MRS. MORROW ENDS TESTIMONY IN HAUPTMANN TRIAL

Lindberghs Hear Rebuttal

Wood Expert Says Everything Said By Practical Lumbermen Wrong

FLEMINGTON, (AP)—Testimony ended Saturday in the trial of Bruno Richard Hauptmann for kidnaping and murder of Charles A. Lindbergh, Jr. with the baby's grandmother, Mrs. Dwight W. Morrow, testifying to clear defense insinuations against her maid, Violet Sharpe.

Court adjourned until Monday.

FLEMINGTON, N. J., (AP)—Anne Morrow Lindbergh, in court for the second time since beginning of the trial of Bruno Richard Hauptmann for the kidnaping and murder of her first born, Saturday heard rebuttal witness for the state dispute testimony through which the defense sought to separate Hauptmann from incriminations of the kidnaping.

She came to court with her mother, Mrs. Dwight W. Morrow, whose coming testimony as a rebuttal witness was sought to wipe away defense insinuations against her late Arthur J. Koehler, federal wood expert, returned to the stand to say virtually everything said by practical lumbermen testifying for the defense, was wrong.

He asserted again his belief that part of the kidnaping leader's "red sixteen" came from the Hauptmann attic in the Bronx.

Ernest Miller and Catherine Minerva, testified they were a party to the Violet Sharpe, from 8 until 11 p. m. March 1, 1932, the night of the kidnaping.

Mrs. Ottilia Hoerber of the Bronx, testified Isidor Fisch was at her home on the night of April 2, 1932, when the Lindberghs' grave yard.

WASHINGTON By GEORGE DURNO

Mutters—
The 74th House of Representatives is still jumping through the training hoop held up by the White House. If President Roosevelt can continue to keep control of those things dearest to the politician's heart—cash and patronage—the leadership will continue to jump. After all, they will be up for re-election next year and riding on his coat-tails just as they did last fall.

Yet it is worth the price of admission to make a circuit of the House office building and listen to some of the private remarks leading democratic congressmen are making.

Some of them are pretty mad at the New Deal. The only trouble is they don't dare say so publicly.

Gag—
Not an inconsiderable number of house members will tell you in the privacy of their offices that Speaker Joe Byrns really owes nothing to Mr. Roosevelt. This is based on the premise that Byrns got himself elected to the speakership on his own merits whereas a coterie of New Dealers originally had set out to elect Sam Rayburn of Texas.

Others might point out that FDR finally ordered his lieutenants to stay out of the battle entirely, thus giving Byrns and his seniority a sure win.

Meanwhile Byrns has been playing the game. He has run administration legislation through the house with an iron hand. Gag rule has been the order of the day. William Bankhead of Ala., elected majority floor leader, has never been able to take over his job because of illness, and Byrns has had to double in brass each time the going got tough.

Runaround—
A considerable number of house members are frothing at the mouth because of rough treatment they think they have received at the hands of three of Mr. Roosevelt's agents. Reading from left to right these three are Postmaster General Farley, Democratic National Chairman, Emil Hurja, Farley's assistant chairman, and Secretary of Interior Harold Ickes, who had a lot of jobs to distribute but didn't parcel them out according to the democratic hoyle.

Farley's latest suggestion—that state chairmen take over original leadership of all job-holders—has the honorable representatives talk-

GOLD DECISION AGAIN DELAYED BY U.S. COURT

An Editorial
A strong affirmative vote should be given in the "bond" election called by the city of Big Spring for February 18 because much is to be gained by a favorable vote and nothing is to be lost.

This is particularly true because this "bond" election is unique within its kind. Its passage will not, under any circumstance, incur one additional penny of indebtedness upon the city which must be repaid through taxation.

The issue involved in the election is to give or to refuse the city commission authority to divert municipal golf course revenues, after deducting operating expense, into a sinking fund to supplement existing pool revenues in retiring the PWA bonds against the pool.

In short, the natiorium project is to be self liquidating. Should revenues from the pool be insufficient to retire the debt according to schedule, then the golf course revenues will be applied.

Should both sources be insufficient, the government has no other recourse of collection. In no event can money derived from collection of ad valorem taxes be used to retire the PWA loan grant. Any person doubting this statement should go to the city hall and read the bonds issued and signed by the Secretary of the Interior, Harold Ickes. They plainly and specifically set out this fact. These documents are available for inspection by any citizen.

This project will bring $32,000 to be spent in this community and no little amount of this total will go to furnishing employment to many men now unemployed.

Of the total amount of the PWA fund, 90 per cent of it will be an outright grant, or gift if you please, from the federal government. The remaining 10 per cent, as stated before, is to be strictly self liquidating.

Aside from a statement of these facts which makes the construction of a modern natiorium and bathroom a good business proposition. It must be admitted that Big Spring needs a suitable swimming pool. Right now we must go a distance of no less than 40 miles to swim in a pool of anything like adequate size. This ought not to be.

