COUNTY FARM BOARD URGES THAT FARMERS COMPLY WITH PROGRAM

The Hall County Agricultural Board, elected recently by Hall County farmers, this week urged all farmers to sign work sheets before April 20. The county board has asked the state board to set that date as the deadline for signing the work sheets in Hall County.

A number of other counties in this area asked that work sheets be signed by April 7. Early signing of the forms would allow the board to make the adjustments in acreage allotments before planting time. This would enable the farmers to plant their crops to their best advantage.

Approximately 825 Hall County farmers have already signed the work sheets to show that they expect to take part in the 1937 farm program, County Agricultural Agent R. E. L. Pattillo stated.

Director Southern Agriculture Division Urges Farmers Comply With Farm Plan

Following is a copy of a letter received by county farm agents of this section from C. A. Cobb, director of the Southern Division of the United States Department of Agriculture:

"Reports reaching this office from states in the southern region indicate a crisis has been reached in our effort to maintain a balanced production in our major cash crops. Farmers are evidencing a marked tendency to increase the acreage planted to cotton, tobacco, and peanuts. Fertilizer sales have shown a sharp increase.

"I am afraid advancing prices for some of our commodities, particularly cotton, have caused southern farmers to forget the situation which brought about five-cent cotton, $8 a ton cottonseed, and prices for other commodities on the same low starvation scale. Because of the seriousness of the situation, I am convinced we must make a further special effort to let every farmer in the belt understand that material increase in cotton acreage this season could easily place cotton producers in a position similar to that in which they found themselves in 1933. Despite the fact that the burdensome surplus of American cotton has been reduced, our carry-over of approximately seven million bales is still two million bales above normal.

New London Blast Scenes At Palace Theater Here Soon

Scenes from the new London school disaster in which 456 students and teachers were killed will be shown at the Palace Theatre at the Saturday-night preview this week and on Sunday and Monday, Hollis Boren, theatre manager, has announced.

The news reel scenes will be of particular interest here, as several citizens of this section had relatives to die in the terrible gas blast of last month.

"The estimated world supply of all cotton for the present season was over 42 million bales. In only one other year, 1933, has the supply equaled or exceeded this. The world supply and world demand for cotton largely determine the price that American growers receive. The world consumption of all cotton during 1935-36 was 27.4 million bales. This total world consumption exceeded that of any other single year, but was about two and three-fourths million bales less than the world production of cotton in 1936. It is evident at this time that world consumption of all cotton during 1936-37 will not equal the production of 1936, which means a larger world carry-over of all cotton into the 1937-38 season. This carry-over and the 1937 crop will determine the supply and price.

"The only way we can avoid another season of excessive supplies and low prices is through the wholehearted cooperation of all cotton producers in the Agricultural Conservation Program. Unless farmers help themselves by diversifying cotton acreage to soil-conserving crops, there is nothing the government can do to maintain the balanced production necessary to obtain reasonable prices.

13 HALL COUNTY EMPLOYERS PAY

Texas Unemployment Act To Set Up Accounts For 246 Hall County Workers

AUSTIN.—Contributions under the Texas Unemployment Compensation Act are being made by 13 employers in Hall County, Chairman-Director Orville S. Carpenter has announced.

Contributions from these employers will set up unemployment benefit accounts for 246 workers in Hall County.

The Commission's activities in Hall County are under the direction of B. H. Thompson, district field man, who has headquarters in the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce office. All employers who have problems arising under the Texas Unemployment Compensation Act are requested to call on Mr. Thompson for assistance, Mr. Carpenter declared.

The Texas Unemployment Compensation Commission was established by an act of the Texas Legislature, which was signed by Gov. James V. Allred on October 27, 1936. In five months of operation the Commission has collected approximately $7,000,000 from 11,707 Texas employers. All money collected from employers will be used to establish benefit accounts for more than 600,000 workers, while all operating expenses of the Texas Commission are paid by the Federal Social Security Board, Carpenter pointed out.

The next payment to the Texas Commission will be due April 25 when Texas employers who are subject to the act must pay a tax of one and eight-tenths per cent on their total payrolls for the months of February and March, 1937.

