Highway Officers Issue Chauffeur's Licenses Here

Applications Received At Courthouse Every Tuesday Morning

George C. Pearce and O. K. Huddleston, state highway department officers with the license division, were in Memphis Tuesday morning examining applicants for chauffeur's licenses, and announced that they would be at the county courthouse here every Tuesday from 9 until 12 noon for that purpose.

Examinations are given in the sheriff's office on the first floor of the courthouse. Pearce and Huddleston are stationed at Childress, and are in charge of this sector.

Chauffeur's licenses expiring within the next two or three weeks may be renewed ahead of time, Pearce said, warning that drivers may find it a convenience to apply for licenses before the expiration date to avoid being caught without one.

"No orders have been received in regard to renewing operator's licenses," Huddleston emphasized, and until some action is taken by this session of the legislature, none can be issued by highway department officials.

"All operators' licenses now in effect expire on April 1 of this year," the officer stated, "regardless of the date when they were issued."

Huddleston also issued a warning to local drivers to have their lights checked regularly. The department is going to begin making arrests and levying fines immediately for defective lights, he said, pointing out that a large per cent of the automobile accidents occurring at night are caused by defective lights.

He also requested that all drivers exercise common courtesy by dimming their lights when meeting a car on the highways at night. Highway department officers have been conducting a rigid and increasingly successful campaign to reduce traffic fatalities in the state.

Memphis Masons Call Meetings

Two called meetings will be held by the Memphis Masonic Lodge at the Masonic Temple here this week and next, N. W. Durham announced Wednesday.

Members of surrounding lodges will assist at the meeting next week, and degree work will be given in full regalia. All Masons of Memphis and this territory are invited to attend the meeting, Durham said.

W. W. Jenkins Is Employed Here

W. W. Jenkins has been added to the maintenance department of the Southwestern Associated Telephone Company here this week, company officials announced Monday.

He has been employed by the company offices at Quitaque as "trouble shooter" for that district, and will work in a similar capacity here.

ALLOTMENT OF $95,000 MADE BY REA BOARD

Final Approval Is
Granted for 112
Miles of Line

Officials of the Rural Electrification Administration in Washington last Friday granted final approval on an application by the Hall County Electric Co-operative for 112 miles of electric line and allotted $95,000 for completion of the project in this county, Otho Fitzjarrald, attorney for the Hall County board, announced Tuesday.

Completion of negotiations and right-of-way easements on a part of the designated route are the only objects remaining to be cleared before bidding can be opened and contracts let, Fitzjarrald said.

"We expect to have electricity going to at least part of the 289 approved subscribers by the first of June," he predicted.

The local co-operative has already begun negotiations to extend the lines south of the river into precincts 3 and 4, and its officers expect to add at least 100 additional subscribers and build more than 250 miles of electric line in this county before the project is completed.

Extension of the lines into the southern half of the county is the next step to be taken by the co-operative, and it is believed that federal approval and additional funds can be obtained as soon as the required number of subscribers are obtained in that sector.

Brick Work Starts On New Gymnasium At High School

Contractors Hope to Complete Building by Early Spring Date

Walls of the new $28,000 Memphis high school gymnasium are rising rapidly now as workmen last week started laying brick on all sides, and R. C. Cato, superintendent of construction for M. W. Hibbs, Wichita Falls contractor, said Tuesday morning that unless bad weather interferes the new building should be completed early in March.

Foundations for the building were completed last week and the brick work started immediately. All window and structural steel is now on the ground, Cato said. Fourteen men are now employed on the construction of the new building.

Contract for the new combination gymnasium-auditorium was awarded to M. W. Hibbs by the Board of Trustees of the Memphis schools last November. Funds for the building are supplied by a PWA grant and a local bond issue.

No definite plans have been made at this time as to the disposal of the old gymnasium in the high school building, Superintendent W. C. Davis said Tuesday. The space will be used for some phase of the school activities, however.