Operation of this pool would not

NEW BABY BORN IN TEXAS EVERY FOUR MINUTES IN 1934

AUSTIN—A new baby every 4 minutes, 329 every day, 10,100 a month—that's the record of Texas, who showed 12,709 births registered with the State Bureau of Vital Statistics in 1934. This total carried an increase of 8,800 over 1933, when 112,689, the greatest number of births ever registered with the Bureau in any year, were registered.

The 1934 records showed an excess of 57,856 births over the total deaths. Last year in Texas there were 62,532 deaths recorded, or one death every 8 minutes, 174 each day, or 5,296 per month. Or putting it another way, about two babies are born in Texas each time a death occurs in the State.

The Bureau of Vital Statistics is a part of the Texas State Department of Health and is charged with the study of seeing that every birth and death occurring in the State is properly filed and registered. Such records are known as vital statistics because the information contained is of vital importance to the person himself, the community, and the state.

Texas is now in the Registration Area for both births and deaths. Every one can assist in helping to keep the records at this high requirement if they insist that every birth and death occurring in their family be registered.

C-C Directors Hold Meeting

Officials Hear Reports From Committees, Endorse Raven Eradication

Edmund Nofestine reported on civic committee activities and recommended that the chamber donate 14 Arizona cypress trees to the city and state park. Directors approved the recommendation.

Suggestions that the chamber cooperate with the city in seeking to facilitate disposal of rubbish and to prevent driving across vacant lots met with approval.

Directors voted to furnish suitable cups for a state raven shoot here in March, and endorsed efforts to eradicate these pests.

IT'S JUNE IN FEBRUARY TO THIS COUPLE

It's June in February along this southern trans-continental route, for romance broke into full bloom aboard a Greyhound bus here Saturday.

Robert E. Vanouse and his wife, Mildred Vanouse, had come to a parting of the ways and ended their disagreement by obtaining a divorce.

Then they happened to get aboard the same bus. By the time they reached here Saturday Vanouse had confided to the driver that he and his former wife were anxious to be married.

L. B. Williams, station manager, rushed them to the courthouse where they obtained a license and were married by County Judge J. S. Garlington.

Hardly had the ceremony ended when they climbed aboard their westward bound bus and roared happily on to Redland, Calif.

Heavy Rains Fall In South Central Sections Of Texas

Ad Neal was in from his ranch northwest of Big Spring Saturday morning, and reported about an inch of rain falling in his place. "The creeks around Sterling City were of excellent height to wheat crop, but of course was not of such intensity to make the creeks run."

E. T. Cobb, accompanied by J. C. Queen of Carlsbad, New Mexico, returned Friday from points in South Central Texas, including Temple and Georgetown. They reported continual rainfall throughout their entire return trip from Georgetown to the Howard county line, where it ceased to fall.

"The rain was so heavy at times it made driving hazardous. Visibility was poor, too," said Mr. Cobb. "The creeks around Sterling City were almost bank full and in the Brady country streams were running bank full. The rain has come at a most opportune time for those people," said Mr. Cobb.

Bad weather east of Big Spring during Friday and Friday night caused cancellation of airlines schedules. Glenn Freeland, manager of American Airlines in Big Spring reported. Passengers for the east were trained here, catching No. 6 eastbound Texas & Pacific at 11:45 Friday night. Weather late Saturday afternoon was beginning to clear, and resumption of schedule was expected shortly, Freeland said.

Second Rental Checks In Mail

Approved lists covering 8 cotton contracts were received here Saturday by the county agent's office. This indicates that 12 second rental checks are in the mail and will soon bring $251.67 to a few producers.

Reception of the checks will leave only 42 outstanding second rental payments.

During the past week County Agent O. P. Griffin has been engaged in a terracing project. With crews, he has run terraces and contour lines on 25 farms.

Monday evening he will start a two-week series of explanatory talks on the 1935 cotton contract requirements. He will eventually appear in more than a dozen communities.

Mrs. Johnson was at the wheel when the accident occurred, while Mr. Johnson was asleep in the front seat. A heavy fog, according to Mrs. Johnson, obscured her vision, and the car left the highway, overturning and almost completely demolishing a brand new Ford V-8.

"Here Is My Heart" With Bing Crosby, At Ritz Sunday

Crosby, Carlisle Team Marks Return Of Film Romancers

For the first time in Bing Crosby's meteoric film career, Paramount's popular crooner-come-an actor appears with the same leading lady in two pictures, thus beginning the career of another of Hollywood's famous romantic teams.

Crosby, in his new Paramount picture "Here Is My Heart", coming Sunday and Monday to the Ritz Theatre, is again featured with Kitty Carlisle, who first appeared opposite him in the leading roles of "She Loves Me Not". Heretofore Crosby has carefully avoided working with the same actress twice, but the work and the vocalizing of this team in the highly successful "She Loves Me Not" brought so much commendation that the studio has cast them together again in "Here Is My Heart" in the hope that they will repeat that performance.