To The Cotton Growers Memphis Territory

We, the undersigned ginners, believing it our duty to our customers keep them advised as to marketing conditions of cotton, deem it ad at this time to circulate the following information:

During the past few years with low price cotton, short staple sold exporter for only about $2.50 per bale below the price for 15-16 inch Ginnners, eager for patronage, in many cases, paid the same price for short cotton as they paid for the better staple. In each case the ginner that amount out of the ginning for that bale. Now, since the price of has advanced to higher levels, the discount on short staple has increased about $15.00 per bale, it will be impossible for the ginners to absorb loss with the amount received for ginning, because the amount received ginning does not amount to that much.

At present there is practically no demand for short cotton. Many know that there are several thousand bales on the Memphis Compress short to sell.

The large proportion of short staple cotton grown in Hall County the Memphis Territory in the past has seriously injured our local market. Made with a recent losses of our foreign markets, together with the refusal of most American spinners to buy our short staple cotton, has brought us face to face with one of the most serious cotton marketing situations of all times.

We earnestly request all our customers to secure good staple cotton seed for their ENTIRE COTTON ACREAGE. We believe the cost investment and not an expense.

We hereby guarantee to you that we will pay for good staple cotton the best price and premium the market will justify, and that we will be for buy the short staple cotton at short staple discounts, as we can't absorb losses.

We pledge our full support and cooperation in this movement.

The management of the entire office; then Tom Wood gave them a thorough lecture on printing, demonstrating his points as he went. At the close of his lecture he presented each student with a sheet of the printing that he had done. They prized these copies very highly.

At Russell's Meat Market, Grover Kesterson explained electric refrigeration, purchasing market animals, cutting meat, and certain organs such as the heart, liver, and brain. Mr. Perkins, of the Perkins Mattress Factory, showed them his cotton cleaning and renovating machine, demonstrated the manufacture of a mattress, and explained the difference between a mattress built entirely of cotton and one built upon springs. W. R. Cabaness and M. E. Rule conducted the students through the West Texas Utilities Company. There they saw the washing machine, the electric cook stove, iron, and other devices. Then they were taken through the ice factory and shown every feature from distilling the water to the sale of the ice.

At the Gate City Creamery Ira Lawrence explained separating cream, making butter, refrigeration; peeling, slicing, and frying potato chips. Alfred Cook took them to the operating room of the Ritz Theatre where a picture was being shown. There he discussed the production of sound, the making of films, the magnifying lens, and other items of the picture industry. At the Gerlach Gin, W. M. Gerlach escorted them through the gin, going into minute detail in describing, illustrating, and explaining every step in the process of ginning cotton. Since this industry was the one which came the nearest to their own financial lives, more time was spent here than at any other place.

At the Cotton Oil Mill F. N. Foxhall directed them through the plant, showing them first the seed storage, the conveyors, the elevators, the power machines, then the step-by-step procedure of manufacturing cottonseed cake, meal, and oil. Lowery Johnson showed

District Interscholastic League Meet To Be Held In Childress On Saturday

CHILDRESS.—Plans for the district 4 interscholastic league district literary and athletic meet in Childress Saturday are virtually complete. Supt. A. W. Adams, of Childress, district director, has announced.

Hundreds of students and teachers from schools in nine counties of this section will be here for the annual event.

Tennis matches will start Friday morning at the high school courts, but all other events will be staged on Saturday. All literary events will be at the high school building Saturday and the track and field meet will be held at the Fair Park, starting Saturday morning. Volleyball contests will be in the city auditorium.

Counties in the district are Hall, Briscoe, Motley, Collingsworth, Cottle, King, Foard, Hardeman, and Childress.

Winners in the county league contests in the nine counties will be eligible to enter the events in the district meet, and the district winners will go to the regional meet at Canyon the following week.

This will be the second year of the one-day plan for the district meet. Previous to last year events were held on two days, but

WEDDING OF MISS LEISE GALLOWAY AND LYMAN E. ROBBINS TAKES PLACE AT KILGORE APRIL 3rd

A wedding of unusual beauty took place Saturday evening, when Miss Leise Galloway, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Franklin Galloway, of Mercedes, Robbins, of Jefferson, at Woodbine Lodge, country home of Judge C. R. Starnes, near Kilgore. The Rev. Cecil Lang, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, Kilgore, performed the double ring ceremony.