Members of the Charles K. Simmons Post of the American Legion will be entertained by Captain F. W. Maxwell and members of the Veterans CCC Camp at the Legion hall Thursday evening, January 12, Otis E. Jones, post commander, announced this week. The gathering is scheduled for 7:30 p. m. J. A. Shriver, formerly of Haskell, arrived in Memphis this week and announced plans for opening a new and modern cash grocery at a location on the east side of the square at an early date.

Shriver plans a formal opening of the new store for Saturday, January 14.

Shriver has been in the grocery business at Haskell for more than twenty years. Jerry Carmichael, who has been associated with him in the grocery and market business at Haskell, will be in charge of the market at the new store, Shriver said.

The men are busily engaged this week in remodeling and modernizing fixtures and building in preparation for opening the store.

Mr. and Mrs. Shriver moved to Memphis this week from Haskell. Mr. Shriver stated that he is well-pleased with the city, and that he had picked this location after visiting many places in West Texas, as the best in this section of the country.

Announcement of the opening will be made in The Democrat next week.

CHURCHES

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Most gratifying to have had splendid and attentive audiences last Sunday. Bring your families to Sunday School and to the church service next Sunday and enlist others in attendance.

Your part in every department will inspire and help greatly by faithful regular attendance.

Wilberforce said: "Lord, for tomorrow and its needs, I do not pray; But keep me, guide me, Lord just for today."

George Washington said: "Labor to keep alive in your breast that little spark of celestial fire—conscience."

There is some place for you to fill, some work for you to do. That no one can or ever will, do quite as well as you." Anon.

Every member of the church has a place in its work. Surely you do not want others to do your work. Special music next Sunday.

E. C. Cargy, Pastor.

CHURCH OF CHRIST

W. M. Davis, Minister

At the morning service next Sunday, the subject of the sermon will be, "The Plan of Salvation."

What God does, what Christ does, what the Holy Spirit does, and what man must do, will be the outstanding points of the sermon.

At the evening service the subject will be "Lies." In this age of materialistic philosophy, men are trying to make themselves safe in a refuge of lies which Isaiah says the Lord will wash away with a flood.

The Sunday morning Bible school assemblies at 9:45 o'clock. The women's Bible class meets Tuesday at 3:30 p. m. The mid-week Bible study will be Wednesday at 7:30 p. m.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

The pastor will preach at both services on Sunday. Now that the holidays are over we are hoping that every one will find the regular places in all the services. The attendance was almost up to par last Sunday, but ought to have been better. Resolve now that you will let nothing interfere with your being present for every meeting during the New Year.

The Sunday school, the B. T. U., mid-week meeting, and the two worship services need you each and every week, and then several of the monthly meetings need your active and prayerful support. One can get much more out of his Christianity by really working at it. Your pastor, and the workers in the several departments are expecting you to do your part.

NEWLIN

By MRS. FRED HEMPHILL

This being the season of New Year resolutions, Be it Resolved: That this column will be published as often as physically possible for the especial benefit of my one reader in Murfreesboro, Tenn., my three readers in T. W. C. Port Worth, two in McMurry at Abilene, two in Galveston, four in Whittier, Calif., and one east of town and my very best wishes for a very happy and prosperous New Year to each of you.

A letter last week from friends some fifteen hundred miles away stated how very much the Pioneer Edition was enjoyed and how two former Newlin lads (who are now mature men) searched for familiar faces to fit names in the 1911 Newlin school picture. (And Mr. Editor, I have been asked a number of times for additional copies of the Pioneer Edition. Are they still available?) Ed. Note—Yes. A limited number of copies are still available at 10c each.

School news is scarce at this early date after the holidays with most children regretfully leaving dolls, wagons, skates, and various other toys to begin their studies again. A break in gas lines early Monday caused shivering youngsters to leave cold classrooms and seek warmth in the sun, and the daily hot lunch had to be postponed until about 2:30. The delay caused an extra refill of bowls and cups.

