and dairy cattle, work stock and sheep.

NEWS about boys in the Service

Corp. Merle F. Padgett, who is with the U. S. Army Air Forces in India, writes his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Padgett of Memphis, about a flight of locusts that literally "darkened the sun." Hall County boys are seeing some strange sights in the far corner of the earth, but possibly none are stranger than Padgett describes in the following letter:

India, October 6

Dearest Mom and All:

Will try to scribble a few lines to those in the homeland. I guess I am all O. K., although I am plenty hot right at the present.

They say that this month is the hottest of the year and I am beginning to believe it. There is hardly a breath of air stirring.

I saw the most spectacular sight yesterday I have ever seen in my life. The sky was literally filled with millions of millions of locusts. They looked like clouds coming over. The natives nearly went wild with joy. Some said that it meant the end of the monsoons.

Others say that they (the natives) eat the locusts. It was a clear day with not one cloud in the sky, but the place had a kind of darker aspect. I don't know whether they darkened the sun or it was just my imagination.

They didn't stop here, that is, most of them didn't, but went on over farther into the desert. They say that the locusts would eat clothes, tents, anything that got in their path.

Well, mom, I hope everything is O. K. back there. I don't think I'll get to send that package, as the import duty is so high that it would not be worth it. Maybe I'll bring some more with it when I come home. The duty runs as high as 110 per cent.

As always,
Merle.

Work or Fight

If this year's baling wire is not conserved and put into re-use many farmers will not be able to buy baled hay in 1943. D. A. Neeley, chairman Hall County U. S. DA board, said this week.

According to present indications, only a fraction of a normal year's wire supply will be produced for next year, he said.

"This year our baling wire production was nearly 50 per cent greater than in normal times but even at that shortages existed in many areas," Vance said in pointing to the necessity of conserving wire.

To conserve wire, farmers should cut as close to the tie as possible and later the wire should be straightened and placed where it will not rust.

Citing hay deficient areas stockyards and Army remount stations as the three largest hay consumers, Vance pointed to the necessity of their taking particular pains in salvaging baling wire for re-use.

THE PINCH IS COMING

IF THERE are yet people sufficiently optimistic to cling to lingering hopes that the war isn't going to "cramp their style," they are due for a rude awakening—and that shortly—if signs and portents mean anything.

The impending rationing of gasoline, which authorities say will start next month, will not only limit the use of passenger cars, but accompanying regulations are designed to take out of circulation all truck and commercial motor vehicles not considered necessary to the war effort or vital civilian services. In the shortest terms, this means that the owner must furnish proof of the necessity of operating, whether he is operating one truck or a hundred. Only upon submission of such proof will he be issued a Certificate of War Necessity. Furthermore, owners must keep on furnishing such proof.

As for passenger car owners, the amount of fuel allowed them won't be sufficient to permit any pleasure driving. As the whole rationing program is to be set up for the purpose of conserving rubber rather than gasoline, the owner must furnish proof that he has no more than five tires per car.

For most families the rationing of sugar at half a pound per person per week has worked no real hardships, except that Americans have deep-seated aversion to restrictions. In fact, many instances are reported where families have not found it necessary to use all their sugar coupons.

Now it is announced that coffee will go the coupon route the latter part of November. Preliminary announcement on rationing sets the amount allowed at one pound per person each five weeks, which works out, it is said, at about one cup per day. For the true coffee addict, this will be a genuine hardship, although doubtless they'll be just as well off from a health standpoint.

Further rationing of foodstuffs may be expected as time goes on. In many cases rationing won't be necessary. The stuff just won't be there to buy. Locally, bacon is becoming extremely hard to get and shortages in other kinds of meat may be expected. Many lines of canned foods are gradually disappearing from the shelves.

It is fortunate that human beings are able to adapt themselves to almost any condition. It will be hard, of course, to relinquish the comforts and luxuries Americans have so long enjoyed, but it won't be fatal. Remembering the thousands who have been torn away from their homes or bombed out in Europe will make the discomforts and strictures of wartime living easier to bear. In any case, you may as well make the best of it, because there won't be anything else you can do about it.

NEWS about boys in the Service

Well, Mom, I have to go study some trigonometry and code, and then go to bed, so I will say good-bye for a while.

Sgt. Raymond O. Martin writes his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Martin of Memphis, from "somewhere in Africa" that mosquitos are bigger than houseflies, cocconuts are 2 cents each and bananas 3 cents a dozen.

Dear Folks: I just received my mail this morning, I think it was the happiest moment I have spent in years.

I was on the sea from the day we left S. A. till eleven days after your birthday, and never saw even one enemy ship.

When we arrived here I could have sworn I was in "Morning-side." Most natives speak English. All of them call us "master."

We were told before we went down there that they would try to scare us and if we did get scared, no matter how bad, we weren't to move.

I think I can say I have seen big mosquitos now and not be lying. They grow much larger than houseflies here.

I have been to the village four or five times just looking things over. There is plenty to see, but nothing to do.