The couple took their vows before an altar banked with fern and palms and flanked by cathedral tapers burning in wrought iron candelabra. White stock and flowering dogwood were further room decorations.

Mrs. Gene Ames gave the traditional wedding music, playing softly throughout the ceremony.

Calvin Starnes, son of Judge Starnes, sang the bridal solo, "Ah Sweet Mystery of Life," by Victor Herbert.

The bride who was given in marriage by Judge Starnes wore a stunning fur-trimmed Bermuda tan suit with coronation blue accessories. Her corsage was lavender orchids.

Mrs. Frank Cheeseborough of Kilgore was the bride's only attendant. Tom E. Foster, Kilgore publisher, was best man.

Immediately following the ceremony Judge Starnes complimented the wedding party and a few close friends with a wedding supper.

Mrs. Robbins, former society editor of The Kilgore Daily News, attended the University of Missouri and Texas A. and I. at Kingsville. Mr. Robbins, general manager of the Jefferson Implicate, attended the University of Texas.

Mr. Robbins is well known in this section of the country, having been connected with The Democrat several years and was publisher of The Daily Democrat for one and one-half years.

Note to Women of Memphis and Hall County

This limited stock of finer dresses have been only slightly soiled by dust storms... in some cases not even enough to need dry cleaning.

It is your opportunity to purchase fine, higher valued dresses at vast reductions at Rosenwasser's loss and your gain.

The close-outs include various sizes in a number of different styles of materials and colors. A sport dress, a fashion dress or a street dress at a price so low that any woman can afford to pay.

Remember they are only slightly soiled, but just enough so that Rosenwasser's can't afford to sell them at their original value without the risk of losing the public's confidence, favor and Good Will.

We don't misrepresent our merchandise in advertising, so we frankly say—these dresses are slightly soiled, but they are real values at $2.98.

Evening Dresses

Among the group of soiled dresses are several evening dresses in assortments of sizes and styles. These, too, must be sacrificed, so Rosenwasser's take the loss and pass them on to you at a saving of as much as $9 on many of them. Like the other dresses, they are dust-soiled and can not be sold at their original price. You will have to hurry to get one of these splendid buys... marked down to $2.98.

TEXANS BENEFIT FROM SOCIAL SECURITY LAW

payments will begin in January 1938.

Powell stated that under the State-Federal old-age assistance program approximately 120,000 of the state's needy aged during March received cash allowances from funds provided in part by Texas, and in part by the Federal Government. It is estimated that in March it paid out from combined Federal and State funds a total of $1,800,000 for old-age assistance. In January, the average individual payment to the aged was $14.98. These estimates are based on reports to the Social Security Board since this plan went into operation.

The Texas old-age assistance plan under the act became effective in July, 1936. All told, it has received Federal grants of $8,180,950 for old-age assistance.

Texas passed a state law for old-age assistance in 1935, but this did not become effective until the present plan went into operation. It has had a state law for aid to dependent children (mother's aid) since 1917, but had not made any specific provision for aid to the blind.

In addition to participating in these programs for which the Social Security Board is the Federal administrative agency, Texas is also cooperating in social security programs directed by other Federal agencies.

The three maternal and child-welfare programs, administered by the Children's Bureau of the United States Department of Labor, provide for the extension of such services, particularly in rural areas. Texas had an approved plan for maternal and child-health services for 1936, and Federal payments totaling $42,001.66 had been made to the state by June 30. The plan approved for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1937, provides for a Federal grant of $190,590. Under the 1936 approved plan for services for crippled children, $49,999.92 had been paid to Texas by June 30, 1936. The 1937 plan, as approved, includes a Federal grant of $152,730.02. A Federal grant of $27,349.74 was paid to Texas for child-welfare services under the 1936 plan. For the fiscal year ending June 30, 1937, a Federal grant of $90,758.43 was provided in the Texas plan approved.