Jack Nelson, proud father of young Benny Estes, his 7-week-old son, declared before his arrival that he would not bore his friends by telling of the cute things his son did, but says he believes now that it is the smartest baby he ever saw and that he thinks he knows him.

After about a month's hard work by some twenty very loyal members the new M. E. parsonage is now complete with the exception of the porches. Each freshly painted floor and polished floor means to some one hours of scrubbing and painting. To the young peoples club goes the credit for raising funds for the new bedroom suite and kitchen rug. The W. M. S. of Newlin and Bethel, donated the livingroom furniture, and each article of furniture was re-finished, ready for occupancy, by the new pastor who returned from his Christmas vacation in Florida early Sunday. A list of the donors who made the parsonage possible will be published at an early date in this column.

Bill Crabtree had the misfortune of being on the "receiving end" of a boxing glove that sent him head first into a sharp obstacle that cut a deep gash in his left eyebrow Saturday while sparring with one of his chums. The injury was dressed, but will probably leave a sizable scar.

Mrs. Doc Messick has a testimonial that any hosiery firm would gladly pay her well for. She recently hung a pair of hose on her clothes line which her son's pet dog spied tossing in the wind. He pulled them down and played with them and carried them off and they could not be found for several days. When they were found the hose were none the worse for the adventure and did not contain a single "run."

Christmas to many adults only means a homecoming and to Mrs.

John Sims at Hedley it meant the reunion of all her children for the first time in 20 years: Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Sims and children of Newlin and Mr. and Mrs. Horace Sims of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. Mac Sims of near Hedley and Buster Sims of Ashtola, and Mrs. Teddy Blair of near Jericho.

Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Lawrence had three children in their home for the holidays: Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Schiebe and children of Wichita Falls and Miss Jerry Lawrence also of Wichita Falls, and Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Lawrence and son Jimmy Lee of Lawrence, Okla. in Throckmorton schools spent the holidays with relatives here.

Miss Agnes Nelson of Murfreesboro, Tenn., spent the holidays with her mother and Mrs. Mary Nelson and sisters here, returning to her home Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Tucker and G. W. Tucker of Space spent the week-end with relatives here.

Mr. and Mrs. Felton Harper and son Roy Lee and Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Glover and daughter Sue Lynn spent Christmas here with relatives.

J. E. Townsend made a business trip to Bowie last week returning Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Shelton had as their guests for Christmas their daughter and family Mr. and Mrs. Bob Whittington and girls, of near El Paso.

Mrs. Cecil Hunter who has been in a hospital in Memphis for the past month has improved considerably and will be able to be brought home soon. Her parents Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Admire are caring for her small son Billy Lee.

Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Williford returned Sunday from a trip to Houston.

Local Men Attend Sales Meeting

Ottie F. Jones, Bill M. ... and Rufus Crooks of the Wagon Platter Wholesale Grocery here, attended a sales meeting of the employees of that company at Fort Worth last week.

The local party returned to Memphis Friday. Adolphus Andrews, vice-admiral of the United States Navy and president of Wagon Platter, was one of the outstanding speakers at the meeting, Jones said. Admiral Andrews left Fort Worth last week for the Pacific Coast, where he is now directing naval maneuvers as commander of the Pacific fleet.

Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Stuckey of Wichita Falls visited Miss Inez Massey here Monday evening.

Jack Burt, member of the staff of the local Forest Service office here spent the holidays in Des Moines, Iowa.

Especially do we want to thank those who so kindly prepared and served us the nice dinner, and for the tribute of lovely flowers which made our grief and loss easier to bear. May God's richest blessings be bestowed upon you, one and all.

Forest Service Officials View Local Shelterbelt Project Favorably

Jerome Dahl and Hyman Goldberg of the U. S. Forest Service state office at Wichita Falls were in Hall County last week looking over the local shelterbelt project. Accompanying them was Edgar H. Kemp, who is in charge of the district office at Childress. Both Dahl and Goldberg were well pleased with the cooperation shown by farmers in this county, stated I. F. Pearce, in charge of the sub-district office here.