Few Romantic Teams

Francis X. Bumsman and Beverly Bayne formed screenromances' first great starring team, but in modern times it was Janet Gaynor and Charles Farrell who brought the idea back to popularity in "Seventh Heaven." Teams sprang up in all directions.

There have been innumerable comedy teams such as George Burns and Gracie Allen, Charles Ruggles and Mary Boland, and Wallace Beery and the late Marie Dressler.

But, among the more romantic combinations, only a few have been conspicuously successful. Dick Powell and Ruby Keeler, and Jimmy Dunn and Sally Eilers worked together in a series of pictures. Evelyn Venable and Kent Taylor were teamed for five consecutive pictures, one of them away from their home lot, but the combination finally was split when they both rebelled against further appearances in opposite roles.

Featured again with Kitty Carlisle, who first appeared opposite him in "She Loves Me Not", Crosby sings three new songs and R. O. Hines, including "June in January" and "With Every Breath I Take". The picture was directed by Frank Tuttle and concerns a millionaire crooner's adventures when he turns waiter in order to court a haughty Russian princess.

Memorable Events Recalled By "Bowery" Old Timers

In Those Days Wallace Beery Stepped Into Raymond Hitchcock's Role And Raoul Walsh Was A Lightweight Fighter

Do you remember when the Bowery was to New York what Broadway is today?

When there was talk of impeaching Rutherford B. Hayes to prevent his serving as President of the United States?

When Steve Brodie announced he had jumped from the Brooklyn Bridge?

When Madame Restell committed suicide after Anthony Comstock had her arrested for advocating birth control and the public paid twenty-five cents to view her remains during the coroner's inquest?

Those are some of the memories of many of the Hollywood film players and extra appearing with Wallace Beery, George Raft and Jackie Cooper in "The Bowery," 20th Century's screen production of early New York showing Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at the Lyric Theatre.

Old-time fight champions, stage celebrities, bartenders, politicians and other frequenters of the Bowery in the preceding century were among the crowd that peopled the studio sets while the picture was in production under the direction of Raoul Walsh.

Among the historic memories revived by their early-day reminiscences were these: John Jacob Astor's appointment of his son, Waldorf, as manager of his 3,000 houses. The Jefferson Market Prison opening with a 13-year-old boy as his first prisoner. James J. Corbett astounding the sports world by knocking out John L. Sullivan. Mae West Picture Is Lusty Melodrama Of Bowery Saloons

"She Done Him Wrong," Mae West's first starring movie, is the current attraction at the Queen Theatre. It will continue its showings there through Sunday, Monday, Tuesday.

Miss West, most spectacular figure on the present-day stage, has won fame not only as an actress, but as a playwright, singer, novelist and whatnot. She made her movie debut in a character role in "Night After Night," and in "She Done Him Wrong," her second film, she appears in the starring role. She wrote the story, as well as acted it.

"She Done Him Wrong" is a lusty, roaring melodrama of the Bowery—of its saloons and politicians, its honky-tonks and its women. Miss West is cast as "Lady Lou," a singer with a deadly effect on unwary males, who exchanges her favors for diamonds. So great is her popularity that her collection of gems is enough to ransom a half-dozen kings.

Her affair with Cary Grant, ostensibly a mission-worker in the neighborhood, leads to a startling, dramatic climax, which brings Grant into her arms without the customary tribute in diamonds. Miss West sings three songs during the course of the picture—"Frankie and Johnnie," the popular old ballad, and two new ones written for her by Ralph Rainger.

Knott School To Give Play Friday Night

Will true love win out? This is a question which will be answered Friday night, February 15th at a play, being presented under the auspices of the Knott School P.T.A.

This presentation will reveal the plot of the wily Lester Van, Washington fortune seeker, in his attempt to win to wife Rose Courtward, unexpected heiress to millions. This play will be interesting because of the clash of the two contrasting walks of life, city folk and Virginia mountaineers. Daniel French, who, as the successful author, who falls in love with the wifely Wild Rose of the mountains, believes life is real and that love is its ideal. Mammie Celle and Uncle Joe, dummies, who have practically raised Rose, are interested only in her happiness, but Rose's Aunt Hester is not always certain as the means of Rose's attaining this happiness.

Zest is added to the plot by Wade Carver, typical mountain bad man, who has hankering for Rose and Babe Joan and Orpheus Jackson, two mountain lovers. The following people will have parts in this production: Gomer Trout, Mrs. Gomer Trout, Mrs. Glendon Brown, Thelma Lee Anderson, Pauline Haynes, Nola Sheldor, Mrs. L. A. Newton, Albert Feltus, J. D. McGregor, Hamp Newton, and Clyde W. James.