The purpose of vocational rehabilitation is to provide education for workers crippled in industry. At the end of the last fiscal year, 2009 such persons were receiving training under the Texas program, for which the state has received Federal grants of $90,054. The Federal administrative agency for this part of the act is the Office of Education of the Department of the Interior.

Under the public-health provisions of the act, which are administered by the United States Public Health Service, Texas has received Federal grants for the purpose of expanding and strengthening its state and local public-health services. Up to January 31, 1937, these grants totaled $317,812.45.

The Social Security Board has maintained a policy of decentralization in order to bring the act as close as possible to the participating states and to the people. In line with this policy it has established twelve regional offices. That for Region Ten, which comprises the states of Louisiana, Texas, and New Mexico, is in the Maverick Building, North Presa and East Houston streets, San Antonio. The regional offices serve as field headquarters of the Board's three operating Bureaus, which administer Federal old-age benefits, unemployment compensation, and public assistance. The Board has also opened field offices in connection with the administration of old-age benefits in a number of cities, including Austin, Dallas, Houston, and San Antonio.

THE CHOKES ON YOU

-it drains your gas tank 5 to 15 times faster than normal

Watch out for this pickpocket!

The choke is guilty, say automotive scientists, of stealing your mileage and your money.

In laboratory and road tests, they have actually measured your loss and proved that every time you pull out the choke, the gasoline consumption of your motor is increased five to fifteen times.

This explains why Phillips 66 Poly Gas gives such amazing economy. Being higher test, it requires the least possible choke. And it is higher test without higher price, because Phillips is the world's largest producer of natural high test gasoline.

Cool days, warm days, snowy or rainy days; in any weather you get remarkable economy with this 100% custom-tailored gasoline. Besides, every gallon has the extra energy units supplied by the patented POLYMERIZATION process.

So if you want more pep and power, want faster response to the throttle, extra speed and added mileage—the gasoline you want is Phillips 66 Poly Gas.

It costs nothing extra and it's easy to get. Just keep an eye out for the Orange and Black 66 Shield. Stop... fill up... and your very first trial tankful will "prove there is a difference."

CHANGE YOUR OIL... NOW!

Drain and refill with Phillips 66 Motor Oil... for summer lubrication. Because it is the finest lubricant refined by Phillips, we recommend it as "the world's finest oil for your motor."

Largest Mill Of Panhandle Mills Amaryllis Flour

The largest mill and elevator in the Texas Panhandle is located less than 90 miles from Memphis. The Great West Mill & Elevator Company, of Amarillo, millers of the well known Amaryllis Flour, is said to have the largest retail distribution of flour in the Memphis trade territory of any mill in this section of the United States. All except a few grocers in this area carry complete stock of the scientifically blended flour. One outstanding feature of the Amaryllis Flour is the fact that it is made of the finest wheat produced in the Panhandle and Plains country of Texas.

National Retail Grocers' Week Is Observed Here

COMPLETE MARKET IS TENDENCY OF TODAY IN GROCERY BUSINESS

Column Writer Cites Attraction Of Grocery Store

O. O. McIntyre, newspaper columnist, says: "Any time my appetite sags I can step it up by a prow through a fancy grocery store."

This, according to the National Association of Retail Grocers, which is holding the National Grocers' Week from April 5-10, and which, in turn, is being participated in by Memphis grocers, is what the grocery trade has been aiming at since inception.

"In the past decade," a local grocer pointed out, "more progress has been made toward making grocery stores appetizing to jaded customers than during the entire previous period of the world's history."

Ruby Johnston spent the week-end in Memphis visiting friends. Mrs. Charlie Allen of Hugh spent Monday with Mrs. W. J. Goffinett.

W. F. Dunn spent the week-end in Memphis visiting Arthur Adcock.

Sterling Greenwood of Vernon visited with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Greenwood, and his brother Godfrey Greenwood here the first part of the week.

Mrs. Ralph Patrick of Hedley, who underwent an appendicitis operation at a local hospital Thursday of last week, is reported to be improving satisfactorily.

It is a long journey from the days in which father used to stop at the "butcher shop" and get a piece of meat which he would bring home at noon; it would then be cooked to appease an impatient, waiting family.