Well, I guess I had better close for this time. I will write as often as I can. You be sure to do the same.

Curtis Dodson, who is serving with the U. S. Coast Guard, is assigned with two mates to a steamer on the Great Lakes.

Dear Folks: Well, I finally got on a steamer and have already been on four lakes. We are on four hours and off eight, standing our watches in the pilot house.

don't write much. Guess I will get all my mail when we go through the Detroit river.

Boys who join the Navy in the expectation of seeing dusky beauties that look like Dorothy Lamour swimming around in South Sea Island waters are doomed to disappointment, says Curtis Harrel, much traveled former Democrat employee.

I received several letters and would like to have gotten some more. Among he mail was two of The Memphis Democrats, which I enjoyed very much.

I give my congratulations to Mr. Voyles, Billy Fred Rasco, "Barney" Powell, Curt Dodson and the other boys who are joining up and being promoted so fast.

There are several different kinds of wood here that I think you would like to have in your wood work shop. It is very expensive wood in the States, but it grows wild here.

I can tell you of one thing sure! There are no Dorothy Lamours swimming around in the South Sea Islands!

I would like to hear from the boys in service who joined the Coast Guard and the Panhandle Sky-Busters. Here's wishing them lots of good luck.

Matador Editor's Story Over Radio

On Sunday, November 1, Boyce House, the popular Texas news paper and radio columnist will read on his radio program, "I Give You Texas and the Great Southwest" a simply worded but very eloquent tribute to an American sailor "Missing in Line of Duty" written by a family of Texas newspaper publishers about their own son.

This Sunday's program also includes a unique story from the pen of Editor Meador of the Matador Tribune about the last buffalo hunt in Motley County, which occurred, not forty or fifty years ago, but just the other day.

Bombardier School At Childress Will Use Many Civilians

Project Officer Announces First Interviews for Jobs Will Be Held Next Saturday

Hall County men and women who want jobs at the Army Air Forces Bombardier school at Childress should report for interview Oct. 31 in the city council room at the Childress city hall, Lt. Col. J. M. Price, project officer, has announced.

The first civilian employees for the bombardier school will be hired at that time by an air corps officer and a representative of the civil service commission.

The government representative is seeking 30 men for jobs as mechanics, machinists, sheet-metal workers, mechanic learners; 10 men or women for storekeepers; and 10 women for typists or stenographers. These employees will be trained at the Sheppard Field Sub-depot, Wichita Falls, for work in engineering, sub-depot headquarters, and supply department for later employment at the Army Air Forces Bombardier school at Childress.

Qualified personnel will be hired at civil service salaries, effective the date of employment. Employees will report to Sheppard Field at their own expense for the training period and will pay their living expenses while there. During that time they will be paid full salary. At the end of the training period, the men and women will be sent back to Childress for duty at the expense of the government.

"If you are a mechanic, repairman, serviceman, jeweler, radio operator, metalworker, welder, carpenter, canvas worker, you can qualify for an engineering position," said Col. Price.

Men and women who have had experience in stores working with any kind of stock or keeping stock records will be eligible for jobs as storekeepers. Experienced typists or stenographers can qualify for under-clerk typists positions.

Men must have a draft classification of 3-A or below to be eligible for civilian employment at the bombardier school.

Then on Tuesday, W. B. Stargel brought a sweet potato to the office. It weighed 9 1/2 pounds. Mr. Stargel said he has many potatoes weighing nearly as much as the one he brought to town.

al, rubber, etc. to be turned in, although the recent drive brought in a lot of scrap. Tin cans and waste fats will be needed very much. A representative of the War Production Board this morning displayed a half pound of tin which had been taken from 400 No. 2 cans. The tin is worth more than gold. In fact, there is no price to be put on it, for it is precious and needed badly in making certain things for the war effort. Tin cans will be called for in a few months.

In the meantime, wash the cans remove the labels and cut the top and bottom from cans, place them in the can and flatten. Store them in a dry place and save. This is urgent.

Quite a lot of old keys have been brought to The Democrat office lately. There should be thousands more lying around the homes in and around Memphis. Why not bring them in and let them go into service for Uncle Sam?

Many subscribers to The Democrat are renewing their subscriptions these days. As announced last week there will be no reduction campaign this year, due to the extra cost of publication over last year.

Registration—

School officials have been requested by the county board to cooperate in the registration, as was done in the sugar rationing registration last May.

Schools will not need to be dismissed during the registration.

Sloan said the board has completed setting up a fuel rationing panel to handle applications and other matters which the mileage rationing program will entail. "Those who feel that they are entitled to a supplemental ration provided for by the 'D' or 'C' books should obtain another application form for this at the place of registration where the 'A' book is issued," he explained.

He emphasized that every passenger car owner must sell to the Government before November 12 all tires over the five for each vehicle. "That means," he explained "that the car owner is allowed one tire for each running wheel and one spare for the car. A registrar cannot issue him a mileage rationing book for that car if he owns tires in excess of that number."

Should be turned in before November 12 to a local Railway Express Agency, which will tag the tire and the seller will receive a check from the Government, or if he chooses, the Government will pay him in bonds or stamps.