Receipts from this play will be used by the P.T.A. for physical improvements in the school building.

The Political Anvil

Gov. Allred has been in office three weeks during which time two of the major proposals upon which his campaign rode to victory have made progress.

The strong state public utility regulation bill, designed for relief of nearly the entire citizenship, has been signed by such numbers of house members as to assure its passage in the house in one form or another. Public support for it is so clear-cut and strong that it may be counted upon as enacted in some form, though the extent to which it may be changed in the senate is unknown.

When the session is over, Texas will have a new utilities commission, and for the first time power to regulate and control the rates of utilities.

Gov. Allred promised, and the democratic party demanded that the state's sanction upon gambling, in legalized betting upon horse races, be rescinded, and the public policy of Texas committed to support of the government from other sources than a rake-off on wagering.

A vigorous majority committee endorsement in the house has been voted to the repeal bill.

Tells Of Mystery Trip To Cemetery

Testifying for the defense in Bruno Hauptmann's trial, Philip Moses, Bronx taxicab driver, said he drove four "mysterious men" to St. Raymond's cemetery the night Dr. J. F. Condon handed over $50,000 to the supposed kidnaper. (Associated Press Photo) policy, that of taxation, a high degree of uncertainty exists. Gov. Allred promised a veto to any sales tax levy as a "tax on poverty." A plan, not to increase taxation, but to shift the eight hundred million dollars of city, county and district bonds from oppressed property to a heavy direct, temporary final-sales tax, has considerable support. The senate tax survey committee has adopted it, and members of that committee, with strong backing in the house, will seek to submit a constitutional amendment to the voters to see if they prefer this plan.

The proposal is not definitely in conflict with the Allred platform. Mr. Allred opposes the repeal of the state dry constitutional provisions, but has announced that he favors submitting the repeal question to the voters, to see if they want to change the constitution.

The same principle would leave him against the sales tax, but willing to let the entire citizenship pass upon accepting it temporarily to relieve the oppressive bond issue load. One asset of this plan is to give the state power to stop future indiscriminate issues of local bond.

TEXAS TOPICS

By Raymond Brooks

Rep. H. K. Stanfeld, Amarillo, co-author of gas bills to protect independents from confiscation through drainage by pipeline-owning exporter competitors, has insisted that the pipeline companies should offer some, fair and adequate plan to protect all interests, before demanding repeal of the so-called sour gas laws.

"I believe the proper solution is that the gas fields should be prorated, and all independent producers should have a market in proportion to their holdings," he said. "I do not believe it would be fair play to return this Panhandle gas field to the pipeline and gas companies for them to conserve for their own financial gain, and to deprive the small independent of the opportunity to sell his gas."

The house judiciary committee has approved a bill to relieve legal and administrative officials of the hazards, as in oil conservation enforcement, of surprise injunctions and restraining orders, granted individuals without hearing or without notice to them. Granting a hot-ol operator a restraining order, and setting a hearing over at the earliest opportunity a court can take up the case is often adequate to give him all the time he wants to move his hot oil products out of the state's jurisdiction.

The bill requires notice and hearing before such prohibitory writs can be issued against state administrative officials.

Extent to which Texas relief is being shifted to a work basis, from the old dole basis, is only partially apparent now; but the relief administration has developed its work program, up to a point where from $100,000 to $150,000 of work items daily are being set in motion. All these projects require that men or women be taken from existing relief rolls to be employed upon them; and many include work of considerable permanent or constructive value.

The 30-day initial period for free introduction of bills in the Texas legislature has ended; but under existing rules, the expiration will not materially affect the inflow of bills, both general and local.

Some members made especial efforts to get in bills of a controversial nature so that no possibility might develop of having to muster a heavy majority on permission to introduce later on. The 30- and 60-day rules have not been strictly invoked. They were provided for permissively in the constitutional amendment which doubled the length of the regular session and the pay of members.

Chairwoman Finds $5,000 Ring

CLEVELAND (UP) — A chairwoman at a movie theatre here has a reward coming to her. She turned in a ring, found under a seat, with the casual comment, "Here's something I found." The "something" turned out to be a large diamond ring with a cluster of eight diamonds and several smaller stones. The owner, Mrs. John Beyer, came to the theatre breathless and identified the ring—$5,000 worth. She said she would reward whoever found it.

Press Association Makes Train Plans

AUSTIN, GP.—The Texas Press Association Saturday ratified plans for a special train to travel through the South and to Washington in the spring to advertise the state and next year's Centennial. Lowry Martin of Corsicana, general chairman of arrangements, said the men and women making the trip would depart from Houston late in April. While in Washington, the Texans will extend an invitation to the President, members of congress and delegates to the United States chamber of commerce convention there to come to the Centennial.