Many farmers are signing up for the shelterbelt project in Hall County, Pearce said, and prospects are good for rapid progress in the work which will include planting of one million trees as a part of the gigantic shelterbelt program in this county.

Two staff-members of the local office in the First National Bank Building moved to Memphis last week-end, and have established permanent residence here. J. C. Parker, planting foreman, moved with his family here Sunday, and Jack Burt, in charge of land negotiation and site selection work, moved to Memphis from Childress last Thursday.

Dwight Leyson, another member of the supervisory personnel, is in charge of all planting and nursery work. He and Mrs. Leyson are also residing in Memphis.

Wayne Wood, clerk for the local office, is a recent addition to the Memphis staff. Mr. Wood, whose home is in Iowa, was transferred here recently from North Dakota, where he has been employed by the Forest Service in a similar capacity.

Fifty men are now employed on shelterbelt operations in this county, and plans are being made to increase the quota to sixty-five men as soon as large-scale planting gets underway.

Part of ROW for Highway Secured

Negotiations for right-of-way in Hall County for the Childress-Hall County farm-to-market road, which is now under construction on the Childress County end, are progressing, according to County Judge M. O. Goodpasture.

The Hall County officials closed this week with G. H. Smith and Seth B. Palmeyer and Farmers Union are ready to close, it was stated. The officials are anxious to complete the remainder of the right-of-way from Memphis east in short order so that construction may be ordered.

Mrs. L. P. Hollifield is confined to her home this week suffering from injuries received in a fall Wednesday. Although her injuries are not deemed serious, Mrs. Hollifield is not able to be up.

Health Accounts Should Balance Too, Says Doctor

State Health Officer Urges Texans Ck Up on Health N

At this season of year business men are balancing their accounts for 1933. Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, asks that everyone look to their health account and see if it is in balance. No doubt most men have overdrawn their health accounts in many ways and dies are to escape health bankruptcy.

The best thing to do is go to your family physician and have him give you a rough examination. Diabetes, Bright's disease, heart trouble, precocious anemia, internal tumors and syphilis are among the diseases sometimes discovered in examinations of supposedly well men.

After such audit your doctor will assist you making a health budget. This should include plenty of rest, fair exercise, proper food, moderation in the items used in excess in the past. If this is done you will not only add years to your life but will make these years more worth living and enjoyable.

Great steps have been made by health agencies in lengthening man's span of life. There is much yet to be done but the health departments need the cooperation of everyone. Each citizen should become a stely interested in his own health. The State appropriates five cents for each person's health. This may be tripled and health made personal matter before Texans say that it is the healthiest stain in the Union.

Commended and Rebuked

The International Uniform
Sunday School Lesson for Jan. 8.
Text: Matthew 16:13-25.

"PETER commended and rebuked" seems to sum up a great deal in the life of apostle, during his life as an earthly association with our Lord and later as founder of the Christian Church.

Later on we shall find Peter, after his Master who commended and rebuked him in love had been crucified, commended by the greatness of the Pentecost when he preached at Pentecost but rebuked ignominiously in the vision on the housetop, as he was still in his pride and narrowness disposed to be a respecter of men and to call unclean the things that God had cleansed. How much these words concerning Peter—"commended and rebuked"—might apply to us all for which one of us has not something to be commended and a great deal to be rebuked!

THE words in which Jesus replied to Peter have been the occasion of a great controversy in history and in some measure a division of the Christian Church. The Roman Catholic Church interprets these words with considerable literalness and establishes its authority upon the succession to Peter as the first bishop of the Christian Church the man to whom Jesus committed the keys of the Kingdom of Heaven. Protestants interpret the words in a more spiritual and mystical sense.