In those days the butcher dealt in meats, the grocer in a limited line and the baker in oven products. Shopping was a good deal of a chore. Meat, because of its perishable nature, was the last item to be supplied.

How different today! With the development of the complete food market, the entire range of table supplies and pantry stock is available in almost any Memphis grocery establishment. Most Memphis grocery stores have their own modern meat markets, have an independent market in the store building, or have an arrangement whereby the consumers' meat is purchased from any of a number of markets. The same arrangements are made with local bakeries to the convenience of the buyer.

And the grocer man! In the past he was usually a box and barrel wrestler, more of the stevedore type than the business man. As an expert he qualified largely as master of brown paper wrappings, twine and paper bags.

The grocer of today is a business man specializing in food distribution. As such he is alert to every factor of improvement and progress in methods, and if he is successful he at least meets modern competition. Besides his increasingly numerous commodity items, he deals in service and in dependability. Most people take the new type of market for granted, but to many people the transition is in the nature of a miracle.

Democrat Is Awarded 5-Year Advertising Program By The Manufacturers Of Quaker Oats

The Quaker Oats Company and its advertising agents, Lord and Thomas of Chicago, this week informed the publishers of The Memphis Democrat that Quaker Oats, in cooperation with merchants and dealers, will begin a comprehensive campaign in the Memphis trade territory within the next few weeks. The Democrat was awarded a five-year advertising program as a part of the campaign.

The Quaker Oats Company is coming back to the small city for advertising their excellent products, and to insure success of this initial campaign, the dealers and this newspaper are making plans for a special effort to cooperate.

Grocers appreciate the value of an established brand name—they know that their customers appreciate the privilege of calling for a nationally advertised brand of goods, knowing that it means they will receive the quality they expect.

When a large concern decides to use local newspapers for advertising service, it means increased sales for the local merchants.

When the Quaker Oats advertisement appears in The Democrat soon it will contain the names of all dealers in the Memphis trade territory. In addition to this, The Democrat will distribute the "Trick Book" to each person who brings the Quaker oat from a large package of Oats, or two Quakers from the smaller packages. The Trick Book contains simple tricks which any boy or girl can perform for the entertainment of themselves and others.

The dealers will cooperate in the campaign by using special displays in their stores and by adding to their advertising a section calling attention to Quaker Oats sold by them.

The Democrat has been chosen by the national advertisers because of its wide distribution in this territory, it has been announced, and because it reaches the consumers that other advertising means fail to reach.

Annual Appeal Made By Salvation Army

W. D. Pedigo of the Salvation Army was in Memphis Wednesday of this week making the annual appeal for funds of Memphis residents. Mr. Pedigo reported that the demands on the Salvation Army this year were heavier than for some time because of the flood disaster in the East and the New London school disaster.

"The Salvation Army makes only one authorized appeal during the year," Mr. Pedigo stated. Mr. Pedigo, veteran campaigner, has visited annually in Memphis for a number of years.

Raymond Thomason of Abilene spent Monday in Memphis visiting with relatives.

WILL SHELTERBELT PROGRAM PAY?

THE SHELTERBELT PROGRAM of the United States Forest Service was practically lost last year, due to the fact that most people did not believe it would be beneficial. Congress was skeptical and cut down the appropriations. In states where this work has been done it has been checked very closely. South Dakota, where high winds and soil erosion is at its worst, is an outstanding example. In a surmise of the work The Star-Telegram in a late issue presented some facts editorially. It is worth studying, for the late winds in this county, which move tons and tons of soil, are sufficient to make us realize that if there is virtue in this project we should have it:

An official report on the shelterbelt project, launched in 1935 under the United States Forest Service, which planted many trees in the great plains area from the Dakotas to the Panhandle of Texas, has just been issued. It asserts that Chinese elms and cottonwoods more than 16 feet high are growing in the belt. Trees that were 18 inches high when planted in the spring of 1935 made the growth in spite of the drouth. Honey locusts planted in drifting sand in the spring of 1936 grew to a height of seven feet, and cottonwoods planted at the same time made a growth of nine feet before the end of the season.