The following committee chairmen were named: Sam Harben of Richardson, transportation; W. E. Talbot of Dallas, program; Louis Elbert of

New Fisher Co. Well Awaiting Storage Room

HAMLIN—The Merry Bros. & Perini and Tide Water Oil company No. 3 Howard discovery well, was shut down Saturday awaiting storage facilities and casing to shut off water. The well, which was making heads at various intervals last night, had indications of becoming at least a 500-barrel producer.

The test, six miles west of production in the Fisher county field, encountered oil at a depth of 3,665 feet Tuesday afternoon. It is located in the northeast corner of section 180 of the T-7C E.R. survey block 2.

Royalty and lease buyers were said to be offering as high as $25 an acre for leases as far as two miles distant from the new well.

"WHATSOEVER"
By DANIEL SOOT
(South-West Press)

This is a curious story. It deals with an East Texas community of lovable human folks into whose midst moves a group of dope sellers. Everybody in the community is affected one way or another. Kind-hearted Aunt Emma who tells the story refuses to believe the worst of the dopesters and nearly gets burned to death for her neighborly interest. Pretty girls, two or three good-looking men, an abundance of East Texas flower gardens, all sorts of good eats, and a crooked sheriff march in and out of the pages. It is a colorful pageant sprinkled with lively conversation leading up to a good old-fashioned Elinor Glyn ending where everybody gets what the reader wants him to get.

Unfortunately, it is spoiled by propaganda that slaps one right in the face. The author apparently wrote it for the purpose of convincing readers that whatsoever a person prays for he will receive. On the back cover a paragraph asserts that the book holds the secret of health, wealth and happiness for all who will search it out and use it.

And do these people receive? Their prayers—or wishes—get answered so thick and fast at the end of the book that it makes the reader's head whirl. One gets famous; another gets rich; a third fourth wins a battle and gets business delivered into his hands. Everybody except the villain gets what they want. In the end the whole world is rosy in a very materialistic sort of way—in fact the sort of Heaven that the followers of Christ expected before he made them understand that his was a spiritual kingdom.

The book is written by a Texan who signs himself Daniel Soot but sounds very much as if Daniel is a woman; if not, then Daniel had a collaborator of the opposite sex. In the opinion of this reviewer, Soot has wasted a promising talent in "Whatsoever: Matt., 21:22." He knows his Texas, and his love for it adds a lustre to his words. He also understands his characters. But he does not realize that fiction is not argument—with a set of characters anything can be proved. If Soot can not write without feeling that he must convert the world, he is prostituting his talent. We advise him to consult the editors of Sunday school magazines who have learned that stories with a moral are better relished when the moral is implied than when thrust out at the reader.

The cleverest thing about the book are the two blurbs on the inside folders of the cover. One reviewer is quoted as saying the book "is more dangerous than all the so-called sex novels ever written" and the other who said that it could be placed in the hands of every discouraged man and unhappy woman in the world. This subtle piece of publicizing should make the book sell.

In the meanwhile this reviewer will be looking for another story from Soot's pen given over to fiction.

Hoovers Observe Anniversary As He Goes To Post

By W. A. WELLS... PALO ALTO, Cal. (AP)—Instead of holding a family reunion here as they had tentatively planned, Hoover will celebrate the thirty-sixth anniversary of his wedding today, in a quiet way in New York City.

(By The Associated Press) Business conditions further improved in December and the first half of January, the National Industrial Conference board reports. Kimbrough To Open Practice

Simple Training Rules To Be Stressed By New Mentor

ABELENE, (Sp.)—Simple training rules and hard practice sessions will be in vogue at Hardin-Simmons university this fall when Frank Kimbrough, new Cowboy mentor, takes charge. "I believe in good blocking first, then good, vicious tackling," said the new coach. "Therefore we will spend a lot of time having fun blocking. When I say fun, I mean fun. I want the boys to learn to enjoy good, hard contact."

Wallace Looks Ahead To A New Democracy

Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace believes that the time is coming when we shall have to revamp our political machinery to put economic democracy on the footing of political democracy.

In The Cause Of Politics

We are so used to politics and politicians that we generally fail to realize the outrageous things which are done in their name. Here's a sample: Martin L. Davey recently became governor of Ohio. At the head of the state's minimum wage division was a woman named Louise Stitt. She had made an enviable record in administering the law which protects Ohio's women and children from economic injustice.

To Serve As Director

This time duty calls Mr. Hoover to be inducted into his newest office as a director of the New York Life insurance company. Then the position which awaited him was the management of a new department of mines and railways just created by the Chinese government.

Practical Old-Age Insurance

One of the most important phases of the life insurance business during the past decade has been a drop in the percentage of life insurance funds going to the beneficiaries of dead policyholders.

As Active As Ever

In the last year, the activity of the Hoovers has gone on at a scarcely diminished tempo from that which always has characterized their life. Mr. Hoover has written a book and had it published, but does not consider it as marking his emergence from political retirement.