Commercial vehicles, trucks and farm trucks must obtain a Certificate of War Necessity from the Office of Defense Transportation before they are registered for mileage rationing with the local War Price and Rationing Board. The ODT has mailed these forms to all owners of commercial vehicles that were registered last December 31. Persons who have not received these application forms should write immediately to the nearest ODT field office. In Texas these offices are located at Dallas, San Antonio, Houston, Lubbock and Austin. As soon as this form is received it should be mailed back to the ODT in time for the applicant to receive a Certificate of War Necessity by November 15, when it will become mandatory that every commercial vehicle and truck carry one of these certificates at all times.

4-H Club Members Boost War Effort In Various Ways

Production of Food, Scrap Collection Among Multitude Of Activities of Farm Boys

National 4-H Achievement Week, to be observed in this and other states from November 7 to 14, will mark a record of high achievement by members of Texas 4-H boys' club.

A survey by J. W. Potts, assistant state boys club agent for the A. and M. College extension service, shows that the boys increased their productive demonstration in 1942, and were active in many special war programs. Outstanding is their contribution to the collection of scrap. Through September, the 31,185 club members in 240 counties gathered an estimated 11,490,480 pounds of metal, 663,840 pounds of paper, burlap and rags, and 1,728,960 pounds of rubber.

Regardless of this impressive record, collecting scrap was something of a side line with Texas club boys. As older brothers were drawn into the nation's armed forces and defense work they moved into the gaps left in the man power on the farms. A total of 26,640 performed extra labor in production of needed food supplies in addition to conducting their several club demonstrations.

Among other activities and achievements are: 11,040 boys cooperated with local defense agencies; 13,200 cared for or repaired farm machinery; 3,600 took first aid or home nursing courses; and 7,440 took part in fire prevention activities.

Potts says that while figures on all livestock sales this year are not available, a group of calves from Young and Baylor counties sold in late September brought $17 a hundredweight on the Fort Worth market. This was the highest price paid on that market since 1926.

pirates, but lacked the punch a critical moments to push across a score.

In the opening stanza Lawrence intercepted a Lefors pass to dash within 30 yards of the Lefors goal, but the ball went to Lefors of downs.

Lefors covered a Cyclone fumble early in the second quarter on the Memphis 10-yard line for their best opportunity to get a counter but the local boys held for two downs and Clark intercepted a pass to regain the ball. On the next down a Memphis back fumbled and for a second time Lefors had the ball in the danger zone. The Cyclone held with almost ridiculous ease and recovered the ball on downs.

In the final quarter an exchange of punts left Lefors in possession on their own 20. On the next down the Pirates fumbled and Stevens recovered. Butler sifted through the line on a fake to Lefors' 8-yard stripe, but on the next two plays Huggins failed to gain and Jackson was tackled behind the line.

In the fading minutes of the game, Memphis recovered another Lefors fumble within the 20-yard zone, but failed in an attempt to score by air.

The starting lineups were as follows:

Pirates: Vanlandingham and Jimmie London, ends; Hext and Browning, tackles; Nipper and Ray, guards; McCullick, center; Wayland Hughes, W. L. Hughes, Don Clemons and Jackie London backfield.

Cyclone: Doss and Clark, ends; Evans and Shirley, tackles; Robertson and Stevens, guards; Bruce, center; Butler, Lawrence, Jackson and Huggins, backfield.

Dealers should retain the inventory figures for insertion in a return form which will be forwarded to them when they are received from the printer by the office of Internal Revenue Service at Dallas, according to W. A. Thomas, collector. These return forms are required to be filed and the tax paid on or before December 31, 1942.

The floor stock tax rates on cigarettes will be 25 cents per thousand for small cigarettes and 60 cents per thousand for large cigarettes (weighing more than three pounds per thousand). The cigar taxes, based on retail prices will range from 50 cents to $6.50 per thousand.

All Sales Rubber Boots Restricted

Sales of men's rubber boots and rubber work shoes even by mail order may be made now only to those persons who surrender ration, certificates. C. L. Sloan, chairman of the Hall County War Price and Rationing Board announced today.

Sloan explained that the special provision under which mail order houses and others have been permitted to ship rubber footwear to customers whose orders were post-marked before midnight, September 2 has been withdrawn.

"This special provision for shipment by mail order without collecting a certificate from the customer was made originally in order to give time for clearance of orders that were in the mail before the effective date of the freeze of sales which rationing began," Sloan said. "Ample time for that clearance has elapsed so this special provision has been revoked effective Oct. 15."

It became evident to the Red Cross officials that the larger chapters were not sufficient to meet the rapidly becoming emergency of war.

Red Cross officials that there is a big change in the needs of the war, with the best of care, a thinkable American will be permitted to supply of dressings.

The Hall County Chapter has been called upon for 25,000 dressings in two delivered during October.

An appeal is made to patriotic women of volunteer in larger numbers to take up this vital work to meet the quota is to be fighting men down.