"Check counts obtained from 1,277 miles of shelter strips and 6,743 acres of farm windbreaks showed an average of 550 trees per acre surviving the 1936 drouth. The average number of trees planted per acre was 740, although the number varied from 540 to 1,000 in different states. Counts of 800 or more trees per acre were made in some areas where soil conditions were favorable. In many plantings, gophers and jack rabbits caused more damage to the trees than dry weather.

"Trees which have made very good growth include the green ash, cottonwood, Chinese elm, red cedar, and Ponderosa pine. Many cottonwoods planted were wildings or small seedlings dug up in creek bottoms and overflow areas where they had self seeded.

"Experience gained thus far in shelterbelt and windbreak planting demonstrates the value of this type of work in the Great Plains region where an urgent necessity exists for an extensive tree-planting program, the Forest Service says.

"In a survey among farmers who had on their own initiative during the past planted trees, 340 farmers in 26 Nebraska counties reported that their trees were worth, on the average, $1,046 per farm. Individual estimates ranged from $25 to $12,000, and the farm plantings varied from fairly effective windbreaks and shelterbelts to small plantations or single rows of trees that had relatively slight effect in breaking the force of the wind.

"Annual savings averaging $326.06 were claimed by the farmers, due to savings in fuel consumption, production of fuel wood, increased garden production, wind protection to buildings and equipment, increased crop production and protection to livestock."

THE WORLD GROWS OLDER

WE ARE getting older. Everybody has been doing that, ever since Time began, but now the whole human race is getting older, in the sense that the average age of the people of the United States is higher than is ever has been. The proportion of the old people in the total of population is increasing, and that of children decreasing.

On April 1, 1935, when the last Census Bureau count was made, there were 4,349,200 persons over 70 years old, or 34 out of every thousand individuals. At the beginning of this century, 37 years ago, there were only 24 in 1,000. In any average group of 1,000 persons there were 240 children under ten years old; now there are only 100 youngsters of that age, or only 10 per cent of the total.

One important reason for this change in the balance of ages is the declining birthrate; another is the general improvement in public health as a result of better living conditions, more facilities for ordinary folk to receive proper medical attention, and the stamping out of epidemics. The public health campaigns against communicable diseases, backed by the increased knowledge and improved resources of medical science have also helped to enable the average person to live longer.

One result is the raising of the average age of

CONTRASTS—A Typical Grocery Store of the 1880's

Tracing the development of the grocery store from its inception in America until today discloses many interesting facts, the least important of which certainly is not the part that it has played in the health of a nation.

It is only necessary to take one lingering glance at the typical grocery store of as recent times as 1900, to decide that it would be almost as safe to starve as to prowling among the barrels, boxes and rodent centers for that which must be consumed to preserve life.

PANHANDLE PARAGRAPHS

A present friend of mine was a boy when he went to a neighbor's house early one morning while the snow lay heavily on the earth. When he had awakened the old frontiersman, the grey-haired man put on his trousers, with suspenders swinging at the sides, and without a word, walked barefoot from the door into the snow for about one hundred yards, then walked slowly back. He calmly dried his feet on a towel and completed dressing. Mystified, my friend was to learn later that it was the old man's method of keeping his feet warm.—Matador Tribune.

Largest full-feeding cattle program in the history of the South Plains is that of the 1936-37 program in which some 75,000 head of cattle will have been fed out in commercial pens and from 15,000 to 25,000 more by farmers in the twenty-odd counties in this area. These operations are hoped by many to be the prelude to a program of feeding by farmers, in which hundreds of men will be able to feed out a car load or two, doubling their grain sorghum income and offering a market to the increased acreage of sorghums. Commercial feeding of cattle, as such, has come to stay in this section. Too many men have found out that it can be made to pay, although it is hard work.—South Plains Farmer.

The use of vacant lots in Quanah to help supply food for the needy should be pushed. The city will benefit greatly by the use of vacant lots for garden plots; food will be supplied for needy persons; widespread growth of weeds will be prevented, and the attractiveness of the city will be increased by it.—Quanah Tribune-Chief.