West Texas Surpasses All Understanding

In 1934 with an exceptionally dry year over the county, 11,000 bales plus of cotton had been ginned at the end of the year. In 1934, still fiercer (speaking of rain), well over 10,000 bales were ginned by the end of the year.

Those Who Read That W. T. Strange Went to Austin

Those who read that W. T. Strange went to Austin on a road mission, will be interested to know that there is much more weight attached to his visit than suspected.

While We Have Languished Here

While we have languished here in the county for news of hard surfaces for re-routed highways, there comes word of bids being accepted for construction of four miles plus of asphalt topped road on highway No. 9 in Glasscock.

Incidentally, before many weeks there should be definite news of topping for No. 1 east from here to Coahoma.

Three automobile collisions Thursday evening and another Friday can't be dismissed as just happen so.

The birthday balls in Big Spring netted $348.72. Seventy per cent will remain to be used locally in aiding sufferers of infantile paralysis.

Senator Arthur P. Duggan, who serves the district of which Howard county is a part, introduced two bills of sound quality last week.

During the week, Rev. Paul Walker Henckels was installed as pastor of the St. Mary's Episcopal church.

Safety Officers Applaud Terraplane Braking Ability
Police measuring stopping distance recorded by a 1935 Terraplane which bettered requirements in this respect by nearly 50 per cent.

Detroit Police and Insurance officers conducting rigid brake test on 1935 Terraplane which broke all previous records for stopping distances.
Insurance and police officers of the City of Detroit recently conducted a brake test on a 1935 Terraplane Sedan. The purpose of the test was to compare the ability of this new 1935 model to stop with the standard figures approved by the Police Department at various speeds.
Reporting on the brake test, the insurance and police officers state that at speeds of 40 and 50 miles per hour the Terraplane stopped in about half the distance called for by the Police Department. This department uses figures compiled as the result of a large number of tests made by the Bendix Brake Company. For example, at 50 miles per hour the Detroit Police Department states that with brakes in excellent condition, the car should be able to stop in 111 feet. The Terraplane at 50 miles an hour stopped in 45 feet.
While selections at the Police Department at 40 miles an hour call for 71 feet, the Terraplane stopped in 40 feet, 1 inch. At 30 miles an hour, as against the police requirements of 18 feet, the Terraplane stopped in 10 feet 5 inches.

SCOUT NEWS

More than twenty-five years ago W. D. Boyce, Chicago publisher, in London on business, became lost in a dense fog. He chanced upon a boy who directed him to the place he sought. Boyce reached in his pocket for tip money. The boy refused the money, saying that a "scout is not allowed to receive pay for courtesies."
When Boyce came back to the United States, he brought back a burning desire to see scouting started in this nation. It was exactly twenty-five years ago Friday that he saw the first measure of his ambition realized. Now there are in America more than 900,000 scouts not to speak of several hundred thousand volunteer leaders.

All of this because of one good turn done by an unknown English scout.

As President Franklin D. Roosevelt said in his radio address Friday evening to scouts and friends of scouts, the organization is a real character building agency and offers a splendid medium for citizenship training. Of the scout oath, he said: "It is the basis of good citizenship; it is the basis of good government; it is the basis of orderly progress in the years to come."

Here is the oath every scout commits himself unto when he joins the ranks of scouting: On my honor, I will do my best—1. To do my duty to God and my Country, and to obey the Scout Law; 2. To help other people at all times; 3. To keep myself physically strong, mentally awake, and morally straight.

In binding himself to obey the scout law, the scout agrees to be trustworthy, loyal, helpful, friendly, courteous, kind, obedient, cheerful, thrifty, brave, clean and reverent.

Certainly any organization which seeks to bring a boy up in this atmosphere of good living is most worthwhile.

Nothing in recent years has so stimulated the minds of scouts the nation over as has the National Jamboree. It is surprising how much comment is going on among the boys of this city. Practically every scout has his eye on Washington.

While scouting is just twenty-five years old in the United States, Big Spring has a troop which is just a year younger than the scouting movement in this country. Old Troop No. 1 has been turning out boys trained in scouting principles for twenty-four years. This week it received its annual charter. Some record.

Troop Meetings
Troop No. 1—The meeting was opened by the Pledge of Allegiance, led by James Slesky of the Lion Patrol. Three songs were sung. All of them led by Chief A. C. Williams. The Lion Patrol then presented a stunt called "The Ghost." The Eagle Patrol presented a stunt called "Red Hot News." Immediately following the Troop No. 2—The troop met in the basement of the First Methodist church Friday evening with 14 scouts, 6 visitors and 1 official present. The meeting opened with reception of the President's talk after which the regular business was followed. The investiture ceremonies were then held and 8 new scouts received badges. The meeting was closed by all repeating the scout oath. Present were Rev. C. A. Bickley, Bill Penn, Scoutmaster, and these scouts: Hal Battle, Billie Danner, Billy Robinson, Morris Burns, Justin Danner, Jack Gates, Frank Galyon, Brice Hendrix, Clayton Hendrix, Billy Griffith, Merritt Barnes, Gerald Anderson, Joe Dittz and Paul Francis. Visitors were Paul Scherfable, Floyd Dixon, Ollie Deal, Marshall Hjerney and L. Q. Lowe.—Reported by Billy Robinson.