They point to the fact that almost immediately afterwards Jesus rebuked Peter with the startling words, "Get thee behind me, Satan." They take the whole passage as one, and they regard as the rock upon which the Church is built not the weak and impulsive Peter but the Peter of the moment of that great confession and the faith that Peter expressed. They point to the fact that it is by the words and acts of the disciples of Jesus that the Kingdom of Heaven is advanced or retarded, and that, much as Christians might wish to be relieved of the responsibility, they do by their own words and actions bind or loosen it.

PERHAPS we could give altogether too much importance to questionable interpretations. The one thing that is sure is that no church on earth—no matter what its name or its profession—will, in truth and reality, represent the Kingdom of Heaven on earth except as the Kingdom of Heaven is enshrined in its life and its teachings. The great truth concerning Christians and Christianity is that "if any man have not the spirit of Christ, he is none of this." In all churches and in all creeds wherever men have found the manifestation of God and have yielded themselves in devotion and consecration, the Kingdom of Heaven has become established in their hearts and in their relationships.

Keeping Cured Meat at Its Best

By T. C. RICHARDSON, Secretary
Breeder-Feeder Association

It is not necessary to have cured hams and bacon dry or re-iced in summer, as they do when left hanging in the smokehouse until used. Our old friend cotton plays a new role in good eating, and certainly cotton growers should be interested in any method that enables them to use more of their own product to advantage, as they have long done in cooking oils and compounds, and more lately in margarine. It has been found that refined cottonseed oil is a superior meat preservative. Ask for refined cottonseed or cooking oil in bulk, or five gallon cans, at your grocer's. Since it can be used over, the cost of preserving meat in this manner is not excessive.

The Lubbock (Texas) Experiment Station gives the following suggestions for West Texas conditions, and they will doubtless apply to most of the Southwest. "Hams can be properly cured by leaving them in the cure two days for each pound the ham weighs; for example, a fifteen-pound ham will cure in thirty days. Bacons will cure in one day for each pound—eight pounds, eight days, etc. When the meat is removed from the cure the excess salt is washed off with clean, cool water, the meat is then soaked in fresh well water for a period of two hours for hams and one hour for bacons. Use fresh water for each batch of meat, as the water becomes salty with use."

"The meat is then hung up to drip and dry over night before smoking. Smoking is not absolutely necessary before placing the meat in storage, but is desirable. After the smoking is completed the meat should be allowed to cool. Then pack it in any suitable container—the crock jar, the lard can, or the oak barrel; the crock jar is preferable."

"After the meat is well packed in the container the refined cottonseed oil is poured in until the meat is completely covered. Where a hundred pounds of meat is packed into one container it will require about four gallons of oil. A cover of some kind should be placed on the container to keep out dirt or other foreign material. Store it in a cool, dry, well ventilated place such as a cellar or dugout."

Meat stored in this manner will not dry out, mould, or shrink. It will not become rancid or excessively salty, and insect damage is eliminated. Bacons will absorb some of the cottonseed oil if kept in it too long, but hams will keep three years if necessary. It is recommended that bacon be used or removed from the oil after about six months.

The Lubbock station has used the same oil for two years without its becoming rancid. It is not yet known how often it can be used, but a method of restoring the oil to its neutral or non-rancid condition is being worked out. The cottonseed oil method of storing cured meat has been successfully used as far south as the Gulf Coast, and for long enough time to demonstrate its efficacy. It makes no difference what method of curing is used—dry salt, sugar cure, smoked or unsmoked, the oil keeps the meat in the condition in which it comes from the cure. The better the cure, the better the meat, of course, but after all, that juicy, fresh-cured taste will not be retained unless some method of preserving it is employed. The cottonseed oil bath excludes fungous molds, insects, the the drying-out effects of the air.

Home-cured hams and bacon may be the best in the world, or the most unpalatable. Certainly nobody enjoys rancid bacon, or dry, salty ham, such as the best "home-cured" becomes in time if left as it comes from the cure or the smoke-house.