How to manage a wife: It is a man's own fault if his wife doesn't suit him; he should mould her character and disposition in accordance with his wishes. Men cannot manage their wives because they do not understand them. Never under any circumstances let her think; she might take a day off some time and meditate on her husband, and next day leave him flat. Never let her know exactly the salary you make; it might lower you in her estimation.

the population at any given time. Not many years ago the majority of the people were under 25 and the expectation of life of every new-born baby was 40 years. Now there are more Americans over 30 than under that age, and the expectation of life is 56 years. One effect bound to make itself manifest in another few years in new and perhaps surprising ways is the increased attention which the elders give to the education and upbringing of the young. Youth is scarcer and so more highly prized. The danger in all of the social effort to help youth solve its problems is that the young may get too much help, and grow to maturity lacking in self-reliance and initiative.

The President has let it be known that he does not favor any large scale purchasing of land by the government to be resold to tenant farmers. He approves the principle of the tenancy bill, but he believes the move to make owners out of tenants should proceed slowly. . . . The South-unprofitable farming system is not due to the tenant system. The tenant system is due to the unprofitable farming system.—Wichita Times.

A man was one day visiting a lunatic asylum, and while walking on the grounds he met a patient to whom he said, "Well, how did you get here?" The patient replied, "Well, Sir, you see, I married a woman with a grown-up daughter, and then my father married my wife's daughter, so that made my wife the mother-in-law of her father-in-law. Then my step-mother, the daughter of my wife, had a son, and that boy of course was my brother because he was my father's son, but the son of my wife's daughter, therefore her grandson. And that made me the grandfather of my step-brother. Then my wife had a son, so my mother-in-law, the step-sister of my son, is also his grandmother, because he is her step-son's child; my father is the brother-in-law of my child, because his step-sister is his wife; I am the brother of my own son; my wife is her child's aunt; my son is my father's nephew, and I am my own grandfather. That's why I'm here, sir."—Dalhart Texan.

CHURCHES

CHURCH OF CHRIST
 Lakeview, Texas
 C. L. Taylor, Minister. Preaching the first and third Sundays in each month. Bible study each Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH
 The subject for the pastor's message Sunday morning is, "The Sabbath" using Exodus 20:8-11 as the scripture basis. We all should make a study of the fourth commandment, and strive to carry it out in our busy week. There are some other interesting features included in this fourth commandment, one is concerning work. It will be interesting for us to re-examine the whole law concerning the Sabbath.

For the Sunday evening service three laymen will have charge. Hayden Goodnight will lead the devotional, Mr. Sam J. Hamilton will speak on "Civic Righteousness," and Mr. W. C. Davis will speak on "The Stewardship of Life." We believe that this will be a most worthwhile program for everybody to hear. Come and bring your friends.

The above program is especially appropriate in view of the fact that a meeting for the purpose of organizing a Brotherhood will be held on next Friday night, April 16, at 8 o'clock. All men are urged to come to this meeting. The Sunday school and B. T. U. are needing you to help build a larger attendance. The workers will count on you Sunday to do your part. The Monthly Business Meeting of the B. T. U. will be held Sunday afternoon at 5:00. Come and bring a sandwich and have a cup of tea with us.
 J. Wm. MASON, Pastor.

CHURCH OF CHRIST
 W. M. Davis, Minister
 David said he was glad when they said, "Let us go into the house of the Lord." If we delight in God's word, we will be glad when the hour of worship comes. We invite all who are so inclined to come and study the Bible with us every Sunday morning at 9:45 a. m. The subject of the sermon next Sunday morning will be "Showing the Lord's Death Till He Comes." The Divine ordinance for doing this is very simple, but it is impressive.

At 8 p. m. we have devotional exercises and preaching. The subject of the sermon at this hour will be, "What Is Man That God Is Mindful of Him?" If we believe that we are made in the image of a brute, we must inevitably go down. If we believe that we are made in the image of God, will we strive to rise higher and become better.

The women's Bible class will meet for study Tuesday at 3:30 p. m. Men's class Tuesday at 8 p. m. Prayer meeting Wednesday at 8 p. m.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH
 Sunday school at 9:45 Sunday morning. Preaching service at 11 a. m. Subject for the morning hour, "God's Call Through the Centuries." Special music by the choir. Evening services at 7:30 p. m. Subject, "Church Loyalty." Strangers and friends are cordially invited to attend.
 E. C. CARGILL, Pastor.