Troop No. 3—The meeting was opened by Scoutmaster Jack Cummings. A cake, given by Mrs. Bernard Fisher and decorated with small American flags and apples was served to the boys. Four boys were initiated into the troop. They were Wendell Woods, C. B. South, and Julian Fisher. "Follow the Leader" and "the elementary game, "Fire Earth, Air, and Water" were played. J. C. Watson was a visitor and is going to be a member. Twenty-one boys, Scoutmaster Jack Cummings, Troop Committeeman Dr. Lee Rogers, and a visitor, Bernard Fisher, were present.—Reported by Ray Wilson.

Troop No. 5—Thirty-three scouts, three visitors and three officials were present Thursday evening. After a song in which "Goldie" Miller played piano accompaniment, the troop went into a snappy drill for obeying silent signals. "Sir Boas" made the game interesting. Patrol meetings were devoted to asking and answering scout questions. The Wolf patrol carried off honors for the evening, winning in the scoring system and by taking the indoor soccer championship. Bull patrol won the prize of honor for best singing. It was least unusual of all the patrols. Wednesday afternoon is to be test page time.

Forsan Wins County Meet
White's Crack Crew Defeats Moore Loboes In Final Game
By HANK HART
The powerful Hank Buffaloe overpowered the Moore Loboes Saturday night to gain possession of the trophy emblematic of the county championship. The Buffs were held within bounds during the first quarter, but the Loboes suffered a letdown after that period and Coach White's lads came out on top with a 48-16 score. Moore, however, captured the girl's cup when the Loboes "five turned in a 16-10 victory over Ellway.
Ladies was high for the Forsan lads when he hit the hoop for seven field goals and a free toss. Asbury, crack guard for the White-men, took advantage of the many fouls and sank a total of seven free tosses for the evening.
McKinnon was high for the White-men with eight points. The Herald's All Tournament was composed of McKinnon, Moore and Liles of Forsan at the forward berth, Adams of Forsan at the pivot position, and Asbury of Forsan and Rowland of Moore at guards. Rowland, who usually takes his place at forward along with McKinnon, was moved to the defensive position.

Strange Call Sent Out From Schooner
SAN FRANCISCO, (AP)—One of the strangest calls for aid the Pacific has known, was sent to an Australian cruiser Saturday to aid Phillips Lord, American entertainer, aboard the four-masted schooner, the schooner with a crew of 13 made continual calls throughout the night she was in "extreme danger," with high seas hurling walls of water over its decks.
No damage to the ship or injury to the crew was reported.
The ship advised naval radio at 7:10 a. m. condition "about the same."

Shoplifter Takes 40 Pair Sox, But Gives Them Back
A shoplifter nearly got away with forty pair of 25c socks at United Dry Goods store Saturday morning, but the alert manager, David Merkin, was on the job, and was finally successful in getting the merchandise back into his stock before the man made his getaway.
Merkin reported a man walking into the store and being asked if he had been waited on, made no reply. He then made a hasty exit. Merkin followed him down Third street until catching up with him and said:
"Say, I want to see you!"
"What for?" the man replied.
"I believe you have some merchandise underneath your coat," Merkin said.
Opening up his overcoat the man pulled out forty pair of 25c work socks and handed them over to Merkin.
Merkin let the man loose without reporting him to officers.

This is the background which would indicate a serious revolt against the White house. Calculus and the law of averages point otherwise. Many a brave man says things in his office he wouldn't dare say on the floor.
This doesn't stop house leaders from urging one point on the White house, on Farley, and on Hürja—without publicity, of course. They are trying earnestly to convince the New Deal that it is necessary for them to have patronage in their own districts in order to build up a political organization which will carry the New Deal on.
No word is forthcoming officially from the White house but the way things stack up it looks as though Generalissimo Farley and his side-boys are building up a 1936 Roosevelt organization all their own.

Bobcat Cagers Defeat Steers

SAN ANGELO—Harry Taylor's San Angelo High School Bobcats won their first game in the history of play between the local school and Big Spring High School basketball team Friday night in the high school gym when they nosed the Steers out by a 14-12 score. The Steers had won two games from the Cats this season by scores of 18-16 and 22-16.

In the Cat-Steer encounter, the Steers led at the first quarter 3-2, but quints played defensive basketball during the second quarter and the count was tied up 6-6 at the half. In the third quarter Strom came thru with a couple of field goals to run the count up to 10. Fitzgerald plucked a field goal and Cordill sank a free shot, and the Cats led, 10-9, at the end of the third quarter.