James E. King and Carl Wolf went to Dallas Sunday to attend a Westinghouse Refrigeration School in session there Monday. They returned Tuesday. John Alexander of Hedley spent Monday in Memphis. He is recovering from a recent serious illness.

FARM TENANT BILL VOTED BY NATIONAL HOUSE COM

WASHINGTON.—An administration proposal that the government experiment in assisting tenants and sharecroppers to buy farms on easy credit terms met defeat last week in its first congressional test.

The House Agriculture Committee voted, 13 to 11, against authorizing the Secretary of Agriculture to spend $50,000,000 annually to buy land for resale to tenants on terms that would give them as long as 45 years to pay. The vote closely followed a conference in which President Roosevelt advised Chairman Marvin Jones of the Panhandle and several other committee members that farm tenancy legislation should not provide for huge initial expenditures. Mr. Jones said arguments that the land-buying and resale proposal would put the government into the land and farming business caused the proposal's defeat. The committee has reached agreement on a compromise that differs wildly from the views of President Roosevelt. Under the compromise, the secretary of agriculture would make loans to the tenant farmers after obtaining recommendations from special county committees which would pass on the tenant's character and ability. The loans would be used to buy land.

The bill would provide for $50,000,000 per year for this phase of the program, as in the original, and the loans would be repayable within 40 years.

Art Masterpieces Will Be Exhibited Here April 12-16

One of the outstanding school events of the year is to be the exhibit of 150 masterpieces of art at the high school building from Monday, April 12, to Friday, April 16, inclusive. These are exact reproductions of the world's most famous paintings.

Included in the group this year are lithographs, collotypes, color-prints, works of such famous artists as Whistler, Millet, Corot, Hals, Van Gogh, Dorn, Holbein, and many others. Of special interest to children are the painting of Hencke "Girl in the Swing," "Little Red Riding Hood," and "Mary and Her Little Lamb."

There are pictures in the group for everyone to enjoy.

The first showing of the exhibit will be Monday night. There will be a program in the high school auditorium preceding the exhibit. The program will start at 7:45 with a concert by the Memphis High School band, directed by Milton Pullis. The rhythm band and choral clubs of West Ward will be presented. A play, "A Color Fantasy" will be given by Junior High pupils. Art pupils of Senior High will pose some of the pictures of the exhibit.

Following the program, the exhibit will be open.

Tuesday has been designated Junior High Day, Wednesday for West Ward and Thursday and Friday for the High School.

The exhibit will be open to adults after 4 o'clock in the afternoon. Tickets are now on sale for the exhibit. The proceeds are to be used to buy pictures for the three local schools.

The citizens of the community are urged to back this appreciation program to the fullest.

Postal Receipts At Turkey Show Gains

TURKEY.—Despite one of the shortest crops in 1936 that this territory has had since 1930, gross receipts at the local post office has shown a gain, both in money order business and in the sale of stamps.

IN REMEMBRANCE

Resolutions of respect by the Winnie Davis Chapter United Daughters of Confederacy.

The call came for Mrs. W. M. Walker to enter into realms eternal where all is peace and rest on March 28, 1937.

Her untimely passing has brought to us a realization of our loss and a deep sense of sorrow.

Aside from home and church, her deepest love was centered in the United Daughters of the Confederacy. She worked faithfully in the ranks of this organization in what ever place she was asked to fill.

Her unusual qualities of mind and heart won for her the confidence and admiration of all associated with her.

But it is not only as a Daughter of the Confederacy that we who knew, loved and admired her are sorrowful today because she walks with us no more, but find comfort in the thought that after all:

"There is no death! The stars go down To rise upon some fairy shore— And bright in Heaven's jeweled crown They shine forever more."

"There is no death! An angel form Walks over the earth with silent tread. He bears our best beloved ones away. And then we call them dead."

"He leaves our hearts all desolate; He plucks our fairest, sweetest flowers, Transplanted into bliss. They now Adorn immortal bowers."

"And ever near us, tho' unseen, The dear immortal spirits tread. For all the boundless universe Is life—there are no dead!"