Lead Changes In Fourth
The lead switched in the fourth when Baker sank a basket and Strom shot. The Steers took a two free tosses brought the Cats up to 12 and Strom tossed in a field goal. Strom was high point with 9.

The world's fastest wrestler—that's Charlie Heard, Charlie, an old favorite with local fans and a consistent winner, has been grappling in Mexico City for the past several weeks. He returns here Tuesday night on the semi-final card against Blundy Crane of Ahilene, who is also popular here. Plenty of action is promised.

Yours truly,
Spike Henninger, Cosden.

That's that. Draw your own conclusion.

Inquiries have already started pouring in, asking for information on the Cosden tournament which is to be staged March 2. Letters have been received from Paducah and Borden.

Oble Bristow, who has been recuperating from a slight illness in Mineral Wells for the past few weeks, is expected to return within a few days, according to George Gentry.

The high school basketball team has lost only four out of fifteen games. They have outscored opponents 107 points, tabbing 389 to 292.

Scribble the scribbles—"Connie Mack, the venerable baseball leader who has never lacked the courage to try out his convictions, is coming up this spring with one of the most radical experiments unfolded in the majors in many years—the return of Jimmy Fox to the catcher's position. Perhaps not all fans will recall that Fox came to the Athletics as a receiver, but it is a fact that he lingered on the Athletic's bench for several years as an understudy to Mickey Cochran before Mack finally put him in infield duty, both at third and first bases. It has been something like seven years since he was a gawky kid at the first base station, and during that time he has developed into a capable first baseman; hardly a Chase or a Grimm, but a dependable defensive performer as well as one of the game's greatest hitters. There is little doubt but that Mack is serious in his oft repeated statements that Fox will return to the catching department this spring.

One of the interesting angles to the plot is whether or not the interrupting Fox can keep up the batting stride he has maintained the last few years. He was quoted in a Philadelphia paper a few days ago as doubtful if he could keep up the pace as a catcher. His explanation is that the hard wearing work of the daily grind behind the bat saps any player's strength to the old job. The more money was promptly forthcoming, and now it seems that the Maryland boy sure enough will be catching when the ball starts to rolling within a few weeks.

Fox's transfer leaves the first base position wide open to Alex Elocks, the youngster who did a lot of basebaling and footballing at Southern Methodist university not so many years ago. Elocks was plucked from the Mustang campus by the Cleveland Indians, given a brief trial and finally turned loose. Last season with Tulsa was easily his best in pro baseball. Fort Worth thought so little of his ability the year before he was turned loose for nothing, or practically nothing.

Jack Dean is destined to be known in all languages. Last week a story concerning his pending trial with the St. Louis Browns appeared in a Spanish newspaper. Jack is anxious to leave for the spring training grounds at West Palm Beach, Fla. In the height of the season, it would be a wonderful trip if he flops. But Jack isn't figuring on being a flop. "It may be my imagination," he said, "but it seems as though I'll throw 'em faster than ever."

Alien Wives Ban To Guard State Secrets Of China

NANKING, (AP)—As a means of protecting state secrets from the prying eyes and ears of foreigners, the Chinese government has forbidden Chinese military men and diplomats to marry women of other nationalities. The new rules require government employees who are already married to foreigners to supply detailed information on the "background" of their mates.

Among the things the government would like to know about the foreigner who has "married into" Chinese government service are: Does she maintain close contact with her friends and family back home? How often does she return to her homeland? Has she a good knowledge of the Chinese language? Diplomats already married to aliens are barred from representing China in the country of origin of their wives.

QUINTS' PARENTS IN CHICAGO

Thrilled by their first visit to a city in the United States, Mr. and Mrs. Olive Dione, parents of the famous quintuplets, came to Chicago from their Canadian backwoods home to visit night clubs, stores, the Art Institute, stockyards and other fascinating sights. They are shown peering out over the city from the window of the presidential suite in a Michigan boulevard hotel. (Associated Press Photo)

ROBINSON GETS SECOND WIND IN 26th YEAR AS TANK COACH

EVANSTON, ILL. (AP)—It's the first 25 years that are the hardest, says Tom Robinson, just starting what he hopes will be another quarter century as coach of Northwestern's swimming team.

It was just 25 years ago that Robinson came from the Wisconsin woods where he had worked as a lumberman to take over the duties of swimming coach and to initiate the fine new pool in Paton gymnasium.

- Five national intercollegiate titles.
- Ten Big Ten titles.
- Six straight water polo championships.
- Eight Northwestern swimmers on United States Olympic swimming teams.
- The world's record of 1:15 for the 160-yard relay.
- Nine national intercollegiate records.
- Seven Big Ten records.
- The first national intercollegiate title was won in 1924 and under Robinson's guidance Northwestern repeated in 1925, 1928, 1930 and 1932.
- Starting in 1914 the Wildcats won five straight Big Ten cham-
